Feeders Day will be held at the experiment station at Spur on May 5th. Feeders and cattlemen, farmers and other interested people from all over west Texas, are expected to attend.

And lest we forget, those who apply for Federal aid now must agree to plant and cultivate a garden. In other words, we have flared back more than 300 years to the time when Captain John Smith made the ruling that "he who refuses to work cannot eat." Sometimes, after all, the old way is the best way.

Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University says that President Roosevelt is on the right trail on inflation of our currency. He further remarks that the rukus raised by Mills and other Republican cohorts, "is in line with tradition." In other words, no Democratic can do anything that is pleasing to Republican leaders. In fact they don't believe in doing anything.

And the Dallas News in its Sunday issue tried to belittle our sandstorms and so far as we are concerned, they "shall not pass" with it. Just for their benefit, we will state that if one of our real sandies ever run across one of their east Texas twist-ers, it will tear the said twister in shreds, dump the mass in the gulf, dust off its hands and return to west Texas to see if there is anything out here that some one has built to try to stop it while it was carousing over east Texas.

Milton H. West is the new congressman from the 15th district, defeating his Republican opponent, also of Brownsville about 8 to 1 majority. This gives Texas once more a full house of 21 members, all Democrats, as well as two Democratic Senators. Mr. West is filling the shoes of his illustrious predecessor, the Honorable John Nance Garner, now vice-president of the United States. He has a big shoe to fill, but from the size of his vote both in the primary and the election, it seems the south Texas folks think he has the capacity.

The Herald has up to this time always given the Germans credit for being a smart race of people, but has recently had somewhat of a change of heart. When a great big majority in any nation organize to oppress a very small minority because of jealousy or racial hatred, it points forcibly to the weakness of the cause of the mob or semi-mob. The Herald refuses to believe that the persecution of the Jewish race in Germany is the work of the real German people but rather the mad orgy of a small minded man suddenly come into power. The Herald also refuses to join in the general belief that Mr. Hitler is or ever will be a great man in his nation or elsewhere. He is just a poor imitator of the power behind Italy. Just a big, overgrown four-flusher.

The mother of Mrs. Clyde Gross, who lives near Plainview, is very ill at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Gross were called up there Saturday night but thought she was better and came home only to be called back Monday night.

Mrs. Jay Barret dropped in last week to put their Herald up another year in advance.

J. T. Stricklin came in Tuesday from Fort Worth, and is spending a few days in Terry county, making his headquarters with his brother, Jack Stricklin and family. Elder Stricklin is employed as financial agent of the Boles Orphan home near Greenville. His business is to get churches to sign up for a small crop to be planted, cultivated and harvested for the benefit of the home.

Mrs. Adair was up attending the District PTA and took the opportunity of thanking the Herald for the publicity we have given the Well-man unit of the County Council.

No Nation Can Live Long to Itself

The approaching conference between representatives of the great powers of the world and President Roosevelt, will focus attention on one of the most vital problems of depression—the decline in foreign trade. Secretary of State Cordell Hull recently said that America's share of the world trade that has been lost in the past few years reaches the astounding total of $6,000,000,000—a volume of business which at any time would mean the difference between depression and comparative prosperity. If the general world economic crisis had been wholly responsible for the collapse of trade, the problem would be a great deal less important—all over the world the industrial skies are brightening and the upturn has started. But foreign trade has gone to the doldrums principally for another reason—a growth of isolationist sentiment in the great countries. The result has been tariff barriers and embargoes to a greater degree than ever before existed. In the modern world, we have annihilated space. The telephone, the radio, fast transport, have almost eliminated the former barrier of distance. In this world no nation can successfully live alone, remote and economically removed from its neighbors. Such a policy is the prelude to international distrust, suspicion, enmity. And in a world where such things exist there can be no permanent and sound prosperity. The U. S. A. is taking the lead in seeking to obtain world cooper-

FOREIGN COMMERCE OFF FROM NORMAL

Despite declines of 23 percent in the volume, and 33 percent in the value of shipments to foreign countries, the United States was the world's leading export nation in 1932. Definitely improved in most large centers. This has been due in part to Easter seasonal buying, and partly to what is apparently a new "spending attitude" on the part of the public with renewed confidence. WHEAT—Winter wheat production this year is forecast at $334,000,000 bushels as compared with 462,000,000 bushels last year, and a 589,000,000 bushel average for the five years 1926-30. Prices are steady and improving. WOOL—In western growing regions, the market is very firm, with trading reasonably active. Prices on the up-grade. MOTORS — Automobile executives are both surprised and elated at reports of retail sales reaching them from all parts of the country. RAILROADS—Awaiting working out of the Administration program with confidence and hope. Cheering signs is the possibility of the elimination of the recapture clause of the Transportation Act. Our faithful friend, Mrs. A. J. Akers, of Memphis, Texas, sent in her one-fifty to keep er coming, recently. More than 400 products are now derived from the crude petroleum produced in Texas. ation for recovery, and to stimulate trade between the nations. If other powers follow, it will be great blow yet struck at hard times.

Importance of Our Highway System

Austin, Texas, April—Terry county's state highways bring $54,000 a year in extra business to the county in the form of tourist trade, the Texas Good Roads Association has estimated from a survey of the state's last official traffic census. This business, the survey points out, does not include "natural" trade from local cars or those of adjoining counties, which obviously would increase with improved roads. State checkers, from four days' actual count, found the average daily traffic to be 300 motor vehicles on Highways 84 and 137. Motor traffic in Texas is divided, the experts have found, in two almost equal classes. Roughly, half are local cars or from adjoining counties. The other half are from beyond the state, or from Texas points at least two counties distant. The latter are genuine tourists. "On this basis, some 150 outside cars cross Terry county each day," the association said, "scattering their good American dollars among the restaurants, hotels tourist camps, MAN, THIN AS RAIL, IRON GIVES PEP AND WEIGHT "I was tired, run-down and thin as a rail. Since taking Vinol (iron tonic) I sleep well, feel better and have gained 10 lbs."—R. A. Cromberg. Vinol is delicious. Alexander Drug Co.

hot dog stands, garages, filling stations and stores along the important highways. If they spend as little as $1 per vehicle within the borders of the county, then Terry county's trunk roads mean $4,500 in added business per month or 54,000 a year, exclusive of the added convenience and saving to her own 9,000 people, Who operate some 1,500 cars themselves. The survey, conducted by the Association for every county in Texas, was designated to show importance of roads to each community, and thus arouse opinion against any further diversion of gas tax money, which would cripple the highway program.

The historical spot where Houston's army changed the map of North America. April 21 1836, not only marks the anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto in the war between Texas and Mexico, but it is one of the greatest days of American history, because the Battle of San Jacinto brought to a successful conclusion the desperate struggle of Texas for independence from Mexican domination; and as a result a new nation was born—the Republic of Texas. By their votes the people of Texas have authorized plans for a Texas Centennial celebration in 1936 commemorating the historic events of 1836, of which the battle of San Jacinto was most notable.

What's The Matter With Texas?

By S. W. Adams—Room 65, Driskill Hotel, Austin

WHASSA MATTA

My final letter to you, pleads your active interest in proposed constitutional amendment, introduced by Senator Hornsby of Austin.

He proposes that the constitution be amended so as to provide for the State's taking over all county, district and municipal bonds by the State, amounting to over $657,263, 333.30 It is the Sterling crowd still eager to get their hands in the pockets of the people. They know that the people would not endorse a bond issue for any number of millions for new expenditures, but the people swallowed the unconstitutional legislation transferring the county road bonds to the tune of $122,000,000 to the state, hook, sinker and cord, so readily, that they now see a chance to get their $350,000,000 by taking another course.

Because it will be so easy, to cry,

"let's pass this bond burden on to the State so that we will not have to pay it," without the people's ever stopping to think they MUST pay state costs as well as local, they hope to shift the bonded indebtedness. Let's vote more millions and have PROSPERITY," hoping to have the same fool crowd that has soaked us over six hundred millions turn right around and do it again, which will give the bond crowd over a billion hold on us.

They will plead: We pay 6 1/2 per cent on local bonds; we can refund these with state bonds at 4 per cent, which will save us 2 1/2 per cent interest." But back behind the scene is Dallas with $35,246,758 municipal bonds; Ft. Worth $21,945,000, San Antonio; $17,466,300, Waco $7,356,200, Austin, $6,205,750, Beaumont, $8,472,138; El Paso, $8,662,991; Galveston, $9,434,500—total $118,257,137, over half of the $216,902,460 municipal indebtedness of Texas—but they must not get by with it. Lying and skulduggery play a greater part in legislation than thou ever dreamed of, Horatio.

Criticises Taxes

Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls lawyer-economist, who was a candidate for Governor last year, claimed that taxes are not justly assessed in an address before the convention of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association in Dallas last week. He said that public utilities, oil combines and other great organized industrial interests have avoided payment of just taxes.

In the beginning of 1931, the average weight of steel pullman cars was 81 tons.

The average day coach weighed more than 54 tons.

There were nearly 1-2 has many more books issued to the average person in the U. S. in 1929 as 1923.

U. S. libraries had 162 million volumes—132 volumes per 100 persons.

THE SCHOOL SITUATION

Immediate cause of the financial distress of the public school system seems to be compounded of two main factors: Failure of local people to pay their school taxes; shrinkage in the revenue received by the state, on which is based the scholastic appropriation.

Not long ago the city of Abilene made it possible for taxpayers to pay their school tax without at the same time paying the rest of their municipal taxes. It was hoped that this plan would bring considerable money into the public fund. At the school rally held Friday night it was brought out, however, that only one taxpayer had taken advantage of the privilege.

The plight of the public school system is aggravated by a lack of balance between expenditures for primary-secondary and so-called higher education. Texas spends from $250 to $350 per capita on the students in the institutions of higher learning, such as teachers colleges and the University of Texas. It has been spending $17.50 per capita on the children in the public schools. That means that the local taxpayer must not only bear the principal burden of public school education, but must bear his portion of the burden of higher education. The consequence is that both the public school pupil and the taxpayer suffer, while the student in the state college receives the lion's share of the expenditures for education.

By paying their school taxes new, the citizens can relieve a distressing condition; by insisting that the institutions of higher learning reduce expenses and make the student pay an equitable tuition fee, conditions such as we are in now will be made impossible in the future.—Abilene News.

CAVEAT VENDOR

Franklin Roosevelt never advanced a sounder or even a timelier recommendation for the restoration of confidence than his proposal to require of sellers of securities that they make full, accurate and understandable statements of all material facts bearing on the issue of the stocks and bonds they have to offer to the public. "Let the seller also beware," the President says. It is a good rule. The rule should be good for the seller in the long run. The Mitchells and the Insulls would be respectable citizens, in all probability, free from suspicion and court charges, had they exercised the standard of care which the President asks Congress now to impose by law on promoters and underwriters of such investments.

The President's habit of sending brief messages, each limited to a single phase of his program, is impressive and it is proving to be telling in effect. Striking, also, is his fidelity to the platform which he offered to the people. Plant for plank he has presented it to Congress. American politics has rarely presented an example of such absolute, such clean-cut, such dramatic adherence to campaign promises. Had all his measures the wisdom of this one, America might feel that its Daniel had indeed come to judgement.—Star-Telegram.

Texas motorists pay 41 percent of the states' total revenue. They have a right to expect that at least half of what they pay will continue to be used on good roads.—Abilene Reporter.

Revenue produced from the tax on gasoline is intended for the program of highway work, and should not be diverted from its intended channel.—Yoakum Herald.

The people of the United States are determined not to divert money raised by taxation for good roads to other and general state use.—Keerville Sun.

Further diversion of the gasoline tax fund and further increase in the gasoline tax are both to be avoided like the plague.—Houston Post.

That gasoline tax either belongs on the highways of Texas or in the pockets of those who pay it.—Moore County News.

"Why was it they took Mlle. Carrozier off the radio? I thought her voice was remarkably fine." "That was just the trouble. If they had let her continue to sing, she would have thrown all the other women singers in the shade too much."

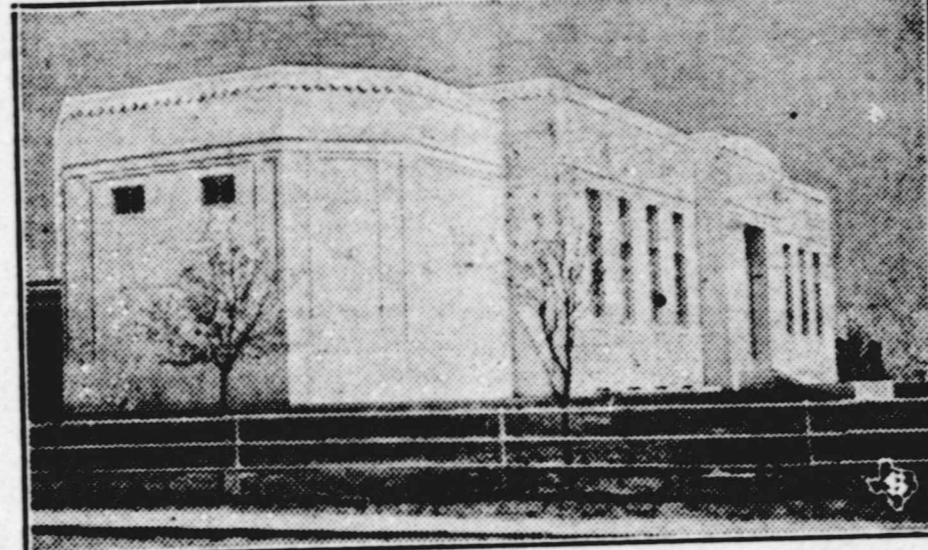

Poetical Girl—Ah, what is the height of happiness! Practical—In case he's about five feet 10 inches.

The motorist is the heaviest taxed individual in the country already, and to keep on taxing him is only to make his load intolerable.—Denison Herald.

No public issue can be of more importance to the Panhandle than the continuance of the state's highway construction program.—Amarillo News-Globe.

"It's hard to collect money in these times." "How do you know? Are you a collector?" "No, but a lot of other people have tried to collect money from me."

Panhandle Historical Museum Opens

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum was dedicated last week. It has just been completed at a cost of nearly $55,000. The structure, of Texas limestone, was made possible by the contributions of hundreds of people, from all parts of the United States, though mostly from Northwest Texas.
