News Theme Highlights FHS All-Sports Banquet

Using a newspaper style, with the theme "FHS Sporting News," Friona's athletes were honored at the 2002 Sports Banquet Friday, May 17, at the Community Center.

Parents, boosters and friends decorated the Community Center with articles and pictures clipped from the Friona Star's weekly sports coverage throughout the year. The athletes were invited to take the clippings with them at the end of the evening.

Booster Club president Allan Haile and club members grilled the steaks for the evening's menu. The Noon Lion's Club cooked the french fries and salad, rolls, dessert and drinks rounded out the meal. The buffet lines and meal service was provided by our 8th grade athletes.

Head Coach and Athletic Director Bob Ferguson presided over the evening and individual coaches introduced their players and presented awards.

The top awards were given to Frank Dominguez as Fighting Chieftain, Amy Murphree as Fighting Squaw and Osvaldo Almaguer, the Fighting Heart Award.

In varsity football, Coach Ferguson named Frank Dominguez as the top Chieftain defensive player and Nathan Haile as top offensive player.

In girls varsity basketball, Coach Richard North named Squaw seniors Mandy Daniel and Jacy Grimsley as co-MVPs. The two were honorable mention all-district and Jacy was named to the all-district defensive team.

In boys varsity basketball, Assistant Coach Jeff Isom announced Nathan Haile as the MVP. Haile, a senior next year, is a three-year basketball letterman.

Golf coach Don Herbert's top golfers were Chance Barrett, top girl, and Ricky Dickson and Ty Potts as top boy golfers.

MVP for girls varsity track and field was Amy Murphree. Richard North is the girls track coach.

In varsity boys track and field, Coach Dudley Kelm awarded the MVP honor to Andy Carthel. Andy advanced to regional competition in the 100 and 300 hurdles.

Ky Graham, girls varsity tennis coach, named senior Jacy Grimsley as MVP. Jacy won district in singles and advanced to regionals. On the boys tennis team, Graham (Continued On Page 3)

A HARVEST of graduates bursts forth every year in May like lilacs and rosebuds, and yes, perhaps a stink weed or two, having been for the past 12 years, showered with bits of knowledge and fertilized with pearls of wisdom imparted upon them by their respective school systems.

My Turn

by Carol Ellis

The traditions, the speeches, the pomp and circumstance, the mortarboards and sweaty palms, as self-conscious teenagers duckwalk down the aisles of their high schools one final time with jaws bobbing up and down in rhythm with the music because they just couldn't get through this solemn occasion without that wad of gum.

Grandmas and Grandpas, bursting with pride, tears in their eyes, listen intently to every word of inspiration from the commencement speakers. Moms and Dads, instead of hearing the speeches, will be sitting there wondering if the money they've saved in the college account is going to stretch out for the full four years; while the grads, themselves, sit there checking their watches, wondering when the boring stuff will be over so they can go to the party.

Speeches will be filled with earnest words of hope for the future. "You stand on the threshold of this great adventure called life." "Our youth of today represent the promise of tomorrow." "Reach for the stars." And on and on.

The fact is, these young folks have only recently been consumed with the essentials of teen-age life, such as: dating, clothes, cars, sports, burgers, makeups, pizzas, parties, music, body piercings, tattoos, and more dating. Now poised on the brink of adulthood, they would probably benefit more from commencement speeches that tell them what life is actually going to be like out there.

These grads will no longer be depending on their moms to keep their wardrobes in order. They need to hear about such things as laundry, washing, ironing, putting clothes on hangers, etc. Then, since many of them still believe that all food groups originate at Burger King, it might help to mention the term "cooking."

They also need to hear about "money," which has in the past been available from Mom's purse or Dad's wallet. "Money," they should be told, actually stems from a process known as "work." In the adult world, this is sometimes referred to as a "job." "Work" is generally rewarded with "money" which enables the graduate to acquire neat stuff like clothes, makeup, cars, movies, music and tattoos, all of which have previously been provided by parents' credit cards.

Which brings up an ugly word called "payments." Many credit card companies will be tempting these grads with attractive little plastic cards to carry in their pockets. These are as addictive as drugs. The graduates should be given dire warnings about what happens when people succumb to the lure of credit cards.

Mama Carol's message to the "Class of Oh-Two": "You may not all become Nobel prize-winning scientists, or solve all the world's problems (though we hope you do). But you can make your own little corner of the world a better place, by simply vowing to accomplish something positive every day. Right now, time seems to stretch out unendingly before you. That is a misconception! You can never get back a day that has been wasted by doing nothing.

Now get out there and DO SOMETHING! And be sure to let your hometown newspaper know what you are doing, so we can report it to the home folks who watched you grow up and who care about your future."

Wied Will Exhibit Local Art

An art exhibit of paintings by Bobby Wied will be held at the Depot in the park June 2-7. The exhibit will consist of fifty-two recent oil paintings centered on the theme, "A Year at Reeve Lake: The Four Seasons in Fifty-Two Paintings".

The exhibit is a bit out of the ordinary in that it is not a collection of paintings with random subject matter.

All of the works depict Reeve Lake at different times of the day, different seasons, and different weather conditions.

The artist stated, "When the word Friona is mentioned, scenic beauty is probably not the first thing that comes to mind. Perhaps these paintings will be a small step in changing that."

A reception will be held at the Depot Sunday, June 2 from 1:30-4 p.m. The exhibit will be on display to the public from June 3-7 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

LAST WEEK was National Hospital Week, celebrated by the staff at Parmer County Community Hospital and rural hospitals across America. Shown at a luncheon to honor PCCH staff are, l-r, Bill Neely, PCCH administrator, Dr. Jeff Dickson, Rhonda Wilkins, home health, Dr. Bob Alexander, and Sterling Graham, PCCH maintenance.

"Peanut Butter Sandwiches and Other Stuff"

I like new products. I'm continually amazed at American ingenuity. We live in a new and improved America. A microwave, squeeze bottle, fruit flavored society.

Every day in America thousands of people put on white jackets and creep around in research labs, testing products designed to make life easier for all of us.

If you are an old-fashioned person like I used to be, and "have been buying the same brands for years," you might be headed for extinction.

It's not easy to be set in your ways today. The square footage of Wal Mart's cereal aisle alone is larger than Mr. Barnard's entire grocery store of my youth in Hillsboro.

As I recall, we offered about four different boxes of cereal at Mr. Barnard's grocery in the 50s: Wheaties, Cheerios, Post Toasties and All-Bran for regularity.

I guess you can tell from where I'm headed that I made another trip to Wal Mart in Clovis last weekend.

Every time I go there I search the aisles for the newest cockamamie idea that some "educated" person thinks we need.

It is possible now to get dressed every morning and face the world smelling like a different fruit. Shampoo and body wash comes in squeeze bottles with scents of raspberry, peach, lemon, or cucumber melon.

Tired of red ketchup and yellow butter? No problem. They both come in green, purple or pink. I have yet to convince my 12-13 year-olds Zach and Megan to try green and purple ketchup.

Don't want to fix lunch for the kids? Are you a single dad and have the kids this weekend? Don't fret. Grab a cartload of Lunchables. Meat, crackers, dessert and a drink in a handy vacuum sealed box. Zach likes the pizza ones.

Fixing popcorn in a skillet floating in butter? Forget about it. Get some Extreme Butter kernels in a handy microwave pouch, a few minutes in the microwave and pass the salt.

Microwave popcorn instructions warn you to put the correct side up in the microwave. I wonder what would happen if you put the up side down. Would it pop. Or just burn.

For years I have been following the saga of the peanut butter (and jelly) sandwich. The lab researchers have spent billions trying to help weary parents overcome the misery of constant peanut butter sandwiches.

First of all it's a pain isn't it. Do I get creamy, crunchy or extra crunchy. What kind of jelly will they eat on it. (Grape is number one.) Some jelly leaks out the side when they bite on it. Gotta' be careful.

To help out with labor costs, Peter Pan came out with a jar of peanut butter that already had the grape jelly swirled in it. It is not exactly flying off the shelves.

Not long ago the peanut butter people started marketing peanut butter slices. Wrapped in cellophane they look like brown cheese and are in the freezer case, a long way away from the peanut butter aisle. They don't seem to be hot sellers either.

No wonder. Most of us like to dig a table knife into the jar and spread a thick gloppy layer of peanut butter on the bread or crackers. Sometimes I just eat it off the knife. I like extra crunchy.

Now, the Sara Lee Bakery Company of St. Louis, Missouri, has made sandwich making for the kids easier. Under the IronKids brand, crustless bread is now on the shelf.

Parents will appreciate the concept, if not the price. I bought a loaf, it is regularly $2.44, on sale last Sunday at Wal Mart for only $1.97.

To my knowledge, no child has ever eaten a bread crust. Parents through the ages have spent many hours cutting off the four sides of crusts of peanut butter sandwiches.

My kids wouldn't eat them either. No punishment was great enough to make the little snots eat a crusted sandwich. It had to be creamy peanut butter, grape jelly and bread with no crust or forget it.

My boy Casey would let a peanut butter sandwich with crusts lay on the plate until it petrified before he would touch it. And you knew he was hungry. He would have come closer to drinking a spinach milk shake than eating the crust on a piece of bread.

Of course crustless bread has come along about 20 years too late. Casey is 25 now and eats the heel out of the loaf of bread first. That drives me nuts too.

The Sara Lee crustless tastes like sourdough bread. But it doesn't crumble, even though it doesn't have a crust to hold it together. If it sells at all, the other breadmakers will follow with their own version of crustless loaves.

In the meantime, moms (and single dads) spend more quality time with your kids and avoid the hassle of crust wrestling with the little darlins'. No more peanut butter elbow from digging in a jar.

Enjoy life. Invest in crustless bread. Your kids will love you for it.

Wal-Mart shoppers, see you next time in the cereal aisle!! rh-think about it

Tx Boll Weevil Officials Ask To Be Contacted

Boll weevil eradication is beginning its second year on the High Plains, and one obvious difference this year will be the number of traps placed around cotton fields.

The increased number of traps is necessary for making treatment decisions, and foundation officials seek growers' cooperation in protecting them.

Foundation personnel follow specific guidelines in placing traps around cotton fields so they will be effective in attracting weevils and provide good information on weevil activity. Traps are placed to optimize their usefulness while providing the least disruption to farm operations.

Where possible, traps are set next to existing structures such as fence or telephone posts. When this is not possible, employees try to place the traps so they will not be in the way when growers are working the fields.

Growers may believe, however that some traps are in the way and decide to move or remove the traps.

Doing so can hamper the progress of the eradication program, officials say.

Producers are asked to contact their field unit supervisors before moving or removing any trap. The supervisors will find a placement for the traps that meet program goals and reduce interference to farmers' operations.

Occasionally a piece of equipment will clip a trap and knock it down or break it. Also, inclement weather can damage traps or blow them down.

Traps are checked weekly, and growers will quickly grow accustomed to the schedule for their fields.

Should they notice damaged or downed traps between regular inspections, growers should contact their field unit supervisors with the information so the traps can be repaired or replaced.

Well-maintained traps allow foundation personnel to monitor weevil activity and make proper treatment decisions. Damaged or missing traps may result in extra treatments to ensure that weevils don't have the opportunity to infest fields unnoticed.

Growers may contact their district offices for more information.

The Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation is a nonprofit, grower initiated and funded organization dedicated to eliminating the cotton boll weevil from the state in the most cost effective and environmentally responsible manner possible.

County Ground Water Levels Declined In '01

Parmer County ground water levels dropped an average of 2.10 feet during 2001. This is based on measurements taken from 97 privately owned wells in the observation network maintained by the High Plains Undergruond Water Conservation District No. 1. Ground water levels within the county declined an average of 2.24 feet annually during the ten year period from 1992 to 2002. An average annual decline of 2.13 feet was recorded for the five year period from 1997 to 2002.

Ground water levels in the ogallala aquifer within the 6.8 million acre Water District service area declined an average of 0.78 of a foot from 2001 to 2002. This decline is 0.36 of a foot less than the 1.14 feet of decline recorded for 2000.

"The rate of changes in depth-to-water levels for 2001 is generally less as compared to those for 2000. This is likely the result of decreased pumpage during 2001 due to increased energy costs or other related economic factors or possibly timely precipitation that replaced irrigation in some area," said Don McReynolds, High Plains Water District Technical Division Director. A network of 1,209 privately-owned observation water wells is used to determine the annual change in the quantity of water in the ogallala aquifer within the High Plains Water District. The depth-to-water measurements are taken in January and February of each year to allow water levels to stabilize from pumping during the previous growing season.

Three counties within the water district recorded water level increases since last year. Eight counties showed average annual water level declines of less than one foot, while four counties showed an annual decline of more than one foot. Maps showing the location of observation wells were published in the April issue of The Cross Section, as well as tables listing the water levels in these wells at one-, five-, and 10-year intervals.

Copies of the April 2002 Cross Section are available by contacting the High Plains Undergruond Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, TX 79424 or by calling (806) 762-0181. The Water District's web site is www.hpwd.com and its email address is erica@hpwd.com.

THE BOY SCOUTS, Cub Scouts and Tiger Cubs held a food drive in Friona Sunday, May 19. The youngsters went door-to-door soliciting cans of food for the Clovis Food Bank which also services the needy in Friona through the local Ministerial Alliance. The scouts collected 1,154 cans according to Scoutmaster Mercedes Williams. Thanks to all who donated. ron carr photo

MEMORIAL DAY

A Time To Remember Our Country's Heroes

Democracy. Freedom. The American experience and spirit is founded on these. In times of peril our servicemen have defended this spirit with dedication and courage. Many have given their lives to preserve it. Today, young people from our community are continuing to uphold these brave principles. Our hearts and thoughts are with them in these uncertain times.

Memorial Day is a time for quiet reflection. A time to honor our servicemen of past and present. And, as we rekindle the memory of what they have given to their country and to each of us, we also prayerfully work and hope for peace around the world. Memorial Day, a day of commemoration, is our way to proudly and reverently give thanks.

Letter To The Editor

Quite honestly I had not noticed that Wal-Mart does not fly our flag. What a surprise. I have run across a situation that I think should be changed.

Maybe I'm wrong in feeling this way, but this is what I found on Friday, October 12, 2001. I ran to our local Wal-Mart store before I went to work. I needed a couple of items before we left at noon for a short vacation.

While I was being checked out at the counter, I realized that I had not noticed an American Flag flying outside and asked the clerk why there wasn't one. I was told that the policy is that Wal-Mart does not provide flags to their stores-rather, each store must provide their own.

At this store, the employees would have to take up a collection among themselves to make the purchase of the flag, pole & flood light. I was sure there was a misunderstanding in that policy somewhere, but needed to hurry off to work, so I didn't pursue the problem.

As I drove to work I became more and more upset to think that the company which "seems" to encourage patriotism and "Buy American" won't even, in these days of horror and heroism and war on terrorism, provide their stores with flags to show their support!!

When I got to work I told my co-employees what I had found that morning and they agreed that I must be mistaken. Wal-Mart would not have a policy that made individual stores/employees purchase their own flag, "for heavens sake!!"

My co-employees suggested I just call Wal-Mart corporate offices and there I would discover the truth to this misunderstanding. So, I did. I called the corporate office and spoke to their representative.

By the way, their number is 1-800-Wal-Mart. Do you know what I was told? I wasn't misunderstanding their policy! Each store must provide their own flag-if the store can't fit the expense into their budget, then the employees have to take up a collection.

Now, I find this a disgrace. I have always noticed the large flags flying at many places which always fly the flag, even when there isn't a National Emergency.

But here's Wal-Mart, the company who has become wealthy beyond measure in this great country of ours; who claims to be "One big happy family", who recommends we "Buy American", but who cannot/will not provide a flag pole/flag and light to each of their stores wherever they are.

Would this be expensive? Oh, somewhat, I agree, but I hear that Wal-Mart is planning to build many new stores in the near future and that, possibly, they will make every existing store into a "super-store". Now, I realize that expanding like that will bring in more money and make them wealthier still-where providing flags to all their stores would only cost money and not add money to their fortune.

Maybe, just maybe, not providing flags to their stores and not flying the flag in support of our country will start costing them more money. Maybe I will start looking more closely for the flag before I shop and begin supporting the smaller stores who don't worry so much about the "bottom line", but rather are happy to spend some money to show they really love America.

Am I really way off base on this, or do you feel the same? Thanks for taking the time to think about this with me-if you feel the same, please share this with your readers.

A Concerned AMERICAN

Clerks Cited in Teen Cigarette Sale Sting

According to a press release from Parmer County Sheriff Randy Geries, on May 19, 2002, the Sheriff's office conducted an undercover operation involving controlled purchases of tobacco products from retailers in Parmer County.

Geries said that different underage buyers entered stores and attempted to buy cigarettes. The operation resulted in four illegal sales in Parmer County.

Ten stores were entered and most of the stores properly asked for identification and turned the underage buyers away.

Geries' release stated that the four stores who did not ask for identification and sold the cigarettes to minors were Allsup's and Fast Stop in Bovina and Allsup's East and Town & Country in Friona.

Clerks making the sales were issued citations which carry potential fines up to $500 for each sale.

The Parmer County Sheriff's Department has received a grant from the Texas Comptroller's Office to conduct the operations in Parmer County. The grant also includes inspection of retailers for compliance with regulations. Geries said these types of operations will be randomly conducted in the future to promote and monitor compliance with the laws in the county.

The one that went before,
made today possible.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

MARK'S GOSPEL—OR IS IT?

ST. MARK, AUTHOR OF THE SECOND GOSPEL, BELONGED TO A GREEK FAMILY FROM CYPRUS, COUSIN OF THE EVANGELIST BARNABAS, HIS SURNAME MARK—GIVEN NAME, JOHN. HIS MOTHER, MARY, WAS A WOMAN OF WEALTH, IN WHOSE HOME IN JERUSALEM, MARK MET ST. PETER WHO WAS A CONSTANT VISITOR. MARK ACCOMPANIED HIS COUSIN BARNABAS AND ST. PAUL ON MISSIONARY TRIPS AS AN ASSISTANT. AFTER THEIR DEATHS, HE ATTACHED HIMSELF TO PETER, FOR WHOM HE WORKED AS A LETTER WRITER AND INTERPRETER DUE TO GALILEAN-BORN PETER'S LACK OF PROFICIENCY IN GREEK AND ROMAN SPEECH.

BECAUSE MARK WROTE HIS GOSPEL WHILE AT ROME WITH PETER, MANY AUTHORITIES FELT IT WAS DONE WHOLLY UNDER PETER'S GUIDANCE—THE ANCIENT CLEMENT OF ALEXANDRIA THOUGHT SO, AS DID PAPIAS, BUT....

...WHETHER THIS IS SO OR NOT, HE WROTE WITH GREAT INDEPENDENCE! MANY THINGS CAN BE LEARNED FROM MARK THAT ARE NOT FOUND IN THE OTHER GOSPELS—FIRST, HE DID NOT WRITE HIS GOSPEL FOR THE JEWS BUT FOR THE GENTILE CONVERTS TO CHRISTIANITY....

THIS IS EVIDENT IN HIS MANNER OF TAKING TIME TO EXPLAIN CERTAIN THINGS WHICH NEEDED NO EXPLAINING TO JEWS—SUCH AS THE FACT THE "JORDAN IS A RIVER," THE PHARISEES "USED TO FAST," THE MOUNT OF OLIVES IS "OVER AGAINST THE TEMPLE," AT PASSOVER MEN "EAT UNLEAVENED BREAD"—MARK ALSO TOOK THE TROUBLE TO POINT OUT THAT MATTHEW WAS "LEVI, SON OF ALPHEUS, PETER WAS A NAME GIVEN TO SIMON BY JESUS, THAT JESUS WAS A "CARPENTER"! ALL THESE THINGS WERE COMMON KNOWLEDGE TO JEWS OF THAT DAY BUT NOT TO GENTILES. WHENEVER MARK USED ARAMAIC WORDS, HE STOPPED TO TRANSLATE THEM FOR THE GENTILE READER. IN ALL, MARK TOOK GREAT CARE TO SHOW THE HUMAN SIDE OF JESUS—HE COULD BE TIRED (IV:38), VERY ANGRY (III:5), HE COULD SIGH (VII:34, VIII:12), AND BE "GREATLY AMAZED" AND "SORE TROUBLED" (XY:37). ABOVE ALL, MARK PRESENTED JESUS AS THE MAN ON EARTH, WORKING AS GOD'S SERVANT!

Jon Piggs Have Girl

Jon and Julie Pigg of Quitaque are the parents of a baby girl born May 10 at 8:02 a.m. in Covenant Medical Center, Lubbock.

Named Jaden Breann, the new arrival weighed eight pounds, three ounces and was twenty and one-half inches long.

Jaden is the couple's first child.

Grandparents are Gary and Barbara Brown of Friona, Barbara Scroggins of Amarillo and Mike Pigg of Silverton.

Great-grandparents are Ruth Brown of Stillwater, Oklahoma, John and Delores Pigg and Louise Chandler, all of Quitaque.

STUDENTS in Carolyn Wiseman's 4th grade social studies classes in Texas history designed a Texas Quilt as a year-end project. Shown with the finished quilt are Mrs. Wiseman and some of the 89 students that worked on the project. Each block represents a subject relative to Texas that the students researched and drew the pictures for. Linda Griffin, Carolyn Wiseman and her mother Gertie Murphree did the piecing and quilting. The Texas Quilt will be displayed at the Friona Public Library during the summer.

We had a lot of left-over Mother's Day news this week. We hope everyone has a great Memorial Day weekend. Let us know about your holiday company and traveling by calling Becky London at home: 238-1146 or The Star office: 250-2211.

Have a safe and fun weekend!

Ann Osborn had a wonderful Mother's Day weekend with her daughter, Dr. Lacye Osborn of Ft. Worth.

Lacye had been in San Francisco, California lecturing and invited her mother there for the weekend. Ann flew out there and the two had a fun four days touring area sights.

Ann said they went to the Muir Woods to see the Giant Redwoods. They also toured the wine country, art galleries, shops and rode the trolley in San Francisco.

Opal "Grany" Strickland reports that she is home and healing just fine after undergoing knee replacement surgery May 6 in Lubbock. She was released the Friday before Mother's Day and has been exercising and following her doctor's orders faithfully. She said she would like to thank everyone for the flowers, food, calls and prayers during her illness.

The class of 1958 is getting together this weekend at the home of Butch and Paula Fairchild in Adrian. We expect a full report on attendees for next week's Friona Star.

Lilah Gaye Gee's daughter and son-in-law, Linda and Owen Houston of Lubbock, were in Friona for four days over the Mother's Day weekend. They cooked steaks at home and enjoyed visiting.

Percy and Margaret Parsons have been gone for a couple of weeks. They spent some time at Hubbard Creek Lake for several days and then attended their grandson, Blaire Parsons', graduation from the University of Texas at Austin on Saturday, May 18. He graduated with a Bachelors Degree in English.

On their way to Austin, the Parsonses stayed a night with Percy's brother and sister-in-law, Conner and Thelma Parsons in Ft. Worth.

The Friona couple then stayed with Blaire's parents, Mike and J Carole at their home in Spicewood for about three days.

The family members held a graduation meal for Blaire following the commencement exercises at Gregory Auditorium at U.T.

Also present for the meal was Blaire's other grandparents, Robert J. and Pat Crisswell of Plainview, his brother, Michael, a student at Southwestern College in San Marcos, Blaire's girlfriend, Julia and his college roommate, Will.

Percy and Margaret returned to their home in Friona Tuesday.

Katherine Smith just returned from Erie, Pennsylvania where she attended her sister, Janet Nixon's 80th birthday party. She also reported that another sister, Ruth Anne Rogers of Ft. Myers, Florida was there.

Back in April Katherine and her daughter, Adelle Clements of Hereford went to Mandeville, Louisiana for a week to stay with her two great-grandchildren, Kyndall, 4 and Griffen, 1, while their parents, Brett and Julie Clements were in Hawaii.

Kyndall and Griffen are also the great-grandchildren of Martha Clements of Friona.

YOUR EYES

Which Of Your Eyes Is Stronger?

Do you know that you can be right- or left-eyed? Every person has one eye that is favored more than the other. A couple of activities can tell which of your eyes is dominant. First, stretch out your arm in front of you and point at a distant object like a picture on the wall. Close your right eye. Do not move your finger. Did your finger appear to move as you closed your eye? Keep both eyes open and point again. This time close your left eye and see if your finger moves. Close your left eye and see a finger jump, you are left-eye dominant. Close your right eye and see a finger jump, you are right-eye dominant. If neither finger appears to jump, then neither eye is dominant. Hold a piece of cardboard or paper with a one-inch hole in the center at arm's length with both hands. Keeping your eyes open, look at a distant object through the hole. Move the cardboard or paper slowly toward your face. Which eye is looking through the hole? That is your dominant eye. Such tests can detect any developing problems with your central vision. Also, look for obstructions, veils or curtains in your peripheral vision or for floaters or spots. Note the duration and intensity of these symptoms. Report new symptoms or vision changes to your eyecare specialist.

JACI ZINGERMAN

Jaci Zingerman Wins Lubbock Writing Contest

Seven-year-old Jaci Zingerman of Friona was a winner in the 2002 Lubbock Arts Festival Young Writers Competition.

Jaci is the daughter of FHS assistant principal Lori Zingerman. Her first grade teacher is Terri Hunt.

The contest, open to all students in grades K-12 writing poetry or prose in English or Spanish. The theme of this year's competition, which was sponsored by the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, is "The Importance of Helping Others."

A panel of judges comprised of educators and community volunteers selected the winners. Awards will be presented during the Arts Festival at a special ceremony on Saturday, May 18 at 10 a.m.

Jaci submitted a poem in the contest. The title, "I Love My Mom & Daddy" is reprinted here:

One day I told my mom
I Love You! I Love You!
I love you from the top
Of my toes to the tip
Of my nose.
Then I said to my dad
I love you more than cats and dogs.
I love you more
Than pigs and hogs.
I love my mommy and daddy
More than my favorite cartoon.
I love them all the way
To the moon.
