This has been a sad day at the McReynolds household—Fortunately the spouse and young'un have been gone, for one day last week we got a call from the city hall to come by and pick up a dog collar. The reason—our dog had been run over by an auto.

We realize she wasn't much as far as dogs go, and in the beginning we did our best to talk the other two-thirds of the family out of getting the pooch. But here lately the doggone thing has, as we feared, wormed its way into our lives and now that empty box and unused food bowl in the back yard leave a hole at the house.

I'm sure that not everyone around our neighborhood shares this opinion of Spook.

As much as we tried the little black nemesis would collect every newspaper in the country in our front yard each morning.

We had tried to break her of this, and other habits, like chasing cars, with no success.

It was probably the latter that proved Spook's undoing. Anyhow she is gone now and we would like to take this opportunity to apologize to the neighbors for her behavior in the past.

Thumbing through our exchange newspapers recently we happened across the following article in the Olton Enterprise which has a "painful and acute" meaning to us.

EDITOR'S LAMENT
"Twas the night before deadline when all through my head, I hunted in vain for news I had read.

"Not an inkling was stirring, not even a mite, my mind was off duty, quit cold for the night."
"Forward, turn forward, O Time in thy flight, and make deadline tomorrow, a week from tonight."

To the above little verse we'd like only to add one word—AMEN!

We realize that it is no joking matter about the hail which fell hereabouts the other night, but we heard of one fella up in Hereford who really has a dismal outlook on that crop.

Seems that his wheat was 75 per cent hailed out some time ago. When asked about it one day recently, he said that he "guessed it was all right the way it hailed it out because now the other 25 per cent was burning up for lack of moisture."

Friona's Consumers is sporting a new bookkeeper. Sometimes "it" looks a little worse for the wear, however. We are sure that most of you are acquainted with it—the name is Buddy Lloyd.

Sunday's rains and the ones earlier in this week have had a lot of the oldtimers recalling the times when the Frionians used to run bank full from time to time.

While eating supper the other night the subject came up and two of the men present were talking about one boy who made himself a raft and declared he was going to "ride down the Draw."

According to the story, people gathered at the railroad bank for the momentous occasion.

Merchants and others had donated grub for the raft and after suitable speeches were made, the boy and his raft were pushed out into the current.

The raft and its adventurous passenger disappeared around the first bend waving to the spectators.

The crowd dispersed talking about the daring young fellow and his trip down the Draw.

Only a few hours had passed when in to town walked the "adventurer."

Dripping wet and bedraggled, his trip was cut short only three miles from the beginning.

Despite jibings and hoo-raing he refused to make another try at riding out the Draw.

According to the talk, there never has been anyone from Friona or hereabouts to try it again.

Or—maybe it's because the Draw has been dry ever since.

This tale brings to mind one of our experiences while growing up in East Texas.

Every once in awhile a "panther" as we called it would drift down to our neck of the woods from Oklahoma and just play billy heck with cattle and other young livestock.

In high school such a beast came down to our county and proceeded to raise Cain with the local livestock.

After a spell the bounty on the panther rose to $250 and with the look of greenbacks in our eyes four of us rose to the bait.

Arming ourselves with rifles and shotguns we set out for the woods, telling each other what we were going to do with our share of the bounty.

Dark found us deep in a swamp about 15 miles from home and still full of danger for that panther.

We had been sitting around a campfire and were just fixing to roll into our bedrolls when a sound which I'll never

Smith, Osborn Elected To Friona City Council

Final Rites Read For Miss Landrum

Funeral services for Margaret Rose Landrum, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ray Landrum of Gruver, Texas, were conducted at the First Christian Church in Texhoma at 9 Tuesday morning with Rev. Allen Duffey, pastor, officiating.

A second service was conducted from the First Baptist Church here at 3 that afternoon with Rev. Joe Sneed and Rev. L. A. Sartain officiating.

Margaret Rose, who was born March 31, 1944, in Long Beach, Calif., started school in Friona and attended school here most of the time until the family moved to Gruver about two years ago. Members of her class here served as pallbearers.

Survivors besides her parents, are a sister, Mrs. Ben Konis of New York City, and a brother, Joel, of Gruver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dixon, long time Friona residents, are her maternal grandparents.

Burial was in Dimmitt Cemetery under the direction of Henson Funeral Home of Guymon.

It looked like Frionians had forgotten about election day until late Tuesday afternoon and then poured into the City Hall to pick Ralph Smith and Forrest Osborn to fill the two remaining vacancies on the new five-man governing body of the city.

In what was described by one of the presiding members of the voting commission as "the closest election I ever worked" Frionians picked the candidates as follows:

- | | |
|--------------------|----|
| Forrest Osborn | 86 |
| Ralph Smith | 83 |
| T. J. Crawford | 79 |
| Preach Edelman | 68 |
| Dean Awitrey | 19 |
| Nelson Welch | 5 |
| J. G. McFarland | 3 |
| A. W. Anthony Sr. | 2 |
| Ralph Roden | 1 |
| Mrs. Shirley Weiss | 1 |
| V. C. Krueger | 1 |

A total of 178 voters made the trip to City Hall to pick the two candidates of their choice.

Early Monday morning the first signs of a concerted write-in campaign were seen when cards boosting T. J. Crawford were found in the post office boxes of the townspeople.

Although the effort was hard it was felt by many people that the broad number of other write-ins hindered the Crawford effort.

The two newly-elected councilmen will be sworn in at a special meeting of the Council Thursday night in City Hall.

At the same time the Council will draft a city ordinance outlining the specific duties of the new manager, Albert Field.

Smith is a farmer who lives in Friona and is also associated with the real estate business in Friona.

Osborn is a farmer also, and co-partner in the OF&O Supply Co. in Friona.

Officials at Tuesday's election included Nelson Welch, presiding judge; George Baker, judge; Mrs. W. A. Tinney and Mrs. Dan Ethridge, clerks.

★ FRIONA FD GOES TO THE DOGS

Friona's Fire Department area gave way to a group of barking dogs and persistent "mamas" Tuesday afternoon as a Clovis veterinarian made a visit to town to vaccinate dogs for the year.

A total of 44 Fidos were punctured during the course of the afternoon. The City Hall reported only 19 dog tags were issued.

M. M. Sherley of Memphis, a former Friona resident, was a business visitor here Saturday.

A dark ominous cloud unleashed a flurry of hailstones on crops southeast of Friona about midnight Sunday and damaged about 15 fields in varying degrees from 10 to 75 per cent.

First indications came late Sunday afternoon when a cloud came out of the southeast and brought light to heavy showers to the area which was later pounded by the hail.

Around midnight the clouds, which had been building up between Friona and Dimmitt, began pouring hail on the land about 8 miles southeast of Friona.

Heaviest damage was reported in the area near Ranza Bogges' land where Newman Jarrell and Bob Jones lost an estimated 50-75 percent of their wheat.

As far as The Star could learn about 14 individuals suffered losses. In addition to Jones and Jarrell others who were damaged include Wayne Massey, R. G. Lynch, Van Nichols, W. R. Riethmayer, Ross Ayres, Dean Awitrey, L. W. Loanman, Gene Ellis, David Setliff, Gordon Massey, Claude Blackburn and Tom Breedlove.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

State-Wide Politics Rolls Up Sleeves For Summer Battle

With the deadline for filing in the state races ending Monday night political "know it alls" have begun making their predictions upon the outcome of the several "heats."

This year will be no exception to the rule that it will be a "long hot summer" both in weather and in political fist-fights.

The governor's race should prove to be quite entertaining if nothing else.

This was assured with the announcement of ex-Governor W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel of his intention to contend for the white apartment house in Austin.

Up for re-election is present Gov. Price Daniel, and at the last minute State Senator Henry Gonzales of San Antonio threw his hat into the ring.

These three men will be opposed on the Republican ticket by Edwin S. Mayer of Sonora and San Angelo.

We still remember the days when Pappy was at his peak. It was a hot summer then too, as Pappy and his Light Crust Doughboys pulled into our hometown on a fire engine to the tune of "Beautiful Texas."

You could hardly stir the crowd with a 2x4 as they gathered on the Library Lawn to hear Pappy launch into his tirade against the "professional politicians" whom he was opposing for the governor's seat.

Yep, the old boy fooled a lot of them as he went into the seat in the primary beating out a field of half-a-dozen well-known political figures without a runoff.

We were reminded of this during the last election when once again Pappy O'Daniel set forth in a red fire engine to "put out the fire in Austin." This time, however, he was beaten out.

What will happen this time remains to be seen—one thing for sure lots of typewriters will get mighty warm before this summer is gone.

The spotlight is also focused on the U. S. Senator's race which pits present Sen. Ralph Yarborough against ex-interim U. S. Sen. William Blakley for the six-year term in the Senate.

Both of these men will face Panhandle publisher-rancher Roy Whittenberg in the November election as Whittenberg is running on the Republican ticket.

Going on down the slate on the state's higher offices we find Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey facing ex-Sen. George Nokes for that position and Agriculture Commissioner John White has two opponents for that job in ex-Representative Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio and Bastrop County Judge Tom Griffin. WITH JUNE

Most of us have heard this axiom time and time again. "A fool and his money are soon parted." A friend handed us a new one along this line. It reads, "One of life's mysteries: How a fool and his money get together in the first place."

The following bit of verse was lifted from a magazine and the author is unknown. It would make our part of the world a little bit brighter if each of us could cultivate a system like it for our own personal use.

THE BEST MEMORY SYSTEM

Forget each kindness that you do as soon as you have done it; Forget the praise that falls to you, the moment you have won it.

Forget the slander that you hear, before you dare repeat it; Forget each slight, each spite, each sneer, whenever you may meet it.

Remember every kindness done to you whatever its measure; Remember praise by others won and pass it on with pleasure.

Remember every promise made and keep it to the letter; Remember those who lend you aid and be a grateful debtor.

Remember all the happiness that comes your way in living; Forget each worry and distress; be hopeful and forgiving.

Remember good, remember truth, remember Heaven's above you.

And you will find through age and youth, that many hearts will love you.

Several older members of the Drake family have recently had new glasses prescribed by Dr. Beene. Apparently this seemed to the youngest member of the family, Peggy, to be the only thing to do.

Late one evening last week Peggy made her usual visit to the home of her grandparents. Upon entering, her grandmother, Mrs. A. O. Drake, noticed that she was wearing glasses and said, "Why, Peggy, where did you get your glasses?"

Without a moment's hesitation, Peggy replied, "I got them from Dr. Beene." It is possible, of course, that Dr. Beene had prescribed them for someone, but if so it had been a long time ago. Upon closer observation Mrs. Drake discovered that they were frames from which the lenses had been removed and were merely a part of Peggy's "dress-up" costume.

For the past several years we have been thinking of starting a collection of typographical errors. In reading papers we very often run across one that is really funny. A few years ago this report was given, "About 40 GUSTS attended the party."

Then recently this one was picked up. In reporting the story of a horse returning home from school, one line ran like this, "Joe Danny was able to work among cattle carrying a rider, but without BRIDE or saddle."

In driving to and from work the past two years we have observed F. W. Reeve driving a tractor many times, but hadn't seen him out yet this spring until one day recently. One day last week he was doing some plowing.

Since we have known him several years and have learned that farming has always been his favorite occupation, we felt sure that he was doing a thing which he enjoyed doing; however, we didn't know until later that he was observing his 80th birthday this month. HAPPY BIRTHDAY to you, Mr. Reeve, and may you have many more.

If there is someone on your graduation list that you haven't decided upon a gift for, come by the Star office and let us show you one of our Webster's New Collegiate Dictionaries. Anyone who is graduating who doesn't have a good dictionary would certainly appreciate one. Maybe you hadn't thought of a person graduating from high school needing a dictionary.

That is one of the books a person never outgrows the need for. Whether a graduate plans to enter college, get married, get a job, or pursue some other course, a dictionary would be a welcome gift.

In spite of the recession talk, Friona continues to build. Several business buildings are being built and new homes continue to be built. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shaffer are building in the northeast part of town and it looks like it will not be very long until they will be ready to move in.

Of course, we are watching with interest the progress being made on the new building at the corner of Sixth & Euclid. Instead of being called sidewalk superintendents, maybe we are "driving down the street superintendents." At least we generally drive by to see what the newest addition to the building is. Yesterday it looked like the plumbing was just about finished.

A large roast is easier to carve if it is allowed to stand for about 30 minutes before it is brought to the dining table, says the Texas Beef Council. Place it on a heated platter and do not garnish it over-generously. Give the carver elbow room.

Nearly 6,000 farm residents each year die in motor vehicle accidents, statistics of the National Safety Council show. More than 200,000 farm residents are injured annually in traffic mishaps. But home accidents injure even more—about 460,000 farm residents annually.

Barnesboro, Pa., Star: "As millions of Americans are now finding out to their sorrow, inflation creates just as much hardship, bread-and-butter wise, as does a depression. Our lawmakers now need to be made aware of that realization and take the necessary steps to stem the creeping tide of inflation which has dealt our pocketbooks such a severe jolt."

Myers Has Angus Calf for Project

Charles Myers, a freshman agricultural student in Friona High School, showed his Angus calf at the recent Junior Livestock Show held in Friona.

He plans to feed the calf approximately 1200 more pounds of feed.

In addition to the Angus calf pictured above, young Myers bought another 700 pound Angus calf from the Clements Brothers at the show and plans to feed out the pair.

Feeding out the two calves will be one of Myers' Agriculture II projects.

"I hope to get them fed where they will go prime when I sell them," he says.

The Myers family moved to Friona from Lamesa in December, 1956, and Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers Sr.

In addition to his feeding projects, Charles has credit in his agricultural work for the following: farm level work, identification of grains and seeds, and feeding and caring for beef cattle.

The annual number of accidental deaths on farms is running nearly 3,000 less today than in 1950, the number of injuries about 300,000 less, the National Safety Council says. Why? Better public information and increased safety consciousness by farm residents.

Falls are a leading cause of death and injury to farm residents, according to the National Safety Council.

More deaths occur each year in farming than in any other major industry, according to the National Safety Council.

ONE BODY—

"We sometimes hear people say that they cannot understand the Bible alike, when they disagree about something the Bible says. It could be that some understand it, while others misunderstand it. Or probably all of them misunderstand it. When a dozen people understand the Bible there is no disagreement among them.

An example of this is Eph. 4:4, which reads: 'There is one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling!' A great number of people are reluctant to admit that there is one body. But Paul makes it plain that there is one body when he says, 'But now are they many members, yet one body' (1 Cor. 12:20).

And this conclusion becomes more objectionable to some people when it is explained that the body is the church. Paul says, 'And he is the head of the body, the church; who is the beginning, the first born from the dead, that in all things he might have the pre-eminence' (Col. 1:18). This is not hard to understand, but it may be hard for many to believe.

In this connection two things are important. First, there is only one body. One in the Bible has the same meaning that it does in arithmetic. It never means two or more. Second, the body is the church. It cannot mean anything else. Paul plainly says that the body is the church. It is strange that some people will reject what the Bible states as a fact.

And Paul not only says that there is one body, but he says there is one God, one Lord, one hope. No one would believe it, if a preacher should say that there is more than one God, more than one Christ, or more than one heaven. Why disbelieve it when he says in the same place that there is one body? It would be no more unreasonable or unscriptural to preach a plurality of Gods, Christs and heavens, than to preach a plurality of bodies.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

ACCEPTABLE FRUIT

The men who saw the fig tree, with its withered leaves, remembered that Jesus had cursed it only a few hours earlier, and took note that it was a miracle. The withering wrath of God at a fruitless tree taught them a lesson they were never to forget.

Jesus further emphasized the necessity of fruit in the lives of His people by saying, "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh away (John 15:2).

There is no uncertainty as to the kind of fruit God expects us to produce—"love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance." No man can produce such fruit in himself, for it is the fruit of the Spirit of God. Fortunately for us, the Bible gives us the key to a fruit-filled life—"If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit" (Gal. 5:25).

No heathen religion, no un-Christian system, can simulate this. I know of no other religion that can produce love or joy or peace, or any of the other fruit of the Spirit. We should thank God earnestly every day we live for saving us by grace, and for working in us by the Holy Spirit.

Seniors Peek into the Future

THE CLASS PROPHECY SENIOR CLASS OF 1958

I see that Jerry Hinkle is a great scientist now. He is quite famous over his recent discovery of "Hinklium." It is the newest known element. It is rumored that he has been working on this project since his high school days.

There is Nolen Johnson, present director of the New York Symphonic Orchestra. They say his fame is due to the fact that during the intermission of his programs, he entertains his audience with a rock and roll band.

Billie Rae McKee has just returned from her first visit to the moon. There she has an experimental garden where she is now attempting to grow potatoes in six different pastel shades.

Weldon Fairchild and Darrell Buske are also on the moon and they are working on plans for a rocket to go to the sun. Jerry London has signed up for the first trip.

Miss Jan Edelman is now starring in the current movie hit "The Pros and Cons of Tiddly Wink Tournaments." In her spare time she does toe dancing at the Ritz Night Club there in Hollywood.

Luellen McLean has become renowned because of her invention of hair growing tonic. Of course, Jake LaFavers is very disgusted with her since he just manufactured some combs for bald headed men.

Old maid Phila Buske is doing well in her business of marriage counseling.

Betty Agee is attending Friona High School where she is still taking chemistry. As yet she hasn't managed to pass the course but we are all wishing her luck.

Johnny Miller and Dale Williams are making tinker toys now and they seem to have made a small fortune from their latest manufactured article—jet propelled stick horses.

Roy Nazworth has just set a new world record in pole vaulting. It is marvelous how he achieved this feat without a pole.

Mr. Brown has taken up farming. His crops are quite unique—rice, seedless watermelon, and a type of flax from which sea-sick pills are made.

Mr. Ledbetter just passed his exam so that he has his license to be chief dog catcher of Philadelphia.

Madeline Chang and Roy Nazworth have just made a new hit record. It is used by typing teachers everywhere to teach better methods of building homemade typewriters. Their lyrics are being written by Frankie and Butch.

Darrell Thompson has now got his own Bob Cummings show, where Peggy Taylor is working as his favorite model.

George Terry has found a way to make false teeth grow on bushes.

Paul Averett and Charles Hough are operating the largest beauty salon in New York City.

Lila Gay is operating Ringling Sisters, Barnum, and Buske Circus which tours Alaska and Hawaii. Helen is doing the fat lady act and Randy is the sword swallower. An added attraction is Judy and Bryant's Flea Circus. Ruby is the wild animal trainer.

Donald Loafman is writing a new book "Ten Easy Steps To Build Thatched Roof Bungalows." Margaret and Eva have perfected a permanent wave solution for white rats and bunny tails. Paula is now coaching her own family's basketball team.

Present president of USA, Miss Linda Gee, is now at her farm taking private golf lessons from ex-president Eisenhower. Leon Massey is now zoo keeper of the Bronx Zoo in New York City where he features species of the Dodo bird and the unicorn from Mars.

Dr. Catherine Chang, a noted toe nail specialist, is working on an invention of self clipping toe nail fluid. O'Neil and Gené are now high officials of the Salvation Army. Leonard and Jimmy have achieved fame because they were the first people to swim the Atlantic Ocean with their legs tied together.

Barbara O'Brian has just returned from her 50,000 mile flight to Siam on her magic carpet that she purchased at Miss Smith's "Weird Wonders" second hand shop.

Of course, since this great prophet is such a busy man, we have no real proof that he didn't get the list mixed up. Only time will tell.

CITIFIED RABBITS?

Did you ever hear of citified rabbits? There must be some in Friona. Seems that everything is changing. It used to be that parents drove out in the country so the children could see some of these long eared animals that used to be so numerous here.

Tuesday morning a Star reporter observed one of the little gray creatures very contentedly eating grass between the evergreen on the south side of the Lillard home and the house. After some inquiry was made it was learned that this particular rabbit has lived in that neighborhood since before the last big snow storm we had.

It was also learned that Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Osborn, who live just west of the L. F. Lillards, found a nest of young rabbits in their yard. Surely there must be something unusual about them or they would not be able to survive with so many cats and dogs around.

Gaylord Maurer Is Guest Speaker

Gaylord Maurer, who was a jet pilot in the Air Force several years, was guest speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Super Duper Snoopers at the hobby lobby. Maurer used diagrams to illustrate his talk. He discussed the construction of the motors, the importance of the jet plane, and other allied subjects.

Those present were Tacy Smith, sponsor, Pat Cranfill, Janiece Bock, Mary Ann Stacy, Jake LaFavers, Joby Claborn, Jimmie Bainum, Dale Smith, Larry Moyer, Ronnie Wood, Ronnie Castleberry, and Don Clements.

The children were being taken on a tour of the mint. "Why is it," one of them asked, "that they stamp 'In God We Trust' on the pennies?" "That," explained the guide, "is for the benefit of people who use them for fuses."

Two Greeks were watching their first baseball game. Said one to the other, "This is all American to me."

Sesame Acreage To Be Doubled In Parmer County

Sesame, the Old World crop transplanted to the Western Hemisphere's most productive agricultural region only four years ago, will probably double in acreage in the Parmer County area this year, and production is expected to increase by 100 percent also.

This outlook is the prospect from checks with Parmer County's two handlers of sesame seed, Cummings Farm Store in Friona and Henderson Grain & Seed in Farwell.

Last year, Parmer farmers harvested about 2,200 acres of sesame under the worst conditions that have prevailed since production was begun on a small scale in 1954. Sesame, like cotton, does well when the fall weather is warm and dry, which it wasn't last season.

In spite of adverse conditions, area producers took two million pounds of cleaned oilseed to market and sold it for more than 10 cents a pound. This was about one-fourth of the total U. S. production of sesame, which is finding itself a good market as production rises each year.

The southern and southwestern parts of the county will lead in sesame acreage this year. Sesame seems to do better in slightly sandier soils, and also it is difficult to get high grain sorghum yields in lighter lands, which has also encouraged sesame planting in this area.

C. M. "Heinie" Henderson, Farwell sesame seed dealer, says there will be "between 2,500 and 3,000 acres" of sesame in his trade territory this year.

Ennis Cummings of Friona says the central and northeastern part of the county will plant about 1,500 acres to the crop, which will give the Parmer County area a total acreage of 4,000 or more.

Billy Marshall of Bovina will again be the biggest grower. He will plant 600 acres near the Hub.

The rebirth and development of sesame in America in recent years is an amazing story (which has already been told in Farm and Home). The home of sesame development is Paris, where the Texas Sesame Growers was founded.

The organization, seeking to expand production, came to the irrigated Plains four years ago and their efforts are catching on. In developing sesame from "scratch," they have been surprisingly successful in stabilizing prices as the seed sells in the open market at a rate governed by supply and demand.

Sesame Growers has been very conservative in product development, and has never represented to farmers that sesame was a "hot" crop that could make money fast. They have won the confidence of the farmers they deal with.

Apparently, similar business-like tactics have been employed with the users of sesame, principally the baking trade at the moment (although many other types of business are considered likely prospects in the future). The crop has moved regularly into the channels of trade at a price that has held from 9 1/2 to 10 1/2 cents a pound year after year.

That is especially remarkable when it is remembered that sesame is such a small part of the total oilseed production in the United States, and the pattern of prices is usually that the smaller the crop acreage, the more it is regarded as a "specialty" and the more the price will fluctuate.

"We now have six years of growing experience for sesame which indicates that the best planting time for the crop is in the period from now to June 15," reports Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of Texas Sesame Growers. "Most experienced growers plant between May 10 and June 1, usually following the planting of cotton with the planting of their sesame."

Parker estimated that on the basis of marketing agreements already made by farmers with his organization, between 15,000 and 20,000 acres will be planted to sesame in Texas this year—with the largest acreage being on the irrigated High Plains.

During 1957, Parker said, sesame continued to make gains as an increasingly important crop in the Southwest. Where the unseasonal weather lowered the quality of cotton and maize, the quality of sesame remained good. Where the profits on cotton and maize lagged, the price of sesame remained high. The harvest of approximately 7,000,000 pounds of seed brought the farmers of Texas a total of $17,000—an average of 10.43 cents per pound.

Parker said that sesame is a relatively easy crop to plant, grow and harvest. The only equipment needed to plant sesame in addition to standard planting equipment is a vegetable seed planter box. He suggested a planting rate of one pound per acre for dryland and two pounds per acre for irrigated land. Planting should be from one to two inches deep.

Regarding preparation and planting, Parker commented: "Plant sesame on fertile, well drained land. Clean the seedbed before planting. Plant after the soil is warm—and after cotton is planted."

Market prospects, both domestic and foreign, continue good, Parker said. A larger tonnage than ever before is predicted for 1958, and the forecast is for a price range of 9 1/2 to 10 1/2 cents per pound for No. 1 quality seed.

Throughout the world whooping cough is still the most deadly of infectious diseases for children, but the death rate from it has been declining during the past few years. It is more fatal with girls than with boys, and the highest death rate is among infants less than a year old. Happily, according to a recent report of the World Health Organization, in this age group the number of deaths dropped from 7,874 in 1950 to 1,623 in 1955.

Two Spaniards See Local Irrigation

Two representatives of the Spanish government visited in the Parmer County area during Monday of this week observing local irrigation practices.

The two visitors, Dr. Antonio Hidalgo-Granados and Dr. Juan Antonio Valentin-Gamazo, are both agricultural engineers in their country and are visiting many irrigation areas in the Southwest.

They left the Hereford area Monday and arrived in Friona where Bob Crozier and Levon Summerfield, soil conservation men, took them for a tour of the local areas.

Both men were intensely interested in how our program of irrigation was carried on from drilling to harvesting.

Hidalgo told of some 125,000 acres annually which are being transferred over to irrigation in his country.

"The government buys the land and installs the irrigation. The land is then sold to poor people who are given 25 years to pay for it, including 60 percent of the cost of providing the irrigation."

In regard to our well-drilling technique on the Plains, Hidalgo said that in Spain all their water is taken from streams and as far as he knew there was no water taken from underground sources.

The land in which Hidalgo and Gamazo ply their trade in Spain raises similar crops to those grown here on the Plains.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Due to Insurance Commission rulings, owners of farm pickups are going to have some increases in liability and collision charges on these vehicles.

We are sure all agencies will appreciate your patience in this new method of rating. Our opinion is that if the Commission would settle down on rates for at least a year at a time, the cost of insurance would be lower. It has been necessary for Texas companies to reprint auto policies as much as three times within a period of 12 months, recently. This brings about an expense of destroying a year's supply of old policies, which is always, of course, charged up to the policy holder.

The Farm Bureau Weed Committee is getting things under way for the eradication and prevention of bindweed again this year in a bigger and better way. With the cooperation of most vocational agriculture instructors, county commissioners, state highway department and railroad officials, Parmer County farmers have a very good chance, as the result of work of the committee, of escaping tremendous costs of clearing acreages of bindweed, instead of small patches. Raymond Schuler is chairman of the committee. Serving with him are: V. F. Wilcox, R. D. Dale, Reinhold Steinbock, A. R. McCutchan, Vernon Symcox, Joe Jesko and Gus Schlabs. These men, your county agent, SCS Mgr., and ASC Mgr. spend one night each month, and sometimes several days, working for your benefit, as well as theirs. You will do well to cooperate with them, and when possible, lend a helping hand to the administration of the program.

The expense of maintaining this committee is born by the county Farm Bureau. If you have not paid your dues, and like this program, it is enough to warrant your $10 dues many times over. Those working with the committee receive no pay, not even expenses, of course.

If you are not up to date on these subjects, pick up a copy of "The Situation We Face," regarding cotton, wheat, and other commodities, prepared by Bill Wedemeyer, Research Director for Texas Farm Bureau. If you want to know more about the work behind the scenes in the interest of you, the farmer, attend a directors meeting on the first Monday night of each month in the Friona office.

Foreign Car "ECONOMY"

Fact - Or - Fancy?

You hear a lot about foreign cars these days. And some claims are being made about how "economical" they are. How do the claims of the small, foreign car manufacturer stand up? Have you learned the whole story?

First of all, there's the matter of initial price. Are foreign cars really cheap? Not hardly, especially when you get down to the bare facts of what you are really paying for your money. Most foreign cars come "stripped" by American standards. That means that most of these cars are actually within the price range of the low-priced lines of Ford.

For instance, the average small, European-made car costs somewhere around $1,900 with the equipment you expect on it. Look what you can buy in the way of a full-size, American-made FORD:

1958 CUSTOM "300"
6 cylinder, 2 door, with oil bath air cleaner, Fram, 5 tires, turn indicator, ash tray.

$1899⁰⁰

DELIVERED IN FARWELL
Price Includes Federal Tax
You Are Not Forced to Finance!

And with this kind of a REAL CAR (not a toy) you get the STYLE that Americans want, the SIZE AND ROOM that Americans need and use, the PERFORMANCE that makes every single European small-car "low-priced" import look sick. There is simply no comparison between these cars except price!

And, don't forget, Mr. and Mrs. America, that economy in cars is far more than miles per gallon. The biggest single expense in owning a car is depreciation. Your Ford will, last longer, look better, and sell for more than the European small cars. That's why you're always ahead of the depreciation game with a Ford instead of an import.

One more thing: You really CAN get outstanding mileage with a Ford—mileage that is even competitive with the small cars, if you buy in the Ford true low-price series, and drive your car a speed comparable to what you would drive in the import. Let us prove it to you! Let Friona Motors make you the deal you've been thinking can only be made by a man who sells foreign-made cars!

Rain And Hail Pelt Area Farms

Rain and hail, coming in the spring thunderhead variety and scattered from place to place, have visited most Parmer County area farms since Saturday. The most general rain came Monday night, and brought moisture measurements to one-half inch and up at practically all points, with some checking an inch or better in their gauges.

The area had a sprinkling of hail and strong winds, but not in amounts considered disastrous. The hopes of some farmers for an early stand of cotton were dashed, and in other cases the outcome is questionable. Many cotton producers are out "scratching" for their stands with rotary hoes, trying to uncrust the sprouting seed.

Only in the southern portions of the county was cotton up to a stand, and hail there was not severe.

Damage in varying degrees occurred to wheat on area farms, and most of it came to the farmers in the east and central portions of the county, where hail and strong winds hit some spots heavily.

Elsewhere, though, damage was light, or at least no reports of severe storms have been received by Farm and Home. Light hail in the southwestern part of the county Sunday came "straight down" and the chopping effect of the hailstones was minimized.

Most reports received from area farms indicate a strong contrast from conditions that have prevailed on the eastern and southern High Plains, where storms of tornadic fury have washed out early plantings of cotton and corn and have dealt severe blows to irrigated wheat.

Dickie Says No To Lower Prices On Farm Cotton

Alex Dickie, Denton, president of Texas Farmers Union, said today that he wanted to set the record straight on the stand taken by that farm organization for holding the price line on cotton to the producers.

"We in the Texas Farmers Union are not in favor of sacrificing the price to the producers, and we intend to fight for an extension of the present minimum acreage now in effect for cotton to expire this year," Dickie says.

Dickie stated that he agreed that cotton had to be in a competitive position with synthetics but that this did not have to be done at the expense of cotton farmers. Cotton should be sold in the normal channels of trade both at home and abroad and if the price received by the producer is less than a parity of income price, then the difference should be made up by compensatory payments, he believes.

The Texas Farmers Union believes that the cotton farmer has made all and more of the price sacrifice that he can. "If the ginners, spinners, weavers, and handlers are worried about the competitive price of cotton, (our price is down to 84 percent of parity), how much are they willing to take off for their services? This idea that the farmer is the only one who has to be competitive is nothing but some more Republican, big business, hog wash designed to confuse the public and even some farmers fall for it," Dickie states.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

The American farmer's ability to produce food, feed and fiber, which has confounded agricultural economists since the close of World War II and has resulted in one of the biggest political issues of our time, is taking on international overtones again.

Clinton Davidson, Washington columnist, says that American farmers are being moved into the front lines in the cold war with Russia. This is an abrupt about-face from the administration's tone just a year ago. Perhaps politics has something to do with it.

At any rate, Davidson says Capitol officials are singing the slogan, "Food is one of our most important weapons in the battle of communism." The State Department is quoted as saying, "Our surplus stockpile of food is as important in the cold war as our stockpile of atomic bombs. The first can build a peaceful world, the second could destroy it."

While we can't buy that statement 100 percent, it is worth comment to observe that the State Department recognizes that some good could come from the evil of overproduction of farm products. Here's the way Davidson sees it:

The decision to win friends and influence people in the cold war through use of food is an adoption, on an international scale, of the long-accepted women's axiom that the most direct route to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Heretofore, our primary purpose in financing the export of foods has been to reduce our own excessive supplies and to relieve the price burden they impose on U. S. farm prices. We have charged off the cost, more than $7 billion, to farm "subsidies."

Within the past few months Russian dictator Nikita Khrushchev has opened up a "second front" in the cold war. The objective, as we have reported, is to spread communism to uncommitted nations through trade and aid.

Our State Department is now awake to that challenge. Not long ago it asked the Agriculture Department for a survey and report on current and prospective surpluses of foods over the next five years. USDA was asked to use all precautions to prevent the information becoming public.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles then asked John H. Davis, the highly regarded former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, to make an appraisal of the USDA report.

Immediately upon completion of his appraisal, Davis was sent by Dulles to Southeastern Asia to work closely with India and the other so-called have not nations. Having appraised probable supplies, he is now making a study of food needs.

Within recent weeks there has been an abrupt about-face in the official attitude toward our $7.5 billion government-owned stockpile of farm commodities, chiefly food and feed. It is becoming more of an asset, less of a liability.

Congress, at the urging of the Administration, soon will appropriate an additional $3 billion for use in financing exports of farm products, chiefly foods, to be given away or paid for in currencies of the importing countries, and then retained by those countries as long-term loans.

State and USDA have agreed that between $1.5 and $2 billion a year will be needed in each of the next 5 years for purchase of additional farm products, over and above present surpluses, to keep the program going.

1/2 cup butter
1 cup confectioner's sugar
3/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
3/4 cup chopped walnuts
angel food cake, cut in three layers

Melt chocolate with sugar and water in top of double boiler. Add beaten egg yolks and cook until thickened. Cool. Meanwhile cream butter and sugar. Add chocolate mixture and blend thoroughly. Add vanilla and walnuts. Then fold mixture into stiffly beaten egg whites. Carefully spread filling between cake layers and chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Combine milk and cream in mixing bowl. Add pudding mix and beat slowly about one minute. Pour into 8 muffin size paper cups. Top with cookie crumbs and freeze until firm. Remove from freezing unit five minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Mrs. Missouri, Mrs. James Eaker, lists banana nut cake as one of the top three favorites of her family. Her recipe is a little different to make and the icing calls for the caramelization of white sugar.

A few years ago many recipes required this kind of sugar and most of us expect an old fashioned dessert for such a recipe. The unusual taste is well worth the effort taken for such a job.

Parmer County Farm Family of the Month

The J. D. Kirkpatricks are a young family, and young also to Parmer County, having lived for four years in the Bovina community. Their home is located about four miles east of Bovina.

Members of the young family as pictured above include Randy 2, Daryl 8, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Carol 8, and Debra 5.

Kirkpatrick farms about 920 acres, with Parmer Country crops of grain sorghum, cotton, and wheat being planted on the most of the acres. Soybeans are included this year, as Kirkpatrick diversifies some of his acres.

Besides his farming, Kirkpatrick serves his community on the school board of Bovina, and is also president of the Men's Brotherhood of his church in Bovina.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick finds housekeeping to be where she can best serve, along with church activities.

The Kirkpatricks are a happy, young family, who are known among the fine Parmer County families.

Quality Keynote Of Cotton Meeting

Agricultural advisers in the field of cotton production came down hard on the word "quality" at a special meeting held in the Hub Community Center Thursday evening.

Fifty-two men were there to hear Extension Service personnel: Fred Elliott, Dave Sherrill, and H. A. Tourney. The meeting was arranged by County Agent Joe Jones.

Elliott discussed weed control and the use of different chemicals in this phase of cotton production. He tied in his subject with the theme of quality cotton for more profits.

Sherrill discussed irrigation from a quality cotton standpoint. He pointed out that irrigation timing is vital to raising good cotton. The time to begin irrigation is when cotton begins fruiting, and he suggested that farmers attempt to start their watering so that they will be about halfway through when the first bloom appears.

The cut-off date—most frequently violated recommended farming practice on the High Plains—is from August 15 to August 20. "Give the cotton a chance to mature out," he suggested.

Tourney took up the insect aspect of cotton production—both early and late season control. In six out of ten years it pays to follow an early season control program, he pointed out, "and when it pays, it pays big."

He pointed out that most farmers are still worrying about getting a good stand of cotton when they ought to be worrying about damage from thrips. A day lost in setting fruit in the spring is the same as moving the frost date up one day in the fall, it was pointed out.

And the main point of early season insect control is to set fruit early and take advantage of all the growing season there is.

Several farmers had inquired about a special "jet gun sprayer" for spot treatment of weeds. It was announced that it could be obtained from Gibson Machine Shop, 804 E. 22nd Street, in Bryan. Its price is $20.

From there to the Lloyd Mingo farm to see a water well being drilled. Then on to Archie McCutchan's for a look at his leveling and irrigation system.

People are dependent upon land passed on by their forefathers. Each generation can greatly influence the quality of land for the future. With development of agricultural technology, man can do more to change soil than ever before. He can bring about more rapid deterioration or more rapid improvement. For this reason he has an increased responsibility. Therefore, it is important for man to be aware of his stewardship. Soil Stewardship Week is May 11-18.

A first grader's mother put a bowl of hot soup in front of him. He halted his first spool in mid-air and examined it with a frown.

"What's the matter?" she asked. "Alphabet soup," he snorted. "Gee whiz, can't you let a guy forget school even for a minute?" —Santa Fe Magazine

HOME ECONOMICS BRIEFS

Broilers and fryers are popular spring and summer main dish items. Here are some signs of quality to look for when buying chickens—flexible breastbone, indicates a young bird; soft, pliable skin with few pinfeathers; a "meaty" look.

Avoid chickens that have a hard breastbone, are bruised, have dry or purplish skin or scaly legs.

Preserve surplus "greens" easily and quickly by freezing, suggest extension foods and nutrition specialists. For best flavor and highest food value, freeze as soon as possible after gathering.

It's easy to do. Simply wash, remove tough stems and imperfect leaves. Cut, if desired. Blanch greens by heating in boiling water for 2 minutes (very tender spinach requires only 1 1/2 minutes). Then cool, drain, package and freeze immediately.

For latest information on how to freeze and how to cook frozen foods, get the extension bulletin "Frozen Foods" from your county home demonstration agent's office.

WHY MAKE A WILL? Do you know what would happen to your property if you died tomorrow? Would the settlement of your financial affairs cause family quarrels or disharmony?

Besides avoiding quarrels and reducing the cost and time for settling financial affairs, a will has other advantages, according to extension economist and home management specialists.

It means that an executor can be named, a guardian designated if necessary, and a testamentary trust created if needed. It means, too, that your property can be distributed in line with your wishes.

Making a valid will is not difficult, but it must be drawn to comply with the requirements of the law. For example, two witnesses are necessary. They must be more than 14 years of age and should not be beneficiaries.

Important questions and answers concerning wills are discussed in the new extension publication, "WHY MAKE A WILL." Ask for a copy from your county extension agent's office.

Fewer Beans Make Instant Coffee

Latin American countries which rely upon revenue from coffee as their chief export are feeling the impact of the growing popularity of instant coffee among American consumers. Sharp drops in 1957 imports into the United States from Brazil and Colombia, the leading exporters, are reported by the economics division of the United Nations. Coffee experts explain that the longer roasting process by which the soluble coffee is produced, requires fewer green beans. The economy-minded consumer has also found that the powdered form not only costs less, but yields in terms of cups, 15 to 30 per cent more than the coarser grinds.

Trade talks have been initiated in Washington, about a possible commodity arrangement, to ease the situation for Brazil and Colombia particularly.

In 1901, Thomas A. Edison developed and patented the nickel-iron-alkaline storage battery. Because of its excellent characteristics, this type battery is still used today in such equipment as trains, ships, railroad signals and radio installations.

Sprinkle rosemary over beef before roasting, the Texas Beef Council suggests. Grown in France, Spain and Portugal, rosemary has been used as a spice for many centuries, and the name has come to mean fidelity or constancy.

Early Season Bug Program Urged For Better Cotton

A good cotton insect control program is one that gives protection to the plant and its fruit before damage occurs.

It is also important that injurious insects not be allowed to build up into damaging numbers. Most growers feel that the early crop is their money crop, and go all-out in protecting the early squares from damage by insects.

Plains Cotton Growers is urging farmers to keep a close watch on their cotton crop this year. Statistics show that early season control is profitable six out of 10 years.

An early season insect control program insures early fruiting and maturity and results in higher quality cotton. The first fruits or squares of the cotton plant are very attractive to two insect pests—the fleahopper and the boll weevil.

About the time cotton plants first start squaring, fleahoppers leave their host plants and move to the more attractive cotton fields. This tiny insect sucks the juices from the newly set squares, causing them to turn brown, then black and fall off. The loss of this early fruit hurts in several ways.

The yield is reduced, maturity is delayed, and the plant is thrown into a vegetative-type growth. When this occurs, the plant requires excessive amounts of water and the extra leaf growth cuts down on the number of squares the plant sets.

It will mean a lot of money to cotton growers to take the necessary steps to see that this year's crop is harvested early in order that they might get the best grades possible. The higher grades will bring much more money and the demand will be stronger than for the lower grades. This is caused by the poor quality of much of last year's crop and the heavy withdrawal of high grades from CCC stocks.

Early protection of cotton plants from insect damage will often allow the grower to harvest the crop two or three weeks earlier than otherwise. Insects such as cutworms, armyworms, careless weed worms, flea beetles, grasshoppers, etc. sometimes destroy stands. This necessitates replanting and a costly delay in getting the crop off to a good start.

Other insects like thrips, aphid, and red spider often attack the plants soon after they come up. These insects feed on the juices of the plants causing them to be stunted and fruiting to be delayed.

The loss in yield and quality caused by a late crop was disastrous in many sections last year. Certainly no grower wants or can afford a repetition, of poor quality crop, this year.

The early season insect control program outlined in the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects is designed to insure early fruiting and maturity. Guides are available from all county agents.

Plains Cotton Growers recommends that the grower producer on the High Plains keep a close watch on his crop after it comes up and follow the recommendations of his county agent or those in the guide as they apply to his conditions.

If this is done, perhaps damage will be prevented and an early-maturing, high-yielding crop of good quality will result.

Nickel was used for plating as early as 1843. However, owing to the high price of the metal at that time and the difficulty of obtaining it in a sufficiently pure state, it was not until about 1870 that nickel-plating was established as an industry.

PAGING ELLA
Elephants carry license plates in Laos, Southeast Asia, and are registered, just as cars are in other countries. They are, however, listed by name only, and this sometimes creates complications. The headmen of three villages were busy checking their license records when a particular elephant was required recently, by a yaws control team sent out by the UN World Health Organization. There were found to be four Ellas in that area. Locating the right one was difficult, but with patience the problem eventually was solved.
