Y'know, folks sure do like a winner. And like most, they like to brag the winner is "their" team.

For the past few months sports have about taken the spotlight where coffee conversation is concerned and we don't believe we knew so many folks hereabouts were Texas Tech fans, Exes, supporters, etc., until just recently.

It wasn't until after a slight miscue down at Dallas a couple of weeks ago that we learned over half the population of Parmer County either went to school at Tech, ALWAYS liked Tech, or claim some other "bind" to the Red Raiders.

Yep, until that fatal Saturday night most of them were pretty quiet.

Then a few more added their voices to the din after the Raiders stomped West Texas a week later. Tech fans literally came out of the woodwork.

Then, to top all this off came the World Series.

This is one subject on which we are completely unbiased. We couldn't care less who wins, but it is humorous to sit back and watch.

We weren't around then, but wager that a couple of years ago Friona was populated with Yankee fans almost to a man.

This year Yankee fans are sorta' hard to find.

Naturally you'll find a couple of diehards, or should we say honest folks, who still stick by the Yanks. But-- for the most part, all the folks are backing the Braves this year.

The number increased considerably when they gave the Yanks that shellacking last Thursday.

But--as we sit here typing the Yanks are turning the favor today, and when this column gets into print this year's World Series will probably be history.

Anyhow, regardless of who wins out most of the folks "will have backed them all the way."

Getting back to football, however, as most of you all know we can see no farther than the Maroon and White of Texas A&M.

This year looks like it may be one of those years when this scribe and a couple of others will be the only ones around that will own up to this fact.

But--like we have told a couple of Tech fans already--go ahead and holler, make it as loud as you can, for this year isn't the last one.

The pity of one look at this "like the winner" attitude is right here at home. Right now the Chiefs are looking pretty good. They have won four games in a row and all the homefolk are right proud of "their" team.

But--now don't get us wrong for we are behind them all the way--win, lose or draw--but we would bet that if the Chiefs were to lose the rest of their games this season they would become the sole property of Coach Colie Huffman without a battle.

While on this football tangent we heard a definition the other day which we thought pretty descriptive:

An ATHEIST is a person who can watch a football game between SMU and Notre Dame and not give a hoot who wins.

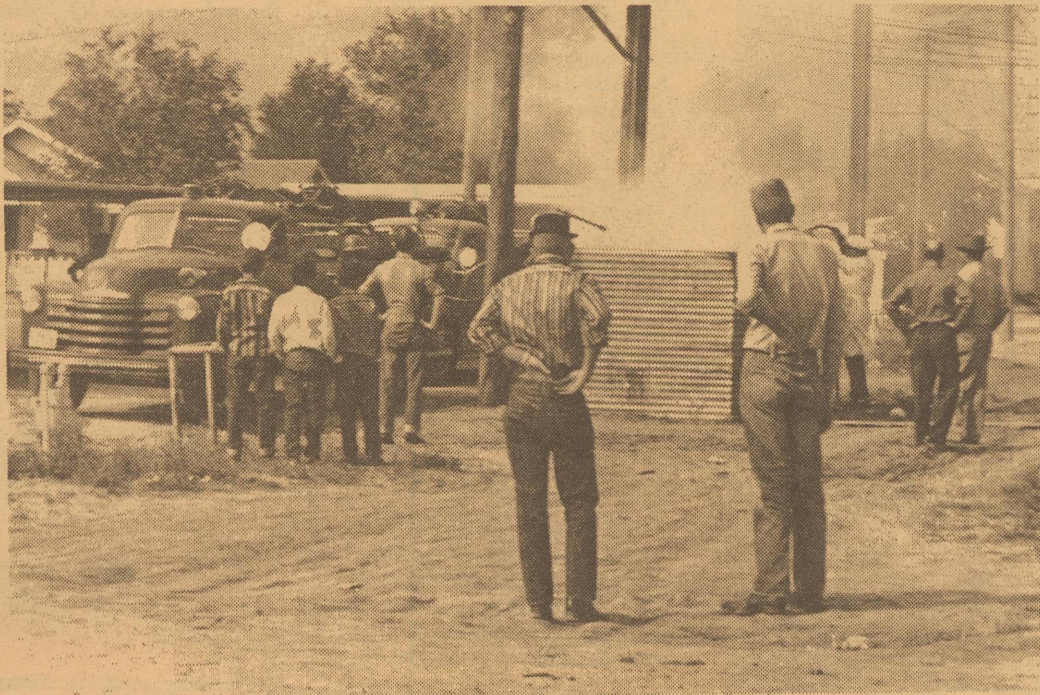

It is the time of year when if you can't talk about the World Series, football or the new cars, you are pretty well out of the conversation.

This week Red McFarland and the Parmer County Implement Company had their open house to show off their 1959 Oldsmobile.

It is quite an auto--but close on Red's heels are Glenn Reeve and the gang out at Friona Motors--Oscar Baxter, Cordie Potts, Kater Crume and Weedy Coffman.

Yep, the new Chevys and Fords are just about a week away.

We wandered over Friday morning to "drool" at the new olds, (as one man said, standing by the new auto, "I

WHERE THERE IS SMOKE, THERE'S FIRE--And so found several members of the Friona Volunteer Fire Department Sunday afternoon when this trash bin back of Bi-Wize Drug blazed up about 3. There was little or no damage to anything but the trash bin. Children playing with matches were blamed for the blaze.

Gala Homecoming Slated at FHS

Don't be alarmed if you notice knots of teen-agers running hither and yon and the girls getting prettied up this week, for it's Homecoming Weekend at Friona High School.

Five pretty lasses have been nominated for Homecoming Football Queen Candidates and the winner will be announced at an assembly in the high school auditorium at 2:45 p.m. Friday.

Immediately following the assembly a parade will wind its way downtown.

Candidates for homecoming football queen are Louann Hardesty, Mary Grubbs, Nancy Outland, LaVon Fleming and Jacquelyn Magness.

While all the coeds are making plans for new outfits, Coach Colie Huffman and his staff are preparing the Friona Chiefs for the homecoming battle with the Muleshoe Mules.

The Chiefs are as yet undefeated this year having won victories over Sunray, Amherst, Happy and Whiteface.

This weekend will be the first time the Chiefs have faced another AA team, however, and the going is apt to be rough.

Coach Huffman says the Mules have a strong team, having been defeated only once this year and this was last weekend by Dimmitt 12-6.

The Mules boast an experienced line and backfield and a scoring ace in Donald (spunk) Shaefer.

Gametime is Friday night at Chieftain Stadium at Friona at 8.

Schedule of events for the Homecoming Weekend is as follows:

THURSDAY
7 p. m.--Pep rally at grade school playground.

FRIDAY
2:45 p. m.--Coronation of football queen at auditorium.

3:15 p. m.--Homecoming parade.

8 p. m.--Football game at Chieftain Stadium.

Two Fires Keep Firemen On Their Toes

Two fire alarms were returned in this past week to the Friona Volunteer Fire Department.

One came about 3:30 Sunday afternoon and brought the volunteers on the run, many rubbing sleep out of their eyes from Sunday naps.

The fire was not one of serious nature, but did damage the trash bin in the rear of the Bi-Wize Drug in downtown Friona.

Several youngsters who were playing around the trash bin were blamed for the fire.

Tuesday morning about 8:15 an alarm sent the men hurrying to the home of Sam Williams in the west residential section of Friona.

Again, fortunately, damage was negligible and was blamed on a faulty drying machine.

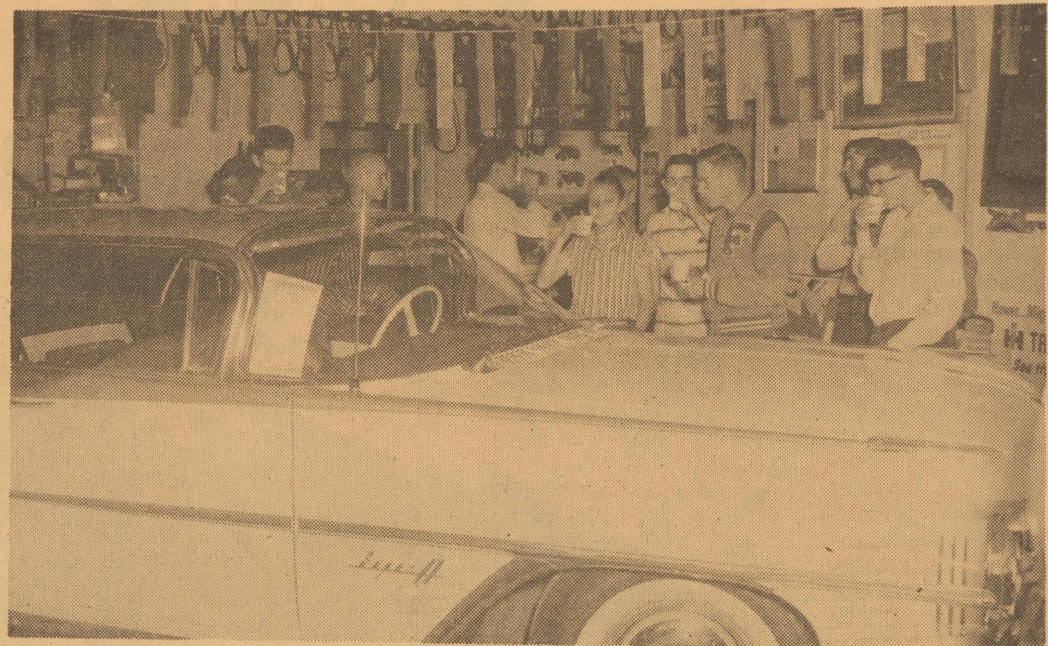

Joe Osborn Named On AG's Staff

Joe Osborn of Friona has been named assistant attorney general and assigned to the land division, Attorney General Will Wilson has announced.

The 26-year old lawyer was graduated from the University of Texas law school this spring. He is co-owner of The Friona Star.

While at the University, Osborn was president of The Silver Spurs, a men's honorary service organization.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Osborn of Friona.

TAKING IN THE NEW OLDS FOR '59--Admiring the lines of the 1959 Oldsmobile at the open house held Friday and Saturday at Parmer County Implement Company, members of J. T. Gee's Ag I class sample the coffee and doughnuts. In fact, before noon the boys had just about "sampled" out the stock. The open house was a big success and many folks came in to see the lines of the new auto.

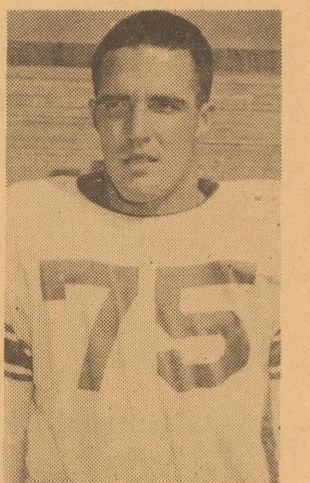

Weldon Fairchild Makes College Debut

Weldon Fairchild, former Friona griddler, is among the outstanding performers on the best freshman football team in West Texas State history.

Fairchild and teammates will open the freshmen's 1958 schedule Thursday, October 9, against Abilene Christian B team at Buffalo Stadium. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. The West Texas Frosh also have games scheduled later with Texas Tech and Hardin Simmons.

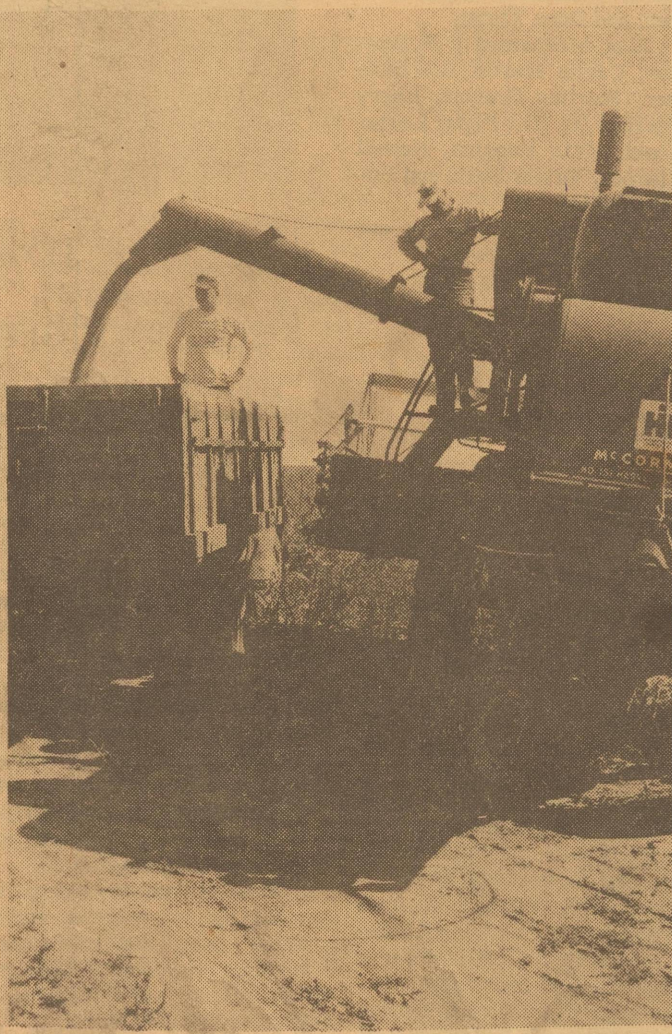

Fairchild, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Fairchild, was all-district and all-regional in his high school football career. He was captain of his team and received honorable mention for all-state.

Fairchild was class president in high school. His major at West Texas is geology.

Gen'l Telephone Voices Objection to TV Cable

WARM, SUNNY WEATHER has really enabled Friona area farmers to go to work in the harvest. This is the scene on the J. H. Boyles farm south of Friona this week.

7th, 8th, Fish Chalk Up Wins

While the Chiefs were taking a week off from their toils on the gridiron, members of the Seventh, Eighth and Fish teams took a toll of opponents.

Coming from behind in the last quarter the Seventh graders knocked off two quick TDs to down Dimmitt 16-6.

Members of the Eighth (Braves) grade team whipped a fighting Dimmitt aggregation 20-0.

While these two teams won their games, Friona's Fish traveled down the county to Lazbuddie and administered a 14-8 shellacking to the Lions.

Dimmitt got the first touchdown in the 7th grade game and held a 6-0 lead from early in the initial quarter until late in the fourth.

Gerald McDowell punched his way to the one and one play later Gary Renner sneaked across for the TD. Everett Gee got the extra point across and the Frionans led 8-6 late in the fourth.

Shortly afterward Tommy Baxter ran across tackle for 15 yards and a second Friona TD. Jerry Houston picked up an aerial from Renner for the extra two points.

In the Brave's game Donnie Smith got away from three would-be tacklers early in the game and raced 30 yards to pay dirt. Try for more points was blocked and Friona led 6-0.

Dimmitt fought their way to the four, where the Braves threw up a stonewall defense and warded them off.

Smith returned a punt early in the third quarter for 50 yards and the second Friona touchdown.

In the fourth stanza Robert Houlette faked to fullback Larry Taylor, kept the ball and raced 80 yards for the final TD. Final score: Braves 20-Dimmitt 0.

Down at Lazbuddie the Fish took the opening kickoff and marched the length of the field with Lee Gibson carrying the last 30 yards for the first Friona TD.

The second quarter Friona was stopped by penalties from scoring and at the same time holding Lazbuddie to a minus one yard rushing.

Lazbuddie came back strong, but was held scoreless until after Gibson scored again from the 7 and Friona led 14-0.

Reserves were sent in and they were scored on by an end sweep.

Representatives from General Telephone met with members of the City Council in the regular meeting Monday night to voice several objections concerning the planned construction of a television cable in Friona.

Dusty Kemper, division manager from Brownfield, and Curtis Scott, division plant superintendent, represented the telephone company at the meeting while Joe Shields represented Friona Clearview Company before the council.

Objections of the telephone company centered around Ordinance 312 which grants a franchise to the Friona Clearview Co. to operate and maintain a TV cable within the city limits.

Kemper's main objection was what he called "discrimination," in that the TV company was granted a franchise based on the city receiving one per cent of the gross receipts for the permit; while the telephone company and Southwestern Public Service pay the city two per cent of their gross receipts for the franchise.

In addition to "discrimination," Kemper pointed out the building of another pole line down the alleys would constitute a hazard and cause additional operational expense to the telephone company.

Present plans of the TV company include the building of their own pole line to carry the cable to subscribers.

"From previous experience in other towns we know this cable will cause us trouble," Kemper said. "In addition it is a violation of the National Electric Safety Code (which governs all electric, and communication services in the United States under the Federal Communications Commission,) to build another pole line within three feet of any existing structures."

When asked if they had talked to the SWPS and telephone company and looked into the possibility of hanging the TV cable on their poles, Shields said that SWPS would charge $2.50 per pole per year and "we feel we can build and maintain our own poles cheaper than that."

Kemper said General Telephone would not let the cable people get on their poles but would build and lease them a pole line--"We wouldn't consider them being on the same poles with us," he said.

He pointed out conflicts and troubles in other towns where they have done this.

"We'll live to regret every day a TV cable is on the pole with us," he said.

When asked if the cable company had made a poll or survey of any type to see where their poles would go to serve prospective customers, Shields replied the Clearview Company had not made a survey of this type.

The men were told by the council to work out their problems among themselves for "if the people of Friona want this TV service we are willing to do our part, but we will not tolerate anyone constructing poles down the alleys which will not tolerate free passage of trucks and service vehicles," the council said.

Winding up the discussion Kemper said, "We'll be glad to work with the TV company in any way, but we do object to their overall construction plans in that we want a three foot clearance of any existing structures."

Following the TV-telephone discussion, councilmen voted to take out a group insurance plan on the 13 city employees.

The policy was written through O. J. Beene of Friona and will provide hospital benefits and $1,000 life insurance or off the job protection at a cost of $47.71 per month for the city.

In other business the council saw a film and heard a talk by representatives of the Elgin Streetsweeper Company.

No action was taken on this subject.

Councilmen voted to amend section 8 of Ordinance 312, TV franchise regarding clearances within the city to read "whereas all lines erected by the company shall be constructed so as not to 'unreasonably interfere' with public use of such streets and alleys with the city."

A request for the establishment of loading zones by Houser Grocery and Ferrell Furniture was discussed. The council said if the business men wanted to paint and mark the zones it would be all right with them.

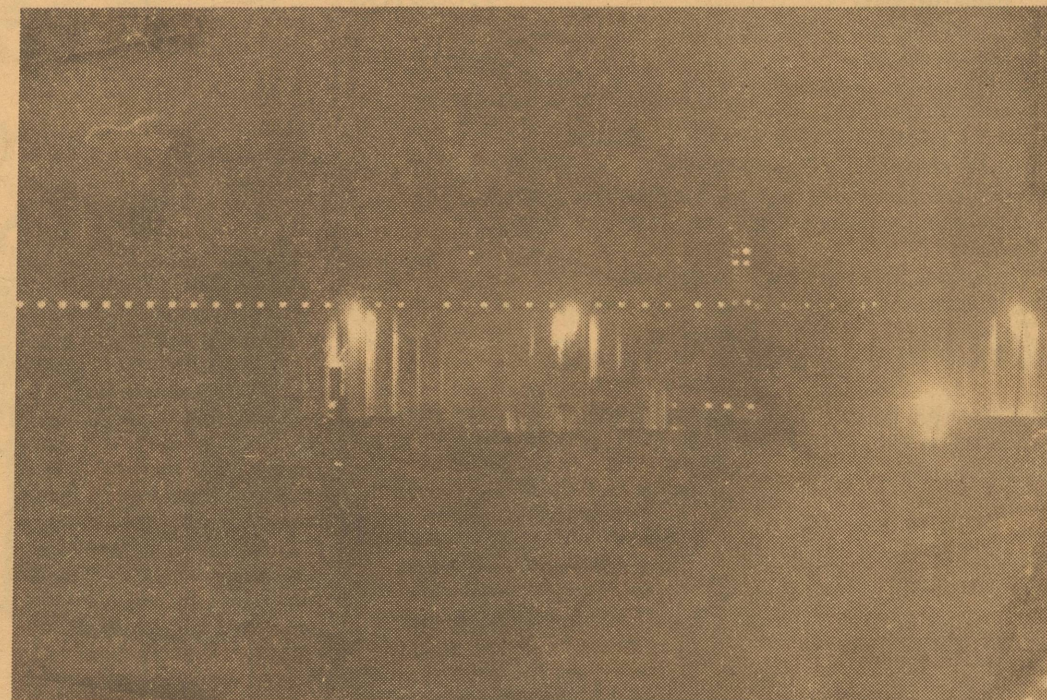

No action whereby people would be fined if they park in the zones was taken.

The council cleared up the situation at the cemetery well at this meeting. The council voted to accept $1619 from Carl Maurer for payment on pump in the cemetery well. Maurer will pull the pump, leaving the city to do as it pleases with the hole and casing.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor R. L. Fleming, Councilmen Glenn Reeve Sr., Ralph Smith, Forrest Osborn and City Manager Albert Field.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY PLANS RUMMAGE SALE

Plans have been completed for a rummage sale by members of the Parmer County Community Hospital Auxiliary. The sale will be held in the bank building in the space formerly occupied by the Friona Star, October 17 and 18.

ON INTO THE NIGHT hum the elevators in the Parmer County area, taking in grain sorghum by the millions of bushels. This is the huge Friona Wheat Growers elevator, with lights gleaming from its windows over the concrete tanks. It somewhat resembles a passing nighttime passenger train.

Social Events of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. John Key of Charleston, Ark., spent several days last week visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. White and Mrs. Ray White. The two Mrs. Whites are daughters of Key.

Lisenbe-Crozier Rites Read in Hereford

In a candlelight service at the Central Church of Christ at Hereford Saturday evening, September 27, at 6 p.m. Jacqueline Wright Lisenbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. (Jack) Wright, exchanged wedding vows with Robert Harrell Crozier of Friona. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crozier of San Antonio. The double ring ceremony was read by Russell Ingalls, minister. The background for the ceremony was formed with candelabra entwined with greenery holding lighted tapers flanked by tall baskets of mauve pink gladioli.

Wedding music was provided by the wedding choir, which sang the traditional wedding marches, "Through the Years" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

The bride's only attendant was Hilda Havens, who wore a pastel blue brocaded sheath dress with short sleeves and matching hat and shoes. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink rosebuds. Serving as best man was Walton Crozier of San Antonio, brother of the groom. Ushers were Al Lee and Herb Bruns.

The bride wore a gown of mauve pink Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was accented with scallops of lace on the neck and sleeves. The straight street length skirt was fashioned of rows of lace. A band of satin at the waistline was caught with a matching rose. She wore a small hat and shoes which matched her dress.

She carried a lace-covered Bible topped with a ribboned corsage of pink sweetheart rosebuds. For something borrowed, she wore a pearl necklace belonging to a friend. To carry out the "something old" tradition, she carried her maternal grandmother's silk handkerchief.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents for out of town guests and members of the wedding party. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Ulys Davis of Dimmitt and Mrs. E. F. Harman of Lubbock, aunts of the bride; Mrs. Al Lee and Mrs. Leon Atchley. Names for the guest book were secured by Cindy Wilson and Deborah Lee.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico and South Texas Mrs. Crozier wore a powder blue wool suit with black accessories and a rosebud corsage detached from the wedding bouquet.

Out of town guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crozier; Mr. and Mrs. Walton Crozier and son, Roger, all of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Floyd, Frieda and Susan, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zetzsche and Bobby of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Colville, Jacqueline and Dwight of Altus, Okla.;

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Ulys Davis and Johnny and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cluck and Mark of Dimmitt; and Mrs. E. F. Harman of Lubbock.

Mrs. Crozier is a graduate of Hereford High School and West Texas State College. For the past 7 1/2 years she has been secretary to Jack Renfro, produce broker in Hereford.

Crozier was graduated from San Marcos Teachers College and spent two years in the armed forces. For the past 6 years he has been employed by the Soil Conservation Service. At the present time he is the Parmer County Soil Conservation Service work unit conservationist.

Mr. and Mrs. Crozier will be at home here.

Dorcas Class Meets in Home

The Mary Dorcas Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Lloyd Friday afternoon. The opening prayer was directed by Mrs. W. M.

White and Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Otis Massey read the scripture for the lesson.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, tea, and coffee were served to two visitors, Mrs.

Dennis Robards and Barbara Lloyd, and the following members: Mesdames Sarah Vernon, Otis Massey, Lou Bussell White, George M. Baker, J. B. McFarland, and Rosa Anderson.

Federated Clubs Have Joint Session

The three federated women's clubs of Friona met in a joint session at the club house Tuesday evening to honor Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher of Lubbock. Mrs. Cocanougher, president of the Seventh District of the Federated Women's Clubs of Texas, spoke to members of the Friona Woman's Club, the Modern Study Club and the Progressive Study Club. The devotional was given by Mrs. Howard Ford. Mrs. Floyd Schlenker, president of the Friona Woman's Club, presided, and Mrs. C. W. Dixon introduced the guest of honor. "Federated women's clubs have pushed women's rights through legislature. By banding together we now have the Pure Food and Drug Act, the compulsory education law. We now offer scholarships in art, music and nursing," said Mrs. Cocanougher. She continued by saying "Clubwomen continue to push legislation in the state and national capitals." The serving table was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and a silver service. Rolled sandwiches, hot tea, coffee, mints and nuts were served. The room decorations were of maize, red and green peppers, pumpkins, squash corn and egg plant. Hostesses were Mesdames James Procter, Truett Johnson, Dalton Caffey, Weldon Dickson, Howard Ford, Jewell Woodward and John Bengener. Before the adjournment of the meeting, Mrs. Hollis Horton, president of the Progressive Study Club, led the group in repeating the club collect.

Also, Mrs. Mildred Hilton, Jo Phillips, Mrs. Ed White, and Mrs. Laura Thomas of Hereford, who is the mother of Mrs. Joe Moyer. A spokesman for the group reports that the weather was good and the aspens were beautiful. One member of the group said, "The trees were even more beautiful than they were at this time last year."

Cub Scouts Plan Program

Plans have been worked out for the beginning of the Cub Scout program for the year. There will be a meeting at the American Legion Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 14. All boys who were Cubs last year are urged to attend this meeting by Truett Johnson, Cub Master.

Council Delegate Gives Report

At the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Hub Home Demonstration Club at the Community Center Mrs. John Renner, council delegate, gave a report of the last council meeting she attended. The theme of the program was "Ideas For Christmas Gifts." Roll call was answered with titles of books for good reading.

Each member present displayed an article that would be an appropriate Christmas gift and explained its construction.

Refreshments of sweet rolls and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Renner and Mrs. Wes Long, to Mesdames Jack Tomlin, Jack Shirley, R. E. Snead, Buck Fallwell, Woody Fleming, T. I. Burleson, and A. L. Black.

Small eggs are usually the most economical buy this time of the year, says Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialist. They are more plentiful this season because hens hatched last spring are now coming into production and the first eggs they lay are small, he says.

Friona Girl Scouts Are Now 'Slenderette' Dealers

For the past several years members of the Senior Girl Scouts have planned to take a trip to Washington, D. C., in the spring of 1960. Several members of the troop will be seniors next year and the trip has been planned to follow their graduation. Plans have been made to raise funds for the proposed trip. In the past these girls have sponsored several money making projects and set the money aside for this trip, but during this year they have planned a bigger project.

Through the efforts of their leader, Mrs. Russell O'Brian, they have secured the dealership for the Slenderette machine. This machine is nationally advertised and is one of the most popular relaxing machines on the market.

Anyone who desires to purchase such a machine is asked to contact Mrs. O'Brian or any member of the Senior Scout Troop. Clubs or other organizations desiring a demonstration are asked to make arrangements for a demonstration at any time.

Individuals are also invited to contact Mrs. O'Brian or a member of the troop for demonstrations at any time. Another project of the troop is the sale of subscriptions to the Guidepost. These subscriptions would make ideal Christmas gifts for anyone on your gift list and especially older persons. For further information on either of these projects, call Mrs. O'Brian, Donna Fulks, Jacquelyn Magness, Geneva Floyd, Jolynda Stokes, Sally Hough, Linda O'Brian, or Karen O'Brian.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

LOOKING

"Look unto me, and be ye saved all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else." -- Isaiah 45:22.

The speaker is God. The subject matter is of vital importance. The tone is one of authority. Observe in the text:

- (1) A GREAT BLESSING
- (2) AN ONLY SALVATION
- (3) A SIMPLE DIRECTION

1.--A GREAT BLESSING; be ye saved. Salvation is the grand theme of the Bible. Salvation is in harmony with the whole Bible, and is the only way Jesus said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." -- John 5:24.

A.--The nature of Salvation--Saved. Deliverance from the condemnation of the law. Deliverance from sin. Deliverance from the fear of death.

B.--The universality of Salvation--"All the ends of the earth" Salvation is for every nation, color, and tongue. Salvation is for the best and the worst. Salvation is for the simplest and the cleverest.

2--AN ONLY SALVATION--"Look unto me." The object is single, not complex. We must look to JESUS, not to rites or sacraments. The object is a very beautiful one. . . The Son of God. "While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him."

3--A SIMPLE DIRECTION: "look." Within the reach of all--not works, or fasts, or gifts, or pilgrimages. For JESUS said, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." -- Matthew 11:28. If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart men believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scriptures saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek; for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. (Romans 10:8-13.)

News From LAZBUDDIE

By MRS. CLYDE MONK

307 Attend Lazbuddie Homecomings

Three hundred and seven persons attended Lazbuddie School's homecoming dinner at the school Saturday night. Old friendships and acquaintances were renewed by ex-students and former teachers during the barbecue dinner.

After the meal was served, the group assembled in the school auditorium where James G. Ward, present superintendent, welcomed all former teachers and students. Representatives of all graduating classes from 1931 through 1958 were present.

Fifteen who had attended the first Lazbuddie school attended. It was in 1926 when two small buildings were moved to a central location and began what is now Lazbuddie School.

Each former teacher was presented a long stem flower. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Haskins, Wolforth, Tex., were given a bouquet as the earliest teachers present. Haskins was the third superintendent of Lazbuddie School, serving from 1929 to 1935. Mrs. Haskins was the first grade teacher during their stay here. Mrs. Billie Jones Simms of Canyon and Mrs. Grace Jennings Gammon were teachers present who taught while Haskins was superintendent.

L. O. Hamilton, Guymon, Okla., was the only other former superintendent present. He headed the Lazbuddie School in 1944-45.

Two former coaches George Graham of Abilene and Corell Brown of Lubbock, were present. Other former teachers present were Mrs. Mary Prather Gilliland, Hereford; Hortense Hudnall Poteet, Dimmitt; Mrs. Charley Gressett, Westbrook; Lillian Tarter Morris and Letha Harwood Gammon, Lazbuddie.

Recognition was given to students of all classes. Mr. and Mrs. Don Biggs of Fort Worth received a gift for coming the longest distance while Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dent, Earth, received the award for have the most children.

In a business session it was voted to organize an Alumni Association of the Lazbuddie School. Mrs. Lillian McCurdy Smith was elected president; Mrs. Christene Gammons Ivy is vice-president and Kenneth Precure is secretary-treasurer. The group voted to have bi-annual meetings in August. Dues will be one dollar per family, to be paid bi-annually. An effort will be made in the near future to contact all former students and teachers to determine if they wish to become a member.

SHOWER HONORS MRS. PETERSON

A layette shower honoring Mrs. Arnold Peterson of Lubbock was in the home of Mrs. E. A. Parham Tuesday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Parham with hostess duties were Mesdames Gorden Duncan, C. D. Gustin, Raymond Green, Deboe Carpenter, Jack Smith, and Theron Vaughan. Garden flowers were used throughout the house. Mrs. Ernest Nowell assisted her daughter in opening the gifts and each was presented corsages of baby needs tied with ribbon. Individual white cake squares topped with pink and blue decorations were served. Others signing the guest register were Mesdames Hubert Elliott, Willie Steinbock, Rhiney Steinbock, Alton Morris, Barney Floyd, Gene Smith, and N. M. McCurdy. Also, Katherine Smith, Jan Nowell and Kay Ann Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mootheart, Morrison, Ill., and Fred Scott from Denver, Colo., are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Scott and other relatives.

Lazbuddie PTA met Monday night in the auditorium with one of the largest crowds ever in attendance. Music classes presented the program and the first six grades participated. Parents as well as students are very proud of this additional subject being taught this year. Piano selections were presented by Sue Pinckley, John Gulley, Linda Monk, Charlotte Seaton, Marianna Gammon, Marsella Mayfield, and Brenda Mason.

Hiram Humphrey from Vancouver, Wash., visited last week in the home of his niece, the Davis Gulleys, and with other relatives in this part of the country. Humphrey is 80 years old and has been on a three months trip through Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Arkansas, Kentucky and Oklahoma and plans to visit in California before returning to his home.

Recent visitors in the J. B. Thomas home were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Echols from Clovis and Mrs. Dave Anders and children from Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooner Coffman and girls, Peggy and Lynn from Amarillo visited Saturday with the Duane Darlings.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Jennings were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Duncan and children from Hale Center, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Malone and family, Hereford; and the Bill Jennings family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Morris and family were in Portales Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris.

Mrs. F. B. Gaede from Limon, Colo., visited last week with her brother-in-law and sister, the R. L. Kimbroughs, and other relatives. On Sunday the family had a get-together with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Horsely in Muleshoe. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kimbrough and children, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Kimbrough and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kimbrough and children of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nickels and children and Mr. and Mrs. Finis Kimbrough.

Jim Roy Daniels from Oklahoma State University was home over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniels. Mr. and Mrs. Reece Wiltarding and children also visited with the Daniels family over the weekend and attended the homecoming supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis and children from Meadow visited Sunday in the Raymond McGehee home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hambricht spent the weekend in Midland with their son-in-law and daughter, the B. J. Trimbles. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mason accompanied the Hambrichts to Big Spring where they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips. Mrs. Phillips is also their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Delter Wenner and Mrs. F. L. Wenner spent a couple of days last week in Dalhart visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Merriott.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hamilton from Guymon, Okla., spent Saturday night with the John Gammon family after attending homecoming. Hamilton is a former superintendent of school here.

Alfred Scotts Have
 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Scott were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, October 5, with an open house at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elliott.

Their other children, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Scott, assisted with hospitalities.

The afternoon was spent visiting and reminiscing of past days with friends who called.

A huge wedding cake, made and decorated by the Mesdames Elliott and their aunt, Mrs. Glen Stiles, was served with coffee and punch to the guests by two granddaughters, Mrs. Juanita Stafford and her sister, Carolyn Scott. The house was decorated with arrangements of fall flowers, and a wedding picture of the couple was placed on the serving table.

Beverly Smith registered the guests and Mrs. Glen Stiles, Mrs. Jack Smith and Katherine Smith were in the houseparty.

Scott and Miss Lula Stiles were married at Hereford on October 6, 1908 and have lived on the same farm since.

Signing the guest register were those mentioned and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moothart,

Morrison, III.; Fred Scott, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Tom Giest and Mrs. John Blasdel, Sylvia, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wyer, Harold Wyer, Mrs. Noel Woodley, Mrs. J. E. Burton and Mrs. Kenneth Burton, all from Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haberer, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lust, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lust, Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Layman, Earth;

Also, Mrs. Oliver Tunnell, Springlake; Mr. and Mrs. Thurlio Branscum and Janie, Mrs. Bernice English, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morton, Mrs. S. J. Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Angeley, Jodie and Ilene, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Haberer, Glen Stiles, Mrs. Owen Broyles, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cox, Rev. Bernard Seay, Mrs. Frank Hinkson, Miss Barbara Hinkson, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Haberer, Ronald, Derrell and Connie Elliott, Terry Scott, Jack Finley Smith, Gary and Letha Gail Elliott;

Also, Charles Stafford, Amarillo; Mrs. Vera Haberer and Mr. and Mrs. Benny Brown, Lubbock; Mrs. Sophie Haberer, Hereford; and Mr. and Mrs. George Graham, Abilene.

Mrs. Ruth Long and children from Hereford spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. W. S. Menefee. Sunday other visitors with Mrs. Menefee were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox and children from Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. Bert McGee and family. The McGees have been living in Grants, N. M., but left Monday for Los Angeles, Calif., to make their home.

Recent visitors to Dallas were Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Pierce and Darletta. They were accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John St. Clair and Juanita from the Pleasant Valley community.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reagan and children, Vicki and Billy Joe, and Bobby Ball from Dalhart attended homecoming and spent the weekend with the Jack Smith family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cordel Brown and Corky from Lubbock visited Sunday with his brother and family, the Andy Browns. Their mother, Mrs. J. H. Brown, who has been visiting here the past week, returned home with them.

The bookkeeper excitedly informed the owner of a comparatively new business that the firm was out of the red for the first time. "Wonderful!" exclaimed the proud businessman. "Make up two dozen copies of that statement immediately and mail them to the bank and all my creditors."

"Sorry," said the bookkeeper, "we haven't any black typewriter ribbon—we never needed it before."

"Well," ordered the boss, "go out and buy some."

"Can't," came the determined answer. "That would put us right back in the red again."

Old Times Were Great, But She Doesn't Long for Them

By SALLY WHITESIDES

What goes into the makeup of a successful pioneer woman? That question was asked recently of Mrs. A. O. Drake and her answer was: "any number of ingredients."

First and foremost, the ability and desire to work. Through work, and only through work could a young family survive in 1909 when she and her husband and two oldest daughters came to Parmer County.

Mrs. Drake and her family were originally from Blackton, Iowa, and when Drake made the decision to come down south into Texas, there was an uproar from all sides. The word "Texas" said some of her relatives, even sounded cheap. Times would be hard, crops would be few on the barren wasteland of the sparsely settled part of the world.

But Drake was persistent. He made the trip down and bought land, for about $15 an acre. That land, located about 40 miles north of Friona, proved unprofitable, much to the despair of the young couple. The land, said the land agent who sold the real estate, was supposed to grow mammoth amounts of prairie hay, which could be sold anywhere, anytime, for outlandish prices. That was one lesson the young couple learned early.

They never lived on that particular section of land, but settled instead about five miles northwest of town. A farmer from Iowa came to farming in Texas. Many, many differences could be catalogued in the farming practices of the two different areas of the United States.

Most important was the difference in sizes of fields. Where a few acres made an ideal farm in the rolling country of Iowa, they now had unlimited expanses of gentle rolling plains. Miles and miles without neighbors on either side.

Mrs. Drake relates that lonesomeness was her worst enemy during those first years. A city girl throughout her younger years, farm life, even in Iowa, was hard at first. But to be uprooted from family, friends and the familiar sights of home was almost too much. "I cried," reports Mrs. Drake, "but most of my tears were shed while Art was in the field." In fact, it was a matter of pride with the young wife and mother that she didn't mention going home.

Things came to a head, though, when a neighbor from their old home came for a visit. Walking sedately out to the buggy to greet him, Mrs. Drake was horrified and disgruntled with herself for, of all things, bursting into happy tears at seeing a familiar face.

His return home to Iowa took word to her parents of her obvious homesickness and they sent her a check to make the trip and a visit. That visit lasted three months and was spiked with letters of ultimatum between Art and his absent wife. Either come to Iowa and live, or live by yourself--I came to Texas to make my home, and here I stay.

Three months of this and she decided that "home" was no longer in Iowa. After visiting her family she was ready to call Texas home and made the trip back. Only upon her return to Friona did Mrs. Drake find out that a letter had passed her along the way, with Art saying that he would return to Iowa if that was what she truly wanted. Mrs. Drake says that she can't truthfully say that she has ever seriously regretted her return to Texas.

Lots happened through the years for Mr. and Mrs. Drake. They moved to Black and there raised sheep and cattle. Also while there, Art was commissioned to build the first highway into Friona. The highway, now long abandoned, was built with the assistance of five men, and any number of horses and mules. No motorized equipment was used in the building of the pavement, which was located the "other side of the railroad tracks."

When innocently asked what a family DID during those early days, Mrs. Drake smiled a gentle smile and retorted, "Well, there was my family, including five children, expecting another, my husband, and from three to eight hired hands, to cook three meals a day for." "And," she went on, "in season there were jars and jars, cans and cans of food to put up for the winter months; there was washing to do--all by hand and any number of other little odds and ends of jobs to do that made each day the same as the one before."

Friona, such as it was in the early 1900's, was the only town that could be visited unless you took the train. Horses and buggies were the mode of travel and they didn't travel as fast and as far as even it is generally thought. For, during those days, "from sun to sun" was the only time free from cows, calves, sheep and baby lambs.

Celebrations were few and far between, also. Mrs. Drake remembers fondly the remark made by one of her early-day neighbors. Speaking of celebrating the Fourth of July, the lady proudly announced that her boys were going to celebrate. She was going to make lemonade.

Snow storms and dust storms were two of many plagues of the new country. The most vivid storm in the couple's memory was the snowstorm of 1918. Beginning about the middle of November, snow fell, slightly melted and fell again. In fact, the ground wasn't seen for at least 90 days and bobsleds were used by anyone trying to get across country. Mrs. Drake remembers that as being one of the best wheat yielding years that the dry-land farmers have ever had--and wheat was priced at $2.50 a bushel.

It was during the year of 1918 that the Drake family moved to Friona. They lived, for a time, in a home in the western part of town, but, after it was destroyed by fire, the family moved to their present home on the Herford highway.

For the past 36 years they have lived in the same home and their wish is to spend the rest of their lives there.

Yes, the Drakes have visited other parts of the country. Only last year, their son Arthur and family took them on a 5000 mile tour of the northwest and Canada. It was lovely country, wonderful to visit, but it just wasn't Friona. Home looked pretty good to them after the fifteen days seeing other parts of the country.

Mrs. Drake came by her pioneering spirit honestly. Her mother, fresh from a Virginia plantation, moved to Iowa as a bride. She, too, pioneered in a new and strange land and the odds were by far more against her than they were for her daughter a generation later.

The southern lady had lived, as said, on a plantation, and was naturally surrounded at all times by slaves. She had never done a "lick of housework and only learned after she was married and had ventured to the country which she helped populate and civilize."

Now, after almost forty years in what is now Parmer County, Mr. and Mrs. Drake look back on those early days. They don't long for them and wish for their return. The work was too hard; the days were too long and privation was too much. Now, in their home where she crochets for a hobby and where he meets with his friends for visits, the couple have their lives fairly complete. They lived, survived, and even prospered in the country where it was predicted that they would starve out.

Without them, their neighbors and the people who followed in later years, Friona, Parmer County, and all of West Texas would never have become the thriving, interesting and prosperous land of today.

Yes, it takes many things to be a pioneer. The ability to work, knowledge of country, even if it is gained through rough experiences and, above all, an undying perseverance. They all go to make up the people who fought all hardships to found Friona.

The old cowhand hadn't been feeling well lately and went to town for a physical check-up. After examining him, the doctor said, "You seem to have a little lung trouble. Do you think you could sleep outdoors for awhile?"

"Well," drawled the cowpoke, "I been sleeping under the chuck wagon all summer, but I reckon I could kick a few spokes out of the wheels."

The Pure Food and Drug Administration has approved the use of malathion for use in stored grain as protection against insects. Extension entomologists report that a tolerance of eight parts per million has been established and the insecticide can be used on or in stored barley, corn, oats, rice, rye, grain sorghum, wheat or peanuts. County agents can supply details on its use.

The occasion was a testimonial dinner for one of the town's leading citizens.

"Friends," he said, "when I came to your city, I had one suit, one pair of shoes and all the rest of my earthly belongings wrapped in a little red handkerchief. This city has been good to me--and I worked hard. Now I'm president of your bank, own five companies and ten buildings here. Yes, friends, your town has been good to me."

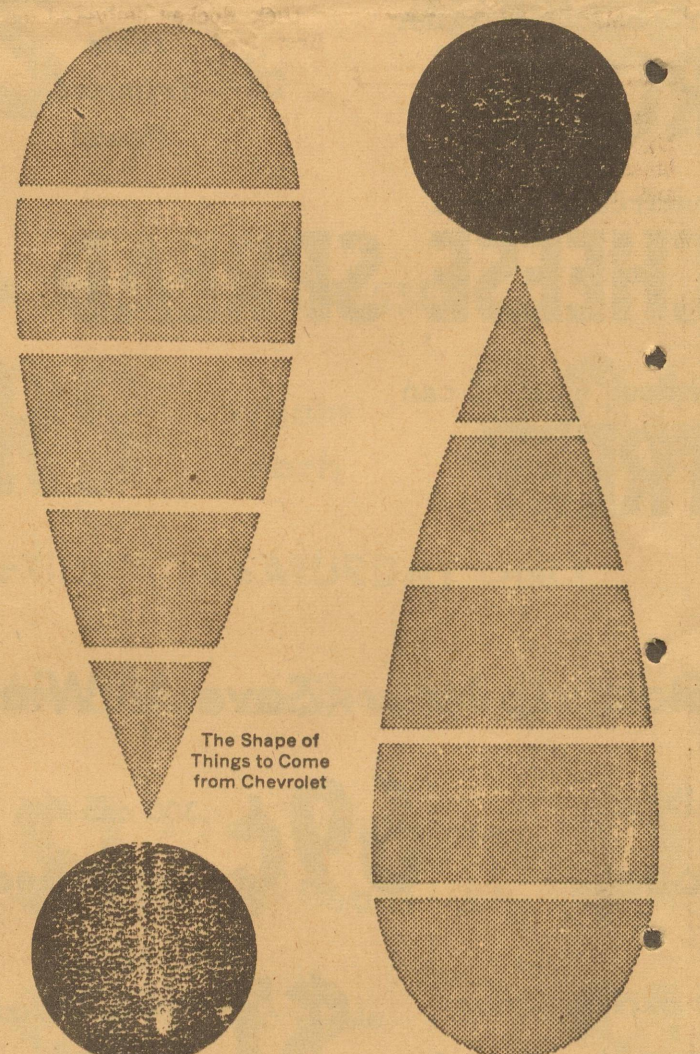

After the banquet, an aged youngster approached the great man and asked "Please sir . . . could you tell me what you had in the handker-

"Well, son," came the reply, "as I rightly recall, it was about $300,000 in cash and $850,000 in securities."

The Power to Ask Protects Your Right to Know

Every day some policy-makers in government, or leaders in other walks of life, make decisions which vitally affect your future and that of your family.

In many countries of the world you would be forced to follow these dictums blindly, unable to ask why, or in many cases unable even to know that they had been made.

In America, everyone with public responsibility knows he must be prepared to answer for his actions. He knows that your representative —the skilled reporter of the daily newspaper—will appear, pencil in hand, to ask pertinent questions that he had better be prepared to answer.

Every day your newspaper, through its reporters and wire services, covers a multitude of news-fronts probing for answers to the whys and wherefores of actions that affect your job, your home, your family and your safety.

The answers published in your daily newspaper are not fleeting messages, but are an indelible record that give you and your neighbors the basis for discussion and for rendering the ultimate decision on unpopular and unjust actions.

Thus your daily newspaper is an extension of your power to ask questions about policies that affect you. The answers furnish you the basis for constructive action built on an informed judgment. The newspaper is a guardian of your freedom.

ANOTHER 'FIRST FOR HURST'--Hurts' blue-ribbon winning float is pictured above as it passed down Main Street during the Maize Days parade. Voted as the outstanding float in the Commercial Division of the floats it was "ahhed and awed" by folks along the packed route.

COOL AS A CUCUMBER--Young Dennis Fallwell crosses the finish line to take first prize in the Egg Race during the Kid's Contests on Maize Days. One thing about this race when a contestant dropped his egg, he was "out" but definitely--they weren't boiled eggs.

NEWS FROM BLACK

MRS. DICK ROCKEY

Harvesting has started in a big way. Three and four combines are in nearly every field and many trucks are seen going to and from the elevators. The farmers all have big smiles now. Some are still sowing wheat and barley. This is one time of the year that the City of Black has traffic problems.

Dick Rockey delivered the first load of maize to the Prewett Grain Company and received a premium for it. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Ivie returned last week from Tulsa, Okla., where they visited Mrs. Ivie's sister and family, the G. T. Murchisons. Mrs. Birdie Meyer from Slaton is here visiting in the home of her daughter and family, the Travis Stones.

Mrs. J. R. Braxton has been on the sick list the past week, but at present is up and is feeling much better. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Thompson went to Lubbock Tuesday to attend the fair. They went by Levelland to see their son, Darrell, who is attending college there. He went with them to the fair and to the short horn banquet.

A. C. Hays from Hereford visited our community last week. Hays lived in Black in the 20s and early 30s. It is interesting to hear him tell of some of his experiences in the "Dust Bowl Days." Hays says he is 86 years old, but to hear him talk, you wouldn't think he was a day over 60.

We are sorry to have the W. L. and Harvey Blackstones leave our community. The W. L. Blackstones have purchased the tourist courts in Bovina and plan to move

The Black Home Demonstration Club met Thursday at the Community House with Anna Mae Hays as hostess.

During the business meeting the council report was given. A check was received from Friona for the window display the club made for Maize Days. Club president thanked the window committee members for their work, and all the club members for their help.

Jimmie Lou Wainscott received the hostess gift. Miss Wainscott presented the program on oven meals and demonstrated how to prepare golden ham slices, steamed green beans, casserole baked potatoes and apple crisp.

Refreshments of pecan pie and open faced sandwiches, coffee and tea were served to seven members and the home demonstration agent. Next meeting will be November 6.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bengert spent the weekend sight-seeing in New Mexico. They were among a group from the Friona Woman's Club who visited Cimmaron, Eagle

Mrs. Fern Barnett spent Thursday in Lubbock visiting her daughter, Judy, who is attending Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Joyner and daughter from Amarillo spent the weekend visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Deaton.

Mrs. Ralph Price and Mrs. Ellis Tatum were in Lubbock Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fern Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rocky enjoyed Mexican food in Clovis Wednesday.

Factory list prices on the 1959 Oldsmobiles, which will offer more revolutionary styling and engineering improvements than ever before incorporated in a model change, were announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and vice president of General Motors.

"Included in our 1959 factory list prices," said Wolfram, "are custom salon metallic paints. In addition there are many other added value items built into the 1959 lines, such as electric windshield wipers, increased glass area for greater visibility, greater ventilation capacity, more passenger room, up to 64 per cent more trunk space, Air-scoop brakes on all four wheels for greater safety, a new split choke for improved fuel economy and many other engineering advancements.

Nest, Red River, Taos, Las Vegas, Tres Ritos, and Conchas Dam. The aspens were in the height of their beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bridges of Amarillo were supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bengert Monday. Bridges is Mrs. Bengert's brother and was returning from Florida where he had visited another sister.

When You Need Help Most...

When your home is destroyed by fire, your worries may seem overwhelming. Just as they do when your car is severely damaged or you injure someone and believe you are at fault. But in all these cases, your worries about money are likely to be short-lived if you're insured through an independent insurance agent. Here's why:

Your independent insurance agent is a self-employed, professional insurance specialist. He uses his training and skill to make sure you have the right insurance and enough coverage. He insures you only with companies that pay claims promptly and fairly.

What is more, he gives you continuing service. He is alert--on your behalf--to changes in local conditions, to developments in the insurance industry. His responsibility begins, not ends, with the sale of a policy to you.

When you buy insurance for your home, car or business, be sure that you buy through an independent insurance agent. Look for this seal. Only an independent insurance agent can display it.

Troop 227 met Monday afternoon and elected officers. New officers are Mary Ann Roberts, president; Judy Phipps, vice-president; Mary Short, secretary; and Janet Rushing, reporter.

We now have 10 members. New members are Lenore Jackson, June Turner, Janis Goggans, and Penny Sullivan. We are sorry that Frieda Floyd isn't in our troop anymore. At our next meeting we plan to have a cook out.

--Janet Rushing

Troop 236 met at the Sixth Street Church of Christ annex. Those present were Helen Stowers, Karyl Williams, Kay Coffey, Carolyn Herring, Cordelia Parr, Beverly Elliott, and Marca Lynn Massee. Helen Potts is our new leader.

We elected new officers. They are Beverly Elliott, president; Carolyn Herring, vice-president; Marca Lynn Massee, reporter; Helen Stowers, secretary-treasurer; Cordelia Parr, song leader; Karyl Williams, game leader; Kay Coffey, Dianne Jennings, and Charlotte Nettles, social committee.

We discussed money we have in the bank and how we are going to make more money. Plans were made for our next meeting.

--Marca Lynn Massee

Troop No. 358 met at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon. Roll call was answered with a good deed done during the week. The Brownie promise, motto, and slogan were given and the handshake and salute were demonstrated.

The four patrols followed a trail. Refreshments were served by Geneva Floyd, Joan Gail Brookfield, Sally Hough, and Karen O'Brian. Twenty-two Brownies, six big sisters and the assistant leader, Mrs. Watson Whaley, were present.

Hargrove Receives No Compensation in Court

Walter L. Hargrove received no compensation in his suit against Texas Employers Insurance Association. The case was tried in district court at Farwell Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

For injuries he allegedly received while working at Nickels Gin at Farwell January 30, he was suing the insurance company for $14,035-$35 a week for 401 weeks.

Hargrove, whose residence is listed as Farwell, lost a portion of his left fifth finger in the January 30 accident. He had, however, received compensation for that injury. He was asking for more money because the accident caused "severe jerking, wrenching, and tearing of his left shoulder and spine."

The accident occurred when he was greasing a press and his hand was caught in the gin machinery.

The jury retired at 1 p.m. Thursday. The verdict was returned at 4:30. Special District Judge Bill Street was on the bench.

Members of the jury were Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. Dorothy Lovelace, John Agee, Karl Gast, Clarence Meeks, who served as foreman; Jim Maynard, Euel L. Mitchell, Weldon Dane, T. E. Lovett, Mrs. W. N. Foster, T. L. Kent, and Glen Lesly.

I Believe---

Inasmuch as this is the tailend of National Newspaper Week across our nation we have failed to take an active stand or ballyhoo the occasion as much as we possibly should.

But just in case a few of our readers wonder if we do care about newspapering as a profession we would like to take this occasion to tell you of The Journalist's Creed.

We aren't worthy of the title of "Journalist," however, we would someday like to climb the ladder and be known as one.

To us, journalism means accurate reporting and all that goes with it is a sacred trust.

Our goal is to follow as closely as possible The Journalist's Creed, which reads as follows:

"I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public, that acceptance of a lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.

"I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy, and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true.

"I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

"I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

"I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

"I believe that the journalism which succeeds best---and best deserves success---fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid, is quickly indignant at injustice, is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance, and, as far as law and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world."

Walter Williams

Dean, School of Journalism, University of Missouri, 1908-1935.

Its Epitaph--"Obligations Ignored"

We hear much of what the last Congress did. But a big story is what it didn't do. David Lawrence dealt with that in a late column in which he said that the 85th Congress "had by its inaction and failure to deal with vitally needed legislation turned out to be the worst in a half century."

Mr. Lawrence cites a number of diverse legislative areas in which Congress failed to discharge its responsibility. It did nothing "to stop the drift in Federal finances toward inflation and bankruptcy." It passed no laws to curb communist infiltration, or to punish those who openly preach the overthrow of our government by force--laws made necessary by United States Supreme Court decisions. It passed no laws to prevent usurpation of basic rights by the Federal government--laws also made necessary by United States Supreme Court decisions. And it did nothing to stop labor racketeering and gangsterism, or to control labor union monopolies.

The bills that Congress did pass, Mr. Lawrence goes on, "were of financial benefit largely to special voting groups and, while some of the measures were meritorious, they do not by any means offset the major failures." Economy was a forgotten word. The dangers and abuses that Congress failed to act upon--for purely political reasons in many cases--cannot be endured much longer. The hope is that the public temper is approaching the boiling point, and that a massive weight of public opinion will force the next Congress to recognize its obligations to all the people instead of just pressure groups and treasury looters.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

A WEBSTER CLASSIC

IT SEEMS ONLY

YESTERDAY

October 2, 1925

Improvement of Friona School Bus Routes--- (The following story is printed in its entirety as the editor feels it tells the story of early bus problems in this area.)

It seems that some of the patrons of the school do not understand all they should know about the working and management of the school busses and the efforts of the school board to give the patrons the best possible service at the least cost.

It is the desire and intention of the school board to bring each and every child of school age to the school each morning and to return them to their homes each evening, and since many of them do not live on the established highways it is necessary for the bus driver to cross pastures where gates obstruct the way and must be opened and closed. Some of the gates are located where, in wet weather, it is either a pond of water or a mud hole.

Again, many others are so constructed that it requires the strength of a strong man to open and to close and fasten them. It requires time for the bus drivers to stop their trucks and get out, open the gate, again enter the bus, drive through, stop, get out, and close the gate and again enter and start the bus. When as many as nine or ten gates are found on one route as much as an hour's time will be consumed in passing through these gates. This would mean that the children would be late to school or some of them have to start from home before daylight.

To avoid this waste of time it is the custom for some of the larger pupils to get out and open the gates and close them again after the bus has passed through. In such cases as the mudhole or the unusually tight wire the pupil cannot manage the gate and is sometimes left open or insecurely fastened so that it falls open and thus allows cattle to pass from one pasture to another, which means extra work and vexation to the owners.

It is not the intention of the school board that such conditions shall exist and the members of the board feel that the patrons of the school and who are the parents of the children, should take as much interest in the welfare and success of the school as do the members of the board, and do their part to remove barriers from such success, by placing gates where they can be reached without wading water or mud and by building gates that can be easily opened and closed.

To show that their hearts are right, the members of the board have had a number of auto gates built to be placed where the wire gates now are and these will be furnished free of charge. All that is asked by the board is that the patrons who have gates on their land through which the busses must pass, shall get some of these auto gates and put them in where they are needed. Some of the gates are at the lumber yard and others at the school ground. If there are not enough, when these are gone more will be made.

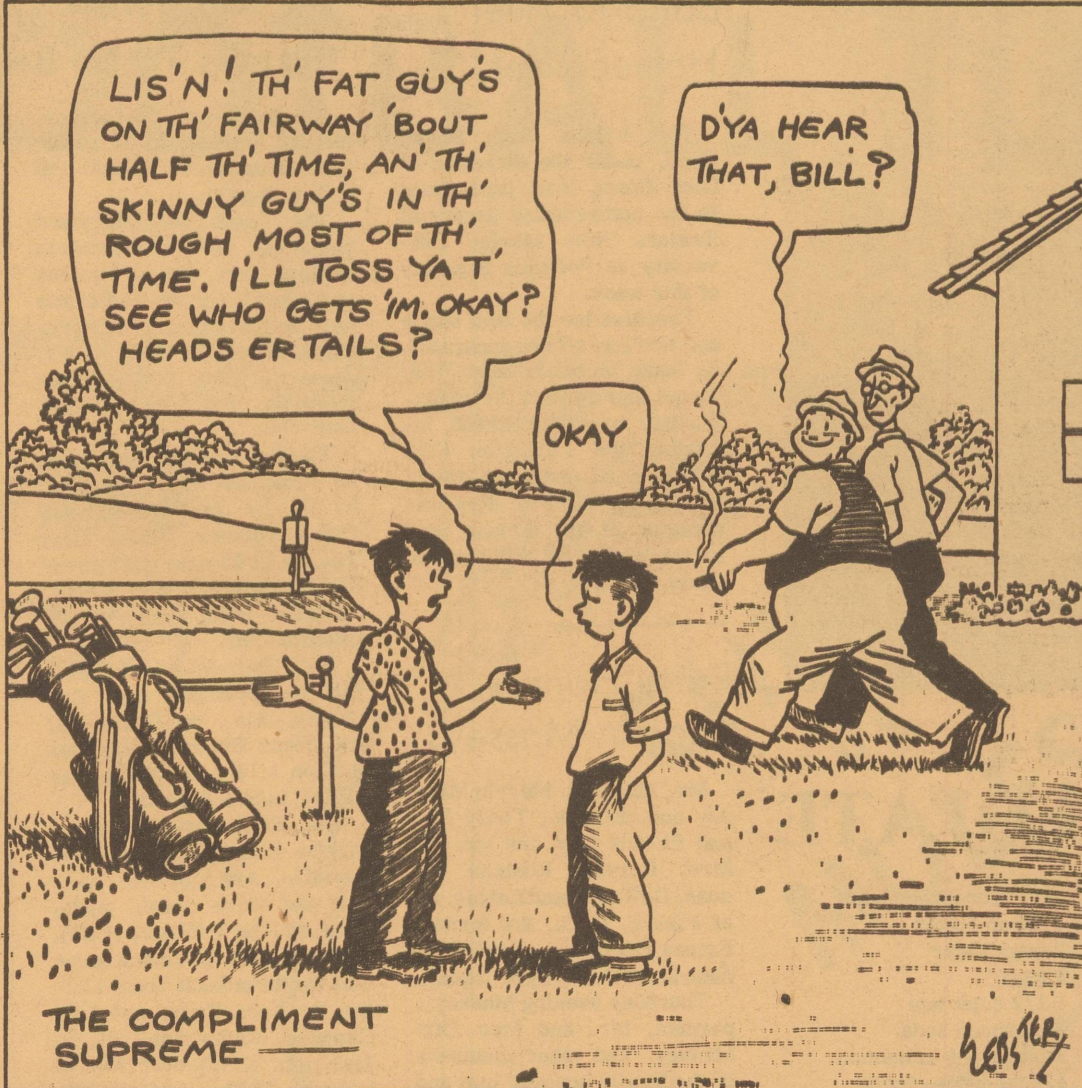

Now, Mr. Patron, don't you think it is no more than your duty to meet the board half way on this proposition and get the gates and put them in place?

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN CAR ACCIDENT---

A mishap occurred on Highway 33 Sunday morning a mile east of town that might easily have resulted in the death or serious injury of six of Friona's young people, but fortunately, only one of the group was injured seriously.

The car was driven by G. H. Blewett, who was accompanied by Floyd Johnson, Rusty Loflin, and Miss Velma Armstrong, Mrs. Chester Sheets and another young lady, none of whom were injured.

The car had just passed an oil truck at the railroad crossing near the L. F. Beckner home when, for some unaccountable reason, it turned over two or more revolutions before coming to a stop. The car was demolished and appears almost miraculous that none of its occupants were not killed.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS HAVE TO SAY
CLIPPED QUOTES

LELAND BOYD IN THE BOVINA BLADE

At every meeting of any farm organization that I have attended, insurance is among the top subjects. This was true at the recent Farmer County Farm Bureau queen contest, of the Union's organizational meeting back in the spring, and all others that I can remember.

I maintain, and have as long as I have been acquainted with any farm organization, that insurance has no place in farm organizations with the farmer's interest in the proper position.

As long as insurance is the emphasis, there'll be no great effort on bettering legislation, and the farm organizations will be hurt by this. There's no respect among legislators for farm lobbyists bowed to the almighty dollar brought in by the insurance they sell.

Farm organization representatives are selling out and are selling out cheap. Cheap insurance is their cry when trying to enlist members, and many members are such only because of the prima facie saying on insurance.

I'll probably get to attend the Farmers Union meeting at the Hub tomorrow night, if I'm still invited, and wonder if some Farmer County farmers couldn't start the move of getting farm organizations out of the insurance business. Looking for the best way to serve the farmers through promoting agricultural reforms is the need. They are needed to keep the family-size farms on a financially sound basis, because this is the basis of our nation's economy.

SNAKEY TRICK

Mrs. R. A. Carter, 1910 21st Street, has decided to stop being Pied Piper to the mice and rats at her home.

Sometime ago, she noticed that mice and rats used the passageway in the wall created when the old fashioned sliding doors between the living and dining rooms were pulled out. Being wise to the ways of these rodents, she fastened a long wire to the trap, placed the trap in the opening and tied the other end to a heavy chair. She had caught a number of rats in this manner.

Monday night, as she was watching television, she heard the trap snap, and without turning on the lights began to pull the trap with the wire. She thought it was a peculiar looking animal, turned on the lights and discovered a 3-foot snake "grey in color and slick skinned, so I knew it wasn't poisonous. Probably a mouse snake," Mrs. Carter explained.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Carter has decided that seeing snakes was enough to make her give up her trapping venture.

Political Chaos

You often hear people--both Republicans and Democrats--say that they wish Texas were a strong two-party state. Unquestionably, the stand has some merit.

As we look back on proceedings of the State Democratic sessions this week in San Antonio, however, we find the situation confusing. So far as basic thinking is concerned, we already have a two-party system--but both sides insist that they are Democrats.

Instead of turning to, or forming, another party, Texas politicians have found it more desirable to make an effort to take over the existing all-powerful Democratic organization. The result, needless to say, has been chaos and confusion.

Only time can solve the problems or write the answers. Meanwhile, Texas, torn from inner strife, finds itself in most unstable political condition. Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn are possibly the only two men in Texas who might be able to bring about a solution and, by now, they should begin to realize that harmony through compromise is not possible.

WITH JUNE

Several times in recent years we have heard out of state visitors remark that the irrigated area in which we live was a far cry from stories they had read about the Panhandle of Texas. Those of us who've lived here when most of the country was pasture and whitefaced cattle were much more numerous than they are now can easily understand what the visitors mean.

Any story you happen to read about the Texas Panhandle leads the readers to believe that all we have here is large ranches and herds of cattle. The next time we hear such a remark, we are going to suggest that the person who makes it go to Hereford and from there take the 51 highway north.

A person who drove from Vega to Dalhart and points north would see mostly ranch country and cows. This is really a pretty drive that more of us should take more often. This fall the cattle are all in good shape. The rains in the early spring and in July made the grass grow unusually good, and the rangeland is very pretty.

As we returned from Dalhart Friday afternoon we observed many beautiful wild flowers along the roadside. The breaks on each side of the Canadian River are very pretty. Incidentally, there was more water in the river than we have seen for several years.

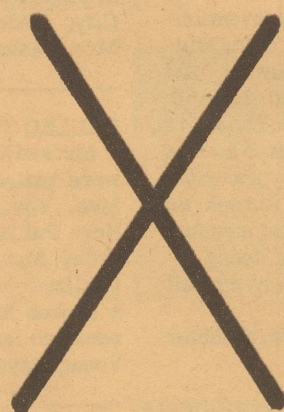

If the next few years are as wet as this year has been, a dam on the Canadian would soon back up a large lake of water.

In spite of all the predictions we have heard in recent years that the town will soon be centered around some spot or other down on the highway, the gaps on Main Street continued to fill up. The new home of the Farm Bureau office, which is being built between LuNora's and Friona Battery & Electric is going up quite rapidly and will be a nice addition to that section of town.

Of course, construction down on the highway continues, also. Ross Terry has moved into his new shop on the west end of Highway 60. In the future we will have to change our method of directing inquirers to Farmer County Pump. It was easy to say, "Just go west on the highway to the last building in town."

Since the Star office first began stocking office supplies, we have had numerous requests of "a ball point pen that will really write." At last we think we have one that our customers will be happy with. We have been appointed exclusive dealers

COOK OF THE WEEK

LATTAS LIKE CHOCOLATE

Our cook of the week this week would disprove that old adage we have heard for so long, "Without organization it is impossible to obtain satisfactory results." Mrs. Guy Latta says, "I have no system whatever for getting things done." Maybe she was just being modest for those of us who know her know that she accomplishes a lot of things.

Mrs. Latta, who was Lucille Bengler before her marriage, is a long time resident of this community. She is a graduate of Friona High School and West Texas State College at Canyon and taught here several years before deciding to become a full time housekeeper.

The Lattas planned a new home for a long time before building it and have a lovely home on West Loop. It is tastefully furnished and beautifully kept. When construction was started, friends reported that Guy advised Lucille that it was too late to change her plans any more. As has been done a lot of times, Lucille changed her plans time after time when the house was still in the paper stage.

Besides being a full time homemaker, Mrs. Latta has been active in the Modern Study Club for several years and is now president of the organization. She also has time to work with Brownies and has long been one of the leaders of the beginning troop each year for a long time. In her spare time she bakes cakes, cookies, and pies for the Lattas and their friends.

Anyone who has ever called upon her to bake anything for them knows that the results will be satisfactory.

Many times when crowds are gathered together many of the pies or cakes have been baked in the Latta kitchen. Mrs. Latta's favorite cookie recipe is for

CHOCOLATE PUFFS
1 6 oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
Heat chocolate until melted; cool. Beat egg whites until foamy; add salt. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition till stiff peaks form. Fold in vanilla, chocolate, coconut. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto brown paper covered cookie sheet. Bake in slow oven 20 minutes.

It is beginning to look as if the Lattas are partial to chocolate desserts. One of their favorites is Chocolate Lovelight Cake with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting. For the cake you grease well and flour two round layer pans or one oblong pan. Beat 2 egg whites until frothy and gradually beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Continue beating until very stiff and glossy. Sift together into another bowl 1 3/4 cups sifted cake flour, 1 cup sugar, 3/4 teaspoon soda, and 3/4 teaspoon salt.

Add 1/3 cup Wesson oil and 1/2 cup buttermilk. Beat one minute medium speed on mixer or 150 vigorous strokes by hand, scraping bowl constantly. Then add 1/2 cup buttermilk, 2 egg yolks, and 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.) melted.

Beat one more minute, scraping bowl constantly. Fold in meringue. Pour into prepared pans. Bake layers 30 to 35 minutes, oblong pan 40 to 45 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and ice with Fluffy Chocolate Frosting.

4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
dash of salt
2 egg whites
1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar

Cream butter, add 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar and blend well. Add vanilla, chocolate, and salt. Mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually add 1 cup confectioner's sugar (2 tablespoons at a time), beating after each addition. Beat until mixture stands in peaks.

Fold in chocolate mixture. Frost two 9-inch layers. Use back of spoon or spatula to make swirly designs around sides. Make six full circles on top of cake.

When the Lattas want something different, Lucille gets out her recipe for

European Cake
1/2 cup butter
2 cups sugar
5 eggs
1 1/2 cups jam
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
4 cups flour
1 cup buttermilk
1 box raisins
1 cup nuts (preferably walnuts)

Cream the butter, add the sugar, then the beaten eggs and jam. Sift together the soda and spices and 3 cups flour. Add to egg mixture alternately with the milk. Combine the last cup of flour with raisins. Stir nuts and raisins into batter. Pour into two layer pans and bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

This cake can be stored just like fruit cake. Keep it moist by wrapping in cloth, soaked in grape juice. When ready to serve, put layers together with caramel icing.

Sings With Choir

Deniese Magness, daughter of Mrs. H. T. Magness of Friona and a 1955 graduate of Friona High School, appeared with the Texas Tech Madrigal Singers at the State Fair of Texas Tuesday of this week. The Madrigal Singers, composed of selected Tech choir members, appeared at the Higher Education Center at 4 and 9 p.m.

A repertoire of conventional Madrigals taken from English, Italian, German and French schools of the 16th and 17th century schools of music were presented by this group. They also presented folk songs from Europe as well as America and contemporary music that lends itself to presentation by a small group.

Miss Magness is a senior music major.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wooley Sr. of Erick, Okla., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wooley and sons of the Hub community several days last week. Wednesday evening the two families visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wooley and son, Bill, at Clovis.

Band to Attend Homecoming

The Friona High School Band, under the direction of Dick Bentz, will participate in the homecoming parade at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales Saturday of this week.

Trophies for the best bands and twirlers will be presented. At least 14 bands from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will be in the parade, including the Lovington High School Band under the direction of J. D. Fry. Fry was director of the Friona band before going to Lovington two years ago.

Party Honors Marvin Masseys

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Massey and children, Teddy Ray and Rhonda Gay, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Robbins and sons, DeWayne and Robbie, all of Pierre, S. D., and former Friona residents, attended the funeral of Ben Wayne Jordan.

Thursday evening Massey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Massey, and other members of the family honored him and his family with an ice cream party. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Neal Young and children, Jimmy and Kathy, of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Ferguson, Freddy and Doris;

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Holt, Reba and Glenna, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Varner, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Massey and Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Massey and Judy, David, Tommy and Marcella, and Eddie Massey.

The Marvin Masseys also visited in the homes of Mrs. Massey's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baxter, and other relatives and friends before leaving Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Robbins and sons went from here to Floydada to visit their parents before returned to Pierre.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baxter, Carolyn, Willene and John, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Young and Jan returned late Saturday after attending funeral services for Ernest Smith at the Church of Christ in Elk City, Okla. Mr. Smith was Mrs. Baxter's uncle.

CALLED TO LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Noah T. Young were called to the bedside of Mrs. Young's mother, Mrs. Nora Pulliam of Lubbock, Saturday. Mrs. Pulliam was hospitalized after she received a broken hip in a fall. Young returned late Sunday but Mrs. Young stayed with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Valdez and children, Anjelita, Luz, Mike and Alta Garcia, spent Sunday visiting Dan Morin at Plainview. Morin, who is a brother of Mrs. Valdez, is a student at Wayland College.

Super POWER FOR YOUR TRACTOR

McQUAY-NORRIS Super-Power CONVERSION ASSEMBLIES

MORE HORSEPOWER... HIGHER COMPRESSION... MORE ECONOMICAL

LARGER BORE
The increased bore in McQuay-Norris Super-Sleeve Assemblies gives added horsepower, which means greater draw-bar pull for that extra rugged job. You'll find that those hills and soft spots won't slow you down and eat up valuable daytime hours. But the larger bore is only one of the features of McQuay-Norris Super-Sleeve Assemblies.

LIGHTWEIGHT ALUMINUM ALLOY PISTON
The pistons are made of special high-grade lightweight aluminum alloy and are equipped with a chrome top ring which by actual tests gives the longest wear life under the toughest conditions. The piston pins are special four-heat-treatment steel and are machined from solid bar stock for the greatest resistance to wear and impact. And in addition to all this—

READY TO INSTALL
McQuay-Norris Super-Sleeve Assemblies are ready for installation. They are finished on the O. D. so that no machining or re-boring of the block is necessary. Thousands of these sleeves have been installed and are giving users increased horsepower, greater economy and longer life, plus all around satisfactory operation. Your tractor will run better, you'll get more work done and feel better at the end of the day when your tractor is equipped with McQuay-Norris Super-Sleeve Assemblies.

"Indian Summer" Best News Yet

Not more than 20 years ago "a million dollar rain" was a very common expression, heard frequently among wheat farmers following a wet spell on the Plains.

The rain is still usually welcome on the irrigated High Plains, which are semi-arid, but there was no more welcome sight in the world to Parmer County area farmers this past week than the sight of clean, brilliant sunshine--the kind that the High Plains has long been famous for.

The clouds and cold weather broke Friday and set the stage for a spell of "Indian summer" weather that is continuing through presstime--Wednesday--of this week.

Farmers by the thousands have taken advantage of the chance to get into their fields and get the harvest under way in earnest. All cotton pickers that can be gathered up are busy dragging their sacks through the fields, and combines are rolling sometimes five abreast and until late at night in a twin pinners effort to get the "mostest" out of how ever much pretty harvest weather there may be this fall.

On a couple of days the wind has picked up out of the southwest, drying out fields rapidly. Some lodging of grain sorghum is reported, but it is not considered a major problem at this stage. The winds have not been too high.

Cotton farmers are defoliating as rapidly as custom sprayers can get over their fields, and if the pretty weather holds, some are even hoping to strip their cotton before a killing frost occurs. This is not the usual pattern, though.

Most gins are starting or are getting ready for full-scale production, and some have already started night shifts. The harvest is really rolling in the Parmer County area this week.

The world's first atomic-powered ship, the 3,000 ton submarine Nautilus, was commissioned Sept. 30, 1954, at Groton, Conn., and assigned to the Atlantic Fleet. The Nautilus made the U. S. Navy the first military service to utilize nuclear energy for propulsion power.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

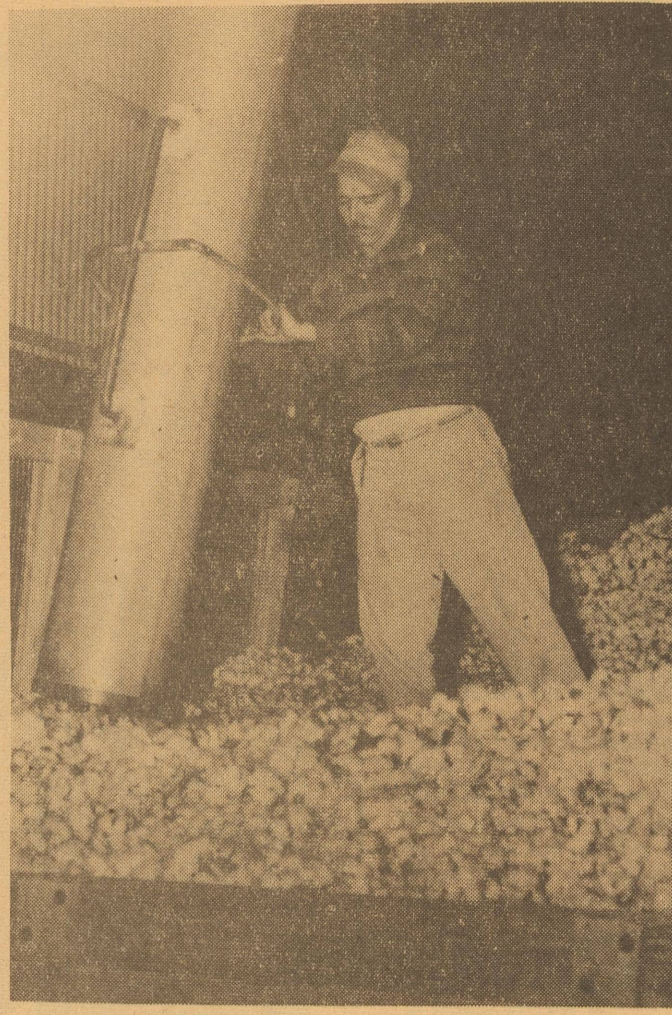

By RAYMOND EULER

All of you people who have not filed on your tractor and combine gas tax exemptions within the last 30 days should come in at your earliest convenience. You will receive another notice next April, none in between. Your wife, son or daughter can sign the affidavit for you if you do not have time to do it yourself. Refunds still amount to a total of over $25,000 per year in Parmer County. You are the only one who can claim your share.

If there are about 25 people who would like to become Farm Bureau members this month, Jack Patterson and the rest of the membership would be real happy to have you come in. That would give PCFB its quota of 650 members for November 1, and seven votes in the state convention.

The weed committee met last week to discuss the possibility of an agreement with the commissioners court to treat all bar ditches in the county with sterilant as a measure to cut down the spread of Johnson grass. It is, of course, impossible to stop its spread in adjoining fields when it is going to seed in the ditches. The progress made on bindweed in the past several years as a result of the organized effort of the Farm Bureau weed committee is indicative of what can be done with Johnson grass. This new program is by no means an abandonment of the bindweed program. It will be permanent as long as there are patches of the weed

IN SHE GOES--Pluffy Parmer County area cotton bolls are whiffed up this suction pipe at a tremendous rate, and they thus begin their trip to the finished bale. The pictures were made at Nickles Gin in Farwell Tuesday night. Soon many gins will be running 'round the clock.

AND OUT SHE COMES--Tremendous pressure is exerted in this big double press which forms the finished bale. Here a workman tumbles out the bale that was seen entering the gin from the trailer outside. It takes about eight minutes to gin a bale.

in the county, Raymond Schueler is chairman of the committee.

This is being written prior to the annual convention, but we know that a rather new subject was in for some discussion Monday night. It is the future of wheat and its producer. All evidence points to the fact that there is to be either a drastic cut in wheat acreage, or a lowering of support prices to allow it to flow more freely into the feed market. Its use has given way to cheaper feed grains, sorghums and corn. People don't eat enough of it to consume the vast productions of recent years.

Consider this: "He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the Lord; but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him." Prov. 14:2.

Parmer Farmers Union Re-Elects Graef

Parmer County Farmers Union members gathered about 130 strong Thursday night of last week, heard a speaker on farm matters, and re-elected C. C. Graef of Lazbuddie as president of their county organization for the coming year.

It will be Graef's second year to head the farm group.

Speaker for the evening was Clarence Hamilton of Earth. Hamilton's topic included statistical data on agriculture today, as compared with a decade ago, and comments on how to better agriculture.

"I would like to commend Farmers Union as an organization that works for better legislation, but we need something besides legislation," the speaker said.

"We need a constructive program. The opportunity I see for farmers to better their earnings is to work together through cooperative buying and cut costs this way.

"If farmers would deal through coops they would probably save as much as 10 per cent on their buying, and next year that 10 per cent might represent their total profit."

Hamilton, a farmer-school teacher, did not directly criticize government controls, but said that the government was mixed up when it blames the farmers' dilemma on the family-size farm.

"The family-size farm is of basic importance to the Texas economy," he said referring the statement to figures he presented showing the decline of Texas farmers.

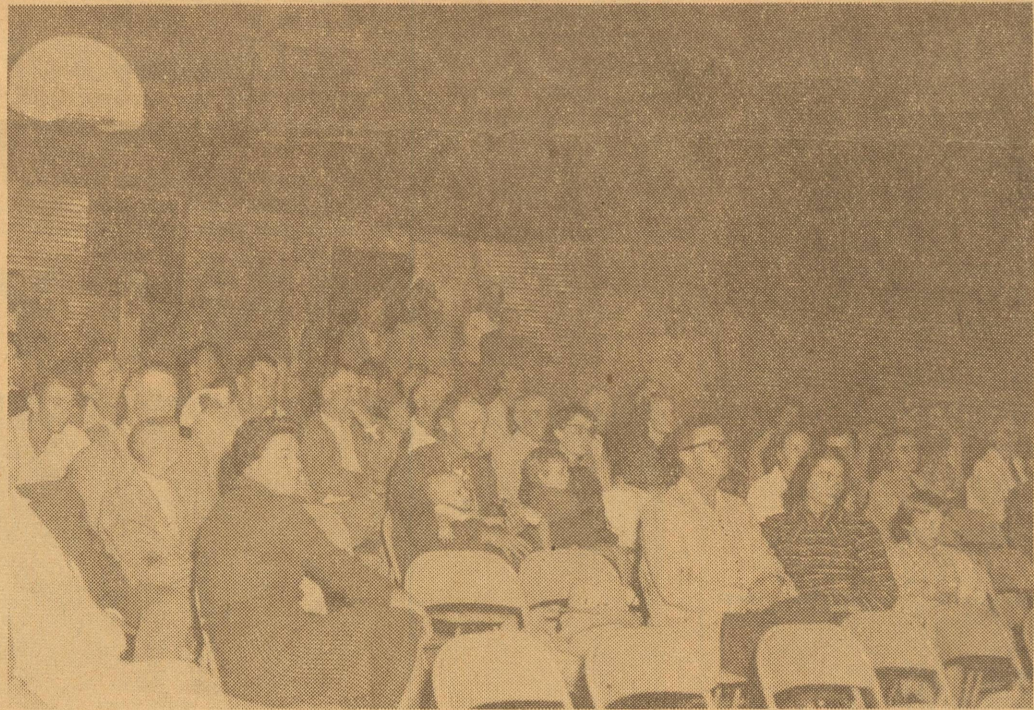

Other activities of the county-wide union meeting were awarding of prizes, a hula-hoop contest, viewing films of English farming, and election of officers.

Besides Graef, offices of the county union will be filled by R. G. Barron of Oklahoma Lane, vice-president; and Gene Phillips of Lazbuddie, secretary. Barron and Phillips are new officers of the union.

The Friona local of Farmers Union had their annual election at the meeting and elected Ranza Hoggess, president; Mickey Mingus, vice-president; and Billy Dean Baxter, secretary.

Films of English farm life were shown by Chuck Detton who spent six months in England as an exchange student last year.

PART OF THE CROWD that attended the annual Parmer County Farmers Union meeting Thursday night at the Hub were these folks. About 130 people were out for the meeting, which was held in the Hub Community building.

THE PICTURE OF THE WEEK is this well-loaded field of Parmer County cotton, basking under an autumn sun. Sunshine is so vital at this stage that it is estimated that for every day of sunshine, Parmer County area farmers make another 1,000 bales of cotton. That's around $150,000 a day! Small wonder that they are glad to see the clouds take a recess.

HERE THEY COME--In a line extending several blocks in length, grain trucks lined up this week at Parmer County elevators as the 1958 harvest finally got started in earnest. These pictures were made at Sherley Grain in Bovina.

ACROSS THE SCALES goes a loaded truck. Every phase of the weighing and dumping operations is made at top speed because many more are in line awaiting their turn. It takes only a few seconds to weigh a truck, but the vehicles must be weighed again after they are emptied, which doubles the work.

Still Good Chance For Area Cotton

Late September rains halted and delayed harvest of the 1958 Texas High Plains cotton crop, but warm, dry sunshine during the first October weekend enabled farmers to resume harvest operations and total ginnings had passed the 100,000-bale mark by Oct. 4, says Plains Cotton Growers.

Overall damage to the potentially good quality crop has been light and officials figure farmers can still harvest one of their best crops in years if no additional rain is received. Moisture damage thus far has probably increased the amount of spotted cotton but otherwise officials see little damage.

A threat of an early frost this past week failed to materialize and continued warm weather would enable the area to continue harvest operations on a large scale. Much defoliation has been done and stripper operations in harvest may begin soon.

Out of 96,000 bales classed through October 1 the average staple length was above one inch. The exact figure was 32.13/32nds of an inch. Also, 86.8 percent of the cotton was classed white and only 13.2 light spotted.

Parmer County is hoping for a 60,000-bale crop.

It is very probable that dogs see all colors as shades of gray, just as an ordinary photograph records colors.

Two Supervisors To Be Elected Coming Week

Two supervisors for the Parmer County Soil Conservation District will be elected next week. The election will be a part of a zone wide series of elections for the western part of Texas.

Monday night, voting will be held in the Lazbuddie high school auditorium, starting at 8. County Agent Joe Jones will have a short program to round out the evening, and will show two films, "Back to Eden," and "Concrete Lifelines for Thirsty Acres," both conservation movies.

George Crain is the present supervisor from the Lazbuddie area. Nominations will be made from the floor.

The same type program in connection with the election will be staged in Farwell at the county courthouse Tuesday night, also starting at 8. Joe Blair is the present supervisor from the Farwell area.

Those eligible to vote are resident landowners and their wives.

Other county supervisors and their areas: A. L. Black, south Friona; Bruce Parr, east of Friona, and Carl Schlenker, Bovina. The terms are for five years. Those elected will take office in January.

Farmers Union Report

You can chalk up another tremendous success for the Parmer County Farmers Union in their county convention at the Hub Community Center last Thursday night.

According to some of the old-timers in this family farm organization, there has never been as much interest and enthusiasm shown as was in evidence at this meeting. They are also convinced that Farmers Union is on the march gathering strength and support at every turn. That farm people are at last awakening to the facts, and are beginning to care what happens, especially when it happens to them, is evident. In Union there is strength.

Over a hundred people attended the convention, coming from all parts of the county. One of the things which contributed immensely to the success of the meeting was that so many entire families were there. Then another thing was the program. To start things off we had Charlie Phillips and his Sugartimers there to entertain us with their music and comedy.

But the thing that capped the climax and stole the show was the Hula Hoop Contest. You talk about interest and enthusiasm, these kids really had it. The contest turned out to be a howling success with the audience doing the howling. If you ever want to liven things up a bit and give everyone a real laugh, just have a hula hoop contest. In fact, it was talked around through the crowd that we ought to recommend to the President that he enter some such contest. With the experience he has had in wiggling out of every promise he ever made the farmer he should be a sure winner.

Speaking of winners, we had some of them, too, but we have forgotten some of their first names; in the nine and ten-year old group in the hula hoop contest Judy Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shirley of Hub, won first prize.

Winning first place in the 6-, 7-, and 8-year old group was the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Davis of Lazbuddie. Shirley Johnson, daughter of the Truitt Johnsons, won second place. Junior Renner's children carried off both first and second in the pre-school age group.

In the adult drawing Junior Matthews from Lazbuddie received a case of anti-freeze.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Good publicity does marvelous things. Sunday we did something we surely would never do were it not for the egging-on of our "want to" by all the reports we have read.

In one short day we stuffed the family into the car, dashed to the New Mexico mountains, and returned home. It was just for a look--nothing else. Can you imagine people wanting to drive from 500 to 600 miles just for a look? Well, they do.

The hillsides of the mountains north and east of Santa Fe are bathed in glorious color. Nature has painted brilliant stripes upon the mountains with the thick stands of oak, aspen, and sumac, which render orange, golden, and yellow hues in incredible brilliance. It was a sight to remember and one which we will want to see again.

If people would drive that far for a look at the autumn colors, how far would they live to see an equally inspiring scene right in their own backyard?

This is a question that, as we search for an answer, makes us think of a friend who lives in Carlsbad but has never seen the limestone underground caverns, or another who lives in Norman but has yet to see his first college football game, or of the photographer who makes pictures of everybody except his own kids.

What can the mountainsides of New Mexico, the walls of the Grand Canyon, a Hawaiian sunset, or a New England snowfall offer in beauty that surpasses (or even compares) with a High Plains harvest scene? Picture this: Three self-propelled combines creeping through a heavy stand of maize in the late evening hours. The air is calm. Seen from a distance, the sun glints from their reel bats like water rippling in a lake. To the right is row upon row of full-headed grain, a reddish-brown color splashed across the green leaves below, which are now themselves turning brown, their purpose having been fulfilled.

To the left is the neatly-clipped field, its spiny remnants casting long shadows across the water furrows, which once carried life to the flowering plants. This is the symbol of a year's work--a labor ended for some tiller of the soil.

If you've been missing sights like these you don't know beauty when it's under your nose.

In the late 1930's and all through the 1940's the Parmer County area became known as the great wheat-producing region. Most of the farmers who made good money during those years were men who farmed large acreages of wheat.

Wheat was the "it" crop in those years, and whether a wheat crop was made or missed held the key to whether things for the little towns on the Plains and the people in them were good or bad until next summer rolled around.

Row crops? Oh, sure, we had 'em, but look at the difference then and now. The idea was to make a good wheat crop. The land that was put into maize was handy, all right, in fact, downright necessary. But its production was not ESSENTIAL to prosperity as was the wheat.

The "milo maize" which it was usually called in those days sometimes turned out pretty good, but most of the time it would have been a flop by present-day standards.

After all, about the only thing it was expected to do then was to make bundles. If some grain was made too--so much the better--but a bundle crop was all that was planned on.

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Waincott

Well, the weather indicates that winter is just around the corner and the gas company seems to be quite busy over town lighting pilots on furnaces. The change of season brings on lots of activities.

If you have begun putting away summer clothes maybe these tips will be of use to you.

1. The first requisite of storing summer clothing is thorough cleaning to free it of any substance upon which silverfish, ants and roaches feed.

2. Wash garments, such as cotton or linen, should be free of starch and left unironed after washing. Thorough brushing, airing and sunning are also important.

3. All boxes or garment bags should be labeled with a description of the contents such as: "Mary's red summer coat"---"Tom's gray spring suit."

4. If the clothes are packed in a trunk or large wooden box, glue a list of the contents inside of the lid. This may save hours of searching for a needed article.

5. Old socks or bags made of scraps may be used around stored shoes. White shoes stay white longer if they are put away in socks or bags.

LAWNS NEED SPECIAL FALL ATTENTION

Now is the time to start thinking about the fall care of lawns.

Fertilization should be emphasized. Properly fertilized lawn grasses will go into the winter in vigorous condition and will remain green longer in the fall and will grow off earlier next spring.

Fertilizer should be applied about a month before the first expected frost. If summer grass is pushed into lush growth by later fertilization, it may be damaged by a hard freeze. Applying fertilizer too late prevents grass from getting the most out of it before going dormant.

Apply a complete fertilizer with a 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio at a rate to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn, recommends the specialist. This amount of nitrogen would be found in 20 pounds of 10-5-5 or 10-10-10, or in 25 pounds of 8-8-8.

After fertilizer has been spread, be sure to water it at least six inches deep. Plenty of moisture is necessary, for plants can't use fertilizer until it is dissolved. If the soil is already wet, just wash the fertilizer off the grass and onto the soil.

Ryegrass is sometimes overseeded on Bermuda to give green color during the winter, but this is sometimes harmful to the Bermuda. Ryegrass is usually growing in the spring when Bermuda should start and unless the ryegrass is kept closely clipped, it often gives Bermuda serious competition for light, moisture and plant food. If ryegrass is seeded on a Bermuda lawn, Italian or annual ryegrass should be used for they die in the spring. Ryegrass should not be overseeded on grasses other than Bermuda.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Everyone who likes to make winter bouquets should be scouting around for materials now that they want to use later. In some of the out of the way places there are many sunflowers, cockleburs, devil's claws, and other weeds that are going to seed.

The seed pods of these and many other weeds make beautiful additions to centerpieces and other artificial flower arrangements. Leaves for these bouquets may also be gathered now for future use. Some of the grasses that are going to seed in pastures and along the roadsides can also be used.

When articles are being gathered, don't overlook the vegetable garden. Okra pods are very pretty when sprayed with silver or other colored paint. Another good place to look for interesting materials to work with is the cotton field.

Surely it will not be long until all cars come equipped with a cabinet under the dashboard. We really need one in our car to store the things we should carry around at all times. As soon as they are available locally, we plan to purchase some of the plastic trays that fasten onto the windows and have room for a sandwich and a package of potato chips.

These gadgets also have a place for a paper cup to sit so that it will not turn over. Every family should buy as many of these trays as there are members of the family.

Mrs. Joe Moyer was a visitor in the Friona Star office Monday. She inquired about the egg plant which Elmer Euler grew and brought in for us to see and display. Mrs. Moyer says she enjoys eating this vegetable very much.

When asked how she prepares it, Mrs. Moyer replied, "Just slice it, turn it in batter and fry it."

Sounds simple, doesn't it? However, until we try it, we will not recommend it. Up until now, we have never tasted egg plant that was pleasing to the taste.

Our recipes this week were swiped from a column which we read regularly in the Canadian Record. It is written by Nancy Ezzell and is titled, "Petticoat Patter."

Inez Arrington's Nut Cracker Pie

2 egg whites, beaten stiff and dry

1 cup sugar

12 soda crackers, crushed fine

1 cup nut meats

1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine all ingredients. Pour into 8-inch pie dish with no pie shell. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. A double recipe may be made and used in an oblong pyrex baking dish and served cut in squares.

This pie is rather like a pecan pie.

Swedish Apple Shortcake

A delicious recipe using apples is this one from Sweden. It is called apple short-cake, but is more like a pie than our familiar shortcake. By any name it is good. Serve it with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.

PASTRY:

1/2 cup butter

1/3 cup confectioner's sugar, sifted

3/4 cup cornstarch

3/4 cup sifted all purpose flour

Cream butter until fluffy; add sugar gradually, continuing to cream until light and fluffy. Add cornstarch and flour; beat well. Chill about 2 hours. Pat pastry into 9-inch pie pan, flute edges.

FILLING:

6 cups thinly sliced apples

1 cup sugar

1/4 cup all purpose flour

1 teaspoon cinnamon

2 tablespoons

WHIFFING UP THE DOUGHNUTS after the Parmer County Farm Bureau annual convention Monday night at the Hub was Jack Patterson. Pouring him coffee to keep the doughnuts moving is his wife.

Gil Kaltwasser Again Heads Farm Bureau

The Parmer County Farm Bureau likes Gilbert Kaltwasser of Oklahoma Lane. At least, they vote as if they do. He was named president of the organization for the fourth consecutive term Monday night at the annual convention, and elected in spite of a request from him that he not be made a candidate.

Fair weather played a mean trick on the FB members for their meeting. Many were busy with harvesting duties and the meeting was attended by 57--the smallest group ever to assemble for a county-wide convention.

There was lots of business taken care of, though, and the meeting rumbled on until after 12 o'clock as the members discussed and adopted resolutions on local, state, and national levels. There was no controversy on any of the resolutions adopted, and most were adopted with only token resistance.

Vice-president Jack Patterson reported the county Bureau membership at 626--off 24 from the goal of 650 the organization hopes to have by November 1. Membership is up slightly from the same time last year.

Directors elected: M. T. Glasscock, Farwell; J. D. White, Lazbuddie; Herman Gerles, Bovina; Ernest Anthony, north Friona; Raymond Schlabs, Black; and Jack Patterson, Rhea.

Named delegates to attend the state FB convention are Donald Christian, Schlabs, Franklin Baurer, Roy Miller, Gerles, and White.

Garland "Cotton John" Smith of KGNV-TV, Amarillo, spoke to the members about his experiences while making a European tour this summer. He made a special example of his stay in England.

"England is running the welfare state," he told the group, and he compared the standards of living of the typical English farmer with that of American farmers.

Smith also discussed conditions on the European continent, and emphasized that farming there is carried on today much as it was hundreds of years ago.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

A new cooperater with the Parmer County Soil Conservation District is A. J. Malouf of Lubbock. His farm is located four miles south and five miles east of Bovina. Malouf saw the need to control erosion and increase production on his farm. Because the district furnishes help only to farmers who apply for it, Malouf signed an application and got it approved by the district supervisors.

After this application was approved, the Soil Conservation Service helped him work out a conservation farm plan on his farm. In making this plan the conservation measures needed in each field were discussed. Besides the crop rotations to use, how much fertilizer he needs, and a conservation irrigation system, it was decided a diversion terrace was needed to divert excess water from his cropland.

The SCS will help Malouf in the design, layout, and checking of this diversion terrace. In order to provide for a stable outlet for this diversion, Mr. Malouf decided to construct a waterway which will receive this surplus runoff water and safely conduct it through his field without excessive erosion.

He will also receive technical help in design, layout, and checking of this waterway.

Slime May Clog Irrigation Wells

According to the High Plains Water District, many High Plains' farmers have discovered that a slimy, gelatin-like substance is growing in their irrigation wells, some of which are in Parmer County.

The substance is reported to be a combination of blue-green algae and iron and sulphur bacteria. This report comes from Dr. J. K. G. Silvey, director of the department of biology at North Texas State College.

The District is gathering samples of the slime and is shipping them to Dr. Silvey for analysis; however, the District has not published recommendations for control and prevention of the growth.

The importance of the algae and bacteria contamination of irrigation wells is the fear that it may become concentrated in a well and clog the perforations in the well casing or even the pore spaces of the water-bearing formation. Should this occur, the well will not yield the quantity of water it normally would be capable of producing.

Word has been received from almost every section of the High Plains reporting that the substance has been discovered.

The District reports that a meeting will be held in the near future to discuss plans for launching a large-scale research program to formulate recommendations for the treatment of wells that are now contaminated and for prevention of the growth in wells not yet contaminated.

Anyone who discovers a foreign substance in his well or pump, or who notices alien matter suspended in his well water can assist in the research program by contacting the District office in Lubbock.

This plan is a cooperative agreement between Malouf and the District.

If changes in markets, prices, or other conditions make it desirable to change this plan, any technical aid needed in making the changes can be obtained through the district supervisors.

Practically all the farmers cooperating with the District say that their conservation farming program has increased yields and profits and has also checked erosion. If you have not applied to the Parmer County Soil Conservation District for help in making a conservation plan for your farm, contact one of the district supervisors or come into the SCS office in Friona and sign an application today.

DEAN FAMILY HAS REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dean were hosts to a reunion of the children of Mrs. J. M. Dean of Wellington in their home Sunday, September 28. All members of the family were present except Mrs. Silvia Shaw of Victorville, Calif., one of Mrs. Dean's daughters.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dean of Las Vegas, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ridding and Mrs. Oral Russell and Kenneth of Pampa, Mrs. Dutch Sullivan of Ropesville, and Berntha Hurst of Friona.

This was the first time that Mrs. Dean's sons, Tommy and Elmo, and daughters Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Ridding and Mrs. Hurst had been together for more than 25 years.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rice and sons, David and Jack Jr. of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mann and children, Joe, Bob, Carla Sue and Joy Lynn of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sifford and Kenneth and Gladys and Linda Dean of this community.

FARM BUREAU ELECTS OFFICERS
The Rhea Farm Bureau met at the Parish Hall Friday evening for election of officers for the coming year. They are as follows: Walter Schueler, president; Billy Sifford, vice-president; Ray Martensen, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Patterson, director.

FISHING GOOD AT CONCHAS
Jack Patterson, Willie Wall and Claud Mears spent several days last week fishing at Conchas Dam. Wall and Mears returned early in the week, but Patterson was having such good luck he spent the remainder of the week. Mrs. Patterson, Cynthia and Sandra joined him and spent the weekend. The family returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Cruse and Nancy returned to their home in Pierre, S. D., late last week after spending about 10 days visiting Mrs. Cruse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Patterson, and other relatives and friends here.

PARTY HONORS SIX YEAR OLD

Mrs. Ray Martensen honored her son, Roger, with a party in observance of his sixth birthday in the family home Sunday afternoon. After a game session, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the guests.

Favors were Indian hats and balloons. Those present, other than members of the family were DeWayne Bauer, Leslie Jarecki, Dale Schueler, Floyd Schleker, and Wayne Allen Schueler. Schueler.

Donna Kay Osborn and Laita Harrison of Rosedale visited Laneida and Joqueta Wall Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Shields are new residents of our community. They moved from Hereford to the Paul Hall home recently.

Mrs. Walter Schueler honored her mother, Mrs. E. O. Woolover of Sudan, with a birthday dinner in the Schueler home Wednesday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Woolover and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Parish of Earth.

Those attending the neighborhood party at the home of Mrs. Walter Schueler Thursday afternoon were Mesdames Lorraine Jarecki, Natalie Martensen, Mary Gibson, Lorraine Estep, Emma Schueler and Cecelia Schueler.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward, Debbie and Bill Jr., of Lubbock were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Gibson. Ward is Mrs. Gibson's brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schueler and family spent the weekend in Amarillo. While there, they attended Mrs. Schueler's cousin's wedding.

Gayle Potts of Rosedale and Marilyn Potts visited Phyllis Kelley of Texico Sunday.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Myers wrote us some time ago asking for copies of the September 4 issue which carried the story of the car-truck crash at Hub. At the time we received her request, we were out of papers, so made a request that subscribers return copies to be mailed to her. After sufficient copies were received and mailed to her, she wrote the following letter. She and Mrs. Billington were sisters.)

Dear Editor:
It is with heartfelt thanks and gratitude I am writing you this letter. I want to send my thanks to you for all the trouble you went to to collect the copies of the Star. I am hoping you will thank each and every one who was so kind as to return their copy to you for us. They mean so very much to us at this time. The writer of the story did a good job and went to a lot of time and trouble to collect information for the story of the horrible tragic accident. I would like to give him a personal "Thank You." The doctors and nurses who labored together so wonderfully to help our loved ones deserve more than our thanks. Everyone that rendered service of any kind is on my list of thanks for giving service in time of need.

I am mailing a copy of the paper to Virginia to a daughter, two to California to a daughter and a son. They are the only ones left in their family.
Our sister, Mrs. Arthur Hawkins, received the copies you sent her. The other two copies you sent me will go to a brother and a sister. I will always feel grateful for your kind service which you gave to me so freely.
Very Sincerely,
Mrs. J. R. Myers

"Watch for the little ones" is the advice of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council now that schools are in session again. Children, they point out, often do the unexpected when crossing busy streets or highways and unless the motorist is on guard, a serious or even fatal accident may occur.

New Home Light Control

Actress Ann Miller discusses a new light control system that has been specified for her Hollywood home by noted interior designer Harold Grieve, National President of the American Institute of Interior Decorators. To help her set the stage for any party or mood in her home, Miss Miller will use new Luxtrol Light Controls. Three new styles of Light Controls were recently introduced with capacities of 450 watts, 800 watts and 1800 watts. All fit into an ordinary wall and make it possible to have any level of light from blackout to full brightness by turning a dial.
