In the spring a young man's fancy turns to what the young ladies have been thinking about all year, says some sage.

Well, reckon that in the fall most folks hereabouts turn to football and hunting?

With the opening of duck season only last weekend, many early risers can be observed at the local coffee stops all decked out in their hunting "finery."

One waitress told us this morning that Frank Spring was in the cafe for a cup of coffee and it was only after he left that she finally figured out who he was.

We imagine that most of the duck hunters are thataway come about 6 a.m.

One humorous incident happened this week down at Sherman's Cafe.

A group of men were sitting around drinking coffee—now this isn't unusual we admit, but what happened while they were drinking the coffee is—and these men were busy bragging about their kills of the morning.

The numbers of dead ducks was astronomical and we are forced to say we sort of believe quite a few of the dead ducks existed only in some of the men's imaginations.

But, at any rate, the bragging was going thick and fast and duck feathers were about waist deep around this particular table in question.

A tall, rangy fellow wearing a uniform the color of pine needles walked in the cafe.

He had on a badge, a gun and struck quite a picture as he walked across to a table on the opposite side of the cafe from the duck hunters.

Immediately the bragging fell off to a whisper and then died out all together as the men figured him for a game warden.

Well, the hunters left, after straining their eyes trying to read the patch on the officer's shoulder.

The fellow turned out to be in the weights and measure division of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

But—he sure did put a halt to the bragging in a hurry.

SHADES OF JARRIN' JOHN—what is going on down at Texas A&M these days?

We sounded off a few times on our ideas of putting, or admitting girls at A&M some time in the past.

Now, you know what they have done now?

Pore Reveille, the school mascot who used to run proudly back and forth during the half-time activities while the Fight-in' Texas Aggie Band was marching has been chained up!

Seems Rev didn't have her table manners quite up to par during the TCU game and in all the confusion she was accused of biting a plug out of a TCU coach, one Walter Roach.

Not only is she accused of "tasting" a TCU coach, but on numerous occasions she is said to "have upset photographers dignity during football games."

All this plus being accused of biting a referee during the Aggie-Houston game.

Pore old Rev, we remember her well, and used to bet just how many photographers she would chase off the field during a ball game. But, pore Rev, like a lot of other things seem to have been left in the lurch.

Besides, he should've been warned such a diet as TCU coaches, referees and photographers would upset her digestive track and may even result in lockjaw or the like.

Fire Destroys Phipps Home

Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the almost completed home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Phipps of Friona Monday evening. The two-bedroom house, which was under construction, was located 1 1/2 miles north of Muleshoe on the Friona-Muleshoe highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Phipps, who have lived here a long time, were hoping to get moved into the new house before Christmas until a telephone call late Monday evening informed them that their new house had burned.

Lions Club To Hear FHS Choir

Friona High School's Choir will be the honored guest and present a musical program under the direction of Dick Bentz at the regular meeting of the Friona Lions Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Plans for the Lions Annual Spring Show will be discussed at the meeting and as this is the only meeting slated for the month of November Boss Lion Deon Awtrey says, "We hope every member will be present for this very entertaining program and important business session."

Ladies Night will be observed December 4 in the school cafeteria.

Other business Thursday night will be the installation of five new members under direction of Ross Ayres.

The five new Lions are Dr. Lee Cranfill, Porter McGee, Paul Hall, Marion Fite and Judge Loyde Brower.

Legionnaires To Meet Monday

Members of the American Legion of Friona will hear reports on the activities at Boys' and Girls' State sessions held this past summer in Austin at a meeting slated for Monday night in the Legion building in Friona.

In addition to the reports from Sanders and Miss Bock, members will report on the membership drive which has been going on in the local area. Members were divided into four groups in the drive and the losing groups will be required to serve a chili supper to the Post at a date to be announced later.

A total of 78 members have been "recruited" by the local post during this current drive. Members in good standing of the Friona Post are as follows:

Season Ends With Dalhart

Friona's Chiefs will face the favored Dalhart Wolves in the last battle of the 1958 football season at Chieftain Stadium Friday night.

This tussle, a conference affair, could prove to be vital for naming the district champion if the Chiefs can down the highly regarded Wolves.

Dalhart has lost one conference battle, that one to Canyon, 21-18. On their list of conference wins is a victory over the top-ranked Dimmitt Bobcats.

Playing the Bobcats in Dimmitt on Homecoming Weekend, the boys from the Panhandle upended the favored Bobcats 13-6.

Canyon is still leading the conference with a record of three wins and no losses or ties.

Canyon downed Friona last Friday night by a score of 34-6.

Canyon will be playing for the undisputed right to represent District 1-AA Friday night when they will meet Dimmitt.

Should the Chiefs turn the tables and scalp Dalhart, and should Dimmitt beat Canyon, this would leave Dimmitt with the District title.

In comparing scores the picture looks something on this order: Dimmitt downed the Chiefs 22-0 and lost 13-6 to Dalhart. Several fans say this isn't a true picture of Dalhart's strength as they caught Dimmitt on an "off" night.

Dalhart has a light team, comparing in weight with the Chieftains. They have plenty of speed to spare in the backfield.

Two of their boys, Ronnie Ledbetter, 161-pound fullback and Roy Suddarth, 153-pound halfback, were members of the state championship 440-yard relay team last year.

The Wolves run their offense from a T-formation with flankers split.

Game time is 8 p. m. at Chieftain Stadium.

RAT WAR DISCUSSED

City Fathers Plan Street Sealcoating

In a short, but eventful, meeting Monday night, members of the city council discussed the possibility of a concerted effort to rid the city of rats, discussed the sealcoating of several blocks of paving, and raised salaries of several city employees.

After discussion concerning impending cold weather, and a shortage of city funds, members of the council voted to sealcoat four blocks of street paving in the downtown area of Friona which is in the worst condition.

The section which will be sealed, if possible, before cold weather, is the block between Euclid and Main on 6th Street, north one block on Euclid to the post office corner, and then east to Main Street and the block on Euclid from the post office corner to the school corner where it is blocked off during school terms.

This area was deemed as having streets "in the direst need" by City Manager Albert Field and councilmen agreed if something wasn't done before winter to protect the already broken paving the entire four blocks may have to be repaved next year.

The council authorized Field to contact three men in the paving business and get the lowest bid on the job which will be done as soon as possible, weather permitting.

Seven members of the city's employees received raises varying from $40 per month for five employees to 5 cents per hour for two more.

The raises do not affect the police department.

Rat problems were discussed at the council meeting and it was decided to investigate the possibility of getting poison and having it on hand at the city hall.

As the poison is received, residents will be notified and the poison will be sold as cheaply as possible.

"It won't do any good if the whole town doesn't work together on this problem," Mayor R. L. Fleming says.

Baptists Dedicate New Educational Building

Several hundred members and friends of the First Baptist Church of Friona gathered Sunday to observe a day-long dedication ceremony and break ground for a new $68,000 addition to the church.

Dr. A. Hope Owen, president of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview, was the featured speaker at the groundbreaking ceremonies Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

With numerous guests and former members on hand for the event, members of the church had a fellowship dinner at the church at noon.

Guests and visitors were welcomed by Mrs. H. T. Magness. An outline of the purposes of the structure was given by Raymond Cook, chairman of the building committee.

G. B. "Pete" Buske gave a history of the local church and the actual groundbreaking

FOOTBALL BANQUET SET NOVEMBER 22

The date for the annual Football Banquet has been set as November 22, according to Head Coach Collie Huffman.

The banquet will be held in the school cafeteria and will be sponsored by the Football Mothers.

was done by Mrs. J. H. Wise. The new addition will be built on the north side of the sanctuary and will match in construction and design the wing which adjoins the sanctuary on the south.

The building will contain rooms for three divisions of the young people's department and kitchen facilities.

Construction will get underway this week by Elmo Jones, Littlefield contractor.

SEVEN WILL BE BACK

Huffman Names 19 Chieftain Lettermen

Nineteen lettermen were named by Head Coach Collie Huffman Monday for the 1958 Chieftain football team.

Of the 19 boys, two were three-year lettermen and nine of the players will receive their second letter jacket.

All the boys except seven will be graduating this year and of the seven returning for next year only one is a sophomore.

Jon Mack Roden, center, and Gary Brooks, halfback, will receive their third letter jackets this year.

Brooks, a junior, will return for one more season with the Chiefs next year. He is a scabback and in spite of light harvesting is interfering with drive work, but that this is slated to end shortly and the drive will end on schedule.

The drive has as its goal a total of $75,000 which will be used to retire mortgages on the building and equipment.

At present a total of $2,000 monthly is required to pay the interest and principal on the amount which was borrowed to construct the hospital.

This money, plus the burden of uncollected and unpaid bills, leaves the hospital "going into the hole" every month.

Hospital officials say if the debt on the building and equipment can be paid off the hospital can meet its other obligations and make its own way.

weight, Brooks accounted for his share of yardage gained during this season.

Foottallers receiving their second letter include Owen Houston, guard; Gary Dean McLaughlin, tackle; Monroe Young, tackle; Kim Caffey, tackle; Gary Goetz, end; Chauncy Woody, guard; Gary Bradley, back; Bomar Stacy, back; and Larry Moyer, guard.

Chieftains receiving their first letter include Gene Pape, Jim Greeson, Jim Roy Clements; Ronnie Castleberry, Kenneth Carter, J. W. Baxter and Jerry Rankin.

Rankin is the only sophomore in the group.

Jimmy White, manager, will receive a letter jacket for his services to the Chieftain team for the 1958 season.

Jackets will be awarded later during the school year.

County Issues

Time Warrants

In a lengthy regular session Monday, Parmer County commissioners voted to issue legal time warrants for securing rights-of-way for widening Highway 84 in the country.

Maximum amount of the warrants, which will be dated February 1, 1959, will be $175,000. Interest on the money will be four and a half per cent. The warrants will be paid off in 10 years and will be handled by First Southwest Co.

In other business Monday, the commissioners canvassed November 4 election and voted to pay election officials.

A lease agreement between the county and City of Farwell was reached. The lease concerns 35 acres of county-owned land which is being used by the city as a dump ground. The lease was made for 50 years. Cost to the city was set at $1.

Also, the commissioners voted to accept bids for a maintainer which will be purchased for Farwell precinct.

rodents is blamed on the coming of cold weather, forcing the animals out of grain fields in the surrounding area, and a heavy stubble residue of wheat and grain sorghums.

City Manager Field contacted Joe Jones, county agent, Tuesday about securing poison and was informed that the poison could be bought at a cost of 30 cents per pound from several chemical companies.

Field says the city will buy a supply of the poison and this will be available at the city hall shortly.

In the meantime, Raymond Euler, local agent for the Farm Bureau, has a supply of rat poison on hand that is for sale at cost to anyone who desires to rid their premises of rodents.

Field added the city will do its best to rid the city dump and the railroad area of rats if residents will try to do their part by protecting their homes.

Fever, Stiff Neck, Headache Warn Of Meningitis

With eight patients in area hospitals being treated for meningitis, anxious mothers and worried citizens are casting about for additional information on the disease that was once frequently fatal or left the victim in pitiful condition.

"No longer is meningitis fatal except in scattered cases if treatment is applied early enough," says Dr. Paul Spring, health officer for Parmer County.

In an interview Dr. Spring set down some of the facts about meningitis that county residents could watch for and offered prime advice to those who detect some of the symptoms he enumerated.

"Symptoms of meningitis include fever, severe headache, sore throat, and a stiff neck. After about two or three days peculiar hemorrhages appear around the victim's legs and trunk.

"The best thing a person could do in areas where there is a possibility of contracting meningitis is to see his doctor soon after the symptoms of the disease are recognized," Dr. Spring advises.

Diagnosis is made by doctors with a spinal tap. "There is no preventative vaccine," he says. "However, sulfa drugs and wide spectrum antibiotics are used to prevent the disease attacking persons who may have been in contact with meningitis-stricken persons.

On ways the disease is transmitted, the health officer says that personal contact--being in the room with a fevered person--is sufficient to spread the disease. It is hardly probable that the disease is carried on clothing, though. It has a tendency to occur in epidemic stages, with an epidemic declared when two of every 100 persons have the disease.

The disease is a bacterial infection of the spine, caused by a bacteria called H in scientific language, H "meningococcus." Before the discovery of modern drugs, patients were almost sure to die, and if they didn't die were often affected mentally and severely handicapped physically.

A meningitis victim seldom dies nowadays, if the doctor is called to treat the disease at an early stage, says Dr. Spring.

The course of the disease is about a week for the acute stage of meningitis, with the patient being recovered in two or three weeks.

"We would caution again, that if persons notice a sore throat, fever, headache, or stiff neck, to contact their doctor immediately," the physician says.

Children seem to be somewhat more susceptible to the disease than adults, but not to a great extent, he says.

Many a good argument is knocked down and run over by progress.

How Do You Know Your Business Is Really Covered by Adequate Insurance?

You don't--unless you insure through an independent insurance agent. Here's why:

No Single Insurance Company Offers Every Type of Business Insurance.

If you buy insurance directly from an insurance company, it's likely you will hear only about the policy or policies that company offers. But if you insure your business through an independent insurance agent, here's what happens: 1. He personally surveys your plant or working site. 2. He suggests ways you may be able to reduce the premiums you pay. 3. He determines your insurance needs. 4. He chooses for you the best insurance for your business out of hundreds of policies offered by different, competing insurance companies.

You can be sure your business has adequate insurance coverage when you insure through an independent insurance agent. So, look for this seal before you buy insurance. Only an independent insurance agent can display it.

APPROACHING THE BIBLE

What does the Bible mean to you? Is it a guide? A rule book of instructions? Is it something holy to be kept around to constantly remind you of God and a symbol of God's presence in your home? Is it a sacred filing place for things dear to you? Just what is it?

It is designed to reveal God's will to man. We are expected to live in harmony with that will. If we can determine what God would have us do and be we can do it, BUT, in order to have this understanding we must approach the Bible to learn God's will. NOW, the question is, HOW DO YOU APPROACH THE BIBLE?

Do you study it to learn what it has to say to you, or do you look into it to see if it does not confirm what you have always held to be true? To seek for confirmation of things believed is to establish a creed. To seek for information is to humble yourself before God that you might learn his will.

The wise person will cause his life to conform as nearly to that will as it is humanly possible.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

IS THE REAL BLESSING HIDDEN?

Jonah didn't see the real blessing. He had preached up and down the streets of Nineveh saying, "Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown." The king heard his message and called a fast and prayer. The whole city repented. Jonah went up on the mountain to see what God would do. God let a gourd vine come up overnight so when the sun shone Jonah was glad for the gourd. He rejoiced in the wrong blessing. He didn't see the great blessing God gave him, a great revival; the whole city repented.

While Jesus walked the sea shore and hills of Judea in his three and one half years of ministry the leaders of that day didn't see anything but a man. They rejected him as the Messiah. They said he was an impostor and cast out devils by the prince of devils.

They rejected him the Lord of Glory when he came to his own country, the people said isn't this the carpenter's son. They failed to see the real blessing and did not know who he was. He was more than man, but their eyes were blind to the truth. There are a lot of people today that are missing the real blessing. We read in Matthew 13:15, "For this peoples hearts is waxed gross and their ears are dull of hearing and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and should understand with their hearts and should be converted and I should heal them."

Do we fail to see the real blessing today?

Canyon Eagles Down Chiefs

Canyon's Eagles stayed "the team to beat" in District 1-AA Friday night as they plucked the Friona Chief's feathers 34-6 at Buffalo Stadium in Canyon.

Boasting a sparkling offensive team and returning Chieftain punts for big yardage the Eagles showed the color which has led them to the top team in the district this season.

J. W. Baxter scored the only Chieftain TD late in the fourth quarter going over from the 3-yard line.

The Eagles' first score followed a blocked punt early in the first quarter. Taking over on the Chieftain 25 they drove the remaining distance in seven plays to go into the lead 7-0.

The Chiefs took this setback in stride and took the kickoff on their own 38. Sparked by Brooks, Bradley and Baxter the Chiefs looked as if they were going to go all the way as they drove down to the Eagles' two-yard line where an incompleting pass gave the ball to the Eagles after a fourth down try failed.

The Eagles took over and drove out to their 16 where the Chiefs recovered a fumbled ball.

Again the Eagles' defense stiffened and another fourth down pass try failed and the Eagles took over again.

Early in the second quarter Jim Clements got off a booming punt from his own 10 which was taken by Chuck Nester on his own 45 yard line. Squirring away from tacklers he sped down the sideline and was hauled down from behind by Gary Goetz on the Chiefs' 20.

On the next play Nester sped across tackle and over the goal. The extra point try was good and the Eagles led 15-0.

Before the half another punt return set up an Eagle TD. Clements punted late in the second quarter from the Eagles' 45. Eddie Boydston took the punt on his own 10 and was finally hauled down on the Chiefs' 47.

Nester picked up 27 yards and three plays later Jerry Richardson scored from the 10.

Eagles took over following the halftime kickoff on their 15 and moved out to the 47 where Ronnie Hyuck took a handoff and sped down to the Chieftain 8-yard-line.

The Eagles scored on the next play to make it 27-0. Try for extra point was good and they led 28-0 with 9:30 left in the third quarter.

The remainder of the third the two teams exchanged punts.

Early in the fourth quarter the Eagles drove from the Chieftain 37 and called on Nester to go the distance to make the score 34-0 early in the fourth quarter.

The Chiefs fought back in the howling face of a duststorm which moved into the area in the fourth quarter. Taking over on their 20 they moved down to the Eagles' 9-yard line on gains by Brooks, Carter and Baxter.

With first and goal from the nine they received a 15-yard penalty and two plays later the threat was throttled by an intercepted pass.

Taking a punt return back to the Eagle 45 late in the fourth and getting benefit of a 15 yard penalty against the Eagles, the Chiefs began a TD try on the Eagle 35.

Baxter and Brooks advanced the ball to the 3 where Baxter boomed across to score. The extra point try failed.

Final score Canyon 34 - Friona 6.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Askings' Favor Simple Dishes

Mrs. Alvin Askins, who is one of Friona's younger homemakers and another busy person, is being featured as our Cook Of The Week this time. In addition to her duties as a minister's wife, she serves as president of the young people's organization in the Assembly of God Church.

Mrs. Askins has one daughter, Gayla, who is just two and shares her mother's enthusiasm for cooking. Any time her mother begins a meal, Gayla asks for an apron and to be allowed to "stir it." The family moved here from Texhoma, Okla., in October of last year. Prior to her marriage she attended school at Cement, Okla.

When interviewed by a Star reporter, Mrs. Askins said, "I enjoy cooking very much, but do not prepare fancy dishes. Our favorites are simple dishes which I serve often whether we have guests or there are just the three of us here."

The favorite ground beef recipe of the Askings family is made by chopping one small onion finely and mixing it thoroughly with 1/2 lb. hamburger meat. 10 crushed crackers are then added to the mixture. After 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, and 1/4 cup catsup have been added, the mixture is thoroughly blended together and baked in a 350 degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes. Mrs. Askins pours 1 cup water over the loaf before putting it in the oven.

The favorite dessert in the Askings home is:

APPLESAUCE CAKE
 1/2 cup margarine
 1 cup thick applesauce
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 cup chopped raisins
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 2/3 cup sugar
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Floyd and Kay Ann Smith spent the weekend in Plainview with the Junior Stouts.

Sunday visitors in the T. O. Lesly home were his brother, Mr. and Mrs. U. L. Lesly and family from Dalhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kimbrough and children from Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. Max Steinbock spent Sunday with the Gene Smiths.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Jennings left Sunday for Hereford where Mrs. Jennings will remain with her daughter and family while Jennings and Cecil Malone go to Iowa on business.

Mrs. Saye Wells and her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wells and baby from Capron, Okla., spent last week visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Englekling and Jerry. Sunday the group joined Mr. and Mrs. Richard Englekling and children for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Embry in Farwell.

Girl Scout Notes

Brownie Troop No. 358 had 24 members and four visitors present at its Monday afternoon meeting. Mrs. Ralph Shirley and Mrs. Louis Welch and daughters, Gay and Holly, were the visitors.

Judy Edelman was the flag bearer with Kathy Cook and Jo Anne Jennings as color guards for the flag ceremony. Celia Faye Vestal was the caller for the flag ceremony.

The troop made elephant and clown cardboard puppets for its project. Refreshments were served by Linda Stone, Jan Welch, Carole Lou Stokes, and Chole Ann Ford.

With the singing of Taps the girls "vanished."

In Parmer County ..... $3 Per Yr.

Entered as second class mail matter July 31, 1925, at the post office in Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 31, 1897. Published each Thursday.

A Worthy Cause . . .

A drive began last week which could affect the lives of many persons. This drive could mean the difference between life or death to one of our loved ones, or for someone whom we don't even know.

Parmer County Community Hospital is in need of financial assistance.

To many folks, this statement is like waving a red flag at a bull.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing about the money troubles at the hospital," is the way folks look at this problem.

What they should be thinking perhaps is "IF I'M SICK AND IN NEED of a place to go for help Parmer County Community Hospital is within a short distance of my home."

Yes, not only to all of us here in Friona or within the county, but many people from the surrounding area travel to the Parmer County Community Hospital for aid during crucial times.

To argue the point that the hospital doesn't mean a thing is pointless.

Regardless of personal feelings, it would be asinine to make such a statement.

The hospital serves all who come along in need.

Perhaps this is why the hospital is in need of money right now.

What would be the state of your personal business if you had in your accounts receivable column over $50,000 in bad debts?

We think you are no different from us. Such a heavy debt would force us in bankruptcy.

This is one of the large problems at the hospital today.

If everyone who owed the hospital money would pay their bills we wouldn't have to have this drive.

But, in spite of this backlog of bad debts, hospital officials say that if the building mortgage and payments on the equipment were paid off the hospital would be able to make it's own way.

Let's look at a record of what the hospital has done for folks in our area during the past 11 months.

In a study conducted by Northwestern University, 92 per cent of housewives interviewed said if they had a choice of newspapers with or without advertising, they would prefer newspapers with advertising.

All men are created equal--and endowed by their Creator with an insatiable urge to become otherwise.

The Parmer County Community Hospital has:

Served the needs of 16,000 outpatients in the clinic;

Served the needs of 3,280 hospital patients; Seen 502 new residents of this area make their entry into life in the delivery room.

What would have been the problems of these folks had the hospital not been available?

Not only does the hospital serve folks we know, but many times folks none of us know.

Remember one bloody afternoon when the bodies of six people were brought to the hospital for help?

Four of the six were dead on arrival. The other two lived about three or four hours.

Members of the staff worked feverishly doing all in their power to save these two lives.

Did they ask who would pay for their services before administering to the needs of these people?

No they didn't. As a matter of fact they didn't even know who the folks were until late that evening.

The hospital doesn't solicit business, nor does it turn anyone in need away.

Perhaps you would rather have the hospital examine each prospective patient's bank account rather thoroughly before admitting them to the hospital?

Sure--this prospective patient may be dead or dying, but unless they could pay would you turn them away?

A hospital doesn't function in this manner, and we are glad it doesn't.

Parmer County should be proud of the facilities available at the hospital.

It saves taxes from the county by helping the indigent, and puts emergency aid within reach of all of us.

When the workers on this drive visit you, won't you think awhile before you give?

Most of us are beginning to learn that the cost of experience has gone up like everything else.

Living today is a game of robbing Peter to pay Paul in order to make it possible to stand pat.

Most people pay too much for the things they get for nothing.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS HAVE TO SAY CLIPPED QUOTES

BASCOM NELSON OF THE CASTRO COUNTY NEWS has a few ideas on politics and Halloween.

It was gratifying to note that President Eisenhower has finally turned into an instinctive politician. Before he has needed considerable prompting in his not-so-enthusiastic blasts against his opposition. However, when he heard of the Democratic victories over the country, he immediately raised his arm and maintained that he would fight to the bitter end against the spendthrift ways of the Democrats ergo it is his bounden duty to the nation to spend his smattering of energy to save the nation from a bankruptcy worse than death, to fight the nasty ole Democrats who have been dumped into his lap.

The thing we noticed about his statement was its spontaneity. After two terms the president has finally developed the knack for instinctively knocking the Democrats when someone mentions that party.

This is in direct contrast to Harry Truman, whose first words after he learned to talk were probably that "The Republicans are ruining the country."

Of course none of this means anything. The Democrats won't spend any more money than the Republicans. They'll probably spend it more wisely, but the public debt we have now won't be anything compared to what it will be ten years from now, regardless of who's in power.

JIMMIE GILLINTINE IN THE HEREFORD BRAND gives a buddy a ribbing about hunting experiences.

A bunch of fellows around town are giving John Patton a lot of trouble these days. John just got back from Elephant Butte Dam in New Mexico and when he backed his car down to pull his boat out of the lake, he started spinning his wheels. John apparently kept stomping on the footpedal of the car and, without his realizing it, was being gradually pulled backwards. The first thing John knew water was up over the floorboard and his car was well on the way to being capsized. He finally got out, secured the service of a wrecker -- and recovered both the car and the boat without too much damage.

Don Zimmerman is trying to sell him some pontoons and an outboard motor for his car. A lot of other fishing buddies are giving John a bad time. Even John admits that he felt pretty silly when he suddenly realized that he was sitting in the water in the front seat.

"A conservative husband, while out of town, sent his wife a check for 1,000 kisses.

Back came a card from the wife: "Thanks for the check. The milkman cashed it this morning."

Someone defined middle age as the time when you still have old spark but it takes more puffing.

In the business world an executive knows something about everything, a technician knows everything about something and the switchboard operator knows everything about everything.

IT SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

(Nov. 10,--1933)
(Taken from the files of the Friona Star.)

VISITING HOME FOLK -- J. R. (Ralph) Evans, who has leased a farm near Mountain-air, New Mexico, and is living there with his brother, spent the latter part of the week here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry, and his many Friona friends.

Ralph has arranged to have The Friona Star visit him in his new home each week of the year. His friends here wish him success in his farming interests over in the sister state.

NEW DIRECTORY -- The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, which owns the local telephone system, has prepared a new directory for the Friona and Bovina systems.

The new directory is a very neatly planned issue and was printed by The Friona Star, the company thus patronizing a local institution.

GAS COMPANY EXTENDING LINE--The West Texas Gas Company made some extensions of its mains here during last week, when it extended to reach the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blackwell and included the new residence building they have recently erected on their block.

Other extensions are under consideration but as yet no others have been made. Gas as a fuel in Friona seems to be becoming more popular each year.

A LIVELY PARTY--The Intermediate B. Y. P. U. met at the home of Mrs. Lansdown where many enjoyable games were played and the evening was a success. Bro. Lansdown entertained us in many ways.

At a late hour cocoa and cookies were served to the following: Gertrude Euler, Douglas Short, Ivan and Irvan Lansdown, Mrs. Elmer Euler, John Lansdown, Louis Euler, Dallas Earl Coldiron, Paul Lansdown, Stella Lansdown, Mattie Ray Coldiron, Ralph and Joe Lansdown, Brother Lansdown, and Mary Lansdown.

After the refreshments were served, more games were played and the guests all departed with a sucker in his mouth.

FIRST FROST OF SEASON COMES FRIDAY NIGHT -- Weather conditions locally during the past ten days have been quite variable, bringing some rain, a little snow and some disagreeably cold weather.

Farmers are still busy gathering their cotton and getting ready for threshing their row crop grains.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING--Another Golden Wedding anniversary was celebrated in Friona Saturday, November 4, when Dr. and Mrs. A. P. McElroy reached the fiftieth milestone of their wedded life, they having been married on that date just fifty years ago at Phillipsburg, a city in Northwest Kansas.

The occasion was celebrated by an "open house" party from four to six o'clock in the afternoon, during which time a large number of their friends in and near Friona called on them for visits ranging from a few minutes to the entire time of the party, thus making it a very pleasant occasion for these two good people.

During their married life they have had their home in four different states, viz: Kansas, Missouri, Texas, and New Mexico. They came to Friona from Estancia, New Mexico, in March, 1927, and have been permanent residents of this city ever since.

They have one son, Dr. A. L. McElroy, of Fort Worth, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Hovenkamp, living near Fort Worth.

CHURCH CROWDED FOR FUNERAL OF MRS. CRAWFORD--Perhaps the most unique and truly one of the most impressive funeral services ever given in Friona was the funeral of Mrs. T. J. Crawford at the Congregational Church here on Sunday of this week, and was planned by the pastor, Rev. Samuel Pearson.

Because of the many years of residence in Friona and her sustained interest in the religious, educational, social and cultural life in the community, and an unusually large number of neighbors and friends, near and far, attended this funeral service.

Instead of the usual order of such services, the following program was arranged: Processional, Mrs. Ethel Reeve; The Lord's Prayer, The Pastor; Hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee", Male Quartette; Reading "Twenty Third Psalm" Rev. Cummings; Obituary, Mrs. Minnie Goodwine; prayer, Rev. O. B. Annis; Hymn, Lead Kindly Light, Quartette; Civic Services: Friona High School, Superintendent Heath; P. T. A., Mrs. J. A. Blackwell; Woman's Club, Mrs. O. F. Lange; Parmer County Federation, Mrs. R. T. Gischler; Congregational Ladies Aid, Mrs. Fred White; Humn, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," R. F. Fleet and Quartette; Brief Address, "My Father's House," (John 14), The pastor; "Abide with Me," Prof. Davis; Recessional Hymn, "Some Day We'll Understand," Quartette, followed by piano playing until only family remained.

WITH JUNE

Our first letter to Santa came in the mail this morning. It isn't too early for all little boys and girls to write letters and mail them to us. It takes quite a long time for us to get the letters ready to send to the North Pole, then Santa and his helpers have to have time to make preparations to fill all the orders.

We want Reba and Glenna Holt to know we got their letter even though we will not print it for awhile yet. Their letter, along with all the others will be printed in our Christmas edition. Each letter will be forwarded to Santa Clause as they are received.

As a lot of our readers already know, the Senior Scouts are exclusive dealers for the Slenderette machine. This machine is nationally advertised and is recommended for those who want to reduce as well as for those who need vibrations for relaxation or other reasons.

Anyone who needs such a machine is invited to call Mrs. Russell O'Brian at Hub 2138 or to contact any member of the Senior Scout troop. Demonstrations will be given to any club meeting or other group meeting if requested. There are several Slenderette owners in Friona that are well pleased with the machines.

Noticed Saturday that the Boy Scouts were rolling up their sleeves and going to work to earn some money for troop expenses. Several energetic boys were busy shining shoes in front of the Friona Shoe Shop.

We have been informed that the boys plan to do the same thing all day next Saturday.

There will also be a bake sale held inside Friona Shoe Shop. Cakes, pies, cookies, rolls, and other delicious baked goods will be on sale at reasonable prices all day. Since these boys are showing a willingness to work to earn money, let's all get behind them and help out all we can.

The caliche trucks passing the house one after another remind us that the mounds of caliche on the Farm to Market Road southeast of town is going right along. The caliche is being hauled from a pit in the Rhea Community.

Moving Day is generally one big chore whether it be for a home or a business. Surely it is easier when the new location is next door to the old one. However, John Blackburn of Welch Auto Supply seemed to be having "moving day blues," such as we experienced not too long ago, Monday.

One of our very good friends, Helen Potts, flew to California Tuesday of last week to attend the funeral of her niece's husband. Since it was her first flight, we felt rather anxious about how it would affect her. She informed us that she had all the necessary "air sickness" pills, etc., but that didn't remove all the anxiety we felt.

Don't know for sure yet how she made out, but do know that the plane was unable to land for several hours after reaching California due to the heavy fog.

Helen will be home in a day or two and we want to be one of the first to hear an account of her trip.

During the past few months we have heard quite a lot of discussion about whether or not the wind and dirt blows here as much as it did a few years ago. Of course, most of us are aware that it DOES NOT blow as much as it did during the "dirty thirties" as we remember them. The question we'd like to have answered is, "Does the wind blow as much and as hard as it did ten years ago?"

Perhaps we should start a campaign advertising the fact that we do not have as much wind as we used to have. That is, of course, if it is true. Too many people in other sections of the country always mention "those terrible sandstorms you have" when we travel and inform those we meet where we live.

We have some new advertising rates and consequently some new rate cards. Don't know for sure who came up with the slogan on the bottom of these cards, but with us it is tops. It reads, "Serving the greatest Agricultural Empire in the world."

If anyone happens to wonder why Ann Nazworth looks so happy these days, you might be interested in knowing that her husband is slated to fly home from Germany, report to Camp Chaffee, Ark., be discharged, and then come home late this month.

THE OLD MEETS THE NEW as the hand pulling and mechanical-pulling seasons overlap for the High Plains cotton harvest. These field laborers perform the same arduous task that their great-grandfathers sweated at in the Deep South. Hand work is still essential to part of the High Plains harvest.

A BEAUTIFUL CROP is pouring from the spout of the mechanical stripper into the trailer on the Bob Spindley farm in the Lazbuddie area. Harvest conditions have been ideal for the cotton crop this week, and gins are inundated by the deluge of fluffy bolls.

NOT WAITING for bad weather to damage it, this cotton rests safely in a turn-row after it has been stripped from the adjacent field. Such ricks are common sights on farms just now and will probably remain so for several weeks as gins remain covered up.

No Mistake—1958 Cotton Crop Good

King Cotton is well on his way to making his Parmer County area subjects very happy this year. In fact, they haven't had such big smiles since 1956. If favorable weather continues and the strippers keep moving in earnest, the crop should be well on its way to meeting or beating the 60,000-bale production of 1956.

That would suit just about everybody fine, as they remember 1956 as one of the best. Grade-wise, the 1958 crop may fall slightly behind that produced two years ago, but in practically all other respects, 1958 will measure up.

There is not general weeping and wailing about grades as there was in 1957. In fact, the 1958 cotton shouldn't even be compared with that produced a year ago, it's so much better. However there is no gain-saying that for a period this fall poor weather affected grades to some degree, and that will be reflected in the price the farmer gets for his lint cotton.

The spell of damp and cool weather that troubled the crop in late-season development was a contributing factor to a fungus-type disease—angular leaf spot or bacterial blight—that spotted some of the crop. "Bacterial blight has been our big trouble this year," says County Agent Joe Jones. He reports that the disease has been very widespread and that practically no part of the Parmer County area escaped its effects. He also points out that the disease came early and stayed late in most fields.

The blight has been more or less of a problem with Plains cotton producers ever since cotton was first grown here, but its effects were more widespread this year than ever before.

The answer to controlling the disease is in adopting resistant varieties of cotton, agricultural officials say. Once blight has set in, little can be done to control it. The idea is to breed resistant characteristics into the cotton plant itself.

"Most all of the varieties grown on the High Plains are susceptible to angular leaf spot," says Jones. "There are two 'races' of the disease and we may find some cotton that is resistant to one or the other but seldom can resist both."

All in all, though, the cotton harvest is going along to suit most farmers. Their returns are good, yields are high and prices are up from the same time last year. That makes for money in the bank.

The first really killing freezes occurred about two weeks ago in the Parmer County area. Since then farmers have been poised in the turn-rows, awaiting that moment when they could begin their mechanical harvesting. The moment arrived for most of them this week. Bright sunshine and calm days insured perfect harvesting conditions. The strippers started in southern parts of the area Friday or Saturday of last week, and on Monday and Tuesday of this week the rumble and clatter of the machines could be heard in all sections.

Reports from the fields indicate that most farmers will take the advice of agricultural specialists and harvest their cotton as rapidly as possible, even though area gins will not be able to gin it nearly as fast as it comes in.

By Tuesday afternoon, several piles of stripped cotton were already showing up in the turn-rows as evidence of this strategy. The idea is to proceed with harvesting even though trailers are not available, and to store the crop temporarily at the harvest site rather than letting it remain on the stalk and exposed to the weather.

It previously had been common practice to begin stripping, then let up for a while awaiting the return of trailers from the gins, then resume again.

Specialists now feel that the risk of exposing the open bolls to temperamental fall weather is much greater than what would be the case if the cotton was temporarily ricked in the turn-rows. It is then hauled to the gins as they can accommodate it or as trailers become available.

Gins are now running on an around-the-clock basis and will do so for several weeks as they eat their way into the 1958 harvest. Already several gins have hundreds of bales on their yards awaiting ginning.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The proper use of crop residue is one of the most important farming practices that can be done here in Parmer County. Most of the farmers have realized this fact and are utilizing their residue to best of their ability.

Jerry Bell, a cooperater with the Soil Conservation District, knows the value of stubble in reducing the wind erosion hazard and adding organic matter to the surface soil. He harvested 8,000 pounds of Caprock from the land that he is farming in the Black community. It was drilled on the bed with a grain drill at the rate of 12 pounds per acre. The excellent yield that he harvested left him with the problem of what to do with a bumper crop of stubble.

On the wheat land, he made special plans to utilize this crop of stubble by using a Rototiller that chops the stubble and works it into the surface soil in one operation. The remaining land was shredded with a 4-row shredder and followed with a tandem disk.

Bell is convinced that utilizing his residue will provide adequate wind erosion protection for irrigated land and at the same time will add organic matter to the surface soil where it is needed to maintain tilth, prevent crusting, and take up and hold water.

The Soil Conservation Service has received two applications recently from farmers and ranchers in this district to participate in the Great Plains Conservation program. D. C. Melugin of Texico and G. W. Jones of Friona have requested that plans be worked up on their land in order that they may enter into a contract with this program.

appointed Monday when he shook his head when we requested them.

Prentice says they have to be printed in the Federal Register first, before they can be released to the general public. We don't know about the Federal Register, but we do know that a lot of Parmer County farmers are quite anxious about the new allotments.

They'll be down some from 1958, as most everybody knows, and there's sure to be some real honest-to-goodness soul searching as farmers try to decide where they'll be next year.

Farmers will be offered, you remember, an option for the first time in history. They don't HAVE to stay within their allotments. As you might suspect, though, there are definite disadvantages to overplanting. Price support on overplanted acres is way down.

However, the fact that the government is committed to buy "plan A" cotton and then not release it at less than 110 percent of parity should certainly help provide a market for the production coming outside of allotments.

We don't mean to get into the technicalities of planting possibilities in this column. That will come later in stories. Besides, we've already had a pretty good run-down of the choices in previous F & H issues.

What we do mean to point out is that it will be most interesting to see how Parmer County farmers react to this new plan. Parmer County has more "want to" cotton farmers than any county in Texas. If Plan B isn't made use of here, it probably won't go over anywhere.

Parmer County farmers have proved that they can raise more cotton per acre than anybody else on the Plains. Yet we have a small allotment. That creates conditions especially favorable for trying out this "new deal."

We don't mean to say our farmers will take to choice B. They may avoid it like the plague. We are just predicting that if anybody goes for this kind of bait, it will be in our county. Conditions are ideal.

No one could be more surprised than we when, on our way to Muleshoe and passing Clay's Corner in south central Parmer County, this week, we noticed a huge pile of milo stacked on the ground beside the under-construction Muleshoe Co-Op Elevator unit.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Our educational institutions, particularly those supported entirely by your tax dollars, are the places you need to watch to know what kind of citizens your children are going to be when they take over the operation of your community, states, and nation. If you have children in these public schools, it will be well worth your while to take a look at some of the text books they study. These books, sometimes, are not the kind they should be studying, and only you know which ones your child is studying and decide whether it is the right

We stopped, got out our camera, and were in the process of making a picture when somebody yelled at us. It was Charles Roark, who is a full-time hand at the new elevator. We visited with him for a while, and sheepishly were forced to admit that the new business was overlooked in our county-wide tabulations of grain sorghum production. You'll remember that last week we listed elevators and reported a 15-million-bushel crop for the area.

Just about 10 days before harvest really got started we were by the Corner and noticed foundation work being done on the elevator. However, we had no idea they'd be getting grain this fall so didn't bother to contact them.

That caused us to overlook a couple of hundred thousand bushels of grain in our report. We're amazed—and sorry.

one or not.

In a countrywide survey made among five thousand high schools students, it was found that sixty per cent believed that the profit motive could be killed off entirely without hurting the American system. Another survey revealed that most high school children believe that government and union leaders contribute more to better living conditions than business. This is not a real American attitude. History, social science, government and economics are the subjects through which children can be taught these peculiar ideas cleverly. We hope you will look at some of the books being taught your children. We hope this area, being rural, has not been invaded by this type of thing.

If you would like some information of interest along the line of correcting the trend referred to here, may we suggest you write to: Texas Bureau for Economic Understanding, Gibraltar Life Building, Dallas 1, Texas.

Two, rather than one bus, were chartered from Lubbock to take delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Convention in Corpus Christi. Writing this before Monday, we don't know how many Parmer County people went, but we'll let you know next week.

1958 Harvest Biggest Ever

Well over $13 million will be added to the gross receipts of Parmer County area farmers this fall, as they wind up history's most fruitful grain sorghum harvest.

The total production will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 15,000,000 bushels. The exact amount will never be pinpointed, but several barometers furnish the basis for very good estimates.

The most important one is the annual elevator-by-elevator contact made by Farm and Home reporters, who call on all warehousemen and ask them to supply information that will enable a total to be run.

FIRST YEAR OF SERVICE

To our Parmer County cotton grower friends, November, 1957, is an important date for us. That month we started our service to the farmers of Parmer County, and the ginners who process the farmers cotton. Since that month, we have become acquainted with more and more farmers of the county, and have grown to appreciate their ability to produce cotton. It is this ability that makes Parmer County one of the leaders in High Plains cotton production. We would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for your patronage during our first year. Because of your patronage we have been able to increase our capacity with the addition of two more buildings which you will notice in the picture at the right.

For the years ahead, we pledge our utmost efforts to constantly improve and expand our services, and work for better markets for Parmer County cotton.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Long winter evenings always call for more popcorn, candy, cookies, and other things suitable for late snacks. A favorite with most family members and guests is chocolate fudge. The following recipe can be made with cream or canned evaporated milk.

Fudge
4 cups white sugar
1 large can evaporated milk
1/2 pound oleo
2 8 oz. packages of chocolate bits

1 8 oz. bottle marshmallow cream
2 cups chopped nuts--pecans or walnuts
Boil together sugar, milk, and margarine for 8 minutes, when mixture begins to boil. Remove from the fire and add chocolate chips and stir until they are dissolved. Add marshmallow cream and nuts and beat until smooth. Put in a lightly greased pan. Cool and cut into squares. Makes about five pounds of candy.

Another candy recipe that makes good candy for home use of for mailing as gifts is:
Date Candy Loaf

3 cups sugar
1 8 oz. package pitted dates
1 cup sweet milk
1 tablespoon white Karo
1 cup nuts
few grains of salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon margarine
Cook sugar, milk, syrup, and margarine for about five minutes; then add chopped dates. Cook this mixture until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from the fire and add nuts, salt, and vanilla. Beat this mixture until very thick. Pour onto a damp tea towel and roll in long rolls. When completely cold, slice in desired slices.

If some of you new homemakers who read this column have trouble getting your pies to turn out just like you want them to, you might take advantage of some of these pie making tips.

To cool a pie quickly, which is one of the secrets of a good pie, place it on a trivet or even a colander so air can circulate under and around it. If you have neither of these items in your kitchen, the rack that goes in the bottom of your pressure cooker or sauce pan makes a nice substitute.

If you plan to make a fruit pie and want a crispy pie crust that is quickly made, first bake the pie crust in the oven. Add thickened fruits such as cherries, pineapple, apples, or berries, which have been cooked on top of the stove and serve topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

Less flour will be rolled into your pie crust if you will roll it out on a canvas pastry cloth with a stockinet-covered rolling pin to avoid adding extra flour. Rolling the crust on a tea towel will help if you do not have a canvas pastry cloth. A piece of duck, such as is used for making cotton sacks, serves very nicely for a pastry cloth. To test a pumpkin pie, or any custard pie, run a silver knife in the custard. If the pie is baked, the knife will come out clean.

Since pumpkin pie is traditionally served at Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, we are giving you a super-duper recipe for

GOLDEN PUMPKIN PIE
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 egg yolks
3/4 cup milk
3/4 cup cream
1 3/4 cup pumpkin
4 beaten egg whites
Mix the above ingredients in the order given, folding in the beaten egg whites last. Bake in a 9" unbaked pie shell at 425 degrees F. for 15 minutes; then reduce the heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 35 minutes or until custard is set.

For our Christmas edition, we would like to try something different for this column and will appreciate it very much if our readers will send us recipes for a New Year's dinner. We would like to have recipes for desserts, fruit salads, vegetable salads, main dishes, vegetables and any other food any of you like for the first day of the year.

A typical butter type cake is the following recipe for CHOCOLATE CAKE
1 3/4 cups sifted cake flour
3/4 teaspoon baking soda
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup soft shortening
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 squares melted chocolate
2 unbeaten eggs
1/2 cup canned milk and 1/2 cup water or 1 cup whole milk

Sift flour, baking soda, and salt onto a piece of waxed paper. Place shortening into mixing bowl. Add sugar and mix gradually until light and fluffy. Stir in chocolate. Add eggs and beat hard. Stir in about 1/3 of flour mixture.

Stir in 1/2 of the milk, then another 1/3 of the flour mixture and mix well. Stir in other 1/2 of milk then remaining flour mixture and blend well.

Bake in two 9-inch cake pans. Note: To substitute cocoa for chocolate, sift 6 tablespoons cocoa with flour mixture, and add 2 tablespoons more shortening to the above amount. Then proceed as directed.

Next week we will print recipes of the other types of cakes mentioned.

Cantaloupe Preserves
Cut up and measure six cups of cantaloupe and cover with three cups sugar and juice and rind of one lemon and let set overnight. Next morning boil until thick and seal. Peaches, pineapple, or other fruit can be used with the cantaloupe or watermelon rind may be substituted.

Cantaloupe Marmalade
Dice six cups of cantaloupe, add three cups sugar and two cups crushed pineapple. Bring to boil and cook until mixture is correct consistency for preserves. Add peaches or apples if desired.

Some people make absurd claims. Cousin Grace says her people were aristocrats, yet everybody knows they had money.

IRRIGATED WHEAT IS LUSH and scores of Parmer County farmers have put calves out to pasture the succulent green shoots of winter wheat. Good prices the past two years have helped stimulate beef production on Parmer County farms.

Wheat Drying Out

Parmer County's excellent wheat crop prospects are dimming slightly.

The abundant reserves of moisture have been depleted by three straight weeks of warmer-than-usual, dryer-than-usual weather. Things can dry out in a hurry on the High Plains and the wheat crop is doing just that.

There is no real cause for alarm, but these signs should serve a warning to farmers having irrigation wells to get busy and keep up moisture reserves, emphasizes County Agent Joe Jones this week.

Lots of farmers don't need any urging. Several hundred wells are already spinning as they lift water from the sands below to give the thirsty young wheat crop a drink.

However, some farmers may make the mistake of letting their wheat get too dry before winter sets in and Jones says this should be avoided.

"The early-planted wheat has used up its moisture," he says. "November is a good month to catch up with watering, and if a good job of irrigating is done the farmer can make sure that his crop goes into the winter in good condition."

The agent advises farmers to go ahead with their plans for fertilizing if they haven't done so already. Some may prefer to wait until spring to top-dress, or, to insure big yields, some farmers may fertilize in both the fall and the spring.

In either case, "The main thing," underscores the ag official, "is to have a good healthy plant going through the winter, and then to make sure there is plenty of water and plant food available for it when it starts its growth early in the spring."

Farmers Union Report

Public opinion is being aroused to-day against the new $6 1/2 billion farm budget. It is a fact that $6 1/2 billion is a lot of money, and that the American taxpayer is entitled to know how and where his money is spent.

However, no one in the agriculture department has taken the time to explain to the people just how this money is divided. It is taken for granted by most that the farmer is the recipient through subsidies, price supports, etc., of this entire amount.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Actually the farmer receives about one sixth of this amount. The people in the larger cities, which are the ones who complain the loudest, have never been told that this $6 1/2 billion includes the cost of research, farm program administration, surplus crops to schools and needy people in our own country, grain and food sent to other countries (which amounts to about two billion alone), farm loans, electric co-op loans, payments to elevators, etc., for storage and handling.

This leaves approximately one-sixth of the total for direct farm use. Why haven't people been told these things? Simply this: It is a well known fact that Sec. Benson is opposed to price supports as they now stand. He has said many times that city people will revolt and throw out all farm programs.

Who will deny that this is exactly what he is accomplishing with his fantastically high figures for what he refers to as support prices? The majority of people are getting just those figures which Mr. Benson wants them to have. This is unfair, and farm people have little defense against it.

Some time ago we heard the remark that Farmers Union was on the move and that interest in their policies and programs was being kindled in every community and that these same policies and programs were being endorsed as being the things most needed by farm people. The fact that Farmers Union is indeed a family farm organization interested in the farmer was exhibited last Thursday, when a group of farmers of the Lazbuddie local on a membership drive signed up 70 NEW MEMBERS.

Parity of income is what they want, on a level with everything else. These people are willing to sacrifice acreage for a fair price on what they do raise.

The Lazbuddie local will hold a meeting to vote on the resolutions adopted by the resolutions committee before Nov. 21. Each member will be notified by mail. Be sure to bring with you any new resolutions or ideas that you might have for discussion. These adopted resolutions will go to the state committee for sorting and combining, after which they will be voted upon from the convention floor by delegates from every local in the state. The procedure is as democratic as is possible to be.

Farwell local holds a meeting Monday night Nov. 10 at 8 during which local officers will be elected. Every member is urged to attend. If you aren't there you're liable to get elected. President Elmer Hargrove invites everybody in the community to come and meet with them.

Dr. George S. Benson, who is president of Harding College at Searcy, Ark., and one of the most prominent lecturers in the southwest, said, "Nobody tells me I can't. I can try as many jobs as I like. If I don't like the job, I can walk out the door. When I find a job that suits me, I can work right up to be manager of the department, or even president of the company, if I have the ability and the enterprise. If I want to start my own business and become an employer, I can do that, too."

Cowboy: "Aren't you putting your saddle on the horse backwards?"

Vicki Little: "That shows how much you know. You don't even know which way I'm going."

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

Parmer County 4-H Clubs have just completed a three-night recreation school at Hub Community Center. Miss Lucille Moore, extension recreation specialist, conducted the training meeting, second in a series.

Cooper Young, Richard Chitwood, Steven Young, Johnny Mabry, Jimmy Terrell, Carrol Redwine, Harrol Redwine, Barbara Rea, Judy Koelzer, Mary Ann Hardwick, Iva Parr, Brenda Deaton, Virginia Rea, Patsy Chitwood, Linda Gleason, Katie Blackstone, Nan Lillard, Terri Mabry, Judy Billingsley and Janis Billingsley. Adult leaders were Mesdames Troy Ray, Dee Chitwood, Bruce Parr, A. L. Black, Charles Baldwin, Joe Jesko, Dorothy Ellis, and Leon Billingsley.

Leaders and 4-H members also attended from Deaf Smith and Castro Counties. We all received training in new games to play but the training did not end at this because Miss Moore also taught us to be leaders.

Miss Moore said that a good leader should have eight qualities.

These qualities are: 1. Enjoys working with people. 2. Has a keen love of good fun. 3. Is democratic. 4. Is prepared. 5. Makes himself inconspicuous. 6. Is a saver. 7. Is patient and kind. 8. Develops skills and techniques.

At the end of the meeting Wednesday night, Miss Moore said for each person to remember two things: First, Use your ability; you have plenty -- start now! Second: Your most important tool in leadership is your attitude. These are tools we can all use at anytime.

I have a recipe for a quick and easy Brown Sugar Fudge that you might like to try.

BROWN SUGAR FUDGE
1. Have ready . . . 1/2 cup broken Nuts

2. Mix in a 1 1/2-quart bowl and let stand until needed. . . 2/3 cups Instant dry milk
2 cups sifted Powdered Sugar
1/8 teaspoon Salt

3. Put into a 1-quart saucepan. . . 2 Tablespoon Butter or Margarine

1/2 cup Brown Sugar
3 Tablespoons Water
3/4 teaspoon Maple Flavoring or Vanilla

4. Heat to boiling, then boil 1 minute. Take from heat and at once stir into Instant mixture. Beat until smooth. Stir in nuts. Spread candy in a buttered 9 x 5-inch pan. If candy becomes too stiff for easy spreading, add a few drops of water. Chill until firm. Cut into about 1 1/2 dozen squares.

Parmer Countians Attend School

Three Parmer County residents, who are members of home demonstrations clubs, attended a recreation school at the Fairview Community Center near Claude Thursday and Friday of last week. The school, which was conducted by Lucille Moore, extension recreation specialist from College Station, was for representatives of 16 counties in the Panhandle.

Those from Parmer County who attended were Mesdames Joe Douglas and Jay Sanders of Friona and Joel White of the Oklahoma Lane community. Forty-six women from 14 counties attended the two-day school which featured a leadership course.

It's always open season for the man who didn't know it was loaded, or the man who rocked the boat.
