Y'know it is this business of not knowing what is going to happen next that keeps us interested in newspapering.

Of course, this same thing tends to increase the possibilities of ulcers, but ----

Last week y'all don't know how close you came to not being bothered by this column.

In fact I didn't know about it for a while.

But----last week we had written this column almost five days early and had congratulated ourselves on getting it done ahead of time.

Thursday, the day we print the paper, we had wandered off with our Editor-friend Dolph Moten and "killed" part of the day.

After dinner, to be honest about the middle of the afternoon -- we wondered back into the office to be greeted, not by open arms and friendly looks, but by cuss words and threats upon our life.

Seems that when the back-shop began getting the front page of The Star together "Tracks" was no where to be found.

They looked everywhere -- well almost everywhere, but no "Tracks."

Our Girl Friday, June Floyd, defended me and told them she knew it had been written because she had read it right after it was finished.

She wandered into the office and looked on the desk by the typewriter and what do you suppose she found?

Yep, right where it had been placed so long before.

The copy for the column. So at the last minute it had to be set, proof had to be read and corrections pasted in.

So -- not everything works out just like you planned every-time does it?

Cleaning off our desk we came across the following bit of advice which we picked up somewhere, but is still true. We include it in hopes it will be enjoyed:

A Working and Thinking Man Business will continue to go where invited and remain where appreciated.

Reputations will continue to be made by many acts and be lost by one.

People will go right on preferring to do business with friends. So-givers will become the best go-getters.

The "extra mile of effort" will have no traffic jams.

Performance will continue to outsell promises.

Enthusiasm will be as contagious as ever.

Know-how will continue to surpass guess-how.

Trust, not tricks, will keep customers loyal.

Quality will be prized as a precious possession.

Last week we, like a lot of other folks in this area, noticed a page 1 story in the Amarillo paper.

The story began like this-- WASHINGTON (AP) -- The American Farm Bureau Federation said today that despite reductions in recent years, government price supports still are too high.

This story came right on the heels of a talk we'd had with Texas FB president, J. H. West, and from his talk this scribe got the idea that the above paragraph wasn't exactly what he had in mind.

Making the "boo-boo" from Washington as just another of the things which finds their way out of our nation's capitol we happened to run across a local FB man and figuring to "needle" him a wee bit asked him about the article.

From his report we got the idea that he'd much rather that we had brought up any other subject and then told me something that we just can't hardly go along with.

"That was just some newspaper man's idea," we were told.

Well, ok, if that is what he wants to say, that is his business, but it isn't in our kind of newspapering to make the news, but rather to report it.

And--we think that is probably what the case was this time too. We know how the local organization of the FB feels, it is a shock to stand for something locally, then when the "big boys" turn the other way it does come as a blow.

Trustee Voting Saturday

No contest appears to be in prospect for Parmer County school trustee elections this year, but as usual there will be some lively activity in district voting when citizens go to the polls Saturday.

Clyde Magness of Farwell, J. L. Shaffer of Friona, and Joe Wilson are unopposed as county trustees. The Lazbuddie trustee post is not open this year, nor is the office of trustee-at-large.

On the local ballot at Bovina are B. L. Marshall, Tom Beauchamp, Earl Ware, Tom Caldwell, Jack Patterson, Dean McCollum, and Roy Fuller. Trustees whose terms expire are Wendol Christian, Ovid Lawlis, and A. D. Cumpston.

Two new board members will be elected at Farwell this year. On the ballot are John Armstrong, A. H. Haseloff, Joe Magness, J. H. Curtis, and James Ussery. Lee Meeks and Haseloff are the members whose terms are running out.

In Friona, Fern Barnett, James Fortenberry, John L. Ray and James Mabry are on the ballot. Barnett and Fortenberry have been nominated for re-election.

At Lazbuddie, Robert Jones, Harold Wilson, W. G. Harlan and Jess Pendergrass are on the ballot. Two places are to be filled, as the terms of Jones and Wilson expire.

Gospel Meeting Begins Sunday

The annual spring gospel meeting will begin at 10:30 Sunday at the 10th Street Church of Christ. Guest speaker for the series of meetings, which will run through Sunday of next week, will be Evangelist Dell Young of Spur, Texas.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. and the elders of the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone in the area to attend these services. Young, a well known evangelist, has held meetings here before and is known by many local residents.

Jury Sits Friday

The April session of district court will be opened by Judge E. A. Bills this week.

Up for investigation Thursday by the grand jury are 13 cases.

It is likely that several indictments will be returned from this list of work, and petit jurors for district cases requiring juries have been ordered to report for service Friday.

The petit jury list is comprised of the following: Mrs. E. H. Bradshaw, Wendol Christian, Clarence Johnson, David Selliff, Glen Mingus, Mrs. Sam Aldridge, Joe Blair, O. L. Rankin, Mrs. E. M. Ware, W. P. Elliott, O. D. Spitzer, T. E. Rhodes;

Elections Saturday, Tuesday

Two important elections are scheduled to be held in Friona Saturday and Tuesday.

These will be the election of two school board members for the board of trustees and one for the county school trustee offices and two members to be elected to the city council in Friona.

The school election will be held at the high school in Friona Saturday and the city election will be held at the city hall in Friona Tuesday.

Two men are running for reelection in the school election, Fern Barnett and Paul Fortenberry. Jim Shaffer is running for reelection to the office of county school trustee.

Shaffer is unopposed in his race, while Barnett and Fortenberry are opposed by John L. Ray and James Mabry.

In the city election only one name is on the ballot, Ralph Smith, who is running for reelection.

One other man has made his intentions known as a write-in candidate, B. J. "Bill" Stephens.

These men will have virtually a "shoo-in" provided there isn't a last minute write-in campaign, which isn't known in Friona.

The two places up for election this year are for two, 2-year terms of office.

These two spots have been filled by Smith and Forrest Osborn.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

Men Turn Thief Catchers

Three enterprising young men, students at Southeastern Oklahoma State College, Altus, put on a do-it-yourself thief catching act Sunday morning that not only got back their own belongings which had been stolen but numerous other items of several Bovina residents.

Rainbow Breakfast 'Success'

Despite popping sausages and dishwater hands the Rainbow Girls' Assembly voiced their opinion that their Pancake Breakfast last Saturday morning was a "rousing success."

The girls brought in about $350 for their efforts, most of which was profit and to be used to pay for a bus which will be used to take their trips, and be available for community use.

Special thanks was given to all the suppliers and "volunteer" workers who pitched in and helped out according to Pat Woodley, who was in charge of the affair.

"Without the help of all the folks who gave us the milk, pancake mix, sausages and all, it wouldn't have been possible," she says.

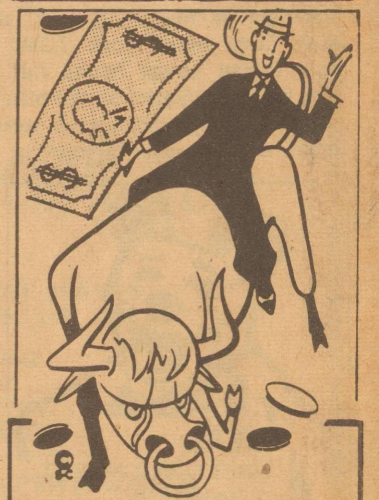

The names of all the suppliers are found in an advertisement in this issue of The Star.

About 2 o'clock Sunday morning Bob Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Fry stopped at the James Laney home near the school in Bovina to pick up the Bovina young man. All who are SOC students, were planning to go to Albuquerque to visit friends during the Easter holidays.

Clothes for the trip had been hung in the car and during the few minutes they were in the Laney home someone entered the car and removed the clothes.

An odd twist was that suspicions were first aroused that something was wrong when a cat, belonging to Mrs. Fry, appeared at the door of the home. It had been shut up in the car, and the young people could not

CALICHE TRUCKS A' ROLLING

Work Going Strong On A Wider '60

Picking up momentum each day, work on the job of widening Highway 60 from the Deaf Smith County line, through Friona and on to the State Line at Farwell is underway.

The $1,000,000 plus job is in the hands of Henry L. Stafford, a Lubbock contractor.

An estimated 60 men are now in and around Friona with the construction job and will remain in this area for some time.

Now the work is in the location of the extreme north end, beginning at the Deaf Smith county line and is running in the direction of Friona.

Presently about an eight mile strip of road is torn up and under construction. Plans call for the job to be done in eight mile strips thereby not having long stretches of the road out of use at one time.

Those traveling the road can be noted easily this week as rains made the torn up road a splashy caliche colored sea of mud.

Caliche trucks are working from the Schlenker pit in the Rhea Community and traveling from that area hauling this necessary item for road building.

An 11-foot strip will be added to each side of the present road-bed making a road 44 feet wide when finished. The old bed is being torn up, regraded, packed and repaving done on the entire surface.

As of Tuesday a total of 46 caliche trucks, each hauling 10 yards of caliche each were on the job hauling. Men on the job ask that the public watch for these trucks in the construction area as they will haul about 207,000 yards of caliche from the Schlenker pit for the highway job in this area.

LOTS OF ROAD AHEAD----Construction crews began work in earnest this week tearing up, and then replacing the old road with a new wider model. This picture, taken south of Summerfield shows crews tearing up the shoulders preparing a place for new ones. Highway 60 is due a face-lifting from the Deaf Smith county line to the state line at Farwell.

Another Mushroom

Like the death-laden cloud which rose over Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945 another cloud is posing an ominous threat to the farmers and retail businessmen in our country.

This is the Power of Labor Unions. Here, riding hell-bent, sans controls, without sanction and with every conceivable type of hood, gangster and mobster calling the turns this cloud of evil is now threatening the existence of each of us here.

Years ago, when first conceived, the labor unions were a must and filled a necessary block in our American Way of life.

But, like the Ku Klux Klan they have abused their existence.

When the cure is worse than the disease must we pay homage to it?

Today a bill is filtering through the paper jungle of Washington D. C. that will affect every last man, woman and child on the Plains.

With the efforts of the labor unions and the Department of Labor spurring on a bill is now in Congress to legislate a minimum wage for farm labor and retail businesses.

Many Washington observers connected with the labor movement feel the minimum wage increase (which will raise the base to $1.25 per hour) will not be accomplished during this present session of Congress.

However, just because it may not make it this time don't feel like that is the end--it won't be--preparations should be made now to thwart the passing of this bill.

The four main items concerning the farmers and small retail merchants at the present time in the bill are:

- (1) raise the minimum wage law to $1.25 per hour.
- (2) Add farms and retail businesses to the minimum wage laws.
- (3) Cut the number of Bracero's that can be brought into this country for agricultural work by half.
- (4) Require the registration of crew leaders with the Department of Labor before such crews can do farm work.

The Department of Labor will present these additions to the minimum wage law in such a way as to make the farmers and retail merchants think they will not be hurt.

The farm portion of the bill will be played up to lull folks into thinking that it will only affect the large corporation-type farms. In fact, the bill says each farm must work 2,240 man days a year (about seven hands full time) before they will be covered by the bill.

BUT---you can rest assured that if there is only one farmer in your imme-diated area who will come under this law that his wage scale will set the prevailing wage for hoe hands, stoop labor etc., in the entire territory.

In Parmer County there are many farmers who will come under the minimum wage law and this in turn, will set the scale for the rest of the county's wages.

Also in this bill, the Department of Labor will have the authority (without legislation) to cut the number of Braceros that can be brought into the U. S. for agricultural in half if it so desires.

The Department's present plans call for holding the farmer to recruiting labor within the normal migratory pattern of labor in the nation. (This is considered anywhere in the U. S.)

Everyone who has attempted to do this in the past knows what a hopeless and expensive job this can be. Also the farmer would be required to pay the laborer's expenses to and from the job.

In asking for the authority of making these "crew leaders" register with the Department before his crew can do any agricultural job would be setting up an already unionized labor force.

This would open wide the doors to farm labor for the union hoods.

What would a strike do to you during harvest time?

A farmer could lose his entire year's work and also the farm workers would lose their right for individual bargaining. Yes, we know we will be accused of "protecting the mighty against the weak."

But---look at it this way. How many hands are furnished housing, gasoline, a side of beef a couple of times a year. And, when a hand needs to go somewhere on business or to the hospital is he docked for this time?

These "fringe benefits" would be gone. The Department says that for the Braceros special labor camps would have to be furnished.

Those of you familiar with transient labor know you must, out of necessity, furnish only those things which aren't easily damaged and cannot be carried off.

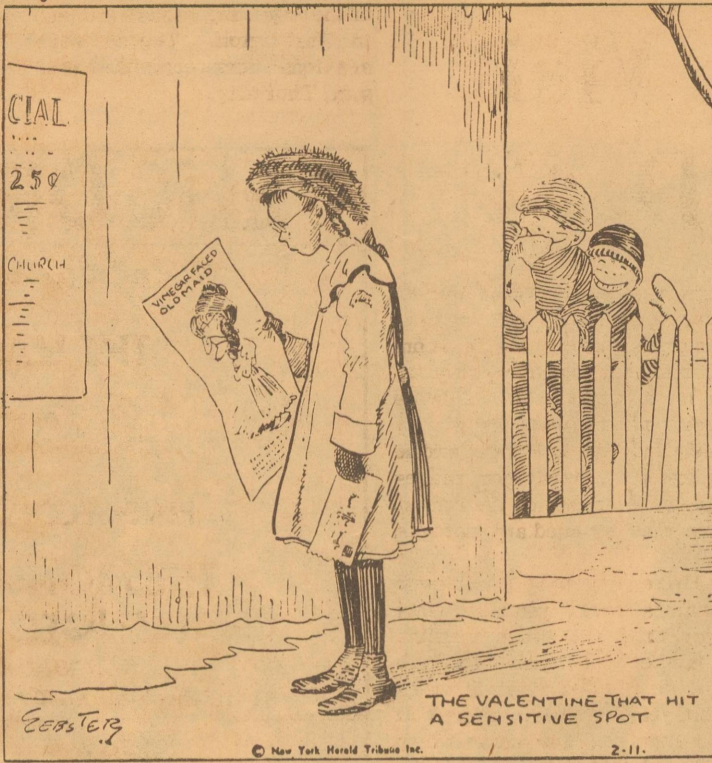

The items the Department says must be furnished would practically require the farmer to begin from a scratch every time he changed crews.

On the surface this bill appears innocent enough, but dig into it and find out just how sharp the teeth really are.

Don't sit idle and figure it will turn out ok, sit down now and inform your congressman and senator as to how you feel and how it will effect your friends and neighbors.

Yes, they say the bill is written only for the "big boys", but if the big boys farming close by have to pay---where do you think you'll be?

WITH JUNE

Several afternoons last week it was difficult to pass a vacant lot that wasn't swarming with children hiding and hunting Easter eggs. Some of the brightly colored Easter eggs we saw were beautiful and many of the plainer ones were decorated with figures, faces and other suitable additions to their beauty.

This year it seems as if the weather cooperated hand in hand with the custom of wearing spring clothes after Easter. Monday was a beautiful day and winter clothing would have looked out of place. Some small boys we saw in a local store were wearing straw hats. Pretty soon bare feet will be plentiful everywhere there are small children.

One of our greatest pleasures was the coming of spring so we would not be required to wear shoes. As an adult going barefoot is a year around thing and we thoroughly enjoy it.

By the time you are reading this it will be too late for any of us to heed this admonition. "Beware of friends playing pranks on you April Fool's Day." Think the origin of this day is not known, but there is really no day in the year that is more fun. Possibly it is just another one of those things which came about as the result of superstition.

Superstitions are of interest even though most of us do not really take any stock in them.

Statistics show that there are no more accidents on Friday the thirteenth than on any other Friday. With each generation superstitions seem to fade farther in the background.

The chain letter good luck charm may have been deeply impressed on Laurie Cooper of Plains Publishers Monday of this week. Laurie is one of our favorite persons and seems broadminded on most every score --- even the superstitions. That is, she did until Monday afternoon.

About the middle of the afternoon after a comparatively smooth day we heard a crash that sounded almost like an explosion in the back shop. Upon investigation we found that Laurie had had an accident with one of the machines and broke a huge piece of plate glass.

After a clean-up operation and a call to a repair man to repair the damage all seemed calm. Later Laurie remarked, "Perhaps I shouldn't have broken that good luck chain. According to the wording of the letter Monday was supposed to be the day for me to have bad luck."

Our guess is that by the time she receives another such letter she will have forgotten all about the broken glass and break the chain again.

The Larry Fairchilds are moving into their new home southeast of town this week. Larry farms and during the past year they have been living in town and driving to and from the farm. Paula, who is the daughter of the Otis Neels of the Hub community, is a farm girl and Larry grew up on a farm, so they are happy to be moving to the country.

Strangers in town may have been curious as to why Roy and Eva Miller were wearing raincoats one day during a windy day when the sun was shining. As the two were getting ready leave home that day it was raining, so they decided to wear raincoats.

Later the temperature dropped and the wind began to blow and as it did dust began to pick up. It was too cold to go without any coat at all and the raincoats were all they had in town, so they really were wearing raincoats during a dust storm.

THIEF CATCHERS --

understand how the animal had escaped. A few minutes later they found the reason when they missed their clothes.

The young men got into their car and thought they'd do some checking around, since the crime had occurred only a few minutes before they discovered it. This enterprise paid off.

They ran onto some other persons, who, trying to be helpful said they had seen a white and orange 1951 Chevrolet cruising around town about that time. This information was passed on to Henry Minter, who in turn notified Sheriff Chas. Lovelace. The car was believed traveling in the direction of Farwell, so Sheriff Lovelace notified Clovis police to be on the lookout also.

Meanwhile, the students decided they might have a chance to overtake the thieves themselves, so they sped out of Bovina down Highway 60 in hot pursuit. This is where good fortune dealt them a winning hand. Just as they were passing through Texico they overtook a car which did not match the description of the one they thought they were seeking at all. It was a green 1950 Ford.

However, they could clearly see that the back end of the car was loaded down, and on top of the pile they spied their stolen clothes. Unable to get the mysterious car to stop, they pulled into the port of entry station and word was relayed ahead to the Clovis police who stopped the car. Sure enough it was full of stolen goods.

In jail and charged with theft are James Rountree, 20, and Franklin Scaif, also 20, who are both airmen at Cannon Air Base. They admitted taking not only the clothes but many other pieces of property on their late-hour spree in Bovina.

Among the contraband taken over by Sheriff Lovelace were four tires stolen from Paul Jones' Service Station, tools from pickups parked around town, batteries, battery cables, and a case of oil. Also found was property believed to have been stolen in Amarillo the previous week.

Both airmen were intoxicated at the time of their arrest.

They have been charged on two counts of theft, and County Judge Loyde Brewer set their bond at $2500 each when they appeared before him Monday morning.

On the law enforcement scene, only one other incident occurred during the week. Durwood Eaton, 28, Lubbock, was arrested by Sheriff Lovelace Friday night between Farwell and Bovina and charged with driving while intoxicated.

He pled not guilty but waived trial by jury and appeared before Judge Brewer Saturday and was found guilty. His fine was $100 and he drew a 10-day jail sentence also. His companion, Robert Crabb, 29, also of Lubbock, was fined $20.50 in J. P. Roy Thornton's court for drunkenness.

GRAIN COOP FEDERATION MEETING

Drakes Describe Visit To Washington, D. C.

(ED NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drake were among some 50-odd folks from Texas who recently returned from an extended visit in our nation's capitol. The visit was in conjunction with the nation-wide meeting of Cooperative Elevators. Incidentally, Art says the group from Texas was the largest single representation there, despite rumors from Alaska to the contrary. Mrs. Drake wrote the following article concerning their visit for The Star.)

Our first stop was Memphis, Tennessee, for about one and one-half hours. Between Amarillo and Memphis we had a wonderful view of the Mississippi River, the Ozark Mountains, the Tennessee River and the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. Due to the roughness of the air, we flew at a 15000 ft. altitude at a speed of 290 to 300 miles an hour. We were served dinner and supper on the plane.

We arrived in Washington just after dark. As we viewed the beauty of the lighted city, the outstanding objects were the Capitol Building and the Washington Monument. The plane circled the city two times due to the large number of planes which were landing.

The Potomac River was beautiful with the reflection of the lights of the city and the moon. Two large buses met us at the airport and took us to the Mayflower Hotel.

Tuesday morning we registered at 9 a.m. for the first meeting of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, W. M. Thatcher. First on the program was "An Up To Date Picture of the Co-op Tax Problem" given by Wilfred E. Rumble, general counsel. The second discussion was led by James M. Stewart, a Des Moines attorney on "The Pomeroy Decision and Related Cases Applicable to Non-Exempt Co-ops."

The afternoon session began with a review, "The Farm Credit Situation" by R. B. Tootell, government farm credit administration employee. "The Farm Price and Income Outlook" was presented by Bushrod W. Allen, chairman of the Outlook and Situation Board of Agricultural Marketing Service.

In his discussion Mr. Allen stated that there would be 12% more corn, 9% more spring wheat, 5% more barley and 8.4% less flax, 3% less hay, 6% less oats, 7% less soybeans and 3% less grain sorghums planted this year.

"The Grain Outlook-Production, Prices, Exports, Etc. -- A Frank Appraisal" was presented by T. B. Walker, chief of the Program - Analysis Branch of the grain division of the Commodity Stabilization Service. He stated that 1957 was a record year but 1958 came along and put 1957 in the shade and now predictions indicate that 1959 will surpass 1958.

After the conclusion of the meeting there was a reception and dinner with members of Congress as special guests.

The Wednesday morning session began with an interesting talk on "Prospects for Peace" by Marquiss W. Childs, newspaper columnist. Other speakers were J. Frank Triplett, president of the Producers Export Company and S. M. Alcone, manager of the same organization.

Those two stated that they had been in business five months and had exported fifteen million bushels of grain. The main office of this company is in New York.

An award was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Richards from Portland, Oregon, for doing outstanding work in regional cooperative work. "The Farm Legislative Situation" was reviewed by Wayne Darrow, editor of the Washington Farm Letter. He states that time is running out for the farmer. Congress keeps saying from year to year that they are going to do something the following year, but the only one who is doing anything is Benson and he is lowering the support prices and has everyone on the run but he's thick skinned and can take it.

There is getting to be fewer farmers every year and this year they are going to define a farmer differently and there will be 500,000 fewer farmers next year. Honored guests at the reception and dinner which followed this meeting were the U. S. Senators. Senator and Mrs. Ralph Yarborough were Texans who were present.

The first item on the Thursday morning agenda was a discussion on "The Outlook for Wheat and Other Farm Legislation" by Carl Albert, democrat of Oklahoma, chairman of the wheat sub-committee of the committee on agriculture; and Milton R. Young, republican of North Dakota, member of the committee of agriculture and forestry, U. S. Senate.

Albert said that the agricultural hearings were over and after the Easter holidays will be ready for legislation. He stated that Marvin L. McLean, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, said the wheat support price for next year would be $1.47 per bushel and for 1961 the price would be $1.20 per bushel.

Young stated that the agricultural budget for next year will be ten billion dollars. He further stated that many people feel this is a total loss, but it isn't because at least 70% of it will be recovered and the farmers will vote on wheat quotas in June.

The Federation is composed of 28 regionals which include 2500 co-op elevators. Thirty states were represented in this meeting. The largest delegation was from Texas. Roy F. Hendrickson, executive secretary of the organization has his office in Washington. The business sessions were concluded at 2 p.m. Thursday.

South Plains, Tex., Man Reports—

Maize Yields Increased 1800 Pounds Per Acre

Bryan Karr, who farms 600 acres near South Plains, says: "By side dressing my maize with 90 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia, I've increased my yields on an average of 1800 pounds of grain per acre. Year before last, the average would have been raised considerably, because I cut a 4050 pound crop after it was beat down by a high wind. I usually side dress my maize around July 1, when the plants are about 6 inches high."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be applied pre-plant or as a side dressing. It can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Bid Opening Set On New Well

Bids on the proposed new water well for the City of Friona will be opened at 2 p.m. Monday afternoon in the City Hall in Friona.

The bid opening will be held early in order that the bids may be tabulated and ready for presentation to the council later that evening by R. E. "Red" Smith, consulting engineer.

Smith, representing the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock, is assisting the council in the well proposal.

This new well is designed to furnish additional water service to the entire city with the boosting of water for the western part of the city.

In the past, due to increased population, water on the West Loop has come at a premium, particularly during dry periods in the summer.

Also on the agenda Monday night is the opening of bids on a chassis for a new fire truck.

Fire Chief Ruben Taylor and Assistant Chief Ralph Shirley are slated to give a report to the council at this time concerning the cost and other equipment which will have to go on the new truck.

In a special meeting last week councilmen met with Paul Strickland in an effort to come to some understanding concerning right-of-way damages at his property on Highway 60 in Friona.

This case, which has plagued city officials for over two years has never been cleared up, and highway officials added that the sign which was erected by Strickland about a year ago is still on state property which is a violation of the law.

Legal action has been taken by the city concerning the sign and right of way and is now in the hands of the courts.

Again last week Strickland was offered $2,759 by the city for settlement of right of way and again was refused.

The meeting adjourned after no agreement could be made between the two parties.

A PLEASANT PLACE TO HIDE--Although they really were working when the "inquisitive photographer" came about Clyde Fields and Pete Hollis poked their heads out of the city's ground storage tank when asked to pose for a picture. The boys, together with a crew from out of town are busy cleaning out the huge water tank and preparing for a busy dry summer.

Bible Reading

Read John 10:7-14
I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly. (John 10:10.)

Several years ago one of my brothers was seemingly very ill. He went from doctor to doctor, but none could find anything wrong. I suppose in sheer desperation he turned to the Lord of Life, and became converted.

He had been reared by our parents to go to church and Sunday school, but I do not think he ever had a deep spiritual experience before. He became a changed person with great faith.

Part of one of his letters one year was the answer to my prayers for him since he was just a lad. He wrote: "We have our devotional guide at our church. So I have a copy at home. I helped with the communion service for the first time last Sunday. I like it very much, and I am happier than ever before in my life."

"If we could only make others see what a difference Christ can make in their lives! It seems so simple, yet so difficult to get across to the other fellow. I guess a person must have to go through some experience of his own before he really understands."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Christ being the Lord of my life, I pray that I may be a mirror to reflect His love and glory.

Pilots And Navigators Needed By Air Force

"The Air Force pilot will never be replaced by guided missiles," said Major General Elvin S. Ligon, Jr., in charge of the U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service. "At least not in the foreseeable future. The missile will not replace the pilot, it will only aid him in the event that we are attacked."

General Ligon readily admits that the Air Force has an increasing need for pilots and navigators because many of the flying personnel now on active duty are WW II veterans and will be retiring within the next five years.

"We must fill those vacancies with younger men," said Gen. Ligon, "otherwise, how can we hope to maintain our aerial supremacy?"

Many young men shy away from the Air Force because they believe that there is little future as a pilot or navigator. This attitude is reasonable, but it is far more reasonable to believe that the unmanned missile is a transitory stage preceding manned space craft. Therefore, the future offered the young pilot and navigator of tomorrow has a broader scope than ever before.

The Air Cadet program enables qualified young men who have graduated from an accredited high school to receive a commission and to become either a pilot or a navigator. Any young men between the ages of 19 and 26 1/2 interested in the Air Cadet program should contact T/Sgt Glen Ryan by calling Porter 2-0114 in Clovis; by writing to PO Box 601, Clovis; or in person at the Post Office in Clovis.

WHAT HAPPENS NOW--Looking as if "where do we go from here?" a group of J. T. Gee's Ag boys help out Louis Gore with a case of lumpy jaw. If the photographer had come along a little earlier they said the action was a little better.

Then there was the little girl named Carmen Cohen. Her mother naturally called her Carmen, but her father, for reasons of his own, called her by her last name, Cohen. By the time the poor kid was 12, of course, she didn't know whether she was Carmen or Cohen.

Hi School Hi Lites

The students of F.H.S. really enjoyed their holidays, but like all good things, holidays must come to an end. The fact that most of the students are bemoaning is not having anymore holidays to look forward to.

Last Monday the physics class viewed a film on fossils. It is one of a series presented by the Shell Oil Company. The two preceding this one were about the refining of oil and the useful products made from it.

The biggest item of concern in high school now is the inter-scholastic league. The band and choir are busy preparing for it; each having clinics to better prepare for it.

The league is held at a rather inconvenient time. It is the day of the Jr. Sr. banquet, and a track meet at Crosbyton. It will be held at Canyon Saturday morning. Our school has a pretty good representation so perhaps our chances of winning are good.

One of our junior students has moved back from Dumas; he is Kenneth Carter. Kenneth attended school here earlier this year. Also moving back to Friona are Kenneth and Joan Duncan. Welcome back kids!

The juniors are busy preparing for the banquet. Time has really passed quickly, and the juniors are working fast. We hope that those of you who missed the first presentation of the senior play saw it last Tuesday night. The seniors had a most unfortunate night to present it, but in spite of the weather, attendance was better than could be expected. The seniors wish to express their thanks to those who gave assistance to them.

We wish to express our sympathy to Sally Hough who has been ill and absent from school this past week. Hope you are able to return soon Sally.

The student body registered for next year this week. Several new courses will be offered providing adequate interest is shown in them. Among the new courses will be short hand, Spanish II., journalism and speech.

Wednesday, the students enjoyed a Southern School Assembly. The assembly was a trampoline act and was given in a humorous style.

The band members have begun planning for their banquet. Thursday the mothers met to organize the banquet, which is scheduled for May.

After two months in the army a private got his leave at last, and made what he conceived to be the best use of his holiday by getting married.

On his journey back he gave the conductor his marriage certificate in mistake for his railway ticket.

The official studied it carefully, and then said: "Yes, my boy, you've got a ticket for a long, wearisome journey, but not on this road."

The following births were recorded with Justice of Peace Thelma Jones by the Parmer County Community Hospital during the week ending March 31:

Boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. David Huereco of Friona on March 14 weighing 6 lbs. 21/2 ozs.

Girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Williams of Friona on March 17 weighing 6 lbs.

9 1/2 ozs.

Girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Jesus B. Espinoza of Friona on March 17.

Boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Veretto of Friona on March 23 weighing 8 lbs. 10 1/4 ozs.

Boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Velden Carroll of Friona, March 26 weighing 6 lbs. 15 1/2 ozs.

The head accountant for a large corporation had worked for the company for 30 years and every morning when he came to work he unlocked his desk, peered into the center drawer for a long moment, then locked it up again. What was in the center drawer? Assistants, visiting salesmen, even the president of the company never came close to solving the mystery.

Then one day the man died suddenly. The day after his burial everybody rushed to pry open that center drawer. It was found to contain one little slip of paper. Printed in capital letters thereon were these words: "The side towards the window is the debit side."

Stamp Collection Hobby 'Natural' for Teacher

Dorothy Rowlett has been a stamp collector nearly as long as she can remember. Mrs. Rowlett, who is a history teacher in high school here, says both her father and grandfather were avid stamp collectors and she became interested through her father.

Mrs. Rowlett's chief collection consists of U. S. commemorative stamps which are issued to commemorate special events, places, and people, and which are printed in limited numbers.

Even though commemoratives are her main project, she does have others, as the Elizabeth II coronation series from all the crown colonies, the Silver Anniversary series of George VI and Elizabeth.

At times in the past Mrs. Rowlett says she has collected foreign stamps, but for the main part has given up because there became too many to keep track of.

Her stamp collection dates back in 1890. She collects mint singles and doubles. (plate numbers)

She buys her stamps from stamp dealers and the post office. She says the post office nets some profit from the sale of commemoratives to collectors. According to the last report that there are about three and one half million stamp collectors in the U. S.

Mrs. Rowlett says that it is one of the finest ways to learn that she has discovered. The issue of stamps follows significant historical events usually in chronological order and a stamp collection can almost tell the history of our nation.

She says that this hobby is especially good for young and older people. According to Mrs. Rowlett stamps are being used in working with slower children and are also being used in school for visual aids.

Mrs. Rowlett says stamps have been issued to honor al-

STAMP COLLECTION A PLEASANT PASTIME--Mrs. Dorothy Rowlett, a teacher in the Friona schools finds her hobby of collecting stamps both interesting and informative. She says although most of her collection is "back home" she finds time to pick up a few new ones along and keep up on the subject.

most everything -- cattle, teachers, truck drivers, even poultry farmers.

Mrs. Rowlett says that she has the first tri-color stamp issued which was red, white and blue.

Stamps must be kept in some kind of album says Mrs. Rowlett, and must be handled by the edges, the perspiration from one's finger tips distort the color. Stamps are of no value unless they are in good condition.

"One of the interesting things about collecting stamps is that you become acquainted by correspondence to people over the world."

Mrs. Rowlett tells about the time one of her friends in England wrote her of seeing the queen investigate flood damage near her home.

Mrs. Rowlett believes the prettiest stamps ever published was a series issued in the Belgian Congo on wild flowers of Africa. In cases such as this one can "pick up" a little geography. She explained that seeing stamps such as this arouse your curiosity enough to look for further information thus increasing your knowledge.

As to which foreign stamps are the most valuable, Mrs. Rowlett declares that the Swiss stamps are probably the most valued.

She adds that the French and German stamps usually portray hats, painters, operas, etc. The Austrian stamps are also very pretty.

According to Mrs. Rowlett the most prevalent foreign stamps are Japanese and Chinese. Most collectors who collect these usually collect only Oriental stamps.

As to the expense of foreign stamps she says that U. S. and British are the most expensive. French and German are not very expensive, and South American stamps are very reasonable.

Currently the most prized American stamps are a series issued by the United Nations. In the future the stamps of the American flag with the forty-eight stars will be valued.

The age of a stamp does not increase its value according to Mrs. Rowlett. It depends upon the number of stamps issued and the number in circulation.

There is a stamp collector's investment service that estimates the value of stamps by the number in circulation etc.

Mrs. Rowlett says the most she ever paid for a stamp was 90 cents for one of the Pearl Harbor series.

She has about 1,258 single issue stamps alone! The colors of these stamps range from blue, green, purple, and magenta. They are always rectangular. The stamps commemorate president's homes, presidents, famous battles, etc. The two men most seen on the stamps are Lincoln and Washington.

Mrs. Rowlett says even the Confederates had their own stamps. At that time, however, the stamps were hand printed, now they are done on a rotary press.

The most current series is a Freedom Series done of famous people of the western hemisphere. This is called the "Champion of Liberty" series.

Some famous people who were stamp collectors, according to Mrs. Rowlett, include Wally Simpson and Queen Elizabeth I, who has the most complete stamp collection in England.

There have been only four American men and women portrayed internationally on stamps, Mrs. Rowlett says. They were Grace Kelly, Amelia Earhart, Will Rogers and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Stamp collecting is educational and profitable," says Mrs. Rowlett, "and I would recommend it to any one who has a curious mind."

B. Brookfield Ends Career

Bill Brookfield, three sport sparkler from Friona, Texas, was one of a quartet of Adams State College seniors who recently concluded their basketball careers at ASC.

The six foot guard ended his final hardcourt season with a fine eight points per game scoring average. His finest offensive performance of the year was 20 tallies turned in against Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

Adams State College, which is located at Alamosa, Colo., concluded its cage season by beating Colorado College in two games and insured for the Rocky Mountain Conference.

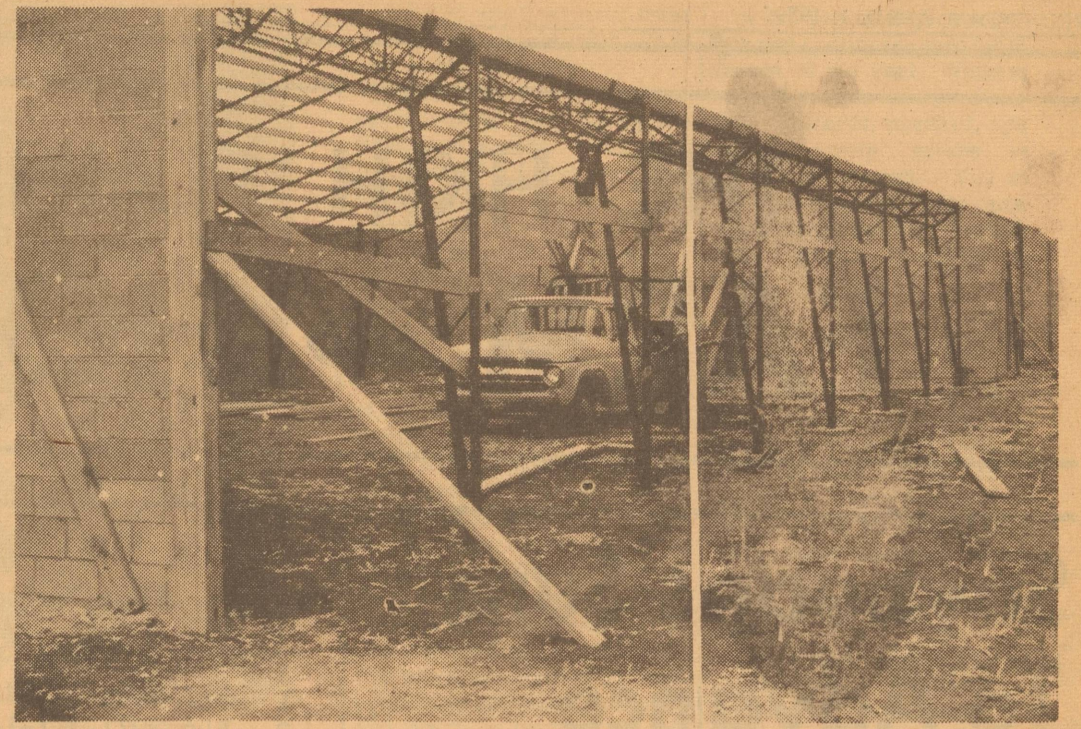

Brookfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brookfield of Friona. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wood and Mrs. Kate Brookfield all of Friona.

R. L. Bates Is Improving

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bates and sons, Phillip and Dwight, of Sunray were weekend guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watson and other Friona relatives. Bates, who was critically ill several months following a heart attack in November, is the superintendent of schools at Sunray.

According to a report by a member of the family, his condition is steadily improving and at the present time he is able to walk one-quarter of a mile. His activities and visitors are limited and he is receiving therapy. Bates, a former teacher here, was especially interested in seeing the nieces and nephews he had not seen in several months.

NAZWORTH RETURNS
Calvin Nazworth returned to Friona Friday evening from the West Coast. He was recently discharged from the U. S. Navy after serving 3 1/2 years. Before entering the service, he made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nazworth.

Don Lewis Named Justice

Don Lewis, a 1955 graduate of Friona High School, has been elected by the Student Council to serve as chief justice of the student court at Midwestern University at Wichita Falls, Texas.

Lewis, who is a senior at Midwestern, will receive his BA degree in sacred music in June. He is a member of the ROTC and has been active in campus activities. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis.

According to reports we have heard, things downtown are beautiful at this time of year. Of course, those of us that live in the Panhandle have to say, "Just you wait. It will be pretty here."

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Soybeans Sure To Advance

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on new crop possibilities in the Parmer County area. The first was on pinto beans. Corn will be subject to next week's article.)

A trend started in the Parmer County farming area several years ago is almost certain to continue its advance in 1959, now that incentive for planting grain sorghum is, at least at this time of year, less attractive than at any time since big-scale irrigation began.

Soybeans, which occupied perhaps 7,000 acres in the area last year, will in all likelihood increase in acreage this year, as more and more farmers find a place for them in their farm programming.

Soybeans are a versatile crop, and are considered the fifth most important crop in the nation. On the High Plains they have been used on only a limited scale, and their value as a soil building crop has been about as important to farmers as the fact that they can be a cash crop too. Soybeans on the irrigated Plains have found their most general use in a rotation program with grain sorghum and cotton.

Because of their comparative newness to this region, the fine points of getting maximum yields haven't yet become established, but a few definite practices have been outlined.

County Agent Joe Jones says that one great fault of most farmers in this area is that they plant the beans "flat" and that for best results planting should be on the ridge so that mature beans will not be lost when combining is done. Inoculation of seed is important also, and a special chemical is required.

Then, the beans should not be planted too early. Between June 1 and June 15 is recommended for this latitude.

Another point, says the agent, is to keep watering soybeans all through the growing season. Unlike cotton, and even some milo, soybeans will keep on "making" until a killing frost and water helps rather than hinders. Irrigation often continues then even into early October.

"Just because soybeans are a legume, don't consider them a 'poorland crop,'" is the county agent's suggestion. He points out that they have their nutrient requirements for maximum yields the same as any other crop.

The use of fertilizer to increase yields has produced extremely variable results. With land of high natural fertility, it might be well that whatever fertilizing is done be done judiciously, in view of the limited information available on results.

The value of soybeans as a soil - building crop after the beans have been harvested for cash is questionable. The beans themselves undoubtedly provide most of the benefits to be derived from a land-improvement standpoint.

However, many farmers feel that the mechanical structure or tilt of the soil is improved by the plant's root system, and because the beans do have nitrogen producing nodules, they do not deplete the land of this requirement as do other crops.

Yields range all the way from 15 to 55 bushels per acre, and in this area the common yield is between 20 and 30 bushels. A support price of $1.76 is available.

Lee has been established as the most popular variety, although others show promise as is shown in the accompanying table carrying results of 1958 tests at the Halfway Station near Plainview.

"There is probably no other soil improvement practice that will return more profit per acre and per dollar invested than applying limestone in areas where it is needed," says Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist. He advises getting a soil test to determine your soil's requirements.

Many questions about soybean production are answered in a leaflet published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Soybeans." It is available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office College Station, Texas.

Up 'til now, we've always felt that we could talk with our cooperative county agent, Joe Jones, pretty well at eye level. But now we feel like we are going to have to start looking up to him, and may soon even be asking for his autograph.

A couple of weeks ago Joe told us he had a good chance to get to go to Europe this spring as a part of the program being pushed by the Grain Sorghum Producers. We thought this was nice, and was, in fact, a rather notable distinction, considering the few who were being called on for participation.

However, the more we check into this thing, the more surprised we are at the scope of the project, and the more we appreciate the responsibility Joe will have as our representative. For one thing, Joe is to present a paper on developments in feed processing in our area at the International Feed Manufacturers Conference in Rome.

This sounds like mighty big goings-on to us, and we told Joe if we had the job we'd probably be too nervous to talk well. Joe admits that he may be a little shaky, too.

Our agent will leave May 4 and will be gone for a month. He will spend this time in Italy. Besides the Rome appearances he will help out with a grain sorghum exhibit that will be put up at the 23rd Samples Fair at Bologna.

All this is arranged for through the Department of Agriculture and Foreign Agricultural Service. In a nutshell, the idea is to show Europeans how well grain sorghum fits into a balanced feeding program for poultry and livestock, and to encourage them to use our milo in the operations.

The potential of foreign markets is, after all, much greater than our own consumption possibilities here in the United States.

It's still anybody's guess as to what the milo situation will be this fall. There have been 14 bills introduced to correct the miscarriage of congressional intent by the USDA administrative heads, but none is given much chance of passage. Furthermore, the president, who pledges unflinching support of Secty. Benson, probably would veto them anyway.

However, outside of politics things are taking shape a little more definitely. Cargill Crop Reporting Service says planting intentions for 1959 indicate that the sorghum acreage will be reduced somewhat from the record set in 1958.

They are predicting 20.4 acres. That is down three per cent from last year, and even a slight reduction is significant inasmuch as milo acreage had been bounding upward alarmingly during the past four years.

Corn planting, on the other hand, will take a healthy step forward now that acreage restrictions are removed, Cargill believes. They are expecting 84 million acres, which is 12 per cent more than last year.

Soybean acreage is expected to be down seven per cent at 23 million acres. Like sorghums, soybeans have been steadily increasing as a national farm commodity. They expanded acreage for nine successive years. It is interesting to note that soybeans occupy more acreage than grain sorghum, which many farmers of the High Plains do not realize.

Parmer County has the state championship tractor maintenance school program, no doubt about it. We are amazed at the way the idea has caught hold. James Mabry, who is heading up the program, deserves a lot of credit for his organizational efforts.

Nine classes are going all over the county. That's a lot of youngsters learning machinery maintenance!

We got into trouble a few weeks ago by saying we'd visit all the tractor classes and make pictures. We had no idea the project would grow to such dimensions, but we won't back down and will try to get this done in the next few weeks.

We have received a nice note of appreciation from Charlotte Seaton, speaking for the Lazbuddie 4-H Girls Club. She thanked us for running the picture of their fine exhibit in that community during National 4-H Club Week.

Folks who go out of their way to thank us for something that we do as a matter of routine have a special place in our heart.

Fresh water for laying hens is just as important in winter as in summer. To make one egg, a hen must drink about a pint of water.

Grasshoppers are likely to be more widespread in the west and midwest this summer, but are expected to be less destructive than in 1958, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. However, weather conditions between now and hatching time will have a strong bearing on numbers and a check will be made next spring to determine the areas where control measures are needed.

The big switch from manual labor and animal power to mechanization has done much to help America's farmer double their output in the past 15 years. This is only the beginning. Agricultural scientists predict that new, bigger and better machines will help offset the manpower shortage on our farms. The American farmer will produce more and more on fewer but larger farms.

Backing the farmer in his drive for efficient production, International Harvester Company this year has introduced numerous new machines designed to cover more ground, perform more work, and do it faster and better than anything previously available. Ask about the new six-row farm tools. We will be glad to bring them to your farm for a demonstration.

WANNA BUY A LION?—There are a couple of them on the A. H. Wilson farm in Lazbuddie and, says Wilson who is in the picture, they could be bought from their owner, Victor Cox. This cage is in the Wilson barn.

A COLD-EYED ONCE-OVER is what you get when you look down through the top of the cage at the animals penned inside. The lions' favorite way to worry onlookers is to stick their paws out and try to grab them. They don't have much trouble getting folks to keep a respectable distance.

Lions On Farm At Lazbuddie

Just how African Lions might fit into the Parmer County area livestock picture isn't for sure, but some Lazbuddie folks are at least proving that Parmer County farms can raise lions. There are a couple of the onery critters on the A. H. Wilson farm, and the Wilsons don't pay much more attention to them than if they were hogs.

The lions have attracted the attention of a lot of the neighbors, and once a Lazbuddie school bus had to wait while all the kids ran into the Wilson barn to take a peek at the caged animals, but the Wilsons themselves don't get too excited. Actually, the lions belong to Victor Cox of Muleshoe, a horse breeder, jockey, and promoter of sorts. Cox picked up the lions when they were just cubs. A sideshow and small circus was coming through the country and got into dire financial straits, so Cox bought the young lions. He bought three, but one died. The other two, though, have certainly done well on their all-meat diet, and now weigh 250 pounds each. They consume about five pounds of beefsteak each day. That runs the feeding bill pretty high. The lions are in a homemade cage which is in one end of the Wilson barn. They aren't at all bashful and when anyone steps close they will thrust their paws through the steel slats of the cage and work their claws menacingly. Folks soon learn to keep their distance. Just what will come of the lions isn't known. They'll probably be sold to somebody who has some practical use for them, such as a zoo or circus. But, Wilson says, you can have them yourself if you want them -- and are willing to pay the price.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Tree windbreaks can protect your farmstead and livestock cheaper than most any other method. A lot of your family's time is spent in the house and around the yard. A good tree windbreak protects the farmstead from soil blowing, snowdrifts, cold driving rain or sleet, and dusty spring gales. In this part of the country cold winds cause more discomfort to man and animals than any other climatic factor. Experiments show that windbreaks can reduce your home-fuel costs 15%, or more. Your home will be less drafty and more comfortable. And you will not have as much dust to clean up and worry about. A good windbreak keeps the driveways, yard, and feedlots fairly free of snow in ordinary winters. This in itself is worth the effort of growing a tree windbreak. Several types of evergreen and broadleaf trees are suitable for windbreaks. There are tall, medium tall, or dense low-growing varieties which can be used together or in combination with shrubs. A good barrier against the wind is uniformly dense from the ground line to the tops of the tallest trees. At least one row of Coniferous evergreens such as Arizona Cypress or Red Cedar should be used because they give year round protection and are long-lived. For spacing of a single row windbreak the row may be a straight line or in a zig-zag fashion. In straight rows, space trees 5 to 8 feet apart; in zig-zag rows, offset alternate trees a maximum of 40 inches from the center row line, and space trees 5 to 8 feet apart as measured along the center line. Spacing of trees and shrubs for multiple row windbreaks are as follows: Space shrubs 3 to 5 feet apart, Deciduous trees 8 to 10 feet apart, and Evergreen trees 5 to 8 feet apart with 10 to 16 feet between rows. Water at time of planting and protect from wind during the first blow season. Cultivation is necessary during period of establishment because weed competition is a chief cause of loss of new plantings. Mechanical injury to trees should be avoided by using tools suitable to the job. Replace death losses at the first planting season following to insure a fully closed and even height barrier. By now all land owners and operators in Parmer County should have received a copy of the District News letter on "Windbreak Planting" which gives details on species, planting of trees, land preparation, and management of plantings. For more information on windbreaks or any other conservation practices come by the Soil Conservation Service office in Friona.

In the vegetable picture variety and quality are good for the season of the year. White and sweet potatoes are good choices. Collards, mustard, spinach and turnip greens are moderately priced. You may see featured items in the can vegetable department including peas, tomato products and kraut. Pork production is up sharp from comparable weeks of year ago. Prices for some cuts have declined and will be reflected in many markets this week. Look for hams (whole butts, shank portions) spare ribs, bacon and sausage. Beef values can be found in chuck roast. Large size grade A eggs are an excellent meat alternate - low in calories and easy to prepare in a variety of ways.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A very interesting magazine came to our desk this week. It is the March issue of the "Women's Circle." It had been a long time since we had seen a publication similar to this one and we thoroughly enjoyed reading it.

The entire contents of the paper were of interest to homemakers. There were recipes, cooking hints, sewing hints, household notes, features about unusual women and two pages of letters from readers.

Several of the household hints are being used in this column. Those glass furniture-caster cups can be used to advantage in the sewing room. They will hold such items as pins, needles, buttons, fasteners, etc. and make excellent weights to hold pattern pieces in place.

When making a comforter extend the top and bottom material ten inches beyond the filler. This gives a good allowance for tuck in at foot end. Short quilts or blankets can be lengthened by adding a piece of material, twofold, the desired length.

Anyone who collects picture post cards has material for beautiful waste baskets. These cards may be glued onto potato chip cans, ice cream containers, or similar cartons. After the cards have been glued onto the proposed waste basket, they should be covered with shellac to keep them clean.

The inside of the container should be waxed to keep dust from sticking to the inside.

If the men around your house are trimming the trees, you may get some material for lovely planters right in the front yard. Take a saw and cut off part of the tree branch just the length you want your planter. Take a drill and drill holes three or four inches deep that interlap inside the planter.

When the holes have been drilled, take out all the trimmings and shape the inside cup like. Leave the bark on the outside and cut a planter from a branch which has had limbs cut off if you want knot holes on the finished item.

The inside of the planter can be lined with several layers of aluminum foil, the bottom covered with felt to keep from marking table tops, and the outside varnished to give it a finished look.

These planters are especially pretty for growing ivy or other climbing plants. If you want them to hang on the wall, you can smooth one side to lie flat against the wall and add hooks for hangers.

Next time you are invited to a salad supper or luncheon and want something different to take, you might like to try this recipe which was submitted to the Mexico Ledger by Mrs. Raymond Outlaw of Vandalia, Mo.

CHICKEN APPLE SALAD
4 cups cold cooked diced chicken
2 cups diced apples
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup diced celery
mayonnaise

Combine chicken, apples, celery and nuts; moisten with mayonnaise; mix lightly with fork. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Another recipe that would make a wonderful dish for a covered dish meal was submitted to the same paper by Mrs. Donald Harris of Mexico.

HAM LOAF
1 1/2 pounds lean pork
3/4 pound smoked ham
1 small onion
1/2 cup soda cracker crumbs
2 beaten eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Grind pork, ham and onion until fine. Add other ingredients and shape into a loaf. Place in a baking dish. You may place the following mixture in the bottom of pan, if desired:

1/2 cup crushed pineapple
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 1/2 hours. After 45 minutes baste with 1 cup condensed tomato, celery or mushroom soup several times.

Although St. Patrick's Day has already passed, we are going to give you a good Irish cake recipe that you will enjoy using and serving any day in the week.

KILARNEY CAKE
All measurements are level and flour is sifted before measuring.
Sift together: 2 cups flour, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt. Add: 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup milk (less 2 tablespoons) 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 unbeaten eggs.
Beat with electric mixer until velvety texture. Pour into two 9 inch layer cake pans that have been greased and floured.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 25 minutes. When cool, ice with favorite frosting.

(This cake is as easy as any cake mix, because it is all mixed in one bowl.)

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau Secretary - Treasurer, Roy V. Miller, attended the Texas Farm Bureau president's conference in Amarillo last Thursday. Sixty or more counties were represented in the meeting which was devoted principally to wheat. Being in the worst condition of all basic commodities, surpluses, wheat is getting a lot of discussion in Congress and other areas.

We wonder what you think of the Farm Bureau suggestion for wheat. It was pretty well outlined in the Friday morning Amarillo paper. One point of it would allow a wheat farmer to purchase the amount of wheat he would normally produce on land left out of production from CCC at normal production cost and sell it on the open market. This, it is contended, would prevent continued piling up of surplus while still giving the farmer the same volume of wheat to sell as he would have been expected to produce, had he planted and harvested it.

Farm Bureau policies determined by its members have always been aimed toward highest net income for producers of all commodities. The record bears this out and this aim is still evident in Farm Bureau Policies. Labor costs have always affected the cost of production directly and indirectly. Industrial labor costs are reflected in the cost of farm machinery and supplies. Farm labor costs are reflected directly in the immediate cost of production. These costs must be subtracted from the price the farmer receives for his commodities to get the net.

Right now, labor policies being proposed are threatening your net profits for the immediate seasons of operation. If you have not been paying attention to this factor and writing your congressman as many news items have suggested, we suggest that you do so now. If you do not know what is happening, any Farm Bureau officer will tell you, or you can get the information in the office.

If you have not filed for refund on gas tax exemptions recently, come in and do it now. Remember that your wife can do this for you.

Raymond Schueler was re-elected chairman of the Farm Bureau Weed Committee recently. R. D. Dale is vice-chairman and Vernon Symcox is secretary. They have laid plans for the seasons work and we are sure that if you will cooperate in carrying out their suggestions, another successful year against bindweed will result.

CONSIDER THIS: And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31

RS 608, a red-seeded sorghum hybrid, is the subject of a leaflet recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Copies of L-426 are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

4-H Clubs in Parmer County are thinking about method demonstrations just about now, because they are getting ready for County and District Contest.

I have a good egg custard recipe that was used in a demonstration last Wednesday by Sherry Tannahill and Mary Ann Roberts, at the Friona 4-H Club meeting. The custard is real good, you might like to try it.

EGG CUSTARD
4 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 cups milk
2 T. butter
dash salt.

Beat eggs good, add other ingredients and cook in saucepan until the butter melts. Pour into tin loaf pan and cook in water bath at 350 degrees until done, about 20 minutes.

SEW YOUR OWN GARMENTS
Do you have special fitting problems? -- A slim clothing budget? Do you get real satisfaction from sewing for yourself and others?

If the answers are yes, you may want to join the increasing number of women who are making garments for themselves, and other family members, say extension clothing specialists.

The "homemade look" can be avoided by careful construction and pressing. The custom-made look requires patience, accuracy, attention to detail of finishes and good pressing. A job well done pays off with economy, fit and satisfaction.

If you are a beginner in sewing, choose a simple garment for your first try. A pattern of few pieces with simple design, and a fabric of good quality in solid color will give best results.

The pattern, fabric and the bindings should be selected together for harmony. Figure type and purpose of the garment also influence pattern and fabric selection.

The latest in spacemen landing on earth concerns the sensitive little one who descended on New York recently. Walking by a store window, he looked in and saw a piano.

"Okay, you!" he snarled. "Wipe that nasty smile off your face!"

An old gent was passing a busy intersection when a large St. Bernard ran by and knocked him down. An instant later, a foreign sports car skidded around the corner and inflicted more damage. A bystander helped the old man up and asked if the dog had hurt him.

"Well," he answered, "the dog didn't hurt so much, but that darned tin can tied to his tail nearly killed me!"
