THE SPEARMAN REPORTER, Hansford County, Texas 79081

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1969

LATE AFTERNOON THUNDERSHOWERS performed a magic trick Monday by transforming Spearman's main street into a river and giving the hot, dry turf a good drink of badly needed water. Small hail accompanied the sudden storm which left 1 1/2 inches of rainfall in the official U. S. Weather gauge.

Mrs. Harry Shedeck and her grandchildren Marla McWhirter of Spearman and Bob Sikes of Portales, N. M. left Tuesday for the Bahama Islands to visit with Marla's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Floyd. The Floyds live on the island of Eleuthera on a charolais ranch where he is assistant manager.

Gifford Hill Adds To Staff

A. L. Dedmon, district manager of Gifford Hill Western, has announced the addition of another Hansford County salesman working out of the Spearman office. The new man, Bob Conner has joined the Gifford Hill Staff after seventeen years employment with the Gulf Oil Company. He has moved to Spearman from Nederland, Texas. Conner, his wife Billy and two children Robert, 10 and Janet, 15 accompanied him. This addition to the Gifford Hill Sales division has resulted in the promotion of Mack Mauldin to the position of Sales Manager of the Spearman-Dumas district. Mauldin has been with Gifford Hill Western in Spearman for the past five years. Dedmon remains in Spearman and continues in the position of District Manager.

Miss Nancy Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Archer, is home this summer from Vilseck, Germany where she has been teaching school for the U. S. Army. She is now visiting in the home of her brother Earl in Amarillo and will do some visiting in Albuquerque before returning to Spearman.

With his bat swinging as fast as "the speed of sound" Dr. Damon, "Babe Ruth" Gregg, tobacco and all, was batting in "clean up" spot for the First Christian Church Tuesday night, in their thrilling 12-11 game with the Baptists!

Rotary-Lions To Crash On Greens

ROTARY - LIONS TO CRASH ON GREENS
The newly formed Rotary Club of Spearman recently challenged the local Lions Club to a golf tournament. After careful negotiations on both sides of the matter, a truce was called and the tournament date has been set for Friday July 25th at the Hansford Golf Course. Mack Mauldin, Chairman of the tournament committee for the course has closed the greens to all members at five p.m. Friday so the tourney can be played. According to one rumor, Dr. Kleeberger will carry the clubs for Billy Miller who is expected to be lead off man for the Lions tail ender. At latest reports, Rotarian member Judge Johnnie Lee has been asked by Rotarian Secretary, Chet Wise, to step a cease and desist order on the Lions tail twister for allegedly threatening to show up for the tournament. E. J. Copeland will lead the Rotary players in an attempt to show Boss Lion.

Dan Desimone what it means to be taken to the cleaners. It has been reported that President Coy Palmer, the Rotary wheel is taking secret training from a well known Pro. He could not be reached at this writing. After being threatened with John Bishop and Doug Connelly, Coach Copeland called in two white hopes from his training bases. The two alleged strong men are believed to be Pete Fisher and Allen Simpson. Both clubs seem to have plenty of depth with the Lions showing added strength in such swingers as Clay Gibner, Ab Abston, Darce Foshee, Oscar Donnell and Jesse Davis. The Rotary back stop consists of Jack McWhirter, Peyton Gibner, Doc Hackley, Don Hergert and Doc Gregg. The mighty Lions may even bring in Frank Massad but Rotary plans to block him with Bob Cochran. I asked Bill Partridge, local forecaster as to the outcome of the play off and optimistic forecaster was that the tournament would be called off on account of snow.

NEW YORK ACTRESS INTERESTED

Miss White Receives Apprenticeship Offer

Guy Dell White, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy White of Spearman, has hitched her wagon to a star and at the present time the future looks very bright for the lovely young Miss who aspires to become an actress. Guy Dell graduated from Spearman High School the past spring where she was an outstanding speech and drama student under Mrs. Frank Porter. Showing much promise in the field of drama, she accepted an opportunity to attend the State Theatre of Kentucky for special study during the month of July. The only drama workshop of its kind in America, the Pioneer Play House located in Denville, Kentucky is a unique, living laboratory of the performing arts for students who plan to go into theatre or teach drama. Out of a field of 100 students, this Spearman Miss is one of ten chosen to stay on at the conservatory as an apprentice. Also, because of her outstanding ability and potential, Miss White has become a favorite student of Irene Dubarry, the TV actress who stars in "Secret Storm." Mrs. Dubarry and her husband have asked

Guy Dell to come to New York and live with them so they can personally coach her, and where she can receive further study in the theatre. Guy Dell who has been attending the drama school since July 1, says "it is real hard work, but lots of fun." "We live under very strict rules and regulations, and our surroundings are quite crude" she said. Miss White said it is very hot there "and our dorm nor the theatre is equipped with air conditioning. My roommate and I walk about a block to the bath house and our dorm room is very, very small." The idea behind all this is that if students can produce under these crude circumstances, they can produce anywhere in the world. Students must retire early. "We are up at 6 a.m. for classes which last until 1:30; we enjoy a three hour break, and then it's back to more classes and work. Besides her drama study, Miss White takes ballet instruction each evening from a teacher who lives in South America. The only Texan attending the school, she has been dubbed "Tex" by her fellow classmates and instructors,

"My personal director looks just like Daniel Boone", Guy Dell said. She is enjoying her work with the students, actors and actresses from New York, but Miss White is a little undecided as yet whether to go back during August as an apprentice. "I am so homesick," she told her mother, "and if they will allow me to come home just for a while, I would be ready for another grueling month." This is her first experience away from her parents and home. "They seem to be excited about me here at drama school," Guy Dell told her mother, "and I owe all my ability to my high school speech instructor-June Porter. Miss White, who will move soon with her parents to Clarendon, plans to major in drama and speech in college so she can teach. However, with the offer of opportunity to study under professionals in New York, she may decide to get her "experience" first and her education later. Classes will end the last week in July which is known as "scout week" at the Village of the Arts. This is the week when all the Broadway producers and directors are on hand to survey students and actors alike.

BAPTISTS BLAST CHRISTIANS 12-11 IN OVERTIME TUESDAY

Lord, you delivered Daniel from the Lions Den, and Jonah from the Belly of the Whale, and Hebrew Children from the fiery furnace, but you almost didn't deliver the Baptists Tuesday night. In fact, the First Christian Church team, literally "tore up" Dr. Garnett's highly rated Baptists Tuesday night, only to see a miracle performed before their eyes, as the "Praying" Baptist came from behind to win the game 12-11 in an over-time extra inning. The regulation 7 inning game ended all tied up 10-10. In the 8th, or extra inning, the Baptists scored 2 runs. The First Christians came to bat, and they loaded the bases, with no outs, only to see ace pitcher Allen Simpson and his fine team stop the Christians with only 1 run scored. The stars of the evening were J. L. Brock with a home-run for the First Christians, and Allen Simpson with a home-run for the Baptists. Star pitcher Bill Jackson had the game "snatched" away from him, as a "brand from the burning," and he did an excellent job holding out 8 innings. Winning pitcher "Big Al Simpson" is improving so fast, that Dr. Garnett is thinking of touring the area with his un-defeated Baptist team! Fans are reminded that the Church of Christ will meet the Methodists in another thrilling game Thursday or Friday night. The schedule has not been decided for sure!

Tony Harper Leaves Friday For Tourney

one's interest in his golf career and their offer to help with his expenses, but that he simply could not accept monetary help. The young golfer qualified for the USGA National Amateur golf tournament by winning one of three tournaments staged last week in Texas. He will be a Junior in SHS when the fall term of school begins.

BITES SUN. FOR GRUVER RESIDENT

Sloan, minister, assisted by Elmer Adcock, minister of the Vega Church of Christ, officiated. Burial was in Gruver Cemetery by Lynn Funeral home of Olney. Miss Shieldknight, who will try out for the Olympics early in August, scored a total of 14 points in the all star contest. Her team, the North, won the game 85-66. Miss Kathy Allen of Stratford scored 32 points to lead the North scoring attack. Attending the game from Spearman were Coach & Mrs. Dean Weese and family, the Jimmy Shieldknight family, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Callaway & Jyniece, and Coach and Mrs. Allen Simpson and family.

Frank Cockrell, left, former principal of Spearman High School, has lived for the past 4 years in Saudi Arabia. He visited friends here this week and is shown above with Wesley Jarvis.

Frank Cockrell Family Returning To S-Arabia

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cockrell and two children have visited in Spearman recently. The Cockrell family, formerly Spearman residents, have been living the past four years in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia.

Mr. Cockrell was high school principal of Spearman schools several years prior to his accepting employment with Trans World Airlines as head of the American School in Jeddah.

The Cockrells have been coming back to Spearman every summer where they have maintained a home. But Mrs. Cockrell began last summer to complete her college education and attended school at Kingville, Texas. She enrolled there again this summer. Not getting to spend much time here anymore, they have sold their Spearman home but say they will be back from time to time to call on friends here.

Mr. Cockrell and two children will depart Saturday for Saudi Arabia and his wife, Vi, will follow later when she has completed her summer course at college.

The Cockrell family have lived four years in Jeddah and Frank just recently signed another 2-year contract with TWA, as Supt. of the Parents Cooperative School at Jeddah, a city of 300,000 located on the Red Sea. Jeddah is the international port of entry to the Muslim Holy Cities, Medina and Mecca. All foreign embassies are located in Jeddah, giving the city a distinct international flavor.

An American curriculum school based on standards common to the majority of state education agencies in the USA, the PC school was developed primarily by and for Trans World Airlines and U.S. Government employees' children. Although over 90% of PCs enrollment is American, British, German, Dutch, Italian, Pakistani, Japanese and others attend also. Last year's enrollment went over the 500 mark.

Mr. Cockrell is Superintendent at the school. His wife Vi teaches 4th grade. Since it covers only grades 1-8, their son Dennis attends high school at an exclusive institution in Switzerland which caters only to American students. He loves this very much and enjoys especially the wonder of winter sports in the Alps.

HOW MUCH DO PAST DUE ACCOUNTS REALLY COST THE MERCHANT

In most cases it is much easier to charge an item to a customer than it is to collect it. Many accounts could and should be avoided. First of all, 75% of the bookkeeper's time is spent on the accounts receivable, so for every charge item that is entered on the books, three cash items could be entered.

Many dealers have to borrow money on which to operate. Current accounts are the only ones on which to make a profit. To illustrate:

Sales	$100.00
All Selling Costs	97.00
Profit	$ 3.00

If this is a cash sale, you are right. Uncle Sam will get his 30% and leave $2.10 profit.

Suppose this is not a cash sale, yet YOU must pay your bills: such as supplier, rent and labor — on time, so you have to borrow money to pay for this $100.00 sale. You must borrow $97.00 to pay all selling costs, and if you are lucky, you may borrow it at 7%.

$97.00 @ 7% for 1 mo.—Int. $.56	Profit $2.44
$97.00 @ 7% for 2 mo.—Int. $1.12	Profit $1.88
$97.00 @ 7% for 3 mo.—Int. $1.68	Profit $1.32
$97.00 @ 7% for 4 mo.—Int. $2.24	Profit $.76
$97.00 @ 7% for 5 mo.—Int. $2.80	Profit $.20

From here on the profit is gone, you would have been better off had you not sold the item in the first place.

$97.00 @ 7% for 6 mo.—Int. $3.36	Loss $.36
$97.00 @ 7% for 7 mo.—Int. $3.92	Loss $.92
$97.00 @ 7% for 8 mo.—Int. $4.48	Loss $1.48
$97.00 @ 7% for 9 mo.—Int. $5.04	Loss $2.04
$97.00 @ 7% for 10 mo.—Int. $5.60	Loss $2.60
$97.00 @ 7% for 11 mo.—Int. $6.16	Loss $3.16
$97.00 @ 7% for 12 mo.—Int. $6.72	Loss $3.72

9.8 Million Persons Live In Area Served By Water System

LUBBOCK -- Texas Tech research shows 9.8 million persons live in the areas to be served by the Texas Water System plan to import surplus water from the Mississippi River through Louisiana into Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Dr. Vernon T. Clover of the Department of Economics at Tech said the survey shows that number living in the 174 counties part or all of which are within 30 miles of the proposed import channels and reservoirs or in areas of present or potential irrigation under the plan.

"The 153 Texas counties involved," he said, "contain 8.8 million persons, while 235,000 live in 10 counties in New Mexico and 686,000 live in 11 counties in southern and western Louisiana."

The department's figures show that the total population in those counties increased one million between 1960 and 1966, a 12 per cent gain.

In Texas," Dr. Clover said, "there are 3.7 million persons in the affected counties along the Sabine River in East Texas plus the northeast counties in Texas and in the northern counties, including Dallas and Tarrant, westward to the edge of the High Plains of West Texas."

"One million live in the counties on the High Plains of West Texas. The coastal counties, including the city of Houston, in the 'man-made valley' created by the import route in that section of the state, have a population of 2.8 million."

More than 800,000 persons live in the two-county area to be served around San Antonio in South Central Texas, the survey showed. The remaining 500,000 population in the counties involved live in the El Paso and middle Rio Grande areas.

Most of the water to be taken by the project, Dr. Clover pointed out, is removed from the Mississippi near the mouth and presently flows into the Gulf of Mexico. Enough will remain in the tributaries to serve the marshland near where it will be diverted, he said.

3 COUNTY ACCIDENTS IN JUNE

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Hansford County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Charles Henderson, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, one person injured, and an estimated property damage of $4,850.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1969 shows a total of 10 accidents resulting in one person killed, two persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $12,215.00.

During the first six months of 1969 in Texas there were 1,470 traffic deaths, or two less as compared to the 1,472 traffic deaths for the same period of 1968.

However, if past trends continue the last six months will probably exceed the first six months; as a matter of fact, the last six months of 1968 there were 2,009 traffic deaths.

The Sergeant stated, "With an all time record of 49 traffic deaths over the 4th of July weekend, we are not only well ahead in comparison to the beginning of the second six months in 1968, but well on our way to establishing a record year in 1969."

Visiting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Beulah Burger were Mr. and Mrs. Obie Harmon and son Mark of Oklahoma City. They were on their way home from California where they visited with Beulah's sister, Mrs. Nita Schwabb.

Texas Water Plan To Maintain High Plains Irrigation Economy

AUSTIN-The Texas Water Plan is the first major water plan in the United States where substantial provision is made for maintaining the ecological balance, declared a 45-year veteran of water engineering in Texas.

S. W. Freese of Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth based consulting engineering firm, said the plan is essential to the welfare of the state and added "the framework of the plan is sound."

"The passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 2 on August 5 is a first step toward carrying out the plan," he said.

The noted water engineer and his associate R. S. Gooch in a prepared statement dealt specifically with comments made by University of Texas Professor Daniel E. Willard criticizing the plan. The biology professor's main field of research is in the metabolic processes in cold-blooded animals, according to his own testimony before a state agency recently. Professor Willard reasons that providing more water will cause a substantial growth in population and he does not consider this a worthwhile objective of the plan.

Freese said the growth in population will take place with or without the water plan. "All that the Texas Water Plan does is to help insure that the water will be provided in a timely, economical and equitable manner," he added.

"The Texas Water plan deals specifically with the maintenance of desirable salinity gradients in Galveston Bay," said Freese. About 1.5 million acre-feet of additional fresh water will be provided the bay annually from the Texas Water System. "The plan attempts to maintain and enhance the ecological balance and appears to be an improvement over continuation of the past unplanned policy in this respect," he added.

Freese said one of the main purposes of the Texas Water Plan is to maintain the High Plains irrigation economy by use of imported water. Professor Willard contends the moving of more water in this region would simply aggravate the ecological imbalance that exists.

Professor Willard also charged the system of reservoirs in East Texas would cause atmospheric imbalance and actually result in West Texas getting less rain than now is received.

"I am not a weather expert, but it is likely that the evaporation from planned reservoirs in East Texas would be about the same as present transpiration from the moist, lush forests in the reservoir sites," said Freese.

Gooch contended in his statement that the crux of the argument over the water plan is whether it is better to have a plan for the future or to operate without any plan whatsoever. "The choice is not between having the Water Plan overturning the Panhandle back to grass and buffalo," he said. "It is one of trying to be prepared for future events on a statewide basis versus confronting the same future requirements piecemeal," he added.

"It won't make life in Texas better to deliberately fail to provide the water needed to sustain our economy," Gooch concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Porter and boys spent a long week end in Denver, Colorado.

New Smut Race Discovered In Sorghum Head

COLLEGE STATION, -- Grain sorghum varieties, previously resistant to head smut, are now susceptible to a new smut race, according to Dr. R. A. Frederiksen, Texas A&M plant pathologist.

First discovered by A&M researchers about a year ago, the new race of Sphaerotheca reiliana, causative organism of head smut, has been identified in six Upper Coast and Coastal Bend counties of Texas where grain sorghum is a $15-million industry.

More important is the fact that head smut occurs in all parts of Texas, which realizes more than a $300-million annual income from the crop, Frederiksen said.

Though it would seem to be a gloomy story, the brighter side lies in the fact that Texas A&M has already developed a new resistant variety experimentally.

Sorghum head smut has affected 20 to 30 percent of the plants in some fields, and in one case 50 percent, Frederiksen reported. Diseased plants have black masses of spores instead of grain in the head. Described as a quasisystemic pathogen, the head smut organism follows the growth point of the plant. Its spores do not need a host to survive; they can lay dormant in the soil.

Since the first smut problem of economic importance in South Texas in the mid-1950's, Texas A&M has been at the forefront of resistance development for head smut. Chemicals or seed treatments will not give an alternate means of control so host resistance is the only answer, Frederiksen explained.

determined this year on all commercially available lines and a majority of open-pollinated lines used for breeding. Certain sudan, begari, broomcorn and fetaria lines have shown much promise for incorporating new smut resistance, he added.

The head smut nursery actually verified discovery of the new race when known resistant lines became smutty, Frederiksen noted. A uniform nursery will be continued to monitor genotypes of the new pathogen and to maintain a check for possible new races.

Tissue and genetic studies on the smut organism by A&M graduate research assistants have helped speed up new resistance development, Frederiksen said. Bio-chemical and physiological aspects are now being examined by Archie Manis, graduate student from Killean, Texas.

Aside from contributions to control of smut, research on this pathogen can lend much to the nature of plant resistance to disease, which is fundamentally unknown, Frederiksen said.

Sorghum head smut has affected 20 to 30 percent of the plants in some fields, and in one case 50 percent, Frederiksen reported. Diseased plants have black masses of spores instead of grain in the head. Described as a quasisystemic pathogen, the head smut organism follows the growth point of the plant. TCAA Announces 'Men Of The Year In Agriculture'

COLLEGE STATION, July 17--"Men of the year in Texas Agriculture" awards will be presented six outstanding agricultural leaders, reports the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association. They will be honored during TCAA's annual meeting in Houston, August 3-5.

The 1969 honorees, according to H. C. Stanley, Jr., TCAA president and Taylor County Agent, are: Chas. C. Thompson, Colorado City; Dr. Ray M. Anderson, Fort Worth; E. G. Cauble, Jr., Big Lake; B. C. Langley, Stephenville; Bill McReynolds, San Antonio and Dr. J. K. Northway,

Thompson is one of the nation's most respected leaders in the farm credit field and has served as advisor and counselor to presidents, congressmen and governors. He is chairman of the Farm Credit Board of Texas and farms and ranches in his home county of Mitchell. He was an early-day 4-H Club member and has never lost interest in the youth organization nor in the Extension Service. He strongly supports all programs and efforts aimed at improving agriculture and rural living and is widely known for his civic activities.

Dr. Anderson is a nationally known animal nutritionist and chairman of the Tarrant County Extension Livestock Committee, Brush Control and Range Improvement Association and Animal Health Committee. As director of research for the feed division of Kimbell-Diamond Milling Company, he is in constant demand as a feed consultant both in and out of Texas. He is a strong supporter of 4-H Club work and credits his early-day county agent with getting him off on the right foot.

Cauble is best known for his contributions to the sheep industry and soil and water conservation programs. He is a past president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association and has headed several American Sheep Council committees. He is a member of the Reagan County Program Building Committee with major interests in farm and ranch management and credit. He actively supports the county agents in his area in their efforts to improve agriculture and rural living.

Langley's work, over a 40-year span with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station--29 as superintendent of the Tarleton Station, brought him in close contact with the county agents of his area and the state. Work done by Langley in developing the Spanish peanut, Starr, has added $2 million dollars annually to the income of Texas peanut producers. The variety was released in 1961. Throughout his research career he served as a ready reference person to county agents in the peanut growing counties.

McReynolds for the past 18 years has served as farm and ranch director for WOAI radio and television. The county agents of his home district who nominated him for the honor, said "We know of no one who has done more to help Extension adult and youth (4-H) than Bill McReynolds." His reporting of agricultural activities has brought him many honors. He has served on many committees, including the judging of 4-H records and contests.

Dr. Northway, veterinarian for the King Ranch since 1916, is perhaps best known for his work in animal breeding and genetics, including beef cattle and horses. But to the county agents of District 12 who nominated him, the famed veterinarian is known as a strong supporter of 4-H Club work and a willing advisor on livestock programs, including beef cattle and horses. He was instrumental in organizing the local youth Santa Gertrudis heifer program and sale which is nationally known.

Each of the honorees will receive a plaque and special recognition at the Houston meeting, Stanley said.

Inflation Is Greatest Enemy Of Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION, -- Farmers and ranchers, perhaps more so than any other group of Texans, have a strong stake in seeing inflation curbed, believes W. E. Black, Extension economist in marketing, Texas A&M University. Texas agriculture has much to gain from national policies that control inflation, he adds.

Inflation hits farmers and ranchers going and coming. It increases the cost of the things used to produce, and cheapens the dollars they have left, explains Black. The inflated dollar does not go as far in buying the things he need for his family to live. In the meantime, farmer prices and farmer incomes are held down by heavy production.

In short, the agricultural producer is caught in a squeeze between the prices paid and the prices received.

Prices of production goods farmers use seldom decline. For example, prices of farm machinery have risen every year since 1955. Prices of motor vehicles also rose except for a slight dip in 1960 and 1961, points out the economist.

Farm production costs have increased steadily since 1953. It appears that nearly all of the expected increase of $2 billion in farm production expenses this year will be the result of higher prices rather than the result of greater quantities of input items purchased, noted Black. Inflation at home, he adds, also makes it harder for U. S. farm products to get into foreign markets. Therefore, Black sees inflation as one of the greatest enemies of Texas farmers and ranchers, both as a hindrance to U. S. farm exports and as a tightener of the cost-price squeeze.

We are happy to announce the Association of Dr. L. R. Ingram with Dr. E. E. Novak, General Dentistry 712 S. Roland Spearman, Texas Monday - Saturday 8:30 - 5: Phone 659-3315

"Whatsoever Things"

By DONALD E. WILDMON

MINISTER
LEE ACRE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
TUPELO, MISSISSIPPI

Death. That's a morbid subject, isn't it? It's certainly a subject that is usually discussed in a hush-hush tone. And for many just to mention the possibility of it sends cold chills down their spine. But whether we want to talk about it or not, one thing is for certain—we all are going to have to face it.

One reason we hesitate to discuss death in a proper fashion is the fact that we fear death. Because it is unknown to us, because we have never experienced it, because we do not know what it is like, we are afraid of it. Fear, you see, is so often caused by ignorance. When we don't have some knowledge about something then we have a tendency to be afraid of it. That's why some of us are glad the Carpenter came our way. He gave us some knowledge on the subject.

Now I'm not knocking the way we speak of death nor trying to belittle our efforts to pay respect. What I'm saying is that too often we fail to take a realistic look at death. We treat it as though it is a horrible thing, a monster, a dreaded experience. I wonder if the reason we treat it like that is because this is the way death appears to be to the most of us?

Maybe we have never stopped to think that the same Creator Who gave us this beautiful thing that we call life is the same One Who also made death a part of the Plan. How is it that we can on one hand call one of His gift's a beautiful thing and in the next breath say His other gift is awful? Does His nature change like that? We think not. We feel that He is indeed the same "yesterday, today, forever."

The problem is that we take His gifts without taking Him. You see, we use life, live it to it's fullest, without ever stopping to think where it comes from. Who is responsible for it. Then one day, sometimes suddenly, we are face to face with the other gift of His—often unprepared for it—and we curse it. We have known, since we were old enough to understand, that everyone must die. But we have put off thinking about it, getting prepared for it, and it catches us unable to cope with it.

Followers of the Man of Galilee have a healthy attitude toward death. For they belong to the Creator. How was it that little Jewish tent-maker said it? "Whether we live or die, then, we belong to the Lord." It was faith like that that led him to say, "As for me, the hour has come for me to be sacrificed; the time is here for me to leave this life. I have done my best in the race, I have run the full distance, I have kept the faith. And now the prize of victory is waiting for me . . ."

I would rather face it that way than cursing it. But, then, one cannot face it in that manner unless he is able to say those very same words. I guess that is the thing that scares us so.

P & W COMMISSION SETS SEASONS

AUSTIN -- The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, in a regular quarterly statutory meeting here Wednesday, set seasons and bag limits for the fall hunting season in counties under regulatory authority as read in regulatory hearings in the individual counties.

However, the Commission turned down the proposed Nov. 22 through Jan. 14 experimental deer and turkey season in Frio County in the South Central Regulatory District. This year's season in Frio County will coincide with the Nov. 8-Jan. 1 season of the adjoining counties.

In other action, the Commission set the white-winged dove season on Sept. 6-7 with a bag limit of 10 and possession limit of 20. Mourning dove season in the north zone will begin on Sept. 1 and run through Oct. 30 with a daily bag of 10 and possession of 20.

The mourning dove season in the south zone will begin Sept. 20 and run through Nov. 18 except in those counties having a white-winged dove season where it will be Sept. 6 and Sept. 7 and from Sept. 20 through November 16. During the concurrent white-winged dove season, a daily bag of mourning and white-winged doves is permitted.

The Commission also set a nine-day September teal season to run Sept. 13 through Sept. 21 with a daily bag of four and possession of eight.

In other action: A deer season was opened in Aransas County where a September hunt could be held on Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. Details will be released later, Federal sources said.

-----The Commission deferred to a later meeting final action on the proposed rules and regulations for the issuance of marl, sand, and gravel permits on the Gulf Coast.

NEW DORMS TO BE BUILT AT WTSU

CANYON, Tex. -- A multi-million dollar building project for West Texas State University is expected to begin early next year, Dr. James P. Cornette, WTSU president, said.

The 3.3 million dollar project, calling for a seven-story dormitory to house 288 men, a six-story resident hall for 203 women and a two-level addition to the east dining hall to accommodate 965 persons, was given the go-ahead last week when the Department of Housing and Urban Development approved a $55,800 per year Federal debt service grant to the university.

Cornette said the building plans should be ready by the first of the year with occupancy of the residence halls planned for December 1971. Use of the new dining facility is scheduled for January of that year.

In addition to the high-rise dormitories and the dining hall facility, the university is in the finishing stages of a $3.5 million building, including a $3.25 million for a Physical Activities building located near the site of the proposed dormitories.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life at WTSU, said the university's 1971 enrollment is estimated at 10,000, about 2,000 more than expected.
