

Spearman Begins 1973 Season With New Coach

The Spearman Lynx know they will have one of the biggest crowds in history for their opening game, here Friday night. They know "Purple" will be a winner. They also know that anyone at the game will be getting one of the big purr-teams on the field.

They are right, about the only thing that Canyon and Spearman will agree on Friday night, is their school colors. The Lynx host the Canyon Eagles at Lynx Stadium in one of the finest games in the school's history. Spearman is ranked third in the state this year, according to the latest rating systems. Canyon is a dark-horse AAA team, but the Lynx always win one of their best games each year against the Eagles at Canyon.

Spearman will be under the leadership of new head coach Sherwood. The Lynx will have 10 lettermen from last year's team. The Lynx will be as big as they were a year ago, but they should possess adequate speed and talent.

Donnie Davis, a 7-8, 160 pound speed-merchant, is out for the first part of the season, with a knee injury. Lontae Lushy, 185 pound senior tackle, is the only other returning starter on offense. Other candidates for backfield duty are Randy Denham, Bobby Bull, Adrian Barrera, Randy Fewell, and Roger Jones.

Up front, bidding for starting jobs on the offensive team, and defensive lines are a group of outstanding prospects. Only three of them however weigh 200 pounds or more. They include Billy Paul Hazelwood, 212 lb. Sr. tackle Jerry Boatwright 200 lb.; Cody Alexander, 200 lb.; Another tackle, Don Cooper, 189 lb. Jr., is a top line prospect and could bid for all-district honors this year.

Spearman again faces one of their toughest schedules this year. The Lynx will open the season at home Friday night against AAA Canyon. Other non-district foes Canadian, Sunray, Stinnett and Cramer. The Lynx will open District 1-AA competition Oct. 19 against Panhandle.

Assistants to coach Greg Sherwood this year are Dan Truclove, Allen Simpson, Don Drummond, Ken Friemel and Mike Garrison.

Local fans do not know yet who will be the quarterback for the Lynx... it is still a question mark. Candidates include Fox, Tucker, and Harper. In their two scrimmages this year, the Lynx have alternated at quarterback, so fans will just have to wait and see what happens at Lynx Stadium this Friday night, at 8:00 p.m. Plan to be there!

The grand-kids reported that he did a beautiful back-flip, but Ab says he doesn't remember. Anyway, he was back on the job Wednesday morning, patched-up and ready to go to work!

Lions Club Plans Annual Broom Sale

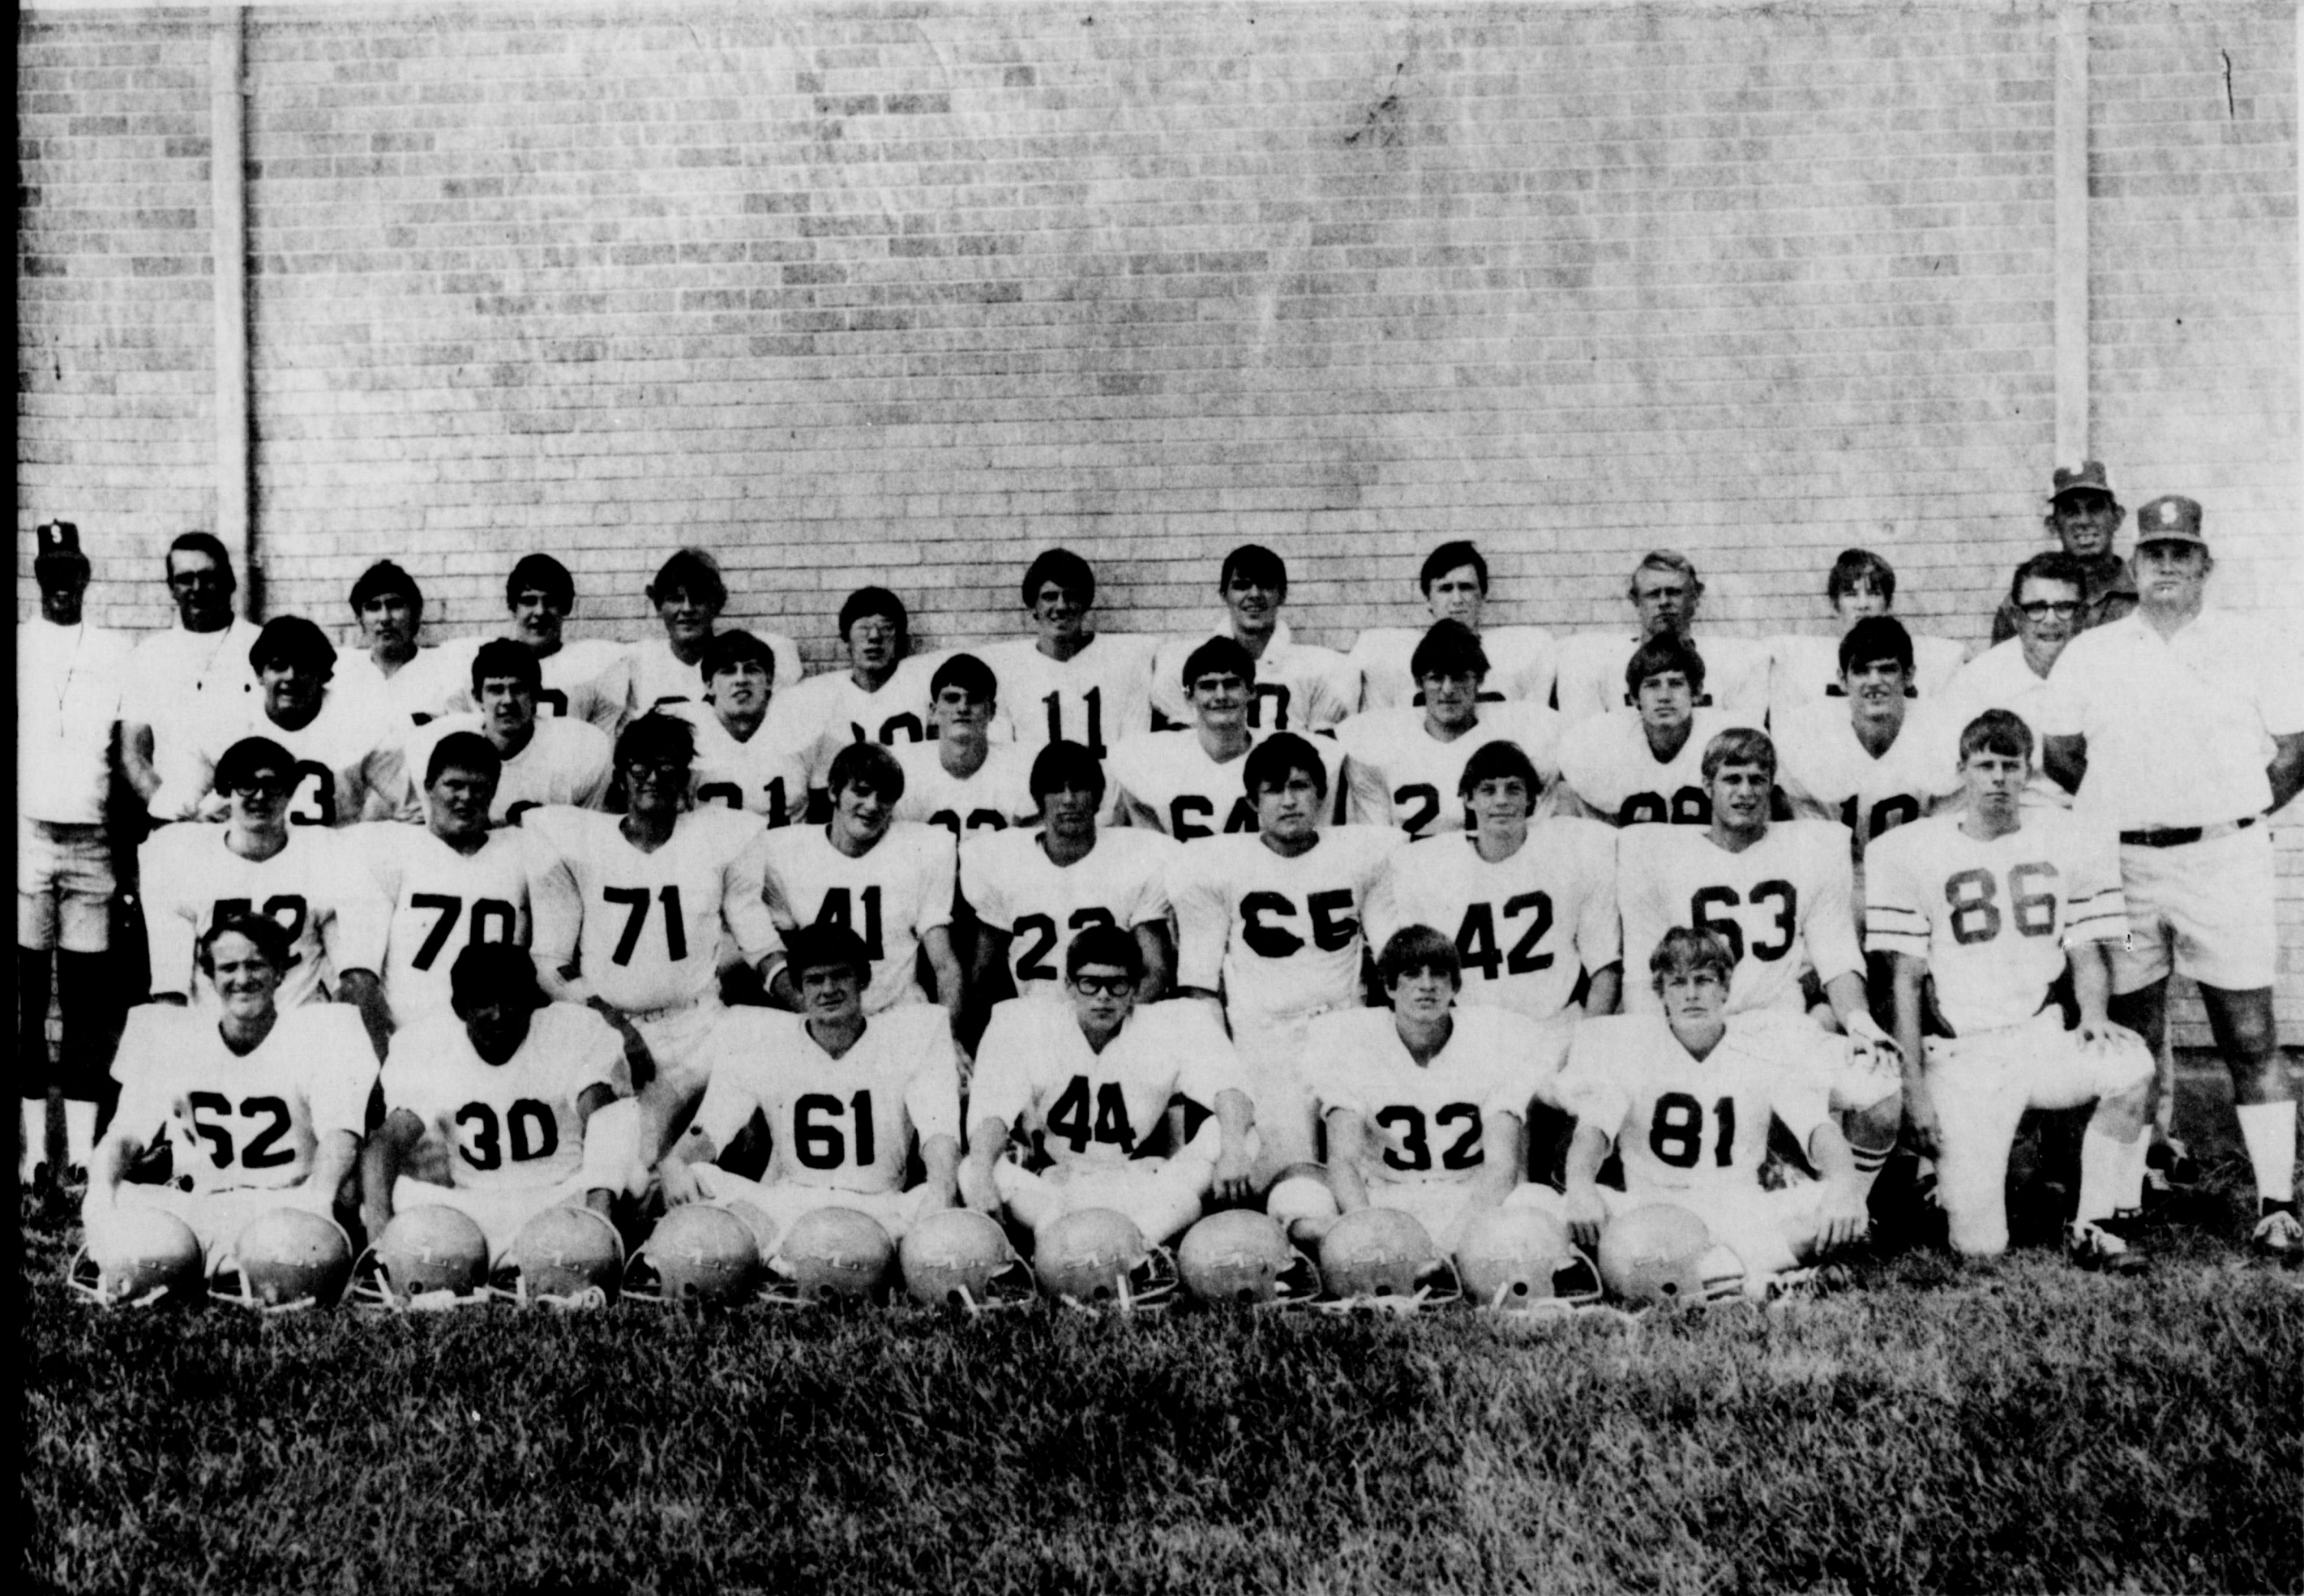

The entire membership of the Lions Club has been organized to supply friends and neighbors with this quality merchandise delivered right to their homes. Every household can use some type of household cleaning aid and every item sold helps some blind person to help himself.

The Spearman Lions Club will conduct an all-out drive on September 12 and 13, 1973, to sell quality blind-made products to residents and local businesses, according to an announcement made today by Alken Alford, Chairman. The articles are all manufactured by blind workers in the Lighthouses for the Blind which are located throughout the state of Texas. The Lion Club's earnings from this sale will be used for purchasing eye glasses and other community projects.

Food Stamp Program Will Open November 1

Johnnie Lee announced last week that the food stamp program will go into effect on November 1 in Hansford County.

The effect of this program is to do away with the food to low-income families at the centers, and eliminate long waiting lines at the centers, and administrative expenses paid by the state. Originally, the state had to pay for the food stamps program in all counties in Texas. The state will now pay for the program in counties like Hansford, but counties like Dallas and Tarrant will have to pay for their own program.

The state will also pay for the program in counties like Dallas and Tarrant. The state will also pay for the program in counties like Dallas and Tarrant.

distributed equally throughout the state and those eligible for the program will be able to have better balanced diets.

Eligibility is determined at the local level, by weighing income against income tax, Social Security, and in some cases work-related child care and medical expenses.

They will also take into account excessive rent and utility bills. To qualify, applicants must have records showing proof of their income and deductions as well as other expenses. One important qualification for eligibility in the program is that all able-bodied members of a family between the ages of 18 and 65 must register to work. Only those responsible for the care of family members under 18 or incapacitated adults would be exempt.

Students who work at least 30 hours a week or who are enrolled at least half-time in a school or training program recognized by the federal, state or local government agency will also be eligible.

When the local, state or federal employment agency finds a job that meets certain suitability requirements for the applicant, he or she must accept the work or lose their eligibility for food stamps. Applicants to the food stamp program are not required to join or resign from any recognized labor organization as a condition of employment.

Under the program, a family is mailed an Authorization to Purchase (ATP) card each month which tells how many stamps they are eligible to receive and what they must pay for them. To make up the difference between what the family is able to pay and the number of stamps required to have an adequate diet, bonus stamps are issued. How much a family must pay is adjusted to the net income of the whole household.

For example, a four person household who had a net income of less than $30 a month would receive $116 in free stamps for the month. The same household with a net income of $360 a month would have to pay $92 for the same amount of stamps.

The card and the required amount of money are taken to designated issuing offices for food stamps, and any money collected is then sent to the United States Treasury.

Applicants to the program then go to participating food stores where they can buy all food products except those that are imported.

The stores treat the stamps like cash, and deposit them in the bank with their regular deposit. The USDA then redeems them with money.

An important aspect of the new program is a better balanced and more nutritional approach to helping low-income families. Under the present commodities program the foods used are those labeled as surplus. They are not necessarily products that by themselves comprise a balanced diet, and in fact tend to be mostly starchy staples. Especially important to people on special diets, the elderly and small children, the program will enable them to purchase what they need rather than what is available.

Food stamps will be available to all persons, without regard to race, color, creed, sex, national origin or political affiliation. Also, if any applicant is denied food stamps or if he feels the number he was certified for was wrong, they are entitled to a fair hearing on the denial.

4-H Leader Forum To Be Sept. 10-12

A tri-state adult leader forum featuring the national 4-H director for teen activities from Washington, D. C., and other noted speakers is set for September 10-12.

Announcement of the event comes from J. L. Rowland, chairman of the District 1 Adult Leader Forum Planning Committee.

The annual gathering is designed to bring new ideas for working with 4-H youths to adult leaders. More than 100 people are expected, and invitations have gone out to leaders in neighboring counties of New Mexico and Oklahoma, says Rowland.

Featured in the event are Dr. Hope Daugherty of Washington, D. C., speaking on "Programming for Teens," and Dr. Donald Stormer, state 4-H leader from College Station, addressing the group on the topic of "Design for Discovery," a concept for teens.

Also, Joe Rothe, assistant director and state agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, speaking on "The Challenge to Adults," the Honorable Carl Perryman, judge of the Domestic Relations Court of Potter County, discussing "When Adults Don't Work With Teens," and Howard W. Ladewig, Extension area resource development specialist, whose address is on "4-H and the Community."

Lucille Moore, recreational expert from Green Valley, Arizona, will discuss recreation as a communication tool for teens, and a panel of teen 4-H'ers will give the views on various issues affecting 4-H'ers.

Workshops for the forum participants will offer them an opportunity to voice observations about ideas presented by speakers.

Registration for the event begins at 5:00 P. M. on Monday, and will include a $2.50 fee to help defray lab costs.

According to Ed Garnett, Extension area 4-H and youth specialist from Amarillo and coordinator of the meeting, interested parents and 4-H adult leaders are encouraged to contact their county Extension agent for details.

The annual event is part of the statewide 4-H program sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

FORGOTTEN FOODS

Food dollars may have quit "pinching" lately--and just plain gone to "hurting."

"So take a hard look at what's placed in that shopping cart," Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, advised.

"Although highly nutritious, some foods which rate low on the food status scale get neglected," she noted.

Two such "forgotten foods" are beans and milk.

"Beans add variety as a meat alternate while providing protein economically."

"Twenty grams of protein from beans costs consumers about six cents--compared to 19 cents for the identical quantity of protein from hamburger."

Milk, on the other hand, often is "written off" as just for babies or children.

"Consequently, many consumers select cheese over milk to provide calcium in diets."

"With nonfat dry milk, the calcium equivalent of one glass of milk costs three cents. For that same amount of calcium from Swiss cheese, the consumer pays nine cents--and 68 cents for cream cheese," Miss Reasonover added.

Grain Producers Election Nears

The September 15 deadline for mailing TGSPB ballots in the biennial election is approaching. Over 29,000 ballots have been mailed to potential voters in the 29-county Texas High Plains area and additional ballots have been mailed to county agents for those farmers who may qualify to vote but do not receive a ballot by mail.

Running for six year terms in the election are incumbents, A. W. Anthony, Jr., of Friona, John Glibreath of Hart, Don Marble of South Plains, and E. C. Witten of Edmonson. Also seeking terms are candidates: John Dumlup of Floydada, Don Nelson of Tulla, and Troy Sloan of Spearman.

To qualify as a voter, one must farm or cause to be farmed grain sorghum in the counties served by the Texas

Grain Sorghum Producers Board. Those counties are: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hansford, Hartley, Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

The sealed ballots will be tallied by a committee of people not associated with the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board. The committee will be sworn in by county judge Roderick Shaw and the operation of counting the ballots will be conducted under the observation of the judge, a Texas Department of Agriculture official, a representative from the extension service and an officer of TGSPB.

Ballots can be disqualified for the following reasons: 1) if more than one ballot is signed by the same person; 2) if the voter fails to sign the ballot in the spaces provided and does not write his full address; or 3) if the ballot is postmarked later than September 15, 1973.

A large turnout of voters is expected. At last check with the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board office, located at 1212 14th Street, Lubbock, Texas, ballots were arriving at about 100 or more each day. They will be opened and counted September 18.

Rare & Endangered Species of Plants And Animals

A lot of interest seems to have been generated concerning rare plants and animals. The interest goes up when there is a limited number of nearly anything. Diamonds are worth more than gravel for example.

The Black-Footed Ferret is a very secretive animal often found in prairie dog towns that has not been seen for several years. It is 18-24 inches long; 1 1/2 - 3 lbs. weasel-like mammal; yellow-brown body, distinct black mask; black tipped tail and has black feet. If you see this animal call Fred Hassien at 405-545-3407 at Eva, Okla.

We also have some rare plants in the District. There are big bluestem, Canada Wildrye, Sand lovegrass, Indiangrass, Nettle & Thread, Engelmannaisy and Bearlip Penstemon. Where these plants are found we will encourage landowners to protect them if at all practical. Range Conservationist John Wright is in the process of working up a color brochure on these plants. If you find any plants that you think might be rare in this area contact the local Soil Conservation Service office.

Throw a whole new light on homework

Provide your youngsters with well lighted study areas. Their progress in school and their attitude toward study depend on it. You can help prevent eyestrain and encourage learning by following these simple rules. Have a table lamp that is tall enough and equipped with a shade wide enough to spread light evenly over the entire work area. The lamp should have a 150 watt bulb and a diffusing bowl to soften the light and prevent glare. Have additional lighting in the room to prevent eye-tiring contrasts of brightness and shadows.

Irrigation Is Key Factor For Forage

Irrigation is likely to be a key factor in maximum wheat pasture forage production this fall and winter, according to Lubbock-based irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. If feed costs continue to be high, there will be an extra bonus for the lower-cost forage. Two fall irrigations, especially in dry years, in addition to either a watering-up or pre-plant application will usually produce maximum forage, says Leon New. Good, early fall grazing can normally be obtained from late August-planted wheat with an irrigation in mid to late October and early November while temperatures are still up. Water use is low prior to this time, the specialist says, and deep rooting should be encouraged. By November 1, however, the water use rate is likely to be over one and a half inches every ten days. "It is best and often more convenient to make the first application before cattle are placed on wheat pasture," says New. "This prevents trampling of valuable forage and compacting wet soil, and helps avoid rotting to dry fields."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woolley visited Saturday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Halliburton at Laverne, Oklahoma. Visiting a week ago Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Womble was her mother, Mrs. Vallarie Smith from Amarillo and her aunt, Mrs. C. M. Benson from Tucumcari, N. M. Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Witt over the Labor Day weekend was his mother, Mrs. Cecil Witt and his Grandfather, Mr. John Christopher, both from Perryton. "A second fall irrigation in December or January may be needed to continue good forage growth. Moisture stored by this application encourages early spring growth and may be especially important during dry years to maintain forage quality and even stand survival," he adds. "Vegetative growth is usually slow during late January and February because very little growth occurs during temperatures under 45 degrees."

The Extension specialist cautions that high soil moisture during unusually warm periods can promote plant water uptake and cause freeze damage later, especially to less winter-hardy wheat varieties and oats and barley. Overgrazed plants may also be susceptible to freeze damage under similar weather and moisture conditions. Early to mid-December applications may help prevent freeze damage, depending on weather severity. "Research has shown very little to no response to a third fall irrigation," New explains. "Adequate moisture is important, though, for forage production in early spring when soil and air temperatures increase. An irrigation in March is likely to boost forage production, especially if winter snow and rainfall are light and wheat is to be grazed out."

In contrast, says New, grain yields have been influenced very little by early spring applications. Heavy irrigation is not recommended during tillering and jointing for grain production since it produces more straw and encourages lodging. Good response is normally obtained for grain and forage production from irrigations at booting about mid-April and heading in early May when adequate moisture is critical, he contends. Forage yield is high during this time if moisture is optimum. Another irrigation is mid to late May at the grain filling stage may be beneficial in grain production, especially in dry years, says New. An application at this time can help extend the grazing period and keep forage quality up, but the results in both grazing and forage quality are likely to be considerably less than those from earlier irrigations.

Continuing Education For Nurses At WTSU

The Texas Nurses Association is implementing a voluntary Continuing Education Recognition Program for all registered nurses licensed in Texas effective September 1, 1973.

The goal of the Texas Nurses Association is to improve health care services by increasing the participation of registered nurses in Continuing Education. The T.N.A. program encourages nurses to pursue learning activities in order to maintain nursing expertise and to acquire the most current knowledge and skills.

Earlier this year representatives from District #2 Texas Nurses Association and the Amarillo League for Nursing made a formal request to West Texas State University for a full program of Continuing Education for nurses in the West Texas region to meet the Texas Nurses Association program requirements for nurses.

In cooperation with Amarillo Hospital District, West Texas State University will offer a wide range of programs to meet the needs of West Texas nurses.

Mrs. Eunice King, Head of the Department of Nursing served on the state-wide committee that designed the program of Continuing Education that was approved by the membership at the State Convention in April. Mrs. King states that "the program of Continuing Education adopted by the Texas Nurses Association marks a milestone in the history of nursing in Texas as this will have far-reaching effects on the quality of health care provided to the citizens of Texas."

Mrs. Edith Payne who holds a Master's degree in Nursing from Texas Woman's University will coordinate the program in this region. For the past year she has served as chairman of a Regional Council on Continuing Education. Mrs. Payne states the Council has plans to establish five educational centers for Continuing Education in the West Texas area. The centers will be located in Dumas, Pampa, Hereford, Memphis and Amarillo/Canyon. Mrs. Payne and her committees have designed six major programs to be offered this fall and one regional workshop. Mrs. Payne said these were the programs identified as having priority according to surveys made in the region. The following courses will be offered: Management of Patient Care, Emergency Department Nursing, Operating Room Nursing, Nursing Audit, Cardiovascular Nursing, and Endocrine Dysfunction Problems. Interested individuals may contact Mrs. Payne at West Texas State University.

A two-day workshop will be offered September 21 and 22 on "The Problem-Oriented Patient Medical Record." Mrs. Delores Alford, a Clinical Specialist in Nursing, and Dr. Virginia Vollmer, a Medical Physiologist and Instructional Communications Consultant from Dallas, Texas will conduct the workshop. The program will begin at 8:00 A. M. on September 21, at the Psychiatric Pavilion Auditorium.

The Basic Course provides instruction in the fundamentals of leadership and management, with emphasis on leadership development. There is no military service obligation incurred during this course and women are not required to drill with weapons. The Advanced Course is selected students who have demonstrated a potential for becoming Army officers. They are taught advanced leadership and management, and theory and dynamics of the military team. They develop their ability to think creatively and to speak and write effectively.

PSC Army ROTC Available To Fresh.

Did you know that at Panhandle State College Army ROTC is now open to all eligible college freshmen? This year is the first time women are eligible to enroll in Army ROTC at any of the over 200 participating colleges and universities. provided school officials agree. This resulted from the successful test program at 10 institutions last year when women enrolled in Army ROTC for the first time.

The four-year program consists of a Basic Course (freshmen and sophomore years) and an Advanced Course (junior and senior years).

Its purpose is to educate sufficient officers for the Army's active duty and reserve forces. All high school graduates who enroll in one of the colleges or universities where Army ROTC is offered is eligible. Just register for the program at the same time you register for your other college courses during freshmen enrollment. It's that simple. The opportunity to earn a commission as an Army second lieutenant at the same time you earn your college degree is one reason to enroll. The Army, like all large businesses, needs graduates with baccalaureate degrees. This allows you to choose your college curriculum.

All cadets in the last two years of the program receive $100 each month you are in school for up to 10 months of the school year. Add about $400 for the summer camp between the junior and senior years, and it amounts to the $2400--tax free--for two college years! Plus free uniforms and authorized accessories worth about $200.

The Basic Course provides instruction in the fundamentals of leadership and management, with emphasis on leadership development. There is no military service obligation incurred during this course and women are not required to drill with weapons.

The Advanced Course is selected students who have demonstrated a potential for becoming Army officers. They are taught advanced leadership and management, and theory and dynamics of the military team. They develop their ability to think creatively and to speak and write effectively.

You may compete for ROTC scholarships which can pay your college expenses. Tuition, books, lab fees, plus $100 each month you are in school for up to 10 months of the school year. For further details contact the Professor of Military Science, Panhandle State College, Goodwell, Oklahoma, 73939.

Mrs. Don Wirsdorfer and children, Nick and Jane went to Washington State in mid July to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Herren at Toledo, Washington and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. BAKER & TAYLOR DRILLING COMPANY

Rates its employees No. 1

"KEN" STEWART

Your Baker and Taylor employee of the week, is Ken Stewart. Ken is an electrician for the local Spearman firm, and he has been with Baker and Taylor for 3 years. He has only been in the shop for about 3 months however, working with Max Taylor and his crew. Ken came to Spearman from South Carolina, a state which he dearly loves. However, he actually prefers the working conditions, and the wages that can be made working for a fine company like Baker and Taylor. Ken has only one hobby, and that is fishing and hunting. And, of course he gets to do little of that, as most of the time he is busy with his job... Also, Ken likes to help the youth of our community. He is a musician, and plays the guitar. He would like to work with the youth of Spearman in the field of music, and anyone who might want to help Ken in organizing a teen band, or any group of young people who would just like to enjoy a music session with Ken, is urged to contact him at the Baker and Taylor headquarters in Spearman. Ken feels that if we will work more with our young people, we will solve most all of their serious problems... we agree with Ken, and think he will be great working with the teen agers of our city...

With a cassette recorder and your own ingenuity, you can find out something that most people never notice--how the world really sounds. Here are some ideas to start you thinking.

Groove on the beach--use a multi-purpose tape to record the sounds of waves, you gruntingly heaving a medicine ball, kids oohing about their sand castles.

Place your recorder in the middle of a pasture to record the croaks of frogs, the food-crunching of insects, the whistling of wind and grass--as only Mother Nature can express it.
