Property taxes on stocks suggested

Rural solons fighting back

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Whenever city legislators start talking about equalizing taxes on land, rural lawmakers fight back with proposals to impose property taxes on stocks, bank accounts and other "intangibles."

The legislature never has taken such talk seriously, accepting at face value the assertion that such a tax wouldn't work because the assets to be taxed are hard to locate.

Leaders of two groups with largely urban constituencies talked up such taxation, however, in testimony Friday before a committee of the Texas Advisory Commission on Inter-governmental Relations.

The commission will make recommendations later to the legislature and Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

"It seems totally unfair for the real estate economy to bear such a large portion of taxation, while the intangible sector carries none of the burden," said C.R. Johnson, assessor-collector of Galveston County. Johnson is president of the Texas Tax Assessor-Collectors Association but said he was making that recommendation on his own.

He said such a tax could be enforced if "the people want it and the legislature is inclined to adopt it."

Sherman Fricks, secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, declared that imposing a property tax on intangibles "would mean tax reductions for the overwhelming majority of Texans."

He said the staff of the defunct Legislative Property Tax Committee had estimated that untaxed property in Texas, including intangibles, amounted to $252 billion.

Fricks called administrative objections to a property tax on intangibles "a smoke screen behind which the privileged few hide."

"Local governments would have no trouble collecting taxes on intangible property if citizens were required, under penalty of criminal law, to declare each Jan. 1 the market value of their intangible wealth," he said.

"Most would be happy to declare and pay taxes if the alternative was going to jail."

Intangibles now are taxable, under the Texas Constitution, but no government body taxes them.

Jim McGrew, director of the Texas Research League, opposed taxation of intangibles at the local level but said "it can be done" at the state level.

He warned against high expectations of such a tax. With bank stock remaining taxed at the county level, "it is most unlikely that the revenue from any state intangibles tax would exceed $100 million annually and might be substantially less than that figure," McGrew said.

SHUMATE PENNIMAN PLACE

Webb command changes listed

Command changes affecting three squadrons were announced Friday during the 78th Flying Training Wing Officers' Call.

Monday, new commanders for Student Squadron (Sturon), the 3389th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) and the 82nd FTS took over their posts.

Lt. Col. Arthur K. Shumate was named the new commander of Sturon while Lt. Col. Hubert (Hugh) Place took over the reins of the 3389th and Lt. Col. David S. Penniman assumed command of the 82nd.

An Air Force Academy graduate, Col. Shumate steps into the Sturon command, replacing Lt. Col. John C. Williams.

Formerly the commander of the 82nd FTS, the St. Cloud, Fla., native has been at Webb since August 1974. He has more than 5,000 flying hours including 1,020 hours of combat time in Southeast Asia as a forward controller in the Cessna O-1 Bird Dog.

Col. Place took command of the 3389th FTS from Lt. Col. (colonel selectee) Stanley C. Hanson.

At Webb since July 1975, Col. Place was the operations officer for the same squadron. The Pickneyville, Ill., native has a degree in history and political science from Troy State University in Alabama. He has more than 3,000 flying hours to his credit with 450 combat hours in the A-1 while stationed in Thailand.

Col. Penniman replaces Col. Shumate as the 82nd commander after serving as the chief of the 82nd operations branch.

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire and a native of Claremont, N.H., he came to Webb last August. He has attended the Naval War College Command and Staff Course at Newport, R.I. and has 5,100 flying hours with combat time in the Douglas Skyraider.

Man charged with assaulting policeman posts $4,000 bail

Three prisoners were bonded out of county jail here Saturday.

Curtis Marlin Harris was out on a total of $4,000 in bonds on charges of assaulting a police officer and resisting arrest.

Jessie W. Robinson was out on a $1,500 bond on a driving while intoxicated charge.

Marshall Wayne Brown was out on driving while license suspended on a $1,500 bond.

Parents of County Clerk Ray recovering following accident

The parents of County Clerk Margaret Ray are recovering in Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa after a truck-pickup accident.

The accident happened eight miles east of Gail Wednesday, Mrs. Ray said. Her parents were riding in a pickup and pulling a goose-neck trailer.

A truck driver from Pine Bluff, Ark., was involved in the wreck.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bradshaw, a retired Borden County couple.

Broughton attends credit meet

Officers and directors of Western Production Credit Association joined other agricultural credit specialists from across the state April 1-3 for the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank's annual meeting of stockholders in Houston's Hyatt Regency.

Western PCA participants included board members Joe Lee McMahon, Verhalen, chairman; George Clark, Odessa, vice chairman; J.W. Broughton, Big Spring; John Drugan, El Paso; Jim Franklin, Stanton; Marvin Standefer, Lenora; and A.C. Teinert, Midland. Broughton served as the association's official delegate. PCA president David Workman accompanied the group.

The meeting brought together representatives from 32 Production Credit Associations and seven agricultural credit corporations, according to Workman.

The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, source of most funds for PCAs and agricultural credit corporations, last year loaned more than $1.2 billion to Texas farmers and ranchers through credit sources.

Denny's elects Ross Roeder new director

LA MIRADA, Calif. — Ross E. Roeder has been elected a director of Denny's Inc., it was announced today by Verne H. Winchell, president and chairman of the board. Roeder fills a vacancy on the board which resulted from the retirement of Samuel J. Stuart.

Roeder is a vice president of Denny's, Inc. and also serves as president of the company's Winchell's Donut House Division.

Prior to joining the Denny's organization in 1972, Roeder was with Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Corporation for seven years. During that period he served as vice president-Baskin-Robbins Eastern Corporation, vice president-western operations and vice president of International Division.

A native of Bay City, Mich., Roeder received a degree in Business Administration at Michigan State University, a masters degree in Business Administration at the University of California at Los Angeles and did post graduate work at the University of Southern California. He has served as a faculty member of Marketing and Economics at the University of Connecticut's Graduate School of Business and has also appeared as a guest lecturer at the University of Southern California and at the Institute for Advanced Planning.

Denny's, Inc. (NYSE), one of the nation's largest food service companies, currently has over 1,100 Denny's restaurants and Winchell's Donut Houses in the United States and in Mexico, Canada and Japan.

ONE-STOP SHOPPING — Harris Lumber and Hardware, 1609 E. 4th, has just completed the remodeling of its store, and installed a new warehouse to better serve the needs of Big Spring's homeowners. (Photo By Danny Valdes)

Sul Ross to host finals

ALPINE — The Sul Ross State University Rodeo Club will host the Regional High School Rodeo Finals at the Sul Ross Rodeo Arena May 7-9.

According to Dr. Paul Weyerts, Sul Ross faculty member and Rodeo Club sponsor, winners from this Region II rodeo will be allowed to enter the Texas High School Rodeo Finals at Hallettsville, Texas, June 15-19.

All high school boys and girls who are interested in the Regional High School Rodeos must apply for membership in the State and National High School Rodeo Association at least 30 days prior to the rodeo in order that applications can be processed by State Secretary Paul Cook of Hallettsville. Deadline for the Alpine Region is April 15.

There are 37 counties in the Alpine region. They include El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Reeves, Brewster, Pecos, Terrell, Crockett, Val Verde, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Menard, Kimble, Ward, Crane, Upton, Reagan, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor.

Harris Lumber and Hardware features big choice of items

Harris Lumber and Hardware Inc., 1609 E. 4th, has long been a Big Spring institution. Previously the Lloyd F. Curley Lumber Co., the concern was purchased by Bert Harris, and opened Jan. 1, 1966, under its present name. It has been growing ever since.

Since the January opening, expansion of buildings and inventory has increased steadily. At this point almost all of the original buildings and warehouses at the yard have been replaced, and with additional structures, the yard has nearly doubled in size.

The newest addition at the yard is a ground-level warehouse. "It is clean, bright and attractive. I think we will be able now to give our customers a much better idea of the selection of wall paneling and other merchandise that is available here," said Harris.

The selection is extensive. Harris lumber features the largest selection of pre-finished paneling, in all price ranges, in West Texas, according to Harris. In addition, the yard carries a vast supply of both soft and hard woods, a complete line of Dal-Worth paints, and a large variety of hand tools and do-it-yourself hardware supplies.

"We attempt to be the one-stop center for the homeowner," said Harris. Harris Lumber is constantly improving and adding to the plant and merchandise. Plans are being made to continue construction near the back of the yard in the future.

Louis Colling is the manager of the company, and Harris' son, Corky, is now vice president of the concern. Working with them are 11 employees eager to help Big Spring meet its hardware and lumber needs.

For the craftsman, do-it-yourself carpenter or home repairman, Harris Lumber is the place to go.

Teen charged

Justice of the Peace Bob West Friday afternoon arraigned Robert Johnson, who is charged with forgery. Johnson, 19, has no address, according to the sheriff's office. The defendant remains in county jail in lieu of posting $3,500 bond.

City marshal charged with capital murder

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Pre-trial motions will be heard Tuesday in 51st District Court here in the case of Frank Hayes, a Castroville city marshal charged with capital murder in the shotgun slaying of a prisoner.

Hayes is free on a $50,000 bond.

He is charged in the death of Richard Morales, 27. The case was moved here in February on a change of venue motion granted in 38th District Court in Medina County.

Hayes was arrested Sept. 16.

Castroville Deputy Marshal Donald McCall had arrested Morales Sept. 14 for questioning in connection with a burglary. Morales' body was later found in a three-foot grave about six miles from the Louisiana border in Panola County. The farm where the body was found belongs to Hayes' brother-in-law.

Mrs. Dorothy Hayes, 48, wife of the defendant, and her sister, Mrs. Alice Baldwin of San Antonio, were stopped in an automobile Sept. 16 near Llano.

*THESE ARTISTS WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE — COME MEET THEM!

Celebrate the bicentennial. Secede from the union.

The economists say that 1976 won't be a bad economic year. On the other hand, it won't be a good economic year either.

That means you're going to have to be careful with your money. You're going to have to put it where you can get the most out of it.

That's why it should be in First Federal instead of a credit union. Look at the advantages.

Guaranteed Interest. Every passbook and savings certificate account pays a specified, guaranteed rate of interest. You know how much your money is going to earn. In a credit union, you don't. You have to wait and see how efficiently the credit union has operated during the dividend period.

Better Choice of Plans and Better Rates. We have a variety of plans, including both Passbook accounts and Certificates of Deposit.

The interest on all of them is compounded daily. So, you actually earn more interest than the quoted standard rate.

A Passbook account can be opened for any amount, and it will earn interest for every day it's open. There's no penalty or loss of interest for withdrawing any or all of your funds.

There are also several longer-term, higher-rate Certificates of Deposit. You can choose any one of these:

Maturity Period	Minimum Deposit	Standard Rate	Effective Annual Yield
90 day	$ 500	5 3/4 %	5.92%
1 year	$1,000	6 1/2 %	6.72%
1 1/2 years	$1,000	6 3/4 %	6.98%
4 years	$5,000	7 1/2 %	7.79%

Fund Transfer. You can save a little each month by arranging an automatic fund transfer from your checking account. Or, use our TELE-TRANSFER system to transfer funds from your checking account to your savings account, or vice versa with one phone call to us. You get your deposit or drafts made in one day.

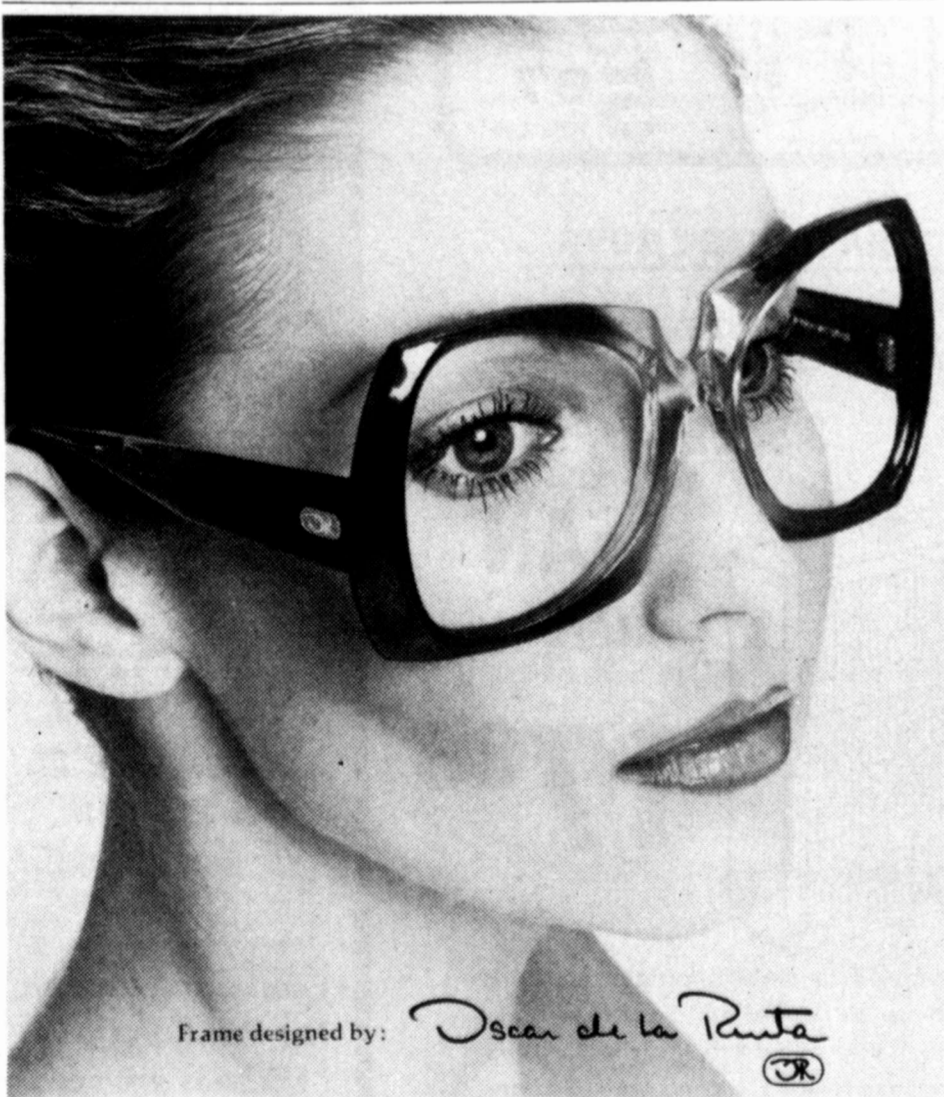

Personal Loans and Instant Credit. If your family is buying a car, boat, appliance, or needs another kind of loan, we can help you. It doesn't make any difference whether you have an account with us or not. However, if you do have a First Federal account, you automatically have instant credit up to the amount of your account. You don't even have to wait for a credit check.

Special Interest in Big Spring and Howard County. When you save at First Federal you're contributing to the growth and prosperity of your community. We're deeply involved in financing the housing and construction industry. So, First Federal is committed to the progress of this area, and your deposits are committed to that same progress.

Do the most for yourself. Do the most for your community. Secede from the union.

Many remember Colorado City as rollicking town

By MARJ CARPENTER
Colorado City is still the West Texas town that has the most Texas Historical Survey markers in the area. Big Spring is beginning to have more approved and the Howard County Historical Survey committee held a special ceremony Friday to dedicate one at the J&W Fisher store. There will be another one placed at the Potton House. But the Mitchell County area has over 20 markers and they distribute a folder at the museum in Colorado City telling the visitor how to find them all. The place is rich in history. Colorado City was founded in 1880 with a few residents living in tents and half-dugouts. Choctaw Kelley had a small spread on Lone Wolf Creek where it emptied into the Colorado River. He was soon joined by the Waddells and several other early families and they formed a town called Colorado. A. W. Dunn was the town's first merchant, opening his store in a fancy tent with a floor in August 1880. The first Texas and Pacific Railway train pulled into Colorado on April 16, 1881. By 1882, the population was estimated at 1,500.

struction workers. They challenged each other in drinking bouts and fist fights. An entire company of Texas Rangers was sent to Colorado City. One of the favorite gathering places was Jake's Restaurant. Jake Maurer had a wife called "Rowdy Kate." It was conceded to have been the most popular spot between Fort Worth and El Paso. There was a bunch of hotels, the most popular of which was the Pacific House, and the St. James. The latter was extremely elegant and known far and wide. There was an OK Wagon Yard, just like in the Western movies. There were lots of gun battles. But somebody was interested in culture and the Frenkel Opera House was built at Elm and Second. The first performance was by the St. Quinten Opera Company with 80 actors. The Stockmen's Ball was held at the Opera House during a cattlemen's convention March 5, 1885. Celebrations were the big thing at Colorado City and people came from everywhere. Back on July 4, 1883, Phoenix Park was dedicated. There was a dancing pavilion, a beer garden, a baseball diamond and a zoo containing one buffalo, antelope, badgers, coyotes and prairie dogs. John Birdwell, for whom Birdwell Lane is named in Big Spring had a Lone Wolf Saloon on Oak Street. The first sermon preached in Colorado City was by the Rev. O. F. Rogers in that saloon on the second Sunday in January 1881. A wagon sheet had been placed over the whiskey bottles on the back bar. Rogers also opened the very first school in a dugout during March 1881. The Queen City of the West had those few rollicking years, but the drought followed. It began in June 1885 and the cattlemen saw staggering losses for the next two years. The railroads also extended further west and suddenly, the cattlemen's capital became just another small West Texas town. However, they have preserved their history and in the past three years have shown a spurt of enthusiasm and growth. Don't plan to bury Colorado City, once the most rollicking town in the West.

Conservation leaders attend Abilene meeting

Local conservation leaders were in Abilene last Monday attending the spring meeting of the West Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation District Directors. W.L. Wilson Jr., chairman, Walter Stirl, vice chairman, Carl Williams, secretary and Leon Sterling of the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation Districts Board of Directors and Erwin A. Pavlik, district conservationist for the Snyder Field Office, Soil Conservation Service, attended from Borden and Scurry Counties. Participating in the program were J.M. Sterling, West Texas Association vice chairman; Kenneth Kuykendall, Cherokee, vice president, Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts; Joe Antilley, member, Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board; State Sen. Grant Jones; Bob Gallagher, executive director, West Central Texas Council of Government; and Barney Jefferson, Area II Field Representative, Texas Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Jones, who was introduced by state board member Joe Antilley of Abilene, spoke on effective representation in the legislature. He told the group that most people could care less about getting involved in political activities. In his address to the directors present, he urged them to point out how proposed legislation will affect the people served by the respective representative or senator. Bob Gallagher, executive director, WCT-COG, discussed the purpose of Council of Governments with the directors. He said that soil and water conservation districts have a very important role in seeking solutions to problems in the Council of Government area. Antilley and Kuykendall reviewed state board and state association activities. The meeting was hosted by the Middle Clear Fork Soil and Water Conservation District.

The June meeting will be hosted by the Concho Soil and Water Conservation District at San Angelo State University June 28.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga. (AP) — A 176, Jack Davis started a new business at his farm near Lake Seminole. Davis, who has been in a sawmill business for 53 years, claims his new venture is turning out the best quality corn meal anywhere around. "I got started in it because I wanted something to do — something to pacify my mind," he said.

Coahoma city dads schedule two meetings

A special city council meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall in Coahoma to officially canvass the election. Oaths of office will be administered by the mayor. On Thursday at 7:30 p.m., April 8, the council will discuss a swimming pool, a basketball court for the city park, new water rates, dump ground, cemetery, and plan water works for Foster Subdivision on the South side. Also they will review the ordinances, discuss a trailer for a water break, discuss filing suit on unknown property and hear Jim Rapier of Pritchard and Abbott discuss tax appraisal of oil properties.

Camarrillo, Ferguson all around cowboys

DENVER, Colo. — Concluding a two-month investigation, the board of directors of the PRCA has declared that both Leo Camarrillo and Tom Ferguson are the World Champion All Around Cowboys for 1975. In short, the finish was so close that the board has concluded that both Camarrillo and Ferguson earned the 1975 Crown. The official records of the PRCA shall reflect the final standings with respect to both Camarrillo and Ferguson to be 50,300+ Championship points in 1975. After three special meetings of the board of directors, two reaudits of the final championship standings and weeks of fact-finding, it was the conclusion of the board that due to apparent auditing errors in the PRCA records, the previously released final point totals for both Camarrillo and Ferguson were incorrect. The board deliberated at San Antonio for 20 straight hours over this difficult problem and considered rodeos held at Marysville, Calif.; Blythe, Calif.; Woodlake, Calif.; Yuba City, Calif.; Heppner, Ore.; Pendleton, Ore.; Lethbridge, Alberta; Williams Lake, B.C.; Falkland, B.C. and others in reaching the conclusion that the present status of the records does not permit any clear decision as between Camarrillo and Ferguson with respect to the most points won. Therefore, in order to be as fair as possible to both cowboys, and to permit each to benefit from his championship year, the board has declared both Camarrillo and Ferguson to be the 1975 World Champion All Around

Now, even if you live in the desert you can Surround your home with the cool shade and fragrance of a real pine forest!

Sound unbelievable? Just wait 'til you see how fast this amazing tree grows. In 7 years, with nothing but an occasional watering, it will tower 10 feet higher than the average house!

That's the kind of lush, green results you can expect from the incredible Mondell® Pine, a real 'Christmas Tree' that actually prefers living in the desert!

Just imagine what several tall, stately pines would do for your home and garden. Year round you'll enjoy the shade, color... and the envious glances of your neighbors!

Now, homeowners and landscape architects can grow this extraordinary tree.

For 2,500 years, the Mondell Pine was known throughout the desert regions of the Middle East as the "Tree of Royalty." Only the gardeners of sheiks and princes were allowed to plant the seeds — magically creating dense forests and green arbors in parts of the world few other trees could even survive.

Since the renowned forester Mondell Bennett imported the seeds in 1970, word of the pines' hardiness and almost unbelievable rate-of-growth has spread far and wide.

Forestry experts of the Federal Government, professors at the University of California and the Mexican Government's reforestation people have all asked for Mondell Pines for their experimentation and study programs.

Vital statistics of the world's fastest growing conifer.

Mature growth size: 35-40 feet
Climate: Semi-arid, Southwest (Below 5,500 ft.)
Growth rate: An 18" seedling will grow to 3 ft. in the first year, and an average of 4 ft. a year for the next three years. The Mondell Pine (Pinus eldarica) grows at least 30 feet in 7 years. An Aleppo pine takes 10 years to grow 8 ft. and the Southwest's familiar Japanese Black pine barely 4 ft.
The Mondell Pine grows better and faster in a desert than any other tree in the world. Yet it's so lush and green it looks like it belongs in an Oregon rain forest!
Soil: The Mondell Pine naturally adapts to the soils of the Southwest.

Look at the difference — after only 7 years!

Right now is the ideal time to plant the Mondell Pine. Whether you order three trees or a hundred, now is the perfect time to get your order in. By next year your Mondell pine will have grown to an amazing 3 feet!

What about cost? For a tree that grows as fast and as beautiful as the Mondell pine, you might expect to pay two or three times the price of ordinary, slow-maturing trees. But, you buy direct from America's exclusive grower of these incredible trees so you pay only $4.95 each! And less than that if you order in quantity (see coupon). And remember, every tree we ship is covered by our full, money back guarantee — so you can order as many as you need right away with complete confidence.

Satisfaction Guaranteed! You must be completely satisfied with your Mondell pine trees or return at any time within 60 days for a full refund of the purchase price.

Wearing Yank pinstripes Not to be taken lightly

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees withdrew their claim to free-agent pitcher Andy Messersmith Saturday, saying the "wearing of the Yankee uniform is not something which anyone will be allowed to take lightly."

Thus Messersmith, the first free agent under Peter Seitz' landmark arbitration decision, remains a free agent, free to deal with all 24 clubs — even the Yankees if he wished.

"The Messersmith matter is closed as far as the Yankees are concerned and I notified the commissioner of that this afternoon," said George Steinbrenner, general partner of the Yankees.

"Someday, Andy may feel entirely different about representing the New York Yankees and, if that day should come, we would certainly be willing to meet to pursue that possibility."

Steinbrenner said the Yankees were convinced that they had dealt with Messersmith and his agent "both morally and legally."

Messersmith, the winningest pitcher in the National League the past two years while hurling for the Los Angeles Dodgers, has steadfastly maintained he never lost free-agent status. The Yankees claimed, however, that Herb Osmond, Messersmith's agent, had entered into a written agreement with them last Sunday morning.

Osmond and Messersmith say that agreement was not a binding contract on the star right-hander. It was without his signature and Osmond never had authority to bind Messersmith to a contract anyway. "I don't have power of attorney," Osmond said Thursday while in New York to appear in a hearing before Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Steinbrenner said the Yankees had been determined to proceed in the Messersmith hearings because it was "imperative that certain facts be set straight."

He said one of those facts was allegations that the Yankees did not always act in good faith. He also denied that the Yankees plied Osmond with drinks in order to persuade him to sign an agreement for his client.

"This alleged statement was totally false and was damaging," Steinbrenner said. "Mr. Osmond's own testimony under oath stated that, in the seven hours he was with Yankee personnel in negotiations that day (March 27), that he only had a total of 1 1/2 bottles of beer," Steinbrenner said.

"If that could, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered as 'plying him with drinks,' then the liquor stores are in trouble. The Yankees just don't operate in that way."

In New York, Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, said Steinbrenner beat the commissioner to the punch because he knew the Yankees' claim was going to go down for the count.

"I think it was wise of them," Miller said "because neither the commissioner nor anybody else could sustain the claim. The claim was phony."

Meanwhile, in New York, Kuhn said: "I was advised this afternoon by George Steinbrenner that the Yankees were not going to press their claim regarding Andy Messersmith. As far as I am concerned, that closes the matter."

Steer victory marred by injury

MIDLAND — The thrill of Big Spring's fourth straight win in District 5-4A, a 10-5 victory over Midland Lee Saturday was dampened by an injury to Steer third-baseman Arthur Olague.

Olague's injury happened in the Steers' third inning rally. Box opened the inning with a walk. Dick Battle, the winning pitcher (5-1), walked. Lauffer, the starting and losing pitcher, was relieved by Schmidt. Olague sacrificed Box and Battle into scoring position and was safe at first on an error by the catcher, loading the bases.

With two outs Newsom hit a grounder to short that couldn't be handled by Richard allowing Box to score. Harris, one of Steers leading hitters in district play, started one up the middle to score Battle and Olague.

Olague started to slide, but then saw he didn't have to and tried to stop — and that's when he hurt his leg. According to Coach Larry Horton, Olague broke a small bone in his left ankle.

After play was resumed Pfeiffer and Warren walked to force in Newsom. Schmidt settled down after that and held Big Spring hitless until the last inning. Meanwhile the Rebels kept chipping away at the Steers' lead.

In their half of the third Lee cut the lead from 6-1 to 6-3. Howard singled, Huckaby walked and Neal hit a dyming quail to right. Pfeiffer misplayed it allowing Howard to score and Huckaby and Neal to take extra bases. Schmidt lofted a fly to Harris in center scoring Huckaby.

McMurtrey, who took Olague's place at third, was Big Spring's third baseman last year, but most of his playing time this year was at shortstop. He made an error in the fourth allowing Richard to get on. With two out Howard powdered one into right-center to score Richard.

Lee pulled to within one run when the Steers goofed up on defense. Richard singled to open the inning. Todd walked. Laughlin lined out to Warren. Howard bounced to Pat Carroll at short forcing Todd and allowing Richard to go to third.

Blistering stretch run gains standing ovation

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Kenyan Wilson Waigwa carried NCAA champion Texas-El Paso to a Texas Relays record in the four-mile relay Saturday with a blistering 3:58.6 mile anchor and Arizona State stole part of the show with a record-smashing sprint relay.

The all-Kenyan foursome of Joe Giasongeri, James Munyala, Frank Munene and Waigwa easily bettered the Relays' record of 16:22.1 set by Duke in 1973 with a time of 16:14.12.

It was the seventh fastest four-mile relay in history.

Arizona State flashed to a Relays record of 39.52 in the 440-yard relay, snapping the old mark of 39.7 by Texas A&M in 1970.

Arizona State also won the 880 relay. The crowd of 10,000 in Memorial Stadium gave Waigwa a standing ovation as he ran a final lap of 56.3 seconds and Kansas State finished a distant second.

Baseball to open on time

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a seemingly endless stream of labor and franchise complications, major league baseball opens this week, on time ... and perhaps just in time.

There were some people who didn't think the grand old game would make it through a hectic winter of courtroom and negotiating wars. And fans apparently had a stomach-ful of the legal wrangles that occupied much of the sport's time since last October.

But now you can forget the reserve rule and the renewal clause. Never mind the unsigned contracts and the free agents. Stick the tax lawyers and super-agents in a back room some place.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, and John Gaherin, chief labor negotiator for the owners, are still dueling over contract commas and clauses. But their debate, which delayed the start of spring training for 17 days, has moved underground. Center stage now belongs to the regular season, which begins Thursday.

Two games get things started.

Cincinnati hosts the traditional National League opener with a sellout crowd of more than 52,000 fans on hand at Riverfront Stadium for the game against Houston. Last year's opener drew 52,526, the largest in Reds' history.

CLOSE FINISH — Dean Wageman of Wichita State breaks the tape to win the 1500 meter run at the Texas Relays Saturday. Winning time was 3:47.11. Others in the order of finish are: John Muthsna, Bethel, second; Manfred Kohrs, Texas A&M, third; and Stan Vernon, Oklahoma, fourth.

Geiberger smashes Greensboro logjam

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Unassuming Al Geiberger ripped four strokes off par in a three-hole stretch, broke a massive logjam of players with a 65 and established a four-stroke lead Saturday in the third round of the $230,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The quiet, low-key Geiberger, one of seven men who shared the lead early in the mild, sunny day, romped away with the closely bunched field with his six-under-par effort that was built around the birdie-eagle-birdie beginning on the 13th hole.

The lanky 38-year-old veteran, whose revitalized career has produced three titles in the last 18 months, finished 54 holes with a 200 total, matching the best three-round score of the year on the tour and 13-under-par on the 6,643 yards of rolling hills and piny woods that make up the Sedgfield Country Club course.

When the day's activity started in almost ideal playing conditions, 15 men were locked within two strokes of each other at the top. When it was over, only Mike Hill and Miller Barber had the soft-spoken, shyly-smiling Geiberger still in States slipping in water events

LONG BEACH (AP) — As the 1976 Amateur Athletic Union swimming championships headed into the third day Saturday, it was becoming evident that the United States' recent dominance in the sport might be slipping.

The latest indication that the rest of the world was catching up with the United States' swimmers came Friday night when Hungarians swept the first three places in the 400-meter individual medley.

The winner, Zoltan Verraszto, set a world record of 4:26.00, prompting one American coach to say: "Well, I guess it's back to the drawing board."

Through Friday night, only 19-year-old Shirley Babashoff had carried the Americans to victory. A handful of Americans who were favored faltered; relative unknowns and foreigners were scoring unexpected victories.

Miss Babashoff captured the women's 400-meter and 200-meter freestyle events—the 200 Friday night in 2:02.54. She said, "I felt good. I could have gone faster. I tapered for about 10 days for this."

"I would have to go out in 58.5 for the first half to go under two minutes."

Miss Babashoff swam the first 100 in 1:00.43, and when she spoke of dipping under two minutes she was referring to her goal of smashing the world record of 2:02.27 held by East Germany's Kornelia Ender.

Meanwhile, Canadian Cheryl Gibson matched Miss Babashoff's two victories by taking the 200-meter backstroke and the 400-meter individual medley, the medley on Friday night in 4:57.20 for a Canadian national record. Other winners in this four-day meet,

Whitworth leads Shore

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth trimmed three strokes off par on the front nine Saturday for a 36, a 45-hole total of 175 and the early third-round lead in the $200,000 Dinah Shore Winner's Circle tournament.

Miss Whitworth birdied two par-five holes, the second and ninth, and added a birdie on the par-four seventh hole to move to the front of the pack Saturday at five under par on the 6,370-yard par-72 Mission Hills Country Club course.

She is the leading money winner on the tour eight times, six times the LPGA Player of the Year and twice The Associated Press Woman Athlete of the Year, but has never won the Dinah Shore Winner's Circle, now in its fifth year.

Tied for second place at three under after nine holes were Pam Higgins and Kathy McMullen. Miss Higgins shared the second-round lead at 140 with Jan Stephenson. Miss McMullen, the first round co-leader at 68 with Susie Berning, stayed in contention by trimming two strokes off par on the front nine.

Lakeview, Lincoln win

Coahoma 2nd and 3rd

COAHOMA — Coahoma's girl track teams came within one point of copping second place in both divisions of their own meet Friday, the Coahoma Relays, finishing third in the High School Division with 57 points and second in the Junior High Division with 84 points.

Coahoma won two events in the High School Division which saw eight records fall. Lakeview won the division with 82 points. Five teams were bunched together (with only eight points separating them) after Lakeview. Ballinger was second with 58 followed by Coahoma with 57, Colorado City with 56, Rankin with 52 and Greenwood with 50.

Lincoln won the Junior High Division with 91 points. Coahoma was second with 84 followed by McCamey 74, Big Lake 70, Crane 62, Greenwood 59, Snyder 43, Garden City 36 and Midland Optimist 7.

Coahoma's relay team of Rhonda Griffin, Karen Spears, Lana Thomas and Fay Fryar won the 1320-yard relay with a time of 3:19.1.

Linda Brito was second in the 80-yard hurdles with a time of 12.8. Coahoma's only other finisher in the top three was Denette Wright, third in the 880-yard run, with a time of 2:44.1.

The Bulldogs were weak in the field events and it cost them second place in the meet. The only points they got from these events were the ones Angela Dykes received for her fourth place finish in the high jump with a jump of four feet eight inches.

However, Wade of Ballinger won this event with a jump of four feet 10 inches, and that made up for the edge Coahoma had over it in the running events.

Besides Parks' first place finish in the 60-yard dash, Coahoma also had a fifth and sixth in this event. Howell edged Brito for fifth. The two were so close they were both clocked in 7.8.

There were six other meet records set besides the ones turned in by Phinney in the 440 and Greenwood in the mile relay. They were: Lo Ann Phillips of Lakeview (who set four altogether) in the 80-yard hurdles with a time of 10.9 in the prelims; Phillips in the 100-yard dash with a time of 11.6; Tipton of Cisco in the shot put and discus, with a toss of 43 feet 7 1/2 inches in the shot and 124 feet one inch in the discus; Phillips in the broad jump and triple jump with a jump of 18 feet 2 1/2 inches in the broad jump and 35 feet 2 1/2 inches in the triple jump.

A's — On MESA, Ariz. (AP) Owner Charles O. Finley's annual contract slugger Reggie Jack Ken Holtzman by Trk Baltimore. Horticulturist teaches year-round gardening

GARDENING EXPERT — Dr. William Peavy, area horticulturist from Fort Stockton, explained essentials to proper gardening during the Home Vegetable Garden Workshop held Friday in the Dora Roberts Fair Barn.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT — Men and women attending the Friday gardening workshop take notes and listen as Dr. Peavy explains how to construct a garden calendar to schedule planting and gardening activities.

Photos by Danny Valdes

ROTOTILLER INSPECTION — From left, Johnny Johansen, long-time parks worker; Ronnie Wood and Bruce Griffith, county extension agents, inspect one of the rototillers used in the Friday demonstration. Twelve rototiller manufacturers and their dealers were asked to help arrange for the use of their tiller in the performance test Thursday and for the demonstration and exhibition Friday. Antioch, Graveley, Mainline, Rotohoe and Honda acknowledged the invitation. Only Graveley, Honda and Massey Ferguson offered a company-owned tiller for demonstration. The Graveley is not a tiller but tills by rotary plow instead. An impartial committee of two from a local garden club evaluated each tiller after each was put through a series of tests including ease of handling and turning, ease of shifting gears, and change of tillage depth.

Dr. William Peavy, area horticulturist from Fort Stockton, assured persons attending the Home Vegetable Garden Workshop Friday that everyone can grow a garden. He went on to say that in a climate such as Big Spring's a garden can be active for 52 weeks a year.

The workshop and rototiller evaluation and demonstration was sponsored by the Howard County Extension Service. The meeting was held in the Dora Roberts Fair Barn.

WHY GARDEN?

Peavy listed various reasons why people garden. Gardening is a form of recreation to many. It improves physical and mental health and soothes emotions. Dr. Peavy said that home-grown food is fresher and better tasting. Home gardening saves money. Gardening offers a source of pollution control and has survival value.

Dr. Peavy stressed, "Don't garden unless you enjoy it or are forced to by your economic situation."

Early in the program, Dr. Peavy explained to the group that a gardener can't count water cost in total gardening expenditures. He said, "Everybody has a lawn. If you aren't watering a garden, you are watering a lawn."

Peavy cited a research project which compiled records from several gardens in Odessa and Fort Stockton. The research indicated that in a 1,000 square-foot garden $350 worth of groceries were raised.

GARDENING ESSENTIALS

To grow a garden successfully, Peavy listed several prerequisites. A gardener must pick the right spot for his garden, must improve the soil, must provide proper irrigation, must provide wind protection and must maintain weed control. He informed the participants that many brochures and fact sheets detailing the prerequisites are available at the Howard County Extension office located in the basement of the courthouse.

Peavy spent most of the afternoon showing and explaining various essentials to proper gardening.

He suggested that a gardener make a calendar for planting mounted on a large piece of cardboard. The calendar should have large date squares in which to schedule garden activities. A portion at the top can be used to mount monthly garden calendars for Southwest Texas, available at the County Extension office.

Peavy displayed a wire cage for tomatoes that protects the young seedling from wind damage. The cage also supports the tomato vine as it matures, holding tomatoes off the soil. Instructions for constructing the cages are available at the County Extension office.

Peavy suggested that a tomato seedling be transplanted only when it has four or five true leaves.

FERTILIZERS FOR WEST TEXAS

Dr. Peavy gave a detailed lecture on fertilizer adapted to the soil in West Texas. He said that the soil needs nitrogen and a little iron.

Fertilizer consists of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and other trace elements. Three numbers on the bag tell the gardener percentages of these elements that are contained in the fertilizer. A fertilizer with 16-20-0 is one of the best for this area.

Peavy said that sulphur can be used to lower the Ph of the West Texas soil. West Texas soil has a Ph of 8 while neutral soil is Ph 7.

For transplanting seedlings, Peavy said a fertilizer high in phosphorus can be used.

GARDEN DIARY RECOMMENDED

Dr. Peavy showed the group stakes he used to mark the garden rows with. He said numbering rows is essential in keeping records of the garden.

Peavy suggested that detailed records of planting, soil preparation, fertilizer or pesticide application, growth and other gardening activities be kept each year.

Seedlings can be grown on the windowsill to transplant later in the garden. Peavy outlined a basic windowsill garden using paper cups. The tray of cups should be enclosed in a plastic bag and placed on a heat source for 72 hours. The tray should be placed in a south window until ready to transplant.

The horticulturist said that a seed file is a good way to organize seeds to keep over a period of several years. The seed packet should be marked with the season and year purchased. Packets can be filed under a system dividing seeds into very early, early, middle and late gardens.

The entire seed file should be enclosed in plastic and stored in a refrigerator or deep freeze.

SOIL CONDITIONS

Dr. Peavy said that soil conditioners such as peat, cotton seed hulls, or shredded bark make the soil loose. He said sawdust should not be used because it will absorb all the nitrogen from the soil. Gin trash is not recommended as a soil conditioner.

Manure is the best soil conditioner, according to Peavy. He emphasized that dairy manure should be used before feedlot manure. Feedlot manure contains too much sodium which can pose problems in the garden.

A three-inch layer of manure should be placed over the rows to be cultivated. The best method of mixing the manure and soil is to rototill the strip of soil.

Peavy commented that he had found the slot method of gardening to be the most efficient. Rows of 18-24 inches are rototilled or spaded to be cultivated. About a foot of sod between each row is left as a walkway for the garden.

EFFICIENT IRRIGATION

Dr. Peavy closed the workshop with an account of the drip irrigation method. He cited figures that showed the drip irrigation method is the most efficient way to water. Using the drip method 95 per cent of water used reaches the plant. Sprinkling puts 75 per cent of the water into the soil. Watering by the furrow method is the least efficient of all. Only 50 per cent of the water used reaches the plants.

Peavy informed the group that two companies in the area stock drip irrigation components. Suppliers carrying the equipment are the Midland Wholesale Pipe Co. and Jim Lane Pipe Co. of San Angelo.

Peavy explained that emitters are placed in plastic pipe at regular intervals, usually 18 inches apart. The system runs on five pounds of water pressure. Each emitter releases one gallon of water per hour. The water spreads by capillary action. Emitters placed 18" apart in an 18" cultivated strip will produce a continuous strip of irrigated soil.

The horticulturist advised that the best method of watering by drip method is to water twice a week all night during the hottest part of the summer. In moderately hot weather, water once a week all night. The watering time is decreased as weather gets cooler.

Peavy said that some gardeners prefer to water an hour a day.

Following the close of the workshop, Dr. Peavy conducted demonstrations and evaluations of rototillers displayed by various companies.

Garden diseases, pests can be controlled with proper maintenance

Insect pests and diseases always plague the garden. Fort Stockton resident, Charles Neeb, area entomologist and R. George Philley, area plant pathologist, instructed gardeners Friday on methods to control insects and diseases at the Home Vegetable Garden Workshop.

Neeb remarked, "Everytime you plant a garden in West Texas, the mass of green looks very attractive to insects. There's just not much green elsewhere." He explained that about 10-20 different species of insects cause severe problems in the garden.

INSPECT PLANTS

Neeb encouraged gardeners to inspect plants frequently for pests and to become familiar with common pests in the area and the damage each does. He said it was best to check plants each day or at least twice weekly. Neeb said that a large population of pests can develop in a very short time.

He suggested the garden be kept free of weeds as well as the area around the garden. Weeds harbor insects.

Neeb listed some of the mechanical devices used to keep insects from the plant. He said that some people use cardboard collars at the base of plants to keep cutworms and larvae worms off. He said that beet leaf hoppers will not infest tomato plants if the plants are placed in partially shaded areas.

Neeb commented that some gardeners use a strip of aluminum foil down the middle of the row to reflect the sunlight which they believe will repel aphids.

INSECT CONTROL

The entomologist listed various methods used to control the insect population in the garden. He stressed that hand-picking some insects was the best method of control. He said that for areas of the state that have good water, gardeners can use a water spray to discourage insect infestation.

Neeb stated that the homeowner should only buy two or three chemical pesticides. He suggested such pesticides as Sevin, Malathion or Diazinon and Kelthane. Pesticides come in dust form, as wettable powder or in liquid form. He said liquid pesticides can burn easily.

COMMON PESTS

Neeb gave a detailed account of insects that plague West Texas gardens, especially in the Big Spring area. He said that a large population of grubs or cutworms may be due to a compost heap that has not been treated to remove them. Neeb suggested that the compost be treated with Diazinon or Malathion three to four weeks before planting.

Neeb reported that he had been using a product called five per cent Sevin bait to reduce sow bug population. He said that the chemical is not available in the area but can be purchased in San Antonio. He said that the address of the company would be available at the county extension office.

He suggested that sow bugs can be attracted by rolled up newspapers placed in the garden, by grapefruit and orange halves placed face down in the garden and by a mixture of Sevin and sugar water used to coat a board. He said that after the sow bugs gather on the newspaper, fruit and board they should be destroyed.

Neeb said that a sure sign that aphids are infesting plants is when ants move into the garden. The aphids suck on the plants to produce honey dew secretions which attract the ants. He said a chemical treatment of Malathion will kill them.

He suggested that spider mites can be reduced by a water spray or a treatment using Kelthane.

Neeb said that the squash bug was a troublesome insect in this area. He suggested that hand-picking is the best way to destroy the adults. He said that the eggs laid on the leaves of the plant can be rubbed off. He said that the nymph stage of the insect can be destroyed by dusting the base of the plants with Sevin.

Neeb reported to the group that a bacteria, bacillus thuringiensis, has been developed that is excellent for killing almost all worm larvae. It is effective in destroying tomato pin worms when ingested by the worms. He said the product is marketed under the trade names Dipel and Thuricide. The bacteria is non-toxic to humans and pets.

Neeb said that the best way to get rid of tomato horn worms is to hand-pick them.

The entomologist said sweet corn is sure to be attacked by the corn ear worm. He said the best treatment is to dust the silks with Sevin when they first appear. The silks should be dusted every three days at first, decreasing treatments as the silk grows.

INSECT PREDATORS

Neeb said that not all insects were harmful. Good predators include the praying mantis, the lady beetle, the lace wing fly, the orius bug, the wheat bug, the big-eyed bug, the damsel bug, the red cross beetle and spiders.

Neeb closed by listing safety procedures in using chemical pesticides. He said the chemicals must be handled with care even though most are not highly toxic. He encouraged gardeners to follow instructions on the label and to wear rubber gloves when spraying. Hands should be washed after treatment. Pesticides should be stored in a locked area that is dry and does not exceed 90 degrees. Gardeners should only buy as much pesticide as they will use in one season. It is best not to store pesticides in quantity.

PLANT DISEASES

Dr. Philley gave a lecture on diseases which affect plants. He said four types of disease attack plants.

He stated that there are few bacterial diseases in the average garden. He said that nematodes live in the soil and are almost always in the garden. Philley said the most common disease was from fungi which attack roots, wool, foliage and fruit. Virus is another type of disease which affects plants.

Fruit rot is a type of fungal disease. It is spread when fruit is allowed to lay on the soil and is cracked or has been permeated by an insect.

Most fruit rots can be controlled by a broad spectrum fungicide such as Maneb, Philley explained.

Philley said various wilts infect the vascular systems of plants. Conditions that foster wilt are poorly watered plants, poor soil drainage and plants under stress.

Philley stated that gardeners in this part of Texas have particular problems with powdery mildew on squash, cantaloupe, cucumber and crepe myrtle. He said a systemic fungicide such as Benlate will control powdery mildew.

Philley explained that three or four fungi cause damping off which is a disease that affects seedlings. The seedling shoots up and then falls over. Two ways to overcome damping off problems are to plant in warm soil (75-85 degrees) and in raised beds. A treatment of Captan may be used for a perennial problem of damping off.

Fungicide application for disease control must be of the proper type, properly timed and applied at the proper intervals. Philley said that all fungicides should be applied in a fine mist concentrated on new growth.

Philley said that once a plant has a bacterial disease not much can be done to get rid of it. The plant will usually live and produce.

The plant pathologist commented, "Once you have nematodes, don't worry how you got them, just fight them." He said most dicots are susceptible to nematodes.

He explained that galls form on the roots of the plant preventing efficient movement of water through the roots. To prevent the spread of nematodes the gardener should be careful about transplants, always checking for signs of nematodes. The best chemical to use on nematodes is Vapam.

Philley explained that viruses live in plant cells and are transmitted by insects. Weed control is the best method to control virus infection. Insect control is also recommended. Philley stated that some virus resistant seed varieties are marketed.

MR. AND MRS. A. G. MITCHELL

A. G. Mitchells honored by CAR

Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Mitchell were honored with a bicentennial salute during the 49th annual conference of the Texas Society, Children of the American Revolution in Austin March 19-21. CAR is sponsored by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Mitchells have ten grandchildren who are members of TSCAR.

Gold endowment pins which display a circle of 13 stars were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell during the Saturday evening banquet which was held in the Regency Room of the Villa Capri Motel. Lee Moore of San Jacinto Society, Houston, Texas made the presentation on behalf of Texas Society CAR as a recognition of the Mitchells' continued support of young people who are "striving to create a deeper love of country, a loyal respect for this nation's constitution, and reverence for its flag."

Mrs. Mitchell was also thanked for providing the conference with a beautiful handmade Betsy Ross flag which measured six feet by eight feet and provided a special tribute to our nation's 200th birthday celebration.

Women met in the home of Mrs. Jack McKinnon. Mrs. Soles and Mrs. Evans showed the women how to save energy by cooking a cake in an electric skillet. They also gave examples of other appliances that could be used to save energy.

Women answered the roll call by telling ways energy is wasted and saved. Mrs. Evelyn Ridley was welcomed as a guest. Mrs. Vicky Bloodworth was introduced as a new member.

An all-day meeting will begin at 9:15 a.m. on April 15 in the Forsan Community Center. Mrs. John Riffe will be the hostess. Members are to bring covered dishes to share during the noon meal.

Day-Coy wedding solemnized Friday

Mrs. Darlia Day and David Coy were wed in a Friday evening ceremony held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton L. Carlile of 1204 Lloyd Avenue. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Coy of Snyder. Chaplin Lee Butler officiated at the wedding. The bride was attired in a formal-length dress of candlelight organza over matching lining. The gown was styled with an empire waist and smocked bodice. A lace ruffle marked the scooped neckline. Sheer scarf sleeves were edged with lace. Lace bands accented the gathered skirt. A tie sash was featured in back. The bride carried a spring bouquet accented with gypsophila and ivy. Ms. Kathy Hopper was the honor attendant for the bride. Allen Carlile, brother of the bride, served as best man. Stacy LaNell Day, daughter of the bride, was flower girl. A reception following the ceremony honored the new-lyweds. Mrs. Johnnie Morrison and Mrs. Lynn Winters served refreshments to the guests. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School. She is employed by the education department of the Big Spring State Hospital. Coy graduated from Snyder High School and served three years in the United States Air Force. He is employed by Furr Food Inc. as a butcher. The couple will be at home at 804 E. 14th.

BSHS sponsors Tech choir, Easter assembly this week

Big Spring High School will sponsor two great events during the week that the public is urged to attend. The music department of Texas Tech University will present the Tech Choir in concert with Gene Kenney, conductor, Monday in the BSHS auditorium. Admission is free and the public is invited.

On Friday at 9:30 a.m. the High School Bible Club will present the annual Easter assembly also in the high school auditorium.

Palm Sunday music will be presented April 11 in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church, 4th and Scurry. The service is open to the public.

During the first half of the presentation, the 50-voice chancel choir will perform the cantata, "Christ Lay In Death's Dark Prison," by J. S. Bach. According to experts there is no greater Bach than this cantata. Each of the seven numbers is considered a masterpiece.

The second half of the service will be "God's Trombones" by Roy Ringwald. This highly dramatic, and very exciting cantata shows the unique and preeminent place of the Negro spiritual in American religious folk art. A 25-piece orchestra of local and out-of-town musicians will accompany the choir.

The Permian Civic Ballet Association will present a topnotch and triple featured "Spring Gala - Bicentennial" as its final exciting offering of the season at Midland High School, Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

The first feature is the advent to a Midland stage of Miss Violette Verdy, a long-standing superstar of the New York City Ballet.

The second feature is the production of Act II of Giselle, one of the earliest and most famous of the Romantic ballets. This is the first time it will be seen in this part of the country.

The third feature will honor the Bicentennial with the fourth movement, a pas de deux danced to John Phillip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes" with choreography

Medicine caps still available

"Old fashioned" medicine caps are still available for people who have difficulty opening the new child-proof caps, says Mrs. Vivian Blair, a family life education specialist, Texas A&M University System.

"Safety caps are valuable — but arthritic hands and poor eyesight are two conditions which contribute to difficulty in opening them," she noted.

She explained that exceptions can be made under the Poison Prevention Packaging Act.

"If you or your physician direct that a prescription be filled in a package fitted with a conventional closure, the prescription may be packaged that way."

by the incomparable George Balanchine, famed director of the New York City Ballet.

Single tickets for the gala will be available for those unable to purchase season tickets earlier, at the box office. Adults are $5 and students are $2.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary School Parents' Club will hold its annual mall show Friday and Saturday at Highland South.

The sale will include antiques, arts and crafts, baked goods and other items. Anyone desiring to rent a space at the show is asked to contact Mrs. George Wilson, 435 Hillside or call 263-8126.

The Heritage Museum has opened an exciting exhibit of "Early Day Churches in Howard County." The exhibit features a series of paintings and photos of early places of worship in this area.

The Permian Playhouse is just one of a number of fine community theaters helping to bring live, current performances to West Texas.

The Permian Playhouse, with a season membership roll of over 3,000, keeps interest rolling among subscribers with a constant effort to bring in fresh ideas and volunteers.

They have a continuing children's theater program with a troupe of performing youngsters called the Kaleidoscope Company. In the same vein, college students receive discounts on tickets.

Lorene Leslie, public relations director at PPH says, "Community theater should appeal to all types. You'll see people attired in blue jeans to business suits and all ages at our performances."

The Playhouse, with a 475-seat house, tries to vary its repertory during the year, with one musical, two comedies and two dramas offered for the regular season.

The official stagehand organization holds regular planning, social and awards meetings. They provide a means for people to become involved in the workings of the theater. Board members take an active role by chairing specific duties, such as publicity, production and talent recruiting.

ROYAL SMILE — Queen Alia of Jordan and Dr. Sheldon Hackney, Tulane president, screen written questions from students at Tulane University prior to King Hussein's question-and-answer session Friday. The King and Queen of Jordan visited New Orleans while on a tour of the United States.

Sharon Brooks to marry Billy Shofner

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brooks of Hart announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sharon, to Billy Shofner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clebern Shofner of Lamesa.

The couple will exchange wedding vows June 5 at the First Baptist Church in Hart. Miss Brooks is a graduate of Hart High School and West Texas State University where she received her bachelor of business administration degree. She is presently teaching in the Hart school system.

Shofner is a graduate of Klondike High School and Texas Tech where he received a BS in agriculture. He is now engaged in farming near Lamesa.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I would like to share this super tip with all the dieters! Heretofore, when I sat down to eat my meal, I was so hungry that I just "gobbled or inhaled" it down in five minutes.

It was suggested that I place a mirror at the table and watch myself eat, chewing each bite ten times. But I most certainly didn't want to watch myself chew. Then I had a brainstorm!

I purchased a pair of chopsticks and now... it takes me half an hour to clear my plate. Everyone watches me!

At first I was a novice and I must have put on a good show, but hunger will make you an expert in no time. If you don't believe it, try picking up pea by pea in a mixed vegetable dish! But it works—you do not eat fast!

After a slow meal, someone remarked, "No wonder you never see a fat Oriental!"

One thing though, before you begin to eat, cut all your meat in bite-sized pieces.

Nida
Others may laugh, but I'll bet my bottom dollar this would work—at least for awhile. Be worth a try... Anyway, it sure is something different from the ordinary diet suggestions. Thanks, pal.

Dear Heloise: I want to share with you a great idea that I got from a friend—who shared it with me.

It is a marvelous dip for hors d'oeuvres that is so easy to make, you will be flabbergasted. It can be used on all kinds of raw vegetables such as celery, carrots, cauliflower, cucumbers, etc.

To make the dip, simply mix mayonnaise with some curry powder. Add enough to suit your taste—until it is a mustard yellow color.

That is all there is to it, but it is most unique and tasty. I have received more compliments on this. Just try it... You will go crazy!

Ponce
I did, and I did! It is unique! And so are you.

Dear Heloise: LETTER OF LOVE

Dear Heloise: Thank you for our daily cup of encouragement.

Polly B.
And thank you for mine.

Dear Heloise: I hate to waste thread when altering a hem of a new garment, but it always seems to come out "zig-zag" and is so difficult to handle.

While taking out a hem at my ironing board one day, I ran the thread under my warm iron (as you might do a ribbon) and it straightened out fine.

I wound the thread around an empty spool and reused it in putting back the hem.

In this way, you always have a "match" without having to run out and buy more thread.

Anita Ware

Dear Heloise: To prevent the top back edge of the couch from marring the wall behind it, I screwed four rubber-tipped door stops into the back bottom edge of the couch. This keeps the couch a half inch or so away from the wall.

By screwing the stops into the couch instead of into the baseboard, the room can be rearranged at any time without worrying about scuffing the wall paint behind it.

Carleton Lyon

Dear Heloise: When processing vegetables or any other food that requires cooking in a water bath, your jars become coated with a white substance.

This doesn't show off your product very much or look too appetizing.

Put a tablespoon or two of vinegar in the water bath before you put the jars into cook, and they come out as sparkling as when you put them in.

Mrs. O.

True.

Dear Heloise: THIS COLUMN is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Miss Karen Jo Thomas and Pat Allen Cauley solemnized their wedding vows in a Saturday afternoon ceremony held in the Paramount Christian Church, Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Thomas of 2907 Goliad, Big Spring. Cauley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cauley of Amarillo.

The Rev. Roy Wheeler read the ceremony before an altar enhanced with arrangements of white gladioli in white urns and branched candelabra entwined with greenery. Doug Hinkle, organist, and Ms. Kim Andrews, vocalist, provided nuptial selections during the ceremony.

The bride chose to wear a formal-length gown of white voile over bridal lining. The bodice was designed with a modified sailor collar edged in Venice lace. Matching lace trimmed the full bishop sleeves. The exaggerated A-line skirt and the attached train were accented with double rows of Venice lace. Her veil of illusion was chapel length with lace accents. She carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses, daisies and gypsophila.

Miss Tammy Thomas of Big Spring attended her sister as maid of honor. Ms. Jan Tilson of Alpine was the bridal attendant.

Paul Cauley, brother of the groom, acted as best man with Richard Johnson of Granberry as groomsman. Ushers were Max Bird of Irving and Richard Whipple of Amarillo.

Prior to a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N.M. the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the church fellowship hall. Mrs. Max Bird registered guests. Mrs. Dick Humphrey, Mrs. Rick Chambers and Mrs. Paul Cauley assisted at the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Odessa High School, Odessa College and Amarillo College. She is a dental hygienist in the office of Dr. John Curry and Dr. H.P. Cassida of Amarillo.

Cauley is a graduate of Tascosa High School in Amarillo. He is associated with American National Insurance Co. of Amarillo.

Spring City ABWA to award scholarships

The American Business Women Association's (ABWA) annual observance of May as ABWA Scholarship Month assumes a special significance in this Bicentennial year. The association's scholarship program has been recognized as an official Bicentennial project by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

Mayor Wade Choate has issued a proclamation declaring May as ABWA Scholarship Month in the city of Big Spring. In his statement he salutes the association "... for its efforts toward opening even wider the doors of educational opportunity, and developing an informed and responsible citizenry."

Last year ABWA allocated over $700,000 in scholarships through various local chapter scholarship programs throughout the country. An additional $150,000 was awarded in grants and interest free loans from the national educational fund which is administered by the association's national officers.

Ms. Marjorie Jordan, education chairman of Spring City chapter, reports the chapter has funded local scholarship awards totaling $2200.

In tribute to the Bicentennial, nationally, ABWA is awarding two special Bicentennial Fellowships. The fields of agriculture and urban planning were chosen for their significance in America's past, present, and future. Miss Sherry Stauffer, a graduate in agriculture economics at the Ohio State University, Columbus, is the recipient of ABWA's $1776.00 Bicentennial Fellowship for Agriculture. A $1976.00 Bicentennial Fellowship for Urban Planning is being awarded to Ms. Maribeth Sandler, a graduate student at the University of Colorado-Denver.

Several new members were enrolled in the Cactus chapter, American Business Women's Association following the enrollment event held last week.

New members are Mrs. Vonna Lee Cederberg, Mrs. Essie Jackson, Mrs. Laura Erhardt and Mrs. Yvonne Miller.

Violet disease, pest control studied by garden club

The control of diseases and pests that affect African violets was the topic of the program for the Thursday evening meeting of the Texas Star African Violet Club.

Ms. Fannie Wilkinson was the hostess for the meeting. Mrs. Paul Guy presided.

Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales announced the theme of the program. Mrs. Cass Hill lectured on the pests and diseases which afflict African violets.

Mrs. Hill said that diseases, organisms and insect pests are usually of little consequence unless these are introduced from an outside source. She suggested that new plants be kept separate from the healthy plant collection for at least a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Hill warned the women to be careful of contaminating violets from outside sources such as cut flowers and potted plants which may harbor insects harmful to the violet. If these infested plants are brought into the same room an insect epidemic may begin.

Mrs. Hill commented that the symptoms of certain diseases or pest infestations often closely resemble the symptoms of very different problems. She said that the utmost care should be taken to correctly diagnose a problem.

Only a few pests are really detrimental to African violets. Ms. Hill said that a large infestation of any one of them can wreak havoc through a violet collection if not checked.

She suggested several ways to prevent pest infestation. Use only sterilized soil for repotting violets. An occasional spraying with Kelthane, Malathion or a specially formulated African violet pesticide is good insurance against an infestation of mites, the violet's worst enemy.

Mrs. Hill explained that two types of poison can be used on African violets. A water soluble pesticide is sprayed onto the plants in a fine mist. A systemic poison is applied to the soil in the pot. Green Light Systemic, Isotox and Cygon 2E are some of the recommended systemic poisons.

Workshop set Monday in Colorado City

Area residents are invited to attend an educational program on home gardening, Monday. The meeting will be held at the C. C. Thompson Room of City National Bank, beginning at 1:30 p.m., in Colorado City.

Sam D. Cotner, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be the speaker. He is currently serving as chairman of the Home Gardening Task Force which disseminates information on gardening throughout Texas.

In addition to working in all aspects of the Extension vegetable program, Mr. Cotner gives special emphasis to weed control, fertilization, and approved marketing practices for vegetable production. A question and answer period will follow his presentation.

Educational programs conducted by TAEX serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Republican women meet

West Texas Republican Women met in the home of Mrs. Louise McAdams for their monthly luncheon at noon Thursday.

During a business session conducted by Mrs. Walter Wheat, the group heard a report on a recent fund-raising luncheon. They heard a report on the Texas primaries for Winston Wrinkle and Bill Sheppard. The club voted to donate $25 to Mrs. Carol Hunter for help in her campaign for the school board.

A report was heard on proposed legislation concerning estate taxes for widows. Twenty-one persons attended the meeting.

MCT slates 'Yankee Doodle'

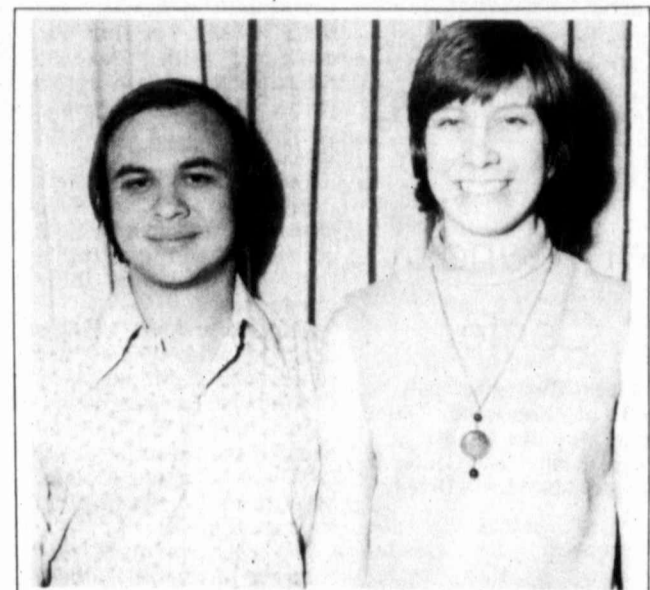

The Midland Community Theatre Pickwick Players' spring production, "Yankee Doodle," offers people of all ages a joyous chance to celebrate our country's bicentennial.

"Yankee Doodle" is a rousing musical salute to the creativity and ingenuity of the men and women who helped shape and build America. Written by Aurand Harris, (one of the most frequently produced playwrights for children in the U.S.), it presents a fascinating panorama of history, sung, danced, acted and mimed with the polished theatrical style of an old-time vaudeville revue.

This exuberant parade of highlights from 200 years of American history proves constantly entertaining and intriguing through a skillful blend of the known and the new in our heritage.

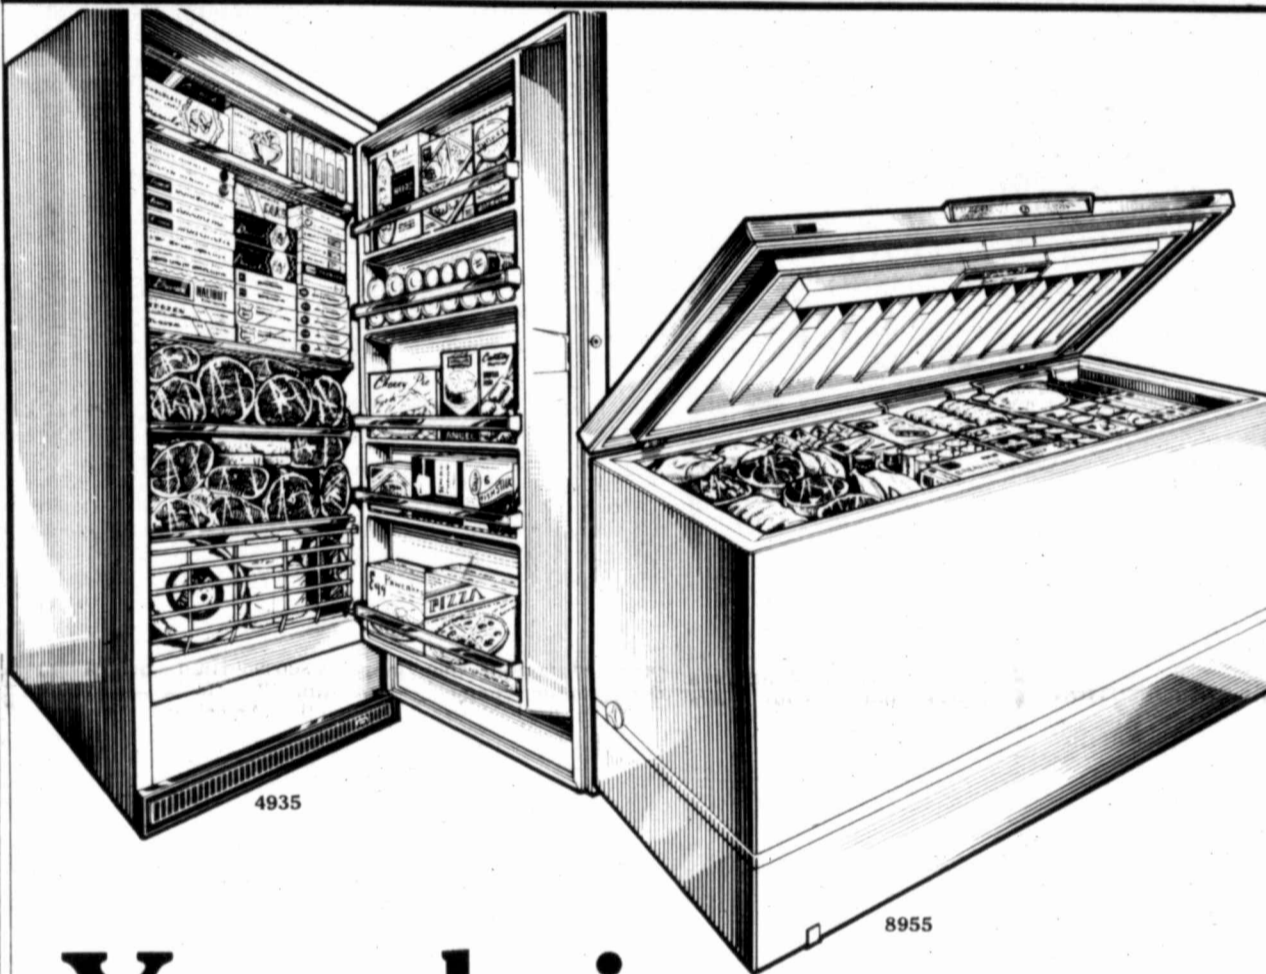

"Yankee Doodle" will play two public performances at Midland Community Theatre on April 10 and 11 at 2:30 each day. Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children. Reservations may be made by calling the box office at 682-2544.

Crown rot, root rot, mildew and botrytis petiole are the most common fungi diseases. Terraclor, a soil fungicide, will control most soil fungi diseases. Other products which can be used include Fermate and Phaltan. Mrs. Hill suggested that a light dusting with sulphur will take care of most fungi problems on the plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Newbold of Midland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pamela Jo, to John Earl Johansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johansen of Big Spring. The couple plans a June 19 wedding in the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Midland.

Couple marries in Austin church

The University Baptist Church in Austin was the setting of the Saturday afternoon wedding of Ms. Judy Ann Abbe and Robert Martin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Abbe of 404 Hillside, Big Spring. Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martin of Austin, formerly of Canal Zone, Panama.

The Rev. George V. Clark, minister of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Austin, read the ceremony. The altar was decorated with branched candelabra and two potted palms. The church organist provided wedding music for the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a formal-length slate blue dress. She carried a bouquet of daisies and gypsophila tied with slate blue streamers.

Ms. Denise Abbe was the honor attendant for her sister. John Martin served as the best man for his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were honored at a reception at the La Plaza Apartments clubhouse prior to a wedding trip to Corpus Christi.

The couple will make their home in Austin where both are employed.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and will graduate from the University of Texas in July with a psychology degree. She is employed by the Rehabilitation Commission.

Martin is a student at Austin Community College and is co-owner of Southwest Dental Studio.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — The children of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hanson of Lamesa invite the couple's friends and relatives to attend an open house reception in honor of the Hanson's 50th wedding anniversary. The reception will be held from 2-5 p.m. today in the Northridge United Methodist Church, 2612 N. Lubbock Road, Lamesa.

Members of duets or quartets that would like to participate may call Marshall Brown at 267-5839.

J.H. Eastham will be the master of ceremonies.

The public is invited to the free songfest.

Prospective members Busy Bee Hobby Club meet Thursday

Women interested in joining a chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will attend the preferential tea sponsored by the BSP City Council from 2-3:30 p.m. today in the First Federal Community Room.

BSP City Council members made final plans for the tea at the Thursday evening meeting held in the Community Room.

They also discussed arrangements for the Founder's Day banquet on April 22 in the Officers' Open Mess, Webb Air Force Base.

They confirmed that pledge ritual will be held for all BSP chapters on April 19 in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Officers were elected at the Thursday meeting. Mrs. Jeannie Cunningham of Xi Pi Epsilon was elected as president with Mrs. Suzanne Haney of Mu Zeta as vice president.

Secretaries elected were Mrs. Lou LaRoche of Alpha Kappa Omicron, recording, and Mrs. Jeanne Gafford of Alpha Beta Omicron, corresponding.

Mrs. Normal Freison of

Beta Omicron was elected treasurer. Officers will be installed at the May 6 meeting in the Community Room.

Women discussed plans to attend the hobby show in Odessa. Members will attend the show on April 24 if their plans materialize.

A covered dish luncheon was served.

The Busy Bee Hobby Club meets each Thursday at 10 a.m. to learn old and new hobbies.

Clothes are clues to personality

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — You could get a pretty good idea of an individual's personality merely by observing the clothes he wears for a month, says a professor studying habits of dress.

"I think clothing is a very good means of communication. But if you take one look at a person you may read him wrong. You have to look over a time," Dr. Mary Lou Rosencranz said in an interview.

People must be observed in a variety of settings for a person to get an accurate impression, says the University of Connecticut author of "Clothing Concepts: A Social-Psychological Approach."

Many people don't realize how much they use clothing to communicate with others, says Dr. Rosencranz. People who dress as others in their group may be saying they want to be accepted, while those whose clothing doesn't conform may be asserting their individuality, she says.

A person dressing for a job interview usually takes a conservative approach, she says, "because you're trying to communicate that you're serious-minded."

A young girl, preparing for her first date, might overdo her makeup and wear more mature clothes to present a picture of sophistication to her escort, Dr. Rosencranz says.

"Clothing in first impression is quite important and people do give thought to this," she adds.

Dr. Rosencranz says psychological factors play a key role in how a person dresses.

"Several studies document that extroverted people like brighter colors, the warmer colors," such as red, orange and yellow, she says. Studies show introverted people tend to favor cooler colors, such as blue, green and purple, she adds.

"Some studies have shown that people who are outgoing wear bolder patterns and inhibited people choose smaller patterns," says Dr. Rosencranz, who is teaching an undergraduate course on "Clothing and Human Behavior."

Dressing habits might also indicate the mental health of a person, she says.

"People who wear very bizarre, strange things usually have some kind of problem." When people improve their sloppy manner of dress, "this is usually a sign that their self-concept is improving."

The current trend toward jewelry and brighter colors in men's fashions is a sign of male sexual security, she says. "It also means they're following a fashion trend. Other people are doing this."

One clear message conveyed by clothing was that of the hippies during the 1960s, says Dr. Rosencranz. They deliberately dressed in different style from their parents to show they didn't believe the same things, she says.

"Sometimes it's difficult to get a message but that was a pretty clear message."

degrees for three consecutive days.

3. Divide and transplant day lilies. Cut foliage back in a fan shape 4-6" from the crown.

4. After bulbs bloom leave foliage until it dies to the ground.

5. Plant chrysanthemums now for fall color.

Shrubs and Trees 1. Watch for powdery mildew (mainly on roses and lilac) and control with Phaltan or Karathane.

2. Pecan trees - Apply first zinc spray when leaves are small using 1/2 oz. zinc sulfate (1 tablespoon) plus 1 tablespoon of a nitrogen-bearing fertilizer per gallon of water.

Flowers 1. Transplant the annual flowers you started indoors in March or buy started plants.

2. Plant caladium tubers in a shaded area soon as average soil temperature at a 3" depth is at least 70 complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10 (10 pounds of 10-10-10 contains 1 pound of actual nitrogen).

2. Plant fescue this month (not Bermuda; plant it in June).

Pest Management

1. April is the month lawn and garden insects begin to get active. Check your plants once or twice a week for infestations.

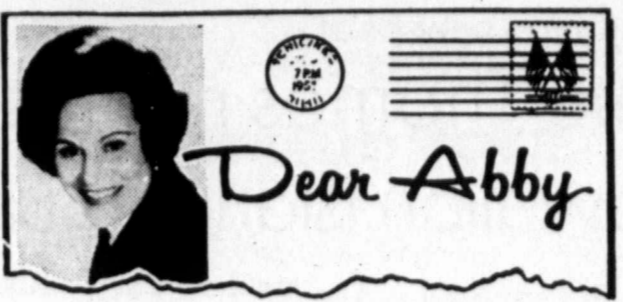

2. The two basic approaches to pest management so the pests don't get the best of you are (1) chemical, (2) non-chemical and (3) integrated (biological or other control at first, then if it fails, use chemical control).

3. Nearly all scientific evidence on pest control is based on the chemical method suggested by Entomologist Charles Neeb.

Aphids - Likely to bother tender young growth on plants. Can be controlled on most plants with Malathion or Diazinon (see label for rates and follow directions carefully).

Euonymus scale - Check shrubs such as euonymous for scale on all parts of plant. If found, control by spraying with Cygon or Diazinon added to a summer oil spray.

Peaches and plums - Continue spray program begun in March (see your county extension agent for copies of this program).

Mom afraid feminist won't catch her man

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. My beautiful 24-year-old daughter is ruining her life. She refuses to listen to me because she thinks that I'm old-fashioned.

DEAR MOTHER: I know you mean well, but there is nothing you can do to help your daughter get a man. Let her be herself, and one of the days she will find a man who likes an aggressive, honest girl who doesn't play games.

DEAR ABBY: My love (whom we'll call "Janis") is half my age, has somewhat of a past, but says things like, "We should always be honest with each other."

DEAR PETE: In light of her "we should always be honest to each other" preachment, confront her. And then drop her - unless you want a "love" with a lying mouth.

DEAR ABBY: A big THANK YOU for asking your readers to be a little more patient with deaf people. So many of us are treated as though we were imbeciles.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROGER: People who live in glass houses shouldn't get stoned. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Rebekahs drape charter in service

Members of the Rebekah Lodge 284 participated in a Tuesday evening candlelight service to drape the charter for Mrs. Willie Mae Harrison.

The ceremony was held in the IOOF Hall with Mrs. Lila Holland presiding as noble grand. Mrs. Lola Cockerham presided as chaplain.

Mrs. Sarah Griffith read a resolution of sympathy for Mrs. Harrison. The charter was draped by Mrs. Gladys Sudberry, conductor, and Mrs. June Wiggins, warden.

Ladies assisting in the service were Mrs. Sherri Wilson, Mrs. Corynne Cunningham, Mrs. Dottie Adcock, Mrs. Jewel Awtry, Mrs. Sue Nelson and Mrs. Jean Melton.

The resolution committee consisted of Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Melton and Mrs. Rosalee Hill.

Mrs. Pete Thomas returns from Hawaiian Islands tour

By FAYE ROBY

Mrs. Pete Thomas returned this week from a thirteen-day tour of Hawaii.

The group of 42 persons, escorted by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moody of Lamesa, began their air trip in Lubbock. The tour group visited the four islands of Hawaii, Maui, Kauai, and Oahu. They enjoyed sight-seeing excursions by bus, a boat ride down a moonlit river on the island of Kauai, and a visit to "Little Grand Canyon," also on the island of Kauai. Kauai is known as the flower island.

Pineapple and sugar cane harvests were in progress on the islands and Mrs. Thomas said the sugar cane harvest was especially impressive to her.

Also impressive was the island people's hospitality. In Mrs. Thomas' words, "they were grand."

The Moodys will be conducting a tour to the Caribbean in April and a Holy Land tour in June.

Congratulations are in order for the four young ladies from the Coahoma-Sand Springs area who took the four top honors in the Little Miss Pageant conducted in Big Spring.

The girls and their talents are: Toni Hale, 15, tap dancing, 1st place; Rhonda Griffin, 14, twirling routine, runner-up; Carmen Holman, 13, acrobatics, Jr. Miss; Cassie Aberegg, 11, acrobatics, Little Miss.

East Howard County Senior Center members will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church of Sand Springs.

Parents, it's time to file transfer applications. The forms are available at all principals' offices and the deadline for filing is May 1.

Absentee voting was reported to be light in the school trustee race.

Lowell Brown traveled to Cisco Friday to be with his father, Melvin Brown. The elder Mr. Brown is in the intensive care unit of Cisco Hospital.

Sand Springs welcomes two new families to our area.

Nort Ficus of Clyde has recently moved to Sand Springs and opened an extension of his drilling company on the north service road.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunn of Abilene accompanied Ficus in the move to Sand Springs. Mr. Gunn is a tool pusher for Ficus Drilling. The Gunns have three children.

SUMMER WEDDING
— Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Spraberry of Patricia announce the engagement and upcoming marriage of their daughter, Sherry Lou, of Lubbock, to David Michael Workman of Brownfield. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Workman of Stanton. Miss Spraberry and Workman plan a June 5 wedding in the Klondike Baptist Church. The Rev. A. E. Burns will perform the ceremony.

Local girl elected FHA secretary

Denise Crenwelge of Big Spring was recently elected Area II secretary for the Future Homemakers of America at the area meeting in Midland. She will also attend the state meeting in Fort Worth April 22-24. Several members of the local chapter attended Career Day at Texas Tech University in Lubbock Friday. Those who attended were the members who actively participated in FHA activities during the year.

After a tour of the home economics department at Tech, the students had lunch on campus, shopped at the South Plains Mall and attended a dinner at the Hayloft Theater.

The week starting today is national FHA week. This is designated to focus attention on the organization. During the week, FHAers are asked to spend a little more time with their families and friends and to interpret to the community what FHA is doing.

In recent years, the FHA organization has realized that the father and husband plays a big part in the making of a home. Guys have been able to join for a couple years, but they really joined in this year.

visited his mother, Gladys Martin, in Durant, Okla., during the school spring break and were successful in bagging their limit of crappie.

Coahoma students and teachers gave enthusiastic reports of the concert performed by the Navy Band from California in the high school auditorium, Thursday.

Mrs. T.A. Bartlett and son, Dick, have been visiting relatives in Sapulpa, Okla.

Coahoma hosted a junior high boys and girls track meet Friday, while the high school boys' track team traveled to San Angelo to compete.

The Rev. and Mrs. L.G. Petnecky, former pastor of Coahoma Presbyterian Church, visited in the home of Mrs. Pete Thomas this week. The Petneckys of San Saba were here for the funeral of Mrs. Betty Lovelace Copeland.

Sand Springs Lion Club will meet 6 p.m., April 5, at the Fina Truck Stop Restaurant.

The youth of Sand Springs Church of Christ will attend a youth rally in Brownwood, April 10.

The Rev. and Mrs. Brogden and Mr. and Mrs. Brice Wilborn will accompany them.

Usually when people go to a sale they bring home more than they left with. Not so when the James Banks visited a car show and swap meet in New Mexico last weekend. The Banks came home minus their CB radio and three license tag stickers.

Cagney turns to verse, painting, autobiography

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The contradictory nature of James Cagney — dynamic on the screen, reclusive off — comes through perfectly clear in his reluctantly written autobiography. Even the title embarrasses him: "Cagney by Cagney."

"How's that for a fatheaded title?" he comments in his apology for writing his life story. The reason, he explains, is a friend's advice: "Somebody else is going to do the job if you don't — and you won't like it."

Ballet pulling visitors to San Antonio in June

SAN ANTONIO — Visitors from across the state and from Mexico are expected to attend the three-day ballet festival, "The Joffrey in San Antonio," June 10-12 at the Theatre for the Performing Arts.

The event is being sponsored by the Arts Council of San Antonio.

This non-profit sponsorship, together with support from the Texas Commission on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities, makes it possible for San Antonio to have the first appearance of films he mauled Mae Clarke and Jean Harlow and gunned down fellow hoods by the dozens. In his self-imposed retirement he paints still life and writes verse. And he scarcely has a harsh word for anyone.

An exception is actor Horst Buchholz, who appeared in Cagney's last film, "One, Two, Three" (1961). Cagney writes that the German "tried all kinds of scene-stealing diodes, and I had to depend on (director) Billy Wilder to take some steps to correct this kid. If Billy hadn't, I was going to knock Buchholz on his ass, which at several points I would have been very happy to do."

Almost everyone else is fine in Jimmy's book. The worst he can write about Humphrey Bogart is that Bogie picked his nose.

Cagney was impressed by the acting skill of Doris Day when they appeared together in "Love Me or Leave Me" (1955). Afterward, he writes, "Doris went into the 'Pillow Talk' things and I for one have always considered that one hell of a waste."

There was a brief problem with the Dead End Kids during "Angels with Dirty Faces" (1938). Leo Gorcey tossed in an ad lib that destroyed the rhythm of the scene. Cagney gave Gorcey a stiff arm above the nose, bouncing his head against another kid.

Cagney said, "Now listen here, we've got some work to do, so let's have none of this g-d-- nonsense. When we get on, we're pros — we're doing the job we're asked to do. Understood?"

Library 'eggs on' more exhibitors

By JAN STEPHENSON
CHILDREN'S LIBRARIAN

Egg collections are the feature this month in the library exhibit case.

One case holds Pisanki or Polish Easter eggs made by the Harold Talbot Family.

These decorated Easter eggs are a form of Polish folk art dating back to early Polish history, and an art which is still alive today in Poland (and Big Spring).

The other case contains the handwork of Mamie L. Dodds. A variety of decorated eggs are in this collection — sugar eggs, lace eggs and a balloon crepe paper egg. Also displayed are glass and alabaster eggs.

There are many other collections of wide interest in the homes of Big Spring residents.

If you would like to put your collection on display in the library for the pleasure of others, please call the Library at 267-5295 and leave your name and description of your collection with Jan Stephenson.

Then, if it is suitable and space permits, your collection will be exhibited in the library.

Underground store formerly 'gold mine'

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Ajax, now a ghost town, once boasted the most unusual mercantile store in the west.

William Ajax founded this settlement in 1872 near the town of Tooele, southwest of Salt Lake City. He went to work digging a store which in its heyday was said to have a larger daily sales volume than any store in Salt Lake City. The 11,000-square-foot store, according to the National Automobile Club, was completely subterranean and had a 15-foot ceiling, alcoves and a mezzanine floor.

'America' plans 'Sunday break'

America, Peter Frampton and Santana, along with other special guest artists soon to be announced, will headline a day-long outdoor show in Austin, on Sunday, May 2.

Billed as "The Sunday Break," the event will be held on 130 acres of grassy fields two miles from the UT campus.

The site is opposite the Highland Mall shopping center at the intersection of Highway 290 and IS-35 in Austin.

The show begins at 11 a.m., and ends at dusk. This will be Peter Frampton and Santana's only appearance in Texas this season.

Tickets for the Sunday outdoor show are priced at $10.00 general admission.

For mail order, send cashiers check or money order to Mayday Productions, P. O. Box 15207, Austin, Texas 78761. Please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Tickets are $12.00 at the gate.

'Flagstaff and Vine' missed the movies

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS has a mildly enjoyable, easily forgettable special on tap Monday. It's "Dick Cavett's Backlot U.S.A.," and is a visit to Paramount, with music and much chat about Hollywood's golden era.

Cavett, who approaches the Province of Ham with an hour's supply of wry comments, starts by taking us on a helicopter tour of a place he insists is "the movie capital of the world — Flagstaff, Ariz."

"There's the Flagstaff Bowl," he says, as we see what appears to be the Hollywood Bowl, "and down there's the corner of Flagstaff and Vine." Of course he's only kidding.

He explains that two film pioneers, Cecil B. De Mille and Jesse Lasky, originally planned to start the film business in Flagstaff.
