We got a first-hand account of how the Friona State Bank's new night deposit system operates this past week, and believe you me, it really works. When you put something down that slot it is really safe -- so safe to be sure that at times it is rather difficult for anyone to get at it.

Charles Allen was showing us how the night depository worked Monday morning and we stood outside and during the conversation Charles dropped an envelope down the slide to show us how, and what, happened when it got inside the bank.

We walked on into the building and as we walked up to the safe where the deposits come inside the bank a blank look came over Charles' face. I laughed at him at the way he stopped up so short and asked laughingly if he had lost the combination to the safe. You guessed it!

The "envelope" which he dropped down the slide in the night deposit unit was the combination to the safe.

Upon inquiry Charles said that he hadn't had time to memorize the combination having only received it a short time before and it was in that envelope.

We got so tickled at Charles' expression and embarrassment that we walked on out the bank, forgetting about making a deposit which we had made a special trip over to the bank for, so guess the old adage about "he who laughs last, laughs loudest" is true most every time.

Hollis Horton Jr., has asked that we explain where he really got his black eye last week. Despite the misleading information which we dubbed on him last week he claims that his wife didn't give him the blackened eyeball.

Reckon he did walk into that door? We visited our old stompin' grounds last week for a few days and found the country was quite a sight this time of the year.

As we traveled through Fort Worth on our journey back to East Texas and the "sticks" we began to get rain.

Yep, rain, no moisture. We had to be rain, for it was coming down by the bucketful. As we went on further southeast it got harder and finally we just crept along in the down-pour.

We wished that we had some way of "importing some of that rain to the Plains.

On down home the trees were all green and all the fields were soaked with moisture.

Crops were peeking out of the ground and the whole countryside was green and sweetsmelling.

And Hot!

The day we got home we heard on the news it was snowing up here, that was quite a difference in the temperatures we were in down there at the time.

After a short visit with the folks we struck out for a press convention in Central Texas and later returned to Friona Sunday night.

All the way back as we traveled over country which hadn't seen moisture in any quantity for some time we thought about that hard rain and just wished that there was some way to bring some back with us.

If you wonder what's going on with these people wanting you to buy tickets for a pancake breakfast it is because the Rainbow Girls want to own a bus for their very own.

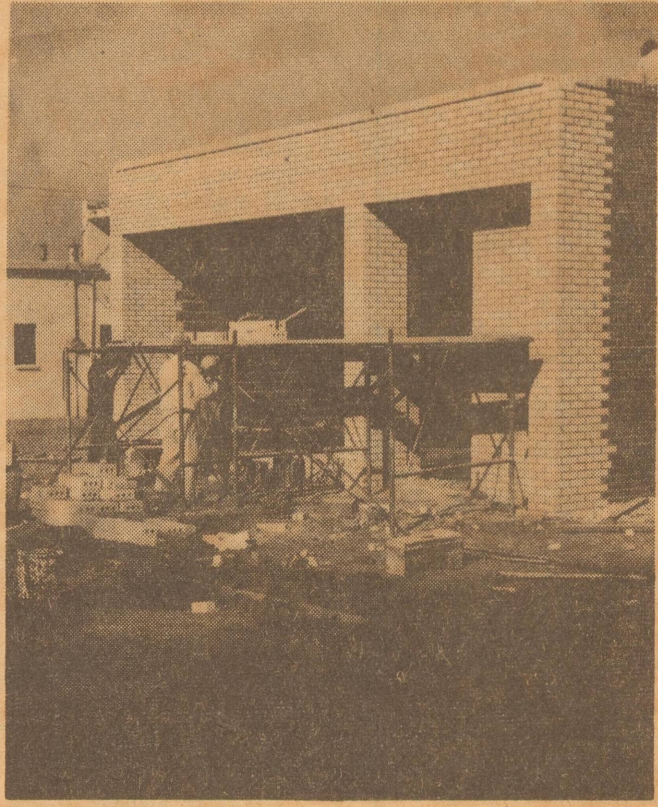

The girls and their sponsors are selling tickets to a pancake breakfast slated for March 28, on a Saturday morning, from 6:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. in the Masonic Hall in downtown Friona.

The girls offer these tickets for a "good feed and all you can eat" in the pancake and sausage variety.

Chefs will include Wesley Foster, "reverend" J. C. Claborn and one other drafter--yours truly.

Incidentally Flake Barber has been trying to sell them liability insurance on account of this last cook, but honestly we ain't that bad.

Dr. Beene Moves Office

Early last week Dr. William Beene, optometrist, moved his office from the center of the Mabry Building to the corner suite of offices formerly occupied by District Attorney Bill Sheehan.

In addition to having more room in the new location, Dr. Beene has added some equipment and now has a fitting room for the convenience of his patients.

The waiting room in the new location has been re-decorated and new furniture has been added.

Nat'l Girl Scout Week Observed

In observance of the 47th anniversary of the beginning of the Girl Scout movement in the United States, 116 Friona Girl Scouts and their leaders are joining the national Girl Scout Week program.

Sunday morning a large number of the girls attended church services together. They were accompanied by their leaders or troop mothers. Monday most of the troops had birthday parties and other events were held during the week.

Girl Scout Week always marks the opening of the Girl Scout Cookie and Peanut Sale. Cookies were given to the girls at their meetings early in the week and peanuts are now available.

Flash Fire Destroys Boy Scout Equipment

A flash fire about 3:30 a.m. Saturday morning destroyed an estimated $300 worth of troop and personal equipment belonging to scouts at a camp out at the baseball field north of town.

Credit has been given to two boys, Ted Osborn and Jerry Parker that there were no serious injuries due to the blaze.

The heroic duo literally dragged two boys to safety when the tent in which five boys were sleeping burst into flames.

Cause of the fire was blamed on fumes which escaped from a gasoline stove in the tent.

"Apparently the boys struck a match to light the stove, and when they did the fumes burst into flames and in turn caught the tent on fire," John Nazworth, scoutmaster explained.

The five boys who were sleeping in the ill-fated tent that night included young Osborn, Parker, Mike and Jerry Stephens and Kenny Squyres.

A total of 25 scouts and their guests, members of the local cub scout pack, were in attendance at the campout.

The boys went to sleep about 11 p.m. Nazworth says and at that time two local men, Claude Edelman and John Baker say they heard the scoutmaster tell the boys not to light any fires in any of the tents and explained the fire hazard around the paraffin-treated tents.

The tent was one of four brand new tents which was purchased by Troop 56 only the week before. The tent, plus other personal and troop property was a total loss. All of the five boys in the tent had sleeping bags which were burned.

The boys in the tent probably got cold and when an attempt was made to light a small, portable gasoline stove the tent burst into an inferno.

One boy, Jerry Stephens, was burned slightly on one arm when he attempted to return to the blazing tent for his equipment.

The flames aroused the campsite and in seconds Nazworth and other scouts had the flames under partial control.

"We cut the tentstake ropes and collapsed the tent where it stood to prevent its spreading to the other nearby tents," Nazworth says.

It was during this time that Nazworth lost his glasses. These were found the following morning, melted down, by the burned tent.

During the blaze I mentally took stock and missed one boy," Nazworth says.

One boy, Eugene McKee couldn't be accounted for and a search began for him.

He was found within a few minutes and still in his tent and sleeping bag fast asleep despite the noise and confusion during the fire.

Nazworth asked that the parents of the cub scouts who lost personal belongings and equipment in the blaze be informed that Troop 56 will stand good for the losses.

Formal Dedication Held for Buildings

"We need to lengthen the ropes of American education," Dr. Martin Cole, of Eastern New Mexico University, told those who attended the formal dedication of the new school buildings of the Friona Independent Schools held Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Cole expanded his theory and told those present that the present class struggle between the United States and Russia will be won in the classrooms.

During the ceremony former teachers and school officials were recognized and C. D. Holmes, who was superintendent of the Friona Schools in 1946 was recognized as the former superintendent traveling the greatest distance.

Holmes is presently superintendent of schools at Vanderbilt on the Texas Gulf Coast.

Other former superintendents present included Dalton Caffey and W. L. Edelman, both of Friona.

Dillie Kelley, superintendent of the Friona schools, says that a total of 1,100 visitors attended classes during Public School Week at the Friona schools.

A total of 191 library books were purchased for the school by these visitors.

Kelley says he wishes to express his appreciation for the work done by members of the Progressive Study Club of Friona who sponsored this book sale.

Sixteen books were purchased by visitors to be used in the high school, 37 in the junior high and 138 in the elementary schools.

Friona school has a deficiency of library books due to the fire some years ago when the library was burned.

In addition to the book-selling of the Progressive Study Club these ladies presided at the reception Sunday afternoon in the school cafeteria following the dedication ceremonies.

A total of 450 visitors ate in the school cafeteria during Public School Week in Friona with the heaviest crowd of visitors eating the noon meal Wednesday.

Special numbers will feature a men's chorus and a women's chorus. Don Lewis, a Frionan, will also present a group of selections.

Dick Bentz, choir director, recommends the program. One of the honors this group has received was an invitation to sing at the inauguration of Governor Daniel in January.

Bentz joins the choir in inviting everyone in the area to attend the program.

Thorough Check, Sharp Eyes Break Bovina Burglaries

Thorough investigation and on-the-ball routine police work broke a double-header Parmer County burglary the first of this week.

Signer of a confession admitting the burglary of Bonds Service Station, Paul Jones Service Station, and the breaking into of Roy Fuller's Service Station, all in Bovina, is William Taft Sales, 42.

The Negro, who lives on a farm north of Friona, was arrested in that city Sunday night and given a routine check. Tire treads like those which left marks at the burglary sites three nights earlier, brought him under suspicion, and after intense questioning, he admitted the crimes.

Teamwork between the county sheriff's department and Friona city officers is responsible for the early breaking of the case.

Police Chief Ben Moorman stopped the man in his car about 12:30 Sunday night in the eastern part of Friona. As he was driving around by himself late at night, he came under suspicion.

It was then discovered that his rear tires had a mud-grip type tread that meant a possible link with the burglaries. Sheriff Chas. Lovelace was contacted, and the plaster casts he made of tire tracks the morning after the burglaries matched the tires of the car Sales was driving.

The Bovina crimes occurred around or shortly after 10 p.m. Friday night. Most of the community's residents had evacuated to see their high school girls in a playoff basketball game.

At the Jones station, the front was pried from a cigarette machine. Sales was in search of money, but Jones had emptied the coins from the machine, so his efforts netted him nothing.

A window in the back of the station had been broken to admit the burglar.

Sales knocked out another window on the Bonds station to gain entry, and this time picked up some cigarettes and pounded for some time on a fireproof filing cabinet. It contained cash, but the would-be thief never managed to break it open. Bonds reports four tires missing but Sales does not admit to having stolen those.

At the Fuller station he broke out another pane but apparently did not enter the business. All of the stations are on Highway 60 in Bovina.

The next morning the sleuthing began. Footprints were carefully inspected at each scene. Officers followed them through loose sand across several lots and onto the yard of Hartwell Machinery. There they say where Sales entered his car which he had concealed, and drove away. Good plaster casts were made of the tracks, which later proved the culprit's undoing.

Officers were checking out some possibilities in a vain attempt to get a lead on things when the Friona break came. After Sales' arrest they picked up J. L. Lee, 32, who lived with Sales at the same farm home. Sales had been driving Lee's car. Sales owned up to all the burglaries, however, and cleared Lee, so the latter was released.

Both have records, though Sales' is far the most serious. Parmer County officers have charged them on more than one occasion with possession of liquor for resale and also for transporting it. Sales is a two-time loser and besides has a long list of misdemeanors.

When officers raided the farm house, some of the stolen cigarettes were found, and Sales had in his pocket a small tire tool taken from Bonds' station. Confronted with this evidence, he confessed.

Razz Rentrow, Texas Ranger stationed at Lubbock, assisted the Parmer County peace officers in their lengthy interrogation work. It all isn't over, either. Sales is suspected of other area burglaries.

He was charged Tuesday morning with the Bovina crimes, put under bond and jailed to await grand jury action next month.

BENSON WIELDS THE AXE

(From Algona (Ia.) Upper Des Moines)

Announcement of a lowered price support in 1959 for farm crops should come as no great surprise. Secretary Benson has been advocating lower support, or no support at all, ever since he was made Secretary of Agriculture.

To lay a foundation for his annual blow to farmers, the Secretary has been speaking, not before farm groups but to consumer groups in metropolitan centers, insinuating that it is the price support program for farm products that is responsible for the high cost of living. His new, lower support plan will again be presented as a "benefit" to the grocery and meat buyer. We who live in the food-growing areas well realize that there is comparatively little relation between a fair support plan for farm products and what the consumer pays in the final purchase. The cost of packaging, processing, and profit making by the processors largely governs the cost at the retail outlet.

But Benson's lowered support price will result in one definite thing, we believe.

There will be the biggest planting this coming year that we have ever known. With a lowered support price for corn, oats, soybeans and sorghum, the only way the average farmer can maintain his income is to simply plant more, and that is what he will probably do.

Surely Benson must know this; yet he is deliberately moving to vastly increase the grain surplus.

Corn support will drop from about an average of $1.36 as it was last year, to about $1.12 per bushel.

Soybeans will drop from an average support last year of $2.08 a bushel to about $1.85 average.

Oats will drop from 61 cents a bushel to about 50 cents.

Grain sorghum will drop from $1.83 per hundredweight to about $1.52. All of this adds up to just one thing, less farm income and greater production in an attempt to stay even financially.

All pretenses of the present national administration of being interested in agricultural welfare have now been dropped by the wayside. The farmer is getting the axe, and good.

The same cannot be said for segments of American life that seem to sit on the board of directors of the administration.

Giants of industry are protected by tariffs from outside competition, given assorted tax advantages, and allowed to fix their own prices to a great degree. They are also underwritten by government contracts on a cost-plus basis, and government subsidies in many cases.

None of this seems peculiar to an administration spending something like 80 billion dollars annually, but the 3 billion or so portion connected with stabilizing farm income is wrong, as Benson sees it. He might be right if all other segments of American economy were left to make the grade on their own. If tariffs were eliminated, government contracts were honestly to low bidders, and no subsidies were granted anyone, anywhere, he might make sense. But he doesn't under the circumstances.

We have said before and we say it again. The buying power of agricultural America is an absolute necessity to maintain a sound and balanced economy. To cut down the buying power, the income of rural America is something that in the past has always led to economic trouble, and it will again.

It is a far cry, today, in actual practice from the rosy promises of 1952 and 1956, when the American farmer was told he had a place on the board of directors. Today he doesn't count for a snap of the fingers in administration thinking and planning.

in and around FRIONA

WITH JUNE

Sure signs of spring turn up almost daily now. Monday morning as we were on our way to the office one of the things we noticed was Ed Bogges getting his yard working tools in order and making preparations to work on his lawn and flower garden.

Another thing that almost always indicates the coming of spring is the sound of baby chicks cheeping in the post office. Several days this week we heard this sound. Then F. W. Reeve "Grandad" has started his spring work in earnest and we meet him almost daily driving to the farm.

About three years ago, he stated, "I really don't work myself. Just get out and see that everyone else does his part." Those of us who see him on a tractor, walking down an irrigation ditch, or cutting weeds don't really doubt his integrity, but feel that he is just modest. He worked then and continues to do so now.

One of these days we plan to write one column without an apology in it, but can't do it this week. Seems that recently the Calvin Talley's moved into their new home and later we reported that they would soon move into it. It was not our intention to delay their move or imply that they would move again. At the present time they are in their new home and entertained a number of guests this past weekend.

Our other apology goes to members of the Assembly of God Church. The report we wrote last week about it stated that the meeting was in progress when it really had not even started. Our thinking was just one week off. The meeting did start Wednesday of this week and will continue through Sunday, March 22.

Three new residents of Friona this week are part of the "newspaper family." Ronny and Esther Ferguson and son, Gary, have moved into the Frank Spring house that Dave and Shirley McReynolds and sons, David and Tommy, vacated recently. Ronny is the printer for Plains Publishers.

The McReynolds family is now living on a farm about nine miles west of town. Several amusing incidents have arisen since they moved to the country.

Some of Dave's friends have ribbed him about not liking Friona well enough to live in the town and one even went so far as to suggest that he was going to try to learn enough about farming from George Jones that he could follow it as a profession when he woke up to the fact that he'd never be a success as a newspaper man.

We're not sure of his intentions, but can say that the Floyds are glad to have them as neighbors.

The following article was swiped from Plain Talk by Stewart Rivers. Hope you enjoy reading it as much as we did. HUMAN BEINGS WERE CREATED to run themselves; no book of instructions accompanies birth certificates, but there are volumes of experience waiting for the new born child.

Every baby falls many times, learning the laws of equilibrium. If left alone the child would acquire the simple knowledge necessary for existence by himself, but he would spend his entire lifetime learning these simple facts.

This is the reason that parents, teachers, employers and master craftsmen are indispensable -- they give to the student instruction that will permit him to improve upon existing methods of living, to become an individual personality.

Individualism is that divine quality by which a person can enjoy the wisdom of the ages and add an increment of improvement. Standardization is the death of initiative for perfection defies regimentation.

Only when the individual is free to grow, to invent, to dream futures and see visions of a better tomorrow, will he find the progress which he seeks and which he deserves.

AN INVITATION FROM FRANCE

The mayor of the French village of Coupvray is stimulating an interchange of ideas between his community and a similar one in another country. Like many towns and villages in France which have already established links with communities abroad, the people of Coupvray are anxious to arrange reciprocal visits of civic authorities and individuals, to encourage linguistic and cultural ties.

Coupvray, with just under 1,000 inhabitants, lies about thirty miles east of Paris in the country of Seine-et-Marne, The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, which passes on the information, adds that it was the birthplace of Louis Braille, who invented the printing system that enabled the blind to read through their finger tips.

GIRL SCOUT -- 157 registered Girl Scouts in Friona at the present time. There are seven troops, seven leaders, nine assistant leaders, and 26 committee members.

The leaders are Helen Potts, Olive Massie, Alice Whaley, Edith Johnson, Claudia Cole, Nora O'Brian, and Nola Faye Vestal. Those who assist these leaders are Margie Herring, Zonah Bass, Juanita Reeve, Doris Hale, Mary Roberts, Alyne Turner, Pearl McLean, Betty Cunningham and Luella Drake.

The Senior Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. O'Brian, are assisting with a troop of Brownies this year. Members of the senior troop are Linda O'Brien, Geneva Floyd, Jolynda Stokes, Donna Fields, Karen O'Brian and Sally Hough.

'Round The Clock Service At Friona Bank

Customers of the Friona State Bank will now be able to make deposits at any hour of any day or night through out the year, including Sundays and holidays, it was announced today by Frank Spring, president of the bank.

This new policy of "the bank never being closed to its depositors" is the result of the installation of an ultra-modern night deposit system.

The dual entrance unit of the day and night deposit system, through which deposits are made, is located on the outside of the bank building.

Just below the night-deposit unit is located a door behind which is kept envelopes and deposit slips and checks to facilitate the depositor.

This is to accommodate those customers who don't have bulky bags which they need to deposit, but rather currency or checks which they might like to deposit after hours.

Bulkier deposits in locked bags are made into a hopper guarded by a locked rectangular steel door to which the customer has the key.

Each type of deposit is automatically transmitted downward through separate metal chutes into a burglary-resistant money safe located inside the bank where the deposits remain until removed by two of the bank's executive personnel.

The two chutes contain ingeniously designed separate baffles to prevent outside withdrawal of either the envelopes or bags from the receiving safe.

"This 'round the clock deposit service will be a boon to businessmen of Friona and vicinity because they will no longer be compelled to keep on the premises the funds which accumulate after banking hours," said Mr. Spring.

Bill Dennis In Exercise

Bill W. Dennis, aviation electronics technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dennis of Friona, attached to Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 38, took part in an anti-submarine warfare exercise from Feb. 16-19, off the coast of Southern California.

Dennis, who is a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, entered the Naval Air Force in the summer of that year.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Temptation

Matthew 6:1 reads, "Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil."

Led of the spirit to be tempted. Two directly opposed forces, good and evil, were here at work on the perfected character of our Lord. Without either of the two, he could not have been the perfect man he was. He did not begin life a perfect man. He became perfect, we are told, through suffering.

"He grew in wisdom," say the evangelists. "He learned obedience," says the apostle, "by the things that he suffered." This is his biography in eight words -- "Led of the spirit and tempted of the devil."

This is also the universal genesis of virtue. There is no virtue on earth, nor was there ever any, that was not attained in this very way. There is the burden of life which is set before every person. As we observe this time of the year, may we bear steadfastly in mind the forty days Our Lord spent in the wilderness. A few minutes in daily devotionals will keep us close to the path the Master trod.

Three-Tiered Cake For One Or Three

A three-tiered birthday cake is sure to delight the children, whether it celebrates one birthday or three—a tier for each child.

Make it with the biggest layer about nine inches, the second seven and the top one about five—with a box and a half of cake mix or a recipe and a half of your own favorite cake. Use left-over batter for cup cakes. Two recipes of a luscious butter frosting made creamy with sweetened condensed milk without cooking give plenty to spread tops and sides of all layers.

Lemon Butter Frosting

 2/3 cup (1 1/2 15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
 1-1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
 3-1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

Cream butter. Gradually stir in 1/4 cup sweetened condensed milk. Add lemon rind, mixing well. Add sugar gradually, alternating with remaining sweetened condensed milk, beating until smooth. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice and beat well. Spread on cooled cake.

"Ammonia Makes a Real Difference in Our Cotton and Maize!"

Arvel (left) and Norman Brown, operators of 880 acres near Lamesa, say: "When we started to use Phillips 66 Ammonia, we would occasionally skip a row for test purposes. We didn't have to measure the difference in yields. Where we'd skipped, you could see how much smaller and less thrifty the unfertilized plants were. On actual measurements, we've found that ammonia gives us on an average of 2,000 to 2,500 more pounds of maize grain."

"We apply our Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant—about 100 pounds to the acre—in order to get it down ahead of the heavy work season."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

MEET THE MINISTER

M. B. McKinney

This is the second in a series of articles planned through which it is hoped that people in the community will become better acquainted with the ministers in our town.

M. B. McKinney, who is the minister of the Sixth Street Church of Christ, came to Friona the first time early in September of 1953 from Plainview. His family consists of his wife, Sadie Lea, and three children; Thomas Charles (Chuck) who is eleven and a sixth grade student, Connie Jean, 10, a fourth grader, and Nickolas Dale, who will be six in April.

The McKinneys lived here about four years before moving to Dora, N. M. While working with the church there, McKinney attended classes at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. In the summer of 1958 the family returned to Friona.

Mac, as he is known to most Frionans, grew up in Carlisbad. He served in the Navy during World War II and spent some time over seas.

His first position as a minister was at Cottonwood, Arizona. Most of his work has been as a located minister, but he has done some mission work in South Dakota and Washington, Mass.

He is a graduate of Freed-Hardeman College at Henderson, Tenn.; studied one year at Southeastern Missouri University at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and one year at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. His major fields of study have been English, history, and religion.

When asked for comments, McKinney stated, "We feel that there is no place in the world that compares with Friona. The atmosphere of the entire community is different. The people, generally speaking, are friendlier. So far, we feel that we had rather live here than any other place we have been or worked."

At the present time the McKinneys live on Grand Avenue, but a new home for them is being constructed at the corner of Sixth and Woodland and they expect to move in the very near future.

The students of Friona High voted to amend the constitution this week upon recommendation of the Student-Faculty Congress. The new amendment provides the election of officers for the SFC in the spring of the year preceding their term. This enables the officers to attend various conventions which will be helpful. Those nominated for the offices of president and vice president this year are, respectively, Kitty Black and Gerald Daniel, Jacquelyn Magness and Gary Goetz. The students plan to attend the state convention at Brownsville next week accompanied by their sponsor, Raymond Cook.

Hoorah, for teachers' meeting! Due to a teachers meeting this Friday, school will be dismissed. The teachers will go to Amarillo and attend an annual conference for their respective departments. Who could say that Friday, the thirteenth, is an unlucky day?

HELPING A NEIGHBOR—Scenes such as this were plentiful on the farm of Don Garrett, north of Bovina, last week as friends and neighbors joined together to help Garrett ready for the coming season. These four-row tractors were half the total which were in action Thursday.

Farmers Help Rhea Neighbor

Tuesday and Wednesday of last week friends and neighbors of Don Garrett, whose wife died recently, gathered at the Garrett home in this community and prepared about 200 acres of land for spring planting. During the two days the land was fertilized, tandem-disked, floated and double listed. Garrett was away from home at the time.

Those who participated in the good neighbor project were Charles Oil Co., Bonds Oil Company and Three Way Chemical Company all of Bovina; and the following men: Al Kerby, Norvell Strawn, Allen Bingham, Gerald Rountree, Art Mast, and Jay Harris; Also Sam Sudderth, Earl Riley, Floyd Damron, Lee Kimbrough, Jimmie Charles, Joe Pinner, Bud Crump, J. S. Brown, John Cook, Leonard Dopp, Arnold Haskell, C. R. Brandon and Winston Rountree; Also Jack Burnett, Ken Harrison, Jack Patterson, Claude

Mears, Richard Vaughn, Jake Patterson, Bill Gibson, Walter Schueler, Franklin Bauer, Ray Martensen, Florian Jarecki, Cordie Potts, Clarence Anderson, Rev. Porter Arnold, Robert Schueler, Raymond Schueler, Howard Duncan, Boye Taylor, and Norman Taylor; Also Melvin Sachs, Travis Anderson, Joe Clark, Paul Hall, and Floyd Schueler.

An inventory of your soil now will provide a basis for planning a fertilizer program which will supply needed plant nutrients and help your crops produce nearer their yield potential. A soil test will give this inventory, says Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Texas cotton producers saved an estimated $64 million plus in 1958 in labor costs by using machine harvesters and machines and chemicals for grass and weed control. They also set an all-time record of 387 pounds of lint an acre, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist. The specialist credits the 7-Step Cotton program initiated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service 13-years ago, as a major contributor to the progress made by the State's cotton industry during recent years.

A favorite theory is a possession for life.

"Doctor's orders. Since my operation, I don't walk at all any more." Texas cattlemen, sponsors of the Texas Beef Council, pamper their steers with sufficient food and water right in their own pastures to make walking unnecessary — so they can produce more tender, better beef.

A Picnic For Tea-Pickers

Near Djakarta, Indonesia, is a tea plantation known as "Pasir Junghuhn." When an Indonesian field worker for the International Labor Organization arrived there last month to survey working conditions and recommend improvements, he watched with interest the deft, quick movements of the force of women tea-pickers as their hands flew from bough to bough plucking the tender green shoots selectively, at a rapid pace. It seemed "so simple" that he decided to get first-hand experience and perhaps show up the women.

By the end of the long day's work, he admits, his hands were numb, he was wet to the skin, and his bag when he brought it for weighing tipped the scales at only three kilograms. His women competitors had meanwhile plucked 1,930 kilograms, averaging from twelve to eighteen as compared with his three, equivalent to about eight pounds. A burst of laughter greeted his record. "They had a picnic," he conceded, "at my expense."

Many ranchmen often ask if pricklypear should be controlled or kept as an emergency feed reserve. Answering this question is the theme of a bulletin published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is B-806, "Pricklypear—Good or Bad?" The Extension Service also has published a leaflet, L-166, containing tables to help gardeners convert fertilizer recommendations into proper amounts for small area use. Both are available from county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

They Tune In On Fish

S. K. Otoo, who completed a fellowship from the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and returned to his native country to work in the Bureau of Ghana Languages, reports that fishermen there can get along without the use of radar to locate schools of fish. The sensitive radar equipment is being used during the second world war, to help fishing fleets find and catch fish spotted through their underwater vibrations.

Every experienced fisherman in Ghana, says Mr. Otoo, recognizes the "voices" of fish of various types. He stops paddling, remains as still as possible, then pushes the whole blade of his paddle into the water. Grasping the handle end of the paddle with his little finger and lower palm, he closes his other fingers and places his thumb over them. Putting his ear to the hollow thus formed, he can "hear" all underwater noises, including the "voice" of any fish in the area.

'EARLY MORNING' FASHIONS
Look your best at the breakfast table--that's one way to get off to a good start in the morning. And this is easy enough these days, thanks to pretty new cotton flannel brunchcoats and dusters. These "early morning" fashions have the new chemise and trapeze silhouettes as well as the traditional princess and peignoir lines. Most of them are patterned gay floral prints trimmed with harmonizing collars and cuffs, but there are still plenty of checks, stripes, and plaids for those who prefer the more tailored styles. Deep inverted pleats and low-waisted belts offer back interest, while deep rounded yokes also are plentiful. Brushed fringe, rick-rack braid in an accent color, novelty stitching or embroidery, and piping often accent the yoke line. Actually, the brunchcoats and dusters are pretty enough to double as dresses to wear out in the yard, for emergency chauffeuring chores, and even for neighborly visits. They can be tossed into the family wash each week. The cotton flannel fabrics, for the most part, require little or no ironing... and they're pre-shrunk so the coats will keep their fit through a whole winter of wearing and washings. They are a good Christmas gift idea, too.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
Wash-and-wear cottons do not need to be separated from other cotton garments when machine laundered. They can be washed and tumble dried at the normal setting and temperature for cotton.

The sale profits will be used for a return gift.

Not Many Bugs But Plenty Dry for Wheat

An outbreak of greenbugs, which threatened the High Plains wheat crop a few weeks ago, has never materialized, but the thing that's bearing down on the tender green shoots now is the exceedingly dry weather.

Not a drop of moisture has visited the wheatfields since the first of the year, save a few snowflakes from time to time. The combination of all snow flurries since January 1 is probably less than .10 inch in nearly all areas. That's practically no help at all.

Subsoil supplies of moisture carried over from 1958 is the only thing keeping the young crop going in cases where irrigation has not been used.

Generally speaking, the only wheat in the Parmer County area that looks good right now is that which has had a fairly recent irrigation. To put it another way, were it not for the wells, there just wouldn't be much in the wheatfields.

County Agent Joe Jones this week says that all small grains need water. "Farmers should not get caught short by waiting too long to start their wells and irrigate," he warns.

"Much of the wheat has been watered recently and in most cases is looking much better than that which has not."

The county agent also urges farmers who plan to apply fertilizer on their wheat to have in mind getting this job done before the plants begin to form their heads.

"In most instances where wheat was not grazed, it will soon be forming the head," he says. "A good practice through the years is to fertilize both fall and spring, putting on some nitrogen and all the phosphate (where phosphate is needed) in the fall, and following up with a topdressing of nitrogen in February."

The object of the topdressing, points out the agent, is to make sure the wheat has the necessary plant food at head forming time, in order to make the largest head possible.

Then, the job is to fill the head that is formed. This is another stage of plant development that requires ample plant food and ample water.

Of the insect situation, Agent

Jones says, "To date I have observed few insects on wheat." He reports that he has not found the young wheat crop being damaged by insects so far.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL - OUR STRENGTH

Planting sorghums in narrow width rows offers advantages that aid in more economical crop production. Evaporation losses are reduced due to shading, less wind movement, and reduced temperatures. Nutrients are more efficiently absorbed and from a farmer's point of view, this method is more practical because of weed control.

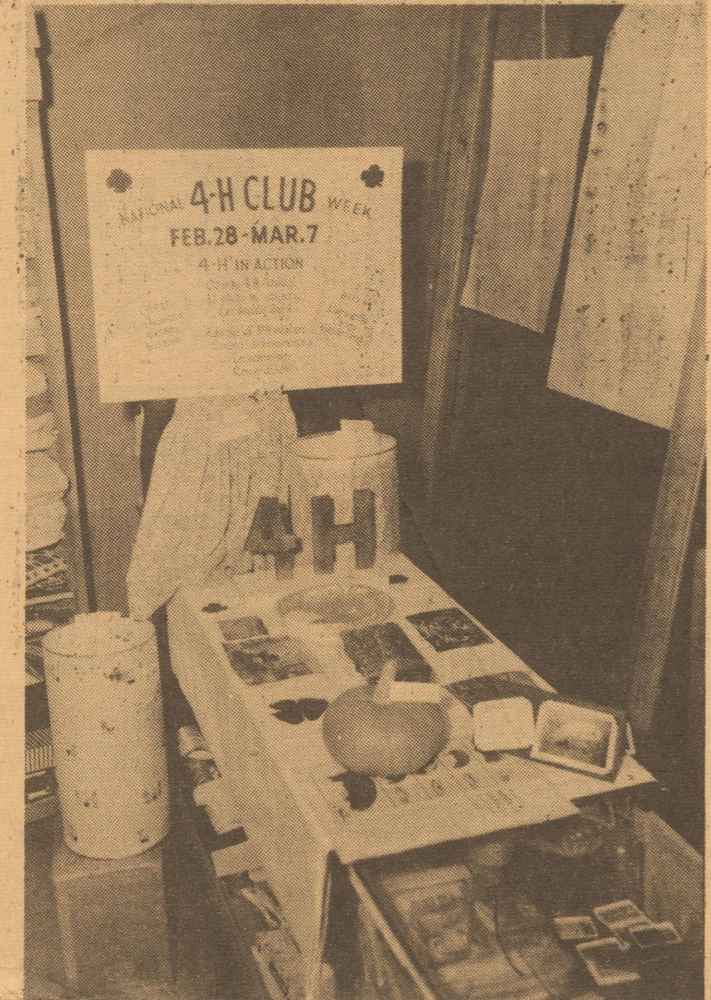

Just as important as planting in narrow rows is the planting rate, per acre. If 2 to 5 pounds per acre is the seeding rate in 40 inch rows, the same seeding rate should be used in narrow width rows. The best planting arrangement is one that gives ample space to each plant, yet keeps evaporation, weeds, and temperatures at a minimum.

Water leaves the soil in two ways. The most costly to the farmer is direct evaporation into the air and the other is transportation through the plant. With more shade and lower temperatures, the moisture loss is less in narrow width rows.

Soil temperatures above 100 degrees are somewhat detrimental to sorghum plants. Tests in Manhattan, Kans., showed that temperatures reached 107 degrees. The narrow rows gave consistent readings of nearly 20 degrees less than wide rows when air temperatures were over 100 degrees.

This shading effect of plants has another important function. Weeds cannot survive without sunshine. Tests have shown that 40 inch rows did not shade more than 60 per cent of the area between the rows at noon at the time of full head. But 20 inch rows provided very good shading, covering about 95 per cent of the area at noon at full head.

Narrow row plantings can be done with a grain drill by plugging the extra holes.

AN ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY during National 4-H Club Week was set up at the Lazbuddie Store by 4-H workers of that community. Mrs. Joe Jesko is adult leader and the display was under her direction, assisted by Mrs. E. N. Koelzer, another adult worker.

Lazbuddie FU Talks Safflower

Safflower as a possible new crop for the area was under discussion at the Lazbuddie Farmers Union meeting Monday night. On hand was Wilton Bodkin of Olton, who has been checking into safflower possibilities, and County Agent Joe Jones.

The meeting was one of many held across the High Plains to discuss safflower. Farmers Union a week ago announced plans to join with the Safflower Oil Corporation of Boulder, Colo., and build an oil extraction mill on the Plains.

Considering the immediate outlook for the price of grain sorghums, farmers are raising questions about many new crop possibilities, and safflower is one of them.

Safflower has at times been grown on the Plains, but not in recent years and never in appreciable quantity. Farmers Union spokesmen report they feel this part of the High Plains well suited to safflower production.

Safflower is a member of the composite family and is a close relative of the sunflower. Its commercial value is chiefly because of the high quality oil that it yields, which is suitable for many commercial and industrial applications.

Plans are to build the mill, at a cost of around a half million dollars, somewhere on the Plains and to contract farmers to produce the seed under a guaranteed price. A price of about $60 a ton has been mentioned.

Information on the performance of safflower under High Plains culture is somewhat sketchy, but these generalizations might be expected to apply:

For best yields it must be planted early. In a normal year it will probably require irrigation for good yields--about like cotton. It requires care in harvesting to salvage the maximum yield of seed--like sesame, perhaps.

Experiments made near Lockney in 1951 resulted in yields of from 850 to 1400 pounds per acre, and the average production was 1163 pounds.

County Agent Jones says he feels confident that both varieties and culture have been improved since then.

Between 60 and 70 persons attended the Lazbuddie meeting.

Which Plan A or B?

Here are estimates of cotton support prices for 1959-60. The government has announced the choice "A" purchase price at 80% of parity, which is 30.40 cents and choice "B" loan price at 24.70 cents, basis middling 7/8 inch, average location. Lubbock is 22 points less than average location.

Differences for grades and staples are yet to be announced. These tables at right attempt to estimate them using loan differences from 1958. It is expected that 1959 loan differences will be similar.

Beginning this year farmers will have higher loan values on light spotted cotton as well as on other split grades. This is a major advantage to the Plains grower and an outstanding achievement of your PCG.

The officers, directors and staff of THE PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC., hope these tables will be of some help to you in determining which course for you to follow with your 1959 crop.

In 1959 quality cotton will be even more important. Regardless of the plan you select, remember quality cotton produced on your farm will mean more net income for you!

Remember, March 16 is the date by which time farmers must decide. Notify your county ASC if you wish to select the "B" Plan.

Purchase Price of Plan "A" Cotton Middling 7/8 Inch, Lubbock, equals 30.16c. (Prices on other qualities estimated.)

DA Tells Bureau Reasons for Cut

Reasons the Department of Agriculture claimed for its drastic reduction in the price of grain sorghum supports for 1959 have been gathered by Parmer County Farm Bureau. The county farm organization has expressed great disappointment and concern over the support cut announced two weeks ago. Since the announcement it has been trying to find out the basis for interpretation of the 1958 farm law.

According to Gilbert Kaltwasser, Parmer FB president, J. H. West, Texas president, was in Washington before the support was revealed, and gave reasons why the milo support should not be reduced. USDA officials at that time would not admit that it was going to be any lower, says Kaltwasser. "Then, when it was announced that the support price for 1959 was $1.52, a telegram was sent by Texas Farm Bureau protesting the cut," says Kaltwasser.

Asked what reasons for the reduction have been given, Kaltwasser says two factors have been offered. One was supply and demand. "They claim the government has been taking over a larger percentage of grain sorghum each year," he says.

These are their figures: In 1955, 35% of the milo, 13% of the corn. In 1956, 13% milo, 13% corn. In 1957, 49% milo and 8.4% corn. There was a 30% increase in milo production in 1957. Of the 1958 crop, the government estimates it will take over 50% of the milo and 10% of the corn. The other factor they used was "offsetting losses on export market." USDA says the subsidy on grain sorghum was 35 cents per hundred, and 10 cents on corn. Kaltwasser says this reference to export subsidies is not fair. He says the government figured the grain sorghum subsidy on the actual loss, but on corn they used "out of condition" provisions to move corn on the export market and did not consider it a subsidy.

"Had corn and milo subsidies been figured the same way, there would not have been such a difference in subsidies for the two crops," the county president maintains.

"Even though milo stocks are 39% higher than a year ago, the total feed grain supply (corn, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghum) is only 10% higher than a year ago. Then, when you figure the increased number of livestock to be fed, the total feed grain supply is only 5% higher than a year ago."

The average difference in price between corn and milo is 17 cents per hundred.

In a district FB meeting last week, leaders met to develop a program to try to get an adjustment in support price of milo "more in line with the intention of the law."

Congressman Walter Rogers says he will introduce a bill in Congress to support milo at 95% of corn, but is conceded by local interested persons that the measure has little chance to succeed.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

A quotation of J. Walter Hammond, former president of Texas Farm Bureau at Mineral Wells in the State Convention in 1953. We believe you agree it is still a true statement. "Many farmers who planted 160 acres of cotton in 1953 and were going to be allowed only about 20 for next year said flatly they 'wouldn't be able to make a go of it' if something wasn't done about it." This is a quote from the State Line Tribune of February 4, 1954, soon after the "65-40-50" allotment formula of Farm Bureau was passed in the National Legislative halls, giving Parmer County over twenty thousand acres more cotton allotment. This action still gives history to keep many cotton farmers in business.

Records in your local Farm Bureau Office show that since 1952, Farm Bureau has been responsible for continuing refund of road taxes totaling in excess of $20 thousand per year in this one county. No other organization has taken an interest in it.

At least as long as your local has been organized, Texas and National Farm Bureau have insisted that farmers and handlers of agricultural products should be exempt from the minimum wage requirements. It is the only farm organization still fighting the labor department and CIO-AFL in their efforts to extend the minimum wage act to include you.

Recently we have heard of an organization soliciting membership of a farm employee with the promise that "WE'll get you a dollar and a quarter an hour if you'll join." The employee was discharged later, because he wasn't worth what he was getting. Under the department of labor minimum wage and hour act, that would not have been basis for discharge.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

One of our readers, Uncle Bill Callaway of Mexico, Mo., was good enough to send us a special recipe section from the Ledger, which is his hometown paper. We have enjoyed reading it very much and notice several recipes that we do not ordinarily see in publications in our section of the country.

There were a number of Vinegar Pie recipes and we will share some of them with you after they've been tried out on members of the Floyd family. Our other half has long insisted that there was no more delicious dessert than Vinegar Pie. The phrase "like Mother used to make" usually followed his declaration of the tastefulness of such a pie.

Several years ago we ran across a recipe and planned to serve "the most delicious dessert there is." Like a lot of our other plans to pleasantly surprise someone, this one did not work out so good. The pie we made was definitely not one of those "like Mother used to make."

Another thing that attracted our attention was a cake recipe. We are copying the following recipe and comments from the Ledger.

ABE LINCOLN'S FAVORITE CAKE

Mary Todd made this cake for Lincoln before their marriage, and he declared it "the best in Kentucky." The original recipe is printed below, with Mrs. McMurry's baking hints in parentheses.

- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 3 cups flour (cake or pastry)
- 2 tsp. baking powder (double)
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 6 egg whites
- Cream butter and sugar lightly. Sift flour and baking powder

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

The news that there is only a very slim possibility that the grain sorghum farmer may get an even break from the USDA this year is very discouraging, no doubt about it.

But the thing that amazes us is how, if a perfect stranger were to come to the Plains with no knowledge of the drastic and unfair reductions in supports of the area's most basic crop, he'd never suspect (just to together and add alternately with milk (to the first mixture.) Add well-floured nuts, then vanilla. Beat in stiffly beaten egg whites, which salt has been added.

Bake in three layers (9" or 8" pans) in moderate (350 degree) oven. Ice with boiled cherries, and pineapple (chopped fine) have been added.

One of the candy recipes that looks like it would be delicious and simple to make is

FRYING PAN FUDGE

- 3 cups granulated sugar
- 1 stick butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3/4 cup milk
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

In a large heavy frying pan, combine sugar, half the stick of butter or margarine, the corn syrup and milk. Mix thoroughly. Melt chocolate and other half stick of butter in small saucepan and when it is melted scrape it into sugar mixture. Stir over high heat again, stirring constantly, until the mixture forms a soft ball when a little is dropped into a dish of cold water.

When it reaches this point, remove skillet from heat and place in a sink or pan of cold water; add vanilla and beat until mixture seems thick. Add nuts and pour into a buttered 8x12 inch pan. Cut in squares while warm.

judge from activity) the worries that are on the farmers' mind.

This is probably the dampest area in the world for the old "gonna try her one more time" spirit. As much time, money, and effort as ever is being spent preparing the land for another big farming year. There is no sign of curtailment of farm activity.

Our small town businessmen say there is a noticeable tightening up on any buying that means long-term indebtedness, but down on the farm it looks like business as usual.

If you ask one of our farmers about this, chances are he'll say, without much thought, "What else is there to do?" He admits his concern about price prospects for milo, but then shrugs it off as something he can't do anything about and goes back to work.

In this part of the world it would never occur to us to just give up so long as a ray of hope existed. In fact, we know farmers today who are well off who kept plugging here on the Plains years ago when all rays of hope had vanished. They just kept driving.

You don't HAVE to keep going, you know. It is possible to give up . . . to quit, sell out, move on . . . or just sit down and let things go to hades.

Maybe we've told this story before, but it's appropriate enough right now for re-telling if that's the case:

A man traveling through Georgia stopped at a water well for a drink to refresh himself.

There was a native whiling away the time nearby, idly whittling on a tree limb. Believe Jack Patterson would call him a "Georgia Cracker."

The traveler asked the cracker, "This your place?" "Yup."

Seeking to strike up a friendly conversation, the man further inquired, "How was your cotton crop last year?"

"Didn't have none. Boll weevils ate it all up."

"Oh, that's too bad. How about your corn, did it turn out all right?"

"Nope. Corn borers got it."

"Well, they tell me you folks raise lots of sweet potatoes. How are they last year?"

"Can't tell. Had a blight and we never did dig 'em."

"Well, I'm certainly sorry to hear about your misfortunes. Tell me, what have you decided to plant this year."

"Ain't gonna plant nothin'. Gonna play 'er safe."

Thank goodness that, instead of "playin' 'er safe" we have enough pluck to keep going, even when things take a turn for the worse.

We would like to make apology to both the Farmers Union and the Farm Bureau for our apparent negligence in making personal appearances at recent important meetings of both groups.

Previously, we had tried to "divvy up" the on-the-scene reporting with Leland Boyd. Even then we couldn't always make all the rounds. Now, since Leland has moved to Littlefield, we are seriously short handed and have missed some very important sessions.

If things work out as expected, we should be back to "normal" in June with the addition of a young college graduate to our staff who'll have nothing to do but report the news. So, we hope you'll struggle along with us 'til then.

Spring may call for a "fresh-up" paint job for kitchen or bathroom walls or woodwork. The right paint will make your job a great deal easier and more satisfactory, reminds Charlotte Tompkins, extension home furnishings specialist.

Paints today flow on smoothly and dry quickly. They are designed for specific purposes, for ease of maintenance and years of lasting attractiveness.

Some paints are even resistant to heat. For areas where moisture is present much of the time, such as bath and kitchen, an alkyd semi-gloss or alkyd gloss enamel is recommended. Both of these are designed to resist moisture and abrasion so they can be scrubbed.

Color is no problem since the new paints come in many tints and shades. For areas where white is desired, there are non-yellowing white alkyd flat, semi-gloss and gloss enamels available.

There is one thing about paint that hasn't changed. That's the fact that it must be applied to a clean, smooth surface for best results. If you plan to paint over old paint, examine it closely. If it is not chipped, you can wash it down with a solvent before applying your new coat. Study the label on the container and be sure to follow directions carefully.

You can create your own "rosy glow" these days. The colored bulbs recently introduced to the American public can be used to good advantage in complementing home furnishings and complexions, according to extension home furnishings specialists.

Earlier colored bulbs were heavily coated and created a pronounced color effect in a room that was not always pleasing. The amount of color from the new bulbs is very slight and simply heightens or enhances the related colors in a room. For example, the green-blue or aqua bulb gives a soft light which emphasizes furnishings that are predominately blue or green; pink bulbs flatter pink and red hues.

Colored bulbs produce about one-third less light than white ones of the same wattage. For this reason, specialists suggest that homemakers buy 150-watt colored bulbs to replace 100-watt white bulbs. Fixtures in which 60-watt white bulbs are adequate will need 75-watt colored bulbs.

Specialists recommend using colored bulbs in ceiling and wall fixtures and in lamps that are used for decorative purposes rather than for reading, sewing or other demanding visual tasks . . . Never neglect the principles of good lighting simply to create decorative color effects.

Heat marks or alcohol stains on wooden furniture are not easily removed. Often furniture so damaged can be restored only by refinishing. Here are a few suggestions offered by extension home furnishings specialists for home treatment of such damage on woods:

When you spill any beverages, perfumes or medicines containing alcohol on furniture, wipe up the liquid IMMEDIATELY before it has time to penetrate into the finish. If the liquid goes completely through the finish, there is only one remedy -- a spot refinishing job temporarily and a complete refinishing job later. For temporary protection, polish with wax, using a colored wax for dark woods. If this is not effective, mix powdered pumice and oil into a creamy paste and apply it to the stain, rubbing with the grain of the wood, then polish with a clean soft cloth.

Try treating burns the same way, first trying wax, then the pumice and oil mixture.

When penetration is not too deep, heat marks MAY be eliminated by light stroking with a cloth moistened in camphorated oil, followed by buffing with a clean cloth. Water rings MAY respond to waxing or to treatment with camphorated oil.

Diseases took a $156 million bite out of the 1958 Texas cotton crop, report 15 cotton specialists located throughout the state. Cotton diseases kept at least 30,000 bales of cotton from being marketed. Besides the $156 million loss to producers, there were huge losses suffered by railroads, suppliers, trucking companies and other phases of the industry.

Farmers, Here's Facts About COTTONSEED DELINTING

By the wet acid process you need to know!

Your seed can be fuzzy, flamed, gas delinted, saw delinted or wet acid delinted.

We recommend the wet acid process.

Here's Why:

- Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of only 30 seconds or less.
- Water is used to neutralize.
- Does not eat the bags.
- Wet or green seed can be safely delinted.
- Can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
- Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne disease prevention in 12 hours--a stand can be had in 4 days.
- Heat is used only to dry seed after the acid has been washed off.
- Planting 12 pounds per acre, the cost is less than 10 cents per acre more than using the regular acid process.
- More uniform planting.
- More even stand.

2 1/4 Bales per Acre With Ammo-Phos for Grow Power

Rev. Jack Jeter, Jack Morris, and Bud Crump, Manager of Parmer County Farm Supply

In 1958 I had 76 acres of cotton. Thirty-five acres of this land was not fertilized and made a good bale to the acre. Forty-one acres was fertilized with 200# of Mathieson's AMMO-PHOS water soluble 13-39-0 and produced 2 1/4 bales per acre.

I chiseled my land 7" deep, drilled 200# of 13-39-0 and planted April 22nd. I irrigated three times -- the first time when the crop started fruiting and the last time on August 18th. I saved my bottom crop with an early insecticide program.

This year I will use 200# of Mathieson's 13-39-0 on all of my cotton. I only wish that I had used it on all of my cotton in 1958.
