COUNTY COMMISSIONER SEATON KEITH RESIGNS BUT GIVES NO REASON

Writes Letter to Road Man Ordering all Work to Stop and Concludes With Statement to The Effect That He Has Sent in Resignation—Nothing Official, However, Received by County Judge Milton Mays

Somewhat of a hiatus has been created in Tom Green county politics as a result of a written statement from Seaton Keith to the effect that he does not intend to hold down his job as one of the county commissioners any longer. This letter was written several days ago, but believing that Commissioner Keith would reconsider, it has been guarded with the greatest of secrecy, and it was not until Thursday morning that the cat was let out of the bag.

Last Monday morning Owen Dougherty, a road man, received a communication from Commissioner Keith ordering him to quit work on the road. It read something like this: "This is to notify you to stop all work on the road, as I have sent in my resignation as county commissioner, and therefore have no authority to pay you any further."

About Tuesday Mr. Dougherty appeared at the court house. The commissioners were to meet on that day. But Commissioner Keith did not put in his appearance. Then Mr. Dougherty exhibited to the other commissioners the letter that he had received. All declared themselves entirely ignorant of any contemplated action on the part of Commissioner Keith to resign, and it came as a great surprise. In fact, the whole thing was shrouded in mystery, and no one really believed that it was Mr. Keith's intention to leave the service of the county.

Another meeting of that body was held Wednesday, and still nothing was heard from Mr. Keith. It was then decided that he really meant what he had said in his letter. So far, however, his resignation has not made its appearance at the court house.

Just why this action has been taken is not known. It is said that Commissioner Keith has always been on the very best of terms with the other members of the court, and has handled the affairs in his precinct with entire satisfaction. As a testimonial of the appreciation for what he had accomplished, he was elected to serve a second term, now being on his third year.

Commissioner Keith resides about twenty-five miles from San Angelo, and on that account no one has seen him since Mr. Dougherty received the letter referred to. No one now doubts but that he has decided to throw up the position, but all were anxious to know why.

County Judge Mays was asked regarding the matter Thursday, but he was not inclined to discuss it. He said that all he knew was with reference to the Dougherty letter, and that he has not yet received any official notice of the resignation. He, like the other court house attaches, can assign no reason why such a step has been taken.

Mr. Keith is one of the most prominent ranchmen in Tom Green county, and has made this part of the country his home for many years. He is regarded everywhere as one of the best officials Tom Green has ever had, and every effort will be exerted to have him reconsider.

The news of his resignation spread like wildfire on the streets Thursday, and it is very likely that a committee of leading citizens will board an automobile Friday morning for his home in an effort to induce him to continue in harness.

GOV. CAMPBELL WRITES LETTER

NOT CERTAIN THAT HE WILL BE A MEMBER OF COMMITTEE TO SELECT NORMAL SITE.

BUSINESS IS RUSHING

He Can Get Away from Capital, However, He Promises to Come to San Angelo to Look Over the Field.

Miss Paxson, who lives in Park Heights, is in receipt of a letter from Governor Tom Campbell, in which he mentions the proposed state normal. In substance the governor said that he is not at all certain that he will be able to serve on the committee for the selection of a site for the normal on account of the great rush of official business, but in case he should serve he will visit San Angelo and the Paxsons.

It is seen by the foregoing that Governor Campbell does not commit himself on the normal question; he does not say where his preference lies. But it will be remembered that Governor Campbell visited this city not much over a year ago and was royally entertained. The people of Concho had united as one body, extended the glad hand to the chief executive of Texas.

It was then that the governor waxed eloquent. He said that this part of the state and her people were the salt of the earth.

While the governor will not be unduly partial in San Angelo's favor, still it is believed that he will give this place careful consideration, and it is the steadfast belief of every loyal citizen of San Angelo that this is all that will be necessary.

San Angelo is an ideal location for such an institution as the normal, and when added railroad facilities there is no possible objection to be urged against the Queen City. And there is no doubt but that the faithful and loyal citizens will do their part in offering inducements.

Nevertheless, the people of San Angelo will not put their hopes in the governor's preference; there are other things in the field. It is reported on good authority that Ballinger will offer a bonus of $50,000 and sixty acres of land; besides this they will offer the building stone. It is understood that Amarillo will also be in the field with a $50,000 bonus. Brownwood, Abilene and Dublin will also make a try for this great state institution, and Lubbock and Snyder may make offers.

Such competition as this is calculated to make San Angelo's citizenship wake up and take notice ere it will be too late. It is impossible to accomplish things without concerted action, and the time is near at hand, for the committee will soon start on its tour of investigation.

ELDORADO ADVERTISES FOR A SCHOOL BEFORE BOND ELECTION HAS BEEN HELD.

Barbecue Planned for July 4 Celebration—Many from San Angelo Have Signified Intention of Attending.

Advertising for bids on a school house in advance of an election to determine whether or not bonds to the amount of $20,000 shall be floated, Eldorado has set an example of pushency that speaks well for the get up and get of that town. The bond election will not be held until July 17, but so confident are the people that the proposition will carry, they are going right ahead and intend to let the contract for the erection of the school two days after the election has been held. For fast work that beats anything heretofore heard of in Texas.

Eldorado is the county seat of Schleicher county and has a population of about 900. The proposed school will have six class rooms and a fine library. The lower part of the building will be of rock, while the top will be finished with brick.

Among other things, Eldorado is to have a big barbecue on July 5, and a large delegation from San Angelo will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Frensey and daughter Mildred, who have been in the city visiting, returned Thursday to their home in San Marcos.

Mrs. H. A. Roach and children and Mrs. John Roach and children of Del Rio passed through the city Thursday on their way to visit relatives in Killeen.

Alvin P. Utterback, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Utterback of this city, departed Thursday for a visit to his sister in Parsons, Kan.

Miss Janet Johnson, the little daughter of J. C. Johnson, went to Talpa yesterday on a visit.

G. M. Cannon Goes Home to Wind Up His Affairs and Will Return to Make San Angelo His Headquarters.

"San Angelo's street car stock is the best proposition in town, and I intend to get some of it," said G. M. Cannon, who left Thursday for his home in Dalton, Ga., after having spent several days here looking into street railway affairs.

Mr. Cannon picked up several good things in a real estate way while here among them being the purchase of the lot on Chadbourne street formerly owned by the Odd Fellow, and about four acres in Angelo Heights. He considers San Angelo the best town by far in West Texas, and predicts for it a great future. This is the place, he says, for a man to invest his money.

Before leaving Mr. Cannon expressed his intention to move to this city within a few weeks, and will bring his family with him when he returns.

E. E. Bailey, at the head of the street car situation, stated Thursday that Mr. C. P. Crowther is now in Chicago, and has written that he will probably be back within ten days.

By Electric Light These Hens Work

Imbued with the San Angelo spirit of hustling, three hens were seen Thursday morning about 4 o'clock scratching for dear life under the electric light near the Methodist church. This unusual sight was witnessed by an employe of the Press-News as he slowly wended his way homeward after his night's work.

The hens were catching bugs by the wholesale and were apparently enjoying themselves immensely, for why should they not be pleased with a nice bug diet at such an early hour?

Everybody knows that mother hen is an early riser, but this is the first instance cited where she has actually quit the roost before daybreak and has adopted the electric light as a means for finding food.

A. Y. Graves, the proprietor of the Bank barber shop, accompanied the San Angelo baseball team to Ballinger to room with them in their series with the Cliffdwellers.

Dr. W. P. Menzies and little son were passengers on the eastbound Santa Fe Thursday for a month's visit to their old home in Dyersburg, Tenn. Mrs. Menzies is already at that place.

Three drunk and disorderlies were hauled in by Constable Hawley Allen's drag net Wednesday. Thursday morning confessed their sins, were reprimanded and then allowed to go on their way rejoicing.

D. M. West went to Santa Anna Thursday to see his sick baby.

Impromptu Fire Dep't Stops Blaze

Due largely to the forethought and efforts of Herbert Ogg, the Ideal Steam Laundry was saved from destruction by fire shortly after 12 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Ogg was standing in front of the Landon hotel when his attention was attracted by a blaze. He immediately truned in the alarm and then organized a company to fight the fire.

In less than three minutes after the blaze was seen Mr. Ogg and his impromptu department were on the top of the building with buckets of water and by the time help came from other sources the danger was really over.

The damage to the building is slight, though no reliable estimate was made Friday morning.

PRINCE ALBERT OF FLANDERS King Leopold's heir as king of the Belgians is the Count of Flanders who acquired that title on the death of his father, a brother of the king in 1905.

Coal Ordered Now; Takes No Chances

Tom Green county is to take no chances on a coal famine. The commissioners' court advertised for coal bids several weeks ago, and it is meeting this week awarded the contract for this coming winter's supply to the Balfanz Fuel company.

The contract calls for twenty tons at $8.25 per ton, to be delivered next month.

The court has also passed finally the assessments for the year of 1909. The valuations stand as submitted by Tax Assessor West.

Kindergarten Exercises.

Invitations for the kindergarten exercises have been issued as follows: Come to the Bible school Friday morning. See our kindergarten in all its adorning. We shall be glad your faces to greet; We will give you songs and anthems sweet; Scripture verses from God's holy word And many good things you never have heard. Friday morning sharply at nine. The program begins, rain or shine.

Investment Doubles in Few Months

Another instance of where a small investment in San Angelo dirt has doubled itself within a few months was cited Thursday morning when Joe Clark sold to G. W. Gwin a business lot on Twobig avenue for $3000. A short time ago Mr. Clark purchased this lot, which is 25x100 feet, for $1500. It is near the site selected for the new opera house.

In turn Mr. Gwin purchased of Mr. Clark a 5-acre tract in Rotan, Fisher county, for $500.

Both deals were consummated by J. C. Wren.

Rev. H. M. McGee of Lampasas is in the city in the interest of Baylor college. Rev. Mr. McGee was pastor of the Baptist church here about eight years ago.

Rain Schedule.

Reports reaching The Press-News at midnight were to the effect that good rains fell Thursday at Sonora, Bronte, Eden and Owensville. In fact, the line extended almost to San Angelo. In each case the fall was hard, but it soaked into the ground.

This rain, following the one of a week ago, will put the ground in splendid condition for all purposes.

Claud Collin and wife of Bliss were in the city all day Thursday. Mr. Collin is a sheep man and says the prospects in Coke county are bright, to say the least.

A. W. Williams went to Santa Anna Thursday on a business trip.

J. B. CLAYTON GRANTED BAIL

JUDGE TIMMINS HEARS TESTIMONY AND PLACES AMOUNT OF BOND AT $8000.

FRIENDS TO RESCUE

Papers to Go to Lampasas—Defendant Is Charged With the Killing of Two Men Here Last May.

After having been in jail since May 15, J. B. Clayton, charged by indictment with two cases of murder, appealed to Judge Timmins of the district court Thursday for an habeas corpus hearing, which was granted. After the testimony had been heard Judge Timmins placed his bail at $8000. Clayton says he can make the bond, and the papers will be forwarded to Lampasas Friday for signatures. There, it is said, Clayton has numerous friends who will come to his rescue.

Clayton is charged with having killed Bob Gibson and a Mexican named Adolph Flores, on the night of May 13. He became involved in a difficulty which ended with two lives lost. The shooting was at Hooger Red's wild west show, in the presence of several thousand people.

Taking place as it did at a show when men from all over San Angelo and the surrounding country were present, the trial promises to be very interesting. In murder cases every available witness is usually summoned, and if this custom is followed in the Clayton case, it will go down on record as one of the most exceptional in the history of the state. There won't be standing room in the court room to accommodate all the witnesses.

KING INDICTED; CAN'T BE FOUND

WITNESSES EXAMINED

More Than Fifty People Are Subpoenaed and Asked Regarding the $8000 Bank Robbery at Fort Worth Tuesday Week.

Adjourning Thursday afternoon, after having examined more than fifty witnesses with reference to the Waggoner Bank and Trust company robbery, involving something slightly in excess of $8000, the grand jury in Fort Worth has returned an indictment against Walter King, charging him with embezzlement. Mr. King, however, was not to be found Thursday, and it is believed that he has gone to fields unknown.

This forms the second chapter of the most sensational robbery ever committed in Fort Worth. According to Mr. King's statement immediately following the disappearance of the money, he was held up in the bank by a lone bandit, and at the point of a revolver and a threat to kill, compelled to give up the money he had placed on the counter for the purpose of arranging and putting in bags. All of this is alleged to have occurred on Tuesday, a week ago.

About two days after the reported robbery was announced, the Waggoner Bank and Trust company was presented with a check to cover the loss, and, it is said, it did not come from the insurance company, either.

Walter King, who is charged by indictment with having committed the deed, had been at the head of the Main street branch of the Waggoner Bank and Trust company for about two years. Prior to that time he had served several years in the county clerk's office, and had become so well known in a political way that he ran for the office, but was defeated. He is a man of good business ability and his connections were of the very best. In fact, he was one of Fort Worth's most popular young men, being a member of several of the leading lodges, and had always taken an active part in society. He is married and owns one of the most beautiful homes in Fort Worth.

Barbecue Planned for July 4 Celebration—Many from San Angelo Have Signified Intention of Attending.

Advertising for bids on a school house in advance of an election to determine whether or not bonds to the amount of $20,000 shall be floated, Eldorado has set an example of pushency that speaks well for the get up and get of that town. The bond election will not be held until July 17, but so confident are the people that the proposition will carry, they are going right ahead and intend to let the contract for the erection of the school two days after the election has been held. For fast work that beats anything heretofore heard of in Texas.

Eldorado is the county seat of Schleicher county and has a population of about 900. The proposed school will have six class rooms and a fine library. The lower part of the building will be of rock, while the top will be finished with brick.

Among other things, Eldorado is to have a big barbecue on July 5, and a large delegation from San Angelo will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Frenley and daughter Mildred, who have been in the city visiting, returned Thursday to their home in San Marcos.

Mrs. H. A. Roach and children and Mrs. John Roach and children of Del Rio passed through the city Thursday on their way to visit relatives in Killeen.

Alvin P. Utterback, who has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Utterback of this city, departed Thursday for a visit to his sister in Parsons, Kan.

Miss Janet Johnson, the little daughter of J. C. Johnson, went to Talpa yesterday on a visit.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE.

Just at the time when Young America was beginning to make use of the Glorious Fourth in Texas, making this day divide honors with Christmas as an occasion for noisy demonstrations, along comes the Texas legislature and puts a prohibitive tax on the sale of fireworks. The Press-News is not prepared to say whether or not it is ready to indorse the restrictive legislation that has of late years been turned out by the legislatures of the land. In fact, The Press-News is not prepared even to indorse the anti-cannon cracker law.

One of the inherent rights of boyhood is noise-making. Another inherent right is courting dangers. In fact, the boy who never courts danger is not educated to make a success in a more serious kind of courting he will later in life be called upon to engage in. Another inherent right of boyhood is to make others miserable, if the misery of others is the only price which he can obtain for his happiness.

It is a lucky thing that Young America in Texas doesn't care too strongly to shoot his firecrackers on the Glorious Fourth, for law or no law, he would either get them or something else equally as dangerous to shoot.

The fire cracker law was passed for the purpose, or at least in the hope of cutting down the accident rate incidental to overdoing a patriotic celebration. The Press-News sympathizes with the movement, but it doubts the wisdom of the act of the legislature. The Press-News believes with Spencer that no political alchemy has yet been found by which the actions of men with leaden desires can be transmuted into golden conduct. Laws seeking to protect a man against himself are never counted as being successful.

The firecracker law of the last legislature was such a law. It will not prove to be any more of a success than the law passed by the Thirtieth legislature prohibiting the sale of pistols has reduced the number of killings in this state. As proof positive of this fact one need but look at any daily paper and find ample proof. The Record of Thursday, for instance, contained four mentions of matters connected with killings, and the Record of today will very likely contain as many.

We never miss our liberties until they have been taken from us. If we had more of the boy in us and wanted to shoot off a few firecrackers on the coming Glorious Fourth, we know full well that we would feel the iron heel of the oppressor was upon our neck if when we started to buy our fireworks we would find that the law had raised a barrier against us doing that which injured no one and made us happy indeed.

What Texas needs is not laws to protect the man against himself, but laws that encourage the man to make the most out of himself possible. Restrictive legislation has been running riot in this state for all to long. The firecracker law is not particularly vicious, but it is an act that has been accepted without protest, all of which truly brings to mind the force of the expression that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

The Kansas bank guaranty law is now in effect. So is the Texas law on the same subject, but as yet wheelbarrows are not needed to convey the money that heretofore has been in the proverbial stocking to the banks taking advantage of this law.

A tenement house has been completed in St. Louis in which families without children will be barred. That house ought to have a chipney for every room, for the stork will need remain close by his nest in that tenement.

Dr. C. K. Parsons, the millionaire philanthropist, is out in an interview opposing cigarettes. He will give no more to colleges that permit students to smoke the paper things. Dr. Parsons should endow a fund for the purchase of perfectos and pipes.

Now comes the report that Dr. Elliott is to have a fund of a half million given him. That will likely be more popular than his five-foot shelf of books.

Taft says the republicans will be defeated if the pledges are not kept. For goodness sake, let us hope that the democrats will embrace the opportunity.

On to Sterling City!

LOCAL EAGLES TO RE-ORGANIZE

LEE STEPHENS OF FORT WORTH HERE AS REPRESENTATIVE OF PRESIDENT MONAHANS.

HE LIKES SAN ANGELO

Declares San Angelo Is the Best Place He Has Visited Recently—May Attend the Mayors' Convention Here This Month.

Lee Stephens of Fort Worth is in San Angelo for the purpose of reorganizing the local order of Eagles. He is state vice-president, and comes here as the direct representative of Supreme President Monahans of Philadelphia. For an hour or more he was in consultation with President Birt of the local order Thursday, and it is announced, before Mr. Stephens leaves San Angelo will have organized one of the best lodges in the state.

While here Mr. Stephens will file bids for several jobs of plumbing, he being a member of the firm of Stephens & Crowder, plumbers and electrical men, of Fort Worth.

"You have a great town here," he remarked Thursday, "and I see no reason why it should not develop into one of the largest cities in the state. It is one of the busiest little places I have visited in a long time, and whenever you see a town where there is plenty of business you may just put it down that there is where money is to be found."

Mr. Stephens was for two years a member of the Fort Worth city commission, being in charge of the waterworks department. He has been extended an invitation to attend the mayors' convention here the latter part of the month, and will doubtless attend.

ALL COMMITTEES MEET SATURDAY

J. J. Lanin Here Friday to Help Round Out Bonus of $50,000 to Secure Sterling City Road.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the First National bank, the committee that has been working up the bonus for the Sterling City railroad will meet and make a report on what has been accomplished.

At this meeting the general railroad committee and J. J. Lanin will also be present. In other words, it will be a critical moment in the history of San Angelo, for all of the working force will be together, and the railroad proposition will be discussed at length. If the committee on subscriptions reports that the bonus has been raised, then Mr. Lanin is ready to put men at work on the road. On the other hand, if the bonus has not been raised—well, it is not known just what will happen.

Mr. Lanin is coming to San Angelo fully expecting to be told that the people are ready for him to go ahead with the work. Just how much money has been subscribed is not known, but it is said that the list is not complete yet by many means.

It is therefore up to the people to get busy and sign for their pro rata shares Friday, for Saturday it might be too late. At any rate a desperate effort is to be made by the committee, and if the entire $50,000 is not on hand by Saturday afternoon it will not be because it hasn't tried.

WHITE PLAGUE WAR CONTINUES

OVER 45 PER CENT OF THOSE FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS ARE LAYMEN.

GOOD HEADWAY MADE

More Complete Registration of Tuberculosis Cases and Further Isolation of Advanced Cases of Consumption Is Urged.

Confirming the recent statement of Dr. William Osler, that the anti-tuberculosis campaign is no longer a battle for the doctors only, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis issues a statement in which it is shown that over 45 per cent of those enlisted in the White Plague War are laymen.

The National Association's membership, consisting of nearly 2,500, and representing every state in the Union, is composed of 54.6 per cent. doctors are uniting against this one common foe.

Every day sees hundreds of new recruits in the war, and every day brings new methods for the fighting of the plague. The National Association predicts that if the present degree of interest is maintained, within five years everybody in the United States will have been informed on the way to prevent and cure tuberculosis, and concerning the infectious nature of the disease.

Two things in particular are needed, and for these the association is working in every way. They are, a more complete registration of tuberculosis cases, and the further isolation of dangerous advanced cases of consumption.

ANGELO AUTO AND REPAIR CO.

and 45.4 per cent. laymen. In the local and State associations, however, throughout the country, the percentage of laymen averages considerably over 50 per cent. The National Association declares that this fact is peculiarly significant, as indicating the great popularity of the anti-tuberculosis movement.

Twenty-five years ago, when the campaign against tuberculosis was started in this country by Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, even the doctors laughed at the movement. Gradually the medical profession realized the possibilities of an organized fight against tuberculosis, and in 1904, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis was formed by the American Medical Association. At that time the percentage of laymen in the Association was only 12.9, and very few persons were interested in the campaign against this disease.

Today, according to recent figures published by the National Association, churches, schools, labor unions, women's clubs, fraternal organizations, and state legislatures, interesting fully 8,000,000 people are all allied in the campaign against tuberculosis, and in addition to these, laymen of all classes of society, and in every branch of social and industrial life.

Yankee Ideas For Japan
Wilhelmina's Doll Life
Girl Rules the Kaiser

A graduate of the University of Tokyo, Mrs. Hido Inowye is a distinguished student at the Teachers' college of Columbia university, in New York city. She has come to this country to learn American housekeeping or, as it is called in college parlance, domestic science. She is the wife of the Japanese court of ministers, the governing power of Korea. When she has finished her course at the Columbia university she will take a similar course in the University of Chicago, after which she will visit England and Germany to study housekeeping in these countries. Afterward she will return to her own land to establish a branch of that in which she is now interested in the University of Tokyo. She is pleased with American methods of housekeeping and wishes to see them adopted in her country. In her opinion the American mode of dress is more convenient for housework than the Japanese dress. She wears the latter while at her work, but in her hours of leisure she prefers her countrywomen's garb.

Wilhelmina's Love For Dolls.

Wilhelmina, queen and idol of Holland, now the happy mother of her own baby, was a mother in her fancy when she was a child. Then she had dolls of all nations. A doll house was established for her, a house so large that she could walk in it. The bureau in the elaborately furnished dining room stood no higher than her knees. In this gilded palace were mamma dolls, papa dolls, baby dolls, servant dolls and little dolls which she liked to believe had no homes until they came to her. These dolls to please their mistress and princess had the joys and ills that gladden or grieve real live children. When one would get the "tummy ache" she was attended by a seriously looking, somber child doctor, and he was a doll. The "mother" of all these dolls was herself a doll in a toy chalet. The king, her father, built for her a little estate, in which she ruled. Dotted over the little estate were buildings for pigs, chickens, rabbits and hives for bees. There was a tiny lake, on which floated a tiny boat. On this lake the tiny ruler of a tiny empire would make voyages, and always some of the dolls that had been very good were taken. The animals of the estate were taught to take their food from her hands. She has been a queen all her life and is now in reality the mother that she used to be in her fancy.

The Kaiser's Only Daughter.

Princess Victoria Louise is the only daughter of Kaiser Wilhelm. But she is known to all Germany as "princesschen." She will be seventeen the 13th of next September. Then she will be "princesschen" no longer, but the people who seem to love her will probably always call her that even after she has been won by some royal suitor. This girl has recently had a castle set aside for her. It is the Castle of Rheinsberg, and at one time it was the residence of Frederick the Great. The old historic mansion was given to the princess by her father, and she has been given a free hand to furnish the castle according to her own ideas. She will occupy a suite of five rooms. Her bedroom will be upholstered in white, with white enameled furniture, which includes a desk convertible at will into a sewing table. The dressing room will be paneled in light maple, and the bathroom will be of colored marble. The boudoir and the two adjoining rooms, her reception rooms, will be furnished in pink, her favorite color. The grounds will contain all that royal wealth and taste can devise for the outdoor amusement of the princess. The young lady is very simple in her tastes and is her royal father's favorite. It is said that she can "wheedle" anything out of him that she wants. Her business is devoted to her, and scarcely a day passes that they do not contribute something for her entertainment. She and her mother are constant companions.

BURIED ALIVE.

Six-Year-Old Boy Covered in Sand by His 12-Year-Old Brother.

Modesto, July 1.—That little 6-year-old Theodore Hopkins was buried alive in the sand by his 12-year-old brother, Cecil or Frank, as he is called by his parents, after having been hit on the head and shot in the back with a shot gun, now develops from the complete confession of the assailant made to Sheriff Dingley.

According to the story told by Frank to the Sheriff and Coroner Bowler in answer to their questions, the deed was the result of a quarrel between the youngsters over a piece of bread. The two boys being home alone Wednesday, became hungry and went to the house for food about 4 o'clock. The older one cut some bread. Theodore asked to be allowed to spread his own piece. A scuffle ensued, following which Frank threw the butcher knife at his brother, the handle striking him a severe blow in the forehead. The act was accompanied by the threat "get out of here or I'll kill you."

Theodore ran out of the house toward the road, and at about twenty yards, stooped to draw a silver from his foot.

While in this position, Frank took his father's shotgun and slipping in a shell fired at his brother. The little fellow fell to the ground crying. Frank went to him and the wounded child asked him to go for his mother. Instead of doing this, Frank picked up the little fellow, then lying quite still, and carried him toward the back of the house. Before going far the burden grew heavy and he dragged his little brother by the feet the rest of the distance. Procuring a shovel, he dug a shallow grave in the sand and rolled the little fellow into it.

Then came the part of the confession that caused the hearers to shudder. Calmly recounting his actions, Frank told how, as he shoveled sand on his brother, Theodore feebly cried out and lying on his left side put up his right arm to ward off the falling sand. This fact was corroborated by the finding of the body with the right arm separated from the body by a layer of sand, while the left arm was close to "the" body. Frank thereupon crammed sand into Theodore's mouth to stop his cries, and thus the boy was found with sand in the mouth and nostrils.

Finishing the task Frank went to the house and cleaned up the dishes. It took much questioning before the boy would tell the story, and then it was given in the most cold-blooded manner. After the strain of examination, he cried a little, but was soon over this display of feeling. At no time did he show remorse. Later he calmly repeated the story to his parents. He then told them how Theodore "was crying when I put him in the hole, and said 'ouch' when I put sand on him and tried to shove it away, but I covered him up."

The boy seemed proud of the sensation created rather than sorry for what he had done. He showed no signs of insanity, and though said to be dull in school he is by no means stupid. The parents say that at the age of 3 he was bitten by a dog, and since that time has shown sudden fits of uncontrollable anger, and they believe he was in one of these fits when an idiot.

He killed his brother. The mother is almost prostrated by grief, but the father, who is a member of the Salvation Army, speaks of the details of the crime in a most matter of fact way. They are very poor.

The shot was a No. 4 size, five of them entering the left arm, one entering the neck and five penetrated the back and entered the lungs. From the results of the autopsy the little fellow must have been nearly dead from internal hemorrhages when buried.

The young murderer offers a strange case. A Stockton attorney, who has made a study of criminals and who talked with the boy, says he is not insane, but shows every inclination of criminal tendencies. He will be examined by alienists, and probably placed in some State institution.

FIVE BAPTIZED RIVERSIDE RINK

MR. HADDOCK SPEAKS ENTERTAININGLY ON THE SUBJECT "THE GREAT INVITATION."

WHAT JESUS PROMISES

Meeting Draws Large Crowds and Greater Results Are Being Accomplished Than at First Expected.

The First Christian church revival at the Riverside rink continues. Those vitally interested are highly pleased with the progress made. The First Christian church has been edified, its membership has been increased and the new church edifice has been assured. The soliciting committee is making good headway, several thousand dollars has been subscribed since the first and only statement--showing that $8000 had been subscribed--was given to the public, the people of San Angelo are taking an interest in the public movement and it is evident that within a reasonable time the work of construction will begin.

Mr. Haddock spoke Thursday night on "The Great Invitation," which is found in Matt. 11:28-29. He said it was great because of its limitless scope; that the Savior of the world stoop on Mount Olivet after His resurrection with this invitation in His mind and heart. "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest," and then ascended into heaven, having promised the believers that the heavenly mansions should be their home.

He said, too, that it was great because of the one who gave it; that the giver of the invitation was perfect, having lived without error in look, word or deed, and that there was a great difference or chasm occasioned by sin between Him and the sinners invited. The invitation implied that the people invited were away from Christ; that they were responsible beings and that they could come or respond. The old theology had taught the world that men could not do anything to save themselves, notwithstanding the fact that great blessings had been pronounced upon Abraham because he complied with the conditions specified as precedent to the fulfillment of the promise; that the old theology had pictured God as allowing people to come into the world powerless on account of Adam's transgression, but the world was coming to see God in the true light from heaven, and learning to love Him, as manifested by His only begotten Son; that notwithstanding the old theology taught that people came into the world powerless to think a good thought or do a good deed, on account of Adam's sin, the Bible did not authorize it, but that Jesus said "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Mr. Haddock contended that the rest promised by Jesus pertained to the home in heaven, and that people would naturally ask the question asked by Philip, "Show us the way, and it sufficeth us." He said that Jesus answered the question, saying, "I am the way," and proved that there was no other way. Then the question as to how one could get to the way was raised, and it was shown that Jesus said that no man could come to Him except the Father drew him, and that the Father drew men by His power, and that Paul said that the power of God was the gospel of Christ, and that the gospel of Christ was an intelligent appeal to responsible people. The speaker said that Christ was the way and that the gospel showed people how to get to the way and how to get into the way; that persons, in accepting the great invitation, came to the way by believing, repenting, and that they entered or were inducted into the way by being baptized, and quoted many passages of scripture.

especially Romans 6, to establish the truthfulness of this position. Continuing, the evangelist said that God ordained that men should believe the gospel, repent of their sins and be baptized in the name of Christ into the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and that no man had any authority from heaven to invent any other way to heaven; that persons came to Christ by faith and repentance, and that they were then baptized into Christ, and that if they continued faithful until death the many mansions would be their home.

At the close of the invitation the pastor, Frederick F. Wyatt, baptized five persons. It was a beautiful ceremony and a large audience witnessed it. Others are to be baptized this week, and it is altogether probable that the ordinance of baptism will be administered Friday night, as the baptistry in the rink is so convenient. The service will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

BALLINGER PUTS CRIMP TO BLUES

SNOW'S MEN TAKEN INTO CAMP BY CLIFFDWELLERS TO TUNE OF 8 TO 2.

BUT YOU JUST WAIT

Same Clubs Play Double-header in San Angelo Sunday, When the Fur Is Sure to Fly--Con-test Warming Up.

The Blues went to Ballinger Thursday to tangle up with the Cliffdwellers. They tangled up with 'em all right, but after nine innings had played the Cliffdwellers had 8 scores to their credit, while the Blues could show but 2.

The Cliffdwellers are a fancy bunch of ball tossers, but they are at their best on their own grounds. When the San Angelo boys get them on the home grounds, just watch the fur fly. Manager Snow has gotten together a high class team, and though the boys may lose now and then, still the fans have no right to believe that Ballinger has the Indian sign on them.

The big double-header comes off here Sunday and an immense crowd is expected to turn out. The character of the ball playing now seen in West Texas justifies an even more loyal attendance than has been granted the team this year.

ALL TO CELEBRATE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Grocerymen Announce That They, Too Shall Give Employees Holiday on Monday--Sign Petition.

Every indication points to the belief that San Angelo's celebration of the Fourth this year will outclass all previous ones, and that practically every store in town will be closed. Following the announcement of the dry goods men that their establishment will remain closed Monday, comes the statement that the grocerymen have also signed a petition to give their employees a holiday. The following petition was circulated Thursday:

We, the undersigned grocerymen, agree to close our stores all day Monday in order to observe the Fourth of July.

The foregoing was signed by the J. E. Taylor Grocery company, Max Pantel company, Phillips & Brygley, Silas H. Keeton, J. G. Powell & Co., W. S. Mahson, Probandt & Raphael, the Hammond Grocery Store, Jordan Grocery company, Merrifield & Hopkins, Springer & Rawls, T. J. Stevens, B. L. Trimble, D. C. Chamberlin, Magch Bros., Boldt & Wofford, Young, Wylie & Bennett, Stovall & Rowsey, T. P. Head, Sam S. Dowry, City Bakery.

The Mexican who ran into J. T. Thomason on Chadbourne street a few days ago was arraigned in City Recorder Wade Henderson's court Thursday morning for reckless driving. He was acquitted and went merrily on his way.

BURIED ALIVE.

Six-Year-Old Boy Covered in Sand by His 12-Year-Old Brother.

Modesto, July 1.--That little 6-year-old Theodore Hopkins was buried alive in the sand by his 12-year-old brother, Cecil or Frank, as he is called by his parents, after having been hit on the head and shot in the back with a shot gun, now develops from the complete confession of the assailant made to Sheriff Dingley.

According to the story told by Frank to the Sheriff and Coroner Bowler in answer to their questions, the deed was the result of a quarrel between the youngsters over a piece of bread. The two boys being home alone Wednesday, became hungry and went to the house for food about 4 o'clock. The older one cut some bread. Theodore asked to be allowed to spread his own piece. A scuffle ensued, following which Frank threw the butcher knife at his brother, the handle striking him a severe blow in the forehead. The act was accompanied by the threat "get out of here or I'll kill you."

Theodore ran out of the house toward the road, and at about twenty yards, stooped to draw a silver from his foot. While in this position, Frank took his father's shotgun and slipping in a shell fired at his brother. The little fellow fell to the ground crying. Frank went to him and the wounded child asked him to go for his mother. Instead of doing this, Frank picked up the little fellow, then lying quite still, and carried him toward the back of the house. Before going far the burden grew heavy and he dragged his little brother by the feet the rest of the distance. Procuring a shovel, he dug a shallow grave in the sand and rolled the little fellow into it.

Then came the part of the confession that caused the hearers to shudder. Calmly recounting his actions, Frank told how, as he shoveled sand on his brother, Theodore feebly cried out and lying on his left side put up his right arm to ward off the falling sand. This fact was corroborated by the finding of the body with the right arm separated from the body by a layer of sand, while the left arm was close to the body. Frank thereupon crammed sand into Theodore's mouth to stop his cries, and thus the body was found with sand in the mouth and nostrils.

Finishing the task Frank went to the house and cleaned up the dishes. It took much questioning before the boy would tell the story, and then it was given in the most cold-blooded manner. After the strain of examination, he cried a little, but was soon over this display of feeling. At no time did he show remorse. Later he calmly repeated the story to his parents. He then told them how Theodore "was crying when I put him in the hole, and said 'ouch' when I put sand on him and tried to shove it away, but I covered him up."

The boy seemed proud of the sensation created rather than sorry for what he had done. He showed no signs of insanity, and though said to be dull in school he is by no means stupid. The parents say that at the age of 3 he was bitten by a dog, and since that time has shown sudden fits of uncontrollable anger, and they believe he was in one of these fits when an idiot.

He killed his brother. The mother is almost prostrated by grief, but the father, who is a member of the Salvation Army, speaks of the details of the crime in a most matter of fact way. They are very poor.

The shot was a No. 4 size, five of them entering the left arm, one entering the neck and five penetrated the back and entered the lungs. From the results of the autopsy the little fellow must have been nearly dead from internal hemorrhages when buried.

The young murderer offers a strange case. A Stockton attorney, who has made a study of criminals and who talked with the boy, says he is not insane, but shows every inclination of criminal tendencies. He will be examined by alienists, and probably placed in some State institution.

The Blues went to Ballinger Thursday to tangle up with the Cliffdwellers. They tangled up with 'em all right, but after nine innings had been played the Cliffdwellers had 8 scores to their credit, while the Blues could show but 2.

The Cliffdwellers are a fancy bunch of ball tossers, but they are at their best on their own grounds. When the San Angelo boys get them on the home grounds, just watch the fur fly. Manager Snow has gotten together a high class team, and though the boys may lose now and then, still the fans have no right to believe that Ballinger has the Indian sign on them.

The big double-header comes off here Sunday and an immense crowd is expected to turn out. The character of the ball playing now seen in West Texas justifies an even more loyal attendance than has been granted the team this year.

Grocerymen Announce That They, Too Shall Give Employees Holiday on Monday--Sign Petition.

Every indication points to the belief that San Angelo's celebration of the Fourth this year will outclass all previous ones, and that practically every store in town will be closed. Following the announcement of the dry goods men that their establishment will remain closed Monday, comes the statement that the grocerymen have also signed a petition to give their employees a holiday. The following petition was circulated Thursday:

We, the undersigned grocerymen, agree to close our stores all day Monday in order to observe the Fourth of July.

The foregoing was signed by the J. B. Taylor Grocery company, Max Pantel company, Phillips & Srygley, Silas H. Keeton, J. G. Powell & Co., W. S. Mabson, Probandt & Raphael, the Hammond Grocery Store, Jordan Grocery company, Merrifield & Hopkins, Springer & Rawls, T. J. Stevens, B. L. Trimble, D. C. Chamberlin, March Bros., Boldt & Wofford, Young, Wylie & Bennett, Stovall & Rowsey, T. E. Heald, Sam S. Dowdy, City Bakery.
