Extension of Social Security Urged In Last Annual Report

VOLUME LXII

Extension of coverage under oldage and survivors insurance to all gainfully employed workers is one of the recommendations of the Social Security Board in its eleventh and last annual report. Alwin A. Moerbe, Officer in Charge of the Waco office of the Social Security Administration, said this week.

In July of 1946 the Board was abolished, its functions transferred to the Federal Security Agency, and its organization designated as the Social Security Administration. The current report, required of the Board under the Social Security Act, is for the fiscal year 1945-46, and was submitted to Congress February 11.

Mr. Moerbe pointed out that the recommendation for extension was based upon ten years of administrative experience, which had demonstrated the feasibility of extension of coverage to the groups now without protection of the program. Persons not at present able to earn protection under the program include those employed in agriculture, domestic service, nonprofit organizations and Government service, and those who are self-employed.

In addition to protecting the groups not now covered, the extension of the program would reduce the number of persons who lose their rights to benefits by shifting in and out of covered employment, he added.

Another recommendation of the Board in the Report calls for payment of benefits to insured work ers during periods of permanent total disability, through expansion of the present Federal Government program of the old-age and survivors insurance. In making this recommendation for the inclusion of disability insurance, the Board said that the wage loss suffered by permanently disabled workers and their families probably runs from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year.

A third major recommendation calls for changes in the method by which old-age and survivors insurance benefits are figured to increase the amount of the benehurt Nov. 5 and has suffered the fits, particularly to low-paid workers. The general level of benefits should be raised, the report states. largely because of increased living costs

The Board also recommended reduction of the qualifying age for all women beneficiaries from

Vocational School

Enrollment in the Hamilton Co. Vocational School for February has reached 205. The distribution of veterans is as follows: Hamilton Agriculture Class, 63; Pottsville Agriculture Class, 31; Hico Agriculture Class, 25; total, 119; Hamilton Trades and Industries Class, 52; Hamilton Distributive Education Class, 34. Two or three men will drop out during February because of job changes or moves out of town. This happens every month, but on March 1 there will be more new men entering than dropped out. This, also, has happened every month since the school opened last spring.

Henry Agan is leaving us this month. He has been bookkeeper for the Hamilton Herald-News since entering school last fall. As far as we have been able to learn, there is not a smalltown shop in a radius of 100 miles that is so well equipped. Visiting representatives from the Veterans Administration and from the State Department of Vocational Education say this is true. Go out and see the setup and see some of the work the veterans are turning out there. It is really worth.

> Included in the shop equipment are the following: 12-inch Dewalt radial saw, 10-inch Delta table saw, 14-inch Delta band saw, a Delta drill press with morticing attachments, a Delta shaper, a Newman 24-inch thickness planer. a 16-inch joiner, portable sanders, and more than $1500 worth of small tools. The boys are equipped to build almost anything they want to build of wood, and they are building practically anything you can think of. They are also learning to do furniture upholstering, finishing, and painting.

> Mr. Alexander is a native of Temple, where he was in the cabinet making business about 12 years before entering the military service in 1943. He spent three years with the Seabees, most of it in the Pacific Islands. Immediately after leaving the service he established his shop in Hamilton.

> Back in June 1940, before Alexander went into the service, he married Annie Lillian Shipman, a Hamilton girl who was a nurse at Scott & White Hospital at Temple, Mrs. Alexander finished Hamilton High School in 1936 and graduated as a Registered Nurse at Scott & White before moving back to Hamilton with her husband. Keeney's Hatchery

Baby Chicks, Poults, Remedies and Supplies

We Sell and Recommend TEXO Poultry and Livestock Feeds

HICO, TEXAS February 21, 1947

DEAR MR. FARMER:

Have you ever noticed, in your visits to Hatcheries, that a great number of the hatcherymen always have a surplus of chicks and invariably have to sell their chicks at reduced prices to move enough of them out of batteries to keep running their incubators? Had you ever stopped to think why this is the case? There's a reason.

We have an average size hatchery — 56,000 eggs — and set about as many eggs as the average hatcheryman, but you've never seen us over-crowded with chicks. We attribute this, not to luck or super-salesmanship, but to the fact that we have always produced QUALITY chicks and sold them at a price the farmer can afford to pay. Through the years the buyers have learned that they can depend on Keeney's chicks to live and grow, lay and pay. Every precaution is taken to see that our eggs are properly incubated and hatched in a way that will produce a chick that will live. We would appreciate your coming in and inspecting our equipment.

If you are interested in raising a few more chicks, getting a few more eggs per bird, then get your chicks from KEENEY'S.

Write us, call or come to see us for your CHICKS and POULTS. All chicks and poults are U.S. Approved or U.S. CERTIFIED.

We have a complete line of brooders, oil and electric; feeders, founts, and Chick and Turkey Starting Feeds. We will both lose money if you fail to see us.

Yours for QUALITY at fair prices,

Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon

Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundstone Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.

But when Cissy Cupper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here. "There's no place better than our town," Cissy says, "And I'd like to start married life at home. with things Bud and I are used to."

Makes sense, come to think of it. Folks naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.

My missus prefers travelingand that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon-or second honeymoon-than right at homewith your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two-with the best companion in the world.

AXE ME ANOTHER,

GEORGE If young George Washington were around today, we for one would beg him to repeat his tree cutting act. In fact, we'd give him a power saw to speed up the job. It would certainly be a fine way for us to get some much needed and still scarce telephone poles -which, among other things, would help us improve and expand telephone service.

REMEMBER -- when you could get a good plate lunch for a quarter?

TUST a few years before the war you could get a good plate lunch almost anywhere for a quarter. Today, through no fault of the cafe owners, the same lunch may cost you up to twice as much. And what is true of cafe meals is true of most other things you buy. Almost everything has gone up-almost everything except electricity.

As a result of greatly increased use coupled with sound business management, electricity has stayed down in cost while other prices have been going up. Electricity is one of a few things you buy that still sells for pre-war prices or lower. Although your monthly bill may not be less, due to the fact that you're using more electricity, the cost per unit of electric service was never cheaper than it is today!
