

"A small town is a place where everyone knows everything that happens but they subscribe to the local paper to see if the editor gets it right."

The above statement, perhaps not original with the speaker, was made by Joe T. Cook, editor of the Mission Times and president of the National Editorial Association, during an address before the Missouri Press Association. The event marked the 41st annual journalism week at the University of Missouri.

Also included in his remarks was a statement that "public confidence is the gravest problem that the American press faces today." He expressed the thought that straight facts were a "must" in weekly newspaper business, and that to endure, any publication must safeguard its destiny with truthful reporting.

"As the press lives up to this responsibility, it can remain free," he added. "Because if the press tells the truth the people will retain confidence in it."

The above statements, which at first glance seem contradictory, are repeated here more or less as a reminder to the editor and the staff that The News Review is getting older all the time, and with that age should come wisdom and confidence if its affairs are conducted in the right manner.

This week the home paper rounds out its 64th year. According to the masthead, if and when this paper gets in the mails, it will be identified as Number 52 of Volume LXIV.

With next week's issue we begin publication in the 65th year of your home paper. On this occasion let's all say a silent prayer for the sheet, and hope that the future will bring continued pleasure and enlightenment for the readers, service for the advertisers and other patrons, and at least modest success for the personnel. Thanks.

That personable chap you've perhaps seen around here since last Saturday is a home-town boy who has been so far away from home the past two decades that he hasn't ever had a chance to vote in the U. S.

Odis Mings is the distinguished visitor who doubtless deserves a more formal news story. But he's so modest and unassuming, with all his position and responsibilities, that chances are he hasn't told you just what position he holds. For the record we might disclose that he is a director, vice-president and general manager of the Lago Oil & Transport Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey. The refinery situated on the island of Aruba in Netherlands West Indies off the coast of Venezuela at one time had the distinction of being the largest in the world.

The editor has known the fellow longer than most natives, having attended Abilene High School with him before parting of the ways. Odis got his diploma from Hico High School. Then followed a period of indoctrination into business, which included banking, coal-selling, and maybe a few other things before he settled down in the oil business, learning it from below-the-ground up. He signed up with Standard in 1930, after having taken a Hico classmate, Nell Barnes, as his bride. On the Caribbean island of Aruba, they raised their family and toiled for the fortune it has taken to provide the children with higher education in Texas and other States.

Twenty years and six children later Odis is back in the States on the first real vacation he has been permitted since before the war. Main inspiration for his present visit was to help his dad, Frank Mings, celebrate a birthday last Sunday. Accompanying activities of course have included fishing at Frank's favorite spots, visiting, and a dash of golf at Bluebonnet Country Club. That local pleasure spot, incidentally, was made possible a quarter century ago under the leadership of and through munificent endowment from his father-in-law, W. Pitt Barnes, ex-Hico banker.

War-time service with his company was rather rigorous for the young official and his responsibilities were great. Two years before outbreak of the conflict he predicted the holocaust, but nobody believed it, including the editor who lost a bet. An attempt to give a proven prophet a little honor in his own country came to naught, and the prominent visitor is noncommittal about Russia and what the future holds. In fact, his conversation guarded before members of the press. He'd rather talk about something else.

From other sources, however, it is certain that his record has earned him his position. He has a decoration from the Dutch government, which he claims is misplaced, and his flying time during the war was rolled up fast during frequent trips between the Caribbean island and the states on official confidential duties.

What we like about Odis is his wholesomeness, which seems to pervade his whole family. He hasn't yet attained middle age, we assume, for he and the editor were born about the same year. And the remark of an office visitor upon a recent introduction should be taken more as a rebuke to Frank than as a rebuke to his son's waistline.

"Are you Frank's brother?" was the innocent unprompted query.

The Garden Club expressed appreciation to all those who cooperated in making the event a success, to the Community Public Service Company for the use of their building, and they especially want to thank the employees of that office, Ollie Davis, Mrs. W. E. East and George Stringer.

Others who assisted were the Hico Florist, in furnishing the corsages; Barnes and McCullough, who lent the material for the platform for the style show; George Jones, who furnished the loud speaker, and Roberts Jewelry who furnished some of the jewelry worn in the revue. Thanks were also expressed for the cooperation of the mayor, all the committees who worked and planned the show, and the publicity given by the News Review.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meador and Sonny and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robertson were in Waco Friday night for the ceremonies. Convention Report Heard At Wednesday Lions Club Meeting

Lively interest and attendance of over 500 at the Mineral Wells convention of District 2-E was reported to Hico Lions at their regular Wednesday noon luncheon by President M. S. Norton who attended Sunday, Monday and Tuesday sessions.

The Hico band under the leadership of W. D. Bradley Jr. made a good showing in the parade, he said, in spite of the fact that competition with eleven other bands from bigger towns precluded possibility of winning one of the prizes offered.

Announcement was made at this week's meeting by Weldon Pierce, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for ladies' night and installation of officers, that the affair would come off at City Park beginning at 7:30 Monday night, May 29. An appropriate menu featuring barbecue is promised. At this meeting prominent Lion officials are expected to be present, including District Governor Sam Furr of Olney, Governor-Elect Elmer Atkins of Arlington, and Deputy District Governor Ira Moore of Hamilton.

A report on the recent organization meeting at Iredell was heard, followed by announcement of the donkey baseball game between members of the Hico Lions Club and the Hico Volunteer Fire Department, to be held at the school stadium Friday night, May 18.

Lion Bradley solicited continued interest of those present in the band, and invited all parents, children and others interested to attend a meeting Thursday night for the purpose of organizing a summer band school. Tuition is free, he added. Eighteen members attended this week's meeting, with no guests.

NOTES FROM SUBSCRIBERS O. H. Powell, 1006 Fannin St., Denton, has sent in a renewal to the paper from an old home town. "We like to hear the news from Hico," he wrote, "as my wife and I were raised in that part of Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lancaster, 3021 Martin Lane, Dallas, unfortunately missed their copy of a recent issue of the paper, and wrote requesting a duplicate, saying this was the first time that had happened to them. "We particularly wanted to get that issue," they said in an accompanying note, "in which we're sure you had the notice of the death of our friend, Mr. L. O. Vereker."

From Walton Hospital at De Funiak Springs, Florida, comes a note stating that a patient, Mrs. from Mrs. Jackie McCook, in spite of the fact that she has been a patient there for over two weeks, "Guess I played around on Miami Beach too long," the ex-Hicoite added, "and got my ears infected. Even though it is a hospital, all the folks including the nurses are so nice, I wish you all could say my flowers. Tonight my room looks like a florist's place. It's hard for me to stay in bed for I have lots to do. I have carpenters working on the new cafe, framework for which is all up. My brother is looking after things until I can be up again. I am really enjoying my rest, the one I have been needing for a long time. Best regards to all."

Funeral Rites Held Here Saturday for Mrs. Hugh Hooper

Mrs. Hugh Hooper, resident of Hico for 67 years, died early Friday morning at her home, following an illness of three years. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the family home, with Rev. L. H. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. L. Ray, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial was in the Hico Cemetery with Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Hooper was born in Waverly, Tennessee on July 23, 1861, and lived to be 88 years old. She was formerly Miss Sarah Florence Turner, and was married February 14, 1883, to Hugh Hooper, coming to Hico from Tennessee as a bride one month. Mrs. Hooper joined the Primitive Baptist Church at an early age, and lived a consistent Christian life. She was loved and admired by all who knew her. Survivors are her six children: four sons, Vernon Hooper of Wichita Falls, Horace Hooper of Sweetwater and Cole and Grady Hooper of Hico; two daughters, Mrs. Watt Petty and Miss Allie Hooper, both of Hico, and six grandchildren.

Palbearers were L. J. Chaney, J. B. Woodard, Morse Ross, J. B. Ogbe, W. G. Phillips and Roy French.

Guest Speakers and Interesting Program Mark Annual Event

Jimmy Darling of Abilene, 1949 State F. F. A. president, was guest speaker at the annual Parent-Son Banquet of Hico Chapter, Future Farmers of America, Tuesday night at the school gymnasium. His subject was "What, F. F. A. Work Has Meant to Me." W. Doyle Graves, head of the poultry department at Tarleton State College, spoke on "Future Farmer Work," stressing knowledge, leadership, and dependability as qualities of a good farm boy.

After opening ceremonies, impressively carried out by members of the local chapter, invocation was by W. P. Mauk, principal of Hico High School. He and other members of the faculty have shown great interest in this line of work, and under the administration of Supt. J. E. Lincoln the department headed by J. Doyle Love as instructor has been credited with many worthwhile projects and steady progress.

The menu consisted of barbecued chicken, baked beans, potato salad, pickles, iced tea, and pie. It was served by freshman agriculture boys. The chicken was donated by A. H. Demke, and barbecued by J. B. Ratliff. Mrs. J. E. Slaughter was in charge of other meal preparations.

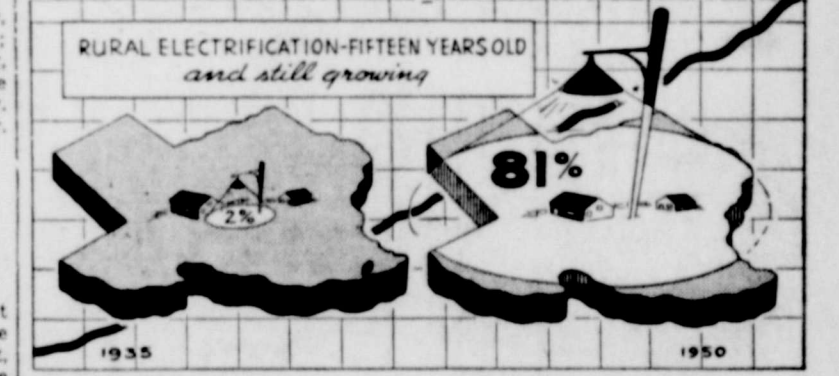

Roy McWilliams, freshman agriculture student, gave the welcome address, followed with a poem, "The Fiftieth Boy," by James (Buck) Terry. Kenneth Johnson reviewed the achievements of the year.

Wendell Burden, chapter president, presented a compact to Wanda Jo Suitt, who had been previously introduced as F. F. A. Sweetheart.

Odis Patsick and John Goughly were made honorary members of the local chapter, the honor coming from work and help they have given the members individually and the organization and its purposes.

Bobby Ratliff delivered an appreciation talk before closing ceremonies by chapter officers and members.

Forty boys and 82 guests, including parents, directors of the livestock show and their wives, school trustees and wives, and high school teachers and wives were present. Plate favors were wheels made of corn cobs with the individual's name on the axle, formed by matches. Roses and miniature Farmall tractors from Neel Truck & Tractor Co. formed the centerpiece.

Rural Electrification Administration Observes Its 15th Anniversary

May 11 is an important anniversary for Texas farmers. For on that date in 1935 President Roosevelt ordered the establishment of the Rural Electrification Administration, and such previously indispensable rural gadgets as the coal oil lamp, the wood cookstove, and the old-fashioned washboard were on their way into oblivion.

In 1935 only 2 per cent of rural homes in Texas had electricity, while today 81 per cent of Texas farms and ranches put electricity to more than 300 different uses. Texas' 77 rural electric co-ops now serve more than 256,000 rural homes over 104,000 miles of wire, enough to reach four times around the world.

Texas has been a leader in the rural electrification program from the start. The first rural power lines in the country built with money borrowed from the government were energized by the Bartlett Electric Cooperative at Bartlett, Texas, in March, 1936.

Rural power lines spread rather slowly over the state for the first few years. REA provided nothing except technical advice, guidance, and loans to be paid back with interest. Rural people talked it over, organized co-ops, and built more and more power lines as it became apparent that the co-ops were financially practical and would be able to pay back their loans to REA.

Then came the war and rural power lines were built even more rapidly, for the government realized that rural electrification would have to play a vital role in wartime production of food, replacing the farmers' sons and hired hands who went to war. Rural electric co-ops were given high priorities for construction materials, and the war effort benefitted from the resulting increase in food production.

But rural electrification in Texas is past the stage where the accent is on the extension of lines. It is developing to a point which will create a new problem, arising from an increased farm use of power to create income. In December of 1941, the average power use per farm for that month was 45 kilowatt-hours. In December of 1949, it was 90 kilowatt-hours. The national average is 141 kwh. This constantly increased demand for power on the farm eventually is expected to throw an additional strain on Texas' power sources. Even now many suppliers are nearing the limit of their capacity to produce dependable service. Co-op leaders are hoping for new dams to provide more hydroelectric power to meet the increased demand.

Texas' 77 rural electric co-ops now have a monetary value of more than $125 million. They are owned and controlled by the rural families they serve, and each of them is repaying its loan to the federal government on or ahead of schedule.

Cancer Drive Will Be Continued Until Job Is Completed

College Station (Sp.)—The fight against cancer is one which we cannot afford to lose by default, Gibb Gilchrist, Chancellor of the Texas A&M College System and Chairman of the 1950 Texas Cancer Crusade, told Texas cancer control workers, as he urged them to continue their county drives "until we have completed our job."

"Most county cancer drives are far from complete," the state chairman said. "Because of prior fund-raising campaigns, many are just now getting underway."

He called for an extension of the 1950 Crusade until the $500,000 statewide goal is accomplished. By May 5 only $217,087 had been reported by 84 counties. There were still 123 counties to be heard from. Mr. Gilchrist pointed out that American Cancer Society volunteers are doing an excellent job this year of getting the facts about cancer into a majority of Texas homes. He explained that the Crusade has two purposes: to educate the public to be alert for cancer and to accept contributions with which to continue cancer Society programs of research, education and service.

Cub Scouts Report On Their Visit to News Review Office

Friday we first went down to the water works and looked all around and then we went to the fire hall and rode on the fire truck. Next we came back to the fire hall and went into the jail and looked around. A few days later all of the Cub Scouts went to the News Review office where we each received a name plate and watched that week's News Review go to press. STEVE OGLE.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

THEN

AND NOW!

From R. T. Murray of Rockport, Ind.: "I remember very well what they called the 'gas buggy' shown in the Old Timer's column a while back. We called them 'side winders' because the starting crank was on the side and when you cranked them it looked like you were winding them up. Two of the popular makes were the Oldsmobile and the Reo."

From Clara Wepler of Coshocton, O.: "In answer to the Old Timer's inquiry as to the name of the 'gas buggy' pictured in his column recently, I believe they were commonly called 'horseless carriages,' and not in a derogatory sense, either."

From Mrs. B. Sandford of Warren, O.: "That was not a gas buggy the Old Timer had a picture of in his column March 23; it was a steamer, but I don't know if it was a Stanley or not. We had two in the neighborhood I lived in as a girl I remember when one of them blew up while zipping up a hill out towards Perry, O., crippling the driver for life, killing his wife and mother-in-law and knocking his daughter unconscious."

From Charles E. Mascin of Chicago: "I don't remember what they called that 'gas buggy' shown in the Old Timer's column, but do any of you other old-timers remember these now-extinct cars: Abbott - Detroit, Pope - Hartford, Stevens-Duryea, Stutz Bearcat, Locomobile, Winton and Regal?"

Sectional awards also have been increased to twelve educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The national awards remain the same—six $300 scholarships. All awards are provided by Lederle Laboratories division, American Cyanamid Company.

Texas has accepted the program for 1950, which will be conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Among the program's objectives is to help 4-H Club members understand the full meaning of cleanliness, sanitation and animal health as applied to the production and care of milk and dairy products. The participants are encouraged to practice these principles at home as well as demonstrate them in their community. Also, they learn to appreciate the contribution of science and its application to the dairy industry.

County Extension agents will furnish full information regarding this program.

Mud Lake Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves. Figured we'd think up a brand-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy—sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it—for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners.

From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be—whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale—if and when we choose.

Fairy

By —
Mrs. Eunice Massengale

High winds and partly cloudy weather still prevail and all would like to see some pretty spring weather.

Friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Eliza McGowan of near Alvarado, but formerly of Fairy will be sorry to learn of her death. Funeral services were held last Sunday week, with burial in the Alvarado cemetery. The McGowan's operated a dry good store in Fairy while residing here. Mrs. McGowan was the mother of six daughters, namely, Henrietta, (Mrs. Ollie McDermitt) deceased, Martha, deceased, Mary, Vick, Nina and Elsie and one son, Russell. She was 81 years old. She was a dear friend of ours, having corresponded with her at intervals throughout these forty odd years passed since their residence here. She was always ready to offer consolation through consoling letters in our many sorrows and had we known of her death, we would have attended the funeral services. In fact we had planned to visit her, but illness had prevented carrying out our plans.

We failed to mention in last week's news of an added misfortune of the Garlon Streater family when their little son, Mickey Lynn, age two and a half years old was accidentally scalded when his mother was preparing to put on coffee two weeks ago Tuesday. In some manner the child tilted the vessel, spilling the contents of boiling water on him over his chest and stomach. He was rushed to the Hamilton Hospital and has been in a serious condition and last report we had they were going to have to graft flesh on part of the burned portions. And again on Wednesday morning of last week, more misfortune hit. When their oldest daughter, Doris Aileen came near being seriously burned. She is employed at the Hamilton hospital and was staying in Hamilton, until the baby was burned and as her mother was staying with him, she was coming home at night to assist her father with the house work and care of the other children. On Wednesday morning she was awakened by her father to cook breakfast. He attempted to light the gas oven and thinking he had it burning, went to the lot to do the outside chores. Just as he returned to the house he heard his daughter screaming. He hurried to her and seeing she was ablaze all over he quickly tore her chenille robe off, saving her body of severe burns. She suffered burn on her face and hands and a portion of her hair was burned. She had started to light the oven and the escaped gas ignited. We did not learn whether or not the stove was damaged. It will be remembered that the Streater's son, Billie Clark had to take the rabies serum several weeks ago, when bitten by a rabbit coon. The Streater family live in the Lanham community, but the children attend Fairy school. We sincerely hope all will soon be fully recovered and that better luck will come their way.

Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago, Sherry and a girl friend of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. George Stringer and Cathy Ann of Hico, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, Ruby Jean and Darrel of Dublin were visiting here Sunday in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Texie.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited last Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers and Joy Marie of Hamilton.

Mrs. Gladys Cox received a letter from Mrs. Margaret Jones of California recently stating her daughter, Hilma was very seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Adams and family have returned home after spending several months at Midland, where he has been doing carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and Darrel visited a while Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Eunice Massengale.

Miss Daphne Hoover of Stephenville spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Cole of Providence community visited Sunday in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Fulton.

We stated in last weeks news that the graduation exercises would be held on this Friday night. Now we learn that we were misinformed and that they were to be held Wednesday night of this week. We are very sorry if we have caused any inconvenience and sorry we did not get the date correct in time to have made the proper announcement last week since we won't have time to correct the mistake in time this week. Where the confusion came, we understand the school had one week more of school than was first thought when making out the programs for the school closing.

Several from here attended services at the Cranfills Gap Church of Christ last week in a series of meetings conducted by minister Westbrook.

Summer Weather Just Around Corner Brings Health Hazards

Austin, Texas, May 8. — Summer weather is just around the corner and many Texans will try to acquire a sun tan as quickly as possible.

"Sun strokes not thought to be due to the heat of the sun, but to certain direct effects of the sun on the human brain.

"This can be prevented by protecting the head and back of the neck from the sunshine," he added.

Dr. Cox asserted that exposure of the sun has some virtue since the action of the sunshine tends to kill the germs on the skin.

"In general the good effects of sunshine are not due to the heat rays but ultraviolet rays," Dr. Cox stated.

Texas-Made Movie About Wild Life to Be Released Soon

Austin, May 8.—The first Texas-made movie about wild deer, staged in their natural habitat, will be released soon by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

The film is in color, bears complete sound, and has been almost two years in the making.

Tentative plans are to make probably a dozen copies of the movie. Demands on the department's motion picture library indicates a growing interest in wildlife movies.

"Master Whitetail" typifies the educational trend in wildlife activities. It emphasizes the crisis to game after man began cultivating the soil on an ever increasing scale.

"Master Whitetail" begins with a covered wagon scene depicting settlers moving into a land almost untouched by human hands.

The film traces the first statutory efforts to check wildlife devastation around the turn of the century and portrays the gradual necessity for strengthened laws to protect wildlife and the kindred steps to restore the once limitless big game herds.

Above, all "Master Whitetail" is woven around the life span of a buck deer, showing him in his wobbly-legged infancy.

Most of the filming was done in the Texas Hill Country or Edwards Plateau of Central Texas.

Fourteen members of the Helping Hand Class of the Methodist Sunday school met in the west wing of the church, for their monthly social and business meeting Tuesday night, May 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Waggoner, the president of the class, had charge of the meeting.

Several songs were sung by the class with Mrs. J. W. Richbourg at the piano. Mrs. Waggoner read the scripture which was the 8th Psalm. She also led the prayer. The secretary, Mrs. J. L. Ray, called the roll and read the minutes of last month's meeting. A short business meeting was held.

Members of the class brought the refreshments, which consisted of cold bottled drinks, sandwiches and coffee, which each brought in a paper sack.

Those present were Mrs. Roy Stevens, Mrs. George Stringer, Mrs. John Haimel, Mrs. Ora Denman, Mrs. Etta Whitesides, Mrs. Frank Minus, Mrs. J. L. Ray, Mrs. T. H. King, Mrs. Watt Ross, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Annie Waggoner, Mrs. H. W. Pierce, Mrs. J. W. Richbourg and Mrs. J. P. Owen.

$32,500 County Quota In U. S. Savings Bond Independence Drive

Hamilton county has accepted a quota of $32,500 for the sale of United States Savings Bonds during the Independence Drive. C. B. James, county Savings Bonds chairman, announced today. The drive will begin on May 15 and continue through July 4. "See your local banker, Odie Pettsick, for details," Mr. James urged.

The county quota and also the state quota of $24,088,000, apply only to the sale of Series E bonds, the county chairman explained.

Symbol for the Independence Drive is the Liberty Bell, and the slogan is "Save for Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds".

President Truman and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder will participate in ceremonies to be held on May 15 in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, to initiate the national drive. The Texas "kick-off" will be held the following day in Fort Worth with the unveiling of an exact duplicate of the original Liberty Bell. During the seven weeks of the drive this bell will visit 120 towns in 87 Texas counties on a 5000-mile tour of the state.

SERGEANT BULLARD OF HICO PARTICIPATES IN "EXERCISE SWARMER"

FORT BRAGG, N. C.—Sgt. 1st Class Winston G. Bullard, son of Mrs. Ella Bullard of Hico, Texas, is among approximately 4,000 troops of V Corps and its attached units participating in the biggest air ground maneuver in history—"Exercise Swarmer."

"Swarmer," commanded by Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad of the U. S. Air Force, is planned on a major scale and its scope is well in advance of anything hitherto attempted in war or peace. Total personnel engaging in the maneuver will approach 60,000 including men from every state in the Union.

The object is to test the feasibility of flying men and equipment into the center of enemy held territory, keeping them supplied solely by air lift. The enemy in this case will be an "Aggressor" force, which theoretically has invaded the coasts of North Carolina and Florida.

V. Corps, regularly commanded by Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, will be led in this unprecedented maneuver by Maj. Gen. P. W. Clarkson, commanding general of the Third Infantry Division. General Hodge will command the Task Force.

PEEK AT THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

PROBABLY the least known man on radio is the strange character called "Mr. Peavey" on "The Great Gildersleeve" program each Wednesday, played by Dick LeGrand, who has

... He owns a one-story home and fusses with rose bushes.

There always will be a Mr. Peavey played by LeGrand on any Gildersleeve show run by Harold Peary, the windy Giddy in the flesh. Their friendship goes back a good many years and is solidly cemented with the mutual interest found among those who have often wondered whether the stock company manager would still be around come pay day.

Hal and LeGrand first met in Stockton, Calif., in the days when there was such a thing as a stock company.

LeGrand was an established "big wheel" in stock, and was known in a couple dozen western cities.

... Peary was just getting started in fact, when he walked into the Stockton job it was his first try at lead roles. ... The rest of the troupe had been in that one spool long enough to have memorized all the plays. ... "I was green as they come," Peary relates, "but they all managed to help me—and Dick, in particular, was great at figuring new business to get near me when I'd forgotten a line. ... He always knew it and gave it to me."

Doing two bills a week required some fast study, recalls Hal. ... often he went on not entirely familiar with his part—which meant he'd have typewritten lines placed around the stage to help a flagging memory. ... Dick helped Peary in those days and Hal is not one to forget.

At any rate, the $100 deductible seems here to stay.

of loss. If the property owner demands full coverage, premiums would be half again as large as they are now and perhaps even more. This would make insurance so expensive that many people couldn't buy it.

As the order now stands every hail and windstorm policy says that the property owner must stand the first $100 of loss. Why wasn't this deductible clause made optional, as it is in automobile collision policies? Why can't a person have full coverage if he wants it?

Insurance spokesmen say that the deductible was made mandatory to benefit the property owner especially the high percentage of persons who have long-term mortgages on their homes. Banks and mortgage companies, because of the large number of real estate loans they make, naturally want the best insurance protection available. In all likelihood, most of them would require that full coverage be carried on mortgaged property.

Because of the much higher rates such insurance would require the home-purchaser's mortgage payment might be increased to a point where they would be prohibitive. Both property owners and the mortgage-holders want to avoid that.

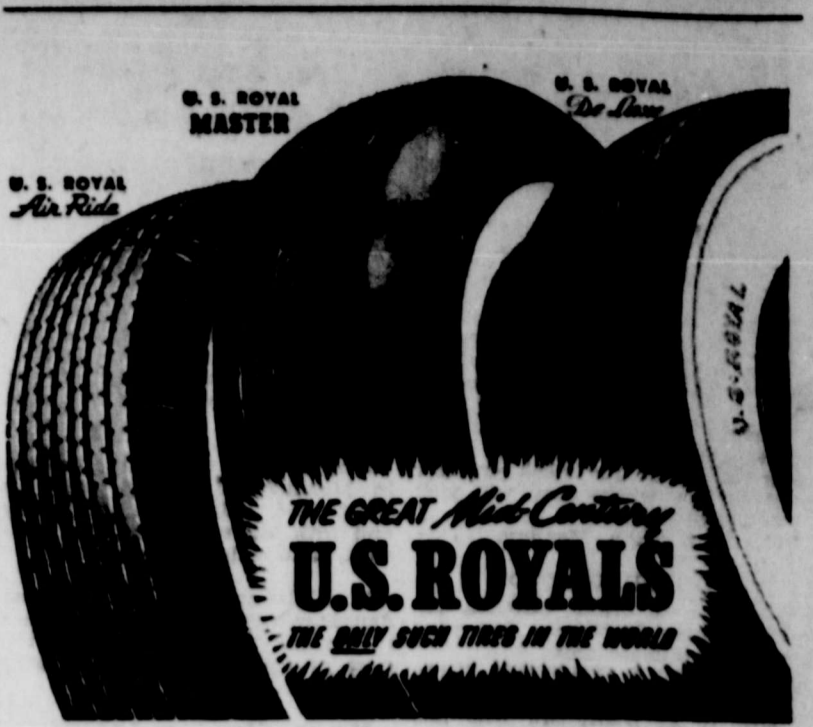

Too insurance men argue that the mandatory $100 deductible will decrease premiums particularly on property outside the seacoast area. By decreasing the number of small claims the companies have heretofore had to pay, the deductible will eventually mean savings in premiums to every policy holder.

Lower premiums also may result from the expected decrease in the cost of adjusting claims. Insurance experts say that it costs as much to adjust a $50 claim as it does one for $500. With fewer claims to adjust, the resulting savings can be passed on in the form of lower premiums.

Insurance men are generally agreed that some kind of deductible for hail and windstorm coverage is a necessity. Had the Board of Insurance Commissioners not ordered it, most companies would have ceased writing hail and windstorm insurance altogether or at least refused to sell full coverage policies.

At any rate, the $100 deductible seems here to stay.

$100 Deductible Clause Seems likely to Stay In Insurance Policies

Should the man who buys insurance on his home or business have to pay the first $100 of loss if a hail or windstorm damages it?

Texas, who like to brag about their capricious weather and berate its consequences, aren't sure. Since the Board of Insurance Commissioners decided on Sept. 1, 1946, that the policyholders should stand some of the minor damage of storms, there have been arguments pro and con.

Last March 1, in a test case before the Third Court of Civil Appeals, the so-called "mandatory $100 deductible" came to a head. The court was asked to decide if the insurance commissioners have the right to demand that Texans deduct the first $100 of insurance claims for hail and windstorm damage. The court ruled that they did.

Some property owners say it's unfair to make them pay the first $100 of loss. The Board of Insurance Commissioners and the companies who write the policies say that it is not only fair, but that it will save the average producer money in the long run.

Other groups have argued that a property owner shouldn't be forced to buy a policy with a deductible clause if he doesn't want to. Why, they ask, don't the insurance companies offer two kinds of policies such as automobile owners can buy? One would require the property owner to pay the first $100 of loss. The other, although costing considerably more in premium, would pay for every penny of loss, regardless how small.

Good principles of insurance, so the underwriters claim, make it fair for the policy-holder to stand the first $100 of loss. They point out that, after all, the only purpose of insurance is to distribute the burden of a heavy loss.

In simple terms, insurance is a plan whereby property owners join to protect themselves and each other from heavy loss. The premiums paid for individual policies are small, but together they make a sizeable "pot" to which all policy-holders are welcome in time of need.

When one policy-holder suffers a heavy loss he collects to the extent of his policy from the fund thus created by the monies paid in by all. What might have been a crushing loss to an individual is thus spread to the shoulders of many people.

But if a large number suffer the same loss at the same time what happens? There isn't enough money in the till to go around. So either more money must be paid in or else the policy-holders must stand some of the minor losses themselves.

Insurance men believe that the fairest method is to keep premium rates low and let the property owner stand the first $100

Why is it that when you stick your left foot into a tub of cold water, it's the right side of your neck that pangs?

As we scrubbed our back and pondered this phenomenon, we recalled something we once studied in school about how the nerves leading from the head to the lower parts of the body cross somewhere in the neighborhood of the shoulders.

It's surprising how remote happenings can affect us here in Texas. The cotton crops in Egypt and Brazil for instance.

Maybe there is a pretty good argument for international co-operation on food production and distribution which is what the Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) of the United Nations is supposed to be doing. Most of the Russia-dominated countries have pulled out, of course.

This controversy over the difference between a bucket and a pail which we started innocently on the air one morning, has reached proportions now to where we are ready to drop it with the assumption that in spite of all the research into history books, dictionaries and their own memories that our readers and listeners have been indulging in, there never was much difference between a bucket and a pail for hand-carrying, except maybe geographical.

Lots of folks have been asking about centipede grass. We've never been able to get it to do very well around Fort Worth.

Maybe the vetch festival at Terrell last week and the alfalfa fiesta at Herne this week won't have the gastronomical attraction of a watermelon festival, say, but it would be tough to try to outdo either one in excitement.

At Terrell, the local fathers went in for big names and at Hearne for bathing beauties.

The progress of education does take devious routes, but though the undertaker and the haberdasher may use different techniques, they both manage to put a pretty good knot in a necktie.

One of the biggest improvements in the field of agriculture and livestock is taking place in dairy cattle over the country. While we still play second fiddle to Denmark in our dairying, we are doing very well in some parts of the country and in some parts of Texas.

The whole picture shows plenty of work still to be done, however, and we observe that the dairy producer who manages to produce a high flow of milk from his herd or less the year around by strategic management and proper feeding, has less penalty from "surplus" milk in the spring, and more income all year.

It is encouraging to learn that more than a million cows are in dairy herd improvement associations (DHIA) throughout the country. It's an all-time high in this 44-year old work to mass-improve the nation's dairy cattle.

California leads, with 181,000 cows on test, 19.7 per cent of the dairy cattle in that state. New York state leads in number of herds—4,271—on test.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Church Organization and Leadership
 Acts 6: 1-6; 20: 17-18, 28; 1 Corinthians 12: 27-28
 Memory Selection: II Timothy 2: 15

THE PRESENT LESSON shows the origin of church organization and leadership, a matter that Jesus left to the disciples.

Seven deacons were chosen (Acts 6: 1-6) to have charge of the temporal needs of the people. The high character required of them should be considered by present-day churches. Too often those who are not spiritual men are chosen because they are successful in their own business, or because of their prominence in the community.

Elders and bishops are mentioned (Acts 20: 17-18, 28), and it appears that they were the same. They were charged "to feed the church of the Lord." They were superior to deacons and their work was primarily spiritual.

Divergence of opinion as to the foregoing has brought about the several types of churches. Some hold to the presbytery, group of elders or presbyters, in the government of the church. Others are organized about bishops. Some regard the elder as the highest order in the church. Some regard a bishop as an elder elected to high office, but not to a superior order of the ministry. Still others regard the bishop a separate order.

Let us realize that, in any kind of church organization, there is ample room for the service of men of diverse gifts, who make up the "body of Christ," in the kingdom of God.

County-Wide Service Scheduled At Hamilton For Memorial Day

A county-wide Memorial Day service, sponsored by the American Legion, has been announced by B. D. Corrigan, chairman of the committee on arrangements, slated for Legion Park, Hamilton Tuesday, May 30. Tentative plans call for a parade at 11 a. m. and a picnic style lunch at noon to be followed by a program featuring addresses by prominent speakers in the afternoon. Gov. Allan Shivers has been invited and Gen. Wainwright has been contacted for the occasion.

A company from Fort Hood will definitely be a part of the parade and the Hood military band may be on hand. Further announcement concerning these will be made.

As soon planned there will be a Memorial service in the evening. The committee requests that all families who lost relatives in any war, send the names of the casualties and their families to R. F. Lee, Hamilton or to the Herald-News, Hamilton.

Starlight Operettas To Be Broadcast Over Nationwide Hook-Up

Starlight Operettas will be broadcast over a national hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting System beginning June 10th. It was announced by Charles R. Meeker, Jr., Managing Director of State Fair Casino and Clyde Rembert, KRLL's General Manager. The programs of Starlight's six brilliant musical comedies and operettas will go out from Dallas, 5 to 5:30 p. m. each Saturday. This will mean their reception in the East under daylight savings will be from 7 to 7:30 p. m. To compensate for the difference in time, KRLL will record the programs and put them on for the benefit of dialers in KRLL territory from 6 to 6:30 p. m.

The news that the Columbia Broadcasting System had selected Starlight Operetta for one of its chief spots for a complete seasons broadcast was received in Dallas with a great deal of interest. "Starlight Operetta is now in its ninth season" said Mr. Meeker, "and on the basis of this selection by CBS, it is obvious that full national recognition has come to Starlight and it is now recognized as a summer outdoor musical theatre of proportions unequalled by an operetta group in the United States."

The season's opening musical will be "High Button Shoes," on June 12 to 25, starring Eddie Foy Jr. and Dallas' own Constance Moore. Following this, "Maytime" June 26 to July 9; "Brigadoon," July 10 to July 23; "Roberta," July 24 to August 6; "Desert Song," August 7 to August 20; and "Annie Get Your Gun," August 21 to September 3. Season tickets will go on sale May 22, with prices lowest ever.

Sheep Breeders to Stage Third Annual Auction At Gatesville

Gatesville, May 8.—Many of Texas' top purebred, registered sheep will go on the auction block at Gatesville next week, when the Texas Purebred Sheep Breeders Association stages its third annual Statewide show and sale. The big event spans two days—May 17 and 18—and the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce is assisting in its promotion.

Eight different breeds—Columbia, Corriedale, Delaine, Hampshire, Rambouillet, Shropshire, Southdown and Suffolk—are listed among the entries. Judging is carded for May 17, with the winners receiving cash prizes from the C. of C. and ribbons from the Association. Widely-known auctioneer Walter Britton will launch the sale promptly at 1 p. m. May 18.

This event yearly draws entries from some of the best-known flocks in Texas. At the initial sale in 1948, 127 sheep were sold through the auction ring, and in 1949, with the entries restricted to a smaller number, 92 sheep were sold at an average price of $65 each. These figures do not include private sales concluded after the auction.

Gatesville C-C official Dawson Cooper points out that this show and sale affords Texas sheep raisers "a fine opportunity" to obtain additional breeding stock or new blood for their herds.

Fireboys to Meet Lions Next Week In Donkey Baseball

The Lions Club is sponsoring a donkey baseball game on Hico football field Friday night at 8 o'clock, May 19. Proceeds from the game will go to paying for work already completed on the high school football field and dressing rooms.

"Tickets will be sold next week by football boys and they will be seeing most of you to sell you a ticket," said Coach Willie Sirman in connection with the announcement.

The Lions Club team will be the following: Coach Norton, Sirman, Love, Bradley, Knudson, Neenan, Coats, H. Sherrard, Salmon, Cox, Boone, Rutledge, Roberts, Orville Ogle, Laminack, Hefner, and C. French.

Fire boys will have on their team: Coach Pierce, Moon, Turner, Hampton, Jacobs, Robertson, Rhodes, Wright, Mackey, Meador, Bobo, Weaver, Whatley, Dub French, McGlothlin and Warren. "Let's everyone be sure to come out and see how the old folks get along with the donkeys," Sirman added.

Commencement Exercises Held At Fairy May 10

Graduates of Fairy High School heard a baccalaureate address by Oran P. Columbus, former school superintendent there, who is now at Lorena, Sunday evening at the high school gymnasium.

Commencement exercises were held for grade school and high school Wednesday evening at the gym, with Jacques Nonce of Hico as the main speaker.

Those in the high school graduating class are Weldon Parks, valedictorian, Milton Clark, salutatorian, Alton Parks, Burl Lewis, Fred Ray Noland, Fred Duncan and Bobbie D. Streater.

Mrs. T. B. Harper is sponsor of the class. Other members of the Fairy school faculty are T. B. Harper, superintendent, Layman Newton, Mrs. H. H. Gaston, high school principal, Irvin Jones, elementary school principal, Miss Nedda Poe, and Mrs. E. Brodley.
