PLAINVIEW, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1912

NUMBER FORTY-SEVEN

PLAINVIEW SHOULD BE COMMON POINT

Hale County Pays Big Differential to Railroad Over Rates Charged at Other Points.

ORIGINATES TRAFFIC

2,400 Car-Loads Shipped Out Last Year; Tonnage Increasing Faster Than Settlement.

The making of Plainview a common point means a saving of about $100,000 a year to Hale County farmers. For a distance of nearly 200 miles along the Santa Fe north of Sweetwater shipments take a differential over the rate which applies to "Texas common points." This increased freight rate amounts to from $15 to $30 a car. Z. E. Black, late secretary of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, says that 4,000 car-loads of produce were shipped out of Hale County last year. It is easy to figure how much of a saving a reduction of even $15 on each car-load would mean to "home folks."

This differential was put in because of the scarcity of traffic on the South Plains. That time has passed. So much freight is being shipped out now that it is often difficult for shippers to secure equipment. It is estimated by men in close touch with the situation that Hale County will ship more than 5,000 car of farm produce, hogs and cattle this year. This tonnage will be doubled within another two years.

The policy of rate makers is to "charge what the traffic will bear." But co-operative effort on the part of the men of Hale County can convince the railroad commission and the Santa Fe that the interests of the railroad, as well as the county, will be conserved by making Plainview a common point.

YAW TO SING.

Prima Donna Soprano Will Visit Plainview Next Month.

Perhaps the principal musical event of the year in Plainview will take place Thursday evening, December 5, when Ellen Beach Yaw, the great soprano, will be heard in a program replete with interesting and wonderful selections.

The Epworth League has secured Madam Yaw for the date boys. She will sing in the Methodist Church.

WOULD ORGANIZE GROWERS.

Representative of National Produce Newspaper Talks of Advantages of Organized Selling.

J. M. Stark, staff correspondent of The Packer, the National produce newspaper, was in Plainview today. Mr. Stark is looking over the country, with a view to getting the local growers to organize a selling association.

Some of the advantages of an association of this sort, Mr. Stark points out, are the grading of produce shipped out, so as to bring to each producer the largest prices; such an association could sell intelligently and prevent many swindles that have been made in various parts of the country by unscrupulous commission men in the cities.

For example, Mr. Stark says, "Suppose a farmer brings in a load of peaches that grade up well. These are placed in a car and the next load put right with them. This second load may be spotted, knotty, and of inferior grade. The first man will receive for his high-grade produce the same price as the inferior produce brings, because the fruit was not graded before being shipped."

A truck growers' association at Plainview, with a secretary to act as sales manager, would bring to the farmers of Hale County highest prices for their produce, graded so as to get the best returns out of what they raise.

ELLEBD FOR U. S. ATTORNEY.

A dispatch from Fort Worth says that Reuben M. Ellerd, our fellow-townsmen, is the latest applicant for appointment as United States district attorney for the Northern District of Texas. An effort was made to reach Mr. Ellerd, but failed.

Mr. Ellerd formerly lived at Benjamin, Texas. For six years he was district attorney of the Fifth and Sixty-fourth Judicial Districts of Texas.

SETH WARD LYCEUM TO BE UNUSUAL MUSIC EVENT.

Gamble Concert Party Have Given Programs in Largest Cities of Two Continents.

The coming of the Ernest Gamble Concert Party, at the Methodist Church tomorrow night, is an event which lovers of good music will remember long. The party is made up of Ernest Gamble, basso cantante; Edwin M. Shonert, "one of the very great Liszt players of the present day;" and Miss Verna Leona Page, concert violinist. Miss Page is one of the few women violinists who has achieved a great popularity. She is perhaps excelled among women violinists by Maude Powell, alone. These artists have pleased the most discriminating audiences from San Francisco to cultured Boston. The chance to hear such music is a rare event outside of music centers.

Plainview's two colleges are bringing to their students and the townspeople musical treats which deserve liberal patronage. They are doing the whole community a real service.

AMARILLO HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS WAYLAND COLLEGE.

Seth Ward Girls Are Outplayed by Local High School Girls at Basketball.

Amarillo High School team won today's football game from Wayland Baptist College by a score of 14 to 0. The visitors showed the result of more consistent practice than the local boys have had.

Practice again triumphed when Plainview High School girls defeated Seth Ward College girls on the basketball court this afternoon, by a score of 13 to 9.

FROM PORTLAND IN WAGON.

Fred Dunk and Wife Crossing the Continent in Primitive Way.

Old residents on the South Plains often see travelers from New Mexico, Oklahoma or South Texas, weather-worn with their wagons. It is not often that a road wagon hails from the Pacific. Such an one visited Plainview this afternoon.

Fred Dunk and wife are traveling in an ordinary covered wagon from Portland, Oregon, to Corpus Christi, Texas. They first went from Arizona to Portland, and have spent four months on the return trip, through Idaho, Nevada, Colorado and New Mexico. The man has his wagon piled full of curios. He makes shell jewelry and sells it en route for a living.

SCHRANK TO AN ASYLUM.

Alienists Find Colonel Roosevelt's Assailant Is Insane.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—John Schrank is insane.

The man who pleaded guilty to an attempt to slay Colonel Roosevelt the night of October 14 will be sent to an asylum for the criminal insane, where he probably will spend the remainder of his days.

The verdict in Schrank's case was unanimous on the part of the five alienists who have conducted an exhaustive examination of the prisoner.

A stenographic report of the physicians will be returned to Judge August C. Backus of the municipal court tomorrow.

Schrank pleaded guilty before Judge Backus last week, and the court appointed the commission of alienists on motion of District Attorney Zabel, who told the court that he believed the would-be assassin was mentally unbalanced.

That Schrank is afflicted with paranoia will be the substance of the experts' report, it became known today.

Schrank shot Colonel Roosevelt in the right side the night of October 14, as Mr. Roosevelt was leaving the hotel for the hall where he was to speak. Elbert Martin, Colonel Roosevelt's stenographer, jumped from the motor car and seized the assassin before he could fire another shot.

After a superficial examination of the wound Colonel Roosevelt went on to the hall and made his speech. Immediately afterward he was taken to a hospital in Chicago. The bullet has not been removed.

Schrank, in jail, said he had had a vision in which President McKinley commanded him to kill Colonel Roosevelt to prevent his serving a third term as President.

PLAINVIEW LIKES THEOBALDI PARTY

Opera House Was Filled to Hear Norwegian Violinist on Wayland Lyceum.

DR. MEYER NEXT

Third Number of Baptist College Lyceum Will Be Given December Fifth.

The people of Plainview were charmed with Theobaldi and his party Monday night, at the opera house.

Theobaldi is one of the greatest interpreters of violin music in the world. It is incomprehensible how he can make the rustle of the leaves, chirping of the birds and the sound of the sleigh bells. His technique is blended with soul and passion. His accompanist, Miss Helen Keller, was a genuine surprise to the audience in her numbers on the piano, as well as the accompanying parts with Theobaldi. Especially pleasing and interesting to the audience was her rendition of the Scriabine Nocturne for the left hand alone.

Miss Dorothy Henry, as singer for the evening, evidently pleased her hearers, from the number of encores she received.

Dr. J. S. Meyers will lecture December 7th, as the third number of Wayland's Lyceum.

NEW COUNTY OFFICIALS HAVE TAKEN UP OFFICE.

Hale County's new officials have been sworn in and are taking up their work. Officers-elect are:

Judge, W. B. Lewis; sheriff and tax collector, J. C. Hooper; assessor, J. N. Jordan; commissioners, W. J. Espy, J. B. Roberson, W. N. Claxton; re-elected, attorney, Charles Clements; treasurer, John G. Hamilton; district and county clerk, B. H. Towery; surveyor, Thomas P. Whittis; commissioner, G. L. Phillips; justice of the peace, precinct No. 1, S. J. Frye; constable, J. B. Wheeler; public weigher, Tom Thompson.

HOW WOMEN WON FOUR NEW STATES

Now Have Unrestricted Vote in Ten Commonwealths; Partial Suffrage in Fourteen.

70 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS

Oregon, Michigan, Kansas and Arizona Gave Votes to Women This Year.

"Nothing can prevent equal suffrage now," exclaimed Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, one of the most enthusiastic workers at the National headquarters in New York, after the great parade there last Saturday night in celebration of the victories won in Oregon, Michigan, Kansas and Arizona. "The King Canutes of the ballot box may majestically wave their hands at the oncoming tidal rush of public opinion, but they will find, like Canute of old, that they'll have to get out of the way to avoid being engulfed."

The country, with the important political issues of a National election on hand to occupy its immediate attention, is just waking up to what the women accomplished in the late contest. The great victory achieved in winning the right to vote in all elections in the four states mentioned above takes the equal suffrage issue from the joke class, where the majority of public opinion has put it heretofore, into the dignified relation to our future that an inevitable event occupies.

Men's Consent Needed, but They Can't Take the Right Away Now.

The decisions these states have made are irrevocable. It needed only the consent of the men to permit the women to vote. But, now that this consent has been given, it becomes a vested right, which cannot be recalled without the consent of the women, a contingency that nobody ever expects to happen.

Taking the four states together, the number of men and women is about $350 IN PRIZES FOR POULTRY SHOW.

Second Annual Exhibit of South Plains Association to Be January 7, 8, 9 and 10.

The second annual exhibit of the South Plains Poultry Association will be held in Plainview, January 7, 8, 9 and 10. Cash prizes amounting to $350 will be offered. The Plainview Chamber of Commerce will give a special purse of $25 for the best pen of chickens, any variety. Cash prizes are said to be larger than awards by any other show in Texas, not excepting the State Fair.

C. P. Wan Winkle, of Dallas, one of the two licensed judges in Texas, will judge Hale County's show.

A successful show was held last January, and S. S. Sloneker, president of the association, says that he expects larger interest this year. W. B. Joiner is secretary of the Association.

ONE RAIN FOR PRIZE WHEAT.

Land Was Broken in Summer and Planted in October.

The wheat which won first prize for Hale County at the Texas State Fair was grown by A. B. Rosser, near Plainview. Mr. Rosser says that this wheat had but one rain from the time it was up until it matured. The land was broken deep in the summer and was seeded in October.

The wheat yielded 20 bushels an acre.

DENVER CAPITAL FOR PUMPAGE ENTERPRISE.

James R. DeLay, of DeLay & Wilks, Plainview, closed, at the Amarillo Hotel, Monday night, a deal with John L. Brock, of Denver, Colo., for 320 acres of land in the region at $25 per acre.

Mr. Brock will at once begin irrigation development of this land, placing thereon two or more big well pumpage plants. Mr. Brock is a former Amarillo business man.

WE SHOULD HAVE CLEAN-UP DAY

Much Open Land in City Limits, and Weeds Grew Rank During Summer.

HARBOR FOR PESTS

Piles of Thistles Make Ideal Hibernating Places for Insects; Burning Destroys Them.

Plainview should have a "clean-up day." That opinion seems to be shared in by nearly every home owner in town. People in the West naturally like room, and they have built their homes on large lots of ground. Plainview also planned for the future, and laid out city limits to which we are growing. There are many tracts of open land on which the Russian thistle grew rank during the spring and summer. These thistles are dry now, and have blown up in piles in many places.

Not only are these dried piles of thistles unsightly; they serve to spread the pest of the Russian thistle, for when the wind blows it carries them hither and thither. But they may be made a fire house for numerous colonies of insect pests, with the coming of cold weather the insects gather under old rubbish and weed piles. If we burn these weeds now we destroy all of the insects hibernating there.

One citizen suggests that all property owners should clean up their property. That would seem fair. But some property owners are non-residents. They are not much interested in the making of Plainview a better place in which to live.

The most feasible plan seems to be to have a general clean-up day, in which every citizen shall participate. The city would perhaps furnish teams, and a day's work would go far toward making Plainview a town beauty.

SECOND TERM AT WAYLAND.

Wayland College will begin the second term of its college year next Tuesday. Special exercises have been arranged by the college, and Dean Reynolds invites all citizens of Plainview to come out on this occasion. The college is having a successful year. One hundred and twenty-five pupils have enrolled to date.

J. E. NORTHCUTT ACCEPTS POSITION WITH DR. WOFFORD.

Dr. J. E. Northcutt has temporarily accepted a position with Dr. C. D. Wofford, dentist, in the Ware Building. Dr. Wofford's practice has grown to such an extent that assistance had become necessary.

Dr. Northcutt was for eight years a practicing dentist in St. Louis, but came South because close confinement had undermined his health. He has been associated with his father in the South Plains Tile Manufacturing Co., and has regained his health in the invigorating atmosphere of the South Plains. He will be with Dr. Wofford indefinitely.

CHANGES AT THE WARE.

Weis Will Take Charge with Amarillo Man; Lobby Down Stairs.

Dick Weis and Jack Tesman, of Amarillo, have secured lease on the Ware Hotel, and will take charge early in December. The hotel will be changed to the American plan.

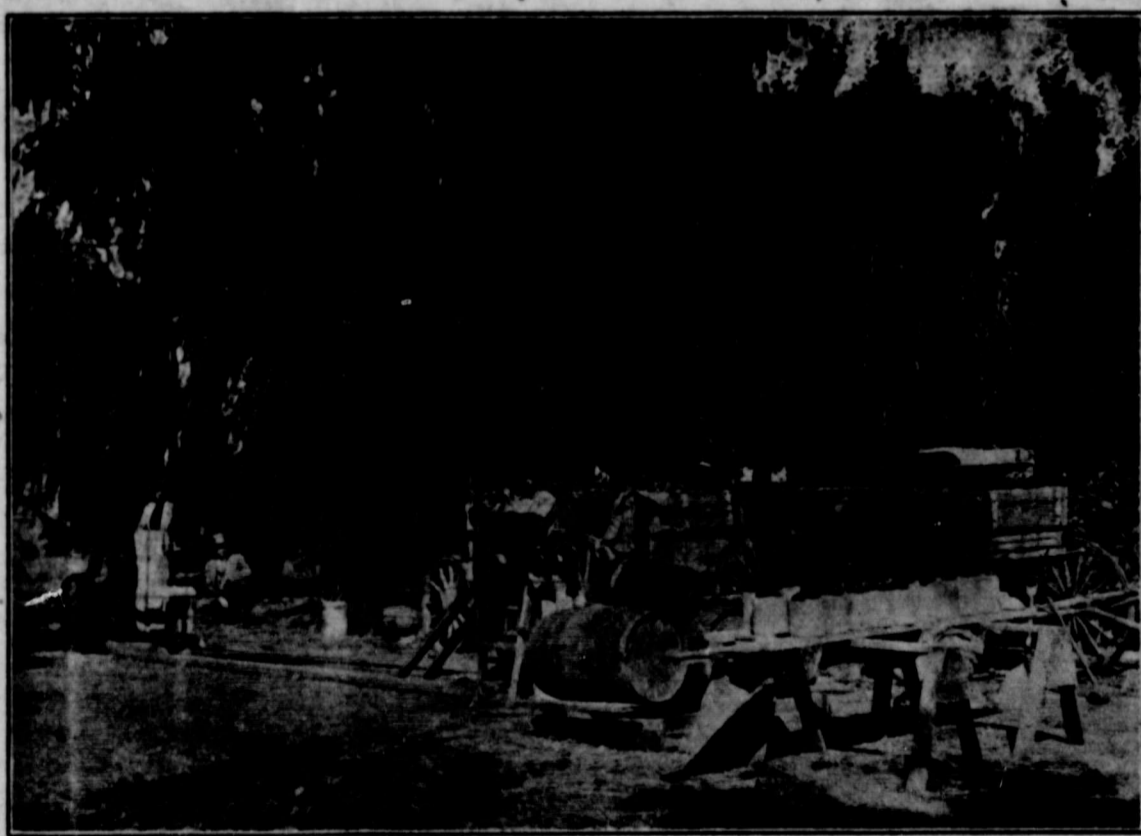

The lobby will be moved to the ground floor, occupying the space vacated by Vickery-Hancock Grocery Co. Tile floor is being put in the lobby and other improvements made. It is said that the Ware Hotel is the only fire proof hotel in the country in a town of 5,000 people.

Mr. Weis has had charge of the hotel cafe for some time. C. E. Howard, former lessee of the hotel, has taken charge of an elegant new hotel in Lubbock.

W. O. W. TO ELECT OFFICERS.

Lodge Will Serve Oysters After Business Is Attended to.

W. O. W. Lodge No. 877 will elect new officers at its next meeting, December 4. After the election and other business is transacted oysters will be served.

MAKING CIDER ON E. DOWDEN'S RANCH, 6 MILES FROM PLAINVIEW.

MILWEE WILL FEED CALVES AT PLAINVIEW.

James K. Milwee shipped two hundred yearlings from his ranch near Lubbock to Plainview Wednesday. He will feed the calves for market.

SECOND CAR OF POULTRY.

Thursday of last week the second car-load of poultry to go out from Plainview this year was shipped to New York. The cars are sent first to Lockney, and then filled at Plainview. Large express shipments of poultry and eggs go out every day, and a car-load of chickens, turkeys and ducks shipped out to California this season brought $4,000 to South Plains farmers.

The South Plains has been called an "ideal poultry land" by expert poultrymen, and when our people realize that the Missouri hen lays $75,000,000 worth of eggs a year for Missouri farmers we will undoubtedly raise more chickens.

Mrs. L. L. Hudgings went to Floydada Wednesday, to visit relatives.

SNEED'S SECOND TRIAL ON.

Jury Picked Saturday and Witnesses Have Been Examined This Week.

After passing more than three hundred veniremen, twelve jurors were selected to sit in judgment on John Beal Sneed for the murder of Captain A. G. Boyce, in Fort Worth last February. From Tuesday morning to late Saturday men were summoned, questioned and rejected as jurors.

All of the jurors finally chosen are married men.

DR. BARNES BUILD NEW HOME.

Dr. C. L. Barnes has the brick on the ground and foundation put in for a handsome two-story brick residence on his one-half block north of Wayland College. The residence will cost between four and five thousand dollars.

A little girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bethel Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bethel is at the Guyton Sanitarium. Mother and babe are doing well.

YOUTH IS BURNED.

Nephew of E. E. Roos Injured by Explosion of Carbide; Not Dangerous.

Don Deal, the little nephew of E. E. Roos, was burned Monday afternoon while playing with a can of carbide. The boy was at the Plainview Machine and Auto Shop. He got hold of a partly-filled can of carbide and poured water into it. Then, being unable to see into the can, he struck a match. The explosion burned his face painfully. Dr. Nichols was called at once. He says the burns are not serious, but it will be several days before Don can be out again.

WHY THANKSGIVING

Amid the mirth and music of our yearly celebration of Thanksgiving, there breathes the spirit of a festival whose story carries us back through the ages—beyond grandmother's memory of the good old Thanksgiving days of her childhood. It takes us back through the troublous days of our country's struggle for independence; back through the scenes of colonial days, when the Thanksgiving turkey roasted before a log fire; still further back to the very threshold of our country and our liberty, and the days of the Pilgrim Fathers, near to 300 years ago.

In the autumn of 1621, amid the boundless wilderness of a new world, the first Thanksgiving was celebrated.

It is almost impossible for us, striding into the Twentieth century, to realize the destitute condition of that little band of men, women and children alone on the wild coast of New England in their infant settlement at Plymouth. Indeed we may marvel at their loyalty of heart and steadfastness of faith, that enabled them, amidst their trials and bitter sufferings, to behold the light of Providence and rejoice in a feast of thanksgiving.

In his quaint style, Governor Bradford tells us "They began now to gather in ye small harvest they had, and to fit up their houses against winter, being all recovered in health and strength, and had all things in good plenty."

To the minds of these devout men and women, the Lord had given them a plentiful harvest. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service.

Plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service.

Plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service.

Plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service.

Plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service. Then followed a plentiful service.

celebration was never overlooked. Each meal was made the occasion of a special service of thanksgiving. Each day was closed with prayer and song expressive of heart-felt gratitude. Foremost of all there was roast turkey dressed with beechnuts, venison, meat stews with dumplings made of barley flour, cakes and plum porridge, together with buckets overflowing with wild grapes and nuts of every variety.

At this time it was Indian summer and the air was balmy. The hum of many voices and merry music of laughter floated out into echoes over the somber woodland. There, amid the forest wilds of a new and unknown world, in a home whose short history was full of tribulation and sacrifice, and whose future gave promise of naught but gloom and darkness, the first Thanksgiving was celebrated.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teachers' Association met in regular meeting on Friday, November 15, and had a most interesting meeting.

The program as formerly announced was carried out in full. Mrs. Fred Brown read a splendid paper, "Money in Character Development." B. O. Brown, editor of The Hale County Herald, made an address that set him before the people of Plainview as a thoroughly public-spirited man. Mr. Brown said, "Whatever you undertake, whether to put in drinking fountains, library, or anything for the betterment of Plainview's schools, the columns of The Herald are open to you."

Mrs. McKee, the president, has under consideration the appointment of a committee to further plans for securing drinking fountains for the public schools.

The Association is taking on new hope and looking to larger things for the year's activities.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherry bark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

J. DONALD MATTHEWSON of Ossining, N. Y., says: "I suffered for over five years with what the doctors told me was dilated condition of the stomach, associated with a catarrhal condition of same, and nervous heart. I had tried enough nux, bismuth, gentian, rhubarb, etc., to float a ship and naturally thought there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomas' writes me I will 'put him wise' to the best all-around medicine in the country to-day."

ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. DELAY.

San Marcos Woman's Club Favors Compulsory Education for Texas.

San Marcos, Nov. 15.—At the meeting of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. J. W. Webb, there was an unusually large and enthusiastic membership present, in addition to a number of guests.

Roll call was answered to by giving names and incidents of distinguished women workers.

State laws as pertaining to women and children was the topic for open discussion.

The matter of improving the station grounds of the I & G. N. Railway was reported on, and communications from railway officers, promising to give the matter their attention, were read and discussed.

Mrs. L. B. Matthews and Mrs. Francis Smith were elected delegates to attend the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Fort Worth on November 19-22. They will go instructed to vote for compulsory education.

The dollar given by each club woman to the sanitarium fund was earned by individual effort, and the method told in rhyme. Still another means of raising funds for the sanitarium will be a pie supper on Monday evening, given by the Women's Club. This club will also offer a medal to the High School student making the highest average.

Mrs. Webb was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. James R. DeLay, in serving a two-course collation, consisting of hot rolls, lady finger, chicken salad, potato chips and coffee, with an ice course and cake.

THE SIMPLE GLORIES OF A NEWS-PAPER.

(Col. Henry Watterson's Peroration to His Full-Page Review of the Forty-Four Years of the Life of the Louisville Courier-Journal.)

The Courier-Journal has done its part as a chronicler of the transactions in which the living and the dead we have named were the heroes and dramatis personae. It was born amid the ruins of the Confederacy. Above all else, it has placed the solidarity of the Union and the restoration of the South in that Union; seeking to pour some sunshine into the daily life of the community; without obtrusion to aid the law, without astentation to aid the church; a kindly, cleanly visitor to each man's fireside. It has lived to see with exultation its own boys wearing the blue; to have its exultation echoed in all hearts; and, instead of looking back with sorrow upon the disasters of Vicksburg and Appomattox, to hail the glories of Manila and Santiago as more than compensation for the shattered hopes of its last cause; tinged by the single regret that Grant and Lee, Sherman and Johnston were not alive to witness the comradeship in arms of Miles and Wheeler, of Shafter and Lee, the partnership in glory of Dewey and Hobson; once again, as in days of old, the Puritan and the Cavalier—no longer such, but simple Americans—joined hand in hand to advance the cause of religion and civilization and to extend the area of liberty.

What lies beyond, the older among us seek not to penetrate. They have seen enough. They are ready to go to the final Judge, and may go shouting; not in the least fearing that God, who led the children out of the wilderness, and gave to the modern world a Washington and a Lincoln, will not take care of all the interests of this great Republic between Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands, between Havana and Hawaii, even as He took care of the Territory of Louisiana and the empire of Texas; always on the side of the Anglo-Saxon, carrying on his back the cross of Calvary, in his heart Christ and Him crucified!

PETERSBURG TO HAVE PEANUT BUTTER FACTORY.

Machinery for a 24-barrel flour mill has been ordered, according to I. Z. Smith, of Petersburg, and will be installed at Petersburg within a short time. Mr. Dean is principal stockholder in the new enterprise; local citizens are taking stock. Petersburg is also to have a peanut butter factory. Mr. Smith says the machinery for this has been ordered, and arrangements are being made with the farmers to plant a large crop of peanuts next spring.

VICKERY-HANCOCK MOVES INTO NEW ELKS' BUILDING.

Vickery-Hancock Grocery Co. has moved into the first floor of the Elks' new building, on North Pacific Street. Their store was in the Ware Building. Vickery-Hancock Co. has been in Plainview four years; and, since the railroad only came about a year earlier than that time, they are pioneers. Their new store is a model of convenience and cleanliness, and is arranged to display to the housewife every offering in groceries.

THE WOMEN WON FOUR NEW STATES FOR SUFFRAGE.

the same, and it would, therefore, be a moderate estimate to say that the suffrage was conferred on 1,300,000. If these figures are correct, there are now about 2,667,000 women voters in the United States.

These women may exercise their suffrage on exactly the same terms as men; may vote for every official and every measure, and are eligible for every office, from that of President of the United States to village constable.

The constitution of each state was amended by striking out the word "male," which made all its provisions apply to women the same as to men. This is the only way in which the women of any state can be fully enfranchised, as not in one of them has the Legislature power to grant the complete suffrage. It can give this in a limited form such as a vote on matters connected with the public schools, which women now possess in more than half the states.

The action of California in voting to enfranchise women last year was generally regarded as the turning point in the movement, as it was the first old and thickly populated State to take this step. Woman suffrage had been looked upon as a vagary of new and small states experimenting with all kinds of radical legislation. The country at large was inclined to look upon it as a joke, as a compliment to women who could have anything they wanted because there were so few of them. Wyoming's first Territorial Legislature, in 1869, gave votes to women on the same terms as to men, and 21 years later incorporated it in its Constitution for Statehood. Colorado followed, in 1893, the question being submitted to the electors and carried by about 6,000 majority. Utah, after 17 years' experience of it while a territory, also made it a part of its constitution for statehood, in 1895. Idaho adopted it by a large majority, through a constitutional amendment, in 1906.

Michigan First State East of Mississippi to Grant Right.

None of these states, however, offered a fair test, as they contained only one city of any size—Denver—and were too remote from the great centers. Interest in the question languished until the sweeping victory in Washington, in November, 1910, when the state was carried by two to one. The quick action of the women in overturning the corrupt city government of Seattle focused the attention of the country, and woman suffrage began to look like a live issue. Then, in less than a year, came the still more important victory in California, and it passed into the domain of practical politics.

Now, in another year, comes what may well be termed a crisis in the progress of this movement—the gaining of the first state east of the Mississippi River! This was an achievement which the suffragists had been told a thousand times was impossible. Last June, when the Constitutional Convention of New Hampshire turned them down, they were advised universally to confine their efforts to the states of the Far West.

The winning of Michigan was of as much significance to the movement for woman suffrage as the carrying of a Southern state at a National election would be to the Republican party. There was little expectation of gaining Ohio last September on the part of experienced campaigners. The large cities at either end, with their vast brewing and distilling interests; the great number of manufacturing centers with their thousands of employees from Southern Europe; the three dominant parties indifferent, if not exactly hostile—all these opponents made success practically impossible. It was really a triumph under such circumstances to have secured a quarter of a million votes and been defeated by only 84,445.

Senator La Follette and His Family in the Fight.

In many respects conditions were similar in Wisconsin, and there never was any real hope of carrying the state. A prominent feature of the campaign was the work of the La Follette family. The Senator gave his influence, as he always has done, and on his tour of political canvassing was accompanied by his wife, who addressed the audiences on the suffrage amendment. She also gave many weeks to it by herself, going to county fairs and conventions and gatherings of all kinds, proving to be a very convincing speaker and gaining many votes. Their gifted daughter, Fola, who, though married, retains her maiden name, devoted months to the campaign. Dr. Anna Shaw was there, as she was in Ohio, and so was Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCullough, the well-known Chicago lawyer and suffragist, and her husband, an attorney for the Marshall Field estate, made an automobile speaking tour.

It would be invidious to single out for mention any of the hundreds of Wisconsin women or of the Ohio women who took part in their campaigns, or of the scores who went to their assistance from other states. For months they motored over the states, holding meetings on street corners, at the noon hour in front of factories, at county fairs—75 of them in Wisconsin.

Wherever they could get an audience, indoors or out, they had a speaker ready. They opened many headquarters and distributed millions of pages of literature. Most of them gave their services as a fee-will offering, and did not regret it. Their campaign was clean and honest, their methods dignified and womanly, no "militancy," no lawbreaking, and the men showed their appreciation of it all by voting against them. Nevertheless, they believe those methods were the right ones, and will employ them in their next campaign, which they will make in Ohio in 1914, and in Wisconsin whenever it seems best. The amendment in Ohio was largely traded on by the "reformers," who were after the initiative and referendum, with some fat offices on the side, and in return for votes for this measure for pure politics they delivered votes against woman suffrage.

Grangers Help to Win the Great Battle in Michigan.

There was far less work done in Michigan than in Wisconsin or Ohio, but it was of a kind that counted. It is safe to say that never in any other state campaign did the women receive so much help from men. The amendment was submitted so suddenly the women were almost bewildered. Gov. Osborne called a special session of the Legislature last winter, and this was one of the measures he demanded of it. The members refused, as they had done for years. The women were summoned in haste to the capital, and found there in the interest of their bill the Master of the State Grange and the President of the State Federation of Labor. It is needless to say that the bill passed both houses by a large majority.

There was an immense amount of favorable sentiment among the women, but it was not thoroughly organized. They had sent to the Constitutional Convention in 1907 a petition for the full suffrage signed by 175,000 of the leading women of the state. The Federation of Clubs, with 18,000 members, endorsed the amendment, as did the W. C. T. U., the Women's Press Association, and all their large organizations. They had strong leaders, Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane being perhaps the best known to the country at large, and many helpers from other states, but it is to the 900 granges, with their 60,000 members, men and women, that the success is largely due.

Women may now vote in all elections in Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, Colorado, Kansas and Michigan. They have partial suffrage in Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Kentucky, New York, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South and North Dakota and Montana.

RACES FOR THANKSGIVING.

The Fair Association of Plainview is arranging an afternoon of racing for next Thursday. Thanksgiving will be a holiday in Plainview, and the Association is arranging a good number of events for lovers of this sport. Running races in eighths, quarters and half-mile events have been matched. Other races will also be run.

The Fair Association has incurred some indebtedness on the county fair and in fixing up the fair grounds, for which members of the Association stand personally responsible. They hope to meet this deficit by the Thanksgiving races.

TOWNS SCORE TIE IN CLEANEST TOWN CONTEST.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 19.—The scores in the Texas "cleanest town contest" resulted in a tie between towns of the first, second and third classes, according to a statement by Dr. M. M. Carrick, who has the work in charge, and a reinspection will be necessary to determine the winners of the prizes offered. It was announced today that Brownwood and Gainesville led for the first prize—$500. This class includes towns of from 4,000 to 10,000 population.

Ballinger, Gonzales and New Braunfels have an even score for the second prize of $300, which includes towns of from 2,000 to 4,000 population. Hico, Hubbard, McGregor and Memphis tied for the $200 prize.

The reinspection will be begun at once by Dr. Carrick, who leaves here tomorrow. The reinspection will include several towns which stood within a point or two below the high scores. In the first class, Hillsboro scored 88.5, or one point below Brownwood and Gainesville. In the second class, Stamford and Eagle Pass were second and Snyder third.

$13,000,000 Wanted by State Governmental Departments for 1913.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 20.—It will take $12,982,321 to run the State Government for the next two fiscal years, exclusive of any appropriations that may be made for the State penitentiaries, according to estimates from institutions of State announced today. This is an increase of $3,377,170 over the amount appropriated by the last Legislature for the past two fiscal years, when the total appropriation was only $9,604,511. The estimate is nearly two million dollars in excess of what had been expected.

An "old maid" may be said to be a spinster without money. There is nothing like the "long green" to keep an unmarried woman attractive to a ripe old age.

NEWSPAPER ERRORS.

Have you grown indignantly eloquent about the errors in a newspaper? Was it the transposition of a letter, an incorrect initial, mis-spelling—like the marking of an eminent woman's name "Booz" instead of "Boaz," or was the story ruined by the loss of two or three lines? Why are newspapers so careless? They are not. The modern newspaper contains from 50,000 to 75,000 words of reading matter—as much as the ordinary book. This news is gathered, written, printed and distributed in less than twenty-four hours, most of it in one-third of that time. The reporters, copy readers, linotypes and compositors are pushed to the limit because you must have the news!

Is it any wonder that the compositor sometimes runs a paid local under an obituary, as, out in Kansas, under Mrs. Gilkey's death notice there appeared: "Get ready now. Buy one of Blank & Co.'s new cooking stoves, my dear woman, and you need fear no future heat."

A score of errors are an exceptional number for a single issue of any careful newspaper. The newspaper's slogan is accuracy, accuracy, accuracy!

PERSIMMONS ARE RIPE.

Persimmons are ripe "back home." The frost king has crowned their luscious fullness. The thrifty tradesman has wrapped them in white, packed them in little boxes, and our city cousins are buying them. We are glad that our cousins may enjoy this delicacy. But they can never know the persimmon, nor have the sauce that goes with it, until they come out to the woods. Will you ever forget that fading afternoon in November, the hillsides all garmented in crimson and gold, the lispin' of the leaves? The man in the moon was smiling down upon you before you started home in the twilight. There was something kind of "hairly like" about the atmosphere. Life was pitched in a key of supreme fullness. You had been out for persimmons.

Many an old man, in memory, is climbing the fence of that pasture today, and is panting with joy, racing across for the persimmon tree. Now he's climbing it, "claw, tooth and toenail." And in fancy he hears, as he spits on his hands, the ring of the boys' laugh. That tree leads to glory! There is the taste of ripe age, the strength of manhood, and the juicy joy of youth, in the persimmon out there. These never can be wrapped and boxed and sold to our city cousins.

THIS THANKSGIVING DINNER CHEAPER

Prices on Most of the Necessary Eatables Have Gone Down Considerably.

PUMPKINS TAKE DROP

Will Only Cost One-Fourth Last Year's Price; Cider Less Than Half.

Indications now are that the Thanksgiving dinner will be considerably cheaper this year than usual, says our cousin in the city. Nearly every dish on the table will cost less, if the size of the dish is not increased. Turkey has come down from 30 to 25 cents a pound and cranberries have dropped from 60 to 40 cents a gallon since last Thanksgiving day. Three bunches of celery sell for a quarter this year; last year the same price bought only two.

Pumpkins are four times as cheap. Last year pumpkins cost 2 cents a pound; this year they sell for one-half cent a pound. Apples that cost from 30 to 60 cents a bushel this year brought a dollar last year. Sweet potatoes have dropped from 40 to 20 cents a bushel and Irish potatoes from a dollar to 60 cents a bushel since last year.

Oysters are the same price—from 25 to 30 cents a pint. Ducks are 20 cents a pound, the same as last year, but geese have dropped from 22 to 15 cents since 1911.

Most of the other "trimmings" for a good Thanksgiving dinner are about the same price as last year—except cider. The Thanksgiving Epicureans who like good cider with their turkey will not be deprived of it by prohibitive prices again this year. Cider that cost 60 cents a gallon last year can be purchased for a quarter now. A good cigar still goes with the dinner for a dime.

CORN AND CLIMATE.
Varieties Adapted to Soil and Climate Will insure a Fully Matured Product.
By L. M. Smith, Seed Trade Reporting Bureau.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
Railroads, elevator companies and grain firms have at times lost large sums of money by the deterioration of the grain, either in storage or in transit, caused by the high moisture content. From the producers' viewpoint, it has been to advantage to market corn with a high amount of moisture, thus obtaining corn prices for the moisture it may contain. There are several reasons for excessive moisture in corn. The most important, however, is the growing of varieties that are not early in maturing. Large ear corn, as a general rule, requires more time to mature than do the varieties of the smaller ear type. The producer, of course, is striving for yield, and to accomplish this end, it is regretful to say, many insist upon growing the large ear varieties, which, on account of season, do not fully mature except about every third year.

Smaller Varieties.
Very good success is being obtained, both as to yield and quality of corn, when the smaller ear varieties are grown. Many of the varieties produce two ears to the stalk, so from the standpoint of yield are equally satisfactory to the grower, and the grain is far more acceptable to the grain dealers and transportation companies. It is true, it is more work to harvest an equal amount of corn from two ears than it is from one, but the grower should now realize that the time is at hand when the quality of corn delivered at the country elevator will be determined and the price paid for such grain fixed accordingly. Thus, the producer of good grain will receive more than the one who produces poor. Many growers will say that only one price is paid for acceptable corn at their station. This has been the former custom, but the grading of grain at terminal markets on a moisture test basis requires country buyers to likewise discriminate, or their chances of loss on shipments are many. If this is not done, the corn must be bought on a wide margin of profit, so as to make allowance for deterioration in transit or discount at terminal market because of excessive moisture content.

Testing for Moisture.
Many country dealers are now using moisture testing machines which are made according to specifications furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If your dealer is not using one of these machines, you should insist upon his installing one and testing your corn. If the corn is dry and of good quality, you should receive a correspondingly good price. Your chances of getting just prices are good, so by all means, when marketing your corn, insist upon having the test.

CORN PROCLAMATION.
A Week Should Be Set Aside in All of the Corn Growing States for Selecting Seed Corn.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
The Crop Improvement Committee has arranged with the Governors of eighteen states, including the corn-growing states, to issue some time in September or October, according to the latitude of the state, a proclamation setting aside a "Seed Corn Picking Week."

The purpose of this proclamation will be to impress the farmers of the importance of gathering seed corn early for the next season's planting before frost and storing it in a suitable place for winter. This is being done in some of the states at present. It is the object of the committee to put this into general practice in all of the corn-growing states.

COUNTRY BOYS.
[National Crop Improvement Service.]
Nowhere are prejudices so strong and so lasting as in the country. The infrequent contact with others, the long hours alone, serve to aggravate this condition. The country boy in such an environment is prone to follow the habits of thought of the past and to perpetuate a social order which continually narrows the social vision. To correct this tendency more social contact is necessary. More meetings, physical activities, outings and educational trips and general encouragement of socializing influences within the country itself.

IMPORTING SEED CORN.
C. P. Bull, Minn. Col. of Agriculture.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
Many have the idea that, to start in right and grow good corn, they must send elsewhere and get some new fancy kind of seed. Those who do this are usually disappointed with their first crop or two. It takes some time for corn to become adapted to a change in climatic and soil conditions. For that reason, it is usually best to secure a variety of corn that has been successfully grown in the locality for a period of years.

USES OF CORN.
[National Crop Improvement Service.]
From the corn stalk, cob and grain are made the following:
Flour, meal, starch, sugar, candies, syrup, alcohol, whiskey, oil, salad dressing, rubber, hominy, brewers' grits, cellulose, mucilage, paste, dextrine, beer, gluten feed, germ oil cake, pipes, paper and a hundred by-products.

THE MUSICAL EVENT OF THE [] SEASON []

You and your friends are invited to a delightful concert by the Ernest Gamble Concert Party at the Methodist Church

[] ON []
Saturday Evening, November 23rd at 8 o'clock sharp

Do not come expecting to hear vaudeville performers, but high-class, European trained ARTISTS.

Mr. Ernest Gamble, the distinguished basso cantante, has achieved a position among the foremost concert singers.

Mr. Edwin M. Shonert, "is one of the very great Liszt players of the generation."

Miss Verna Leona Page, the concert violiniste of the Gamble Party, is one of the few women violinists who has achieved a great popularity with the public.

"Music washes away from the soul the dust of every day life, and makes us walk in a better world."

"Music is a discipline, a mistress of order. She makes the people milder and gentler, more moral and responsible."

ERNEST GAMBLE CONCERT PARTY

The Ernest Gamble Concert Party was organized with the belief that there is always a sufficient number of discriminating people interested in hearing good music delightfully and attractively presented, to support a high-class and expensive attraction.

But they are never over the heads of the listeners. Classic music does not mean music that one cannot understand. It has been said of the Gamble's program: "Here is music not so popular as to be musically cheap and not so severely classical as not to be popular."

This company of artists is brought to you as the second number of the Seth Ward Lyceum Course.

THE MYSTIC CLUB

DISCUSSES E. A. POE.

The meeting of the Mystic Club last Saturday was peculiarly interesting. In addition to the regular program, Mrs. R. G. Heard gave a graphic and detailed sketch of Edgar Allen Poe.

This sketch of the popular writer was full of charm, and added materially to the study of one whom it has taken 100 years for the world to appreciate.

BAPTISTS REVISE THE BIBLE.

The Lord's Prayer Also Altered to Suit Church's Ideas.

New York, Nov. 19.—First copies of the revised edition of the Bible published by the American Baptist Publication Society reached the society's headquarters yesterday. The new edition is a radical departure in its construction from the language used in the King James version.

In the new Bible the names "Adam and Eve" do not appear. Their place is taken by the words "man and woman," which is a direct translation of the old Hebrew names. The word "hell" is eliminated, "underworld" being inserted in its place.

Other great changes are made. The story of Jonah and the whale is changed so that the words "great fish"—as being a nearer interpretation of the ancient Hebrew—takes the place of "whale." "Jehovah, thy God," takes the place of "Lord, thy God." "Carved" replaced "graven," and the word "immersed," in parenthesis, follows the word baptize in every instance. In the new edition the Lord's Prayer becomes:

"Our father who art in heaven, hallowed by thy name. Thy kingdom come; thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. Amen."

The organization started off with 60 members and a pledge of 2,000 acres to be planted in potatoes, onions, grapes, tomatoes watermelons,
