Miss Bobbie Dixon of Miami
 Miami, June 10.—Miss Bobbie Dixon of Miami and Mr. Glenn W. McKee of Plainview were married Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Olive Dixon. The Rev. R. H. Steward of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating.

Mrs. McKee is the second oldest daughter of "Billy" Dixon, who was one of the twenty-eight white men who fought at Adobe Walls, June 28, 1874, and was born and partly reared on the site of the old battle grounds on the Canadian river in Hutchinson county. She has taught the past four years in the public schools of the Panhandle, having just closed a successful term in the Silverton district. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. McKee of Plainview and conducts in Hale county a ranch in connection with his father.

The young people left immediately after the ceremony by automobile for Colorado, where they will spend a couple of weeks, after which they will make their home in Plainview. The out-of-town guests were Miss Meleva McKee of Plainview, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Vernie Parker of Lipscomb, Texas.

Former Plainview Girl

Marries Olton Man
 One of our first June weddings, and also one of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Miss Helen Barnett and Mr. George Bohner.

The wedding ceremony, in which the ring ceremony was used, was performed by the Rev. W. A. Bowen at the Baptist parsonage in Lubbock, Thursday, June 3rd, at high noon. Only the near relatives of the bride and groom were present.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party went to the Hotel Merrill where the sister of the bride had made arrangements for the dinner.

The bride is the sister of Mrs. H. P. Webb. For the past five months she has been teaching school in Lubbock county, and has made an enviable record in school room work. Her participation in educational, social and religious activities has proven to us the purity and height of her character. Her host of Lubbock friends shall miss her, and send with her their heartiest wishes for a most happy married life.

The bride spent her early high school days in the Lubbock high school. From here she entered the high school at Plainview. After graduating from that school she spent one year in Baylor College, and graduated from the West Texas State Normal College last Spring.

The groom is the son of Mr. W. H. Bohner, of Olton. He is a young man of an excellent character and high social standing. Since his return from service over seas, he has been tending to his property in Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bohner left Thursday evening for their home in Olton where they will be at home to their many friends.—A Guest.

Case 15-27 Kerosene Tractor

Pulls 3 or 4 Plows

In fields where plowing is difficult—tough or baked soil, stiff grades, etc.—this Case 15-27 Kerosene Tractor will pull 3 plows easily. Where conditions are favorable, this tractor can pull 4 plows.

So it is a favorite on the average farm. It is neither too large nor too small.

In addition to its field work, it is designed for belt work, having the pulley properly placed. It will drive a Case 26x46 Thresher equipped with feeder and wind stacker or other machines requiring similar power.

The Case 15-27 has abundant reserve power. While rated at 15 horsepower on the drawbar, it can deliver more than 18 horsepower. While rated at 27 on the belt, it can deliver 33 horsepower. It is ever ready for the hardest jobs. It never tires.

All gears are cut steel, enclosed and run in oil. It has a four-cylinder valve-in-head motor, mounted crosswise on a one-piece main frame. This affords the use of all spur gears.

A Case Sylinder Thermostat controls the cooling system and insures complete combustion of kerosene. A Case air washer delivers clean air to the carburetor.

There are dozens of betterments found only in this tractor. You should be familiar with them, so that you may make a careful comparison.

May we have the opportunity soon to point out Case superiorities?

Warning to Farmers

What are you doing to insure the protection of your crop again the inevitable CAR SHORTAGE which will exist this year?

As harvest time draws near, it appears to us altogether vital and necessary that the farmers of this community at once prepare to build storage rooms for the preservation of their grain.

The present prospect of a serious shortage of cars and the consequent inability of the railroads to move your grain at harvest, will mean the destruction of your crop and a big financial loss to you, unless you provide adequate storage facilities to take care of it.

Now, while there is ample time, do not fail to give the matter your earnest thought and immediate attention.

If this bank can be of assistance to you in any way, do not hesitate to call upon us.

Interesting Contest Continues

After going through hundreds of names suggested and sent in from all parts of this, and other states, the trustees of the Texas Products Mfg. Co. have failed to find a suitable name that can be used for their laundry soap. So the contest that should have ended at "noon" June 10th, will be continued until July 10th. Three names were suggested that were appropriate and acceptable to us, but they were already registered in the U. S. Patent office.

A $25 cash prize will be paid the winner. Try your luck, "you may win." We hope some one suggests a name that we can adopt.

The name must be original, one that has never been used before, short and something that will attract attention, a name easily remembered.—Address: Contest Dept., Texas Products Mfg. Co., Sweetwater, Texas.—Adv.

Features that the Farmers Insisted upon

Power and Economy

The Hart-Parr "30" has proven its abundant power both in belt and on the Draw Bar, in every official tractor test ever entered—guaranteed to burn kerosene as successfully as gasoline engines burn gasoline, to develop as much power from it and use no more of it.

Where Hart-Parr "30" Gets Its Power

Extensive tests prove that a cold fuel mixture on full load develops 20 to 25 per cent more power than preheated mixtures. This is because all the expansion takes place in the combustion chamber; the only place where power is developed.

The Kerosene Shunt, developed in the Hart-Parr factory and used exclusively on the Hart-Parr "30"—automatically feeds cold fuel at full load and preheated fuels at idling load, thus giving a smooth running engine at all loads and making the Hart-Parr "30" a remarkably efficient kerosene-burning engine.

Accessibility

Ease of manipulation, easy access to all parts, convenience, are some of the outstanding features of the Hart-Parr "30."

Most of the oiling is done by a mechanical, force-feed oiler. Parts of the simple ignition system are easily accessible. The controlling levers are located for quick and easy operation. The clutch is adjustable from one point. The crank case is exposed for inspection by removing only four bolts. Intricate and unnecessary parts have been eliminated.

When you adjust a Hart-Parr "30," the adjustment is simple, you can make it easily, and you can see just what you are doing. It's built for the farmer—not the mechanic.

Life

It is not easy to build simplicity and accessibility into a tractor and at the same time secure all the other superior features that the Hart-Parr "30" embraces. But the Hart-Parr Company did not resort to the easiest way. They built with an ideal in mind and succeeded because of their long experience in the business, and as proof of the sturdy construction of Hart-Parr "30's," in point to the old Hart-Parr's of virgin prairie days, many of which are still in use today, after having served from ten to sixteen years.

NINETEEN YEARS TRACTOR BUILDING EXPERIENCE

KEROSENE SHUNT
At full load the Kerosene Shunt feeds cold fuel through the butterfly valve direct to the combustion chamber. At light load it forces the fuel down through the hot exhaust manifold, preheating it before it enters the combustion chamber—giving a smooth running engine at all loads without delicate adjustment of the carburetor. This is the explanation of the economical, flexible power of the new Hart-Parr.

rear of the coliseum platform during the voting and conferred with Chairman Hays.
Almost as soon as the alphabetical call of states began after the recess the ground swell for Harding demonstrated that it could not be forestalled. Connecticut, when her name was called, took thirteen of her fourteen votes from Lowden and gave them to Harding. In Florida he got seven from Wood, and then Kentucky, almost from the first a solid Lowden state, flopped completely into the Harding column.
Amid scenes of rising enthusiasm other blocks of Lowden delegates followed suit, while many of the routed Wood supporters also went into the Harding camp. By the end of the roll call Senator Harding had rolled up a total of 374, putting him far into the lead and several scores of votes nearer the nomination than any candidate had been before.
Lowden at the end of the ninth ballot had only 121 votes left out of the 307 with which he ended the eighth, and General Wood's strength had fallen from 299 on the eighth to 249 on the ninth. Johnson dropped from 87 to 82.
As the tenth roll call began delegates on the right and left, and the big hall was in almost continuous applause as state after state announced accession to the Harding standard. It was reserved for Pennsylvania to add the crowning touch of enthusiasm. When the Keystone state was reached the Ohio Senator needed thirty-two votes to nominate him and Pennsylvania gave him sixty.

It was Governor Sproul himself, the candidate of his state on every preceding ballot and mentioned many times as a possible dark horse, to break the deadlock, who announced the big Pennsylvania vote for Harding. Entering the coliseum floor for the first time since the balloting began, he made his way to the Pennsylvania standard and, amid cheers, released the delegates from longer supporting him. Then he took a poll, got the floor and threw in the winning Harding votes.
A demonstration of several minutes followed, most of the delegates and spectators standing and cheering while a procession carrying large pictures of the candidate and standards of some of the states that supported him took up its march around the hall. But it was too tired a convention after the grueling excitement of two sweltering days of balloting to linger long in such a demonstration. Senator Lodge, presiding, rapped for order and the delegates did not argue with him.

Senator Harding was in an anteroom nearby while the convention was casting the ballots which made him the republican nominee. For some of the time he chatted there with Governor Lowden, who had given up the fight a few minutes before. Mrs. Harding also was with him. Colonel Proctor, General Wood's manager, and others visited Senator Harding and Governor Lowden while the convention noisily and anxiously was making history only a short distance away.
When the result was communicated to him by Charles B. Warren of Michigan, Senator Harding left for his hotel with Mrs. Harding.
As the convention realized that a nominee had been made, bedlam cut loose and there was an unrestrained demonstration for several minutes.
When quiet was restored the calling of the roll was continued. Contrary to expectations many of the remaining states held their original formation, giving complimentary or farewell votes to favorite sons or men who they had been supporting.
La Follette held his twenty-four votes from Wisconsin to the last ballot and the convention and galleries hissed their delivery as usual.

The Philippines remained faithful to Wood to the last. On an unofficial total, Harding got 645 votes and seven-tenths.
Then came a landslide of changes in votes.
Delegates in the Wisconsin group voted against making the nomination unanimous.
When it was seen that a candidate had been nominated, the customary changing of votes began with a half dozen who had voted for other candidates switching over so as to appear in the winning column on the last ballot. Most of Illinois deserted its governor and many of the Wood men, too, asked to have their votes recorded for Harding.
The final check-up showed 692 for Harding, with only twelve left supporting Lowden, 157 for Wood and eighty for Johnson. At their best earlier in the day, the Wood people had mustered 312 votes and the Lowden forces 311. Johnson's high point was 148, recorded on the third ballot yesterday.
A motion to make the nomination unanimous was passed in a great chorus of approval, but when opportunity was given for negative votes there were some "noes" from Wisconsin, whose delegation throughout the day had voted amid hisses and cat calls almost solidly for Senator Robert M. La Follette.

The plan to nominate Senator Lenroot for the vice presidency had the backing of many of the men who had helped put Harding over. The name of Governor Coolidge stirred the delegates and galleries to repeated cheering, and he was swept into the second place on the ticket before the first roll call had gone two-thirds its length. Again it was Pennsylvania which furnished the winning votes.
Governor Collidge got 674 votes to 146 for Senator Lenroot and 68 for Governor Allen of Kansas. Several others got scattering support without being placed formally in nomination. The result was greeted with another demonstration; and there was renewed cheering a few minutes later when the tired delegates were told that their work was done. It was early evening by the time adjournment was reached, but before midnight hundreds had checked out and were on their way.

Quite a number of negroes have come to Lubbock. Last week it was found that quite a number of them were buying lots in a certain part of town with the intention of building homes on them. The city has not as yet decided, as no section of the town wants a "nigger town" nearby.
