CULBERTSON DELIVERS

FIRST REPUBLICAN SPEECH

OPPOSES LEAGUE OF NATIONS, FOR HIGH TARIFF, FOR OPEN SHOP

Mr. J. G. Culbertson, republican nominee for governor, spoke Saturday afternoon in Plainview to an audience that filled the county court room. His was the first republican speech ever delivered in Hale county. He was given a good hearing and was applauded a number of times. The partisans of Mr. Bailey seem to be especially cordial in their reception of his speech.

Mr. Culbertson is a very successful business man, and is president of the Wichita auto truck factory, which does a business in most every country in the world. He is a very pleasant gentleman, and has a pleasing address, though he is not an orator.

F. L. Brown, county chairman of the republicans, presided, and Judge [name] introduced the speaker, in which he urged the people to vote for the republican ticket for harmony sake, so that both the administration and congress may be controlled by one party. He urged that Mr. Culbertson be elected governor, as Texas needs a business administration.

Mr. Culbertson in beginning his speech, told of coming to Texas from Pennsylvania ten years ago, and of his success in business in Wichita Falls. Now, he believes he should do something for the state, hence is out preaching republicanism and urging people to rise up and elect a business administration.

He declared that there should be competition in politics as well as in business, and declared that if the republican party was about as strong in Texas as the democratic, the party in power would give us better and more economical government. He cited the rotten republican rule in Pennsylvania, and the way the democrats forced clean government. He did not mention, however, that Boss Penrose still rules that state, and he is possibly the rottenest politician in the nation.

Mr. Culbertson mentioned that West Texas was not getting anything it wants, such as redistricting, a West Texas A. & M. college, etc., because a ring down in Central Texas rules the state.

"The producer of the raw material who enters into the manufacture of a protected article should be protected by tariffs as well as the manufacturer," declared the Wichita Falls candidate.

The republican candidate said that if the League of Nations covenant was adopted in full, it would necessitate the continuance of free trade. He refuted the accusation that the republican party was responsible for high taxes, declaring that high taxes were necessary and would continue so until government expenditures were cut down.

Mr. Culbertson declared it would be poor business to enter into a League of Nations with England, when, said he, that country would have six votes to the one of the United States. "I'm for America first and all the time," he said as his audience applauded.

"I would rather see republican congressmen elected in Texas than to be elected governor of the state, for it would mean more to the state," said the speaker.

He pointed out that a proper budget system would bring state government expenditures down to a far lower level. He urged support of the school tax amendment looking toward the raising of the school tax limit.

"The right to work is superior to the right to quit work. Advocates of the closed shop are advocating violation of the United States constitution. You can't tell where the democratic nominee is on this question. He is for the closed shop and he is against it. Union labor made fools of themselves by taking up the quarrel of the negro strikers in Galveston." The speaker declared that efforts at arbitration in Galveston succeeded in getting all but 51 of the 1,500 strikers to return. He declared that all but about 400 of the strikers were negroes and added that the strike was fomented by trouble-breeders from New York, who brought about the strike in sympathy with one in New York. He declared that only four out of more than 1,600 Chambers of Commerce in the United States had declared for the closed shop. The speaker concluded his address by showing how he never had a strike in his automobile factory at Wichita Falls, and never asked a man whether he carried a union card or not.

CANDIDATE OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY GAIN POPULARITY

People Favor Cox's Plan of Explaining Questions for Which He Stands

Dallas, Oct. 7.—Reports received at the state headquarters of the Democratic national committee from the headquarters in New York indicate a growing sentiment toward the democratic nominees. The recent announcement of the President that he would assist the national committee during the remaining days of the campaign, coupled with the campaign statements of James M. Cox on questions which the other party nominees have refused or failed to take a firm stand is largely responsible for the increased interest and enthusiasm.

The fact that the Republicans have been in control of congress for more than one year and have not taken any stand toward the repeal of such legislation as has been unpopular with many Democrats is serving to overcome the vast amount of Republican propaganda charging the Democrats with various efforts to saddle high taxes on the people of the United States, according to the report received.

Practically every county in Texas is organized, and efforts are being made to secure contributions to the Democratic campaign fund. There has been no quota assigned the state of Texas nor any of the counties. Subscriptions of any size from one dollar to one thousand dollars are acceptable and should be sent to the county chairmen or to the state headquarters, 327 Western Indemnity building, Dallas. Checks should be made payable to Royall R. Watkins, secretary-treasurer.

Confessed Intimacy—Killing Followed

A few days ago a woman in Amarillo gave birth to a child. The attending physician gave no hope of her recovery, and she asked her husband to send for her Catholic priest, as she wanted to make a confession before she died. The priest came and in the presence of her husband she said to have confessed that the baby just born was not the son of her husband but of another man in the town. After hearing the confession the husband armed himself and went down to the place of business of the other man and shot him dead. The woman has not died. GREAT DEMOCRATIC ACHIEVEMENT

Even the Republicans, the bitterest of them, have not the hardihood to attack the Federal Reserve System. It took the mastery of the country's finances out of the hands of Wall Street and placed it in the government at Washington where it belongs and where, under democratic law and democratic administration, it has been exercised for the benefit of the nation's people and the nation's business.

In the stress of the great world war and reconstruction days not once has even the fear of a financial panic disturbed us.

Most of our worries are excess baggage that need not be carried.

It don't pay to go through life with a scowl on your face. You get too many in return.

Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby wirelessly Congressman Thomas L. Blanton that there are no restrictions on the export of cotton to Germany; that in view of the shortage of German industrial needs, Germany is very glad to receive cotton from the United States. Sure. But Germany is without coin or credit. It is impossible for a beggar to buy or a bankrupt to pay.

Republicans away down here in Texas are cursing a Democratic administration for the excess profits tax. A republican congress was in session fourteen months and refused to either repeal or simply the tax. Why damn Wilson? Why damn the congressional minority? Republicans control the senate. They control the house. They were urged to repeal the obnoxious tax law. They dodged and they stutered and they refused to take decisive action.

It is said that England is this year spending a billion dollars on increasing and maintaining her navy and three hundred million dollars on her army air service. If we were president of the United States, we really believe we would tip off England that it would be better if she would use most of this money to pay the big debt and interest she owes this government instead of wasting it on building up her armaments. France should also be tipped off along the same line. The countries of Europe should pay their debts before indulging in the luxury of preparing for any more wars.

Governor Milliken of Maine is "the Republican landslide governor." He says that the league of nations was not an issue; that enforcement of the prohibition laws was an issue and that all the Republicans of Maine are not opponents of the league. Thus Milliken has dealt the senatorial oligarchs a smashing blow. Prohibition originated in Maine. There are Canadian whiskey runners on the borders of Maine. There are hundreds of bootleggers on the border line. To put the bootleggers and the whiskey runners out of business women voters of Maine cast Republican ballots. They were of the opinion that the Democratic candidates were of the moist variety and for "non-enforcement."

So great have been the earnings of the federal reserve banks during the last year that the treasury will soon purchase $75,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds and Victory notes in the open market with funds obtained from this source. Under the law, federal reserve banks are permitted to pay only 6 per cent cumulative interest to the member banks. Large excess earnings must therefore be paid into the treasury as a franchise tax and can be used to reduce the public debt. According to the secretary of the treasury plans to go into the open market, beginning in January, when the reserve banks' earnings will be turned over and purchase Liberty bonds and Victory notes.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

A West Plainview wife declares that before she got her husband she thought he was awfully perfect, but that now she thinks he is perfectly awful.

As the days are growing shorter the bunch on the corner is reducing its office hours.

We envy the one-armed man in one particular. He can't mash his thumb while driving a nail.

What we need in this country is something that will induce us to make the best of what we have.

The most profitable opportunities are those that we make ourselves.

Baker Bros. of Lockney have reorganized under the name of the Baker Mercantile Co., and increased the capital stock to $100,000.

Men and women who did not pay their poll tax last January have been given an opportunity between now and October 22 to do so, in order to vote in the November election. It will cost $1.75 to get a poll tax at the court house. Better attend to his matter a once.

TAKING IT OUT OF THE FARMER

Reducing the cost of living at the expense of the farm-producer is a clever game now being played by manufacturers and distributors of the necessities of life. Frequent announcements of the reduction, of probable reduction in prices are appearing in the newspapers of the country. In every instance the lesser price is based on another cut into the farmer's income. In no instance has it been revealed that a manufacturer, distributor or labor organization has made any sacrifice for the purpose of bringing about normal conditions. Accustomed to war prices which heaped up millions in profits in spite of income and excess profits taxes, they continue to follow a course which will either lead to national disaster or force the producer into an attitude of self defense which will culminate in an absolute dictation of prices on the farm.

The price of cotton has been forced below cost of production, but gingham dresses are almost a luxury. Wheat has continued to slump, but flour has been reduced but a few cents per barrel and on pound loaves of bread retail at from 10 to 12 cents. Hides are drug on the market and hardly worth saving, but shoes of respectable quality cost from $8 to $18 per pair. Hogs and beef cattle are way down in the market centers and meat way up over the counters in retail shops. The farmer gets 35 to 40 cents per gallon for his milk and the consumer pays from 85 cents to $1. Not long ago a decrease of 8 cents per gallon to consumers in Dallas was accompanied by a decrease of 12 cents per gallon to the producer, the distributor profiting 4 cents per gallon by the process.

The warehouses are full of virgin wool and no demand while the consumer pays $50 for a suit of shoddy. Cotton collars are 40 to 60 cents a piece and one pound of 22-cent cotton will make twenty-two of them.

Go on down the line, if you will, and find, if you can, a single reduction in the cost of living that has cost the manufacturer or distributor a single cent of his war-time profits. Your investigation will disclose the fact that the farmer-producer has been the victim each time.

The manufacturer and the distributor work on the percentage basis. The higher the price the greater the profits on a single transaction. The farmer works on the acreage basis. The more he produces the less he gets. This fact has been forcibly brought to his attention on numerous occasions. It is beginning to make an impression. The farmer is beginning to realize that he has the whip hand. He is becoming conscious of the fact that by confining his production to his own needs, he can bring the world to its knees. Not that the average farmer wants to bring about justice though the starvation process, but he is becoming more determined than ever to secure a square deal, and the length to which he may be forced to go will depend largely upon the consideration accorded him.—Farm & Ranch.

LEAGUE TO PREVENT WAR

Every member of the League of Nations solemnly agrees that it will never go to war without first having done or another of two things, without submitting the matter in dispute to arbitration, in which case it promises absolutely to abide by the verdict, or, if it does not care to submit it to arbitration, without submitting it to discussion by the council of the League of Nations, in which case it promises to lay all the documents and all the pertinent fact before that council; it consents that that council shall publish all documents and all the pertinent facts, so that all the world shall know them; that it shall be allowed six months in which to consider the matter; and that, even at the end of the six months, if the decision of the council is not acceptable, it will not go to war for three months following the rendering of the decision.

It is provided in the covenant of the League of Nations that any nation that disregards these solemn promises with regard to arbitration and discussion shall be thereby deemed ipso facto to have committed an act of war against the other members of the League and that there shall thereupon follow an absolute exclusion of that nation from communication of any kind with the members of the League. No goods can be shipped in or out; no telegraphic messages can be exchanged; there shall be no communication of any kind between the people of the other nations and the people of that nation. There is not a nation in Europe that can stand that for six months. Germany could have faced the armies of the world more readily than she faced the boycott of the world.

The meanest husband lives in Iowa. He made his wife push the rear of the mired automobile while he spun the wheels and covered her with mud. She has sued him for $10,000 a year alimony, and we hope she'll get every cent.

The truest thing we know is that when you are sitting around whining that life is not worth living, you are not doing anything to make it worth living.

RECORD CORN CROP FOR 1920 FORECAST

Indications Point to Yield of 3,216,000,000 Bushels Wheat Deteriorates

Washington, Oct. 8.—A corn crop of 3,216,000,000 bushels, or 79,000,000 bushels greater than the record crop of 1912, was forecast today by the Department of Agriculture from a condition of 89.1 on Oct. 1.

There was a further falling off, however, in the total wheat crop 750,648,000 bushels, as compared with a forecast of 770,000,000 bushels a month ago. The spring wheat crop was forecast at 218,007,000 bushels, as compared with 237,000,000 last month. The conditions of the spring wheat and all wheat crops was not given in the department's announcement.

The tobacco crop also showed a falling off, total production being estimated at 1,478,788,000 pounds, as against a forecast of 1,533,000,000 pounds a month ago. The crop still remains the largest in history despite this reduction of 75,000,000 pounds in the forecast during the last thirty days.

Production of oats was placed at 1,444,523,000 bushels, an increase of 2,523,000 bushels during the month. While potato production was forecast at 414,986,000 bushels, an increase of 2,063,000 bushels since Sept. 1.

Apples, 34,287,000 barrels; peaches, 44,523,000 bushels; kafirs, 139,503,000 bushels; peanuts, 39,217,000 bushels; beans (six sates), 9,364,000 bushels; barley, 191,386,000 bushels; buckwheat, 15,532,000 bushels; condition 85.6; white potatoes, 414,986,000 bushels, condition 82.7; sweet potatoes, 103,779,000 bushels, condition 87.1; tobacco, 1,478,788,000 pounds, condition 83.3; flax, 11,704,000 bushels, condition 62.8; rice, 52,298,000 bushels, condition 88.1; sugar beets, 8,970,000 tons, condition 93.4.

FEMINE BEAUTY

It is amazing what an amount of energy and money goes into developing female beauty. The materials by which the illusion of beauty is produced, are the principal stock of great departments of retail trade. If women should suddenly become indifferent to their personal adornment, a large share of the country's business would be ruined.

The philosopher wonders that women are willing to spend so considerable part of their substance for things that, in the words of the scripture, are essentially "vanity and vexation of spirit." But women will do it, as long as they feel that the illusions of beauty are the means by which they can interest men.

They may well question whether the man of the future is going to be as much swayed by this kind of appeal as he was in the past. Of course if you look at the average college student room, with its galley of supposed beauties on the walls, or hear the boys spend long hours discussing which is the prettiest girl, you might think that the male world would be ruled indefinitely by the pretty face.

Still one can't help feeling that the day for the mere doll has gone by. The girl with the peach bloom, but who has no brains and no ability to say bright things, is apt to remain neglected. The girl with more wit and vivacity and ability to do things successfully, will win friends though she may have a plainer face.

The tendency of the times is to develop a type of women who are self dependent, and who do not feel that their lives are going to be spoiled if they never marry. They have resources of their own. Other ends than mere prettiness are filling their attention. Thereby they make themselves doubly attractive, to men with eyes to look below the surface.

This feature has been added to Gentry Bros. show since their last appearance in this city. Huge Interest Due Uncle Sam

The interest on Europe's debt to the United States amounts to 10 cents a month for every man, woman and child in this country. By the time in 1922 when Europe is scheduled to resume interest payments on this debt, European governments will owe Uncle Sam nearly 12 billion dollars.

In the closing days of the special session a rider was attached to the emergency appropriation bill carrying $10,000 to pay expenses of two members to find a market for Texas cotton. One member will be appointed by Governor Hobby and the other by the governor of the eleventh federal reserve district. It is contemplated that the commission will go to Europe to interest spinners in Texas cotton, and if men of vision and intelligence are selected it will be taxpayers' money spent.

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET

How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood,
Which fond recollection presents them to view.
The orchard, the meadow, the deep tangled wildwood,
And ev'ry lov'd spot that my infancy knew:
The wide spreading stream, the mill that stood near it,
The bridge and the rock where the cataract fell;
The cot of my father, the dairy house by it,
And e'en the rude bucket that hung in the well.

Chorus.
The old oaken bucket, the iron-bound bucket,
The moss-covered bucket that hung in the well.

The moss-covered bucket I hail as a treasure,
For often at noon when returned from the field,
I found it a source of exquisite pleasure,
The purest and the sweetest that nature can yield.
How ardent I seized it with hands that were glowing,
And quick to the white-peddled bottom it fell:
Then soon with the emblem of health overflowing,
And dripping with coolness it rose from the well.

Chorus.
How soon from the green mossy brim to receive it,
As poised on the curb it reclined to my lips.
Not a full flowing goblet could tempt me to leave it,
Though filled with the nectar that Jupiter sips,
And now, far moved from the loved situation,
The tear of regret will intrusively swell,
As fancy reverts to my father's plantation,
And sighs for the bucket that hung in the well.

Chorus.

Crosbyton Needs Cars

Crosbyton, Oct. 7.—More than $200,000 worth of wheat is tied up at the railroad here because of the lack of empty grain cars. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is now trying to get the railroad commission to relieve the situation. Orders for more than 100 cars were placed more than sixty days ago. Only four have been delivered. Despite the needs of the shippers the railroads daily haul out empty cars. The borrowing capacity of grain dealers has been strained to the limit. Much wheat will be a loss unless relief is quickly extended.

ANENT PEOPLE AND THINGS AND SOME OBSERVATIONS

Interesting Items Picked Up Here and There by Ye Editor of the News

A transient ventriloquist had some fun with Tom Ogg, who clerks at the Plainview Produce Co. store, this morning, by throwing his voice and calling Tom out in front several times. The puzzled expression on Tom's face as he looked about to see who it was calling him, was amusing to those who were on to the joke.

H. E. Landis, who lives southeast of town, writes the following to the News: "While Geo. Welch was drilling wheat south of town he found a flynet and came out of the field with it over the water tank of a Titan. I've heard of whip sockets on autos but this is the first time I ever saw a flynet on a tractor."

A local grocery store put in its show window last week a large placard with about thus written on it "Man wanted—we desire one who wants a job, not a position." We don't know whether it got him or not, as practically every boy or man who has applied to us for employment lately has wanted a position, and none of them seemed to want to really work. High pay and little work, or no work at all, is what most of them want.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Winfield have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heard, near town, for a couple of weeks. The Winfield family used to live in Plainview, and he was engaged in the furniture business. For several years they have been living near Tyrone, in the southwestern part of New Mexico, and he has been operating a copper and gold mine. He says things have become very dull in that section, which is close to the Old Mexico and Arizona lines. Church of Christ Calls Paris Preacher as Pastor

Elder Lee Garrett of Paris preached at the Church of Christ here Sunday morning and night. The congregation called Mr. Garrett as its pastor, and he will move here as soon as he can secure a residence for his family.

Methodist Services Last Sunday

The "Home Coming" of the Methodist church last Sunday will be remembered as one of the epochal days of the year. From the Sunday school until the closing service of the day, the spirit that was manifested by the Lord's throng, that attended each service. "They were glad when they said unto them, let us go unto the house of the Lord."

The church was beautiful in its decorations of red and brown Dalhais and ferns. The choir rendered inspiring music. The pastor brought a great message to his people on "Christ's Redeeming Grace." There were seven babies consecrated in baptism, thirty-three united with the church, and $5,000 was raised on the church improvement.

At the evening hour Dr. Robinson's subject was "The Need of the Hour," gripping the things that shall not be shaken.

Prof. Crabb, violin solo, and Mrs. Peterson, vocal solo, added much to the inspiration of the service. There was one conversion and the consecration service that followed the sermon was deeply impressive.

Next Sunday being the last of the conference year, every member and friend of the church should be present. The church will be decorated by the Epworth League. In the Sunday school at 9:45, there will be two specials, a violin solo, "There is Power in the Blood," by J. C. Boyd, and a chorus of little girls will sing.

Let the parents come with their children to this rally day service in the Sunday school. At the 11 o'clock service the pastor will deliver his farewell sermon and again consecrate babies in baptism and receive members. For the announcements of the "Home Coming" of the Epworth League at 6 o'clock, and the sacred concert at 7 o'clock, see programs elsewhere in this paper.

Power of Mind Over Matter
Madam Bontier, French actress, 4 years ago ordered her tomb built and has since been afraid she would die before it was ready. Recently she urged the contractor to speed things up, and he told her the tomb would be ready in 3 days. In just three days Madam Bontier was ready to inhabit it. There is an interesting little book on "Right and Wrong Thinking," which gives many examples of the power of mind over matter. Unless you are ready to die and wish to die it is better not to make up your mind that you are going to die shortly, else very probably you will.

AFTER THREE YEARS

Plainview Testimony. Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Plainview story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. J. F. Sander, Plainview, says: "Some time ago I was suffering with kidney complaint. The greatest trouble was inflammation of the bladder. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me in a short time. I advise anyone troubled in this way to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the R. A. Long Drug Store and use them."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mrs. Sander said: "I still have the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills as I had when I recommended them before. The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me at that time has been permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Sander had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Night Riders Destroying Cotton
It is estimated that nightriders down in the state burned a million dollars' worth of cotton Sunday. The compress and 5,000 bales at Cameron were burned, so was a cotton warehouse in Hamlin, a gin at Mertzon, and also at other places. In every instance the fires followed notices posted giving warning not to handle any cotton until the price goes to 40c a pound.

The incendiaries should be hunted down and sent to the penitentiary for long terms. Such destruction is the worst species of radicalism and out-lawry and cannot help to raise the price of cotton.

LIST OF FORFEITED LANDS IS PREPARED

Two Million Acres School Lands Will Go Back to State On January 2

Austin, Oct. 7.—Commissioner of the General Land Office, J. T. Robinson, has delivered to the printer a list of school lands heretofore sold but now subjected to be forfeited for non-payment of interest due up to November 1, 1918. There are about 2,000,000 acres and the commissioners' minimum appraised selling price will amount to about $15,000,000. If the interest should not be paid the sales will be forfeited in time to bring the land on market for sale January 2, at 10 o'clock a. m. These are some of the lands on which the legislature authorized the postponement of forfeiture on account of drouth two years ago. Mr. Robinson says he has sent a list of the land in each county to the county clerk of the county in which the land is located and that all interested persons can see the lands affected by either calling on the county clerk where the land is situated or owners can learn from the Land Office if any particular section is in the list by making inquiry of that office and give a correct description of the land by section, block, grantee and county. The Commissioner says this is a matter of much importance to many land owners and they should lose no time in finding out if their land is in the list, because the volume of work in the office is so great that the usual personal notice cannot be given.

Note—As many tracts of land in Hale county were bought from the state, it would be well for the present owners to look up the matter of whether interest is in default.

THE OTHER SIDE OF IT

A farmer was standing in a store the other day in a small town in Texas when a customer came in and asked the price of sweet potatoes. Fifteen cents a pound replied the proprietor of the store.

"Why, you only paid me eight cents a pound for the potatoes I sold you the other day interrupted the farmer.

"Yes, that is true," replied the merchant, and you will find about one-fourth of the lot you sold me over there which I will give you if you will get them out of my way. This gentleman here does not want the bruised, rotting potatoes or 'stingers', neither does any one else. I had to take all you had just as they were and must throw away about one-fourth of them in order to find a few my customers will have. If you will bring me the kind of potatoes my customers want and leave the strings and bruised potatoes at home I can afford to pay you more for them and yet make a greater profit."

Think it over.

FACTORY SHUTS DOWN ON ACCOUNT OF HIGH PRICES

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 7.—Inability to find a market for goods at present high prices resulted tonight in closing of the underwear department at the Lawrence Manufacturing Company, throwing 3,500 persons out of work. The entire plant, including the hosiery department, will close down in the immediate future for the same reason, according to officials of the company.

Texas Hogs Are Best

Many Texans attended the National Swine Breeders' convention in Des Moines, Iowa, last week. A big sale of registered hogs was held, but not a hog was bought by the Texans.

Texas breeders say it is no longer necessary to buy Northernbred swine, as the South can furnish better. Texas and Southern States lead in type, a quality essential in Poland and Durocs. In the show at Des Moines hogs of real type are shown mostly. Southern swine men began type breeding three years ago and are further advanced than are the breeders in Iowa.

Be Regular in Attendance

The following from an exchange will bear repeating here and everywhere school is taught.

"If parents realize how hard it is for a child to do good work and attend regularly, there would be less failures. Another one of our good suggestions is that a policy of thoroughness be followed as closely as possible. When a child is allowed to advance beyond where he is capable of doing the work, it is an injustice to him and everybody else concerned."

Mr. Goodlett of Goodlett & Cooley, merchants in Hale Center, was in town yesterday to have some large circulars printed for a big clearance sale of ten days, which his store will begin next Saturday.

E. T. Coleman went to Amarillo yesterday morning, to serve on the Official confirmation of press dispatches from Detroit, announcing that there would be

No Reduction in the price of

Dodge Brothers

Motor Cars

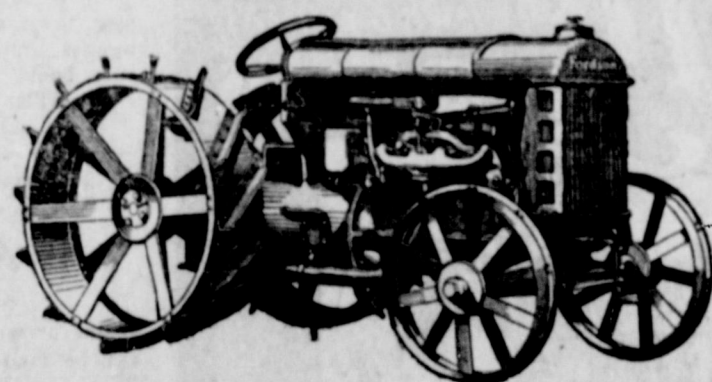

has been received by Carter-White Motor Co., the Dodge Brothers dealers in this city. A telegram from C. W. Matheson, acting general sales manager to the local dealer, reads:

"Dodge Brothers policy has ever been to give full value for the price asked. There will be no reduction in the present prices of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars. Newspaper reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

"Dodge Brothers announcement was no surprise to us," said Carter-White Motor Co. "In fact it is only a substantiation of Dodge Brothers business principles. At no time have they demanded an excess amount for their product. As in the past, they will continue in the future to demand a fair return for their efforts."

"The mere fact that the demand for Dodge Brothers motor cars is still greater than the supply, despite the great expansion program at the factory, has absolutely nothing to do with the decision to continue the present prices. In marketing their car Dodge Brothers have never made a point of price and will never sacrifice the quality of their product to enter price competition."

FORDSON FARM TRACTOR

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land almost to half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it helps the labor problem.

As ever, the machine way is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it helps the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is low; and the after or operating cost is low. It is a compact, easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the world.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson. Let us demonstrate the Fordson on your own farm.

BEAUTIFUL PLAINS COUNTRY HOMES

(By Wm. Dee Little, Staff correspondent Farm & Ranch.)

I would not say that the South Plains of the Panhandle of Texas is the most beautiful region in the world I used to make comparisons of this kind, but an incident in my early newspaper work convinced me that the man who makes comparisons in public is taking grave chances. I was once writing an account of a wedding, and, thinking I would pay tribute to the bride, I mentioned that she was the most beautiful and talented lady in the town. That finished me with the ladies, and came very near causing me to change my profession. Since then I may say a thing is fine, or good, or excellent, or beautiful, but I never say it is the finest, the best of the most beautiful. I think you will appreciate my point of view, therefore, when I say that the South Plains are beautiful.

As one goes south from Amarillo he will notice that the country is level and weedless. The grass in August and September, when I was there, was like an expensive carpet, its soft coat of green delighting the eye as far as one could see. As far south as Lubbock this view extends and goes west even into parts of New Mexico.

But the ground, though it is covered with green and the soil is fertile beneath, is not the only beautiful thing. The homes! The homes are wonderful. Few states even those which have been settled so long that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, can boast of homes so beautiful, so comfortable and so well cared for. They range in size from five to a score of rooms. Many of them are two stories in height. Practically all have running water, baths, sinks, lavatories, hard wood floors, with cement walks in front and in rear.

Wide porches surround the front and sides. Screens protect the occupants from the sun and the breeze. Flowers and trees cluster in the yards, and to give it all a better background, orchards of pear, apple and peach can be seen to one side in the rear. In places there are swimming pools in the rear with ducks or geese swimming peacefully thereon and water lilies dotting the surface.

To pass the homes at night, one does not view a scene of darkness and loneliness. Until bedtime there is a brilliancy seldom seen in the towns. The rooms are well lighted by electricity and the screened porches are occupied by the family, reading the newspapers, magazines and standard books of literature.

John L. Boswell, the young secretary of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, was reared in the country there and has seen it change from an uninhabited prairie to a land of homes and culture. Here is what he says about it:

"In the Plainview country the great majority of farmers are farm owners and consequently farm owners. It is natural that a farmer will take more pride in the appearance of his home than in one owned by another man. This explains why the farm homes around Plainview are attractive. They are not all large, magnificent structures, but all are well built, neat and pleasing in appearance. Many of them are surrounded by blue grass lawns, grape vine arbors, fine shade trees and flowers.

"With land selling at the price now prevailing it is often that a farmer will pay the cost of the land with one crop. In the following years he delects the farm a better place to live. He builds a home that is his pride and almost the envy of his neighbors in the city. He surrounds it with, and encloses within, some of the luxuries of life. In Hale county he has a supply of pure water as great as any family in any city. A windmill and a shallow well furnishes continuous flow for the milk trough, the truck garden, the flower beds and general household purposes. The only cost is a bit of lubricating oil. The wheat from a few acres of land will buy a farm electric plant that gives him the same service his brother in town gets."

"The Prairies"
As I travel through the enchanting land, I cannot help recalling William Cullen Bryant's poem: "The Prairie," written just after his first visit to the plains of the Middle West. Although the prairies are more beautiful now with their homes and their oases of trees and their farms, there is much in the first part of the poem which is true to the Panhandle.

These are the gardens of the Desert, these
The unshorn fields, boundless and beautiful,
For which the speech of England has no name—

The Prairies, I hold them for the first;
And my heart swells, while the dilated
hight
Takes in the encircling vastness. Lo!
they stretch,
In airy undulations, far away,
As if the ocean, in his gentlest swell,
Stood still, with all his round billows fixed,
And Motionless forever.—Motionless?—

No—they are unclaimed again. The clouds
Sweep over with their shadows, and, beneath,
The surface rolls and fluctuates to the eye;
Dark hollows seem to glide along and chase
The sunny ridges. Breezes of the South!

Who toss the golden and the flame-like flowers,
And pass the prairie-hawk, that, poised on high,

Flaps his broad wings, yet moves not—
—we have played
Among the palms of Mexico and vines
Of Texas, and have crisped the limid brooks
That from the fountain of Sonora glide
Into the calm Pacific—have ye fanned
A nobler or a lovelier scene than this?
Man hath no power in all his glorious work:

The hand that built the firmament hath heaved
And smoothed these verdant swells,
and sown their slopes
With herbage, planted them with island groves,
And hedged them round with forests,
Fitting floor
For this magnificent temple of the sky—

With flowers whose glory an whose multitude Rival the constellations. The great heavens

Seem to stoop down upon the scene in love—
A nearer vault, and of a tendered blue
Than that which bends above our eastern hills.

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison—test—of could sustain it.

You try it this way

—the way we use in our store!—the Realism Test! Test the New Edison's Realism against the pleasure you know music can bring.

Tell us what kind of voice or instrument gives you truest musical enjoyment. Listen while we play your favorite on the New Edison. The Realism Test will enable you to gauge whether the New Edison's RE-CREATION gives you all of this enjoyment.

This is your test! It will help you determine what the New Edison's Realism means, in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

Ask for it! The "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

Another thing to ask about is our Budget Plan. It disposes of the money question, in a way that will appeal to your common-sense and to your pocketbook.
