

SOCIETY

BRIDE ELECT HONORED

Monday evening Miss Mollie Moody was the recipient of a lovely surprise following an evening of bridge, when the girls of the Alpha Delphian Chapter gave her a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Thelma Howard. Four tables were placed for the bridge games and it was announced that Miss Moody had won the highest number of scores and Miss Thelma Howard presented her a large hamper heaped high with ribbon tied gifts as her reward. When the gifts had all been admired the hostess served a most delightful salad course.

MISS ADAMS RECEIVES SHOWER

Miss Grace Adams was honored Friday afternoon at a surprise gift shower, when about thirty of her most intimate friends gathered at the Mart Hotel, at the invitation of Mrs. Ezell and her daughter Mrs. Carrie Horn.

A course of fruit salad, cake and chocolate was served.

Miss Mary Seales and Mrs. Vera Free entertained at the latter's home, with a miscellaneous bridal shower, honoring Miss Grace Shook.

Many numerous, handsome and useful gifts were given by friends wishing the bride to be all kinds of luck and happiness.

The house was beautifully decorated with Crysanthemums, the color scheme, being pink and white.

A service car, driven by little Douglas Boyd, brought in the many presents. And much was the fun that followed the opening of the packages, none greater than the one that said "Mama" as it was laid in the "Bride to be's arms."

Dancing followed.

The woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet in Circle Monday afternoon, West Circle, Mrs. P. H. Caldwell; Central and North, at the Church.

First Christian Ladies Aid Society at the church at 3 o'clock, Bible study, Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. William Wight to quilt.

The Lamar St. Baptist Ladies Aid will meet at the church.

SHOWER FOR FIRE VICTIMS

A miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. T. H. Hampton, her daughter Mrs. Lance Thompson Friday afternoon by Mrs. Robert Coleman and Mrs. W. H. Thompson at the home of Mrs. Coleman on Orange St.

The affair was a surprise to the honorees who lost nearly all of their household linen at the fire which partly destroyed their home recently. Mr. and Mrs. Lance Thompson lost their entire house furnishings and clothing.

There were about thirty friends present and about $150 worth of all kinds of household linens, aluminum ware, quilts, pillows, etc. were given, all of which were most highly appreciated.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

Mrs. Ray Clymer was hostess Friday afternoon at a meeting of the Self Culture Club at her home on E. N. 3rd St. when a full membership answered to roll call, on Current Events.

Mrs. F. G. Robertson, president, presided. Mrs. W. W. Beall led the program on "Texas in Revolution." Mrs. Robert Withers read "San Jacinto." Mrs. Hubert Toler told the story of "The Child of the Alamo."

Mrs. Rufus Wright read, "Remember the Alamo," and told the story of the bloodiest picture in the book of Texas History.

Mrs. Will Morton who attended the State meeting of T. F. W. C. at Wichita Falls last week as a delegate from the club, gave her report, which was full and touched all the high lights of the whole meeting.

During the business session the club voted thanks to the local theatres for their assistance given toward Library maintenance. Mrs. G. E. Ramsey was appointed as publicity chairman in regard to "who is who in clubdom." The librarian's appointment was confirmed for one year and general satisfaction was expressed of the splendid work she is doing. A total of 1300 books and 900 magazines were reported now in the Public Library and more coming in every day. The club wishes the people of Sweetwater to know of their appreciation of their cooperation in helping fill the book shelves of the library and the great interest manifested in library maintenance. Twenty five new books needed by the High School students for supplementary reading have been ordered and will soon be available.

Mrs. Alvin Gray shared the pleasure of the meeting with the club. Mrs. Clymer served creamed turkey in timbales, hot biscuits and butter, stuffed olives, stuffed dates, and hot coffee with whipped cream.

Guest favors of little dancing dolls were found on each plate.

TO HAVE SERVICES

Elder John M. Rice will begin a series of evangelistic meetings at the Church of Christ Friday night, November 30. The first Sunday, December 1, dinner will be served on the ground to be followed by one hour singing, followed by a sermon. Everybody is invited.

WEEK OF PRAYER PROGRAM

The Gleaners Missionary Society will condense their week of prayer program into one afternoon Monday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. E. Ramsey on South Bowie St. A free will offering will be taken for foreign Mission work.

SPECIAL MUSIC

The special music at the Methodist church today will be a song by O. E. Collins at the 11 o'clock service. The choir will sing special numbers at both morning and evening services. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Henson will preach.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The following marriage licenses were issued Saturday: Ross Boyett and Miss Grace Shook; L. P. Parker and Miss Ruby Boggs and J. C. Gober of Coleman and Miss Mollie Moody.

WED FRIDAY NIGHT

Santa Fe Man and Miss Adams Are Married

A wedding of unusual interest in the city took place at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening when Miss Grace Adams and W. A. Stephenson were married by County Judge A. S. Mauzey at the I. O. O. F. hall in the presence of a large gathering of friends. After the wedding, the bride and groom were given a reception followed by a banquet by the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges.

Mrs. Stephenson is well known in Sweetwater, having lived here for several years with her mother, Mrs. A. O. Short on North Pine Street. She is a graduate of Sweetwater High School where as a student she was very prominent in both athletic and musical activities.

Mr. Stephenson is a member of the local Santa Fe force, having charge of the water department of the company at the Santa Fe Lake. He is also well known in both religious and fraternal circles of the city. He is a member of the Board of Stewards at the First Methodist Church and a prominent and faithful worker in the Masonic, I. O. O. F. and Modern Woodman organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson will continue to make their home in Sweetwater, where they will be at home to their many friends at 707 North Cedar Street. They have many friends who wish them a long, happy, and prosperous life.

Forty three books were added to the public library Saturday, contributed by Mrs. Jay Ingram and Mrs. J. J. Hill. Mrs. Hill also sent 125 magazines.

seems to be pretty generally believed that if Ford is chosen by either of the major parties, he will get the Democratic nomination. But you can't tell! Ford may spring the most spectacular stunt of his whole career by breaking up the Republican show next June in the 1922 BRIDGE CLUB MEET

Mrs. John Perry was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the members of the 1922 Bridge Club. Three bridge tables were placed about the living rooms for the games and merriment ran high for several hours when it was found that Mrs. Wimberly and Miss Mae Snell had tied for high score.

The hostesses' attractive rooms were further enhanced by an artistic arrangement of vases and bowls of American Beauty roses and stately chrysanthemums.

When the cards were laid aside Mrs Perry served a salad course, assisted by her sister Miss Janice Dulaney.

For a Real, Old Fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner

Boy, don't you remember how you used to wait for Thanksgiving to come around? And how you could hardly keep away from the kitchen as the odor of that roasting Turkey came floating out on Thanksgiving morning, with the pantry full of mince pies and doughnuts and fruit cake 'N everything? Those was the good old days when you had your own Turkeys and spareribs and stuff. "Them Days Is Gone Forever," except you can get here the foundation for a Thanksgiving dinner that will take you back to the good old days as nothing else could.

Turkeys Are Cheap This Year

Not in years have we been able to sell prime Turkeys as cheaply as this year. We contracted for these Turkeys early and the grower is feeding them especially for us.

That Pure Pork Sausage---

And not in years have the oysters that are selling now been excelled in quality. Fresh from Port Lavaca they come to you — the most toothsome morsel imaginable.

And surely you will want some pure pork sausage. We can hardly keep up with the demand for this good sausage we are making but will try and have some for you when you order. Remember you can get here goose liver sausage, bologna, frankfurters, wieners — all fresh home-made in our own store here.

And then we have the best fresh quality pork for you and baby beef, anything and everything in fresh meats—but all of it up to the exacting high Wade standard of quality.

Fresh eggs and Mistletoe Creamery Butter are here and tasty barbecue and brick chili.

And for hams and bacon, remember that Wilson's Certified will grace any table, any time, anywhere. There is no better standard of quality And so for the foundation of real old time Thanksgiving dinner remember to come to—

TO MEET MONDAY

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Wm. Wight to tack comforts. Four will be tacked for the Indian Orphanage at Goodland, Okla.

AT THE PALACE

A feature picture unique in its power to make creepy sensations of horror and fascination run up and down one's spine is scheduled for appearance at the R. and R. Palace theatre on Monday for one day. It is a new Goldwyn melodrama, "A Blind Bargain," founded upon a story by Barry Pain called "The Octave of Claudius" a pseudo-scientific story of a calm-mad surgeon who believed he could prove the truth of evolution by transforming man back into his early simian characteristics through transferring into his body the glands of monkeys. He induces a struggling young author, whose mother faces death for want of the proper medical attention, to agree to submit himself to be experimented upon by the doctor in return for the money and care that shall restore his mother to health.

Unable to buy his release from his bargain, after falling in love and becoming engaged to the daughter of the publisher who accepted his book, the writer is seized by the surgeon and bound to the operating table. As the surgeon enters his private dungeon to get a monkey, he is crushed to death by one of the human wrecks, results of previous experiments, imprisoned there and the writer is released by the surgeon's wife and the hunchback who was also one of the doctor's victims.

There is a magnificent spectacle in the ballroom scene of the melodrama in which beautiful girls dance amid clouds of soap bubbles. Wallace Worley directed the picture. The roles of the doctor and of the hunchback are acted by Lon Chaney, the "actor with a thousand faces." Both characterizations are said to be marvelously finished and differentiated from each other. In the cast are Jacqueline Logan, former "Follies" beauty; Raymond McKee, Virginia True Boardman, Fontaine LeRue, Aggie Herring and Virginia Madison.

LIONS

Friday night the Lions Club of Abilene and Colorado met here in Sweetwater in joint session and invited a representative group of Sweetwater citizens as their guests. The Lions clubs of the respective cities included some of the liveliest and most public spirited citizens of these towns and the clubs themselves have a most enviable record of civic achievement.

It was the kind of meeting calculated to result in renewed inspiration for all concerned.

Sweetwater was honored by their presence.

THE BELEN CUTOFF

The recent death at Los Angeles of F. Meredith Jones, locating engineer for the Santa Fe who laid out the right of way for the Belen Cutoff from Coleman north through Sweetwater, Snyder and Lubbock to Clovis will recall many interesting bits of the history of many years ago. For that line, built in 1908, not only provided the Santa Fe with a transcontinental route from the Pacific to tidewater at Galveston but it also added considerably to the development of West Texas and more especially of the great Plains area. Mr. Jones was well known in West Texas and in Sweetwater where he had considerable property interests. Mr. Jones served the Santa Fe for more than 50 years and that perhaps speaks more for him than anything else could.

FAITH, HOPE, CHARITY

At the High School where this writer gathered a part of the little knowledge that he possesses, the last bell rang at 3:50 a. m. Then came the simple exercises, a song or two, a chapter from the Bible and the Lord's Prayer.

Sharply etched in memory is the scene in that study hall, with the long eastern windows aflame with the morning sun. The mellow sonorous strokes of the old clock in the tower overhead always sounded during the midst of the proceedings.

But what stands out above everything else is the figure of the man a round whom the whole thing evolved. Beneath the stern school master exterior there was a warm heart and a keen sense of humor. His requirements were strict but he had an inspiring, magnetic personality. Faculty members took turns conducting chapel exercises and when his turn came his favorite Bible chapter was the one defining "Faith, Hope, Charity, and the greatest of these is charity."

And somehow he had the faculty of instilling those very things into his teachings. His pupils, while going through the set formulae of a High School curriculum, learned to have faith in themselves, hope for their future and the charity that is "kind, that speaketh no evil." He had been there for years and years when this student attended, and he is still there, lending the strength of his personality to the whole system. His strictness was so mingled with justice and with patient mercy that he had the respect of the faculty and of the entire student body.

And if the impossible were to happen and this writer were to be called upon for a sermon today, the text would be as outlined above. "Faith, Hope and Charity." Folks of today who live up to the full meaning of those three words need little guidance in religious, moral, civic or business life.

LIGHT

A flashlight, operated by a small storage battery and throwing its rays three-quarters of a mile, was invented in Boston. It's being adopted by fire departments, sewer diggers and son on. The whole outfit weighs only 12 pounds.

The best brains of our generation are engaged in invention and business. In former generations the top-notch intellects "went in for" the arts and government. That's why real artists now are scarce, and real statesmen scarcer.

GOATS

The peculiar penetrating odor of the goat has an important therapeutic value, declares Dr. Georges Louvel, eminent French physician, declaring that the legendary goat, supposedly charged with the sins of Israel, is nothing more nor less than an agent for disinfection created by the Almighty. His declaration is hailed in a press dispatch as explaining why the goat is immune to tuberculosis.

He says immunity of the children of Israel from lung trouble comes from the fact that they slept in the tent with the goats.

A novel idea; there have been stranger ones, but not fraught with such potentialities. Discovery of a cure for the white plague would at once create a market for West Texas goats that the goat men have long been looking for. And as an adjunct to climate, what a resort West Texas might become! Goats are raised in this section, numerically strong enough (and the same in scent) to cure all the lung trouble in the world. And chevons, eaten, may have the same curative qualities. Come to West Texas.

LAND

A real estate deal in New York City involves the sale of a strip of land 10 feet deep and only two-thirds of an inch wide. A surveyor made a mistake in Civil War days, and this tiny slice had to be bought to clear the title.

Our generation worships land rather than the golden calf. Land ownership is the keystone of our system of economics, also the foundation of a lot of our troubles. The speculative value of land in cities is created by the activities of people who work on the land or nearby, rather than by the owners.

It costs an average of $400 a year—$7.70 a week—to own and run an auto. This includes interest on original investment, gasoline, repairs, depreciation, etc.

The $400 is estimated by A. R. Hirst, Wisconsin state highway engineer. He figures Americans have nearly as much money tied up in autos—over 10 billions—as the allies owe Uncle Sam. Or you can turn the comparison around, depending on which you want to emphasize.

The national auto bill this year will be three times as much as will be spent building new apartment houses and dwellings. Ponder.

FAY

Are you earning $35 for every $40 you received in 1920 at the peak of the boom? That's what's happening to the average American, claims the economist, Dr. David Friday. He figures that total wages and salaries in our country now are at the rate of 35 billion dollars a year, compared with 40 billions in 1920 and 31 billions in 1921, when the poorhouse was in sight.

Brevities

Judge J. T. Brooks, recently appointed District Attorney to succeed Judge E. I. Hill, was over from Big Spring Saturday. It is entirely possible that Judge Brooks will be a candidate for the office at the primaries next summer.

The T-P switch crew enjoyed life Saturday trying to replace three derailed cars loaded with cotton that jumped the track between the Santa Fe and T-P yards. Two of them were rerailed but all the combined efforts of the switch engine, aided with another from a local freight could do was to pull the trucks out from under the third. The cotton had to be unloaded and the car jacked up before it could be got back on the rails.

Rev. W. M. Elliott of Colorado told this one at the Lions Club banquet here Friday night: Two men, a Christian and a Jew were partners in a law firm. Discussing the fee in a certain case, the Jew thought $5,000 would be about right. The Christian said that $10,000 would be nearer right and that was what would be charged. The Jew replied, "Almost persuaded thou me to become a Christian."

Jimmy Charlton says its a good thing the roads of West Texas are going to be improved. He says he weighed 286 1/2 pounds and was six feet three inches tall when he first came to West Texas and the bad roads have worn him down to his present stature.

Louis Polk says that if Henry Ford is elected president, he will appoint all For agents postmasters so as to cut down overhead expenses.

FORD WILLING

seems to be pretty generally believed that if Ford is chosen by either of the major parties, he will get the Democratic nomination. But you can't tell! Ford may spring the most spectacular stunt of his whole career by breaking up the Republican show next June in to a Ford stampede.

The chances of this are probably very, very slim. Ford, more likely, won't be a candidate at all, the way things look now. But if he is he will provide plenty of interest for the other candidates and aspirants.

Ford's somewhat narrow, quiet face, surmounted by his crop of white hair, is well known all over this country. There are States where Ford has only to say the word and he can have instructed delegates to either or both national conventions—delegates that will stick until he releases them.

Though he arouses fear, anger, resentment and contempt among "regular" politicians, Ford is recognized as a source of danger so long as there is the remotest possibility of his candidacy.

Will Be "Ganged"

If he goes into the Democratic national convention all the other candidates are going to "gang" him. The McAdoo crowd hopes to pick up from 100 to 200 votes that it is expected will go to the convention with Ford as first choice.

Maybe Ford hasn't made up his mind yet whether he will enter the burly burl of a presidential campaign or not Mrs. Ford has been quoted as saying she did not want him to be a candidate he has himself said he had no desire for the office.

If Ford doesn't run the country will miss a sight of this inexhaustible reservoir of ideas applying his remarkable brain to the winning of an election against the combined forces of the old line parties, to whom he is anathema, because he has never played the game in their way and according to their rules.

After he got through there probably would be a brand new set of rules.

That Mask Which Grew on Mr. Philetus' Face

PHILETUS SOLEMNOLLY could not understand why the children did not like him. He gave them good advice. He patted them upon their heads. He expressed the hope that they would be successful in life as he had been. He promised them rewards if they would behave themselves as he wanted them to. Yet they came to his school unwillingly and went home from it grudgingly. They were respectful, but unsmiling.

It was with hope, but not without difficulty, that a friend persuaded Philetus to officiate as Santa Claus at the Christmas festival and to assume the traditional garb of the part. Philetus did not see much use in such fanciful doings, but yielded to solicitation and appeared upon the occasion with as much grace as a feeling of foolishness would allow. His spare form was now rotund, his sober garments had become gay, and the jolly mask that had been adjusted to his long face gave him quite a new expression.

As the joy among the children progressed and the spirit of fun and frolic mounted high Philetus began to experience a change of heart. To his amazement he began having a good time himself and to feel like a real Saint Nicholas. For this reason, perhaps, he overexerted himself to such an extent that his mask fell off and it was revealed to the surprised audience that it had been contradicting the face of Mr. Solemnolly.

This was really the best feature of the evening, and it proved to have a permanence about it, for, from that time, the Philetus phiz shortened, and broadened, and fattened, and colored up, until it came to look a good deal like the face of that old fairy who is always young and kindly.

So the mask that fell off left its imprint and stayed on, and Philetus, able to be merry, became the familiar friend of the children.—Christopher G. Hazard.

THE THREE "F'S"

THE important thing about Christmas is the way you feel. Not bodily feeling, but heart-feeling.

And the heart-feeling should be one of fun, faith and frolic. Fun for as many as you can reach.

Faith in the fun of giving. Frolic with the nearest and dearest.

A Christmas filled with these three "F's" will shed sparks of happiness on many a day to come.

There is too much running about to find pleasure when the greatest joy can be found on our own thresholds.

If we are determined to seek it.—Martha B. Thomas.

GOOD IDEA

He—Don't you think it would be a good idea to hang up some mistletoe?
She—Christmas is several weeks away.

He—Yes, but we could be practicing.

HER CHRISTMAS TRIP

The family were going away for Christmas to their old home in the beautiful country which they loved so much. They hadn't gone back at Christmas time for ever and ever so long.

They said, at first, they would give their faithful, wonderful cook a check and a holiday, and then they asked her if she would like the Christmas trip as her Christmas present.

Would she indeed? Just because she was no longer a child it didn't mean that she couldn't enjoy as a child!

She went and she loved it all—even the over-crowded trains, the hurrying masses of people in the jammed stations—for wasn't it her Christmas trip?

She, too, was a part of the great holiday travel.—M. G. Bonner.

Study the Chalmers

If you are considering the finer sixes it naturally follows that you will want to make a careful study of the Chalmers.

Good business judgment compels it because recent engineering advances have made the improved

Chalmers Six so brilliant and so dependable in performance.

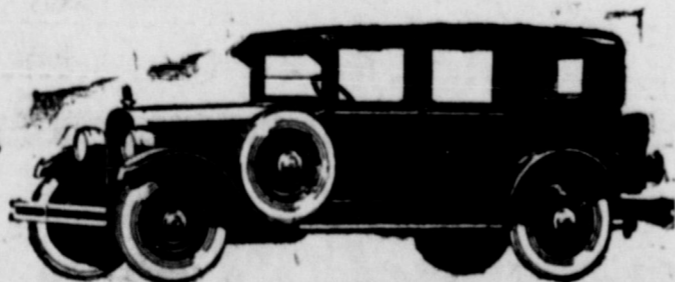

Give Chalmers a complete examination and a thorough test. Then, in the light of the price, decide whether it is possible to make a wiser investment in the entire field of sixes.

OPEN MIND COLUMN

DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE
(By H. L. Owens)

It does not seem reasonable that fortunes has been made by persistent advertising, but we have abundance of facts that fortunes are being made every year by advertising lavishly. Sears Roebuck & Co. are spending millions every year and they have built up a business of over three hundred million dollars a year, by persistent advertising. They never let up. Then look at Montgomery Ward & Co. who started up in a little office room, see what they are today.

I have in mind a city that I lived in many years ago that resembled Sweetwater, having the court house in the center of the square and surrounded by business houses just like Sweetwater. I will mention two business firms of that city. One man owned his building situated on the corner like the City National Bank. He run a general dry goods, boots and shoe store, this man never advertised. He had no clerks, he barely made a living. He was known as the Underground merchant. The other firm doing the same kind of business was located on the corner like the Sweetwater Dry Goods Co. This firm spent $1,500 a year advertising, and they sold two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of goods a year. The man who did not advertise had the same opportunities as this firm.

I was talking to a Sweetwater merchant sometime ago who advertises but very little. He said he had a good business and was making money. That everybody knew him and that there was no use of his advertising. If this man can do a good business without advertising how much more business would he do if he spent $5 a day advertising. I figure he would double his business in one year. It cost this man about $35 a day for expenses, counting his own time at a salary, it takes 20 per cent of his business to pay his expenses, then he has to sell $150 or more before he breaks even. Then if he was to add $5 a day to his expenses for advertising, and built his business up to double the amount in one year, would not that extra five spent for advertising be a good investment? There are new men locating in Sweetwater every day these men being strangers, always look over the advertisements and pick out their trading places. The man who does not advertise regular loses the trade of these new comers. In these days of autos, people come 20 to 40 miles to trade, and the cheapest way to reach these people is through advertising. Circulars soon play out, it is only by persistent advertising in the papers that the people read every day that does the work.

Then the daily paper to be successful must have a large circulation reaching every part of the trade territory surrounding Sweetwater. This daily cannot extend its circulation unless it is making money and in a prosperous condition. Some people seem to think that when they patronize a paper that they do this to help the poor editor and his printers out a little. This is all a big mistake. What would Dallas be today without the Dallas News? A one-horse town without doubt. Look at Ft. Worth, the newspapers have made it what it is today. I want to say that there has been thousands of dollars in money blown in for one thing and another around Sweetwater that was thrown away. If all this money had been building up a great daily paper for Sweetwater, it would have been three times as large as it is, and would have been the metropolis of West Texas. Instead of what it is today. These days and times it takes a healthy paper to make a live town. NOUGH SAID.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

West Texas To Be Represented At Immigration Conference in N. Y.

CROSBYTON, Nov. 25.—President Spencer has appointed Mehers, W. S. Posey, Lubbock; R. J. Murray, Slaton; Dr. O. H. Loyd, Vega; T. S. Stevenson, Floydada; Alex Shipley, Clovis, N. M.; Claude Simpson of Roswell; R. P. Smythe, Plainview; J. S. Dickey Henrietta; Geo. Sager, Memphis and Dallas Scarborough of Abilene to represent the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the convention of the National Immigration Conference, to be held in New York City December 13th and 14th. This conference will take up among other matters the question of agricultural immigration into the United States. West Texas favors immigration of the North Europeans of agricultural types such as the English, Irish, Scotch, Belgians and Scandinavians.

It is understood that the report of the National Industrial Conference Board is later to be submitted to Congress as information to be placed before that body in connection with immigration into the United States.

CARNIVAL RAIDED
Angelo Officers Prefer Lottery and Vagrancy Charges Against 22

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 24.—The carnival now playing here won't take all the money it made this week away from San Angelo. The law claimed a share when representatives of the local sheriff's department swooped down on the carnival grounds and placed twenty-two persons under arrest. Twelve paid fines on charges selling lottery tickets and five on charges of vagrancy, amounting to $166 in all and five others are in jail. Charges of running a lottery will probably be preferred against the quintet now in the bastille according to officials.

MEASURES HEAT DISTANT STARS

Tabulations Made by Dr. C. G. Abbot Of Smithsonian Institute at Mt. Wilson Last Summer

RESULTS MAY MAKE CHANGES

Discoveries Are Believed Certain to Revolutionize the Present Knowledge of the Physical Nature

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Amazing discoveries concerning the heat of the spectrum of the stars, made by Dr. C. G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institute at the Mt. Wilson, Cal., observatory, are announced here by the institution.

Though the details are of so technical a nature as virtually to defy understanding by the layman, the discoveries are believed certain to revolutionize present knowledge of the physical nature of the stars.

Abbot measured nine stars of all the principal types while spending the summer at Mt. Wilson, employing the Nichols radiometer, an instrument on the same principle as the little-blackened vanes which revolve in the sunlight in opticians' windows, and the spectro-scope. These nine stars were Rigel, Vega, Sirius, Capella, Procyon, Aderbaran Betegeuse, Alpha Herculis and Beta Pegasi ranging in types from blue to very red.

Results of these measurements overturned previous theories. Vega and Sirius, which are classified as blue-white hydrogen stars nearly twice as hot as our sun, were found to be of greatly different types as regards heat. Vega showed a maximum spectral heat a great way further toward the violet end of the spectrum than Sirius, whose maximum heat was found not very much nearer the violet than that of the sun.

Still another more remarkable discovery from the astro-physical point of view was that Rigel showed two spectral heat maxima.

Concerning his discoveries, Dr. Abbot said to the United Press:

"I do not know how I can make the significance of these discoveries plain to the man in the street. I guess I will have to depend on someone's statement that of all sciences the man in the street is more interested in astronomy and it has less to do with him than all."

"However, such discoveries are just one more step forward in our conquest of the heavens. First, all we could do was look at the stars. Then we got the telescope. After that came stellar photography, which broadened our field tremendously. Then ensued spectroscopy, and the intercometer, which measured distances. Lately we discovered how to measure the relatively brilliance of the stars and learned they are of two classes. Now we are measuring their heat, and I have just found out how to measure the heat in different parts of their spectra. We shall go further."

Abbot has measured virtually all the stars he can with his present instruments. Though styled as "crude" they measure star heat to the 100-millionth part of a degree. Instruments to measure the billionth part of a degree are under construction and may be used by Abbot in measuring smaller stars next summer.

This winter Abbot will devote much of his time to reducing the spectral heat values obtained at Mt. Wilson to centigrade scale values, more adequately to represent stellar heat values to the layman.

TRAVEL BY BUGGY

Timothy Waugh And Family Spend 18 Months Seeing United States—Cow Pony Motive Power

By The United Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—Somewhere between Galveston, Texas, and Philadelphia, Pa., a ranchman his wife and three children are headed for home, after "buggying" a year and a half through the United States.

Timothy Waugh, with his family, left his home near Galveston in August, 1922, driving a two-seated buggy. They have toured the States and are now ending a belated honeymoon.

"The missus and me was married six year and we never got around much till we figured this out," Waugh explained as he passed through Philadelphia. "We have seen the country and have called the trip our honeymoon."

"Black," a cow pony, hauls the buggy and the Waughs, with their equipment make from ten to twenty miles a day. The buggy has had two sets of new wheels since the trip started.

"We'll get home about June if the bronc don't put his feet through the wagon. He's an old cow pony and age hasn't softened his disposition none," Waugh said.

NEW FORD SEDAN

Two Door Design is Called the Tudor—Just Announced

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 24.—The Ford Motor Company today announced an addition to its line of cars—the Tudor Sedan which brings to the public an entirely new style of Ford enclosed body.

It is a distinctive type designed to carry five passengers in complete comfort. The roof line is low and straight which with the larger radiator, now standard on all Ford cars, gave Ford designers an opportunity of effecting most graceful lines and at the same time a most sturdy construction.

Side windows running back from the doors are oblong in shape and thirty-two inches in length, affording unusual vision to the occupants, while a large rear window adds to the visibility. All window glasses are lowered flush with the framing, affording clear vision and the maximum in ventilation.

Interior arrangement of the Tudor Sedan, meets all comfort requirements both for driver and passengers. The driver's seat is of the "bucket" design with easy cushion and back, assuring restful posture. There is a noticeable roominess in front with plenty of foot room. The tilting seat opposite the driver folds compactly out of the way so that entrance and exit through the larger and roomy door is easily and conveniently effected by those occupying the rear seat which is amply large for three persons. (Adv.)

LIONS ROAR

country today because of the sovereign freedom and the inspiration of their challenge.

"Nine men have been named who could be taken to the Sahara Desert, and there among the desert sands and blistered rocks, could build a city of international import. Big men built California from desert waste, sage brush and a magnificent climate. The only difference between California and West Texas is the character of the men. Are you men of West Texas going to accept that challenge?"

"A Lions Club is no place for a man who has no faith in his city. It is no place for the man who wants to sit in the shade and watch the other fellow do the work. It takes men to build a city—and that is the kind of men who are in the Lion's clubs. The Lions Club is the place where men gather to solve their community problems. And then communities linked by Lions Clubs get together and solve their territorial problems and the national organization solves the problems of civilization and makes of this world a better place wherein to live." Col. Perry concluded.

R. D. Green, of Abilene, deputy district governor for Texas, presided as toastmaster. He first introduced Rev. Elliott of Colorado, who told how the wheels of progress began to hum as the Lion's roar first sounded there. The $115,000 courthouse, paved streets, a white way, two new bridges, sewer, and water extensions, a $900 contribution to start the Red Cross movement $700 to start the American Legion Hut $710 to head the Boy Scout subscription list—these were a few of things he placed to the credit of the organization in the brief time it had been functioning there.

Grady Kinsolving of Abilene said he could not begin to enumerate the things that the Abilene Club of the organization had accomplished. One thing in particular that he did mention was the street paving program. Up to a few months ago the streets of Abilene were in a deplorable condition he said.

"Things went on from bad to worse. Finally it bobbed up in the Lions Club and one Lion said he was tired of this Methodist method of doing business of sprinkling streets and letting them go to hell." And now we are paying 200 blocks."

Why Jones Bought a Car.

Because the salesman: Laughed at Mr. Jones' jokes. Told Mrs. Jones she couldn't have a daughter that old.

Told Willie Jones he had a build like Dempsey.

Said the Jones baby took after both parents.

And only smiled when the Jones pup nipped him.—American Legion Weekly.

She Learned Plenty.

KIT—Her husband is teaching her to drive the car.

MABEL—Has she learned anything yet?

KIT—Yes, she has learned what horrible language he uses when he loses his temper.—Answers, London.

Isn't That Nice?

HE (nervously)—What on earth will your father say when he knows we're engaged?

SHE—Oh, he'll be simply delighted. He always is.—Tit-Bits, London.

HONEST DEPENDABLE EYE SERVICE

"WARNING"—Beware of the house-to-house self-styled Eye Specialist, or whatever he may call himself—Doctor So and So. He will get your money and you get experience as did Mr. J. H. Bedford of Colorado, Texas did a few days ago. Glad to get you in a Reliable and Satisfactory way.

Home Economy

There is one simple but practical method of handling your household expenses, and that is by giving a check in payment of all bills. This eliminates the "leak" and you have a record of every dollar you spend. It further provides you with an unquestioned receipt for every bill you pay. Start a checking account at this bank tomorrow.
