

Friona Wins County Interscholastic League Meet

Meet Attracts Much Interest Among Schools

One of the best and greatest contested track meets ever to be held in this county was held at Friona last Friday and Saturday. Much improvement was made on each event by the contestants and only two events failed to have competitors. These were the rural pentathlon and the music memory. Each school showed more interest in this meet than in any other meet ever held before.

Four cups were offered by the county, one for senior literary, one for junior literary, one for senior track and one for junior track. They were divided among the five schools entered as follows: Senior literary cup to Friona, senior track cup to Farwell, junior literary cup to Friona, and junior track cup will be taken by the winner of a flip between Lazbuddie and Oklahoma Lane, due to a tie in points between these schools.

Lazbuddie	290
Farwell	264 2-2
Oklahoma Lane	111
Bovina	68 1/2

In the senior literary events Friona gained a good margin over the rest of the schools for a victory. These points were as follows: Friona 152 1/2, Lazbuddie, 114 1/2, Farwell 110, Oklahoma Lane 35, Bovina 27.

In the junior literary Friona met stiffer competition. They were first with 75 points, but were followed closely by Lazbuddie with 65 points, who in turn were followed by Farwell with 57 points. Bovina and Oklahoma Lane received 31 and 16 points respectively.

In the junior track Lazbuddie and Oklahoma Lane tied with 33 points each. They were followed closely by Farwell with 24 3-4 points, Friona getting 23.

Then came the crowning event, senior track and field. There was probably more competition in this division than in any other.

Farwell nosed out Friona by a scant 2 1/2 points to win. Lazbuddie was third with 47 1/2, followed by Oklahoma Lane with 17.

The high point man in this division was Caldwell of Farwell. He amassed a total of 20 points by taking first places. He also was the most outstanding athlete of the meet, competing in both track and field events. He is expected to run in the state meet this year at Austin. His main event is the 440 yard dash, winning third in this event at the state last year with the time of 52 seconds. He also excels in running the shorter dashes and putting the shot. The second high point man was Hall, also of Farwell, with 15 1/2 points. Caldwell and Hall together made 36 1/2 of their team's 73 points. Probably the most outstanding

NUNN-WARREN PUBLISHING CO. WILL RUN SPECIAL TRAIN TO CARLSBAD CAVERN SATURDAY NIGHT, MAY 2

The Nunn-Warren Publishing Company, and the Friona Star, will run a special train from Pampa, Texas, to Carlsbad, New Mexico, Saturday night, May 2, for the purpose of making it possible for the citizens of the various towns in which they publish papers to be able to see this magnificent natural phenomenon at a very nominal cost. The train will leave Friona at 12:30 a. m., May 3, and will arrive at Carlsbad at 6:30 a. m. There will be a short rest period in Carlsbad after which the party will be taken to the cave, which is 28 miles from the city, free of charge. Admission to the cave will be $2 for adults and children under 16 years of age admitted free. The round trip ticket from Friona will cost only $9. Pullman rates will be as follows: Standard lower berth, $7.50; upper, $6.00; tourist, lower, $3.75; though they penetrated the depths for many miles could not find the end. At present the government is engaged in installing an elevator which will take passengers to the middle of the cave, but has not completed the work as yet. Reservations for this trip must be made with the editor of the Star, as the Santa Fe railway company has no authority to sell tickets. It is desirable that reservations be made before April 27, in order to be assured of accommodations, as large numbers are expected to take advantage of the savings to be made and the good time which will be had by all. Several towns have expressed a promise to send large delegations and some are going to send their bands. Remember, be sure and see the editor for your reservation as he is the only one authorized to sell you a ticket from Friona.

Upper, $3.00. Two people may occupy the same berth at these prices. Returning the train will leave Carlsbad Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock and will arrive back in Friona at 4:00 a. m. Monday. Friona has an especially attractive time schedule on this trip, because the train will leave after the stores are closed Saturday night and will return before time to open Monday morning. Children accompanied by adults will have the advantage of the usual half fare rates.

It is said that this is the best throw of the district this year. White also threw the discus 90 feet, 7 inches, but the throw was disqualified because White stepped about one inch over the throwing line.

The two most contested events of the day were the mile run and pole vault. An overtime duel in the pole vault gave Frost of Friona victory over Chronister of Lazbuddie at 16 feet, 3 inches. In the mile run John Beattie of Friona and Jones of Lazbuddie engaged in a dogged sprint finish in the last 100 yards which gave Beattie a close victory.

These boys set a remarkable time of 5 minutes, 33.9 seconds in this event.

Celebrates Birthday.

Little A. C. Echols was honored Friday on his sixth birthday with a gay little party given by his mother. Several games were played, then favors of Easter chickens and candy rabbits were given the guests, and after an enjoyable hour refreshments of angel food cake and ice cream were served to the following: Bobbie Blackwell, Bobbie Van Fleet, Artis Fallwell, Verlan Maples, Wanda Woods, June Maurer, Shirley Maurer, Carolyn Lounge, Gertrude Short, Wilton Lillard, Eleanor Jo Lust, and the honoree, A. C.

Farm Loan Period Is Near Close

The drought relief committee desires to warn the farmers of Parmer county who desire to make applications for Federal drought relief loans that the period in which they make these applications is rapidly nearing its close. All applications positively must be in the hands of the Fort Worth office not later than April 30. The committee urges that all who will have need of a federal loan make application immediately so that there will not be any chance of failure.

Parker-Houser To Sell Dairy Herd Tuesday

A public auction of 40 head of Jersey cows and heifers for Tuesday, April 21, is announced by G. A. F. Parker and P. M. Houser, owners. Free lunch will be served at noon and the sale will begin at 1:30 o'clock, in charge of Col. Ray Barber, auctioneer, and E. C. Eubanks, clerk.

The dairy cattle are located on the Parker farm, six miles west of Hereford and two miles north of the Harrison highway.

About three-fourths of the cows and heifers are daughters and grand daughters of the well-known and famous Nunn herd which was dispersed three years ago at auction at an average price of $102. The stock offered in this sale is represented as having a value equal to or as good as that of their ancestors. Years of constructive breeding through outstanding registered bulls guarantee the herd to be of high standard.

The herd bull, a three-year-old Jersey, will be included in the auction. It is one of the best breeding males in this part of the country.

BEWARE OF FAKE CHARITY SOLICITORS

The Star wishes to warn its readers to beware of unknown charity solicitors. Charity is one of the sweetest things known to men and one of the most worthy, but unfortunately there is a large element of grafters who impose upon the liberality of the people and the methods of well known organizations. Shaking of tambourines and take offs on the uniform of the Salvation Army does not mean that the organization is worthy. Most of these are professional beggars who travel the country and the money you give them is used for their personal benefit only.

The best method of donating to charity is to give liberally and only to those organizations that you are familiar with.

Young Married Class.

The young married class of the Methodist church had six present last Sunday and three visitors. We ask that our absent members all come back to Sunday school next Sunday. We miss you and you should be with us. The doors of our class are always open to anyone who wishes to join us or who desire to visit us at any time.

Texan Installs New Equipment for Talks

The Texan Theatre has installed new talking equipment which has made a wonderful difference in the sound feature of this theatre. Manager Lee says that now all of the tone values of the pictures shown are clear and distinct and that patrons are enjoying the programs without the annoyance of vibrations which formerly disturbed them in this theatre.

"Half Shot at Sunrise", the program being shown this week end is even a better comedy than the "Cuckoos". It is a comedy taken off on the wild times indulged in by soldiers of the A. E. F. when they were fortunate enough to get a leave of absence to visit Paris and will keep you roaring with laughter at the predicaments in which they find themselves.

Mr. Bauman, with the Johnson Product company, was a business visitor in Friona Monday.

Star Receives Contract For All County Printing

The Friona Star is now the "official newspaper of Parmer County, Texas". At a meeting of the commissioners court held at the court house in Farwell Monday the bid of the Star for the county printing for the coming year was accepted as the lowest bid.

Some weeks ago the Star asked that the county printing be let to the lowest bidder and at the March meeting of the commissioners court they decided to accept our proposal and notified both shops to place their bids at the April meeting.

Subscribe for the Star and read the official news of the county. Besides printing the county legal we have employed a reporter in the county seat who will write court house news for us. Alvenia Sharpe, clerk in the sheriff's office, will furnish us with this news.

Bankers Give Good Advice

The advice of bankers is usually good. This from the American Magazine is worth consideration.

"No business in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns.

This applies to all kinds of business and professional men. It does not mean that you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in the town by looking at a paper. This is the best possible town advertiser.

"The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. The life of a town depends upon the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

All in all, taxes eventually come back to the ultimate consumer. Tax a corporation or a product all you please, but it is the consumer who finally pays the tax. The more small nuisance taxes we have to pay, the greater the expense of collecting and accounting for them. A gasoline tax to pay for roads is fair because the car that uses the gasoline uses the roads. But why these so-called luxury taxes? The poor man pays the same tax on those luxuries as the rich and he can least afford it. Common sense calls for only two taxes: a property tax and an income tax. A property tax would prevent large interests from buying property to hold, therefore, escaping taxation, and an income tax similar to the federal government tax would force everyone to pay his share of governmental expense according to his wealth.

I'll venture to say that the reason for the cigarette tax is because the Senate smokes cigars.

This clean-up week sponsored by the Friona Women's club is a fine thing and is something that every one of us should help to the greatest extent possible. Now that fly time is here again we should do everything in our power to keep down these breeders of disease which infest our city. The best way to do this is to keep our premises clean and in a sanitary condition. Garbage should be kept in covered containers, seats of sanitary toilets should be kept closed, privies should be fly-proof and lime used in abundance, weeds should be destroyed, cans and junk hauled away and manure from the stalls protected. Flies originate and live in filth and if their breeding places are destroyed they will be destroyed.

Just as a suggestion, let's ask the city council to pass a sanitary ordinance requiring that garbage be kept in a covered container and making it a punishable offense to throw trash in our streets and requiring that it be hauled out of the city once a week. If they will do this we feel sure that arrangements can be made whereby some one will collect and haul the contents of these cans away once a week for say 25 cents per residence per month, which is a very nominal sum compared to the vast good and appearance of our city such service will bring.—L. E. Bauerfeld.

Program for Layman's Union Meet.

At Methodist church, Sunday evening. Pursuant to a decision of the program committee of the Friona Layman's union services, the monthly meetings are to be held at the various churches with the programs wholly in charge of the host congregation. The next regular monthly meeting is scheduled to be held at the Methodist church next Sunday at 8:30 p. m., with A. S. Curry, chairman, presiding.

The program for the hour follows in part:

General subject: Religion as a practical force in Friona.
Religion and health: Dr. Willis.
Religion and society: Mrs. Brookfield.
Religion and education: Mrs. Symson.
Religion and business: Mr. R. P. Fleet.

Special numbers of music are being arranged to intersperse the talks and we plan to make congregational singing a prominent part of the program also. The general public is invited to attend this services and all are requested to lend aid in making this a profitable occasion.

O. B. ANNIS,
Pastor, Methodist Church.

Friona Woman's Club.

The Friona Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Hughes Thursday, April 9, with a large number present. The following program was rendered:

Response: Some important feature of Yellowstone National park, route, location, area, elevation.

Geological history of the Park: Mrs. Beattie.

The hot springs and geysers; causes of such phenomena, Yellowstone lake and the grand canyon of Yellowstone: Mrs. R. H. Kinsley.

The petrified forest and wild life of the park: Mrs. J. T. Burton.

After the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, Misses T. H. Hughes and Mrs. W. A. Hughes. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kinsley.

HOMELAND W. M. S.

The Branche Groves circle of the Homeland W. M. S. met at the church with seven ladies present. Program:

Devotional: Dorothea Bengler. They that are wise: Mrs. Mabel Jones.

Stewardship of the Gospel: Mrs. Liphant.

Turning many to righteousness: Substituted.

Stories of shining stars: By all. In a Chinese sky: Mrs. Collier. A lone star in a dark city: Mrs. Newman.

The glory of shining: Substituted. Shining on a street corner: Mrs. Thelma Jones.

As stars forever and ever: Mrs. Brewer. Judging by the singing of the hymns and by the prayers, all enjoyed the program.

Nuisance Taxes.

After the World War emergency taxes were repealed we thought that we were through with nuisance taxes but now it seems as if our Texas lawmakers down at Austin are going to give us another spell of it. In order to cover their extravagances and senseless waste of the peoples money they are now trying to pass a natural gas and a cigarette tax.

We do not believe that any one class of people should be taxed without the same tax applying to all the people. Whenever a revenue raising measure such as the proposed cigarette tax is passed it is nothing more or less than a holdup of the people who use these products. The state places a tax of 3 cents per package on cigarettes and immediately the price advances 5 cents per package. What happens to the other two cents? Might just as well make the tax five cents and be done with it. Cigarettes sell for 15 cents in Texas, and in Kansas where there is a two cent tax, they sell for 20 cents.

If it is the desire of the people of the State of Texas to tax any tobacco then they should do as the federal government has done and tax all tobacco. It is eminently unfair to tax cigarettes and not tax pipe and chewing tobacco. The reason given by some of our representatives is that cigarettes are rich man's tobacco, while pipe and chewing tobacco are not.

If it is the desire of the state representatives to tax the tobacco used by rich men, then they should place a tax on cigars. Nine out of ten of the so-called "poor" men that we are acquainted with smoke ready-made cigarettes.

This is just another example of the brain power of our legislators. If our commercial enterprises of the same calibre and size as our state government had no better business men on their boards of directors than we have in our senate and house of representatives they would soon be bankrupt. Witness the positions held by these men in private life. Mighty few of them have made a marked success in anything but handshakes.

All in all, taxes eventually come back to the ultimate consumer. Tax a corporation or a product all you please, but it is the consumer who finally pays the tax. The more small nuisance taxes we have to pay, the greater the expense of collecting and accounting for them. A gasoline tax to pay for roads is fair because the car that uses the gasoline uses the roads. But why these so-called luxury taxes? The poor man pays the same tax on those luxuries as the rich and he can least afford it. Common sense calls for only two taxes: a property tax and an income tax. Parker-Houser To Sell Dairy Herd Tuesday

A public auction of 40 head of Jersey cows and heifers for Tuesday, April 21, is announced by G. A. F. Parker and P. M. Houser, owners. Free lunch will be served at noon and the sale will begin at 1:30 o'clock, in charge of Col. Ray Barber, auctioneer, and E. C. Eubanks, clerk.

The dairy cattle are located on the Parker farm, six miles west of Hereford and two miles north of the Harrison highway.

About three-fourths of the cows and heifers are daughters and grand daughters of the well-known and famous Nunn herd which was dispersed three years ago at auction at an average price of $102. The stock offered in this sale is represented as having a value equally as good as that of their ancestors. Years of constructive breeding through outstanding registered bulls guarantee the herd to be of high standard.

The herd bull, a three-year-old Jersey, will be included in the auction. It is one of the best breeding males in this part of the country. Liberal terms are available to responsible purchasers.

BEWARE OF FAKE CHARITY SOLICITORS

The Star wishes to warn its readers to beware of unknown charity solicitors. Charity is one of the sweetest things known to men and one of the most worthy, but unfortunately there is a large element of grafters who impose upon the liberality of the people and the methods of well known organizations. Shaking of tambourines and take offs on the uniform of the Salvation Army does not mean that the organization is worthy. Most of these are professional beggars who travel the country and the money your give them is used for their personal benefit only.

The best method of donating to charity is to give liberally and only to those organizations that you are familiar with.

Young Married Class.

The young married class of the Methodist church had six present last Sunday and three visitors. We ask that our absent members all come back to Sunday school next Sunday. We miss you and you should be with us. The doors of our class are always open to anyone who wishes to join us or who desire to visit us at any time. ARTHUR HILTON, Secretary.

Star Receives Contract For All County Printing

The Friona Star is now the "official newspaper of Parmer County, Texas". At a meeting of the commissioners court held at the court house in Farwell Monday the bid of the Star for the county printing for the coming year was accepted as the lowest bid.

Some weeks ago the Star asked that the county printing be let to the lowest bidder and at the March meeting of the commissioners court they decided to accept our proposal and notified both shops to place their bids at the April meeting.

Subscribe for the Star and read the official news of the county. Besides printing the county legal we have employed a reporter in the county seat who will write court house news for us. Alvenia Sharpe, clerk in the sheriff's office, will furnish us with this news.

Farm Loan Period Is Near Close

The drought relief committee desires to warn the farmers of Parmer county who desire to make applications for Federal drought relief loans that the period in which they make these applications is rapidly nearing its close. All applications positively must be in the hands of the Fort Worth office not later than April 30.

Program for Layman's Union Meet.

At Methodist church, Sunday evening. Pursuant to a decision of the program committee of the Friona Layman's union services, the monthly meetings are to be held at the various churches with the programs wholly in charge of the host congregation. The next regular monthly meeting is scheduled to be held at the Methodist church next Sunday at 8:30 p. m., with A. S. Curry, chairman, presiding.

The program for the hour follows in part:

General subject: Religion as a practical force in Friona. Religion and health: Dr. Willis. Religion and society: Mrs. Brookfield. Religion and education: Mrs. Simpson. Religion and business: Mr. R. P. Fleet.

Special numbers of music are being arranged to intersperse the talks and we plan to make congregational singing a prominent part of the program also. The general public is invited to attend this services and all are requested to lend aid in making this a profitable occasion.

Friona Woman's Club.

The Friona Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Hughes Thursday, April 9, with a large number present. The following program was rendered:

Response: Some important feature of Yellowstone National park, route, location, area, elevation. Geological history of the Park: Mrs. Beattie. The hot springs and geysers; causes of such phenomena. Yellowstone lake and the grand canyon of Yellowstone: Mrs. R. H. Kinsley. The petrified forest and wild life of the park: Mrs. J. T. Burton.

After the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. T. H. Hughes and Mrs. W. A. Hughes. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kinsley.

HOMELAND W. M. S.

The Branche Groves circle of the Homeland W. M. S. met at the church with seven ladies present. Program:

Devotional: Dorothea Bengler. They that are wise: Mrs. Mabel Jones. Stewardship of the Gospel: Mrs. Liphau. Turning many to righteousness: Substituted. Stories of shining stars: By all. In a Chinese sky: Mrs. Collier. A lone star in a dark city: Mrs. Newman. The glory of shining: Substituted. Shinning on a street corner: Mrs. Theima Jones. As stars forever and ever: Mrs. Brewer. Judging by the singing of the hymns and by the prayers, all enjoyed the program.

Bankers Give Good Advice

The advice of bankers is usually good. This from the American Magazine is worth consideration.

"No business in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns.

This applies to all kinds of business and professional men. It does not mean that you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in the town by looking at a paper. This is the best possible town advertiser.

"The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. The life of a town depends upon the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

Federation Told of Landscaping at Rural Homes

By MRS. TEMPLE ROBINSON (From the Hereford Brand)

The desire for the better things of life is characteristic of the American citizen. Plant life probably best satisfies the longing for the beautiful things of nature and further possesses an economic value. The rural citizens due to the seasonal rush of work, probably have not had the same opportunity to beautify their home yard as the town dweller, though the farmer has often envied the town man his landscaped yard.

In this Panhandle country the lack of water supply has been a hindrance toward beautification of need no longer hesitate to plant town and country. But farmers trees, shrubs and flowers in their yards because of water shortage. Experiments have shown that certain trees and plants will grow here with very little water. The secret is cultivation! Cultivation at least once a week, whether the need is apparent or not. The only precaution that cannot be avoided is the necessity for thorough watering of the plant when set out, and one or two thorough waterings during the periods of prolonged drouth in the growing season. One of the best plants to improve the appearance of any place is the arbutus. This evergreen tree or shrub should be watered at least twice a month during the first season of transplanting. After that, if on the east or north side of a building it can hold its own without water. The writer has verification for the above statement.

Shrubs for landscaping must be selected for their drought resistant qualities. Experiments with the Weigela, Althea (rose of Sharon), Spiraea-Anthonny Warreer, Coral Berry, and the broad leaved evergreen, Euonymus Japonica (evergreen burning bush) are all hardy shrubs that will readily reveal their son, H. C. Wertz.

She is owned by Longview Farm, Lee's Summit, Mo., and is the first Jersey in the state to win a world's production record.

their appreciation of intensive cultivation.

Praises Petunia.
Most of the women folk of the country will know the flowers they prefer, and that will thrive under their particular conditions, but I cannot forego giving the petunia a word of praise. The petunia will bloom longer than any flower ever planted in the Panhandle. It will grow on poorer soil, with less water and cultivation than any other desirable flower I know of.

There are three kinds of shade trees that are best adapted to resist the droughts of the Panhandle. They are Chinese elms, silver poplars (not cottonwoods), and Russian olives. To prove the drought resistant quality of the Chinese elm: I planted one three years ago in the late spring. This particular Chinese elm was a very poor plant, in fact a cull. It was planted in poor soil and given two buckets of water. That tree has grown and thrived and the only moisture it has received is the rains and snows.

Silver Poplar Good.
Silver poplars are not only hardy and drought resistant, but free from insect attacks. The last characteristic is in many ways the best, due to the fact that most trees when denied water become the prey of borers. By all means buy a silver poplar rather than the more widely planted Carolina (cottonwood) or Lombardy poplars. These last two poplars are too apt to have their leaves eaten by caterpillars.

Both the Chinese elms and the silver poplars do better planted in groves, the trees being about 12 feet apart. By planting groves the trees provide a better wind break for the house, and are less affected by wind, that is, not apt to grow lop-sided. Moreover, groves tend to make a more pleasing appearance than a few scattered trees. Nothing will enhance the value of the farm, other things equal, than the existence of thrifty trees in the farm yard. So tree planting is a good investment.

Olive Is Ideal Hedge.
The Russian olive is ideal for wind breaks or as a living growing fence. If planted about 5 feet apart they will in three or four years grow so rapidly as to be dense enough to turn back a cow or horse. Under ideal conditions it will grow to 20 feet high. Think of the advantage of a hedge that high on the windy southwest side of the farm residence. Fence repairs are eliminated.

In planting any tree or shrub dig a hole much bigger than you think necessary. Work into this soil before refilling a wheelbarrow load of well rotted barnyard or chicken manure if planting trees. Ad one or two shovelfuls in case of shrubs. Water the plants thoroughly at the start and follow with constant cultivation. You will be well rewarded in increasing appearance and value of your place.

If possible, plant at least two trees at your roadside gate. This gives a welcome shade or rain shelter when waiting for bus, when selling produce to passersby, or as shelter for car repairs, but best of all as a living gateway to your home.

THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS

Luke 16:19-31

Luke 16:19. Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, faring sumptuously every day.

20. And a certain beggar named Lazarus was laid at his gate, full of sores.

21. And desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table, yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores.

22. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom, and the rich man also died, and was buried.

23. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his fingers in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in this flame.

25. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things; but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish.

26. And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they that would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us.

27. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; for I have five brethren, lest they also come into this place of torment.

28. For I have five brethren, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29. But Abraham said, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30. And he said, Nay, father Abraham, but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent.

31. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

Golden Text: Lay up for yourself treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.—Matt. 6:20.

Time: January, A. D. 30, in the last three months of Christ's ministry.

Place: Peraea, the country east of the Jordan.

Introduction.

The parables of our last lesson, Luke 15, were spoken to the hostile scribes and Pharisees, critical of Christ, because he gladly received the publicans and sinners who flocked to him. The teachings of today's lesson, Luke 16 and 17, were mainly for the disciples.

Indeed, the parable of the rich man and Lazarus would have its special application to the Pharisees, who were well-to-do, rather than to the disciples, who were for the most part poor men, though Judas needed its lesson as much as any man in the world. Last week's parables taught the love of God, ever seeking the sinner and ever eager to receive him on his return. The main teaching of today's lesson is a warning against the one great sin of worldliness.

Dives, a "Rich Man."

"Now there was a certain rich man." He was like the Pharisees, "lovers of money," who were scoffing at Jesus because of his teaching that no one can serve God and mammon at the same time. Not all rich men are condemned by this parable. Christ had friends among the rich; one of them buried the saviour in his own new tomb, embalming his body with his own hands. The rich man here held up to scorn was a selfish rich man; he might have used his money in unselfish ways, and so have won Christ's praise. His name was not given. "Dives," by which he is often called, is merely the Latin for "rich man."

Lazarus, "a Beggar."

"And a certain beggar named Lazarus." Not to be confounded with the brother of Mary and Martha of Bethany. He is the only named character of the parables, and his name may have been given him because of its significance, for it is a contradiction of Kleazar, meaning "Helped of God" or "God help him." "Was laid at his gate." At the doorway of his house, evidently in the hope that his pitiable condition would move the rich man's pity. "Full of sores."

Desiring the Crumbs.

"And desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table." The soft pieces of bread on which the diners wiped their hands, using them as napkins, afterwards throwing them on the floor. We recall the Syro-Phoenician mother's pathetic use of the word, Matt. 15:27. This implication is that Lazarus longed for the crumbs, but they were not given to him. "Yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores." The wild and neglected dogs which roamed the streets, seeking scraps of food were kinder to the beggar than human beings. "That man is far from friendless who has a good dog to stand by him. Dogs are often not so mean as their masters."—T. DeWitt Talmage.

Abraham's Bosom.

"And it came to pass, that the beggar died." An instant end to his sores, his hunger, and all his misery. "And that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom." "Abraham's bosom" was one of the three names common among the Jews to denote the future state of blessedness. The other two were Paradise and the Throne of Glory.—Prof. Thomas M. Lindsay. "The phrase is to be understood by comparison with the account of the last supper, where the apostles whom Jesus loved, leaned on his breast. That is, in the fashion of that day and place, they reclined on couches at their meals, each resting on his left arm; first the host, then next to him, leaning on his breast, the person of most honor."—Dean Geo. Hodges. "And the rich man also died, and was buried." What irony is here! Dives had an elaborate funeral, and that was all; no convey of angels, no Paradise, no welcome by the great father of his race and founder of his nation. How glad he would have been to exchange his pompous obsequies for the pauper burial of Lazarus, if he could have had the beggar's glorious future!

"Hades."

"And in Hades." Hades means "the unseen world." Here it signifies the abode of the evil dead, as distinguished from Abraham's bosom, the abode of the righteous dead. "He lifted up his eyes, being in torments." The Bible gives us few particulars as to the state of the wicked after death, but those few, while entirely in accord with reason, are at the same time so forceful as to serve as the most awful warnings to unrepentant sinners. We are assured that their condition hereafter will be one of eternal torment, and the chief source of their torment will be their memory of their sins and their unavailing regret. "And seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom." The plain teaching here is that the dead are not annihilated, that they retain personality and consciousness, and that they recognize one another.

"I Am In Anguish In This Flame."

"Have mercy on me and send Lazarus." The proud man is so reduced as to beg the help of the beggar whom he once scorned. "That he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in this flame." If any one regards this picture of Hades as too harsh, remember who painted it; the gentle, tender, compassionate, forgiving Christ, who died on the cross to save men from an agony and misery that he fully knew.

Son, Remember.

"Remember what? Look back and remember that you have never been so warned of anything as of this thing."—Rev. Joseph L. Tucker, D. D.

"We talk about the recording angel keeping the record of our life. I have an idea that when we get to heaven we shall find that recording angel has been ourselves."—D. L. Moody.

"Every man's penalty is only the echo of his own sin."—Rev. S. L. Blake, D. D. "It is all in the choice which we ourselves make, whether we will receive our good things here alone, or here and hereafter also."—Bishop Welles.

"Don't write there," said a little newspaper boy to a dandified youth whom in the waiting room of a railway station he saw about to scratch something with his diamond ring on a mirror that was hanging on the wall, "don't write there." "Why not?" "Because you can't rub it out!" So be careful what you write, in your words and actions, on the tablets of your memory. You can't rub it out!"—William M. Taylor.

The Great Gulf.

The climax of the parable is not in the changed conditions of Dives and Lazarus, striking as that is, but in the eternal separation between the abode of the wicked and the home of the righteous. Here the parable reaches its summit of solemn warning.

"Between us and you there is a great gulf fixed." "The condition of those who died in wilful sin and rebellion, and are relegated to the place in Hades where the wicked man was in torment, is fixed and can never be changed."—Rev. J. A. Spencer, D. D.

Why the Gulf?

The hereafter is not a junk-heap. Nor is it a "beautiful isle of somewhere." The Bible does not part very wide the curtain that hides the human soul's world-to-come, but it does give us to know that we are to spend eternity in one or the other of two definite places. Heaven or hell are the words that in English most satisfactorily designate those places or states.

"For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment." Here is a little light let into the dark picture. "Nothing in all that Christ has to say about Dives is so striking as this, though it is usually overlooked. It is clear that whatever faults Dives had, he loved his brethren, and there is now nothing selfish in that love. If he cannot be saved himself, he thinks it at least possible that they may be saved."—Rev. W. J. Dawson.

"And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead." "Signs and wonders never converted any one to a belief in things that matter, never even persuaded any one to alter the mental and spiritual habits of a lifetime."—Rev. J. A. Beaumont. "No miracle, no evidence that can be named or asked for, will bring conviction to a man whose heart and mind are not open to conviction."—Rev. William T. Wilson.

More Profit Per Acre of Grain with the McCORMICK-DEERING No. 8 HARVESTER-THRESHER

OWNERS of the McCormick-Deering No. 8 Harvester-Thresher say they save money in so many ways that the outfit pays for itself in a short time through increased profits. Grain is cut and threshed without waste. It may be marketed early if necessary, to get the benefit of high prices. Some owners obtain premium prices for the high-grade grain.

Exclusive features of the McCormick-Deering include: nearly complete separation at the cylinder due to its high mounting, a 4-section straw rack, double screen shoe to complete the separation, a special weed screen to remove weed seeds from the grain, ball-bearing mounting for the cylinder.

We invite you to investigate the McCormick-Deering and see these and other money-saving features.

SURE SIGNS OF SPRING.

Old Man Blackwell has moved his special chair from its place in front of the gas stove to the front porch of his store.

"Doc" Willis all dolled up with a new spring hat.

Gene giving the ceiling a coat of white paint. Most of it drops on Gene.

"Fat" Hughes cultivating a coodle garage on his top lip.

J. R. Roden wearing one of those cute little sport caps. Oh, Boy!

J. C. Wilkinson yawning and stretching on the street. Wilk works so hard these days.

"Os" Lange without his spats.

Bob Fleet putting up screen doors.

W. H. Warren without his winter grouch.

F. P. Brookshire visits town after his winter hibernation.

Thelma Osborn embroidering. (looks like it's for a hope chest.)

Editor's Note: These signs have never been known to fail.

Sales are Profitable

Permit me to suggest that you book your auction sales at your earliest possible convenience in order to secure the date you prefer.

I am booking sales over a large territory this season. The splendid results obtained in recent sales of live stock, farm equipment and real estate has convinced the owners to sell at auction, the well known method by which you can get your buyers in one group and convert your property into ready cash in a day, and receive full value.

My knowledge of values enables me to render an efficient service which means dollars and cents to you the day of your auction sale. The many satisfied people I have sold for are my best reference.

John Deere
No. 5 Combine
(Built in 10- and 12-Foot Sizes)

Farmers are talking about the grain-saving features, the light draft, the great capacity and the all-around satisfactory performance of the John Deere No. 5 Combine. It has made a name for itself wherever grain is raised.

In the No. 5 you get John Deere dependability in full measure. This light-weight combine will stay on the job when time means money and do good work for years.

You get balanced draft—combine's wide-tread main wheels straddle the tractor's wheel tracks. Wheels are high and wide. These features, along with the light weight of the No. 5, mean lighter draft. Three-wheel-in-line construction insures flexibility for good work on uneven ground. Platform is hinged to the main axle.

You will like the simplicity of design and the easy operation of the John Deere No. 5, and the way it saves the grain and delivers it to the tank. Motor has plenty of reserve power to maintain correct operating speed in heavy grain.

High-grade bearing equipment and grease gun oiling are other features you want.

Come in and get full information.
