Brownfield Gets Nod As Site for 1956 Area Little League Tournament

Enthusiastic Crowd At Major Political Rally

More than 500 persons listened Monday night as a ringful of office seekers appeared here in a major political rally. Held in Lions Ball Park and sponsored by Terry County Home Demonstration Council, the rally sparked strong appeals for support in the July 28 primary. The rather even tenor of the speech-making was upset some when Kilmer Corbin clashed with Preston Smith. Both seek the 28th Senatorial District post—Corbin to stay in and Smith to get in. Carroll Cobb rounds out the trio in this race. "Charlie Guy, the Republican Avalanche-Journal and that silk-stocking and Cadillac crowd in Lubbock"—these were Corbin's main targets, in addition to Smith. (Corbin has been scored by the Lubbock paper in recent editorials.) A major sidelight of the rally was the auction of $336

Health Unit Board Slates New Policies

The setting up of a general policy was one result when South Plains Health Unit board members met Tuesday night. Attending the meeting were Dr. A. H. Daniell, Dr. Wayne C. Hill, Judge Herbert Chesshir, who is also secretary of the board, and Commissioners Mrs. B. R. Lay and Carl Stephenson, Dr. E. M. Johnson, director of the unit, all of Brownfield; Dr. Keller Greenfield of Denver City; Dr. J. V. McKay of Lamesa, county-city health officer; County Judge Aubrey Boswell of Lamesa; and C. A. Taylor, city manager of Lamesa, who is also chairman of the board; Dr. C. M. Phillips of Levelland and City Manager Kenneth Harper of Levelland; and Charlie Lawrence, Gaines county judge. Following a general discussion, the group set a general policy governing the health unit: All counties which are served by the South Plains Health Unit will receive equal services and benefits. The group also agreed that the board will meet twice yearly with the meetings to be called by Chairman Taylor.

Soil Bank Changes Are Revealed Here

Farmers! Here are two important deadline changes for taking part in the 1956 Soil Bank Acreage Reserve program: July 27. This is the new deadline which the operator must meet if only he is required to sign CCS Form 800, the reserve acreage agreement. Old deadline was July 20. Aug. 31. This is the new deadline where signatures of both operator and owner(s) are required. Old deadline was July 31. The date changes were announced this morning by Looe Miller, head here of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation. Miller also said that more than 3,000 Terry county acres had been put into the reserve to date

New Rural Routes Are Announced By Postmaster Shelton

The Post Office Department has notified Postmaster Joe Shelton of approval of extension of rural route service to the Negro section of Brownfield. In addition, the department also has approved new route service to the area southwest of Brownfield. This area comprises the triangle south of the Legion Hall and south and west to the Primitive Baptist Church. Shelton said this morning that Rural Route 2 will be re-routed July 28 to begin service near Wheatley School, turning north on 6th for three blocks, west two blocks, south again to the cemetery road cut-off, and resuming normal routing at the road junction immediately north of the old cemetery road. The Southwest section will serve the four short east-west streets in the triangle. "Patrons desiring this service need only to install an approved rural box," explained the postmaster. "All boxes must have the owner's name painted thereon, on the carrier's side, and must be mounted securely about three and one-half feet above the ground." Shelton continued: "Patrons must place a list of all family names in the box and raise the flag. Those persons who now are receiving mail through general delivery or PO boxes also should file addresses on Form 22 at the post office." This extension of service is provided in the continuing effort to give good rural postal service, said Shelton. "Rural free delivery is a non-revenue producing service, provided at great expense to the taxpayers, and the cooperation of every patron is appreciated."

Highway 51 Association Meeting Is Scheduled In Party House On July 26

Members of the Texas Highway 51 Association will meet in Brownfield on Thursday, July 26 to consider proposals designed to route more traffic along the International Park highway according to Herb Chesshir, Association President. He has also invited Levelland, Littlefield and Odessa (none of which were represented at the last meeting) to send a group for the luncheon meeting. The meeting will start at 11:30 a. m. in the Terry County Party House. Principal business will concern placing a sign, or signs on various roads to attract traffic along Highway 51. The focal point at the moment is on the north side of the Canadian River where traffic flows to Amarillo. Continued efforts towards gaining eventual federal highway designation will be discussed.

The Big Springs trip was announced this morning by Jack Aldrup, post public relations officer, who also explained that the group would take some books and magazines for distribution to the veterans. Bailey, second floor of the courthouse.

News Views

Because Jerry Stoltz started the "News & Views" column in our paper some five years ago and because it has won a number of state awards for our newspaper, we feel that it is appropriate and fitting to pass a few compliments to the man responsible. Needless to say, we appreciate the fact that many people have gone out of their way to tell us how much they have appreciated Jerry and what he has meant to our community. We have had a number of individuals tell us they read "News & Views" before reading the rest of the paper.

As publisher of the Brownfield News for some six years, I am proud of the progress our paper has made, editorially speaking, and I give that credit to Jerry Stoltz. I feel that Jerry is deserving of a better opportunity, consequently we are most happy to see him make a change which Jerry feels will be beneficial to him. He is getting fifty per cent interest in the Lovington Press, and if his partners will give him a free rein to do what he feels is best, I have no doubt that he will continue to be successful in the newspaper business. Good luck to you, Jerry, and may the best of everything be with a most deserving man and wonderful family. —R-V— We are happy to see so many people interested in politics, as was indicated Monday by the huge crowds attending the political rally. Let's remind ourselves, when we criticize poli-

Lions Ball Park Will Be Scene Of Titanic Struggle for Coveted Championship Title

Brownfield has been chosen over three other cities as the site for the 1956 Area Little League Tournament, which will begin Monday in Lions Ball Park. The choice was made Sunday in Lubbock at a meeting of Districts 3 and 4. Lamesa, Levelland and Seagraves also made strong bids for the tourney. The two districts recently were combined, according to George Gann of Lubbock, who was appointed commissioner of both units. He formerly was commissioner of District 3. Said Gann: "The combined districts cover a large territory and include some 23 towns and cities, consequently the tournaments will have to be played in four areas. "Brownfield was selected to be in the area with Levelland, Seagraves, Denver City, Lamesa and Andrews, and it will be up to the presidents of each league in the area to vote on a tournament site."

Big Spring, Colorado City, Rotan, Snyder, Sweetwater and Morton round out District 4. These cities are in District 3: Lubbock, Clairemont, Dumas, Hereford, Tahoka, Wolfforth, Muleshoe, Pampa, Ropesville, Slaton, Sundown and Childress. It was after a brief discussion that the league presidents of this area voted unanimously in favor of Brownfield. As a part of the opening day schedule, the state championship color guard from Reese Air Force Base will be here for the official flag raising ceremonies prior to the start of the first game Monday. The color guard, consisting of six airmen, represents the Allen Brothers American Legion Post in Lubbock, and was named state champions last year at the Legion's state convention. Facilities Are Outlined Brownfield Little League President Taylor Holland, Mayor Arlie Lowrimore and Ike Isaacs represented the Queen City at the Lubbock meeting, and outlined in detail the facilities available should Brownfield be selected as the tourney site. The three men combined to do an outstanding public relations job in favor of Brownfield. Mayor Lowrimore told the group that Brownfield would be honored to play host for the tournament and said "We extend to you a cordial welcome and will bend every effort to insure a successful tournament." Lowrimore stated further that the city officials and residents were proud of the Little League program carried on in Brownfield, and he had high praise for all the cities represented at the meeting, assuring the membership that should some other city be chosen, the Little League All-Star team representing Brownfield would be honored to appear in that city. Both Holland and Isaacs upheld the mayor in his statements. The tournament will open officially at 5:15 p. m., Monday, with pre-game ceremonies including welcoming address by Mayor Lowrimore, Terry County Judge Herbert Chesshir and Taylor; flag raising ceremonies and introduction of team managers. No admission will be charged throughout the tournament, but in order to continue this outstanding youth activity program contributions will be accepted from fans at the gate.

Miss Little League Climax Is Tonight

The climax of The Miss Little League Contest comes tonight with the naming and crowning of one of the 10 finalists who have been selling tickets to the Mother Game for the past nine days. A delightful 5-day all-expense paid vacation is in store for the winner at one of the South's finest resorts, the Crazy Water Hotel in Mineral Wells. The parents of the girl also will enjoy the vacation. The 10 finalists who have been selling tickets to the game and who have been working hard to win the coveted title and vacation are: Nancy Benson, Beth Chessir, Daphne Pemberton, Sandra Kay Bradley, Mary Jane Barrett, Linda Lou Collins, Frances Dishman, Ruth Fulford, Pamela Jane Shirley and Virginia Lee Cooper. Tonight's the night for much activity at Lion's Park, and it also starts the final week of a most successful baseball season. On tap tonight are these events worthy of mention: crowning of Miss Little League, Mothers Game and two Little League games. On the subject of Miss Little League, many thanks are passed along to Fred Brown, manager of the Crazy Water Hotel in Mineral Wells. He's the lad responsible for making available the vacation facilities which the winner and her parents will enjoy. The big question all week has been: Who's ahead? "Don't know."

Three cheers for His Honor . . . Taylor Holland . . . and Ike Isaacs. Taylor is Little League president. Ike coaches the Red Sox and Mayor Lowmire will coach the All-Stars. They merit the cheers for being instrumental in having our fair city named the tourney site. Should a few who worked with our youth this summer be named, many would be missed. So, from this corner a big round of thanks and congratulations to all . . . it was a job well done! About the future? Rumor has it that two new ball parks are in the planning stages, one for Little League and one for Junior League. Let's make it a fact.

Here would be as good a place as any to mention that we will have the privilege of being in this corner each week and the red carpet is out at any and all times to everyone for a chat about sports. Noticed elsewhere in the sheet that the American Legion Color

LITTLE LEAGUE MOTHERS

-PROS - - CONS Battle Tonight

The day is here, the hour soon will arrive: The hour for the mothers of Brownfield to meet and do battle on the baseball diamond.

The two teams, PROS and CONS, are made up of the mothers of Little League players and will play the game as a feature of the Miss Little League Contest which ends tonight with the announcement of Miss Little League of 1956.

The hue and cry of the mo-

Guard from Lubbock will be here for the opening of the District Tournament. If you haven't seen these boys perform this would be a wonderful opportunity. In addition to some good baseball, you will see experts in precision as these airmen go through their many and complicated maneuvers. They walked off with state championship honors and it isn't likely that they will be topped any time soon.

These notes were picked up at random: Leon Willis, high school football and basketball star, has an appointment with a Lubbock specialist next week . . . hurt his knee playing baseball . . . Brownfield Country Club will be closed for the next couple of weeks (the golf course that is) to install an underground irrigation system . . . Football season tickets for those who held them last year, go on sale Monday . . . Football Coach Doug Cox doing a great job at the municipal pool . . . Tess Fuller offers a first cut Kansas Steak to the mother who hits one out of the park in tonight's game . . . about professional sports being a big business . . . note the Detroit Tiger sale . . . Five and a half million.

Youth observes, as noted by this closer . . . Seems as though tomorrow morning will no doubt be "pass the liniment" instead of the biscuits, and dads will probably be saying . . . "now you see it takes more to play a ball game than meets the eye."

The mothers pictured elsewhere on this page, have gone all out to condition themselves for tonight's contest and also have added some extra activity that should prove hilarious to the spectators.

The game will get underway at approximately 7:15 and will how Arlie Lowmire carries a few bucks in his pocket for spending money when he drives his Little League team around. The mother of one of the boys sent her son to get a haircut. Not having any change she gave him a ten dollar bill and instructed him to return the change. After the haircut the barber folded nine bills and gave them to the lad to take to his mother. Of course, he had a buddy along and the buddy suggested a drink, saying, "Boy, a Coke sure would taste good, you got any money?" Whereupon the lad pulled the bills from his pocket and said to his buddy, "Man, I got a roll here as big as the one ole Arlie carries."

be a timed contest. The umpires for the game will attire themselves in keeping with the theme "Mothers Game." Tickets have been on sale for the past nine days by the 10 finalists in the Miss Little League contest and the winner of the contest will be the young lady who sold the most tickets to tonight's game. She will be announced just prior to the start of the game.

Little League Play Ends Friday Night

Going into the final two days of play, the Brownfield Little League still is being fought down to the wire insofar as the Yankees and Braves are concerned.

The Yankees eeked by the Braves to take the first half and the two teams meet in the final game tonight with the winner being crowned second half champions.

Should the Braves down the Yanks tonight, the league title would be held by both teams as co-champions since the early start of the district tournament would not allow time for a play-off game. However, if the Yankees win they will be sole possessors of the Little League title.

Rounding out the schedule for the final two days of play, the Giants meet the Red Sox in tonight's first game. Friday night the first game finds the Braves meeting the Cubs and the league finals pits the Indians against the Giants.

Mrs. H. L. McKay and son, Eddie, visited over the weekend with her mother in Greenville. An aunt, Mrs. Lyles of Haskell, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartzburg of Westphalia, Ind., are here for a month's visit with their daughter, Mrs. Hal Roche, and Mr. Roche.

Three of Brownfield's most enthusiastic and energetic boosters went to Lubbock last Sunday to attend a district Little League ball meeting and came back with the district tournament in their pockets. They were Arlie Lowmore, our mayor, Taylor Holland, and Hal Roche. When they suggested that Brownfield be ideally equipped and centrally located, the group voted to let Brownfield host the tourney. It's indeed an honor and, although it will mean a lot of hard work for some few, everyone concerned feels that it will be a great success. Now, let us average citizens show that we're glad to have the visitors and have a big turn-out for these games. You'll probably be seeing some of the greatest little league ball you'll see in many a year, so I know you won't want to miss the opportunity to see all the games you can and to make our visitors feel as welcome as you can.

Incidentally, our little league is suffering a terrible blow in losing Taylor Holland. And our town is suffering a terrible blow in losing Taylor and the

Miss Marley, Mr. Chaffin To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Marley of Route 1, Seagraves, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Norma, to Bob Chaffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holiday of Welch.

The double ring rites will be read at 7 p.m. Aug. 17 in the Wellman Church of Christ by S. A. Ribble of the Pioneer Park Church of Christ.

Honor attendants will include the sister of the bride-elect, Miss Edna Marley of Seagraves, who will be maid-of-honor, and Donald Puryear of Welch, who will be best man.

Miss Marley is a graduate of Wellman High School. Her fiance is a 1955 graduate of Union High School and is employed with Pioneer Construction Co., in Brownfield, where the couple will make their home following their marriage.

Redford Family Is In Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kebodeaux and Renee and Ricky of Houston, have been visiting in the Terry Radford and Mrs. E. L. Redford homes for the past two weeks. Mrs. Kebodeaux is the former Dixie Jean Redford. The Kebodeauxs visited in the Terry Radfords' new home on the Tahoka highway, where they are living for the summer.

A family reunion was held by the Redford family July 4th. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kebodeaux and children of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Redford and Dian of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Redford and Vicky and Allen of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Redford and Sue and Tom of Ropesville and Brownfield, and their mother, Mrs. E. L. Redford.

The Kebodeauxs and Terry Radfords also spent the past week at their cabin in Rudoso.

Tuesday Night Club Met With the Jim Finleys

Dr. and Mrs. Jim Finley were hosts to their Tuesday night bridge club July 17.

A dessert and iced tea were served to Messrs. and Mmes. Curtis Sterling, Dip Pemberton, Howard Hurd and Johnny Kendrick.

The Pembertons were high players. Mrs. Sterling and Mr. Hurd binged.

difficulties which have arisen. The upshot of the meeting, as far as I, personally, am concerned is that the News-Herald will soon begin running a series of articles explaining the functions of this health unit and its relation to us. I think you will not only find these articles entertaining, but highly enlightening, and I heartily recommend that you read them. The reason that I can so highly recommend them is that they will be written by Dr. Johnson, who is the director of the unit. Many people here have the idea that just because this unit is located in Brownfield, it's their own personal property, which it is in part, but it also belongs to the people of four other counties and by the same token it must be operated accordingly. Dr. Johnson plans to bring out this fact, along with many others of interest, in his articles.

I've really been around this week, having attended the "candidate speaking" held at the ball park Monday night. These rarely-lauded home demonstration gals turned in a very fine performance and the whole thing was quite a success. If you, too, thought so, why don't you tell Mrs. O. D. Kennedy or Billie Ruth Shewmake or some of the other HD women who worked so hard on this project? Personally, I had a real great time, because I got to see so many of you that I rarely see any more. Frank Jordan, Shorty and Edith Stone, the Ours Murrys, and many, many more.

All the friends of Nick and Ladell Nicholson will be pleased to know that they're moving to the new Plaza restaurant. Nick's has always been one of the most popular places in town and many were a little perturbed to see their "closed" sign on the place at the corner of Broadway and Lubbock highway. But they haven't left town and they urge all their friends to drop by the Plaza and visit. Watch for the big opening announcement in the News and the Journal.

MISS NORMA MARLEY

Mrs. Hill is a graduate of Farmington High School and is employed with the telephone company. The bridegroom is a graduate of Brownfield High School and attended Texas Tech for three years.

Ropesville Minister To Attend Jehovah's Witnesses Meeting

Alfred Ferguson of Ropesville, minister associated with the Levelland Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, is to attend a four-day district assembly training program in Lubbock, July 26-29.

During the assembly, Ferguson will give up his farming activities and become supervisor of a cafeteria arrangement capable of serving 2,500 meals daily.

Said Ferguson this morning: "Jehovah's witnesses are used to serving great crowds in their assemblies. In New York's Yankee Stadium in 1953, 450,000 meals were served at the rate of 30,000 an hour."

The minister explained that spiritual food will be served from the platform — in Fair Park Coliseum — all four days and will be climaxed the final day at 3 p.m., with a public Bible discourse, entitled "Why Permanent Peace Will Come in Our Day!"

The address will be delivered by Roland E. Collier, special representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. Ferguson added that all sessions will be opened free of charge to the public, "which is welcome."

The Lubbock assembly will be the 25th which the Ropesville minister has attended.

Emergency Federal Hay Program Asked By TFB President

Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond has urged Governor Allan Shivers to request an emergency federal hay program for drought-stricken Texas livestock producers.

In a telegram to the governor, Hammond said the present federal feed grain assistance program is inadequate to meet the existing need for roughage for cattle.

"I strongly urge that you request Secretary of Agriculture Benson to institute adequate direct subsidy payments to eligible producers in Texas drought-designated counties," Hammond wired the governor. He suggested that county ASC committees could determine eligibility of producers.

"District payments would permit purchasing of hay on the open market," Hammond said. "This would expedite the hay program and reduce administrative costs."

The TFB president said that his organization "deems immediate action necessary to enable producers to retain foundation stock and to prevent a disastrous run on the market."

Eligible producers in drought-designated counties are able to buy feed concentrates under the present emergency feed program. Livestock producers and dairymen can get $1 per 100 pounds reduction for feed fed to foundation herds. Feeds eligible for payment include corn, maize, barley and rye.

Hammond said that such feed concentrates did not meet needs of livestock for a "filler" feed such as hay.

NEW SOIL BANK PROGRAM

'Discriminates Against Farmers' -- TFB Head

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has declared that soil bank regulations has subjected cotton farmers to a "guessing game" and discriminated against farmers who guessed wrong in planting their allotments this year.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, TFB President J. Walter Hammond said that "the only possible means of dealing fairly and justly with cotton farmers would be to make soil bank payments on the basis of normal yields, regardless of whether or not cotton was planted."

He referred to drought areas where some farmers had dry planted cotton in order to maintain their acreage history. These farmers, he said, could receive only the minimum payment of $6 an acre for land put into the soil bank. On the other hand, he pointed out, other farmers in the same drought area who did not plant any of their cotton allotment acreage could receive payments based on their normal yields. Appraisal committee ascertained yield of planted acres put into the soil bank. In areas where cotton did not come up, the yield is automatically appraised at zero. The $6 an acre is a minimum payment for cotton under soil bank regulations.

Hammond said that his office has received many complaints from drought areas protesting the "discriminatory" regulations against farmers who planted their allotments. He asked Benson to investigate the possibility of a misinterpretation of regulations by the state ASC (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation) committee. He added that in case the committee had made a correct interpretation, the regulations should be changed to enable all cotton farmers to take advantage of soil bank benefits.

"Expansion of the wage-and-hour law would greatly cripple the farmer's economy in this county," J. T. (Jake) Fulford, president of Terry County Farm Bureau, said this morning.

The TCFB head continued: "Farm wages have increased 538 times since 1910-14, whereas farm prices have increased only 2.32 times. Since 1947, farm wage rates have increased 27 per cent, and this during a period in which farm prices have declined 14 per cent."

Some of the legislation now pending would include $1.25 to $1.50 as the minimum hourly wage for farmers, would provide overtime payments for work in excess of eight hours in one day, would provide for time and a half for more than 35 hours a week, and would require maintenance of names, address, time work starts and stops and other records, explained Fulford.

"Because many farm workers have a handicap of youth, age, inexperience or lack of education, extension of the wage-hour regulations to the farms would greatly obstruct their obtaining unemployment," the president continued.

"Such an increase in the cost of farm labor would have the same effect on everything the farmer has to buy to grow his crops, and the farmer already is caught in a cost-price squeeze. His prices are down and his costs are up. Farm Bureau believes that passage of any bills eliminating exemption of farmers and agricultural processing firms from the wage-hour rules would, in the end, ruin the farmer.

The July issue of the Texas Business Review surveys the rainfall situation in 10 key areas of the High Plains during the present drought and compares it with the situation in the 1930s.

Indications are that the current dry spell which has enveloped most of the area since 1950 is the longest, hardest the region ever had — as if most farmers don't know it!

The two nearest reporting stations were: Lubbock — 18.3 inches average rainfall since 1912. During the 1930s, there were three extremely dry years, but there also were four years in which rainfall was well above average.

Seminole — 16.1 inches average moisture since 1923. During the 1930s, there were three extremely dry years, but there also were four years in which rainfall was well above average. No doubt, everyone read

FARM SAFETY WEEK, JULY 22-28

15,000 Persons Will Die This Year On U. S. Farms As A Result of Accidents

(Editor's Note: The following article was released this week by John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture.)

Farming is a dangerous job. So dangerous that nationwide attention is being focused on the problem by declaring July 22-28 as National Farm Safety Week.

The risks of the farm are both physical and financial. In one year about 15,000 U. S. farm residents are killed in agricultural accidents. Another 1,300 or more are injured.

Each farm is a separate sphere of management and operation which involves a wide variety of activities and working conditions. The heavy toll of accidents caused each year by these different farm tasks wipes out some 17 million man-days of labor.

In some areas, Texas farmers may face one of the major accident creating situations — labor shortages.

When hired help is scarce, the farmer takes on more of the work load. He toils longer and becomes tired long before the job is done. As a result, he is tempted to take risky short cuts or postpone needed repairs on machinery and buildings. This sets the stage for crippling accidents.

Farm machinery is the big killer. Careless handling of equipment causes many mishaps but even a careful operator may be hurt if he is running broken or worn machines. A good maintenance program for machinery could do much to keep down farm tragedies.

Another common cause of injury is farm animals. Some accidents with animals are unavoidable. Still, many result from impatience on the farmer's part or an underestimation of the animal's dangerous traits.

Fires are a greater hazard on the farm than in the city. They cause some 3,500 of the 15,000 farm deaths each year. These fires occur at the rate of 300 a day, and most can be traced to defective heating units and lack of protection from lightning.

But the farmer and city dweller share equal risks in the home. Four thousand farm residents die each year from accidents inside the house. Thus, home safety is a prime starting point in eliminating accidents which rob families of their livelihood.

Now that another crop season is underway, a little more caution and advance planning may help assure you of being around when the time comes to reap the harvest from seeds you are planting today.

INTELLIGENT VOTING

Knowing Candidates Is a Responsibility

On July 28, or before if you vote absentee, you'll face a ballot with some names and offices on it that most of us never thought of before. For instance are you going to vote for W. A. Morrison or Jesse Owens for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals? How about Bill Elkins or Martin Dies for Congressman-at-large?

Time is running out so make it a point to know that Martin Dies has done a good job and deserves re-election. Judge Morrison has also proven himself capable during his term as Judge. There are several more contested offices that need some advance study.

Too many citizens are inclined to show distaste when the word "politics" is mentioned. They have the idea that politics is dirty and they, as clean and upright citizens, will have nothing to do with it.

Politics is only as dirty as the people permit it to be.

Webster defines politics as "the science and art of government." In practice, politics is government. The United States is a republic, governed by the elected representatives of the people. Ours is a government "of the people, by the people, for the people."

When citizens fail to participate in politics through the medium of the ballot box, and convention, they are leaving the field open to organized minorities acting as a political machine to capture elections.

Apathy and indifference by the voters

FEAR PARALYZES

Courage Invokes Freedom

"Man is as ready as he is brave," says Gerald Heard.

That statement bears a lot of thought. When Moses, before his death, turned the leadership of the children of Israel over to Joshua preparatory to their entrance into the Promised Land, he exhorted them, "Be strong and of a good courage, fear not . . . for the Lord thy God, He it is that doth go with thee; He will not fail thee nor forsake thee."

Forty years earlier the Israelites could have possessed the land if they had had the courage to do so. But they were not ready because they were not brave—and a whole generation perished while wandering in the wilderness.

"Fear not" echoes like a chorus all through the Bible from Genesis to Revelation.

Fear paralyzes. Courage energizes. Fear begets slavery. Courage invokes freedom.

Man is as ready — for whatever God has in store for him — as he is brave. Let us reflect deeply upon that.

breed abuses of the representative system. Apathetic citizens must share the blame when government becomes corrupt.

The apathy begins to make itself apparent when the time comes for citizens to qualify themselves as voters. Texas requires payment of a poll tax. Citizens may pay the $1.50 tax from Oct. 1 through Jan. 31. Usually, only half of those eligible to qualify as voters pay their poll taxes.

The apathy shows itself again at the elections, when only a fraction of the qualified voters turn out to cast their ballots.

Many important election here have been decided by a comparative handful of voters.

When voters are so apathetic, why should they be shocked by poor government or corrupt government?

You can't achieve integrity through legislation. Integrity in government is achieved by electing honest, capable persons to public office. An honest man will conduct his office honestly. A capable man will give his constituents the kind of government to which they are entitled.

The voter has a twofold responsibility. He should make a diligent effort to inform himself to the best of his ability on the background, qualifications and character of the candidates seeking public office. He should inform himself on the merits and demerits of the issues to be voted on.

Then the citizen should go to his polling place and cast an intelligent vote. Casting an intelligent vote does not necessarily mean that the citizen votes for any one faction.

It means that he has informed himself well as to each candidate and issue, and votes according to his convictions for honest and capable candidates who hold views nearest his own.

Too many voters are prone to select candidates on the basis of prejudice or propaganda. Emotional votes are highly susceptible to deception by a demagogue. Reason, not emotion, should be the controlling factor in a voters decisions.

It is a civic duty for each citizen to inform himself on candidates and issues, then vote. To help citizens perform their duty is the objective of this special section.

A recent survey by the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report showed that only "modest progress" has been made in the gigantic effort to get the federal government out of unnecessary operating activities.

The Irony Of It!

THE AMERICAN WAY

A GREAT EMANCIPATOR ???

By George Peck

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

Frankly, I'm puzzled. In my mail one morning not so long ago there were two letters. The one castigated me on the score that I am anti-organized labor; the other bawled me out as its writer accused me of being pro-union labor. Now, it is impossible for me, or any other individual for that matter, to be both pro and anti-union labor. Why then do two readers deduce two such diametrically-opposed opinions from reading my comments on unions? That's what I ask myself and can hazard only one possible answer.

Repeatedly over the years I have said that I am for organized labor, but just as often I have said that I am opposed to the racketeering, dictatorial element that has seized the leadership of so many of our labor unions. Let's put that another way: I'm pro-union labor when the unions members and not to serve the selfish interests of their leaders; I'm anti-union labor when the unions are conducted for the sole benefit of their leaders to the detriment of their rank-and-file members.

Let me quote what I wrote some 20 years ago in the very first column in which I discussed labor unions: "As to organized labor, I'm all for it. I recognize the right of workingmen to bargain collectively but insist that this be done without dictation, coercion, domination or interference by either government or union bosses. I do deplore the fact that a small minority of union labor's leadership is made up of selfish men who are exploiting their members." As time marched on and more and more unions were captured by racketeers, I amended the latter part of that statement to read: "I do deplore the fact that such a large proportion of union labor's leadership is made up of wicked, selfish men who are enslaving their members." But let me make it crystal clear, I am still for union labor. And somehow this brings me to a statement made recently by George Meany, president of

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Reunions. Rodeos. Fishing trips. From now until school starts, vacationing Texans will take to the highways by the thousands.

They are likely to find the roads more crowded than at any time in the state's history. From year to year, total traffic volume has climbed steadily. Highway Department surveys show. In addition, vacation months bring a steep jump.

August especially is a headache for the Department of Public Safety. Accident rates climb sharply. During the past five years August accident rates have been from 3 to 27 per cent higher than in July.

"People try to over-drive on a long vacation trip," says Asst. Chief C. G. Connor of the Texas Highway Patrol. "Fatigue is a particular problem. Speed is another."

They can't do much about people who drive when they're too tired, Connor admits. But something can and has been done about speed.

"Installation of radar detection devices has had a tremendous impact on driving practices," said Connor. Studies made before and after radar use was begun on state and federal highways in November, 1954, show: (1) excessive deaths dropped from 21 to 15 per cent, (2) accidents dropped 3.4 per cent and (3) deaths dropped 1.9 per cent.

During the same period accidents on the non-radar-patrolled stretches — farm to market roads, city streets, etc.—climbed 13 per cent. A similar increase could have been expected on the state and federal highways, Connor believes, especially since total mileage increased also — nearly 5 per cent.

Had normal trends continued, 181 more lives would have been lost in 1955.

OPERATION ALERT SCHEDULED — Would Texans know what to do if atomic bombs fell? To find out, a full-scale drill will be held July 20.

Five key areas — Houston, El Paso, Austin, Waco and the Fort Worth-Dallas area — will be assumed hit by bombs between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p. m. that day.

Smaller towns and rural areas also will participate in Operation Alert. Many have been designated as reception centers for evacuees from cities.

Strategic industrial centers, such as Beaumont-Port Arthur, will practice vacating plants and schools. Military bases will test their full-scale emergency measures.

Purpose of the drill is to show up any flaws in the plan whereby federal, state and local officials and trained volunteers would cooperate to cope with a major catastrophe.

Nationally, Operation Alert will presume 52 cities bombed. FCC has ordered all radio and TV stations off the air at 3:10 p.m. July 20. Special civil defense frequencies, 640 and 1240, will be used for test broadcasts of disaster instructions.

PHYSICAL ED TEACHERS REASSURED — Physical education teachers won't be out of jobs if proposed new high school graduation requirements are adopted.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar clarified the plan for alarmed teachers. Physical education and health courses still are required by state law, he said.

Legume Crops Protect, Enrich the Soil

The purpose of legume crops is to protect and enrich the soil. The fact that they are not used enough on our cotton and grain sorghum land is evidenced by our great soil losses and the lack of water-holding and storing capacity of our soils, according to the supervisors of the Terry Soil Conservation District.

Cover crops, left either on top of the ground or turned under, not only add organic matter to the soil but return the various fertilizing elements that go into the making of a crop. Organic matter added to the soil improves its texture and water holding capacity.

Organic matter decaying in the soil sets free minerals and other necessary nutrients which are available for the succeeding crops. However, the most important function of organic matter is to help keep up the nitrogen supply of the soil, the seed for legumes to add nitrogen to the soil, the seed must be inoculated with nitrogen-fixing bacteria before planting.

In addition, superphosphate should be applied to the soil to stimulate the growth of the legume. Considering the many benefits of cover crops, it is important that a portion of our land be in a cover crop each year.

A legume adapted for summer planting in this area is cowpeas, of which there are several varieties. The peas may be planted from now until late August, if sufficient moisture is available.

They can be sown with a grain drill, which may prove ideal for sandy land, or be planted in the row with the grain sorghum. They can be planted on stubble after harvesting small grain, as a soil building and grazing crop.

The Brownfield ASC office recognizes the benefits of a summer legume, has a cost-sharing program for the seed. For further information, contact the local SCS office, ASC office or the county agent.

the AFL-CIO. He was talking about union labor's participation in the forthcoming national election campaign. Said he in part:

Labor has come a long way in this country despite bitter employer opposition. Yet, the opposition we face today is even more formidable. The scene of the battle is no longer the company plant or the picket line. The scene has moved into the legislative halls of Congress and the State Legislatures. On these fronts, we have taken a beating in recent years, first, with the enactment of the Taft-Hartley Act and other restrictive Federal legislation, and more recently with the passage in eighteen states of the misnamed "right-to-work" laws. These laws are a threat to the very existence of unions, since they are aimed at destroying union security. Our fight for their repeal is a fight for life.

It is too bad that the man honored with the top job in the merged AFL-CIO did not inherit some of the statesmanship of Samuel Gompers, the "George Washington" of the union labor movement in America. Gompers repeatedly warned that union labor must steer clear of political activity and that it would destroy itself if it resorted to force in recruiting its membership.

What the union labor movement needs today is an "Abraham Lincoln," a "Great Emancipator" to preserve the great gains that it has made and to prevent it from destroying itself through unstatesmanlike, greedy leadership.

Mr. Meany must learn that labor unionism can never attain the security he so earnestly desires for it by forcing men to join through the instrumentality of the "Union-Shop." He must be made to realize that there is no place for compulsion in the American scheme of things, that any organization or organizations that resort to force nurse within their bosoms the seeds of their own destruction.

The way for labor unions to attain security is to make themselves so attractive that workers will knock on their doors pleading for admission. And that, Mr. Meany, can only be accomplished by purging your movement of the self-seeking racketeers that surely as night follows the day, will destroy it!

The Congress of the U. S. A. is of a mind to give Mr. Meany great help toward that salutary goal. He can, if he will, be the "Great Emancipator" of the union labor movement in joining wholeheartedly with the Congress as it embarks on a crusade to emancipate the "enslaved" workers of America.

FOR THAT FARM TRACTOR FUEL

Storage, Motor Care Key To Low Bills

"Savings of 10 per cent or more in fuel bills can be made by most farm tractor operators if they give attention to proper fuel storage and fuel system adjustments," says W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer. He explains: "Evaporation during the hot summer months takes a toll of fuel in storage. Partially filled tanks exposed to the sun may lose three to four per cent of their contents within a month. "Shaded tanks lose one per cent or less. During a period of three months, unshaded tanks may lose as much as 15 per cent, but those in the shade, only 6 per cent."

The engineer suggests painting storage tanks with aluminum or white paint as an aid to cutting evaporation losses, because the light color reflects the sunlight.

Ulich explains further, "A small storage tank filled every two weeks will cut the storage period and the losses from evaporation which climb with long storage."

The farm tractor which is serviced regularly and kept in top operating condition is also the most economical to operate from the standpoint of fuel consumption, says Ulich.

He recommends a daily check of the air cleaner, all hose and fuel line connections and carburetor. Most of this checking can be done at a glance. In case a difference is noted in the amount of fuel consumed, however, it's time to make a more detailed inspection for locating the trouble.

"It must be remembered," explains the engineer, "that about 40 per cent of the operating costs of a farm tractor goes for fuel. If this bill can be reduced by 10 per cent or more, the difference will help cut the cost of producing a crop and take a little slack out of the cost-price squeeze."

VACCINE FOR ADULTS SEEN SOON—Texans over 20 may be able to get polio vaccinations within "a month or two."

But, said State Health Department officials, this is still "purely speculative." Actual timing will depend on when the vaccine supply exceeds that need for youngsters and expectant mothers.

In Texas, polio takes its heaviest toll among tots under four years old. They have 51.2 per cent of all cases, 69.1 per cent of paralytic cases.

Persons over 20 account for only 17.4 per cent of total incidence, 6.8 per cent of paralytic cases.

Forty-one new cases were reported in the state last week, bringing the '56 total to 440.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT—More and more Texans have less and less water. In its monthly report, the State Water Board listed these gloomy details:

Texas reservoirs were down 17 per cent, and observation wells and springs were at all-time lows.

Storage in Trinity River Basin lakes was at 27 per cent of capacity; in Red River lakes, 55 per cent; in Lake Texoma, 51 per cent.

Famous Comal Springs near New Braunfels ceased to flow for the first time in history.

Ground water levels, below average in almost all areas, hit record lows in four areas.

SHORT SNORTS—Texans has approximately 7 million acres of cotton under cultivation as of July 1, reported the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. This was one per cent less than 1955, 20 per cent less than the 10-year average.

Though the primary election is not until July 28, thousands of Texans already have had their say on who goes into office next year.

Absentee balloting began July 9, continues through July 24.

Texas will get a 22 per cent increase this year in funds for its public school lunch program, announced the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Transportation, Clothing and Housing Take Most of Consumer Cash

New information about the factors that influence consumer behavior has been made public by the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania, in the first 10 of a series of volumes of statistical tabulations. The tabulations are based on the survey of consumer expenditures, incomes and savings in 1950 and 1951 conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, covering close to 1,500 items of information for each of 12,500 families and single individuals in 91 representative cities. These volumes, and additional tabulations which will be published later this year, constitute the most comprehensive information on consumers' economic behavior available for the period after World War I.

Pecos and Dalhart were the two towns surveyed in the state of Texas, being considered by the research group as representative Texas cities.

The two Texas cities viewed with such other cities of the nation as Baltimore, Md.; Boston, Mass.; Chicago, Ill.; New York City; New Orleans and San Francisco, to name just a few of the larger cities studied.

The Consumer Expenditures Study, which is a cooperative effort of the Wharton School and the B. L. S., was made possible through a grant from The Ford Foundation to the University of Pennsylvania. The study will provide, in addition to the extensive tabulations of expenditures and related data for 1950 and 1951, a series of research studies covering economic, marketing and sociological aspects of consumer behavior, making use of survey and other materials. While the level of family income and expenditures has risen since 1950-51, the B. L. S. data are extremely useful for the study of the relationships between expenditures and the factors affected them.

These volumes of statistical tables together with the research studies should constitute an invaluable source of information for scholars and educators, and for administrators in business, government and social work, on the whole gamut of problems associated with the distribution, disposition and determinants of consumer incomes, expenditures and savings. Business production and sales plans, Government tax policies and public and private welfare programs can all be helped by objective information of the nature of consumers' economic demands or preferences and on the distribution of the means to satisfy these demands. The analysis of the interrelations of consumption and income may be expected to cast light on the vital problem of the determinants of economic growth and stability.

These new data show a striking similarity in the disposition of consumption expenditure: by different types of families; among the major groups of goods and services, indicating a substantial degree of uniformity in tastes for most consumers. There are, however, significant variations in the market for consumer goods in different cities and areas, with the pattern of consumption affected not only by region but also by economic and other characteristics of the families involved.

The areas with high average income tends of course to have high consumption as well, with suburban areas showing higher average income and consumption than cities, large cities higher than small cities, and the North and West higher than the South.

There are some notable differences in consumption patterns among city classes which cannot be explained by income. Families in the North spend a higher proportion of their budget on food and housing than other regions, with the West very high in transportation (especially in automobile purchases and operation) and relatively low in clothing. People in small cities spend less (Compared to similar income groups in large cities and suburbs of large cities) on food, housing, and recreation and somewhat more on automobile purchases and operation and on housefurnishings.

These new tabulations present a considerable amount of commodity detail, data for individual cities as well as for city classes and urban U. S., and expenditures classified (and cross-classified) by 21 family characteristics such as income, family size, race, age and occupation. Many classifications of the expenditure data are used for the first time. These include families at different age- and educational levels in the same income class; families who owned their homes for varying periods of time; families with varying numbers of children at different ages, etc.

As in earlier studies, it is found that people in the lower income brackets spend a considerably larger proportion of their income than do those in the upper brackets. Families whose income after taxes was less than $1,000—largely retired and not fully employed persons—consumed double their current income in 1950 whereas families enjoying incomes of over $10,000 spent only two-thirds on current consumption. The survey shows that the high income groups spend a smaller proportion of their total budget on food and housing and a larger proportion on clothing, transportation, recreation and housefurnishings than do the low income groups. An important feature of the new tabulations is the presentation of expenditure data for See CONSUMER, Page 6

Our

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

98th District

—J. O. GILLHAM—

HE DESERVES TO WIN ON HIS OWN RECORD OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS

He is a native Texan and has been a resident of West Texas all of his adult life, and has constantly insisted on a fair deal for West Texas since he has been a member of the Legislature.

He is a successful business man of unquestioned ability, honor and integrity.

He has an outstanding record of accomplishments during his four years as our Representative, and has become one of the leaders of the House of Representatives and is a member of all top Committees of the House. He knows how and can get things done for us in Austin.

He is not the candidate of any person, group or organization, but constantly works for the overall good of the people of his district and the State of Texas.

He is a life-long Democrat and has always supported the Democratic party, sincerely believing that the Democratic party is best for the people of Texas.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT THE RECORD . . .

EDUCATION: He has been a real friend of education. He was co-author of Teachers pay raise bill in special session in 1954, helped to pass the teachers' pension constitutional resolution and is advocating its approval by the people this fall; author of bill which created Commission on Higher Education; sponsored committee amendment to general appropriations bill which placed our Junior Colleges on sound financial base; voted for increased appropriations for our Senior Colleges and Universities which has enabled them to meet constantly increasing enrollments; voted for increased appropriations for our penal system which has made it one of the best penal systems in the country and which has made it 75 per cent self-sustaining.

BUSINESS AND GENERAL LEGISLATION: Author of Committee bill which regulates retail sales at below cost, which has been of great help to small independent merchants. Co-author of Small Claims Court Law which has been very helpful to business men on the collection of small accounts; co-author of new probate code, co-author of Parks Improvements law; co-author of new partnership law; co-author of law giving equal treatment to Korean War Veterans; voted for increased funds for Highways and farm-to-market roads.

CLEAN GOVERNMENT: Mr. Gillham was the co-author of the House resolution which created the House Investigating Committee which has made a thorough investigation of the Veterans Land Scandals and the Insurance Scandals. He also sponsored a bill which completely reorganized the Veterans' Land Board. He also voted to submit to the people a constitutional amendment this fall which will give the Veterans' Land Board an additional sum to lend to veterans. He believes that the many thousands of veterans who have not yet had the opportunity to participate in the program should have that opportunity, for he believes the program is sound if properly administered. He was the co-author also of HB240 which passed in the House but was killed by the Senate. This bill would have saved U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co. investors more than one million dollars.

WATER AND CONSERVATION: Mr. Gillham has been a member of the Conservation and Reclamation Committee of the House which handles all water legislation. He has actively supported water conservation legislation, but has been constantly alert to the protection of the rights of his people on the high plains. He killed in the House the constitutional amendment resolution which would have imposed an ad valorem tax of 3¢ per $100.00 valuation, on all the real estate and personal property of every Texas citizen. Mr. Gillham argued that it was unfair to place a tax upon those who would never benefit from dams on our rivers, from which we could never get a drop of water. After a hard fight, the House turned down the proposition by a three-to-one vote.

TAXES: Believing in a balanced budget, Mr. Gillham insisted on appropriations being met by sufficient taxes. He also believes in fair and equal taxes, therefore voted to raise beer taxes from 37½¢ per barrel to $3.35 per barrel; voted against a 2¢ gasoline tax; voted for two increases in corporation franchise taxes even though these directly affected him. Voted twice against a general sales tax and a state income tax.

DIRTY EGGS PROBLEM

Clean Nesting Material Saves Labor

More than half the work on a poultry farm is made up of collecting eggs and getting them ready for market. Dirty eggs provide the greatest problem to the poultryman, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, Texas A&M College.

Clean litter and correct management of nests offers the greatest opportunity for preventing egg soilage. One nest should be provided for every four hens, especially in the warmer Texas climate.

A good nest size is 12 inches wide, 14 to 16 inches deep and at least 14 inches high, says Wormeli. This is large enough for comfortable laying space. Nesting trays at the bottom of nests should be 4 to 6 inches deep providing high enough sides to hold a good cushion of nesting material, he adds.

Nesting materials should be fine and highly absorbent. Results of a Missouri study of seven nesting materials show that where a fine material such as shavings, oat hauls, sawdust, or excelsior was used, the percent of clean eggs ranged from 83.4 to 86 percent.

Where coarser materials such as ground corn cobs, sugar cane pulp and straw were used, clean egg percentage ranged from 77.6 to 79.7 percent. It was found that it took more time to clean the nests when straw was used than when shavings was the nesting material.

A higher percentage of clean eggs was obtained from darkened nest, states Wormeli. Ninety-one per cent clean eggs were gathered from dark nests whereas 82 per cent clean eggs were secured from well lighted nests.

Eggs gathered four times a day showed a percentage of 85 percent clean eggs, where only 69 percent clean eggs were secured when gathering eggs only once.

Subject for "Brain Washing"

The scientific methods used by the Communists to "brain wash" American prisoners of war, with astonishingly successful results, are explained in detail by Major William E. Mayer, U. S. Army psychiatrist. He has made an exhaustive study of what happened to the 4,000 American soldiers held in North Korean prison camps by the Chinese Reds. The results of his study together with his analysis has been published in the U. S. News and World Report.

One out of every three American prisoners were "taken in" to some extent by the clever, Communist "brain washing." The work began on prisoners immediately after their capture. Well-educated English-speaking Chinese Reds, many of them educated in American universities in recent years, lived among the prisoners. They were called "instructors." They conducted daily "educational" lectures in the camps and followed these up with subtle personal persuasion on each prisoner.

Our Weakness

Major Mayer said that the Communists had made an intensive study had analysis of the attitude and character of American soldiers. On the Communist evaluation sheets, the Americans generally were considered: (1) to have weak loyalties — to family, to community and country, to God, and to one another; (2) to have a hazy concept of right and wrong; (3) to have little knowledge or understanding — "even among university graduates" — of American political history and philosophy and of how the American system works. On this premise, the Red "instructors" set about to undermine the soldiers' faith in their country and its system.

"Brain washing," Major Mayer said, "is a calculated attempt to distort men's convictions and their principles. "Brain washing" did not turn a soldier into a Communist. But it often did weaken him as a loyal American. It extracted from him astounding amounts of military information, and a great deal of useful, believable propaganda material. It achieved widespread collaboration. It created substantial loss of confidence, among prisoners, in the American system, raising doubts and confusion in the prisoners' minds about themselves and their country, and it turned the American prisoners into the most docile uninformed men we have ever seen."

Faith Shaken

Major Mayer was asked:

"Did you get the impression (from his interviews with hundreds of returned prisoners and his studies of reports given by 4,000 prisoners) that these Americans' faith in their own country and its principles was so weak that it could be shaken by these Red Chinese in prison cell interrogations?"

"Absolutely," replied the Major. "Not so much by the interrogations but by the formal education program in which everyone participated to a certain extent. This was done not by Chinese ranting and raving about the evils of America; they don't attack directly in this way, just as they don't attack religion directly. They merely purport to show you the side of it that you don't know, and they do this not with Communist literature; it is possible to do this with perfectly good American authors . . ."

Over-Emphasizing Faults

"You mean by picking out the bad side and ignoring the good side about America?" he was asked. "Certainly," he replied. By over-emphasizing the bad and ignoring the good in the American system, the Communist instructors distorted the true picture. "Almost to a man," said Major Mayer, "the returnees lamented their lack of actual information, knowledge, about our democratic system. Many of them, being relatively young men, had never . . . been made aware of the protections and guarantees this Government affords its people and the fact that these are so advanced over anything in Communist countries." The Major also mentioned lack of patriotism. "A great many people," he said, "feel that referendum to patriotism and love of country are somewhat embarrassing, upstichated, or foolish flag-waving each type of family at different income levels, so that the effects of family characteristics other than income can be studied. Families of manual workers generally spend more for food, tobacco and transportation, and less for housing and medical care than do families with the same income but in other occupations. Large families devote a greater share of their income to food and clothing and a smaller share to housing and transportation than other families. Older families spend proportionately more for medical care and transportation and less on housefurnishings and clothing than the young. For example, people over 65 spent about 15 per cent less on clothing and 30 per cent more on medical care than younger persons in the same income group.
