NEWS Walks Off With Top Award Which Association Offers

The highest—and toughest to win—trophy which the West Texas Press Association awards was presented last weekend in San Angelo to the Brownfield NEWS. The trophy, the General Excellence Award, which goes to newspaper-printed in cities of 4,000 or more in population. Publisher-Manager Curtis Sterling accepted the award for the paper, in addition to certificates denoting: third in local news pictures, second in column writing, and second in advertising composition. The period considered by the association was that in which Jerry Stoltz, now editor of the Lovington (N.M.) Press, was at the helm of the NEWS. The General Excellence Award for papers in cities under 4,000 went to the Post Dispatch, whose editor, Charles Didway, formerly held that same position here.

School Registration Announced

School bells will ring Sept. 3 in Brownfield, when registration gets underway at Jessie G. Randal and Colonial Heights. Pre-registration for junior high and high school students will be held Aug. 20-24, it has announced. All teachers will report for duty Aug. 27. Supt. O. R. Douglas stressed this morning that each student must register in the school in the zone in which he lives. No transfers will be considered for the first two weeks school is in session, said Douglas. With the exception of the West Ward School, all cafeterias will be open Sept. 5. Until the new cafeteria is completed, students of West Ward will use the cafeteria at Randal. Transportation will be furnished, and meals will be 30 cents. Cafeteria meals will be 25 cents for the first three grades, 30 cents for grades 4 and 5, and all others will be 35 cents. This year, four buses will be operated in town for the first five-grades, Douglas announced. The Rotary bus, plus three school buses, will be in operation, he said. Registration for children attending Colonial Heights and Randal schools will begin at 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. Monday, Sept. 3. Children enrolling in the first grade will need to have a vaccination certificate, health examination form filled out by the family physician, a birth certificate, and $2 for art fee. Health examination forms are available at the South Plains Health Unit. Registration for children in the second and third grades will be conducted Tuesday, Sept. 4, from 9 to 11 a. m. Second and third grade students also will need to take the $2 art fee. The first grade will be dismissed at noon for the first two weeks of school. Bryon Jones is principal of Colonial Heights, and Vernon Brewer is Randal school principal. Kenneth Browning, West Ward principal, announced that registration of grades 4 and 5 will be conducted Sept. 3. Students whose last names begin with letters A through L will register at 9 a. m., letters M through Z, at 10 a. m. All students will register through the entrances on Main Street. Grade 4 using the first floor and Grade 5 using the second floor. Fees Are Explained A fee of $1 to cover partially the cost of art supplies and work books used throughout the year, is to be paid at the time of registration. Frances Bell PTA will have membership committees present at registration for the convenience of parents who wish to join at that time. The week of Aug. 20-24 is set for registration of all students who have not pre-registered, according to Joe Collum, principal. All new students must have grade cards and all changes in schedule should be done during the week. Sept. 3 at 9 a. m., 8th grade students pick up schedules and books. At 1 p. m., Sept. 3, 7th grade students pick up schedules and books. Sixth grade students pick up schedules and books Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 9 a. m. Towels Are Required Students are to take an Activity Fee of 50 cents and a towel fee of $1 when registering. The towel fee provides a clean towel and laundry of the towels for each student for the full year, Collum said. All high school students who were not enrolled in Brownfield High School last year should enroll sometime during the week of Aug. 20-24, according to Bryon Rucker, principal. However, if this is inconvenient they may enroll anytime before Sept. 5. The students who enroll late may find it difficult to take the courses they choose, as many courses already are filled. Students who were in Brownfield public schools last year and who did not pre-register, or those students who pre-registered and who wish to change their courses, may do so during the week of Aug. 20-24. Those students who were enrolled elsewhere last year should have their books cards or certificates showing their See SCHOOL, Page 4

HAS TO SEE MOVIE

Young Escapee Only Proves His Youth

Shades of John Dillinger! The lure of a movie proved the undoing here Monday night for a 16-year-old escapee from the Gatesville State School for Boys. The youth, a Brownfield resident, left Aug. 2 from the Gatesville reform institution, where he had been sent several weeks ago on conviction of auto theft. Brownfield police were notified, and the alert was out. Acting on a tip, police entered the Rialto and, sure enough, there was the young man, completely absorbed in a thriller. He was returned to the home Wednesday.

High Rotarian Will Speak To Club on Friday

Brownfield Rotarians were to meet tonight in club assembly to welcome their governor of Rotary International District 183, Rex Webster of Lubbock. The governor is making his annual official visit to each of the 40 Rotary clubs comprising the district. He will address the Brownfield group at its weekly luncheon on Friday, and will confer with Pres. Newell Reed and Secretary A. W. Turner and committee chairmen. Webster's visit was announced last Friday by Reed. At that meeting, the club's annual Harvest Festival was discussed briefly by Lal Copeland. The October date for the event has not been determined. Four Levelland Rotarians lunched with the Brownfield club last Friday: Bob Hester, Bob Buster, Hadley Bailey and J. G. Stacey. The club also heard reports from members who played host here last week to a group of travelers from abroad, Sammy Jones was pro- See ROTARY, Page 2

We are exceptionally proud and, indeed, thankful for the honors which came our way in San Angelo this weekend while attending the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association. The News-Herald was awarded the General Excellence Trophy for having the best all-around newspaper in the association. Because the WTPA embraces the area bounded by Hamilton on the south, Perryton on the north, Weatherford on the east and Pecos on the west, we felt that we had to pass along our good news to you. In doing so, however, we also want to thank every one of you for helping us to make possible this accomplishment. We are proud of our cooperative news sources, loyal advertisers and NEWS personnel who are interested in making this newspaper a part of the community. —n-v— While in San Antonio last weekend, we visited with our old friend Milton Rathbone, former quarterback for San Angelo and Texas Tech. We learned that he will be backfield coach at San Angelo Junior College. Milton was complimentary about athletes from Brownfield High School who have played and now are playing in San Angelo. According to him, Billy Thomason did a remarkable job at fullback in spring training. He said he also was expecting great things from Lee Allen Jones. —n-v— One of the most unusual events happened this week and none of the employees in our office ever had heard of the like: Notice was received in mail that a group of Shamrock citizens wanted to buy half a See NEWS-VIEWS, Page 2

'Bang-up Good' Rodeo Only Days Away

Sheriff's posse members and friends gathered Monday for breakfast and to lay further plans for the upcoming Brownfield World Championship Rodeo, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. Posse Captain Leo Holmes told the group that the Freeman Decorating Company would be in Brownfield on Monday to help downtown business firms set up decorations for the event. Said Holmes: "The posse will make no money from the decorations. The Freeman company will be here merely to help each business decorate in most economical manner." Prices Are Given Holmes explained further that his group "... seeks no money in the form of donations from anyone. We merely are trying—and will do so—to bring Brownfield a top-notch rodeo, which we're sure the public will want to see." Prices for the event: $1 for adults, 50 cents for children and $1.50 for reserved box seats. Crate Snider revealed that at least 15 posses and riding clubs will be here for the Aug. 30 parade. He is president of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs. Palmetto Polo Scheduled Tickets to the final night performance also will be good for a fast-paced palmetto polo game at the Posse Arena, said Snider. Clashing will be San Angelo and Lubbock, two of the finest teams in the state. The game will be at 6 p. m., Sept. 1. Unofficial plans now call for the rodeo days to be proclaimed "western week" in Brownfield by the mayor, and in that connection the posse has laid by See RODEO, Page 2

Texas' Johnson Proves 'Wheel Horse' at Convention

(Editor's Note: The NEWS takes pleasure in being able to give its readers an on-the-spot report of the Democratic National Convention proceedings. Banker-Representative J. O. Gillham has been in Chicago since the historic event got under way last Monday. Although not a delegate, Gillham is in the Windy City at the personal invitation of U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson..

By J. O. GILLHAM

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, AUG. 14—The Texas Delegation special train arrived Sunday in Chicago, four hours late. The lateness of our train robbed us of the opportunity to attend the reception for Senator Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn at the Conrad Hilton Hotel on Sunday evening. We did, however, make our way to the Johnson Headquarters, which occupies about half of the 23rd floor of the hotel. It does not take you long to find out that Johnson is one of the most sought-after men in Chicago. The senior Texas senator may hold some of the trump cards which finally will decide who the Democratic nominees for President and Vice-President are going to be. It is my opinion that the senator is more interested in seeing to it that the convention adopts the right kind of platform and nominates good candidates to run on that platform than he is in being the nominee himself. However, I think that there is a bare possibility that he could be the nominee if Stevenson and Harriman should throw the convention into a deadlock. Former President Harry S. Truman came out for Harriman, but the general opinion seems to be that Harriman was not helped too much by the Truman announcement. Truman seems to be looked upon more as a beloved elder statesman than a president-maker. I think most of the delegates to this convention realize that Harriman would have no chance to win in November and that Stevenson is the stronger candidate. It is my personal opinion that Adlai Stevenson will be the nominee.

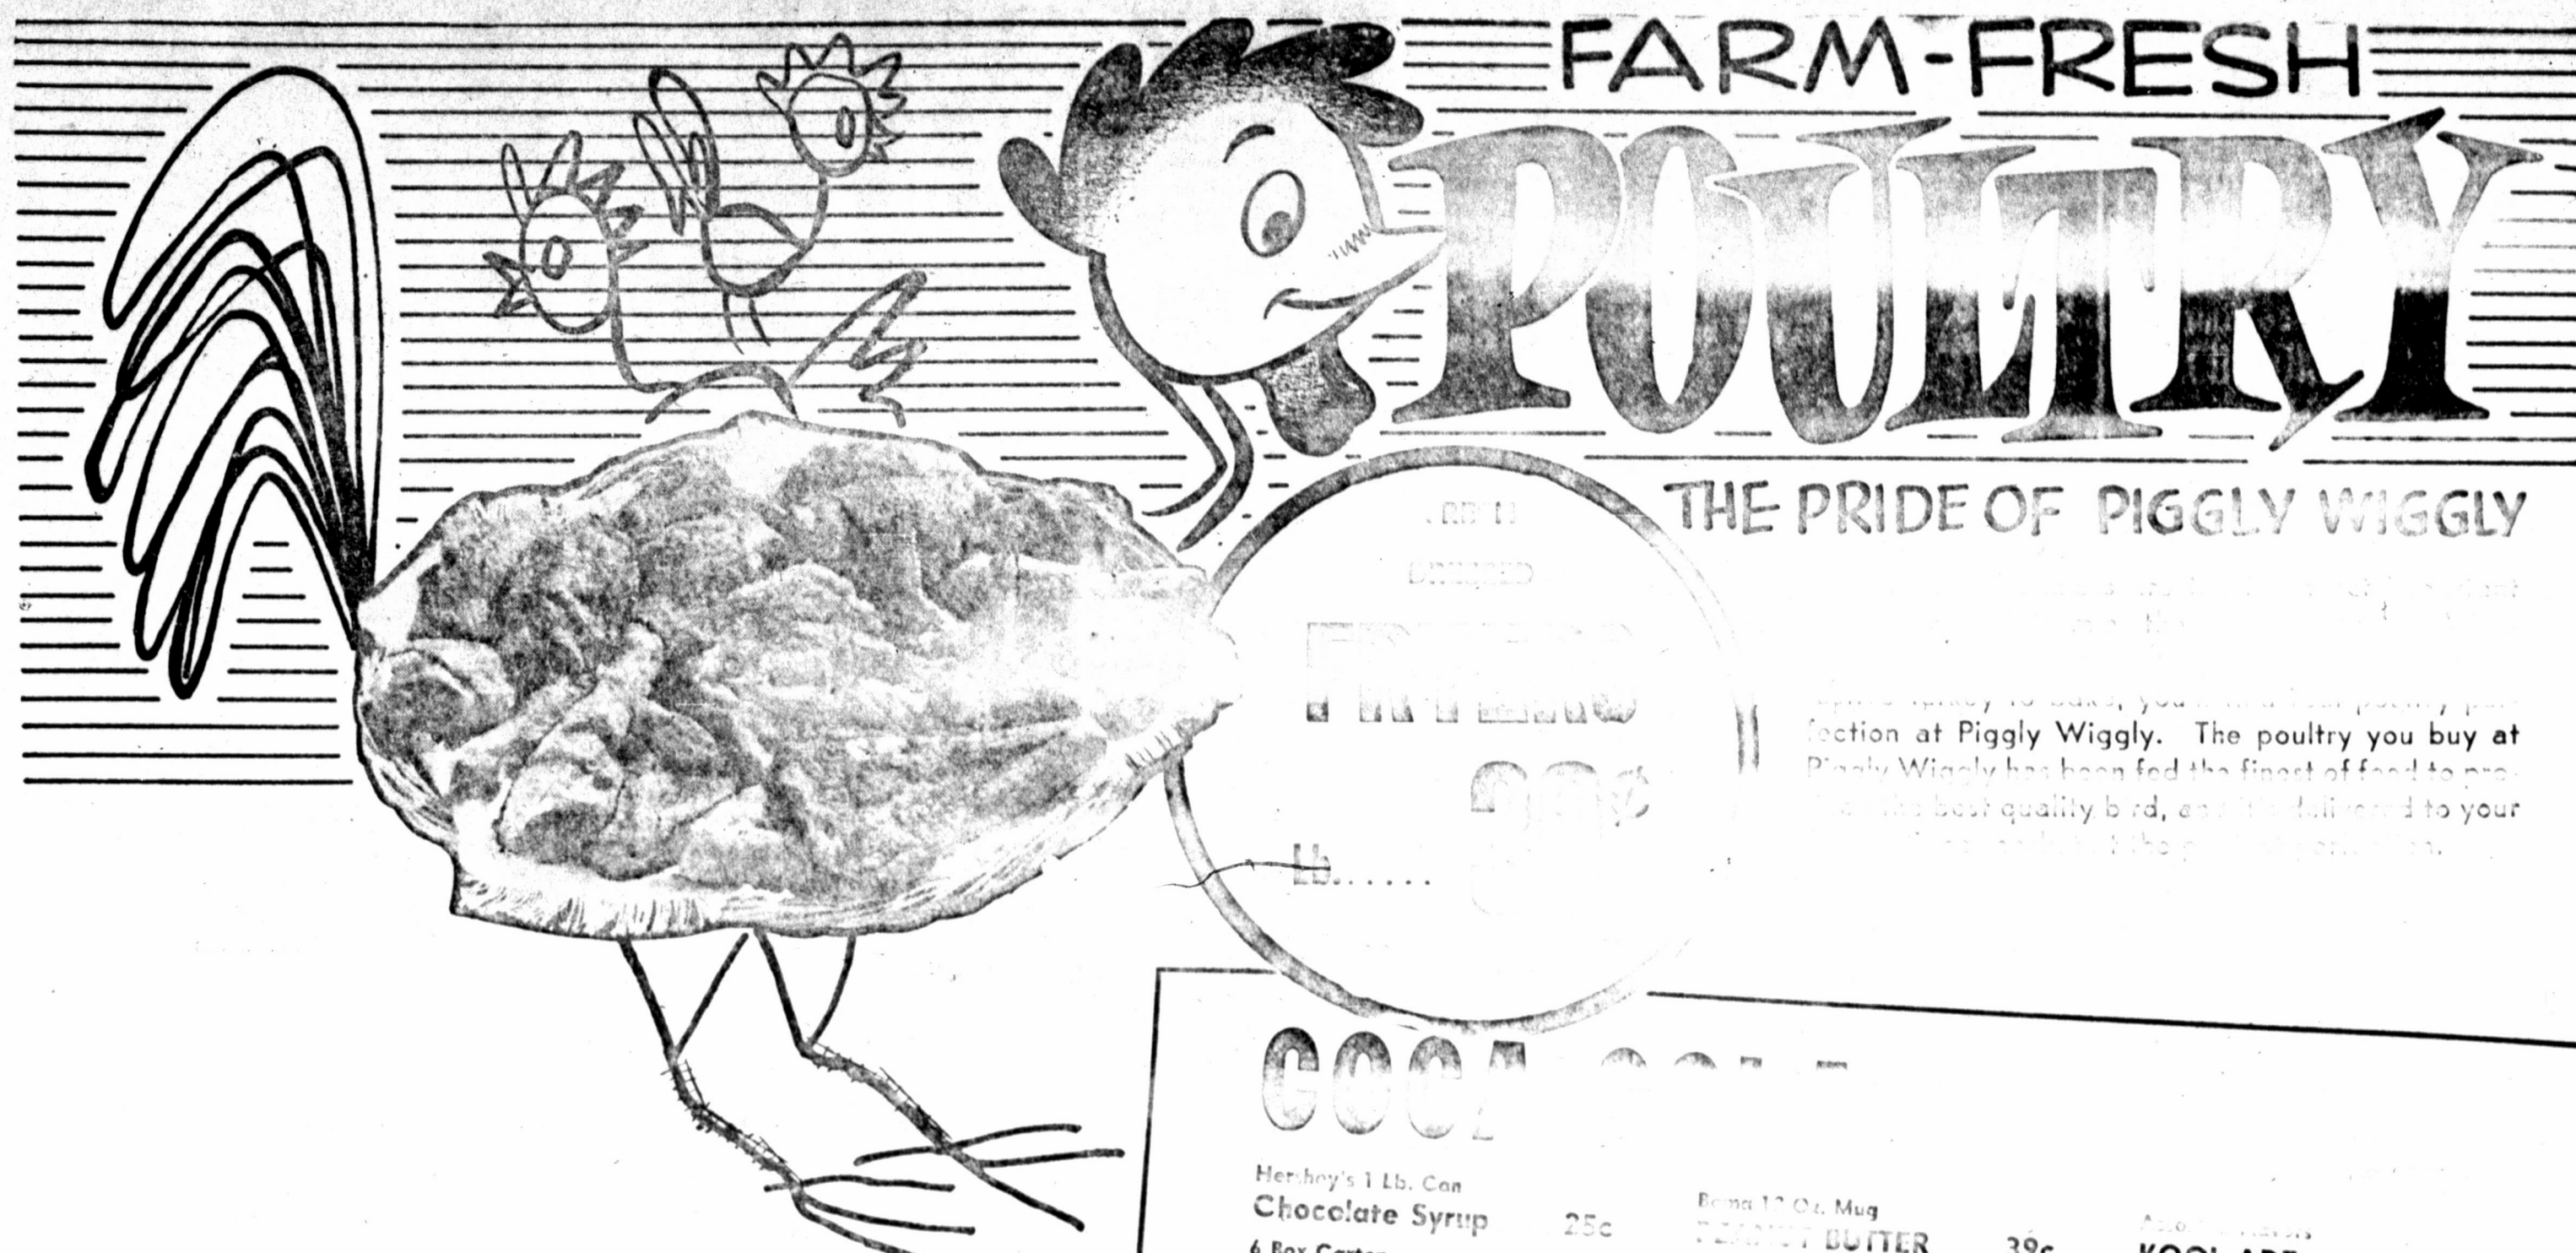

From what I heard this morning, it is apparent that the Truman endorsement of Harriman has not helped him too much and that Stevenson is holding firm in the top spot. Most competent observers give Stevenson more than 500 sure first-ballot votes and Harriman only about half as many. Gov. Chandler of Kentucky has only the 30 votes of his own state, and, although an avowed candidate, is not given any chance, whatsoever. Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri has some 55 votes on first ballot, and Senator Johnson will have Texas' 54 and possibly some 30 others from southern states on the first ballot. Johnson is considered the key man among the favorites, and this is proven by the fact that both Stevenson and Harriman called on him Monday. He also had a conference with former President Truman. Using a vernacular familiar to those of you who have been in the Army, I would say that the situation at this time is "very fluid." I attended Senator Johnson's press conference this morning, but he did not tell us anything new. He indicated that he was more interested in the contents of the Democratic platform than in anything else at this time. He would say nothing about the candidates, but he did tell us that he had not asked any state to vote for him—and would not do so. I get the impression that the senator is really not too much interested in being the Democratic nominee, that he is very much interested in a united Democratic party behind good candidates. He wants the Democrats to win this fall, and he knows that we must have a good sound platform and good sound candidates to run on that platform if we are to win. Texas Delegation Behind Johnson I was invited to attend the Texas caucus Monday morning, and it went off in a most harmonious way. The Texas delegation will be strongly behind Senator Johnson until they are released by him. Most of the delegates with whom I talked seem to think that the senator will release them after the first or second ballot and that Stevenson will get their votes after the release. The convention proper was opened at 12 noon Monday at International Amphitheatre, with Paul Butler, Democratic National Committee chairman, presiding. Coolest Spot Chicago The great amphitheatre was decorated in gala fashion and was the coolest spot I have found in Chicago. Through the courtesy of Senator Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, I was able to get a good seat, from which I could see and hear the proceedings. The first session was given over mostly to organizational matters, addresses of welcome from Mayor Daley of Chicago and Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois. The first session was adjourned at 2:30 p. m., and the second was convened at 7:30 p. m. Clement Termed Orator We first heard a fine speech from the Honorable Paul Butler, then a magnificent address by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, the temporary chairman and keynoter. Clement is a young man of 36, and is truly a great orator. He had something to say and knew how to say it. He spoke for 45 minutes and was applauded 43 times. He led Vice-President Nixon to the whipping post and the audience, which filled every available seat, loved it. Truman, who sat on the front row with the Missouri delegation, chortled with pleasure, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt beamed her approval. It was a wild, surging Democratic convention, uncommon for first-day sessions. Gov. Clement brought the delegates and the gallery to their feet, screaming and stamping time after time as he let loose a merciless torrent of abuse at the Republican Vice-President, who is an aspirant for renomination. The widow of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt seemed to join Mr. Truman in deep enjoyment of Gov. Clement's quips, as when the keynoter pinned the epithet of "vice hatchet man" on Nixon, and also when he termed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "the greatest unguided missile in the history of American diplomacy."

Mrs. Roosevelt's smile faded, however, when Clement spoke of "unbounded and unmerciful" assaults on her late husband. "He sat there in his wheel chair, taller than any of his critics could stand," said the keynoter, his voice throbbing with emotion in the reference to Roosevelt. Truman bobbed his head, trying to choke back laughter or hide an expression of pride, when Gov. Clement continued: "Did they (Republicans) jump on Harry S. Truman? And he jumped right back, didn't he?" I had never heard the Tennessee governor before, but all here apparently are agreed that he is one of the nation's top orators and that he did what a keynote speaker is supposed to do: He aroused the enthusiasm of the delegates and of Democrats everywhere who saw him perform on television. After he had concluded his address, Gov. Clement introduced Mrs. Roosevelt to the convention, and her speech also was well received. There also are some campaigns being waged here for various vice-presidential aspirants. Senator Kefauver wants the spot badly, and there is some indication that Stevenson might take him for his apparent vote-getting ability in the farm states. Adlai Stevenson Likes Humphrey Stevenson is said to prefer Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota or Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. I understand that Gov. Harriman prefers Symington. Nearly everyone seems to think that former President Truman, also of Missouri, probably would insist on Harriman taking Symington as his running mate. Clements is also a possibility, and since his keynote speech went over so well he certainly will be considered. One thing is certain: The Democrats will come away from this convention in a fighting mood and will be united behind their ticket. Harmony seems to be the primary goal of all and, up to this moment, there seem to be no irreconcilable differences among them in 1956. (Rep. Gillham will report more fully and will conclude his coverage of the convention next week.)

HOW TO WATCH A RODEO . . .

"There never was a horse that couldn't be rode and there never was a cowboy that could not be thrown."
Thus, in the hallowed idiom of the sport, the cowboy sums up the challenge of saddle bronc riding, the contest of man versus beast that has become the accepted trademark of both rodeo and the American West.
Eighty-odd years ago, when bronc riding was considered more a business than a sport knowing how to hang onto a saddled outlaw was a necessary cowboy skill. Breaking wild or untamed horses to the saddle was something just about every hand had to be able to do.

But in these days of mechanization and jeeps, when horses are kept mostly for show or racing riding is a full fledged sport, complete with a bookful of rules and a trunkful of traditions. Somehow both seem to favor the horse.
Whenever bronc riders reminisce about the greats of a past era, you'll hear them talk about Steamboat. Five Minutes to Midnight, and of a more recent time, Miss Klamath, a mean mare that dusted every champion who tried her before she died last year.
But the greatest of them all was a little black bronc named Midnight who started out as the saddle horse of a Canadian School Marm. One day, the story goes, the then gentle horse shied at a tumble weed and pitched his mistress in the ditch, an outlaw from that moment on.
In better than a dozen years of bucking off the best riders in the business, Midnight's record was unmarred: nobody ever made a qualified ride on her.
When you know the rules that restrict the saddle bronc rider in a modern rodeo, you begin to wonder why more horses haven't equalled the record of Miss Klamath and Midnight. The deck seems stacked against the rider.
He can either bring his own or borrow a saddle but it must conform to definite specifications set by the Rodeo Cowboys' Association that rule out high pommels or cantles or any "freak" rigging that makes it easier to ride.
For eight to ten seconds (according to local rules) he must not only hold his seat on the hurricane deck but do his best to spur the bronc from shoulder to flank. He has a course, braided rope rein to hang on to, which he can't wrap around his rein hand or even touch with his free hand.

Unless he spurs the bronc over the point of the shoulders on the first jump out of the chute, he's disqualified. He earns a gooseegg in the judges' books, too, if he touches any part of the saddle, the rein or the horse with his free hand, or if he loses stirrup during the ride.
His ride is judged by two experienced cowboys who watch every move from opposite sides of the horse, marking the rider from one to twenty points and the horse from 65 to 85 points.
The horse, of course, can do anything to get rid of the rider, who has one small consolation. If the bronc deliberately throws itself to the ground, the cowboy can ask for a re-ride.

Brownfield Championship Rodeo Will Be In Brownfield August 30, 31 And Sept. 1

Sponsored By The Terry County Sheriff's Posse

The present heat wave never could be considered conducive to football. Be that as it may, B'fidities are talking about the upcoming season and wondering what it has in store for the Cubs. Then there is the Green Belt Bowl game Friday night which pits the Texas all-stars against the Oklahoma all-stars. That will be played at Childress. Friday the 31st, the Cubs start training. Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the B'fid Quarterback Club is considering a date for its kick-off meeting. How about Monday August 27th? What about the boys who want that last week end before the season starts for dates and fun. In any event, by this time next week we should have a definite date and everyone shall be so informed. When that date is announced how about a huge turnout. Come on out and meet the players and coaches, they'll be there for that purpose. Incidentally, members of the club are peddling season tickets at $7.50 per seat (repeat) when you are approached, buy one or more books.
Chit Chat: . . . How about that trophy window in the Chamber of Commerce building. If you haven't seen it, we suggest you do. . . . Joe and Marie have done a wonderful job of displaying the Little League trophy and a whole host of trophies won by the Sheriff's Posse. . . .
Rodeo dates . . . August 30, 31 and September 1. . . . Make plans accordingly. The Brownfield Country Club will be sprouting green all over soon. The new irrigation system is complete, at last, and play should improve with the hope for smooth greens and fair ways. . . . How about it golfers? even though you are not a member of the club you may still play golf. . . . just go out and pay the green fee. . . . it isn't too high either. Congratulations to our publisher and editor. . . . by name. . . . Curt Sterling and Don Bynum. . . . look elsewhere in the sheet and you will see why.

Tough Enforcement Of Traffic Around Schools Announced

Backed by an ordinance with "teeth in it," city and school officials made their plans this week for extremely strict traffic enforcement in all Brownfield school areas this fall. Latest action taken by officials was the hiring of two guards for the Lubbock and Tahoka highway crossings used by children at Jessie G. Randall and other schools. T. D. Doss of 410 West Lake soon will be a familiar figure to students using the Lubbock road crossing. John Black, former policeman here, will handle the Tahoka road side of Jessie G.

Study Is Necessary School personnel plan no guard at present time at Colonial Heights elementary—"not until after a study of the traffic situation there." New signs telling of the motorist's responsibilities and of the laws which he should not break and of the speed limits are being placed around all the Brownfield schools—the signs will be legible from all directions. The stiff ordinance is No. 1263, City of Brownfield: "An ordinance designating and establishing school zones and altering prima facie speed limits at 15, 20 and 30 miles per hour during school hours in such zones; Emergency Declared

"Establishing and providing for traffic control signs in said school zones; designating and establishing pedestrian cross-walk points; defining school hours; making it unlawful to pass another vehicle in such zone; or to drive at a rate of speed in excess of the prima facie speed limits; "Or to pass through a cross-walk when a pedestrian is therein; or to deface, injure, knock down or remove any portable traffic control sign; providing penalties and a savings clause; repealing all parts of any ordinance conflicting herewith; declaring an emergency."

The event, sponsored by Brownfield Chapter 287 of LULAC, was held in the Rio Theater, where Dr. A. Duran, president of the Lubbock chapter, urged his audience to "get your children out of the fields this September and into the schools." Here also was the organization's district governor, A. G. Ramirez of Lubbock. Emcee was Ed Gutierrez of Brownfield, vice-president of the Brownfield chapter, assisted by Ernest Barton, 287's president, shown in the picture above. With him is 8-year-old Gloria Gutierrez, who is calling lucky numbers for prizes donated by local and area merchants. Money derived will help the young Brownfield chapter — its charter arrived Monday — to pave the way for further work among the Latin Americans. The Pete Morales Combo of Lubbock, along with singer Amadeo V. Ledesma, entertained. (Staff Photo)

How is it with you today? Is the fog too heavy for you to find your way to church? Does Saturday's dissipation bear too heavily for you to dare try worshipping God on Sunday? Have clouds obscured from your eyes the light of the cross? Do you shun all responsibility of citizenship in becoming a better community, a better church, a better world? How big is the question mark before you face? There is a way that seemeth right to a man but the ways thereof are the ways of death. If you have no concern for truth and honor... if your end is gain at the expense of your fellowman... if your horizon is the patch of weeds a few feet before you... then your contribution to mankind and God is questionable, and if all men were like you, the millennium might never come. We are charged with being our brother's keeper, building churches, and bringing in His Kingdom. God will reward every man according to his stewardship while here. Why not clear up the question? See the cross caught in the focus of the great lights. It beckons you and me. And make no mistake, we'll reap just what we sow. Don't fail your church. Don't fail God. Don't fail yourself... attend church regularly.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that strong and old alike are observed with devotion. It is here that the family and influence for a better citizenship are being developed. It is here that the moral and the material of the church are being built. It is here that the office of man is being glorified. It is here that the office of man is being glorified. It is here that the office of man is being glorified. It is here that the office of man is being glorified.

Tough Enforcement Of Traffic Around Schools Announced

Backed by an ordinance with "teeth in it," city and school officials made their plans this week for extremely strict traffic enforcement in all Brownfield school areas this fall.

Latest action taken by officials was the hiring of two guards for the Lubbock and Tahoka highway crossings used by children at Jessie G. Randall and other schools.

T. D. Doss of 410 West Lake soon will be a familiar figure to students using the Lubbock road crossing. John Black, former policeman here, will handle the Tahoka road side of Jessie G.

Study Is Necessary

School personnel plan no guard at present time at Colonial Heights elementary—not until after a study of the traffic situation there.

New signs telling of the motorist's responsibilities and of the laws which he should not break and of the speed limits are being placed around all the Brownfield schools—the signs will be legible from all directions.

The stiff ordinance is No. 1203. City of Brownfield: "An ordinance designating and establishing school zones and altering prima facie speed limits at 15, 20 and 30 miles per hour during school hours in such zones."

Emergency Declared

"Establishing and providing for traffic control signs in said school zones; designating and establishing pedestrian cross-walk points; defining school hours; making it unlawful to pass another vehicle in such zone; or to drive at a rate of speed in excess of the prima facie speed limits.

"Or to pass through a cross-walk when a pedestrian is therein; or to deface, injure, knock down or remove any portable traffic control sign; providing penalties and a savings clause; repealing all parts of any ordinance conflicting herewith; declaring an emergency."

Rev. Vernon Henderson of Brownfield, superintendent of the Brownfield district, will be the Sunday morning preacher.

Rev. Henderson To Address Group

"Developing a Church School Program" will be the theme for the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference meeting of church school superintendents to be held at Ceta Canyon Methodist camp near Happy August 25-26.

This conference is for the general superintendent of the church school, the membership cultivation superintendent, and the adult division superintendent.

Rev. Paul O. Cardwell of Dallas, North Texas Methodist Conference Board of Education Executive Secretary, will be the visiting resource person, and will work with general superintendents, Charles E. Lutzick will be working with the membership cultivation superintendents, E. M. Connell of Anson, Northwest Texas Conference director of adult work will lead the section for adult superintendents.

The ? Mark

How is it with you today? Is the fog too heavy for you to find your way to church? Does Saturday's dissipation bear too heavily for you to dare try worshipping God on Sunday? Have clouds obscured from your eyes the light of the cross? Do you share an responsibility of citizenship in building a better community, a better church, a better world? How big is the question mark before you? There is a way that seemeth right to a man but the ways thereof are the ways of death. If you have no concern for truth and honor... if your eyes are dim at the expense of your fellowman... if your horizon is the path of woe... a new light before you... then your contribution to mankind and God is questionable and if all men were like you, the millennium might never come. We are charged with being our brother's keeper, building churches, and bringing in His Kingdom. God will reward every man according to his stewardship while here. Why not clear up the question? See the cross caught in the focus of the great lights. It beckons you and me. And make no mistake, we'll reap just what we sow. Don't fail your church. Don't fail God. Don't fail your self... attend church regularly.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

It is a privilege to be a member of the church. It is a duty that every Christian should fulfill. The church is the body of Christ, and it is through the church that we receive the grace of God. We are called to be active members, to contribute to the building up of the church, and to bring in the Kingdom of God. Let us strive to be faithful and obedient to the church, and we shall receive the fullness of God's love and blessing.

Sorghum Alnum Is Attracting Considerable Attention Here

Five acres of sorghum alnum is attracting considerable attention on the Joe Dale Doak farm east of Meadow.

Said to be a natural cross between johnsongrass and sudangrass, the sorghum received its first publicity here some two weeks ago. The only available literature at the time did not place it in the most favorable light.

Since then, however, articles in the Progressive Farmer magazine (June 1956) and a San Antonio newspaper report have brought it to attention.

One of the articles, "A new johnsongrass hybrid which originally came from Argentina, and now being tested by Southwest Research Center, may help drought-stricken South Texas ranchers solve their range feed problems."

The news item continues: "The plant is a cross between the grass apparently will flourish in areas that have little water and that it produces more tonnage than anything the research center has. The director also says that it can be cut out as silage or for hay."

The article concludes: "The plant is one of the 200 different grasses under test in the center's local nursery."

Virginia Rohey, writing in Progressive Farmer, says: "Growing eight feet tall, the sorghum alnum has many characteristics of sudan and other characteristics of cane. It was planted in late June at the rate of a pound per acre, or one seed every 18 inches in 42-inch rows."

She continues: "The most attractive feature of the crop to those who watched it was its resistance to dry weather. It continued to flourish in heat that ruined combine maize and damaged cotton."

In a recent letter to Doak from the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education at San Antonio, Agronomist Carlton H. Hertel writes:

"Our experience here has been that it is high in production the first year but that it decreased in production each succeeding year. Contrariwise, other research organizations have found that it maintains its production over several years time."

The letter concluded: "While this new grass may not be the answer to our total needs, it does appear to have considerable promises and is worthy of further study and observation."

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday, happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work, and things were fixed up in 2 1/2 hours.

Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on Monday after that day. Lots of "sorry it's late" have been sent them by folks who have found they were behind.

From where I sit, sometimes our obligations slip our minds. Like the responsibility we all have to our communities... to see that our neighbors enjoy the right to decide for themselves how to work, how to vote, whether or not to enjoy a bottle of beer. Any time we "forget" we owe this right to others, we take a chance on stopping the flow of tolerance that makes this country such a grand place for us to live in.

Parker-Bartlett Vows Read Sunday

Miss Joy Parker, 803 N. First became the bride of Sgt. Kenneth Bartlett of Meadow Sunday, August 12, in the home of Mrs. Vallie Victory, 820 E. Main. Rev. J. W. Waters, pastor of the Evangelical Methodist Church, officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother in law, Leonard Arnold, the bride wore a waltz length dress of pale blue nylon floral lace over blue taffeta. The fitted bodice featured self covered buttons from the Peter Pan collar to the center front point of the lengthened torso. The bouffant skirt was of lace over blue taffeta. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations.

Mrs. Leonard Arnold was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a Fernch blue sheath dress and a pink carnation corsage.

Calvin Bartlett attended his brother as best man.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bartlett of Meadow, parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. G. H. Butler, sister of the bride; Roy Butler, Ray Butler, Mrs. Mary Cadenhead, Mrs. Vivian Waters and daughter, Janice, and Jimmy Dale Rogers, all of Brownfield; Kay Smith of Meadow; and Stanley and Steven Arnold of Fort Worth.

For a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N.M., the bride wore a white sheath dress with red polka dots and a red taffeta cummerbund, a white helmet hat, and black accessories.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock, where the bridegroom is stationed at Reese Air Force Base.

GEE GEE'S Chit Chat!

School days are just about upon us and I would call your attention to an article in this week's News giving some pertinent information regarding placing your child in school. There have been a few innovations. For instance, instead of two, there will be four busses running in town: the Rotary bus and three regular school busses. These busses will carry the first five graders. Also, though the new West Ward cafeteria will not be completed for another month or six weeks, each school will have a cafeteria. Official date for the opening of school is September 3, with grades one through five registering that day. Junior High and High school will have pre-registration August 20-24, which, of course, is next week. So if you'll just peruse this information, which the school officials have compiled and given to us here at the News, you should be able to get your kids started in school and your selves started on the old grind of beating said kids with a wet rope each morning (to get them up and off) and each evening (to get them in and to bed). Ah me, only two more years and I'll join the ranks, myself.

Hope you've noticed the ad of Senor E. R. Gonzales in this week's Journal re: his hot tamale stand on the Seagraves Road, right next to Ted Hardy's Grocery. Real honest goodness, cooked-in-corn-shucks tamales, fresh and ready to go home with you. This may strike you sort of like our local store's window displays of fall clothing, but believe me, those northerners are just around the corner and I do want you to be prepared. So tuck away the name of Loma Linda Hot Tamale Stand for future reference.

Listening to the man on the street proves that the two biggest subjects for conversations these days are politics and the weather. The national Democratic convention in Chicago has overshadowed local and state politics to some extent, thanks to television which has brought the Chicago going-on right to us. There's no doubt that a Tennessee's Governor Frank G. Clement kindled some mighty bright fires when he keynoted the convention . . . fires in both the Democratic and Republican camps. As the little Irish washwoman would have said, he not only kissed the blarney stone, he ate some of it. I'm sure I'm not the only one who felt, when he had concluded his speech, and wished that I had the gift of speech that he has. But the thing that Gov. Clement said that really stuck with me was his plea to get out and fight for your party, no matter what party it is and, if your party doesn't inspire that fight in you, for Pete's sake, find one that does. It's something that I'm always harping on: I don't care who you vote for, just vote!

Don't forget that the day is August 25.

Fortunately, I don't have much to talk about this week . . . our space is very limited. But I would like to leave you with this little query: do you suppose a heated difference in political beliefs is what caused Rev. Jimmy Tidwell's barber to get overloaded with mirth last week and clip the venerable cleric "just a wee bit close"?

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McCormick and daughter of Cleveland, Ohio, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cornett.

WHY DO WE LIKE PRESTON SMITH?

Because, as a legislator, he proved he had us in mind when he . . .

- was co-author of the Gilmer - Aikin Resolution which helped our schools and our teachers.
- was author and sponsor of legislation that provided for permanent building programs for all state colleges, including Texas Tech, which already has received $4,500,000 and will receive more.

Then, too, when we grow up, we'll benefit from other things Preston Smith accomplished as a legislator.

By Barney Doss
Are you not exaggerating the problem of fitting shoes?
I think that I may be over-enthusiastic about the subject but I have a defense against such thinking. Newspapers frequently carry stories of cab drivers who are hit creditably for doctors at the birth of a baby. "Mother and child are doing fine."

Pool Personals

Rev. W. E. Lynn preached here Sunday with 41 present. Rev. and Mrs. Lynn and family ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Duncan and family Sunday. Other visitors in the Duncan home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Green and Cordell, Archie Maynard, Raymond and Wayne Rhoades, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Trussell.

AND THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

Vol. 19 Brownfield News-Heeral'd, Thursday, Aug. 16, 1956 No. 33

the farming angle

By DON RYNUM

Terry farmers soon will share in $22,238,000, the amount allocated to Texas as part of the first payments by the federal government for participation in the soil bank.

Howard Doggett, director of the Agriculture Department's soil bank program, said the first set of instructions on payments are in the mail today (Sunday) to 3,000 county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices.

He added: "The checks will go out about the same time and should be received by all farmers who signed up in the acreage reserve program about a week or so ago."

Preliminary reports show that nearly half a million farmers in 45 states and Puerto Rico have agreed to take out of production more than 10 million acres of cropland now devoted to wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco, all surplus crops.

Only one state, Nebraska, will receive a larger share of the total than Texas, $32,393,000. The smallest share will go to Vermont, $1,650.

The 17th gin to become operative in Terry County will be opened with a gala party all day Saturday. The newest addition is South Gin, Inc., which is located south of John Deere Implement and south of Brownfield.

Jay Harris of the Round Rock area, a ginner from 'way back, will manage the new firm, said Pres. Jess McWherter. Congratulations, South Gin—and success!

Experts say that cutting alfalfa at the proper time is a major factor in determining the nutritive value of hay for beef cattle. This is backed up by Dr. R. M. Richard, animal nutritionist at the University of Arizona. Says the doctor: "Studies with steers fed only alfalfa hay have shown that as much as 90 per cent more hay may be required to produce 100 pounds gain when hay is cut at seed stage rather than at one-tenth bloom."

The farmer is covetous of his dollar and with reason—he knows how many strokes of labor it represents. His bones ache with the day's work that earned it.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The lowly grasses under man's foot will be starred as the guardians of civilization in the 1956 Agricultural Show at the Texas State Fair in Dallas, Oct. 6-21.

Thirty of the more useful species of Southwestern grasses will be the dominant display among the show's seven major attractions, Manager Ray W. Wilson said today.

He listed the grasses as follows: Indian, Canada Wildrye, Weeping love little bluestem, big bluestem, switch, four flower trichloris, Arizona Cottontop hooded windmill, blue grama, eastern gamma, marsh may cord, Lindheimer muhly, cane bluestem, curly mesquite, sprangletop, sideoats grama, vince mesquite, buffalo, black grama, tall hairy grama, alkali sacaton, tobosa, white tridens, fall witch, western wheat. ## Brownfield Rodeo Will Be Announced By Southwest Great

DAN COATES

When the Brownfield World Championship Rodeo starts rolling Aug. 30, the man at the microphone will be Dan Coates of Fort Worth, considered one of the finest in his profession in the Southwest.

Announcing rodeos has been a pleasant task for Dan for a period of over 15 years. His travels have taken him into Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, and the great state of Texas. He has seen a lot of exciting events in his years of announcing the professional sport.

He knows most of the cowboys by their first name and knows of the records that they have made in contesting.

You will find that he has a style all his own. He does not copy or pattern after any other announcer, but tries to be himself in the events so that they will be interesting for those who have seen rodeos and for the newcomer who does not understand this western sport.

Emceed Shrine Circus

In addition to announcing rodeos, he also announced the Shrine Circus in Fort Worth and the State Golden Gloves

Tournament in Fort Worth, and Amarillo.

He is announcing each Monday night for the wrestling matches in Fort Worth and can be seen on television Channel 11. He is the president of his Lions club, and produces their minstrel each year, acting as interlocutor.

Dan's description of the rodeo is not a gabby or tiresome one. He pictures the action so that it will be thrilling, interesting and just what his audience asks for.

Meat From Stilbestrol-Fed Steers Free Of Hormones, Testing by USDA Reveals

No detectable amount of the hormone-like chemical stilbestrol is present in meat from steers fed this substance in fattening rations.

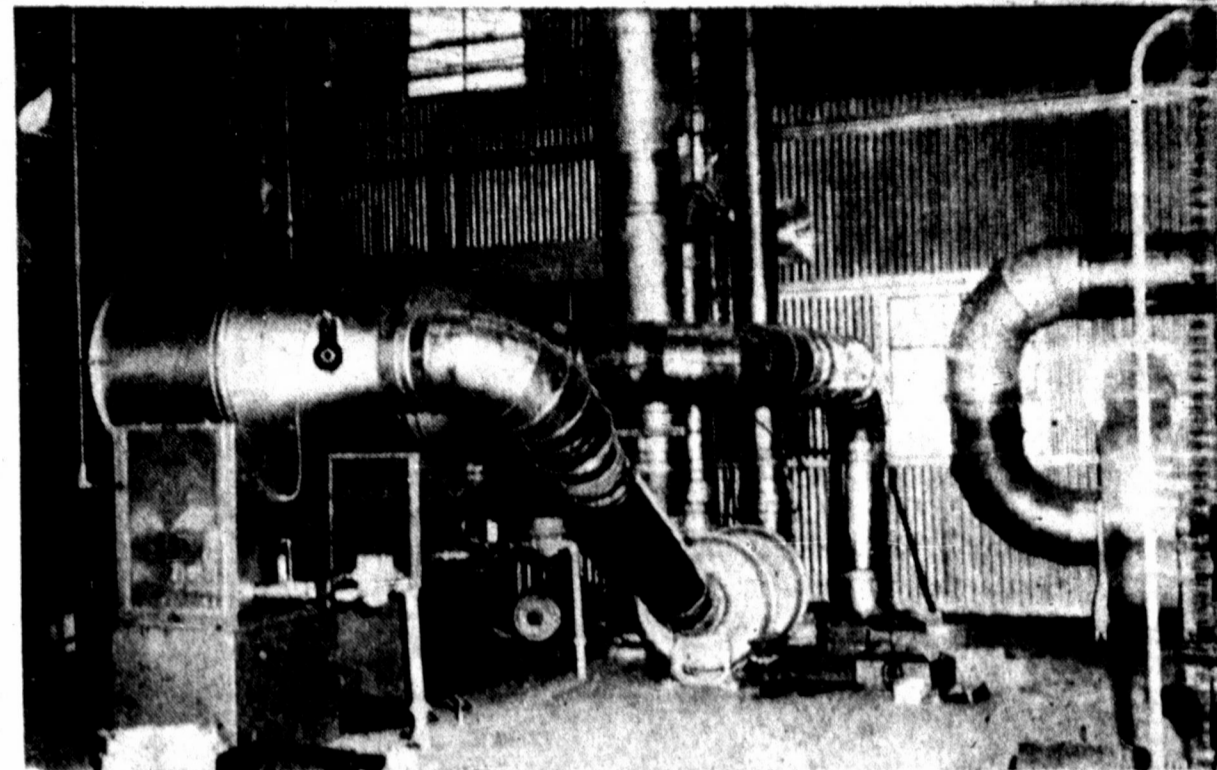

Extensive tissue tests made by the Food and Drug Administration and reported by the USDA confirmed findings by a number of state experiment stations in their research with stilbestrol.

Sensitivity of the tissue-essay method used by the Food and Drug testers would have detected traces of the drug as small as two parts in a billion parts of meat tested. Too, more than 700 mice were used for testing the meat samples for estrogenic activity.

The meat tissues tested came from steers fed at the Beltsville Research Center. They had received doses of 10, 30 and 60 milligrams of stilbestrol in their daily rations for three months or longer and ending about 48 hours before slaughter. The larger doses used are three to six times greater than the 10 milligrams recommended per day to promote rapid, economical growth.

These heavy doses of the drug are prohibited in commercial feeding. Furthermore, USDA beef cattle nutritionists point out that the heavy dosages are less effective than the recommended daily allowance of 10 milligrams.

IN THE PICTURES—The all-new, all-automatic, all-electric and all-pushbutton South Gin, Inc., will be opened to public inspection all of Saturday. Three general views of the newest Terry gin—there are 16 others in the county—are pictured at right. In top panel: blowers and burners for the drying units. Middle panel: the "Print-O-Matic" and automatic scales and the five gin stands, each with its electric motor. Lower panel: general view of gin, located south of John Deere Implement house on Foster road. Corporation officers are Jess McWherter, president; Noah Lemley, vice president, and H. L. (Hub) King, secretary and treasurer. Board members are Vernon Farrar, Kenneth Purcell, Foster Wynn, Carl Golden, L. D. Hamm Jr., Milton Addison and Howard Hurd. Said Pres. McWherter this morning: "We're offering custom ginning this season. We invite the public to visit with us Saturday. Refreshments will be served." (Staff Photo)

Dear Farm Operator:

During this period of "around the clock" operation of your pumps and sprinkler systems, many of you are experiencing difficulty in obtaining the performance you know you should be getting from your equipment.

Often times a relatively minor defect will cause a potentially good pump and sprinkler system combination to perform unsatisfactorily. This can be true even to the point of causing an operator to suffer considerable loss of crop, attempting to defer a major repair expense when actually a very small expense is all that is involved.

If you are one of these farm operators who is deferring a major repair expense but you are not certain as to the cause of your trouble, W. H. B. Pump and Machinery, Inc., invites you to take advantage of their knowledge and know how.

As a service to you, a farmer of this area, we at W.H.B. Pump and Machinery, Inc., will be happy to come to your farm, inspect your pump and sprinkler system, and advise you of our findings. This at no cost or obligation to you, regardless of the brand of equipment you are operating.

Very sincerely yours,

"It doesn't affect me"

A SMART BUSINESSMAN like John McDonald saying that's why he didn't belong to the chamber of commerce stopped me. A man with a big trucking firm like his, with a lot of his clientele here in town, and he says... "The chamber's activities don't affect me."

HE BUILT his business from scratch, of course, and I had to remember that his long struggle for success had made him a pretty independent operator. I listened till he gave me an opening with... "Just what's this outfit doing to help me?"

WORKING on the traffic problem. I told him Working for off street parking, for better streets and for a real highway program that'll make it easier to push trucks around all day and will benefit the community, besides.

NEXT STEP was to show just how and what the chamber was doing to bring more manufacturing to town, to help local businessmen to add impetus to community development. Then it was easy to demonstrate how more industry meant more jobs and this in turn, more people to put more money into circulation.

THE NET RESULT is a greater all around community prosperity. When John saw the light he agreed... "These benefits rub off on every company's business affect every citizen's life and future. It looks like there's every reason for me to join the chamber." And he did!

DUES ARE STUDIED — Board members of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce currently are engaged in a searching study of dues. This they know: Despite the many generous contributions in time and money by chamber members, there never seems to be enough of the green stuff. They are reminded, also, that "You never get nothing for free." The members of the Brownfield chamber, however, can be expected to meet any financial crisis with their usual aplomb.

THE AMERICAN WAY

BUILDER BAKER

By George Peck

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The Laymen's National Committee has announced that Melvin H. Baker will serve as National Chairman of 16th Annual National Bible Week to be observed from October 15 to 21. Readers of this column will identify Mr. Baker as Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of National Gypsum Company, Buffalo, New York.

George Peck

The story of Melvin H. Baker could very well have been written by Horatio Alger. His rise from a most humble beginning to the top echelon of industry is truly typical of what an individual can accomplish under this nation's economic system, known to us as "The American Way."

Baker was born in the hill country of Eastern Tennessee. There was nothing exceptional about his boyhood, except that he was required to do a man's work in helping around his parent's tenant farm. Although his chums dropped out of school at early ages, it is significant that young Baker stuck to his studies while doing a full day's work after school. In this he was encouraged by his parents.

After finishing his last year in the local schoolhouse, he attended a seminary in the vicinity. He walked more than 20 miles to enter and while there he fired furnaces and did other odd jobs to support himself and assist his parents.

His first job after leaving school was as assistant to an auctioneer for a warehouse. Next he landed a job as a distributor for a window screen manufacturer in a new territory of four Southeastern States. On this job he began to establish a reputation for industry and honest dealings, the foundation for any lasting business success.

Through his contacts in the building materials field, he met Joe Haggerty, vice-president of the old Beaver Products Company—makers of Beaver Board—and joined that organization as a Southern States Sales representative. Within three years he was promoted to general sales manager.

This company thrived until the postwar slump of 1921, when it was caught with so much in short term loans that the banks closed it out. Having experienced the failure of a prosperous concern as a result of short-term financing, Baker's next move was to seek expert information on the mysterious... See AMERICAN, Page 5

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—The eyes of Texas are on Chicago this week. And, politically speaking the state nestles in one man's pocket.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson heads the 112-member Texas delegation, each of whom will cast one-half vote of the state's 56 nominating votes. They are pledged to support him as a favorite son nominee until he releases them.

Thereafter they will vote under the unit rule, probably for whatever candidate is favored by Sen. Johnson. All delegates and the 70 alternates were selected by the May convention with the senator's approval.

Another Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, figures prominently in convention affairs. He will be presiding over a presidential convention for the third time.

September Convention In Doubt—Who will win out and how at the September State subject of heated debate.

Actual outcome will not be known until the meeting gets under way in Fort Worth. Rival conservative and liberal delegations will struggle for nearly 600 seats. Convention control hinges on these places.

Precinct and county conventions named some 577 definitely liberal delegates, about 224 conservatives. But neither side can control the 1900-vote convention without the contested seats.

Mrs. Kathleen Voigt of San Antonio, liberal leader, charged last week the conservative executive committee planned to "steal" the convention. She asked that the May state convention, which was recessed rather than adjourned, be reconvened to take charge of the

AMERICANS SAVE MILLIONS

Savings Bond Program 15 Years Old

This is an anniversary year of which thrift is the birthday cake and security its candles. Its celebrants are millions of Americans in every conceivable occupation in every economic and social level. They are the investors in series E and H Savings Bonds.

Fifteen years ago, in 1941, the United States Treasury Department tentatively began a program to raise money for national defense and as a brake against inflation by borrowing from as many persons as possible. This was the birth of the series E Bonds. It also was the birth of what was to become the largest thrift program of all time.

Treasury officials are human, rumor to the contrary notwithstanding, and none among them could have foreseen, or even dreamed of, 15 years ago, the incredible growth of the Savings Bonds idea until today it has become an integral part of the American way of life.

According to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, more than 40 million Americans today own more than $40 billion in series E and situation. Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin dismissed Mrs. Voigt's charges as "the same old thing, every two years."

He promised the committee would give all contesting delegations a fair hearing and seat those legally entitled to places. He predicted the convention would be made up of middle-of-the-road conservatives "with no ax to grind."

As for the May convention, he felt the intervening precinct

H Bonds, the latter being added to the thrift program in 1952. And of these bond owners more than 8 million are saving more than $160 million a month through the payroll savings plan by means of the patriotic cooperation of the huge corporations or the small businesses where they work, and of organized labor as a friendly and persuasive associate.

It was to be expected in the fervor of the World War II years that a great many Americans would buy Savings Bonds, and a great many did. But when the war was over, and the fervor gone, they kept on buying them — that is the astonishing thing, and that is the astounding commonplace these millions of Americans are celebrating this year.

Thirteen new public buildings, to cost 36 millions, will make it possible to rid the National Capital of wartime eyesores known as "temporary" buildings. But then, so would the housecleaning every new administration promises.

 Reform Party called this "window dressing." They were still working for an investigation originating in Austin.

Re-Hearing Asked in Santa Fe Case—Awaiting the Supreme Court when it reconvenes in October will be a motion for re-hearing in the long-contested Santa Fe Railway case. In July the court upheld the right of unions to make closed shop agreements in the railway industry. Such contrasts are prohibited by the state

"right to work" law, but allowed by the federal railway act. In their motion, railway attorneys asked the court either to reverse the July ruling or modify it. They contended that union contracts should allow only for collection of "dues and assessments necessary to support collective bargaining action."

Smaller Cotton Crop Seen—King Cotton is wearing a drought-scarred crown. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture estimates put Texas' 1956 cotton crop at 3,600,000 bales, compared to 4,039,000 last year. Prospective yields ran to extremes. They were termed "extremely poor" in dryland areas "excellent" in irrigated sections.

Farmers who did not grow cotton will get the lion's share of Texas' soil bank payments. Of the $22 million to be paid to Texas farmers by the federal government within the next few weeks, more than $16 million will go for idle cotton acreage. Other payments: $5,524,000 for wheat, $372,000 for peanuts, $210,097 for rice.

Justice Department Suggested—Texas needs a department of justice to bolster local enforcement of state criminal laws. State Auditor C. H. Cavness made this suggestion last week in a report on the Department of Public Safety. He pointed out that legislative investigators had urged a move three years ago.

Cavness also noted that while the DSP funds and staff have grown, they have not kept pace with needs and responsibilities.

Federal Inquiry Of Us Trust—A federal grand jury investigation of the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. is scheduled for Sept. 24.

Federal officials would have the power to prosecute if they found the company had violated U. S. postal regulations or securities laws.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Malcom R. Wilkey of Houston declined to say what course inquiry might take.

Dr. Nick Kramer, agronomist for the Lubbock Experiment Station and one of the original developers of the fabulous Texas Hybrid grain sorghums, passes this word of caution along to farmers: "Next year, the new hybrids will be released and they should yield per acre by at least half. But don't be taken in when you buy the seed. Remember, the seed will be white, but the grain grown will be red. Don't buy just any seed. Make sure it is genuine Texas Hybrid by

In urban counties voting machines were changed with little difficulty. . . . state Health Department officials last week warned gardeners against use of some of the newer "organic phosphate" insecticides. Such sprays are safe only in the hands of professionals who use protective clothing, goggles and respirators, said the department. . . . Texas Dept. of Public Safety poligraph (lie detector) examiner Dee Wheeler has been named one of the outstanding authorities in his field in the country. Wheeler was cited in the book, "From Evidence to Proof," by Michigan professor Marshall Houts, former FBI man, lawyer and judge. . . . William L. McGill, state civil defense director, has been in M. It doesn't cost a cent to and you may save hundreds!

Would you trade 20 minutes of your time for a saving of hundreds?

August is Saving Season at your Ford Dealer. Bag a deal while he clears his decks for the '57 models.

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis. . . the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford seat pays off in your kind of driving: in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 hp. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball Joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment. . . shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

In 1925, with Haggerty and Williams, both casualties of the defunct Beaver-Products Co., he set up the National Gypsum Company. To do this he gave up a secure job with a good company and bright prospects for advancement. It is required real intestinal fortitude to sacrifice this security for an enterprise that only existed in the imagination of three men. But Baker had that courage.

HOW TO WATCH A RODEO . . .

Falling from the saddle of a galloping horse to the sharp, pointed horns of a snuffy, 900 pound steer impresses most people as a hazardous way of making a living. But to the rodeo contestants who specialize in steer wrestling, it's just another job.

The steer wrestler prepares for his work as carefully—and as matter of factly—as a banker studies a possible investment, in both cases it's largely a question of making the right decision at the right time.

Practice is essential to this event and some bulldogging experts even improve their practice sessions by studying movies of other steer wrestling greats, carefully noting flaws in timing and tricks of balance.
