St. Ann's plans annual German sausage dinner

St. Ann's Catholic Church is having their annual German sausage dinner Sunday January 27 from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at St. Ann's Parish Hall on 3rd Street in Bovina.

The menu is: homemade German sausage, creamed potatoes and gravy, green beans, homemade sauerkraut, cranberry sauce, relish plate, homemade bread, homemade desserts, tea or coffee. Donations are $10 for adults and $5 for children under six.

Takeout plates will be available at no additional charge. Sausage will be available to purchase the day of the dinner or by contacting any St. Ann's member prior to the dinner.

Burn ban lifted to Sunday Jan 20

County Judge Trey Ellis lifted the county burn ban from Friday January 11 through Sunday January 20. The ban goes back into effect Monday January 21. It can be lifted again if the area receives an adequate amount of additional moisture.

A new playground has been installed at Reeve Lake behind Fast Stop. Funding for the project was a joint effort between the City of Friona, the Friona Economic Development Corporation, and several local businesses that donated to the Amarillo Area Foundation. A pavilion will be added later and a Texas Parks & Wildlife grant will be sought for walking trails. Businesses contributing to this project are listed on page two.

Primary school book fair

The Friona primary school staff invites you to the annual Book Fair. It begins Monday, January 21 to Friday January 25. The hours are 8:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until noon on Friday.

There will be two parent nights when the book fair will be open later: Tuesday January 22 from 5 - 7 p.m. and Wednesday January 23 from 4 - 6 p.m. An added feature this year is the opportunity to browse and shop online. The website is www.scholastic.com/fair.

Proceeds from the book fair go to benefit the students at Friona Primary School. The book fair is an opportunity to give kids access to good books, which will motivate them to read more. For questions or more information call the primary school office at 806-250-3935.

January School Board Recognition Month

January 2013 is School Board Recognition Month, a time to spotlight the service of locally elected leaders who deeply care about Texas children and our public schools. More than 7,200 men and women serve without pay on local boards across Texas. Each year the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) encourages education and community leaders to show appreciation to these people for their unfailing commitment to the students in their charge.

"Please join me in applauding the dedicated service of local boards as they strive for excellence in our schools and shoulder enormous responsibilities," said James B. Crow, TASB executive director. "So often the long hours and challenges of school board service are not visible to those who may not fully understand the many issues facing public education. Yet, these local trustees embrace hard work as they demonstrate compassion and concern for the success and well being of Texas students. They work closely with parents and educators to develop sound education policies in their districts and set high standards for student success.

"In these times of financial need, school board members willingly step forward to solve myriad problems, balance the district budget, and still provide excellent education experiences for all of our children. We hope every community will express thanks to local board members and support them as they tackle this important job. Recognize them for making the time to care about the future of Texas schoolchildren, their local communities, and this state," he said.

TASB is a nonprofit association established in 1949 to serve local Texas school districts. School board members are the largest group of publicly elected officials in the state. The districts they represent serve more than 4.9 million public school students.

Council gets clean audit, four seats up for vote

The Friona city council met in regular session Monday January 14, 2013 with all members present, Mayor J.B. Douglas presiding.

A public hearing was held regarding an FEDC loan for Adriana Stowers/Creative Chaos but no members of the public were present. Later on the agenda the council approved the FEDC's $6,000 forgivable loan to Stowers. The loan is forgivable at $1,500 per year over four years as long as the business remains open.

Doug Field of Muleshoe representing auditors Randall Field PC, presented the yearly audit report to the council. After discussion, the audit was approved. Mr. Field noted that they gave the city a clean opinion with no deficiencies.

Police Chief Frank Mooney

briefed the council on police activities. Chief Mooney spent several weeks in New Jersey as part of a FEMA team assessing damage caused by Hurricane Sandy. He reported efforts are being made to add a School Resource Officer (SRO) to the local school district. Cost would be shared by the police department and the school district but details are not finalized. There is a new phone system at the police department and he is working on acquiring a new police car. The department policy manual and patrol operating procedures have been finalized and implemented.

Members reviewed and approved December accounts payable, the December financial statement, and the October-December first quarter financial statement.

There will be four seats on the city council up for election May 11. The terms of Jim Atwell, Charlie Pope, and Mark Osborn are expiring. The mayor position will also be open as Mayor J.B. Douglas will be leaving Friona around the first of April and moving to Amarillo. Anyone interested in running for a council vacancy can pick up a packet at city hall. Filing period begins January 30. Deadline for filing for city council is March 1 and deadline for filing for mayor is March 10.

The next meeting of the city council will be Monday February 11 at 6:30 p.m. in council chambers at 619 Main St. All council meetings are open to the public.

a more nurturing climate

Having trouble getting started. I've tried three times to begin this week's column and be nice with my comments. After all, that's what they are, just comments by a nondescript community newspaper publisher with very little influence over not much.

This Wednesday morning I have scanned through all 22 pages of President Obama's executive orders and comments on gun control. He is one arrogant human being. And good old Vice-President Joe Biden standing by his side grinning and shaking his bobble-head in agreement. Wonder if the vice president told Obama this was a "big fing deal" too, like his assessment of Obamacare.

They say you should not discuss politics, sex, or religion. I think we should add gun control. There are gun control opinions flying around the country. Some are not nice and respectful. Others are plain old stupid and I don't use that term often.

First off, the National Rifle Association (NRA) television commercial that asked if the Obama daughters were more important than our children (because they get protection by armed guards) was in bad taste. They should stop using it. Leave children out of the debate. The NRA position that we should have armed guards in all the schools in America is also ridiculous. That will never happen and the NRA knows it.

Having said that, I also think having those children sitting there beside Mr. Obama when he was delivering his edicts about guns was equally in bad taste. Using children for political purposes is not excusable. It is unfair but effective for the vast left-wing liberal community but wins no points with conservatives.

Nor do I agree with the stupid posters flying around the social media comparing Obama to Hitler. It is not necessary to bring up Hitler to make a point. Neither side will ever make any friends by invoking Hitler into the discussion. As soon as someone mentions Hitler they lose all credibility with me.

The President said we need to spend $500 million to hire more police officers, train school administrators and teachers how to "improve a more nurturing school climate", throw in some anti-bullying training, and make background checks in potential gun buyers tougher. He also said it is now okay for a psychologist or psychiatrist to tell law enforcement when they have a crazy client who might be dangerous.

Preventing gun violence is mostly impossible. I feel the same way about efforts to "prevent" child abuse or domestic violence. Exactly how does the prevention of such acts work. Yes we can counsel, but prevent? Tell me how it works.

The President's attitude on the gun control issue has further divided the country. Of course it is a "feel good" position to say you are protecting the children. Who can argue with wanting to protect the children?

As I have mentioned before, President Barack Hussein

Obama has not even begun his next four-year reign as the King of America. He will not win the gun control issue. His 23 executive orders are just ineffective window dressing pandering to the far left community. I do agree the country needs more mental health facilities and assistance for the mentally (and emotionally) disturbed.

So if we are to form a more nurturing climate in our schools here is my suggestion. Instead of an armed guard in each school let us hire an official "hugger" to meet the kids each morning and send them home each afternoon with a hug. We will need two huggers, a male and a female. Can't have the guy hugging girls and vice versa. Not appropriate. Might cause lawsuits.

There is more heavy-handed government intervention to come. You can count on it from Obama and his bunch. My hope is we will not continue to be in denial about what his administration is doing to America.

Or is it too late. Happy nurturing.

Letters to the Editor

Friona grad & algae research

Mr. Carr,

My mom shared with me part of your recent editorial where you commented on the $59 million included in the fiscal cliff negotiations as tax credits for algae growers. While neither she nor I were very pleased with the overall state of the fiscal negotiations, the tenor of the government discourse or the inclusion of so much pork spending in essential legislation, I did want to take a step back in support of algae research.

Government expenditures via peer reviewed research at the National Science Foundation, the department of Energy, and other such agencies makes the U.S. expenditures in support of alternative fuels, including algal biofuels, much greater than just this ill advised tax credit.

In fact, my research center at Washington University is actively conducting such research supported by the federal government. We are working to better understand the mechanics of photosynthesis in plants, including algae, so we can increase the yield of solar energy and capture more of the sun's energy. Though it seems the price point for algal biofuel may be too high to be used as a transportation fuel, we are working on this line of work to see if it might be good for jets.

I understand the Department of Defense is particularly interested in this application. We are also working on advanced computational and genetic biology approaches to see if algae can begin being used as a feedstock to replace petroleum in a range of projects, including pharmaceuticals and other chemicals.

This work is being conducted in collaboration with partners across the United States and the globe. The research conducted in our labs provides students (undergraduate and graduate) valuable experience and practical training that they can then take with them as they launch careers in their desired fields.

I should also point out that my natural favor is on peer-reviewed research because I believe this mechanism, where experts review and critique each other's work, is the best approach to funding the best science and is absent most of the political forces that would otherwise drive decisions based on party platforms and focus group data.

I appreciate your time and wanted to just share my thoughts on the benefit of this work as funded through peer-reviewed mechanisms to help us advance on some of the many promising lines of scientific inquiry that can help ensure the U.S.'s lead in innovation and address many important global concerns.

We had snow. Not much but it felt good. Reports are we have received 0.53" of moisture in January.

The election (if necessary) for school board and city council will be Saturday May 11, 2013. Terms of Loraine Anthony and Ricky Barnett expire on the school board. Four seats will be available on the city council including the Mayor. Terms of Jim Atwell, Charlie Pope, and Mark Osborn are expiring. Mayor J.B. Douglas will be leaving Friona around the first of April to move to Amarillo so Friona will be looking for a new mayor also. Filing period for school and city positions begins January 30 and ends March 1. Filing deadline for Mayor is March 10. Packets for filing can be picked up at city hall or the school administration office.

An email received from the Friona Chamber of Commerce: "The Culpepper Merriweather Circus called to let us know that they will be making phone calls to local businesses to sell advance tickets. These phone calls will be made by Donna Gates, Debbie Fellos, Daniel McLemore, and Carol Parker. The circus will be in Friona Monday April 8, 2013."

Received from Jackie Martin at Friona Elementary: Friona Elementary 4th and 5th grade students jump rope for their hearts and help save lives. Students at Friona elementary are jumping at the chance to fight heart disease. In P.E. we are jumping rope to raise money for the American Heart Association. Our 4th and 5th graders will be collecting money January 14-31. We appreciate your support.

Thank you board for your service: Ricky Barnett, board president, Loraine Anthony, Tracy Bunker. Antonio Rocha, Mitchell Smiley, Wade Schueler, and Andy Montana.

Monday January 21 is a holiday for the banks and post office. Better get your money and postal business done Friday. It is Martin Luther King Day. City offices and most other businesses, including the Friona Star, will be open.

I heard from my old friend and cohort Scooter Russell last week. When I arrived at the paper in '95 Scooter was the editor of the Bovina Blade and taught me a lot about small town newspapering. She and Jim have lived in Spearman for many years. Jim has had a series of back surgeries but Scooter said they were both doing well. And having a 'good time' huh Scooter.

Victory Family Worship Center pastor Robert Kerby reports an estimated 700 people attended the Seventh Day Slumber concert at the junior high auditorium last Sunday evening.

Yes, I did find a flu shot. Went to the clinic here but they had run out of vaccine. Had to go to Hereford so I stopped by CVS Pharmacy where pharmacist and Friona resident Andy Alexander gave me one. He said they were down to about 8 vaccines left and that was last Friday. Between the actual flu epidemic and national television news scaring us to death, vaccine seems to be running low around the country.

If you see Betty Louise Recor ask her about her snake in the kitchen. One got in her house last week but she killed it with the help of a neighbor. Yes she lives in town.

Sunday evening about 6:30 p.m. the Friona volunteer firemen were dispatched to a barn fire three miles south on Hwy 214 at the David Hough residence. The family had just returned from the Friona livestock show where the Hough sons, Tyler and Truman, had exhibited their seven show goats. They put the goats in the barn and turned on an electric heater since the goats had been sheared and it was cold.

It is thought that the goats knocked over the heater. Unfortunately all seven goats died in the fire. It was an old barn with wood construction from about 1948 that was once used for grain storage. David also had a large amount of farm equipment there including six 55-gallon barrels of oil, which exploded, according to the firemen. One firefighter said for a while it looked like a war zone. The firemen were dispatched back to the scene about 12 midnight and got home about 3 a.m.

It is truly sad that Tyler and Truman lost their show goats this few days before the Parmer County Livestock Show and the shows coming up in Houston, San Antonio, etc.

Friona Primary School's Book Fair is set for next week, January 21-25. Books will be available at the school throughout the week along with a couple of days they will be open after hours. See the story and schedule on the front page.

The 57th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet is 6:30 p.m. March 5 at the community center. It features a western theme so plan on wearing your boots and hats. There will be a live auction this year with Kevin Welch as the auctioneer. The menu will be prime rib and all the trimmings. Tickets are $25 and will be sold in advance only. They are available at the Chamber office. Donations for the auction will be accepted until March 1.

Nomination forms for Citizen, Man, Woman, Teacher, Boy Student, Girl Student, and Most Courteous Employee of the Year are available at the Chamber. If you know a deserving person in any of these categories nominate them. Awards will be announced at the banquet.

Congratulations to Mackenzie Malone for being named to the Dean's List at Angelo State University for the fall 2012 semester. To qualify students must be full time and maintain a 3.25 or better grade point average. She is the daughter of Buck and Cara Malone of Friona.

Between the livestock show and sale and the Squaws/Chiefs basketball games Friday night it is going to be a busy weekend. Maybe we will see you around. Until then!

Work is progressing on the activity center building at the high school. We will be recording and following the project in photos as work continues.

First Baptist Church hosting Financial Peace University

First Baptist Church in Friona will be hosting Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University beginning February 10, 2013 at 6 p.m. The class lasts about 1 1/2 hours and is 9 weeks long. This life changing class promises loads of fun, encouragement from others and tools to help you manage your money instead of your money managing you.

Attendees of Financial Peace University have an average of $8,000 in financial turnaround in the first 90 days.

Attending the class requires each family to buy a Financial Peace University membership kit. Cost for a membership kit is $95 and includes all the tools and materials you need to complete the class. For the first 12 people to purchase their membership kit a discounted rate of $80 is being offered.

One member kit is required per family. If you have attended FPU previously you are welcome to come along and use your old membership kit but it is highly recommended to purchase the new one to stay on course with the new 9-week class format.

To sign up or for more information on Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University call First Baptist Church at 806-250-3933. Childcare will be provided for those taking the class. Be sure to mention how many children you will be bringing with you.

Dedicated unto the Lord

BRETT HOYLE, Pastor, First Baptist Church

The Solomon's Temple was one of the most amazing, lavish and holy buildings constructed in the ancient world and in I Kings 8 it is dedicated unto the Lord. We should dedicate buildings and projects that we undertake to the Lord, but in dedicating things unto the Lord we often forget that we ourselves must first be dedicated to Him.

A looming deception whispers that we can give to God of our stuff and attendance at religious gatherings but not give Him our lives and hearts. This type of thinking leads to hypocrisy because the focus is superficial and external instead of inward.

Sadly, all the pomp and circumstance, hoopla, speeches, sacrifices, the temple and even God's presence coming down did not lead to lasting change in the nation. As the generation who dedicated the temple aged, even Solomon himself, you see a drifting of their hearts from God into idolatry.

This revealed the mistake they made of thinking they could give buildings, offerings, and sacrifices to God without giving from their heart. God loves you so deeply and dearly that He gave of Himself so you could know Him. Knowing God is about having Christ in your life and daily dedicating yourself to know Him and make Him known.

Chief/Squaw basketball update

Here are a few updates on recent Squaw/Chieftain basketball games. The teams continue district play Friday night at Friona gym hosting the Muleshoe Mules. Video replay of the Muleshoe games will be shown Saturday January 19 starting at 10 a.m. on WT Services channel 76.

Squaws 31 Dimmitt 43 The Squaws led at the end of the 3rd quarter 26-23 but the Bobbies went on a 20-5 run in the 4th. Scoring: Hicks 20, Kimbrough

6, Murphree 3, Posada 1, Miller 1.

Squaws 57 Littlefield 60 The Squaws led the Lady Cats most of the game but they came back to tie 46-46 at the end of regulation. The game went into double overtime with Littlefield escaping with a 60-57 win. Scoring: Hicks 29, Murphree 12, Miller 8, Posada 4, Kimbrough 2.

Chiefs 59 Littlefield 62 The Wildcats led 27-24 at the half. Each team scored 35 points in the 2nd half. Scoring: B. Stowers 19, C. Stowers 18, Cigarroa 13, DeWit 6, Osborn 2, Woods 1.

Chiefs 37 Dimmitt 65 Dimmitt led 37-15 at the half and continued the run in the second half at Dimmitt. Scoring: Cigarroa 9, B. Stowers 8, DeWit 7, C. Stowers 5, Osborn 4, Haile 2, Loflin 2.

Panhandle Parables

Tumbleweeds (A positive twist)

JEFF PROCTER, Minister, 6th St. Church of Christ

Last week we established that on those rare occasions when the wind blows in the Texas Panhandle, tumbleweeds from across the Panhandle make a pilgrimage. Aimlessly they wander, being hindered by nothing except maybe an old barbed wire fence.

It amazes me how many little unattached carefree critters there are roaming the countryside. There always seem to be plenty no matter how much or how often the wind blows. When the wind calls the tumbleweeds answer. Regardless of drought year or wet, tumbleweeds make a showing, granted in a wet year they may rival the size of a Volkswagen Beetle.

They grow, mature, and at the proper time launch into the wind. They are not afraid of where the wind might take them because that is exactly where the Creator had intended for them to go, rolling along, spreading seeds with every tumble.

Do you know anybody that this may describe? I could imagine that you do. There are those Christians that grow, mature, then launch. Sharing the message of God's grace wherever they go, where it may be seen in kind words, helpful hands, or standing firm in defense of those who cannot defend themselves.

They may be around a while or a short time, but evidence of the impression they leave continues to sprout and carry the message on to the next generation. We need folks who are not afraid of a tumble, who have the faith to let God lead them where He needs them, and all the while planting the little seeds of His grace and salvation as they go.

So to you who will, be free, launch into the wind and let God use you to His glory in the journey ahead.

Notice of Availability of Electronic Communications

Parmer County Appraisal Districts — Under a new law, chief appraisers of county appraisal districts, appraisal districts, and appraisal review boards may communicate electronically through email or other methods with property owners or their designated representatives. Written agreements are required for notices and other documents to be delivered electronically in place of mailing.

How does it work? Certain guidelines must be followed for this local option communication:

- Written agreements with the county appraisal district must be entered first, ensuring what electronic means of delivery are acceptable. If you are interested in receiving communications in electronic format, you should contact your local appraisal district.
- Public notice regarding the availability of agreement forms authorizing electronic communications may be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the district on or before Feb. 1 each year, or agreement forms may be delivered on or before Feb. 1 each year to property owners shown on the certified appraisal roll for the preceding tax year.
- The chief appraiser may determine the medium, format, content and method to be used for electronic communications other than notices required by Section 25.19 of the Tax Code, which are prescribed by Comptroller rule.
- A decision by the chief appraiser not to enter into agreements may not be the subject of an appraisal review board protest, a lawsuit or a complaint to the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation.
