COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of

Jodok

Here is a toast I'm going to drink to a fellow whom I know. It's the fellow who has come to take my place, and it's time for me to go. I know what kind of a chap he is, and I'm going to take his hand and whisper—"I wish you well, 'Old Bert,'"—in a way he'll understand.

I am going to give him a cheering word, that I've longed sometimes to hear, and I'm going to give him a warm hand clasp to make him feel like a friend is near. I've gained my knowledge by sheer hard work, and I'd like to pass it on to Bert, who has come to take my place, and will greet you since I am gone.

He will see all the sad mistakes I've made, and may note the battles I've lost; but he'll never guess at the tears they've caused, nor the heartaches they have cost. He may gaze through my failures and fruitless toil my underlying plan, and he may catch a glimpse of the real intent in the heart of this vanquished man. And I dare to hope Bert may pause some day, as he toils where I have wrought, and gain some strength for his weary way, from the battles that I have fought. But I've only the task itself to leave, with the cares for him to face, and some cheering word I may speak to Bert, who is here to take my place.

Then, here's to your health, Dear Bert, and I'll drink as a bride groom to his bride. I'm leaving an unfinished task for you. God knows how I've tried. I've dreamed my dreams as all men do; but never a one came true; and my prayer, today, is that all these dreams may be realized by you. And we'll meet some day in that "Great Unknown" out in the realms of space; and you'll know my clasp as I take your hand and gaze in your tired face. There, all our failures will be success in the light of a new found dawn; so I'm drinking your health, good 'Old Bert, as you take my place, and I will be gone.

The above three paragraphs constitute, I suppose, what may be termed a paraphrase of a poem, supposed to have been written many years ago, by one Edward Collins, and no plagiarism is intended, but the sentiment expressed therein so exactly expresses my feeling as I write this, quite likely my last effusion, that I have borrowed his rhythm and in a large measure, his words, but not his poetic style, in expressing my said sentiment. And I surely feel that no one can find any reason for taking offense from them, and even the author of the original poem, should he be living, and should perchance see these lines, I may feel that I am complimenting him rather than attempting to plagiarize him.

I now shall endeavor to express my sincere good wishes, at least a few of them, to my friends and all others who may have, from time to time, been readers of the Friona Star, and for this purpose, I find another poem written by L. M. Montgomery, which so fully suits my purpose, that I shall take the privilege of using it, but owing to the fact that poetry is difficult to set on a linotype, I shall express a "fellow-feeling for the operator by using this poem in the form of prose, as I did with the one above:

"Friends of mine,—In the years oncoming,—I wish you a little time for play,—an hour to dream in the eerie gloaming, after the clamorous day. (And the moon, like a pearl from an Indian shore, to hang for a lantern above your door.)

A little home with friendly rafters, and some one in it to need your love. Wine of romance and wholesome laughter, with a comrade to share. And a secret place of your very own, whenever you wish to cry alone.

A little garden—a flame with roses, and columbine, set for your delight. A scent of mint in its shadowy closes, and clean gay winds at night. (Some nights for sleeping and some to ride with the broom-stick witches, far and wide.)

A goodly harvest of figs to gather, with a thistle or two to stick and sting. For the harvest too harmless is rather an unadventurous thing. (And once in a while, without reason or rule, a chance to be a bit of a fool.)

I wish you a thirst that can never be satied, for all the loveliness earth can yield—cool, slim drinks, whitely mated—down on an April field. (And never too big a bill to pay, when the fiddler finds he must "up and away.")

And such is life, and as Tennessee caused the little brook to say in one of the finest poems—"Men may come and men may go; but I go on forever. As it happens, I am no brook, and no man of any consequence, so there could be but little, if anything in my biography that will interest people and newspapers want to print that which will be of interest to the public as a whole, rather than a very few individuals, it seems best to me that I leave my obituary out for the present. I mean my autobiography, though, perhaps the obituary would be more nearly correct. Anyway, those who have been readers of the Friona Star, which is the only periodical that has ever carried any of my "Cogitations and Aphorisms," know pretty well what there has been occurring during my uneventful career.

However, as my readers well know, I like to boast of my attendance at religious services, and especially so of my Sunday school attendance, and I will take time here to mention that I attended Sunday school again Sunday, and, although my hearing is rather dull, I did catch a few things that were said by the members of the class and the class leader. Among those things which I thought I understood was a remark made by some of them to the effect that when an individual is allowed to pursue as a life work, the calling that is most interesting in, that individual is more likely to make a success of his life than the one who has been shunted off into things or callings that he never had anticipated or had any particular interest in.

That may be the reason that I have made a failure of everything that I have undertaken. I have apparently been shunted from one thing to another, all of which I had made no special plans to do or had any particular desire for. So far as I can recall, the only special desire as to a life career, was that I wanted, sometime to be able to own a section of land, all in one body, and I am wired to up by owning no land at all and with a very meager bank account. Circumstances shunted me into school teaching. I taught one term and quit, for good. A few years after I was approached by a member of the school, where I had received my own "larnin" and as money comes in a little slowly I told him I would try. Shunted again. Two terms there and the people in the district where I taught my first at 17, asked me to come there again. Shunted again. Two more terms there than back to my home school on request. Shunted again. Two more terms there then shunted again to a school that I never had any desire to work in, and which proved to be one of my best. Then I was shunted into politics and a term as deputy sheriff. Then into the insurance business, which was another shunt, then to newspaper work, which was also a shunt, but one that I had some desire for. From that to an abstract office, then to a job printing plant which was abandoned to come to the Texas Panhandle to again engage in farming. After a few years again shunted into newspaper work, and the people of Friona and communities, know too well what my career has been since—until this date.

To what I shall be shunted after this week, the Lord only knows. Here's hoping:

50 YEARS PILOTING "A'S"—American League President Will Harridge, left, and Brooklyn Dodgers' manager Burt Shotton, right, congratulate the "Grand Old Man of Baseball," Connie Mack, on his 50th anniversary as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics in West Palm Beach, Fla. "Mr. Baseball," who has spent 66 of his 88 years in the same, said his son, Earle, would succeed him at the helm.

Bert Neelley Takes Over As Publisher Of Star Saturday

Bert Neelley, former advertising and assistant manager of the Hereford Brand, has purchased the Friona Star and will assume duties as publisher and editor effective Saturday, April 1, owned by Jimmie Gillentine announced this week.

Mr. Gillentine has been publisher of the Star since May 1, 1949.

Mr. Neelley has been with the Brand for two and a half years, during which time the Brand changed from weekly to bi-weekly, publishing on Thursdays and Sundays.

He worked with the Phillips Petroleum company in public relations and personnel management prior to going into the Army. He attended West Texas State College and was formerly news editor on the Tulsa Herald.

Mr. Neelley has been very active in Hereford civic affairs, serving as a member of the Rotary Club directors, and was awarded the honor of being named "the most courteous Hereford salesman of the year" in 1948.

He has also been an active member of the Methodist church.

School-Age Children To Be Counted In Census

School officials are insisting that all families having children of school age come to the superintendent's office or call 2661 to enumerate them if they have not filled out a school census blank. March 31 was the first deadline set but the date has been extended to April 7. All children who will be 6 years old by Sept. 1, and not over 17 by that date are to be counted.

The important reasons for counting every eligible child are for planning the next year's school program and also from a financial standpoint. Next year's budget will receive $48 per pupil enumerated. This will come from the state permanent school funds and will be used to help operate the schools.

ILL WITH PNEUMONIA
John R. Silvertooth, one of Friona's most venerable citizens, was seized with an attack of double pneumonia on Thursday of last week and late in the evening was taken to the local hospital, where he is still in a serious condition.

Mr. Silvertooth, who is past 78 years of age, came down town on Wednesday of last week and showed unmistakable signs of being ill. He returned to town again on Thursday but this time to his home to walk home and was carried home in a neighbor's car. Later in the afternoon or early evening, his condition became so bad that a physician was called and he was ordered taken to the hospital.

His condition on Wednesday afternoon was reported as considerably better.

BOND ELECTION CARRIED
The School Bond election, which was held here last Saturday, resulted in a vote of 303 for the bonds and 24 against. Not what might be called a close vote.

Judge H. M. LaFont In Race For State Representative

This week Judge Harold M. LaFont announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of State Representative of the 126th Representative District of Texas. In making his announcement for re-election, Judge LaFont submitted the following statement:

"Many people will recall that last November I made the race for representative to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge I. B. Holt of Olton, Texas. I want to take this opportunity of thanking the people for the large vote that they gave me last November. Representing the people of this district at the special session of the Legislature in February of this year, the most impressive thing to me about it was the importance of the work of the Legislature to our people.

"In asking the people to elect me to this office it is with a full realization that whoever the people elect has the responsibility of making the laws that govern over 6,000,000 people of the State of Texas. These laws directly affect the daily lives of practically every citizen and serious thought and consideration should be given to each and every law that is passed by the Legislature. It is my humble judgment that men who fill these places of responsibility and in whom we place our trust and confidence, should be experienced, honest, sincere and capable.

"All of us are interested in the progress and welfare of our Representative District and of the State as a whole and we have a right to expect our fair share of those things for which our tax money is spent. These include educational assistance, police protection for our families and property, assistance for our aged and needy people, a good system of state highways and more paved farm to market roads. All of these items of state government help make our district a better place in which to live and rear our families.

"Among the subjects which no doubt will be considered by our next Legislature is a program to pave more rural roads. We, in Friona, are particularly interested in any such program. Another matter which we are vitally interested in and which will have to be closely watched by us because of its importance to us is the question of our underground water. The meeting held in Amarillo a few days ago is illustrative of the thinking of some people of our state.

"Having served as county judge of Hale County from 1932 to 1939, and district attorney for six counties of the eight counties in this district from 1942 to 1949, having practiced law in this district for twenty years, I believe that this experience should qualify me to represent the people of this district.

"It is my plan to make this race on whatever merit I may have and not on the demerits of anyone who may run, and I assure you that if you support me for this office in the election to be held on July 22nd of this year no one will try harder than I will to represent all the people of this district."

TO THE VOTERS OF FARMER COUNTY:

A regular legal petition was presented to the County Judge to have Floyd Schlenker's name placed on the ticket for school trustee-at-large for the county.

This petition was presented the 23rd of March. Our county judge and county attorney saw fit to bar this name from the ticket on a technicality.

Therefore we are forced to attempt a write-in campaign for Floyd Schlenker.

We earnestly solicit the cooperation of all legal voters who are really interested in the welfare and development of our county schools.

Come out and vote! Simply scratch the name of Bill Shirley, who will be on the ticket, and write in Floyd Schlenker's name.

Friona Girl Scouts Entertained In The Home Of Mrs. Frank A. Spring

The Tenderfoot troop of the Friona Girl Scout Troop No. 2 entertained with a tea and shower honor "School-mates Overseas" in the home of their leader, Mrs. Frank A. Spring recently.

"Schoolmates Overseas" a national girl scout project, has for its purpose the sending of school supplies in kits to school friends overseas. This gesture of international friendship was the motive for the social affair which the Friona Tenderfoot group sponsored.

The girl scout hostesses had corsages of white hyacinths with miniature flags inserted. The girls wore their scout uniforms.

The table on which guests placed their gifts was decorated with dolls dressed to represent girls of foreign nations. The guests register is to be sent with the gifts. School supplies galore were brought by the 43 scouts, leaders and guests.

An arrangement of carnations and acaia decorated the living room where guests heard Kathryn Dunn play a piano number. Doris Jane McFarland sang, and Patsy Anthony play a piano solo.

The attractive lace-covered serving table carried out the girl scout colors yellow and green in and great hymns of the church.

The services of the week will follow the general theme "My Day By Day With Jesus Through Holy Week." Monday's sub-subject, "The Temple Cleansing," Tuesday's "The Teaching Day" and Wednesday's "The Day of Preparation." Thursday's "The Last Supper," and Friday's "The Seven Last Words."

Church of Christ

Many people believe that there is nothing in a name. Shakespeare asked, "What's in a name?" The which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." But if this contention be true, why is it that the bride always takes the name of the bridegroom? I have never known of a single marriage where the bride was permitted to choose any name she desired to wear other than that of the bridegroom. Why is this not true in religious matters since the scriptures teach that the church is the bride of Christ? (Eph. 5:23-25). The early church wore His name and was not ashamed of it. Kindly notice Rom. 16:16, "Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you." Jesus said in Matt. 16:18, "I will build my church." Surely the church for which he died, the church that became His bride should wear His name and His only. Now if there really isn't anything in a name then the inspired apostle Peter was wrong when he said, speaking of Christ, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12).

ANNOUNCING

Change of Ownership

THE FRIONA STAR

Effective Saturday, April 1, The Friona Star will become the property of a new owner, Bert Neelley, who will also be active as manager and publisher of the newspaper.

It is, for many reasons, a pleasure to make this announcement. In the first place, it means that Friona -- for the first time in its entire history -- will have a complete, modern newspaper plant, including a Linotype Machine; this equipment makes possible 100% hometown publication. A hometown paper of this type, we believe, will mean more to Friona and the Friona Territory than any other single improvement

Second, it is a genuine pleasure to see a capable, energetic, hard working man forge ahead and go into business for himself -- and we do believe that Bert Neelley will make an outstanding success in publishing The Friona Star. In addition to service in the United States Army, Neelley previously was associated with the weekly newspaper at Tulia and following his discharge from the armed forces joined the staff of The Hereford Brand. He rapidly advanced to the point where he was placed in charge of the Brand advertising department and soon became assistant manager of The Brand and Sunday Brand. During a period of almost three years, Mr. Neelley has made an enviable record in the Hereford Community. You will like the Neelleys -- they are your kind of people.

In addition to these things, we also wish to pay tribute to one of Friona's most devoted and most ardent citizens and boosters: "UNCLE JOHN" WHITE. We know that establishment of a modern, complete hometown newspaper also marks realization of a dream which Uncle John envisioned many years ago. Any future progress of the Star can well be attributed to the long hours and hard work contributed by Mr. White. Without him, no paper would be here today.

As publisher of the Friona Star since May 1, 1949, I realize that I have made many mistakes but you folks have always been generous in your patronage when the thing you really wanted and needed, was a genuine hometown newspaper. I shall not attempt to Thank You in words for the consideration and courtesies you have shown and I full well realize that I can never repay you. If, on the other hand, I have been able to contribute something to the community by helping get the Star into the proper hands and Parmer County ownership, I am indeed happy... for I believe that within a few years Friona will boast one of the strongest and most able weekly newspapers in Texas.

It is, therefore, with a feeling of goodwill and best wishes, that I announce this change in ownership of The Star. I feel sure that it will mark a new era of progress for the Friona Territory, which I know from experience to be inhabited by some of the finest people on earth.

Burk Says Farm Situation Is Our Greatest Problem

AMARILLO — E. T. Burk, who was raised on a farm and has dealt with farmers all his business life, said this week that he considered the farm situation the nation's greatest problem.

"I will discuss this problem right up to the day of the election," said the leading candidate for Congress in the 18th District. "Every farmer faces a bad situation. He faces the loss of price support or else he faces a great tangle of controls that could take management of his farm selling off to Washington. Only common sense can solve this grave problem.

Agriculture is basic. From it we live, regardless of whether we are city or rural dwellers. A farm depression would spread to every phase of our life and business. It could bring business collapse. And how the Communists would welcome that.

If we were suddenly knocked out all supports, the price of nearly all of our money crops would collapse. That would be nothing less than the government turning the farmers out to the dogs.

On the other hand, if the government supports this basic industry through price guarantees or loans, there is certain to be a loud howl from Washington for strict controls, even on the home poultry flock that furnishes egg money.

This is a knotty problem. The government cannot afford to plunge agriculture into a depression, but we cannot have an effective profitable agriculture with a Washington bureau running every farm. So what is the answer?

We must continue price supports until we are positive that their removal will not cause a price collapse. But we must also keep the farmers managing the farms. Any measures of acreage or production control voted by the Congress must have local community administration.

We must not let agriculture down and we must not place our farmers under the dictatorial thumb of a Washington bureau.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Parmer County Commissioners' Court has received many complaints about the illegal practices of dumping trash and rubbish upon the public roadways, streets, and off of bridges, etc., in the county. You are reminded that the law provides for penalties by fine up to $200.00 for anyone caught doing so. It is the opinion of the Commissioners' Court that this law should be enforced, and anyone caught dumping such trash or rubbish on other than public dumping grounds will be subject to prosecution.

Also, it is ordered by the Commissioner's Court, meeting in Regular Session this 13th day of March, that no waste paper, card board boxes or other trash that will blow be dumped in the dumping grounds, but that such be destroyed by burning before being taken to the public dumping grounds.

The Star office is in receipt of a card from our good friend, Gordon Shackelford, over at Perryton. Gordon is boosting for his friend and neighbor for Congress. His card reads as follows:

I know LeRoy and members of his family personally and feel that in electing him we will have the type of representation we need in our district. I will appreciate your vote and influence in getting LeRoy elected to Congress.

Gordon Shackelford

Gordon is the son of our fellow townsman, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shackelford and is well known in Friona. He spent his school days at Friona and is a graduate of Friona High School, and has many friends here and the Star is proud to be counted as one of them.

your farm or ranch, I know whether your property has been improved, renovated or rebuilt. I'll make a new survey and a new diagram, and insure your new valuables, cancel the insurance on items such as grain which you may no longer have. Hundreds Tell Bob Wills Of Hadacol's Numerous Blessings

Bob Wills Hears About HADACOL'S Blessings

Bob Wills, famous western music band leader, loves to talk with his fans at the Trionon Building auditorium in Oklahoma City about the blessings of HADACOL. In the picture above Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, Okla., a very promising young singer, tells Bob how HADACOL has helped her. Hundreds of folks who are obtaining rich blessings from the precious B Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL visit Wills each week for his network broadcast, which is originated from KBYE, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma's western music station, and sent over a leased wire to stations, KRMG, Tulsa; KWHN, Fort Smith; KGLC, Miami, Oklahoma; KLTN, Amarillo, and KWTW, Wichita Falls.

Hundreds of folks, who are being every day from taking HADACOL meet at the Trionon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind." Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, a well known singer, is a good example.

"I was tired, run down and lost my appetite. I suffered with gastric disturbances. I had tried almost everything but it didn't seem to help me. I had heard about the wonderful results HADACOL had been bringing to so many of my friends. Soon after taking HADACOL I was feeling much better, had no gastric disturbances and had a wonderful appetite. I am no longer nervous. I am sure that HADACOL has helped me a great deal and I recommend it to my friends."

Miss Lobb suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL. So, it matters not who you are. . . . it matters not where you live. . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

Messenger News

Home From The Navy

By MRS. J. N. MESSENGER
Star Correspondent
Floyd Messenger came home Thursday. He was discharged from the Navy on March 1st, and went to visit his grandmother, Mrs. G. L. Livings, and his uncle Bill and Donald Kirk and their wives in California before coming home. He is now helping his father, George Messenger, driving a tractor and pulling Hoene plow.

Stephen and Loyd Messenger, who are attending college at Canyon, and their sister, Elsie, who lives in Amarillo, all came home to spend the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Messenger. They all returned Sunday evening.

Julia Houette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Estes Houette of Clovis, came over and spent Sunday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Messenger and her grandmother, Mrs. J. N. Messenger. We all drove to Bovina to see B. P. Abbott. He still had his hand in a cast but the doctor thought he might take it off Friday. His wife and son, John, of Marfa, were up and spent several weeks with him, but she can't stand dust on account of her lungs, so they had to go back home.

Some of the wheat is looking pretty good out this way, while other fields are hurt badly.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winn of Amarillo were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Lillard. Mr. and Mrs. Winn formerly lived at Friona, and were among the pioneer settlers of the town.

Select School Trustees Saturday

Voters will vote at two places Saturday when the Walcott District School Trustee election is held. Walcott School House and Garcia Community House will be the voting polls.

Three men will be selected from the five on the ballot: Phillip Miller, S. N. Thweatt, T. J. Poindexter, Wilson Wiyi and Herbert Hoover. After the election the three elected men will meet and decide who will be retired next year. From this year on, one will be retired each year and one will be added by election every year.

In precinct three, Bertram Jack is listed for county school trustee as E. H. Norton's term expires April 1. Other county trustees are in precinct number one, N. R. Miller; precinct two, J. C. Morrison; number three, M. W. Blankenship. These three terms do not expire this year, Judge Foster said.

That Hereford people were Red Cross conscious and the most co-operative anywhere was only confirmed by the drive. She gave her sincere thanks to everyone who had a hand in the drive.

1950 Red Cross Drive Chairman "Dub" Reeves said he was grateful to everyone. "I would like to extend my sincere, heartfelt thanks to each and every person in the county who has given time and money to the drive. I think you all realize that the money you gave to Red Cross is a wise investment just as if invested in a business. You won't be sorry, I assure you," Reeves said.

Frionans Vote Saturday For School Trustees

Friona Independent School District voters will choose two trustees at the polls Saturday.

Four candidates: G. Cranfill, J. McFarland, Clyde Hayes and Steve Struve are on the ballot.

Cranfill and McFarland are up for re-election. Both have served the past three years, Cranfill as president and McFarland as secretary.

William "Bill" Shirley of Lazbuddy is the unopposed candidate for County Trustee at large.

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Lillard arrived at home the latter part of last week from California, where they had spent the latter half of the winter.

They express themselves as well pleased with their sojourn in the sunshine and balmy atmosphere of the western coast. They were guests while there of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Benton.

Hub Moseley, who had his left shoulder broken when a piece of steel fell on it from the top of the new elevator at Black, while he was working there, is gradually improving.
