COLUMN LEFT

Throughout this issue, you will find advertisements by your publisher outlining functions of the community newspaper. We hope that you will understand the spirit in which these messages are directed. So often the newspaper neglects to advertise its own stock in trade, its services, as it week-in and week-out extolls the merchandise of every other progressive business within its area. National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-3, affords the publications over the nation opportunity to tell of their own wares, and we are cooperating in this general program, hoping that through these messages you will feel a little better acquainted with us, recognizing your own responsibilities and part in the publishing of a community organ.

Again we issue the invitation for you to visit our plant this week or any day. And believe me just as soon as possible, we'll reciprocate and visit that farm, garden, ranch, or business of yours! After all—the only difference in most people is their "ignorance of different subjects" so let's get acquainted with our neighbor's part in the community.

Leo Potishman, one of the alert readers of the Fort Worth Star Telegram this week called to the attention of this paper the many highway projects authorized under federal aid in Texas. Parmer County was not represented; Parmer County received nothing; Parmer County got nowhere. Why? Maybe no effort was made.

The Star-Telegram announced that $60,000,000 in primary federal aid highway system work has been authorized for the next two year program of the State Highway Commission.

I'm thinking the Highway committee of the new chamber of commerce will really have its hands full as probably the most important of the many important assignments we're expecting under the re-activated organization.

Remember the bachelor who early in the summer toured this area as well as the entire United States through courtesy of a popular radio program, in search of a wife? It seems that he found the one and only a few days ago in Florida, and when given choice of honeymoon trips by the national radio program, he chose the Panhandle of Texas, where, in his words, "resided the friendliest people of the nation." He is scheduled to honeymoon on a ranch out from Amarillo. Someone should tell of "Friendly Friona."

There will be a "Cemetery Working" at the Bovina cemetery on this Friday. Workers are urged to come prepared to work all day.

The circus advertised to appear Sunday afternoon on West Highway 60 is reportedly changing location to the Ray Landrum property in the southwest section of town.

Martin Fulcher and Don Burnett really did alright at the Albuquerque Fair with their Brown Swiss cattle, we understand. We had hoped to bring a complete account of their placings but so far have been unable to contact these men—hope to tell you more next week. But we do know that Parmer County took all the ribbons in that division.

Elsewhere in this issue is a column telling different uses local women have put to their old Friona Stars. Even the circus posters are being put to double use this week in Friona with one of the classes at school taking its spelling lesson from the large poster, learning to spell "hippopotamus" and all the other enchanting words for children.

W. H. Long Brings First Load of Grain To Friona Markets; Farmers Keep Eagle Eye for Killing Frost As Determining Factor in Possibilities of Crop Record

First County Load Taken to Texico

Crop prospects of Parmer County are now tetering on a fine balance, with distinct possibilities of either a record bumper crop or the other extreme—a meager one. Main factor in the outcome, is unmistakably the danger of killing frost. With the cool, damp weather prevailing, all the grain is slow in maturing, necessitating a late frost for productive harvests.

Though lagging in maturity, milo and the other fall grain crops are looking exceptionally good in the immediate Friona vicinity. Both to the north and south are fields promising exceptional yields under favorable weather conditions.

FIRST LOAD

First load of Friona grain was brought to the Santa Fe Grain Company here last Friday, September 29, by W. H. Long, living south of town. It tested 13.6.

G. Preach Cranfill of the Santa Fe Grain firm observed that frost occurring even two weeks away would allow lots of grain harvest, if rains stay away, but some of the grain had little chance of maturity even by late frost.

T. O. Leslie carried the first load to Bovina taking it to the Sherry Grain Company there. Mr. Leslie, living southeast of Bovina, harvested the milo off irrigated land. His load tested 15. even. The rest of his harvest was delayed because of the moisture.

Chas. Kersey, living south of Lariat, carried the county's first load to the Roberts Seed Company in Texico on Wednesday of last week. His moisture content was 14.4.

Santa Fe Crop Report

Recent weather conditions in Texas, generally have been favorable for harvest and small grain seeding. Grain drills and broadcast seeders are busy throughout the state and harvest of corn, cotton, rice, grain sorghums, peanuts and other crops is proceeding close to schedule.

The 1951 winter wheat crop in the northwest is going into the ground under almost ideal conditions. Some farmers complain of having difficulty in killing weeds in their fields, due to extensive rainfall; however, virtually all of the wheat is planted, most of it is up to a good stand, and pasture prospects are exceptionally promising.

Corn picking is well along, although harvest has been slowed in some sections, due to scattered showers. Yields are good to excellent over most of the central portions of the state, not so good in the eastern area. Total production figure made late gains and is now placed at 67,295,000 bushels, compared to 5,208,000 bushels last year.

Combining of grain sorghums for grain has moved to the northern districts of the state and good yields advanced the last official estimate to 121,005,000 bushels, a new record. Grain sorghum prospects in the northwest are excellent if the crop can mature ahead of the first killing frost. Cool, damp weather with rain continuing to fall, has caused maturity to lag in that territory.

EXHIBIT PLACES AT LUBBOCK FAIR

The Parmer County agricultural booth exhibit at the Panhandle-Plains Fair at Lubbock this week placed fourth among the many county exhibits. First four placings went to Hale county, Floyd, Castro and Parmer counties. The local booth was prepared under supervision of County Agent Joe W. Jones.

Mrs. Joyce Wilkins left Wednesday to join her husband in Oakland, Calif.

Otho Whitefield Takes Ribbons At New Mexico Fair

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Whitefield returned Sunday evening from the New Mexico State Fair at Albuquerque taking all the ribbons in the Columbia sheep division of the fair. Whitefield took eleven head of his sheep, winning in both group lots and individual animals.

Though this was only his second year to exhibit and attend at Albuquerque, Otho reported all guests agreed this was the best fair ever witnessed in New Mexico, with 4-H and FFA exhibits really outstanding.

The Whitefields will leave this weekend for Minot, North Dakota, for the annual Columbia Sheep Show and Sale; he is a director of that organization. They will be accompanied by Pat Cruse, whom many Frionans recall as the South African who visited here some months ago and talked at the Friona Lions club. Cruse is now working on a New Mexico ranch, continuing his expressed purpose of learning the sheep business as conducted throughout the world.

Firemen Sponsor Circus; Location On Landrum Lots

The circus scheduled for showing here Sunday afternoon has accepted sponsorship by the local Volunteer Fire Department, that organization to receive 10% of gross ticket sales at the Friona performance.

Fire Chief Charlie Bainum states that the boys can really use that money, too! Lack of proper financing has hampered efforts of the local department throughout its existence. Rather than showing at the previously announced highway location, the circus grounds will be located on the Ray Landrum lots in the southwest part of Friona.

Membership Appeal Issued by Legion Auxiliary

In a recent drive for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Gladys Wilson, president of the Friona Post No. 206, has issued the following call for additions to their ranks.

We want and need American Legion Auxiliary members! Continuous membership in our great service organization is important—they are needed now—for service to America and its defenders. We cannot continue to wield our powerful influence in the community, state and nation, or in world affairs without faithful members. We cannot hold the prestige that we now enjoy, that we have earned—without the inspiration and dues of every eligible member each year. We are faced with similar tasks that confronted us a few short years ago, and we must remain a powerful force in maintaining unity on the home front. We have unequalled opportunity to be a force against harmful practices.

We, of the American Legion Auxiliary strive to sustain a spirit of sacrifice and devotion worthy of the far greater sacrifices shown every day in the battlefields of Korea and elsewhere.

We are opening our membership drive. YOU are in a position to render a great service to your organization by meeting a challenge—to enroll in your local American Legion Auxiliary. It is a privilege to be a member of an organization that has faith in America and it's people; hope for a United World; and charity—both of heart and in financial aides to the defenders of our nation.

Join now—we need YOU!

Friona property-holders will be given opportunity to vote at the polls Saturday, October 21, for or against the issuance of city improvement bonds. Three propositions will be presented: the voters: Issuance of $50,000.00 Street Improvement Bonds, Issuance of $15,000.00 City Hall Bonds; and Issuance of $35,000.00 Waterworks Improvement, and Extension Bonds.

Legal notice of this election, is printed in this issue and is posted at prominent places in Friona. Mayor Bainum issued the notice Monday.

Election will be held at the City Hall.

City officials together with engineers and bonding company officials estimate that the street improvement bond amount of $50,000 would be sufficient to pay the city's share in paving, from 53 to 60 blocks, deemed sufficient at the city's present size.

However, authorities point out, that voting the paving bonds, without correlated water improvement bonds might be wasteful, as certainly permanent water mains and extensions of sufficient size for years to come should be laid before paving the surface. $35,000.00 is quoted as being adequate for all needed water improvements.

Housing for the city offices, and for fire department, is taken into consideration in the $15,000 city hall bonds.

Civil Docket Is Announced For October Court

Civil docket for the October District court session has been announced as listed below, but the mere fact that a case appears thereon does not imply that it has been set for trial, District Clerk Loyde A. Brewer emphasizes. Under the present system of the continuous term of the district court, cases can be tried at any time.

Taylor Oglesby et al vs. M. C. Roberts, damages.

Mattie Belle Dickerson vs. Volle E. Dickerson divorce.

Vote Postponed On County Bond Levy Till 1951

Parmer County will not vote until 1951 on the proposal of levying 30c additional ad valorem tax for farm-to-market roads.

This delay of action is mandatory under ruling of the Attorney General of the State, and forwarded to county officials here this week.

With the state ad valorem tax of 30c on the $100 valuation to be discontinued after January 1, 1951, various groups and individuals within this county have been endorsing a plan for local election for purpose of voting a tax of equal amount for use in county road work.

In view of the situation as it now stands, likely there will be a special election called after the first of the year on the question.

Faith Is Building Girlstown, U. S. A. Plains Home For Neglected Girls

Amelia Anthony Outlines Purposes, Problems, Ambitions of First and Only Girls Home of Its Kind, In Talk Here

The mere printed observation that Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, U. S. A., spoke at the Methodist church in Friona Tuesday evening to a large audience is perhaps trivial; but Miss Anthony's concept of service through the home for neglected girls is so inspirational that one cannot hear even bare mention of her work without recognizing a project and a purpose worthy of all endeavor and assistance.

Miss Amelia Anthony is a woman with a dream and the determination to realize it! Hers was the cherished idea of a home for homeless girls, where the basic principles of life might be learned in a kindly environment, and where Christian fundamentals might be instilled in young lives through example and teaching. Such a home was established by Miss Anthony at Whiteface, Texas, just a few hours drive south of Friona, being located halfway between Levelland and Morton.

Miss Anthony's promotion of Girlstown has been a road full of sacrifice, with a decade of her life given to raising enough personal funds to start the home. During that time, she tutored herself in workable, non-theoretical, practical principles and methods for future direction of Girlstown families to useful places in society. Twelve of her humanitarian thirty-five years have been spent as a social worker. By her own testimony, she has plenty left, and each will be dedicated to making Girlstown live!

Pioneering as this reporter was to recognize the immeasurable faith and ability of Miss Anthony, he realized that this all was minimized by the ideals of the home and achievement within the lives of the girls themselves who were given a home at Girlstown. Girlstown citizens of today . . . good Christian citizens of the United States tomorrow.

Girls whose names have been synonymous with juvenile delinquency are given a home at the Whiteface project, and are schooled in Christian living, knowledge and training of the home arts, refinement of character, the academic knowledge and training by the public schools, and recreational and social activities normal to the

Sunday Afternoon Circus Merits Careful Analysis Before Challenging Right or Propriety of Troup In Scheduling Stop at Friona October 8

Editor's Note—Certainly we are not sanctioning desecration of the Sabbath publicly or privately, but we feel our responsibility as reporters and representatives of a press dedicated to dissemination of facts, and facts alone, compels us to take note of this "touchy" subject being aired on the streets this week.

Life gets tedious, sometimes! At present there is quite a bit of discussion in our town regarding the circus scheduled to show here for an afternoon matinee Sunday afternoon.

And there have been numerous citizens, sincere in their Christian outlook, who have contacted this paper protesting the Sunday appearance.

Others have voiced their full approval of the circus showing on Sunday. And others have OK'd the day but condemned the idea of the money leaving town! So there are lots of viewpoints.

Back to the initial statement of "life getting tedious": Most of us are daily confronted with decisions in today's complicated scheme of things, wondering what is proper, and what is to be avoided. The radio, the daily newspaper, the seven day week of factory production workers, the television, the transportation program, all these bring into our homes problems of Sabbath observance.

I am attempting to make no decisions for any reader of this publication. But I will state some unalterable facts which can well be means in molding our decisions.

Here are the items for consideration as I see them was applied to the circus being brought to town:

First, the problem of the admission ticket money leaving town: Little can be done or should be done about this. Certainly there is insufficient home talent to produce a 3-ring circus with its wild animals here in Friona. I'm afraid hardly a freckle-faced boy in our entire area would get very enthusiastic about a home-talent circus! And if the circus should by-pass Friona, there would be many and many more who would drive to Clovis or Amarillo to avail their children of the age-old thrill that only the circus affords. I remember times in my own childhood, don't you? Naturally it would be better for the circus to be sponsored by some local organization, whereby some money could be retained here; we hope this can be arranged before show time.

Second and paramount point for consideration: Sunday afternoon circus appearance:

In denying our children the sight of the circus, we cannot but blush, long and deep, at our own selfish indulgences in listening to the Sunday afternoon baseball games, attendance at any movie, a stop by the soda fountain or open ear to an entertaining disk being ground out on the juke-box, attendance at the home-town softball game, a picnic at the creek, a game of dominoes or canasta, or possibly even the reading of Earl Stanley Gardner's latest thriller. Mind you, all these are forms of entertainment ranking side by side with the kiddies' circus in any tabulation. By all means, the observance of the Sabbath should be instilled into the lives of our children and practiced to the satisfaction of our own creed, but please, please, let's look at our own indulgences before we take up a crusade against the once-in-a-year of once-in-a-lifetime circus at a hometown site.

If you or myself prohibit our child's attendance at the circus, I sincerely hope that we will have the gumption, the sense of fair-play, and self control to turn that radio dial away from next week's big ball game.

Nisei Editor's First Edition Shows True American Democracy in Action

What makes an American?

Forty-two Nebraska newspaper publishers last June decided it wasn't the slant of a man's eyes or the color of his skin when they deserted their own businesses to help young Nisei Ben Kuroki print a 40-page debut edition of his newly purchased York Republican.

When Ben was born in Nebraska to his potato-raising family, nobody noticed him at all. He grew up unheralded, unscorned and practically unnoticed.

On Pearl Harbor day he and his brother volunteered to the Army. They were accepted, and Ben went to the Air Force. Only then did he find discrimination. "What's he doing in uniform?" "What's he doing in uniform?" But by the time Ben had flown 58 bombing missions in both Europe and the Pacific and had been decorated for bravery, people began to make up their minds that this was an American.

In a bomber named "The Honorable Sad Saki" Ben had a chance for many a lick at his "dishonorable ancestors." After demobilization Ben made up his mind to enter the newspaper field and he studied journalism in Nebraska. Then he bought the York Republican from veteran Nebraska publisher Joseph Alden. Alden is a ninth generation descendant of Pilgrims John and Priscilla.

His debut edition called "Operation Democracy" is in the way of being a welcome for young Kuroki to the Nebraska newspaper fraternity. In forty news and feature and ad and picture-packed pages appear the writing and the bylines of Nebraska's well-known community publishers, as well as the usual staff.

Kuroki says in his column named in honor of his old bomber, "The Honorable Sad Saki," that he wanted to call his column "Chopsticks and Rice," but his Idaho-born wife Shige Tanabe wouldn't let him.

In a "statement of intentions" carried on his editorial page, Kuroki sets forth the things in which he believes and on which he intends to base his newspaper. Though they are written by a man descended from an erstwhile enemy, these intentions might well be part of the American creed:

"We shall do our best to publish both sides of each story when controversy arises. We shall endeavor to present the truth at all times.

"We shall support all religious interests—whatever denomination or creed—because we believe religion and democracy are inseparable.

"We shall co-operate wholeheartedly with the schools, for we feel that the educational institutions are correlated with the prominence and progress of our nation.

"We shall propound and fight for the democratic principles upon which this nation was founded, for we believe there is no other way of life equal to the one it offers."

Foes of Freedom Throughout the World Seek to Stop International Flow of Information via Newspapers

GUEST EDITORIAL

By CARROLL BINDER

U. S. Member, United Nations Subcommittee on Freedom of Information and of the Press and Editorial Editor, Minneapolis (Minn.) Tribune.

Newspaper readers and radio listeners the world over benefit by the free flow of information throughout the world. All totalitarian governments and some governments professing to be democratic believe they would be injured by the free flow of information. Governments of that turn of mind exercise their sovereign powers to restrict the publication of news and opinion which they consider damaging to their interests. They try to prevent such information from reaching other countries as well as prevent its publication within the area they control.

These governments do not stop there. They try to make people believe that such controls make for "peace" and good relations between nations. They try to make people believe that those who insist on reporting what actually is going on instead of only what governments wish published are "warmongers," "monopolists" and "fascists." If they can persuade enough people that controls and censorship promote peace and freedom of information breeds war they will shackle the press and radio of the countries in which it is still free as they have shackled the press and radio of their own countries. If they can prevail upon the United Nations to write the principles of governmental control of information into international law they will have a sanction for their interferences with the free flow of news at present found only in their own decrees.

The foes of freedom operate on two levels in the international sphere. They are trying in the United Nations assembly to convert draft treaties which were intended to increase the flow of information into limitations of freedom. In the United Nations Subcommittee on Freedom of Information they try to influence world public opinion against freedom and in favor of restrictions. In both the assembly and the Subcommittee British, Filipino, Dutch, Canadian, Scandinavian and other believers in freedom have worked with Americans to lower existing barriers to the free flow of information and to prevent the raising of new barriers.

Latterly the believers in freedom have had to devote so much effort to protecting such freedom as exists that it has not been possible to do much about widening the area of freedom.

Never in modern times has it been so difficult to report what is going on in so large a part of the world. Never has it been so important to know what is going on. Those of us who have assumed some responsibility for the advancement of freedom of information urgently need and solicit the support of readers and listeners everywhere for the cause we champion.

DO YOU REMEMBER 20 YEARS AGO

From the Files of The Star

10 YEARS AGO

40-0 was the score of the Friona - Dimmitt game that year in favor of Friona.

All the public schools of the county were ordered closed for one day on Wednesday, Oct. 16, by County Judge Lee Thompson, as the first official action taken in this county to facilitate the registration of men within the draft-age limits.

Uncle Jon noted: I would to God That All Who Can Would Make Resolve To lend a hand. And prove to all They have the guts To lift our city From its ruts.

Wendell Wilkie was stumping the country in interest of his candidacy for president.

15 Years Ago

County Agent Alex Bateman and Judge Temple were at Friona for the purpose of delivering the "cotton checks" to cotton farmers of this locality.

M. A. Crum had spent the week on a business and pleasure trip to Floydada.

Friona Chieftains walked over Adrian to the score of 12-0.

The Friona Woman's Club met with Mrs. G. Cranfill and Mrs. Bert Shackelford as co-hostesses. Talks were presented including "Texas Under Six Flags" by Mrs. C. C. Maurer, and "Spanish Influence in Texas" by Mrs. L. M. McFarland.

The Friona Chiefs galloped 80 yards on first play to score in game with Muleshoe, winning by final score of 12-0. Sympton made the initial run.

O. F. Lange, J. A. Guyer and H. G. Morris, constituting the emergency fund committee of the chamber of commerce, announced their intention of giving a series of entertainments prior to Christmas time.

Pete Buske became owner of the Friona Produce on Main street.

Mayor J. L. Landrum promoted city clean-up campaign, and labeled the city dump a disgrace.

Jodok noted in his column "While I was loafing in the Star office recently a lady came in an dasked if it was customary to knock before entering. To which the editor replied: No, lady those who knock at all do it after they get inside."

Jack Anderson purchased the Egerton interest in the barber shop on the east side of Main street in Friona.

Bread and Butter Industries Have Been Neglected by Publicists of Inventions And Improvements of Modern Living

Perryton Editor Cites Meat Improvement As Marvel of Advancement

From the Ochiltree County Herald

Countless volumes of fiction have been written about the Wild West, its cowboys, Texas steers, cattle rustling and driving of herds over long trails. It makes exciting reading, especially with a little gunplay thrown in.

But how good was the meat produced in those days? If one judges by the picture of the "critters" of fifty years ago, compared with the modern beef animals that you see today on the larger ranges as well as small farms, the difference is almost unbelievable. The long-legged rangy steer of the two-gun story periods looks like he would be pretty tough eating compared with the short-legged, heavy set, well fattened animals that go to the packing houses today. There is just about as much difference between them as there is between the angular automobile of the early 1900's and the slick, streamlined product of 1950.

The meat packing industry and the farmers have been as busy producing new "beef models" as automobile manufacturers have been producing new car models. The consumer of meat, however, does not realize this. He has no idea of the cooperative effort that has taken place between the cattle raiser and the meat packer and the technical advances that have been made in processing meats in order to produce uniform quality that was unknown a few short years ago.

Whenever a new wrinkle for a life-destroying atom bomb is perfected the news is flashed around the world as a great accomplishment. But when bread and butter industries such as packing and farming produce a better meat animal, the accomplishment is taken for granted and little or nothing is said about it but producing better food is a blessing to the whole human race.

Weekly Book Review

Average American Doctor's Life Told In Biography, "Doctor Come Quickly" Interesting Reading but Minus Heroics

By Corinne Jennings

A doctor by the good old Irish name of Clancy has written his biography titled, amusingly or seriously, "Doctor Come Quickly!"

This is a readable account of an average American doctor's life, without any heroics, in which he disdains such and insists that the plain truth is best and can be just as interesting.

With the opening chapter the author is beginning his life as a doctor in the American northwest. At that time he was glad to be even a hotel doctor, which is what few medics want. His main objection to this practice was the number of alcoholic cases he had to deal with; poor pay or at times no pay at all. But in the beginning of a career one has to take what comes along, that is the penalty of being a beginner in anything.

The doctor then gets an appointment on the health board in a seaside city, offering many disappointments and no glory. His main trouble this time was with "the seagulls" a name given to women who follow the fleet.

In a reminiscent mood he swings back to tell of his early years and his medical education before World War I. He had hardly received his diploma when war and work began as a Lieutenant, Junior Grade, his biggest battle was the coping with the "flu" in its first deadly appearance in the United States. Before it was over he had it in a bad way himself.

With the war over he had to make a new start in private practice again, a thing that all men have to face who have gone to war and return home again. He tells of his first patient upon return and then continues through several chapters of case histories of various types, saying that patients are where you find them.

A new gold rush to Alaska brought a new type of patients to his coast town for embarkation for the gold fields and new problems are added to those he already had and for the town as well.

The doctor became more interested in a certain phase of medicine and treatment at this time because of the influx of various types of humanity and makes a decision to go abroad to study.

His Vienna Episode gives a clear picture of what doctors did and how, in Europe before World War II came along. He returns from the trip with big plans only to run into the worst depression in this country's history.

One character, a dentist, whom he had met when he first began to practice shows up again with his customary regularity but though he has an unique plan to beat the depression he makes the usual touch on "Doc" who can ill afford it at this time. But Joe never seemed to consider this at any time.

More case histories show increasing practice and he discusses personalities, their will to live, managing relatives, the man who had so little but who seemed to have so much, since he had "peace of mind."

Next to the last chapter is one he hesitated to add to the story but because the subject plays such an important part in everyone's life and so many are influenced by it, to add a modern touch because of the insistence of friends who thought it should be added and because of its informative nature he writes "Sex is not Comedy" and in closing "What Does It All Add Up To?"

Your reviewer thinks it all makes good and interesting reading and could give all who read it a better understanding, and perhaps more sympathy and encourage cooperation with their doctors.

The Law & You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

County Attorney, Lamb County, Texas

Do you know what an "injunction" is?

An injunction is an order of the court directed to a person or persons directing that they do certain things to prevent damage to another, or that they refrain from doing certain things which would damage another.

Most injunctions are prohibitory. That is they order the person to whom they are directed not to do the things complained of.

An injunction will be issued only in cases where there is no other adequate available relief to be had in the courts. They are frequently used in divorce cases, but very sparingly issued in other types of cases.

To begin proceedings to secure an injunction, the party desiring the same must file a sworn statement in the proper court, setting out his reasons for believing he is entitled to an injunction. Having filed the sworn statement, it is then presented to the Judge for his consideration. Should circumstances be urgent, he may immediately allow temporary relief, and grant a temporary order, setting a day for further hearing with all parties concerned present, to decide whether or not to make the temporary injunction permanent.

One who violates the orders of the court as set out in the injunction is subject to penalty as being in contempt of Court.

For further information on this subject, see your local attorney.

Question: This being National Newspaper Week, we wonder what uses you have made of your newspapers after having read them. In what ways have you disposed of them?

Mrs. MAC BAINUM: I might be termed a hoarder of newspapers and magazines. I keep them absolutely as long as there is space to store them! Of course I have used them for packing glassware, etc., and our son has made kites of them.

Mrs. A. A. CROW: Oh, lots of things! We have a roomer to whom we give all our papers, and we've used them to pack clothes for the laundry, to spread on cabinet shelves, and to kill flies!

Ray Landrum: (uncensored by Mrs. Landrum) My wife has laid newspapers on the stove top, spreading flour on them in which to dip our chicken-fried steaks. And I can remember our placing them on the floor before laying linoleum, too.

Mrs. C. L. McGOWEN, Summerfield: Well, last week I carried them to Hereford! Editor's note: Posies to Mrs. McGowen.

Mrs. Frank A. SPRING: Oh, I've used them extensively in paper mache work; and we've used them in making the little "set-upons" which are cushions used in hikes and at troop meetings by the girl scouts. I believe I rolled one up and spanked the dog to break him from chasing cars one time, too.

Mrs. FRED WHITE: I often line baskets of wet clothes with my old newspapers. No, I never spanked the dog with one; our little dog was run over today on the highway, and I saw yours there too!

And A DISH OF CREAM...

Many a dairy herd has been financed through a brief period when the owner's cash funds were low, and many a dish of ice cream would have been impossible without one of the bank's many services. The same could be said of practically any line of business or any occupation. The bank is keyed on service to the community, a service designed by our system of freedom to encourage development and progress. Many a steak is made possible by the bank which loans to the stockman to feed his herd and many a dress might never enter your local store during periods of stress if the bank were not ready to aid a town's development.

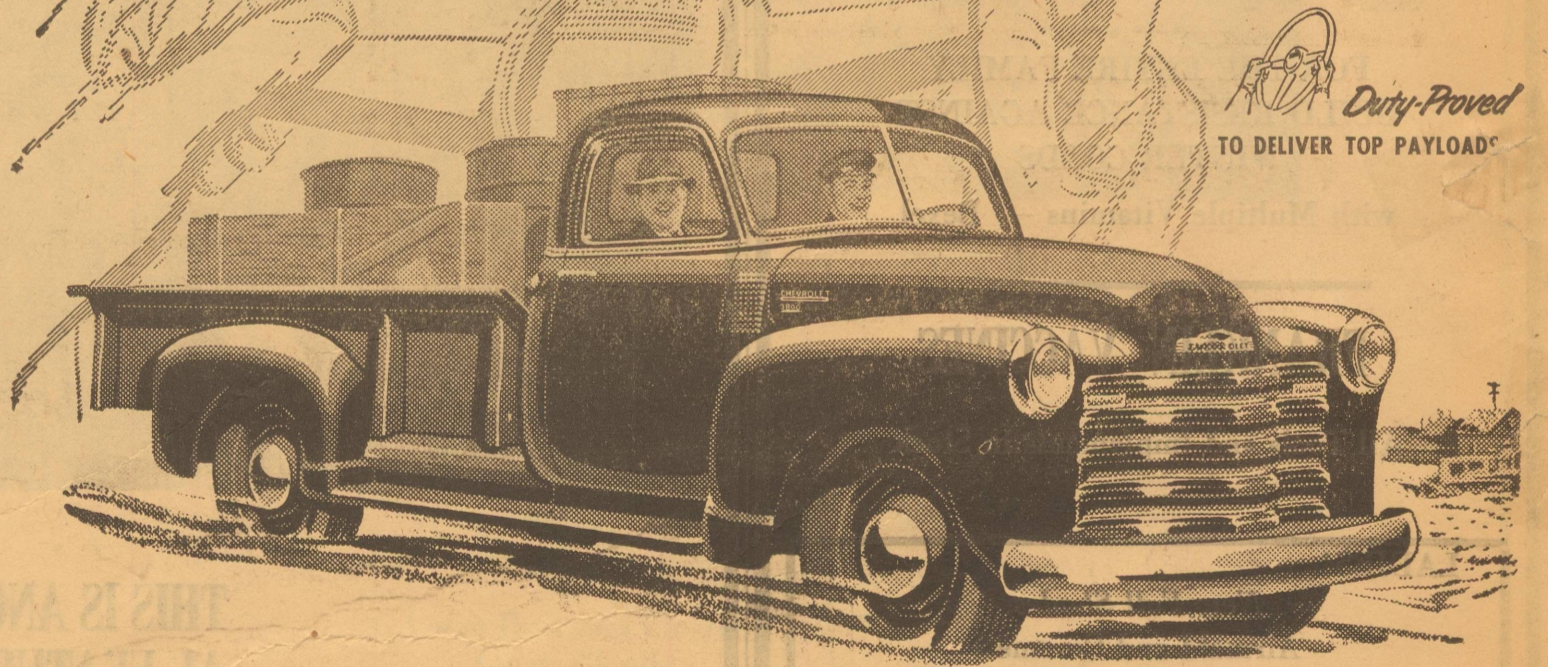

DID YOU KNOW?

That the Friona State Bank has one of the most complete banking services in Texas?

being studied and promoted, however, calling for rapid expansion. And why not? Over 800 applicants now are on the waiting lists! With over 350 ranches and towns and home for boys and only Girlstown for the homeless girls certainly phenomenal growth can be expected under the capable leadership of Miss Anthony, a woman with a dream and the determination to make it a reality. At the present, girls are accepted at ages from infancy to 15 years. They reside in the home, attending the public schools nearby, until high school graduation at which time they are offered college or business courses at Texas Technological College at Lubbock, to which they will commute daily from the ranch. Church and church school attendance is mandatory each Sunday, each attending the church of her choice. They all are at the home every night, but are allowed to date after 15 years of age, being accompanied by an adult "partner" of the home. Girlstown is open to visitors every day. May we suggest a visit?

For Short Turns and Quick Stops these Ford Brakes are Tops

If we told you how fast the Ford Tractor can stop and turn, you wouldn't believe us. But when you see a demonstration, you'll agree that the Duo-Servo brakes on the Ford Tractor are the "stopping-est," "turning-est" brakes ever. Here's something else. Both brake pedals are on the right . . . leaves the left foot for the clutch. Stop straight, or turn, with one-foot braking. Easy to service these brakes, too . . . no need to pull the axle. When can we demonstrate? We also have parts and service and Dearborn implements for all Ford Tractors.

Editor's Note: We wish to congratulate the staff of the Friona High school publication "The Arrow" for their aptitude and interest in preparing this page of school news as a part of the "National Newspaper Week" program. Preparation of the school paper is fun, but the work entailed in securing factual news from all departments of the schools activity, week after week, sometimes can be just plain w-o-r-k, and this publication is especially appreciative of the even extra effort expended to prepare columns, heads, layout, etc, for a "grown-up" publication, a new field for many of the staff members.

Here's to the Friona Schools and the Arrow staff!

Houlette Chosen Sweetheart Future Homemakers Chapter In Thursday Meet

Committees Appointed; New Members Initiated

New members of the Friona chapter of Future Homemakers of America were both formally and informally initiated Thursday night, September 28.

The formal initiation, a candlelight ceremony, consisted of the reading and explanation of the club creed, purposes, etc. It was followed by a brief business session under the direction of the president, Vera Ann Jones.

Committees for the year were appointed, and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Robbins, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maurer were elected club parents. Dale Houlette, popular Senior and football player, was chosen for the F.H.A. Sweetheart. The meeting was climaxed by the informal initiation.

ADDED INSULT

The speaker turned to the chairman of the meeting and said, "Please let me know if I talk too long. It would embarrass me to feel that the long-winded preacher who paused to say to his congregation:

"Now, it's all right for you to consult your watches to see what time it is, but I am very much annoyed when you hold them to your ears to find out whether they are still running."

Two Penalties For Chiefs; Ten Called Against Whitefaces

There was warwhooping, charging and scalping sufficient to arouse the most dead-pan of sports enthusiasts Friday night when Coach York's Chieftains took control of the second half period and twice charged across the corral fence of the Hereford Whitefaces to give a demonstration of real heads-up football, though the final gun sounded on a losing 34-12 score.

Hereford struck quickly in the opening minutes of play to score with their sparkling Jack Stanton, on the fifth play of the game. The Whitefaces continued their spectacular running attacks and chalked up a comfortable 27-0 lead by half-time, but lagged in second half activity.

During the evening, Friona threw 13 passes, completing 6 for 47 yards, while the Whitefaces threw six passes, completing 3 for 83 yards. Stanton scored twice for Hereford; Kelly, Walker and Engman chalked up one tally apiece; Engman converted three times, and a pass to Kelly was good for the fourth point.

Hereford was penalized 10 times for 10 yards, while the redmen drew only two rebukes for total of 10 yards.

Friona received the ball with the second half, Robbins taking in on his own 16 and lunging to the 32. Cleveland gained two yards, Robbins lost one, and Reed slammed over for six more. Then Robbins booted the ball all the way to the Hereford 16.

During the next series of downs, two plays were made while Hereford had only ten men on the field. The Whitefaces lost possession on number of downs, without making a first, and the Chiefs repossessed the ball on their own 20.

Reed made no gain on the first down; Cleveland made one on the next; a pass from Robbins to Miller was incomplete, but next play saw Reed plunge ahead for an 11-yard gain the seventh first down for the Friona eleven. Storming ahead, the Chiefs drove goalward with Reed, Cleveland and Robbins carrying the ball. Robbins storming five yards for the first Friona counter. A run by Reed for extra talley was unsuccessful.

In the last quarter, the Chiefs passed and rushed to still retain the offensive evident throughout the bottom half of the game. Second score came after one of the Cleveland-Miller passes falling incomplete and a 15 yard penalty against Hereford for roughness, placing the pigskin on Hereford's one-yard line. Cleveland plowed over for the last of the 12 points.

Band Formation at Hereford Mid-Game Had Wide Applause

During the halftime at the Hereford game, the Friona High school band gave a very entertaining performance. First, they played the Star Spangled Banner and then went into their formation of an old fashioned bicycle. With the bicycle moving down the field, the band played "Daisy Bell." Then, all at once, the tire went flat and Pat Deaton, the so-called mechanic, whizzed out on the field in a car as old as the bicycle. Out he jumped or fell, with the tire pump. After much work, the tire was fixed and Pat walked slowly to the car weaving from side to side as if he were well-tipsy, tossed the pump over and finally in the car and left the field. Amid much applause, the bicycle then moved on off the field, ending the performance.

Along with our formation, Hereford made a modern bicycle built for two.

Dimmitt Bobcats Next on Docket For Chieftains

The Dimmitt Bobcats, so-called tough team of the year by some sports writers, will play host to the Friona pigskin handlers Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

While the Bobcat squad is all primed to chalk up another victory, the Chieftains with Coaches Cook and Tyer are grilling for a different outcome, going after their first victory in the fourth battle of the season.

Local fans are reminded of the importance of proper backing in effecting a triumph at Dimmitt, and a large delegation is expected to trek to tomorrow night's game.

Up and Down the Hall

Since the recent crossing of the 338th Parallel by the South Koreans, many have given considerable thought to the subject. Here are a few opinions voiced by Friona High school students when asked the question, "Do you think the South Koreans should have gone across the 38th Parallel?"

Jimmy Ray Gore—"Yes, I do. It's the only way to win."

Mary Lou Miller—"If for losing, they should; if for winning, they shouldn't have."

Margie Hall—"No, because they are getting ready to trap us."

Jay Cobb—"Yes, if they didn't do it, who would besides the North Koreans?"

Dee Ann Buske—"It might be pretty good, but they might be fixing up a plot."

Laura Nell Hardesty—"Surely. If it had not been they, it would have been us."

Rose Williams—"I think they should have. We've got to win the war, and that's the only way to do it."

Keith Brock—"I think the South Koreans should and the Americans should if the North Koreans don't give up."

Gaylord Maurer—"Good deal—just so the Americans don't."

Virgil Phipps—"Why certainly. I think they ought to teach the North Koreans a lesson."

Ima Jewell Busby—"No, because I don't want the U. S. to get into a fight with Russia."

Eddie Spring—"No, I don't. There was an agreement of so much territory that was to belong to them so there was a treaty signed, and I believe they should have kept it."

PTA Membership Drive Is Launched

In the membership drive inaugurated by the Parent-Teachers Association last month a prize of $5.00 is being offered to the grade school or high school, according to the percentage of joiners. The Eighth grade will be included in the high school division.

Membership fees are 50c per person, and all parents, neighbors, and friends of the school are urged to join in the worthwhile organization, helping some class win.

Notice to all students (and teachers lest they forget)—Six weeks tests will be held next week, October 11 and 12. Just a reminder!

Editorial

By VERA ANN JONES

Just what is this old thing called School Spirit? It seems to have taken a vacation from F.H.S.—a rather lengthy one, too. Not much evidence has been reported of the old fellow in a number of years. What's the matter? Aren't we proud of our school? After all, it's just what we make it, and if we aren't satisfied with it, well, so much as is in our power, let's change it. Of course it takes a while to build up school spirit, once you've lost it, but its like putting pounds on yourself—it must be fed. Talk your school! And above all, don't stand by and let someone run down your school, your football team, your band, or anything else! Defend the Red and White!

Let's get chill bumps when we hear our alma mater or see our school flag pass by. When the fight is gone there's not much left. A funeral for F. H. S. School Spirit might be appropriate, but it could be a little difficult to perform, so let's give it a shot in the arm instead. We felt a spark of revival in the Pep Rally held last Friday. Let's not give up the case now. Let's really mean that phrase in one of the Pep club's yells, "We're from Friona and we couldn't be prouder" How about it, Gang-

Future Farmers Under Leadership Of Fulks, Cruse

The Friona F.F.A. met in regular session on Tuesday, September 12, electing officers as the main item of business.

Officers are: president, J. Vonne Fulks; first vice president, Max Cruse; secretary, Frank Reed; treasurer, Ross Miller; reporter, Johnny Parker; parliamentarian, Jimmy Gore; watchdogs, Jay Cobb and Doyce Barnett; 2nd and 3rd president offices were left vacant to be filled later by applicants for the Lone Star Farmer's degree.

J. Vonne Fulks and Keith Brock represented the Friona chapter at Dimmitt recently at a district F.F.A. meeting at which Tommy Jones was elected district treasurer.

Greenhands Initiated
The annual F.F.A. initiation of Greenhands was held Tuesday night with 21 Greenhands present. After various stunts were pulled, they were royally treated to refreshments.

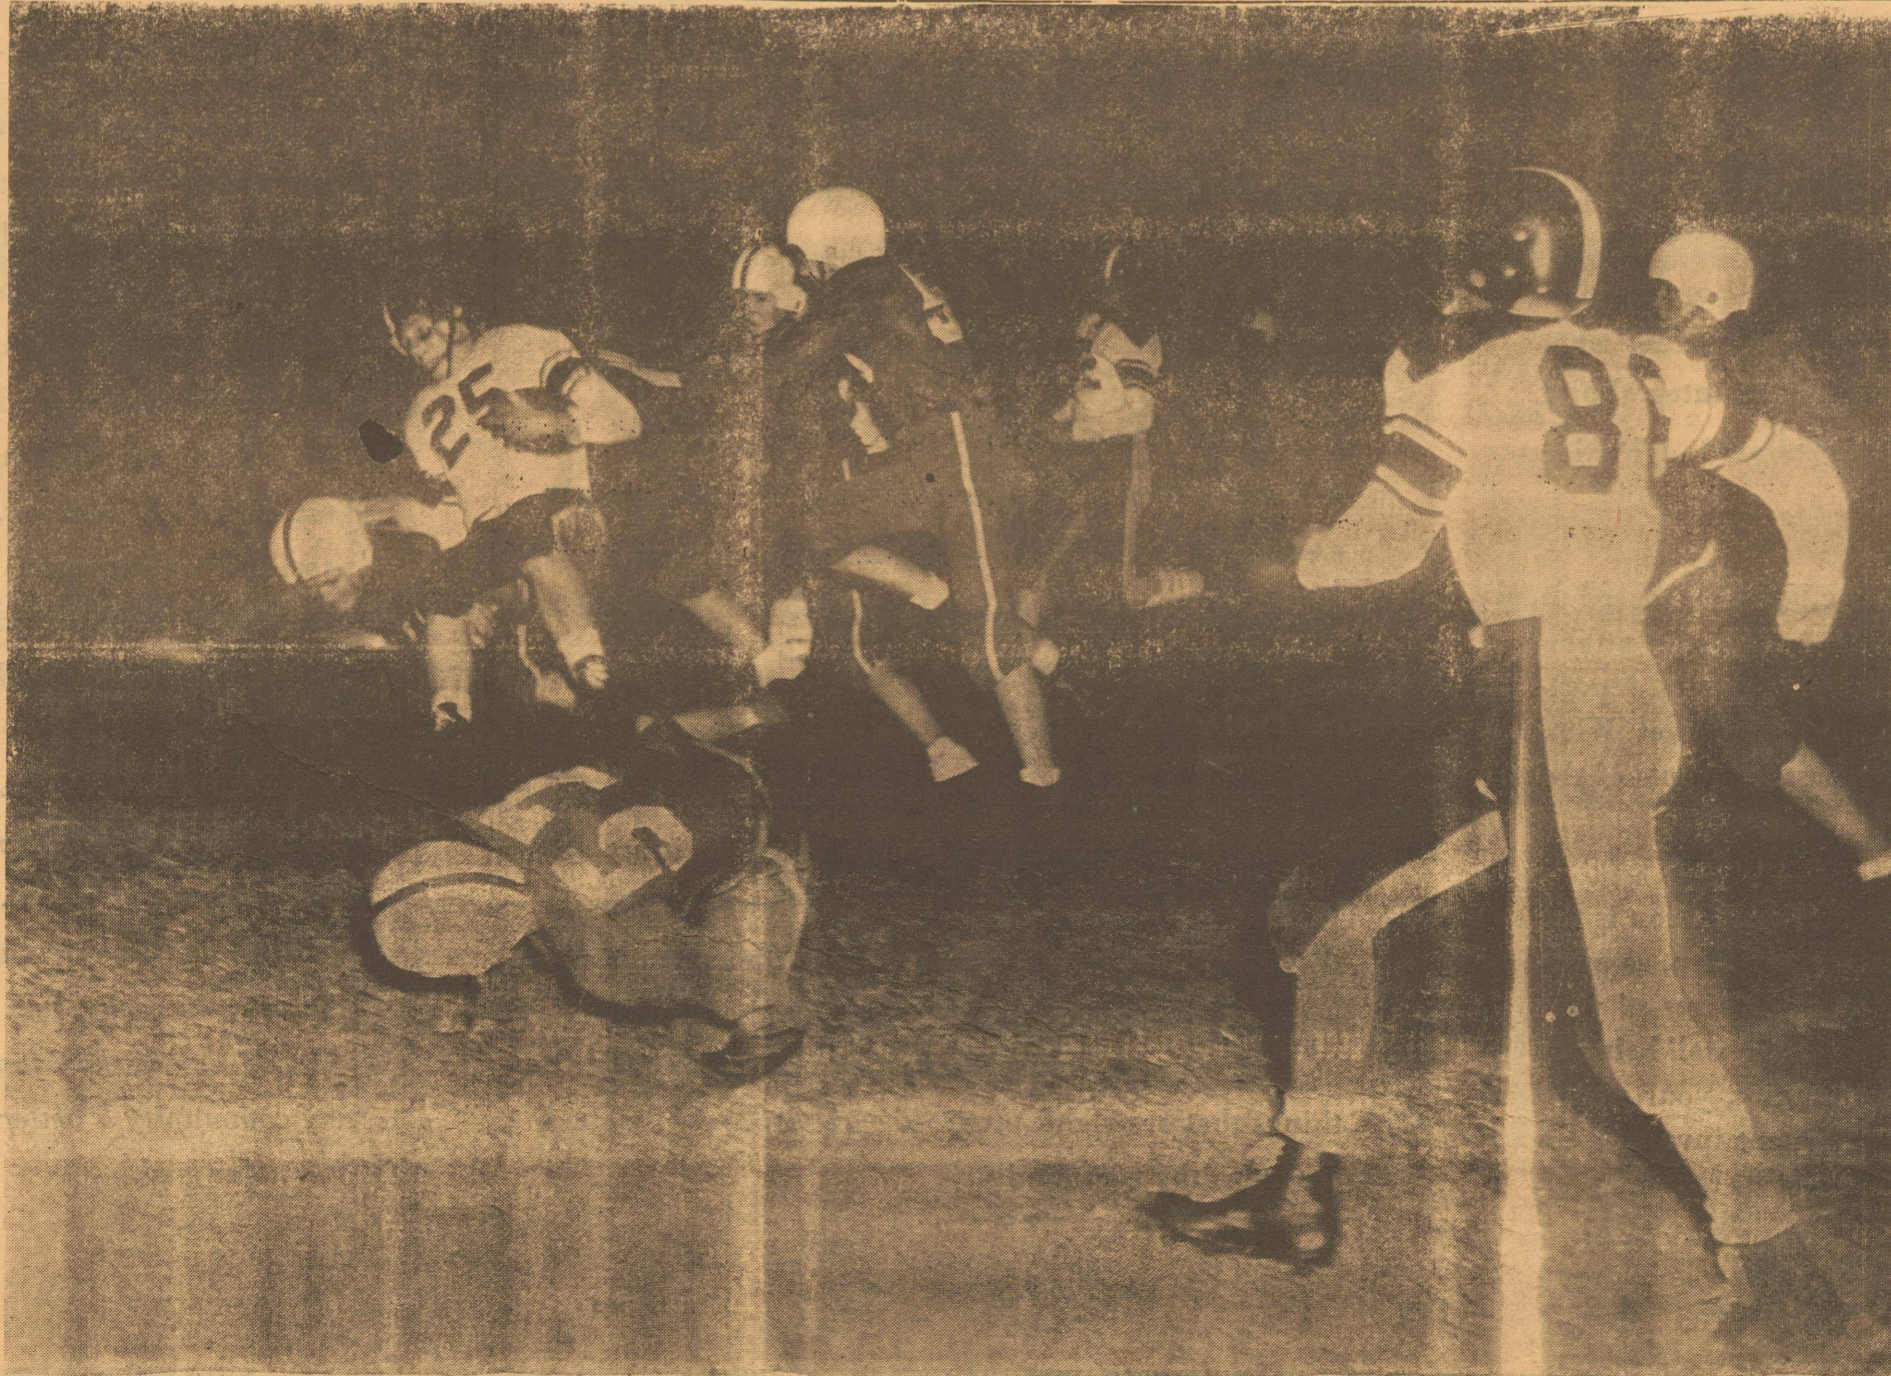

The Friona chapter is making plans for a larger and better Fat Stock show to be held in the spring. Several boys are purchasing pigs and calves to fit out for the spring show.

Annals Being Ordered; Deposits Needed Now

Orders are now being taken for "The Chieftain," school annual. Deposits of one dollar should be made as soon as possible to Mr. Kelly, or the full price of three dollars may be paid. We are looking forward to a bigger and better annual next spring, so get your order in early!

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK - OCTOBER 1 - 8

WE ALL KNOW

What Little Boys Are Made of ...

"Snips and Snails and Puppy Dog Tails"

But What Is Your COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER Made of?

A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER, AS WE SEE IT, IS A LIVING AND BREATHING PERSONALITY.

It mirrors what transcribes in the community, but it goes even further than merely reflecting what occurs. Your community newspaper is an integral part of the heart and soul of its area and the people it serves.

Your newspaper has many fronts, each exposed to a different audience. Most familiar front to the public is the printed sheet itself, a chronical of events, reported impartially as they occur, detailing the What, Who, When, Where, and How Much of passing events of the work-a-day world.

Next of the fronts incurring public attention is the Service rendered by the publication as a firm, as a fellow-business, as a staff of craftsmen. Services of your community newspaper is reflected in the well-being of your town, your immediate community, your neighbor. There is nothing abstract or distant involved in the service of your community newspaper.

Then there is the "Editorial Policy" of your newspaper as another front for daily observation. Certainly there must be a sound, uplifting editorial backbone to justify the very existence of a service publication. Editorial policy may be exemplified by specific statements of opinions on local questions of merit. Included in editorial policy is the understanding of the people served, and the consequent amplification of means and methods for their betterment. The community newspaper organ stands for right, decency, and integrity of the good things of life. Weekly it praises the good deeds and good people, warning and condemning as negative forces enter a community. People who read it are entitled to read it and experience an inward glow as they know they have a champion who understands and appreciates. It makes them like one another, stirs within them hope, optimism, and an appreciation of those things that are right, progressive, and physically good for a healthy community.

The mechanical "front" of the newspaper cannot be overlooked. This side, unfortunately, is seldom exposed except to the skilled craftsmen who dedicate themselves to manufacturing a complete new product with each issue of the paper; the compositor, the make-up man, the pressman, the sterotyper, the devil. Theirs is a precise task challenging with every new issue the best of skilled endeavor, the inventiveness, the will to excell, the willingness to work long and hard to produce a newspaper that is physically attractive, easy to read, a WANTED visitor in the home.

Your FRIONA STAR, as one of the many weeklies of free America, is striving to attain the stature that it has set as a goal. The publisher, mechanical workers, and reporters alike are ever cognizant of the sincerity, integrity, and pride of our trade that is our contribution to the scheme of things in making this or any community a better one. With your help, we will attain our goal.

There's Good Reading Ahead In The STAR

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK - OCTOBER 1 - 8

Meet The Gang At The Star Know Their Duties:

YOUR CORRESPONDENTS AND REPORTERS:

MRS. W. C. WILLIAMS, JR.,	Lazbuddie
MRS. A. G. WHITE	Bovina
MISS ANN BATEMAN	Farwell
MRS. MELBA NEELLEY	Friona
MRS. J. N. MESSENGER	Messenger
MISS LUCILLE HOFFMAN	Rhea

We are your reporters and correspondents. News is our business. We express no opinions. We give no advice. Our interest lies in telling the stories of our communities as they happen. Most of us are housewives; our items are cheerful ones, dealing with the folks you know. Ours are the items the editor says are often the first stories the readers look for. Ours is, in large measure, a real public service.

Like the grandmother of a family who keeps up with the comings and goings of all, like the friendly puppy who knows everyone in a community, we keep an interested eye on news items. The statements in our stories must be checked, the facts verified; the names must be spelled correctly; the addresses must be right. And we take subscriptions, too!

MAKE - UP MAN

STANLEY PHILLIPP

Correction: I'm a Pressman, Sterotyper, Floorman, Compositor, Office Assistant, and . . . oh, just lots of things that should merit a raise in salary! Seriously, my job on a small weekly paper involves proficiency at all these crafts. Not only am I expected to be a production expert, week after week, but I am the machinist, too, repairing and constructing as needs arise. On weekends I do job printing, too, an art somewhat separate and apart from newspaper production. And yes, that's bound to be my picture at the upper left. You'll find me in this pose just any press day, feeding the big 31" by 44" sheets into the Babcock flatbed press. I need to know correct mechanical techniques, page make-up techniques, grades of paper, rules of form, etc . . . all part of the job that brings new challenges and new problems with each day. Which all means that you don't have to be nuts to be a newspaperman, but it helps!

TYPE - SETTER

C. C. DODSON

Now, why did Bert list me as a type-setter? Sure, that's where you usually find me . . . at the keyboard of the linotype machine, but on a small weekly, I am compelled to draw on my decades of printing experience to function as fill-in or supervisor or worker in each and every department of the Star . . . from machinist to reporter to job printing estimates. Bert put my picture below in the position of "Atlas holding the world" because, franky, the typesetter is the base of all newspaper operation. All mechanical departments must wait on the slug of type for their initial steps. I must know my grammar and spelling and punctuation, too, because even the most careful of copywriters in the weekly field seldom have time to prepare stories in perfect form. Goodness knows, they would not have time to gather the facts and sell the ads and speak at the luncheon clubs if they spent all their time considering the correctness of copy submitted; I just have to plug along day after day correcting copy and riding herd on this Model 14 Linotype, being sure no lines comes out etain shrdlu.

BERT NEELLEY

I fill space! No, that's not right; ultimately all the space of the news and advertising columns is filled, but it is not done so by haphazard, slapstick methods. There's a reason for just about every inch or every word in the paper, and it's my responsibility to guard the use of those inches. In my mind I must carry the problems of the editorial, the business, and the mechanical departments, and publicly I represent your newspaper.

We editors must be careful if the paper is to succeed. We use local stories, buy certain features, and exercise our knowledge of news as a commodity available to the public.

We also see to it that sufficient circulation is provided to enable your newspaper to charge rates of advertising to provide a living for the staff of the paper and to enable operation. All the while the newspaper must provide a public service to each person who contacts the newspaper in any way.

When all these problems of editor-publisher are coordinated and solved . . . then you have the Star!

But the Most Important Staff-Member is . . .

YOU

Friona School Plant Stems From Ideals And Work of Early Community Settlers

Present Construction Auditorium - Gymnasium Gives Well-Rounded Facilities in System

By JOYCE MILLER
Feature Editor

The present Friona Independent school system didn't just happen. It has been built from the ideals and the carrying out of these ideals of some of the first Friona settlers.

In 1914 there was a third class school here, which had three teachers and offered one year of high school. By using funds from the Black community and adding three teachers it became a second class school. Then in 1921 the building which housed the school was destroyed by fire. School was carried on for several years in a five-room shack. Then a bond was voted for a new building in 1923. This building was completed and dedicated Jan. 1, 1924 and cost $52,000. This is our present grade school building. This same year, Friona became an independent school district.

In 1926, it became a four year high school and a first class school. That year, six students graduated from Friona High School.

Buses were bought in 1922 to carry students to school. These were the first school buses used in the state.

The present high school building was erected in 1931.

In 1926 the state school supervisors of the Department of Education said "Dozens of larger schools in Texas would gain much by a visit to the Friona school system."

New Building

On the first of June, the BMMFP Construction company of Lubbock contracted to build our gymnasium-auditorium in 320 days. The foundations and spot-footings are run. Temporarily, work has ceased awaiting the arrival of structural steel and face-brick, which should come in this week. If these materials can be procured now, construction should be on schedule. And if you will do some counting on your fingers and toes you'll find that we should have our new building finished about April 16! (You Seniors keep your fingers crossed.)

Deposits Now Insured Up To $10,000 at the Friona State Bank

Depositors in the Friona State Bank are now given protection of all deposits insured up to $10,000 for each depositor. This increase from the previous $5,000 insurance was made effective September 21 with the signing by the President of the United States of the bill enacted by Congress known as the Federal Deposit Insurance Act
