

Small Wonder the Cafeteria Is Popular With Students Appreciating Good Meals

Probably the most popular place around any school system is the cafeteria, and especially is this true at the Friona eating place, where appetizing, well-balanced menus are assured by regular inspection and careful planning. In the top photo, Mrs. Benger, Mrs. Day and Mrs. Ratliff are serving at the noon hour rush, while below is shown the real object of all this! One-half pint of milk is a must at every meal, together with a well-balanced diet. Mrs. Baker, home economics instructor, is supervisor of the meal planning. Cost for eating at the school is 25c for grade school pupils, and 30c for others.

Local Station Owner Credited With Breaking Case of Stolen Automobile

Clarence Veazey Notified Officers Of Suspects Here

Credited with action leading to the arrest of a couple wanted by the Federal government went this week to Clarence Veazey of the Bandy and Veazey Conoco station here.

Charges of driving a stolen automobile in interstate commerce, a federal offense, were filed against Nicholas Joseph Zub and his wife Grace, alias Grace Petrilla, alias Grace Kretsek, in federal court Tuesday in Amarillo. The car was stolen in Albuquerque. Confiscated in the car was an eight-millimeter French pistol and blackjack, according to Hereford police chief Floyd Reeves. Local action commenced when the couple stopped at the Friona station in a maroon Chevrolet and ordered $3.70 worth of gasoline and a quart of oil. Asking Veazey for a road map, the couple pulled out without paying while Veazey was inside the station, whereupon he notified the Hereford law enforcement officers.

Bonds of $1,000 and $500 respectively were set for the couple by the United States Commissioner in Amarillo.

Rush Business For Fire Department Throughout Week

Two fire alarms were sounded in Friona Wednesday and one last Thursday night. The two on Wednesday did little damage, though the heavy winds could have caused a serious situation mighty quick. One was just west of the Glenn Reeve residence at some barns. The other was in the southwest part of town and was evidently set from a burning trash barrel.

The Thursday night fire was at the Jim Wilson rent house across the highway north of Smiley's Cafe. Some damage was reported there, including floor and wall damage and destruction of a divan.

On November 27 the losing team of the drive will entertain all Legionnaires and their wives with a buffet, supper and party.

Mrs. Foister Rector represented the local Auxiliary at the district convention in Shamrock last week.

Funds Solicited In Polio Drive Over Entire Nation

With reports of polio running rampant in parts of the nation and funds lacking to care for even our own crippled children in Texas, Ed S. Stewart, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has issued a call for an advance special gifts campaign.

In a letter directed to Dan Ethridge, campaign director here, Stewart urged immediate action.

Mr. Ethridge states that no personal contact method will be used in this special drive, but funds may be left with either the county chairman, Loyde A. Brewer, or with Mr. Ethridge. Either bank in the county also will receive funds at all times.

Scores Congratulate J. W. Baxters On Occasion of 50th Wedding Anniversary

Thirty-one Descendents Present During Day

Over one hundred and sixty relatives, friends, and special guests congregated at the J. W. Baxter home in Friona to honor Mr. and Mrs. Baxter on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday.

All children of the couple were present, together with 21 of the grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

James William Baxter and Miss Mary Emma McCloud were married Nov. 15, 1900, in Arapaho, Okla., beginning a union with descendants now numbering seven children, all living, twenty-four grand children, and nine great grandchildren.

Children are L. R., Charlie, and Bill Baxter, all of Clovis; Clarence Baxter of Springfield, Colo.; Louis Baxter of Cheyenne, Colo.; Mrs. Calvin Martin of Lamar, Colo.; and Mrs. Miles Robbins of Friona.

Mr. Baxter, 67 years of age, and Mrs. Baxter, 66, are both quite active, taking alert interest in life and doing a good day's work just every day! Mr. Baxter still is engaged in farming, his vocation since before marriage, and Mrs. Baxter still finds that the housework, cooking, etc. leaves little time for else.

The couple lived at Weatherford, Okla., at time of marriage, and moved the next year to Elk City, filing on a claim there. They moved to a farm near Friona in 1938, and have lived in town for the past five years.

The anniversary festivities began with dinner at the Miles Robbins home northwest of Friona, the family and guests then coming in to the Baxter home here. The giant cake was decorated with special 50th Wedding Anniversary wreaths and was set on a large mirror bedecked with yellow baby mums.

Local Elevator Facilities Still Able To Handle Bumper Yields Now Being Stored

Key Rate Reduction Of 6c Effective Nov. 15, Friona Fire Policies

Effective November 15, Friona fire insurance holders will benefit from a new six cent saving in key rate, the state fire insurance commission office announced this week.

The reduction from a 69c key rate to 63c key rate was explained as due to two factors. The old single pumping unit drew a 7c charge, while the present double installation calls for a lesser 3c charge.

The former pump deficiency also drew a 3c charge which has been erased completely. However, watermain's deficient in size in the residential section draw an 8c charge now against the last tabulation showing 7c charge; thus a net six cent reduction of the key rate.

Election of PM A Committeemen Set For Next Tuesday

Tuesday, November 21, 1950 has been set as election date for PMA Committeemen.

There will be election polls at the Parmer County Implement house in Friona; the Lazbuddie store; and at the AAA office in Farwell. Each farmer in the county is being mailed two ballots, one for himself and one for his wife, which may be executed and returned by mail or be taken to the polling places in their communities. Officials urge that everyone turn out and vote.

Sixty-second Wedding Anniversary Will Be Friday for E. O. Moyers

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Moyers, parents of Joe Moyers and Mrs. Moyers, will celebrate their 62nd wedding anniversary Friday, November 17. Mr. and Mrs. Moyers have maintained their own home at Canadian until a few months ago. Mrs. Moyers is confined to a wheel chair by arthritis. Although 87 years old Mr. Moyers is still able to work in his garden and reads without glasses.

Now visiting a daughter in Spearman, the Moyers return early next week to spend the winter with their children here.

Local PMA Issues Approvals, 1951 Soil Practices

Due to the 1950 funds being used up in the county the local PMA office has started issuing approvals on the 1951 program for subsoling, terracing, chiseling, contour listing and any other soil-building practice that might be carried out within a short time. Remember you must secure prior approval before the practice is started and report completion when the practice is finished in order to earn payment. Following is the list of practices approved for Parmer county for 1951:

Terracing, subsoling, leaving stubble, summerfallow, contour listing and chiseling, control of bindweed, levelling land for irrigation (land must have been irrigated 3 years before assistance can be obtained), reorganization of farm irrigation system, (well must be 3 years old before assistance can be obtained), applying superphosphate (only legumes and permanent pasture), seeding permanent pasture.

Moisture Tests Are Lower This Week

Grain crop harvest has evidently reached its peak in Parmer County this week, with ideal harvest weather prevailing since Sunday, and most of the feed testing much drier than only a few days ago.

As many as 600 loads of the golden grain have rolled into Friona on peak days this week, but local elevators report ability to handle the heavy traffic with little delay.

Practically every elevator in the county is well over half full, but with the dribble of a few cars and the greatly enlarged local storage capacities, it is doubtful if much if any Parmer County grain will have to be dumped on the ground, even for the bumper crop.

Though acreage and yields in most instances far surpass last year harvest, some of the grain is weighing lighter than previously, some operators report.

The present favorable weather conditions came as a welcome relief to the farmers after the freak cold snap prevailing from Thursday of last week through Sunday. The thermometer dropped to 10 degrees in Friona last Thursday night, and was reported as low as 5 degrees in the Farwell vicinity. With very slowly warming temperatures, winds increased Sunday to blow isolated fields, with more damage reported to counties east of Parmer.

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St., East St. Louis, Ill., a nurse, says she wishes she had found out about HADACOL sooner because since taking HADACOL she feels so good. Mrs. Adele was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Adele's own statement: "I have been a nurse for over 14 years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and I am full of energy."

Why HADACOL Gives Such Fine Results

HADACOL does not bring just symptomatic relief. HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the cause of aches and pains in the shoulders, legs and arms, certain nervous disturbances, and a general run-down weakened condition due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in your system.

HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, iron, and Niacin but also helpful amounts of important Calcium and Phosphorus —elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

Why These Vitamins and Minerals Come In Liquid Form

Don't Be A 'Doubting Thomas'

After reading Mrs. Adele's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great new nutritional formula will help you if your system lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Adele, it can do for you if you're troubled with aches and pains in the shoulders, legs, and arms, certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upset stomach, stomach distress and a general run-down weakened condition due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't you see that HADACOL is the kind of product you need—the kind you should buy and the kind you should start taking immediately!

Sold On A Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful!

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drugstore if you suffer a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This great HADACOL is inexpensive, too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

The Law & You

By Robt. (Bob) Kirk

County Attorney, Lamb County, Texas

Do you know whether you may insure anyone's life you may choose with yourself as beneficiary?

You may not insure just any one you may desire and make yourself the beneficiary of an insurance policy. You must have some "insurable interest" in a person to be able to take out insurance on his life.

An "insurable interest" is a relationship either by blood, or marriage, or by reason of business, which would give the beneficiary some reason to benefit or gain some advantage by the person insured continuing to live, and whose death would result in a loss to the beneficiary. The purpose of the insurance is to pay for the financial loss accruing to the beneficiary by the death of the person insured.

Also you may not insure property in which you have no interest, and make yourself the beneficiary.

Any other rule would open the door to many types of fraud, and many types of schemes against public policy, and probably serve as an inducement to many to commit extreme violations of criminal laws. For further information on this subject, see you local attorney.

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARKE

NO matter how sweet a tooth you have, once in a while your taste buds appreciate tartness. Cranberries are tart but here we supplement them with pineapple for a Cranberry Pineapple Pie. The amount of sugar added isn't enough to make the filling sweet. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, 1/4 tsp. salt. Add 1 1-lb. can whole cranberry sauce and 1 9-oz. can (1 cup) crushed pineapple. Mix well. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate, dot with 1 tbsp. butter or margarine. Cover with remaining pastry and don't forget to slit the pastry top. Bake in a hot gas oven (425°F.) for 30 mins. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Such laundry as towels, corduroys, bedspreads that don't need ironing when they're dried in the gas dryer, shouldn't be left in the laundry basket to wrinkle. Fold them and put them away as soon as you take them out of the dryer.

Beets won't lose their gay red if the long taproot leaves and an inch or two of stem are left on.

Recently approved by the American Gas Association's Testing Laboratories are new gas furnaces which may be installed in such confined spaces as closets—especially convenient for the new basement-less homes.

Soil Analysis Service of Texas A. & M. Now Available to Farmers, Jones Says

Recommendations Based On Test Are Furnished

County Agent Joe Jones has announced that the soil testing service of the Texas A. & M. college system is being expanded and will be in charge of M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist. According to director G. G. Gibson, Texas Agricultural extension service, the laboratory will be ready to begin operations on November 1, 1950.

A charge of one dollar per sample will be made for the testing service and samples should be sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas. Each sample submitted for testing will be analyzed for organic matter, nitrogen (compounded), soil reaction, available phosphoric acid, available potash, available lime and soluble salts, says Thornton.

Recommendations based upon the soil analysis and the information furnished the laboratory at the time the sample is sent will be made and returned to the sender, says Thornton. Each soil sample sent to the laboratory should be accompanied by a completely filled in Form St-2. These forms are available at your local county extension agent's office.

The sample submitted for testing must be truly representative of the area it is supposed to represent. If it is not a representative sample, says Thornton, the analysis and recommendations may be of little value to the sender of the sample. County agricultural agents can furnish complete information on how the samples should be taken so they will represent the area which is being tested.

Thornton says that at least two and possibly three weeks will be required to process, analyze and get a report back to the sender. He points out samples should be sent to the laboratory well in advance of date when the recommendations will be needed for use in planning the planting and rotation systems for the farm or ranch. A good plan is to send in samples during the winter from land that will be planted to crops in the spring, in the spring for summer use and in the summer for fall use. By following such a procedure, he says the recommendations will be available in plenty of time for use in planning cropping and fertilizing operations.

Information obtained from soil tests will aid in determining deficiencies of one or more plant nutrients, the need for lime or other soil amendments; in diagnosing certain plant deficiency diseases; in diagnosing certain soil abnormalities, such as salt spots and in determining toxic quantities of materials in the soil.

Thornton suggests to farmers, ranchers, gardeners and others who have soils on which they'd like to have an analysis made, that they contact their county agents and get the complete details on how to take a soil sample, what information to send with the sample and how and where to send it.

Christmas Trading At Home Needed More Than Ever, But It's A Two-Way Proposition, With Obligations Incurred On the Part of Purchaser and Seller Alike

Let's talk for a bit about the commercial aspects of the Christmas season practically upon us.

This opening statement may cause most readers to assume that this editor is another of those fellows capitalizing on a commercial basis, on the most blessed event in the history of the world. But such is not the situation—far from it.

We merely wish to bring out some of the points involved in the reconciliation of inevitable commercial aspects and the spiritual aspects of this glad time of year.

As your Sunday school teachers impress time after time, Christmas celebration by way of giving is one of the most beautiful, most unselfish actions of our way of life. And in giving, it is inevitable that we buy.

NOW FOR OUR POINT!

Everything else being equal, we urge you to buy at home, in your home county. Few business transactions return as much to you as the little purchases you make from your hometown merchandiser. This is definitely true when that retailer keeps his prices in line (he cannot expect to do else and hold your trade and goodwill), when he arranges attractive, convenient display of goods, and when he has a genuine interest in your getting full value received . . . because you are his neighbor! Mr. Retailer, that is a big order, but you've just gotta fill it if you plead "Trade at Home."

From our conversations and observations, we believe that the expanded business section of Friona is very alert to the responsibilities of serving the Christmas trade. We are confident they will save for you.

And as long as these businessmen provide better service cheaper, the Star will go to bat for them, with every facility at our command, in urging . . .

TRADE AT HOME WITH HOME FOLKS.

But unless the goods are provided, the service rendered, and the price kept in line, we certainly wish to censor no one for trading out of town. So, let's work together, consumer and seller, and all profit thereby, in satisfaction of playing on the home team, and in seeing the benefits of money channeled right back to us through our schools, our churches, our civic clubs, our civic enterprises.

Pity the Infantryman; He knows From Daily Experience That the Publicized Push-Button Warfare Is Far Away

From Ochiltree County Herald

The Korean conflict has brought the position of the foot slogging infantryman into focus as the backbone of the American and United Nations armed forces. This in spite of the preparations after World War II for a "push-button" armed force which would eliminate any need for the man on the ground with a rifle.

The ironic part of it is that the infantryman, who form the army's bating ram, are not paid as much as the technical men and rear echelon forces in the Army, and far less than the Air Force. The average monthly pay of a member of a rifle company is $135, compared with $226 for an air force combat crewman and $172 for a Navy submariner.

Combat infantrymen used to get a $10 a month bonus, and a nice combat infantryman's badge, but now they have only the badge, the bonus being discarded.

All of the other troops such as signal, ordnance, armored force, quartermaster, chemical warfare, finance and the rest are basically, simply the infantry's support. They exist for the sole purpose of aiding the infantry in its grim task of closing with and capturing or destroying the enemy. If the infantry fails to do that the cause is always doomed.

Infantry takes the beating in war. It suffered 70 per cent of the casualties in World War II, and perhaps a higher percentage in Korea.

As columnist Drew Pearson pointed out recently, mere money is small recompense for asking a man to risk his life in war, and at best, live miserably. But it is the only recompense possible—no way exists to make the infantryman's lot an easy one. It is certainly a reasonable assumption that the infantryman deserves a better break than he is now getting.

What we can't understand is how nature takes care of things, even though they may happen years and years later. For instance, look how our nose and ears are located, just to hold spectacles.

The way some women shop, you'd think they were taking inventory of the store.

The reason they call money "jack," is because it lifts such a load off a person.

Ross Santee's "Rusty" Is A Boy's Book Telling of A Cowboy of the Old West

By Corinne Jennings

Ross Santee, Arizona artist and writer, took one critic literally when he said Santee's "Bubbling Springs," a novel which came out last year, was a boy's book and that he gave his copy to a youngster. Now the author has condensed the same book and left out that which had a tendency toward adult reading, bringing it to the boys as "Rusty, a Cowboy of the Old West."

It is a good clean and authentic story based on what could have happened and perhaps did happen to boys with a yen for a life of freedom on their own in the 1800's.

Nathan Rogers, or Nate as he was called by his redheaded and spunky mother, is the hero of the story. He thoughts and actions of Nate will be easily understood by the boys who read about him as he is so true to life. He too has red hair which later earns for him the name of "Rusty."

His early years are upset in a little town, but after his mother's death he goes to live with an uncle. His life is never dull and he manages to learn a lot and fast in the wild towns of the frontier where his uncle lives until he is killed, again leaving Rusty on his own.

His fight for survival toughens him, sharpens his mind, and gives him a freedom and independence of spirit so typical of boys who became men early, in those days.

He moved on from place to place during the next few years, covering lots of country and learning the lore of the mountains and plains. Rusty learned too about cow punching and horse wrangling which was a favorite mode of living for those who sought adventure in earlier times. It was a hard life but one that appealed to those who had no ties.

He was one of the many who followed the herd up trail, the biggest adventure of all for those connected with the cattle business in the southwest.

Rusty covered many miles and knew many people in strange and little-known places of Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Colorado and finally Arizona. He rode many years before he found the spot he had been looking for all his life. He made his home on the chosen spot where he "batched" and improved the place which he built there. He hired out to help on the nearby ranches as a cowboy or bronco buster or even as a general helper during the various seasons of cattle work, fence building and other phases of ranch chores.

During the slow times he worked at home, or visited his neighbors, sometimes going to the little town many miles away. He made friends with some of the more friendly Indians though there were some of them who would have taken his scalp had they had the chance, or his horse and even resented his staying at his home place near the "Bubbling Spring" which had once been a favorite stopping place of theirs.

Then there was Sleepy, the black mare, and Colorow, the one-man horse, who were also his friends and very necessary to him for travel and something to love.

And at last he finds a girl to become his wife and he has a real home once more after many lonely years without one.

DO YOU REMEMBER

Mother W. E. Goodwine, Doc Seamonds, R. H. Kinsley Recalled as Homer Fox Tells of Friona Incidents Back in 1913

We didn't worry about the price of gas or how many miles you could get out of your car back in 1913; just to get there and back was the main thing. We bought our gas from R. H. Kinsley; he used it with his well rig and usually had a barrel or two sitting around. We would pump the gas out with a hand pump into a 5 gallon can and pour it into the gas tank on the car through a funnel; I'm not sure but think it was about 10 cents a gallon; anyway the cost was not considered at that time.

Rube Kinsley was always busy, he had plenty of gab and was always kidding some one, his heart was as big as they make them, and he was always helping some one that needed it, and he loved it, and he did more and more of it as the years went by. I don't suppose anyone ever really knew just how many good things that Rube did do for his friends and neighbors, cause if any one knew about any of it, some one else had to tell it, because Rube never talked it himself, a grand fellow.

One morning while filling the car, Doc Seamonds walked up and what a character Doc was, he ran the livery stable, sold some feed and farmed some. He was a little fellow, wore a handle bar mustache; he was the father of Clyde Seamonds and Grandfather of Owen Seamonds. He was outspoken and blunt in his speech, but square as they make them, and everyone that knew him, loved him. His heart was big and we would go far into the night to help any one in trouble. Doc kept one little rig that was very popular, a little rubber tired buggy and a little bay horse by the name of Fox, which was a small horse, fat as a butterball, full of pep but gentle as a dog, and plenty wise to young folks' courting; he knew all the tricks.

I used XFox a lot and most of the time it was at night. Doc would hitch him up before he went home and I would put him up when I came in that night. I remember one night I drove Fox a little harder than usual, was a pretty warm night anyway and Fox sweat quite a lot. Next morning Doc called on me real early and asked me quite a few questions about why Fox had been driven so hard. After I explained the best I could (and that wasn't very good) Doc says "it is true enough that you pay me for the use of my horse, and you don't have to take care of the little fellow, but unless you do take care of him, you just don't get him any more at any price. As well as I remember, Fox never did sweat any more as long as I drove him.

While we were talking that morning, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goodwine drove up and while Mr. Goodwine was getting some repairs for his windmill. I got acquainted with Mrs. Goodwine, and our friendship grew from that day until she passed away in 1943. For thirty years, I knew this grand woman. Mrs. Minnie Goodwine was an inspiration to all that knew her, the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock didn't have a thing that she didn't have, strong in character, strong in heart, a devout Christian that practiced what she preached, but broad minded.

she could lift you from the deepest ditch of despair to a high floating cloud in no time with that characteristic shake of her head, a hearty laugh, a broad smile that was catching, a pat on the back and words of encouragement that stuck to you because you knew she meant every word of it. Mother Goodwine we called her in later years, and she was just that. She was proud of her family and she well had a right to be, a fine bunch of kids, she loved her friends and neighbors, her row wasn't an easy one, but no one ever heard her complain. She was always trying to help the other fellow and she did.

I have seen her when the going was rough as could be, when I knew her well of tears was overflowing, and I knew she had a crack in her heart as wide as your two fingers, she would come up with that characteristic shake of her head, break out with that big smile and look at you with crystal clear eyes, pat you on one back and pour out words of consolation that never failed to help. If you never knew her, you missed something that can't be made up, one of the grandest people I ever knew.

Well Locations, Ditch Lines Part Of SCS Service

Farmers who intend to irrigate wheat should run in their ditches now, officials of the Soil Conservation district point out.

Local SCS technicians laid out ditch lines for Parmer SCD cooperators. J. G. McFarland and R. W. Pringle, last Tuesday. Albert Rolan, who is managing McFarland's farm, went to work with the ditching machine. He said the ground is already getting hard. It will get harder if this dry weather continues.

Local SCS engineers will lay out the ditch lines for district cooperators. Requests should be made a few days in advance. After the ditches have served their purpose for the season they should be marked in some way so that they will not be lost when the ground is plowed. All cooperators should take note of this, since we can run the lines for them only one time.

KNOT ALONE

A feminine passenger had boarded the bus after the lights had gone out. A tall man standing near her asked if he could help find a strap.

"Thank you," she replied, "but I have already found one."

"Then I wonder if you would mind letting go of my necktie."

Question of the Week

Arrow Editor's Note: The states of our country have gotten along very well united under one flag—why can't nations do the same? We are not saying the U. N. flag should be flown above the flag of the United States or any other country, but it could play a part in the solution to world peace. We are glad to see so many loyal citizens of the United States, but nevertheless, this controversy gives one food for thought.

Much commotion has been stirred over the fact that the United Nations flag has been flown over the United States flag. Here are the opinions voiced by the students of Friona high school when asked the question "Do you think the United Nations flag should be flown above the United States flag?"

Don Lewis—I don't think so because the United Nations is of different countries and the United States is one nation and in our country it shouldn't.

Dean London—No, because our flag is greater in our country than the United Nations flag.

Donna Miller—I don't think so because we are stronger than any other nations and our flag should come first.

Ed Schlabs—Yes, if the nations of the world could be like the states of the United States. The states agree so could the countries of the world.

Leatrice Miller — I don't think so because the United States is stronger than the nations of the United Nations. It is more important to us anyway.

Ray Fitzgerald—I don't think they ought to do so because the nations is more important than the United States. The flag represents a group and this group is more important.

Denise Magness — I don't think they ought to do so because the United Nations flag isn't as important as the United States flag. In our country we cherish it as the greatest flag of all nations, and it should be kept that way.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Thornton spent Sunday visiting in Hereford.

Varied Activities Mark F.H.A. Week

Sunday the Friona F. H. A. chapter started National F. H. A. week by attending the Baptist church, F. H. A. badges were worn during the week, symbolizing the organization colors of red and white. A community project was undertaken, in which the girls took magazines and children's picture books to the Farmer County Community hospital. A Sadie Hawkins party at the high school on Saturday night, Nov. 18, will climax the weeks' activities. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged.

Local Squads Will Meet Muleshoe Tuesday Night

20 Girls, 30 Boys Are Reporting for Practice

The Friona 1950-51 basketball squads will start their current season Tuesday night, November 21, when they meet the Muleshoe Yellow Jackets. Game time will be 6:30 p. m. with the boys B squad taking the floor followed by the girls A. The final game of the evening will come when the boys A meet.

Coach Cook reported at the first of the week that he had 20 girls reporting daily for practice. Only three lettermen, Ruby Shaffer, Martha Blankenship and Helen Nita Carr are returning this year. The squad is made up mostly of Freshmen and Sophomores. Most of these girls have had a small amount of experience but we know that they will be out there fighting as hard as they know how.

Approximately 30 boys are returning to practice this week with football season just past. Bringing back four lettermen this year the Chiefs are gunning for a district championship. Lettermen returning are Doyce Barnett, Darrell Robbins, Max Cruse and Ross Miller. The boys are working hard as most anyone of them can testify and we are expecting to see some real ball-handling before the year is over.

Let's everybody come out Tuesday night and back our team, both boys and girls. Remember game time 6:30 p. m.

"ORIGINALS"

Cannibal Island

By Phyllis Almon

Alone on an island, with cannibals around—

Far off in the distance I heard the drums pound,

I heard a weird warning for any man about—

I heard one holler, then the rest shout.

I heard something crackle, and I heard something pop—

I stood there listening and I heard the noise stop.

It sounded like the cracking of a branch from a tree,

And in the dark shadow, I saw something move toward me.

I looked for a place where I could possibly hide,

Then there were two big black men standing by my side,

They tied me up with their strong rope—

'Twas at that moment I lost all hope!

As I roll over in my bed I fluff my pillow under my head,

And think of my terrible dream And how real things did seem!

THE BULL WINS A ROUND . . . Nearly always the bull comes off second best in Spain's national sport of blood and sand, but sometimes the torero is on the losing end. The loser in this fight in Madrid is Jose Moreno. His footwork is a mite too slow and the bull is just about to hook him with a needle-sharp horn. Moreno is affectionately known to his fans as "Josefette," and is an apprentice. His thigh was badly gored, and he was saved by a colleague who diverted the bull.

Years Mean Little, Especially If One Is Alert as Grandmother Thornton at One Hundredth Birthday Celebration

Not everyone has their pictures in the hometown paper two weeks in a row... not everyone celebrates their 100th birthday anniversary, well in mind and body, as did Grandmother Nancy Adeline Thornton early last week!

Top picture was taken as Mrs. Thornton set in her chair in the corner of the living room, turned so that she might see each of her children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and well-wishers as they filed through the door just prior to the birthday dinner in her honor.

Center: Rev. J. E. Tidwell and an old acquaintance, Jack Wilkes, stand with the centenarian just after the meal.

Appeal Issued Here For Gifts to Vets In Hospitals

Thousands of veterans will be in hospitals this Christmas unable to go home. These thousands will be remembering their folks at home during the Yuletide season and perhaps be a little saddened. Saddened not by the fact that they are unable to be with their families but also saddened by the fact they are unable to go downtown to buy Christmas gifts.

It is at this time of the year that all of us near or far to the Veterans hospital in Amarillo can join the host of Volunteer hospital workers in contributing gifts for this Gift Shop.

Boxes in which you may leave your gifts are in the following businesses: Foster's Dry Goods, Knox's, Lewis Variety, and City Drug. You are urged to leave a gift. This is so little for those who did so much!

A suggested list of gifts from which Veterans like to choose are:

For Ladies and Teen-age Girls—Hand embroidered things—tea towels, pillow cases, dresser scarfs, luncheon cloths, boxes of toilet soap, boxes of good candy, pretty lengths of material for dresses, bath towels, face towels, wash cloths, house shoes, stationery, scarfs, anklets, slippers, nylon hose, cosmetics, costume jewelry, head scarfs, pencil sets, purses.

For Men and Teen-age Boys—Socks, handkerchiefs, nice ties, men's toilet soap, boxes of stationery, shaving lotion and toilet articles, cigarettes, scarfs, belts, razor sets, good pipes, hair brushes, house shoes, playing cards and billfolds.

For Little Girls—Dolls, teddy bears, toys, anklets, hair ribbons, pajamas, dresses, materials, sweaters, woolen mittens and caps, story books, gowns, slippers, panties and dishes.

For Little Boys—Shirts, sweaters, socks, ties, handkerchiefs, pajamas, belts, pocket knives, story books, building sets, guns, footballs and toys.
