OUR VIEWS

Safe schools a must for our students and their educators

An after-school confrontation at the junior high last week brings home the reality that violence can and does find its way onto our campuses. It's something that as parents and taxpayers, we simply cannot tolerate. Our children deserve an opportunity to receive an education and they deserve to be able to receive that education in a safe, secure environment.

Be strict, be strict, be strict, be not too strict

In Edmund Spenser's "Faerie-Queene," an intrepid warrior passes through a series of doors emblazoned with sound advice: Be bold! Be bold! Be bold! A fourth door offers even sounder advice: "Be not too bold."

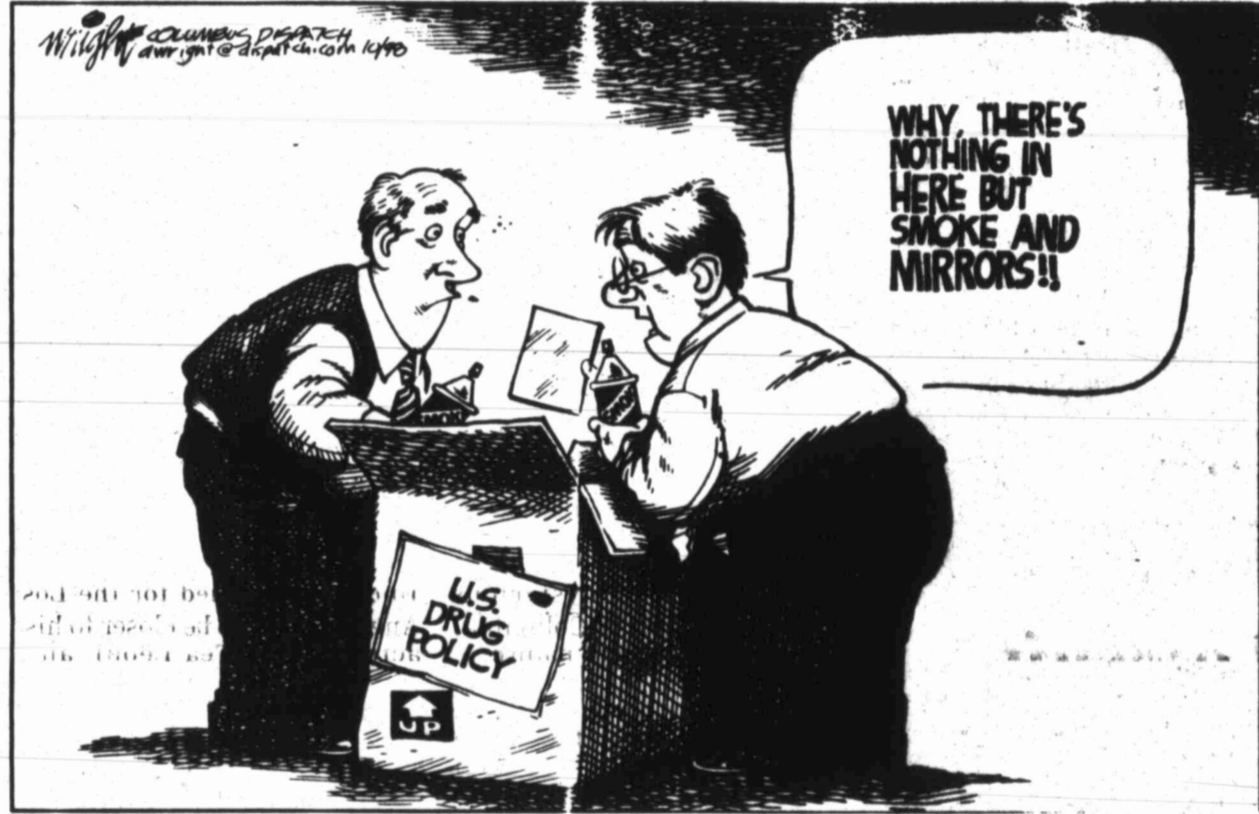

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

Singleton's lawyer moved to exclude the testimony. His point was that Douglas would be receiving a "thing of value" in exchange for his evidence.

Singleton's lawyer moved to exclude the testimony. His point was that Douglas would be receiving a "thing of value" in exchange for his evidence. He would be receiving leniency. Federal law expressly forbids the bribery of witnesses.

The blow may not be as drastic as it seems. The Singleton case will be reargued this month before all 12 members of the 10th Circuit. In the past four months, according to The New York Times, at least 13 federal courts have disagreed with the 10th Circuit.

This should be interpreted solely in terms of money or tangible goods. Judge Kelly refused to buy that reasoning. "The promise of intangible benefits imports as great a threat to a witness's truthfulness as a cash payment."

Election outcome sends mixed signals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now Republicans face the dilemma of dealing with impeachment proceedings most voters don't want, after elections that broke the patterns of history in favor of Democrats.

With the better-than-even break the Democrats won, the atmosphere has changed, just as the impeachment investigation is about to begin. There's no detailed program yet.

Missouri, the House minority leader, said impeachment should be handled expeditiously now, settled in this Congress before the newly elected one takes over next year.

Men need to be educated on fungal diseases to stay healthy

DOUG KAUFMANN
Syndicated Columnist

I just couldn't believe my ears! I had suspected that Mike's prostate problem was linked to his wife's chronic vaginal yeast infection, but his doctor just laughed when he heard of my suspicions, "Men don't get yeast infections," he told Mike. One need not be a genius to figure out that men are exposed to female yeast via sexual contact. After that revelation, however, apparently one needs to be a genius to understand that the same yeast that makes bread rise can also make a prostate rise. We call this condition, benign prostatic hyperplasia, or BPH. This condition affects millions of men. Yet it doesn't affect millions of boys. Why do you suppose that is? I believe that it is for the same reason that girls never have endometriosis, but women do. Could it be that both prostate swelling and endometriosis are sometimes sexually transmitted diseases?

When we were young, we learned that syphilis and gonorrhea were about the only sexually transmitted diseases (STD's) that we had to be concerned about. These were both inconvenient, but treatable conditions. Of course the rules changed when the AIDS virus (I do not believe that AIDS is caused by a virus) began to plague us. Now, promiscuity demanded a higher price. Yes, AIDS can quickly kill a person. I contend that yeast can also kill a person, but does so slowly and medically.

In 1972, Dr. J.D. Oriel and his associates published in the British Medical Journal that yeast could be sexually transmitted. Now, 22 years later, Dr. A.V. Constantini, head of the World Health Organizations (WHO) Collaborating Center for Mycotoxins (fungal poisons) in Food, published that fungal poisons contributed to Atherosclerosis, Cancer, and an array of diseases that doctors do not know the cause of. Since yeast is a single celled fungus, one might logically deduce that many diseases have a yeast or fungal etiology.

Ten physicians published an article entitled Candidiasis: Scourge of Arthritics in 1995. Not only did this publication confirm a fungal role in arthritis, but it also educated doctors that men do suffer from symptoms that are fungus related. One doctor stated, "In men, the most common symptoms I see are fatigue, depression, headache, irritability, memory loss, along with impotency and impaired sexual drive, bloating and abdominal pain." The medical textbook Clinical Mycology dedicates an entire chapter to fungus within the genitourinary system of our bodies. A subchapter entitled Fungal Prostatitis expounds on this condition.

Mike's doctor is most likely a fine man. But folks, fungal diseases are rapidly spreading and the WHO is correct in associating many health aberration with fungus. Had Mike not called me with the news his doctor gave him, I'm certain that he would be relegated to a life of prostate exams, pills and misinformation. Since you and I have no authority over a physician's continuing medical education, it becomes imperative that we self educate and stay healthy. This column is dedicated to that cause.

Nike recalling 350,000 pairs of 'Air Face Up' shoes

BEAVERTON, Ore. (AP) — Nike is recalling 350,000 pairs of its "Air Face Up" because a design flaw has injured about 35 people who wore the studded basketball shoes.

Nike said Tuesday that the shoe, which went on sale in June, has a small metal rivet attached to the outside of the sneaker that can be bent to form a sharp edge.

Nike said it has received about 35 reports of high school and college-age basketball players being cut while wearing the shoes. Two players required stitches.

Nike first made the connection between the design flaw and the injuries in mid-October and notified the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

'X-Files' making changes in sixth season, moving from Vancouver to Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There's a lull on the set of "The X-Files," allowing star David Duchovny to smoothly demonstrate disco moves to "Rock the Boat." Then he engages in a trivia battle to name the band responsible for the 1970s hit.

"Tell him what he's won," a playful Duchovny says in his best quiz show voice after a crew member comes up with the answer, the Huey Corporation. It's easy for Duchovny to be cheerful now that he is finally living and working in Southern California. But what about all those dedicated "X-Files" viewers who fret that moving the Fox drama ury ship anchored in nearby Long Beach; a decommissioned Air Force base; farm land, and even a spot that mimics Virginia.

On this day, filming is taking place in the Culver City High School gym, just a few miles from Twentieth Century Fox's lot on the westside. Mulder is crashing a class reunion dance as part of a fraud investigation.

There are drawbacks to filming in the Los Angeles area, Carter acknowledges, such as higher labor costs and the time it takes to get around on the extensive, usually jammed freeway system.

The payoff is happier actors. Duchovny lobbied for the Los Angeles move to be closer to his actress wife, Tea Leoni, and Anderson has endorsed the change despite her affection for Vancouver.

What else can Carter do to keep his stars content?

"We're writing good scripts. David is really excited, so is Gillian, and they're both extremely happy not to just be here but they think the work is really good this year," Carter says. "That's all you can do for them, ultimately, is give them good material."

The busy Carter is dividing his attention between "The X-Files" and his other Fox series, "Millennium," which he is trying to nurture to story and ratings health. Carter considers "X-Files" his "first child" and is writing and directing a number of episodes.

Duchovny also is taking the opportunity to write an episode and is slated to direct.

The season will include a continued emphasis on what Carter terms the show's "mythology," Mulder's obsessive quest to solve his sister's long-ago abduction and uncover the intricate conspiracy he believes festers in government's dark corners.

It won't be a one-note season, Carter promises.

"I think this year there are quite a few funnier stories in the beginning of the year ... before we come back to solid 'X-Files' scare," he says. "We've done some stuff that made me laugh out loud this year."

There's also an innovative approach in the episode shot

Lawsuit against Chiquita being thrown out

CINCINNATI (AP) — A judge threw out a lawsuit by a man who claimed the Chiquita banana company terrorized him when he tried to buy and ship Honduran bananas for a competitor.

U.S. District Judge Susan Dlott ruled Tuesday that the lawsuit by Ernst Otto Stalinski, which figured in a controversy over a reporter's access to voice-mail at Chiquita Brands International Inc., should be handled in Honduran courts.

Stalinski argued that he cannot get a fair trial in Honduras because of Chiquita's economic clout with Honduran officials and judges. Chiquita, based in Cincinnati, has denied wrongdoing.

Stalinski, a former agent of the Irish fruit exporter Fyffes PLC, accused Chiquita of corrupting judges in Honduras, committing piracy and trying to kidnap him in 1990. He demanded damages of more than $1.5 million for what he said were lost commissions.

Last summer, Stalinski's lawyer said a newspaper reporter fired on suspicion that aboard the Queen Mary. It was done in linear time, with every shot connecting to the next. Carter wrote and directed the hour in which Mulder and Scully appear to be caught in a Nazi-era time warp. "I honestly think it's the best season so far," says the soft-spoken Carter. He is confident the audience's enthusiasm will match his. He dismisses the low summer ratings earned by the series, blaming the numbers on the ready availability of the show in syndication and on videotape. And he's convinced "The X-Files" movie, which did respectable box-office business this past summer, has the potential to bring in new viewers. For those who skipped the film, a recap of it and of last season's finale will smooth the way into Sunday's episode. There's something else to keep in mind, a plot twist that X-philes might find too bleak to ponder. Carter, Duchovny and Anderson are bound to the series for this season, and then just one more. "That's gonna be the show. I think if it goes past that it will be great, but that's what I anticipate," Carter says. Turns out there could be something worse than Los Angeles. Oblivion.

X-FILES

Named ZOOM — the "M" stands for manure — the animal droppings are being snatched up by plant lovers at a cost of $2.95 for a two-pound bag. The Philadelphia Zoo is joining other zoos around the country that are enjoying some sweet success with animal droppings. Zoo keepers estimate that they pick up about 600 pounds of excrement daily — just from the elephants. When all the animals are put together, the amount of dung reaches into the thousands of pounds. "Goodness knows we have an endless supply. That'll never end," Maisie Barlow, who runs the zoo's retail business, said Tuesday.

DEKALB, Miss. (AP) — An election for sheriff came down to a lot of hot air — literally. A circuit clerk was forced to pull out a handheld hair dryer Tuesday in an effort to separate damp ballots that were stuck together and couldn't be counted by machine. "That's a kick isn't it?" said Oscar Shelby Goodin, who failed to make the runoff for sheriff. "I said, 'I've heard it all.' They got a hair dryer and put it on them. It's sort of funny."

he illegally obtained voice-mail messages from Chiquita played some of the tapes for him. However, lawyer Robert Manley said the tapes were not useful to his case. The Cincinnati Enquirer on May 3 published an 18-page series of stories, based on a yearlong investigation by reporter Michael Gallagher, questioning Chiquita's business practices and reporting about the Stalinski lawsuit. On June 28, the Enquirer renounced the series, saying it was paying Chiquita more than $10 million to settle claims and had fired Gallagher. Chiquita was pleased with the judge's ruling on Stalinski's suit, said Robert Olson, the company's general counsel, said today.

ordered to go to school
EHALLENS, Switzerland (AP) — A 105-year-old retired Swiss teacher was ordered to attend elementary school, thanks to a computer that cut a century off his age. The mix-up happened because a list of local residents had only the last two digits of his birth date, Roland Dougoud, town hall secretary in the western city of Echallens, said Tuesday. So the man, along with 65 5-year-olds in the town, received a letter ordering him to start school. As a result, "we have changed the computer program in question," Dougoud said. Millions of computers around the world must be reprogrammed to recognize the year 2000. Normally, they read only a year's last two digits, which could make them assume it is 1900.

ODDS-N-ENDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Zoo isn't letting the animal waste go to waste.

Goodin, 61, said that despite the troublesome ballots, "I reckon they're right. I'm sure they'll be double checking." Six candidates vied for the Kemper County job. Samuel Tisdale and William C. Jarvis will face off in a Nov. 17 runoff. Interim Sheriff Mike McKee, Goodin, Lewis Evans and Jeff Jowers were all eliminated.

HOUSTON (AP) — Every day, oranges and grapefruit are bruised needlessly. That's why a computer may be sent to the front lines to get to the bottom of it. Bhimu Patil, an assistant professor at the Citrus Center at Texas A&M University's Kingsville campus, is hoping to put a small spherical computer in with plants to measure the amount of abuse oranges and grapefruit receive between picking and shipping. The goal is to give packers more data on where bruising is occurring so that they can install padding at the appropriate pressure points. Many packers won't embrace high costs for padding unless they're shown data proving there's a problem, Patil said. Richard Walsh, president of Mission Shippers, is skeptical that his industry needs a high-tech detective to figure out what's bruising the fruit. "I don't think it would have taken one of those balls to find the bruising," he said Tuesday. The new machine will probably not find much comfort in the results of a previous experiment: Two years ago, the U.S. Department of Agriculture sent a similar probe into some boxed plants. It didn't survive.

Cousteau's legacy to live on

PARIS (AP) — After a voyage to the polluted Caspian Sea, the heir to Jacques Cousteau's legacy said Tuesday he wants to clean up the landlocked body, source of much of the world's finest caviar. "The work of Capt. Cousteau must not stop," said yachtsman Sir Peter Blake. "We must build on it rather than diminish it because it will be for the benefit of the world," he told reporters at UNESCO headquarters in Paris. Sitting beside Blake, Cousteau's widow, Francine, said the recent Caspian expedition could help civilization "millions of years into the future." The Caspian laps the shores of republics of Russia, Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan and Turkmenistan. Once the exclusive preserve of the Soviets and Iran, it is now threatened by overfishing — especially by gangs trafficking in caviar from Caspian Sea sturgeon. It is also being suffocated by nitrates, sulphur and fossil fuels due to its booming oil industry.

for the NL Most Valuable Player award.

"He had a better year than I did," McGwire said of Sosa, "because he went to the playoffs."

Even with expectations high for big totals in this expansion season, McGwire managed to exceed them.

He began his record run with a grand slam on opening day.

HOROSCOPE

HAPPY BIRTHDAY FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 6:

Others seem to have strong ideas about what should work for you. They want you to join them, whether it is for play or it centers around a cause. Count on your inner strength to discover the right choices for you. If attached, you could decide on a course that delights both of you. Romance builds through February 1999. Consider a greater commitment in 1999, whether it is a first or second honeymoon. GEMINI enjoys talking to you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Others mean well, and you have the best intentions, but tempers still flare. You'll feel as if you can't escape the office soon enough. You are right! Direct this volatile energy into getting out the door. Tonight: Work hard, play hard.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Use caution with loved ones. They make demands that could be costly. Put your foot down and say "no." Don't use money to placate someone. You need to work out issues. What do you want from this person? Tonight: Where the fun is.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You might be personality-plus, but others don't want to hear it and they don't agree with you. You are in the pressure cooker as you try to deal with bosses and family. Take one step at a time toward peace. Tonight: Do your own thing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Whatever you say gets misconstrued in today's volatile atmosphere. You need to find more effective ways to express your feelings. Others don't understand because they don't want to hear the content of your message. Tonight: Take a night off from it all.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You are going to hear things you would prefer not to. Feelings run high; as a result, you might have a problem dealing with requests. Money demands are especially outrageous. Tonight: Do what makes you smile.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Your temper flares, and what you have kept inside is no longer the world's best-kept secret. Don't be intimidated by someone's approach. Remember, the best defense is a strong offense. Keep work and a boss your highest priority. Postpone any turf wars until later. Tonight: Work late.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
You are uneasy over a problem and might not be able to suppress it much longer. Getting into work or a physically demanding workout might help, but it solves nothing. Why not deal with the inevitable? Tonight: Learn to distance in a loving manner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
Close relating brings forth a new twist. A friend pushes to have something his way. Pull back and think before leaping into action. Talk rather than act. Tonight: Turn up the love thermostat.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Pressure remains intense. You need to perform on a higher level now to realize a long-term desire. You come from a secure foundation; don't let someone push you around! Tonight: Go out on the town.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You want to toss your hands up in the air. Your point of view changes because of how someone presents his case. Though you try to be positive and not allow someone to manipulate you, you could still come to a decision about this person. Tonight: Hang out at a favorite spot.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
A partner tells you what he thinks about you and how you handle funds. Be careful, because you are generous of spirit and could compensate more than you need to. This could cost you! Tonight: Rebuild your reputation as a wild thing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
You are unusually positive in the face of difficulties and challenges. When you proceed from your authenticity, you will make the right choices. Be careful with others; they could be unusually manipulative. Tonight: Hop home.

A World of Facts

The Seven Continents

Planet Earth

• Millions of years ago, the continents were joined in an area we call Pangaea. Over millions of years, the land areas drifted apart to form the seven continents.

- 70 percent of the Earth is covered by water.
- 30 percent is land.

Continent sizes in square miles

- Asia: 16,990,000
- Africa: 11,657,000
- North America: 9,348,000
- South America: 6,885,000
- Antarctica: 5,400,000
- Europe: 4,051,000
- Australia: 2,978,000

Percent of Earth's population

- Asia: 60.8 percent
- Africa: 12.7
- Europe: 12.5
- North America: 7.9
- South America: 5.6
- Australia and nearby islands: 0.5

Number of countries

- Africa: 53
- Asia: 49
- Europe: 47
- North America: 23
- South America: 12
- Australia: 1
- Antarctica: about 30 research stations. Several countries claim areas.

1. Africa

- The Nile is the world's longest river (more than 4,000 miles).
- Africa is the only continent without a long mountain range.
- Africa was called the dark continent because for many years we knew so little about it.
- The African elephant is the world's largest land animal.
- Egypt is the site of the ancient pyramids.
- The world's largest desert, the Sahara, covers an area about the size of the United States.
- The cheetah is the fastest short-distance animal.

2. Europe

- The world's first skyscraper is the Eiffel Tower in Paris, France.
- Europe produces more manufactured goods than any other continent.
- The ancient Greeks and Romans spread ideas that still influence us today.
- Tourist attractions include famous cities and museums.
- Holland is famous for its tulips and windmills.
- Great Britain is an island off the northwest coast of continental Europe.
- The Matterhorn Mountain is in the Alps of Europe.

This continent:
• is almost completely surrounded by water.
• is about four-fifths covered by some kind of farm or ranch.
• has many natural resources.
• exports products including bananas, cocoa, coffee, hides, sugar, timber and oil.

Most of the continent is in the Southern Hemisphere. The seasons are opposite from ours. When it is winter here, it is summer there.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

Today is Thursday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1998. There are 56 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: Thirty years ago, on Nov. 5, 1968, Richard M. Nixon won the presidency, defeating Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

On this date: In 1605, the Gunpowder Plot failed as Guy Fawkes was seized before he could blow up the English Parliament. In 1872, suffragist Susan B. Anthony was fined $100 for attempting to vote for President Grant. She never did pay the fine. In 1895, George B. Selden of Rochester, N.Y., received the first U.S. patent for an automobile. In 1912, Woodrow Wilson was elected president, defeating Progressive Republican Theodore Roosevelt and incumbent Republican William Howard Taft. In 1940, President Roosevelt won an unprecedented third term in office as he defeated Republican challenger Wendell L. Willkie. In 1946, Republicans captured control of both the Senate and the House in midterm elections. In 1956, Britain and France started landing forces in Egypt during fighting between Egyptian and Israeli forces around the Suez Canal. A cease-fire was declared two days later. In 1974, Ella T. Grasso was elected governor of Connecticut, the first woman to win a gubernatorial office without succeeding her husband. In 1990, Rabbi Meir Kahane, a Brooklyn-born Israeli extremist, was shot to death after a speech at a New York hotel. Egyptian native El Sayyed Nosair was acquitted of state charges, but was later convicted in federal court of Kahane's killing. In 1994, former President Reagan disclosed he had Alzheimer's disease. Ten years ago: With the end of the 1988 campaign in sight, Michael Dukakis vowed to work for those living on "the family budget, not the family fortune" while George Bush pledged not to be "outhustled by the liberal governor from Massachusetts." Five years ago: Talks on restoring ousted Haitian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide to power collapsed when military representatives failed to attend. One year ago: The House overwhelmingly approved a bill calling for the most far-reaching changes at the Internal Revenue Service in 45 years. Today's Birthdays: Musician Myron Floren ("The Lawrence Welk Show") is 79. Singer-songwriter Ike Turner is 67. Actor Chris Robinson is 60. Actress Elke Sommer is 58. Singer Art Garfunkel is 57. Actor-playwright Sam Shepard is 55. Singer Peter Noone is 51. Singer Bryan Adams is 39.
