Nerves have been especially sensitive in the Friona area in recent days because of a series of incidents that have been much out of the ordinary to say the least in this usually peaceful Parmer County town. The last fire alarm sounded (Friday afternoon) had denoted the fire that swept through the Rockwell Lumber firm at its downtown location. Juvenile problems also had held the limelight on the streetcorners, in the school, and in the courts. So small wonder that probably most of the town's population rallied when the siren sounded repeatedly Monday. evening and every auto seemed headed for the heart of Friona, "down by the pool hall", as the

"A vigilent press has made the American people the best informed in the world."

Monday Morning Musings

"Kiddie 1rouble".

This rlast has been used in repeated instances in some publications as the attitude of Parmer County officers toward the late incidents in Friona.

Maybe this is the right phrase for some, but we think it a bit amusing being applied to some 22-year old married men who were charged and who plead guilty in the Monday night disturbance.

"Kiddie trouble!"

MMM

We wish to point out what to us are significant facts in the youth incidents that have given the area much undesirable publicity.

The visiting offenders Monday night were NOT school students, they were NOT Boy Scouts. Practically every one of them had undesirable records of surprisingly long standing, considering their immature ages. A 15-year old had detention home records. Another teen-ager came from a correction institution. Others had served jail sentences and some were on suspended sentences. On a whole, they were hoodlums.

The earlier incidents in Friona did not involve this class. As of this date, that class is non-existent here. But this one thing might well be remembered: Every offendor was at one time innocent; at one time he, too, probably was a student.

steps are taken toward delinguency.

Entered as second-class mail matter July 31, 1925 at the post office at Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1897. Published each Thursday.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Friona Star wil be gladly corrected when brought to the attention of the publisher.

We've seen a lot of boys raise their right hands in recent days and weeks. How much more gratifying to see them raised in the Scout pledge than before a court where charges are pressed against them.

MMM

Sunday is Mother's Day.

We trust that all of us will be especially thoughtful with acts of kindness, honor and remembrances on this day - to us one of the most important holidays of any year.

MMM

On a lighter vein:

A man and his young son stood in the gallery at the Capitol as the House was called to order.

"Dad", inquired the lad, "why did the minister pray for all those men?"

"He didn't, Son," the father replied. "He looked them over and praved for the country."

FROM THE CANYON NEWS (Applicable Even Here)

An Oklahoma farmer pulled a stunt on his city cousins which should be repeated throughout the nation.

This farmer drove into town during the period of a busy day and dumped a wagon load of tin cans and junk on the public square.

Hauled into court, his defense was that he was merely returning the junk which had been brought to his farm by the city folks.

This matter of keeping a clean town works both ways. There can be no clean town so long as the Parents and students and young folks, that is surrounding country is filthy. There can be no clean something to think about NOW, beore first or second farms so long as vandals drive into the country and dump their filth which accumulates in towns

So far most of the interest on summer jewelry is centered on ear-rings. Giant hoops, of imitation gold, are about the most popular ones on the New York scene. Some are almost as large as bracelets!

For your file of useless informa-tion: They say goats — yes, goats — are responsible for the discovery of coffee. There's nothing nicer for sum-mer dining tables than mats and napkins in vivid colors. Oftentimes you can make pretty ones from you can make pretty ones from worn table cloths, cut, stitched, then dyed with all-purpose dye. By mak-ing them yourself, you can always be assured of choicest colors to match your china; and with several sets it's fun to mix and match them as you please.

Sheer, sheer 12-denier nylons are making stocking fashion news: Gossamer-like you can hardly see them, yet they're as closely knit as some of the heavier ones. You'll love them for spring and summer sandal-type shoes.

This time of year broiled chicken, fresh spring peas and little new potatoes are at their best. My favorite way to prepare the chicken is to brush it generously and fre-quently while broiling with this mixture: Melt three tablespoons vitaminized margarine, add juice of ½ lemon and 2 tablespoons chop-ped fresh parsley, salt and pepper. * * *

Try caper mayonnaise on your next salmon salad. Gives a Sunday-special flavor you'll like. Here's how: Add 2 tablespoons of the juice in the caper bottle to a cup of real mayonnaise. Mix mayonnaise with flaked salmon and other salad ingredients. Serve additional caper mayonnaise over salad and garnish with capers.

* * * Looking ahead to vacation time, as you collect new summer frocks remember that light weight, easy-to-care for fabrics such as the syn-thetics, pure silk, jersey and sheer wools are easiest to travel with. Two basic colors with a third for accent simplify the number of accessories needed.

Yellow will be a very popular color this summer. And it's just possible that you have a last year's frock in a light pastel that can be stripped of its color with a good color remover then converted into a sunny, fresh yellow with an all-purpose dye that works on all types of fabrics.

About 7:80 o'clock Saturday morning we left hear to attend the day camp at Camp Leonitas near Lubbock. Scouts making the trip were Phyllis Bainum, Betty Barnett, Oarolyn Crump, Erma Dolores Elmore, Geneva Drake, Floyd, Gwendolyn Green, Linda O'Brian, Marilyn Potts, Faye Scales, Carla Singleterry, Janet Snead and Maritta Watson.

We were accompanied by our leaders, Mrs. Rene Snead and Mrs. Cordi Potts and the following mothers:

Mrs. Arthur Drake, Mrs. M. C. Watson and Mrs. Singleterry.

The camp is located on the edge of a hill where there are trees and is a pretty place. We were taken on a guided tour of the grounds and given an idea of what summer camp will be like. We enjoyed the trip very much and several of our girls are making plans to attend summer camp. At our regular meeting at the Club House Monday P. M. there were seventeen girls, our two leaders and two visitors. Each girl gave her opinion of what she attended the Grain Dealers convention in Amarillo sarly this liked best about camp and we discussed our overnight camp out. week.

THANK YOU FRIENDS!

Every person connected with the Rockwell Bros. & Co., Lumberm en, wishes to express the deepst of appreciation for the assistance Friday afternoon in combating the disastrous fire that swept through our Friona vard.

First, we humbly take our hats off to every member of the Friona Fire Departmnt - men whose skill and courage were strikingly evidence as they brought the flames under control.

Then, we extend our most sincere appreciation to the Hereford Fire Department for their work.

The Salvation Army even had its part, and we likewise send our thanks to the members who fought the flames, then bringing Cokes to the firemen still fighting the flames.

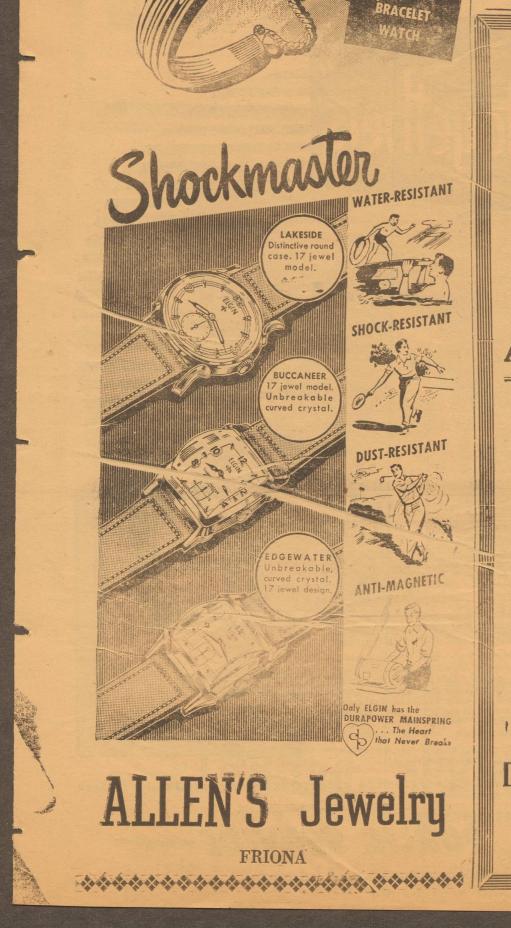

And there are many other towspeople who assisted in one way or other. To each of you, we intend this as a personal messag of our gratitude.

recent conventions of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and also the Daughters of the American Revolution. The problem concerned is not as simple as it might appear on the face. In fact, there are many incidental matters, facets and details that can, and no doubt would, arise. At the present time treaties made between this country and foreign countries are of course not binding until ratified by the Senate. The decisions of the courts in the past concerningthe priority of the Constitution o the treaties seem to conclude that these two pronouncements are on a parity insofar as one controlling the other is concerned. In any event look for some happenings on this front The other matter referred to con cerns interest rates, that is causing much trouble. Many economists subscribe to the policy that the best and quickest way to start a recession or a depression is to increase interest rates. However, another school of thought in the economic field denies this and takes the position that such a movement could well prevent a recession or depression by creating a stabilizat. ion of the dollar and a gradual deflationary trend which woold be a guard against infation. No matter which school of thought you might agree with, the fact remains that something will probably be done with the rates in the very near future. In fact, some action may be taken before this newsletter reaches you. It has been a matter that has been under consideration by the present legislative leaders and th administration, and we have all been expecting some action every day. A decision must be made on the problem for the reason that at the present time the mortgage market is almost non-existent. This means that many, many builders sible for these builders to carry these mortgages themselves, and unless thy can dispose of them as they move along, they have no alternative but to cease operations. This means extensive unemployment in many of the crafts, as well as in the common labor felds. It is going to be a hard decision to make, but it is one that must be made if our economy is to continue. A blanket increase of one-half of Dodge -- Plymouth -- Packard one per cent in interest rates would mean that the natonal debt would be increased by almost 1 1-2 billion dollars. This 1 1-2 billion dollar increase would be payable each year, in addition to the present interest payments that are being made of approximately 6 1-2 billion dollars, This would mean an annual increase in government exenditures of 1 1-2 billion dollars. In ten years

-tpa-There was continuous skirmishing over small loan legislation. Opponents won 'a round last week by delaying a bill by Representative Reagan Huffman of Marshall. Among other things, the bill proposes jail sentence for any lender whose charges exceed 36 percent a year. Supporters of the bill say this, along with other proposed lgeislation, would eliminate loan sharks. Most Texas finance companies disagree by saying that the small loan bills would only drive loan sharks underground and would give a foreign corporation unfair advantages over reputable Texas lending institutions. -tpa-
