

YOUR NEIGHBORS' OPINION

"Where Would You Like to See the New Post Office Building Located, on Main Street or Some Other Location?"

Emmett Day, Sr.: "I think it would be nice on the lot across from the Corner Grocery and set back off the street so it would have south side parking and paved parking in back for the mail carriers."
Mrs. Arthur Drake: "It would be much better if we could have more parking space around it. If we could find a good location on Main, I would like it just fine."
Joe Johnson: "I would like to see it built on Main, either south of Plains Hardware or south of the theatre building. This will keep it in the main part of town. I don't think it should be too far out of the main part of town."

More Cotton To Be Re-Planted

Farmers east of Hub received two and one-half inches of rainfall Monday afternoon in a short period of time. The heavy rain washed the newly planted cotton completely away. The thunderstorm occurred halfway between Hub and Dimmitt, and will cause the farmers in that area to replant all the cotton. Several minutes of heavy rain ensued in Friona but it stopped as quickly as it had begun and no damage was done in the immediate locale.

He said that opening of the firm of course would be governed by completion date of the building now begun (immediately north of Houser Grocery).

Indians Take Game In 29-3 Runaway

In holiday mood, the Friona Indians this week romped over the visiting Nazareth nine in a landslide 29-3 victory.
Friona accounted for 23 hits and three errors, and Nazareth chalked up 10 hits with five errors.
Barrett again was winning pitcher, keeping the mound for five innings, striking out three, walking one, and allowing eight hits.
Renner relieved to pitch two innings, striking out two, with no walks or hits.
Linderman finished, striking out three and allowing two hits.
Friona started its scoring with four runs in the first inning, resulting from one error, a single, a double, and a man hit by pitched ball.
The seventh inning proved the big one for the locals, with 12 runs coming in.
The Nazareth scores came in the third inning, resulting from three hits and two Friona errors.
Davis of Friona was noticeable with his four hits in four times at bat; Vantreas accounted for one single, one double, one triple and one homer.

The Frionans go to Dimmitt, Sunday, in a game believed to be much tougher than those on recent schedule. Dimmitt is runner-up in league standings.
Then on the following Sunday (June 12) the locals will play a Muleshoe colored team on Friona territory. The Muleshoe team to date has won seven games, with two losses.

Your Flags Cleaned Without Charge!

Dry cleaners of America were asked to join in a nation-wide drive in which all American flags would be cleaned without charge in return for the owners' promise to display the colors on Flag Day, July 4.
The appeal was made jointly by Commander Seaborn Collins of the American Legion, and the National Institute of Dry Cleaning.
Both Dilger's and Gib's Cleaners will participate in this nation-wide movement, to encourage the display of Old Glory on Flag Day. It is important that all Americans properly demonstrate their reverence and respect for the Stars and Stripes.
Everyone is urged to "show their true colors—a bright and sparkling red, white and blue."

Seniors Return

The seniors left Saturday, May 21, for their senior trip to New Orleans. The chartered bus left Friona at 12 a. m. and stopped at Mineola where the group enjoyed a picnic lunch at a roadside park.
Saturday night was spent in Shreveport, La. The seniors found that the Louisiana Hayride was the high point of interest there, so they attended and heard Elvis Presley and his western bebop boys and many other top stars.
The group attended a small town Baptist Church, Sunday morning, and as the choir director and pianist were absent, Don Lewis led the choir and Denise Magness accompanied while the rest of the class sang in the choir. Don also sang a special.
New Orleans, the anticipated destination, was reached Sunday afternoon. Reservations were at the Hollywood Motel, where a private swimming pool was the big attraction. The next day saw the wide-eyed group steaming down the Mississippi on a special tour. Picnics in the city park and a visit to the zoo marked Tuesday's entertainment. On Wednesday, a Catholic cemetery was visited.
Ponchartrain Beach was the scene of a wainer race that evening, after the group had enjoyed swimming in its ocean waters.

Local Crop Picture Is Brightest In Entire State, Surveys Disclose

According to men at the local grain elevators, no wheat is expected to be harvested earlier than two or three weeks from now. Judging from these statements, the wheat harvest will begin about one week later than last year.
Prospects for a good grade of wheat are high, especially in the irrigated varieties. Some damage has been done to the wheat due to recent small hail, but none has been seriously damaged. Farmers are now hoping that hail doesn't ruin the wheat crop as it did in some areas over the country last year. Insects have not been a serious threat.
Friona-Dimmitt area reports indicate harvest should be underway about June 20. Above average yields are expected from the remaining 145,000 acres to be harvested due to irrigation and recent rains.

Department of Agriculture Report

The United States Department of Agriculture reported the shortest wheat crop in Texas since 1925 is indicated as April passed without effective moisture over the Plains Country. A crop of only 11,184,000 bushels, or about one-fifth of average, was in prospect on May 1. Only 1,398,000 acres, or about one-third of the seeded acreage are expected to be harvested this year. Last year, wheat was harvested from 3,252,000 acres and the 1944-45 average was 4,524,000.
The USDA reported in its May 16 bulletin that surviving dryland wheat in the northwest, which was at the point of abandonment, was helped some by scattered showers, but rains came too late to save the crop.

Memorial Day Was Minus Accidents

The Memorial Day week-end in Farmer County proved one of the quietest on record, with no traffic casualties or accidents of consequence occurring.
Only wreck of the week came after the holiday, with patrolmen Tuesday morning answering call to a collision on Highway 70 about 2 miles southeast of Farwell.
Involved were Phillip Eugene Garrett, 22, of Muleshoe, driving a '52 Studebaker 2-door, and Leonard M. Smith, 20, of Lazbudie, driving a '55 Oldsmobile holiday coupe. Reports were that Smith had slowed to turn under the underpass just off the highway, and Garrett plunged into the rear of his vehicle, both cars going in the same direction. Some $1,000 damage was inflicted on Smith's car, and about $600 damage resulted to the Studebaker.
Drivers and occupants of the cars received head cuts and bruises, but no serious injury was received. No charges were filed in the accident.

bulk of the dryland crop on the High Plains and in parts of the Low Plains. In the northwestern low rolling plains, cross timbers and blacklands some wheat was ripening. Rains came too late for such acreage but should fill heads which are now in the milk or dough stages. Irrigated wheat on the High Plains continued to make good development. Combining oats started in southern blackland counties. Yields are light. A substantial oats acreage may be baled or grazed because of light grain yields and uneven maturity.

Santa Fe Crop Report

General rainfall has blanketed nearly the entire drought-stricken Southwest during the past month. Beginning in the second week of May, amounts ranging from one and one-half to five inches fell over practically the entire region, while some areas received as much as 15 inches in locally heavy downpours. This has been one of the most effective moisture periods in the Southwest since 1951. Only continued effective moisture will break the drought, but the recent moisture period will go far toward alleviating its severity and provide time and moisture to establish effective vegetative cover on bare ranges and fields.

After deteriorating steadily throughout the winter and early spring due to drought, insects, high winds and freeze damage, the condition of the 1955 winter wheat crop will show substantial improvement as a result of the recent rainfall. The benefits of this moisture will be light in much of Texas and southern Oklahoma where the wheat acreage was already near maturity by the time the rain started; however, in the more northern areas of the winter wheat belt, the recovery on the acreage remaining should be considerable.

In southern Oklahoma and in practically all of the eastern and southern parts of Texas, farmers have replanted their cotton and corn crops. Following the recent moisture these crops are growing off nicely and should produce practically as much as the earlier planted crops would have produced. Widespread rains have been very beneficial for soil preparation and has also allowed farmers to institute very effective wind erosion controls to hold soil in place until a vegetable cover can be established.
In the cotton producing areas cotton is being planted on the best land and a considerable amount of fertilizer is being used. This, together with abundant moisture, would indicate a total bale production close to that of last year.
A large increase in acreage devoted to sorghums is expected in southwestern Kansas, southeastern Colorado, eastern New Mexico, western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle where a good deal of winter wheat was lost during the winter and early spring or where acreage allotments have cut back cotton planting.
Alfalfa yields on the non-irrigated fields have been reduced because of the dry weather early in the spring. Infestations of aphids have caused some damage in the alfalfa fields of New Mexico and West Texas.
Potatoes in the Hereford-Friona-Muleshoe-Plainview-Lubbock areas are coming along nicely and should be ready for harvest beginning early in July. Approximately 500 acres of potatoes in southwestern Oklahoma continue to make good growth, and harvest should be underway by June 10 if favorable conditions continue.

In our local irrigation situation, over the area covered by the Underground Water Conservation District, during the month of April, 548 completed wells were registered, with the district office and 349 permits were issued by the County Committees. Farmer County had 82 wells completed and 36 permits issued. Bailey County issued 31 permits and had 48 wells completed. In Castro County, 52 wells were completed and 52 permits issued. Deaf Smith County had 23 wells completed and 23 permits issued.

In a recent bulletin issued by the Underground Water Conservation District a survey was prepared from records of the State Board of Water Engineers and U. S. Geological survey concerning the approximate decline of the water table in the southern High Plains of Texas from the period of Spring, 1945, to January, 1955. From January, 1954, to January, 1955, survey indications on the decline of water levels in wells in Farmer County was from 4 to 8 feet. In the long range survey on the decline of the water table from spring, 1945, to January, 1955, the decline of water levels in wells in the Friona vicinity has been from 5 to 10 feet, and from 10 to 20 feet in the southeastern part of the county.

 AUSTIN. — Beer was tapped for the big pay-off as the Senate rolled out a new tax bill—expected to pour $108,000,000 in new money into the treasury in two years.

On the 137th day of an overtime session, the Senate passed a many-changed version of the House tax bill. It left the last say to the House and hoped for a quick wind-up.

The bill is expected to produce $62,000,000 during the next two years for the general revenue fund. It carried a bookkeeping re-allocation feature which will give this fund $3,000,000 more from current taxes. Thus it offered the House $9,000,000 more than the $56,000,000 required to unblock the record billion and a half dollar appropriation bill. It provides about $44,000,000 in the biennium for highway purposes.

Three round pennies will carry the brunt of the burden of the new tax structure—one cent more on gasoline and cigarettes and a new levy of a penny a bottle on beer.

In this, the sixth main version of a money bill, the Senate swung back to the House's proposal of one cent on gasoline and cigarettes. But the Senate substituted a whopping $16,000,000 a year additional tax on beer for the House's $1,000,000 a year on beer and wine dealers' license fees.

Final passage was voted 18 to 13.

Stripped out of the Senate-passed tax bill were House proposals for a levy on cigars, snuff, and tobacco. Added was a token one-twentieth of a cent levy on "dedicated" natural gas—long-term exclusive contracts, payable by the long pipelines—and expected to produce $2,000,000. Gas pipelines were put under the intangible assets tax.

Dropped were Senate proposals for manufacturing taxes and gross receipts taxes on department stores, hotels and motels. Rejected by the Senate was a gross receipts tax on the metals and chemicals industries.

Sen. Grady Hazlewood, slender, graying member from Amarillo, emerged with the winning combination to unblock the long and confused Senate fight for new revenues.

At Friday's session, Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin, who termed himself the "coerced sponsor" of the tax measure, offered a new "in-between" plan which salvaged part of Governor Allan Shivers' original recommendations and made concessions to an obdurate House.

Lock proposed a 1 1/2 cent increase on gasoline, halfway between the two cents the Governor wanted and the one-cent the House voted; and 1 1/2 cent on cigarettes; along with a 25c per $1,000 franchise tax levy on corporate stocks. It would bring in the needed $56,000,000 to the general revenue fund, he said.

But Senator Hazlewood came up with his substitute and it was favored, 22 to 9, over the Lock plan.

The final vote put both House and Senate on record for a one-cent only increase on gasoline, making the entire bill more palatable for House concurrence.

Beer industry leaders, who had successfully fought off a proposed $1.30 per barrel increase in the House and also in Senate committee (which would have raised the total rate to $3.30, or to 1c per bottle suddenly found their industry saddled with a tax of $5.30 a barrel—or an additional 1c per bottle tax.

Veterans Land

New batches of indictments against former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles were returned in Travis County. Five indictments charging theft linked B. R. Sheffield of Brady with Giles. Eight charges of forgery were made against Sheffield. Then five more indictments against Giles and Sheffield charged theft and conspiracy of theft.

A court of inquiry on Land Office affairs, droned on, questioning all employes of the land office.

Giles scheduled first trial at San Antonio, on a bribe charge, was postponed until August. Postponement was granted on a affidavit that a House member, Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, had been em-played as one of his lawyers. This was statutory grounds for postponement until 30 days after the end of a session.

Both the trial judge and the district attorney criticized the law forcing such postponement.

Rep. Dolph Briscoe, Jr., of Uvalde, author of a series of bills to clean up the veterans' land administration, immediately put in a bill to restrict employment of legislators. Briscoe's bill would limit the automatic postponement privilege to legislators hired within one week after a case or indictment was filed—or to cases where the legislator was the only attorney representing a defendant.

Short Snorts

Governor Shivers vetoed a bill raising speed limits on all highways from 60 to 65 miles and hour and to 70 miles on four-lane divided highways. It would increase traffic deaths and accidents, he said.

In all the turmoil of the tax deadlock the House took time out to pass a constitutional amendment resolution to create mosquito tax districts.

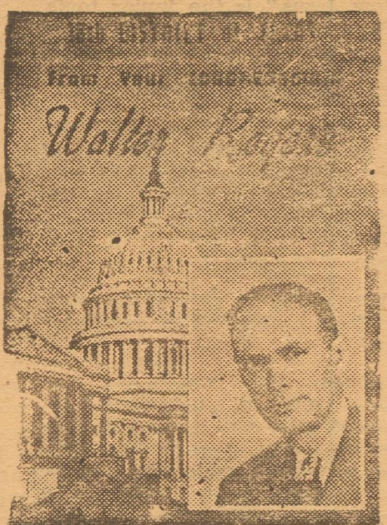

A badly slashed Trinity river Authority bill passed the Senate. A feature was inserted to allow downriver users additional water above their old "normal flow" rights, without paying for it.

Rep. J. O. Gillham of Brownfield won House passage of his bill to raise college registration fees from $25 to $50 a semester. But it was modified to exempt students working 20 hours or more a week. Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton promised to fight it until adjournment if taken up in the Senate.

Sen. William H. Shireman of Corpus Christi abandoned his bill requiring lobbyists to register. Opponents amended it until he said it affected public officials more than lobbyists.

Rep. J. E. Cox's "unfair sales" bill passed the Senate after it had been watered down until opponents said it was unconstitutional—but meaningless even if valid. The Comroe representative's bill was restricted to grocery stores. Its prohibition against selling below cost also prohibited a merchant from limiting sales or refusing to sell his entire stock to competitors at the advertised price. This would enable competitors to buy the bargain merchandise before housewives had an opportunity to take advantage of the advertiser's specials.

Washington Views -

To the People of the 18th District: SMALL PROJECTS

On yesterday, the House passed a bill known as the Small Projects Bill. This bill is designed to provide a means by which small communities can, through proper organization, finance water projects costing not more than 10 million dollars, by one of three methods:

1. Borrow up to 5 million dollars from the Federal Government.
2. If the project costs more than 5 million dollars, the community can borrow up to 5 million dollars from the government if they can finance the difference between the 5 million dollars and the cost of the project up to 10 million dollars by private financing.
3. The projects can be privately financed. In that event, the community organization would be entitled to a grant from the federal government of the same amount that they would get for flood control, fish and wildlife and recreation, if the project were completely federally financed.

The third method of financing is the one that was proposed by me in an amendment that we adopted in committee. It provides the method of participation by a local community on a free enterprise basis that has been lacking in the past.

The bill is similar to the one that passed the House last year and died in the Senate. The former bill applied only to the 17 western reclamation states which are included under the jurisdiction of general reclamation laws. The present bill included all 48 states, plus Alaska and Hawaii. The program was to be administered by the Secretary of Interior, who has all of the tools to administer such a program most efficiently and with the least possible cost. However, some of the eastern states did not want to be under the Department of Interior and pushed through an amendment placing them under the Secretary of Agriculture. This amendment included Texas under the Department of Agriculture. I voted against this amendment because, from all accounts, Texas has had very little success in obtaining much consideration from the Secretary of Agriculture. In my opinion, the entire water program should be under one department. Which one that is does not make a great deal of difference. But I do not think that one program should be administered by two separate and distinct departments.

The bill is one its way to the Senate, and I hope will be speedily acted on there. It fills a much needed gap in the water projects legislation of this country.

SALK VACCINE

The Salk vaccine hearings before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, of which I am a member, will probably be concluded within about ten days. The pressure is beginning to build up for and against the government having anything to do with the distribution or control of the vaccine. Some want the Federal Government to see that every child gets proper inoculation. Some take the position that it is none of the Government's business and that government regulation is socialistic. Some say that this is definitely a government responsibility and that the vaccine should be furnished by the Government, distributed by the government, and that every person should be required to be inoculated.

It presently appears that the general program will be a mixture of many suggestions. Legislation will provide government control, distribution will probably be through state health authorities, money will be appropriated to make the vaccine available to all, and no one will be compelled to be inoculated.

During the hearings one of the witnesses from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare testified that there would be no danger in the second and third shots to those children who have had the first shot. He also testified that there is no reaction from polio vaccination. Had I known this two weeks ago, it would really have alarmed me. Our Mary Catherine came down with a fever five days after receiving her first shot. We consoled ourselves on the ground that it was reaction to the shot. Fortunately, it was due to some other virus from which she quickly recovered. Since she has had her first shot, she will complete the series.

VISITORS
 Louise Evans, the affable and able writer for the Amarillo News-Globe, is still in town doing a lot of work. Clint Formby of Hereford, and Tom Hulsey of Tulla, were in town for the Radio Broadcasters Convention and invited yours truly to breakfast. The Jimmie Allreds, all five of them, from Hereford, came by for a visit, and I sure enjoyed it. The children, Marlene, Clydene and Lynton, were certainly having a good time, and their proud mother and father were keeping up 'in good shape'. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Martin, their son, Richard, and Harold Smith, from Borger, came by for a nice visit the other afternoon. It is sure nice to see these good people on their vacations and have a chance to get the news firsthand from Texas.

WANT TO SPEND $60 BILLION?

(Denver City Press)

Who backs the Eisenhower Administration's demand for $60 billion to build a federal highway system?
 Who wants to raise the federal gasoline tax to pay for these highways?
 We want no part of any federal highway system as asked by the president, and instead of raising the federal gasoline tax, we would like to see it abolished. When it was first applied as an emergency measure, it was done with apologies to the states for interfering in state business. It not only has never been repealed as promised, but threatens to be increased.

To take away state control of roads, the people are being asked to practically double the national debt that most of us now admit cannot be paid as it stands. Roads are a state problem, and Texas is taking care of its roads very well. They aren't as good as they could be, but they're damned sure all we can afford. Texans certainly have no obligation to furnish roads for Arkansas or North Dakota. If they want to wallow in the mud, power to 'em. If Texans don't like roads in those states, they can stay off them.

This Eisenhower Administration was elected by people who demanded a balanced budget, and end to government waste and spending, lower taxes, less government in business, and a return to state control.

Instead these people have an unbalanced budget, a bigger national debt, more waste and spending in government, higher taxes, more government in business, and no change in the matter of state's rights.

The highway system in this country tops that of all nations as it is. But it would be most difficult to find any nation straddled with such a high national debt, tax burden, or such outrageous budgets.

Probably it's just the perversity of human nature cropping out in the young... with shoe leather selling at all-time high prices, the kids are burning up more of it than ever.

The kids are missing a lot, too. In spite of grasshubs and stone bruises, there's nothing in the world to match the thrill of cool green grass on bare feet, or warm sand trickling between the toes, or the squishing of mud after a spring rain.

Bare feet, we suppose, simply don't belong in the Age of Ulcers. Maybe if there were more bare feet, though, there'd be fewer ulcers.

ODDS AND ENDS

By GAY CASS

Browsing through last year's files, we noted an article stating that the contract had been let for the new school building. Now the building is entirely finished which just goes to show that a year can still make a great deal of difference in accomplishments.

Seems the C. L. Lillards are taking full advantage of the clean-up, paint-up days. C. L. repainted the inside of his real estate office and LaVelle has redone her living room in a pale green.

The skeptic states that peace is as hopeless as the cause of a flea climbing up an elephant's leg with murder in his heart. Just as long as the elephant represents the freedom loving world, and the flea represents oppression, we'll not be worried about peace.

Cotton farmers had to scratch the ground after the recent heavy rains. It seems, however, that a great deal of cotton will have to be replanted. The hail packed the earth in some places and formed a crust that can't be broken by the rotary hoes.

Rains have also been responsible for the early growth of weeds and flowers and hayfever.

One smart youngster wanted to send a letter to his great-grandfather, telling him about today's modern wonders. When his mother asked him what address he would use, he replied, "Saint Peter; Heaven, Texas."

With the first of June comes the inevitable days of weddings. June brides are becoming more and more popular regardless of late ideas that September is the ideal time.

Some people still insist in cluttering the mails with chain letters, in spite of warnings and pleas from government officials. Chain letters are a direct contradiction of modern ideas. They indicate superstition and fear; the superstition that they carry some magical power to make one rich or lucky, and the fear of what will happen to the one who "breaks the chain." Otherwise intelligent individuals are capable of sending several copies of such a letter to various friends, who in turn send copies. Eventually, this makes for a deluge of letters flooding the United States Post Office. It not only causes additional work on government employees but is entirely unnecessary as no remarkable results are ever noted. Likewise, neither has ill luck befallen those who refused to waste time and effort on a child's game.

Cotton Insect Control in Special Study

The "Cotton Insect Situation in Texas" report will be more dependent on information from individuals this year than ever. Survey crews as used last year to inspect individual fields in the principle cotton growing areas of the state will not be available; therefore, we must have the help of all people interested in cotton production over the state in order to continue to make the report effective.

The "Cotton Insect Situation in Texas" report will be released on Tuesday of each week beginning the first week in May; cooperators are urged to begin mailing their reports as soon as cotton is up to a stand. Special reports will be released for the Rio Grande Valley area as in the past; however, for the first time special reports will be released from Lubbock each week for the Plains area. These reports will be continued as long as necessary.

Self-addressed cards requiring no postage will be furnished all cooperators. These cards will serve for early-season as well as late-season infestation reports. Infestations may be recorded as light, medium or heavy on all insects; however, actual counts on fleahoppers, bollworms and boll weevils will be more helpful if you can give them. When the insect situation is found to be about the same over a given area, general conditions for one or more counties may be given on this card. When general conditions are given, indicate in remarks the area covered and the number of fields inspected. Additional report cards will be mailed to you when you write "send more cards" on your last report.

The following suggestions are given so that the reports will be based upon common standards.

THRIPS: Walk diagonally across the field, inspecting many plants at several representative places, using the following as a guide:
Light—When the newest unfolding leaves show only a slight brownish tinge on the edges with no silvering on the underside of these or older leaves and only an occasional thrips is seen.
Medium—When the newest leaves show considerable browning along the edges and some silvering is evident on the underside of most leaves and thrips are found readily.
Heavy—When silvering of leaves is readily noticeable, the terminal buds show injury, general appearance of plant is ragged and deformed and thrips are numerous.

FLEAHOPPERS: While walking diagonally across a field for other insect records, inspect 33 terminal buds, approximately 50 feet apart from each of the two corners and 24 terminal buds at the center of the field, or inspect 100 terminal buds at several representative spots over the field for the fleahopper record. Count both adults and nymphs found in the top 3 or 4 inches of the cotton plants and record the total number. When using light, medium and heavy, use the following as a guide:
Light—Estimated 1 to 10 fleahoppers per 100 terminals.
Medium—Estimated 11 to 25 fleahoppers per 100 terminals.
Heavy—Estimated 26 or more fleahoppers per 100 terminals.

BOLLWORMS: Examine the terminal buds (upper 3 or 4 inches of the plant) of 100 cotton plants and record the number of worms found as the percent bollworm infestation or examine 100 consecutive squares and bolls at each of several representative points in the field and record the number of damaged ones as the percent damage.

When using light, medium or heavy, inspections should be made in several representative points in the field using the following guide:
Light—When only a few small squares show injury.
Medium—When injured squares and bolls are readily noticeable over most of the field.
Heavy—When numerous injured squares and bolls are noticed over the field.

BOLL WEEVILS: Reports of boll weevils on cotton before fruiting begins should be made on the basis of the number of weevils per 100 feet of row. After plants are squaring freely or have produced as many as 3 squares per plant, boll weevil reports should be based on punctured squares. The 100 squares examined should be 1/3 grown or larger and an equal number should be picked from the top, middle and lower branches of the plants while walking diagonally across the field or from several representative spots within the field. Squares from the ground or dried-up squares hanging on the plant should not be counted. Both feeding and laying punctures should be counted and the percent of punctured squares recorded in the proper space.

When using light, medium and heavy, the following should be used as a guide:
Light—When only an occasional green square is found to be punctured. (Less than 25 percent.)
Medium—When flared squares are readily noticeable while walking through the field. (25 to 40 percent infestation.)
Heavy—When numerous flared squares are noticed over the field. (Over 40 percent infestation.)

LEAFWORMS: Inspections should be made in several representative points in the field and the following used as a guide:
Light—When 1 or only a few larvae are observed per field.
Medium—When 2 or 3 leaves are partially destroyed by ragging, with 2 to 5 larvae per plant.
Heavy—When ragging of leaves is extensive with 6 or more larvae per plant, or if defoliation is complete.

OTHER INSECTS: Observations should always be made for insects such as spider mites, aphids, stink bugs, pink bollworms, grasshoppers, lygus and other plant bugs and others as field inspections are made. This information should be put on the blank for "Other Insects or Remarks" on the card. Do not go to excessive trouble to find out whether or not the field has been poisoned, the poison used or when, but this information will be helpful if it is known.

Dick Habbinga went to Abernathy, Monday, to attend the funeral of an old school friend, Mr. Memorial Day week-end to visit Robert Mars, who was killed accidentally while driving a tractor. Brookfield, who is still ill after being injured in a car accident some thirteen months ago.

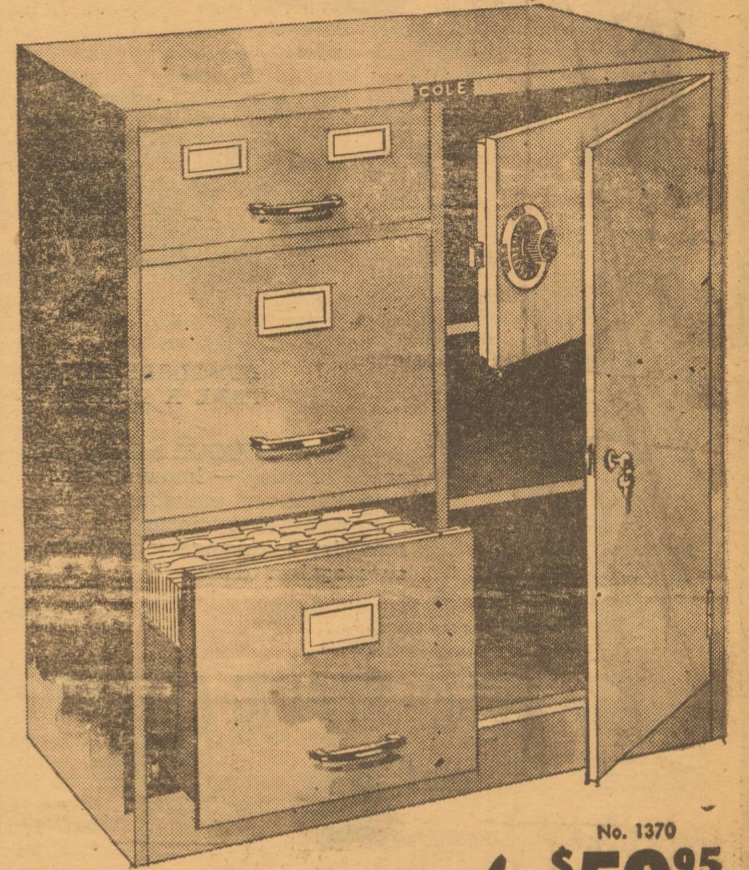

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moyer visited in Spearman over the week-end with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Horton Prater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stricklandroll Jones visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Deaton at Black.

Rita Faye James of Hobart, Okla., is visiting with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Buchanan.
