GATESVILLE, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1933

NUMBER 9

HERE and THERE

By Joe Quinn

I CERTAINLY fell into a bit of good fortune recently. I had been on a business trip for about a week down in South Texas and on my way back I had the opportunity and privilege of visiting with some good Gatesville "exes." I'll tell you, folks, you just can't get around this good ole' Coryell County hospitality. Once you taste it you simply can't forget it, and what I mean is that they really treated me like somebody, and not like a columnist at all.

EVERYBODY seems to be having a swell time on the merry-go-round down at Austin. First, the "Missus" names Frank Denison as Chairman of the Highway Commission, then the Senate goes into a secret huddle and opposes the appointment, then she comes back and says she will do it over. It looks like an endless procedure to outsiders. But of course we are not all as smart as the participants in that controversy.

While the Senate was in seclusion pondering over the Highway Commission situation the Governor proceeded to give the House something to worry about. Accusing the Highway body of extravagance, Mrs. Ferguson definitely pointed out that that body had lost in State money over $1,000,000.00 by accepting certain bonds issued by 22 counties for the building of roads. It seems that these bonds were owned but not issued by those counties and had depreciated way below par. Whoever would have thought that so much dirt could be unearthed down at Austin. It makes one think that there is really nothing fundamentally right upon which to base our hopes for a recovery of business conditions.

LAST week at this time there appeared in this column an article concerning the picketing of highways in Iowa by dairymen endeavoring to protect the market price of milk. Now that same influence seems to have reached Texas. Down in the lower Rio Grande Valley vegetable growers are making an attempt to pull the market price back up to normal. Possibly it wouldn't be a bad idea. I don't know. If we could establish pickets inside the Capitol at Austin to bring legislation back to normal and eliminate all this unnecessary political "grave-digging" and general agitation.

THREE hungry convicts ate a hearty meal, picked their teeth and sauntered out on the Mess Hall veranda. Here they cornered another inmate and proceeded to "put him on the spot." While one of the men held the victim motionless, his cohort swung a home-made dirk wildly, then thrust it into the young man's chest.

This is the story of a recent murder, which took place behind the prison walls of the State Penitentiary at Huntsville.

Apparently, one can not even find safety behind prison bars. Besides that, such an incident is a bad precedent to set for hopeful "pardon-ees."

PROBABLY the most optimistic note ever sounded by President Hoover, was heard in his official farewell address at the Lincoln Day celebration in New York last Monday evening. It was in this speech that Mr. Hoover said, "The Republican party will be recalled to power by the American people." We are hardly able to determine whether this conviction was based upon "faith" in the Republican party, or upon "hope" that times would get no better under the new administration.

Fred G. Prewitt Announces for City Secretary

In the City Election announcement column will be found the name of Fred G. Prewitt for the office of City Secretary. Mr. Prewitt is well known to practically everyone here, having spent most of his life here and served in the capacity of City Secretary for some time.

Mr. Prewitt gave us his name just as he was leaving on a hurried visit to Austin Wednesday and stated that he will have a statement to make in next week's issue of the News that will be of interest to the voters of Gatesville.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO HOLD SHOW

Garlon Harper, club leader, announces that the Four-H Club members will show their baby beavers in Gatesville March 9th at 11 o'clock, before leaving for Ft. Worth Live Stock Show.

R. S. Miller, County Agent of McLennan County will judge the calves. Two free trips will be given to the Ft. Worth Live Stock Show. One trip will be given to the club member having the best senior calf, and one having the best junior calf.

Methodist Young People's Social

Last Thursday night the young people of the Methodist Church enjoyed a social in the name of a "Famous Lover's Party." After we had assembled in the basement of the church a "get-together" game was directed by Miss Opal Dixon. Slips of paper were given out and "continuous Love Stories" were written. These were read by Miss Majorie Wollard and a prize was given Mr. Bill Ament for having written the best one.

The next game which was directed by Miss Beulah Gambin, hands and mittens were passed out to the girls, who were seated on one side of the room, and the boys upon the other. The boys proposed and received either a hand or a mitten, accordingly as they were accepted and rejected. Some of the boys said they could propose better in the dark, and others said that a car and moonlight would be all that they needed, but Mr. Grady Dickie, who must have had vast experience or else his "rabbit's foot" was in his pocket won the most hands from the girls.

After being seated in a circle an alphabetical game was directed by Miss Pauline Haney. Many humorous answers were given, especially one, by Mr. Harry Dillishaw, who said that his girl was an "idiot and she lived in Indiana." Our closing game was a contest lead by Miss Bess Chapman, when this contest was over we learned that Mary Gold was married to Johnny-Jump-Up by Jack-in-the-Pulpit at four o'clock and they lived in Sweet Peas (sweet peas).

During the evening a question was running through the minds of the "Famous Lovers." This question was: "Could lovers live on love?" The answer must have been "No" because the sandwiches and hot chocolate correctly proved that any other answer could not possibly be correct.

Dr. R. L. Raby and J. O. Brown to Make Race for Aldermen

Elsewhere in this issue of the News in the City Election announcement column will be found the names of Dr. R. L. Raby and J. O. Brown as candidates for the office of Aldermen from Wards Nos. 1 and 2.

Both of these men are so well known to the voters of this city that it is useless to attempt any introduction. Their past services as Aldermen of this city is sufficient qualifications for them for the office they seek at the hands of the voters.

During their tenure of office much has been done for the welfare of the city of Gatesville by close management. The tax rate has been carefully guarded and economy has been the watchword at all times.

These men have no promises to make, only that if elected they will do their best to administer the affairs of the city of Gatesville in the same manner as in the past and on these conditions ask for the support of all the voters of the coming election.

Miss Hazel McDonald returned to her home at Waco Sunday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDonald of Gatesville.

Kirby Post, Vice President of Cotton Belt System Visits Home Folks

Kirby Post, Vice-President and General Superintendent of the Cotton Belt Railroad of Texas, with headquarters at Tyler, spent Sunday here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Post, and other members of the family. He was accompanied by Mrs. Post and daughter, Miss Evelyn, and son, Kirby Post, Jr., also Mrs. Post's mother, Mrs. Mary Colvin, Tyler.

Mr. Post has been with the Cotton Belt for many years and has reached one of the highest positions offered by this road here in Texas, and his many friends here in Gatesville are always glad to meet him when he finds time from his many duties to comehome for a short visit.

Eiland Lovejoy Announces For City Secretary

In this issue of the News we are authorized to announce the name of Eiland Lovejoy as a candidate for the office of City Secretary. Mr. Lovejoy is truly a Gatesville product, having been born and reared here in Gatesville, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Lovejoy, who are also well known to most everyone in Coryell County and Gatesville.

Eiland, as he is known to everyone here, is only 29 years of age, and since graduating from the Gatesville High School has spent almost ten years as clerk in the First National Bank and during that time has had some very extensive clerical responsibilities. During his life he has had an opportunity to become well acquainted with many of the duties of the city's affairs and believes that he is well qualified to handle the duties of the city secretary's desk.

For the past year Mr. Lovejoy has been engaged in the dairying business here and is known as a wide-awake and hustling business man.

D. I. Campbell with A. L. Mayes Produce Firm

D. I. Campbell who for the past years has been a citizen of Gatesville, is now employed by the firm of A. L. Mayes Produce and Grocery Firm. Mr. Campbell was for several years County School Superintendent and has a host of friends over the county.

Oakie Mayes, who recently returned to Gatesville to make his home is also associated with his brother, A. L. Mayes, in the grocery and produce business.

J. W. Harper Announces for Office of City Secretary

J. W. Harper, for the past fifteen years employed as a salesman for the G. M. Carlton Bros. & Co. and J. M. Brown Drug Store, placed his announcement in the News as a candidate for the office of City Secretary.

Mr. Harper is no stranger to the people of Gatesville, having been raised in Coryell County and completed his high school education here in Gatesville and is known by all as a man of sterling character and upright in every manner. Mr. Harper authorizes us to make his announcement and asks to state that he will make a further announcement next week.

Boy Scouts Hold Torch Light Parade Saturday

Starting with a long procession at 8 o'clock, the two troops of the local Boy Scouts gave a very interesting demonstration Saturday night as they celebrated Boy Scout Week, which was observed from February 7 to 14 inclusive.

The parade extended out Main Street to the Fair Grounds where a beautiful chicken barbecue supper had been prepared. This was followed by various games and other entertainment which amused the boys until a late hour.

Among those assisting in the sponsoring of this event were Prof. H. T. Johnson, District Scout Chairman, Prof. E. D. Shelton and Scout Leaders Roger Miller and C. L. Thompson.

Coryell County Farmer Burned to Death at McGregor Friday Night

McGregor—Fatally burned when the mattress on which he slept was ignited, apparently by a cigarette he was smoking in bed, Duane, Crenshaw, 22, Coryell County farmer, was found dead in a cell of the McGregor city jail Saturday morning. He had been locked up on a misdemeanor Friday night at 11:30 o'clock by City Marshal Jim Williams and when Williams brought the youth his breakfast at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, he found his body lying in the ashes of the bed.

Inquest is Held

Justice of the Peace Holley Haynes held an inquest and said that death resulted from burning.

Mr. Crenshaw was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Crenshaw of Oneaville, and was married to a daughter of George Pennington of Gatesville. His widow survives. Mrs. Charles Kennon of Mexia is his sister.

Lee undertakers took charge of the body after the tragedy, and arrangements were made for funeral services to be held at the home of his parents in Oneaville Sunday afternoon.

Building Not Damaged

The jail, which is made of concrete, was not damaged by the flames which snuffed out the life of the young farmer.

Assistant District Attorney Sam Dardine, Sheriff W. H. Mobley and Deputy Will Glard came to McGregor from Waco to investigate the tragedy.

The body was badly burned about the head and hands, the undertaker said. Clarence Whittenburg was first to identify the dead man, whose identity was not at first known to the coroner.

Adding Used Auto Parts To Present Stock of Parts

Workers have been busy for several days building shelving, bins and rooms for the storing of automobile parts from used cars, according to Irvin Scott of the Scott Motor Company. This firm will be prepared to supply parts for practically all model cars of either Ford, Chevrolet or Whippet since the model of 1929 cars.

Miss Frankie McCollum is Made Bride of Francis Stout

The marriage of Miss Frankie McCollum, daughter of Mrs. S. T. McCollum, and Francis Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Stout, took place Sunday at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride. The Rev. W. W. Ward, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated using the impressive ring ceremony, with only close friends of both families attending.

The bride wore a frock of gray-foxtan crepe with white accessories, her flowers were sweetheart buds and lilies of the valley fashioned in a shoulder corsage.

The couple was attended by Miss Elizabeth Williams as maid of honor and R. G. Davidson as best man. Miss Williams wore a tan-color crepe dress with accessories of brown.

Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. Milton Patislo for the circle meeting on February 14th. After a short business meeting, an interesting program on Korea was presented. Mrs. R. W. Ward led the devotionals; others taking part on the program were Mrs. Pat Olsen, Mrs. J. W. Swenson, and Mrs. Frank Jones. At the conclusion of the program, entertaining contests were enjoyed, after which refreshments characteristic of Valentine were served. Miss Martha Jean Patislo, in Valentine costume, served the plates to the guests. The Bible lesson on the 10th and 11th chapters of Hebrews will be presented at the next meeting.

On Wednesday night, February 22nd, the second of our church socials for the year will be held at the church. An interesting program, enjoyable games, and refreshments are in store for all who come. Time, 7:30.

County Judge Robert Brown and Fred G. Prewitt went to Austin late Wednesday afternoon on business.

Wins By Defeating Evant In a Score of 28 to 13 After Evant Eliminates Turnersville 23 to 19

Scholastic Enrollment Census Blanks Are Being Mailed Out

According to County School Superintendent, R. W. Stephens, all supplies for taking of the 1933 scholastic census are being mailed to each of the Census Trustees of each school district this week.

According to the present law children who will be six and under eighteen years of age on September 1, 1933, and those who are residents of the district on the first day of April are to be enumerated. Children born on or before September 1, 1915 or after September 1, 1927, must not be enumerated.

Do People of Coryell County Want Horse Racing?

The following is a copy of a telegram received this morning by Rev. W. W. Ward, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Gatesville, in reference to the so-called horse racing bill now pending before the Legislature at Austin:

W. W. Ward, Gatesville, Texas: Recent poll house representatives shows your representative undecided as to House bill one hundred three proposing legalizing race track gambling at fairs and race tracks in Texas. We appeal to you to help save Texas from such calamity. Sending your representative numerous signed telegrams and letters urging vote against bill.

C. C. SELECMAN
W. R. WHITE
W. D. BRADFIELD
F. M. MCCONNELL

To those who are opposed to this bill should wire immediately to Representative Huddleston, Austin, Texas insisting that he oppose this bill and do everything that is possible to prevent legalizing horse racing in Texas.

Former Gatesville Woman Dies at Mount Vernon, Ohio

Mrs. Ollie L. Bebout, widow of the late A. S. Bebout, died on February 15, 1933, at Mount Vernon, Ohio, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Bebout lived in and near Gatesville for more than forty years. She was a charter member of the First Presbyterian Church, organized in 1885, a loving, loyal worker, giving liberally to all of its causes, and manifesting her interest in many ways, even in her last illness.

She was also a pioneer in the cultural and club life of Gatesville, active in the work of the Chautauqua Circle, which was the first woman's club organized in this section of the state, and officer in the Bayview Study Club, the Shakespeare Club, and president of the Morris Federation for several years.

Her lofty character and social and spiritual graces won many friends, one of whom has said: "She often quoted these lines that described so well her own noble nature:

To silence envious tongues
"Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace"

To silence envious tongues."
She is survived by one son, Gaylord N. Bebout, of Detroit, and a grandson, Newell Bebout of Ann Arbor, Michigan, and other relatives at Mount Vernon.

Mission Study Class Met Tuesday Evening

Tuesday evening at six o'clock Mrs. W. C. Guggolz opened her home to a class of about twenty-five business women who are taking a six-week study course in "Facing the Future in Indian Missions," conducted and lead by Mrs. H. T. Johnson.

The living room was decorated with Indian pictures and very old maps, showing the locations of the different tribes and missions.

This being the first of a series, Mrs. Johnson dwelt upon the early history of the Indians, and very ably discussed their music and arts.

At the close a very delightful social hour was enjoyed by all and refreshments were served, carrying out the Indian motif.

In a fast game that looked like victory for Pearl from start to the end, Pearl for the third consecutive year won the Coryell County Championship in basketball Thursday afternoon at the Fair Grounds in Gatesville.

The quintet that carried Pearl to her victory this year are Sims, Keeton, Whately, Huff and Preston. While Broyles, Stephens, Sheffield, Goff and McDonald did some wonderful playing against Turnersville for place No. 2 in the tournament, For Evant Broyles and Sheffield were the high scorers 12 and 10 points to their credits in this game.

In the final game Keeton and Whately came in for their share of the scoring, 9 and 10 each, with Broyles and Goff running up a large score again.

Off to Temple

Coch Tharp of the Pearl team is now off to Temple the later part of next week where they expect to clean up in the District Meet which will be played Thursday and Friday and probably Saturday in that city.

Despite the extreme cold weather last week another round of basketball was played here when the six teams were reduced to a final three: that of Plainview, Pearl and Evant. Gatesville, Mount Zion being eliminated. The games of last week were as follows:

Gatesville, 17.
Plainview, 21.
Mount Zion, 16.
Turnersville, 18.
Evant, 21.
Pearl, 31.

Evant having been defeated only one time remained in the final play off for Thursday. While in the second round here last week Plainview was defeated by Turnersville in a score of 29 to 35, placing Turnersville in the finals with Evant and Pearl.

Workers Conference Program to Be Held at Purlmea Feb. 20th

Leon River Baptist Association meets with the Purlmea Church on Monday, February 20th.

The Church and Pastor are anxious that a large representation of all the churches in the association be present. A good program is being arranged and there will be dinner on the ground for all.

The Church at Purlmea is making wonderful progress in every phase of the work.

We are having a few days of revival services which started last Wednesday night, Feb. 15th, leading up to this meeting at which time Rev. Morton of Gatesville and Rev. Lemons of the State Training School will help us.

We are going to reorganize our B. T. S. We had four additions to the church last meeting day.

Baylor Wicker of Dallas returned home Wednesday after spending a vacation with relatives in and near Gatesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith's weekly laundry was taken from the line last night and several chickens by an unknown thief.

History and Management of the State Juvenile Training School

BY M. H. RICHARDS

Constructive Factors in the Life of the Training School

In most of the studies, surveys, and other commentaries, which have come under the observation of the writer, concerning the activities of the schools of this kind, the tendency has been to emphasize the bare outline of regime and the purely negative factors in the life of its inmates.

Little effort has been made to present a systematic appraisal of conditions which operate to prevent deterioration or to stimulate development. We have been made aware of the deficiencies of a school of correction and its method of discipline, but has fair account been taken of its merits and constructive factors? If progress is to be made by growth within the present general framework rather than by any wholesale discarding of traditional policies—and on the whole we regard this as a reasonable assumption—the valuable features of present procedure as well as the deficiencies, errors, and misplaced emphasis should be weighed.

Not only are the correctional policies to be taken into account but also the conditions which operate without conscious planning or appreciation. Using the foregoing therefore, as a basis I shall undertake to present some of the functions of this school which may reasonably be termed constructive.

Security as a Basis of Reformation.

The State Juvenile Training School has an average of 800 inmates and paroles. It has proved an efficient machine as a means of preventing escapes and of securing conformity to routine and discipline. We all know that stability is a requisite to any effective rehabilitative program. The security of the training school is taken for granted by the majority of its inmates. The high restraining walls with their accompanying watchtowers have been removed and the human relationship within are little affected by the fact that the group was ever held by barriers of this nature. The maintenance of security upon such a basis need not be incompatible with conscientiousness, friendliness, repose and other constructive attitudes. Rehabilitative efforts on the part of the administration must, of course, imply the exertion of pressure upon the inmate and demand a strict observance of orderly behaviour and observance of disciplinary rules. Every inmate of this institution is made to understand that he himself makes his own record while here and that any requests for privileges (such as trustee position, etc.) will be carefully evaluated; standards of workmanship and behaviour will be insisted upon, and recommendations for parole will be withheld unless there be evidence of change of social attitude; the authority to supervise boys on parole and, when proper, to return them for further correction will be exercised.

It matters not what position one occupies in life the opportunity is ever present to "play to the stands." In other words, to make grand stand plays, if I may be pardoned for borrowing the expression from our sport writers. It is a consoling fact however, that the administrators of the training school do not avoid rehabilitative efforts likely to prove unpleasant, in order to placate inmate opinion. In some of the above respects, this institution has been exerting an increased pressure without producing any serious resistance.

Routine and Discipline.

The routine and discipline are exacting, but more because of their firmness and kindly manner of enforcement than because of their harshness. True, they are to some extent punitive due more, however, to the necessities of management in such a situation than to a deliberate punitive policy. Friction is normal to most human relationships whether the situation be the family, school, or the workshop, but due to the highly concentrated social life this is very much accentuated in an institution of this kind. In other words, there are many irritants and few psychological compensations. Disputes and sometimes fights occur in spite of measures taken to prevent them. Small grievances, real or imagined, very easily inflame the resentment of an appreciable number of inmates, but group resistance to authority seldom ever appears.

The boys arise at 6:30 a. m., and are allowed 15 minutes in order to dress and put their beds in order before the breakfast bell at 6:45. Twenty-five to thirty minutes are allowed for breakfast after which they are passed out in military order in columns of two. Advancing to detail station where detail officer details them in squads of from ten to twenty according to needs of the work at hand. These separate squads are, of course, placed in charge of an officer or instructor who is held responsible for the proper conduct of his squad and the proper execution of the work at hand. Lunch is served at 12:00 o'clock noon and each squad is expected to be checked in to the commandant in ample time to clean up and march in formation to the lunch-room where 25 to 30 minutes are allowed for lunch. After lunch the same procedure is observed as obtained after the breakfast hour, except that all boys who work in shops and vocational departments in the forenoon are required to attend letter school in the afternoon and those who attended letter school in the forenoon are required to prosecute their respective vocational training in the afternoon. Supper is served at 5:30 p. m., and all boys are expected to have sufficient time to prepare for the meal in time to catch the line of march in columns of four on the way to dining room. After supper they march in columns of two to their respective dormitories where one hour is spent in reading and study before "taps" at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

Boys are required to brush their teeth once each day, change under-clothing and top shirts twice each week and other clothing once each week. They are required to bathe at least twice each week and in other ways adhere to regular habits and as a result of these measures the general health of the inmates is exceptionally good, epidemics have been mild and fatalities negligible.

The time of the above schedule varies, of course, with the different seasons according to the length of days and nights. Sundays, as stated before, are given over to rest and religious services.

Since discipline is a major function of the school, rules are much more explicit and more rigidly enforced than are the laws and conventions of ordinary society. The institution not only trains but also tests boys in a number of respects. Minimal standards of cleanliness, orderliness, application to work, respect for authority and self-control are secured, if necessary by punishment.

The officer personnel of the school, including the faculty of the academic department, from the Superintendent down is composed of and painstaking individuals. They are in fact one big family with a single purpose and their co-operation one with another and their bearing one with another is believed to contribute largely to the good behavior of the boys.

"The feeble rose that leans upon a stronger weed to grow,
Will flush to meet the morning dawn,
And few will ever know!
And few will ever know!
And few will ever know!
Itself unto the weak,
That both may find it good to live,
And love as brothers seek!"

(Note—This is the second and final article by Mr. Richards on the history, organization and management of the State Juvenile Training School.—Editor)

Millions Spent Annually in the Radio Industry

Radio is one of our newest industries—hundreds of millions of dollars annually are being invested in all branches of Radio. Those who profess to know say that ere long most communication will be carried on by radio. When mammoth sea-going ships can be controlled miles out at sea by radio without a human being being on board; when airplanes can be guided at will thousands of feet in the air by radio; when one can sit in his home and by the simple turn of a small ebony knob pick up programs from the farthestmost corners of the earth, is it any wonder that the industry grows as if by magic? The surface is only scratched thus far.

What does this mean to the ambitious young fellow who is looking around for a vocation? A business man was heard to remark sometime ago that "he had two sons and that he intended to give them both a training in Radio, for he felt that with as much money as there was being spent in the industry, surely it offered the ideal opportunity for the future."

And radio offers so many different opportunities—on board ship, in the air, even under the seas, in Broadcasting Stations, in airplane landing fields, Radioticians and amateur operators. This gives the youngster a wide field from which to choose. The South is fortunate in having for its young men a great radio school at Tyler, Texas, and they have a Broadcasting Station where their students have an opportunity to become familiar with the technique of operating the transmitter. We are told that more young men successfully pass the Government examination at this school and receive operator's licenses than any other Radio School in the whole country.

If you are inclined toward Radio, we suggest that you drop a card to the School of Radio, Tyler, Texas, and ask for the booklet "R-6." It's free.

MOUND NEWS

Frank Garrel of Ewing was trading at Mound Saturday.

Frank Blanchard and Vernon Bates of Ewing were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bomar of Mound.

Miss Polindexar and a girl friend were visiting Miss Christine Bowen over the week-end from Belton Baylor College. Miss Bowen accompanied them home Sunday afternoon.

R. V. Geo. Franks has relaxed with the flu.

Author (Big Jim) Blanchard has been absent from the Mound several days supervising the building of a rail fence upon the J. A. Blanchard farm. Cedar post of 4 and 5 times the ordinary post size placed 10 feet apart were furnished by Ed Davidson of Mound, and Sause Lowry did the labor in the construction of the fence. Big Jim intends stocking this farm pasture with whitefaced cattle.

Miss Katie White of Mound has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stephens of Browns Creek recently. Joseph Burton of Mound is moving to his father's farm near Hubbard.

A picnic was enjoyed by the Mound youngsters at Mound Bridge on the Leon River Saturday afternoon.

Our former County Attorney Edson Hooser of near Mound visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Edmundson of Pearl the past week-end.

Cotton Carryover Highest in Seven Years

The cotton carryover for the year 1931 is given by the Federal Bureau of Census as being 12,911,000 bales, which is the highest known for the past seven years. The figures for the year 1932 are not available. The following is some interesting figures concerning the yield for the past four years:

American crop, 1929, 14,548,000 bales; 1930, 13,755,000; 1931, 16,628,000; 1932, 12,727,000.
Consumption: 1929, 13,168,000; 1930, 11,045,000; 1931, 12,580,000; 1932, (not known.)
Carryover: 1929, 5,939,000; 1930, 8,710,000; 1931, 12,911,000; 1932, (not known.)
Yield per acre: 1929, 155.0 lbs.; 1930, 147.7 lbs.; 1931, 201.2 lbs.; 1932, 162.1 pounds.

The department shows that the price range for 1932 was better than in 1931. The price range for 1932 was from better than 5.50 to 9.50, while the range in price for 1931 was from less than 5 to little better than 8c per pound.

Has Bale of Cotton in Family for 70 Years

The Fleming family of Laurens County, South Carolina, has had a bale of cotton to fall back on for the past 70 years. This bale of cotton is now on the property of G. Hall Fleming of Ora, and it rests in a place of honor in the Laurens Bonded Warehouse.

Fancy prices have been offered for this historic bale during the past 70 years when the market price ranged from 4.50 to 42.00 cents a pound. The bale was originally ginned and baled with horse power and mammoth screw pit, a thin fabric wrapping and crude cotton ropes were used in packing the bale; however, the old wrapping has been removed and re-baled with modern jute bagging and steel ties.

After reading the foregoing, one would have to conclude that a bale of cotton is a safe investment. I wonder how many of us have bought stocks and bonds and have awakened to the fact that they are not worth the price of the paper that they are written on. I presume you can readily see the safety in investing in cotton in preference to anything else. Of course, the cost to own this bale of cotton due to loss of interest which your money would have earned you and warehouse and insurance charges are to be considered also, but in times like the present, when one is frightened to invest in anything, he can easily see from the foregoing that if he invests in a bale of cotton, his money is safely invested.

It cost 11 Barleson County farmers $45.54 to bud 580 native peck trees to improved varieties last year. The buds on 461 trees were successful, and the owners gave to the county agent their estimate that the improved trees are worth $319.20.

Committee Kills Moratorium Plan

Austin, Texas, Feb. 11.—Unfavorable reports were given Friday by the House Committee on Judiciary on moratoriums against foreclosures on homesteads. One by Dwyer applied for a year and another by Cathey was for five years. Dwyer gave notice of the filing of a minority report.

The committee also reported unfavorably a bill by Greathouse and others providing relief for owners of lands encumbered by liens against the immediate effect of foreclosure, by specifying times when and the manner in which judgments in cases of trespass to try title may be satisfied and released.

Speaking against the moratorium bills, R. T. Ritchie of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Mortgage Bankers' Association, said: "Loan companies are not dispossessing home owners. This Legislature can not affect existing contracts. I think all foreign insurance companies will subscribe to the policy of the Texas companies, in declining to foreclose this year on homesteads."

It was maintained by C. L. Black of Austin that "doctors can't be helped by scaring creditors. Any law that makes it difficult to collect debts makes for the unwilling lending of credit. If the legislation proposed be . . . . . would bankrupt the State."

Ranger Pay Cut Finally Passed by Upper House

Austin, Texas, Feb. 15.—Final passage was given in the Senate Wednesday to a bill by T. J. Holbrook reducing the pay of rangers by nearly 30 per cent and abolishing the enlarged scale of longevity pay. Adj. Gen. Henry Hutchings agreed to the passage of the measure. An amendment by W. R. Pogue to effect further reductions was defeated. As finally passed the bill would pay ranger captains $170 monthly, sergeants $130 and privates $112. Passage sought to cut them to $150, $120 and $100, respectively.

W. M. Martin and W. R. Cousins opposed Pogue's proposition, arguing that rangers should be men of high type and that if the pay is cut too low the force will soon be a collection of undesirable gunmen.

Final passage was given Alsop's House bill repealing a law requiring County Tax Collectors to furnish the Agricultural Department with farm and crop statistics and without pay.

After brief debate final passage was accorded Holbrook's Senate bill appropriating $3,843 to pay State taxes on prison lands in the Sugarland School District covering a period of five years and now overdue.

John W. Hornsby finally passed his bill providing fees to pay the Travis County District Attorney, following a decision that the salary compensation was not authorized.

Another bill by Hornsby was finally passed removing restrictions as to the time wild game may be kept in storage. At present the law requires all game to be out of storage the tenth day after the close of the season.

Final passage was given a House bill amending the Tarrant County road law.

Over 3 Million R. F. C. Money Distributed in Texas This Year

Relief organizations in practically every county in Texas have benefited through the distribution of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's emergency relief funds, according to reports given out at Dallas.

month through the distribution of the funds.

An undetermined number of families, left without able-bodied wage earners, have been given direct charity relief.

These facts were established today by a survey conducted by International News Service and the three regional Chambers of Commerce of the State.

Adopting the policy of "give relief work, no alms," direct charity is resorted to by the relief committees only in cases where families are left without workers.

Projects being carried forward through relief funds include: Building and improvement of parks and playgrounds, improvement of country roads and streets, improvement of sewer lines and water systems, drainage of swamps and mosquito breeding places, screening of rural schools against malaria bearing mosquitoes, community gardening, building of municipal airports and stadiums, general clean-up work and rural sanitation work.

Practically all of the projects under way or being considered by relief committees are permanent in nature.

Approval of applications from 70 counties in East Texas for $1,300,000 for November and December, 1932, and January and February, 1933, has been secured and is now being spent as wages for labor by destitute men and women.

While no definite figures of the number of families aided are available, the monthly number is expected to reach 40,000.

Thirty-two South Texas counties received funds totaling $225,251 in November and December, giving relief to about 30,000 families. For the following two months, January and February, a total of $682,760 was available, furnishing relief work to about 85,000 families during the period, or an average of 42,500 families for each of the first two months of 1933.

A total of 114 West Texas counties received aid during the first two months of the year to the extent of $376,854 monthly. More than $340,000 had been distributed in West Texas during the previous three months. The estimated number of West Texas destitute families given aid follow: October, 3,700; November 26,700; December, 27,000; January, 47,000; February, 47,000.

Bill to Reduce State License on Automobiles

Austin, Texas, Feb. 13.—In the Texas Legislature J. R. Wells and others introduced a bill making the registration fee for passenger motor cars $6 for the first two calendar years in use; $5 for the third and fourth year and $4 for any year thereafter. The motorcycle registration fee is $2 and $1 for a side car.

A House joint resolution by T. H. McGregor, reorganizing the judiciary, was considered. The author said it would save $1,750,000 to $2,000,000 annually in salaries alone.

The resolution abolished the eleven Courts of Civil Appeals, increases the Supreme Court to nine members and the Court of Criminal Appeals to five, and vests District Court jurisdiction in the County Courts. An amendment providing that the Legislature, if necessary, may increase the number of Supreme Court Judges to sixteen, was adopted.

Another amendment, providing that the additional Judges of the Supreme Court be elected met with favor, but that section of the amendment giving political parties the right to nominate Supreme Court Judges at conventions, was rejected on motion of H. C. Kyle, whose substitute amendment was accepted by the author.

EDITH DYSON, Editor

Dependability How dependable are you? If you are not dependable you should try to be a little more considerate of others. It is our duty to our classmates, teachers, friends and parents to be of service to them. One of the best ways to serve those around you is to sacrifice our own desires to serve them. We have two types of people in the world. One is the dependable type and the other is not. The dependable type is the one that can be depended on to stick to anything regardless of what may happen. This type of a person is a credit to any community. The other type is the person that has the best intentions but put things off that should be done at once. They are the "Easy Go Lucky" type. Which type of person are you? If you are not the dependable type of person, remember you can be if you have the will power and desire to be the best type of person.

Primary News The primary class have read four primers and are now using a first reader for their second lesson in the afternoon. We are also doing silent reading lessons which are very interesting. We are painting the pictures of "The Pig Twins," "The Snow Man," "Danny Rats Plan," "Mother Rabbits Surprise," "The Funny Clown," and "The Little Dutch Girl," which we think is most interesting. We are decorating our room for a Valentine party. We are using red hearts with red and white paper. We have invited Miss Winters and her pupils to help us with our entertainment. The second grade have studied very hard on the multiplication tables. We know them through the fours. We are almost ready for a new reader which we are very anxious to get. We are affixing pictures to illustrate the Band Man and his Monkey.

3rd, 4th and 5th Those pupils on the honor roll for the past month were: 3rd grade—Grady Hanes, Edwin Graham, Charles Bynum, Othel Dyson, Noll Webb and Geneva Chandler. 4th grade—Reba Carroll, Dorothy Graham, Angress Harris, Merle Franks, Winston Freeman and J. C. Ford. 5th grade—Wayne Ballard, W. G. Andrew, Edwin Karl, Gladys Williams, Jack Nabors, and Clarence Chandler. On account of the weather being so bad last week several of us were absent, but we are all starting in again this week anxious to get back to work.

Sophomore Class The Sophomore and Freshman Classes are planning to have a party Tuesday, 14. We will have our party at the home of our sponsors. We are planning on having a grand time. The Sophomores had a good attendance at school last week despite the cold and disagreeable weather. There were more Sophomores present than any other class. The Junior News The Junior Class is still the most energetic class in school despite the fact that we are about the smallest class. We certainly are depended upon since we are called on to do the sweeping and other important things about the school building and on the campus. We are still digging on math, English, history, home economics and manual training. Senior Class The Seniors are working very hard on the debate and all of them will breathe more freely after they are over. The Seniors are still on the job of keeping the paper off the school ground, and will admit it isn't an easy job. We plan to put on an interesting

We welcome two new pupils this week: Pauline and Evelyn Smith, from Port Arthur.

School News 6th and 7th Last week the sixth and seventh grades reviewed our geography that we have finished and are going to take an examination Monday. The seventh grade have begun to study civics. It is very interesting. We finished our agriculture last week and took an examination on it last Monday. Last week in our seventh grade arithmetic we studied about the square root. In our seventh grade reading we have to draw Lindbergh's airplane for Monday. Freshmen The Freshmen Class is still working as hard as ever and are doing something new every day. In English we have selected an interesting book to read and most of us have reported on them. Miss Hargis has finished reading to us "The Man without a Country," which we all enjoyed. We also have memorized the poem "My Native Land."

We met Friday, Feb. 10, and made further plans for a Valentine party which we are giving the sixth and seventh grades. Come on Freshmen, some of you will be president of the United States yet. The Sophomore and Freshman Classes are planning to have a party Tuesday, 14. We will have our party at the home of our sponsors. We are planning on having a grand time. The Sophomores had a good attendance at school last week despite the cold and disagreeable weather. There were more Sophomores present than any other class. The Junior News The Junior Class is still the most energetic class in school despite the fact that we are about the smallest class. We certainly are depended upon since we are called on to do the sweeping and other important things about the school building and on the campus. We are still digging on math, English, history, home economics and manual training. Senior Class The Seniors are working very hard on the debate and all of them will breathe more freely after they are over. The Seniors are still on the job of keeping the paper off the school ground, and will admit it isn't an easy job. We plan to put on an interesting

Personal One of our ex-students was seen on our school campus Monday. Mr. Tharp, Miss Hargis and Miss Laura Tharp went to Waco Saturday to see a ball game between S. M. U. and Baylor University. Clyde Perry and Henry Cook visited school Monday. Bessie Earl Whit visited school Monday. We are glad to welcome any of the ex-students. Jokes Si Smith: "See my new pocket-book, it just matches my shoes." Herman: "What does it have in it?" Si: "Nothing." Herman: "Then you are wrong. It matches your head." Doyle: "Floyd is taking up basket ball. We call him Crossward Puzzle guard." Theo: "How is that?" Doyle: "He comes on the court vertical and goes off horizontal."

Mr. Tharp: "Merle, this looks like your father's handwriting." Merle B.: "Sure, I used his fountain pen." Miss Hargis: "Be very diligent in your studies. Remember, what you have learned no one can ever take from you." Cleburn D.: "Well they can't ever take from what I haven't learned either."

Believe It or Not Nona Jane Franks missed school Thursday, the first time in three years. Betty Freeman cut her curls off. Nona Bell Ballard is back in school. The sixth grade made A on department. Mr. Keeton told us that during the cold weather of the past week his cistern froze over. (Distance of six feet from the top of the cistern to the water.) The Sophomores had two class meetings in one day. Mr. Tharp really smiled in geometry.

CAN WE EXIST ALONE?

In a world where space has been annihilated by fast transportation and instantaneous communication, can any nation exist alone, remote from others?

Most economists answer with a decisive No to this. They point out that the problems of all peoples are much the same, that a brotherhood of purpose is more necessary than ever before that world co-operation is vital not only to economic recovery but to the future maintenance of international prosperity. They believe that good and liberalized foreign relations, acting as the basis for stimulated trade between countries, holds the hope of the future.

There are sound grounds for believing that. The collapse of American export trade—which was caused as much by tariff wars and embargoes as by hard times—has closed hundreds of factories. It has thrown thousands of men out of work. It has caused bond defaults and lost dividends. It has made itself felt in every business and retarded purchasing power and industrial expansion.

We cannot sell to other lands unless they can sell to us. The entire world wants the products of American factories—the automobiles, typewriters, tractors and similar machine products we make. They can buy them if we buy products of their that we need. This does not mean that we should subject American factories to cheap-labor foreign competition—but it does mean that all the phases of the problem of foreign trade need overhauling and readjustment.

MAKE 1933 A SAFE YEAR

A publication of the National Safety Council carries an excellent New Year Wish: "Three hundred and sixty-five safe and happy days to you for 1933."

If that wish could bear fruit, it would be a magnificent thing for the country. It would save thousands of lives which would otherwise be needlessly destroyed—it would keep for useful purposes the billion or so dollars that is wasted annually through accidents—it would make for happier and better working conditions, and more efficient industries. Nothing is so destructive to the morale of the worker as a series of serious accidents in his plant.

The safety movement has been making good progress for a long time. There has been a general decrease in the number and severity of accidents—aside from those caused by automobiles.

The careless, reckless and irresponsible driver kills about 33,000 people a year nowadays.

We can make 1933 the greatest safety year in our time. We can do it by giving the little effort, the little thought, the little care, that is needed to make our homes, our places of business and the public highways safer. We can do it by giving consideration to the rights of the other fellow. As individuals, we have the power to save thousands of irreplaceable lives this year—Let's do it!

TECHNOCRACY

Technocracy is the newest solution offered for the world's economic troubles, according to a statement by Frederick H. McDonald, secretary of the executive committee of the engineering economics division of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

"The project assumes the guise of responsible engineering and scientific approval," Mr. McDonald said, "while using the most unorthodox methods of publicizing an unsubstantial proposal that smacks of charlatanism and bids fair to rank as the cleverest pseudoscientific hoax yet perpetrated."

"Technocracy is a fanatic fixation on the subject of an otherwise sane and progress-developing term, technology, which is the careful application of science to the production, processing and distribution of goods.

"Undoubtedly there has been a phase of intense economic intemperance that is imposing a slow recovery. Unfortunately there is no panacea for the results of bad judgment. There can be devised no guaranty of individual success. And there is no guaranty of individual success. And there is no way of legislating prosperity.

"Technocracy is a misconception of the object of living. Its deification of the technical is a fanatic fixation that makes the term 'technocracy' far more applicable to its magnified fetish of machine domination and materialism.

"The prophets behind this 'techno-crazy' hallucination have made a purported dream into a nightmare of conclusions. Using routine engineering principles for the plotting of routine performance curves they have promulgated unsupported predictions based on the projection into the future of normal processes carried to fantastic extremes.

"This is wildcatting of science in a Ponzi-like scheme for baiting labor with chimerical profits into a despotic slaverydom for the gathering unto a self-anointed few the control of the wealth of the world. It has not even the saving grace of being funny."

TO SELL, WE MUST BUY

The Mirror is anxious to build up the welfare of the people of this nation, and would not willingly trade its advantages for the civilization of other lands.

We say this by preface to further remarks upon the "Buy America" campaign now being waged aggressively in this country. In many respects, the slogan is sound, but in final analysis, it is entirely misleading.

The farmer, for example, who has wheat or cotton to sell abroad would suffer considerably if foreign nations followed such an example and bought everything from their own land. International trade would shrink to nothing as soon as the doctrine became generally established.

There is no magic in the name "United States" to cause foreign peoples to be anxious about our welfare, or to trade with us to their own disadvantage. Unless there is mutuality, and joint advantages, to be found in every commercial interchange between nations, there will be little trading done.

The lesson of commerce is that buying and selling is barter, whether done by direct swapping or indirect settlement in currencies. We cannot sell to the nations if we do not buy something from them. Unless we are willing to buy from them we will lose them as customers.—McGregor Mirror.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH TEXAS

By S. W. Adams, Austin, Texas

Legislating is a tragedy. As you sit and watch the cross-currents of conflicting influences buffet the rights of the people about, with only the weakest voices weakly defending the people's rights, you wonder if legislating is what's the matter with Texas?

I have found no outstanding legislative mind down here. The mental legislation is hopelessly confused. Baffled and uncertain even-handed justice is beating its wings against hidden rocks that lie just beneath the surface in this sea of legislative uncertainty.

I would find it hard to put my hand on a dishonest legislator; I would find it easy to put my hand on an incompetent legislator—a man unable to build and sustain his broadswords against the inroads greed is making on the very heart of a nation.

One of the painful facts in legislation is the mistaken notion in the minds of many that if you oppose legislation or if you support legislation you are sinister. Of the two evils, I believe that the disposition of legislators to viciously attack citizens who appear before their committees for the purpose of opposing the provisions of their bills, is the worst.

In recent committee meeting, I saw a citizen calmly, clearly and respectfully give his reasons why he thought the bill should not pass, and the sponsor of the bill viciously interrogated him, making of the citizen a selfish, questionable character; while a newspaper man protested in the same meeting that too much government is being put into business, and the same legislator joined in by the Comptroller, angrily and viciously berated him.

One of Texas' greatest curses is official presumption that a citizen's protest is an insult. Texas is sorely beset by corrupt officials.

The advisor of the Governor says that the sales tax must be passed because "there are no incomes," yet he fails to explain how any one can buy without an income.

Here is an idea that fits the injustice of the sales tax: If men spend all they receive, their taxes are equal under the sales tax; but if one receives a third more income, and saves that, he pays only two-thirds as much sales tax, and if he receives double the salary or income, he pays only half as much of his income for taxes on the sales tax basis. Should you follow it up, you would find that the more income a man receives the less the percentage of his income he pays for taxes, resulting in the man with the biggest income paying an infinitesimally small part of his income to the support of the State.

In other words, the sales tax works directly opposite to the income tax—under the sales tax, the less you receive the more taxes you pay; while under the more equitable and just income tax, the more you receive, the more taxes you pay.

Hon. Coke Stevenson, speaker of the 43rd House says: "This is the best working Legislature I have ever known. The engrossing and enrolling clerks say that 100 per cent more work has passed through their hands than has at any like period before. I think the secret of this fact lies in the very fortunate committee assignments I was able to make."

Girl Scouts

In the near future, Turnersville will have girl scouts as well as boy scouts. The troops for the girls have not yet been organized but plans are in progress and excitement among the girls seems high. Miss Pearl Jones will sponsor this organization.

Recently the girl scouts of Gatesville accompanied by their patrol leader, Miss Gladys Blankenship, came to Turnersville and presented a program typical of scout activities. Mr. H. T. Johnson introduced the scouts. Miss Thompson spoke on the history of the scout movement and Mrs. H. T. Johnson spoke on the value and purpose of girl scouts. Everyone enjoyed the program. About fifty people were present.

Debate

The senior boys' debating team is working hard to prepare for the district meet which will be held at Jonesboro sometime in March. The boys are working under the supervision of Mr. Jones.

Turnersville feels that its school has a chance to win the Jonesboro District meet and perhaps the County meet. Both of its representatives Raymond W. (Pete) Cooksey, and Ralph Calharp, have had previous experience in debating.

Sports

Miss Fern Coward one of Turnersville's outstanding forwards on the school team, went with the all-stars to Cranfills Gap Monday night. She did not play in her usual place but was just as good as center. The girls were victorious but the boys were defeated.

The Senior Girls Defeat Mt. View

The senior girls added another victory to their list of games Friday, January 23. The opposing team was Mt. View. The game was very exciting with the scores of 18 and 29 in Turnersville's favor. It seemed to have been the forwards' day "on," for Fern Coward played an expert game, throwing nine goals. Ruth Cude, an equally good player, made eleven points. This was no discredit to Ruth, however, for her splendid line playing makes up for her loss of shots.

The girls have lost only one game this year; their second game with Cranfills Gap which was lost by a score of one point.

The team has been working hard to win the cup at the County Meet Aubrey Walker left Thursday morning for Marlin where he is to take hot both treatments for rheumatism. His many friends hope to have him back in ten days.

Mrs. Stewart Williams motored to Stephenville to accompany her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Williams, and Miss Elaine Cross home this last week-end. Miss Elizabeth Williams this year and if they do not, they will certainly give their opponents a good race.

Personals

Miss Mattie Graham has recently turned in her books. We all miss her, especially the girls who play basket ball, because she was a player of outstanding ability.

Norman Sharp had the misfortune of getting his arm broken Sunday.

Miss Oleta Hollingsworth spent Monday night with Misses Carlina and Evelyn Rice.

Two members of the Senior class have dropped out recently. Carl Weeks and Virgie Mae Blakely. Both of them are greatly missed. This was Virgie Mae's year at Turnersville, but she had already proved to be a good student and a good sport.

Lavinia Patterson spent Monday night with Bonnie Boots Boswell. Bonnie Boots returned the visit Tuesday night.

Miss Gladys Gilmore and Imogene Prewitt made a visit to Turnersville school Tuesday afternoon.

Hams attended the Stout-McCollum wedding as bride's maid. They returned Sunday after a short visit with their parents.

Sunday afternoon callers in the Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Meeks home were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nabors and Tipp Nabors and family of Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Pennington, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Meeks and baby.

Jack Bethel, radio operator with the RCA on the S. S. Edgehill, and who has been on leave for the past two weeks, was called back to New Orleans Tuesday to report for duty at once for immediate sailing of the boat. The Edgehill is a Federal Shipping Board vessel now under management and contract by Lykes Bros.-Ripley Steamship Co., and for several months has been making regular sailings between New Orleans and English ports.

Washington Anecdotes Inspire These Dishes for February 22nd Meals.

Stories, episodes and anecdotes about the life and times of George Washington have inspired most of the foods we serve on his birthday February 22nd. For instance, the one about Washington Pie. Have you heard it?

It seems that a man once ate Washington Pie at a friend's house and enjoyed the creamy yellow cake so much that he hastened to order it the next time he visited a restaurant. When the Washington Pie arrived however, he was dismayed to find that instead of the fluffy yellow dish he had expected a dark and moist chunk of brown cake was his portion. "Water," he called, "I ordered Washington Pie." "That's Washington Pie, sir," replied the waiter. "Maybe so," said the man, "but I wanted George, not Booker T."

Here is the authentic Washington Pie, as creamy and tasty a bit as you ever ate. Washington Pie is rightfully a cake with filling.

Washington Pie

- 2 cups pastry flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 3-4 teaspoons salt
- 2 eggs
- 1-3 cup fine oil
- 1-2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3-4 cups milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Break eggs into mixing bowl, beat slightly with egg beater and add fine oil, gradually, stirring constantly with beater. Stir in sugar and flavoring. Add 1-4 cup milk and beat one minute. Add half dry ingredients, rest of milk, then remainder of dry ingredients. Pour into two 8 or 9 inch oiled and floured layer cake pans, and bake 26 minutes in moderate oven (400 degrees F.). Turn out fire and let stand in oven 5 minutes. Remove from oven. Let stand 2 or 3 minutes before removing from pans. Put together with cream filling; spread top of pie with whipped cream and garnish with maraschino cherries.

If it's the story of the cherry tree you like best, you will want to chant this Nursery Song and serve Cherry Kisses: "When Washington was just a little boy He never told a lie. His father asked who chopped the cherry tree; He answered 'It was I. I did it with my little hatchet; I did it with my little hatchet; Oh no, not I, I will not lie. Not even if I catch it.'"

Cherry Kisses

- 2 egg whites
  - 1 cup confectioner's sugar
  - 1-4 teaspoon salt
  - 1-2 cup almonds
  - 1-2 package pasteurized dates
  - 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
- Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; beat in the sugar, one-third at a time. Add salt and vanilla. Fold in chopped nuts and sliced dates. Drop mixture by rounded teaspoonfuls in smooth rounds on a well-oiled baking sheet or inverted pan. Bake in a slow oven (275 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes. Press a candied cherry and 2 small strips of citron on each meringue. 36 meringues.

The General was famous as a lady killer and it may be the stories of his romantic life are most interesting to you. Did you know his suit was spurned by one Mary Phillips because "his nose is so impossible"? His favorite party-cake was a Colonial style fruit cake.

Colonial-Style Golden Cake

- 2 cups pastry flour
- 1-4 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3 eggs
- 1-2 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1-2 package pasteurized dates
- 1-4 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Sift dry ingredients; cut dates in eighths; mix dates through flour with finger tips. Cream butter; add sugar gradually, then beaten eggs and grated orange rind. Stir in flour alternately with the orange juice. Pour batter into a loaf pan which has been greased and lined with greased paper. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Housewives like to know that the Father of our Country was the originator of the household budget, the practise starting with the account books he kept showing the profit and loss made in his pigs. Scarcely a day went by without one of his pigs being killed to be made into Virginia ham. For your own panfried ham, you will enjoy this:

Orange Sauce for Ham

- 3 tablespoons sugar
  - 1-2 tablespoon white karo
  - Few grains salt
  - 1 orange
  - 1-2 cup boiling water
- Add to ham juice in frying pan: sugar, karo, salt, shredded yellow rind of 1-4 orange, and boiling water. Bring to boiling point, add juice of 1 orange, simmer 2 minutes and pour over the ham.

Homestead Law to Reduce Taxes—Sales Tax Then Makes Farmers Pay More

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 15.—If the sales tax is adopted, the State will be taking back from the farmer and the home owner what it has just given them under the $3,000 homestead exemption.

This is the view of Representative Joe Greathouse, who returned to Austin last night after a brief stay in Fort Worth.

Reduction of expenses, rather than levying new forms of taxes, should be the aim of the Legislature, he declared.

Game wardens, members of the highway patrol and other state officers are employed to enforce certain statutes when there are sheriffs, constables and police departments responsible to the people of their communities who could handle the job of enforcing all these laws, Greathouse believes.

His statement in part follows: "I have never known Congress or the Legislature to meet without a great movement to find new sources of revenue. This movement has its origin outside the membership and is inaugurated by capitalistic groups who know that ultimately the tax burden will fall where it belongs—upon the wealth of the country—unless new and fresh sources are devised further to burden the people.

"It should be no matter of wonder or amazement to any person that the Legislature is confronted with an obligation of raising sufficient revenues to pay the cost of such a government as would be reasonably necessary to administer the laws and support such institutions as are indispensable to the people, but all other activities should be eliminated regardless of jobholders.

"There are too many departments, boards, employees and governmental functions that are not needed by the taxpayer and the cost has become unbearable.

"The Legislature has no right to come to the people of this State with a new bill of taxes to be levied in the sweeping and high-handed manner of a general sales tax. That they would better spend its time at Austin studying the program offered by the committee set up at the last session to study ways and means to reduce the cost of government.

Our tax bill for the ensuing biennium should be cut to the quick. I am more interested in this than in new sources of revenue. It is something near criminal extortion to take money unnecessarily in the form of taxes from the man who has dug it out of the soil by the sweat of his brow. Discontent with our government is extant. Let us not add fuel to the fires of this unrest. Rather let our conduct at Austin be such as will merit the confidence and respect of the citizenship of this State."

ON TEXAS FARMS

This is the "outlook" season, the time when economists throw the searchlight on current trends and offer suggestions to farmers about what lines of production look worth trying. They're having a hard time to find any this year. Apparently a farmer should lay off from everything, to be safe.

One thing is certain. You either make your living at home this year or you go without. Texas farmers know that, and they are going after a home living with all the enthusiasm they did last year when at least four-fifths of them raised at home the greater part of the food and feed and many of the other necessities and comforts.

We are back where agriculture was 130 years ago, on a self-sustaining basis. We surrendered that to go in for specialized farming; witness cotton. In returning to the old basis we find the game is not the same it used to be a century ago. Everything has been modernized.

Today Texas farm families plan their living at home; make a living-at-home plan, can their food by budget instead of by guess, make their food supply conform in variety and quantity to the requirements of a healthful diet, and even butcher their met animals by modern labor saving and meat saving methods.

How to live at home the easy modern way that given healthful plenty at least cost and effort is a contribution of the Extension Service to Texas, County farm and home demonstration agents personally helped more than 100,000 farm families last year to live at home more fully and more wisely. Another 150,000 were helped indirectly.

Home Meat Hog Production Spreads

Paris—Trading and selling their surplus hogs to their neighbors instead of finishing their output for the market enabled Lamar County swine breeders to supply 400 families last year with one or more hogs each for a home supply of meat. It is pointed out by A. L. Edmiston, county farm demonstration agent. These 400 families had no hogs at all the previous year, he states. One thousand eight hundred local farmers are estimated to have used the modern "A and M Way" of butchering and curing their hogs last season as shown in demonstrations.

Raise Their Own Fruit

Cameron—In a move to help Lamar County farmers establish their own home fruit supply, county farm and home demonstration agents reared 14 new demonstration orchards started, and 58 other farm planting an average of 13 fruit trees and 18 grape and berry vines per farm. The cost per farm was $2.05. Planting, pruning and spraying demonstrations were held throughout the county for the benefit of those with old orchards as well as those just starting to raise their own fruit.

Good Seed and Terracing Yields Cash

Crowell—Good planting seed, saved from the 1931 crop grown from pedigreed cotton, and terraced land, are the two chief factors responsible for the production of an average of 944 pounds of seed cotton per acre on 632 acres of cotton grown in demonstrations in Foard County last year, says Fred Rennels, farm demonstration agent.

The growers averaged $11.41 per acre for their labor and investment. "Small as this was, it was substantially above the county average," states Mr. Rennels, "and furnished a much needed cash income to supplement the living made on the farm."

Johnson City—The farm poultry flock returned more for the investment than any other livestock enterprise in Blanco County last year. C. E. Tisdale, county farm demonstration agent declares. Demonstration flocks returned their owners an average of 81 cents per hen to pay for labor and interest and depreciation costs. These flocks averaged 159 eggs per hen in production.

Sub-irrigate for Ornamental Cuttings

McKinney—Small sub-irrigated cutting beds for propagating cuttings from ornamental plants are being installed in the yards of 20 improvement demonstrators in 20 communities in Collin County. It is announced by Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration agent. The object is to make it easy to get neighborhood supplies of desirable shrubs for beautifying farm yards. In the past many cuttings have died because of ineffective watering systems. Miss Dunlap says, but by the use of homemade concrete tile a sub-irrigation system can be installed for a bed 6 to 10 feet in size at a cost of about 30 cents. The first one in the county was built for Mrs. George Moreland of Altoza Community last fall. She was one of 17 women who began to beautify her yard last year according to a definite plan of landscaping.

They Can in Factories and on Shares

Pearsall—Share canning, and community canning plant canning are features of Prio County's huge food preservation job of 1932, according to the report of the home demonstration agent, Miss Bird Boswell. In the Pearsall Community canning factory 350 families put up 42,000 containers of food. Canning on a 50-50 basis with people who could buy the cans or jars enabled scores of farm families to obtain a winter's supply of food. A total of 35,000 cans has been reported filled in this way. The total canning by 274 home demonstration club women in the county amounted to 250,000 containers of fruit, vegetables and meat.

Ballinger—Slightly more than 85 per cent of all the 2544 farm families in Runnels County were aided in making or storing their living at home last year, it is revealed in the report of the Runnels County Home Demonstration Club Council. There were 611 members of home demonstration clubs in 24 communities, and 402 of these members helped 1394 families in budgeting their yearly food requirements and canning supplies of food. Demonstrations by Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, home demonstration agent, in 10 unorganized communities helped 203 families to make cheese and can beef.

"During the six years I have owned a steam pressure cooker, canned peas have paid the doctor, the groceryman, the blacksmith, the beauty parlor operator, and even for my husband's tobacco," declares Mrs. Soloop Lea, president of Mitchell Home Demonstration Club in Haskell County. "By boarding 11 cotton pickers out of my pantry this year I have paid for a piano. When I need the chicken yard grubbed, hot bed made or garden work done, I pay for the work with canned products."

THE PROBLEMS OF TODAY

National and International

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual. National and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

Under present business conditions, no news is apt to be good news. While business is showing no improvement, the decline has apparently been interrupted and a measure of stability reached. It is hoped that political moves during the next few months will have a helpful effect on business in the future.

Last summer the country underwent a time of financial liquidation with strengthening of our financial structure. This was followed by a similar period of commodity liquidation, which seems now coming to an end. The next step will doubtless be further commercial liquidation and readjustment to put many of our industries on a basis to show earnings in normal times.

Since 1929 there has been a decline in foreign markets for American agricultural products but last year the decline showed a tendency to slacken. It is believed that once the problems of disturbed monetary systems and trade barriers are partially settled, the trend will be reversed and larger quantities of our farm products will reach foreign lands.

Domestic demand for products is naturally awaiting industrial recovery. Even a slight change for the better in business generally, should cause marked improvement in farm markets.

Potential bank credit is the equivalent of the money existing in the country. At the moment, this credit supply is unusually large. Member banks of the Federal Reserve have $600,000,000 of excess reserves, and it is stated that these banks could expand their credits by $9,000,000,000 without borrowing from the Federal Treasury. Interest rates on money are at unprecedented low levels.

Latest reports on major industries show:

Motion picture—A new alignment of the motion picture industry is a forecast, with Rockefeller interests a large factor. The industry's principal difficulty is in real estates carrying charges on charges built during boom years.

Textiles—Future has hopeful appearance, with cloth demand steady. Oil—Refiners breaking even, despite low gasoline prices.

Cigarettes—December showed gain in consumption, as compared with decline in most other months of 1932.

Tires—Price-cutting has broken out again, with resulting disturbance.

Meat packing—Outlook good for moderate profit during coming fiscal year.

Automobile—Sales continue to improve, with January well over a year ago. It is interesting to note that price reductions have resulted from improved efficiency, and not reductions in dealer margins or in quality.

In an effort to check rapidly diminishing passenger revenues, the railroads of the country are planning various classes of rate reductions designed to bring back lost business. February 1, western roads made marked passenger fare cut. The seasonal decline in freight car loadings is showing a tendency to moderate, as compared with the same period a year ago.

With an estimated $1,500,000,000 at stake in the form of mortgaged debt in nine states, midwest farmers are sticking resolutely to their campaign against foreclosure sales. In a growing number of instances, groups of farmers have prevented open auctions of properties and bought them in at extremely low figures. Various public officials are tending to aid in preventing foreclosures.

The exodus from the city to the farm—in direct opposition to the trend of a few years ago—has

Former Coryell County Woman Dies at Houston

Mrs. Dovie Evans Nixon, wife of F. M. Nixon, of Houston, died in a hospital in that city on February 1, following an operation.

The body arrived in Hamilton over the Cotton Belt railroad at 12:00 o'clock Friday and was sent by funeral car to the Murphree cemetery near Evant, where burial was made. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Smallwood, of Stephenville. A large company of relatives and friends gathered about the grave to pay a last tribute of love to the adored one who had passed on to her home above.

Dovie Evans, daughter of the late A. L. Evans, and Mrs. Evans, who now lives in Houston, was born and reared in Hamilton County in the vicinity of Ireland. The family also resided near Evant for a time, and deceased was also known and had many friends in the Jonesboro section of Hamilton County. The family was prominent and highly respected and hosts of friends learn with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Nixon. Dovie Evans was married to F. M. Nixon, June 19, 1921. She is survived by her husband an one son, Fred Louis, nine years of age; also her mother, Mrs. A. L. Evans, four sisters, three brothers, four nephews and five nieces. Her sisters are Mrs. T. J. Hobin, Shive; Miss Mentie and Miss Alice Evans and Mrs. R. Z. Necessary, of Houston, and C. S. Evans, of Reed, Oklahoma. Mrs. Nixon and her husband had resided in Houston for ten years. Mrs. Nixon was a Baptist in faith and lived a pure, consecrated Christian life. —Hamilton Record.

Twenty-two Million for Citizens Military Training Camp in United States

Washington.—The senate Monday added $22,000,000 to the army appropriation bill to open citizens military training camps to approximately 85,000 jobless and homeless youths.

The action was taken without a roll call after Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, modified his original proposal and substituted the citizens camp idea at the request of Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania.

The Michigan senator's first plan was to suspend the rules to permit consideration of an amendment to the bill throwing open regular army posts to the thousands of youths roaming the land without homes or jobs.

Serious objection from both sides of the chamber led Couzens to substitute the Reed plan and it went through without a word of debate.

Under the plan adopted the youths would enter citizens training camps that would run for 12 months and would be subject to all the training and discipline of a regular army post.

To gain entry to such a camp the youth must be between 15 and 21 and jobless for at least six months.

Funeral Held for Nico Shot Victim

Hamilton, Feb. 13.—Funeral services were held at Hico today for C. L. Lynch, 78, hardware dealer of that city who died in a sanitarium here last night of a wound inflicted in the accidental discharge of his shotgun.

The mishap occurred yesterday at his hunting lodge on the Leon River.

swelled the farm population to 32,000,000, close to the 1910 peak. Some farm communities object, as new school facilities and relief funds thus become necessary. However, a compensating factor is that a wider market for farms is provided.

Foreign—A decidedly better feeling is noticeable in Australia, with government and private finances improved. Chinese industries are active, and a better year is forecast. Wholesale prices rising in Japan. Improvement in several industries is noticed in France, with the crop situation promising. Favorable factors in Norway are improved shipping, better crop returns and firm prices.

er, seven miles north of Hamilton. Lynch moved to Hico soon after the railroad was built through there nearly 50 years ago. He owned a large amount of property in that section.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Earl Lynch and C. L. Lynch, Jr.

Pershing Ready to Continue Trip

Midland, Feb. 13.—Gen. John J. Pershing said today that he felt ready to continue his journey to Arizona for a vacation and intimating that he might leave Midland tomorrow.

Dr. W. E. Ryan, the general's physician, said Pershing could leave at any time since he was much improved after a series of throat ailments.

An army plane, with Lieutenant Robinson of Fort Bliss at the controls, arrived at noon and took off two hours later for El Paso, where Robert Schaeffer will receive treatment at the William Beaumont Hospital near Fort Bliss.

The plane brought Sgt. Stephen J. Richter to replace Cshaeffer as General Pershing's chauffeur.

Proposes Payment on Debt in Silver

Washington, Feb. 13.—The proposal that England pay $100,000,000 on her war debt to this country in silver was made in the Senate today by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada.

At the conclusion of his remarks, Pittman introduced a bill to carry out his proposal and it was sent to the Banking Committee. He said it would restore the price of silver to between 60 and 70 cents an ounce by stopping the dumping of silver from India.

"It will in no way disturb our gold standard system," he said, "but by restoring the purchasing power of silver-using countries it will accelerate our trade with them."

Pittman said India owed Great Britain $55,000,000 and if this obligation could be paid in silver under an agreement that the metal would not be debased for five years, the price of silver could be at least temporarily reestablished at the higher price.

ELECTRICITY — YOUR CHEAPEST SERVANT

Three cigars and a couple of kilowatt hours, please

If you could buy your daily supply of electricity at the same place you buy your tobacco and candy, you would be surprised to find how little it costs in comparison.

According to the latest estimate, the average family spends 23.5 cents per day for smokes and sweets, whereas the average customer of this company pays only 11 cents per day for residential electric service. For considerably less than the price of a package of cigarettes or a tin of tobacco, electricity lights the average home, furnishes radio entertainment, percolates the coffee and performs various other household duties for a period of twenty-four hours. You don't have to go after it, either — an unlimited supply is always ready at the flick of a switch.

Nothing else you buy gives so much value for so little money as does electric service.

ANSWERING THE CALL FOR SERVICE

TEXAS LOUISIANA POWER COMPANY

ECONOMICAL QUALITY MERCHANDISE

*This figure was computed by dividing the total residential electric revenue by the total number of residential customers. Some customers pay considerably less than 11¢ per day and some pay more, but the average is 11¢.

Wednesday evening the pastor will conduct the mid-week service. The public cordially invited to worship with us in every service.

Brother of Mrs. Q. A. Ellis Dies in Portland, Oregon

After a very brief illness, John A. Hannay, brother of Mrs. Q. A. Ellis, died Saturday night at 10 o'clock. Interment was made Thursday at the family home in Versailles, Mo.

Mr. Hannay was very prominent in his home state, for many years in fact, the greater part of his life was spent in newspaper work in his home town, at one time editing and publishing a weekly and a daily newspaper, besides being interested in other newspaper projects. Mr. Hannay was for more than twenty-five years document custodian in the House of Representatives at Washington, D. C., and at the time of his death was associated with a large printing concern at Portland, Oregon.

On account of a slight illness, his sister, Mrs. Q. A. Ellis, could not attend the funeral. Mrs. Joe Crum, of LaFayette, Indiana, and formerly of this place, and a niece of the deceased, attended the funeral. A host of friends in Gatesville and over Texas extend to Mrs. Ellis their heartfelt sympathy in the loss of her brother.

Senior's Win Holiday

As a reward for having the most people at the recent Open House, the Seniors were let out at the end of the 4th period Friday afternoon. At a class meeting they voted to not have a picnic or party but spend the afternoon individually. Some Seniors were reported to have gathered at Mildred Pattillo's and annoyed the neighbors with various loud songs. These children will have their fun.

Scouts in Chapel Program

Friday morning the Boy Scouts put on a chapel program commemorating their anniversary week. The program was interesting, showing phases of the scout life and the work they do. Various stunts, such as flips and pyramid building, were put on to the enjoyment of the Student Body.

Cold Spell Brings Mishaps

The recent cold snap resulted in painful accidents to several members of the high school. The ice covered walk, leading to the high school, was responsible for the sudden sitting down of Mrs. Glass the other morning. Margaret Gilder and Lindsay Dickey also suffered sudden upsets. We suggest steam heated and cushioned sidewalks.

Choral Club

Strange sounds from the basement caused much bewilderment Monday morning but on investigation were found to be caused by the Choral Club. The club is in training for the coming County Meet where they will compete with voices from all over the county. Come in and hear the fun sometime.

Senior Party

Tuesday night, the Seniors had their annual Valentine Party. The class met at Faye Hamilton's home, on Main Street, where, after securing partners, they walked to the elementary school where the party was held. The auditorium was decorated in a red and white color scheme with hearts and red and streamers. After several games of Hearts, refreshments were served. They consisted of red and white brick ice cream and a red cake with the white numerals "33" written on top. After the party, the class again walked to the Hamilton residence, where the party broke up. The entire Senior Class was present and several members of the faculty.

One-Act Play

The one-act play, sponsored by Miss Holmes, announced Wednesday morning, tryouts would be held for the coming County Meet. The announcement was met with a hearty response as almost fifty people came to the meeting. Tryouts will proceed until four characters are selected.

Baker's Flashes from the Courts

The games for Tuesday came out about as we thought, but I did not expect to see the Hornets go down so bad. The scores were: Pearl 31, Evans 24; Mt. Zion 16, Turnersville 18; Plainview and Turnersville then played to see who shall play Pearl Thursday for the County title. The score was Plainview 25, Turnersville 29.

I believe Pearl will beat Turnersville about three points. This will be a game worth while. As to the track team this year for Gatesville it will not be as good as it was last year due to the loss of several first placemen, but I believe Gatesville will win the County.

Spanish Clubs

The Spanish I Class organized a club in class Tuesday. The purpose of the club is to study Spanish speaking countries and people. The following officers were elected: President, Louise Holland; Vice-President, Virginia Carlyle; Secretary, Lowrey Burleson, and Reporter, J. W. Summers. Iris Morse, Lucille Wilhelm and Louis Woodall were appointed on the program committee.

The Spanish II Club, "Los Amigos Espanoles" studied in their club meeting the customs, history and people in Mexico. The club meeting opened with the roll call answered by the name of a Mexican City. The Mexican flag was made by Freda Wood and the coat of arms painted by Elton Blackstock. The program consisted of the following: Mexican Homes, Ruth Roberts; Mexican Food, Alma McDonald; Indians in Mexico, Louise Walton; Mexican Poetry, Hartley Franks; and Pictures of Mexico were discussed by Alexia Henson.

Detention Hall

To the accompaniment of much applause Mr. Johnson announced in chapel the other morning that Detention Hall would consist of one hour instead of forty-five minutes as formerly. He also announced that a penalty of one detention hall would be assessed for the losing of an admittance slip. These announcements were met with great favor by the Student Body when he said it was all for the sake of discipline, for nowhere is discipline liked so well as in G. H. S.

Football Captain Elected Wednesday morning the lettermen of the squad of 1932 elected a captain for next year, Paul Hinson, a guard, was chosen for the position. He was a favorite on this year's squad and will make an efficient captain. The position is a responsible one and needs the cooperation of the team, the coach, and the school. Only five lettermen will be back next year so it will be a hard task leading a green team to victory, but we think the Captain-elect is capable of doing that very thing.

That Monster Rumor

It has been rumored that Mr. Johnson told Mr. McDowell he thought Mr. Thompson said Frieda Weaver told someone that Merle Scott accused Mayo Holt of saying that Grady Carson said Elmo Strickland had girlish ways.

Technocracy

In a recent interview Mr. Raymond Tatum kindly gave a definition for the popular word "Technocracy." Following are his words: "Well 'y' see if 'y' don't know nothin' about Teknokercy 'y' aint much up in d' affairs of d' world. It's a toim that only us brainy guys know anything about so take it from me, forget it guy, forget it."

Only Two Major Changes in 1933 Football Rules

By Bob Arnold, Jr.

The National Foot Ball rules Committee made only two changes in the rules when they met at Philadelphia, Pa., last Saturday and Sunday.

The sideline play was eliminated when they decided to establish two side zones, 10 yards in width on either side of the field. When the ball becomes dead within these zones it will be moved immediately to a point ten yards in from the sideline without time being taken out.

If the ball goes out of bounds it will be brought in ten yards instead of 15 as was last year.

This new rule will help to speed the game up as statistics showed that each foot ball team wasted 4 downs out of every game by taking the ball out of bounds. It will also eliminate tackling out of bounds to a big extent.

In an effort to frame a rule against "clipping" so it could virtually be eliminated from the game, the rule makers set up a new definition which will make it illegal to run into the back of an opponent not carrying the ball. This amplifies the previous rule against throwing or dropping the ball across the back of the leg or legs of an opponent below the knees. In the interest of stricter enforcement of the rule against clipping, the penalty was reduced from 25 yards to 15.

Glenn Hendrickson Enters Filling Station Business

We are authorized to announce that Mr. Glenn Hendrickson, erstwhile candidate for Constable of this Precinct, has wholly abandoned his political ambitions and will take charge of the management of a Gulf Filling Station in the Sasse & Powell Building on the northwest corner of the public square. Aside from the retail of gasoline (That Good Gulf Kind) Mr. Hendrickson's place will wash and grease and service your car at the latest depression prices. Glenn has a host of friends who will wish him well in this undertaking and we predict that he will prove to be a worthy competitor in the field he has entered. Glenn says his motto will be to serve the public quickly, efficiently and honestly and incidentally to take all the money he can off his customers. If you have the "blues" see him and his cheerful spirit will make you feel better. If you are not blue, you will likely be after you trade with him awhile.—Advertisement.

E. C. Woodlock of Abilene, formerly of Gatesville, underwent a serious operation Sunday. Message Thursday stated he was resting as well as can be expected.

Aubrey Walker left Thursday morning for Marlin where he will take hot bath treatments for rheumatism. Mrs. Aubrey Walker and Miss Nell Walker accompanied him to Waco.

Mrs. Rufus Brown was hostess to members and guests of the Thursday Afternoon Club at her home, 1301 East Main Street, Thursday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, with four tables of bridge. After the games refreshments were served.

Mrs. Monroe Woodson of Ewing was able to enjoy a birthday dinner Tuesday with her children and their families and her twin sister, Mrs. J. S. Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Simpson and daughter, Miss Laydes Simpson, spent the day Monday with daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Ellison, of Pidoce Community. On passing Hard Bargain they saw a display of 15 extra large rattle snakes killed by John Hagan and a party of boys several days ago.

SOCIETY

Miss Edith Raby Hostess For the Book Club

Auction bridge was played at four tables Friday afternoon when Miss Edith Raby entertained the Book Club with an attractive bridge party at her home, West Main Street.

Worth with Mrs. Kay Kimbell. Miss Ray Virginia Rayford and her roommate will spend this week-end in Ft. Worth.

Ed McDonald, who suffered a severe bruise on the left hand Wednesday afternoon, was carried to Waco Thursday for a more thorough examination at a sanitarium at that place. Mr. McDonald was engaged in handling some livestock when he received his injuries that are thought to be a fracture of some of the bones in the wrist and hand.

W. F. and J. F. Barnes Lumber Co. report the sale of lumber and building material for a new home for Ike Clowers on Sanders Creek. Also furnishing material for the new home of Hon. Tom L. Robinson just across the river on the Levisa road. This home is to be a modern home of about 8 rooms, made of stone and concrete.

While the ground was covered with ice and everything frozen, the Meek's dairy wagon happened to an accident which came near being serious when the windshield became covered with ice and the driver's view was obstructed, he accidentally drove his car off a culvert, resulting in considerable smashup of both car and milk bottles. Luckily no one was injured.
