County School Board Meets May 17; Schools To Be Classified

For May 17 at 2:00 p. m., a meeting of the County School Board has been called by Supt. J. M. Witcher. In addition to routine business, the Board will begin classification of the schools of the county. This matter will be completed at the June meeting.

Mr. Witcher also states that only seven schools out of the fifty seven in the county had shorter terms than 8 months. The eight month schools began closing May 3, and seventeen more closed on May 10, twelve more on May 17, leaving only four to close later.

In reference to local taxes, Mr. Witcher stated many districts paid their local taxes in March and this helped materially in continuing the school terms. According to the law, school taxes may be paid in part or in whole at any time without considering state or county taxes. These taxes if paid by August 1, may be used on the school this year.

Other features of the program were: Floyd Zeigler, President of the Gatesville Club, acting as Toastmaster; invocation, Rev. M. M. (Continued on last Page.)

He was enthusiastically received in his first appearance here at the Lion's Club banquet this week.

MAIN STREET CAFE OPENS NEXT TO CITY DRUG

As you've noticed by their announcement elsewhere in the News, the Main Street Cafe, has just opened for their patrons and friends, under the management of C. R. Culp, an experienced cafe man and caterer.

Mr. Culp has been associated with the Adams Cafe and assures his patrons and prospective customers quick service and quality foods.

Dirt was broken Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for the new Baptist church with an impressive ceremony and those so honored were Mrs. A. H. Gregory, oldest living member present and J. C. Hood, oldest living member among the men.

Dan E. Graves, head of the Building Committee, replaced Rev. C. A. Morton and delivered an inspiring address on the occasion, which followed a scripture reading by Mrs. C. A. Morton.

With music furnished by the High School band, playing "America," and Edgar Franks, who acted as Master of Ceremonies, introduced the architect, Birch D. Easterwood, and C. C. Ramsey, contractor, both of Waco, besides presenting to the audience, Mrs. A. H. Gregory and J. C. Hood.

Other features were a poem to the church by Mrs. A. D. Honeycutt which was read by Mrs. Otha Gilder and a short talk by Birch D. Easterwood, architect.

Concluding the interesting ceremonies was the breaking of ground by the two oldest members present.

Approximately 350 people attended the ceremonies.

BAUMAN'S STORE LOSES $100 IN MDSE. TO BURGLARS

Robbers broke in Henry Bauman's Grocery Store No. 1, 303 North Lutterloh sometime after eleven o'clock Wednesday night. Over looking money they carried away approximately one hundred dollars in cigarettes, bacon, boiled ham and sugar. The front door of the warehouse which is connected to the store, was broken into by tin snips.

FARMERS VISITING CAPITOL CITY WITH MANY OTHERS

Lucky farmers of this county who are visiting with the 4,500 other farmers in the nation's capitol are John Voss, R. H. Martin and D. I. Glass.

These men are in Washington in the interest of all farmers for a clearer understanding of what the government is attempting to do for the farmers by the AAA and other agencies.

HOME PROVES TO BE MAGIC CARPET

Tragic, tho it might be, the home of Jim Comer took an air ride yesterday, after becoming "air minded." Factually, a Texas twister, dipped long enough about 11:30 a. m. Wednesday morning to move Jim's home 30 feet from its foundation and land it over next to a hackberry tree, right side up, and with minor damage.

Taking place during the violent rain storm, the twister which hit 2 miles west of Purmela and north of highway 7 and literally took Jim's house off its feet, landing it on some of its rock pillars and bulged up the floor and ripped a brick flue out of the house. Happily, no one was injured when the house got flighty.

Considerable damage was done to other shed buildings and outbuildings. C. E. Gandy, of Gatesville, is the owner of the farm on which Mr. Comer lives. According to Mr. Gandy, the elements only picked on him.

Varied Information to Farmers From County Agent D. W. Sherrill

Cotton Checks Here

Cards were mailed out today to four hundred forty-one contract signers notifying them that their first cotton rental checks for 1935 had arrived. These checks amount to $12,496.02. The other thirteen hundred contract checks will arrive soon making a total of about $50,000.00 first rental payments. These payments are for old contracts. New contracts are just now being signed up along with Bankhead applications. Farmers are requested not to make a trip asking for their check until a card is received by them. The card will be mailed immediately upon receipt of their checks and it will save them time and expense to wait until they do receive a card.

Cotton Contracts Signed

Every producer, either landlord or tenant, who made application for a new cotton contract must sign up the actual contract before it can be sent in for payment. These contracts have been attached to the respective Bankhead Applications and should be signed up with the community committee. The contract as now drawn up contains all of the adjustments in acreage and lint which were required by the State Board of Review, and the producer may accept or reject such adjustment. However, Bankhead Application will be based upon the data contained in the contract itself. Landlords who were not notified to sign the contract should come in and sign the contract at least by May 25, which is the deadline date for signing new contracts.

Get Tax-Free Tags Now

The applying for Bankhead Tax-Exemption Certificates is well under way and to-day, Friday, May 17, is the last day that the community committees will be in the field. Producers are urged to complete Bankhead Applications in the field to-day. Committees for Coryell county will be located Friday, May 17, at the following places: Oglesby, Gatesville Courthouse, Turnersville, Plainview, Pidcoke, Copperas Cove and Leon Junction. Farmers should go to the one of these places in their respective districts. It is hoped that if all possible all applications will be made in the field, however, the applications will be available in the County Agent's office until Saturday, May 25, which is absolutely final and positively the last date which Bankhead applications may be accepted. If a farm is to sell any cotton tax free there must be a bankhead application made to secure tax exemption certificates. The whole Bankhead program operate much the same as last year. Immediate action requested.

Certificates Exchangeable

Those producers who did not pool their last year's certificates may bring their certificates in and turn them in at the county agent's office, and same will be sent to Washington and replacement certificates of the 1935 crop will be made after receipt of the old certificates in Wash-

WILL A WOMAN EVER BE PRESIDENT?

How would you like to see a woman at the head of the nation? It is a possibility or suggestion coming direct from the White House, in an article written by Col. Louis Howe, President Roosevelt's secretary, for an early issue of The Woman's Home Companion.

"During the next decade," he says, "not only the possibility, but the advisability of electing a woman as president of the United States will become a very seriously argued question.

"And if the issues continue to be as they are now—humanitarian, educational, etc.—it is not outside the bounds of possibility that a woman might not only be nominated, but elected, on the ground that women better understand such questions than men."

Col. Howe's comment on women's ways in politics are all quite revolutionary. "Within the next ten years," he says, "the women's vote will become larger than the men's on all important elections. The reason is this: that when a woman believes anything politically she believes it, and her conviction is real enough and strong enough to lead her to the polls even in bad weather when it would be much more convenient to stay at home.

"So this statement is not so rash as it might seem, for with about an equal number of male and female voters, it is evident that it is merely a case of which sex is more aroused as to which will be in largest attendance when the voting booths open.

"The average man is willing to accept his leader's statement without further inquiry into the matter. If you are going to gain a woman's vote, however, you must have some real arguments, and this has rather revolutionized the character of campaign literature."

LOOKING BACKWARD

Change of standards from age to age has always been characteristic of the human race. Fifty years hence the most extreme and sensational fads of today will seem quite innocuous and commonplace. The sins of one generation become the virtues of the next. Morals are a matter of chronology as well as of geography.

An excerpt from a newspaper shows the many prohibitions by which the girls at boarding schools were hedged in some 90 years ago. One rule rigidly enforced in one center of learning was that no student should associate with gentlemen acquaintances unless the latter were returned missionaries or agents of benevolent societies.

The boarding school girl of that "moral" era was forbidden more than one hour a day of miscellaneous reading, and the Atlantic Monthly, Shakespeare, Scott, Robinson Crusoe and "other immoral works" were strictly prohibited.

Thought has become greatly liberalized since a hundred years ago. In fact, a radical change in that direction has taken place in the last two decades. Books condemned a century ago on moral grounds are now so universally approved, even by the bluest puritan, that they are neglected as not being spicy enough.

Those few surviving religious sects still meeting in convention to discuss such "worldly issues" as modes of dress, wearing of medals, dancing, smoking, card playing and innocent amusements are a curiosity, rather than a "moral influence" in this day and age.—Waco News-Tribune.

Coryell county, as well as nearly every section of the state, is getting thoroughly wet. Crop prospects look good. And a few seem to show nervousness about the rain as they did over the frequent dust storms a few months ago. But everything will come out all right.

PILSUDSKI AND POLAND TEXAS CENTENNIAL JAPAN'S NAVAL PROGRAM

The death of MARSHAL JOSEPH PILSUDSKI, father of the new Polish nation, leaves the new Polish rulers free to join Germany against France. Pilsudski, while in alliance with France, attempted to balance friendships with Germany and with France. A year ago a ten year non-aggression pact was signed with Germany, relieving the tension over the Polish Corridor, temporarily at least.

The French feel that Polish fear of Russia may drive Poland into an alliance with Germany and break the iron ring which France is attempting to form around Germany. Russia is bound to come to the aid of France in the event of an attack upon that country by Germany, by the terms of the Franco-Soviet defensive alliance recently concluded. If Russia fights Germany, it will have to be on Polish soil. The Poles do not want to suffer the fate of Belgium in the next war and hesitate to join the Franco-Russian alliance. The Germans hope that Poland will break with France and her allies and join forces with them. Poland wants to expand toward the southeast—the Russian Ukraine. Likewise Germany. These common aims may bring together these two powers. The Poles in an alliance with France would have nothing but security against an attack by Germany and the certainty of being the battleground in a Russo-German War. The Poles know there is nothing to be gained in the west but Germans.

The question is being asked, "What can the small town do to help make the 1936 Centennial a success?" First, it must be remembered that it is to be a TEXAS Centennial and this means ALL Texas. Dallas is the central city of the exposition, but expositions will also be held at San Antonio, Austin, and other cities and towns with historical significance. Gatesville has no historical background of note, yet it can help this splendid enterprise. The small town can not play as great a part in the celebration as the larger cities, but it can contribute to making it a bigger and better Centennial than previously planned.

Merchants and business men of small towns should be leaders in things civic as well as in things commercial. They should set examples for those in their communities, including those in the adjacent country, by starting the work of brightening up their own premises.

Women's clubs, like the parent-teacher association, can see that homes and yards are tidied. There is no better indication of the class of people who inhabit a town or section of country than the appearance of their homes.

A clean, pretty little town and countryside appeal to the traveler in proportion more than does a large city. About the most attractive scene one may look upon is A PRETTY FARM HOME. This is especially true as to Texas. Reflecting upon the improved appearance of towns and farm homes, that should be the aim of all for Centennial Year.

When you receive word that the rich uncle or the family parson is coming for a visit, you naturally tidy up the house and yard and children a bit. Some mighty big folks are coming to the Centennial and we naturally want to make a good impression. President Roosevelt has been invited, as has been King George. Of course we do not expect His Majesty, but he has his invitation and might surprise us, you know.

JAPAN is leading the rest of the world in naval increases and the U. S. is far behind, according to figures recently assembled by congressional committees. Japan is slated to attain a London treaty strength navy of the 5-5-3-1-1 ratio by 1936. Japan increased personnel last year by 4,500, and the U. S. by only 1,200. Since the Washington arms treaty of 1922 Great Britain has built 174 warships of all types; Japan, 163; France, 177; Italy, 175; and the U. S. seventy. Even France and Italy, who were granted a 1-5 ratio with the U. S., have far outstripped us in naval construction since 1922. On the other hand, Japan and England headed the U. S. with the great test of new or underage warships, with 155 and 132 respectively to 85 for the U. S.

Congress had plenty of reason to appropriate $465,000,000 for naval construction this year.

Buster Cummings and Garland Anderson visited friends in Lampasas Sunday afternoon.

Beatrice Farmer, student at John Tarleton College, was a week end visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Farmer.

Mr. Jimmy McNichols and Midge Doubleday and James Franks, all of Dublin, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Newman.

Monday night the Bachelors defeated the Firemen 5-3 for the first time this season. The Firemen were due a defeat since they have been in the winning streak most of the season. The Round Table is showing much improvement especially when one is talking about getting men out to play the games. Powell, Bachelor hurler, fanned approximately 11 men. Carter Ray got his first home run of the season.

The Oilers and Independent crew split their game Monday night, neither having enough men out to play the game.

The Softball League has now adopted the twelve inch ball. This action is due to improve the interest in the league, and will make a much faster game.

Tonight the Firemen meet the Independent crew in the first game. Managers Gartman and Arnold are doing everything they can to have their men out in an effort to keep the Firemen on the down hill stretch. The Independents have defeated the Firemen, but I hardly think they will tonight.

In the second game the Bachelors are pitted against the Oilers. The Round Table has started winning, and will be trying to keep in the streak, while the Oilers seem to think they are doing alright to pick up a half game every now and then, however, both teams are due to have their entire crew out for the contest tonight. The Bachelors will probably win by a narrow margin.

Team	won	lost	per.
Firemen	9	2	.818
Round Table	6 1/2	4 1/2	.588
Independent	5 1/2	5 1/2	.500
Conoco	1	10	.099

The County Baseball League is well underway. Much interest is being shown on the part of every manager. We appreciate the invitations extended us to come and see the different teams in action. We hope to see them all play but will have to attend these games at our convenience.

Tommorrow, Saturday, Ireland is scheduled to meet Turnersville at Turnersville; State vs. Plainview at Plainview and Piddie vs. Jonesboro at Slater. This game was scheduled to be played at Jonesboro, but there is to be a picnic at Slater, and the two managers agreed to play there. It is possible that the other two games be played other than where they are scheduled, but we have not heard of the alternation. We will try to see the game at Slater tomorrow, and see how they line up.

Sunday, May 19, Liberty is to play Mound at Mound, Hubbard vs. Levita at Levita, and Purmela plays Osage at Osage.

We have heard some comment in regard to "doping" the games being played in the County League. We have a fair record in the Softball League and would hate to spoil it, however, after we find out a little more about the different teams, if the fans still want this "added attraction for nothing," we'll do our best to guess them.

Gladys Martin and Mrs. C. C. Pinckney were Waco visitors Thursday.

Ernest Cummings and Henry Yongue were among the visitors to Waco Thursday.

Marion Burleson, who has been in the Provident Hospital, Waco, returned to his home here Thursday.

"DUST BOWL" GETS RAINS

Few spots in the area racked for months by storms of blowing silt were missed altogether. Liberal, Kan., heart of the dust area, received moisture totaling .20 of an inch and skies remained cloudy.

She lives with her husband and children on a farm seven miles north of Clarendon and walks to and from relief headquarters every day she is allowed to work. This month she has been allowed only three days a week, since she had some over time last month.
"I don't want charity; I want a job," said Mrs. Hall.

Army officials with a view of definitely locating the proposed and allocated CCC or Erosion Camp to be located in Coryell county. The committee is composed of D. W. Oscar Burton, well known here as former local manager of the Texas Telephone Company, has volunteered to assist this committee, along with former County Agent Nagle, who is now associated with the Regional Office at Tyler, will be asked to assist.

Public spirited citizens took a collection yesterday to defray expenses of the trip for the committee or representatives to be sent.

VARIED INFORMATION—

ington D. C. Since the Surplus Certificates Pool has been opened old certificates may be surrendered to the new pool and will wait for them to be sold. The farmer will have the choice of these two plans. Turn in your old certificates now if you wish to secure new ones to replace to use for 1935 crop.

Tuberculosis Eradication Started

Coryell county will be divided into eleven districts with one veterinarian serving each district, beginning Monday morning. The city of Gatesville has already been worked, also Evant. Veterinarians will go from farm to farm and notify farmers to pen their cattle at a certain time and all the farmers to do is to have the cattle penned and offer any assistance in handling the cattle that may be possible. Veterinarians will return seventy two hours or three days after the test to inspect and see if there are any reactors to the test. If a cow should react and prove to be tubercular two thirds of the appraised value will be paid to the owner and the cow will be shipped to Fort Worth. Certainly for healths sake and welfare of the entire county there will be no one who would be foolish enough to object to the Government offering this program for the protection of all. The program will not stop cattle going to immediate slaughter, but if cows are to be sent off to different locations not for slaughter such traders or producers should notify the county office in order to get such cows tested before moving. The county will be under quarantine until the work is completed which will require four or five weeks. Should there be a person who would refuse to have his cows tested such stock would be quarantined until the test was permitted. There will be no expense to the owners of cattle for this testing. The county furnishes the ropes, oil chalk and maps and the Federal Government through the bureau of animal industries and in co-operation with the Texas Sanitary commission is footing the bill for this worth while program.

Erosion Control For Farms

With the coming of a CCC Soil Erosion Camp to Coryell county, Coryell county farmers should become soil conscious and co-operate with the Government in saving from waste, loss and ruin, the greatest natural resources which we possess "our soil." The farmers will be notified when to make application to secure the services of some two or three hundred men and the expert supervisors who are coming to Coryell county. Certainly the last rains have proved to a final conclusion and to our dissatisfaction that Mother Earth is fast shifting and washing off of our farms down to the Gulf of Mexico. Farmers are requested to begin talking and planning to take advantage of the greatest Government program yet, which is the saving of our soil. The CCC will run the terrace lines and build the spillways, the farmer must construct the terraces and furnish gravel and cement.
