YONG HAK PAK, KOREAN SPEAKS AT METHODIST CHURCH WED. NITE

Politics, religion and economic problems of Korea will be the subject used by Yong Hak Pak, young Korean student of Southern Methodist University when he appears at the Methodist Church Wednesday evening, July 31.

Mr. Pak has attended Lon Morris College, A. & M. and Southwestern University and is to be a student of S. M. U. this fall. He has received a degree in sociology and economics. He was born and reared in a Methodist home, his grandmother having been one of the first Koreans to enter the church.

Besides his lecture here, Mr. Pak is lecturing in nearly every district in the state, and has a schedule for the full summer.

RURAL REHABILITATION OFFICE MOVED TO COURTHOUSE

Effective today, the rural Rehabilitation office has been moved temporarily to the County Agent's office on the first floor of the courthouse, until this term of District Court is over when they will make their permanent office on the third floor.

Heretofore, Rural Rehabilitation has been under the Texas Relief Commission, but is now a division of the Re-settlement administration, with H. E. Welborn in charge.

Mr. Welborn will have as Home Supervisor Miss Pauline Gardner, and in addition, four other assistants.

JUDGE SADLER SPEAKS TO MASONS AT PARIS

Paris, Texas, July 26.—Masons from Lamar, Fannin, Delta and Red River Counties and from Hugo, Okla., heard an address by Judge S. P. Sadler of Dallas here Thursday evening. The occasion was the annual chicken barbecue sponsored by Lamar County Masonic Lodges. James M. Caviness, worshipful master of Paris lodge, was in charge of the meeting.

Several prominent Masons from Dallas were present at the meeting, including Judge Hiram Lively, Wilbur Keith, Frank Hamm, Judge Towne Young, Frank Harmon, Henry Watson and Gabe Allen. More than 300 Masons were present.—Dallas News.

Judge Sadler, formerly of Coryell county and Gatesville, was for many years prominent in civil circles while here.

NEWS REPORTER RATES LITTLE THEATER PLAY AS BEST YET

"Double Door" was a step upward for the local thespians—a large step in fact, and aside from a few discrepancies the presentation approached more nearly the professional than anything yet attempted by the Little Theater.

A laborious task fell the lot of Beverly Chamlee, a natural juvenile in an older part, around whom the interest of the play was woven. Although she may have been miscast she portrayed the character role of Victoria nobly—deserving of the praise accorded her.

Elaine Cross, as Ann, although given little opportunity to show her real ability, did not fail to make the most of dramatic opportunities as they presented themselves. Miss Cross took full advantage of the chance to give her audience a bit of her dramatic ability.

Rip Van Bret, portrayed by David Franks, familiar to Little Theater patrons, carried the predominant male role in a very becoming manner.

Verona Franks was excellent in her portrayal of Caroline. Her natural advantage of a few years might have given Miss Franks the edge in the role of Victoria, yet it is doubtful she could have outdone Miss Chamlee in acting the part.

Among the newcomers were Bryan Arnold, Byron McClellan, Ruth Raby Franks, Pauline Garner, Earle Powell, Raymond Leonard and James Boyd. The latter was possible the most perfectly cast of all the participants. Carrying the part of a middle aged barrister and long time counsel of the Van Brets, Boyd seems perfectly at home in a part that appeared his fancy.

A few technical errors were practically lost in the interest of the play. Departing on their honeymoon, young Rip Van Bret carried a straw hat and overcoat. Then following the dinner party Rip and Neff appeared in the sitting room attired in full dress while Dr. Sully wore a business suit.

"Big Joe" Ward and his gang presented a varied assortment of numbers for the between-acts, which were greeted with ample applause and called for a number of encores and curtain calls.

In their orchestra work, these young artists seem to get over better than in their vocal numbers, even tho they are to be commended for their progress since the orchestra has just been organized for a short six months.

"MOVIN' DAY" FOR LOCAL FEED FIRM IS OVER AS THEY ARE OPEN

Gaco Feed Store, owned and operated by I. F. Johnson, Jr. and John Franks have just moved into their new location south of the Cities Service Station, on South Eight and Leon street.

Messrs. Johnson and Franks "furnish feeds and seeds for farmers needs" and buy and sell everything in this line, including mill feeds, cotton seed products and grains.

—If you have something to sell, you have something to advertise!

JULY 31 LAST DATE FOR TRANSFER OF STUDENTS FROM SCHOOL TO SCHOOL

Students who are to be transferred from one school district to another must get this matter attended to by July 31, according to advices received from the County Superintendent J. M. Witcher's office.

Laws relative to this matter were changed by the last legislature and transfers are not made by the State Department in Austin, but through the county office.

Original application by the parent or guardian must accompany the tabulated list of transfers to the State Department.

Friends of Jap Arnold seemed to have enjoyed the "session" Sunday afternoon on Main street; personnel of the conflag was Ayres Compton, Ned Chapman, Robert Scott and "Doc" Rutherford. As we sat here yesterday "concentrating," we noticed Frankie Wilson and Beverly Chamlee in a chat together in the middle of Main street; wonder what's happened now? We understand the Thomson Grocery Co. force were planning a shindy which included a goat barbecue, however, someone stole Ernest Cummings' goat, who was instrumental in planning the affair.

Sheriff Joe White, busy as a cranberry merchant during the present term of District Court, had time to chew the rag with us for a brief spell, and Fuzzy Chamlee, eccentric mechanician told us all about a new gadget he's recently installed, following a "blow-up" in the shop.

Writes Interestingly Of Land of Nippon; On Tour of World

The News is pleased to reproduce below an interesting letter about Japan written by Miss Edna Graham, teacher in the West Texas Teachers' College, Canyon, to her sister, Mrs. W. C. Homan. Miss Graham was reared in this county near The Grove, and is a sister to John R. Graham of this city. The letter to her sister, Mrs. Homan, was written from Kobe, Japan, the first foreign land visited on her tour of the world.

Kobe, Japan, June 29, 1935.

My Dear Lou:

Your letter at Seattle and the one at Kobe, today brought two foreigners much joy. The cruise across the Pacific was cold, but smooth with only sight of one school of whale and the faithful sea birds that followed us all the way from Seattle to Yokohama. We have found Japan the land of color, courtesy and charm, where the East blends with the West and the Past with the Present. In a few years the Empire of Japan will celebrate the twenty-sixth hundredth anniversary of her foundation. Just eighty years ago Japan opened her doors to the commercial world. Since then the Western civilization has been rapidly introduced into the daily life of the Japanese. On any street in her cities one sees the Japanese mother wearing her geta and tabi, her brilliant kimono held in place with the obi, her very young baby strapped on her back while her youngster of three or four years toddles by her side dressed as we would dress a child of that age in America.

We visited a department and saw the natives making their purchases. The wooden shoes or getas made much noise as hundreds of them popped against the floor. We were as interesting to them as they to us. A group of women was gazing at us and we turned and saw them measuring our length and width. They are very tiny and dainty. We looked like giants to them.

We saw two theatre performances in Tokyo. The Japanese never allow boys and girls to do anything together. (There is no coeducation in Japan). One theater had only girls performing, the other had only men. The girls in all their numbers made excellent boys, but in the men's theater, the boys made pathetic girls. We have been to several picture shows and we found them quite like the American pictures. I saw Joan Crawford and Clark Gable in a production yesterday in Kyoto.

We have traveled through six hundred miles of beautiful landscapes. Japan abounds with lofty mountains, gentle hills, valleys, rivers, rapids, waterfalls, lakes, picturesque coastal features. Travel in Japan is exceedingly easy for taxi drivers hail one on the corner of every street and the fare is about one fifth of what it is in America. The railway system has been praised by foreigners as the most admirably managed railway system of the present age. Motor and passenger planes (Continued bot. next col.)

PROHIBITION FORCES MEET AT METHODIST CHURCH AND REORGANIZE

Meeting at the First Methodist Church of Gatesville, Sunday at 3 p. m. forces for prohibition met and organized with the aim of an educational campaign proposing to repeal present liquor laws and to make new laws to take the place of the ones in force at present.

V. F. Lemons was elected president, and Brooks Sasse as secretary. An advisory Committee composed of E. F. Melbern, Leake Ayres, J. P. Kendrick and Mrs. A. C. Schloeman was also elected.

A County Committee was also elected from sections of the county present, with J. T. Garren and John Holland representing Turnersville, J. F. Trammel, Copperas Cove, Ben Reynolds, Pearl, Reverend Childers, Mound, Rev. M. M. Chunn acted as temporary chairman.

WOMAN MINISTER AND SPOUSE HELD AS HORSE THIEVES

Menard, Texas, July 28.—Mrs. Annabel Gatlin, pastor of the First Christian Church, and her husband, Cecil Gatlin, were in the Menard County jail Saturday under $3,000 bond on charges of stealing horses. Mrs. Gatlin waited an examining trial.

Eight horses were stolen a month ago from John Keeney and Dan McLain of Menard and Tom Lowe, foreman of the H. B. Opp Ranch.

Sheriff Cecil Walston said he found six of them on a ranch leased by the accused couple, eight miles north of San Saba.—Dallas News.

are used frequently. I have found traveling here much easier and cheaper than any of the countries of Europe and Asia.

Japan is increasing her population one million every year. It seems that this country is overflowing at present, and will have to have more territory. They are going to have it; military training is seen everywhere in the Empire. We visited a school in Tokyo and one of the classes was called gymnastics, but it was what we call "military drill."

You are perhaps interested in rural life in Japan and we have been too. Everything on the farm is done by hand. We saw rice in all of its stages of development and harvest. I have never seen anything more beautiful than the rice paddy. (Continued on last page)

HIGHWAY 36 ASSOCIATION MEETING (As it should have been)

"Stuffed and jamed was the Regal Theatre here Thursday as approximately 100 delegates of the Highway 36 Association and literally hundreds of Gatesville and Coryell County people vented their approval of the association's program of securing for this county a paltry few miles of highway along this route.

"It was absolutely necessary for the Sgt. at Arms to continually patrol the theatre to keep the enthusiastic local citizens quiet enough for the association to transact the business they were here to get done. Numbers of times, the applause was deafening, and in several instances enthusiastic Gatesvillities cheered, applauded, stomped on the floor and whistled taking up as much as 15 minutes of this demonstration on several occasions.

"When the question of finance was mentioned, it literally looked like an Alaskan gold rush, and adding machines were kept busy with a number of those counting to take care of the unprecedented flood of money which came in—and all unsolicited.

"Every citizen of any import was in attendance at this meeting and it was seriously discussed that the association be dissolved, and a proposal was made to let Gatesville and Coryell county people handle the whole highway 36 project.

"We, in our humble way, are extremely happy to report a demonstration like this as this is the way THINGS are done elsewhere. Let us, then, congratulate Coryell county and Gatesville on this enthusiastic turnout, such as has never been witnessed within the confines of this grand old county and town—and in fact, NEVER will be witnessed."

(As it actually was)

Thursday of last week approximately one hundred people from certain sections of the State traversed by Highway 36 were in Gatesville in attendance on the annual meeting of No. 36 Highway Association—here in the interest of the counties represented and to give their time and services to help Gatesville and Coryell County secure a few miles of paved road across the county as well as their own county.

A few painful observations were conspicuous that did not reflect glory on Gatesville. There were some twelve or fifteen Gatesville citizens present at the morning session, which representation was not so bad, but at the afternoon session Gatesville was represented by just four people—the newly appointed County Judge, one merchant and two reporters (one from each local paper).

In the words of Amos and Andy "ain't that sumpin'" to boast of. Bell County had a larger representation all the time than Coryell had at any time.

One representative was there from Freeport, Brazoria County, right on the Gulf of Mexico, where they already have 57 miles of paved Highway across their county. What did he expect to gain? Anyway, he was there.

Far be it from us to throw cold water on anything, much less the highway situation in this county, but in our humble opinion, that was a LOUZY turnout for Coryell County, where the only pavement in the county are those lovely little neck breaking "Dips".

Another observation, was, the minute the bugaboo "finance" was mentioned, one of the "leaders" hereabouts grabbed his hat and breezed out of the assembly.

Well, folk, we won't even get "cow trails" with that kind of support, much less paved highways.

We're proud of Gatesville and Coryell county and everything in them, but at this meeting, we were ashamed, disgusted—can't think of any better printable words to express how we were taken-a-back by this unco-operative, don't-care-a-hang attitude expressed by local citizens.

Please, please, folk, when THEY bring a situation like this to our very door, can't we drop things long enough to attend in person (and let the clerks take care of our business or close) at least when a project as badly needed as this is brought to us by OUTSIDE interests. We DO BELIEVE GATESVILLE and CORYELL county citizens will see that a disgrace like this POSITIVELY DOES NOT HAPPEN AGAIN. Is this confidence misplaced?

"OUT TO LUNCH" SIGN IS WATERLOO FOR BANDITS

Chicago, July 28—Four brash bank bandits drove smartly up to the Mount Prospect State bank in a nearby suburb yesterday, waved gawking townspeople aside with a machine gun, and stopped at the door.

The door was lock, and in its glass center hung a sign reading:

"Out to lunch."

The trio holstered their weapons, got back in their car and roared away.

LEAGUE INVESTIGATION.
NO RELIEF BY NOV.
ANOTHER TEXAS DEFICIT.
ETHIOPIA. NOT ABYSSINIA.

THE COUNCIL of the League of Nations is meeting this week at Geneva, Switzerland, in what appears to be a vain attempt to settle the Italian-Ethiopian dispute.

Mussolini has threatened to quit the League if the Council discusses phases of the dispute Italy does not want to talk about. A short time ago a conciliation commission meeting in The Netherlands broke up when members representing Italy and Ethiopia could not agree on proper topics for discussion. Fear has been expressed in European quarters that the Council meeting will break up in the same manner, resulting in the resignation of Italy from the Geneva body and making an Italo-Ethiopian war inevitable.

Duce wants no general investigation of the controversy, only a discussion of the Uaual border clash. On the other hand, the Ethiopian ruler, Halle Selassie, demands that the Council review the entire situation and take measures to prevent war.

Italy wants a protectorate over Ethiopia, Duce says, not economic concessions or a right-of-way for a railroad connecting the two Italian colonies. A protectorate is unthinkable, says Emperor Selassie. Then how can there be peace. As one writer put it, "It's now a give-and-take proposition: How much will Ethiopia give? How little will Italy take?"

CLARENCE ALLEN MORTON, Moderator.

John Allen Crowhurst

John Allen Crowhurst, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crowhurst, died in a Temple hospital Thursday morning.

The child died after an illness of two days. He and his mother had been residing at the home of his grandfather, Allen Golden.

Interment was held at the Copperas Cove Cemetery Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. J. F. Trammel presiding.

Several business matters were attended to.

Committees were appointed to look into the reports of the highway being built, but not passing through Copperas Cove. We must have that highway through our city. A committee was also appointed to try to get funds to beautify our city park.

Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Nerrittigg, long time residents of Coryell County, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Sunday, July 21, at their farm home four miles west of town.

A program prepared for the day included an opening hymn, followed by a speech by the Rev. L. J. Werner, pastor of the Lutheran church, of which both Mr. and Mrs. Nerrittigg were members.

A barbecue dinner was served to approximately 140 friends and relatives of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Nerrittigg were married at Fedor in 1885, and moved to Coryell county and the farm home where they now reside in 1895. Mr. Nerrittigg, through years of hard work, has built the farm they came to 40 years ago into one of the finest farms in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kelm of Walburg presented the couple a wedding cake, beautifully decorated as a tribute to their 50 years of happily married life.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Nerrittigg's children were present at the celebration except Mrs. Carl Reich.

Out of town guests here for the celebration included: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nerrittigg and son of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schott of Benton, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dragger of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel and Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Dragger of Lincoln, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kriegel of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hirsch of Dallas, Emil Herzog of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jacob of Walburg.

John Allen Crowhurst

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
(King Mafolaba's warriors, most unruly of the river tribes have violated tribal boundaries, capturing many innocent victims for the forbidden slave trade. Bosambo, chief of the Ochori and trusted ally of Commissioner Sanders, overcomes the raiders in battle and holds them captive pending Sanders' arrival. Sanders calls Mafolaba to a palaver and warns him against further transgression.)

FAREWELL TO THE RIVER

Sanders, set free the raiders who had been captured by Bosambo, and his next concern was the crowd of natives who had almost become victims of the slave trade.

"Tibbets," he said, "you'd better take them back to Dahomey." The assistant hurried off to carry out his orders, and Sanders turned to engage Bosambo in conversation.

He had only been talking to him for a few minutes when Tibbets reappeared.

"I'm sorry, sir," he reported in some agitation, "but I can't do anything with those girls. The men are willing enough to go back, but the girls simply won't budge."

"Won't budge?" Sanders echoed in bewilderment.

"No, sir," Tibbets answered. "I think Bosambo has something to do with their attitude."

Sanders directed a sharp glance at the Ochori chief, who looked uncomfortable. Then he marched across to a group of dusky females who were sitting outside a hut.

"What is this I hear?" Sanders asked of them. "Don't you want to go back to your homes?"

"No, lord," they answered in one voice, with loud emphasis. "We would like to be the wives of Bosambo, chief of the Ochoris."

"What, all of you?" Sanders demanded.

Nine woolly heads nodded. Sanders announced. "Don't you know that Bosambo has five other wives? Don't you know that those five wives are old and sour-tempered—that they will beat you and give you much work to do?"

The girls looked impressed, and Sanders silenced Bosambo as the latter attempted to protest against the fictitious story that the Commissioner had told.

"Now will you go back?" "Yes, lord," nine feminine voices answered hastily.

Sanders smiled, and was about to turn away when Tibbets laid a hand on his arm.

"Just a minute, sir," he exclaimed. "I understood that there were ten girls among the natives and I see here are only nine here."

Sanders counted the girls and upon inquiry he learned that one of their number, Lilongo, was now in the chief's house.

Looking pretty hard at Bosambo, the Commissioner ordered him to take him to his hut, and here the missing Lilongo was located.

Lilongo

"Do you want to marry the chief's wife?" Sanders demanded of her.

"Yes, lord, but I won't marry him unless he gets those other nine females out of his village!"

"Lilongo, they are already leaving," Bosambo assured her.

"Yes, and I can tell you of Bosambo's other wives," Sanders remarked.

Lilongo had begun to smile.

"Lord Sandi, that is not true," she said. "Bosambo has no other wives. While here I have watched him die is too fond of other men's wives to have so many of his own."

During that time two sons were born to Bosambo and Lilongo, and the elder was a constant source of pride and joy to his father, who saw in him a boy who might one day become a great chief.

Sanders was now entitled to a year's furlough, and during it he intended to marry Captain Hamilton's sister, and spend a six months' honeymoon in England. Meanwhile his quarters at the Residency were to be occupied by one Ferguson, a deputy-commissioner of undoubted courage.

Some days after the departure of Sanders from the Residency, a big canoe might have been seen ploughing upstream. A dozen natives were driving it through the water, and near the bow sat two white men, one a Portuguese outcast, Farini, the other a renegade Englishman, Smith.

The cargo of that vessel consisted of gin—"enough gin to make the whole jungle drunk," as Smith had already remarked. Liquor that could be bartered for goods which fetched high prices in the markets of civilization. What did it matter if the stuff was liable to arouse primitive passions and savage instincts which had been kept under control for more than four years?

"We'll soon be in Mafolaba country, Smith," said Farini. "Strange, isn't it, that our presence in these parts should coincide with Sanders' departure?"

"A lucky break for us, I'd call it," Smith commented.

Farini's eyes narrowed craftily.

Sandi is Dead

"Do you know what I'm going to do, now that Sanders has gone? I'm going to give out the word that he is dead, and pretty soon it will be broadcast all over the jungle."

"How?"

"By lokali drums, the telegraph of the bush," Farini answered.

"Sandi is dead," he said smoothly. "There is no law any more."

Twenty-four hours later the signal-drums were beating in every village, sending forth the news that had come from the lips of Farini and Smith.

"Sandi is dead. There is no law—any—more!" Like wildfire the trouble spread. Black demons, crazed with gin, and inspired by the savage rites of the Blood Dance—sweeping through the bush to kill and to pillage. Kraals blazing fiercely in the tropic night. The death yell ringing loud and clear once more. Isolated families of whites trembling in their remote bungalows, waiting for the moment when they would be overwhelmed by the uprising.

Down in the Residency, Deputy-Commissioner Ferguson listened to the beat of the lokali drums like a man on the verge of a breakdown.

"Again and again and again," he groaned to Hamilton and Tibbets, pressing his hands against his temples. "What are they saying now?"

"It's always the same," Hamilton answered. "Sandi is dead. There's no law any more."

Ferguson was silent for a moment, and then he turned to his assistants.

"Captain Hamilton, I am leaving you in charge of the Residency," he said. "Lieutenant Tibbets, you will parade half a company of men and accompany me up the river with them. We daren't take more for the Residency may be attacked, and we shall have a good many refugees here before long. I'm thinking."

"But what do you propose to do, sir?" Tibbets demanded.

"Travel upstream as far as we can," Ferguson rejoined. "I shall then take ten men and go over the mountains to the Old King's country."

"To the Old King's country?" Hamilton blurted. "Sir, you can't do that! It's suicide—"

"Sanders would have done it, wouldn't he?" the Deputy-Commissioner interrupted tersely.

Hamilton made a desperate gesture.

"But, sir, you can't—"

CRIME WAVE IS SWEEPING JAPAN

Tokio, July 28.—Criminal offenses have more than doubled in Japan in seven years, it is shown by police statistics quoted in the Tokio Asahi.

The total of 700,000 such offenses in 1926 had risen to 1,600,000 by 1934. Despite the general increase, some classes remained stationary. There has been no appreciable increase in the number of murders in the last 10 years.

But during the eight years since 1926 thefts have more than doubled and frauds and blackmail offenses almost trebled.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

Concise Explanation Given out by Secretary of State, Gerald C. Mann.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE OR PROBATION AMENDMENT

Proposition Number 5 on the ballot of the August 24th special election reads: "For (and Against) the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Courts to place defendants or probation."

Proponents claim that if this amendment is passed, many who are now sent to the penitentiary for first offenses will be permitted to enjoy suspended sentences under restrictions of the court.

The only restriction under the present suspended sentence law is the fact that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony—that is, a crime punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. The judge or court has no control nor can it set up or impose any other restrictions.

It is the understanding of those who have studied the amendment that if passed it would permit the Legislature to pass laws giving the courts the right to suspend sentences and place defendants on such probation as the court might deem proper. In other words the court would suspend sentences subject to certain limitations. If those restrictions or limitations were not observed the Court would have the authority to have the defendant committed to the penitentiary without further ado. Many courts now refuse to grant suspended sentences for the reason that they have no control over the defendant after the same is granted. It is pointed out that this would prevent many first offenders from having to go to the penitentiary and reclaim many of them for society.

If a suspended sentence is given under the present law the only limitation is that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony. The court has no control over him nor can it impose other conditions.

Niagara Falls in a steel barrel full of railroad spikes.

This spring a wrecking crew pried the door off a car which had been overturned down an embankment and out stepped the driver with only a scratch on his cheek. But his mother was still inside, a splinter of wood from the top driven four inches into her brain as a result of son's taking a greasy curve a little too fast. No blood—no horribly twisted bones—just a gray-haired corpse still clutching her pocket-book in her lap as she had clutched it when she felt the car leave the road.

On that same curve a month later, a light touring car crashed a tree. In the middle of the front seat they found a nine-months-old baby surrounded by broken glass and yet absolutely unhurt—but spoiled by the baby's parents, still sitting on each side of him, instantly killed by shattering their skulls on the dashboard.

If you customarily pass without clear vision a long way ahead, make sure that every member of the party carries identification papers—it's difficult to identify a body with its whole face smashed in or torn off. The driver is death's favorite target. If the steering wheel holds together it ruptures his liver or spleen so he bleeds to death internally. Or, if the steering wheel breaks off, the matter is settled instantly by the steering column's plunging through his abdomen.

---AND SUDDEN DEATH

Moved to indignation by the failure of statistics to shock the motorist into a realization of the appalling consequences of careless driving, F. C. Furnas, writing in the August issue of the Reader's Digest, has tried a more realistic method. In a series of pen pictures of the results of bad motor smash-ups he offers such gruesome comment as the following:

Collision, turnover or side-swipe, each type of accident produces either a shattering dead stop or a crashing change of direction—and, since the occupant—meaning you—continues in the old direction at the original speed, every surface and angle of the car's interior immediately becomes a battering, tearing projectile, aimed squarely at you—inescapable. There is no bracing yourself against these imperative laws of momentum. It's like going over

Friendship Club News

The club met Friday, July 19, at Mrs. York's home. Miss Martin, Home Demonstration Agent, met with us and conducted the meeting. We sang songs, and Miss Martin passed out bulletins on canning then discussed all points and answered questions. The afternoon was enjoyed very much.

The hostess served ice chocolate and cookies to four club members and four visitors, Mrs. Ralph Weaver and Mrs. Carl Stephens of Browns' Creek, Miss Voncille Turner of Ames and Miss Martin of Gatesville.

Busy Bee Club

The Busy Bee Club of Union met with Mrs. Luther Martin

browsin' 'round

with the "WINDOW SHOPPER"

How about a little first-hand information this week as to what some of our Gatesville shops offer for your service.

Of course you want to look young and feel young. That radiant hair that you prize so much... the smooth, clear skin your friends go wild about... the white self hands that never grow old... all these and countless other evidences of July 9.

The day was spent in canning peas and corn. Several cup towels were embroidered also.

There were eight members and two visitors present. Miss Helon Dunlay and Mrs. Raymond Watts were the visitors.

The club will meet sometime during the month of August.

Coryell City Club

Last Tuesday afternoon, July 16, the Kerr gave a demonstration. Miss Lela M. Vaughn met with the Coryell City Demonstration club and demonstrated canning of three different vegetables, and also elberta peaches. She gave many useful hints on canning.

Lemonade and cake were served to several club members, and Miss Lela Vaughn and her assistant Miss Georgia Fausteen.

FROM MISS MARTIN'S NOTE BOOK

So that she may economize in purchasing seed next year Mrs. Parc Williamson, co-operator of the Harmon Home Demonstration Club, is saving her tomato seed by the following method:

Cut tomatoes in halves, place in barrel and allow to ferment for two days. The seed will settle to the bottom and the pulp rise to surface. Stir twice daily. On second day, pour off pulp, and wash seed, spread out and dry.

Five hundred eighty-four containers have been canned this year by Mrs. N. H. McDonald, pantry demonstrator of the Antelope Home Demonstration Club. Seven in the Antelope Club turned in a report of 2686 containers canned this year.

A very good quality of grape juice has been made by Mrs. J. B. Kemp, pantry demonstrator of the Union Home Demonstration Club, using the following method:

Heat grapes to 160 degrees, then press for juice. Add the sugar syrup (made by using 2 pounds of sugar syrup to each gallon of juice) and pasteurize at 180 degrees for 30 minutes, and bottle.

Twenty-three clothing demonstrators in the home demonstration clubs of Coryell County averaged spending $33.17 for clothing the past year, according to their reports. The amounts varied from $8.65 to $101.00.

Seven clothes closets were built at a cost of $15.85, and eleven remodeled at a cost of $9.99.

expert beauty care can all be yours at the hands of Bensons' beauticians. They help you to succeed in your constant quest for youth.

You talk about Don Juan... but he looked like a bum compared to you. He was a lady's man, if ever there was one. But do you remember those gorgeous, big cuffs? Friend Don used snuff and naturally he sneezed... right into those cuffs and all over his collar too! Messy? Unsanitary? He was a bum, never having his clothes cleaned. He just kept on snuffing and sneezing and winning the ladies. It would be a mortal sin if you tried that today, especially when you can look as well as any prince or king in clothes that get regular cleaning and pressing service at the Modern Cleaners.

Think of those Mondays or any other of the "blue" days when you have to get down in the basement and spend endless hours in washing clothes... Maybe you never realized that you were forcing yourself into a lot of unnecessary work. But when you know that a laundry can take care of each week's washing, get your clothes as clean, make them longer wearing and scientifically sanitary and save you money, then you have no reason for continuing to do your own laundry work. Save your money, your health and your beauty by letting the Gatesville laundry do your washing.

The Waco Mattress Factory club turned back the local softball team Saturday night 11-2. The Waco hurler proved to be too fast for the locals, who failed to connect with the pill.

Tomorrow night (Wednesday) a team from Clifton will be here to play the locals. The game is to start at 8:30.

Local golfers are showing some improvement, placing third in the tourney held in Hamilton Sunday. Stephenville won as usual. Hico placed second, Gatesville third and Hamilton fourth.

They County Baseball League has reached its semi-climax. Mound won the Sunday division after winning a three game series from Hubbard. Jonesboro cinched the Saturday division after defeating the Turnersville aggregation Saturday at the Training School 6-1.

By laws of the organization do not call for the number of games to be played when two teams in the same division are tied for top. This happened in the Sunday division, and a three game series was played. The bay laws do state that the winner of each division shall play a series of not less than three game nor more than five to determine the league winner. The Arbitrary Committee recently agreed that winner of each division play a five game series. The Managers of these two teams opposed this and do not have to play a five game series, however, they must play a three of a five game series.

It is not known when these games will get under way to determine the league winner, however, it is hoped that they be started this week if at all possible. It is left to the two managers to determine the dates of playing these games, but if they cannot agree, the Arbitrary Committee will be called to set dates for the games.

DISTRICT COURT STILL IN SESSION HERE; ONE CASE STARTED MONDAY

District Court continues its third week beginning yesterday with the case of Cecil C. Burrage vs. Dr. T. M. Hall, which began shortly after noon, as the morning was spent in selecting a jury.

Representing Mr. Burrage, was Clay McClellan former local attorney and for the defense Tom Mears of Gatesville.

Selassie can give little. His savage warriors, having little knowledge of the improvements in arms since 1896 and remembering the defeat they inflicted upon an Italian expeditionary force in that year, believe they can again repulse the Italians. If Selassie gives in, another ruler eager for war will take his place and no one knows this better than Selassie.

Mussolini cannot afford to take little; he must have much. Public opinion at home, aroused by Duce in the last six months, is bent upon conquest, complete conquest of the Ethiopian empire. Duce can't turn back; he must fight now; he can't bring 200,000 troops home empty handed; no Fascist dictator could do this.

Preparations for war in both Italy and Ethiopia continue apace. Duce now has 250,000 men in Africa or waiting embarkment in Italy. Italian munitions plants are running at full speed. Last week over 50 lives were lost when a munitions factory at Taino, in Italy, blew up. Many of those killed were girls. All precautions had been cast aside in the rush to manufacture shells for the coming war. As a result the plant was blown to bits; 50 young girls and men killed.

In Ethiopia, thousands are rallying to the Emperor's battle cry of "Die Free."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and his relief directors are out to make good their promise of ending direct relief by November. Harry L. Hopkins, boss of the work-relief setup, is planning a nation-wide drive for jobs with the intention of transferring every man possible from relief to private employment, even though it may be only temporary work. Those refusing private employment will be cut off the dole, Hopkins has announced.

The private work drive to be conducted by forty-eight State Works Progress directors is in addition to the 3,500,000 jobs relief officials contend will be supplied indirectly by the estimated expenditure of $1,500,000,000 on materials and equipment. Another 3,500,000 jobless will be given direct employment on works projects under the $4,000,000,000 work-relief fund.

Note: Latest unemployment figures, 9,711,000. Families on relief rolls, 4,101,913, or about 16,400,000 persons dependent on relief.

In the Midwest a "No work, no eat" edict has been laid down by relief administrators. Thousands who have refused to work in the fields have been denied relief. Gov. Tom Berry of South Dakota cut out all relief in his state. He had received protests that grain was rotting in the fields because of scarcity of farm labor while the government fed thousands.

Such action as this will soon reduce the relief rolls to a minimum. The Government will have 7,000,000 at work by November 1; it is hoped private industry will employ 1,000,000 more unemployed by that time. But let's take more drastic action; reduce the burden on the government and provide work for needy Americans by deporting ALL aliens in the United States.

TEXAS ad valorem tax rate for the next fiscal year will be 62 cents per $100 valuation, 15 cents less than the constitutional maximum of 77 cents. The rate was set by the tax board, consisting of the Governor, Comptroller and tax Commissioner.

By action of the board, the tax for school purposes was lowered from the constitutional limit of 35 cents to 20 cents. A deficit of $12,000,000 in the general revenue fund at the end of the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1936, is expected. Causes:

1. The Centennial appropriation of $3,000,000 (which will return to the state treasury three-fold.)
2. Increase of $2,000,000 in the rural school aid appropriation.
3. Interest and sinking fund requirements on Texas relief bonds aggregating $2,707,000.

The three above items account for $7,707,000 of the anticipated deficit.

NOTES

Spring wheat production: 273,000,000 bushels.

Winter wheat production (this year): 458,000,000 bushels.

Persons confused as to whether it is Abyssinia or Ethiopia have the National Geographic Society's word for it that it's the latter. According to officers of the society, Ethiopia is the proper name because it is used with the official sanction of the Ethiopian government.

Interesting Letter—

The rice slips are set in rows in a rectangular "paddy," a mushy kind of mud two feet deep. It is flooded with water and kept flooded until the rice begins to mature, the water is then drained, the rice cut by hand and threshed by hand. All members of a family work in the fields and gardens. They cultivate every square inch of land. Much of the soil is built upon clay beds. Fertilizer must be used extensively. Two or three acres is a big farm for a farmer in Japan. Remember they use very few horses and oxen. The men and women pull their carts themselves. The men have wonderfully highly developed muscles in their legs. We went for a rickshaw ride Friday and my "boy," a man of fifty, had the biggest muscles in his legs that I have ever seen.

The homes in Japan are very frail and dainty, all floors are covered with matting and all walls are made of paper. They have no beds and no claims. They sleep on mats on the floor. These mats are kept in a closet during the day time. They cook with charcoal and their chief food is rice.

Everybody works in Japan, I asked about their unemployment program and they informed me that they had very little compared with the United States. They divide what work they do have.

Japan is quietly doing things. The growth of her trade in marine products has been very remarkable in the past few years, large quantities are shipped to the four corners of the earth. The beer brewing industry, the silk and woolen factories, the novelty factories, china factories and pottery factories are numerous in all sections that I have visited. They sell pure silk, an excellent quality, for fifty cents a yard.

At present Japan is buying from other countries huge quantities of lumber, hides and skins, oil seeds and fodder, hemp, scrap iron, and copper. Our ship was loaded with the latter two.

I hope that through these disjointed remarks of mine that you have the picture of Japan that I really wish to present.

We are sailing the 30th of June for China, then India, Egypt, Italy and France. We will complete our tour around the world September 17.

When we leave China, I will write again, till then, good bye, EDNA GRAHAM.
