Land Owners Wishing Work From Local CCC Should See Officials

EROSION

Hordes of gullies now remind us we should build our lands to stay.

And, departing, leave behind us fields that have not washed away.

When our boys assume the mortgage

On the land that's had our toil,

They'll not have to ask the question:

"Here's the farm, but where's the soil?"

(Copied)

The C. C. C. Camp here at Gatesville is in position and will aid us in conserving soil and moisture on our farms under conditions set out in agreements signed by both parties. Based on experiences in other Camps, it has been found that a large number of land owners do not apply for the work which the Camp is in position to do until it is too late to get this work done. The Camp can remain in a given area only a short period of time, therefore land owners should contact representatives of the Camp at once and discuss with them the possibilities of working their farms, thus placing themselves in line for work. The management of the Camp must have a sufficient number of applications on hand within the next thirty days to make the plans for the coming year's work.

Should an insufficient number make application for this work now, the time which the Camp will remain in this area will be limited just that much.

Farmers who are contemplating work offered by the camp are urged to apply now, even though their crops are not harvested and work cannot be begun on their farms until later in the year. By doing so, they will place themselves in line for work when their crops will permit.

Farmers of this area will avail themselves of this opportunity, we are sure.

Geologists say that within a few years, due to the sediment borne mouthwards by the Yangtze river, China, the rocky islands which stand in shallow water at the mouth of the river will be surrounded by rice fields.

Hog Raisers Warned to Look Out for Disease Amongst Their Herds

Perhaps five or six cases of Hog Cholera have been brought to our attention in Coryell County. In two of these cases reliable veterinarians have diagnosed the disease as Hog Cholera. Due to the fact that this is a highly contagious disease and spreads rapidly in numerous ways, and also due to the repeal by the Legislature of certain laws requiring quarantine and certain disinfection precautions, we feel that the hog raisers of Coryell county should be appraised of the possible danger to their herds and advised of certain precautionary measures which should be observed in an infested area. For these reasons we quote below from Page 27 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin No. 834, Hog Cholera.

(Signed) Guy Powell, County Agent, Coryell County. C. E. Alvis, Jr., County Attorney, Coryell County.

Facts About Hog Cholera

"Locate hog lots and pastures away from public highways, and, unless they have been immunized, do not allow hogs to run on free range or highways, nor to have access to canals or irrigation ditches.

"Do not visit a neighbor's farm nor allow him to visit yours if there is hog cholera on either place.

"Do not drive into hog lots after driving on public highways.

"Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.

"Do not place newly purchased stock, stocked procured or borrowed for breeding purposes, or stock exhibited at fairs immediately with your herd.

"Keep such stock quarantined in separate pens for at least three weeks, and use care in feeding and attending stock to avoid the possibility of carrying infection from these to other pens.

"Burn to ashes or cover with quicklime and bury under 4 feet of earth all dead animals and the inedible viscera removed from animals at butchering time, because they attract buzzards, dogs, etc., which may carry hog-cholera infection.

"If hog cholera appears in the neighborhood, confine your dog and encourage your neighbor to do the same.

Note: If any hog raiser suspects Cholera infection or desires to have his hogs immunized, the County Agent will be glad to recommend a competent Veterinarian.

"Have all dogs immunized against cholera immediately as described in this bulletin, after which they should be kept on a light diet for a short time. An abundance of pure drinking water should be supplied, and the treated hogs should be kept in clean, sanitary quarters.

"To obtain the best results the treatment must be administered as soon as the disease can be detected in the herd. Be sure that the temperature of all hogs is taken. A tempera-

Former Resident Writes News More Than Okeh; Now Resides in Dallas

Walt Cousins, former resident of the Eagle Springs community was kind enough to write us complimenting us on our paper, and we quote his letter in part, since he is an old timer and former resident of this county.

"Somebody has very kindly sent me the Coryell County News for which I am grateful and find it very interesting. Coryell county is my nativity, my father settled near Eagle Springs in 1874. We lived there until 1898 when we moved to the cattle country. I remember Gatesville well. I recall Honeycutt & Jenkins, the druggists, and I believe the present Arnold's Drug Store had just opened for business there. We drove a bunch of cattle thru Gatesville in October 1898. I have not been in Gatesville since, but in the News I see many names that are familiar after all these years.

"One event that I recall it the hanging of Peper and Powell for the murder of a farmer near Gatesville. I know the (Continued on Page Six).

REGAL "SOUNDS OFF" WITH WESTERN ELECTRIC

Thursday afternoon, while Mr. L. B. Brown was testing out his new Western Electric Wide Range Sound Equipment, we happened to drop in for a few minutes, and were highly pleased at the perfection of this new equipment. This equipment has no metallic sound and seems to be either the actual music sound effects or voices, instead of the reproduced ones.

Theatres in Gatesville are ever in the lead with new equipment for their patrons, and their pictures are even ahead of a number of larger towns and cities. This new sound equipment which Mr. Brown has just installed, is keeping with the progressive showmen who are making their homes with us and are entertaining us with the best that their profession or business can make available.

LA PALOMA

Nimrods hereabouts are oiling up their old guns, talking about ammunition and places or spots where they can find some. Late in the evening, they'll be crowding around tanks and waterholes waiting these winging creatures—all meaning Dove season is on, beginning Saturday 21.

Like Mussolini, they cannot be stopped in their attempt to get to these harmless creatures, masking this slaughter under the name of sport, but the regulations put on by the different governments both State and Federal, are all for the doves, and really makes it a sport if you get any. Anyway, if you hear a lot of "banging" long about Saturday evening, it's not the Ethiopians or the Wops, just peaceful dove hunters.

LIBERTY LOOSES LIONS ON SUMPTUOUS BANQUET

Twenty-five Gatesville Lions made the trek to Liberty Tuesday night as the guests of the people of the Liberty Community. Accompanying them, as entertainers was the Ames' String Orchestra, featuring "Big Joe" Ward, diminutive string strummer and vocalist of note.

At the open air banquet table, Gatesville Lions and their Liberty friends, ate, ate and ate until more than their hearts were content. Menu for the evening was chicken, mashed potatoes, tomato salad, fruit salad, and PIE with box car letters. Pie, that you've read about—all kinds, lemon carmel, every kind, and what brand coffee, we don't know, but there's none better. Lions locally were so unused to a spread of this sort, it was very difficult to speak or to arise from the table.

Besides the visitors from Gatesville, Liberty folks who partook of the feast were: J. D. Hampton, A. L. McFadden, Superintendent of Liberty School, Bishop Saunders, Paul Hampton, Lucian Saunders, Ed. Belvin, Mack Boyd, F. B. Hedgpeth, Joe Glaze, Hugh Patterson, Bob Parrish, "Mayor" Frank Blair, L. C. Perryman, Cal Blair, William Hamilton, Claude Griggs, Nelson Blair, G. J. Baize, T. H. Kelm, and Emmett Griggs.

Responsibility and hearty thanks to the Liberty Ladies' Club, composed of those living both in Hamilton and Coryell counties. Officers of the club are Mrs. Ed. Belvin, President; Mrs. L. C. Perryman, Vice-President, and Mrs. W. M. Hampton, Secretary-treasurer.

Incidentally, they have recently enlarged their shop, finishing it in black and cream or ivory. The addition of new furniture has made this shop spacious and they request their customers and others when in town to come in whether they need work or not, and make use of their resting facilities.

BRAZOS VALLEY FREE AGRICULTURAL AND LIVESTOCK SHOW

Do we have an exhibit at the Brazos Valley Free Agricultural and Live-stock Show, which is to take place September 23-29?

Admittedly, Coryell County Should!

Anything of this character is an advertisement for any community, and since we are a part of Central Texas, and the Show is being promoted by Central Texans, we rightly should have a county exhibit there.

Who is to do this job, preparing the exhibit, financing it, furnishing someone to stay in the booth, and giving it publicity and the proper handling? Should a club, such as the Lions, the Chamber of Commerce, or should the County Agent or some of the employees of that office handle this matter?

Since the fair or show opens September 23, which is Monday, someone OUGHT to get busy. An opportunity like this should not be passed up. Someone sleeps!

SWEEPING BUSINESS

Farmers of this county have evolved a new money crop: Broom Corn. May be it's not new, but we quote in part an article from The Waco News-Tribune: "Ordinarily, Mr. J. W. McMurray, buys his broom corn from Oklahoma, but this year he bought from Gatesville, Killen and Copperas Cove who raised a 100 ton crop."

Now, with our other money crop, cotton, there are bugs, drouth, rain, worms, weevils, tags, and a thousand and one complaints about the cotton crop. If it was always something the matter, why not combine and try broom corn? May be in a new crop like this, ailments have not been developed or thought up that will make this crop a failure. However, this is not suggestion for every farmer to quit cotton and go into the broom corn business, but to have some of this broom corn along with the cotton. It might be worth trying. Incidentally, there is at least one broom factory in this county. Still asleep!

HUEY LONG

Huey Long, Dictator of the Empire of Louisiana has had his life snuffed out. With his passing, Louisianans breathe more freely, we suspect. They never knew what to expect next.

Huey will not be forgotten soon, especially by the "standpatters" and the more conservative elements of government. Huey had been guessing always. He was a terror to their souls and existence. He was the monkey-wrench in their machinery."

Friend and foe alike admired him for his force of character, his organization ability in politics, his domination of everything he touched.

Every now and then, someone like Huey bobs up and puts the very "fear of the Almighty" in the staid old politicians. And, for this and this alone, Long has placed himself in the unforgettable annals of history. He and his "Share the Wealth" program are so ultramodern, super-conservatives yell "bloody murder" and finally as time moves on come to O. K. his beliefs in a moderated way and under an assumed or manufactured new name.

So, one even so radical as Huey Long, has his place in American history by pointing out to us in advance, a movement that surely and steadily may finally be inscribed in our laws and future history.

COTTON GINNED TO DATE BELOW THAT OF LAST YEAR

Advices received from W. R. Goodson, Special Agent of the Bureau of the Census of the Department of Commerce shows that there were 391 bales of cotton ginned in Coryell county from the crop prior to Sept. 1 as compared with 3,361 bales ginned to same date in 1934. The date of this report by Mr. Goodson, is Sept. 12.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

"Italy is now definitely on the march." Benito Mussolini looked down, jaw out-thrust, eyes defiant, arms akimbo, upon 20,000 of his Blackshirts. They jammed the Piazza Venezia before his Palace in Rome. From the balcony he roared:

"We shall move straight to our objective. You may be sure you shall always go forward, and never look back."

Mussolini means business. He has now reached his goal of 250,000 men in Africa or on the way. Fifty thousand of these are engineers. Italy must fight an engineers' war in Ethiopia—building railways, roads, bridges, waterworks, lines of communication.

It's really straight ahead with the Duce. It is expansion abroad or explosion at home, as one Italian statesman put it. And now we know that he has the undivided support of the Italian people and his army.

In Africa, a group of engineers formed the "Benito Mussolini Battalion of Engineers" and asked for shock-duty that they might storm the Ethiopians out of the high mountain passes. "We are ready to die for Il Duce," they say.

Mussolini has never let his people forget that they are the ancestors of the Romans, rulers of the Mediterranean world. And the Italian people believe their legions marching into Africa will lay the foundation for a new Roman Empire.

The Italians are a fearless, courageous people. They are willing to die for king, country and the duce. They can perhaps overcome the difficult terrain, the scorching climate, the fierce savages of Ethiopia. But it takes more than courage to fight a modern war.

American and European financial experts predict that if Italy goes to war it can only avert financial colapse with the greatest difficulty. This will be the case whether the war results in victory or defeat. In either event the bill will have to be paid and there is no one to pay it but the Italian people. They will have to endure not only the losses due to military operations but the sacrifices essential to maintain Italy's purchasing power outside her own territory.

"But we must expand," insist the Italians. And indeed it seems they must.

England's route to India, Australia, and her colonies in East Africa lies thru the Suez Canal and the Red Sea. To reach the rich Chinese market British vessels must pass thru the canal. If Il Duce conquers Ethiopia, he can dominate the Red Sea, closing it to British vessels as his will. Furthermore, if the duce takes over the African kingdom, will he be satisfied or will he seek more territory? The British wonder, ponder.

The British are lambs so long as you do not bother their possessions. You can't blame them, it's life or death to them. The Kaiser found that by challenging British control of the seas he challenged British existence itself, and he suddenly awoke to find Britain aligned with France.

The British lion is roaring again. Australia, India, New Zealand, with Canada the most valuable parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations, are menaced.

Italy must go thru the Suez Canal to reach its African Colonies or around the southern end of Africa thru the stormy waters of the Cape of Good Hope, five times as far as the Suez route. Britain is opposing Italy thru the League channels now, but it is concentrating its fleet in Mediterranean waters, near the Suez Canal, at Malta, British naval base south of Italy, and in Egyptian waters.

Mussolini's fleet is standing by also. Duce has divided his naval forces into two fleets, one of which will defend the Adriatic coast. The other will keep open Italy's "life line," the route thru Suez to Africa and the Ethiopian front.

Britain, in the event of war, can close the Suez Canal to Italian ships, as the British Government owns a majority of the Suez stock. This would indeed be a drastic action, as it would cut off 250,000 Italian soldiers from Europe and force Mussolini to declare war against Britain.

The British can be expected to take drastic action. They mean business. His Majesty's Government recently notified the Greek Government that they could expect seventy British warships in Greek waters (Continued on page 9)

FOOTBALL SPORTLITE

As Presented by Ted Harris, News' Sports Editor, giving his views on Sports in Coryell County and Surrounding Territory.

THIS WEEK END THE MOST LOVED SPORT, FOOTBALL, HAS '35 DEBUT

The most loved sport in this game Saturday for their initial nation today, football, will open generally throughout these United States this week end. But to narrow the games down to our neighborhood and state we find teams from the banks of the Caddo down to where the Brazos serenely wends its way in the heart of Central Texas, where optimism pervades the air, open their season either Friday or Saturday.

Waco High, Paul Tyson's Tigers who have copped five State Championships, will play Central High of Fort Worth Friday night on Carroll Field in Waco. Last year the Tigers suffered a 27 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Cow Town lads. Teams in this Class B District all seem to rest this week as five of the Southwestern Conference squads go on gridirons over the state to make their 1935 debut.

Rice Institute, 1934 Southwestern Conference champions, travel to San Antonio to engage the St. Mary's team in a night canter. The genuine contenders for Rice's crown—T. C. U. and S. M. U.—also seize to wrestle with tune-up opponents. The Horned Frogs of Fort Worth, who finished fourth in the conference last year, will have it-out with the Howard Payne aggregation in Fort Worth. This contest will probably develop into more than a gallop for the Frogs as the Yellowjackets won the Texas Conference championship last year.

S. M. U. Will encounter the Denton Teachers, their usual opening opponents, this week end.

The Texas Aggies, dark horse of the Conference, will play host to the Stephen F. Austin Teachers from Nacogdoches in a Saturday afternoon tilt at College Station.

Getting down to our nearest Southwestern Conference entrant, Baylor University, will tussle with Southwestern University of Georgetown in Waco Saturday night on Carroll Field

We're always glad to hear good remarks about our column, and we are thanking Mrs. Levi Anderson for her recent comment not merely because it is custom to do so, but because we sincerely appreciate such remarks.

Five teams the local Hornets play this year are opening their 1935 football season this week-end. Hamilton will play the State Training School today. McGregor will go to Mexia for their initial canter. Lampasas will play the M. E. Home in Lampasas tonight. The locals play both of these teams, and Worley will probably scout the two teams.

The Hornets will resume practice another week before playing Bruceville-Eddy here next Friday afternoon. One week is mighty short considering what has to be done. These few remaining days will probably be spent passing, punting, and lining up for the kick-off and other preliminary fundamentals that any football player has to be practiced before being able to understand the game.

Hornets Club members should and are stilling receiving compliments regarding their work done toward making the Hornet team of this year a success. The sticker sale is going over in a big way and it is hoped it will continue. In years to come these business and professional men of Gatesville that are behind the movement, will reap greatly for this deed. It may not be in a financial way, but in a way that will not be forgotten.

The two coaches are still working with their material diligently in order to have them in shape for their game here next Friday. It was thought that the Hornet Club was financing a trip for these boys to Waco tonight to see the game between Waco High and Central High of Fort Worth, but the coaches intend to scout Lampasas tonight, and Worley thought the trip would interfere with training, for that reason the boys will not make the trip. We will side with Worley on his decision for the simple reason the boys only have but three days next week in which to learn the most essentials of the game, and the more time they have to concentrate on what will be on hand next Friday, as well as realize the conditions, these young fellows should be promised to see some other good game later this year.

100 WOMEN CHORUS IS IN SHOW COMING TO WACO

Waco, Sept. 19. (Spl.)—Japanese take shows all fresco. They turn out 6,000 and 7,000 strong in outdoor amphitheatres to see a good show, J. Jack Stanley reports. The showman, who is bringing "Continental Nights and Smiles-Styles Revue" to the Cotton Palace Coliseum Sept. 23-29, carried a show around the world some years ago, including Japan in his tour. The Nipponese paid what corresponds to 12 cents in American money to see the performance, but they came in numbers. He has photographs to prove it. In the revue which Stanley is bringing to Waco, he has a cast of 100, including a picked chorus of beautiful women and a set of specialty dancers and well-known singers.

WELL KNOWN MAN BRINGS SHOW TO WACO, 23-29

Waco, Sept. 19. (Spl.)—When Ringling Bros.-Barnum and Bailey comes to Waco Sept. 26, Eddie Vaughan, legal representative of the circus, will find an old friend in town, running him competition. The friend will be J. Jack Stanley, who will present "Continental Nights and Smiles-Styles Revue" on the Cotton Palace Coliseum stage at 2:30 and 8:15 p. m. daily during the Brazos Valley Free Livestock and Agricultural show, Sept. 23-29. He and Vaughan were associated together in the middle west, and Vaughan, who edits "Missouri State Topics," wrote him a letter thanking him for his services in presenting a show. Stanley keeps the letter with other mementos of his long career as a showman, in a scrap book.

Training School Inmates Go to Hamilton Today For Opening Grid Game

Coach W. T. Hix of the State Juvenile Training School will take his squad of inmates to Hamilton this afternoon to play the Hamilton aggregation for their opening football game.

The Training School crew is much smaller than last year, however, Coach Hix states they have shown considerable improvement, despite being out only a short time.

The Hamilton Bull Dogs, a team that ranks high in Class B Circle in size and experience, will have little trouble overthrowing the local inmates.

Coach White will probably use his entire squad to see how the boys size up. The game will start at 3:30.

HORNET'S CLUB MEETS AND VOTES TO SELL STICKERS

As an additional means of financing the coming football season, the Hornet's club, composed of football and sports enthusiasts Monday night voted to start a sale of stickers for store windows and automobile windshields Wednesday morning.

Committees composed of members will be assigned different parts of this city to put on this sale, and it is hoped in this way to create considerable interest in the coming season.

Prospects being fair, with some fifty candidates reporting for the team, interest is expected to increase with each game, beginning with the Bruceville-Eddy game, which is billed for September 27.

Approximately twenty enthusiastic business and professional men were present.

Shook-Robinson Family Reunion.

Each year at about the same time, the Shook and Robinson families and their relatives get together for their family reunion. These reunions have been taking place for the past five years. The place for these reunions are different each year being held at the old Shook homestead one year and at the Robinson's the next. This year the reunion was held at the Robinson home, or rather in a beautiful grove a few hundred yards from their home. The hour or two before lunch was spread was spent in looking at the deer in the Fred Robinson pasture and in conversing with friends and relatives one had

FORMER RESIDENT—

Owl Creek and Cowhouse country as a boy. I have wanted to come back to the annual celebrations in Neff Park, but the dates have nearly always conflicted with the dates of the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford, and since I am connected with this I have never been able to be there.

"I went to school to Jim McCarver at Whitson's Mill, he was from Coryell City as I remember it. To read the News is to take a ramble back thru the years for me. My uncle Tom Terry widened the narrow gauge railroad from McGregor to Gatesville when Gatesville was the end of the road.

"I have been in the publishing business in Dallas 20 years, but I hark back to the cow country, and each year I go back to Stamford which is built on an old roundup ground. Here I meet the old Waddies that I knew in days gone by. I read the News with a lot of interest, and it is the best county paper that comes to my desk. As a school boy, I pushed a pencil on the McGregor News in a very amateurish way. It was then the property of Captain Bill Oglesby for whom Oglesby was named. I expected then to get Henry Watterson's job on the Louisville Courier-Journal just as soon as I could grow up, and I thought I could probably make McGregor ruin Chicago as a commercial center, but I have not made good in either undertaking."

Mr. Cousins is a resident of Dallas, and First Vice-President and Historian of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association of Stamford.

Dutch Lunch Favorite Noon Day Meal For Many Business Women Today

WHAT does the typical American business girl choose for her noon day lunch? Recent observations made in a number of popular eating places in several midwestern cities indicate that most women prefer a light lunch for their noon day meal, consisting usually of a sandwich or bowl of soup, and a beverage. Iced-tea and bottled beer are the favorite drinks, during the summer months, with coffee and milk gaining in popularity as cooler weather arrives. A number of restaurant managers are featuring on their menus, the "Dutch Lunch" including an assortment of cold cuts of meat, potato salad and a bottle of beer. This type of meal apparently appeals to many women because it is not too heavy and is non-fattening.

Adjusted Acreage Provides Adequate Wheat for Domestic & Export Demand

THIS chart shows how the loss of export markets for wheat has changed the wheat acreage situation in this country. The first column shows that from 1930 to 1932 our farmers averaged 66 million acres planted to wheat, although about 9 million of these acres were producing wheat for which there was no profitable market. The second column shows that 50 million acres usually produce enough wheat for our domestic use and that 7 million acres more will produce all we can expect to export. Because of severe crop damage this year, somewhat more than 57 million acres is expected to be planted for the 1936 crop. The figures are based on average yields.

MINERALS IN FOOD

To anyone who has not studied chemistry, it must be baffling to read about iron in the blood, lime in the bones, and phosphorus in the nerves. Indeed, it does sound spooky. Nevertheless, it is true. More than that, the presence of minerals in the right quantity is very important, not only to general health but in the prevention of certain diseases.

Of course, the source of minerals is the food we eat. Perhaps the best known source is milk and milk products. From these we get most of the lime or calcium and phosphorus we use. In children, these minerals furnish the building material for the bones and teeth. When they are insufficient in amount, the well-known disease called "rickets" results.

Iron has long been a standby among home remedies. Adults will remember the days when "iron tonics" were popular. Today, we know that iron is easier and pleasanter to take in food. The best sources are cabbage, lettuce, spinach, milk, egg yolk, liver, peas, string beans, and beef.

Iodine is familiar to residents of the so-called goiter belt in this country. Its great contribution is to the very important thyroid gland. We find it in many foods, but most abundant in fish and other seafood, onions, and lettuce.

Perhaps you have noted this fact while reading. The mineral-rich foods are also the vitamin foods. This fact makes everything simple. Just build meals around the essentials—green vegetables, fruit, milk, bread, and butter—and stop worrying.

With the help of her mother and sister Miss Thelma Green, farm food supply demonstrator for the Independence home demonstration club in Montgomery county, has filled 2,000 containers of food including 45 varieties for their family of twelve. She has added 100 feet of new shelving to the food storage space. In addition to her home duties she has supervised one of the relief canning plants where several thousand cans have been filled with food this year.

"If funds are limited on the farm," Mrs. Claytor explained, "it will be found economical to make mattresses from cotton raised on the farm. Satisfactory, comfortable cotton mattresses can be made at home, and in this way one can be certain

Streamline

Your Menus

EVERYTHING is going streamlined nowadays—automobiles, airplanes, trains, furniture, clothes and even menus. But, you can streamline the latter during these languid summer months without streaming with perspiration yourself over a hot stove. The method is simple. Just use canned foods which need little cooking, and see how much fuel and energy you save and what satisfactory results you can attain.

You can streamline your guests, too, by making them stream up to a buffet table and help themselves to the dishes which you have prepared with so much ease. In that way it's really easier to entertain fifty people than it would be to serve fifteen with all the formalities of sitting down.

A Summer Buffet

Let's try it. Say someone in your family is getting married. Or say the weather is torrid, but you suddenly feel that you can't wait another moment before beginning to repay an accumulation of social debts. Here's the menu for an appropriate streamlined buffet:

Lobster Salad Sandwich Loaf
Buttered Cloverleaf Rolls
Pineapple Cream Sherbet Cake
Strawberry Grapefruitade
Coffee

Salted Nuts Mints
And here is the way to make delicious lobster salad without the bother of boiling any lobsters and in a minimum of time.

Remove the tendons from six 12-ounce cans lobster, cut into large pieces and marinate in one cup tart French dressing for an hour or two. Then add three-fourths cup finely diced sweet pickle, three-fourths cup finely diced stuffed olives, one-fourth cup finely diced dill pickle, two tablespoons capers, three cups chopped cucumber and eighteen hard-cooked eggs cut into eighths, tossing all lightly together to avoid breaking pieces. Add mayonnaise to mask slightly, forking in gently. You will need for this from two and a half to three cups of mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce. Serves fifty. And there you are!

Plenty of Fruit Juices

Remember that it's hot, but there are plenty of cooling fruit juices in this streamlined menu. There is lots of pineapple juice in the Pineapple Cream Sherbet: Soften three tablespoons gelatin in two-thirds cup cold water, then dissolve in one quart boiling water. Add six cups sugar, dissolve, and let mixture cool. Add five cups scalded and cooled cream and the contents of five No. 2 cans pineapple juice. Freeze. Serves fifty.

Strawberry Grapefruitade: Boil four cups sugar and three cups water for five minutes; then cool. Hull two quarts strawberries, wash, crush, add one cup sugar, let stand for an hour, then add to the cold syrup. Add the juice of twelve oranges and six lemons and the contents of two No. 2 cans grapefruit juice. Just before serving, add three quarts gingerale, and serve over a large piece of ice in a punch bowl. Serves fifty.

19 BILLIONS INVESTED FUNDS OF INSURANCE COMPANIES EARN 3.90%

Forty-four selected legal reserve life insurance companies earned approximately four per cent on $19,000,000,000 of invested assets it is shown by the Davis Life Insurance Annual. The chart gives the major items in the combined investment portfolio of the companies.

CHICAGO—Despite the preponderance of low yield equities in the field of investment, 44 selected United States and Canadian legal reserve life insurance companies were able to earn an average of 3.90 per cent on $19,071,000,000 of invested funds in 1934, it is shown by the current edition of the Davis Life Insurance Annual. This comparatively good return is an example of scientific investment management, and demonstrates the value of wide diversification of risk, it was stated by H. A. Davis, Chicago, independent life insurance analyst and author of the annual. These companies have $86,106,000,000 of life insurance in force, or approximately 82 per cent of the total for the entire industry, Mr. Davis said.

Domestic bonds represent the largest single item in this combined investment portfolio. Of the $19,071,000,000 29.7 per cent is in domestic bonds. Mortgage loans on real estate rank next with 27.3 per cent. Other investments items are policy loans, 16.7 per cent; U. S. government bonds, 9.1 per cent; real estate, 7.8 per cent; Canadian bonds, 4.0 per cent; cash, 2.8 per cent; stocks, largely preferred and guaranteed, 2.4 per cent, and foreign bonds, excluding Canadian, only two-tenths of one per cent.

"It is decidedly interesting to note that these companies earned nearly four per cent on their invested funds in the face of the exceedingly poor investment opportunities" Mr. Davis declared. "Another item of interest is the very small percentage invested in foreign bonds, other than Canadian equities."

WORLD COMMENT

within the next month. Not even Italy's navy could engage in war with a fleet of this size with any hope for victory. The British fleet will be led by the "Hood," a battleship of 46,000 tons with an average speed of 31 knots, and accommodations for 13,000 troops. Now we know how the British regard Mussolini's expected war against Ethiopia.

Italian naval authorities realize they can't engage in a naval war with Britain, even in the Mediterranean where Italy should be the stronger. Admiralty authorities plan, if war with Britain should come, to withdraw their fleet to home ports and use submarines and airplanes solely, in which categories they are superior to the Britons. In such event the question could be answered once and for all, "Can big bombers put a battleship fleet out of commission?" Could an Italian bomber carrying thousands of pounds of explosives destroy the super-battleship, "Hood?"

What is Geneva doing, as war clouds darken the silvery waters of the Mediterranean and hover over Africa? It's the same old thing. Deadlocks, fruitless maneuvers for peace, no action. The five-power commission, composed of representatives of Britain, France, Poland, Spain and Turkey, to examine Italo-Ethiopian relations as a whole has reached no agreement that might avert war. Laval of France is the key figure in the negotiations now in progress at the Swiss capital. Last week he told Mussolini he would stick by Britain and the League but still wanted his friendship. What France would have done had no Adolph Hitler appeared on the horizon to make Germany mighty once more no one knows. Laval, as much as he wants Mussolini's friendship, knows he must have Britain on his side in the event on another Franco-Germany conflict. And, besides, France has always used the League as a weapon against Germany equality and rearmament plans and, should Duce be permitted to war against Ethiopia in defiance of the League Covenants, that body would surely cease to exist.

Unless a compromise is reached within the next four weeks, Mussolini will follow Japan and Germany out of the League. He has 250,000 men in Africa, enduring almost unbearable hardships. He has promised Italy to take Ethiopia and her rich lands and gold mines, and dictators must keep their promises, especially after assembling cheering crowds and sending thousands of men to the front. He cannot order them back empty handed.

League quarters say Duce is sure to make an alliance with Hitler if he leaves the League. It is logical that the two great Fascist nations should join hands, logical if it were not for Austria. Hitler wants Austria, Mussolini wants Austria also or, at the least, an independent government in contral at Vienna.

And so the merry-go-round goes on and on. It always has in Europe and will until the end. War is sure to come. Perhaps the current trouble will be peacefully settled, but it looks now as if there will be trouble and trouble to spare. The new four weeks will hold the fate of Europe.

The Conditions of a Revival

There are four conditions of a revival given us in the Acts of the Apostles. 1. They assembled themselves in one accord. They were all together in agreement. We will not fulfill this condition until we assemble ourselves in perfect agreement. 2. They prayed. They were earnest in their prayer to God for His power from above. We, too, must pray in earnest. They prepared themselves to fulfill the second and third conditions. 3. They preached the Word of God. Mr. Kill will do the preaching, but we must prepare ourselves through prayer to receive the Word. 4. They persuaded men to accept Christ as their Saviour. So must we persuade men.

The Officers and Pastor of the Church invite and plead with the members and our friends to join us in our preparation and the preaching of the Word. Let us assemble ourselves in prayer.

LETTER FROM SENATOR POAGE

Austin, Tex. (Spl.) Sept. 17. —The long heralded special session finally got under way yesterday at high noon and no time was lost in getting into the work for which the session was called. Both Houses convened at 12 o'clock noon with a good attendance. In the Senate Hon. Will Martin of Hillsboro was elected President pro tem and a bill to regulate the sale of liquor was introduced before 12:15. At 12:30 the House and Senate met in joint session and listened to the Governor's message which was delivered in person. The Governor announced his unalterable opposition to the return of the Open Saloon and called on the Legislature to speedily enact some kind of regulatory system. To date the only liquor bill introduced in the Senate is by Moore of Harris and Hopkins of Gonzales, both of whom are pronounced "wets." The bill was set for hearing this afternoon and public hearings have started. It is expected that several other bills on this subject will be introduced in the next few days, and that rather prolonged hearings will be held on all of those measures.

This morning the Governor submitted the question of salaries for the county fee officers, but to date Senator De Berry, who has been working on this subject, and who was the author of the Constitutional Amendment, had not completed his bill, and none has been introduced. The Senate this morning adopted a resolution providing for a census of all of those who might be eligible for an old age pension. I thought this resolution unwise and voted against it for two reasons: First, it will take several weeks and maybe months to complete such census, and I am afraid that it will simply result in delaying action on the pension. I think action should be taken as soon as possible, and I am further of the opinion that we have available from the United States Census Bureau most of the figures that we could otherwise secure. In the second place, I feel that any kind of census enumeration would mislead a great many good people into believing that they were actually signing some kind of papers which would result in bringing them a pension. Of course, many of those who registered would not ordinarily be eligible for a pension, and I am afraid that such a procedure would only cause unnecessary disappointment. As I see it, our greatest problem in connection with the old age pension is the matter of raising revenue. I have no doubt about our ability to find worthy recipients, and it seems to me that we could more profitably devote our attention to a study of the sources of revenue with which to pay this pension. No bill has as yet been introduced, but I am sure that there will be several measures within the near future. It takes a long time to prepare those measures, and, unless they are properly prepared, very little is accomplished by hastening the introduction of a bill.

We have, however, one outstanding example of speedy action, and I am proud to say that so far we have been also able to secure especially speedy action every session of the Legislature on the various measures needed to carry on the Brazos River work. On yesterday Senator Stone and myself received wires from Washington from United States Senator Morris Sheppard, asking that we secure certain changes in the Texas law creating the Brazos River District. We worked yesterday afternoon and last night and began again this morning at 6 o'clock re-writing the Brazos River bill. In company with the Senator O'Neal, I called on the Governor and at 10:15 this morning he submitted the question of making these changes, and at the time we introduced the bill that Senator Stone and I had prepared, and same will be heard before a committee in the Senate tomorrow morning at 9:15. If we receive favorable committee action, and we believe we will, we hope to pass this bill through the Senate tomorrow. We are advised from Washington that the Brazos River project is practically assured if this Legislature will continue to cooperate as it has in the past. Certainly this measure has my deepest interest and most active support. I hope some of several dozen citizens of our district who called on me yesterday and today seeking assistance in securing some kind of positions will understand that I was tied up on this important matter.

MEAL OF THE MONTH

Baked Ham with Orange Sauce and Orange-Cinnamon Slices.

By MARIE GIFFORD
Armour Food Economist

HERE is a new way to serve that mild, flavorful baked ham which every family will undoubtedly appreciate. It is the Meal of the Month for September and an ideal dinner throughout the autumn season.

The innovation is in baking the ham with an orange sauce and garnishing the platter with slices of candied orange pierced with cinnamon sticks.

Be sure that you have a mild cured ham made by the fixed flavor process which makes it unnecessary to parboil the meat. Wash the ham with a damp cloth. Do not remove the rind. Place the whole ham in an open roasting pan, fat side up. The oven should be very low (300° F.) Baked without covering, allowing 25 minutes to the pound. Just 45 minutes before the ham is done, remove the rind and pour off the fat from the pan. Score the top of the ham.

Then make a paste of one cup of brown sugar, juice of one orange and grated rind of one orange and spread this over the surface. Then complete the baking.

The orange slices for garnishing are boiled gently in a syrup made of 1½ cups of sugar, ¼ cup water, juice of one lemon and two sticks of cinnamon. Use three oranges cut in thick slices.

When the orange rind is clear, place one inch length of stick cinnamon in the center of each slice. Chill before serving.

To round out the September Meal of the Month we suggest cream of mushroom soup, spinach with duchess crusts (crisp croutons), pear in lime-gelatin salad and graham cracker pineapple torte.

If you choose not to cook all the ham at one time and still want to enjoy the economy of buying a whole ham, your food dealer will be glad to cut the meat into three pieces for you. The butt may be baked as described above allowing perhaps 30 minutes to the pound; the center slices may be broiled for another meal and the family will enjoy the shank boiled with vegetables.

MAKING SURE—It must be right and under the expert eyes of Harry E. Wilken, Sr., and his son it will be right. This veteran distiller has made more than 380,000,000 gallons of whiskey in 50 years.

FEARS THEM—Two typical Ethiopian warriors of the Dankala tribe, the fiercest of the fighting tribes who specialize in guerilla warfare. It is this type of fighting that Italy fears most.

SAN DIEGO DAIRY MAID—Milk moves heavily into the machine age at the San Diego Exposition, where this giant churn has been selected as the "most interesting" piece of modern machinery by Collier's Weekly. Churns of this type are replacing the bucket-and-dasher type on modern milk farms.

NEW CONGRESSMAN—Charles S. Risk, Rhode Island lawyer who defeated the New Deal candidate for Congress, is pictured at his desk in Washington, August 19—his 38th birthday—as he took up his new duties.

YOUR NEW $1.00 BILLS? Alvin W. Hall, Director of Bureau of Engraving and Printing, examining proposed design for the new $1.00 bills.

WINTER COAT WITH SILVER FOX—Simplicity supplies the chic to the stunning winter coat of black velour cloth worn by Irene Dunne, picture star. It makes lavish use of silver fox fur on the inverted cowl collar and as cuffs on the wide, loose sleeves. A black suede felt hat with a saucy quill enhances its beauty.

HOG RAISERS—

ture above 104 degrees F. in ordinary weather and when the animal is not excited indicates disease and the necessity for an increased dose of serum.

Remove the manure from the infected pens and yards, and spread or place it in piles where it is not accessible to swine.

Burn all litter, rubbish, and old hog troughs. Keep hogs away from old straw stacks.

"After the premises are thoroughly cleaned, spray walls, floors, and other surfaces with a recognized disinfectant. Scrub hog troughs with hot water. Where hog houses are small, turn them over, exposing the interior to sunlight. Mud wallows and cesspools should be filled in, drained, or fenced off. "All runs underneath buildings should be cleaned and disinfected and then boarded up to keep hogs out.

"Destroy hogs that do not fully recover, as they may be carriers of cholera infection.
