"The Man"

BRIGADIER GENERAL A. D. BRUCE
Commanding General of Camp Hood

Brigadier General A. D. Bruce, a man's man, and also, well, everybody's man is not a new comer. He has been in the business since he was a youngster and has more decorations than you can remember, is as hard as nails when necessary and as silken as a sow's ear when the occasion arrives. He is just about as near what you would call an all-round officer as you are likely to meet anywhere. He has got a big job and is doing it in a big way from all reports.—Photograph courtesy Temple Daily Telegram.

Staff Sgt. Craig Davidson of Hamilton Field, Calif., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Davidson, Sr.

Camp Hood, Coryell County's Biggest Institution, Officially Opens

MILITARY NOTABLES, CITIZENS, SOLDIERS, ASS'T. SEC. WAR THERE

You can see just about many citizens from any walk of life today, when Coryell county's biggest institution, Camp Hood, officially opens its doors today with the festivities beginning at 1:45 p. m.

Included in the notables who will be present are John B. Hood, son of the Fighting General of the South, General John Bell Hood, and Assistant Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, and a long list of high military and civilian notables and man, many of us not so notables.

This, incidently, is the birthdate of John B. Hood, the son of the namesake of the camp. Thus, the son of the general who led Hood's Texans, the general whose brigade turned the tide in the Battle of the Wilderness—this son, on his birthday will witness perhaps the greatest military resent this spry, peppery old gentleman could wish.

Guests in his party will include his wife, his granddaughter, Mrs. Thomas F. Peters of Fresno Ranch, Tuscon, Arizona; and Bernardsville, New Jersey; his daughter, Mrs. Wm. S. Post, also of Bernardsville, his son, Mr.

James R. Hood, of St. Stanislaus Bay, St. Louis, Mississippi.

Camp Hood, which, like all military reservations, must of necessity be restricted, will open its gates to visitors at 12:00 noon, Friday, thereby allowing guests to arrive at the reviewing stands on Range Road in ample time for the opening of the ceremonies at 1:45 p. m.

At that time guests will see in the reviewing stand besides those mentioned above, Brigadier General A. D. Bruce and other important military and civilian figures.

The camp headquarters promises a full afternoon's program for (Continued on page 8)

"The Men" and Many of Them are Now in Camp Hood

Colonel Joseph G. Felber's 753rd Tank Battalion is shown lined up on their first birthday. Hard-working, hard-hitting, well-conditioned men, these, they are a fair sample of what three lugs are going to catch when they run up against "Hoodmen" anywhere in the world—and you are going to hear of these men everywhere in this Global War. Pictures in the dailies show tanks, the Varietas

Americans in action, and our guess, being as good as yours' we will bet they have spent some time at Camp Hood and it is just now officially being opened.—Photograph courtesy Waco News-Tribune.

"The Machine" the Tank Destroyers Destroy at Camp Hood

with of course, no refection on any tank destroyer battalion, these tanks of the 753rd Tank Battalion are the "practice equipment" for the school troops to work on with their tank destroyers and these big bullies are not easy to take—ask any tank destroyer battalion. They are shifty, they hit with a bang, and keep rollin'. They make it tough for the toughies, and that is exactly what the toughies are looking for. These tanks are the "enemies" and are tops in this particular role which they play in Camp Hood's preparation of men, machines, and material for the Victory struggle we are engaged in now.—Photograph courtesy Waco News-Tribune.

"The Camp" Which History Has Recorded Was the "First" Camp Hood in Coryell County

Out in the bushes and brambles some 12 miles south of Gatesville in Coryell county, on the Williamson Ranch, in the fading days of March 1942, came Lieutenant R. G. Albarano of the 893rd Tank Destroyer Battalion from Fort Meade, Maryland. They were the advance detail of what is now the great military reservation, Camp Hood. These men were the pioneers. They did the rough way, putting up tents, clearing, cleaning, doing all kinds of labor in preparation for the coming of their comrades, the 893rd Tank Destroyer Battalion. This, in the hills of southwest Coryell county is the nucleus from which the great camp has been developed, "In the Heart of Deep Texas" in Coryell county.—Photograph courtesy Temple Daily Telegram.

IMPROVED NAVAL POSITION

Behind the Solomon islands battle are some optimistic naval facts, entirely aside from the announcement of victory. These facts had to be very carefully considered even before U. S. naval chiefs started to invade the Solomons.

One of these naval facts is that the Japs have suffered very severe losses in cruisers. Although it has escaped public notice, U. S. forces have been bumping off this fast, important type of warship with deadly regularity, so that Jap cruiser strength is now cut at least in half, perhaps more.

Another known naval fact is that the Japs have lost approximately half of their airplane carriers. And with air power what it is today, this is the type of vessel they can least afford to lose.

On the American side of the picture is the fact that U. S. repairs of ships sunk or damaged at Pearl Harbor have been miraculously swift.

All this obviously was taken into consideration before the United States started a major engagement and the offensive in the South Pacific. For Admiral King had to calculate the risk of the Jap admirals rushing a large force to the Solomon islands.

Simultaneously he also had to figure the risk of a Jap attack on various other vital points—Midway, Alaska, Hawaii, even the continental United States.

Top admirals these days to not take chances. Not when the fate of a nation depends on them. Therefore, it requires only a mathematician to figure that the scale of American strength in the Pacific has turned. It reached its low ebb just after Pearl Harbor, when the navy was unable to do anything about the Philippines, Singapore, or Java.

But now the Battle of Midway has shown that Hawaii and the West coast can be defended by land-based planes. No Jap ship dares come near land-based planes without committing suicide.

This leaves a reinforced fleet to operate in the Pacific. Top naval men are not doing any crowing yet. But at least the naval picture seems to counterbalance some of the bad news from Russia—which is going to get a lot worse.

BURIED SILVER

Ten years ago, President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull held a series of discussions with the foreign ministers of Europe in preparation for the London Economic conference, at which one of the chief proposals of the United States was world use of silver.

At these conferences, the late Senator Key Pittman, of the great silver state of Nevada, droned through a regular 45 minute lecture on silver which American experts knew almost by heart and which put Hjalmar Schacht, German finance minister, to sleep. After Pittman had finished, the German minister woke up with a start, hastily brushed aside silver.

"We accept silver. Now this is what we want in return."

The London Economic conference was a dismal failure. But the United States had committed itself so completely to silver in these preliminary talks, that it undertook a silver program, which actually meant that the world sold its silver to us at an artificial price and we buried it in the ground at West Point, N. Y. It was a fine thing for Mexico, China and Canada and a great victory for Senator Pittman and the Rocky Mountain states. Also it resulted in the U. S. treasury accumulating two and a half billion ounces of silver—other than coin.

Today, however, there is a shortage of industrial silver. And yet the treasury will not open up the giant hoard of silver gathering mold at West Point.

Shortage Amid Plenty.

What has happened is this. About 5,000,000 ounces of silver monthly is being mined in the United States, which is ample to care for war needs, but not enough for ordinary commercial needs, especially for the silver industry of New England.

The silver industry, which makes knives, forks, and household ware, formerly used alloys and critical materials—all of which have now been dispensed with. However, silver is not a critical material. There is plenty mined for the war effort but not enough to supply the 80,000,000 ounces needed annually for the silver industry.

So New England silversmiths now ask that they be permitted to buy a mere 80,000,000 ounces out of the two and a half billion ounces which the treasury has buried.

Sept. 11, 1942

Mr. Ward Burris,
Sports Editor, The Express,
San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Wardie:

I got a jug of cider bet on them Missions. I figger finishin' in fourth place is good luck. They wonned a pennant after finishin' in 4th in 1933.

Uncle Tobias says they used to pay a pitcher to pitch and win a double-header. Now they pay guys three times as much to relieve twicet a week. And they call him a fireman to boot.

I heer the golf pros was a goin' to quit proin' and start to huntin' golf balls so's they could make more money.

It's a good thing some of these schools let freshmen play feetsball. Now they can start buildin' character a year earlier.

What was always funny to me is how these feetsball coaches can get into print in September a pickin' a early All-American, when they can't pick more'n four starters from their own squad that early.

A coach is a funny guy, anyway. One week, he beats opponent 17 to 0 and he immediately is a Master Mind, a coach of the year. The next week he loses 7 to 0, and he is a dumb cockroach, a has been, and the old grads wants to fire him.

Imagine was a readin' the sports section the other day and asked Unk what was a "balanced line." Unk said it's what the college publicity depts. puts out. He said the politishuns has also got a pretty good balanced line that they put out mostly 60 days before election. I'll be a seein' you, Pal. Keep 'em buyin'.

Yours,
LOONY LUCY.

PRESBYTERIAN NURSERY REOPENED BY CHURCH, CLUB

The Nursery School of the First Presbyterian Church, after two weeks of temporary suspension, has been started again with an enrollment to date of 24. Miss Estelle Cooper is the director, assisted by volunteers from among the mothers and other interested ladies of the community.

Sponsored jointly by the church and the Mother's Study Club of Gatesville, the school is open to any boy or girl in Gatesville between the ages of 3 and 6 (or up to school age). Supervised play, music, rhythm, stories and simple handwork are the activities. The school meets on Mondays through Fridays from 9:30 a. m. to 12:00.

At present most of the children in the school are of local residents, but sponsors of the school are eager to have its services extended to the children of officers and enlisted men now making their homes in Gatesville. Anyone interested in further details is urged to come by the church or to call the church office, No. 505.

Contributions of suitable equipment for indoor or outdoor activity are solicited; and volunteers who can give one or more mornings a week to supervision of the school are also needed.

Nursing School in Evant Had Largest Enrollment in County

The Red Cross Home Nursing course taught in Evant by Miss Elvira Oetken, public health nurse, serving Coryell county and working under the direction of Central Texas Health Department, was designed and meant to help homemakers to meet the personal and family health problems in their homes. This course, however, does not attempt to meet the needs of workers who are preparing for employment in hospitals.

Coryell county is very proud of the many interested citizens in Evant who are making home nursing their first line of defense. Evant had the largest enrollment in this course of any town in the county, including Gatesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Webb and daughter, Rita Kay, of Ennis spent the week end in Gatesville as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goggolz.

Mrs. Curtis Sims and baby have just returned from Schnectady, N. Y., where they have been living while Mr. Sims was working on a defense project in the radio industry in that city.

Howard Franks was a business visitor in Hamilton Thursday.

Don't Let Poor Eyesight Lessen His Chances for Leadership

Give Him Better Light for Better Sight

Most children are born with perfect eyes. But it is an appalling fact that by the time they leave grade school, one out of five has defective vision. At college age, two out of five have faulty eyesight.

Why risk your child's eyes and his chances of future success? Give him enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing. Put an I. E. S. Study Lamp on his study table. And have plenty of light elsewhere in your home—well shaded and free from glare. Light all of each room, too, not just part of it.

Remember: eyes are priceless; good light is cheap! Have better light tonight!

He has only one pair of eyes to last a lifetime. Safeguard them with better light.

Homework's a snap with an I. E. S. Study Lamp equipped with 100-watt bulb. Its white glass diffusing bowl sifts out harmful glare... provides an abundance of both direct and indirect light. Ask for free trial.

IN OUR

Here is an interesting letter from a wife who's husband is in the army near Boston, Mass., and she is with him.

Tuesday
Cataumet, Mass.

Dear folks:

You all and "home" and Texas certainly seem far away. Of course, where Band I are together should be "our home" but somehow this isn't our country up here. Guess the way we are living makes Texas still home to us—there are four couples of us in a 14 room Cape Cod house and the 14 rooms does not include the two room laundry, in this place. Each couple has a bed room and we have bedrooms to spare.

To us warm blooded (maybe I should say thin blooded people) the weather has been chilly, in fact, I find myself cold in the middle of the day quite often. We certainly do things the hard way. Florida in the summer and north of the Mason and Dixon line in the winter.

The country is beautiful though— a lot of trees and plenty of hills and small bays everywhere, that are filled with sail boats. From our bedroom window we can see the Bay (Known as Scraggy Neck Bay) and I have just counted 16 sail boats out there. The natives go swimming when the tide comes in, which is around 11:30 a. m. but none of have raked up the courage to try it. The water feels warm enough to your finger tips, but it's just the thought of it being salt, sticky water that gets me.

I am sure that swimming in the Bay would be a lot warmer than the baths we force ourselves to take. We do not have any hot water but what we heat on a wood stove in the kitchen and our main trouble is keeping the fire going. When we first came we tried burning coal but as gals just didn't seem to know how to do it and as a result we never had a fire. The wood stove has made cooking an ordeal for it takes one to cook and the other to poke up the fire at regular intervals. Inasmuch as there are four girls, we have teamed up on the cooking and Nancy and I have cooked roll, roast, baked fish, etc., but by the time everything is done we are worn out. We have our main meal at night and if we plan to cook roast, we start with the stove about 4 o'clock, the first time we cooked we managed to have supper at 9 o'clock, but we are getting better now—it's usually around 6:30—but we still start about 4 o'clock. We never have gotten this stove hot enough to cook biscuits and guess we never will.

To get back to Florida and the trip up, lucky us, Bond didn't have to go by train so we drove through in 5 days (maybe he had written you all about the trip), but I'll probably tell some things that he won't so here goes. We left on Friday morning about 7 o'clock. The old towns we went through were most interesting to me and Bond will have to tell you about the country side. To me it is just land; either well kept, or not. The second night we stayed 30 miles outside of Washington and Sunday morning drove around Washington. Having been there before it was easy to make the high spots, so Bond could see the sights. First we stopped at Arlington Cemetery, saw the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, then crossed the Potomac River into the District of Columbia. First we stopped at Lincoln's Memorial and from there you can see Washington's Monument and behind that is the capitol. After Bond read "We the People of the U. S. in order to form a more perfect union, etc." at Lincoln's Memorial, we drove up Constitution Ave., to Washington's Monument then to the capitol. On Constitution all the government buildings are located—bureau of investigation, agricultural building and oddles of other buildings. The navy building took up five blocks and one block in Washington is equal to two in Gatesville. After driving all over the grounds at the capitol we went to the hotel where we were to meet the other couple in "our convoy" of cars for dinner. We parked the car and having 30 minutes to spare walked around the White House, which was about a 15 block jaunt, saw the yard that the egg rolling contest take place which is back of the President's White House.

Went back to the hotel for lunch and while we were eating the boys recognized Admiral Byrd eating at a table behind me. They were not quite sure about it so I asked him for his autograph and sure enough that was who it was. He wrote: "Good Luck, R. C. Byrd."

Then we were off to New York and got to the Hotel Piccadilly at 12 o'clock that Sunday night.

The other car that was trailing us got lost and ended up in Brooklyn, but about 1 o'clock they arrived at the picked hotel in N. Y. City.

Bright and early Monday morning we began walking up 5th Ave. to see the sights and tall, tall buildings. You know, in Washington buildings are only constructed as high as the 5th floor of the Amicable building, in Waco, while New York buildings are sky high. We walked until we just couldn't and at 1:30 went to the Radio City Music Hall and there saw the world famous "Rockettes." The music hall has five balconies and we were in the second one (cheaper).

You can see from the girls sitting on the windmill how large the settings for the stage are. You'd just have to see the place to realize how large it is.

The stage show was nice but not as elaborate as one I had seen two years ago, but I love such doings and naturally had a big time.

Then Monday night we went to a Broadway play, after the show back to the Hotel Bar for sandwiches and our N. Y. night cap and off to bed at 12.

Then Tuesday morning we left for Cape Cod and reached Camp Edwards about 5 o'clock—by 7 we were settled in this 14-room house and here we are. That's a brief tale of the Bonds on their honeymoon north.

If you can just get Bond to write he can tell you lots more things about what he saw along the way.

We are almost married a year and we have certainly had some wonderful experiences together, and too, we have been together much longer than I dared hope for a year ago. Guess we are about the luckiest division in the U. S. army. After the 15th, we expect to pull out again, but as yet none of the rumors as to where we are going have stuck.

Keep writing Bond for his mail will always be forwarded to the next camp. "Letters from him—there is just nothing like 'em."

Tell everyone hello for us.
Love to you and Mr. Bond,
Frances.

P. S. In one of your letters you asked if I had seen my mother, none. Not since I went to Florida in February.

This Mrs. Bond is related to Mr. and Mrs. Press Bond who brought it in because they think it will be of interest to people generally around Coryell county. They are right, they all are.

Mrs. Joe Orbeck and son, Joe Carroll are visiting relatives in Clifton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Rutherford and Jeanne and Don Burdette, Mrs. Bill Morgan and daughter, Marion and Martha of Waco spent the week end in Mart.

RITZ—Sunday and Monday

"RIDIN' THE WIND"

Tim Holt and Roy Whitney

A little from you ... means a lot to them

Soldiers of the 802, 775, 771 and 805 have been entertained at USO here during the past week and most of them are from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and the northern states. The dance Saturday night showed the biggest turnout and there is to be one Saturday night.

USO is primarily for the armed forces and if civilians wish to attend activities, they are asked to get in touch with USO officials.

Private clubs may use the club during the day up until 5:00 p. m. by arrangement with officials and the only charge that will be made is when it is necessary to replace equipment used or service charge covering laundry or wear-tare of equipment and all such will be subject to USO policy.

Forty-five soldiers will be again entertained in homes around Turnersville this week end. Mrs. A. Foote has directed the planning of these home visits.

Paul Hensler donated a piano to the soldiers and it is now being used by the 802nd battalion.

Coat hangers wanted: Get your extras to the USO to be distributed to soldiers.

Following the suggestion of Mayor Gandy, USO will be closed from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m. Friday, September 18.

Capt. Dean B. Jones of Camp Wolters and his mother, Mrs. Willis M. Jones, Sr., of Evant and Bobby were visitors briefly in Gatesville Wednesday evening with Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Mat Jones. Willis M. Jones has been here from Evant attending to business for the past few days. Capt. Jones is being transferred soon to Camp Maxey, near Paris, Texas.

"Eggs, Agregated" Egg Latest Addition to News "Eggerie"

We have even begun to read "egg" stories in that paper of all Texas papers, The Dallas Morning News, but this is another story.

This one as usual is about an egg.

A very dark egg.
A very large egg.
This is "Snookie's egg."
She is a pet of Esther Stoll of the Mountain community, and this Rhode Island 3-year old, layed an egg nearly as big as the state of Rhode Island, which measures 7 1/2 x 6 1-4, with the weight unknown.

It came to us packed in cotton, like we would like to pack bombs if we had to pack 'em and in a chocolate covered cherry box. But the "speckled" egg from this particular old Red, is a dilly and we are going to let you see it. It is just a lot of alubmen in one shell, if you know what we mean.

Maybe if the eggs keep being bigger, we will have to trade paper for eggs and eggs at local grocers are just a whale of a lot higher than paper is. In fact, there is an "eggflation" when we go to get our "scrambles" in the mornings and it looks like now we are going to have to skip some mornings.

Tuesday's News market said they were just about 30c a dozen (price paid by produce houses). Three dozen would buy a lot of News just about 104 issues and that would certainly be spreading the egg on thin. We could not handle more than three dozen a week, though, hardley and can't candle them ourselves.
