Grand-Parents'es Is Gettin' Serious: Read This'un

Speakin' of grandparents an' who brough that up. By the way, it's nice isn't it, but here's another story, according to Mrs R L Martin of Osage.

"Speaking of grand parents this young fellow has almost his full amount.

Raymond Edwin Johnson Jr., son of Mr and Mrs R. E Johnson of Osage has 11 grand parents living. They are on his father's side:

Mr and Mrs Ben Johnson, Valley Mills, RFD, Texas, great grandparents,, Mr and Mrs Ver nie Sadler Valley Mills, Box 71 great grandparents, and Mr and Mrs E C Johnson, McGregor, grandparents.

And, on the mother's side: Mr and Mrs J L Martin, Gates ville, Rt 2 great-grandparents, J. W. Nunley Osage, great-grandfather and Mr and Mrs R. L. Martin of Osage are grand- parents.

Now we ask again "Can any- one beat this?"

Commando Raids On Japs Rescues 500

LUZON, Feb 1. (AP)—Daring commando raids behind the Jap lines has rescued more than 500 prisoners General MasArthur announced today.

Picked American and Philippino rangers lanced thru enemy lines and freed the Bataan heroes, killing 523 Japs and destroying 12 tanks, with a cost of 27 dead, and 3 wounded to the invading troops.

Eight Texans are known to be among the rescued.

India Based B-29'S Bomb Singapore

UNDATED, PACIFIC, (AP).—India based B-29's bombed the city of Singapore while the Sixth and Eighth armies neared a connection of these two forces on Bataan. The Sixth has just recently made another landing on Subic Bay, just above the Bataan Peninsula, and will soon connect with the 8th Army. No one was hurt in this landing, reports said.

First and Third Advance Nazi Holds Slipping

PARIS, Feb 1 (AP).—The American First and Third Armies advanced within the silent Siegfried line today, capturing village after village.

Allied guns shelled the fortresses, and were answered only by small arms.

The Germans cross-Rhine holding around Strass- bourg collapsed an dColmar was surrounded.

Reds Smashed To Banks Of Oder, 40 Miles Out.

MOSCOW, Feb 1. (AP).—The Russians today smashed to the banks of the Oder River at Kusirin, 40 miles from Berlin. Waves of Red Troops were hurled into the Oder River breach around Frankfurt.

The Russian's northern drive is now placed at Sorau, 45 miles inside the Reich].

Hearing On City's Pick-up Air Service, Post-War

Starting, January 26, in Fort Worth, hearings have been presented before some authorities, anyway, whoever controls the air lines and the prospective air lines, for the establishment of post-war pick-up locations all over the state

Since there were so many of these to appear before whoever the state has been regionalized, an dGatesville's region comes up February 8. A representative, as yet unnamed, will be sent to appear on that date in behalf of Coryell County and Gatesville.

Briefs have been filed with Bowen Airways. Community Air Service, Eagle Airlines, asking them to include Gatesville in the pick-up service.

That's where it is right now.

MART HIGH BRINGS TWO CLUBS HERE FOR GAMES TONTE

Mart High School boys and Gatesville tangle in two court games tonight. Comparative strength of the two clubs is unknown, but Mart always has smething and so does Gatesville.

Last night, the Hornets, boys and girls and the Turnersville teams collided in two more games of the season.

NORTH HOOD SOLDIER INJURED IN CYCLE CRASH IN WACO

Sgt. Earl S. Nelson of North Camp Hood was taken to the post hospital at Waco Army Air Field and V J Bendittine, 701 N. 18th street, was in Providence hospital as the result of an automobile-motorcycle collision at 24th and Franklin streets at 6:30 a. m. Monday. Hospital attendents said that while Nelson's condition was not considered critical, he suffered possible fracture of the pelvis and left hip. lacerated lip and scalp, multiple abrasions and contusions Bendittine, at Providence, apparently suffered only minor scalp injuries, according to first reports

L H George of Waco, driver of the automobile, told investigating officers Car Patrolmen, C E Pettigrew and J L Marsh he was making a left turn off Franklin street onto 24th when the motorcycle ridden by Nelson and Bendittine also going west collided with his car. George and W H Anderson, riding with him, were unhurt. The two injured men were taken to hospitals in a Brown's ambulance.

Pvt. Harold L. Stone, Jr., Gulfport, Miss., 20, smiles because War Bonds healed his arm, fractured by a bullet in France. He had been searching houses for Nazi and was crawling out to escape enemy shelling when the blow struck.

Sergt. Norris Pendergrass, Roseburg, Ore., 21, suffered a broken leg, broken jaw and flesh wounds when Nazi threw a grenade into tank in which he was riding. All his wounds are mending satisfactorily because War Bonds provided him with the best medical care overseas and in America.

Permanently washed out of the war when a rifle grenade blew up close to his left foot in France, P.F.C. Martin Grubanowitch, 20, Milwaukee, Wis., of the Rangers says War Bonds are the best investment people can make. They are restoring him to civilian usefulness. He says buy War Bonds.

Hit in the head and leg by mortar shell fragments while taking a hill, Pvt. Robert B. Graham, Pontiac, Mich., 26, says he is glad people buy War Bonds. They supplied treatment for those wounds and his fractured humerus.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS

Among the many insanities afflicting this looney world is the belief that the government can will and take care of everyone if private enterprise fails to do so.

Party orators of both parties have infected millions of gullible voters with this Pied Piper hallucination. Like the Gadarene swine in the Bible story they go marching merrily into the sea of debt.

It is time for men to have the guts to tell the truth about this opium dream, whether anyone votes for them or not.

The truth, painful though it be to the moonbeam collectors of this cockeyed century, is that a government can't take care of anybody, anywhere, anytime. So long as this insanity persists, sound policies will be postponed the debt will increase, and confidence in the future of America, and the integrity of its dollar will diminish.

This illusion, that the government can take care of people (although the people can't or don't take care of the government by taxation and a balanced budget), is nothing but sleight of hand on the political stage.

The government can't take care of anybody. But so complicated has our civilization become and so blind are we to see through this juggler's trick that the fact requires demonstration.

The Government by its sovereign power of taxation can reach its hand into your pocket take a

Your Electric Refrigerator Needs Year Around Good Care to Make It Last

Don't neglect the care of your electric refrigerator just because it's wintertime. Remember, it's always summer in your kitchen. Follow these tips on the care of your refrigerator for longer life and more economical service:

- Defrost whenever frost reaches thickness of one-quarter inch. Frost acts as an insulator—increases operating expense.
- Wash inside of refrigerator, including freezer—with weak baking soda solution each time you defrost.
- Wash grease from door gasket periodically with mild soap and warm water. Make sure gasket seals tightly.
- Protect outside finish with coating of thin wax to protect against scratches and acids.
- Remove dust from condenser coils occasionally with soft bottle brush or hose of vacuum cleaner. Keep entire unit compartment clean.
- Do not store hot foods. Let them cool first.
- Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezing unit speeds formation of frost.
- Keep cold control at lowest setting necessary to assure safe temperature.
- Oil open unit models per manufacturer's instructions. Sealed unit models need no oiling.

At least once each year, have a qualified serviceman check your refrigerator to see that it is in good operating condition mechanically. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

dollar therefrom and give it to me. That is all it can do. It can tax wealth from the strong to give to the weak from the well to give to the sick, the jobholder to the jobless, the worker to the shirker, the thrifty to the spendthrift. But don't get discommodated. The government doesn't take care of anyone. It is still the well who take care of the sick, the strong who take care of the weak, and the thrifty who take care of the spendthrifts. All the government does is transfer the dollars from one to another, less the political brokerage siphoned off by its bureaucrats.

The slight of hand comes largely from the fact that we use dollars the paper tokens of wealth, which no one can eat, wear or sole shoes with, as substitutes for real wealth. We would not be fooled by the ledgermain if the government levied taxes in real things, and not money—in coal, wheat, milk, etc. In simpler civilization, the government would tax a miner a ton of coal and give the coal to a poor family that was freezing, or it would tax a farmer a can of milk and give it (less the cream) to undernourished children. Nevertheless, the milk came from the cow and the man who milked her not from the government. No new milk or coal was added to the world's supply.

That modern governments collect taxes in money and use the money to buy the coal or milk does not change the reality by a plugged dime.

Even in religious community op-rated as a primitive communistic society it is the strong who care for the weak and the well who provide for the sick.

Occasion may require a sort of compulsory charity under government auspices. No one denies that. But the government takes care of no one.

This being so and it is so, ought not out and I to immediately insist on policies friendly to the well, strong, able bodied thrifty worker. If he thrives and saves there will be enough for the aged, the little child, the sick, and the disabled soldier. But if the strong and enterprising are beaten down the underprivileged will look to their government in vain.

WHAT'S COOKIN'

By Jones

And, some days ago, we got a letter from Evan J. Smith which we quote partly, and it shows, regardless of the many people of every walk of life here, that it's still a pretty good place to live in, and stay living.

Mr Smith says: "Just finished reviewing the current copy of "The Texas Roundup", a publication by the Texas Highway Safety Department listing the names and addresses of violators who have been apprehended and drivers licenses suspended for any reason. This month, there are 969 names on the list, 768 of them losing licenses for driving while intoxicated. This is a decrease of 168 from last year, "and here's the off", no person from Gatesville or any part of Coryell County is listed, and, there were no persons named apprehended in this county, and living elsewhere."

That's mighty good, and we'd like to keep it that way. Our visitors are all helping, because, on a whole, they're mighty nice folks Mr. Smith.

Sometime ago, Fisher W. Culbertson, that's Dave's boy, wrote us relative to the University of Texas squabble, and we think he wanted an opinion, probably editorially. We don't think ours would help the situation much, and frankly, haven't had time to look over the mass of material Fisher, the other side, some other sides and everybody has sent regarding this squabble. Regardless of the merits, they ought to stop this squabbling. It happens about every 10 years, don't it, at Texas and A&M too. That's the penalty for being state schools. We have the same trouble about the GSSFB which is about 2 1/2 miles from here. Won't folks ever realize that these "polyticians" have got to do something to "make front page" and they're too tight to advertise, so they start a squabble with some state institution, or just start raising merry H— in some way, to attract attention. Little people always do that.

Think we need a new set of pups down there anyway and that there could be a lot of places both in Texas and "out". Sorry, Fish, but if you just knew what was going on on the outside, as regards help, and other things that are necessary to the war effort that are cutting out the pondering and thinking editorial writers, you'd have a rough idea of why most of us of the Hick Town Press, are having to forego this pleasure (sometimes) of raving and ranting about something or the other.

That's a fond dream of many of us, and right now is a "post war plan" of all of us, that is, if the Administration lets us stay in business long enough after the war and don't bundle us up in red tape too high taxes wages, rules ruin and regulation. Many of us may decide when this "bg blow" is over we just don't want to follow all the three-R's and stay in business. We hear this on every side, from all kinds of merchants, farmers, business people,—everybody. Many of them say that they want a peanut stand or some thing, where they won't have to hire any help of any kind, and just run it themselves.

Of Course, this could go on undeterminedly (if that's a word) and then we'd still be back right where we were. The answer to the whole thing is: "Aw, heck, I don't know" and we'll drop it there.

Printers We Have Known or Who Dropped In Shop

That might be the title of this article, or to bring up the old gag again, it also could be Seamen going rowing when in port and Printers visit printing offices when in town. In either case, they just can't resist. One is "salty" and the other "Inky" we suspect.

Anyway, we've been privileged in the last few months to have these folks visit us. This is their story.

Cpl. Ed. Adkins of Co. C 135th T. D. Bn. of now North Hood, who was with Kansas City Papers and also was with the Olathe Mirror of Olathe, Kans., dropped in recently and we wind jammed with him for quite a spell.

Then, there was Carmine J Russo, who was with the Mono Lino Composition Company of 461 8th Ave., New York City, and Co. B. 140th T D T B at North Camp, and he could tell us a very lot about how they do it in the big city.

Now comes Mrs Bruce C. Winston who now lives 111 Luttreloh in Gatesville, and who's father is in Seattle, Washington.

Now, Mrs Winston was a Whetstone before she got her name changed—married—and Joseph A Whetstone didn't come to the News office at all. She did, and she gave us a good story.

Mr Whetstone, when he was in the 20's along about 1903, came to Gatesville and worked on the Gatesville Messenger as a typesetter and printer.

Since then Mr Whetstone has owned newspapers in Montana but left there for the Great Northwest in 1920, and settled in Seattle, Wash where he's gone out of the newspaper game and into political games, as a County Commissioner of King County.

Well now isn't this a little world And it took a war to bring a Whetstone back to Gatesville. Why they ever left certainly we don't know.

And, back there some time ago, from the Chicago Sun, and also The Hearst Service, came M/Sgt. Frank Marron, who was on the city desk of the Sun, and was with the 450th F. A. Bn. at NCH. We guess by now, he's already over, but we'll send him a copy of the News at Hood, hoping that he's still there.

And, Caroline Aslanian who was with Mr and Mrs J D English for a while was on the New York Times and you know that's the Dallas Morning News of The USA in other words the masterpiece or so taken. What department she was in she didn't state.

Nearly everybody in a newspaper way passes these doors and many, many of them just can't resist and we can't resist having a chat with them, busy or not.

STATE HWY DEPT TAKE OVER MAINTENANCE OF COP. COVE-GV HWY

Good news for the County Commissioners, and the patrons, too, probably, not to mention the State Highway Department, is the fact that the state has taken over the maintenance of the highway running from Copperas Cove to Gatesville and vice-versa. There is about 30 miles of it.

This highway already designated as a farm-to-market highway, is in the post-war dreams of state highways and as soon as connections south to Briggs and north to Clifton, Meridian, etc., can be worked out, the highway will probably take a state highway designation.

ESCAPED GERMAN PRISONERS FROM HOOD RE-CAPTURED

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Jan 30. (AP)—Three German prisoners of war who escaped from Camp Hood while on work detail last night were captured here today by two Brownwood police patrolmen. The captives were walking along a street in a Mexican settlement.

They carried highway maps and a number of letters written in German.

Earlier in the day the department of public safety in Austin had quoted the Camp Hood provost marshal as saying the prisoners were considered dangerous. Only slight difficulty was experienced in their capture.

WOLFE NURSERY INTRODUCES ROSSBURY PLANT

Introducing one of the most amazing berry wonders of the age, the Wolfe nursery has begun an advertising campaign in the South west—offering for sale 1,000,000 Rossberry plants.

The Rossberry was originally created by Luther Burbank, almost 30 years ago. It has displayed so many features of value, that Mr. Wolfe became interested in it and has perfected it and improved it, selling it on a national basis.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN SERVICE MET WITH MRS GUGGOLZ

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs W. C. Guggolz, Tuesday afternoon, at 3 p. m.

The devotional was conducted by Rev Rosemond Stanford, which was very interesting, the theme of his talk was 'praying hands'. After the devotional, he presented 'The Crusade for Christ' which is a postwar program of the Methodist Church in foreign lands.

Jimmie Caraway and Amerike Warren, representing the colored M E Church attended the meeting. Armerike Warren, is chairman of Christian Social Relations, and gave a good report on their work in the colored church.

After a short business session, a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess served a delicious salad plate and coffee.

OPEN HOUSE AT USO CELEBRATES
FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

February fourth is being celebrated throughout the nation as the fourth Anniversary of USO. In celebration of the event the public is invited to visit the Gatesville USO Club February third or fourth. Although any citizen is welcome in the Club at any time, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. third and fourth are the dates set aside for Open House. Guests are invited to come in for a few minutes or for an entire afternoon or evening. They may merely view the Club or they may participate in any of the program events.

The highlight of the celebration will be the formal dance Saturday evening at 8:30 sponsored by G. S. O. Music will be furnished by service men from the 258th A. G. F.; North Camp. Those planning the affair are:

Program Committee: Chairman—Martha Brown, Nita Manning, Frances Franks, Jessie Alford.

Refreshment Committee: Chairman—Polly Ward, Waldine Swindall, Florhea Dossey, Ernestine Bauman.

Decoration Committee: Chairman—Janelle Kirby, Emily Ament, Frances Merritt, Faye Merritt

Publicity—Betty Lou Rose and Bobby Stout

Forty-three members of the Better Halves Club enjoyed a delightful luncheon in the Green Room of the USO Tuesday noon. Mrs. Beard was the chairman of the luncheon committee with Dona Dalton, Eva Heheiv, Doris Ray, Rose Medvin, Eanne Overlay also serving on the committee.

Table decorations were in keeping with Valentine's Day. Red and White candles and a flower center piece were used. A program was arranged by Estelle Lieberman. Afterwards vocal solos by Frances Kaufman and Elizabeth Ringwall followed by group singing were enjoyed by the group.

A nominating committee consisting of Eva Kutz Donna Dalton, Corinne Graff, Eanne Overlay submitted nominees for organization officers. Those elected were:

Frances Kauman; President; Norma Mandel, vice-president; Charlotte Bates, secretary; Gwendolyn Glover, treasurer; Estelle Lieberman will be program chairman.

At a recent GSO meeting, the following were elected to serve as officers for the coming year. President: Lonelle Turner; Vice-President: Ira Beth Fore; Secretary-Treasurer: Wanda Stephens.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the anniversary celebration may send home-made cakes or cookies to the USO to be served to Servicemen during the week-end.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON President, Harding College Searcy, Arkansas

Price Fixing

Lancashire is the name of a county in England, studded with many milling towns, some large, some small. Liverpool, once the world's leading cotton market, is in Lancashire. In fact, the very word Lancashire, from long usage in the colorful language of tradespeople, has come to mean the English cotton textile industry, just as Detroit means the automobile manufacturing business to us.

Lancashire used to be prosperous. Her mills are small in contrast to what Americans think about when they speak of a cotton mill, but they long provided work and income for thousands of thrifty subjects of the Crown, until something went wrong. Now Lancashire is having her troubles and is just beginning to learn what they are. At the bottom of them is government tinkering and price fixing.

Seeking Solutions

Some time ago the British cotton textile industry sent an investigating committee to the United States to find out a few things. The committee had three facts in hand: (1) American mills were turning out better cotton cloth than the English mills, (2) American goods were selling everywhere for less than the British could afford to accept, and (3) American mill workers were twice as well paid as the English.

It seemed bad enough that better goods at lower prices were taking away England's used-to-be, worldwide markets. It was worse that Lancashire's labor troubles increased on account of too many half-paid workers. Mill owners couldn't get along without the workers but couldn't pay them what they were worth. The problem was to find out how Uncle Sam kept Lancashire fenced in.

They Found Out

Here are some of the things they learned: English mills are small and have about one process apiece while American mills are large and perform a lot of different processes. The English laborers did considerable work by hand, such as American mills do by machinery to gain volume. English mills turn out less material per man-hour than American mills; from 18% to 67% less.

In America a small number of workers supervise the operation of a large number of machines, spinning, weaving and finishing, all in one big factory. In Britain cotton is spun in one factory, woven in another and finished in a third. Lancashire producers of cotton cloth buy and sell endlessly among themselves. Each operator does his part and ships his unfinished work to some other mill.

Government Fixing

"One point in Lancashire's problem," says the London Times, "is the harsh necessity for some of the most inefficient firms to be eliminated." The government fixes prices and ignores incompetence so poor operators can make a profit. In other words, John Bull holds an umbrella over a frozen price structure that would melt down to an honest level under the warm sunlight of competition.

Competition sharpens the wits of American management. Investors and their business executives know that continuous operation is cheaper than batch work; know there is more to be earned with low prices and small margins than by big profits on a few sales. They know volume production requires good equipment which, in turn, helps workers do more and earn more. Fixed cotton prices in America will finally give us a dose of Lancashire

EARL HUDDLESTON REPORT ON LEGISLATIVE WORK AT AUSTIN

The Legislature January 9, and of course, some time was taken up in organizing.

"I was appointed on the following committees: Agriculture, Chairman of Penitentiaries, and of Labor and Elemenary Institutions. I am well pleased with my committees.

"I attended the State wide meeting recently here in Austin on the school problem and also the State wide meeting of Old Age Assistance and was asked to address this meeting.

"We have considered a few emergency matters such as financing the schools. There will be other matters taken up as soon as possible. Of course, as usual there have been many bills introduced and there will be many more. I assure you that I will do my best to represent your wishes at all times so confer with me anytime you feel that I can be of service to you.

Sincerely yours

January 26, 1945.

Dear Friends:

Attention has been centered on two subjects this past week. Neither has been disposed of as I write this, but it is expected that both will have been decided before you read this letter.

The first item involves the president's letter asking Mr. Jesse Jones to get out of the Cabinet and out of the R.F.C. in order to give these places to Mr. Henry Wallace. Most everyone agrees that the President should have anyone he wants in his Cabinet. There have been six times in the history of the country when the Senate did not confirm anyone the President named as a Cabinet officer. However, an entirely different situation exists in regard to the R.F.C. This is the most colossal banking institution in the world. It has billions invested in war plants and materials. It has made loans and commitments in excess of forty billion dollars. It was not created as a part of the Department of Commerce. It is many times larger than the Department of Commerce. These agencies are connected at the larger than the Department of Commerce. These agencies are connected at the present time only because when the President asked Mr Jones to become Secretary of Commerce he agreed only with the understanding that he might remain head of the R. F. C. There is a strong, and I think well founded, feeling that the control of a great banking institution like the R. F. C. should be in the hands of someone who is at least well trained and experienced in such matters. While Mr Wallace is undoubtedly a man of lots of talents along certain lines, he has never heretofore claimed any banking or financial experiences. It is, therefore, sure that the Senate will hesitate to confirm him as head of the R. F. C. even if they do decide to confirm him as Secretary of Commerce. Possibly the solution will be to separate the R. F. C. and the Department of Commerce. The decision must be made by the Senate and will not involve the House unless a divorcement bill is sent to us, as the House has no control over confirmations. I sincerely hope, however, that the great lending powers of the R F C are kept in the hands of someone of proven business ability and of sound business judgment. Should the lending power of the R F C be used for political purposes or for social reform here and abroad, it could very quickly lead us to bankruptcy and inflation.

The other focal point of interest has been the progress of the so-called "Universal Service" bill, which has been in the House Military Affairs Committee all week. The Committee has just reported the bill, and I expect it on the Floor of the House next week. At first glance most of us are likely to say that we certainly believe that everyone should do his part, and that we should, therefore, pass a bill that will make everyone work in a war plant if he is not in the armed forces. I certainly agree with that idea but unfortunately it is not so simple when it comes to writing a bill. Any law must apply to all alike. Actually, it is most difficult to write a law that is not unfair to many innocent people. For instance, there is an unfortunate tendency to speak of "Four F's" as if they were slackers. This is not fair. These men were not classified Four-F because they asked for it. The Army so classified them. If the Army would use them it could have them. They are simply unfortunate. We should at least treat them honestly. The Army has no right to criticize these boys unless it is willing to take them in and use them at a job they can thousands of these boys at jobs now occupied by men who are 100 per cent physically perfect.

Another and possibly even more do. I think the Army should use

...don't believe that our government has any right to force a man to pay dues to John L. Lewis, Philip Murray, or anyone else. Yet, if we take men from so-called non-essential jobs and force them to work in the steel mills, shipyards, the Ford factory, and coal mines or other war jobs and do not specifically exempt them from the present closed shop contracts we will actually be forcing them to join a union and to use a substantial part of their wages to pay their union dues. On the other hand, I want to put everyone to work. Therefore, I shall listen to the debate with great interest and shall try to get some proper amendments put on the bill, protecting the rights of individuals. I shall withhold my decision as to how I shall vote until I know just what I am to vote on.

With best wishes, I am
Yours for Victory,
W. R. POAGE, Congressman
11th Texas District

NEWS of MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Here's a letter from a boy, Clifford M. Tubbs, Y-2/c to Mr and Mrs Joe Tubbs. He says what ship he's on, but we're going to skip that for safety sake.

"Now that things have settled down a little and I have some time to spare I will try to tell you as much about the operation as I know, and the censors will allow.

"Three days before the troops landed on Luzon several of our warships from minesweepers to battleships gave the Japs in Lingayen Gulf a taste of most every kind of explosive shell and weapon we have. It was rough going for a while and before the operation was over we had several survivors of ships who were less fortunate than us. Aboard our ship we were fortunate enough not to get a scratch in any of the operations thus far. Our first day in Lingayen Gulf, there were several air attacks and counter battery fire, but our battleships, cruisers and destroyers just kept right on with their jobs of pounding the beaches and targets while the minesweepers cleared the channels. Numerous fires were started on the beach caused from ammunition dumps blowing up, etc. Through field glasses you could see Japs taking to the hills. The second and third days we had less air raids and we continued to soften up the beaches. The fourth day was the big day for us. Transports and supply ships moved in. The soldiers were going ashore and under cover of naval guns. It was a still morning, not much wind, and the powder smoke kind of settled on the water. There was so much of it for a short period, visibility was only good for a short distance. It was reported the troops made it ashore standing up and no opposition. Thus proving the effectiveness of three and a half days of bombardment by the naval guns. The Naval forces suffered some damage and had some fighting to do. However, we did not meet the opposition that we were prepared for and expected. The most ignorant things I noticed about the Japs were they sent swimmers out with 50 to 60 lbs. of TNT strapped to their backs. They would try to get to the ships with it, and of course, they never reached their destination. Maybe they were desperate instead of ignorant. Anyway we gave them hell and the Philippines should be free of insects within a few mos.

I am doing fine and sure wish I could get some mail. The mail we received Christmas was the last and have no idea when we will get any more. If things stay quiet for the next few days maybe I will write a few letters to everyone. Do hope everyone is O. K. and enjoying the winter months. Could enjoy some of them myself. Hope all the kids are O. K. in school. It's time for the lights to go out so will say bye for this time.

With Love To All

Hdqs. XXI Bomber Command, Guam (Delayed)—Sgt. George G. Gray of Gatesville, and other ground specialists of a B-29 organization based in the Marianas took up the unfamiliar task of air base construction in addition to their regular duties and have received special commendation from Brig. Gen. H. S. Hansell, Jr. the commanding general.

Men like Sgt Gray whose regular job is mechanic, moved in on the area of battle wreckage and, in less than 20 weeks, B-29 Superfortresses were bombing Tokyo from the completed Marianas base

"You carried on your official work with efficiency above the usual under rugged conditions, he said. "In addition, with hard labor ingenuity, and a kind of stubborn will that typifies the spirit of American pioneering, you made with your own hands a place to live and a place to work, overcoming obstacles which were not foreseen."

Sgt. Gray's wife, the former Janice Cook lives in Gatesville. He graduated from Haynesville high school, Haynesville, La., and was employed by Emerson Motors, at Homer, before entering the service in October, 1942.

He is a supply clerk for a military police company that is stationed at this base. Cpl Spence is the son of John R. Spence of Corpus Christi.

And we thank Mr. and Mrs. Henry Copeland, Flat for sending their boys name and an envelope stamped, and we sent the address on to Pvt. Ralph Mayberry who wanted some addresses of boys on the same island in the Pacific as he's on.

FSA FARM FAMILIES TO HEAR TOP COUNTY FARMERS HERE

Top-notch farmers of Coryell County will tell their neighbors how improved farming practices enabled them to boost production and increase their income at a meeting of farm families buying their places through the FSA, scheduled for 10 o'clock a. m. Friday February 9th at the Methodist Church in Gatesville.

Some twenty families are expected to attend, according to Wilburn H. Denham, FSA Supervisor with offices at Gatesville and Hamilton.

Special honors will be accorded those farmers making especially large repayments on their FSA loans. Included in this group are J E Brazill of Flat, Robert R. Meers of Copperas Cove, George D. Wilkinson of Ireland, and F. O. Mitchell of Copperas Cove.

Mr and Mrs F. O. Mitchell will be enrolled in the "$1000 Club" for making payments in excess of that amount in a single year. This puts the Mitchells six years ahead of schedule on their loan, which under FSA requirement they must pay in 40 years at 3 per cent.

"Through its farm ownership program FSA is working to reestablish the family-type farm as a cornerstone of our democracy," said Mr. Schloeman, chairman of the FSA County Committee. "And though the start is small, the program is proving without a doubt that the tenant and farm laborer need only be given a half chance to become successful landowners. Mr Fred Schloeman and other members of the committee, including Mr Sam J Powell and Mr Harmon J White will attend the meeting.

COAST GUARD SEEKS ENLISTMENTS FROM 17-YEAR OLDS

Enlistments in the U. S. Coast Guard are open to 17-year old boys who are urgently needed as apprentice seamen and steward's mates at the Coast Guard shore stations and on Coast Guard ships, announced Bill Vaughn, Seaman 1c assigned to recruiting duty in Central and South Texas.

Applicants for enlistment as apprentice seamen must have completed at least one year of high school while applicants for the steward's mate branch must have completed grammar school. Both white and negro boys may apply for enlistment as steward's mates.

All applicants must pass an aptitude test and physical examination, produce a birth certificate and secure the written consent of their parents.

Upon completion of "boat training" apprentice seamen who have the necessary qualifications and show an aptitude for certain specialist jobs may qualify for further training to become electrician's mates, range-finder and radar operators, pharmacist mates, radio operators, sonar operator and others.

Application blanks may be obtained upon request by writing Bill Vaughn, Seaman 1c, Coast Guard Recruiting Office, 401 Federal Building, San Antonio, Texas. Transportation will be furnished for a round trip to San Antonio so that applicants may take the aptitude test, physical examination, and complete their enlistment.

YES, We are surprised, WE HAD no idea that we would be able to get such unusual styles and materials in SUITS COATS and DRESSES this SPRING.

IT IS A REAL TREAT JUST TO SEE THE NEW THINGS at ALVIS GARNER CO. If you haven't seen their NEW SUITS, COATS, DRESSES and BLOUSES, LET that be the first thing on your programme.

TOO, They are so very reasonably priced, NO BLACK MARKET, REALLY prices are surprisingly LOW and considering the materials maybe they are even below normal.
