MARCH HAVING come in like a lion, and a very dirty lion at that, we were thinking the other day that if our Parmer County troops who have been serving in Saudi Arabia were all to have come home this month, they might not notice much change from the surroundings they had been used to having for the past several months.

However, Parmer County's first known returnee from Desert Storm, Richard Villarreal of Bovina, said last week that this area looked pretty good, in spite of the dry, windy weather we have been having.

How do you become accustomed to the West Texas wind? Or do you ever become completely accustomed to it?

Ye editor personally doubts that many people actually become accustomed to the continual windy conditions of February and March. They just have to learn to live with it.

Some of the editor's forebears used to talk about the fact that if you were preparing for a fancy meal during the "Dirty 30's," you waited awhile to set the dinner table, and many times laid the plates face down until summoning your guests. Otherwise, there was every chance that the plates might have attracted a light film or dust.

One of the things you learn fairly early in this country is the truth behind the lyrics of the old Jim Croce song that admonishes "You don't spit into the wind!" That warning goes probably double on the High Plains of Texas, where one bad experience along that line more than makes a believer out of the spitter.

Certain things are more adversely affected by the wind than others.

Women have to really hold onto their hair-dos, or a few seconds in our gentle zephyrs and their styles have suddenly been completely restyled, or un-styled, as the case may be. This problem isn't necessarily peculiar to the women, though. It affects just about everyone who has enough hair to worry about.

Hats are another problem during the annual "spring blow." Many's the time that ye editor has seen his hat set what would have been an Olympic record if the event had been the discus throw. Except that after landing the estimated 150 feet away, the hat never stays where it lands.

Have you ever chased a hat in the wind? Or maybe an important paper that the wind whisked out of your hand as you got out at your office? The item will lie perfectly flat until you're just about ready to reach down for it--then, as if the event were being choreographed for an episode of "Candid Camera," it will suddenly take flight and the next second your runaway is another 100 feet away from you.

Have you every noticed how in the spring of the year the chain-link fences, such as the ones they put around football fields and playgrounds, become plastered with paper items on the side toward the prevailing wind?

You ought to inspect some of these things occasionally. You might be surprised to find that the papers adorning the fences in Friona were predominately from Bovina. And those on the Bovina fences may have a Farwell identification--or maybe even from out of state.

Women who have lived in this country more than six months soon learn that full skirts are a no-no during the "Monsoon season." They quickly decide that pants are the order of the day, and no self-respecting company would dare enforce a dress code to the contrary.

When it comes to the wind, you just have to grin and bear it. The nice thing is that this season doesn't last too long. Pretty soon the nice weather will set in, and you'll wonder why the folks in other parts of the country are so hard on our weather.

Doctors Day To Be Observed Thurs.

March 30 each year is designated "Doctor's Day." This was the idea of Eudora B. Almond. As a child, she was impressed by the gentle kindness of her family doctor in the small village of Fort Lamar, Georgia.

Later, she married a physician and as she worked alongside her husband, she became convinced that medicine was the greatest profession on earth.

Mrs. Almond presented to her local medical auxiliary the idea of having a day on which to honor doctors. The idea was adopted nationally in November, 1935.

March 30 was the day selected in honor of Dr. Crawford W. Long, discoverer of the anesthetic powers of ether in surgery.

This quiet young country doctor said of his discovery, "It is a divine gift from on high," and after forty years of practicing medicine said, "My only wish is to be known as a benefactor of my race."

So it is with our local doctors. They work long hours, fill out endless forms, have interrupted sleep and much of their spare time is spent in reading of new procedures and attending medical meetings to further their knowledge and benefit their Parmer County patients.

This year, March 30 is on Saturday and the clinic will be closed, except for emergencies, so Doctor's Day, locally, will be moved to Thursday, March 28.

At 9 a.m., the Hospital Auxiliary will present our doctors with red carnations, the doctor's flower, and Elizabeth McLellan, president, invites anyone interested to be at the hospital for the presentation. Following this, the clinic and hospital staff will serve brunch to the honorees.

If you see Doctors Bob, Tracy or Paul around, don't forget to thank them for T.L.C., past and present.

Although Doctor's Day is mainly in honor of physicians, it is fine to appreciate Doctors Roden, Cash and Schueler. They are also great and caring guys and we are fortunate to have them in our area.

Hub Resident Wins TV In Drawing

The re-election of three members to the board of directors shared the spotlight with the winning of a color television set by a Hub couple at the 37th annual meeting of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative Tuesday night at the Bull Barn in Hereford.

Re-elected to the cooperative's board of directors were Charles Myers, Jr., representing the Hub exchange; Floyd Schueler from the Parmer exchange and Dick Fellers from the Dawn exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Byrd were grand prize winners during the drawing for door prizes, and won a color television set. Fifty other prizes were also awarded.

Employees of the cooperative were honored for their service if they had multiples of five years with West Texas Rural Telephone.

Presented plaques for 15 years of service were Barbara Rule, Howard Livesay and Cruz

Ramirez. Pam Spencer and Pat Maupin were given plaques for ten years.

Five-year awards went to Patti Dirks, Gary Parker, Denise Andrews, Bonnie Clayton, Karrol Rettman, Ada Smith and Sonny Nikkel.

A crowd of 600, the largest yet for the annual meeting, enjoyed a meal of barbecued beef and sausage catered by K-Bob's Steakhouse of Hereford.

A group of local musicians, made up of retired people, entertained those in attendance with Bluegrass music.

Also during the business session, Carl Strafuss, board president, welcomed the members and guests. Co-op manager Thomas Hyer gave the manager's report.

George Turrentine gave the nominating committee report, and attorney John D. Aiken presided over the election of directors.

GIVING BLOOD...Mike Lamb of Friona was one of the volunteers Wednesday during the local blood drive by the Coffee Blood Center. Between 40 and 50 people donated to the blood drive.

Series Of Meetings Is Planned

A spokesman for Parmer County Community Hospital's board of directors has stated that the Friona Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a series of public meetings starting in April.

The purpose of the meetings will be to allow local citizens to ask questions of concern about the proposed hospital district.

The board of directors has stressed that since 1945 the Parmer County Community Hospital has provided quality health care services to the local community. However, the health care environment has changed dramatically during the past few years.

Although Parmer County Community Hospital has operated profitably during these years, additional capital is now needed for the replacement of original equipment, acquisition of new technology, and competition in the market-place for professional staff.

After much study and deliberation, the hospital board has determined that the formation of a hospital district is the best alternative in maintaining a hospital that can provide safe basic quality health care service.

The schedule of informational meetings will be announced in this paper after the April 2 hospital membership meeting.

Banquet Discussed By Group

The Chieftain/Squaw Booster Club, which is the newly combined organization of the Chieftain Parents and Chieftain Booster Club, is presently working on the Athletic Banquet to be held Friday, May 3, at 7 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria.

Parents, this is a reminder that if your high school child participated in a sport, he/she will be extended an invitation to the banquet, provided that you have paid your yearly $10 dues.

If you have not already paid your dues, please send the $10 to Reta Martin, 1201 W. 7th Street, or take it to her at Friona State Bank. These dues need to be paid as soon as possible.

Banquet tickets for dates and member parents or Boosters will be $6/person. Ticket sales will be announced at a later date. There will be no complimentary tickets given.

Also, anyone who is interested in helping with the Banquet is asked to please contact Sharon Gordon at 247-2310.

City To Test System For Storm Alert

The city will test its emergency warning system on Thursday, March 28 at 7 p.m., weather permitting.

The Friona Fire Department will operate the test, which will include the sirens and the T.V. warning.

Chamber Fete Slated Monday

Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's 1991 Banquet will be held Monday evening, March 25 at the Friona Community Center, with the serving line opening at 7 p.m.

Advance tickets for adults are $12.50 each, and will be $15 at the door. Student tickets are $8.00 each.

The banquet will be catered by K-Bob's Steakhouse of Hereford.

Spike Dykes, popular head football coach of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, will be the banquet speaker.

The Chamber will present their awards for Man and Woman of the Year, Teacher of the Year, Most Courteous Employee, and Outstanding Young People.

The Chamber will also install their new officers and directors for 1991.

Alan Monroe will be installed as board president. Troy White will be installed as vice president, and Claudia Hanes will be secretary-treasurer.

New members of the board of directors are Sylvia Ingram, Bill McCoy, Hugo Benavides and Jeff Rainey.

Holdover members of the board are Monroe, White, Jimmy Grimsley, Tom Jarboe, Claudia Hanes, Terry Wilkerson, Betty Chaney and Billy Balderas.

Also during the banquet, the reigning Miss Friona, Amy Israel, will entertain.

Dykes is known for his folksy humor. Since taking over the head football duties at Texas Tech four years ago, he has remained the same easy-going, up front, people person he had always been.

Since taking the job at Tech, he has also proven to be a heck of a major college head football coach.

His 1989 Red Raiders had a 9-3 season record, its best in 13 years, were ranked in the Top 20, and beat four nationally-ranked teams for the first time ever.

This was all done with a team picked no better than sixth in the pre-season Southwest Conference polls. The team set 16 All-American Bowl Records in a 49-21 drubbing of Duke.

Dykes was honored as the Southwest Conference's Coach of the Year following the 1989 season, and as the Texas Senior College Coach of the Year by the Texas Sportswriters Assn.

Through three seasons, his Raider teams averaged 30 points per game and 400 total yards offense.

He became the first Southwest Conference coach since Dutch Meyer in 1934-36 who posted victories over Texas and Texas A&M in two of his first three meetings.

Highway 60 Phase Progress Discussed

Progress on the construction of two additional lanes on U.S. Highway 60 from Friona to the Deaf Smith County line is about on schedule, according to Rhea Bradley, district Highway Engineer.

Bradley said it is hoped to have traffic on the new lanes the latter part of this summer. Then, the crews will move to the old lanes, tear it up, and begin reconstructing that portion of the highway.

The storm sewers and culvert work have been completed on the highway, and work on the actual roadway will now proceed.

Bradley said that plans for the second stage of the project, from Friona to Bovina, have been completed, and submitted to the state office for approval. The highway officials plan to award bids on this portion of the highway in December of this year. "There are several utility adjustments still lacking on the Friona-Bovina segment, but all right of way is purchased, and the utility problems are being worked out," Bradley said.

District engineer Mel Pope of Lubbock said the funds were secure for the second stage of the project, but a date has not been set for awarding the third stage, Bovina to the state line, pending a new state budget and availability of funds.

"We are hopeful of completing the entire project as quickly as possible, because we realize how badly the improvements are needed in Parmer County," Pope said this week.

PAINTING PROJECT...Several volunteers spent a number of hours last weekend at the Friona Medical Clinic, cleaning and painting the facility. Sandra Turner is shown working in one of the patient rooms.

Miss Patterson scored 714 points in 29 games. Her per-game scoring average of 24.6 is the best average that could be found among available records for the past 20 seasons at FHS.

The Friona area, entertaining hopes for some much-needed moisture, instead was buffeted by gale-like winds on Thursday of this week. The southwest wind also kicked up sand which made outdoor activities unbearable.

Parmer County Fields Will Need 2''-10'' Of Water

Parmer County producers within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 need from 2-10 inches of water to bring the five-foot root zone soil profile to field capacity before the start of 1991 spring planting, according to soil moisture survey data released by the Water District and the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Soil Conservation Service (USDA-SCS).

"The annual soil moisture survey results are meant to inform irrigators about general soil moisture availability and deficit conditions across the Water District's 15-county service area," says Wilfred E. "Willie" Crenwelge, USDA-SCS soil scientist. "Using this information, irrigators can estimate the amount of water needed during pre-plant irrigation to bring their soil to field capacity without over-irrigating or under-irrigating.

Soil moisture conditions within the Water District were tested from November 12, 1990, through January 15, 1991 at 249 soil moisture monitoring sites. Soil moisture readings are taken by lowering a neutron probe into a permanently-installed aluminum access tube at each site. These sites are chosen based upon the soil type, the crop produced, and the saturated thickness of the Ogallala Aquifer, which influences water well yield variations. Each soil moisture monitoring site represents typical field conditions near the location.

Pre-plant soil moisture conditions play an important role in determining crop yields. Historical data indicates that above-average crop yields are produced in the Texas High Plains area when the root zone of the soil is near field capacity at planting.

Any precipitation received and/or irrigation applied between now and planting season will improve soil moisture conditions and enhance crop yield prospects.

Copies of the regional or Parmer County soil moisture survey maps are available through your local USDA-SCS field office or the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405 or call (806) 762-0181.

Futures/Options Workshop Planned

An Introduction to Futures and Options Workshop for Corn and Cattle Producers has been planned in Muleshoe for April 4-5, announces Gary Patterson, Parmer County Extension Agent. This workshop is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas A&M University System.

A farmer or rancher may not be able to control prices, but he can control how and when he prices. Market information and price prediction tools can provide valuable assistance in timing pricing decisions and in marketing and production planning.

To help producers make the most of their products at the market place, this workshop is being conducted at the Bailey County Civic Center on Highway 84 on the west edge of Muleshoe. It will include 12 hours of training and will run from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. each day. The workshop will provide market updates as well as basic training in various pricing alternatives available to area farmers and ranchers. Special emphasis will be placed on the marketing of corn and cattle.

The cost of the workshop is $50, which covers workshop materials and two meals. Anyone is welcome to register by coming March 20. Spouses are also encouraged to attend this meeting. The $50 fee includes materials and lunches for both. If you wish to register by mail, please send your name, address, city, state and zip code, along with a check for $50, made payable to TAEX Account No. 20650, to be received prior to the March 20 deadline date to the county Extension agent in your county.

This should be a timely and worthwhile workshop for our area and local farmers and ranchers, said Patterson, and we encourage you to make your reservations promptly so that you may take advantage of the materials and information which are being offered.

IF YOU HEARD SOMEBODY SAY "I TORE A LEAF..." YOU WOULDN'T BE TOO SURE WHAT WAS MEANT UNTIL THEY FINISHED THE SENTENCE. "I TORE A LEAF...OFF THE TREE!" NOW YOU'D KNOW WHAT WAS MEANT! "I TORE A LEAF...OUT OF THE BOOK!" AGAIN YOU'D KNOW EXACTLY WHAT WAS MEANT—THE SAME WORD BUT WITH TWO ENTIRELY DIFFERENT MEANINGS: ONE, THE FOLIAGE THAT GROWS ON A TREE; TWO, A PIECE OF PAPER THAT'S BOUND IN A BOOK.

IN JUST THE SAME MANNER DOES THE ARAMAIC WORD "GAMLA" MEAN CAMEL; OR A ROPE; OR A BEAM. WHEN JESUS, SPEAKING IN THE ONLY LANGUAGE HE KNEW, ARAMAIC, SAID, "DADLIL LGAMLA LMEAL BAKHRORA DAMGATA AU ATIRA DNEAOL LMACOOTH DALAHA." HE ACTUALLY SAID "IT IS EASIER FOR A ROPE TO GO THROUGH THE EYE OF A NEEDLE THAN FOR A RICH MAN TO ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF GOD." IN FACT, HE WAS ONLY USING A VERY POPULAR EXPRESSION OF THE DAY. EASTERN WOMEN, WHEN SHOPPING FOR THREAD WOULD OFTEN SAY, IF THE THREAD WAS TOO THICK, "IT IS A ROPE, IT WILL NOT GO THROUGH THE EYE OF MY NEEDLE!"

BUT WHEN THE EARLY GREEKS TRANSLATED THE NEW TESTAMENT BOOKS FROM ARAMAIC INTO GREEK, THEY DIDN'T REALIZE THAT, IN ARAMAIC CUSTOM, NEEDLE AND ROPE HAD ANY CONNECTION. ONE OF THEM, OBVIOUSLY, DID KNOW THAT "GAMLA" MEANT CAMEL AND SO TRANSLATED IT THAT WAY—AND FROM THAT DAY ON, THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS OF PRIESTS, MINISTERS, AND PREACHERS HAVE MISQUOTED JESUS WITHOUT KNOWING THEY WERE DOING SO! THIS DISCREPANCY WAS FINALLY BROUGHT TO LIGHT IN THE 1920'S, IN A SERIES OF LECTURES BY PROF. GEORGE M. LAMSA, EMINENT ETHNOLOGIST AND ARAMAIC LANGUAGE EXPERT—WHICH HAPPENED TO BE HIS OWN MOTHER-TONGUE!

Simmons Hurls No-Hitter As Chiefs Topple Morton

On Friday afternoon, March 15 the Chieftain baseball team downed the Morton Indians, 13-2 as Cody Simmons fired a no-hitter for the Chiefs.

Simmons faced only 22 batters. He struck out seven, walked seven and picked one runner off base.

Friona had three errors. Bryce McMurtrey snagged a long fly ball for the final out on Morton and save the no-hitter.

Friona, which had scored pairs of runs in the first and second innings, went on to score nine runs in the fifth inning, sparked by an impressive home run by Chad Hamilton over the left-center field fence, to drive in three runs.

His hit gave Hamilton four RBIs for the game. The game was called and Friona declared the winner during the bottom of the fifth inning with one out, because of the ten-run rule.

YOUR BIGGEST BUY

Newspapers Carry Most Information About Real Estate

Two-out-of-three real estate companies do their advertising in newspapers. Majority of today's home-buyers look to newspapers for information.

Source of Advertising For Real Estate Firms

|             |     |
|-------------|-----|
| Newspapers  | 67% |

| Radio       | 26% |
| Direct Mail | 2%  |

(SOURCE: NAB and the National Association of Realtors)

Today's home buyers tend to be college-educated and to work as managers or professionals. These are the groups most likely to subscribe to the local newspaper. Successful realtors know this, and take advantage of that readership.

American Heart Association

Creating a Smoke-Free Generation

The high school graduating class of 2000 is the target of a national campaign to end smoking among young Americans. In an effort to accomplish this goal, three national non-profit health organizations, the American Heart Association, American Cancer Society and American Lung Association have formed a coalition to achieve a "Tobacco-Free Young America."

The initial phase of the project is "Smoke-Free 2000," a program geared toward graduates of the year 2000. Currently pre-schoolers, these children will enter the first grade in the fall of 1988. Local tri-agency coalitions throughout the country will begin programs designed for this group of children. For the next 12 years, these children will symbolize the "first tobacco-free class." The children will be informed about the social stigmas and health risks associated with smoking and given encouragement not to start smoking.

"Smoke-Free 2000" focuses on children young enough to be influenced positively by the effort. More than half of high school seniors who currently smoke started smoking during ninth grade or earlier. About 75 percent of adult smokers get hooked during adolescence.

The tobacco industry targets advertising at young Americans, presenting smoking as a desirable and socially appealing activity. The tri-agency project emphasizes the elimination of these messages through bans or restrictions on tobacco advertising and promotion, including the distribution of free tobacco samples.

Another goal of the "Tobacco-Free Young America Project" is to affect legislation to regulate limitations on smoking in public places. Restriction of smoking in schools is a priority. Speaking in support of a "Tobacco-Free Young America," Surgeon General C. Everett Koop commented, "We want to help young America become 'tobacco free' by the year 2000. And what's the significance of that goal? If we achieve it, that means... we will have rescued the young people of America from the preventable burden of smoking-related illness and death."

The goal of "Smoke-Free 2000," to prepare young people to make the correct decision regarding smoking, will require much hard work by educators and volunteers. The American Heart Association believes this goal can be achieved.

Prairie Acres Party Line

By CAROL DELEON

I do believe that spring is in the air around Prairie Acres. Most of the residents seem so much chipper and active. Everyone is excited about Easter. We have been decorating for it and doing lots of activities pertaining to the season.

Speaking of decorating, I would like to mention what a wonderful job Lucille Latta does at it. Every holiday or change of season, she does something different and beautiful in their room. She collects dolls and such as these are a few of the things that she decorates with. If you are in the building or just want to come up and see her talents, I don't think she would mind.

This week we want to thank: Peggy Oakes for the snacks she brought us and to Gladys Wilson for sharing her spring-time flowers with us. They certainly have helped us notice that spring really is here.

The following donations have been made to the Love Fund:

In memory of George F. Trimble: Tim, Janet and Brandon Henry.

SPRINGTIME IN GOD'S CREATION

Springtime
What a time of the year
When rain from Heaven sheds a tear

On all the unborn seeds down below
To give them new life
With vibrance and glow.

The time of the year
That we hear birds sing
A time we enjoy
When laughter does ring.

A time it seems
When God from on High

Sheds all His love
And covers the sky.

He watches over the birds
Down below
He's even careful
For the little sparrow.

He cares for His creation
At this season tis true
As He watches as a Father
To both me and you.

Senator Teel Bivins Reports

AUSTIN - I had a good deal of fun this week asking my colleagues in the Senate if they had a state championship girls' basketball team from any division. Most of them just gave me a blank look. A couple who follow high school basketball responded to my question with a smile and the answer, "Heck no, Senator, you've got them all." They are right. In what I believe is a first in the history of high school basketball, all five divisional state championships were won by teams from Senate District 31. The team members and the coaches from Nazareth, Tullia, Abernathy, Levelland and Amarillo Tascosa are to be heartily congratulated for their achievements.

In the 71st regular session, the following six special sessions and the first two months of the 72nd session, the debate over education has focused primarily on how we pay for it. Senate Bill 1 which passed in the sixth special session contained significant education reforms that were not struck down by the Supreme Court in the second Edgewood case. Though these reforms received little press, I feel strongly that they will go a long way toward returning control of our schools to parents, principals and teachers.

With the exception of Carter High School in Dallas, high school athletics have received little attention in the education debates during the last three years. I think this is due in large part to the fact that the system is working. Interscholastic athletics play a very valuable role in the education of those who are fortunate enough to participate. I say fortunate because not everyone has the ability to make the team. (I never did.) But for those who do there are invaluable lessons to be learned.

Volumes have been written on teamwork, discipline and goal setting. But participating in a team sport gives the student a learning medium far more vivid than most textbooks. Every girl on every one of these state championship teams can tell you the value of hard work otherwise known as practice, practice; discipline otherwise known as training, training and more training; and goal setting otherwise known as staying focused on winning one game at a time. These lessons will likely be remembered unlike those of world history and Latin verb conjugation. They will serve these girls well for the rest of their lives.

I introduced and passed in the Senate a resolution commemorating the accomplishment of each of these teams. Such a resolution is a way for the Texas Senate to give a pat on the back to the girls, the coaches and the schools that made these state championships happen. Education means many things to many people. The meaning and content of public education has been debated endlessly in the Texas Legislature. In my book, the vitally important lessons of team work, training, discipline and goal setting are an integral part of a quality education.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Organizes Locally

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is still trying to recruit enough interest to charter a local organization.

There seems to be high interest in helping our veterans (past and present), and the leaders need more ladies to charter to meet that need. If you have not been approached or missed the organizational meeting, we would encourage you to meet with the group on Tuesday, March 26 at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Building, Sixth Street and Euclid (next to Cleo's Cleaners).

Those ladies eligible for membership are wives, widows, mothers, stepmothers (who have performed the duties of a parent), grandmothers, daughters, granddaughters, foster and stepdaughters (who attained that status prior to age 16 and for whom the duties of parent were performed), sisters, half-sisters and foster and stepsisters (who attained that status prior to age 16), of persons who were or are eligible for membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars (V.F.W.) of the United States, including Desert Storm.

Also, female veterans authorized to receive a campaign medal or ribbon for overseas service or a mother, sister or daughter of qualifying female veterans are eligible.

The last eligibility requirement is that you must be a U.S. citizen and not less than 16 years of age. Widows who re-marry and divorcees may not base eligibility on the service record of a former husband.

We really need your help and would like to begin regular meetings and projects as soon as possible. If you need more information, call Dale Mann at 247-3869, Juanell Jordan at 247-2242, Deanna Duke at 247-3390, or Christeene Mann at 247-3298. "Come join us and support our veterans," said a spokesperson for the group.

History Warns Against Unrealistic Expectations

In 1924, Howard Hughes, at the age of 19, inherited $10 million. When he died 52 years later, he left an estate with an estimated value of $2.5 billion.

Most money managers would be proud of such an accomplishment. The most significant thing about the Hughes fortune, however, is not the end result but rather the reasonable 11.8 percent annual compounded rate of return that produced it. Staggering numbers often suggest that unreasonable means are required to achieve them. Not so.

Unfortunately, many investors expect money to grow and compound every year at a rate of 25, 30 and even 50 percent--and do it consistently.

To illustrate the folly of such wishful thinking, let's put a simple pocket calculator to the 30 stocks that make up the Dow Jones Industrial Average. We'll cover a 50-year period beginning December 31, 1933, to examine the compounded growth of these stocks.

A $1,000 investment in the top-performing stock grew to $990,000. That's a gain of 98,900 percent. The same investment in the poorest performing stock was worth only $1,725 at the end of the period for a gain of only 73 percent.

The interesting point is that the compounded annual rate of return for the top stock was 14.8 percent a year; for the poorest performer, 1.1 percent.

The companies represented in the Dow are some of the largest, best-managed and most widely owned corporations in the world. The message is that it's unrealistic to expect grossly superior results from any investment. Equally important is that such results are unnecessary for long-term success.

When the stock market enjoys periods of generally rising prices, investment results of one or two years could reflect unrealistic long-term results.

The danger of placing too much emphasis on immediate past results was illustrated in the 1990 investor's guide of a major mutual fund. Had you owned this fund during the five-year bear market between 1970 and 1974, your average compounded annual rate of return would have been less than one percent. For the previous five-year period, the fund averaged an impressive annual total return of 20.64 percent. What's much more meaningful, though, is that over the fund's 56-year history, the average annual compounded rate of return was 13.2 percent.

The point is that no one should invest based on a relatively short record of performance--good or bad--and assume that record will continue. History reminds us that unrealistic investment performance over prolonged periods doesn't continue forever--not even for Howard Hughes.
