They tell us the United Fund is dragging. Maybe it was washed away like some other things in the recent—and current—flood. We don't know yet how much water the old Leon's going to throw at us.

Folks still don't know how much they've lost but they're checking up. Cows, sheep, horses, goats, chickens, pigs, everything moveable is missing, and lots a cotton and corn, that they couldn't get machinrey to get out. Next to impossible to get a mere 'human' to work at this writing.

Onliest ones we know of not effected by the 'wash-out' were the Soil Bankers—they didn't get washed out. You folks better quit planting and go to Soil Banking. You can make more, and ust sit down by the mail box and wait for hte check.

We kind of figured a little on buying a farm and get it Soil Banked. Some did, and they tell us the gov't will pay for the farm in about 8 years, and pay you for owning it. Since we got to thinking about this 'farm gravy-train' they tell us they've cut ti out so's you can't do it now. We've always been too late with too little when a good graft came along. Onliest check we ever got from the gov't was a refund on overpayment in taxes, and that wouldn't buy a good necktie. We're totally absolutely off the gov't payroll. And, we thought we was educated. There's just a lot we've got to learn, but, it looks like it's too late now.

"The cost of discoverngi America was about $14,000—the price of fitting out the three ships of Columbus—according to The World Book Encyclopedia." It'll cost us a trillion jillion to discover the moon which everybody knows is there already.

"Chris" Columbus was named after Saint Christopher, patron saint of sailors and travelers. He saw in his name a sign that he was destined to carry Christianity to heaten lands."

Now that Halowe'en is approach-nig, we for the umpteenth time suggest that the 'trick or treaters' be prevailed upon to really 'decorate' show windows with art instead of Schaub's soap.

Each merchant could sponsor one class, organization, or other group, or individual, and let 'em do the decorating, and then pay prizes for the best along the Halowe'en theme. We have an advertising service that can furnish some grand ideas and illustrations for this. Some of you 'promal' folks give this a try.

"Battle Border"

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

(Editor's Note: Attorney General Will Wilson goes to Washington Oct. 12 to fight another border battle for Texas when the tidelands case will be heard before the U.S. Supreme Court. This is the first in a series of articles outlining the numerous boundary conflicts dating back to 1716, pointing up little known facts which shaped the Texas of today.)

The following is released as a public information service by the Attorney General's Department.)

The Texas boundary line stretches over some 4,000 miles and a sizeable portion of it has been forged and tempered in the fiery heat of conflict.

Attorney General Will Wilson is in one of these battles now with the Texas tidelands issue before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Since 1716 to this day its location has been fought over.

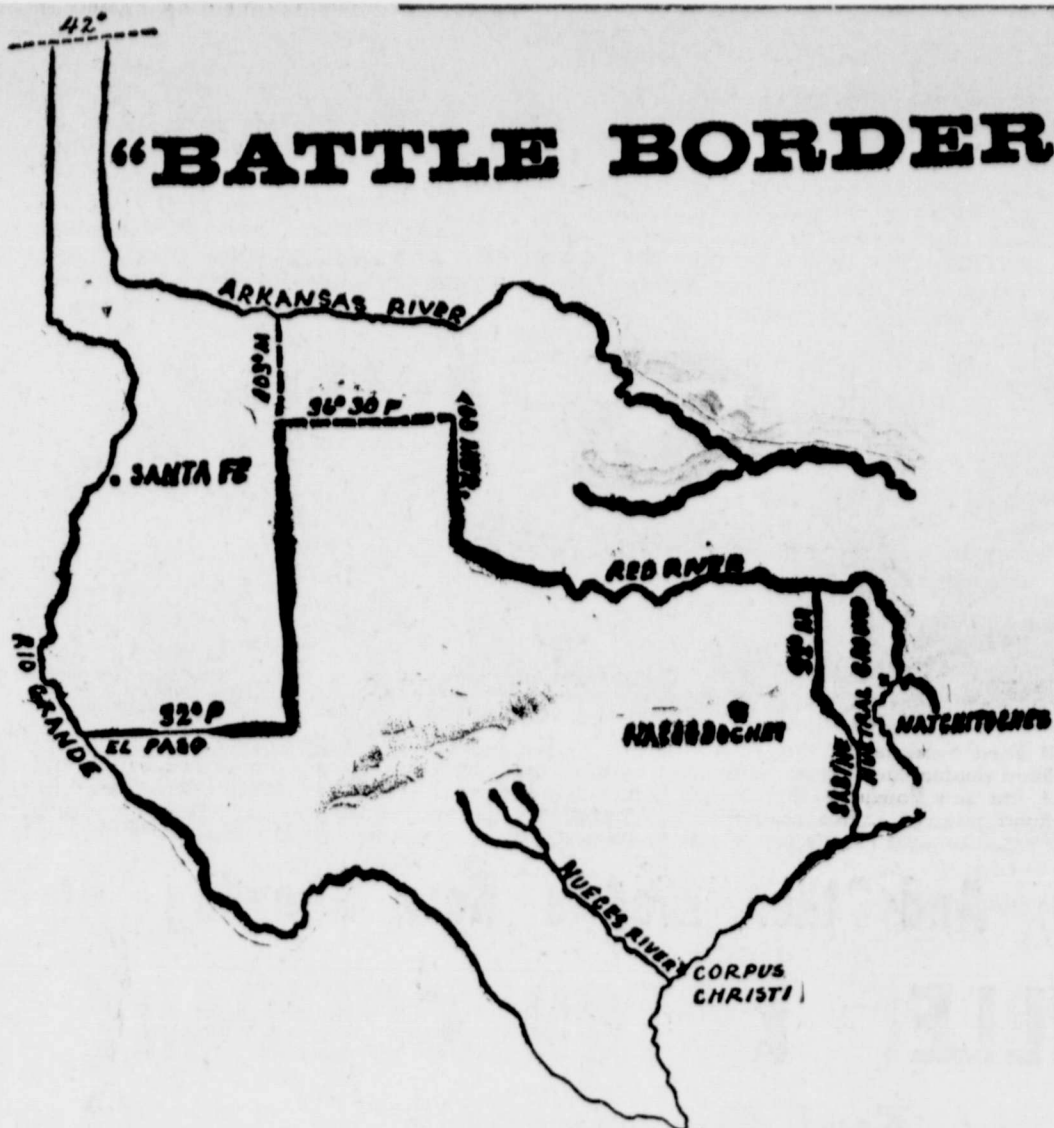

The Attorney General, a dedicated Texas historian, looks at the overall picture.

"The cold facts are, regardless of motive, that down through the years there has been bite after bite attempted on our territory," Wilson says.

"The worst and most tenacious of these land biters has been the federal government."

The first conflict arose along the East Texas-Louisiana line between the kingdoms of Spain and France in 1716.

Both nations claimed the Texas area. Each had military forces ready to take action.

While the diplomats wrangled overseas, the French and Spanish on the spot settled the dispute. They agreed on the Arroyo Hondo, a tributary of the Red River between the Sabine and Old Natchitoches.

Then, in 1803, the United States bought Louisiana territory hazy as to the extent of land involved.

President Thomas Jefferson claimed the Rio Grande as the western boundary.

Spain contended it did not extend west of Los Adaes, a Spanish mission on the site of present day Robeline, La.

As a result U.S. troops moved into Louisiana, drove the Spanish from Los Adaes and made general preparations for war.

Again local men of war hammered out an agreement. The Spaniards would keep west of the Sabine River and the Americans east of the Arroyo Hondo.

"This created the famous 'Neutral Ground', a strip between Arroyo Hondo and the Sabine, responsible to no one," Wilson points out.

"Overgrown with dense pine forest this was a natural refuge for some wild characters—adventurers, fugitives and outlaws. They played for keeps."

"The wildness is gone now but the old neutral ground has generated a tradition all its own and a breed of independent people whose names and deeds wrote Texas history."

"Today trees cut from the old neutral ground are used to make paper for Time, Inc., a national weekly magazine with its own tart brand of independence. The natives grin and say that the spirit of those first Texas tourists seem to soak right through the paper into the print of Time."

Kinsmen of these neutral ground settlers "borried" a cannon from the Mexicans. When they demanded its return, the Texans loaded it with powder and the undisputed authority of horseshoes, raised the flag with the dare "come and Take It," and fought the battle of Gonzales.

In 1819 diplomats signed a treaty settling the boundary between the United States and Spain—the western banks of the Sabine to its intersection with the 32nd parallel and then due north to the Red River.

Congress in 1848, moved the line from the river bank eastward to the Sabine River's middle channel where it lies to this day.

However, Wilson observes: "Before this line was moved to the middle of the river it ran along the western bank of the Sabine to a point near Southeast of Carthage, went north overland until it reached the Red River."

"Congress moved the river running portions of the line eastward to mid-stream with no provision as to what course it would take northward from the Carthage area overland to Red River."

"Consequently there is a strip of land about 150 feet wide and some 70 miles long between Texas and Louisiana that the turn of events has left shadowed with doubt," Wilson points out.

Paper can now be made from all cellulose fibers which come from wood, linen, paper, rayon, etc., But, in 1955 wood pulp and waste paper comprised 96 per cent of the raw material for new paper.

Heart O' Texas Fair—Waco, Oct. 6-10

By Donald J. Sobol

In the kitchen of his restaurant, The Lobster Joint, the body of Al Peltz lay covered by a police blanket.

"Al was too generous," sobbed Mrs. Peltz, the wife of the murdered man. "He fed every hobo who came to the door."

"We think robbery was the motive," said Sheriff Monahan gently. "Your husband's pockets were empty. Did he normally carry a lot of cash?"

"About $200," replied Mrs. Peltz. "I think that fellow in the khaki shirt must have done this terrible thing. Five minutes before I discovered Al's body, I came into the kitchen to pick up an order for table six. Al was talking to this man — why, that's him!"

An unshaven little man wearing a dirty khaki shirt suddenly broke away from the crowd of curious onlookers outside the kitchen door. The sheriff shouted to a deputy who collared the fugitive and hauled him before Mrs. Peltz.

"Look, lady, I was here," the man gasped in fright. "But I didn't do nothin'. The fella with the apron said he'd give me something to eat. He put a big lobster into the pot and told me to come back in 20 minutes."

bluff coming back here. Now where did you hide the money?" "I don't know nothin' about any money," wailed the man. I wouldn't lie."

"What innocent person needs to," said Haledjian with a sigh.

"And yet a whopper has been told in this room."

The man snapped the chef's head and Al would not have broiled only after they'd been broiled into the pot. Lobsters turn red he said Al put a big red lobster in the pot.

Election Reporters Honored

DALLAS, TEX., Oct. 9 (AP)—Loyalty is the mark of the men and women who gather the votes for the Texas Election Bureau. This year the bureau honored 65 of its election correspondents for long service—nine of them for 40 years of faithful reporting. The bureau is the unofficial agency which counts the votes on election night. It is supported by the newspapers and radio stations which tell the public the election story.

The official count is made many days after the election. It has always borne out, and almost duplicated, the unofficial figures.

The nine given special certificates for 40 years as election correspondents are:

Joe Leonard and C. H. Leonard vice president and president respectively of the Gainesville Daily Register; J. C. Howerton, Cuero Record; C. E. Manly, Cotulla Record; Joe E. Webb, Madisonville; L. A. Wortham, editor of the Corsicana Sun; Jack Allen, Perryton; R. H. Nichols, editor and publisher of the Vernon Record; and Sam Fore, Jr., Publisher of the Floresville Chronicle-Journal.

R. L. Johnson, manager of the bureau, says there are many newspapers which have reported returns since the bureau was organized, with the actual reporting chore handled by various personal. But no one individual served as election correspondent in the cases of 49 daily newspapers which Johnson describes as "the backbone of the organization."

Seven certificates for 35 years of service were awarded to: H. S. Hilburn, the Plainview Herald; Barry Scobee, Fort Davis; Jack R. Davis, Boerne; W. P. Cameron, Mineral Wells Index; Joe Pinson, Clarksville Times; William McMurray, Cold Spring, and Mrs. Ruby Robertson, Brenham Banner-Press.

Honored for 30 years were E. Sprinkle, Claude; Cary Legett, Port Lavaca; Albert Law, Dalhart Texan; Homer Steen, Floyd County Hesperian, Floydad; Millard Cope, publisher, Marshall News Messenger; J. C. Smyth, publisher, Liberty Vindicator; L. B. Smith, publisher, Brady Standard; T. P. Simpson, Ballinger Ledger, and S. D. Liles, Throckmorton.

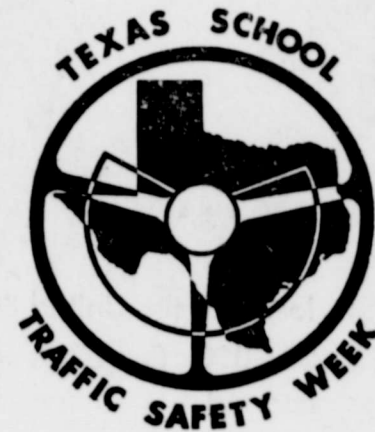

For 25 years service, these 26 were honored: Sam M. Smith, Andrews; Alvin Meissner, Bellville; R. E. Standifer, Bastrop Advertiser; J. W. Frazer, Alpine; Morris Higley, publisher, Childress Index; W. Mat Jones, Coryell County News, Gatesville; C. C. McKinney, Cooper; J. T. Patman, Clarendon; Rufus Higgs, president, Stephenville Empire; W. H. Byru, Marlin Democrat; John L.
