Captain R. W. Stearman Decorated For Vietnam Duty

HAMPTON, Va. -- U. S. Air Force Captain Ralph W. Stearman, son of Mrs. Virgie E. Stearman, 114 East 15 Street, Owensboro, Kentucky, was recently decorated with two awards of the distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) at Langley AFB, Virginia.

He now holds four awards of the medal. The captain earned his third DFC for extraordinary achievement on November 17, 1967, when he led a flight of F-105 Thunderchief aircraft against a heavily defended military target in North Vietnam. In spite of heavy anti-aircraft fire and numerous surface-to-air missiles (SAM) emplacement.

While flying a dangerous SAM suppression mission against a vital railroad bridge in a heavily defended area of the North, he successfully conducted a combat test of newly devised system designed to reduce the effectiveness of anti-aircraft artillery in heavily defended target areas.

The captain is currently serving at Tactical Air Command headquarters at Langley.

A 1955 graduate of Owensboro High School, Captain Stearman received a B. S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Kentucky in 1960 and was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program the same year.

His wife, Patty, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Caldwell, Route 1, Gatesville, Texas.

Hornets Face Powerful Rockdale Tonight

The Gatesville Hornets face the Rockdale Tigers in McKemie Stadium tonight and are the most unpredictable team in the district. The Hornets have the potential to win against any team in the district this season.

The Hornets have a 2-3-1 win, loss, tie record the same as the fabulous Green Bay Packers had prior to the Monday night mauling of Dallas. Maybe the Hornets can pull together as the Packers did to win against Rockdale.

Food for Thought

by Mrs. B. A. Snoddy

"Thus saith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool; where is the house that ye build unto me? And where is the place of my rest? For all those things hath mine hand made; and all those things have been said: saith the Lord; but to him that will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit; and trembleth at my word"; Isaiah 66: 1 and 2.

Bible students know that the man Saul, was at one time King over Israel; in fact, he was the first King over Israel; he was a choice young man, and there was not among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he, I Samuel 9:2. And God was with him, and blessed him, as long as he kept the commandments of the Lord, but being self-willed and rebellious, God took the Kingdom away from him, and appointed Samuel, the Prophet to anoint another King over Israel. The Lord made Samuel to know that a man named Jesse, had eight sons, among whom was the one, God had chosen. The sons passed before Samuel, one by one, but the Lord rejected each one, and finally, Eliab, came, and Samuel thought surely this is the one, for he was tall and handsome, but the Lord refused him, too, saying, "The Lord seeth not, as man seeth, for man looked on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." I Samuel 16:7.

Modern man seems to judge a person by how much education they have, how well they can dress, what a good personality they have, or perhaps how much property they own, but God doesn't look on us, like man does. God is looking for that man who has a contrite spirit, and contrite means: broken down with sorrow for sin; humbly and thoroughly penitent. Websters New Collegiate Dictionary and God's word also says He is looking for that man who trembled at His word.

We seem to have gotten to a time when people have the attitude that; This is my life, I'll live it as it pleases me!

In Paul's letter to Timothy he told him to "Preach the word, for the time would come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables". II Timothy 4:2-4. When God said: "Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways." Psalms 128:1. He meant what He said.

"And who-so-ever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted, Matthew 23:12.

Jesus own words: "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God". John 3:3.

"Who-so-ever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." John 3:15.

"He that believeth on Him is not condemned, but he that believeth not is condemned already". John 3:18. Did you know that the "unbeliever" is classed with the abominable, the murderers, and liars, and shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire, and brimstone? Revelations 21:8.

Does this make you have a contrite spirit, and tremble at God's word?

The word of God teaches that "He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also, so to walk, even as He walked". I John 2:6.

"Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time: casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you, Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." I Peter 5: 6-8.

The following scripture should make us search our hearts, and to become contrite, and tremble at God's word: "Behold the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgement upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him." Jude 14 and 15.

"And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: And the books were opened: And another book was opened, which is the book of life: And the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works." Revelations 20: 12 and 13.

Our lives will be judged by the things written in the books of the Bible. We don't have to be smart to know whether or not we measure up to the written word, Is it not time to have a contrite spirit, and to fear and tremble at God's standard in His word?

Plant Operation Specialist at Oglesby Receives Work Proficiency Award

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Howard C. Insall, plant operations specialist for the Oglesby water and sewage control system. The citation reflects the regard in which Insall is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers. State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state. The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Insall's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

RONNIE GRIGGS FILLS PULPIT

Filling the pulpit at Evant United Methodist Church, Sunday evening, was Ronnie Griggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Griggs, Evant. A graduate of Evant school, former service man of the Armed Forces, teacher of Sunday school classes and former Superintendent of Evant United Methodist Church, as well as one active in Methodist Youth Fellowship work, young Griggs, has always held a warm place in the hearts of his associates. He is now employed in Hamilton.

Choosing his subject, "Rebel for God", he handled it well in keeping with the view of approaching life, to live it fully, to live it as a responsible individual and to always bear the right label.

Rev. George Matthews, pastor of Evant United Methodist Parish, himself especially interested in youth, complimented the young speaker on the ability in which he handled the service and added that only a youth could be capable of such forceful expressions.

Rev. George Matthews conducted the funeral for Lloyd Conner at Bee House Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, at 2:00. Mr. Conner, a lifetime citizen of Bee House Community, died at his home, unexpectedly Friday night. Although his health had been broken for several years, he had been able to attend to some work and business for several months.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and one son, Don, who had just returned home from duty in Vietnam. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Tom Conner, four sisters and one brother.

EVANT'S FALL FESTIVAL FOR SATURDAY EVENING

The annual fun night, sponsored by P. T. A. for the benefit of the school of Evant, will be the highlight of the weekend, as the set time is Saturday evening, November 3. Each grade is responsible for booths and part of the general entertainment, with an added "spook house" arrangement especially prepared by P. T. A. members. The gymnasium will open at 6:00 for those who want to come early and remain for the Coronation. The seniors plan an elaborate interval of interest when the queens will be crowned from both the Elementary and High School classes.

Come and support the school. If the Governor's Committee should happen to be present, they just might notice our attitude is showing! If our attitude is good, we want everyone to see it; it just could be a matter of helping retain Evant's School a few more years.

FROST AND LIGHT LAYERS OF ICE SEEN NEAR EVANT

In spite of the limit of it, some light frost and thin coats of ice has been in evidence in the Evant vicinity, already. On cars which have stayed out all night or tender vegetation, which is easily "burned" by "Jack Frost" traces of low temperature has left its marks. Weather-wise, traces of dust that indicate the driest season in 1968, are highly in evidence everywhere. Some streams cease to flow, for the first time since the early rains came nearly a year ago.

NEW LINES FOR L.C.R.A.

In the Evant area recently was J. R. Simmons, Right of Way and Land Agent, employed by Lower Colorado River Authorities, seeking location for power lines between Evant and Goldthwaite. Mr. Simmons was gaining permission to survey for the new lines, which is expected to begin taking their place about the first of the year.

Having purchased the five acre plot three miles south of Evant, on Highway 84, known as the Nina Dutton property, a substation will be constructed on this site. Landowners giving right to cross their property will be paid for each hole drilled for posts at the rate of fifteen dollars and up, depending on whether it is grass or field land that is used.

HARVEST DINNER SET FOR EVANT METHODISTS

Plans began Sunday evening, for a Harvest Dinner, in the Fellowship Hall in Evant's United Methodist Church, which will begin at 5:30, November 23, with tickets being sold in advance. Others may be purchased at the door, for $1.25 for adults and 75¢ for children. A food and arrangement committee will be named at a meeting called for Sunday evening, November 3 after church services. At this time, many details connected with the plans concerning the entire Parish will be worked out. Entertainment for the evening will include singing.

NEW TIME CHANGES CONCERNING EVANT CHURCHES

With the "falling back" of the time, news concerning time changes of evening church services, in Evant is brought to our attention. Evant United Methodist Church has set their times of meeting up exactly an hour. This means M. Y. F. BEGINS AT 7:30 and evening worship at 6:30.

The Baptist Church has set the time change for November 17, as they have an automatic time change that operates four times annually. Since the Church of Christ conducts an evening service for patients in January Care Home at 6:00 each Sunday their usual hour of 7:00 will continue.

ANOTHER "FAVORITE SON" NAMED FOR EVANT

In research for outstanding former students of Evant school, another has been named, which can be called anyone's "favorite son". Brought to our attention is H. C. "Hank" Avery, Midland, son of Mrs. H. C. Avery, former student and former teacher of Evant school. While his mother taught, he was a student here; and from here he has made several noteworthy strides. Three times mayor of Midland, he retired from that position last April. An independent oil operator and former architect, he is now owner and operator of the old Jim Duncan Ranch in Jeff Davis County, which reaches from 25,000 acres in scope. The land is located some twenty miles north of Fort Davis, and was passed to Mrs. J. C. Duncan from her father, who settled it in 1883. No small wonder it took, even the persuasive speaker he is, ten months to bring negotiations about for the exchange of over a million dollars for the ownership of so many family memories.

EVANT VOTING PLACE CHANGED

Notice has been announced of the change in location of Hamilton County's voting place for Evant community. This election (November 5) will be conducted in the Durwood Crecy Garage on Highway 84, according to Bill Smith, Election Judge.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL HORTON HAVE NEW GREAT GRANDCHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Horton are announcing the birth of their thirteenth great-grandchild, born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barton Jr., Gatesville, on Sunday, in the Coryell Memorial Hospital, a daughter, Seabena. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barton, of Gatesville; while the maternal grandmother is Mrs. Laura Benningfield, also of Gatesville. Mrs. Horton said the child weighed over seven pounds.

RELATIVES OF EVANT RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Altus Gordon called, Monday morning to relate that two of her uncles had died last week. Dr. Arlie Drake, Lubbock, died Saturday and is being buried in Lubbock. He was a brother of Mrs. Edith Newsom, Evant. He was a retired dentist, and his wife survives him. Last Monday, Mr. Leslie Newsom, Joshua, was seriously burned; death came on Thursday as result. He is survived by his wife, the former Millie Sheridan and a grown family. He was buried in Green Acres Cemetery, near Joshua on Saturday. Both Mr. Newsom and his wife will be remembered by Coryell County fellow natives. Dr. Drake was a native of Hamilton County.

MRS. GRIGGS IN HOSPITAL

Undergoing surgery Saturday, in Hamilton County General Hospital, was Mrs. Claud Griggs, first grade teacher, in Evant school. She taught through Thursday, as she has for over fifteen years, in the Evant school. Mrs. Effie Barkley held her class Friday. The Griggs' will appreciate mail from their many friends.

MRS. BRINEGAR TO JOIN HUSBAND IN VIETNAM

To leave for Germany, about November 6, is Mrs. Estajeter Brinegar, wife of Spec. 4 Mike B. Brinegar, who has made her home in the Baptist Parsonage, Evant, since August. Stationed near Frankfurt, Spec. 4 Brinegar is a medic engaged with Ambulance Train Rail Number 31. His wife expects to be near him, in Germany for at least a year. He has already been overseas since March of 1968.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stinson and Mrs. Velma Nowlin, Freer and Gatesville, visited with Mrs. Frank Lee last week a few days and helped her move. She has formerly had an apartment with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, since her husband has been in the January Care Home. She is now occupying the house owned by Mrs. Henley White.

Mrs. Taylor Williams is home, and doing as well as she can after several days in Kings Daughters Hospital, Temple. Her surgery has been postponed indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Adams and Larry Carroll visited in the C. A. Adams Jr. home, in Odessa during the Permian Oil Show and enjoyed both the show and being in the home of the Adams' son and family. Mrs. Fred Shave has just returned from a two weeks visit with her son Nelson, and family in Hamlin. While there, they visited in Midland with the Wilson Shaves, Nelson and wife brought her home over the weekend, and their son, Freddie, who is a dental student in Dallas, met them in Hamilton for a visit.

A guest in Mrs. Fred Shave's home and that of the J. Y. Hamilton's, over the weekend was Mrs. Eula Rhodes, Lyons, Texas.

Much improved is Mrs. L. W. Wigley, with the promise with the good indications of continued gain in health, she will be coming home soon, from Scott and White Hospital.

Mrs. Eustace Harris is a patient in Scott and White Hospital, Temple. Reports are that her daughter, Mary Jane, is considerably improved in health. This is the first word we have had from them in some time.

Mr. C. B. Martin is at home, following surgery to correct an eye condition.

Mrs. Cleo Price is recovering from foot surgery at Mexia General Hospital, in Mexia. She enjoys her mail, too. Phil Flatt, Grandson of Mrs.

Anon Flatt, drove down Saturday night to surprise her by spending the weekend. One need not be surprised, however; seldom does as nice a grandson and grandmother own each other, anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kreid and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and sons spent Sunday with Mrs. Willie Smith, Fort Worth. Herman Kreid suffered a broken rib in a farm accident recently. While plowing, he made a "careless move" (he stated) and fell from his tractor.

In stopping by the Langford Cemetery Sunday to take a picture of the grave of the Mr. Carter, who was killed by Indians in 1861, we took note of all the graves being recently filled in and rounded up with light colored soil. The entire cemetery has been cleaned and the peaceful appearance it made under the calm sky of a sabbath noon, lays claims of unpleasant thinking aside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mason cousins of Mr. Vernon Mason, from California, payed the Masons a visit recently. They were traveling in a self maintained style, having driven through in their pickup-house, which was far more convenient than the covered wagon, which was the first "mobile homes" on record.

Word has been received from the Willie Lovins family after reaching their new station in Florida. The card indicates they are at Patrick Air Force Base, at Cocoa Beach, and when they move into their new home, it will be right on the beach. William likes the "sand and sun" his mother writes, and she thinks she will enjoy living there, but confesses to missing her good friends and neighbors, in Evant....The feeling is mutual!

Mrs. Kate Wilhite is home and feeling better following a car wreck, on rain-slick highway a few weeks ago. No bones were broken, but both she and her brother and family were bruised severely when the car overturned. We understand the incident occurred in the vicinity of Stephenville.

Card of Thanks

The concern each of you has shown for all of us, during this long time of illness and death of our loved one, will never be forgotten. Every visit, letter or card, phone call, the food, flowers and other gifts, every helpful deed, kind word and especially your prayers have helped sustain us. We again say a heartfelt, "Thank You for everything" to each of you.

The family of Roy Stovall

Card of Thanks

When in time of need after the loss of a loved one, Mr. John Lloyd Conner, the unexpected courtesy, the thoughtful and kindly deeds of friends and loved ones were deeply appreciated. May God richly bless you all. Mrs. Margaret Conner and Don Mrs. Nellie Conner and Edwina Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner and Family Mr. and Mrs. Allen Carrigan Mr. and Mrs. William Upham Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith and Sons

Card of Thanks

To all my friends and neighbors who wrote and sent cards and the "home paper", as well as to Rev. and Mrs. George Matthews who so kindly visited me, and for all prayers and attentions while I was in Kings Daughters Hospital, Temple, I want to say a heart-felt thanks. May God bless each of you, Mrs. Taylor Williams

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT REPORT

Bits of Bread or "Crumbs of Wisdom" works wonders in many dishes. Keep bread crumbs and cubes in labeled jars or cans, ready to use on a moments notice.

Bread has budget-stretching qualities: all of it can be eaten. Don't throw away the end-pieces; many people think they are the choice part of a loaf of bread; or the end pieces can be added to the crumb container.

Wrapping and storage conditions help maintain bread freshness. Bread is staling when it loses flavor and aroma, increases in firmness and crumbliness and develops a harsh texture. Always keep bread wrapped. Keep it in a bread box that has ventilation.

Bread can be kept in the refrigerator but it stales more rapidly. Store in the freezer it will maintain its freshness.

Bennington is flagship for Commander, Anti-Submarine Warfare Group Three.

Do not neglect the gift you have. —(Tim. 4:14).

HORNETS' NEST

Jim Williams, Editor

Vol. 1

Last week, the Hornets were the victims of a surprising upset by the Copperas Cove Bulldogs. Surprising because it is obvious that the Hornets were the better team. What happened then? Copperas Cove came to play; Gatesville didn't. The Bulldogs really wanted to win that game over their cross-country rivals, and they played by far their best game of the season. As for the Hornets, they are capable of beating any team in this district -- if they really want to. Last week they just didn't have what it took. They will have to really play ball tonight if they hope to beat Rockdale.

JoAnn Winslar, and Ramona Thorp. Band president, Mike Dixon will present a bouquet of flowers and a kiss to the winner. Lucky devil!

What Makes

America Great
by Lynn Henson

On November 3, 1952, Dwight Eisenhower quoted, "America is great because she is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

What makes America great: her large cities, her high mountains, or her bomb factories? Americans are what makes America great.

Americans are great because they have a heritage to be proud of. Our nation was started for the people and not the people for the government. We are great because we have freedom of choice, speech, religion, and etc. Americans are great because America demands greatness of her citizens.

Goodness is also expected of the American citizens. In the twentieth century instead of goodness, people have turned to violence and crime. The majority of American people do possess the qualities of goodness and greatness.

Even though we have faults, we are still nice folks. The highest compliment we can give a person is by calling him "A real American." "Most of the world is itching for what we have -- but they'll never have it until they start scratching for it the way we did."

Dear Mr. Ed,
Why do the television networks not show the heckling that Nixon and Humphrey are getting.

Dear Wallace,
Don't you think the newspapers do a pretty good job without television rubbing it in more.

Your getting heckled too, friend.
Mr. Ed,

Mr. Ed Editor Notes
A letter was received by me this week, which I and Coryell County News consider unprintable. It was written against some of the Gatesville High School faculty and administration.

Letters of this sort will not be printed. Mr. Ed letters are for fun and for problems one may have, not school rules.

Dear Mr. Ed,
I don't have any problems. What should I do?

Mr. Ed,

Dear Mr. Ed,
I am a senior in the High School, who knows karate and practice almost every day. I try to get into a fight with everybody, but no one will fight me. My girl friend runs around with other boys, but when I ask them to fight they won't fight me. What should I do?
Hi Karate

Dear Hi K.,
It sounds to me that all the boys you have faced are pretty smart. Nobody wants to fool around with a karate expert. You may as well drop that girl and forget about picking fights. You could get into trouble. I would like to meet you, I've never met a high school student who could honestly say he knew karate.

The Olympic Demonstration

by Jim Williams

The 1968 Olympics in Mexico City, recently concluded, were marred by an incident that sent repercussions around the world. Tommie Smith, who won the 200 meter event in world record time, and his U. S. team mate John Carlos, who finished third in the same event, each wore a black glove and black socks with no shoes. As they mounted the victory stand to receive their medals, they stood with clenched, upraised fists, and bowed heads as the National Anthem was played. Smith later explained in a television interview that the black gloved fists represented black power and black unity, and the black socks worn without shoes represented poverty. The actions of Smith and Carlos were courageous and understandable. However, it is unfortunate that they chose the Olympics as the sight of their demonstration. The Olympic Games should be a meeting-place of the greatest amateur athletes of the world, with no political or racial activities interfering with the sportsmanship and brotherhood that exist between them.

Of far greater effect would be a boycott of a professional sport such as pro football or basketball, where many times the black athletes are the big stars of the team. This would hit the white establishment where it really hurts -- in the pocketbook.

It is not hard though to understand the position of Smith and Carlos who, once they had performed, would return to the U. S. and be forgotten by the country they had brought glory to. When they returned they would also witness the injustices that their race is subjected to. With this in mind it is easy to see the reasons for their demonstration. Tommie Smith summed up the feelings of himself and other black athletes in a television interview following the incident. Smith told sports commentator, Howard Cosell that he was proud to be black. Cosell, in an attempt to antagonize him, asked him if he was proud to be an American. Tommie calmly replied, "I'm proud to be a black American."

Play Clay Politics

Election time is close at hand and politics is the topic of conversation. For your gatherings, whether political or not, show that you are involved; display political decorations molded right in your own kitchen from an inexpensive Play Clay made from corn starch and baking soda. Play Clay: Combine 2 cups (1 pound package) baking soda and 1 cup Argo corn starch in saucepan, mixing thoroughly. Add 1 1/4 cups water. Mix. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture reaches a moist mashed potato consistency. Turn out on plate; cover with a damp cloth and let stand until cool enough to handle. Knead as you would dough until smooth. Mold play clay over small cans for body of donkey and elephant. Add heads, legs and other details by modeling play clay into proper shapes. Use pencils, small sticks or rolled light-weight cardboard in the center of animals legs to insure sturdiness. Use pipe cleaner to help shape the elephant's trunk and add paper tusks, while clay is still soft. Form the tails with string or cord. Let animals dry at room temperature or on rack in oven which has been preheated to 350°F., then turned off. When dry, paint with water colors or tempera paint.

FFA Entertained with Barbecue

One of the "lighter" sides of the Greenhand Initiation was enjoyed by the entire Future Farmers of America Chapter, Monday night, Mr. Robert Hopson, F. F. A. Advisor entertained the Chapter members with a barbecue on his farm at Mound. Mr. Hopson furnished the barbecue, the boys furnished potato salad, beans, cornbread, and tea. Part of the days of initiation was carried out, however, as the boys being initiated, had to take a trip on the donkey at the Hopson Farm. Jody Davidson, elected by the members before hand, led in prayer before the evening meal. Mike Pate, David Vandiver and Donald Bohne accompanied the boys on their guitars, as they had a "sing-out". Some of the boys stayed to watch the Green Bay Packers win out over the Dallas Cowboys.

If you are the first to submit a question which Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, answers in this column, we will present to you, free, the complete, illustrated, 25-volume set of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia. Mail your questions to Dr. Quizmee in care of this newspaper. This week's winners of the encyclopedia sets are: Nancy Elmore, who asked: "How many people have been elected to the Hall of Fame, and who were the last ones elected?" Elections are held every five years. In 1965, those elected were Jane Addams, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Sylvanus Thayer, and Orville Wright, bringing the total to 93. Elizabeth Jenkins, for asking: "When were mirrors first used and how were they made?" Mirrors of polished brass were mentioned in the Bible. Polished bronze was used by ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans. Glass mirrors of crude construction were first made in Venice in 1300. And German chemist Justus von Liebig was the first to apply a solution of silver to the back of the glass in 1836. Anne Schatz, whose question is: "Why are some states, such as Virginia and Pennsylvania called 'commonwealths'?"

Because at the time that these states — and Kentucky and Massachusetts — joined the Union, they were known as commonwealths. After becoming states of the U.S., they simply chose to keep this designation, possibly to denote their semi-autonomy. Actually, the distinction has little real meaning.

Stand Up For America

WALLACE STANDS ON AID TO ELDERLY

WALLACE STANDS ON FOREIGN TRADE

I'm not against aid to elderly people in this country. I had hoped they would try the Kerr-Mills plan and give it a chance to operate, but they decided not to and Medicare evidently is a fact of life, whether you agree with it or not. I am for aid to the elderly. When people get 75 and 80 years old, that's not give-away, that's humanitarian.

I think you give away when you take the president of a bank and put him on Medicare. Folks who are able to pay their own hospital bills ought to do so, but not elderly people who themselves are unable to pay their own hospital bills.

The old age part of social security is a fact of American life, it's accepted, and if you're against it, you're going to run contrary to the wishes of the overwhelming majority of the people in our country. I'm not against the old age part of social security, I'm for it. But this business of putting everybody on hospital care over 65 regardless of their ability to pay is not good.

WALLACE FOR PRESIDENT

George C. Wallace Needs Your VOTE TO WIN

— NOTICE TO VOTERS —

When you go to the polls November 5, there are some things you need to know. Marvin Griffin is a stand-in for Curtis LeMay on the Wallace ticket. Do not scratch Marvin Griffin's name and write in LeMay. A vote for Griffin is a vote for LeMay.

Take your ball point pen with you and vote in ink only. Do not mark in the boxes at the top of the ballot and do not scratch any names. Put X marks only in the boxes of your choice, so your ballot will be counted and not thrown out.

Hornettes Open Against Robinson

The Gatesville Hornettes Basketball team coached by Gerald Poe will begin a four month season November 4 with the season opener against Robinson High School.

This year's team will have six returning lettermen, Corliss Worthy, Carla Pfeffer, Susan Fry, Margo Veazy, Joy Denny and Debbie Day. Along with these experienced members, Coach Poe has several girls who played last year but did not letter. Last year's B team will add to the depth of the team.

The Hornettes held an inter-team scrimmage Tuesday evening with all players having the opportunity to perform. Coach Poe remarked that the girls were shooting well for this early in the year. The top offensive threesomes scored an approximate 45% of their field goal attempts.

Coach Poe was pleased with the shooting percentage and pointed out that teams win ball-games with 45 percent shooting averages.

The Hornettes will defend their District Championship this season against Copperas Cove and Rockdale. Last season the Hornettes suffered a overpowering defeat in regional and will be out to redeem themselves.

Farmer Cooperatives Benefit Entire State

Due to the progress Texas agriculture producers have made in increasing their farm income through self-owned cooperatives, Governor John Connally has proclaimed October as "Farmer Cooperative Month" in Texas.

The Governor's proclamation reads in part, "Farmer cooperatives have benefited the entire State by increasing farm purchasing power, substantially increasing employment within the State and increasing the tax base in hundreds of our local communities."

As outlined by Bruno E. Schroeder, executive vice president of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, the number of processing, marketing and supply cooperatives in Texas is 511, with the total membership standing at 184,255 farmers and ranchers. Cooperatives in Texas are big business, as shown by the total dollar volume of more than $1 billion.

Texas has 319 cooperative cotton gins, which ginned 52 percent of the cotton produced in Texas last year. There are five cooperative oil mills in the state that crush 50 percent of the cottonseed, and six cooperative cotton compresses that store and compress 45 percent of the cotton produced in Texas. There are two cotton marketing cooperatives that market 40 percent of the cotton produced in the state.

In addition to cotton cooperatives, Texas has 110 cooperatives that store and market 33 percent of the grain produced. Thirteen rice cooperatives handle 55 percent of the rice produced, and dairy cooperatives handle 95 percent of the milk produced in the state.

The 79 rural electric cooperatives in Texas serve 454,415 consumer units. The Houston Bank for Cooperatives, wholly owned and capitalized by Texas cooperatives, annually makes available more than $100,000,000 credit to farmer cooperatives.

Cooperatives, being a large business, must have highly trained personnel to run them. According to Johnny R. Feagan, Extension economist in farm organization, Texas A & M University plays an important part in the role of cooperatives by holding specialized training schools, short courses, and conferences for cooperative personnel. These Schools offer training in accounting, as well as member and public relations. A & M also offers special training for students interested in the field of cooperatives, and research workers study problems and make suggestions for improving organization, business methods and services.

Cooperatives will continue to grow, believes Feagan, because they are filling the needs of those they serve.

Make your vote count

On November 5th, you will help select the political leaders of this nation for the next four years. It is a most critical time.

Things are in a mess: Tax money is poured down rat hole after rat hole as government deficits pile up. Inflation is robbing your dollar. Costs are sky-high. Farm Parity is at a depression low. The courts are under attack. Streets are no longer safe. Crime and violence are flaring. Bureaucracy is ballooning. And even our young people are rebelling against the nation's leadership.

Overseas, our prestige is sagging badly. Foreigners don't trust our money anymore. And a third-rate country is allowed to run us ragged through the jungles of Southeast Asia with no end in sight.

If ever this nation needed a new breath of leadership, a new spirit of respectability, and an uplift, it's now. We need to start uphill again.

Mr. Humphrey has been one of the architects, an adviser and a star performer in this Administration. Just a little over a year ago, he reminded a meeting of the nation's farm editors, with some little pride, that it was the Johnson-HUMPHREY Administration.

We're afraid that another four years with Mr. Humphrey would be too much like the last four. Even the changes he has talked about in the campaign lean toward more spending and bigger federal programs.

Lately, Mr. Humphrey has been painted as an unwilling partner in the present Administration. This we doubt.

When, during the last four years, has he protested—about Vietnam, farm policies or spending? If he was an unwilling partner, he has greatly weakened himself by bowing and kow-towing to the President too long.

How is a man who has shown this trait for four years going to stand up to Mr. Kosygin? How could he expect to lead Congress? How could he galvanize the country into action when he can't hold his own party together?

Mr. Humphrey is not the man who can turn this country around at this critical time.

Much has been said about the "new" Nixon, as if he has suddenly developed a new "sex appeal." We don't observe this—and it's just as well. We ought to select a President for something more than the way he smiles or combs his hair.

When you go to bed at night you want to know that your country is in good hands. That the President is experienced, capable, and stable. That his judgment is sound. That he stands for what is right.

We do see this about the Nixon of 1968: Listen to what he says and you can't help but be impressed with his common sense, good judgment and directness. He's sound, calm, reasoned and fair. We can't recall a Presidential candidate coming better equipped for the office. He's more mature and better qualified than he was in 1960, and the country will be better off for it.

We think that the people will rally around Mr. Nixon and his cabinet. And we think that the nation ought to elect a Republican Congress that will back them and make some changes. The times call for a strong new team. We believe that Democrats are justified in leaving their own party to vote this November—their own leadership has let them down.

Now what about Mr. Wallace? He is a fighter who says things simply and quickly the way many like to hear it. He's a "give 'em hell" kind of guy—and how he does give it to them!

But then you wonder: Would he really have the backing in Congress to make the changes this country needs? Would he have the support of enough people? Would he have the prestige abroad? Could he unite the country? One has overwhelming doubts.

Then there's the plain hard fact that he isn't going to win the election. Even if he forces it into the House of Representatives, he isn't going to win there. Even his supporters agree to that; Wallace must know it.

To Wallace boosters, we suggest this: Go on admiring Mr. Wallace and his spunk if you like, but make your vote count. If you want a change, vote for one. A vote for Mr. Wallace is a vote for no change. It helps Mr. Humphrey by taking a vote away from Mr. Nixon—the one man who can help turn this country around.
