GATESVILLE FATHER AND SON TEAM WIN DUAL HONORS IN NATIONAL SHOW

RICHARD FRY
National Roping Champion

Richard Fry, 20, of Gatesville captured the National Appaloosa Championship Show Roping Championship mounted on Rustler Charger, July 12, 1969.
Richard won the championship roping two calves one in 13.7 seconds and the other in 15.0 seconds.

A father and son combination from Gatesville won dual honors at the National Appaloosa Horse Show held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in early July.

In the National show, Jack Fry, 40, of Fort Gates won the National Championship in Reining for the second consecutive year.

Fry, a veteran of 12 years of horse training, was a performer for ten years prior to his training efforts.

Fry is well-known to National Championship audiences having come close to a national win in 1966 and taking the title in the 1968 competition, in the Oklahoma City National Appaloosa Championship Horse Show.

Fry's son, Richard, 20, won the National Calf Roping Championship at the Louisiana show.

Richard, a student at Tarleton State College in Stephenville, competes on that school's National Interscholastic Rodeo Team.

"RUSTLER CHARGER"

Both Fry and his son were mounted on "Rustler Charger", a four year old Appaloosa Stallion owned by the Glory Bee Ranch, Glada and Bill Sanders of Leander.

The National's attract horses from all sections of the country and competition was just as "stiff" this year.

"There were 733 entries in the National Show so competition was very keen, but Jack and Richard did an exceptionally fine job in winning these awards," said William E. Sanders of the Glory Bee Ranch.

City Considers Annexation Of State Road Area

CITY COUNCIL HIRES NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER

The City Council has hired Benny R. Wallace as assistant city manager.

Wallace, 24, of Hillsboro will work with City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy probably to later become City Manager, when Mr. Lovejoy retires.

Mayor Bob Miller noted Thursday that Lovejoy wanting to retire in the near future, but not before a replacement could be trained.

Miller noted that Wallace has

The City Council is considering annexation of an area north of Gatesville, along Highway 36.

Discussion of possible annexation began Tuesday night at the regular council meeting.

Estimates are that by mid-August, Gatesville will be providing expanded water service to the area. Mayor Miller noted Thursday that nearly all city services are presently provided to the area.

The council has moved to include platting of the proposed annexation into the Master Plan program which will map the city and research other important dates concerning Gatesville.

Discussions Tuesday night lead to no definite conclusions on the annexation question, but possibly the state schools could be taken into the city.

Mayor Miller cited increase in population as a factor in considering possible annexation. No figures are presently available concerning the population of the area.

President of the State Road Water Corporation, G. E. Clark estimated Thursday that presently the annexation would not be well received in the area due to past lack of action by city administrations. He cited a three year struggle to get better water pressure in the area.

Another area resident reported annexation would be acceptable, however, he estimated that a key factor would be the city's ability to provide sewage service to the area.

A $50,000 grant is presently being sought by the residents of the area to help provide sewage to the area.

Recently the city began work to furnish the State Road residents with adequate water pressure.

A new 8" water line is being constructed from the pumping station on North 9th to connect with the state road system a distance of 1854 feet. City Manager Eiland Lovejoy noted this week that part of the pipe has already been put at the job site and the balance should be received shortly. Lovejoy estimates that the project could be completed by mid-August, barring any weather delays.

County Grain Harvest Estimated At 60 Percent

Clois Stone, Office Manager for the ASCS in Gatesville, noted this week that early grain sorghum yields were very low this year.

Stone noted, "the highest yield reported to date is approximately 1800 pounds per acre, far below the county's yield average (2250 pounds per acre)."

Stone estimated that yields would probably average between 1100-1300 pounds per acre. He estimated that this season would be about "60 percent of a crop."

Rep. Salter estimated that the appropriations bill could be completed in two weeks work. The Special Session is set to run 30 days and Salter noted that many legislators were interested in working on about 50 bills which were vetoed by Smith. Salter cited legislation to create new district courts in some section of the state needing to be passed this session.

The $300 million tax bill represents a four percent increase over previous operating expenses for the State ($6 billion).

FORMER TEACHERS LEVEL CHARGES AT MV PERSONNEL

New cries of brutality at the Mountain View School For Boys were leveled at school administrators and personnel, Wednesday at a special press conference in a Waco church.

Two ex-teachers at the school, Bob Carrol, former instructor, and John McBride, a suspended instructor, accused several youth activity supervisors and an academic administrator of brutal incidents.

Carrol and McBride made their statements to newsmen after discussing conditions at the school with State Rep. Vernon Stewart and at a Monday meeting with State Sen. Curtis Graves in Houston.

Rep. Bob Salter of Gatesville was present at the press conference and following opening statements by Carrol and McBride, Salter again asserted that allegations of brutality "have been determined to be untrue by virtually every investigative body available."

Salter's statement, "if they know something, they should go to the court house and file a complaint," is credited with the two instructors decision to attempt to file criminal complaints.

Early Thursday, Rep. Salter again pointed to the court system as the proper method of handling charges of brutality instead of news conferences and big head lines in state and national newspapers.

Salter said, Wednesday, "As long as there are humans involved there will be incidents, but I will never defend brutality at Gatesville or anywhere."

CITY TO BEGIN STREET REPAIR PROGRAM SOON

The Gatesville City Council met Tuesday night and gave the "go ahead" on several street repair programs.

A hearing is scheduled for August 12 for assessment of curb and gutter cost on property owners in the street construction areas.

City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy described the four beginning projects this week as follows: Leon Street will be improved from Park Street, east to 21st Street; Pidoke Street will be improved from Park Street east to Live Oak Street; South Street will be improved from Park Street, east to Live Oak; and the east half of Circle Drive will be improved.

Mayor Bob Miller, reported Thursday that the combined projects would require more money than the City's first sales tax check ($14,000).

Other street projects will be planned and completed as funds become available.

In other construction the city has advertised for bids on construction of a warehouse facility on 23rd Street near the city water tower. The new facility will replace present facilities on 10th Street.

Also the council accepted bids for a new pick up for the water department. Powell Chevrolet bid of $1764.03 plus the old 1954 pick up was the only bid received and it was accepted.

The city's 1969 model patrol car which was damaged in a wreck recently will be repaired at a cost of $1500.

The council okayed installation of a new street light at the corner of Jackson Drive and 28th Street.

The city and county will jointly repair the old Leon River bridge, west of Gatesville. The structure is expected to receive additional traffic during widening of the Highway 84 bridge on Main Street.

SALTER ESTIMATES TAX BILL AT $300 MILLION

Monday, July 28 starts the Special Session for the 61st Texas Legislature in Austin.

Special Session became necessary when Governor Preston Smith vetoed a one-year appropriation bill presented at the end of the regular session.

During the Special Session, legislators will formulate a two-year budget proposal. Rep. Salter of Gatesville estimated this week the tax bill need finance probable appropriations would be in the neighborhood of $300 million.

Salter noted that raising the necessary funds will probably come from a variety of sources. Governor Smith has forwarded several possible "packages" for consideration. Salter noted that in all five "packages" raising of cigarette tobacco tax from $.11 to 12 cents per package would increase revenue $77 million.

Other possible sources of revenue presented for consideration by Smith are: raising

Mrs. Waldine Cummings, wife of W. B. Cummings of Gatesville began Monday morning as the new Chamber of Commerce secretary, replacing Mrs. Jeanette Bell.

Mrs. Cummings lives just south of Gatesville on Highway 36. She worked for the telephone company 13 years before taking the position with the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Bell, wife of Jack Bell, will leave Monday for Athen, Texas where Jack will become first assistant football coach at Athens High School. Mrs. Bell said this week concerning her three and one-half years as chamber secretary, "I'll never work at a job that I like as well as I liked this job."

TOWER ENDORSES NIXON'S ANTI-BALLISTIC MISSILE SYSTEM

The Senate is currently in the throes of debate over President Nixon's proposed Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system.

I strongly support this proposal and I would like to take this opportunity to explain why I believe the Safeguard system is so vital to this nation.

Safeguard would provide anti-ballistic missile defense for our nation's land-based deterrent force of inter-continental ballistic missiles. It is important for us to have this defense capability in order to keep viable our existing deterrent to nuclear warfare in the face of an ever increasing attack capability on the part of our potential enemies.

The measure now before the Senate would provide about three-quarters of a billion dollars so that we can begin the initial steps of ABM deployment.

That is all we are talking about at this time. We are not talking about an outlay of several billions of dollars, and we are not talking about an extensive ABM system designed to directly defend all our cities.

The question whether ABM will actually work is, as yet, unanswered. There is a group of distinguished scientific minds who say that the Safeguard system cannot work because it can too easily be overpowered by an offensive attack and because it is too complex to operate at optimum effectiveness.

An effective ABM could lengthen the time the President of the United States would have to react to indications that a nuclear attack had been launched on this nation.

Right now, we depend upon our retaliatory capability to keep a potentially hostile nation from launching a nuclear attack upon us. If our radars were to detect an approaching incoming nuclear attack, however, our President would have two choices—he could launch our retaliatory force, or he could elect to refrain from retaliation.

There would be a limited number of minutes in which the President could ponder his decision. With an effective and workable ABM, the President would be given a third choice. He would be able to choose to attempt to intercept the attacking missiles. If the ABM system then in operation was effective enough, he might not be required to face the choice of nuclear holocaust.

I want to provide the President with that third choice if it is at all possible.

Another reason for Congressional approval of the proposed Safeguard system is that it would improve our bargaining position in any forthcoming arms control negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made a recent statement which, on the surface at least, seemed to encourage arms control talks. I am hopeful that we can engage in a fruitful arms control discussion.

But we have seen Russian operations in the field of international relations many times before. If Congress decides to reject the proposed Safeguard, I for one will be very surprised if the Soviets do not harden their attitude towards arms control talks. On the other

POAGE SUPPORTS FOOD STAMP BILL

On Tuesday of this week, Secretary Hardin opened the hearings before our committee in regard to an Agriculture and Food Stamp Bill. He placed most of his emphasis on the desirability of greatly increasing the Food Stamp Program. I have always supported the Food Stamp Program. I still support it but I don't believe that it is wise to try to simply outbid everything that anybody has ever previously suggested in the way of aid to the needy, and I do think that if we are to distribute food at prices at which the non-indigent (the masses of our people) can buy it, we are going to have to give our first attention to the production of that food. These hearings will continue and we will give both sides an opportunity to present their views.

Wednesday morning I got up at 3:30 a.m. and went down to Cape Kennedy and witnessed the history-making take-off of our Apollo 11 moon shot. It was awe-inspiring. Although the TV unquestionably gets pictures from better angles than our vantage point, there is simply no substitute for actually seeing the performance of a great enterprise like this. I know we will all be praying that our men are able to take off from the moon as smoothly as they took off from the earth.

Today I am going with members of our committee as the guests of the people of the Panhandle of Texas to visit that great region and especially to see their rapidly developing cattle feeding industry. Our cattlemen have enjoyed a little better price than have other agricultural producers for the last several years but they have not yet reached parity and the public is already blaming cattle producers for the rise in the price of meat at the retail counter. In most instances this retail price has increased much more rapidly than has the price of animals but I would certainly want to warn our cattlemen that if they are to retain the public support, which they deserve, they must be able to continue to supply all of the meat that our consumers want at a reasonable price. This probably means that there must be a very definite increase in the size of our breeding herds.

On Tuesday the House passed a bill to extend and enlarge the Special Assistance Grants to the so-called Appalachian Region. This region runs from Pittsburg to Atlanta and, as I see it, should be considered on the same basis as all of the rest of the United States for government assistance. I, therefore, voted against the bill.

On Thursday we passed legislation to overcome the decision of the Supreme Court which had in effect held that States and local governments could not tax the property of National banks. I think that this property should be taxable on exactly the same terms as anybody else's property. I, therefore, voted for the bill.

In the afternoon, the group were able to explore the old Ernest Kingsbury mansion, from cellar to dome. The old captain's "Lookout" is not as complete as it was originally, but the ten rooms hold many fascinating items for anyone interested in history to see. The winding stair case, hand cut - the walls and fireplaces recently hand finished, by the present occupant, Mrs. Melvin Short, and the antique furniture, gave background for a long memory. This house was built in 1872, in part. Some was erected prior to that, but it is every inch an interesting place and it is a privilege to be permitted a tour of it.

The structure was visited by Mr. Johnnie Watkins, T. V. commentator, a few months ago and was featured on his program, "Ten Acres", from Waco.

The supreme preservation of the wood in the building is quite to be complimented. The pegs and square nails are ever so bright; the tightness of the outer walls that do not emit dust readily is truly to be appreciated in the dry season... And it was amazingly cool that hot day. When fans seemed fitting in everyone's home, not so in the Kingsbury house.

Mr. Kingsbury, a highly talented man, has left pages and pages of hand written material from his frequent lectures, all well preserved in one of the many family trunks. Nor has all the energy ran out in the family, for his daughter is keeping the place perfectly beautiful, including the potplants, garden and flowers in the yard. If Hamilton County ever decides to select one more of its most interesting homes, this should be the choice.

PERSONALS

Dr. and Mrs. James D. Carter, Washington, D. C., are spending their vacation with their mothers, Mrs. Lona Burney and Mrs. Sudie Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey K. Arnold, Gatesville, have presented the Ewant United Methodist Church with nine pew cushions, thus finishing the covering of all pews in the sanctuary.

Mrs. Ora Flatt recently entertained her two aunts, Mrs. Ella Waddill, Pittsburg, and Mrs. Vela McGilvery, Star for several days in her ranch home southwest of Ewant. During their stay, two other nieces, Mrs. Edward Perkins and Mrs. Louis Jackson spent one delightful afternoon visiting with the group.

Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Ora Flatt included Miss

Ollie Eakin, Rising Star and her friend, Lee Parker, Goldthwaite.

Those attending the annual Scott reunion, at Lampasas, last Sunday, who stopped in Ewant to visit Mrs. Odie Faubion included the following: Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Robison, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Scott, McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Townsen, Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Scott, and family, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Scott, Waco. The best news is to relate that Bill Smith did not suffer even a fracture when the tractor he was operating last Friday, broke an axel and let the wheel fall on his leg. His worst discomfort was lying in the heat for three hours, while waiting to be heard by his family, as he called for help. Melvin Horton, local mechanic, hooked his wrecker on to the machinery, relieving him of the weight and he was soon able to walk. As a miracle usually happens, he was not injured badly enough to even have to have his leg professionally dressed.

The very day Mr. Smith suffered his discomfort, Henry Hoskins fell over in a chair in his home, hitting his head against a room divider, and suffered some extreme dizziness and discomfort for several hours from it.

Guests of the A. C. Bertrand home last week included Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bates and daughters, Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bertrand and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bertrand, Pirmela. QUILTING - has become a hobby for Mrs. J. H. Jeffrey of the Mountain Community. Just last winter she pieced four quilts because she enjoys her work.

Mrs. Jeffrey pieced her first quilt back in 1893, when she was only ten years old. Since that first one, she's pieced at least a hundred. She has no favorite patterns -- just likes them all. That first quilt was the prairie flower pattern with the pieces smaller than an inch.

She gives these beautiful quilts for gifts of all occasions.

PEACHES - are one of the many fresh fruits in season at the present so take advantage of the bountiful harvest, for it's here today and gone tomorrow.

Most of us like the peach eaten out of the hand, sweet, juicy and pure bliss. But try this recipe offered by Lone Star Gas Company out of Dallas. It is one that's simple enough for family dinner, dessert, or elegant enough for party refreshment. It's rich and delicious, yet, light and cool to go well with the hot summer weather.

FRESH PEACH CHIFFON PIE:

Soften one envelope, (1 teaspoon) unflavored gelatin in 1/4 cup water. Combine in a sauce pan, 3 slightly beaten egg yolks, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups slightly mashed fresh peaches, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Cook over very low flame until slightly thickened and mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from flame. Stir in softened gelatin until it is dissolved. Cool until moisture begins to set. Add 1/4 teaspoon almond extract. Beat 3 egg whites until stiff but not dry, gradually adding 1/4 cup sugar. Fold egg whites into peach mixture. Pour into a chilled, 9-inch baked pastry shell or crumb crust. Chill until firm. Garnish with additional peaches before serving.

LEE NAPPER - from Pasadena, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Lam Sr., is getting very excited over his grandmother and grandfather's fiftieth wedding anniversary that will be celebrated this coming Sunday. From the time plans were in the beginning and Lee discovered many of the immediate family members would be spending the night, he's wanted to move the date up and get on with it! Isn't this typical of a child? Oh, by the way, Mr. and Mrs. Lam, do have a happy Golden Anniversary!

MRS. J. H. JEFFREY - 87, displays one of many quilt tops she has pieced by hand. This particular pattern is the "prairie flower" and has 3,360 one-inch pieces. It is truly a lovely piece of workmanship and an array of color.

VISITORS IN SNYDER HOME - recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Snyder were her sister, Mrs. Ralph Johns of Worthington, Pennsylvania, and a cousin, Mrs. Wilda Fair of Kiltanning. During their two week stay they had the opportunity to make a trip to Houston where they visited Astroworld, Astro-dome and the Battleship of Texas. Mrs. Snyder reported all had a wonderful time.

OFF TO THE BAHAMAS - Nancy, 22, and Sandra, 19, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lipsey, left Wednesday, July 23, from Dallas by way of Braniff Air Lines on their way to the Bahamas. With a three-hour lay-over in New York, I'm sure the girls didn't have the time for the sightseeing they would have liked; but on to more exciting ground was scheduled. By now they are in the Bahamas, for a week, visiting with close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Huey, who are stationed with the Air Force in St. George.

On their return, they will stop off at Fort Walton Beach, Florida, to spend another week with their brother, Doug. Doug is an electronic technician for Ling Temco Vault.

After this long vacation, the girls will be back in Gatesville for a short time before Sandra enters San Marcos College as a junior this year and Nancy returns to her teaching position in Angleton.

SMILE GIRL - If you are a high school girl and interested in entering the 1969 Heart O' Texas Fair Smile Girl Contest, drop by Coryell County news, and pick up an entry blank.

A POTPOURRI - of party foods, I was going through the other day from fillers, made me want to pass this on to you.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY - Penny and Billy Hemphill, four year old daughter and one year old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hemphill, 110 North 9th Street.

They were honored with a party at the family home, Monday afternoon, July 21.

A white sheath cake iced in fluffy white frosting was decorated in an assortment of colors. It was centered with a ceramic birthday train holding the candles. Spelled across the cake was Happy Birthday, PENNY AND BILLY. The cake and red fruit punch were served.

Party hats and horns were presented to the guests to enjoy during the party. For entertainment the children played games and enjoyed each others company in the backyard.

Favors were assorted mints and bubble gum. Guests were Shelly and Craig Leinhart, Henry Woodard, Carroll Estes, De Wayne and Brenda Massingill, Betsy Ayres, Allen Cullar, Billy and Bobby Hale, Stephanie Snyder, and Jimmy Williams.

YOUTH MISSION TOUR - The youth of the First United Methodist Church are planning on having a real big time next week, July 29-31.

They will be making a mission tour of Fort Worth and Waco.

In Fort Worth points of interest will include a tour of the Wesley Community Center, the Bethlehem Center, Texas Wesleyan College and Harris Hospital. A trip to Six Flags will also be on the list. During the two day stay in the Fort Worth area, Carter Park Methodist will be the host church, where breakfast will be served, participation in morning worship plus a place to pitch bed rolls.

Wednesday the group will go to Waco for a tour of the Methodist Home where they will enjoy a chicken dinner. Following lunch they will make a visit to the Friendship House and the Inner-City Ministry.

They plan to have an interesting, profitable, fun packed trip. Do have fun and come back safe and sound.

CONGRATULATION - to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wood on moving into their new home on Leon Street. The couple was honored Tuesday night with a housewarming, given by friends and relatives who showered them with gifts. After gifts were admired and a tour of the home made, all enjoyed refreshments of pink lemonade and an assortment of cookies. The remainder of the evening was spent informally in conversation and visiting.

A "Kid's-Eye" View Of The MOON

In this spaceage we have the privilege of seeing our wildest dreams come true. It is an event that has awakened us to a point of awareness that we realize the children of today may possibly live on the moon before their life time is over, for, what can stop us now?

We can consider ourselves and our children lucky for the T.V. coverage we received of the still unbelievable flight of Apollo 11, and the moon walk.

It's good to remember those first words of Armstrong as he set foot on the moon, "That's one small step for man, a giant leap for mankind."

When these children were asked, questions concerning a trip to the moon, as always their fantastic imagination went to work.

With this adventure in mind, they came up with some amusing, hilariously funny answers. Yet, they are answers straight from the heart, true and serious.

RANDY FLOYD, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Floyd. "I would like to go and stay 1700 days and take my dog so he could dig holes. I think it's made out of bumps and carpet. When I go I'll wear jeans and a shirt and take bologna sandwiches and mashed potatoes. . . I bet they don't have a post office."

RICKY SUTTON, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sutton. "I would like to go if I can get back in time for school, but I wouldn't stay because there aren't any toys. . . except some pretty gold rocks to play with."

BETH INGRAM, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ingram. "I'm going to the Moon when daddy can take me and we'll take games, mommie, and Kenny and some bacon and eggs to eat. . . We'll land on the light side."

STEVEN FOWLER, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler. "I don't want to go to the moon, right now. . . but I might when my mother gets back."

RANDY BUSH, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bush. "I think the moon is made of granite. . . just a big piece of round rock. . . the way Mother Nature wanted it."

JEFFREY POWERS, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Powers. "The Moon looks the way Mother Nature wanted it. . . there's probably soil and rocks, but nothing living."

JAY GRAHAM, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham. The first thing I will do when I get there is get out of the space ship, I wouldn't take anybody. . . I would stay a couple of weeks.

TIMMY SPENCER, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Spencer. "There are water and fishes. Mamas don't get in planes, so I would take daddy and Jackie, I would take daddy and Jackie, We will probably eat salad."

Earth's First Defense Against Moon Germs

A commonly used antiseptic will be mankind's first line of defense against any organisms that Apollo 11 astronauts might bring back from the moon.

The decontaminant is Betadine antiseptic, prepared from a chemical complex of polyvinylpyrrolidone-iodine made by GAF Corporation for The Purdue Frederick Company and affiliates. Betadine, one of the most potent antiseptic microbicides known to science and medicine and widely used as a surgical antiseptic, was selected by NASA for the initial decontamination of the capsule and its astronauts. It provides rapid, broad-spectrum germicidal action against micro organisms causing infections in man, lower animals and plants.

Frogmen will leap into the Pacific to secure the return capsule. When the spacecraft hatch is opened, the frogmen will give the astronauts biological isolation garments, which they will don, and the Betadine antiseptic. The same antiseptic that has been used as a spray for skin irritations and wounds and in skin diseases and mouthwash gargles will be used by the astronauts on their entire bodies and over their special garments. As the astronauts then enter a life raft, the frogmen will spray Betadine over the raft, the spacecraft hatch, the astronauts and themselves in the hope of eliminating any germs that may have returned with the first men on the moon.

Strange Origins Of Some Common Words

"SUNDAE" — An ancient E-vanston law made it illegal to sell ice-cream sodas on Sunday. So, a resourceful druggist created a substitute — a large scoop of ice cream covered with a flavored syrup. He created the name "Sundae" to suggest its use when he was not allowed to serve the then-popular soda!

"QUIZ" — This word was deliberately created, in 1780, by a Dublin theater-owner on a bet that he could invent a meaningless word and get people to use it. He and his friends painted the word "quiz" on fences, barns, and pavements all night long — and soon people were asking what it meant. Quiz became ask — and spread all over the world.

TRAILER SAFETY FOR MOBILE BOATMEN

The amphibious branch of boating simply involves getting a boat trailer that is properly matched to your boat, hitching it to the family car and going wherever road meets water.

But when you join the ranks of the "highway sailors," think twice about safety. To start with, both your car and trailer should exceed minimum safety standards. Besides owning the right equipment, you need periodic maintenance to insure proper performance, advises the Evinrude News Service.

If you are going to tow a load of over 2,000 pounds (including weight of trailer, boat, motor and gear), give some thought to heavy duty springs and, perhaps, load levelers on your car. You should try to keep the weight of the trailer vehicle less than the weight of the car. The weight of the boat, motor and gear should not exceed the rated capacity of the trailer. In fact, it's wise to stay 100 pounds below maximum.

No matter what size the boat, it is well to select a good frame hitch. This means one that attaches to the automobile frame, not simply the bumper. They are not expensive and can bring a great deal of peace of mind.

There should always be a reasonable weight on the trailer tongue, the portion of the trailer that attaches to the car. It should be 5 to 10 per cent of the weight of the total load. About 100 pounds is the average. Too much weight on the tongue causes the car to squat. Too little will cause trailer sway.

Adequate tire pressure on both car and trailer are important safety factors. You should always check your car's tire pressure and keep it at recommended levels. Generally, trailer tire pressures are greater than that of auto tires. A typical trailer tire, carrying a 700 pound load, would have a rating of 50 pounds. Your trailer owner's manual will give this information, or it will be imprinted on the tire.

Under-inflated tires can cause dangerous trailer sway and lack of control. They also have a tendency to wear excessively.

Check for proper lubrication in the wheel bearings. Always check to see that you have the proper wiring harness and that directional and stop lights work properly. Keep good brakes on your automobile, and also on the trailer if it is large enough to require them.

When passing, remember to allow for the length of the trailer, and that your acceleration will be much less than without the trailer. Don't cut corners sharply, or your trailer will be bouncing over curbs. Make sure the safety chains are attached and the tie-downs secure.

Continue to think twice about safety. Remember, with a trailer there are two of you!

BAROMETER TELLS WEATHER STORY

Weather is unpredictable as most boaters know all too well. A sunny day can turn into a torrential downpour without much notice.

And despite our advanced technology, weather forecasting is still a chancy business. Some boaters would prefer to go by their own theories about the red sky at night than take the word of the weatherman.

Besides theories, the boating enthusiast should look to the barometer reading before he packs up his gear for a day's outing. If the barometer reading is falling or rising, chances are there will be a change in the weather within 12 to 24 hours. A change in the wind direction or movement of a front will also affect the weather conditions.

Here are a few barometer facts which should be common knowledge among all boaters, according to the Evinrude News Service.

1. If the wind is in the easterly quadrant and the barometer is falling, bad weather is on its way.
2. If the wind is shifting to the westward and the barometer is rising, clearing and fair weather is in store.
3. A steady but slowly rising barometer means the weather has settled.
4. Unsettled or wet weather is indicated by a steady but slowly falling barometer.
5. When the barometer rises rapidly, it usually means clear but windy weather.
6. If the barometer falls rapidly, head for shore. Chances are a storm is approaching.

The orange gladiolus is the flower of those born under the sign Leo, ruby their stone, and domineering their main characteristic.

Creative, exuberant, achievers, Leonians love to demonstrate their prowess where all can see.

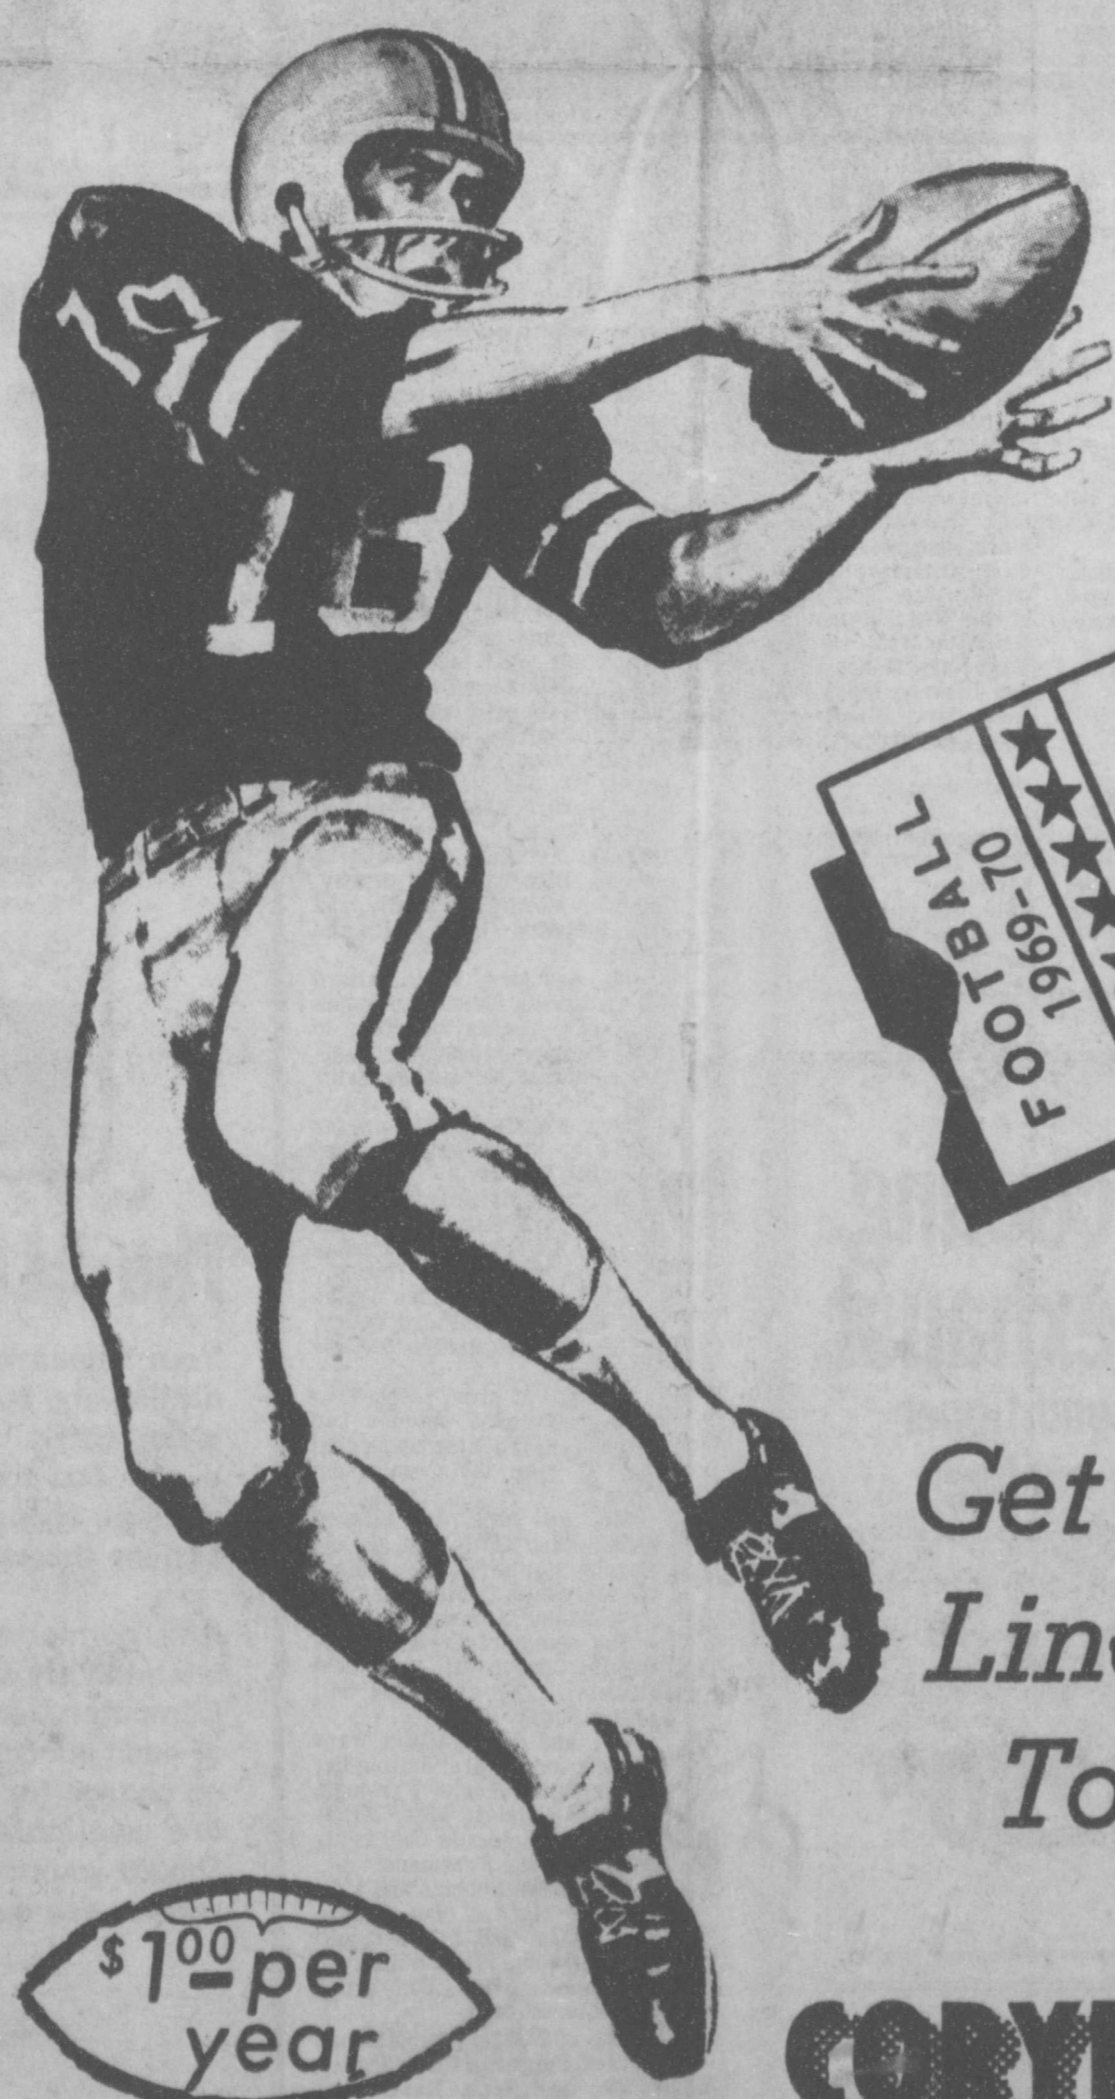

The "lions" are also generous and passionate, and usually self-sufficient. They flower best when they can set a project in motion — but because they are inattentive to detail, the job is usually finished by others.

Though Leonians lack humility and often discipline, their generous nature wins them friends easily. At the drop of a hat, a Leo will call an FTD

TROUBLESHOOTING TIPS FOR OUTBOARD OWNERS

Many times a vacationing boatman or fisherman has become irritated because of some minor engine problem he could not solve because he had no rudimentary knowledge of the motor.

Any major problem should be left to a marine dealer, but there are a few little troubleshooting tips that may help make that vacation more pleasant.

Most of these tips can be found in the owner's manual that comes with every new outboard motor, and is the reason for the manual, according to Jack Ascott, service manager at Evinrude Motors.

As an example, if an outboard won't start, the first thing to check is that all fuel connections are made properly, that the fuel line is not pinched, and of course, that there is fuel in the tank. A cold motor needs to be primed and choked. In extreme cases, it may be necessary to remove and clean the fuel filter.

If the fuel supply is okay, check the ignition next. Defective spark plugs make for very hard starting. The spark plug wires may have come loose, or developed cracks or breaks.

An improper fuel mixture may foul plugs. Too much oil in the fuel is a common cause of this. Clean the plugs if they appear coated or oily.

If the motor will start but does not develop full power, or loses power, it may be caused by defective spark plugs, a partially restricted fuel system or an improper carburetor adjustment. Make the same checks for this problem as for a motor that will not start. If the trouble cannot be located, consult a dealer.

If the motor appears to perform properly but vibrates excessively, it is probably caused by a bent or broken propeller, or it may be that the prop has picked up an accumulation of weeds. A bent or broken propeller should be straightened by a dealer or replaced, as continued running with it may cause damage to the motor.

If the prop is all right and there are no weeds, vibration can be due to improper carburetor adjustment or bad plugs that cause intermittent firing.

Very often, what appears to be a serious problem can be quickly solved by a little common sense and consulting the owner's manual.

NATIONAL BANK TO BE IN DISTRICT 5 TOURNNEY

All star selections in the Junior Teenage League were picked earlier this week by National Bank Manager, James Box. The three boys pictured above left to right, James Smith, Steve Palmer, and Ronald Brown, were set to play in the District 5 play-offs set for Gateville Lions Park next week. James Smith will not be able to play due to a broken arm suffered in a practice game at Killen. Don Jones of the Guaranty Bank team is now slated to play with the National team.

The National Bank Junior Teenage League team is primed and ready for action in the District 5 playoff.

Team Manager, James Box, has selected three all stars to fill in the already adequate line up. Selected were Steve Palmer, James Smith and Ronald Brown, originally.

During a Tuesday night practice game with the Killen pennant winners, James Smith broke both bones in his forearm while sliding into home plate. The painful injury took Smith out of the tournament line up. Smith is considered by many to be the leagues best first baseman, and a top batter.

Selected to replace Smith in the line up is Don Jones.

Speaking of his three "pick-ups", Box noted "Steve Palmer is fast on the bases. He is a good hitter and he will provide me with some pitching depth." Palmer played for Scott's Furniture during the regular season.

"Ronald Brown," Box noted, "is a very good hitter." "He has very good speed on the bases and he played catcher for Guaranty Bank."

"Don Jones is also a catcher," noted Box. He is a powerful and consistent hitter with Scott's Furniture.

In the practice game with Killen the tournament ready National Bankers racked up nine runs before allowing the Kill-leaners to score.

Box pitched Ricky Thompson, Steve Palmer and Jerry Blanchard during the game. Hitting for the game came from Ronald Brown, James Smith, James Box, and Glen Vernon.

The National nine starting the District five tourney will be as follows: James, Box, Catcher; Tommy Tatum, 1st Base; Billy Battlett, 2nd Base; Jerry Blanchard, 3rd Base; Ricky Thompson, Short Stop; Steve Palmer, Left Field; Ronald Brown, Center Field; Don Jones, Right Field; and Glen Vernon, Pitching. The pitching staff for the tourney includes Glen Vernon, Steve Palmer, Ricky Thompson, and James Box.

The Dairy Queen team, managed by Jerry Sullivan, has completed the regular season in Freshman League undefeated. The DQ nine ended the season with a victory over Coca Cola, Tuesday night. The Freshman League play-off's between Cummings Insurance and the Dairy Queen began Thursday night at Lions Park.

The play-off will be a best two out of three series with the winner advancing to the State Freshman League Play-off.
