The Bankers came back Wednesday afternoon with a 1 to 0 victory over Kermit, Texas. Thursday the NB'ers played Houston in the afternoon and if successful, would play again Thursday night.

Library Bid Opening Reset For Aug. 12

The Gatesville City Council rescheduled bid opening for the proposed new library in the Chamber building located at Main Street for Tuesday, August 12.

The library project which has been on the drawing board for several years will be built and financed under a 50-50 program of a federal grant under Title II funds of the Library Services and Construction Act.

Mayor Bob Miller noted Wednesday that minor changes in construction plans by the State Library Board caused alterations in bid estimates.

The new library, planned to contain 30,000 volumes, will be a one-story structure completely new except for exterior walls. The upper floor of the Chamber building will be removed.

Also during the special council meeting, Tuesday, councilmen opened bids on the new city warehouse on 23rd Street. Three bids were received on the new structure from National Building Centers, Barnes Lumber Company, and Boyd Lumber Company. Low bid received on the project was $4,985.

The three bids were taken under consideration by the council. Mayor Miller indicated this week that the contract would probably be let at the August 11 meeting of the council.

The council issued an order for an "in line water pump" on West Leon Street near the old bridge.

City Manager, Eiland Lovejoy said the line pressure pump would boost the water volume and pressure in the Westview Addition.

Estimates are that the pump will supply 500 gallons per minute and 60 pounds per square inch pressure to the area.

Lovejoy noted this week that another water project, the 8" water main to the state school road area, is coming along good. Miller estimated improved water service for the area by August 15, barring any major complications.

Woodard Signs Contract For Hamilton Airport

Paving contractor Cleo Woodard of Gatesville was apparent low bidder on the paving project for Hamilton Municipal Airport, at the bid opening held in the city hall Tuesday afternoon.

Woodard submitted a bid of $13,623.50 for asphaltic concrete paving of the 3,200 foot primary strip, taxi ways and turns, and the apron in front of the hangar.

L. A. Porter of Lampasas submitted a bid of $14,533.00 with Young Brothers of Waco entering a bid of $19,415.

Highway resident engineer Billy Perry, city supervisor for the project, said the contractor will have until Sep. 1 to complete the paving.

entries have been received. She noted that most local entries will come in the last week of registration.

The entry deadline is August 13, midnight.

The two-day western show starts with a downtown western parade at 5:00 p.m., Friday. The parade will form at the Cotton Gin on Seventh Street and wind around the square and head east on Main Street to the Fireman's Rodeo Arena.

Both rodeo performances of the Junior Rodeo will get underway at 8:30 p.m.

For an evening of western entertainment, the Gatesville Junior Rodeo sponsored by the Gatesville Riding Club and Gatesville FFA Chapter offers a thrill at every ride.

Individual event winners will receive buckles.

Boys and girls are entered in three age groups with a total of 18 exciting events scheduled for the big two night show August 15-16.

Rodeo Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Shults, reported Thursday that approximately 50 out-of-town when Ronald Brown slapped a single then stole his way to third base. With one out Steve Palmer then rapped a deep fly ball to center field. After the fly out, Ronald Brown raced home from third base to give the winning margin.

Ricky Thompson was on the mound Wednesday and picked up the shut-out victory.

The group, which was housed in Clark Hall during the conference, represented 17 different Texas counties and Arkansas.

Neeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Price Neeley, 1108 College Street.

Coryell Voters Approve Six And Reject Three

Voters in Coryell County were permissive at the polls Tuesday, only rejecting three of the nine proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

County voters bombed salary increases for state legislators, Bond rates, and annual sessions of the state legislature.

Coryell voters heavily favored increasing welfare, water supply tax exemption and employee Survivors exemption Assistance.

Amendments results are as follows for Coryell County:

- Constitutional Deletions, For 718, against 642.
- Water Development Authority: for 734, against 684.
- Legislator's Salaries: for 429, against 954.
- Water Supply Tax Exemption: for 1019, against 436.
- Welfare Fund: for 1055, against 409.
- Bond Rates: for 602, against 730.
- Employee Survivor: for 1008, against 414.
- Student Loans: for 910, against 477.

Annual Legislative Session: for 610, against 754.

A total of 1464 voters went to the polls, Tuesday.

In Gatesville, 689 voters cast ballots, downing three amendments and supporting three amendments. Gatesville voted as did the County striking out amendments, 3, 6, and 9.

The worst defeated amendment in Coryell and in Gatesville was the third amendment, to raise legislators salaries.

Gatesville voters supported state employee Survivors Assistance by the widest margin in Gatesville, 348 votes. Copperas Cove voters likewise supported the state employee survivors assistance amendment by 193 to 45 vote margin.

Copperas Cove polled 224 votes in the special election, Tuesday.

Over the county none of the 15 voting precincts rejected all the amendments and only Flat and the absentee voters gave approval all nine amendments.

On the ninth amendment dealing with Annual Legislative Sessions, Coryell County voters voted down the measure 748 to 596. The squabble between Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes seemed to come to the voters mind on the "9th".

Over the county the "9th" received support in both Copperas Cove precincts and in Flat and the Absentee ballots. All other areas favored the two-year system championed by Governor Preston Smith.

Wind Damage

A high wind accompanied a late afternoon shower between Ater and Levita early this week. The wind ripped the top off a trailer home belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Evans. Damage to the trailer has not been determined.

Reports said the wind damaged fruit trees and other trees for a quarter mile strip near the trailer.

Rain dampened most areas of Coryell County this week with light showers reported in most sections.

Heaviest unofficial rain reports came from the Ater area with 2.5 inches of rainfall. Other good rains of near an inch and a half were reported in Pearl and Arnett.

Official Weather Bureau rainfall totals for the shower period were .32 of an inch. Temperatures have remained high, but not in the consistent 100 degree range.

Five Hamilton men were arrested over the weekend by Sheriff Winfred Cummings and DPS Patrolman J. K. Hamilton and David Jund.

Four of the men arrested were charged with minors consuming and all paid $25 fines. One man was fined for drunk in public and was fined $29.

Four Gatesville area youths were arrested over the weekend for using profane language in Westview Addition. Patrolman Everett Gribble arrested the four minors. Three pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $25 each. One youth pleaded not guilty to the charge and is free on $100 bond.

Growing With Gatesville

Walls Industries Inc. is leveling out its new production line in the Gatesville plant, which opened early this year. The second manufacturing line added approximately 25 new employees to the ever growing payroll at the Gatesville plant. Plant Manager, Bob Vidler, estimated that now the plant has 65-70 machines in operation and the plant employs 76 Gatesville area residents.

Vidler said this week that within three weeks production at the plant will be 100 percent "stay press materials." Production levels fluctuate with new and inexperienced help in a sewing operation. Vidler expressed satisfaction with present production on both lines.

and far South Texas also favored the plan except notably, Cameron and Aransas counties.

All the Lower Rio Grande Valley counties favored the project except Cameron. The Valley, water experts say, will be the first region to feel a creeping shortage of water.

The 10 largest cities, which can dominate any election, had such an erratic response that no pattern could be discerned on the basis of the "big city vote." Harris County struck the project a hard blow with a margin of 67,719 against and 13,431 for.

Conservationists, notably the Sierra Club, may have just provided the margin to provide the somewhat unexpectedly high vote against the water program. The conservationists first talked about the plan destroying the habitat of game, even destroying species.

But then they got down to the citizens' purse, and talked about the cost. Even the sponsors admitted that interest would double the $3.5 billion to $7 billion. And the plan was on the basis of 1967 costs of material, labor, land, and interest.

Only nine months ago, voters soundly defeated a proposal to raise the welfare ceiling in the Constitution to $75 million from the present $60 million.

Then two court cases caused checks for needy children to be cut, some poverty mothers in Dallas held a sit-in, and Public Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney campaigned throughout Texas and suddenly the voters were convinced of the need for more money for the 400,000 on welfare.

After all, said Hackney, it is pretty difficult to raise a child on $12.50 a month. And he pointed out that all but five percent of needy mothers work-but some work for 50 cents an hour.

The second time around did not work as well for legislators as it did for the needy.

They lost an attempt at a raise nine months ago--they haven't had one since 1960. This time they tried to take their pay out of the Constitution and peg it to that of district judges--but not at once. They wanted to climb from $4,800 annually to $6,800--not to the $18,000 judges now receive.

The legislators also wanted annual legislative sessions, some saying it was illogical to budget the state for two years. They tried three years ago and were turned down and lost again Tuesday.

The constitutional deletions took 52 sections--such things as authority to build the Capitol, dedicated in 1888--from the Constitution. Some persons wanted to keep these sections for their quaintness.

And the educational surge remains in people's minds, for the plan to add $200 million in bonds for revolving student's loan fund passed easily.

The bond interest proposal was to take the interest limitations from under the Constitution and put them in the hands of the legislature.

WHEW!

It's sure been hot.

And that means I've been working extra hard for you. This summer has been the hottest in recent years. A real scorcher. And it sure has kept me humpin'.

I've been on the job around the clock keeping folks cool with air conditioners, fans and evaporative coolers. I've had to work longer and harder keeping foods fresh in electric refrigerators and making extra ice cubes and cold drinks. And, there have been more loads of soiled clothes to wash and dry. All this in addition to the usual ways I serve you every day.

So when you look at your electric service bill, remember all the extra hours I worked. I'm still your lowest-cost servant and the more hours I work, the less I cost per hour.

A LONG, ENJOYABLE VACATION - began for the Joe Bob Williams family, August 5. They will be getting away from it all for about a month.

As many of you know, Joe Bob teaches school and Barbara is an R. N. at the State School. With the month of August free from job duties this family is now enjoying their long trip to Tennessee, where they will be visiting Joe Bob's brother, George Williams in Oak Ridge. Oak Ridge is near Knoxville, one of Tennessee's largest cities and is the home of the Institute for Nuclear Studies Library and the Atomic Energy Museum.

It is also very near the Grand Caverns which is one of the states special points of interest.

Something even more interesting is that the average high temperature is 78 degrees and the average rainfall is 50 inches.

This made me want to pack my bags and go along with them. Barbara's family lives in Virginia, so they will be traveling on to that state during part of that time.

Did you know Virginia gets her name from Queen Elizabeth II of England, the "Virgin Queen".

Virginia is one of the South Atlantic States of the United States that was the scene of the first permanent English settlement in the New World.

Because so many presidents have been born there, she has earned the nickname of "The Mother of Presidents."

You will be surprised to learn that eight of our presidents were born in Virginia; they were George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, Woodrow Wilson, Zachary Taylor, James Madison and James Monroe.

Guess I'm getting off the subject a little, but thought this was interesting.

We do hope Joe Bob, Barbara and family will have a good trip--safe and fun wise.

WHY GOD MADE LITTLE BOYS - is a poem written by Patricia White and goes like this:
God made a world of His dreams,
Prairies and plains, and wooded land,
Then paused and thought, "I need someone to stand
On top of the mountains, to conquer the seas,
Explore the plains, and climb the tree --
Someone to start out small and grow
Sturdy and strong like a tree, "And so --
He created boys, full of spirit and fun,
To explore and conquer, to romp and run,
With dirty faces and bandaged shins,
With courageous hearts and boyish grins,
And when He'd completed the task He'd begun,
He surely said, "That's a job well done."

AND SO IT IS - with little boys. With these reasons surely in mind, God blessed Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Kinsey with a son, born August 4 at Coryell Memorial Hospital. His name is Arthur Lee.
His grandparents are Mrs. T. L. Wilkinson of Troy and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gephart of Purnela.

PAUL STONE - and First United Methodist Church felt they had received a great honor when the Department of Youth Ministry at the Annual Youth Conference at Glen Lake elected Paul to be one of its eight members. Paul is the only member representing the Temple District. This active ministry meets each month, somewhere within the Central Texas Conference area.

For the next week, starting today, August 8 through the 15, Paul will be attending a Regional Training Session in Mt. Sequayah, Fayetteville, Arkansas, with the other seven members from this Conference, as well as Boards from seven other states.

ARKANSAS - seems to keep popping up in this column this time, and I didn't work it out that way. It just happened. Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Williams have recently returned from trip in Arkansas where they visited with friends and relatives. Now, you know what I think of Arkansas, so we won't go into that -- much.
But really, if you want to go to a pretty, peaceful place, go to Arkansas. Everybody to his own liking!

Connie Louise Lancaster Becomes Bride Of Michael Odell Mallett

Miss Connie Louise Lancaster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lancaster, and Michael Odell Mallett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Mallett of Burnet, exchanged their wedding vows Saturday, July 19, at eight o'clock in the First Street Church of Christ. Minister Larry Fluitt of Sweetwater, uncle of the groom, conducted the double ring ceremony.

Central decoration was an arch with garlands of foliage and spring flowers holding a cluster of wedding bells tied with white satin. To either side stood a fifteen branched arched candelabra adorned with clusters of Chamadorea and white satin bows, which formed the back-grounds for arrangements of white stock and daisies on brass pedestals. Foliage arrangements and two seven branched candelabras accented the central decoration.

Mrs. Kline Whittis directed The A Capella Choir as they sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" while the candles were being lighted. Mrs. Larry Fluitt, soloist, sang "The Twelfth of Never". Other songs rendered by the choir were "The Wedding March" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."
Lighting the candles were Zane and Tom Lancaster, brothers of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza over taffeta. Pearl-centered daisies accented the lace on the mandarin collar, cuffs of the long sleeves and the waistline. Single daisies were sprinkled on the softly flaring skirt and the chapel train.

The bride's shoulder length veil of net fell from a bow covered with pearl-centered daisies. Her crescent bouquet of white daisies and stock blossoms, with pearlized leaves was complimented with a phalaenopsis orchid, and was carried on a white Bible. For jewelry, the bride wore a gold bracelet, a gift from the groom.

Miss Linda Sultemelr was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Mallett of Burnet, sister of the groom, Miss Nancy Cooper of Texas City and Miss Kathy Clary.

The attendants wore Empire style gowns of blue silk organza with short puff sleeves trimmed with blue peccot ribbon and head pieces of the ribbon and blue net. They carried Juliet bouquets made of clusters of yellow, blue and white daisies encircled with puffs of blue net with emerald green satin streamers.
Mr. Mallett served his son as best man.

Groomsmen included Dale Lancaster, brother of the bride, Mike Roberts and Dan DeHay, both of Brownwood.

Ushers were Trent Lancaster of Abilene, brother of the bride, John Mauney of Goldthwaite, Jim Word and Larry Word, both of Burnet.

Ringbearer was Brad Fluitt, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Trent Lancaster registered the guests.
The reception following the wedding was held on the church lawn back of the Guy Southern home. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth draped with fern and blue taffeta ribbon. The centerpiece was a white candle in a hurricane chimney on a footed crystal base. The attendants' bouquets were placed around the centerpiece and garlands of polished foliage flowed from the candle decoration.

The wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue daisies, was served by Mrs. Mona Lancaster, sister-in-law of the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Majoring in elementary education, the bride attended Abilene Christian College for two years where she was a member of GATA, social club, and the A Capella Choir.

Poage Returns To U.S. From Argentina

This week has been one of action. I returned from quick visit to the international livestock show at Buenos Aires, Monday morning. Monday was District Day -- that is, the House sat as a City Council for the City of Washington. I did not get a chance to run by home until night. I found our basement flooded. We had almost four inches of rain, which I wish could have fallen in Central Texas.

On Tuesday the Agriculture Committee heard the representatives of the Mid-Continent Farmers Association and yesterday we heard the representatives of the Grange on Farm and food stamp legislation. It is hard for any of these groups to understand why we can't simply draw up a bill which would establish fair prices and move it right on through Congress. Actually, we must not only have a bill which will be helpful but we must have a bill which can be passed, and that means we must find a solution which is acceptable to a lot of different groups.

On Wednesday our Committee heard the representatives of about 400 farmers from Illinois and Indiana who had driven tractors into Washington. You probably read their visit. They were courteous, well-behaved, and had given considerable thought to their suggestions. All of this was in sharp contrast with the attitude of some of the groups who "march on Washington" to demand various types of assistance.

For the past three days the House has been working on the Education and Welfare Appropriation Bill. This involves far more money than the agricultural appropriations but it also has more support in Congress. The Appropriations Committee brought out a bill which would have seriously curtailed the funds for "impacted areas." The House restored all of these funds and added about one-half billion dollars of other funds for various purposes. I think we probably went too far but I voted for the blanket increase as the whole matter was so tied together that we could not be selective and I thought such programs as impacted areas, libraries, etc., were deserving. We had three roll calls last night and it was after 9:00 p.m. when we finally passed the bill.

I plan to be at Rosebud a week from tonight to attend the annual membership meeting of the Bel-Falls Electric Cooperative, and to be in Riesel, Sunday night, August 10th. I will, however, have to return to Washington that night as we hope before the congressional recess which will begin August 14. I will then be at home for a couple of weeks. Our office, at 205 Federal Building, Waco will be open full time and of course, I will be happy to personally see everyone I can but I will of necessity be attending meetings all over the District and will therefore ask that those who have problems with which you feel we could help, to either write us at Washington or talk to some member of our staff who is in the Waco office.

Range Management Society To Hold Field Tour

The Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management conducts a number of field days, tours and meetings each year to point up range management and improvement practices which can benefit a range livestock producer, said Don Callahan County Agricultural Agent.

Saturday, August 16 is the date of a field tour in Mills County to study practices being carried out by rancher Cary Owens.

Those participating in the tour will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Gulf Service Station in Star, Texas. Star is located on F. M. Road 1047 just south of the junction of F. M. 1047 and U. S. Highway 84 in eastern Mills County.

Major points of study on the tour will be a deferred rotation grazing system, economics of conservation practices, range seeding, and chemical control of shinnery oak.

The American Society of Range Management membership is composed of ranchers, students, teachers, researchers, businessmen, technicians, as well as other interested individuals who are interested in the improvement and management of rangeland.

Plan to attend this informative tour in Mills County, August 16.

GOOD! LET'S ALL TAKE A HARD LOOK!

LET'S FIND OUT

With nearly everybody picking on the military, President Nixon has set up a blue-ribbon panel to make a 12-month study of the Defense Department's management, research, procurement and decision-making machinery.

In charge, he wisely placed a top grade businessman who cannot remotely be considered a part of the defense supply industry—Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The need for a new fact-finding panel was in fact foreseen by the Administration at the time it took office and was recommended by Defense Secretary Laird some weeks ago.

At the same time, the President tightened the procedures under which the Budget Bureau examines our Vietnam and other military spending. Whereas defense budgets under the Johnson Administration went directly to the President with the Budget Bureau role limited to the right to appeal, they now will go, like all others, to the Bureau for final approval. The Defense Department, in turn, has the right to appeal to the President.

The new Administration does not accept as gospel all the shrill cries of those critics who see a conspiracy between the military and manufacturers behind every procurement contract. It wants the facts—and invites the public in to help find them.

It is worth noting that the new Fitzhugh Panel should not be confused with the blue-ribbon Hollifield Procurement Commission now being proposed in the Congress, with bi-partisan support. This Commission aims to reform all types of government purchasing—civilian as well as military—and does not duplicate the Nixon-Fitzhugh Panel. Both of these investigations make more sense than some of the emotional talk we endure today, and both deserve public support.

To The Tune Of Over $67 Million

Accidents Pick Texans' Pockets

Traffic accidents in the Lone Star state during the past month picked the pockets of Texans to the tune of over $67 million, the Texas Safety Association reported August 6.

While preliminary reports indicate that rural fatalities, injuries and property damage cost Texans some $25 million in the past four weeks, urban accident costs rang up astagging $42 million tab.

When all reports are in, the Safety Association further reported, July automobile crashes on Texas' streets and highways are expected to put traffic costs for the first seven months of the year over $475 million. Costs of accidents are based on a formula supplied by the National Safety Council.

Noting an 18 percent increase in fatalities and an 11 percent increase in accidents on Interstate Highways in Texas during the past month, as compared to a similar period in July 1968, the Safety Association called on the state's drivers to observe the following rules when traveling on high-speed roads:

- *On entering a freeway, pick up speed quickly to match the flow of traffic.
- *Choose a lane and stay with it. Signal well in advance if you must change lanes.
- *Keep right if you have to drive slower than other traffic.
- *Leave plenty of space between your car and the vehicle ahead for emergency stopping.

At 60 miles per hour, you need at least 450 feet to stop safely on dry roads.

- *If you have car trouble, get your vehicle well off the highway to make repairs.
- *Watch for changes in speed limits. Decrease speed when driving at night.
- *On long drives, take a break in driving every hour. Many safety rest areas are provided along Texas Highways.
- *Plan exits in advance. Decrease speed sharply once you are on the exit ramp.

FIRE IS GREATEST THREAT

TO RANGELAND IN SUMMER

The greatest hazard to rangeland during the hot and dry summer months and into the fall and winter is fire.

Everyone, explains B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialist at Texas A & M University, has a stake in preventing range fires. The rancher depends upon range vegetation to produce livestock which ends up as steaks, lamb chops and other meat products and which are enjoyed by Texans.

And, adds Ragsdale, fishermen and water enthusiasts want clear rivers and lakes for fishing and water sports. Fire denuded rangelands are conducive to soil erosion when the rains come, resulting in silt laden rivers and silt-filled muddy lakes.

The forage produced on rangeland also provides cover and food for wildlife. Wildfires, points out the specialist, can very materially reduce the hunter's opportunity for a successful hunting season.

Good moisture last spring resulted in much vegetative growth but a hot and dry summer have combined for optimum fire conditions, says Ragsdale.

He has the following suggestions for preventing range fires. Motorists should snuff out cigars and cigarettes and place them in the car's ash tray instead of throwing them out the car window. Recreationists should be very careful with camp fires. Fires should not be left unattended.

Landowners can protect their ranges by building fire guards. Sprayers and other fire fighting equipment should be kept in good repair and readily available for any emergency. Communities and counties should have up-to-date workable plans for fighting fires, emphasizes the specialist.

Because everyone has a part in preventing range fires and much to lose in case of fire, Ragsdale urges full compliance with all safety measures and immediate reporting of any fire which might be noted.

Small Business Association Kicks Off New Drive

The Small Business Administration kicked-off a new drive to enlist the volunteer help of retired business executives to help small businessmen over their business pitfalls.

R. E. Crain, SBA Regional Director for Dallas Regional Office said that the new drive involves recruiting more volunteers for the agency's Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), not only those in retirement, but men and women who are in semi-retirement as well.

He said that "many individuals—successful business executives—are available to offer their help to the nation's small business community. It is through SCORE that the talents of retired or semi-retired business executives can be utilized to the best advantages of the small business owner or manager."

SBA's goal is 5,000 members. SCORE volunteers now total 3,300 and include only those business executives who have retired from industry, the professions, or self-owned businesses. They help the small business community by volunteering their professional advice and counsel on problems facing small businessmen.

"Through SCORE the door to equal opportunity is opened for the small businessman unable to afford the services of a professional team of management consultants," Mr. Crain said.

Joining SCORE or requesting help from SCORE counselors is just as simple as calling or writing Small Business Administration, 411 North Akard Street, Dallas, Texas 75201 - telephone 749-2218.

Craig Morton Takes Over Cowboy Reins From Dandy Don

It was about an hour after the Don Meredith announcement. Placed in Tom Landry's shoes, lesser mortals would have been gnawing their knuckles white.

But not Mr. Cool, he had already accepted the fact that he had lost his No. 1 quarterback with nine years of preaching and patience down the drain.

The Dallas Cowboy coach puts his quarterbacking situation under the microscope.

"Craig Morton has learned a lot in his four years and should be at the point where he can assert leadership and really take over," Landry said.

But aren't you terribly thin at the position, Tom, what with Jerry Rhome gone and Roger Staubach, the 27-year-old "rookie," the only able back-up man?

Landry leaned back in his chair and stared at the ceiling a moment with that one.

"I project Staubach should be real solid in two years," Landry said, pausing to let his computer recharge.

"He needs a year of seeing what professional football is all about. He's not really a rookie you know."

Staubach is the only individual who has been granted the privilege of possessing a Cowboy playbook although not a member of the team. He got it down virtually pat during his Navy tour.

Landry said, "Staubach is a fast learner. He's a lot like Morton.

But Landry admits he doesn't pretend to know how the new responsibilities of being No. 1 will affect Morton.

"There's a lot of difference in being the No. 1 Substitute and having someone walk up and tell you, you're IT," Landry said.

"We play a tough exhibition schedule Green Bay, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Houston, New York, Baltimore and this should help get Craig ready."

Many Cowboy watchers felt Morton would have beaten Meredith out in a head-on duel over the six exhibition games. Landry had planned to let them split up the games with the most impressive performer earning the starting slot.

Others suggest the Meredith retirement got Landry off the hook in other words not having to face the possibility of degrading the quarterback Meredith he had tutored almost a decade attempting to build a champion.

Landry allowed himself a nostalgic moment or two about Meredith.

"Boy, you really hate to see it—the retirement," Landry said. "A quarterback's 10th, 11th, and 12th years should be his most fruitful. It's just like having a coach on the field. Why Meredith knew how to adjust to any situation that came up. His passes didn't always connect, but you couldn't beat his thinking.

"When he was hot, he was the hottest quarterback in all of professional football."

Thawing a bit, Landry told how he thought he could talk Meredith out of quitting.

"When he first told me about it, I thought I could change his mind," Landry said. "But I could see he was sincere. You've got to WANT to play this game."

The interview over, Landry got on an elevator to go to the parking lot.

"You know, this should be one interesting season," he said. It already is.

Evant Softball Slated

Six teams are set to play in the Evant Senior Invitational Softball Tournament scheduled Aug. 11-16.

Jonesboro and Evant will draw bye in the first round of action Monday night with Hamilton Gulf States meeting Gatesville at 8 p.m. and the Gatesville Jaycees going against the Hamilton Independents at 9:30 p.m.

The tournament will continue at the same hours through the finals on Saturday night.

The tournament will be double elimination with the winner of the losers bracket playing the top team in the winners bracket for the championship.

Big Catch

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS
BY VERN SANFORD

Fish and wildlife are in the spotlight as never before. Due to the great demand for recreation today, programs to study the various species of game and fish and to improve our favorite outdoor sports are being accelerated.

As our population grows, available land is shrinking. This means more hunters concentrated on fewer acres. Because of this supply and demand, biologists are working overtime to increase the yield of fish and wildlife per acre of habitat.

It has been done quite successfully in farming and there is no reason it can't be accomplished with outdoor subjects. Right now it is a matter of hitting the right formula.

On land that can carry more wildlife, for example, studies are being made with various imported exotics. The number of animals like the black-buck antelope, Mouflon sheep and axis deer is growing each year, and there is much work being done with imported game birds.

With native birds and animals, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is speeding up its research. One need is more wildlife management areas. The department hopes to obtain several more areas "of sufficient size to permit needed wildlife research and management studies in each major ecological region of the state."

One need is a management area in the Trans-Pecos region to study the pronghorn antelope.

In a report on the subject, the Parks and Wildlife Department pointed out that "historically the pronghorn antelope roamed the entire western half of Texas in uncounted thousands. However, fencing of the land and indiscriminate and wasteful hunting took a heavy toll and the antelope herds were reduced to an all-time low of 2,000 head in 1920."

Through informed game management and restocking, the herds were rebuilt by 12,000 head by 1960. Since then, increased farming, sheep ranching, disease and adverse weather have caused a reduction in the numbers to 9,000 head in 1966.

Without disease studies and informed range and farm management programs to point the way, the pronghorn antelope is destined to become a rare animal in Texas.

Deer have been studied through extensive trapping programs, and now transistor radios are being utilized to study the deer's everyday habits.

A banding program and collection of wings from killed birds are being used to study the habits of mourning doves, just as bands have been used to follow the flight of ducks.

Shrimp migration habits are being scrutinized by the use of shrimp stained bright colors. Plastic streamers also are being affixed to salt-water species, to study their habits and migration tendencies.

All these programs are necessary for better fishing and hunting programs for outdoorsmen. Good hunting and fishing are no idle accidents. Dedicated biologists are constantly working for a better Texas for the outdoorsman.

Yarborough Speaks

About Apollo 11

Whether we see it in our everyday lives or not, mankind has entered a new era. The flight of Apollo 11 and the landing of men on the moon was the beginning of the era of space travel, space exploration and new vistas for mankind.

We are fortunate to be alive in these times as the final limitations to man's travel—gravity and the lack of air to breathe—have been overcome. We are doubly fortunate for at the time man was entering this new era, all of us were able to join personally in this experience through television. We were able to see these historic moments when man first stepped on the moon, I personally went and saw the lift-off from Cape Kennedy on that hot July morning for this great voyage of going to the moon; and we all heard the reports from the space ship; we watched them land on the moon, walk on the moon, and the safe return of these human beings into the Pacific Ocean.

Never in the history of our land have so many people from so many nations taken part in one event. More than half a billion people in this world watched. The names of Neil Armstrong, Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin and Michael Collins are permanently inscribed in the history of mankind.

The trip by these three men was an exploration of space for all mankind. Now that man has landed on the moon we must look to the future. What is next for our space program?

The first order of business is for Congress to provide the necessary money for NASA to continue its work for other space travel such as visits to Mars, the planet nearest to Earth. We need a space platform orbiting the Earth where man can make astrophysical observations and plan for flights out from there. We need working and scientific research bases on the moon. Space exploration is expensive, but the discoveries science is making as it works on space exploration are tremendous and benefitting man in many ways. Because of the space program and the research we are making because of that, there have been very rapid advances in many scientific and technological fields—the fields of computers, photography, broadcasting and transmission of television, discoveries about radiation, the health of men under different environments. They are discoveries that have been made out of the space program to benefit all mankind—they are present discoveries.

FUN WITH WORDS

"LOVE"—In tennis, "love" means no score, a puzzling term for it makes no sense—until you know the reason. In France, where the game originated, the term for no score was "l'oeuf"—meaning "egg"—just as Americans sometimes say "goose egg," meaning the very same thing—a big zero on the score board. To English tongues, "l'oeuf" soon became "love."

"OUCHLESS"—This word was also created—by an ad man to dramatize the fact that Curad bandages can be removed without pain because of a patented Telfa pad which will not adhere to a wound. Actually, this painless feature is not as important as another advantage of the same "ouchless" bandage: it does not interrupt healing, because the scab remains intact when the bandage is removed. Understandably, that's too long a story for even an ad man to compress into a single word! Try it yourself.
