Austin, July 20.—Down to its bitter end moved the campaign for Governor of Texas.

Relatively short, the drive was one of the most intensive this state, notable for its violent politics, had ever seen.

Shivers stood foursquare on his record of achievement in office and pledged to continue, if re-elected, "the progressive program" he had worked for during his tenure.

Cited by the Governor were concrete figures showing that during his administration Texas has come far:

"From worst to among the best in the state prison system's record. 'Many miles of farm-to-market roads have been built and maintained. Generally, the state highway system has been improved. 'Pay of teachers and public employees has been increased. 'Considerable progress has been made in the state hospitals and special schools.

"Title to our tidelands has been regained, and that victory meant $32 million already realized for the State's school children, with untold billions yet to come."

Yarborough Described. As he recounted the record of his administration, Shivers flung certain charges at his opponent.

Yarborough, he said, is the captive of people who don't want to get tough with the Communists, and who want to get the Texas anti-Communist law repealed.

Shivers further charged: "That Yarborough has made no positive statement on the segregation issue."

That Yarborough has promised George Parr to call off the clean-up in Duval County.

That CIO Union bosses had placed $2 per head levy on members for a defeat-Shivers slush fund.

That Yarborough wanted schools run from Washington not locally.

Whether it was true that he had powerful support from the CIO could not be proven.

But he had money to buy expensive time on the state's radio and television stations, and to produce a campaign newspaper for statewide distribution.

Some folks haven't liked the approach because it has crowded off their TV screens some of their favorite programs. Others have enjoyed politics' first big year on TV in Texas. Results of the approach will show definitely on July 24 when Texans go to the polls to record their choices for that and other offices.

Yarborough Campaign. Yarborough based his campaign principally on charges which Shivers described as "muddling."

Yarborough had these things to say: "That Shivers had made a secret deal with George Parr of Duval County. "That Shivers had caused the resignation of former Chancellor James P. Hart of the University of Texas. "That Shivers had made contradictory remarks about segregation. "That Shivers' Republican friends are trying to cheat Texas out of part of the tidelands. "On the positive side, Yarborough promised higher teacher pay and old age assistance.

Street Paving Preparations Under Way

Approximately 8,870 yards of new paving and 10,732 yards of seal-coating to renew streets previously paved has been authorized by City Council and Mayor J. B. Ogle, with work due to begin this week upon arrival of Douglas and Nichols paving contractors from Waco.

W. R. Hampton, street superintendent, and his crew were working this week watering the streets and preparing them to be topped and paved. Hampton anticipated that the contractors probably will be here until the end of next week. While they are here, they can also be obtained for any private work on driveways or business entrances, etc., he said.

Included in the streets which will receive seal-coating are the following, as released by Hampton:

Kirk Street, 5,866 yards, from A. A. Brown residence to north end of stadium; Hickory Street, from Herbert Sellers residence to Avenue B; Avenue B, to Highway 281; Center Street, from Battershall residence to highway; Grubbs Street, from Ray Cheek residence to Pecan Street.

Streets which will receive new pavement are the following:

College Street, from gymnasium to Charlie Giesecke residence; West Street, from Charlie Giesecke residence to Methodist Church; Grubbs Street from Wiseman residence to Hudson residence; Anderson Street, from Monroe Latham residence to Center Street; East Street, from Hall residence to Fred Jaggars residence; two city alleys, from bank to highway and from Neal Truck and Tractor to highway.

New Baptist Pastor To Move Here Soon to Remodel Parsonage

Rev. Joe B. Taylor, who has been pastor of the First Baptist Church of Florence the past three years, is the new pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hico.

The Baptist pulpit, which will have been empty for three months, almost to the day, will be filled by a regular pastor as soon as arrangements are completed and remodeling finished so that he and his family can move into the parsonage next week. Rev. Taylor was in charge of both morning and evening services Sunday, and he was elected by the congregation after Sunday evening services.

Both the minister, who is a graduate of Howard Payne College in Brownwood, and his wife have received their masters degrees from Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. They are the parents of a five-year-old son, Joe Frank.

Laymen of the church have been seeking a pastor since April 28, when they held their first meeting for that purpose. This action followed the resignation of Rev. L. H. Davis, when he and his wife accepted the pastorate of Central Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

The membership voted plans for remodeling the interior of the parsonage, and work began this week, with R. B. McClure volunteering the contract work. The house will be painted throughout, with rubber tile installed on the kitchen and bathroom floors, and wainscoting and texture refinishing the kitchen walls. The living room will also be textured. Plans also call for moving the bathroom to another location, but no addition will be made to the original structure.

McLennan Gets Earliest First Bale of Cotton in County's History

Waco, July 16.—The earliest first bale of cotton in the history of McLennan County was auctioned by Driskoll O. Smith, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, this morning at 10:00 a. m., and brought a record price of $1.52 per pound.

Produced by Claude Stewart of Bosqueville, eight-time winner in eleven years, the bale was picked and ginned on July 14 and weighed in at 475 lbs. It was graded by Cotton Classifier Joe Mason as strictly middling, 1 inch staple.

In a matter of minutes, William L. Goble, Sr., and William L. Goble Jr., of the Brazos Valley Cotton Oil Company, purchased the cotton at $1.52 per pound. Close runner-up was Dr. C. M. Meadows, Southwest Sprayer and Chemical Company.

Y and Social Security

NOTICE OF VISIT
Some employers fail to pay social security taxes if they hire only one worker. This is a mistake, according to Joe Clepp, of the Waco office of the Social Security Administration. Even if an employer hires only one person, part time, he must send a tax return to the Collector of Internal Revenue at the end of the calendar quarter, showing the employee's name, social security number, and wages.

If you have any questions concerning Social Security, ask your social security representative for official information. It's free and he is glad to serve you.

A representative of the Waco office will be in Meridian at the County Treasurer's Office between the hours of 1:00 and 3:00 p. m. on Tuesday, July 27, 1954. He will be glad to discuss your Social Security questions with you.

Recent Tax Cut Puts Hamilton County in State's Lowest

Hamilton, July 17.—Judge H. B. Gordon has announced a cut in the county ad valorem tax rate for the third consecutive year. Four cents was lopped off at the current term of Commissioners Court to reduce the rate to 56 cents. The two previous cuts were for five cents each and the rate which had stood at 70 cents or more for several years has been reduced 14 cents.

The reduction in rate was made in the face of a drop in the assessed valuation of property of $5,586,000 from the 1950 level, and following the expenditure of more for highway right-of-ways and road machinery than in any comparative period of recent years, as revealed by the court records.

The Hamilton County Commissioners Court record in tax reduction is at least unusual in these days of high taxes and the county now boasts one of the lowest tax rates in the state in counties of comparable resources.

A break-down of the rate lists these apportionments: General fund, 25 cents; Road and Bridge Fund, 15 cents; Jury Fund, 3 1/2 cents; Courthouse and Jail Maintenance Fund, 2 cents; Special Road and Bridge Fund, 7 cents.—Waco News Tribune.

Marking of Ballot In Unopposed Races Explained to Voters

In the 1952 election, a number of Hamilton County candidates lost from 800 to 1,000 votes because the voters did not understand the ballot. These were the candidates without opposition. It did not affect their election but it did appear to those who read the election returns that there was a lot of opposition to them. Such was not the case.

The official ballot says you may vote either of two ways—by marking an "X" in the little square to the left of the candidate's name or by marking out the names of the candidates for whom you do not wish to vote and leaving the candidate of your choice on the ballot.

But under the rules, if the candidate has no opponent, you must mark an "X" in the square in order to vote for him. Otherwise the ballot is not counted so far as this candidate is concerned. To be sure, place an "X" by the name of every candidate for whom you wish to vote.—Hamilton Herald-News.

Even in 100-Plus Heat, CPS Employees Enjoy Picnic at Lake Whitney

Milton Dunlop, serviceman for Community Public Service Co., was the only representative of the local office to attend the company picnic held last Saturday at Reddy's Retreat on Lake Whitney.

Other members of the local staff were unable to attend. Following is the report of the picnic, as written by Uphur Vincent, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

About 120 employees of Community Public Service's Central Texas Division turned out in 100-degree heat for their annual picnic Saturday at Reddy's Retreat on Lake Whitney. The huge lodge, on the Bosque County shore, was built by division employees. It was completed a year ago after 18 months' construction.

Games, swimming, boat rides, relaxing and eating comprised the day's activity. A barbecue dinner was served under shade trees with cold cuts at supper.

Dub Tate, Whitney manager, and Virginia Boswell, Whitney cashier, were in charge of games and activity. Miss Boswell, runner-up in Lake Whitney's recent Miss Texas elimination, also was a popular model with both amateur and professional photographers. Cecil P. Coston of Clifton is division manager for Community Public Service.

Lake Whitney water has been pouring through the power plant and making much needed electricity, at the same time keeping fish coming up the Brazos River in large numbers below the Whitney dam. The lake water was holding close to 80 degrees which seemed about right for the fish but the over 100 degrees in the air above the water was not to the liking of the anglers, most of whom are staying away!

C. of C. President Sees Many Opportunities for Hico and Community

First meeting of the Hico Chamber of Commerce on the new schedule set for noon on the third Friday in each month was held last Friday at Loudermilk Cafe. A luncheon preceded the business session.

President T. A. Randalls thanked the dozen other members present for their attendance, and predicted that the new arrangement would prove more satisfactory. He then called on Odis Petsick for a report on a trip to Dallas he and other committee members had made relative to inducing a garment factory to locate in Hico.

The report gave details of the current proposal, which presented problems as well as opportunities. It was suggested that the lead be followed up and the president appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of meeting requirements. To serve with Petsick as chairman are Truman Roberts, J. B. Woodard, M. I. Knudson, W. C. Howard and Dr. H. V. Hodges.

Relative to the current proposal and others which might show up from time to time, the president enthusiastically presented some of the many advantages Hico enjoys which should encourage industrial expansion. He urged that members be persistent and "keep hammering" and predicted that such action in cooperation with other civic groups would bring success in the long run.

Lions Addressed by Publicity Director of Texas Mission Home

C. M. Tunnell, publicity director of the Texas Mission Home and Training School at San Antonio, spoke briefly at Wednesday's Lions Club meeting following the regular luncheon at Loudermilk Cafe.

In the short time allotted the speaker made no attempt to go into full explanation of the work being done at the institution which provides care for unwed mothers, but gave an overall picture of the program being sponsored by Methodists, with cooperation from other denominations and from non-denominational organizations and individuals.

In the business session following the talk from the visitor, who was well versed in Lionism through previous membership, President Wayne Rutledge instructed the committee appointed to plan an entry in the Reunion parade to go ahead according to their best judgment.

R. B. Jackson announced receipt of a letter advising of a special open house for Lions at the Texas Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville, to be held August 8. Since this institution is sponsored by Lions, it was thought that some of the local members might be able to attend.

Carlton Farm Accident Causes Loss of Limb To Richard Favor, 17

Richard Favor, 17-year-old youth whose leg was caught in the grinding action of an ensilage cutter, while working Tuesday on the George Thetford farm a mile out of Carlton, was reported to be improving Thursday morning at Hico Hospital.

The accident occurred around 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the boy was trapped in the machine for about an hour before a doctor and ambulance driver from Hico, and helpers from the Carlton community were able to bring him in for treatment at Hico Hospital.

Richard makes his home in Carlton with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Thompson. He has been visited this week by relatives who have traveled from far distances to extend sympathy and offer help.

Entertainment and Greetings Slated At Various Stops

A caravan of local boosters will leave City Hall at Hico next Wednesday morning, July 28, at 8 o'clock to carry tidings and invitations to attend Hico's 68th Annual Reunion, dates for which have been set for August 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Weldon Pierce, Reunion manager, urges that as many as possible join the caravan on its trip which will appear at neighboring towns approximately according to the following schedule:

Leave 8:00 a. m.
Clairette 8:15
Dublin 8:30
Comanche 9:00
De Leon 9:30
Stephenville 10:00
Granbury 11:30
Glen Rose 12:00 (Lunch)
Walnut Springs 12:45
Meridian 1:20
Cranfills Gap 2:00
Fairy 3:35
Hamilton 3:30
Carlton 4:15
Back to Hico 5:00
Iredell 5:30

Pierce plans to carry along a group of entertainers, and lively acts will be staged at each stop. The program is shaping up well, Pierce said Tuesday, calling attention to the traditional parade on the first day, Wednesday, August 4, in which everyone is invited to place an entry.

"This parade is not a one-man's affair," Pierce stated. "Everybody has to get in on it to make it really worthwhile." The parade time will be changed this year to 6:00 p. m., rather than 10:00 a. m., as has been the custom in the past. No entry fee or registration is required, he further explained, saying, "Just be there on time."

The line will form at the customary place two blocks north of City Hall. The address of welcome will come over a loudspeaker from a car furnished through the courtesy of Paymaster Feada. Hico School Band will lead the parade of floats and cars, which will wind its way through the downtown section and go on to the Reunion grounds and exhibit booths. Pierce also urged that anyone who has a horse he would like to ride in the parade is cordially invited to join in the line-up.

Liberal prizes are being offered in the various divisions of the colorful parade, totaling $250. One change has been made in order to allow more competition in the float division, which will offer a first and second prize this year. Prizes will be as follows:

Decorated Float, First, $15.00
Decorated Float, Second, $10.00
Best Decorated Car, $15.00
Best Comic Entry, $5.00
Best Horse, $5.00
Best Bicycle, $2.50

The program for the Reunion, as completed to date, includes Hico Band Concert, Wednesday night; entertainment by the Dublin Quartet on Thursday night; a Square Dance, Friday night, and the Old Fiddler's Contest on Saturday night. Letters are in the process of being mailed out to invite the regular participants in the Old Fiddlers Contest to return again. Doubtless there will be political fireworks interspersed at intervals, depending on closeness of runoff races.

Bill Hames Shows, Inc., of Fort Worth will furnish carnival attractions which promise to offer greater variety of rides than previously offered, according to Pierce, who stated that we were very fortunate to get this group.

Plans are being made this week for rental and decoration of the exhibit booths in the livestock building at the Reunion grounds, which has been a popular attraction added recently.

Further announcements will be contained in the big 4-page circular to be distributed on the booster trip and in next week's issue of the paper. Anyone desiring representation in this message, who has not already been contacted, would confer a favor on the Reunion manager and the printers by telephoning 132 to signify approval.

MY PLATFORM

I have been asked by many of my friends about what platform I am running on. What you have in mind is my policy of a political platform.

Many years ago my customers seemed to think anyone that was fair and square was good enough for them. I have heard them say they liked to trade with certain merchants in town because they believed they were fair and square.

When you start to vote I want you to think of me as fair and square and if elected, will be on my honor to carry this out.

I want your vote, and hope I have passed out my cards in a gentleman-like manner. Gave you enough of my time for respect and did not take enough of your time to be bore-some.

I will appreciate your consideration of me as your next Commissioner for Precinct No. 3.

Requests for Copies of Birth Records Should Be Made Immediately

Austin, July 22.—Attention par-ents:

Now would be a fine time to re-quest copies of birth records for children entering school for the first time in September. To delay is to risk being caught in the August rush.

That's the word from W. D. Carroll, state registrar, who re-members with vivid clarity last year's swamped condition in the Bureau of Vital Statistics at the State Department of Health.

Many schools require certified copies of birth certificates as proof that a child is six years old before permitting the child to be enrolled, Carroll advised. But he strongly urged parents to make a personal check with school officials in their areas to determine for sure that birth records are required in those sections.

If they are, by all means make requests for copies of those records early.

"Working with limited person-nel, the Bureau of Vital Statistics cannot possibly render the type service expected by those who wait until the last moment to make re-quests," Carroll said.

Each application should include the full name of the child, the date and place of birth, and the names of parents. The law says a fee of fifty cents must accompany each application.

Requests for certified copies is-sued by the state registrar should be addressed to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Dept. of Health, Austin.

How many children will be en-rolling in school for the first time this fall? Carroll can't say precisely. But he does know that some 200,000 children were born in Tex-as six years ago which, theoretical-ly, would make them eligible for school this year. And most of those entering public school will need proof of age.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank each and ev-eryone for their kindness, in word and deed in the sickness and pass-ing of our dear father. May God richly bless each and every one. Thanks again.

Fairy

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We still have hot dry weather in this section. Farmers have been busy breaking stubble, hay baling, plowing cotton and will soon begin combining maize. We feel very fortunate to have made a fair yield of maize.

We are very sorry to report Mrs. Byrd Slater still very seriously ill. She was expected to be returned home Monday from the Meridian Hospital. The Slater's children, Miss Virginia of Fort Worth and Thomas of South Texas are here with their parents. We sincerely hope Mrs. Slater will soon be much better. She is the former Miss Bertha Anderson of Fairy.

Several from this community were in Hico Wednesday of last week to attend funeral services for Frank Bonner Sr. and S. E. Blair Jr. and some went on to Dublin to attend the Jones funeral service, and on Friday several attended the funeral service at Hico for Elmer Bullard, with interment in the Fairy Cemetery. Our deepest sympathy is extended to all those bereaved in the passing of their loved ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Green of Hico and their niece, Mrs. Joe Eilers of Laredo came by the home of the writer on Wednesday of last week and stopped for a chat with us. They were on their way to the Lanham Cemetery, where they have relatives buried. Mrs. Eilers is the former Miss Ruby Lineburger of Fairy. She lives six miles from the business section of Laredo on a high hill and stated that the water reached a 30-ft. depth at the foot of the hill near her home. She stated her home was thrown open to the needy and she served meals for several days, having as high as twelve persons at some meals. She also helped to distribute food, water and clothing to the needy and stated that it was impossible to explain in words how bad the flood was.

Miss Wilma Grace Goynes of Fort Worth spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goynes and Lynda, also her aunt, Miss Zell Goynes who is visiting in the home of her brother during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Olga Duncan enjoyed a visit from several of their children and families over the week end. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney McKandless and family of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Luskie and family, Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Darden and family, Waxahachie, and

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hendrix and Barbara of Duncanville, and Archie of the home. Mrs. Darden and children and the Hendrix daughter, Barbara, remained for a visit through this week.

The writer attended singing at Warrens Creek, near Hamilton last Sunday afternoon, accompanying the A. H. Sumerfords from Hamilton. On our return to Hamilton we went up to the Willis Oglesby home for a visit with Mrs. Minnie McCarty, but learned on arrival that she had been moved that morning to the Hurley rest home in Hamilton. We went by the home and visited with her. It will be remembered that her daughter, Mrs. Oglesby passed away several weeks ago. She had nursed her invalid mother for the past six years. Several of the grandchildren met during the week end to work out the proper care for her in the future, and since the grandchildren all lived out of the county it was thought best to take her to a rest home. She seemed perfectly contented and we believe she is going to be well pleased in their decision. The home has some fine women supervisors and they do all in their power to make their patients content and comfortable. We know she will make them a good patient and as for ourselves we are very glad she's going to remain in Hamilton. When we departed all patients who were able to be up and about were gathered in the living room watching television, one of these being uncle Tom Cunningham, whose son was the first Hamilton County boy to die in World War I. The Cunningham Post of Hamilton was named in his honor. We can feel fortunate in having two of these nice rest homes in Hamilton.

Mrs. McCarty informed us that she received a large number of birthday cards on July 1, and also received a number of nice and useful gifts from friends and relatives. She was wearing a beautiful bed jacket sent her by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby of Killeen and said another grandson, Willis Oglesby Jr. and wife of Alpine sent her a nice testament for which she was very thankful. Here's hoping she can be with us through many more birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wright, son and daughter of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby and daughters of Killeen spent the week end with Mrs. Oglesby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakley, Mrs. Wright is the former Miss Nellwin Jordan of Cleburne and is a granddaughter of Mrs. Minnie (Penny) McCarty of Hamilton.

The Baptist revival is in progress and will continue through August 1. Services are being conducted by Evangelist Tom Landers, with Bo Brown in charge of the singing.

The Methodist revival at Lanham started Sunday and will continue through next Sunday. Services are being held daily at 10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. Rev. Kenneth Wyatt of Dallas is conducting the services, with Raymond Jones as song director.

Miss Lynda Lou Goynes is spending this week in Glen Rose attending the Methodist encampment at Glen Lake. She accompanied Darrel Allison and several others from Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones and family of Lanham returned home Sunday after a visit since Tuesday of last week with her sister, Mrs. Stella Gilmer of Lubbock. They also visited other relatives in that section.

Raymond Driver and daughter Pat of Texas City are visiting at this writing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mrs. Driver's mother, Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie. Mr. Driver has been unable to work due to ill health. We hope he will soon be much improved.

Mrs. Emma Ogle received the sad message on Thursday of last week that her brother, John Fort of Clifton had passed away. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock at Clifton with interment at Boggy Cemetery. Mrs. Ogle, who has been very poorly the past several weeks was accompanied to the funeral services by a neighbor, Leslie New. Mr. Fort suffered a stroke some time ago and had been confined to his bed since and suffered another stroke a few days prior to his death.

Mrs. Dellis Seago and Sherry of Waco visited here Sunday with her parents. She and Sherry had been to Bishop to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Mary Lou Hartgraves. While in the coastal area she visited her brother, Waynard Allison at the San Jacinto Memorial Hospital at Baytown. It will be remembered he was seriously burned last Sunday week when an oil tank at a Humble refinery where he worked exploded. They report him doing as well as can be expected. His room number is 319 and we hope all who can will write him. We feel sure he will be glad to hear from his many friends. Mrs. George Stringer of Hico accompanied Mrs. Seago and is her sister and also visited her brother.

Mrs. T. L. Betts left Tuesday for Stillwater, Okla. for a visit in the home of her son, A. L. Betts, and family. After a visit with them she expects to go to Reedley, Calif. to visit another son, Joe Betts, and family.

The oldest hospital in the Navy and one of the pioneer medical institutions in the nation is the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Virginia.

CONGRESSIONAL

A—Under the seniority rule, the chairman of a committee generally is the member of the majority party with the longest continuous service on that committee.

A—"The derivation is believed to stem from the Latin 'Juncus,' meaning 'rush' or 'reed.' The French called a dessert served in a rush basket a 'juncet,' while the Italians call a similar sweet dish a 'juncetta.'"

TO THE CITIZENS OF HAMILTON COUNTY

As the primary election draws nearer, I take this means to thank each of you for the many courtesies extended me during my campaign for County Judge thus far.

I have earnestly endeavored to see as many of you as possible, and will continue my efforts until election day. If I have not contacted you and fail to do so between now and July 24th, I assure you it will not be intentional and I trust that you will consider this notice as a personal solicitation of your vote and influence.

If you elect me, I will strive with all my heart and mind to make you the kind of County Judge you would want me to be.

Meeting you has been a genuine pleasure.

Statement By Your County Superintendent

Forest Harper realizes that the smooth, successful, and progressive functioning of your school system has been possible due to the excellent cooperation and support given him by the good citizens of Hamilton County.

1. He was one of the originators of a proposal passed by the Legislature in 1953 tying our school tax assignment more closely to our ability to pay.

2. He has planned and worked to see school bus operation, which in the past cost the taxpayers of Hamilton County an average of better than $5,000 per year, come to operate within the money received from the State for the past two years.

4. He believes in protecting the health of our school children, has sponsored the purchase of equipment for checking their sight and hearing, and has taken advantage of regulations to provide a school health nurse... all at no cost to the districts.

5. He has attempted to oversee the honest administration of all our schools, both Public and Veterans Vocational. He feels that tax dollars set aside for these schools are for the benefit of pupils and veterans and not for individuals.

Friends, he feels that the twelve years' experience previous to asking for the office, plus that while serving as your county superintendent, best qualifies him to take care of your county schools' interest.

It was his desire to see each and every voter, personally, but time and office duties would not allow. Permit him this opportunity to solicit your vote and influence and thank you for every courtesy extended during the campaign.

PET PEEVE by Mike Bennett

A LONG study of the situation has convinced me that the business world is inhabited by a class of gentle, if prudent, prevaricators.

The fellows that really get my goat, and they are the most prolific prevaricators, are fishing camp operators. In all my years of indulgence in the piscatorial pastime, I never yet rented a boat from an operator who didn't say that fishing was wonderful the day before and everyone on the lake brought in the limit.

This is mighty bad, hearing that you are just an hour or so late. Yet you fish in the hot sun all day without a nibble, go home sad and disgusted, and then out of pure stubbornness, come back two days later to try it again.

Tips on Watering for Best Results Given By TCU Professor

Fort Worth, July 21.—The roots of all plants—trees, flowers, shrubs and grasses—go where they can get water.

That fact should be the basis for all watering during these days of high temperatures and shortages, according to Dr. Martine Emert, associate professor of geography at TCU and nationally known expert on conservation.

As much as 75 per cent of the water being used—and paid for—by some people is being entirely wasted these days, Dr. Emert believes.

"Since roots will seek water," she points out, "those of plants and lawns that are sprinkled often and watered lightly turn back toward the surface. They can be scalded and killed by the hot sun and must be watered more frequently."

Those plants that receive deep watering sink their roots far into the soil where they are protected from the sun and heat. They require much less water to live, Dr. Emert said.

Frequently, 60 per cent of the water used is lost before it ever has a chance to help. Sprays and sprinklers that throw water into the hot air, especially in fine streams, result in a very high percentage of evaporation either before it hits the ground or as it lies thinly scattered on the surface.

"This method is extremely wasteful," said Dr. Emert whose course in conservation of natural resources at TCU is very popular. "A major portion of water so applied might as well be poured down a drain. It just evaporates." She recommends the use of "soakers," either canvas or plastic but turned toward the ground—not into the air as sprays. The finer the spray in the hot air the greater the evaporation.

Dr. Emert, who practices what she preaches at her home at 2940 Ryan Avenue here, also called attention to the fact that lawn mowers should be set high as possible these days and that all cuttings should be left on the lawn.

"The higher the grass the more it shades the vital roots," she points out. "When cuttings are left on the lawn, they act as a mulch around the roots and help save water."

Working with experts of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, notably Arthur H. Courtade who teaches a course in practical grassland management at TCU, Dr. Emert listed the following suggestions:

1. Water deep (at least two hours) with a "soaker" or other device which puts the water directly on the ground once a week.
2. Divide the lawn into sections, treating one or more thoroughly on "permissible" watering days. Don't try to do them all the same day.
3. Old trees and shrubs (four years or more) can get by with one watering a month if it is properly done.
5. Set lawn mower blades as high as possible; leave all cuttings where they fall.

State Fair to Show Role of Research in Texas Agriculture

"Research for Texas Agriculture" will be the theme of the Agriculture Show at the 1954 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9 through 24. General Manager James H. Stewart has announced.

Elaborate exhibits will reflect the research conducted by the agricultural experiment stations of the Texas A & M College System, which has cooperated closely with the State Fair in working out the unique and educational show.

The 12 A & M Extension districts of the state each will have an individual exhibit, depicting how research has contributed to progress of the particular type of agriculture practiced in each region. The district displays will explain how Texas as a whole are affected by regional problems and their solutions. A huge central exhibit will portray the overall statewide picture.

For example, the Panhandle exhibit will show how research has scored a victory in the production of better wheat which in turn makes possible a better loaf of bread.

The role of research on cotton-growing, mesquite control, water conservation and management, beef production, soil improvements, rice-pasture farming and pasture development will be illustrated. Forage production, dairying, sheep and goat breeding, parasite control and range management also will be portrayed in their relation to research.

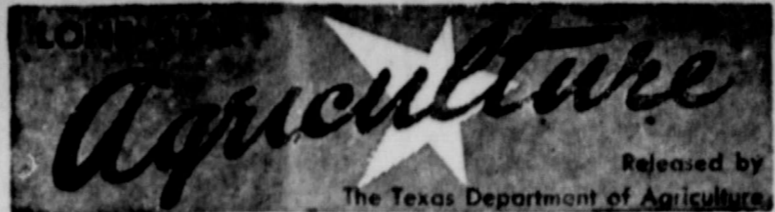

How agricultural research has helped Texas housewives get more for their food dollar in everything from fruits and vegetables to broiler chickens will be shown. And one of the exhibits will be devoted to the role of research in forestry and the manufacture of forest products for better living.

The twelve district exhibits will demonstrate research in the following regions of Texas: The Panhandle, South Plains, Rolling Plains, North Texas, Northeast Texas, the Big Bend, Edwards Plateau, Heart of Texas, Piney Woods, South Texas, Gulf Coast and the Rio Grande Plains. Prairie View A & M College will also have an exhibit with the research theme as part of the show.

FLOODS AND DROUGHT

Two natural disasters loomed over Texas in the closing days of June; one struck with dramatic swiftness, the second was paying a return visit.

It is a fantastic "joke" that Texas can be plagued with floods and drought at the same time—and often within a few miles of each other. That is what happened last month.

The devastating floods at Laredo, Ozona, and along the Rio Grande resulting in tragic loss of lives and property, captured the newspaper headlines. But, at the same time, farmers and ranchers in many parts of Central and West Texas began to feel the now familiar effects of a lack of water. The aftermath of both disasters will linger for a long time.

Cattle Feel Effects Of Nations Heat Wave

The high temperatures that have gripped large portions of the country had an adverse effect on cattle trade Monday. Stocker and feeder interests at out-of-state points, especially in sections of the Cornbelt that have been sizzling under 100-degree plus temperatures reported movement of stockers to the country very slow.

The blistering heat was causing some concern as to the corn crop prospects in some important areas and forage definitely deteriorated badly in many sections where Texas cattle are shipped every Summer.

The better kinds of calves sold at $16 to $18 at Fort Worth Monday and yearlings around $13 to $17.50 on the good kinds but order buyers reported sales slow out of second hands and shipping orders were behind a week ago with most dealers.

Canners, cutters and bulls fared well and drew generally steady prices some cutter cows selling to better advantage than at last week's close. Fat cows were weak to lower as all packers exhibited a marked aversion to follow.

Fat cattle were generally steady. I. S. Scott, Castro County, marketed a load of choice steer yearlings at $21.50 and Marvin Beauchamp, Moore County, cashed two loads of good and choice heifers at $20.50 that averaged 752 pounds. Beauchamp reported these heifers weighed 775 pounds prior to shipment—and he said had he sold them at home and taken a three per cent shrink, it would have made pay weights 731 pounds against the 752 they weighed at market. John Butterly, Oklahoma, had two loads of steers at $19.25 and Roscoe Edwards, Montague County, sold two loads at 1,139 pounds at $20. The Garner steers from Coleman County drew $20.25, and Leslie Fry, Burnet, had some fat heifers at $21, with a few out.

Hogs Steady, While Sows Sell Lower

Top grade hogs sold at $24.25 at Fort Worth Monday, steady with the close of last week. Sows were 50 cents to $1 lower, selling at $14 to $18.50.

Less desirable hogs wither from a weight factor, or from their lack of finish or undesirable meat types, sold from $21 to $24.

Typical of the good hogs was a load averaging 251 pounds from Arlington State College, of Arlington. These hogs brought $24.25, the extreme top despite being a little heavy.

We are in no position to say whether their stay at Arlington State and subsequent exposure to some higher learning made them more attractive to the buyers. At any rate, like most Arlington State products, they were first class!

Steady Prices Prevail On Sheep and Hogs

The sheep and lambs were considered somewhat less attractive from the standpoint of quality on Monday and as was the case with all livestock that day, they took on universally liberal amounts of alfalfa and water.

Prices were considered fully steady on all kinds. Good and choice fat lambs cashed at $17 to $19, and were quotable above that range slightly. Common and medium kinds cashed at $10 to $15 and culls sold around $8 to $10. Medium and good kinds of stocker and feeders drew $12 to $15, a few good to choice feeders to $15.50. Slaughter yearlings earned $9 to $12.50 and slaughter muttons of the aged variety sold from $6 to $9. Slaughter ewes again sold around the $3 to $4 range and old bucks crossed the scales at mostly $3.

Angus Feeder Sale Set For September 3

The Texas Aberdeen-Angus Association will stage a feeder and stocker calf sale at Fort Worth Livestock Market September 3. The offerings will include loads, half-loads and numerous smaller lots. Glen Tole, secretary of the Association, says that there will be many good club calf prospects in the smaller lots.

Concern Over Water Shows Need to Protect Supply in Reservoirs

"Public interest in water problems in Texas is at an all-time high," H. N. Smith, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, at Temple, has observed.

Many articles on water resources and water needs are appearing in newspapers and magazines, and Federal and State agencies, committees, and many cities are making water studies.

"This widespread concern about water supplies," Smith pointed out, "emphasizes the importance of taking needed steps without delay to prevent rapid filling of reservoirs with sediment with accompanying loss of valuable water storage capacity."

Smith referred to the four major reservoirs—Benbrook, Grapevine, Garza-Little Elm, and Lavon—which are being completed by the Corps of Engineers above Dallas and Fort Worth. "These reservoirs," he said, "will give flood protection to Dallas and Fort Worth and to levee districts and farmland along the river below them. The dams also will serve the very important purposes of storing water for municipal and industrial use, recreation, navigation of the Trinity and streamflow regulation. Forecasting even greater needs for water in the future as Texas develops, we need to do everything that can be done to protect and increase the useful life of these reservoirs."

Smith estimated that at the present rate of erosion, and soil movement in the watershed the sediment pools of the four reservoirs would be filled with sediment in 27 to 36 years.

"But this doesn't need to happen," he said. "If the needed soil conservation measures and practices were being used throughout the watershed of Grapevine reservoir—as an example—the life of the sediment pool would be increased to 50 years and the storage capacity of the reservoir maintained correspondingly. And if the proposed system of upstream flood prevention dams, which has been planned by the Soil Conservation Service above Grapevine reservoir, were built immediately the sediment pool life would be lengthened 116 years because of the sediment deposition which would be prevented."

"The Trinity River watershed isn't the only place in Texas where rapid filling of reservoirs by sediment is occurring," Smith continued. "The same thing is happening in other parts of the state, and people are becoming concerned at seeing mud replace water. We have had requests from many cities and towns for help in finding out the rate of sedimentation in their water supply reservoirs, and what can be done to protect them."

"During recent years we have cooperated with the cities of Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Waco and Abilene in making sedimentation surveys of their water supply reservoirs," said Smith, "and with the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Water Improvement District in a survey of Medina Lake. We are right now cooperating with the cities of Graham and Throckmorton in surveys of their reservoirs."

Smith pointed out that good sites for reservoirs are scarce, and the best ones already have been used. "When replacement dams have to be built at other locations it is going to cost a lot of money," he said. "That's why we must do everything we can to make our reservoirs last as long as possible."

RULES FOR JUROR CONDUCT EXPLAINED

Thousands of Texans are called each year as prospective jurors in our many state and federal courts. When chosen to serve, very few of these violate their oath with intentional misconduct. But honest mistakes have all too frequently brought the sincerity and ethics of an individual juror into question. Usually such errors arise from his misunderstanding of his function as a juror—the jury is judge of facts in the case before it.

Like Caesar's wife, the juror must not only avoid wrong, but must also avoid any appearance of wrong. Otherwise, his integrity and honor may be brought into question by actions which are actually innocent but appear censurable to those who view them. By observing the following simple suggestions, the juror may be sure he is maintaining the highest of ethics, in which no possible fault may be found by others:

Hold yourself aloof from all persons (except other jurors) in any way connected with the trial of the case. That means that you should not mingle with nor talk to the lawyers, witnesses, parties, nor the judge, even though the discussion is wholly unrelated to the trial.

Do not discuss the case nor permit others to mention it to you or in your presence during the trial. If anyone insists upon talking about the case after you have explained to him that you are a juror and must not listen, report the matter to the judge immediately.

Do not commence your deliberations until you have heard all the evidence from both sides, the argument of the lawyers, and the court's charge. You should not mention the case except in the jury room when all other jurors are present.

Do not become a private investigator. All properly admissible evidence will be brought before you. Do not try to search out additional facts you believe to have been omitted. Do not even guess or speculate about facts not in evidence.

Be attentive to the evidence as it is presented. If you are to properly aid the other jurors in settling the fact question, it will be necessary to listen carefully to all evidence presented.

Do not guess at the judge's opinion of the facts. You are the judge of the facts. He is not allowed and will not try to invade your province. His rulings on admissibility of evidence reflect no ideas or opinions on any fact question.

You should not mention or discuss your own personal experiences, or any knowledge that you may have of similar transactions. If you should disclose such information to others serving on a jury, the court would have to grant a new trial.

Accept no favors from and bestow no favors upon any person interested in the trial. However innocent the conduct may be, it will raise doubts in otherwise undoubting minds, and may even be subject to more serious insinuations and charges.

When in doubt ask the judge. If you are in doubt about your rights or duties as a juror, you should not ask anyone but the judge for information.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Gay 90's Attraction Will Be Feature at Heart O' Texas Fair

Waco, July 22.—A Gay Nineties attraction, the "Diamond Garter," will be a new and sparkling feature at the Heart O' Texas Fair, Executive Vice President Othel M. Neely announces.

The producer will be R. G. McElyea of Fort Worth, outstanding figure in the Southwestern amusement and sports field, who has presented musical and dramatic shows at the State Fair of Texas and other top expositions. McElyea has the concessions at Baylor Stadium, Waco Municipal Stadium and at all Cotton Bowl events. He has the food and drink concessions this year, as he did last year, at the Heart O' Texas Fair.

"The Diamond Garter" will be housed under canvas, with a 180-foot front and with 200 tables where beverages and sandwiches will be served. An old-time melodrama, "The Drunkard's Daughter," will be given. The audience will enjoy cheering the hero and hissing the villain. The all-professional cast will be chosen from the performers in Dallas' summer opera. Besides possessing acting ability, all will have good voices.

After the melodrama, there will be an operetta, specialty acts and an audience sing-song.

"It will all add up to an enjoyable time and will mean a new feature for the '54 fair," Neely said. Dates are Oct. 2-9.

Smith-Doxey Cotton Services Require that Farmers Apply Soon

Farmers have only 9 more days to apply for Smith-Doxey cotton services.

Applications for these services must be filed by August 1, 1954, according to Sam W. Martin, in charge of the Dallas Cotton classing office, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service.

"Nearly all groups in this area have turned in their applications," Martin said. "This means that farmers in these groups will be sure to get their first bales of cotton classed without paying a fee. Also, they will get USDA market news price quotations."

N. Y. Terral Makes a Statement to the Voters of Hamilton County . . .

I want to thank everyone for the courtesy shown me through this campaign. As you know, I served as sheriff from 1945 through 1950. I am asking for the job back on my past record. It is written in the law that a sheriff's job is to protect life and property. If you elect me, I will do just that. I will handle juvenile crime, with consideration to the offender and according to law. I know by experience that the sheriff's success amounts to his source of information. If you give me the sheriff's job back, I will organize a sheriff's department that people, as a whole, will support.

I will specialize in the apprehension of swindlers and thieves . . .

I thank every one . . .
