Continued Growth And Progress of Telephone Companies Noted

The 4714 Independent (non-Bell) telephone companies of America, of which the local company is one, and which serve 11,000 communities and two-thirds of the geographical area of the country, now operate 8,461,000 of the 56,490,000 telephones in the United States, its territories and possessions, and have a total plant investment of $2,042,833,000.

According to Oscar Burton, Vice President of the Gulf States Telephone Company, figures released by the United States Independent Association reflect the continuing growth and progress of the independent segment of the industry, which has been expanding at an accelerated pace during the past 10 years to meet the unprecedented demands for telephone service occasioned by population growth, increased usage, and a prosperous economy. While the country's population increased 31 per cent during the 20-year period from 1935 to 1955, the number of independent telephones soared from 3,185,000 to 8,461,000 or 166 per cent.

The nation's long distance service is furnished primarily by the Bell System toll network. Many independent companies themselves own and operate toll lines, mostly regional in character, all interconnected with the Bell network and with the toll facilities of neighboring independent companies. Long distance traffic between the two segments of the industry is freely interchanged. Agreements are in effect covering routings and divisions of revenues on the interchanged business, and the customer gets the benefit of the air-line rate between points regardless of the number of companies involved in supplying the facilities, Mr. Burton said.

Omar Burleson Seeks Re-Election To Congress From 17th District

It is customary for a candidate for public office to make a formal announcement of his intentions.

I have filed my application for a place on the July 28th Primary Ballot with each County Democratic Chairman for re-election to Congress. Due to pressing business of the Congress, this is about the first opportunity I have had to issue a newspaper statement.

In a previous campaign announcement, I quoted Champ Clark, one of America's great statesmen and a former Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States. He made the following statement, not in a political campaign but as political doctrine: "The truth is being more and more realized that, other things being equal or 'anywhere nearly equal, the value of the Representative (in Congress) increases in proportion to his length of service. The best plan for a constituency to pursue is to select a man of good sense, good habits, and personal integrity, young enough to learn, and re-elect him so long as he retains his faculties and is faithful to his trust."

It is my hope that I thusly qualify, and on this principle I base my candidacy for re-election to Congress.

My record should be known to all who have given attention to it. During my service in Congress, a constant effort has been made to do two things particularly: (1) to know the views and feelings of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in the Congress; and (2) to inform and advise, as clearly as I can, on those issues which affect my constituency and our Nation.

Space will not permit a discussion of specific issues, simply because there are too many. Generally, however, I have consistently voted to reduce expenditures of government at every opportunity, only voting for those things applicable to our national defense and those things which I believed to be beneficial to the people as a whole. As the record will show, on many occasions I have found myself in the minority but have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best, regardless of any other consideration. In this session of the Congress, I have voted to reduce spending by more than 6 billion dollars, which I did not believe was necessary, although some of it may have been desirable. It is a simple fact that the only way our taxes can ever be reduced is cutting expenditures.

At all times, I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the economy in our 17th Congressional District. All matters affecting the farmer, the oil business, the business and professional man have received my unstinted attention. Many times we do not accomplish all we think should be accomplished in these things, but I know in my heart, and believe those who have had occasion to learn first-hand know, that I have done the best possible under all the circumstances which must be met.

Farmers know of my work in their behalf. The independent oil operator is generally aware of my activities in behalf of the industry. Two or three items especially are of constant and continuing importance to the oil economy; namely, the depletion allowance, foreign oil imports and the necessity of preventing the Federal government from controlling gas prices at the well-head.

Most veterans are aware of my work connected with their problems. As a veteran, it has given me great personal satisfaction in rendering every possible deserving service.

In all things I have favored States' rights. This proposition covers many issues and, in all of them, my record will show my opposition to the Federal government's encroachment in any field rightfully belonging to the States.

At all times I have tried to conduct myself in a manner to deserve to the greatest possible degree the great trust and confidence, which have been placed in me by my friends for the past several years. To violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable, and it shall never knowingly be done.

Both my wife and I have tried at all times to do those things to bring the greatest possible credit to our area, and shall continue to do so.

As Chairman of the Committee on House Administration, and because of other important Commit-

It Happened Here or Near

By E. E. DAWSON

A wee bit of a girl, wearing Levis and a pony tail, had about all she could lug in a sack slung across her shoulder. When asked what she was selling she said, "Grit." Now Grit is a weekly paper that you may see being sold all over the United States, and is three-quarters of a century old; that is, it has been published for seventy-four years. I used to get it every once in a while when I was a boy back in the nineties. It was interesting then and is full of interest now.

But more interesting than the paper she sold was the girl. She was selling Grit but she was manifesting GRIT, in capitals. Somebody once had a lecture entitled "Grace, Grit and Gumption," or something like that. That wisp of a bit of girl has grit, or she would not be out on the streets selling her paper. Now as she grows to womanhood, if she will develop Grace and Gumption, she will be a great soul. Somehow I think she will. She may not have much money at the start of life, but there are things of greater value than money, and Grace and Gumption are two of them. Grace? Just what is it? Well, it's a quality of soul that shows itself in the face and the movements of an individual and how they meet life's responsibilities and solve its problems. It is sometimes applied to a woman's movements in society, at proms and things of that sort. But it is more than that; it is a choice quality of character that shows up in one's speech and conduct and responses to the appeals of life. It is not something learned from a course in how to act in company but is a thing grown by the individual within the soul.

I bought a copy of Grit from the small little lady, and George Powledge, who was beside me, also bought one. And I am betting on the maiden who sells them.

I am indebted to George Powledge for a good Frank Dobie story—or is it a Cross Barry story? Well, it seems to be both in one. George got it from his sister, who resides in Dallas, and teaches in the schools there. Miss Powledge got it from Miss Green, another Dallas teacher, and she got it from the wife of Coss Barry, her sister.

Frank Dobie, the master storyteller of Texas, drove up to the Coss Barry home some years ago during Mr. Barry's lifetime, and Coss Barry shouted to him, "Get down and come in and spend the night with us." Mr. Dobie did just that, for he had come to hear a story from the old pioneer, Mr. Barry and Mrs. Barry never inquired who the visitor was, nor did he tell them. Dobie knows how to get old-timers to reminiscing about old-times, and he had Mr. Barry going down the old trails in no time at all. Supper was served, bedtime passed, and still Coss Barry kept telling his stories while Frank Dobie jotted down items every once in a while. Finally at three in the morning, Mr. Barry realized that it was getting a bit late and let his guest go to bed.

After breakfast the next morning Frank Dobie took his departure, having never told his host and hostess who he was. But he presented them with a book, one of his book of stories, and autographed it. The Barrys were so absorbed in getting their guest off in a comfortable fashion they did not glance in the book until later. Then they discovered that their interesting guest had been the famous Frank Dobie, and a new tale was added to Mr. Barry's repertoire of interesting tales.

If you fail to read Frank Dobie's tales in the Sunday Star-Telegram you miss a lot of wholesome reading.

Integration of Schools Compared to Prohibition

Senator Robertson says it is now the South's turn to appeal to public opinion.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The present reaction of Southerners to the Supreme Court decision of 1954 prohibiting racially segregated schools has been compared by Senator A. Willis Robertson of Virginia to the reaction of Northern states to the prohibition amendment between 1919 when it was ratified and 1933 when it was repealed.

Sen. Robertson

Robertson spoke on the Senate Floor answering criticism by Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York which was directed against the "Declaration of Constitutional Principles" signed by nearly 100 members of Congress from the Southern states.

Explaining that he had enjoyed friendly relations in the Senate with Senator Lehman, although they had differed on economic and social problems, Robertson said it was without rancor or bitterness that he proposed to point out "how inconsistent it is for a distinguished member of this body to make a strong and determined fight on one phase of States' rights and attempt to deny a similar privilege to others who invoke the same doctrine but on a different issue."

The declaration signed by Southern members of Congress, Robertson said, condemned the Supreme Court decision as unwarranted under the division of powers provided by the Constitution and unwise not only because of the effect it would have on public schools but also because of the damage it would do to our constitutional form of government. The declaration advocated only "lawful" means to bring about a reversal of the Court's decision. Robertson recalled that after the Eighteenth (prohibition) Amendment and the enforcement act adopted by Congress had been approved by the Supreme Court in a test case, Senator Lehman's state had refused to cooperate in enforcement of the law. He quoted the U. S. District Attorney for the Southern District of New York as saying repeal of the New York enforcement act was "the hardest blow the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment had received."

What New York Did

Robertson also quoted statements of New York officials as to the thousands of speakeasies which operated in that state during the prohibition period and recalled that former Mayor LaGuardia of New York City had said it would take 250,000 policemen and an additional force of 200,000 "to police the police" to enforce prohibition in New York.

Recalling that Senator Lehman had been Lieutenant Governor of New York during this period and was Governor when the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed, Robertson quoted Lehman as saying that repeal marked "the end, so far as this state is concerned, of a fifteen-year long struggle carried on by thousands of devoted and patriotic men and women against sumptuary legislation which at no time represented the uncontrolled sentiment of a majority of the people of this country." He said former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York had admitted, however, that those who fought against prohibition had been called nullificationists and enemies of the Constitution.

Robertson asked if Lehman would not recognize "that the decree requiring the Southern States to operate mixed schools instead of requiring separate but equal schools for the races is in our eyes 'sumptuary'."

The Virginia Senator said that in 1859 the State of Wisconsin had opposed a Supreme Court decision requiring return of fugitive slaves and the legislature of that state had passed a resolution denouncing the Court and saying that its order was "without authority, void and of no force."

Lincoln Quoted

Robertson said it was with reference to this Wisconsin action that Abraham Lincoln in 1861 had said: "If the policy of the government upon vital questions affecting the whole people is to be irrevocably fixed by a decision of the Supreme Court the instant they are made, in ordinary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned the government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

The Senator also quoted Elihu Root as saying at the New York convention to ratify repeal of the prohibition amendment that the American people had learned two vital lessons. "One is that our Constitutional government rests upon two bases, national strength and local self-government, and that both are essential to the continuance of our free democracy. . . . The other lesson is of higher and broader importance, that human progress, that advance along the road of civilization from brutish animalism to the conceptions of justice and charity . . . has been made not by compulsion, but by the development of higher standards of conduct and nobler emotions among the people; a lesson that advance in all that is noble and good comes not from without, but from within."

Robertson said Franklin D. Roosevelt in a presidential campaign speech said prohibition had failed because "we have depended too largely upon the power of governmental action instead of recognizing that the authority of the home and that of the churches in these matters is a fundamental force on which we must build. . . . The experience of nearly one hundred and fifty years under the Constitution has shown us that the proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers."

"The principles declared in those utterances," Senator Robertson said, "are the same ones which are advocated by the signers of the 1956 Declaration of Constitutional Principles. New York and other Northern states objected to national prohibition. The Southern states now object to a prohibition against separate but equal schools."

He said Senator Lehman had hailed the repeal of prohibition as evidence that public opinion could do legally what many had claimed could be done only through nullification.

"It is before the bar of public opinion that we of the South now hope to make our case," Robertson concluded.

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURELESON
Congressman
17th District

According to the Department of Agriculture reports, farm income has increased 3 per cent during the last month. This is no encouraging news for farmers in our area. The increase comes mainly from a slight rise in hog prices and from some types of fruit and other commodities in other parts of the country.

The fact that there has been an increase in the cost of living by about one and a half per cent offsets half of these increases, but hits with its fullest impact the farmer who has nothing to sell at this season of the year.

There is an excellent chance that wages in the steel industry will be increased in the next several months, and that steel prices will increase accordingly. If it is allowed, there is a possibility that steel prices may advance as much as $7 to $10 a ton. This certainly will not make a tractor or an automobile, or even a wheelbarrow, come any cheaper to the farmer.

At last we have a new farm bill, such as it is. It leaves a lot to be desired.

Essentially the bill provides for $1,200,000,000 a year for the so-called Soil Bank. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said that he will put the Soil Bank provision in operation on cotton, wheat, and one or two other items. This will mean a "plow up" operation in some places.

Present acre payments for crop reductions range from $18 to $300, according to the Agricultural Department estimates. Cotton reductions would bring an estimated $48 to $60 per acre. The bill also gives support to feed grains. It provides for a 10 per cent higher price support on sorghum grain.

A supplemental appropriation has made available an additional $5 million for farm housing loans. The loans may be applied for immediately at the County FHA office for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings, including water supplies. The loans carry a 4 per cent interest rate, with repayments scheduled over periods up to 33 years, secured by mortgage on the borrower's farm.

Foreign oil imports continue to be of very great concern to the independent oil operator. Most of the importing of oil is done by about 11 major companies. The oil is produced in the Middle East and Venezuela. A section in the Reciprocal Trade Agreements passed in 1955 provided that a Commission under the President be set up to study the problem. The Commission decided that imports for 1956 should be held to the 1954 levels. Imports have increased, and continue to do so.

I have personally appealed to Mr. Arthur Flemming, Chairman of the President's Fuels Commission, to take the strongest recommendation against the increased imports of oil. Several of us from oil-producing areas expect to make statements on the Floor of the Congress in an effort to focus public attention on this matter which so vitally affects the small independent operators.

"Lots of fellows who talk like big wheels turn out to be merely spokesmen."

Highlights and Sidelights . . .

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Nearly 100,000 young Texans take off their mortar boards and roll up their sleeves this week.

Analysts predict that figures, when complete, will show a record number of diplomas and degrees awarded this year.

Texas Education Agency pegs public high school graduates at between 64,000 and 65,000. Degrees being conferred by state-supported colleges and universities are estimated by the Texas Legislative Council at 20,000. Private and church-supported schools swell the graduate rolls several thousand more.

Awaiting these young people, said commencement speakers, is unprecedented opportunity. Examples of the '56 high school graduate's future, as outlined by an Austin speaker: (1) a longer life span—44 years ahead for boys and 49 for girls; (2) higher earnings averaging a quarter million dollars apiece; (3) less work, dwindling to a 30-hour week and (4) ever-increasing ease and leisure as technology advances.

Concrete evidence of the speakers' promises is the job placement story. University of Texas Student Employment Bureau reports five to ten job offers per graduate at better than ever salaries. Personnel in some deans' offices speak wearily of the impossibility of coping with the year-end flood of would-be employers.

High school officials say many graduates began work between their last exam and commencement night.

Mixed Reaction to Highway Bill

A bonanza or a blunder—Texans are in disagreement as to which term applies to the new federal highway bill.

Senate passage of the bill left only a few details to be ironed out in House-Senate conference before sending the measure to the President. Final enactment will set into motion a 13-year, $51,000,000,000 interstate highway construction program.

Texas Highway Department officials are frankly jubilant. They are poised to begin letting contracts Aug. 1, using the new supply of federal funds. "We'll be scraping the bottom of the barrel in the July letting," said State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

Greer said the new law would mean a minimum increase of $57,000,000 a year in federal road building aid to Texas—or double the present amount.

He called it "the most far-reaching piece of highway legislation yet enacted." He predicted an era of unparalleled development.

Gov. Allan Shivers was less enthusiastic. He charged turning a state function over to "bungling bureaucracy" made it unduly costly.

His objection was to the provision giving the Secretary of Labor, rather than the states, power to set wages on all contracts. "This means a third less highway mileage than the people would otherwise get," said Shivers.

"Tax money always dwindles in value," said the governor, "when it is sent to Washington for processing and returned to the states."

Liquor Revenue Reported

Liquor, legal and illegal, brought the state $2,461,414 in revenue during April. Largest part—$1,513,932—came from the beer excise tax.

A total of 505 criminal complaints resulted in 308 convictions, 50 jail sentences and $45,929 in fines.

Beneficiaries were the available school fund, old age assistance fund, clearance fund and others which received $2,203,518.

Hope Held for Labor Law

Champions of Texas' "right-to-work" law haven't given up the fight.

A perfect weight for breezy spring days, this smart cotton coat features the popular box line. Sportleigh designed the coat with a rounded Peter Pan collar and notched convertible turned-back cuffs. National Cotton Council fashionists report that cotton coats are slated for even greater popularity than they enjoyed last season.

Railroad attorneys and Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd contend that the U. S. Supreme Court decision on a Nebraska law did not touch on the constitutional issues involved in Texas. This was pointed out in a supplemental brief filed last week with the Texas Supreme Court.

A ruling is expected soon from the state's high court on the hard-fought "Amarillo case" involving railroad unions' right to demand closed shop contracts.

Union leaders interpret the U. S. Court ruling as knocking out state anti-closed shop laws in the railroad industry. Shepperd and railroad lawyers say the decision, if anything, strengthens the case for the Texas law.

Higher and Higher Learning

A rising skyline has been proposed to meet the University of Texas' critical classroom needs.

Pres. Logan Wilson suggests that the only two remaining sites on the original 40-acre campus be used for eight-story buildings. Most present buildings have four floors. For development five to ten years hence, Dr. Wilson recommends expanding to the east of the present campus in the area adjacent to Memorial Stadium.

"TV Trial" Appealed

Fairness of the first televised murder trial in Texas history is being challenged in the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Defense attorneys charge that Dist. Atty. Tom Moore of Waco was more interested in "putting on a show" in the Waco trial of Harry L. Washburn, than in giving the man a fair trial.

Law Violation Admitted

Violation of Texas Election laws was admitted by C. T. Johnson in a deposition just taken in Austin. Johnson admitted spending $1,200 in travel expenses during his 1954 campaign for Lt. Governor, but reported only $125 to the Secretary of State. Previously he had testified under oath that he had spent "no more and no less" than $125.

Trust Creditors Face Tangle

US Trust and Guaranty Co. depositors still may have a long, weary wait for their money.

At one time State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler said he hoped to be able to start making payments after July 1. With that in mind a Fort Worth woman now seeks court action to designate her a preferred creditor because she is a depositor.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts pointed out proper procedure is first to seek priority with the receiver. If he refuses, creditors may appeal through the courts. This takes months, sometimes years.

TEXAS YAMS ARE ON THE NATIONAL DIET

The Texas sweet potato industry passed an historic milestone last year. For the first time, more than two million bushels of graded and inspected Texas sweets found their way to national markets.

Ability of Texas sweet potatoes to compete successfully with those from other states in the big markets was made possible through a grading and inspection law passed by last year's state legislature. Until last September when the measure became effective, Texas yams were shunted at national marts in favor of graded potatoes from other areas.

Since then, however, the Texas Department of Agriculture which administers the law has processed 1,938,847 bushels for the industry. An additional 100,000 bushels were graded and inspected for individual farmers.

Since the program began, market outlets for the Texas product have developed in Detroit, Chicago, New York and several western states where buying is strictly on a graded basis.

Texas grading standards are high—even higher than those required by the Federal government. This is borne out by the fact that Texas sweet potatoes remain in better condition when shipped to distant markets than do those of many competing states.

The state inspection and grading service is operated on a self-supporting basis with no additional cost to taxpayers. Small service fee collected on the large movement take care of all expenses and add up to bigger profits and expanded markets for the producer.

Principal growing area for Texas sweets is centered around East Texas, although there is scattered production throughout the state. Last season's production amounted to about 3,480,000 bushels. This was slightly below the 10-year average of 3,664,000 bushels, mostly due to reduced acreage. Only 29,000 acres were planted to sweet potatoes, compared to the average of 46,000 acres.

However, yields were extra good last season. Average production was 120 bushels per acre, considerable more than the normal yield of 77 bushels.

If such crop conditions continue in the future, new-found market outlets through better standards promotion can make the sweet potato one of Texas' prize crops.

necessary because George was still liable to pay them. George and Harry decided to follow Wilbur's advice.

Several weeks later, after Harry had taken over the store, a representative of one of George's creditors came in and demanded that Harry pay the debt that George had incurred. Harry refused, but went to see a lawyer to make certain. Harry was surprised to learn that he had failed to comply with a Texas Statute in buying the store without giving notice of the sale to George's creditors. He further learned that the sale was void as to them, and that he was liable for George's debts. This is a common place example of the trouble you can get into when toyng with the law. Experienced lawyers often must spend many hours researching a problem before advising their clients as to the best course of action to follow. It is therefore hazardous to rely on the legal advice of well-meaning friends. As in the case of Harry White, that is often the beginning of many headaches.

Beware Advice of "BARRACKS LAWYERS"
You don't have to be a lawyer in order to form an opinion on a legal subject. However, it is bad business for a layman to pass such an opinion on to others to guide their actions. He may cause them to suffer substantial losses. Because of the vast intricacies of the law, a simple set of facts often gives rise to difficult legal problems. In spite of this, there are many persons who persist in passing out legal advice on all problems, pounding the table, quoting rules, and loudly expounding opinions. Beware of those persons, because their free opinions are usually worth what they cost, and often can be the unintended cause of harm to those who rely on them. For example, George Jones owned a small drug store. He agreed to sell the store to Harry White at a time when he still owed $1,000 to various creditors for merchandise he had bought for the store. George and Harry were in the back room one night discussing who would pay these debts. George suggested that they talk to a lawyer. Just then Wilbur Knowall came into the room, and heard the discussion. He assured them that there was no necessity to see a lawyer. He told George to keep the debts, "to avoid complications." As to telling George's creditors of the sale, Wilbur said that was un-

FAIRY

By Mrs. Eunice Daniel

We receive about one inch of rain last Thursday afternoon, which was accompanied by strong winds, which damaged crops some, blew down and uprooted trees and small out buildings. In the Agee community, three miles south of Fairy, two inches of rain was reported and antennas toppled. Farmers have been busy combining the past week and much of the grain has been harvested.

Mr. Will Chumney of Littleville, father of Mrs. Coy Parks, was very seriously injured about four thirty Sunday afternoon while returning to Hamilton from Evergreen, where he had attended singing, when his car was struck by a car headed east on highway 36, as he attempted to make a left hand turn into a service station in the east edge of Hamilton. He was hurled through the windshield, landing on hard gravel some fifteen feet from his car. He received a brain concussion, two broken ribs, broken shoulder and a double break above the knee and numerous cuts and bruises. He was driving a model A Ford Coupe which was very badly damaged. The other car involved was from Rochester. A lady and her daughter, who were on their way to Waco where the daughter was to enroll at Baylor University. They were not hurt, although the right front fender and light of their car was badly damaged. Mr. Chumney is about 80 years of age, but quite active.

The writer and husband were called to Hico Sunday night, due to the serious illness of our husband's mother, Mrs. Lura Daniel, who suffered a severe heart attack. Glad to report her much better at this writing. She is 86 years of age.

The Anderson family reunion was held Sunday at the Hico City Park. Mrs. Fannie (Anderson) Michael of California, we believe, had come by plane to Sweetwater to visit her sister, Mrs. Maud Driver, who is very ill, and came on down to visit relatives here and attend the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abel of Grand Prairie came in last Friday for a week's visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Abel and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson. Mrs. Jackson is on vacation from her duties at Chance Vought Cooperation where she is employed.

Frank Driver, who has been a patient at the Clifton hospital the past four weeks, is to undergo surgery today, Tuesday. A specialist from Mayo Clinic will assist with the surgery. All hope the operation will be successful and that he will soon be on his way to complete recovery.

Mrs. Lura Daniel spent Saturday night with her son and wife, the writer and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don visited Sunday in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Driver and daughter of Texas City spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie. All visited Raymond's father at the Clifton hospital Sunday afternoon.

The writer attended singing at Evergreen Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goynes and daughter, Lynda, are now full-time citizens of Fairy since their return from Morgan where Mrs. Goynes has taught during the past school term.

Our cemetery is needing burning off again. Mr. Sills has been putting in all his available time, and we now have the promise of some more help and hope to get it in good shape soon. So keep your contributions coming as we are running low on funds. It seems that the party who borrowed the wheel barrow, has borrowed it for keeps. However, if anyone has it, and didn't see our request in the paper recently to bring it in, please do so. The committee is doing all possible to serve you. But with laborers so scarce and so much field work just now it has been hard to get help. We will appreciate the help of the public, helping to keep your family plots. This will be quite helpful in the time and expense of working the cemetery.

John and Bill Abel and Walter Porterfield visited Sunday in the home of the Abel's sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pitts, and report Mrs. Pitts to be slowly improving from a paralytic stroke she suffered some time back.

CLAIRETTE

EX-STUDENT HOMECOMING DECLARED SUCCESS

A number of Exes who attended both Clairette and Alexander schools, and teachers, gathered here Saturday at the Clairette school and enjoyed a basket lunch together.

In the afternoon some games were played and some enjoyed music and singing and just visiting. Saturday night others came and everyone enjoyed visiting and talking about the good old school days they enjoyed together.

The crowd gathered into the gym, where J. C. Hubbard of Fort Worth took the floor and made a talk on the homecoming, and asked the crowd if they were interested in organizing and having a homecoming each year. Everyone seemed to be enthused over the homecoming and anxious to get it organized.

Officers were nominated and elected by a majority of votes. Also the time designated to have the annual affair. Different times were suggested, and the majority voted to have it the first Saturday and Sunday in June, with a program Saturday night, followed with a barbecue dinner on Sunday and ball games in the afternoon.

A good number signed the register. They came from different sections of the state and Oklahoma. We wish to thank J. C. Hubbard for the effort he made and being responsible for getting the homecoming started and organized.

Next year, we hope to have a much larger crowd present. It was suggested and voted on to have a $1.00 fee for membership for each adult in order to have a means to finance the expense, and to pay for a beef to be barbecued.

Officers were elected to carry out these plans for next year, also an entertainment committee was elected to provide entertainment on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kay and David of Port Arthur are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Pruett and Debbie.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lee of Fort Worth spent the week end with Eunice and Nola Lee.

Mr. F. D. Hicks of Stephenville and son, Baylus of San Francisco visited the Mayfield relatives here last Tuesday morning. They also visited Baylus mother's grave at the Clairette Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bratton and Vicki spent the week end at Floydada with Bob's mother and sister.

The Busy Bee Club members met with Mrs. Arvy Dowdy last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alexander received word that their little granddaughter, Patsy Alexander of Nacogdoches had the misfortune of breaking her arm one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayfield and Mitchell visited her brother, C. W. Roberson at Stephenville hospital Sunday afternoon. Charlie slipped and fell on a street in Olney last Tuesday morning, breaking his hip while there on business. His daughters, Ann and Patsy were with him when the accident occurred. An ambulance brought him to Stephenville.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

George Thetford, Carlton, is one farmer who believes in planting legumes and turning them under. For many years he has been doing this on his farm and this winter he had a pretty good growth of winter peas. Though the season was not too good, he did get a fair growth.

He has planted his cotton on this field where the peas were turned under.

He has a small field that he plans to try raising some Guar on, the summer legume. George has a farm that is much better now than it was when he moved onto it a few years ago. He has terraced it, constructed a wide waterway for terrace outlets, and sodded it to bermuda grass, follows a good crop rotation and runs a few cattle on his pasture that he controls brush on.

The sodded waterway on his farm is one to see. It furnishes worlds of grazing during the year. Weeds are mowed as required.

Approximately 500 pounds of rat bait was distributed over the county last week by the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce in its annual rat control program.

June 12, 13, 14, and 15 are the dates for the State 4-H Round-Up at College Station. I will be going and taking the following with me: Jesse Lee Green of the Pottsville club; Treva Edmiston of the Pottsville club, and Gayle Rachug of the Fairy club. Mrs. C. M. Roberson of Carlton will go along as leader for the two girls.

June 19 and 20 are the dates of our Hamilton-Bosque County 4-H Summer Camp. The camp will be at the Que Ann swimming pool just south of Cranfills Gap. All 4-H boys and girls of Hamilton and Bosque Counties are invited to attend. Cost is $2.00 per person.

A supply of Federal Gas Tax refund forms have been received and they have been placed in all the banks and post offices in the county for those who would like to have them. There is also a supply of them in my office that can be had at any time. I have a box of them setting on the table where my typewriter is. If you come in and I'm not in the office, help yourself to one.

A refund of 2 cents per gallon will be made on gas used on the farm that was purchased between January 1 and June 30 of this year. After the form is filled out it should be mailed to the Internal Revenue Department, Austin, Texas. Completed forms are not to be mailed until after July 1.

Chester Wood, Hico, Rt. 3, is getting in the rabbit business in a large way.

He is constructing a house 30 by 100 feet and expects to house 400 doe rabbits in it. For some time he has had a good market at Dallas and Fort Worth and has been able to sell all he can produce.

E. B. Stiles, on the Cowhouse on Highway 281, has a new piece of machinery that does a swell job of cutting and windrowing at the same time. It is a self-propelled windrower. Saw it in operation the other day and it looks to me like a good piece of equipment to have around where one is doing quite a bit of haying.

If the corn ear worm is an indication of the cotton boll worm, then it looks like we are in for some trouble later on. Corn is loaded with this worm and some fields have been damaged pretty bad by it.

Fort Worth spent the week end here with her brother, Deward and family and attended the homecoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Roberson and James of Granbury spent Sunday in the Herman Roberson home.

Larry Erick and Mitchell Mayfield were both on the sick list last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conaway and Dianne and Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Harrison of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richbourg.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Fine and Mr. Ellison of Carlton visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richbourg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Willis attended the Abilene Christian College graduation exercises last Monday night. Their granddaughter, Carla Willis Myers, and her husband, Donald Myers, received their bachelor of science degrees.

Just as soon as possible, without neglecting highly important business, I expect to return home to campaign. In the meantime, I hope you, my friends, will believe in me and trust me with your affairs in the United States Capital. I shall continue to be devoted and faithful to every responsibility.
