DUFFAU RESIDENTS THANK HICO VOTERS

THANK YOU!

We feel like the solid vote at Hico was greatly in our favor. Not only should you thank us for the vote at Duffau; we feel, as a community, that our choice and yours will be for the betterment of Duffau as well as Hico. No use to think of Duffau when we had ever 300 students. We are thinking of the twenty-odd that we have here now, and we know that through cooperation and understanding we will do fine.

Sincerely,
ELMER E. GIESECKE.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

Everybody Needs Prayers

By E. E. DAWSON

The Star-Telegram, of Fort Worth, has a woman columnist for its editorial page who appears usually about five times a week. The columnist changes occasionally. Since I first began to read the column that used to be under the heading, "Assignment America," the fourth female has furnished the matter of the column, and most of them have really been good. The present incumbent in that column is Phyllis Batelle. I judge from her talk that she is a wife. She roams about a good deal, and often writes under a European dateline. Some of her ruminations lack interest for me, but occasionally she gets off a thing that you can enjoy to your finger tips. For example this one that appeared on March 25, 1958.

Introduction.

Everybody needs prayers. But praying is not always easy.

For the first 10 years, bowing the head, now you lay you down to sleep, and ask God to bless everybody you know, beginning with dog and ending with nurse. It doesn't take much thought.

Later in life, though, you must compose your own material. That's when it sometimes hurts: head, heart and conscience. That's when, for a lot of people, praying gets to be too much of a burden. Especially the middle-aged find it hard to pray—as opposed to the eager, hopeful young and the peaceful, philosophic old. Middle-age is the time when too many people are discovering cynicism and migraine, change-of-life and country clubs, facial and financial troubles. It is the time when supplication and a sense of humor are most needed, and least heeded.

The Prayer.

Here, in capsule, is a "Prayer For the Middle-aged," contributed by Miss Alta Becker, a literary light from Dayton, Ohio. It is designed to put one simultaneously in good stead, and good humor. "Lord, thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older and will some day be OLD. "Keep me from getting loquacious, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

"Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

"Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all—but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end, at least enough for palbearers, with a mourner or two—do not let the editor head my obituary with the words, 'old crab dies at last; everybody glad!'

"Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details... give me wings to get to the point.

"Seal my lips on my aches and pains. They are increasing and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by... I dare not ask for grace enough to enjoy the tales of others' pains, but help me to endure them with patience.

"I dare not ask for improved memory, but for a growing humility and a lessening cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memories of others. "Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

"Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unexpected people. Give me the grace to tell them so.

"Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint—some of them are so hard to live with—but a sour old woman is one of the crowning works of the devil. "Keep me where I can extract all possible fun out of life; there are so many funny folks, so many that do funny things in life, and I don't want to miss any of it."

Local Feed Dealer Views New Hog Plan

A. H. (Red) Lackey was among an invited group of area hog growers, feed dealers, civic and agricultural leaders attending a preview introduction of a completely new hog production system at Giddings last week.

The system, not yet announced nationally, was shown by Nutrena Mills, Inc.

Major benefit of the new system, which features isolated birth units called Pigloos, is a great reduction in hog raising costs.

Lackey said that three years of on-farm Pigloo tests have shown costs are cut four ways:

1. By reducing deaths from crushing of infant pigs to near zero.
 2. By almost completely eliminating disease loss.
 3. By halving initial housing costs, compared to large-scale, controlled-environment housing costs.
 4. By halving labor requirements, on the same comparative basis.
- Other details of the program can be supplied by Lackey.

CARD OF THANKS

For all the kindnesses, flowers, food, gifts, long distance calls, trips, notes and letters received by us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, we are most grateful, but most of all, the many cards received was almost unbelievable to us that so many countless cards from our many friends from the various parts of the state have come and continue to come, to bring cheer and comfort in our bereavement.

Especially are we grateful for the most beautiful floral offering, in fact, we treasure everything, every thought and prayer we appreciate, and we assure you, everyone was needed, and helped in our most wonderful way to lighten our burden of sorrow.

Since it will be impossible, ever, to acknowledge all the cards, food, and all other things, will each of you accept this as our personal thank you, and may God's richest blessings be with you always.

Proper Soil Important In Growing Flowers for Spring and Summer

Have you noticed the new flower boxes being planted over town, and the many bulbs and pansies in bloom?

These nice spring days suggest spring and summer flowers. Proper soil is important, all beds should be well spaded and peat moss and compost added.

This is also iliac season. For deep color blossoms spade soil around bush with a sprinkling of super phosphate several inches away from the stem.

This year we should have more flowers in Hico than ever before.

SIX WEEKS TESTS Again we begin to worry, hope, and pray. The last six weeks tests period has arrived. The last one forever for some of the seniors. Let's hope everybody doesn't just breathe a sigh of relief when these tests are over and relax, coasting until the finals face us. Certainly the worrying will start all over again, but how much better it would be if in these next weeks we really used our time well. Let's not be just happy-go-lucky; let's get in some good licks at our studies.

On the Home Range By MRS. VIVIAN BLAIR Home Demonstration Agent

Our Clothing Workshops are coming along nicely. There is a total of 17 women enrolled in the two workshops—one in Hamilton and one in Hico. The response to this method has been most gratifying.

Any number of requests have come into the office to repeat this work or to continue offering this type of instruction. If you are interested do let me know.

At the moment no definite plans have been made to repeat these workshops in the next few months. The demand will determine to some extent what plans will be made so if you are interested do call or write me a card.

Monday and Tuesday of last week I went to Cisco with three delegates of the Texas Home Demonstration Association from Hamilton County for the district meeting.

Mrs. G. K. Lewallen of the Fairy H. D. Club, Mrs. R. L. Staggs of the Littleville Club, and Mrs. Fred Hyles of the South Hico Club were the delegates who represented the county.

Two guest speakers for the event were from College Station—Mrs. Florence Low, Head of the Home Economics Dept. of A & M, and Miss Gladys Martin, State Home Demonstration Agent. The theme of the meeting was "Christian Home—The Hope of the Nation." This was presented in the light of our rapidly changing conditions in the home.

The Eastland County Home Demonstration women, as hostesses, saw that everyone had a good time and the town of Cisco was most cordial in its welcome. It was a fine trip and I know that you will be hearing some good reports from the women who attended.

4-H COUNTY CONTESTS

Saturday, March 29, was our county contests for the girls who are working in certain fields of study in their 4-H Club work. This year we had 33 contestants, a fine record.

The very excellent work that they are doing is in direct proportion to the very excellent work that the adult leaders in the different communities that they represent are doing. These leaders spend untold hours in assisting the girls with their demonstrations, with their record books and with any problem that they have. The entire county owes these women a great debt of gratitude for their unselfish and untiring efforts in helping our youth to grow and develop into useful citizens.

The annual Dress Revue, at which time the girls who wish to enter their dresses they have made in 4-H Club work, will be on May 3rd this year. This is another special event for the club members and those of you who are interested are urged to keep this date in mind.

CLEANING VARNISHED SURFACES

Here is a repeat by popular request we get so many calls for this information that I am including it here again. Are some of your varnished pieces looking dull, sticky or soiled? If so, here's a "Face-lifting" and cleaning suggestion:

- In a double boiler combine 1 qt. hot water 1 tablespoon gum turpentine (to cut the dirt) 3 tablespoons boiled linseed oil, or lemon oil (to lubricate, feed and polish the wood).

Keep the mixture hot in a double boiler while you work. Dip a soft cloth in the solution, wring out excess moisture and apply to furniture doing only one part of the piece at a time. Rub the wood, keeping moisture away from the joints as much as possible. Pine steel wool may be used to rub the solution on badly soiled surfaces. Wipe the surface immediately with a dry cloth. Polish with a woolen cloth.

Elaborate Tornado Warning System Now in Operation

Next month Texans will note the fifth anniversary of an event which transformed the neat center of a city into a twisted debris-laden mess in a matter of seconds—the Waco Tornado.

Perhaps the best way to pay homage to the scores of people who lost their lives in the Waco disaster would be to learn and heed the proper means of protecting ourselves whenever a tornado threatens.

An elaborate tornado detection warning system is now in operation throughout Texas and neighboring states, with the central weather bureau in Kansas City. Whenever compiled weather data indicate, the Kansas City bureau alerts all weather bureaus in the affected area which in turn notify all local media of mass information such as radio stations and TV stations.

These stations then announce a Severe Weather Alert, carefully describing the areas in which strong weather will occur.

This does not mean a tornado is going to occur, but it does mean that conditions are such that a tornado could develop.

From this point the weather bureau, the Ground Observer Corps and the Department of Public Safety work hand in hand. Whenever radar picks up a likely trouble spot, a patrol car is dispatched to the location to check. If it is a tornado, the direction, approximate speed and exact location are determined by both the patrolman and by the use of three radar stations getting a "fix" on the trouble point.

Radio and TV stations are then immediately notified and a tornado warning is issued describing the direction and speed. This is the time to take action.

No tornado warning is issued until an actual tornado has been sighted and verified. A period of severe weather alert is a time to prepare for action—but a tornado warning means act and act fast. Keep tuned to your radio or TV set and you will be immediately informed—do not swamp the station or weather bureau with telephone calls.

When a warning is received seek inside shelter, if in town, preferably in a steel reinforced building, but stay away from windows. If at home, the southwest corner of the lowest floor or in a basement offers greatest safety. If in a frame, brick or stone house you should seek other shelter. Electricity and fuel lines should be turned off. Windows on the outside of the house should be opened to help reduce the building. If you have a storm cellar.

THE HICO NEWS REVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison of Dublin spent Thursday and Friday of last week in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family, assisting with the household duties during Mrs. Sellers' illness.

Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen and her mother visited Wednesday of last week in the home of their aunt and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family, and attended funeral services for Mrs. J. C. Barrow at Hico. The writer and a number of others from here also attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dunklin of Valley Mills spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blackley.

Mrs. J. C. Kenney, Mrs. Chock Boyles, Mrs. Beatrice Oglesby and Mrs. Marvin Noland and Mrs. J. A. Edwards were joint hostesses for a house warming honoring Mr. and Mrs. Esteen Latham of Latham at their new home recently. Refreshments were served to a large number of friends and acquaintances. Their two sons and families of the Plains were there but we did not get their names. Those from this community who attended whose names we secured were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blackley and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Richardson and Jerry.

Birthdays for April which we have in mind are Mrs. Loyd Bolstad, Laurel, Miss., April 1; Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, Stephenville April 4; This scribe, April 12; Mrs. Ernest Brummett, Alhambra, Calif., April 13; Billy Daniel, April 14; Cliff Tinkle, Hamilton, April 19; Mrs. Cal Lowery, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Wayne Pittman, Dublin, April 28.

Donations received for the lawn mower fund for the cemetery since our last writing are: Mr. Frank Hanes, $10.00; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, Dublin, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover, $2.00; H. S. Pitts also left $2.00 handed us by Walter Porterfield. He did not specify how he wanted the $2.00 used but can let us know later. If it was intended to be used on the mower. We surely thank each and everyone who have volunteered to help out in this project. A well kept cemetery speaks for itself in a community and we believe with the use of a power mower the job can be done quicker and easier and with less expense.

We have an assortment of greeting cards on hand and will appreciate you keeping them in mind when needing special occasion cards. The funds derived from the sale of these cards is used for the benefit of the Fairy Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Geise and his sisters, Miss Liza Geise of near Cranfills Gap and Mrs. Mollie Freeman of Grand Prairie stopped a while Monday afternoon for a visit with Mrs. Brittle Little. They were returning from Hico where they had visited a friend and neighbor, Mrs. Archie Corbett, who recently underwent surgery. Glad to report her improved.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Clark spent the week end in Amarillo visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Barnett and son.

PRICES, PROGRESS, AND PROBLEMS IN FARMING

The "between-crops" period in farming is always a time for weighing prospects both on the farm, at the market place and in the country. Probably even more people have been set to wondering what's in store for them this year, considering unusual weather, uncertain legislation, and nervous economic conditions of which much has been said and little done. Following are a few brief sketches concerning late happenings in agriculture, dealing variously with commodities, weather, economy, and new developments in farm progress:

West Texas wheat prospects look generally good, having already attained enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. This is good news to Texas farmers if not to surplus-minded government chiefs who have been having some trouble marketing their goods abroad lately. Farther south, in the Rio Grande Valley, farmers are less happy with the weather. Onion harvesting has been seriously delayed, by as much as a month in some cases. During the delay, old-crop onion prices climbed higher in commercial trade.

The recession, along with better supply prospects, is expected to help lower beef prices somewhat from the present healthy level. Some livestock men say prices probably have reached their peak and will gradually drop by as much as 20 per cent by early summer.

Texas poultry processors are keeping an eye on the California state legislature which is considering bills to discourage imported chickens. Although California produces only a fraction of the broilers needed to satisfy the brisk local demand, home growers are fighting hard to keep out Southland competition, not a small part of which is Texas competition. A sample proposed bill would require retailed chickens to bear a "date killed" stamp, hinting that shipped-in products become stale in transit.

Hybrid cottons—crosses between older strains which offer higher yields and better quality—are becoming feasible on a larger scale. Researchers say spraying cotton with chemicals produces a no-pollen plant which can be then fertilized with pollen from another variety, resulting in a true hybrid. Hybrid cottons up to now have been possible only through tedious hand-pollination.

A unit measure in bales, bushels and pounds, instead of acres, would help the situation. Although we have talked of this change for years it is probably a departure too radical to apply in time to help soon.

Members of the Agriculture Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives come from 28 different States, plus a non-voting Representative each from Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Every commodity grown in the country is represented on the Committee. There are problems connected with every commodity.

Legislation is not likely to be passed this year dealing with just one area or just one commodity.

If revisions are made in the Farm Program, it looks as if it will have to come in a bill to favor everything included in the Program. It is an extremely difficult proposition.

One gets the feeling at times that it might be best to "rub out" and start over. The only trouble is the farmer would have a hard time holding his breath while he "started over." There was Aesop's dog, grabbing at the bone reflected in the water.

There are a lot of "ifs" in this situation—along with some hope.

There are no "ifs" however, in the fact that people are going to pay as much, or more, for what they have to buy as they have in the immediate past. It would take most drastic action to change that. It may take action equally as drastic to increase income in order that automobiles, plow tools, food and clothing can be paid for.

If there is a "mild recession" in business, there surely is a shrinkage in the ability of those with low and fixed income and those living on savings, annuities, pensions or Social Security, to buy the necessities.

If the Government gives the talked about "shot in the arm" to the economy, prices may go up.

Then we can wonder if there are going to be enough shots to go around and who gets them.

Some think a tax cut would help. Personally, I had rather make it and pay it than not to make it and not pay it.

It is true we can't take it with us, but we need a little of it while we're here.

Washington, D. C.—The little dog caught a freight train, but he had a hard time of doing much with it.

That is our Farm Program at the time. Everyone knows that changes are needed, but what?

Increased acreage—yes. Unless farmers are given more opportunity to produce, many are going to be out of business or so broke they can't go on. The time is short to shape anything up for help in 1936.

The Secretary of Agriculture says he does not have authority to increase acreage, even if he wanted to.

Then it is up to Congress. At the same time, we have the Acreage Reserve provision in the Soil Bank. It is going to be difficult to sell the idea of increasing acreage on one hand and reducing it by the Soil Bank Acreage Reserve on the other.

A unit measure in bales, bushels and pounds, instead of acres, would help the situation. Although we have talked of this change for years it is probably a departure too radical to apply in time to help soon.

A FREE PRESS... and CENSORSHIP

America is at peace. While we have men in uniform stationed over the world, we are not at war. In every way, we are working to preserve our peaceful relations with other peoples whose idealogies and aspirations differ from ours.

Figuring largely in that huge undertaking is America's Free Press. Even during the peaceful years, it has become necessary that certain information regarding discoveries and inventions be protected. Security has become big business.

"Keep this out of the newspaper," are fighting words to any newspaper editor who is a conscientious craftsman. Yet editors of all newspapers, large and small, realize the responsibilities facing them, to help preserve the securities that are so important to all of us.

Government, the military, and the scientific fields, receive full cooperation from the men and women who, by training, are accustomed to dig out and know the news... and who, by instinct, strive to keep the people fully informed.

Americans have a right to expect that full freedom of the press be preserved; within the bounds drawn by these securities.

For a completely free press is the only safe foundation on which government of the people can build all other freedoms.
