Red Cross Drive Set Tonight

Porchlight Theme Will Be Followed by Workers

The annual drive for the American Red Cross will be held in the Hico residential area Friday night, March 27, between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. An attempt will be made to attain the quota of $297 assigned to Hico in this one hour period. This has been done here in previous years, and Mrs. Barto Gamble, who is serving as general chairman this year, stated it is anticipated all residents will give generously as this is the only major drive that has been held locally during 1959.

Mrs. D. E. Bulloch has been appointed chairman of the residential drive. Captains named to supervise the calls throughout town and outlying districts are as follows:

Mrs. J. B. Woodard
Mrs. Odie Petsick
Mrs. Milton Dunlop
Mrs. E. H. Randals Jr.
Mrs. Orville Ogle
Mrs. George Griffiths
Mrs. Morse Ross
Mrs. Norman Johnson
Mrs. Eugene Hicks
Mrs. Doc Lackey
Mrs. Harry Hudson

Robert Jackson, Conda Salmon, Milton Dunlop, M. I. Knudson, Wayne Rutledge and Marvin Marshall will be in charge of downtown solicitations. Mr. Jackson is chairman of the group. Mrs. Gamble stated, "The American Red Cross operates under a charter granted by the Congress of the United States. While this charter imposed specific duties and responsibilities upon Red Cross, the organization receives its financial support solely from the voluntary contributions of the American people."

"The story of the Red Cross begins with its volunteers. Internationally, the organization was founded by volunteers. It was brought to this country by volunteer leadership. Here in America, Red Cross took deep root because the tradition of neighbors volunteering to help one another and their communities is part of our national heritage," Mrs. Gamble said.

The chairman continued, "Providing a means—an organization—through which neighbor can help neighbor, your Red Cross has been on the job for more than 75 years, helping you to serve your nation and your community. You are the Red Cross, because you make its work possible through your voluntary financial support."

"Hico residents have always been more than generous in their contributions to this worthy organization that serves so many, in so many ways. Won't you please give to this campaign? Won't you please 'Answer the Call?'" Mrs. Gamble concluded.

Paving Program to be Offered by City This Spring

Prominent Longtime Merchant, Mr. Richbourg Dies in Local Hospital

Hico Mayor D. E. Bulloch stated this week that a paving program would be carried out here again this year, if enough property owners are interested in such a program.

There are very few streets in the city proper which are not paved, but council members have expressed a desire to pick up all remaining streets under the program.

The city will pay one-third of the total cost of new paving, with property owners on each side of the street to be paved, paying one-third each.

The mayor stated that private paving, such as driveways, ditches, etc. would be available if enough people were interested.

Property owners interested in the program are urged to contact the city secretary as soon as possible in order that the city might receive bids on the work.

Final rites were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Hico First Baptist Church for John W. Richbourg, 86, who passed away Saturday in Hico Hospital following a week's illness. Rev. E. E. Dawson and Rev. D. L. Barnes conducted the services. Burial was in Carlton Cemetery under the direction of Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Home.

Mr. Richbourg was born in Hays County December 24, 1872, and moved to Carlton as a boy. He had resided in Hico since 1901, when he went to work for Carlton Brothers Mercantile Company.

He later bought the store and operated it until he retired in 1949.

Mr. Richbourg was a long-time director of Hico First National Bank, and had been a deacon in First Baptist Church since 1912.

He formerly had served as a city councilman, and was always active in civic and community affairs until his retirement.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jessie Richbourg; four sisters, Mrs. Bert H. Thomas of Shallowater, Mr. Cora Hodges of Brady, Mrs. Joe Lary of Weatherford, and Mrs. Carter Pratt of Stamford; two brothers, Ben Richbourg of Spur and C. D. Richbourg of Granbury.

Serving as pallbearers were Buddy Randals, Tyrus King, Conda Salmon, Leonard McLendon, Sandy Ogle and Tom Strey.

Fairy Cops Title In District One-Act Play Competition

Fairy High School won top honors in the District 25-B Interscholastic League one-act play contest held at Sidney Tuesday night of this week.

Gustine ranked second, and Hico third. Sidney took fourth place.

In addition to placing first with their play, Fairy students also ranked as best actor and best actress in the meet.

Fairy, as the only school in District 26-B entering the play contest, and Hico, as the only one entering from District 27-B, had been transferred to District 25-B to compete against Gustine and Sidney.

Fairy's entry was "Fog on the Valley," a drama by Verne Powers. Ada Beth Thornton, who rated best actress award, had the leading role of the newly widowed Judith Carson; and Billy Clark Streater, who was named best actor, played the part of Norrie Carson, Judith's step-son.

Supporting players in this play were LaRue Gardner as Cathy McCullough, Darlene Clark as Sarah Lawson, Lynn King as the Reverend Harkins, and Don Barnett as land-hungry Clem Bailey.

Gustine's second place production was a farce comedy entitled "Antic Spring."

Hico's entry was a melodrama entitled "Steps from Beyond," and Sidney's play was a short drama entitled "Hour of Honor."

Dr. J. W. Held, head of Drama and Speech at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, served as critic judge; and Supt. Ray Pruitt of Sidney was chairman of the contest.

Oldest Hico Businessman Retires After 41 Years

A. A. Fewell. Worked himself out of business.

By MRS. H. V. HEDGES

The oldest business in continuous operation under one management in Hico has closed. A. A. Fewell, 79 (80 next September), who has operated a shoe and leather repair shop 41 years, has retired because of ill health.

Fewell has lived in or near Hico all his life. He was born at Falls Creek, between Fairy and Iredell, and moved to Hico in 1907. On Oct. 11, 1903 he and Miss Annie Leach of Honey Creek were married at Greyville school house between Hico and Carlton just before the Sunday evening church service by the pastor, Rev. John Dean. In 1953 they were honored at a golden anniversary party at their home here.

Fewell carried the mail here for nine years and later was employed by Petty Bros. Mercantile Company. In 1918 he bought the shoe shop from Will Newsome and began working with leather. He was self-taught and became a master of his craft. Once, he spent most of his time on bridle and saddle work and making car tops.

"Nearly all that business is gone now," he says. "Many of the shoe sole and heel I've put on, too, but there's not so much of that any more either."

He had worked in the same building 18 years, and in one next door before that. He had a colorful shop, a wall of which was papered with calendar pictures. There was a bench, where friends could sit and chat with him as he worked.

Fewell has been one of the most active members of the First Baptist Church of Hico, which ordained him as a deacon in July 1912. He was a Sunday School superintendent and teacher. For years he did evangelistic singing in many churches of this area and until four or five years ago attended all singings regularly.

He has recovered from a recent serious illness and walks to town every day now. He might never have retired voluntarily.

It happened this way, he says. His daughter and only child, Mrs. R. B. McClure of Burkburnett, took the key and locked the shop!

CPS EMPLOYEES ATTEND COMPANY MEETING

The spring meeting for the employees of Central Division of Community Public Service Co. was held last Thursday at Reddy's Restaurant on Lake Whitney. The Walter Jetton catering service of Fort Worth served the noon and evening meals.

Local employees who attended the meeting were Mrs. W. E. East, M. W. Sims and O. L. Davis.

FFA Stock Show Declared 'Best Ever' By Attendants

"Best show ever!" That was the sentiment and expression of most of the people who attended the 12th Annual FFA Stock Show held last Thursday at City Park.

A record entry was recorded for the 1959 show, the number hitting well over the 300 record of four years ago.

Accent was on quality this year, as most stock entered was in top condition.

Sheep took the spotlight in the local show, with more than 100 entries being recorded in the various divisions.

Spectator interest was also considered the best of any year previously, with a large crowd on hand for most of the judging.

Prize money, too, topped all previous years, with winners taking home $393.50.

At the sale following the show in which local FFA projects were auctioned off, Herrington's Food Stores paid the top price for the first place pen of broilers, paying $1.05 per pound. Odie Petsick and Bill Howard were top bidders on barrows, each paying 27c per pound.

Prices paid, purchasers and sellers at the sale were: Barrows: Eldon Lindsey, exhibitor, sold to Odie Petsick for 27c per pound. Mr. Petsick donated the barrow to the American Cancer Society and sold it to Herrington's Food Store for 24c per pound.

Wayland Wootton, exhibitor, sold to J. B. Woodard for 25c per pound.

James Jordan, exhibitor, sold to D. E. Bulloch for 26c per pound.

James Jordan, exhibitor, sold to Bill Howard for 27c per pound.

Chickens sold were: First place pen of three, $1.05 per pound to Herrington's Food Store.

Second place pen, 85c per pound to O. C. Cook.

Third place pen, 75c per pound, sold to Bill Howard.

Fourth place pen, 75c per pound, sold to Bill Howard.

Fifth place pen, 65c per pound, sold to Buddy Randals.

Sixth place pen, 60c per pound, sold to V. H. Jenkins.

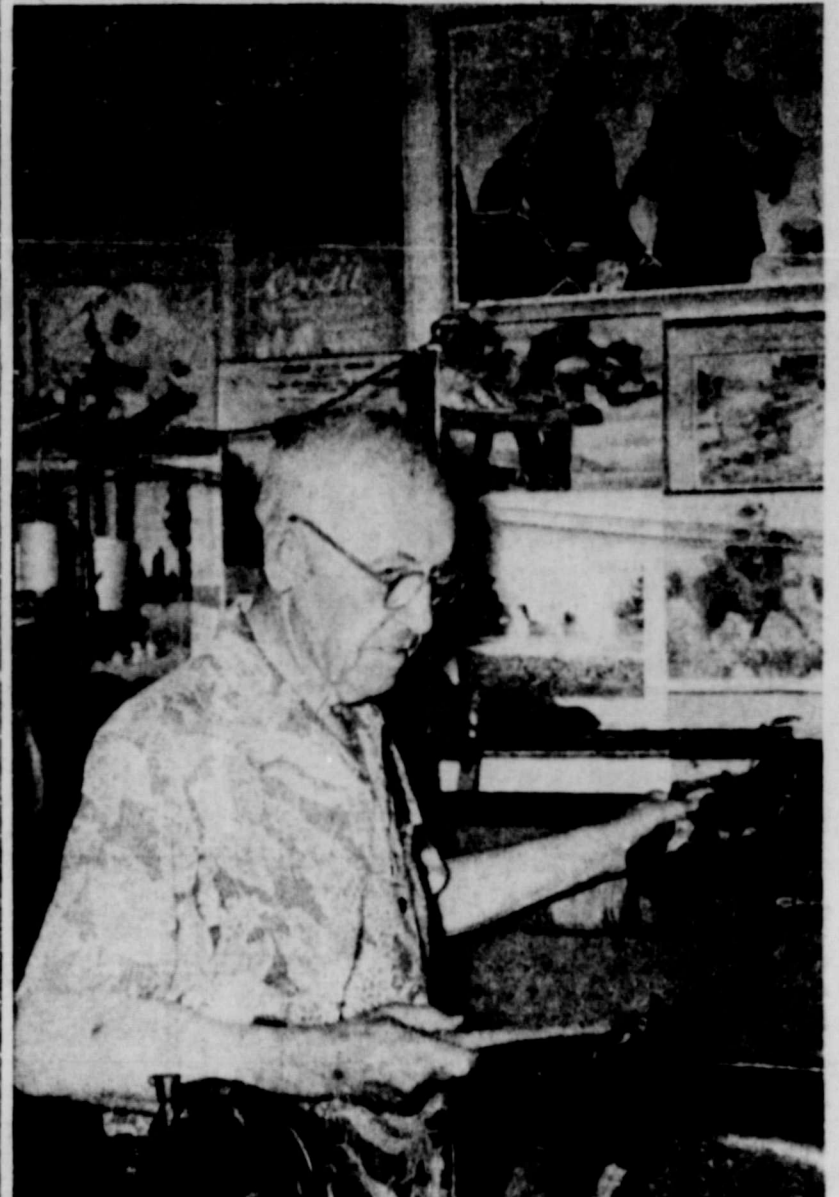

Local Advisor Harold Walker and members of the FFA Chapter expressed their appreciation to businesses and individuals who purchased the poultry and hogs.

Pictures of show Grand Champions appear elsewhere in this issue, with the exception of two or three, which weren't available.

A complete list of winners in the show follows:

THE SPOTLIGHT

As I cast my beam around Friday night, I didn't spot many couples around town. I was glad to see these few, however, as I don't see some of them very often. Those I saw were Royce S. and Will Ann L.; Jimmy D. and Sue S.; Charles T. and Joy L.; Royce A. and Betty H.; and Joe W. and Jean E.

Saturday night was a little better as I was glad to see. After patrolling around town for a while, I decided to catch a quick ride to Stephenville and see what was happening. I jumped in the trunk of a fast moving green '56 Ford and we went. After a very shaky ride I finally reached my destination. That earth-shaking ride on the way over had cracked the lens on my spotlight, so I didn't spot too many couples over there. As I wound my weary way homeward I quickly jotted down the names of those I had seen over there and at home. Those I saw were John M. and Kay J.; Henry W. and Will Ann L.; Wayne W. and Sheila P.; Wayne H. and Linda H.; Jimmy D. and Sue S.; Charles T. and Joy L.; Wayland W. and Carolyn P.; Jimmy H. and Dianne H.; Joe W. and Jean B.; Max B. and Bonnie B.; Rosy V. and Linda D.; Ronnie H. and Faye M.; and Billy E. and Kay Y.

Sunday was a little better than usual as I spotted seven couples out. I don't see why there shouldn't be quite a few couples out on a Sunday afternoon as nearly every Sunday for the past few weeks has been a real good day. I guess everyone is still fishing or doing something else to pass the time. Those couples I saw were Buddy A. and Judy M.; Steve O. and Judy G.; Rosy V. and Linda D.; Charles T. and Joy L.; Jimmy D. and Sue S.; John M. and Kay J.; and Elam B. and Anna Lee L.

TALENT & MORE TALENT!

Hico High School has two very talented artists. The Sophomore and Junior Classes are bursting out all over with artistic ability.

Linda Fay Hoyt and Judy Ogle are these two artists with such ability. During Public School Week they brought some of their paintings in for judging. Mrs. J. E. Lincoln graciously judged and criticized their paintings. These girls prospered greatly from Mrs. Lincoln's interest and remarks.

MEDIUM OF COMMAND

Dr. Robert H. Walker

Innate Intelligence must have a medium through which it sends its orders or commands to various organs, cells, and tissues of the body. This medium is the brain and nerve system.

Sever the nerve, or impair it in any way, and it does not function. Remove the nerve from a tooth, and the tooth is dead. Just as total severance of nerves will produce total death of the organ they supply, so partial severance or impairment of nerve will result in partial death of the organ or parts supplied.

By hanging your arm over the back of a chair and exerting pressure on the nerve supplying your arm, you can impair the motor and sensory functions of the arm and hand. Your arm "goes to sleep." Exert pressure on the sciatic nerve, and you have the same result in the leg.

BASIS FOR SUCCESS

Chiropractic has achieved its wonderful success upon this simple fact of an intelligence within that coordinates all functions of the human body by means of functional impulses sent through the brain and nerve system.

The voluntary, notarized testimonials in our office attest to the value of Chiropractic, which has attained marvelous results on cases which others have pronounced incurable.

had lived a useful life and had made many friends during the years he was in business. He was his dealings. May the memory of his good deeds live on with those extended to his wife and others bereaved in his passing.

Good Friday almost slipped up on us this year, since it usually falls in April. Since it is Friday, March 27th we are announcing a cemetery meeting and working at the Fairy Cemetery Friday afternoon. Seems we have been unable to have any success with the all-day affairs the past few years, with only a few bringing lunch and remaining for lunch. Since we didn't get the announcement in the paper last week we are having it announced on radio and hope all get the word in time to attend.
Only lots will be worked, as there is no mowing ready at this time.
By getting a portion of the lots worked this will cut down on our first labor cost of the year.

Visitors at the cemetery Mon-out flowers and worked the lot of their sister and husband, the late

Mr. Richbourg was a long-time resident of Carlton before moving

Church in Hico.

Funeral services were held in

HICO, TEXAS

FOR HICO AND AREA

Transportation Improvements Means Better Mail Service

Sweeping improvements in mail transportation that will mean better mail service for Hico and 313 other communities in the Dallas and Fort Worth metropolitan areas were announced recently by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Barring occasional distribution errors and infrequent delays in transportation media, first class letters mailed at designated collection boxes or in the post office before 5:00 p.m. on a business day will be delivered on the first delivery at any office in the area on the following business day.

Mr. George A. Gray, Regional Operations Director, pointed out that the metropolitan area type service also will play a significant part in improving mail service nationwide since mail moving in and out of the area will be expedited. Accelerating the flow of mail in the metropolitan areas, it was explained, is part of the vast postal program which has next-day delivery between any two cities in the country as its long-range objective.

non-stop service over the highway then will take the mail to Dallas and Fort Worth for dispatch to destination.

The plan requires an intricate pattern of interlocking schedules. Fast service between Dallas and Fort Worth is essential. Mail from sectional centers in the western part of the area (including Stephenville) is scheduled to reach Fort Worth at 9 p.m. Eastbound mail is then moved over the toll road, arriving in Dallas at 10 p.m. The same schedule is used for westbound mail from Dallas to Fort Worth.

Mr. Gray explained that the next-day delivery depends on the conscientious attention of postal employees as well as the closely integrated time table which governs the area's postal units and the transportation linking them together.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN

Treasury Deficit, Increased Spending is Problem

By CRAWFORD C. MARTIN, Senator, 12th District. Twelfth District residents may be asking themselves the question many legislators have posed: How will the state meet its increased costs?

As I pointed out last week, a treasury deficit, increased state agency requests, and proposals to aid education have upset the book-keeping balance. The solution to this problem has many possibilities, most of them tax methods.

Revenue measures are unique. They must, by constitutional provision, originate in the House. The Senate may amend, revise or reject the proposals after passage by the Representatives.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

'Macaroni' Railroad

By E. E. DAWSON

The first I ever heard of "The Macaroni Railroad" was from the lips of Dr. J. V. Chandler, who was reared at El Campo on that railroad. Dr. Chandler told me that it got its name from the fact that Italian laborers did all the work of construction. Then after it was absorbed by the Southern Pacific in this century it became the "Macaroni Division" of the Southern Pacific.

But I never heard any definite story of the famous railroad until I read it in a column on the editorial page of the Star-Telegram, which is herewith reproduced. The author of the story is Jack Baughman. Being a life-long railroad fan, I read the story with a lot of appreciation, and pass it along with the same feeling of satisfaction.

If you read this column some weeks ago about Texas honoring its women by naming towns for them, you will see some repetition here concerning some of those town names.

The old Macaroni Railroad, which still serves Victoria under another name, is a monument to two romances—those of a middle-aged mining millionaire and a real, live French count, who was a prominent citizen of the town in the eighties.

As the story goes, J. W. McKay, discoverer of the fabulous Comstock Lode, in later life became enamored of the daughter of a New York financier, Miss Louise Hungerford. After a whirlwind courtship, he married the gal, and eventually wound up, a year or so later, in Italy, with his wife and her sister, Edna.

Now enters Count Joseph Telferner, just back from Buenos Aires, where he had been building a railroad. He was introduced by a friend of the McKays, one thing led to another, and it wasn't long until Edna became Countess Telferner.

His Real Dreams

Count Joseph, fired by the tales of his new relations, sought room to exercise his talents and picked South Texas. His dream called for a railroad from Richmond through Victoria to Brownsville, with branch lines to Lavaca Bay and Corpus Christi. Moreover, he had hopes of continuing through Mexico to Tuxpan.

His scheme was simple. In Texas, as he pointed out, a railroad builder got state land grants. Hundreds of Italians would jump at the chance to work on the road if they could get a piece of that land to settle on.

Six hundred of them did, and because they brought Old Country ways and food with them, the railroad soon became known as the Macaroni Line, a name that has stuck, even though it became a part of the Southern Pacific many years ago.

The Macaroni was built the hard way, for those laborers—farmers from the fertile plains of Lombardy—knew nothing about railroading, and their tools were few and crude.

Primitive Pile Driver

Nowadays, bridgemen would stare to see 20 sturdy Italians yanking away on a rope to raise a huge oak block in a primitive pile driver, tapping piling slowly into the creek beds along the route. And engineers would be equally aghast at the hours kept by the ten French engineers Telferner imported to run his lines.

Headquartering at Wharton, they contributed 10 per cent of their salary for board, and were never in a hurry to leave those meals. Eating was still an art with those Frenchmen and they lingered for an hour and a half or two hours around the board, where fellowship dwelt and wine was part of every meal.

Yet construction went forward apace, and in 10 months 91 miles had been completed between Rosenberg and Victoria. On July 4, 1882, the first train rolled into the latter city, rumbling past Hungerford, Edna, Louise, Telferner and long-gone McKay, all towns named after the count's family and in-laws.

However, just about this time, someone discovered that the State of Texas had done some mighty poor bookkeeping. It had paid the count with certificates for 8,000,000 acres of land more than it possessed!

A one-and one-half per cent retail sales tax is the center of Rep. Frates Seeligson's plan. He served on the Legislative Budget Board and is vice-chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. His tax, which would be collected at the retail outlet, is estimated to raise $134 million over a 2-year period.

Exemptions to the tax would include foodstuffs, sales smaller than 50 cents, and items covered by selective sales taxes—cigarette, liquor and motor fuel.

The Governor's program first is to take care of the $65 million deficit we are now facing. He proposes wiping out the deficit by levying a temporary, two-year increase in the franchise tax on the 40,000 corporations in Texas.

His new revenue plan contains the following: (1) A new formula for taxing corporations engaged in interstate business.

(2) A "severance beneficiary" tax on natural gas at three per cent of value.

(3) An increase in the motor vehicle sales tax.

The recommendation of Rep. R. S. Strickland, which may raise $200 million, contains a natural gas production tax increase, a one per cent occupation tax on all retail establishments, new taxes on formerly untaxed items, and higher rates on currently taxed items.

The stack of mail we receive each week is a healthy indication of our district's interest in our State government. If any of you has a question concerning pending legislation, please let me hear from you. My address is Senator Crawford C. Martin, Senate Chamber, Austin, Texas.

COUNTY 4-H CONTESTS

Those of you who may have missed seeing our 4-H Club girls in the foods contests Saturday really missed a treat. The girls did some very splendid demonstration. They also exhibited an array of foods that was a sight to see. The initiative and leadership expressed at this meeting certainly is another example and instance of the fine, good qualities of the "younger generation." Congratulations to every entry!

And behind the scene was the work of adults who give of their time and energy to further the welfare of their children and their neighbor's children. They certainly set a beautiful example of leadership and responsibility. And so often these things are "caught" instead of "taught." So we can be mighty proud of these leaders who are providing the opportunity for children to "catch" the right thing instead of the wrong.

And it might go on record too that each one of these leaders has a very busy schedule of her own without this work. She has many, many things to do and could easily say "I'd love to but I just don't have time." They believe in our young people and prove it by the interest they take in their work.

Mrs. Maron Litch visited Sunday at Whitney with her sister, Mrs. Hallie Jameson. She also visited with her niece, Mrs. Hazel Shannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd McClure and children, R. E. and Mary Ann of Burkburnett spent the week end here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fewell.

COSTUME JEWELRY

Now that most of us are assembling spring costumes we think of jewelry as an accent to that costume very often. Whether the outfit we are planning is all new or has the main items left from other seasons it can be smart and attractive.

Often the use of jewelry can make or mar a costume. For street or tailored wear our jewelry should be pearls, enamel, porcelain, jet, plain gold or silver. Glittering stones do not go well with the tailored costume.

When more than one piece of jewelry is worn, the pieces should be related in texture and type. If gold is used in earrings, it should appear in necklaces or bracelets. Gold and silver may be combined in the same design, but they clash when in separate pieces.

It is modest and smart to wear jewelry with dress-up costumes. Wear a few well-chosen pieces for afternoon or church wear. Save glitter in jewelry for "after-five" occasions. Glitter and glamour are naturals for night and fun time. Rhinestones and other types of sparkling jewelry can change the identity of a basic suit or dress for night wear.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Is it hard to find a dish that is just right for the supper meal? Try this.

TUNA STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

2 cans (6 or 7 oz. each) tuna
6 medium baking potatoes
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
One and a half teaspoons salt
Dash pepper
One and a half tablespoons grated onion half cup chopped parsley three-fourths 1 cup hot milk
three-fourths cup grated cheese
Drain tuna. Flake. Bake potatoes in a hot oven, 425 degrees F. for 45 to 60 minutes or until soft. Cut a slice off the top of each potato; scoop out inside. Mash potatoes. Add butter, seasoning, and hot milk; blend well. Mix in tuna. Stuff shells with the tuna-potato mixture. Sprinkle cheese over the top of each potato. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Serves 6.
To finish off the meal serve it with:
Buttered peas
Relish plate
Apple pie
Coffee and milk
