

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

Easter Sunday passed by here with no rain. So we can't look forward to those seven rainy Sundays, which some expressed opinions they would welcome the rainy week ends, as we are needing rain so badly. Grasslands are beginning to fire up some and the grain crop will soon be past redemption if we don't receive rain soon.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. Archie Corbett of Cranfills Gap were very sorry to learn that he passed away Saturday afternoon in a Temple hospital following a heart attack. Mr. Corbett had been suffering of asthma for several years. We understand funeral services and burial was at Comanche. He was about 60 years of age. Our sympathy is extended to those bereaved in his passing.

We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. Luther Jameson is critically ill in the Stephenville Hospital, having suffered two strokes during the week end. The Jameson family formerly resided in the Falls Creek community near Fairy, later moving to Glen Rose where Mr. Jameson passed away. Mrs. Jameson was making her home with a daughter, Mrs. Lillie Morrison of Stephenville. Mrs. Jameson is a sister of Scott and Jessie Blakley and Mrs. Ada Laceywell of near Fairy. Her many friends will be anxiously awaiting good news regarding her condition.

Our hearts go out in deepest sympathy to Mrs. Zela May Dennis of 1312 South Lake, Fort Worth, in the tragic death of her small son, Gene, age 10, who was accidentally shot last Friday morning while visiting a friend. He had spent Thursday night with his little friend, whose family lived in an apartment house. Gene had gone into the bathroom and locked the door when the friend picked up a .22 target and it was discharged. The shot went through the door striking Gene in the center of the forehead near the edge of his hairline. The little friend ran and notified the apartment owners when he saw blood running under the door. The door was taken off its hinges and the child was rushed to a hospital, where he died ten minutes later. His father, John H. Dennis Sr. was buried at the Fairy Cemetery on March 18. He died of a heart attack. We did not learn where the Dennis boy was buried. He is survived by his mother, 9 brothers and sisters, and also two step-brothers and a step-sister. We have given his mother's address hoping that many will do as we are doing, and write to this grief-stricken mother and family, and offer her words of consolation and a donation if possible, for they are very needy.

There were only twelve workers at the Fairy Cemetery last Friday, but much good was accomplished. Some 20 lots and a number of single graves were worked. The old committee, consisting of John Abel, Frank Bonner and Mrs. Eunice Daniel were retained. Since there was only a few there at the time Mr. Bonner was at the cemetery as he had to get back to duties at the school, we just elected C. C. (Coy) Parks by decision. With a little persuasion he agreed to help us since Mr. Abel is now making his home part time in Grand Prairie. He has been very faithful and we feel he can still be of help when here, even though his health is not as good at this time. Our sincere thanks to those who came and worked so faithfully and also to those who made donations. These are as follows: Frank Hanes, $6; Frank Bonner, $5; Mrs. Eunice Daniel, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tyler, $5; and C. C. Parks, $2.

We have employed Troy Massingill of Hamilton and also Nona Brunson, our caretaker, to work Monday. They did an excellent day's work, almost completing all the remaining lots and graves in the cemetery of those who are regular contributors to the Association. Mr. Brunson was working Tuesday morning to complete the work. We hope those who don't contribute will look after their lots in the near future in order to fully get the cemetery worked over before the first mowing. There was also some clean-up work to be done, where curbs have been built, which will be finished Tuesday. So if you have been contributing to the Association, you can rest assured and remember, if you send as much as $5 a year donation your lot will be looked after the entire year. Some are keeping their lots and paying in the $5 also. Others have no relatives buried here, but are making nice donations too. This we highly appreciate and think they are to be commended for their thoughtfulness and consideration. Mr. Frank Hanes, superintendent of our school, has been very nice to offer assistance in any way and always remembers to hand us a nice donation. So thanks to Mr. Hanes and all others for your help and consideration.

Miss Lera Jane Blakley of TCU, Fort Worth, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley during the Easter holidays. She went to Waco Thursday where she met a friend from TCU and accompanied her to Bay City, where they were members of a wedding party for another friend, Miss Sandy Saunders, a former TCU student, who was married Friday night to Taylor Steves, a student at Texas University. The wedding was a huge affair. Miss Blakley visited with Mrs. Edna Bolding during her stay at Bay City. Mrs. Bolding is the former Edna Bridges of Fairy. She formerly resided at McGregor also.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Cunningham have been visiting in Fort Worth in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cunningham, who are entertaining a new baby son, born Wednesday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Barnett and baby of Amarillo visited during the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Abel, and his father, John Abel, of Grand Prairie spent the week end here with their sister and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ovie Clark, and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Haile of Fort Worth spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sills.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrel Murry of Abilene visited during the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coyt Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie McCoy, Rodney and Ronda of Dallas, visited during the week end in the home of his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley and Lera Jane.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Driver of Grand Prairie spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family visited Sunday afternoon in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers of Hamilton, and to be with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson and Teresa of Houston.

Supper guests in the home of the writer Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marty Haire of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn, Jimmie and Janice.

Birthdates for April which we have in mind are Mrs. Lloyd Bolstad of Laurel, Miss., April 1; Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, Stephenville, April 4; this scribe, April 12; Mrs. Ernest Brummett, Alhambra, Cal., April 13; Billy Daniel of Fort Worth, April 14; Mrs. Roy Blakley, April 19; Mrs. Cal Lowery, Fort Worth and Mrs. Wayne Pittman, Dublin, April 28; Cliff Tinkle of Hamilton, April 19; and little Dinah Gene Mayfield, Hico, who will observe her first birthdate April 9.

The writer attended singing at Agee Sunday afternoon. The crowd was not as large as expected due to many having Easter visitors. Those present enjoyed a very good song service.

The writer and daughter, Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Janice were business visitors in Hamilton Monday. While there we visited at the Hamilton Rest Home. We found Mrs. Brittle Little very poorly, but able to be up some.

E. M. Hoover had the misfortune of breaking his arm Monday afternoon while trying to crank his tractor. He had stopped the tractor in the driveway of the garage and Mrs. Hoover had to go to the field and get one of the McAdam boys, who was working for them, to come and crank the tractor and get it out of the driveway before she could take Mr. Hoover to the Hico Hospital where the limb was set. We hope he will soon be fully recovered.

The former V. and Mary Corneth were visitors at the Fairy Cemetery Sunday afternoon. They formerly resided in the Fairy community and their sister, Miss Lillian, passed away while they resided near Olin and was buried at Fairy. Some of the relatives reside near Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martel Stringer and children of Goldsmith visited during the week end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Texie Dell Allison and baby of De Leon visited during the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Garion Streater and sons.

Had a visitor? Been some place? Then call in your news items each week.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to my many friends for every deed of kindness, words of sympathy, flowers, get-well cards, blood donors, and every act of kindness during my stay in Hico Hospital. Especially do I thank my pastor, Rev. Iver Haugen, for his visits, sympathy, and words of encouragement; also the pastors of the Hico Churches for their every visit; the doctor's service and nurses' care.
Especially do I want to say a heart-felt thanks to my friends for the cash donation as a birthday gift to me on my birthday, March 28, the day before leaving the hospital.

CHIROPRACTOR

A young mother came to our clinic because she had failed to find relief for frequent headaches and an aching in the back of her neck. Nothing she did would give her any more than temporary relief.

One of her friends persuaded her to come to our Stephenville Clinic and give Chiropractic a try. Although very skeptical, she decided she didn't have anything to lose, so why not give it a try.

Our spinal nerve analysis disclosed compression of spinal nerve roots and spinal x-rays were recommended and we began immediate corrective adjustments.

It wasn't long before her headaches began to disappear, along with other symptoms which she had been bothered with so long.

This all took place four years ago and she stays well by returning for occasional check-ups.

The story of WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

THE "GOLDEN RULE" IS STILL PRACTICED

There are lots of folks at Hico, and near Hico, that have been taught the Golden Rule; of "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you"—and they practice it, too.

I know! I feel like you first bought my baked goods for that purpose, but I would like to feel that they bought the second time because they liked my products.

I can assure you that the last thing you buy will be of the finest ingredients and will be handled to the best of my ability.

I could not have done as well as I have if it had not been for such wonderful people. Thanks from the bottom of my heart to each of you.

Tax Money Saved by Out-of-State Purchases

By CRAWFORD C. MARTIN, Senator, 12th District

During the past three years El Paso has saved $263,000 of city tax money by buying merchandise out of state. The saving resulted from not cheaper prices but smaller interstate freight rates for city and county governments.

Your Senator has introduced Senate Bill 330 to correct this inconsistency. It would permit railroads and trucking lines to give reduced freight rates to city, county and state governments on shipments within the state. A large saving to taxpayers would be the benefit.

The bill, referred to the Senate Transportation Committee, has been widely discussed between railroad representatives and truckers. Your Senator has asked that it be studied in subcommittee to iron out the problem, yet retain the teeth of the measure.

Currently interstate freight traffic, regulated by the Federal Government, is given reduced rates. Recently an El Paso east iron pipe order from Birmingham, Alabama, was $450 per carload cheaper than the same product shipped from a Texas firm. S.E. 330 would keep city improvement money in the state.

Dallas spokesmen have stated the bill would be a saving to their city in long freight hauls of road building materials across the state.

Two measures of special interest to 12th District cattlemen passed the Senate recently.

The first, H.B. 31, deals with control and eradication of bovine brucellosis, a disease which has caused damage in the millions of dollars in past years. It provides a state-financed voluntary control plan directed toward state-wide eradication of the disease.

By MRS. LUCILE MAYFIELD

A large crowd attended the Busy Bee Sewing Club's 25th anniversary party Saturday night, March 28, at the Community Center.

The Center was beautifully decorated with red buds and white iris and dogwood blossoms. An Easter motif was featured.

The head table in the dining room was beautifully decorated with a red bouquet in a silver tray of red buds, and on either side a 3-arm silver candelabra with pink lighted candles. The other tables had arrangements of red buds with green sprays.

A place card at each plate had a painted bee with the dates 1934, 1939, and tied with green and white ribbons, the club colors. A large bouquet of red buds with the figure "25" atop were placed on a table in the center of the living room.

The registration book was tied with green and white ribbons.

The dinner consisted of baked ham, roast turkey, meat balls, barbecue, roast beef, fried chicken, vegetables, various kinds of salads, cakes and pies, bread, celery, green onions, potato chips, Fritos, coffee and punch.

The first president and secretary of the group, and the present secretary and president and their husbands were placed at the head table. Experimental Plants to Be Built for Salt Water Con.

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C.—Under the provisions of legislation passed in the last Congress, there will be five experimental plants built in the United States to convert salt water to fresh water. A new lower cost method has been developed since 1967 at a plant located in North Carolina. Experiments in a small plant near Wichita Falls have produced most satisfying results.

Of the five plants to be built by the Federal Government, one will be located on the Atlantic Seaboard, one on the Pacific, and one on the Gulf Coast. The other two plants will be located inland to convert "brackish" water to fresh water. West Central Texas certainly has an abundance of brackish water to convert. Efforts are being made to convince officials of the Department of the Interior of the feasibility of locating such a plant in the 17th Congressional District. Competition with this effort is not only provided by other areas in the State of Texas, but by New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and many others. The first reaction by the Department of the Interior is that Texas will likely have a salt water plant on the Gulf and that another would not be located in the State. Regardless of this discouraging logic, efforts will be continued to get both plants for Texas.

The idea that two plants should not be located in Texas follows the pattern of what is often said about Texas in Washington. We are criticized for having been favored over other states to what many believe is to their advantage. This is often heard with reference to military installations, and particularly air bases. The fact that we have more to offer in weather and other conditions seemingly is not convincing enough.

Speaking of resources in Texas, both human and economic, those of us only a short distance away forget that almost the entire world supply of helium gas is located within a 250-mile radius of Amarillo. It is of the highest strategic importance to our Nation's Atomic Energy Program and in outer space experiments. It is used in welding light metals for jet aircraft, rockets and for other purposes for which there is no adequate substitute. It is used for refrigerating other gasses in a highly developed scientific way. From reports, the supply produced near Amarillo is limited and may not last more than 20 to 30 years longer. There has been some indication that the Congress may be asked to institute some sort of conservation program for storing and recovering about 3 billion cubic feet of helium. The Interior Department has proposed new plants to be located on helium gas pipe lines, in an effort to recover that lost each year in natural gas transmission for fuel to areas far removed from Amarillo. It is certainly important to conserve all natural resources, and especially this one for which the supply is seriously

QUICK ACTION EASES THREAT TO TEXAS GRAIN

Texas' important grain industry was recently faced with its worst insect threat in modern times when the dread grain-mangling Khapra Beetle was sighted in the state for the first time in far West Texas.

First location of the beetle by agriculture inspectors in an El Paso grain and feed milling operation prompted an immediate investigation, and an emergency crew of inspectors was rushed to El Paso from other points in the state. Findings thus far indicate that the infestation is likely localized, and that spread of infestation is being curbed by government supervised fumigation operations of all suspicious grain products moving out of the area.

A native of India, the Khapra Beetle is the most feared pest known to grainmen, capable of destroying or seriously downgrading every form of grain and feed-stuffs. The beetle is very difficult to eradicate, requiring that the entire infested storehouse be covered with impervious material (usually plastic), including the ground area surrounding the building for a radius of about 30 feet. Then the interior is fumigated with methyl bromide, allowing plenty of time for fumes to seep into every crack and crevice of the building where the Khapras may cling.

The Khapra Beetle is primarily a stored grain pest and is not found in open grain fields. It can survive for as long as three years without any food at all, but in the larva stage the pest has an enormous appetite. Grain damage, depending on weather conditions, varies from 5 to 30 per cent although up to 75 per cent damage has been reported. The beetle is a "dirty" feeder, breaking or powdering more kernels than it consumes.

The adult Khapra—which belongs limited, as related to its present day consumption. Likewise, it is vitally important that we practice the very best water and soil conservation possible. These resources will not be with us for always unless we handle them with care.

This matter of converting salt water and brackish water to fresh water at a cost we can afford to pay, certainly could be a boon to dry West Texas.

Due to the fact I expect to spend the week following Easter in my Congressional District, this column will not appear next week.

Presence of Khapra infestation is usually due to the presence of the larvae or their cast skins around the corners of or in used sacks.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

Nine steers, implanted with 24 mgs. of stilbestrol, outgained ten steers that did not get implants by 257 pounds on the Frank and Moody Courtney ranch this winter.

Last September 24, Frank and Moody took 20 head of steers from a group they had raised and some had been bought. The 20 were divided into two groups of ten head each. One ten-head group was given an implant of stilbestrol in an ear, marked and weighed. The other group of ten head was marked, weighed, but did not receive any stilbestrol.

One steer in the group given an implant died from bloat. At the beginning of the wintering period, the nine steers implanted weighed an average of 522 pounds for a total of 4698 pounds.

The group of ten that did not get an implant averaged 476 pounds for a total of 4760 pounds for the ten.

March 20, the steers were checked for results. The nine head of implanted steers on this date weighed a total of 7220 pounds making a gain of 2522 pounds over a period of 176 days. The ten head not implanted weighed a total of 7025 pounds, for a gain of 2265 pounds for the wintering period. 2522 pounds minus 2265 pounds is 257 pounds in favor of the implanted steers over those not implanted. The implanted steers gained 28.77 pounds each more than those not implanted.

On March 20, five of the steers that were implanted in the fall were each given an additional implant of 30 mgs. stilbestrol and 4 head were not. Of the ten head that were not implanted in the fall, five were implanted with 30 mgs. stilbestrol and ten were not. After working the 19 head of steers, they were placed in the feed lot and will be fed around 100 days. They will all be re-worked after the feeding period and results checked to see what difference there will be.

Oscar Buffe, A. J. Spence, C. H. Rabbe and Martin Schrank with his class of FFA boys of the Fairy school were at the Courtney ranch the afternoon the steers were worked on March 20.

I'm sure that many of you have heard that if steers were implanted with stilbestrol, grown out in the pasture, then given another implant when placed in the feed lot, satisfactory results would not be gotten. Information we have received indicates that this is not true and that steers will show an additional gain when implanted for a second time.

All the above steers were wintered on good pasture and a little supplemental feed.

The Courtneys suggest that if you should use stilbestrol that you not give it to your heifers. They have tried it and the results are not satisfactory.

In the feed lot these two men usually start their steers on a ration of approximately 65 per cent roughage, 10 per cent cottonseed meal, and 25 per cent grain. This ration is changed as the feeding period advances and at the last of the period it is approximately 65 per cent grain, 10 per cent cottonseed meal and 25 per cent roughage. The feed mixture is ground and self-fed.

Comanche County Sheriff Has Colorful History

By E. E. DAWSON

Getting something for this column is sometimes a real job for I am tied down pretty closely these days. There is the fact of a crippled wife to look after continually, and a young great-granddaughter to look after and do the bidding of six days a week. So my opportunity to get around is greatly limited. And I do want something readable for the friends who look up this column.

Thus I am indebted to George Dolan of the Star-Telegram for this story here reproduced about our neighboring sheriff of Comanche County, commonly known as Big Beive Bean. Bean is evidently a man of keen judgment of human nature, else he would not take the chances he does, as set forth in this quotation. Well, here it is. Read it.

Big Beive Bean, who used to pitch for the Cleveland Indians, got some spectator reaction not long ago when he played ball with a convicted forger.

Bean is sheriff now and the forger spent 10 months and 12 days in the county jail before he went to Huntsville to start serving a penitentiary term.

This is his second stretch in the penitentiary and, when it seemed like he was sure to go back again he was a bitter man.

He wouldn't talk to anyone during the first couple of months in county jail.

Then Bean and his wife, who often brought the prisoner his meals, began thawing him out.

Before long, he was getting down, right sociable again.

So, the day before Christmas, Bean asked him how he would like to eat Christmas dinner with his family here.

The prisoner answered, naturally, in the affirmative.

"Can I trust you to come back?" asked Bean.

"I'll be back," swore the prisoner, "if I have to crawl back on my belly."

Bean let him out of jail at 9 a.m. Christmas day.

Insiders, who knew about it, thought the sheriff had made a terrible blunder.

But, by 4 p.m., the prisoner was back.

Later, when it was time for the prisoner to be taken to Huntsville he asked Bean if he could go alone.

"They'd make me a trusty if I showed up by myself," the prisoner explained.

Bean thought it over and decided to take a chance with him. The sheriff put the prisoner on a bus in the morning.

Again he was told that he'd stuck his neck out too far.

But, that night, the prisoner called the sheriff from the penitentiary. He had checked in, turned over his papers and was beginning his term.

The sheriff proved to a man who thought the world was against him that he had faith in him.

The odds are good, figures the sheriff, that the fellow will go straight when he finishes his prison term.

Bean gets letters from the fellow ever so often.

The sheriff may have straightened out a bent life by sticking his neck out.

But, whether it turns out that way or not, one thing is sure: Sheriff Bean sure made a pen pal.
