Mail Carrier Started Postal Service 45 Years Ago at Hico

By MRS. H. V. HEDGES

Monday, April 6th, marked the 45th anniversary of continuous government service for J. P. Rodgers Jr., Hico rural mail carrier. He has worked at Hico post office longer than any other employee.

When his father, the late J. P. Rodgers Sr., was sworn in as postmaster April 6, 1914, J. P. Jr. became a clerk. Since that time, he has worked here continuously with the exception of a leave of absence during World War I, when he was stationed with the Postal Detachment of the 18th Infantry Division at Camp Travis in San Antonio.

Returning from the war, he was senior clerk until 1941, when he was transferred to rural service. He carried mail on Routes 1, 2, and 4, and since retirement of the late Barto B. Gamble last Sept. 1, he has been assigned to Route 3, an 85-mile route extending south to Fairy and Lanham, east almost to Cranfills Gap, north to the Iredell Mountains, and west to Hico.

Rodgers' actual association with the local post office began when he was a schoolboy. He pushed a mail cart from the post office to the railroad depot every day; met the train; picked up the mail; and delivered it to the office.

He has served under five postmasters—his father, who held the office nearly nine years; Mrs. Adah R. Jackson; the late John Lackey; Mrs. Jimmie L. Holford; and Robert B. Jackson, present postmaster. Presidential administrations have changed only four times since he began during Woodrow Wilson's office.

Rodgers has averaged more than 70 miles a day on his routes. He has traveled more than 300,000 miles during working hours in 18 years, has worn out about 10 cars, and has rarely missed his route because of illness.

His sister, Miss Thoma Rodgers who serves as clerk, also is a longtime employee of the post office.

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

It was with deep regret that many in this and surrounding communities learned of the passing of Mrs. Luther Jameson Saturday. She passed away at the Stephenville Hospital. She had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Morrison of Stephenville since the death of her husband several years ago. She suffered a stroke last Saturday and another the following day, and had been in a critical condition up until the time of her passing. Mrs. Jameson, the former Lou Blakley of the Agee community was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blakley of Agee and Hamilton. She is survived by four daughters and two sons. One son, Claud, and her husband preceded her in death. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Nettie Bridges of McGregor and Mrs. Ada Lacey of Fairy, and three brothers, Roy, Scott, and Jessie of Fairy. Sorry we overlooked making mention of Roy in our story last week. She is also survived by a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives. Funeral services were held at the Hico Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A very large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends were present for the services. She was 74 years old. Our sympathy is extended to those bereaved.

Well, it seems we've had a very short spring after a few weeks of nice warm weather and fans in evidence at gatherings, we find ourselves back to heavier wearing apparel and staying by the fire as much as possible these cold days and nights. Some ice was reported here early Monday morning. However, what little garden stuff we have seen seems to be alright, but have heard of some being killed at other points.

Mrs. Irene Bankston and daughter of Temple visited here during the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakley and attended funeral services of her aunt, Mrs. Luther Jameson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bridges of McGregor were here Sunday on their way to Stephenville and Hico for services of her sister, Mrs. Jameson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham spent from Friday until Sunday visiting with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prinz and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arant and children of Fort Worth.

On Sunday they all enjoyed a gathering and birthday dinner honoring the Cunningham's youngest granddaughter, small daughter of the Arrants, at the Arrant home. Another daughter of the Cunninghams and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Frederick of Venus spent Sunday with the family.

The writer attended singing at Lund Valley Baptist Church last Sunday, being accompanied from Hamilton by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford. We went to Hamilton by way of Hico where we stopped at the funeral home. After singing hours we made our usual visit to the rest home in Hamilton. We found Mrs. Little seemingly much improved, but sorry to find her roommate, Mrs. Wallace, ill. Also Mrs. J. W. Strickland, across the hall, had been very sick during the night but was better at the time of our visit. After a visit in Mrs. Little's room she accompanied us to the room of Mrs. Alford where we visited a little while then on to the room of Mrs. Pearl Wade.

These dear old folks are always so glad to have visitors. They look forward to these visits which seem to brighten the days for them. We have some ten or twelve patients we visit regularly. Our tell-tale clear voice seems to give us away on the side of the building we're visiting and patients tell us "We knew you were coming. We could hear you talking up the hall." When we reached the room of Mrs. Lorena Vick and had planned to stand by her bed and chat a few minutes, she pointed to a chair said "Sit down there and talk to me a while." This we did although night was nearing. We chatted a while and rushed up the hall to leave and thought of another we had passed up, Mrs. Risinger, mother of Mrs. Willeford. Mrs. Risinger, although past 90, is always jolly and appears much younger. Her sister, Mrs. Lovejoy was sitting near her bed. We had met her the previous Sunday, striking up a conversation with her we learned that she was related to a dear friend of our deceased aunt, Mrs. Betty Jones of Gatesville. Mrs. Lovejoy recalled the tragic death of our uncle, Brack Jones and son, Newman, and also knew several of our relatives. Again on our way for the door of exit to leave we were stopped at the door by Mrs. Gossitt and another dear lady, Mrs. Higgins stopped us to tell us that the News Review came to the home and of how they enjoyed our write-up and says write a long letter this week and wanted us to write something about the home and its visitors. We told them we didn't belong over there and had about all we could do to take care of the home community. We do mention patients there from time to time and also some visitors, but since our visiting period is usually from 4:45 to 6:45 and so many to visit we can only report on what we learn while there. We can say this, the home is one of the nicest we ever visited and we think these homes, when operated as they should be, are a blessing to those who are unable to live alone. Well, after a chat at the door, Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Gossett we hit for home as church bells were tolling and city lights were aglow. On our 20 mile journey home. Yes we had to take a flashlight and get out and attend our stock and other chores, but with a heart full of sympathy and all the memories of those dear old folks, we felt we were just glad to do our chores after dark if we could brighten their lives in some way. Hope to see you again next Sunday, dear folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Willeford and daughters, Doran and Delia spent last Sunday in Brownwood visiting in the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Y. C. Paschall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn, Jimmie Don and Janice visited Sunday in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison of Dublin. Other guests were the Allison's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen.

E. M. Hoover visited Sunday afternoon at the Hamilton Rest Home with his mother, Mrs. A. R. Hoover.

Mrs. M. E. Parks was hostess to the community quilting club Wednesday afternoon of last week. Twenty-one members and visitors were present, and two quilts were almost completed. Refreshments of angel food cake and delicious fruit punch was served to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goyno of De Sota visited a while Sunday at their home here.

We have been wonderfully blessed with a two-inch rain in this section, for which we are very grateful, and hope all who were in need of rain also received the moisture. Everything seems to be taking on new life. Much of the grain over the county was being grazed or plowed up. However the grain on heavy land, as is the case around here, will now make some gain. Maize planted before the rain will soon be coming up and if a late freeze or frost don't get it, the maize crops will soon be on their way.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis and her father, Hugh Allison, all of Hamilton, visited Sunday in the home of Mr. Allison's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison of Fairy. Other guests were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Texie Allison and Dana of De Leon.

We understand there will be two vacancies in our school for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lackey and daughters, Frances, Norma and Linda of Dallas spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olga Duncan. Mrs. Lackey is the former Myrtle Duncan.

Mrs. D. E. Allison of Dublin visited last Wednesday with her mother, the writer, and also her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and children, and with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison.

Migraine Headaches are Curable

Every three or four days a terrific pain would begin at the back and on one side of the head of this forty-seven year old housewife, and pain would gradually take possession of one entire side of her head, including one eye. She had tried everything she knew, including surgery at a Temple hospital where some nerves were severed. She obtained relief from the surgery but before long the pains returned.

Dr. Robt. H. Walker

When she came to our clinic, she stated that she felt tired all time, was nervous and easily upset.

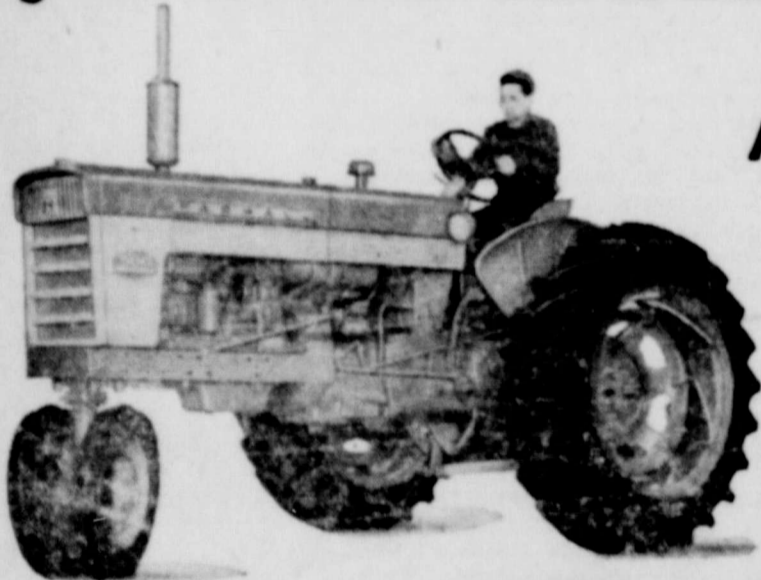

This patient reported being thrown from a buggy when she was sixteen years old, landing on head, neck and shoulder. A spinal analysis and spinal x-rays located spinal misalignment causing nerve interference. Corrective adjustments were started and within two months time all of her symptoms had cleared up, and now she comes in for check-ups once every two weeks to prevent recurrence and maintain health.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Hico High School and Elementary School students were hilariously entertained Monday, April 13th, by Joss Wind, his wife, and trained poodle, in a 45-minute program of musical novelty and impersonation.

The musical comedian, recently from the Netherlands, played the piano, violin and guitar beautifully, and ludicrously. He also is the "man with a thousand voices," and proved it by giving impersonations of ever-shaking Elvis, nasal-voiced Liberace, and various other big-name entertainers.

Mr. Wind's wife performed an old Hungarian dance as he played the piano, and the students caught a glimpse of how it must have been years ago in Holland. The poodle also did imitations (of the Lone Ranger's horse, Silver) and "sang" a solo, which teachers and students alike loved immensely.

During a brief pause in the show, Mrs. Wind made a short talk in which she thanked the Americans for the help given them during the war.

As the students left the auditorium, several were still shaking with laughter, while others were already wishing the Winds would come back soon.

H H S SURPRISE SHOWER

Thursday, April 2, the third-year Homemaking class gave a bridal shower honoring Miss Anna Lee Luckie. The guests at the shower were Brenda Hutson, Betty Hutson, Bonnie Burden, Jeann Brown and Mrs. Cecil Luckie. The refreshments were served and Miss Luckie was presented with her gift.

The refreshments served were dainty tea sandwiches, cup cakes and punch.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE
I wonder if some of you are having the same trouble with your lawns that I am. During the summer I can apply heavy applications of high analysis nitrogen fertilizer to my lawn, water it good and still it won't green up like it should from the amount of nitrogen applied.

If you are having this experience, the trouble is not from a lack of nitrogen, but a lack of iron. The trouble is called Chlorosis and continued applications of fertilizer will not give you the green color you desire.

There is a new product on the market and will be in the hands of our merchants in the near future. The product is called Versenol F. It is an iron chelate. (A chelating agent is an organic compound which contains a metal atom and holds it in water-soluble form available to plants). The Versenol F is applied as a spray and is easily put out.

Another thing I'm having trouble with too is rescue grass. This stuff has really taken over on some lawns. It holds back bermuda and St. Augustine grass, causing them to get a late start.

Here is a new product that will kill rescue grass and not kill bermuda or St. Augustine. Endothal is the new product. (It will burn bermuda and St. Augustine when heavily used). Endothal is mixed with water and applied as a spray, covering the grass well with best results obtained in late winter or when the rescue grass first makes its appearance. With it in the seedling stage, as it is now, heavier applications are indicated and these heavy applications can cause some injury to other grasses in the lawn. Endothal is not now on the market but should be available at your merchants in the near future.

Something else new—Orientation Planting. Planting corn kernels by a method called orientation planting looks good as a means of decreasing soil moisture loss from evaporation. Orientation is the planting of the corn kernels so that each kernel is dropped with the end down and the flat sides of the kernel facing the middle. Kinda complicated isn't it, espec-

To the Editor

Dear Sir:
I got a big kick out of your remarks about (ugh!) dust. I found out a thing or two about that (ugh!) dust which might interest you and the other readers of this paper. The top soil of almost all of Texas was formed by dust. If it were not for these duststorms, there would be only desert. Nothing but clay, rocks, chalk and the like. Not a weed would grow here.

But the best is yet to come. God lets the north and west winds bring us only the finest, the most fertile grains of precious top-soil, so we can have the best stuff on our land. There was a time when I complained about dust storms but now I thank the Lord for his goodness, especially when a dust storm is preceded by a rain-shower. That is God's way to make sure we get to keep our part of the good earth—the pennies, yea the dollars, he has sent us from Heaven. Often when I am in the creek bottom I admire the cross section of earth I see as I look at the bluff. There before me is foot after foot of soil as fertile as any on earth—usually with the kind of planters we have. Anyhow, research shows that by planting corn this way the corn will grow with all the leaves growing across the row. In this manner, the leaves shade the ground and prevent loss of moisture as well as giving better control of weeds.

Research scientists state that they have been able to increase production by planting with this method. Scientists believe that the difficulties in mechanical planting of oriented seed corn can be overcome by fastening the kernels to a continuous tape and planting the tape, or through the adaption of existing planters so they will position the kernels properly in the row. If this thing is developed, it looks like corn planters will be calling for so many feet or miles of corn planting seed rather than so many bushels as they do now.

I don't know much about what a heat pump is but scientists have used the principle of it to take the heat energy drawn from bulk tank coolers to heat water for washing milking equipment. A tank cooling 200 gallons of milk a day will pump out heat energy equivalent to more than 9,000 kilowatt-hours of electric energy during a year. Why not conserve some of this heat and put it to work in the milk house, ask the scientists.

every inch God sent and every inch brought in by the winds.

Now about the rain: I figure God sends us a little bit to see if we will thank him for that or cuss him for not sending a lot. I am glad God has that responsibility for if I had to parcel out the rain, I might send too much or too little and the country would surely be in a big mess. I find it easy to worry about other things and almost impossible to worry about rain. About 300 years before Columbus got here, some of my people lived through a far more terrible drouth than the six-year period we have just had, and they lived right on through it. The evidence is that I am here.

Oh yes! I get a good laugh every time I hear somebody speak of an Indian as a vanishing American. Come drouth, flood, tornado or you name it, when I look in the mirror I just don't think I look like I am vanishing.

Petsick Presents Program at Meeting of Hico H. D. Club

South Hico Home Demonstration Club met April 9 in the home of Mrs. R. L. French for a covered dish. Each member brought a covered dish. The meeting was up, and everyone enjoyed it.

A regular meeting was called for 2:30 by the president, R. L. French. Roll call was read with "How much do we know about our county?" Mrs. Petsick was in charge of the program on County Officials.

It was learned that Hamilton County tax rate is one of the lowest in the state. The present rate is one hundred dollars valuation.

It was also learned that the County Board and four County Commissioners are the administrative body for the entire county, and that the most important officials are the County Clerk, Auditor, and Assessor.

At the term of office for all county officials is four years. On Mrs. Petsick finished the interesting and educational program, we adjourned for refreshments of layer cake and coffee.

For recreation the group joined in singing hymns. Seven members and three visitors, Mrs. Petsick, Mrs. Barto, Mrs. Rankin Jones, were present.

Tour of Local Homes Enjoyed by Garden Club

Friday, April 10, proved to be one of the outstanding meetings of the Hico Garden Club year. Members toured local home gardens, starting from the Methodist Church at 9 a.m. Eighteen members joined the group.

First home visited was that of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hancock. Of special interest was good planning and cleanliness of the entire premises. Flower beds and shrubs were well chosen with hundreds of pansies and lovely varieties of Columbine.

Next was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton, which has been landscaped this season. New shrubs and trees added to the front lawn which tapers off downhill forming curves, paths and flower beds outlined with native rock.

Next on the agenda was a visit to Hico Florist, where Don Phillips has created a variable lawn paradise on the hill. He has flower beds, shrubs, vines, rock gardens and everything for making civic interest.

The next home was that of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Casey. This is a new home which this young family has not spared work or planning to have a lovely home and surroundings. The entire lawn is outlined with small choice shrubs, now and then blooming plants, with curved flower beds in front outlined with brick.

A very interesting home lawn was that of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Herrington Sr. They chose old-fashioned and modern flower beds, shrubs and plants not seen every day. Ornamental and fruit trees—even a spacious strawberry bed.

A lovely lawn and attractive patio surrounded with plants with white wrought iron furniture setting was next on the tour, which was the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wolfe.

Next visited was the home of Mrs. H. E. McCullough. Outside the entrance gate—extending across the entire front lawn—was a gorgeous bed of Darwin tulips and pansies in full bloom. In elevated beds around the house were various plants in colors. Of special beauty was a deep pink Azalea. We were ushered through the guest house and home where we enjoyed the many articles of interest collected by Mrs. McCullough on her trips at home and abroad.

The last home visited was that of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Hafer, which, on first impression, was "wide open spaces" but we found a well cared for lawn, beautiful trees, flower beds surrounding the home and a special enclosure for a blue wisteria vine. All in all a beautiful home of outstanding interest.

Mrs. Bates Hostess At Wednesday Bridge

Mrs. May Bates was hostess to members of her bridge club Wednesday afternoon, April 8, at her home here. The two tables were covered with white cloths and laid with silver and crystal appointments for the dessert course served preceding bridge play.

Those present were Mrs. Harold Walker, Mrs. M. I. Knudson, Mrs. W. F. Hafer, Mrs. H. N. Wolfe, Mrs. Bill Howard, Mrs. H. V. Hedges, Mrs. Odis Petsick and Mrs. Morse Ross.

High scorer was Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Knudson won second high score for the afternoon play.

On the Home Range

By MRS. VIVIAN BLAIR
Home Demonstration Agent

Well, it looks as though I'm jinxed. Again it was the hospital for me this past week. This time I had a bone feion. I don't know how to spell that word, but anyone who has ever had one knows what I'm talking about, whether it's spelled correctly or not. That is an experience you don't want but once. So it's a left-handed world for me for a while but the worst is over.

Our girls who entered the district contests representing Hamilton County gave a good account of themselves. Each one did a good job. There was just a whole lot of mighty stiff competition. We are especially proud of the Poultry Marketing and Utilization team, Patricia Standifer and Patsy Thomas of Pottsville, for bringing home a third place ribbon.

The next big event on our calendar will be the County Dress Re-ue, which will be the first Saturday in May. Mark your calendar and plan to attend. There will be some lovely dresses there.

HOME SEWING CAN CUT COSTS
As you plan the family spring and summer wardrobe, decide what to sew and what to buy ready made. You can have more and better clothes if you make them yourself—provided you sew well and have the time. You can also save dollars if you are skilled enough to make your own alterations of ready made, remodel garments, and do a good job of mending.

A convenient sewing area will increase your efficiency and pleasure in sewing. Include these features in planning and organizing a sewing center:

1. Cutting surface or table of elbow height.
2. Convenient pressing area—including ironing board, sleeve board and steam iron or electric iron with pressing cloth.
3. Sewing machine—placed so light comes over left shoulder.
4. Sufficient light, both natural and artificial.
5. Easily cleaned floor—waste basket near machine.
6. Adequate storage for patterns, supplies, pressing equipment and yard goods within reach.
7. Electrical outlets properly placed for sewing machine and irons.

Chances are such a working area already exists in your home. Some planning and re-organizing may make it more convenient and useable. A separate room is ideal if sewing is a major activity.

Give your children real security

We don't mean the nicest house in the best neighborhood... the newest, sleekest car... the right schools, the right camps. We're talking about the kind of security they can't do without... the kind that comes from inside. Faith. In God, in life, in themselves. For life is no game for spiritual sissies. Only Faith... the armor of the spirit... will give them the stamina to meet it courageously, no matter what it brings. You can show your children where to find faith... how to build it day by day, if you make praying a family affair.

Build a stronger, richer life... worship together every week.

What's in A Name

By E. E. DAWSON

He's done it again! Another tale and quite true, about surnames that have come down to us from the Old English. To this scribbler one of the most fascinating things is names, like yours, Jones, Smith, Fincannon. This time it is about the terminals of English surnames. It is remarkable how many names end in Man, Land, Well, Ford, Worth, and Field.

Where "man" is the final syllable of a name it means ordinarily what it means to us today—a male. And the first syllable of the compound name may mean his occupation, or place of residence. For example, here is the name Marshman, meaning that the man lived on a marsh. In the name Lanman, the first syllable "lan" shows the man to be a "lance man," that is a man who handled a lance expertly, or accompanied a warrior and carried the warrior's lance.

The names that end in "by" are most interesting to me. The word "by" means a town in the Old English. Take Appleby. Its meaning is Apple town. Or the name Ashby. It means the town among the ash trees. I have known several people named Ashby. When ancestors of the present-day Ashbys moved to a new area they were nick-named "The folks who lived among the ash trees." Hence Ashby.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

Stephenville Named Site of Poultry Diagnostic Lab

By CRAWFORD C. MARTIN, Senator, 12th District

The Senate Finance subcommittee has prepared its appropriation bill for the current session.

Gatesville has been recommended as the site for a new juvenile school and Stephenville has been named as the location for a poultry diagnostic laboratory, in the many-paged document.

The proposed school, designed to handle the most hardened juvenile offenders, will be separate and apart from the other two schools in Gatesville. Abilene had also been suggested as a location. The 480-bed institution, including one main building and five cottages, is budgeted at $1,775,000.

Your Senator is supporting the Stephenville poultry project, which was not included in the House appropriation bill. The Senate measure provides $15,000 a year for operating fund for the laboratory, to be constructed by the poultry industry. This item is under the jurisdiction of the A & M Agriculture Experiment Station.

A large factor in the agricultural activities of the Twelfth District is the A & M Extension Service. This spending measure includes items which should be a great help to this agency.

County Agents and County Home Demonstration Agents' salaries have been increased an average of $310 in the bill. If Federal and county agencies follow suit, these employees will receive a good-sized raise.

The 1960-61 appropriation recommendation for the Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service is the same as the previous two years—$608,000. This agency is still under the control of the Extension Service.

All of these items, if adopted, will mean increased growth and progress for Central Texans. Ferreting out ways to save money running the State's business means keeping an eagle eye out for modern developments proved effective by industry.

Business men know that efficiency means money in their pockets.

Five of your Senator's bills at the current Legislative session are aimed at the money-saving target.

Tighter restrictions on State employee travel expenses would be effected by Senate Bill 272, called the "Travel Regulation Act of 1959." It represents the first legal statement of policy on the travel expense situation, which up to now has been covered solely in the general appropriations bill, and not always with consistency. Some of the long-existing policies have just "grown like Topsy" and threaten to become "Turvy" unless clearly defined.

It would prohibit an employee or official of the State from receiving money or travel expense from any corporation or person being audited or examined.

It would prevent "padding" of expense accounts. In addition, when several employees of the same agency travel to the same point on the same day, they would be required to use one automobile. Exception is provided for extenuating circumstances.
