Cancer Drive Slated Tonight

Porchlight Drive
Friday at 7:30 P.M.

"Fight Cancer—With a Check and a Check-Up" is this year's slogan for the Annual Cancer Drive which is underway in Hico this week. The major fund raising portion of the campaign will be held tonight, Friday, when the popular porchlight theme will be used in the residential section.

Mrs. Sandy Ogle, chairman of the Friday drive, has announced captains as follows: Mrs. Barto Gamble, Mrs. Morse Ross, Mrs. J. E. Woodard, Mrs. Marvin Marshall, Mrs. Louis Chaney, Mrs. Odis Petsick, Mrs. Milton Dunlop, and Mrs. Norman Johnson. The captains will be assisted by other ladies of the community.

Odis Petsick is general chairman of the drive in Hico. Named to solicit the business district are: H. R. Baker and Willard Leach, highway section; Ray Cheek and Buddy Randals, main street; A. H. Lackey and J. B. Woodard, cross streets and wholesale gas companies.

April is the official month for the Cancer Crusade, but due to community conflicts the local drive was postponed until this month. Hico has been assigned a quota of $250.00, which is the amount raised here last year.

"Your dollars to fight cancer have in the past gone a long way in slowing down the trend of this dread disease," a spokesman said. "Your dollars have supported the American Cancer Society's dynamic research, education and service programs—programs whose aim is to save lives. Progress is being made on many fronts with the dramatic results that the cancer cure rate has jumped from 1 to 4 to 1 to 3 in the last ten years.

"But the fight is far from over. Many, many more thousands of cancer victims might be leading healthy lives today if their cases had been detected early and treated promptly. Guard yourself and your family with health check-ups every year. Help guard others, as well as your own family, with a generous check to the American Cancer Society," the spokesman concluded.

The sounding of the fire alarm at 7:30 tonight will be the signal for the start of the drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Sims and Susan are spending a week of their vacation with relatives in Topeka, Kansas. Mr. Sims is serviceman for Community Public Service Company, and Mrs. Sims is employed at Woodard Saweway Produce.

★ 57 EXTINGUISHERS SOLD BY FIREMEN

On the initial tour of town Monday night, members of Hico Volunteer Fire Department sold 57 portable fire extinguishers in their campaign to put at least one of the handy units in every home in Hico.

The compact units sell for $200 each, and may be purchased from any member of the department.

The extinguishers will really do the job, too, as W. R. Hampton can vouch for. Tuesday, while working at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bass, Hampton discovered a small blaze, and promptly put it out with one of the extinguishers, which had only been purchased Monday night.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for the firemen's retirement fund.

IT HAPPENED HERE OR NEAR—

Parable of a Woodpecker

By E. E. DAWSON

Woodpeckers! Seems like they can do a lot of damage, especially to telephone poles and cables. After a lot of experience repairing damage done and loss sustained by a telephone company's equipment, one of the workers for the company came up with this parable.

Parable of the Woodpecker

Once upon a time, in the Texas Panhandle, there lived a flock of yellow-headed flicker woodpeckers. Unlike their larger cousins, the redheads, who lead a soft life on plump oaks and juicy pines, the flickers were mavericks.

Every spring, after the last blue norther, they headed for their windswept home in the mesquite thickets. But ranchers came along with their sprays and began to kill off the mesquites to clear more grazing lands.

The little flickers came upon hard times.

One day, a little flicker named Buck was winging sadly home after a meager day's scavenging. He was tired and discouraged.

All of a sudden up ahead he saw a big, fat, black worm crawling along between some tall poles. It was so long it stretched to the horizons.

Buck's wings skipped a beat.

He swooped down. As his feet touched, he felt the worm purr. He pecked tentatively. It was tough, but soon he broke through the skin.

And there, inside, were all sorts of little worms.

Whooping, Buck flew toward the roost, calling out the news, and soon hundreds of flickers were pecking away at the big worm. Buck was the hero of the day.

The worm, of course, was a telephone cable. Although covered with alpth, a substance tougher than lead, the flickers peck right through.

A newspaper reporter checked up on the woodpecker damage and came up with this story:

PECKS OF DAMAGE

In one 23-mile stretch between Fluvanna and Post, the flickers did more than $10,980 damage in the first six months of 1958, not counting revenue lost through disrupted service.

The cable carries hundreds of message trunks, telegraph channels, TV audio, radio, private line service and the main long distance lines between Abilene and Lubbock.

A cable man and his helper work full time at an inch-by-inch check of the cable, repairing thousands of tiny woodpecker holes. Sometimes the flickers come back and peck through the repairs.

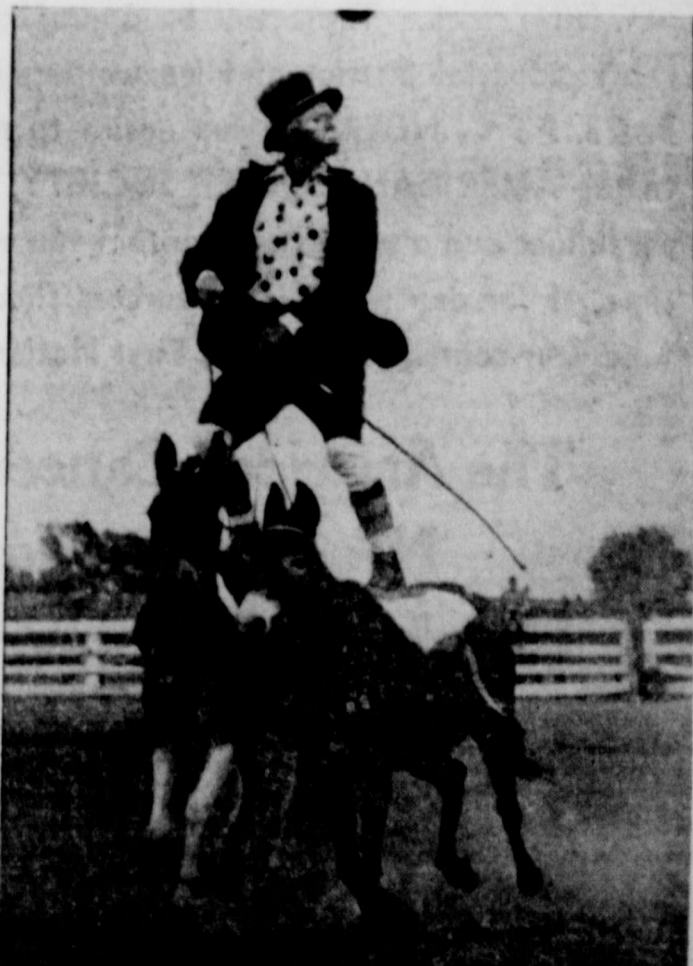

Burying the cable will deprive the woodpeckers of their favorite feeding ground, but it's doubtful that they get much nourishment from alpth, anyway.

The reporter then made this amazing statement: "The pecking pests have caused Southwestern Bell to spend $300,000 for cable-burying in one 23-mile West Texas location."

The reporter, George Dolan, closed his story with this statement:

"Figuring that, to be fair, a woodpecker spokesman should be asked for comment. I showed the Bell prose to an Audubon Society member who, after reading it, sniffed and made this single comment:

"Woodpeckers don't whoop. They hiss or rasp, but they do NOT whoop."

COMIC FEATURE ACTS for the 20th annual Dublin Rodeo will be furnished by Gene and Bobby Clark, rodeo clowns and bullfighters extraordinary. # FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

We received about one inch of rain Sunday. Everyone is rejoicing over the much needed moisture.

We were very sorry to learn that Mr. Eric Dunn of Nazareth had passed away about four a.m. Sunday due to surgery for gallstones. The Dunn family formerly resided near Fairy and have many friends here who will be sorry to learn of his death. Funeral services were held at Leveland Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. Mr. Dunn was a member of the Church of Christ, and is survived by his wife and several children and grandchildren. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife, children and other relatives in this time of sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl King and Lynn spent Mother's Day at Balinger visiting with her mother, Mrs. Midgley and other relatives.

Mrs. Gladys Cox was returned home Sunday from the Clifton Hospital where she spent the past week taking a physical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Miller and

Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Parks and two daughters of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Leonard and Melody Gay of Fairy visited Mother's Day with their mother, Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Driver spent the past week end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe. They were in a car wreck in Cleburne while on their way here when an intoxicated driver drove into their car and were delayed several hours in arriving.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl King and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham were in Fort Worth last Friday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Adams.

Visitors in the home of the writer Sunday were our daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and their daughter, ... and Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen, all of Dublin. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn, Jimmie Don and Janice, and our sister, Mrs. Myrtle Enger of Brady.

Mrs. A. L. Newman of Miller-ville visited Monday afternoon in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover, and also two other daughters, Mrs. Gladys Cox and the writer.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Pack of Stephenville visited Saturday night in the home of her mother, Mrs. M. E. Parks and Audie.

Martin Schrank, agriculture teacher of the Fairy school, honored the men folks of this and surrounding communities with a barbecue supper Monday night at the school. An interesting lesson was given on the use of concrete and proper mixing, which we feel was appreciated by the men folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cunningham had as guests on Mother's Day, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Arrant and two children of Fort Worth, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arrant of Fairy, and another daughter, Mrs. Bob Fredeick and little neighbor boy whom she has kept quiet a bit from Venus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mrs. M. E. Parks received announcement recently of the birth of a little great-granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buchanan of Texas City. She has been christened Cherry Dawn. Mrs. Buchanan is the former Nelda Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Driver of Texas City.

We were in Dublin Saturday night to meet our sister, Mrs. Myrtle Enger of Brady, who is visiting in the home of the writer and other relatives here, and will also visit at Cranfills Gap with relatives of her late husband, Mr. and Mrs. August Enger and others.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen visited a while Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison. Leon Springer and Randy visited during the week end at Miles and Bradshaw with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Springer and Mr. and Mrs. Odus Claxton and Lynn. Mrs. Claxton suffered a heart attack recently and Mrs. Springer and the youngest children have been visiting relatives there the past week or more to be near her mother. She and the children returned home with Mr. Springer and Randy. Mrs. Claxton was returned to her home last Thursday from the Winters Hospital, but will have to remain in bed for some time.

The recent rain is really sending the weeds and grass on an upward trend. We were at the cemetery Monday and were almost shocked to see how the weeds and grass is growing since the rain. Mr. Brunson will start work on cleaning all lots just as soon as the ground is dry enough and when these are completed there will be more mowing to do.

Our sincere thanks to Rob Hutton, of Hico for a donation of $5 for the cemetery, and also to Mr. W. E. Needham of Hico for a donation of $3.00. Every donation is highly appreciated and your lot or grave is booked for special care.

Mrs. Myrtle Enger accompanied E. M. Hoover to Clifton Sunday to bring Mrs. Gladys Cox home from the hospital. While there she visited with Mrs. Benny Jensen, who was hospitalized due to a broken hip. Mrs. Jensen is the former Alma Enger.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Jimmie were in Waco Wednesday where Jimmie Don received a physical examination. He will have to undergo surgery when school is out to plant another muscle in his heel.

CARD OF THANKS

Through this paper I want to express my heartfelt appreciation to every single person at the Hico Hospital for the wonderful care I received during the three weeks I was a patient there. I sincerely appreciated the many, many thoughtful, and kind acts of consideration shown me by Dr. Hedges, Dr. Herrin, the nurses, cooks, janitors and in fact every member of the hospital personnel, and to those who visited me. Residents in this area are indeed fortunate to have an institution so capably and well managed and supervised, and should be grateful to have a hospital as the one in Hico. I shall always remember the many acts of kindness shown me.

J. N. HARVEY.

ASTHMA RESPONDS TO CHIROPRACTIC

Nerve fibers supplying tiny tubules in the lungs become irritated due to pressure on nerve roots where these nerve roots pass out between spinal segments. This nerve irritation cause the tiny tubules to become spastic, making it difficult to get air into or out of the tiny tubes making up the lungs. As a result of this condition, mucus will accumulate and cause more trouble.

We have recently moved into a new office in Stephenville and letters were not out notifying all my patients of our new address. As a result of this, the following congratulatory letter was received:

New Official Highway Maps Now Available

Austin, Texas.—The new 1959 Official Highway Travel Map was made available for distribution this week by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the "Travel Encyclopedia" of Texas, as it has been called, may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or at the highway district offices and travel information bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting of the map.

The new map is the answer to today's demand for more and more travel information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over seven million just ten years ago to its present estimated population of more than nine million is reflected by the information appearing on the 1959 map.

Nine or more cities and towns are shown than on last year's map, making a total of 1,821. The increased mileage in U.S., state, and farm-to-market roads is much in evidence. The map reflects some 1,600 miles of multilane divided highway now completed in Texas, including the completed sections of the National System of Interstate and Defense highways located in the state.

The map shows approximately 61 major lakes and reservoirs, and includes countless rivers, creeks and streams. Roadside parks, long cherished as rest stops and picnic areas by Texans and tourists alike, now number 1,046 as compared to the 1,026 shown on last year's map.

City route maps are provided for the state's 12 largest cities—Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco and Wichita Falls.

The reverse side of the map, with a theme of "Texas, Land of Contrasts," reflects, in 20 full-color pictures, some of the outstanding scenic, historical and recreational attractions in Texas. A section entitled "Facts About Texas" gives facts and figures on Texas' natural resources, recreational opportunities, state and national parks, historic points of interest, flora, farming and ranching, terrain features, and climate.

The Official Highway Travel Map is used by all state and governmental agencies in the state for determining highway distances, mileages, ones, and like information. The same map is equally as useful to tourists seeking roads leading to good times in Texas.

should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O.K.?"

EARNEST MONEY CONTRACT SHOULD COVER DETAILS OF REAL ESTATE PURCHASE

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract

Congress Reports

By OMAR BURLISON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

A problem of mounting importance over the nation is the position of older people on retirement or pensions. People are living longer, and usually better, but inflation is rapidly taking away the "better."

It is difficult for anyone past forty years of age to find new employment, and many are encouraged to retire early.

When the Social Security system was decided upon, old age pensions were primarily based on the cost of rent and food.

There was consideration given to reducing the amount pensioners would receive if they owned their own homes. It was, therefore, an act which could be construed as a sort of relief measure.

Twenty-five years has now passed since the Act was first proposed, and for the most part it has worked very well. However, under a war economy from 1939 on, the requirements of retired individuals have doubled, tripled and quadrupled with the trend in the economy. The dollar of 1930 is worth only about one-third in terms of rent.

When pensions and annuities were first worked out as to amounts, utilities such as gas and electricity were written off with the rent at about $2 per month. No account as taken of telephone and transportation. These things today are considered necessities—not luxuries.

The electric refrigerator is an example. The icemen just does not come any more. The household cost of running an electric refrigerator costs more than was originally allowed for all utilities in arriving at a figure for pensions. Without an automobile and money to operate it, many American families would be trapped in their homes, apartments, or out in the suburbs of the cities and towns. There are places where public transportation is simply not available, and in many places operations are being retrenched.

There are about twelve million citizens receiving monthly pensions. The average amount is $65.54 over the United States. The average for a couple, since last May, amounts to about $108.

It may be said that people should have saved enough to take care of these things. They say a home for retirement should have been purchased when young enough to work and accumulate.

This may be well and good, and many have done so, but under this system they, in many cases, penalized for having done so much.

The further fact remains that taxes during the last fifteen years have sucked out a lot of savings.

A regimented type of housing for elderly people does not appeal to me as being an answer. It may suit the city dweller already accustomed to conformity, but not to those who want to continue a fairly independent existence.

The problem is not going to disappear. It is going to become greater and answers must be found.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

By CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Senator, 12th District

The Legislature apparently has failed in its task of solving the State's fiscal problems for 1959. It is estimated that by the end of this biennium on August 31, 1959, the State will be $65 million in the red. According to the State Treasurer, the deficit at the present is $69 million.

Under Texas' pay-as-you-go Constitutional Amendment, this deficit must be reckoned with before any appropriation bill can be certified by the Comptroller.

In addition, some $65 million or $70 million are required to cover increases in the cost of our State Government under programs already underway, such as the Gilmer-Aikin law and other programs of this type.

Not included in this figure are any of the various new services sought. Nor does it cover expansion of existing programs. The figure covers only normal growth of the State's expenses in connection with existing programs and administration.

This means that still more funds must be provided to pay the cost of several legislative bills passed during the current session. Still pending in both houses are the Hale-Aikin Committee bills, which I have discussed in a previous Newsletter, and which will cost around $100 million in State funds if all of the basic recommendations are adopted.

To finance this deficit and the increase in spending, the Legislature will have to pass some sort of a tax bill. At most, the tax bill sent to the Senate by the House of Representatives would raise only around $21 million. Also provided in the House tax bill are decreases in taxes on selected corporations and individuals amounting to nearly seven million dollars. This bill apparently has no chance of being heard in committee in the Senate and passed at this session of the Legislature.

In order to meet these obligations, a called session will be necessary, and it does not appear unlikely that at least two sessions will be required to complete the job.

Government under programs already underway, such as the Gilmer-Aikin law and other programs of this type.

Not included in this figure are any of the various new services sought. Nor does it cover expansion of existing programs. The figure covers only normal growth of the State's expenses in connection with existing programs and administration.

This means that still more funds must be provided to pay the cost of several legislative bills passed during the current session. Still pending in both houses are the Hale-Aikin Committee bills, which I have discussed in a previous Newsletter, and which will cost around $100 million in State funds if all of the basic recommendations are adopted.

To finance this deficit and the increase in spending, the Legislature will have to pass some sort of a tax bill. By E. R. LAWRENCE

Bag worms are showing up now and if controls are applied early they will not be so hard to control. Too, they will not have time to do much damage to your shrubs. If you have arbor vitae or cedar shrubs around the place, you might give them a good inspection. The bag worms will be very small and not too easy to locate but look the shrubs over good and try to find the insect while it is still very young and easier to kill. A spray of chlordane or one of toxaphene should give good control.

On some places it might be about time to spray for the pecan case- bearer. This insect is not going true to form this year as it is about past time for it to have ap- peared on pecan trees.

Last week inspection indicated that the worm was still in the twigs and had not come out from winter quarters. The moth should be appearing at any time now so you might be on the watch for eggs on the small nuts that have set. Most of the small pecans are fertilized now and the tips of them will show to be black. The eggs should not be too hard to locate. The eggs can be seen with the naked eye and will appear small, blueish-white. After hatching, the worms move down the twig to which the nut cluster is attached and start feeding on the second or third bud below the nuts. After feeding four or five days on the buds, they move back to the nut cluster and enter the pecan thru a small hole which they eat at the base of the nut it is during this period, when the eggs are laid and the time that the worms are feeding on the buds (10-12 days) that the spray should be applied for best results.

Saturday morning, May 16, starting at 10 is the time for the wool preparation demonstration on the Tom Redford ranch about 12 miles out on the Energy road. The Redford ranch is what is better known as the Lund Ranch. A bar-becue will be served at 12 for those who attend the demonstration.

Murray Cox will be here the night of Tuesday, May 19, when he will show his pictures made on his trip to the Hawaiian Islands last summer. Murray is being sponsored by the Hamilton County Farm Bureau. The meeting will be at the Strand Theatre which is just south of the Perry National Bank. It starts at 8 p.m. Bring all the family as I'm sure they will all enjoy this event.

All dairymen are invited to a meeting Monday night, May 18 at 8 p.m. in the REA building. The extension dairy specialist will be here for the meeting which I'm sure you will enjoy. Come if you can.

Poultry raisers in all sections of the country are finding that bulk feed systems can replace expensive man labor for feeding chickens. Hoppers of storage bins should be at least a 45-degree slope from horizontal to handle pellets and crumbles and 60-degree slope for mash feeds. Hoppers with center discharge tend to "bridge" or hang up feeds more than a hopper which feeds to one side and has one straight wall. When the type of hopper is selected, it is usually wise to invest the extra cost in a 60-degree side discharge hopper rather than the center dis-charge type.

National P.T.A. Honors The Eisenhowers

Washington, D.C.—Newly-honored Life Members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers are President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The nation's first lady received special P.T.A. membership certificates for herself and President Eisenhower in a recent White House ceremony.

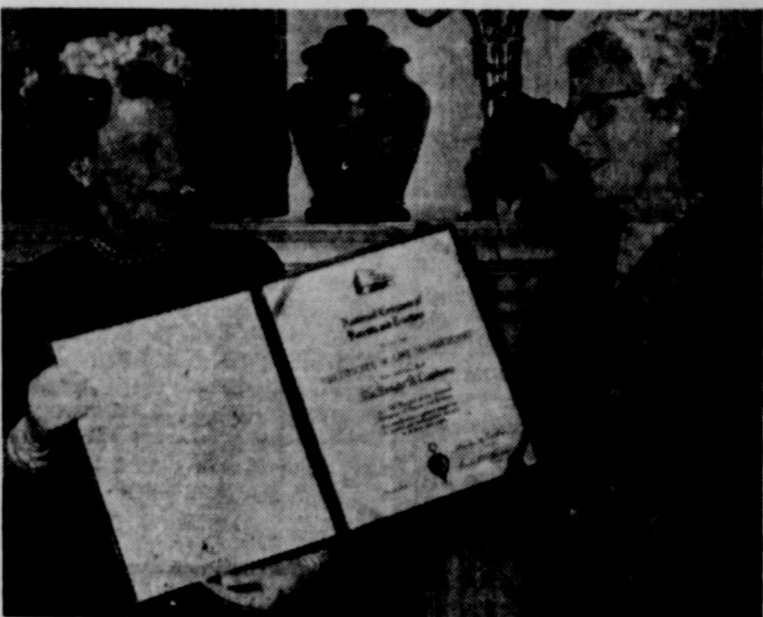

Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, said in presenting the honors to Mrs. Eisenhower that the life memberships "express recognition by more than eleven million mem- bers of the P.T.A. of the inspiring concern you have shown for the welfare of the nation's children."

She pointed out that naming of President and Mrs. Eisenhower "who are known for their deep interest in children and the home" as honorary P.T.A. mem- bers was particularly appropri- ate at this time, because:

"Our new action program, 'Strengthening the home, source of our nation's greatness,'" will be launched at the National Con- gress convention in May.

Mrs. Eisenhower indicated that she plans to wear her mem- bership pin "should I ever visit our grandchildren's school," and ex- pressed for herself and the Presi- dent "warmest appreciation to all the members" of the P.T.A.

SAFETY DRILLS

By HARRY BROWN
Safety drills are very helpful in the prevention of injury or death during a fire or tornado. Safety drills are for the student because if a fire or tornado was to come up, the student would know what to do.
A student should always move quickly during a drill. Sometimes it might not be a drill at all but a real fire or tornado. You should not talk or laugh because it might distract your attention and someone might get hurt because of you. I think everyone should have a chance to keep from being injured.

WE WANT EXERCISE!

By BARBARA RANDALS
Today, when the youth of America drag out of bed, eat a skimpy breakfast or none at all, go to school, sit in class all day, ride home, and sit and watch television until they drop wearily into bed, the physical education programs in our schools are becoming less and less thorough.
In our scientific age we stress math, science, and other subjects we consider important, but what is more important than our health? A man may have a head for science or math, but if his body is weak from lack of exercise, fresh air, or sunshine, or lack of good diet he will be unable to do much work because he is not physically able.
Oh, I know some of us around here live on a farm or in town,

(ED. NOTE: Following is a letter explaining the stories of Eighth Grade class members)

Dear Mr. Meador:
In our English class we have been studying the workings of a newspaper. We all wrote editorials. These are what is considered to be the best. Mrs. Brummett and our class would like to see some of them published. You may make any necessary changes and omit names if you wish. We would appreciate your using them if you would like to.
Yours truly,
EIGHTH GRADE.

and work a lot or get a lot of exercise, but do you get enough exercise at school? In Hico we had a good program until they cut our gym period in half. Now no one has any spirit for baseball because we haven't time to do anything.
I think that physical education should be a required subject and there should be credits for it. After all, what good is a head full of knowledge if you haven't got the strength to hold it up.

A LITTLE KINDNESS WILL GO A LONG WAY!
By JUDY OGLE
You should be courteous at all times to visitors, but especially to visitors at your school. The people who come to your school have an interest in it or they wouldn't be there at all. They show their moral interest and support by being there and you should show your appreciation by giving them due respect by being courteous.

Be courteous in the cafeteria, halls, and any other place that you may be. Give a good impression of your school and yourself and people will think more of you.

HICO STUDENTS KNOW HOW TO WELCOME NEW PUPILS

By MARGARET PRATER
Hico students make a very good welcoming committee for newcomers to the school. They try to make them feel they belong from the very first.
The new student is first shown around the school so he or she will know how to get around. They are shown the different classrooms, rest rooms, cafeteria, auditorium, etc.

Everyone tries to be friendly and make a good friend. Everyone is introduced and something is told about his interests so the newcomer will know which one has the same interest as he has.
All students should try to treat the new pupil as they would like to be treated if they were to enter a new school. They must realize that the new student is not accustomed to the school and will have to get adjusted.

All in all I think we have a very good welcoming class.
TAKING INTEREST IN SCHOOL GAMES
By Laverne Glover
Little Susan stood near the slide watching her playmates playing "Wolf Over the River." The teacher saw her there and called her over to play with them. She refused to, saying she didn't like that kind of games.

Are we like her, refusing to play in the school, preferring to stand off and watch with our noses in the air?
How many of us know that the way we take part in games helps develop our personality, muscle co-ordination, quick, accurate thinking of the brain, much less the exercise it gives us?
How many of us know that the way we take part influences the way others take part?
You may think that such games as "Wolf Over the River" are childish, but there are other games, like baseball and basketball, that you can play. Let's show our teachers and friends what we can do.

THERE ARE PROPER TIMES TO WEAR SHORTS

By ANITA MAYFIELD
There is a proper time and place for everything, including the clothing that you wear. You wear clothing that would be suitable for an occasion.
For instance shorts shouldn't be worn just anywhere and everywhere. If you are going to town to shop shorts wouldn't be suitable to wear. Bermuda shorts might be acceptable if they aren't too short.
In activities such as basketball, volleyball, baseball, or other sports shorts are proper garments to wear. To practice ball in a gymnasium short shorts are alright to wear, but practicing baseball out on the school ground, very short shorts shouldn't be worn. Bermuda shorts are acceptable.
It is all right to wear shorts at home but an older girl shouldn't wear them to school. Shorts are sport clothing and you don't wear sport clothing to school, or rather this kind of sport clothing. A small girl may wear bermuda shorts to school but it certainly does not look nice on an older one.
At times you are judged by what you wear, so be careful.

BEING A CHRISTIAN

By MARTHA PADDACK
Most of us fail as Christians because we do not stick to our convictions. We don't fail in the department of preaching, but we fail in practicing what we preach.
What are some of our excuses for not acting as Christians should?
A lot of men and women say that they do not know enough about Christian life to act as a Christian should. On the other hand if we waited until we knew everything about Christian life we could never begin to behave as Christians. No one knows everything about Christian life. We must practice being Christians every day of our life in order to become better ones.
Also some men and women say that the world is not Christian enough for them to behave as Christians. These people are by far taking the wrong attitude. Just because everyone else isn't Christianized, that is no sign you shouldn't be. After all when you come to the judgment day, your friends will have nothing to do or say about the decision.

A person can practice the Christian life in any 24 hours of any day. Most of all he can practice them right where he lives.

THE NEED FOR A SWIMMING POOL

By MICHAEL LOWE
A swimming pool in our community would not only be a pleasure to the residents, but a good act of business. Since people in the smaller towns around us, such as Fairy and Carlton, have to go even farther than we to get to a swimming pool, they would probably come here to swim. Many more people would come to Hico. Therefore we would not only get the money from the swim pool, but would be profitable to all the businesses. Of course, it would take a rather large sum of money to pay for the construction, but I feel that in the long run it would pay for itself and help the city of Hico.

REST YOUR JAWS!

By JANE AKIN
There is a time and place for everything. This pertains to chewing gum, also.
At recess and P.E. is a good time to chew gum, outside of the building. It is very improper to chew gum in the class room, especially if it's against the rules of the school.
Chewing gum is not only improper but impolite, especially if it's bubble gum. All of this pertains to candy also. Candy is very good and everyone adores it except the teacher in whose class you're eating it.
Please rest your jaws during class and then it will taste better at recess.

PROPER CONDUCT ON THE SCHOOL BUS

By LARRY ERICK
Did you realize how much meanness goes on on a school bus? And did you know a lot of times when a school bus is in an accident it may be the children's fault?
When you get on the bus you should find yourself a seat and stay in that seat and not move from place to place. You should not throw paper-wads or do anything else to cut up. You should not have a knife open on the school bus and be playing with it. You should not make noises that may distract the bus driver's attention and should not try to talk

SINGING AT STEPHENVILLE

CUB SCOUTS MEET

Den 3, Pack 92, had a meeting last Friday. We finished making our Mother's Day gift, which was a flower pot made from clothes pins. We put a cactus plant in it. Refreshments of Cokes and cookies were furnished by Mrs. Ray Check. Games were played later.

HAVE FUN—PLAY GAMES

By KATHY
It's a lot of fun to play games, so why don't you try it? Our school has sports varied enough to let everyone take part in them.

Our teachers and coaches work hard to create an interest in sports and to win games. We should help them by taking interest, playing games, and doing our best to win the games. If we play games it gives us a chance to represent our school at home and on trips. It also gives you your needed exercise and is a lot of fun.
