Thanksgiving

Star Lites

By Bill Ellis

THANKSGIVING has become synonymous with gorging on turkey and all the trimmings, and watching football games on TV.

Today's generation of football fans probably can't recall a time when this "ritual" was not performed. A genius named Tex Schramm managed to talk the National Football League into allowing his Dallas Cowboys to play a home game each year on Thanksgiving Day, much to the delight of football fans across the state.

This has turned out to be a natural "pairing" with the Detroit Lions, who are the other NFL team that hosts a Thanksgiving Day game. The Lions had been doing their Turkey Day thing for countless years, and their annual game, usually accompanied by a snowstorm, was a natural for the NFL and its television audience. Today, the Lions play their home games in the Silverdome, which gets them out of the snow on Thanksgiving.

The addition of the Cowboys' game allowed Detroit to play the "early" game, and Dallas the "late" game. The schedule-makers have even been challenged to arrange it where both NFL networks--CBS and NBC--are involved. This year the Cowboys, usually seen on CBS, switch to NBC (the Steelers' "home network,") as Detroit plays NFC rival Chicago.

Another regular Thanksgiving Day game is the University of Texas vs Texas Aggies. This battle between Lone Star State teams has been played on Turkey Day for well over 70 years--and it has the honor of being the first football game ever to be broadcast on the radio, pioneering not only the Thanksgiving Day TV football broadcasts, but all of them.

It all started on Thanksgiving Day, 1919, from the Aggies' Kyle Field. A pair of Texas A&M electrical engineering students, William A. Tolson and H.C. Dillingham, came up with the idea, and brought about the first crude broadcast.

There were very few radios in 1919, and the students had no microphone. So they devised a telegraph method and offered their "broadcast" to daily newspapers and the few radio stations across the state. Virtually all were interested.

Dillingham tapped out the code to his waiting audience, since Tolson had to play the trumpet that day in the Aggie band. The rest is history. While catching a few plays on the "tube" on Thanksgiving Day, be aware of how well the broadcast industry has improved on this idea by a couple of Texas Aggies. And in their honor, we'll even dispense with the Aggie jokes--for at least a week!

HONORED...ISGT Vicki Knight is pictured as she received the Bronze Star Medal in a recent ceremony. Sgt. Knight, a veteran of "Desert Storm," is a native of Friona.

Vicki Knight Receives Bronze Star Medal

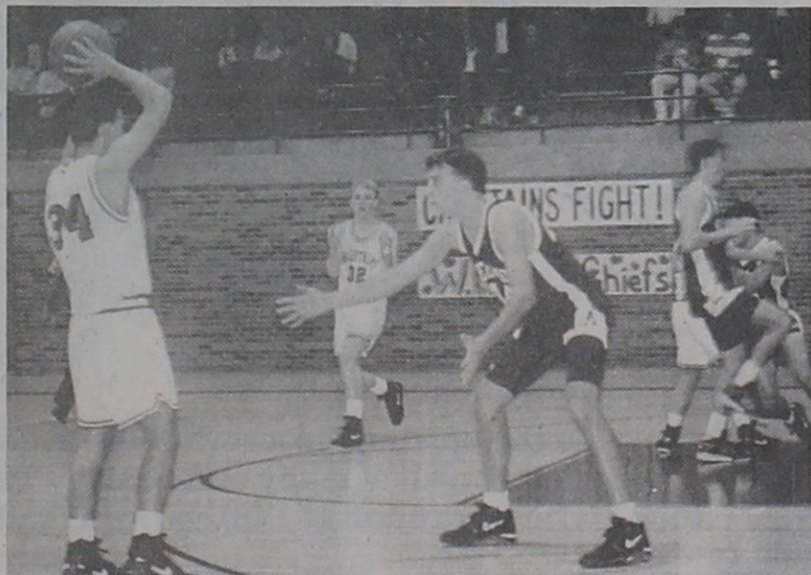

First Sergeant Vicki D. Knight has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for "exceptionally meritorious achievement while engaged in combat operations against an enemy of the United States during "Operation Desert Storm."

In a citation signed by the Secretary of the Army, Gen. J.W. Stone, Sgt. Knight, a member of Company A, 6th Battalion, 101st Regiment, 101st Airborne Division (air assault) was commended for her service from January 17, 1991 through March 6, 1991.

"ISG Knight's tireless efforts in planning, coordinating and executing support for sustained combat operations contributed greatly to her unit's success and significantly contributed to the Division's successful combat operations," the citation stated.

"Her selfless dedication to mission accomplishment is in keeping with the finest traditions of the military and reflects great credit upon herself, the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) and the United States Army," the citation concluded.

Sgt. Knight is the daughter of Minnie Knight and the late L.D. Knight of Friona.

BASKETBALL UNDERWAY...The Friona Chieftain basketball team has opened its season, and after an impressive win on the road at Morton on Tuesday, stood with a 2-1 record after three games. Above, against Melrose, N.M., Charlie Snead holds the ball and prepares to pass to Koby Rogers, in the background.

Area Gets Nice Week

The Friona area enjoyed warm weather most of this week, which enabled farmers to get back to harvesting their crops. Temperatures reached the highest of the month when they climbed to 72 degrees on Wednesday, November 27.

However, at week's end, weather forecasters were promising colder weather, with another threat of moisture.

Morgan Clings To Contest Leadership

With a week remaining in the Friona Star Football Contest, Jackie Morgan was clinging to a one-point lead.

After a week punctuated by numerous upsets in the college and professional ranks, Morgan had a score of 175, to 174 for Scott Brown of Lazbuddie.

Don Gartin of Lariat and Mal Manchee of Hereford are tied for third place, three points off the pace with scores of 172. Tom Johnson and Donnie McDonald are next at 170; Mitchell Smiley and Charlie Morgan have scores of 169.

After this final weekend, the champion will be crowned. The winner receives $100.00 cash and title of "Football Expert for 1991."

Scores of all the leading contestants can be found elsewhere in this issue.

In the weekly contest, Charleson Steinbock of Lazbuddie, a first-time entrant, probably wishes he had been entering all season. Steinbock was the only contestant entering the 12th week's event to correctly pick 15 of the 20 contest games. He receives the top weekly prize of $10 cash.

Steinbock mis-fired on Texas-Baylor, Houston-TCU, Southern Cal-UCLA, Buffalo-New England and Denver-Seattle.

Four contestants correctly picked 14 games, and from this group the other two weekly prize-winners were determined.

Charlie Morgan was faithful in correctly picking the Dallas Cowboys' upset win over Washington, and won second place after missing the score by only four points.

Dennis Field missed the tie-breaker score by 17, but that was good enough for third place money. Field correctly picked all ten games on the left-hand side of the contest page, but missed numbers 11, 13, 15, 17, 19 and 20, which were the games most missed by contestants for the week.

Courtney Carthel of Portales and Donnie McDonald of Lazbuddie also picked 14 games, but Carthel missed the tiebreaker by 18 points, and McDonald picked the Redskins in a landslide, 42-10, and wasn't in the running.

Ten contestants had scores of 13 for the week, only one game from having a shot at one of the weekly cash prizes. They were Bobbie McFarland, Claire Brown, Diane Morgan, Jackie Morgan, Thomas Reed, Mitchell Smiley, Bill Carter, Wayne Amstutz, Jesse Morales and Myrtle Melton.

AMY TAYLOR Wins HOBY Competition

Amy Taylor is the winner of the 1991-92 HOBY leadership competition. All Friona sophomores were asked to participate in an essay contest citing their leadership qualities. As the winner, Amy will travel to Amarillo in March on an all-expense-paid trip to the HOBY State Leadership Seminar. The objective of the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Leadership Seminars is "to bring a select group of high school sophomores together with groups of distinguished leaders in business, government, education, and the professions so they can discuss present and future issues." HOBY's specific goals are "to recognize and reward potential leaders in high school sophomores. The Cub Scouts have been working hard this month. In addition to their weekly meetings and working toward badges, they have been selling Trail's End Popcorn. The Cubs did a great job. Twenty-four boys sold a total of 78 cases of popcorn. We also would like to thank Friona for supporting the Scouts in their fund raising project.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Ellis:

I would like to take just a moment of your time, to say "thank you" to you and your staff.

You have done a great job of printing Pack #56 Cub Scout news, and it is appreciated.

Also, I would like to take this opportunity to say "thank you" to the community of Friona, for their support of the Cub Scouts, in all the different projects. Without you, we could not keep the Pack functioning.

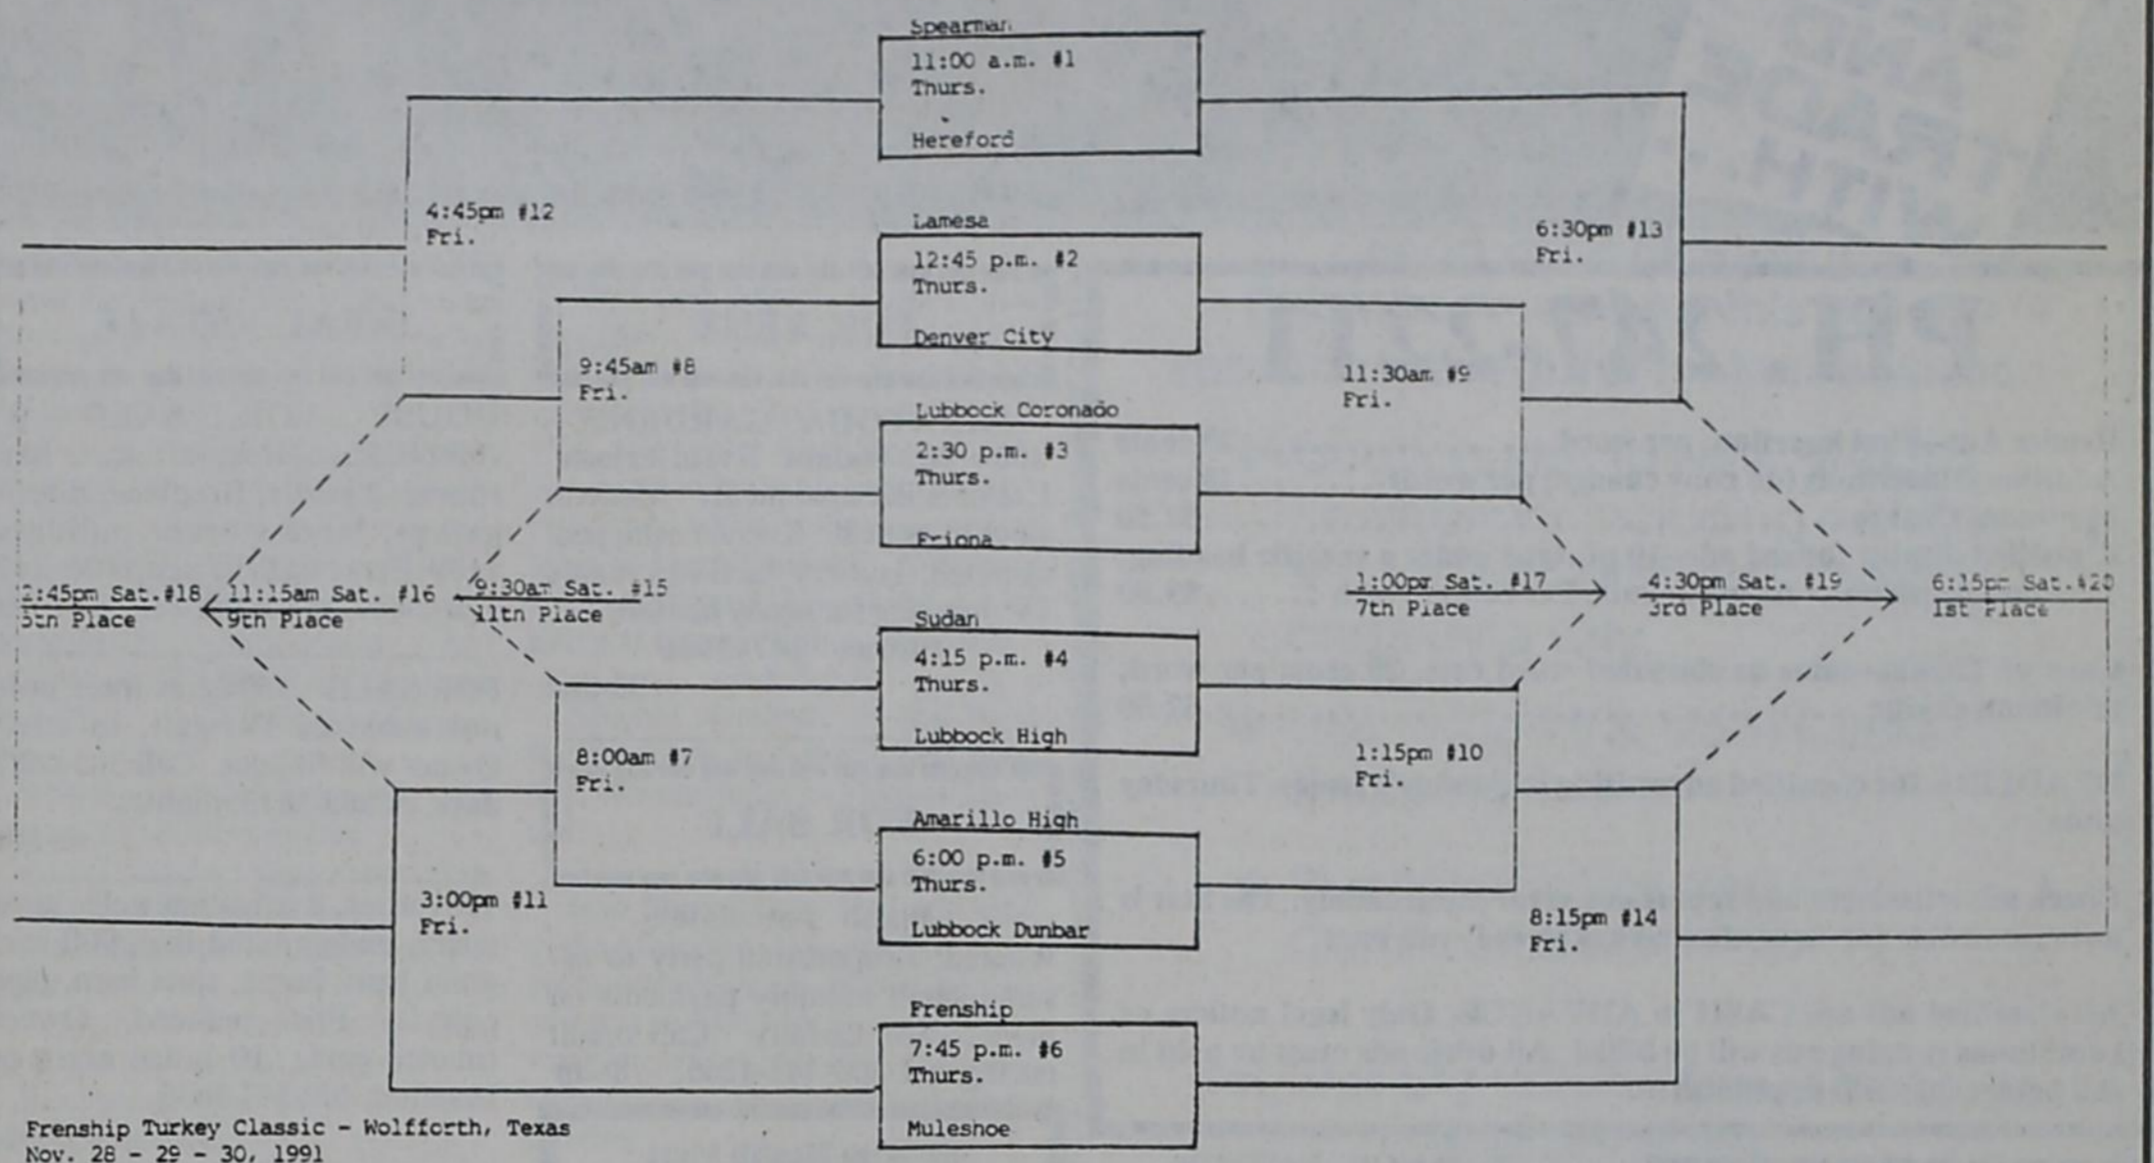

This month, I'm sure that everyone in town was contacted by a Cub Scout that was selling popcorn. You made our popcorn sales a success! To those of you who made purchases, we say "thank you," to the others who did not buy this year, we will be back next year, and thanks for your time to listen to the Cubs who made contact with you.

By your helping us out, the boys are learning how to conduct themselves, in making an approach to sell popcorn. They are learning the value of the dollar, and what they can do with their commission earned from selling all those packages of popcorn. They work really hard to make sure that everyone is contacted, but in the event that you were missed, you may still be able to buy popcorn from the Pack, by contacting one of the leaders or a committee member after the second week of December. There are usually some extra packages ordered. You may also call 247-3649, if you want to buy popcorn from the Cubs.

Thanks once again.

Sincerely,
Doris Richards

The Thanksgiving holiday means something different to each individual. We all hold dear memories in our hearts of times spent with family. As I was reading the Baptist Church bulletin, I read what Pastor Richard Grisham had to say about some things to remember at Thanksgiving. (I copied this with his permission.)

A great deal has been written about the virtue of forgetting old grudges, prejudices, unpleasant experiences, and heartaches. We also need to be reminded of some of the blessings of remembering. Remembering can be good spiritual exercise. At Thanksgiving, we need to:

Remember our sins that we might confess them to God.

Remember our weaknesses that we may receive strength.

Remember our humanity that we might stop trying to be God.

Remember God's mercies that we might be merciful to others.

Remember our joys that we might be humble.

Remember our poverty that we might share our prosperity.

Remember God's forgiveness

Welcome Party Held In Bovina

Those present were Joe and Esther Steelman, Darlene and Stan Miller, Denise and Rick Anderson, Jill and Chris Timms, Kathy and Kim Rundell, Kristi and Jeff Steelman, Elaine and Galen Carson, Jana and Jay Be Barrett, Gilda Garner, Linda and Mike Heard, Charolette and Wes Cockerham, Arlene and Justin Brozek, Bret and Sherri Whitten and Don and Juanda Murphy.

The party was held at the home of Joe and Esther Steelman. They had supper and played games.

that we might forgive others.

Remember our needs that we might serve the needs of others.

Remember Jesus Christ that we might grow to be more like him.

Bret and Sherri Whitten and daughter, Megan, moved back to Bovina on Wednesday, November 6 from Wheeler. Bret was associated with a Wheeler Veterinary Clinic and plans to build his own business in Bovina, which will accommodate large and small animals. Welcome back to Bovina! Bret is the son of Earl and Norma Whitten of Bovina.

Special someone at the First Baptist Church of Bovina for Sunday, November 24 is Morgan Clayton.

Eric Shufelberger was admitted to the Muleshoe Area Medical Center on Wednesday, November 20 and was released the next day. He was sick with a stomach virus and dehydration. He is home and improving.

We would like to express our sympathies to Sam and Shirley Garrison. They recently attended memorial services at Memphis, Texas for Sam's brother. Nolan Garrison died Wednesday, November 20. Services were held Sunday, November 24. Also attending were Kirtus Garrison of Pampa, Texas and Samie Corse of Mobeetie, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stormes of El Reno, Oklahoma are here visiting in the home of Sam and Ella Jo Stormes. They arrived Tuesday, November 26 and were here for the holidays. They will also be attending their grandchildren's basketball games.

"Join The Team" Spot the Hazards!

One of the most important fixtures in the conduction of electric current are those familiar utility poles. These sturdy giants hold the wires high above the ground, out of the reach of children and livestock. Once in a great while, however, weather conditions or accidents will dislodge or break one of these poles, causing the wires to sag or break, and resulting in extremely hazardous conditions. Should you come across a damaged or fallen utility pole, contact Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative immediately. Crews will be dispatched at once to correct the situation. If possible, remain on the scene to warn others of the hazard until repair crews arrive. Responsible Electric Accident Control Today is everyone's concern.

Assistance Available For Pipelines

Cost-sharing assistance is available for irrigation pipelines. These services are available to any landowner or landuser who wants to reorganize his irrigation system with underground pipelines.

This also helps the landowner to conserve water and increase the irrigation system efficiency by 5%-40%.

In 1991, 89 cost-share applications for Agriculture Conservation Program (ACP) were serviced by the Soil Conservation Service. 129,000 feet of irrigation pipeline and 6,500 of livestock pipeline were cost-shared in 1991.

These technical services are available free of charge to any landowner or operator regardless of race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status, or handicap.

For more information, contact your Soil Conservation Service in Friona, at 1306 West Ninth Street or call 247-2220.

Underground Water Is Safe Near High Plains Feedlots

By Kathleen Davis
COLLEGE STATION—Millions of cattle raised in Texas High Plains feedlots through more than two decades have not contaminated groundwater, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service study shows.

"The well water in all feedlot wells and in farm irrigation wells appear to be suitable for irrigation, livestock watering and human consumption," said Dr. John Sweeten, an Extension Service agricultural engineer.

Sweeten and Dr. Thomas Marek, a researcher for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Amarillo, devised the study in cooperation with the Texas Cattle Feeders Association and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District based in Lubbock and the Environmental Sciences Laboratory at Texas Tech University.

The team examined well water from 26 feedlots in 1990 and expanded the study in 1991 to include wells near two typical feedlots, both of which have existed for more than 20 years.

After the wells in the first study showed no contamination, the second trial was designed to see if contaminated underground water could be detected away from the feedlot wells. None was found.

More than five million head of cattle are marketed annually from feedlots in about 26 Texas High Plains counties. The area also includes about four million irrigated acres of cropland and sits atop portions of the Ogallala Aquifer which reaches into Nebraska.

Sweeten pointed out that most of the feedlots have operated under Texas Water Commission permits requiring no discharge of wastewater since the late 1960s. The commission is requiring revised permits for many feedlots under updated 1987 rules that have rigorous groundwater quality protection criteria, he said.

The research, for the first time, shows the condition of underground water at and near High Plains feedlots, according to Wayne Wyatt, manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

"Now we have a data base to measure against in case any appreciable changes are detected in the future," said Wyatt, whose agency enforces groundwater laws in that district. "We are very pleased with the results, but the important thing is that we will continue to monitor from time to time. Then if there ever is a problem, the feedlot can correct it quickly."

The first study included samples from wells at 26 feedlots that have a combined capacity of 730,000 head of cattle. The nitrate-nitrogen levels averaged 2.8 milligrams per liter. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's standard for human drinking water is 10 milligrams per liter.

The samples also were tested for ammonium, sodium, chloride, sulfate, potassium and phosphorus. The average values indicate that this well water could be used for irrigation or livestock watering without restriction, Sweeten said.

"Once the sampling results from those wells turned out good, I felt there was no problem with contamination," Wyatt said. "But we felt that we needed a full-fledged study that would extend to include all the wells upgrade and downgrade from the feedlot."

After meeting certain criteria—such as feedlot capacity of at least 5,000 head of cattle, in operation for at least 20 years and surrounded by irrigated farmland—two "typical" High Plains feedlots in Parmer and Castro counties were chosen for the study.

At both locations, groundwater was sampled from four feedlot wells and 10-11 irrigation wells from two-thirds to seven-eighths of a mile from the feed pens or feedlot runoff collection plays.

Nitrate concentrations at and around the Castro County feedlot were all less than 2.2 milligrams per liter. Nitrate levels at and around the Parmer County feedlot ranged from 2.6-9.5 milligrams per liter.

Sweeten said the geological makeup of the High Plains, in which the depth to the water aquifer is often more than 250 feet and layers of clay under the surface retard chemical movement, helps prevent water contamination by the feedlots.

"Though these feedlots have existed for more than 25 years, they are not causing groundwater contamination problems," Sweeten said. He added, however, that a different set of geological circumstances may lead to different contamination findings elsewhere.

Higher Education: An Agenda For The 1990s

By James F. Veninga

Texans can take pride in some important developments in higher education in the past decade, including the testing for basic skills, reform of teacher education programs, core curriculum legislation, and the incorporation of certain second-tier schools into larger university systems.

On balance, however, these efforts represent modest approaches to the needed revitalization of our colleges and universities. Too much emphasis has been placed on short-term and singular interests; for example, the importance of higher education to a diversified economy.

Efforts to improve our colleges and universities should seek to reclaim the civic function of higher education, to underscore the connections that exist between these institutions and the wider society, and how these institutions further democracy, preserve free institutions, promote civic responsibility, and address pressing social and cultural issues.

The Preparing for Texas in the 21st Century book series argues that efforts should now focus on:

Improvement of general education--New priority should be given to the development of sound general education courses grounded in the liberal arts that all students must take. Class sizes in introductory courses should be reduced, and more senior faculty should be assigned to teach introductory courses. Colleges and universities, through legislative support, should reduce the number of part-time instructors while increasing the number of full-time faculty.

Development of core curriculum programs--State funding is needed to develop model core curriculum programs grounded in the liberal arts. Sequential learning and multidisciplinary courses should be central to all core curriculum programs.

Teaching and scholarship--Colleges and universities should establish teacher-scholar programs through which outstanding teaching can be recognized. Matching funds should be authorized for endowed chairs in general education programs. Increased emphasis should be placed on teaching effectiveness. New incentives and rewards should be developed for scholarship that enriches general education. The importance of maintaining intellectual freedom on all campuses should be underscored.

Public service--A public service scholarship fund, modeled after the science and technology programs in place, should be funded by the Legislature, to encourage research on social, cultural, and political topics of importance to the state. Regional humanities centers should be developed to disseminate such scholarship to the public and to encourage private support for research and public programming. In promotion and tenure decisions, more emphasis should be placed on public service scholarship.

Reforms should be built upon a broadly based consensus about the future direction of our colleges and universities that counters entrenched power that all too often has set the agenda for higher education in Texas.

This is the eighth in a series of eleven articles made available by the Texas Committee for the Humanities as part of a three-year project focusing on the future of Texas. James F. Veninga is executive director of the TCH.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

HOW THE BIBLE VIEWS OLD AGE

WHEREVER ONE COMES ACROSS A MENTION OF OLD AGE IN THE BIBLE, IT IS TREATED WITH GREAT RESPECT. TO BIBLICAL PEOPLE, ADVANCED AGE MEANT THE GAINING OF WISDOM "...ASK THY FATHER AND HE WILL SHOW THEE, THY ELDERS AND THEY WILL TELL THEE." (DEUT. 32:7). TO THESE PEOPLE AGE WAS ALSO CONSIDERED BEAUTIFUL. "THE BEAUTY OF OLD MEN IS THEIR GRAY HEAD." (PROV. 20:29) AND OF COURSE....

...MOSES HIMSELF THUNDERED DOWN FROM THE MOUNT, THUS SAID THE LORD... "HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER THAT THY DAYS MAY BE LONG IN THE LAND WHICH THE LORD THY GOD GIVETH THEE." (EXODUS 20:12)

(Editor's note: This week, the Marketing Education Department is saluting Bette Gibson as its Student of the Week. She is the daughter of Jimmie Sue Gibson and is a senior student at Friona High School.)

By Bette Gibson
Marketing Education allows a student to get a lot of experience before they get out into the real world.

Working at Bi-Wize has been a wonderful and worthwhile experience. Working there a person learns to deal with all kinds of people. They also learn many traits that are very valuable.

A student learns more than the drug store aspect. She learns quite a bit about electronics because of the Radio Shack department and Dillon and Katy Welch; Emily Allen; Jordan and Kelby Monroe; Adrienne Osborn; Dan and John Schueler.

Also, Blair Smiley; Lucretia Field; Brandy Hutson; Staci and Brenda Murphree; Ralee Stockstill, Tolby Wilcox, Heather Clark, Christopher Igo, Matthew Whitely, Brandon Adams, Maegan Ingram, Michael McLellan, Adam Silva, Krista Williams, Derek Fairweather, Hank Blackburn, Valerie Burnam, Kristin Butman, Matt Gammon, David Gustin and Monica Madrid.

Currently, 55 children participate in the weekly Mother's Day Out ministry. Occasionally, vacancies exist in the program for children between the ages of six weeks and four years. For information, call Patsy Allen at 247-3117.

Bingo In Friona?

POR VICENTE SOTO

Despues de haber disfrutado un feliz dia de dar gracias y habernos reunido entre los familiares y amigos, volvemos a esta columna para tratar un evento venidero a nuestro pueblo.

Es necesario tomar nota para el 18 de Enero como otro dia de votaciones, en el cual votaremos si queremos o rechazamos tener el juego de bingo aqui en Friona.

De acuerdo al Sr. J.P. Sims miembro de la American Legion, la organizacion de los veteranos esta interesado en promover el bingo como medio de entretenimiento familiar, como un recurso economico para que le dinero de Friona se quede en Friona, ya que el 35% de la entradas por ley tiene que dedicarse a obras de necesidad tales como necesidades de los veteranos y sus familiares o algun muchacho(a) que necesite alguna beca para sus estudios, etc.

Naturalmente que la decision de hacer algo o no hacer nada cae en la responsabilidad de cada ciudadano de Friona y no en alguien mas. A menudo oimos quejas de gente y con buena razon, pero si nosotros no decidimos por nosotros mismos, alguien mas lo hara y seguramente no nos va a gustar. La solucion? Si eres ciudadano, registrate y vota. Tu voto cuenta.

Teams Split Games Vs. Melrose H.S.

Friona High School's varsity teams split their games against visiting Melrose High School last Friday night, in a pair of high-scoring games.

The Squaws held on for a 72-61 win, to even their season record at 1-1, but the run-and-gun Buffaloes came from behind to defeat the Chieftains, 80-66, and hand Friona its first loss of the new season.

The Squaws had a good first half. After the teams deadlocked, 16-all in the first quarter, Friona employed a full-court press, and the tactic helped them score 29 second-period points that shot the team into a 45-30 halftime lead.

Friona's pressure continued to pay dividends, sparked by the shooting of Alicia Widner, and the team continued its lead, that reached 56-40 late in the third quarter. Melrose got one more basket, to trail, 56-42 after three quarters.

Coach Shirlene Lilley was able to give her bench some playing time, but the visitors took advantage of the younger players and cut into Friona's lead considerably. It was a ten-point game when Mendi Milner canned a pair of three throws (62-52), with 4:54 left in the game.

However, Melrose continued their rally, and cut the margin to five points, 62-57, with 3:50 left.

The Squaws went into a deliberate offense, but couldn't get any points. Finally, Renee Downey broke an almost three-minute scoreless streak by the team when she sank a three-point shot with 2:06 left in the game. That gave Friona a little more breathing room at 65-57.

Melrose cut Friona's lead to six, 65-59 with 1:58 left, but free throws by Kris Hamilton and Miss Widner hiked Friona's margin to nine, 68-59 with 1:30 to play. After another Melrose basket that brought about a 68-61 score, Miss Downey made both ends of a 1-1 free throw situation for a 70-61 lead, and Miss Hamilton's basket with 18 seconds left accounted for the final margin.

Miss Widner scored 18 points, and Miss Downey 14 to pace the Squaws' scoring.

The Chieftains played a near-perfect first half against the Buffaloes, but an ice-cold third quarter for Friona turned out to be their downfall, against the high-scoring visitors.

Friona hit four of their first five shots from the floor, and three of them were three-pointers, to take an early lead.

After Kyle Potts' opening basket, Charlie Snead connected on two consecutive three-point shots from the left corner within 23 seconds, giving his team 5-2 and 8-4 leads.

Koby Rogers' long shot gave

Friona an 11-6 lead. After Melrose tied the score at 11-all, shots by Chad Hamilton, Snead and Potts pushed Friona to a 17-11 lead, and Mark Outland made a nice driving layup for a 19-11 lead, Friona's longest to that point.

Melrose got a three-pointer for a 19-14 score, but the Chiefs played for the last shot of the opening quarter. Snead got it on a driving lay-up, and Friona had a 21-14 lead.

The Buffs scored another three-pointer for a 21-17 deficit to start the second quarter. But a lay-up by Harvey Martinez, a pair of free throws by Chad Hamilton and a lay-up by Hamilton stretched Friona's lead to 27-17, its longest of the night.

After the visitors scored a pair of baskets, Corbin Riethmayer came in to sink a jump shot and his lay-in with 3:46 left in the quarter equalled the team's longest lead at 31-21.

The teams traded five-point swings. Mark Outland got all of Friona's with a three-pointer and a layup to keep the ten-point edge at 36-26.

The tall and talented visitors outscored Friona, 11-2 in a two-minute period to trim the lead to three, 40-37. But Outland's free throw, and then his three-point basket with a second left on the clock sent the Chiefs to intermission with a 44-37 lead.

Melrose took advantage of Friona's cold start in the third quarter, and ran off ten unanswered points in less than three minutes to take their first lead of the game, 47-44.

Potts' three-point basket from the side tied it again for Friona, and after he swapped lay-ups with a Buff player, Warren Duke sank a jump shot in the circle. That was to be Friona's last lead at 51-50 with 2:17 left in the quarter. The visitors held a 57-53 lead at the end of the quarter.

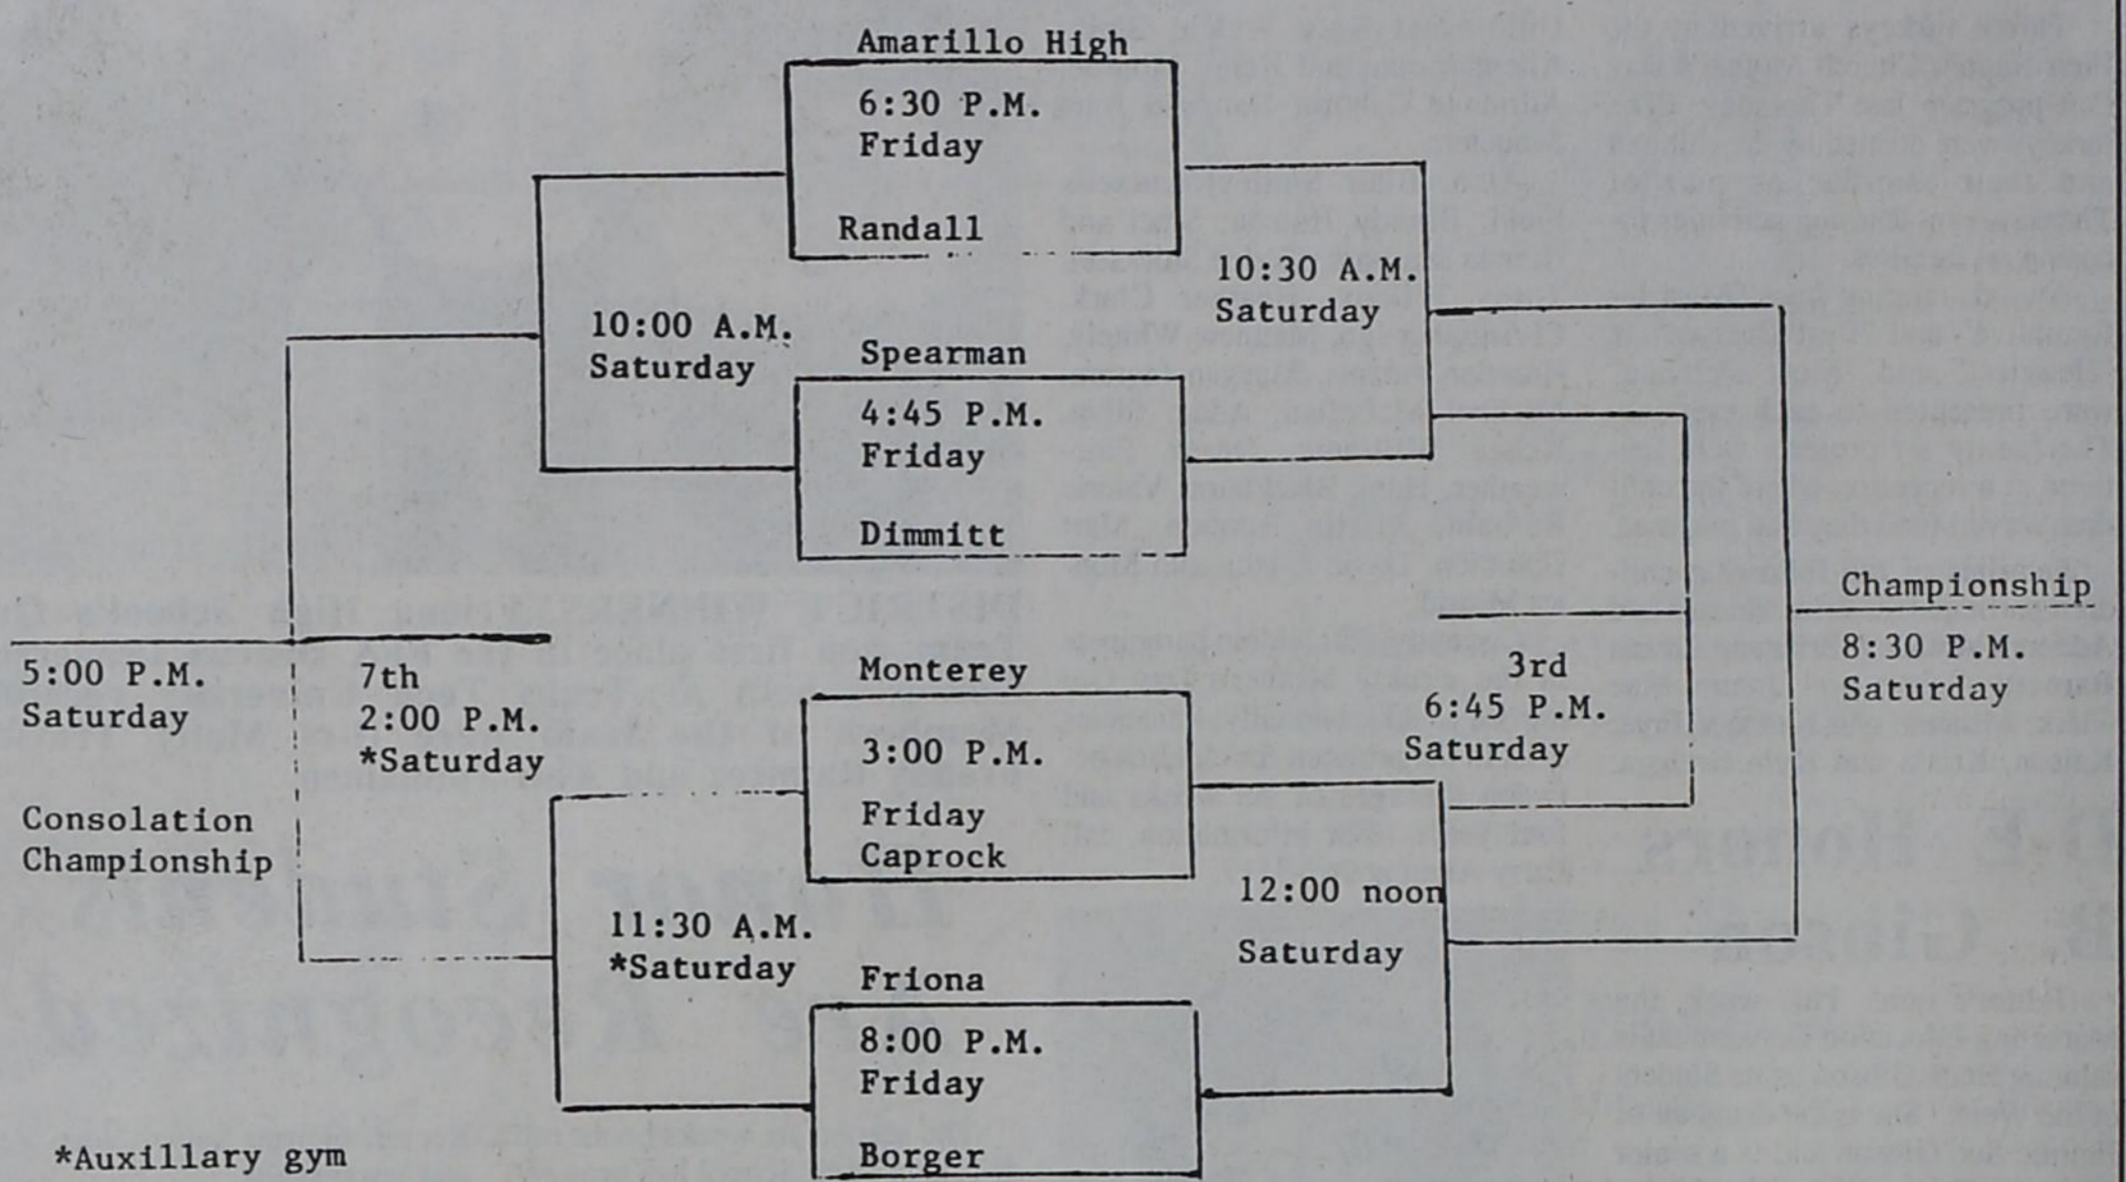

Melrose trotted out their three-point shooters in the final quarter, and had a nine-point lead, 62-53, before Friona could get on the scoreboard again with Snead's three-point which made it a 62-56 game.

Another three-point basket gave the Buffs a 70-60 lead with 2:40 left in the game. The final margin should have been ten points, 76-66, but desperate fouls by the Chieftains gave the visitors four free throws in the final 17 seconds.

Snead paced the scoring with 24 points and Outland added ten.

Melrose 80, CHIEFS 66
 Kyle Potts 3-1*-0-9; Mark Outland 3-1*-2-10; Harvey Martinez 1-0-2; Chad Hamilton 2-2-6; Koby Rogers 2-1*-0-7; Warren Duke 2-0-4; Charlie Snead 5-4*-2-24; Corbin Riethmayer 2-0-4.

Town Talk

By June Floyd

Call 247-3681 With Your News Items

If you missed The Moscow Balalaikas performance at Hereford High School Auditorium Saturday night, you missed a real treat. This group was the first Russian group I had ever seen perform and, even though it was somewhat different, it was great.

The two soloists, a baritone and a soprano, sang in their native language and it reminded me of attending the Inter-tribal Ceremonial in Gallup, New Mexico many, many years ago.

Each different tribe of Indians sang in its own dialect and some of them sounded somewhat like birds. Not understanding the words wasn't a problem when you listened to the music.

There were seven instruments and the only one I had ever seen before was an accordion. There were three balalaikas, which were reported to be the most beloved Russian folk instruments. There was also a psaltery and some wind instruments.

The musicians and singers combined their efforts and talents for a superb performance.

Some Frionans I saw in the audience were Leonard and Thelma Coffey, Estelle Caffey, J.B. Buske, Rita Beene, Lee and Jo Witten, Billy Dean and Lillie Mae Baxter, Edith Johnson, Gerry Taylor, Lola Doris Knapp and Marca Lynn Her-ring.

The Baxters' daughter, Debbie, who teaches in Amarillo, was with them. It was real good to see her.

Debbie Reeve, a registered nurse who works as a travel nurse, is presently assigned to Lubbock General Hospital. She spent a few days with her parents, Floyd and Betty Reeve, last week.

Four local teachers attended the Texas Association of Gifted and Talented convention at the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport Hilton last week. Two of them, Karen Renner and Jeffie Talley, conducted one workshop on careers.

Others attending were Billie Osborne and Kitty Gallman. The group drove down Wednesday and returned Saturday.

Weekend visitors in the home of Jack Clark were Jackie and Myrna Clark, who lives at Cypress, Texas and their daughter, Amy, and a friend, Crista Miller of San Antonio.

Amy and Crista are freshman students at Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

Out-of-town visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hand over the weekend were Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Nance and son, Karson, who recently moved from Dublin, Texas to Abilene, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Nance and Mrs. Johnson are the daughters of Kirby and Jonnie Hand Williams of Fort Worth and the Hands' granddaughters.

Little Tessa Sloan, infant daughter of Diann Sloan, 1308 Washington, has been a patient in the neonatal intensive care unit of Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, several days.

She was dismissed Monday afternoon and a report from her aunt, Peggy Gartin, indicates she is improving satisfactorily.

Ilene Osborne returned home Monday. She had spent the weekend in Austin visiting family members who live there.

She drove to Amarillo Friday, then flew with her son-in-law and daughter, Doug and Sally Whatley, to the capital city.

The Whatley's daughter, Holly, is a student at the University of Texas.

The group visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osborn, Claire Osborn and Mr. and Mrs. William Osborn and daughter, Catherine.

Ronnie and Suzanne Wood of Pampa arrived in Friona Wednesday afternoon to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives.

They were joined by their son, Mark, who is a student at Snyder Community College, Snyder, Texas.

The Woods visit her mother, Mrs. Gerry Taylor, his parents, Noyle and Lorena Wood, and other kith and kin when they are here.

Minnie Knight, Martha Mars and Leslee Maloy recently flew to Nashville, Tennessee to visit I Sgt. Vicki D. Knight, who is stationed at Ft. Campbell, Kentucky and Stormi Upton and her roommate, Kelly Witcher.

Stormi and Kelly moved to Tennessee in August and are employed at the Olive Garden Restaurant in Madison, Tennessee. Saturday, they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Desper. Mrs. Desper is a sister to the late J.E. Knight. Their daughter and her husband were also present.

Sunday evening, the group visited the Opryland Hotel and viewed the holiday lights. One has to see them to believe them. They enjoyed the visit and hope to return next year when it is warmer and see more of the local attractions.

PA Friends Visit Class

Mrs. Coker and Ben Israel, special friends from Prairie Acres nursing home, visited in Mrs. Wright's first grade classroom on Monday, November 25.

The children asked Mrs. Coker about her memories of first grade. They also were interested in her childhood. They asked questions about the games she played and the toys she had.

Ben Israel mentioned that his favorite thing was go to camp.

Several children read to the visitors and demonstrated their math skills at the chalkboard.

The children presented pictures they had drawn to their special friends and asked them to come back for another visit.

The first graders are sponsoring this citizenship project as part of the "Kids Care Contest." It is a national contest and $1,000 prize money will be donated to the winners in each grade level to be given to a non-profit organization.

YOUR EYES

CHANGES THAT COME WITH AGE

As years go by, there are changes in what we can and cannot see. They may be gradual, or quite dramatic. Most people experience limitations. Your eye doctor can help you adjust to them. What should you look for?

- It's more difficult for the eye to change focus from distance to near, and vice versa. It's harder to read without glasses.
 - The pupils become smaller, so less light enters the eye. It's harder to see at night.
 - The lens inside the eye may cloud up; that cataract will have to be removed.
 - Reaction time slows. Corrected vision must be improved to compensate for the delay.
 - Side vision may diminish with age.
- To protect your eye health, schedule regular examinations, especially if you become aware of any vision loss.
