Students May Be Used To Fill In As Farm Labor

One possible solution of the farm labor shortage in this territory was brought out this week when the United States Employment Service suggested the registration of high school and college students for work on the farms.

J. H. Bonds, Texas director of the employment service, said this week that high school and college students may be provided with an opportunity to do their bit in the war by helping the Food for Victory program, pointing out that the production of food is as important as the production of planes, tanks, guns and ships.

Bonds urges that young men and women who will be out of school this summer register at the employment office nearest their home—in this case, at 323 W. 7th St., Amarillo.

Since the labor situation in Parmer County will be as serious as anywhere in the Panhandle territory, it is thought that students will probably have to be used in large numbers here this summer if crops are to be gathered. The purpose of the United States Employment Service is not to take youths away from home, if they are needed there, but to make a survey of labor which will be available during the busy season.

In Bovina on Apr. 2. Officers for 1942-43 will be elected and plans made for health clinics for school children of Parmer County.

Miss Elsie Cunningham, home demonstration agent, attended a meeting of extension workers in Amherst on Tuesday, Mar. 24. Miss Hazel Phipps, food preparation specialist, and Mr. James Rosborough, horticulturist, had charge of the program.

Lee H. McElroy, county agent, this week announced that a repair clinic, jointly sponsored by the extension service and the Friona Lions Club, would be held in Friona in the near future to give practical information on the repair and care of household appliances and machinery.

"The rubber shortage is going to make it impossible to make a trip to town for each small repair job," McElroy states, "So it will be a practical thing for each farmer and housewife to learn how to do these simple repairs at home."

Plans include information on the adjustment and repair of sewing machines, electrical appliances, pressure cookers—in fact all common appliances and tools. The clinic will be conducted by experts in the various lines of repair work.

The clinic will be held soon, McElroy states, but adds that he would appreciate suggestions now as to what farmers and housewives would like to have discussed and any other suggestion for making a success of the planned clinic. Suggestions may also be left with any of the Friona merchants.

Clean-Up Will Serve A Three-Fold Purpose

City officials of Friona urge citizens to turn in and do an even more thorough job in co-operation with what Governor Coke R. Stevenson has designated "Civilian Defense Clean-Up Week," Mar. 29-Apr. 4.

A thorough clean-up of all premises actually serves a three-fold purpose, officials point out, stating that it promotes better health condition, eliminates fire hazards in the home, and helps in the campaign to gather up all scrap and salvage material for use in war industries.

Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, urges that citizens be especially careful to remove fire hazards this year, stating that with new materials of almost all kinds becoming harder to get, because of conversion to war production there is an even greater need for conservation.

Bakers Visit In Carlsbad and Marfa

Mrs. G. M. Eaker and son, Duke, spent Sunday in Carlsbad, N. M., after spending Saturday night with their son and brother, Melvin Baker, and family in Elida.

At Carlsbad they met G. M. Baker, who is employed at Fort D. A. Russell at Marfa, and Mr. and Mrs. Baker spent the day visiting old friends while younger members of the family went through the caverns.

Mrs. Baker accompanied her husband back to Marfa, where she will visit another son, Cpl. Arthur Baker, who is stationed at the fort. Duke returned home Monday morning.

Singing Here Next Sunday

Singers from Parmer and surrounding counties will be in Friona Sunday afternoon to attend a singing convention, Arlie Green, president of the Parmer County Convention, stated today.

Two o'clock has been set as starting time, and the convention will be held at the Baptist Church with prospects for a really good old-fashioned community sing, Green declares.

A number of good singers and quartets from outside the county will be present and several special numbers have been arranged.

All singers of the community and all those who like to hear a good-old-fashioned community singing are invited to attend.

Forrest Osborn Joins Navy at Denver, Colo.

Forrest Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Osborn of Friona, left Sunday afternoon for Denver, Colo., where he was called for induction into the U. S. Navy.

Forrest enlisted in the navy several weeks ago and had been waiting for his call to active duty.

A brother, Ernest Osborn of Ft. Bliss, made a trip to Friona arriving Sunday morning to see Forrest before he left to take up his navy duties.

Strip Cropping Terms Defined

Farmers who expect to carry out the strip cropping practice on their farm for 1942, should understand certain definitions before starting operations, Keltz Garrison, ACA secretary, said today.

In order to learn the strip cropping practice, Garrison said farmers should remember that they must have an erosion-permitting crop alternating with an erosion-resisting crop or two erosion resisting crops alternating with each other, strips to be not less than 10 nor more than 200 feet wide or approximately not less than four rows nor more than 60 rows wide. An example: 60 rows of cotton alternating with 60 rows of grain sorghum or sweet sorghums will qualify for strip cropping, however, 60 rows of cotton alternating with 60 rows of summerfallow will not qualify for strip cropping; likewise, 60 rows of soy beans alternating with 60 rows of grain sorghum or sweet sorghum will qualify; however, 60 rows of soy beans alternating with 60 rows of cotton will not qualify.

Striving Wheat on the Farm Commercial storage facilities are going to be very limited in case of anything like a normal wheat crop for 1942, Garrison pointed out, and with material for construction of farm storage warehouses becoming more and more difficult to obtain, he believed it would be wise for those farmers who plan to build storage facilities on their farm for 1942 to do so in the very near future. Information received now indicates that the railroads will be busy moving troops and war materials and it is very likely they will be able to handle very little grain in moving it from country points to terminal points.

BY THE GOVERNOR:

Wm. J. Lawson, Secretary of State

Parmer County farmers welcomed the A. A. A. ruling that volunteer wheat acreage in excess of the wheat allotment need not be plowed up. Exact status of the volunteer acreage is not yet clear, Keltz Garrison, county ACA secretary, stated this week; but he advises farmers not to plow up the volunteer wheat until they receive full information concerning the change in wheat regulations. Earlier news that the volunteer wheat might be harvested and farm-stored have not been confirmed.

B. F. Vance, state administrator, in a letter to county administrative officers said this week: "We have been advised that the definition of acreage planted to wheat is being amended to permit the grazing of volunteer wheat grown in excess of the wheat acreage allotment established for the farm, or permit the harvest of such wheat for hay, provided it is harvested before maturity."

The change in AAA policy to permit use of the volunteer acreage is generally being hailed with satisfaction throughout the wheat states where volunteer acreage is unusually large because of heavy rainfall last year. Crop prospects in the Hereford territory are good at present; but in many parts of the wheat belt, damage from green bugs looks serious, and most farm leaders questioned the wisdom of plowing up volunteer acreage when prospects for the new crop were uncertain and when war demands might increase the need for grain.

Revival Starts At Local Church

Placards are out announcing the beginning of a series of revival meetings at the Church of Christ on Euclid Ave., across the street from the high school building.

These services will begin on Sunday, March 29, and will continue through Sunday, April 12, each night during that period. Evangelist Leland H. Knight of Boonville, Ark., will do the preaching and will speak on "Timely Subjects in a War-Torn World." The general public is invited to attend all of these services.

Cashway Store To Increase Its Stock In Friona

Announcement was made this week that the stock of the Cashway Store in Friona will soon be greatly increased as G. E. Gollehon of Hereford planned to move his Farwell stock here.

Mr. Dobbs, manager of the Cashway store in Friona, is expecting an early call to Army service, and Clyde Seigler, manager of the Farwell Store, is coming to Friona as manager.

"Our business in Friona has been excellent," Mr. Gollehon says, "and with Dobbs going into the army, we decided that it would be better to combine the two stores, so we will be able to give you even better bargains in the grocery line from our increased stock."

Wheat Condition Good But Light Moisture Needed

Wheat in the Friona territory is still in good condition, farmers said this week, but moisture is needed now to soften the hard surface packed by heavy rains last fall.

B. C. Day, prominent Friona wheat grower, was in town Saturday and stated that while the ground was still moist beneath the surface, some rain was needed at present.

Day believes that prospects are good for a successful wheat yield this season.

Rev. Hill May Qualify For Chaplain Post

Rev. L. L. Hill, pastor of the Friona Methodist Church, and a veteran of World War I, may again see army duty, this time as a chaplain. Rev. Hill stated this week that he will report to Washington, D. C., on Apr. 8 to take further tests to get into the army religious work.

Hill has already taken several qualification tests and will take his final examination in San Francisco as soon as he has completed arrangements at Washington.

or cannot buy wheat when it has to be piled on the ground, the ACA secretary continues, consequently it is going to be up to farmers to a large extent to take care of their own grain at home. It might be well for all wheat farmers to do some serious thinking along this line and place their orders for materials needed for the construction of additional granaries immediately.

Local Officials To Attend Rationing Meeting

Local officials were scheduled to go to Amarillo today to attend a regional meeting to discuss the problems of war-time rationing. Immediate purpose of the meeting is to clarify details of the sugar rationing soon to go into effect, with prospects at present for registration of commercial sugar users on Apr. 27 and 28 and of domestic users on May 4, 5, 6, and 7.

ONE WEEK SALES BAN

All sales of sugar in the United States will be halted at midnight, Apr. 27, for approximately one week, government officials announced this week, stating that the ban was ordered as a step preparatory to sales under rationing which goes into effect as soon as the moratorium on sales ends. Local plans for registration have not been fully worked out, but teachers will register the people of Deaf Smith County as they will throughout the United States, in what amounts to a complete census of the nation, taken on a hurry-up basis.

WEEKLY RATION NOT SET

National officials stated that it has not been determined whether the weekly sugar ration for each individual will be one-half or three-fourths of a pound. One member of a family can register for the entire household, according to government spokesmen, who say that the information required will be the name, age and address of each applicant and the amount of sugar on hand. Each person is scheduled to receive a war ration book containing 28 stamps. Each stamp represents a two-week sugar allotment. (That is, each will permit the holder to buy a pound and a half of sugar during the period, but the exact amount has not yet been determined). If the stamp is not used in the buying period, it will not be good thereafter.

FIVE MINUTES FOR REGISTRATION

The registrar will tear out of the book a sufficient number of stamps to cover the amount of sugar in excess of two pounds per person on hand at the time of registration. Consumers will give stamps to storekeepers when purchases are made and the storekeeper will use the accumulated stamps in turn when they buy fresh supplies. It was estimated that registration would require five minutes per each person registered.

Industrial users will use certificates instead of stamps. The exact formula for their allotments has not yet been fixed.

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I am sometimes asked why I do not express more of my opinions concerning the war and its management, or probable outcome. It occurs to me that I have done this on more occasions than one. Even last week, I a little more than hinted as to what my opinions were and still are along this line.

However, my main reason for not getting into this war craze more deeply is on account of my ignorance of existing conditions, for as I have repeatedly stated, all I know is what I hear on the streets and read in the papers, and basing my knowledge on that source, I might frankly say that I know nothing whatever about existing conditions because what I read in the papers is so contradictory one cannot believe all of it, for evidently some one has lied or the views expressed by these writers is so greatly at variance as to leave one totally in the dark as to what the truth is.

As an illustration of the proof of the above statement, I shall take the liberty of quoting two different writers on the same subject. My first quotation is from an article by J. L. Dufoit, of Canyon, which appeared in the March 23, issue of the Amarillo Daily News, and reads as follows:

"Donald Nelson, Robert P. Patterson and William S. Knudsen oppose the repeal of the 40-hour work law. Such an act would virtually mean the conscription of labor. Our administration has always operated upon the assumption that labor efficiency and a cooperative attitude cannot be conscripted when the laborer is forced to tend the machine."

The first part of the above quotation is the one I wish to call particular attention to, that where Mr. Donald Nelson's name is mentioned.

The next quotation is taken from the Industrial News Review, published by E. Hofer & Sons, and also of the date of March 23, 1942, and this quotation reads:

"Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, declares that the country's output of military supplies can be doubled if existing war production machinery is used 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

Mr. Nelson is further quoted by this same writer as saying, that unless production is brought to victorious levels, "We shall burn in the flames of a public wrath so intense that in its heat it might consume the very standards we have set for free men to live by."

Now I am not so ignorant as not to see that these two quotations can be sensibly and logically argued as not contradicting each other; but we cannot deny the fact that they were written with the expressed purpose of conveying two radically opposing views. Not on your tintype, and it is prominently evident that these two writers are exponents of two radically opposing theories.

I have tried to be absolutely neutral in giving the above two quotations, and leaving it to my readers to form their own opinions regarding them. But, when two supposedly well-informed sources hold such radically opposing views on the same subject, what is the use of an old "nincompoop" like me to try to elucidate the matter? Again I ask you, why?

There is an old, and almost universally true saying, that "Where there is much smoke there is bound to be some fire," and the preponderance of opinion seems to be that there is really great reason for alarm concerning our present rate of production of war equipment. And there is a lot of "smoke" arising from the sentiment expressed in an editorial in the March 16, issue of the Albuquerque Tribune, which was handed to me by my good friend, Rev. Joe Wilson and Brother Wilson expressed his opinion that it is good enough to be included in "Jodok's" column. And his opinion has been corroborated by several of the fair, and forward thinking men of this locality, so, I am giving it the remainder of my space for this week. The editorial follows:—It is entitled,—"Wake Up America—It's Late."

The nation needs to awaken to the full gravity of the peril that confronts it. It needs to appreciate how badly we have been defeated in three months of war. It needs to understand that it is possible for the United Nations and the United States to lose this war and suffer the fate of France—and that this possibility may become a probability if the present tide does not change. It needs to realize that there is grave chance of the Japanese pushing through India and the Germans driving through the Near East, to join their armies and resources in an almost unbeatable combination. It needs to get away, once and for all, from the comforting feeling that while we may lose at the start we are bound to win in the end.

Only when fully aware of existing perils will the United States do its utmost. Pray God that awareness will not come too late, as it did in France!

Production Director Donald Nelson appeals for vastly increased industrial output on a 24 hour, seven day basis—168 hours a week. Maximum production in short.

Can we get it?
Not on the present basis—not under the psychology of recent years.

Not until we quit thinking in terms of less work for more money.

Not while there is greater concern about overtime pay than overtime production.

Not while farmer politicians are more interested in higher prices than raising more essentials.

Not while Government bureaus—created to meet a depression emergency that is ended—continue trying to grab for themselves money needed for armaments.

Not while an army of Federal press agents clamors to promote and perpetuate activities that have no present need or value.

Not while congressmen try to put over useless canals and river schemes and take up the time of defense officials clamoring for factories and contracts as if war were a great gravy train.

Not while WPA, despite a shortage of labor, seeks to carry on projects which it doesn't have the men to perform or the need for performing.

Not while CCC and NYA stretch greedy hands for funds to pamper young men who ought to be in the armed forces or the war plants.

Not while strikes hamper war production, despite a solemn promise that they would stop.

Not while the life and death need for uninterrupted production is used as a weapon to put over the closed shop.

Not while double time is demanded for Sunday work which is only part of a 40-hour week.

Not while a man can't be employed on an Army project or in a war plant until he pays $20 to $50 or more to a labor racketeer.

Not while criminal gangs control employment and allocation of men to work on the Normandie and the other ships along New York's vast waterfront.

Not while fifth columnists are pampered and enemy aliens move freely in defense areas.

Not while the grim job of preparing our home communities against air raids and sabotage is gummed up with a lot of high faluting, boondoggling, social service activity.

Not while pressure blocs clamor for bigger benefits, bounties and pensions.

We will not get maximum production, in short, unless, first, we fully realize our awful peril; and second, get over the gimmes of recent years.

Gimme shorter hours, gimme higher wages, gimme bigger profits, gimme more overtime, gimme less work, gimme more pensions, gimme greater crop benefits, gimme more appropriations and patronage, gimme plants for my Congressional district, gimme fees and dues to work for Uncle Sam, gimme ham's eggs, gimme share-the-wealth, gimme

France had the gimmes, too—had them till the Germans were close to Paris. Then everybody went frantically to work—too late.

France has no gimmes today—except gimme food for my baby, gimme a place to lay my head, gimme death.

Will the United States wake up too late?

Soldiers Want Girl Shows But Vote For A Modestly Clothed Chorus Line

NEW YORK—What do YOU suppose a soldier wants in the way of entertainment?

Girls, of course. Lots of them and pretty. And they want them in a smart looking but—and this is important—modestly clothed chorus line.

Harry Delmar, general production manager of Camp Shows, Inc., which presents professional entertainment at all army camps and many naval bases with War Department sponsorship and USO financial backing, lists the soldiers' preference in this order:

1. Pretty girls.
2. Musical revues—with pretty girls.
3. Swing singers, blues shouters.

4. Down-to-earth slapstick (but clean).
5. Legitimate stage plays.

Delmar reports that the soldiers insist on clean shows, ruling out strip teases, off color jokes and skits, much to the pleasant surprise of chaplains and post morale officers.

Delmar returned the other day from a two-month tour of 175 camps to see how the organization's 24 touring shows were doing, and to find out from the boys just what they wanted.

Program Notes

He learned that Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, played to standing room in one California camp. Heifetz insisted (and the soldiers went for it) that he would not talk or play down to his audience.

"I'm going to play a piece that has three movements," the violinist told the soldiers. "The second movement comes after the first and the third movement comes after the second. This is the first movement."

Violinist Albert Spalding, Lawrence Tibbett and other concert artists are making the grand circuit for camp shows as are the nation's most popular swing bands.

Deanna Is Tops

Rosalind Russell, Linda Darnell, Joe E. Brown and other movie and stage stars are sell-outs. The soldiers' biggest hand went to Deanna Durbin, who all but broke up camp at Fort Devens, Mass.

Camp shows are not open to civilians, officers' families or anyone who does not live and work on the post.

When the shows start playing outdoors this spring instead of in theaters and recreation centers, the admission charges will be dropped. The 11 big shows that tour the larger camps now charge 20 cents, while the 13 smaller units playing the less populous camps, charge 15 cents.

Let's Cook Something

Passed like a torch from one generation to another, this recipe never fails to register universal approval. It is very rich and you won't want to use large servings but as the finale to a light meal or as party food it becomes an excellent choice. Black Bottom Pie is an old southern favorite and this recipe first came from Louisiana.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

Make the crust and when cooked, fill with layer of chocolate custard and a layer of fluffy rum-flavored custard. Top with whipped cream and garnish with shaved chocolate.

FILLING

- 1 tablespoon gelatine
 - 2 cups milk
 - 1 1/2 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 4 tablespoons cold water
 - 1-2 cup sugar

1 1/2 squares bitter chocolate-melted
1 teaspoon vanilla
- FLUFFY RUM-FLAVORED LAYER

TOPPING

- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1-2 square bitter chocolate shaved

METHOD

Put the gelatine in the cold water to soak and set aside. Scald the milk and slowly add the beaten egg yolks. Stir in the combined sugar and cornstarch and cook in double boiler for 200 minutes or until creamy. Take out one cup of mixture and add the melted chocolate and vanilla. Blend with rotary egg beater and pour in cooked crust. Let cool. While the remaining custard mixture is still hot blend in the gelatin and allow to cool but not stiffen. Beat egg whites stiff and gradually add the 1-2 cup of sugar, beating until very stiff. Fold egg whites into custard and gelatin mixture and blend in the rum extract. Pour over the chocolate mixture already in the crust and spread with the whipped cream, garnishing with the shaved chocolate.

GETTING AROUND THE SUGAR SHORTAGE

By Elsie Cunningham
Home Demonstration Agent

Now that we know definitely that we must reduce sugar we are all wanting new recipes and suggestions as to how we can best get around the situation. Briefly, I offer these pointers. Use less sugar in tea and coffee. Do not leave sugar in bottom of cup. If there is sugar in the bottom of the cup either you are not stirring the coffee enough or you are using too much sugar. Use less candy or make sugarless candy at home. Sweeten desserts with corn syrup, honey, maple syrup and molasses. Use no frosting on cakes. Use prunes, dates, bananas, canned fruits and sweet fresh fruits.

Now for a recipe or two. First a sugarless dessert:

Crumb Spice Pudding
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup molasses
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
1 pint hot milk 1-2 teaspoon mixed spice, cloves, nutmeg, allspice, mace and ginger
2-3 cup raisins, dates and prunes

Let crumbs stand in hot milk until milk is absorbed. Steam dried fruit 5 minutes. Mix all ingredients and bake 45 minutes.

This cake recipe is one that I have tested and adjusted to this altitude. It improves with age—that is it is better the 2nd and 3rd days than on the day when it is baked.

Victory Chocolate Cake
1 1-2 cups general purpose flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup—1 teaspoon brown sugar (firmly packed)
1 egg (well beaten)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
1-3 cup—1 teaspoon shortening
3-4 cup—1 tablespoon dark corn syrup
1 square unsweetened chocolate (melted)

3-4 cup butter milk or sour milk
Sift flour, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together twice. Cream shortening until soft. Add brown sugar gradually and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Stir in corn syrup slowly. Add eggs in two portions, beating well after each addition. Stir in melted chocolate and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk and beat thoroughly after each addition. Line a tube pan, 9 inches in diameter, (or loaf pan 9x5x2 1-2 inches) with waxed paper. Grease sides of the pan and over waxed paper. Pour in batter and bake in a moderate oven (350) for 45 minutes or until an inserted toothpick comes out clean. Cool in pan at least 10 minutes before removing to cooling racks. Frost with Dried Fruit Frosting.

Dried Fruit Frosting
1 cup chopped, dried fruit (mixed)
1 teaspoon honey
1-2 cup confectioner's sugar
1-4 cup hot water
1 egg white

Place chopped dried fruit in a small sauce pan and add hot water. Heat gently for 10 minutes or until all of the water is absorbed. Remove from heat and stir in honey. Beat egg white until stiff and fold in the dried fruit mixture. Add confectioner's sugar gradually and stir until thoroughly blended. Spread on cake.

Wins Home And Furniture, Now He Needs Wife

Fort Ord, Cal.—Because Sgt. George Bartlett of Fort Ord had the house, the furniture, and the automobile, he is now in Little Rock, Ark., to see about getting the girl.

The girl of his choice, whose name was not revealed here, telephoned the sergeant that he held a ticket which entitles him to a new home, furniture, a month's supply of groceries, an automobile, and gasoline to take him 20,000 miles.

Even the utilities are paid for a month.

Maj.-Gen. W. H. Simpson gave Sgt. Bartlett a special furlough when he heard that the latter had won the home in Little Rock.

The 22-year-old sergeant who comes from Omaha, was uncertain when he left here whether he would sell, rent, or keep his new property.

He was certain he was going to pop the question to the girl back home, however.

CANNED AND DRIED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

From The Texas Food Standard:
For a good diet I need to include Fruit and Vegetables—in either Fresh, Canned, Brined or Dried Form.

Daily: 1 serving Irish or sweet potatoes. 1 serving green or yellow vegetable. 1 serving citrus, tomatoes, raw cabbage, strawberries or melons. 1 other fruit.
For 1 Week: 4 pounds, Irish or sweet potatoes. 4 pounds green or yellow vegetables. 4 pounds other vegetables. 2-4 pounds citrus, tomatoes, raw cabbage, strawberries, or melons. 4 other pounds fruit.

In Buying Canned and Dried Fruit and Vegetables I should remember to:

- Buy cans of appropriate size.
- Buy food in larger cans when practical. It is cheaper, and if popular, these sizes may be used by small families. Due to loss of Vitamin C on standing, canned tomatoes and citrus products are exceptions.
- Buy small cans if only a small quantity of food can be used before it deteriorates.

Try to save money by buying canned foods by the case or dozen if storage space is sufficient.

Read the weight printed on the label and use the weight as well as the price when comparing prices.

Try canned foods that state the government grade (A, B, or C) on the label. When possible watch for the shield that the Agricultural Marketing Service uses for U. S. graded foods.

Encourage simpler and better labeling whenever there is an opportunity. Read the labels for helpful information.

Compare widely advertised brands with those less widely advertised in quality and price. Keep a list of satisfactory and unsatisfactory ones.

Buy the appropriate quality, for example: Fancy or choice (grade A or B) peaches for using whole in salads or desserts; standard (grade C) or below standard for pies or to be cut or mashed before using.

Chinook or sockeye salmon for a special salad; pink or even chum for a loaf. Mackerel is cheaper than salmon and may be substituted in a loaf or croquettes.

Large dried prunes—18-22's or 20-30's for stuffing or for garnishing a salad; smaller ones for prune whip, prune cake, etc. As a rule, medium sized prunes are the most economical.

In Using Canned or Dried Fruits and Vegetables I Should:

Store canned goods in a dry, cool place.

Know that canned foods may be left in the open can without harm unless they are left so long that they spoil. The flavor of acid foods will be less desirable; these should be put into a clean glass or enamel storage container. Discard food from a can if: The ends of the can have swelled.

Liquid and air rush from the can when it is opened.

The odor is not good.

The food is discolored.

The food has molded considerably.

Save excess fruit juices to be combined and used as beverages or in desserts. Wash dried fruits and vegetables before using. The fruits may be "dry cleaned" by rubbing a little flour on them and then putting them in a course sieve and shaking out the flour. Then rinse with cold water.

Do not use soda in the water in which dried vegetables are cooked.

Save empty tin cans by washing, drying, and storing in a clean place. Reusable good cans to be used again if foods are canned at home. This may be done 2 or 3 times by providing new tops. They have various uses such as making sub-irrigation for a frame garden, making improvised equipment, etc.

The American Legion now has an enrollment of 1,107,975. The increase in the last year was more than 22,000.

half to three quarters of a wagon-load of well rotted barnyard fertilizer over it. Ten to 25 pounds of 6-12-6 commercial fertilizer also will do. Spade it into the ground about ten inches. If the soil is fairly tight a row of sub-irrigation tiles made of tin cans or concrete laid six or eight inches below ground down the center will provide satisfactory watering. One of the county extension agents will show you how to make it.

The plot should be surrounded by a frame 12 inches high of new or scrap 1x12 lumber. A cover of wall canvas with a broad hem should be tacked at the back of the frame with provisions for fastening it securely across the front ends. On chill nights a wagon sheet, cotton sacks or blankets should be used for added protection. Then level up the soil and the garden is ready.

Under ordinary conditions three to five plantings can be made yearly. Rows should be eight to 16 inches apart, planted the narrow way. Vegetables most common to a frame garden may be classified as quick maturing, moderately quick and slow maturing. For planting it may be divided into three general divisions:

No. 1 Quick maturing, 30-60 days: Tender green mustard; black seeded Simpson scarlet globe radishes; Bermuda onions (from plants or sets); double curled parsley.

No. 2 Moderately quick maturing, 60-80 days: King of Denmark spinach; Incuria Swiss chard; dwarf horticultural beans and Alaska English peas.

No. 3 Slow maturing, 80-90 days: Crosby's Egyptian beets; Nantes carrots; Wong Bok Chinese cabbage; sweet Spanish (from seed) onions.

Where the frame garden is of sufficient size onions, cabbage, tomato or pepper seed may be planted, and when plants are of sufficient size, in January or February, may be transplanted to the open garden
