SONS In the Service

Many of our readers call at the Star office and express their appreciation of the letters printed from week to week from the boys of Friona and surrounding communities who are now in some branch of our armed service. The boys themselves also express appreciation of being able to read the letters written by their comrades, and the Star is pleased to publish them.

From Frank S. Truitt:
Kodiak, Alaska,
Sept. 17, 1942

Dear Dad:
I suppose that by now Carmie has received a letter from me and you know where I am now. There is very little that I am permitted to tell you about the place, but I can tell you that it is much—yes, a darned lot—better than I was expecting. I had lots rather be here than in Norfolk, Va., and had about as soon be here as in Seattle; however, both of those places are in the States and it wouldn't be nearly so much trouble to get to Friona if I were in either place.

I don't know whether there is any other way one can get to the States other than by boat, but if there is I sure hope they send me home that way. I've decided that I'm not much of a sailor. Boy, oh boy! I got sick on that boat ride up here. I've heard it said that a person has never been sick until he has been seasick. I sure believe it now. I thought I was going to die on that boat—didn't care much. I'm not completely over it yet. Once in a while I get a little dizzy and feel like I am still on the boat. It's all a joke about the fellows getting sick. I think about 90% of the fellows were sick, so we were all in the same fix.

Have you and Mr. Wood been fishing any more lately? Gosh, Dad, if you like to fish, you should be up here and see the fish here. I never saw anything like it in my life. It's no trouble at all to catch 20 to 40 pounds of fish in 15 or 20 minutes. Last night, about 9:30 (I was already in bed) a fellow came in and woke me up and asked me if I wanted a fish to eat. He had it all laid out on a board, cleaned and fried very good. Of course I took it, but I couldn't eat near all of it for it must have weighed all of 5 pounds; I tried to take just a piece of it but he said he had ten just like it and was trying to get rid of them without throwing them away, so—if you want to go fishing, come and visit me.

It's doggone hard to write a letter like we are going to have to write them from here. We can't say anything about the weather, what kind of a place we are living in nor anything about the base. We can only write three pages in each letter and can write only on one side of each page. Each page must have our name on it like you see at the bottom of these sheets.

My foot is just about well after so long a time. I am walking around on it a little, but of course it is still as sore as the devil. It won't be long now till it is as good as new. I'm afraid I'm going to have to start work before long. (Ha!) No—I'll be glad to get to work. It seems like we have done nothing very much since we left, but I am sure now that we are out here at our base we will really get started on the job we signed up to do. I have no idea how long we will be up here and I could not tell even if I did know. There appears to be lots of work here to do but I don't know whether we are to do it or not. As far as I know, and as long as I have to be away from home, I'd just as soon be here as any place.

There is something I want you to do for me. I wrote Carmie a letter a while ago and meant to tell her I want you to tell her to have Mr. White print me some stationery with my name like this:

Frank Stocton Truitt, CM 2-c,
Co. A, 12th Construction Bn.,
Kodiak, Alaska.

at the bottom of each sheet of paper and the envelopes printed with my return address like I have it on the outside of each one of my letters—rather, like this envelope. Have her tell him to print about 200 sheets of paper and about 75 envelopes. Be sure and tell her to do it, and thanks! I guess this is about all I'll have time to write this time, so I'll close. Write when you can.
Son.

In another letter dated Sept. 19, Frank says in part:

They have come out with lot of regulations as to what we can and cannot write, so it's going to be pretty hard to make up a letter. A lot of the fellows have had some of the letters they have written returned to them by the censor. So far I have not had any come back to me but I'm looking for one most any time when you write to me be sure and tell me if anything I have written has been taken out. I'd "kinda" like to know in what condition they get to you. We have some pretty swell guys here in this company—and we have some of the sorriest as well. We have one guy with us that is so darned lazy he hurts. It nearly kills him to get on a working party. . . . These soldiers we have here are really swell fellows. I have met several of them and I like everyone I have met. They go out of their way to help us "CBs" out. Scott told me that one of the Silvertooth boys is here at Kodiak, but I have not seen him. . . . They are still feeding us mighty good here in the navy. . . . I can't gripe a bit about the way we are fed. . . . I guess I'll have to close for this time, but I'll write every chance I get. You write every chance you get.

Lots of love,
Son.

Friona Star,
Dear Mr. White:

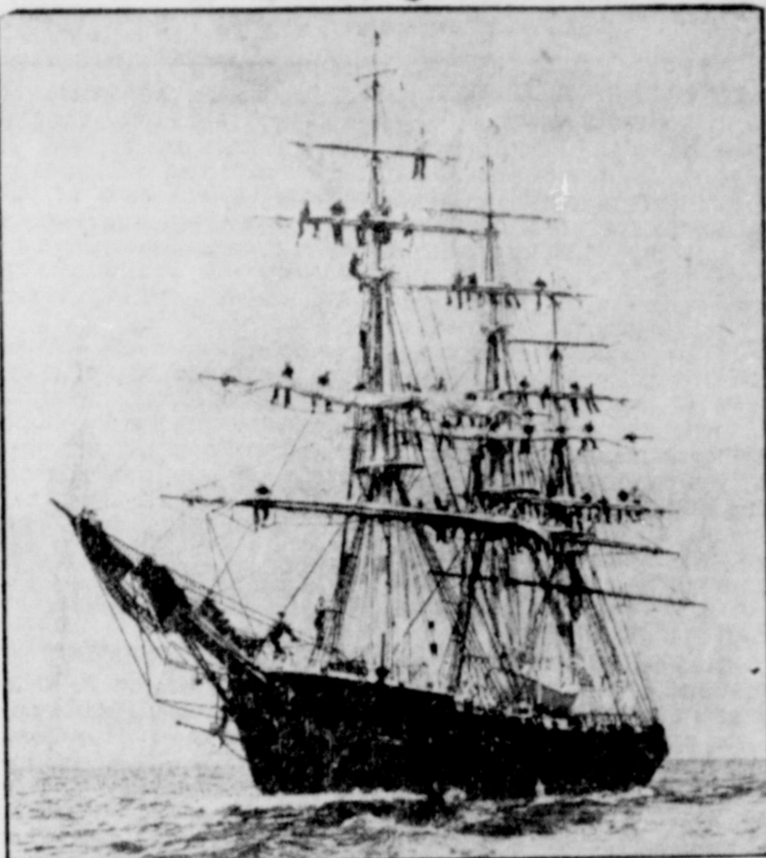

How is everything with you? Fine, I hope. I am doing O. K. I guess, considering the hot weather. I received your paper last week at St. Petersburg and was sure proud to get it. I turned it inside out before I read any to see if it was really the Friona paper. Then I settled down for some real home news, and I sure enjoyed reading the service mens' news; then I looked at the advertising and I sure got the fever when I saw the ad "Malone's Creamery". But I have a job to do before I can come back up that way for a while. I will tell you something about the camp we left at St. Petersburg and what we found here at Fort Meyers. At St. Pete we lived in some of the best hotels in the U. S. A. Then we were in town all the time and what time we were not drilling up and down the street we were up in the rooms; but here we are about 12 miles south of the city of Fort Meyers. We live in barracks and what time we are not in school we can walk around the Post. Just like a farmer looking over his crops. We have sulphur drinking water which at first was like tasting some strong medicine, but it tastes pretty good now. We have some of the finest food that can be had and I think everyone is gaining weight and getting in fine physical condition. We have five weeks schooling here then we will get some advanced training. I think we have the best picked men and the most thrilling position in the U. S. Army. Will close as I have no more news; I sure like the paper and I wish you would forward it on to me here at Fort Meyers.

A friend,
Pvt. Leonard Arden Parsons

The following letter is from Pvt. Gilbert J. Schuler:
Camp Roberts, Calif.
9-21-42

Dear Mr. John White:
I've been in the army since Sept. 7th. At present I'm taking a six weeks training course in the infantry here at Camp Roberts, Calif. This sure is a swell training center. I sure would like to get my home town newspaper sent up here, as I sure do miss it. Could you tell me how much it will cost to get the Friona Star sent up here?
Your friend,

Full Mobilization of Small Farmers For War Production Planned By FSA

Full mobilization of manpower on the small farms of Parmer County for increased food production is needed to win the war, Earl L. Fine, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, believes.

"Unless our small farm operators can produce greater quantities of food," said Mr. Fine, "our country will be compelled to ration almost all foods and there is no assurance that we can maintain nutrition needs of our civilians."

"For this reason," he continued, "the federal government has ordered the FSA to extend every possible aid to low-income and small farm and ranch operators to enable them to increase production."

The supervisor said the FSA's loan policy, collection policy, health, tenure improvement, cooperative, and farm ownership programs, and all other phases of the total FSA effort is being directed and coordinated into a wartime food production program.

Urging all families in Parmer County to make the most of their opportunity now to conserve food and feed and to plan for next year's production, Mr. Fine advises that applications for operating loans are being received from farm families at his office in the county courthouse at Farwell.

"The farmer's main job now is to produce food and this will continue to be his main job until the war is won. Farm Security is anxious to help all eligible borrowers in the nation so they may exert every effort to feed the United Nations as well as themselves," he said.

Chiefs Meet Dimmitt Here 2:30 P. M. Today

At 2:30 this afternoon at Chittain Field, the Friona High football team will be gunning for its first victory of the season, when they meet the Dimmitt Bobcats in a district contest.

The probable starting lineup will be W. C. Reid, center; Leroy Johnson and Hugh Museley, guards; Neil Warren and Truman Thompson, tackle; Wayne Stark and Verlin Talkington, ends; and Co-Captain Vialo Weis, Bobbie Lee Roden, David Johnson and Bob Jones in the backfield.

It is hoped that Co-captain Bud Coffman will see more service than he did in the Tulia game here last week.

M. A. Crum, who spent the past two weeks at Floydada with his sisters, has returned to his office here.

Ray Smith returned last week from Kansas City, where he was a delegate at the National Convention of the American Legion.

State War Board Studies Labor Problems of '43

Looking ahead to agricultural wartime production for 1943, the Texas USDA War Board already is conducting a survey on transportation facilities for farm labor.

Cooperating with the state board, county USDA war boards are outlining pertinent labor problems and forwarding them to state headquarters where they will be studied by state war board members.

"The last lap of the journey—getting the workers to the fields—will be the most difficult to accomplish," B. F. Vance, chairman of the board, explained, since rail, bus or transport trucks will deliver workers in the general vicinity of farms.

Included in the state-wide transportation survey are: (1) noticeable effect of rationing on movement and size of crews; (2) percent of cars and trucks totally disabled because of lack of tires; (3) possibility of using school buses for transporting agricultural workers in the county; and (4) possibility of renting trucks for transportation of agricultural workers locally.

Increasing pressure of transportation facilities is a result, primarily, of lack of truck replacements and a scarcity of repair parts and tires, Vance said.

P.-T. A. Dues To Be Paid Immediately

All patrons of the Friona Public Schools are urged to pay the 35 cents yearly P. T. A. dues immediately, officers stated this week.

Dues may be paid to Mrs. J. V. Fulk, Mrs. Hulen Hinds, Mrs. Merle Lewellan and Mrs. Frank Truitt.

Twenty-five cents of the amount goes to the state and national associations, and ten cents is kept in the local P. T. A. unit.

Hornets Sting Chiefs By 39-0 Score In One-Sided Contest

(Editor's note: The copy originally sent in on the Tulia-Friona game was lost and the following summary is inserted to give a summary of the game).

A hard-fighting Chieftain eleven was snowed under, 39-0, last Friday by the Tulia Hornets, one of the top teams in the district and who outweighed the Chiefs by a big margin.

The local boys also suffered from lack of the services of Co-captain Bud Coffman, who is expected back in the line-up this week.

Despite the superior experience and weight of the Hornets the Chiefs put up a real scrap all the way and the school cheering section stayed on the job till the final gun.

Repair Shops Due To Get Beathing Spell From Lack of Welding Rods

Repair shops in Texas are due to get a breathing spell from welding rod shortage, according to B. F. Vance, chairman, Texas USDA War Board.

As a result of a recent state survey, the Texas War Board has advised the War Production Board that a minimum of 500,000 pounds of welding rods of all kinds are needed to fill agricultural needs in the state until November 15.

Despite the fact that manufacture of welding rods has been stepped up more than three times normal capacity, acute shortages prevail throughout the state, Vance said and explained that many shops have been operating on a day to day or week to week supply basis, but that some shops are completely out and cannot get orders filled.

The War Production Board is considering releasing small amounts of rod for agricultural repair during the fall harvest period in the most critical areas where lack of rods will jeopardize harvesting operations.

"With the present shortage of new farm machinery, we need welding rods for making immediate repairs because idle machinery will lessen our agricultural production," the chairman said.

Minimum needs for both electric and acetylene welding rods were included in the state survey.

George McLean was a business visitor at Amarillo and Dumas one day last week. George has received the appointment as manager of the large laundry that is being built at the Pan-Tex Ordnance plant and was there looking over the job.

Go To Church Sunday To Be Celebrated

As was announced last week, next Sunday, October 4, has been announced as "Go To Church" Sunday in Friona, and every citizen of the town is invited to attend public worship at some church in the city on that day.

This move is being sponsored by the two Friona Women's Clubs, as a fitting sequel to National Religious Week.

The Parmer County Machinery Rationing Committee, consisting of Olan N. Schleuter, J. I. Gober, and Wilbur Charles, regular members, and Ford Welch, alternate member, met Saturday night, Sept. 25. Student Body Stages Giant Pep Rally To Boost For That Chieftain Squad

Friday afternoon after the chapel period the entire student body, from the fourth grade through the high school, quietly laid away their books and marched down main street to boost for the Chief squad and the game was to follow that night.

The band was there, tootin' the favorite piece "Hall! Hall! The Gang's all Here". The freshman boys about 15 strong, weaved in and out with their shirt tails waving in the air. These made peculiar flags but at least they were showing their colors and boosting the spirit. Teachers fell in line and tried to march to the tune of "Hep, hep, too many beans and can't keep step". The rooting section was there with all the spirit that it takes to make a good school. The grade children added to the color with their size and voices joining in on the yell.

After marching to the tune of Shirley's snare drum this group, about 300 strong, formed a circle at main street intersection and paused long enough to give some yells and permit the band to play.

The army of "On to Victory, Friona" then marched to the bleachers in front of the gridiron, and of all the yelling, this writer has never heard any other rooting section of Friona do. This spirit didn't die down either, because Friday night during the game this little rooting section never let up.

Although the Chiefs played their hearts out and did the very best they could, they came out on the little end of the score. It can well be said that the spirit that was there in both the rooting section and on the gridiron shows that Friona will go places some day in spite of the lack of material on the team at present. It isn't the score that tells the result of the game every time, but the spirit of the thing and how well we play the game. This spirit of loyalty to school and fairness in play certainly was present Friday night in the student body, the players on the field, and the spectators on the sidelines. For this we are thankful and wish to congratulate everyone concerned.

Now, let's look forward for Friday's game and be back at our places as we have a good chance of winning the next game. With such a spirit behind the team and school, I am sure we can.

F. H. S. Girls Elect Officers For The Year

During activity period Thursday afternoon, Sept. 24, the girls organization of F. H. S. met in the Study Hall with Miss McFarland. Officers chosen for the coming year are as follows: president, Gertrude Short; vice president, Fern Cunningham; secretary and treasurer, June Maurer; reporter, Jean Crawford; and parliamentarian, Mary Lou Barker. Miss McFarland is sponsor.

The club discussed plans for the coming year, and Religious Education week which began Sunday, Sept. 27, was especially stressed. All the girls were asked to take their families and friends and attend "Back to Church Sunday" Oct. 4. The moment of prayer each day that is sponsored by the Jr. Woman's Club of Friona is to be emphasized by the girls' organization throughout the high school. Each day at 12 o'clock noon, the Congregational Church bell rings, as do others all over our nation, reminding the people to observe a moment of prayer for our boys in the service. These girls are trying to get the students to cooperate with the people everywhere in observing this moment of prayer.

From a survey by Miss McFarland, it was found that out of 43 girls present, 27 attend church and Sunday School regularly, 12 attend occasionally, and four do not attend.

The girls' organization plans to discuss problems of interest to high school girls throughout the year.

Parent-Teacher Association Meets

Thursday evening, Sept. 24, the Friona Parent-Teachers Association held its first meeting in the High School gym.

After a short business meeting the group was entertained with a "Welcome to Teachers" by Mrs. Claude Osborne and a response by Mr. Gunn. Active games in which everyone participated were played.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Game Friday Is Dedicated To Mothers

To honor the mothers of Friona Independent School, the Chieftains are dedicating the game Friday to the mothers. It is the desire of the boys to get all mothers to attend the game this week.

Even though you do not know anything about the game, you will enjoy entering into the spirit and watching the children with their yells and songs. We are expecting a gala affair Friday, and if we could get a good representation from the mothers, it is expected that the boys can do a much better job on the gridiron. When we want a thing done in the community, we always call upon the mothers to do it.

We are desirous of winning a game Friday afternoon and we certainly believe we can do it if we can get the support and help of the mothers.

There will be a place on the north end of the grandstand reserved and if there could be at least 50 or 75 mothers to take their places there, there would be much rejoicing on the part of the student body in knowing that the mothers of the town were behind them.

Come on, mothers, and be with the group. The cost will be only 25c and we guarantee that you will go home and talk about it.

Supt. Gunn.

Election Result Posted Friday

Results of the election held Thursday were announced in assembly Friday when it was learned that Gertrude Short, Wayne Manderscheid and Loris Jean McFarland were chosen as student council representatives at large.

Voted to be this year's pep leaders were Doyle Manderscheid, Gertrude Short, Webster Johnson and Jean McFarland.

The election was held by the Senior Civics Class.

What's the Rush?

First you hear a bell ring; next you see students rushing from their classes, running down the hall and making a mad dash for the door. A fire? No, just dinner-time and everyone is hurrying to the cafeteria.

With approximately 160 students and teachers eating at the cafeteria, one can imagine what confusion and commotion there is. Most of the students have a fork in one hand and a pencil in the other, getting up some assignment at the last moment. With such expressions as "Say, can you tell me the three departments of our national government? Does anyone know who wrote 'The Highwayman'?" Do equal angles have equal supplements? What are the four periods of Shakespeare's life and writings?" being flung across the tables and all the confusion of food and studies, it is impossible for one to eat in peace.

But such comradeship between the students develops a more friendly atmosphere and helps maintain a school spirit.

With the cooperation of students, teachers and the managers and cooks of the cafeteria, we can make this organization an outstanding feature in the program of the Friona schools.

EXCHANGES

Due to the illness of the director, there will be no regular band organization at Dalhart this year. The drum major will direct the band and it will keep in practice and play for the football games.

At the preaching hour the pastor speaks on "The Child of a King". Following the sermon the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. By CARLON A. HARPER County Agent

Are your cows making money for you? Most dairy farmers can answer that question in some fashion and most dairy farmers will say "Yes, otherwise I would not be keeping them." However, when it comes down to knowing just which cows are making money for the farmer and which cows are boarders many of our farmers cannot answer these questions in an intelligent manner. There is a way you can answer these questions and others of equal importance about your dairy cows. That way is to join a dairy herd improvement association and have your cows tested regularly by an approved tester.

A dairy herd improvement association is a group of dairy farmers who are banded together in an association for the purpose of improving their dairy work. This group hires a tester who visits all the herds in the association once each month and checks on the number of pounds of milk each cow is producing, the butterfat percentage of that milk, the feed the cow is consuming, and keeps—complete set of books on each cow in the herd.

In this way the farmer can know just which cows are making a profit and which cows are losing money. There are many other services which the association offers through the tester. The tester will help in figuring balanced rations, help improve the quality of milk produced, and assist in any general dairy problem on the farm. The dairy farmer pays into the association according to the number of cows in the herd. The cost is exceptionally low when compared to amount of good which is accomplished.

In times of labor shortage no farmer would keep cows on the farm which are not producing enough to pay expenses and make a profit. The only way of knowing whether a cow is producing profitably is by official testing. Quesswork simply must be eliminated from our dairy work. Then there is the matter of bringing the message from the Latin quotation of Julius Caesar, "Veni, Vidi, Vici" as it applies to Christ, our Lord.

Youth Fellowship welcomes all young people not now attending any other young people's program at night. This at 8:15.

of production of future cows from the herd. Certainly you want heifers from high producing cows and bulls with production records back of them. Official testing will tell you which cows to save heifers from and will tell you which bulls have added to the production of your herd.

Many farmers in Parmer County are members of a dairy herd improvement association which is serving Roosevelt County, Curry County, and Parmer County. If you are interested in improving your dairy cattle there is no better way than to immediately investigate the value of becoming a member of an improvement association.

FARM LABOR SITUATION

Mr. Cherry of the U. S. Employment Service, Plainview office, was in the County Agent's office Saturday, Sept. 26, making plans for handling additional farm labor to harvest Parmer County crops. Mr. Cherry advised that he would leave application forms to be filled out by local farmers who need additional labor. The application forms would be filled out in the County Agent's office and then sent by the County Agent to the Plainview office of the U. S. Employment Service. The labor which is available would be directed to the County Agent's office and then redirected to the farms where needed.

Mr. Cherry advised that in order to be eligible to use this service local farmers would need some satisfactory housing facilities for the migratory labor. He also stated that he believed that the U. S. Employment Service would be able to provide adequate labor for the county during the rush seasons. Mr. Cherry will be back in Farwell early next week and at that time plans will be completed for making the applications.

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Several of my good friends feel called upon to criticize last week's Farmer John. Criticism is plum fine and surely is appreciated. Through criticism is one way to find out the column is being read. If we all had the same theories, ideas and philosophies, this old world would probably seem drab, uninteresting or even downright stale. She might even seem ready for Socialism, Communism, Regimentation or New Dealism. Not all the comments on the column were criticism. Some were really complimentary and fully appreciated.

I did not mean to imply that I thought all people in Texas should vote for the Republican candidate for governor in November. Personally, I approve Governor Coke Stevenson. My only concern is that if enough people vote for the Republican candidate—I do not remember his name—that under the State law the Republican party can function as a State institution in 1944. One of our county officials asserts that the Republican party is dead, but that we have two factions of the Democratic party, and that each faction wishes that the other was in jail. I am not so sure about the "jail" part, but each faction does probably wish that the other had to do its fighting. Common sense tells us it is of vital importance that we have two functioning parties thoroughly organized in this state.

As long as great groups of the people, especially the top hands running the government approve the tendency to concentrate government, authority, business and agricultural management in Washington, also to take the individually away from the worker and make of him a cog in a government sponsored union, that long there is real need for an opposition party. Of course the Democratic party might clean house, turn thumbs down on the theorists and self-styled social reformers. The New Deal might go stale with a great revival of genuine, unselfish patriotism. Lately some of the great national party leaders have dared to kick over the traces and have won their point. Look at our own senator's race, look at New York and practically all localities where the people have had a chance to speak. But there is still very little probability that the New Deal will either withdraw or reform till it is voted down and overwhelmingly covered up with an avalanche of voters who believe in and want to preserve free enterprise and old-fashioned Americanism.

I may be about to indulge in wishful thinking; nevertheless, I truly believe that Texas has her full share of people who disapprove, fear and want to get rid of the New Deal manipulation at Washington. The most practical way to accomplish that feat is by the use of the Republican party.

What I am really advocating is that the people begin now, in build a party nation-wide with the November election, to help its tap roots in Texas. This party must have the faith and power to establish individual freedom in America. Texas has the statesmanship, the business ability and the unselfish patriotism among her own citizenship out of which to make good leaders. Until these leaders have seen "Beautiful Texas", experienced the usefulness of the Anti-Strike laws and associated with the individualism, born of the pioneer, they are short for leaders. New York, Ohio and other powerful states may have good materials in the way of leaders but none can show better, more capable men and men more likely to be drafted into the service than can Texas, if Texas but had the vieing of two strong political parties.

The feeder roots of this national tree should reach from New York City to New Orleans, from Chicago to Atlanta and from Boston to San Francisco. The trunk is composed of free labor which wants its personal rights protected but is not asking special privileges over any other worker.

This same tree should be supported by the great rank and file of farmers, both those who do their own manual labor and those who are employers of men. Farmers in their varying conditions and aspirations know the same government-bought shoes can't fit them all. The hairs of each man's head are numbered. They each have dreams of different castles to build. It is nature for each farmer to strive to be the moulder of his own destiny. The nation-wide hope is free men cooperating, rather than all men regimented into one solid phalanx.

The down-hearted skeptic will in despair cry out—What assurance is there that the Republicans will not again offer a compromised or adulterated New Deal program? The only answer is—The people. The people all over the country, all over Texas, all over Farmer County and the various precincts should band themselves together to beat the New Deal threat. The suggestion is that the Republican party should be used because it is already organized. And the leadership is thoroughly cleaned up to all who would subside on political crumbs. They have literally starved the past ten years. Conditions are ripe for the people, the great rank and file, to take control and mould the policies that meet the approval of red-blooded, free men. It is neither a fight or a compromise between labor and capital, between producers and consumers or between groups or parties of groups that people want. It is rules and regulations that protect each man's liberty, his freedom to pursue life as his best judgment dictates that is in popular demand.

Give It To 'Em

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of Jodok

I have been cogitating quite a bit here of late, as I hear my fellow men complaining of their lot in one way and another and from one cause or another, as to why this is so, and I have about arrived at the conclusion that it is true because we so will it and that every one of us gets just about what is coming to him, either individually or as communities or as nations. We get what we have ordered, and we each and we all get what is coming to us and some of us get a darned sight more or we would not get anything.

And now I can almost hear some of you readers, saying—aside—"Be careful old man, for you are talking about yourself just now." Allright, so be it, for I have said what I wanted to say, and I have said it just about the way I wanted to say it. I can "take the gaff," if I am a gaffer. Go on and say it. I will admit that I have got more than was coming to me or I would have nothing, and you can interpret it either way you want to.

I hear enough on the streets and read it in the papers and magazines to know that there is a predominant feeling of dissatisfaction throughout the land, that appears to be spreading like a prairie fire. It appears to be a sort of general dissatisfaction, arising from various causes, and these causes are the result of our own stupidity during days, months and years gone by, and now we are in danger of reaping the results of this stupidity.

Almost daily I hear mention of a dictatorship as applying to our own country. There may be ample grounds for such expressions. I do not know, and no one can know unless he can read the innermost thoughts of those who are in a position to assume such a position. But, be that as it may, there can never be a dictatorship of America without the will or acquiescence of a majority of both houses of our national congress. The Executive department of our government can never make itself a dictator without the will or acquiescence of the Legislative Department and the required functioning of the Judicial Department.

Therefore, we the people are safe from such a condition so long as our Congress is composed of men who have more at heart, other than continuing themselves in office and have the intestinal fortitude (I mean guts) to say so and stand by it. But unfortunately, these men (and I include all parties) do not have the said guts, and apparently have no plan of their own, save to perpetuate themselves in office. And, on the other hand, if they had a plan, they seem not to have the necessary training or knowledge to know how to put it into effect or practice. But, the Executive Department has its plans all well laid and its details all worked out by the keenest research minds available, and these plans, when presented to the congress, are eventually adopted, probably more because the congress has no plans of its own to present in its stead. And who is to blame?

die" philosophy—agrees and conforms pretty well to my own, which I term "street-corner" philosophy.

Neither am I telling any of my friends what to do, to cure their dissatisfaction with present conditions—that is, in the form or manner of advice or command, but merely reminding them of the one weapon of defense that is left at their disposal, if they choose to use it, and that is their VOTE. And the time draweth on apace, when they will have that privilege.

Either we mean what we say or we do not mean it, and if we do mean it our vote is our only defense and we should either use it in such defense or cease our griping and say "We like it." Talking has proven to be of no avail, whether it is put in long-winded radio speeches, or lengthy and carefully worded newspaper and magazine articles, as the effects of such have so far been so ineffective as to attract no notice. The powers that be, know what they want, and so far, have known how to get it.

Anyway, the weed patches on the vacant lots and on some of the occupied lots in Friona, are gradually disappearing. My hat is off to J. A. Blickwell, for the swell job he has had done on the vacant lots adjoining his place of business. The fact of the matter is that Jerry has kept these weeds down pretty well all summer.

And I will take off my hat off to Arthur Hilton, janitor at the school building for the very fine job he has done in getting rid of the weed nuisance upon the school premises. For a while the school grounds had a decidedly dejected appearance until Arthur turned his attention that way and began slaughtering the weeds, which act was followed by T. N. Jasper and his plow, and the grounds now have a decided appearance that somebody lives there. And the high school building has as pretty and well kept lawn as can be seen anywhere, all of which adds to the general beauty of our city.

I shall not pass this way again; Then let me now relieve some pain, Remove some barrier from the road, Or brighten someone's heavy load; A helping hand to this one lend, Then turn some other to a friend.

Let's Cook Something

3 heads cabbage
1-2 peck ripe tomatoes
1-2 peck green tomatoes
1 dozen small onions
1-2 dozen red and green peppers (seeds removed)
2 lbs. brown sugar
1 ounce celery seed
1 tablespoon ground mustard

Run all the vegetables through a food grinder, add 3-4 cup of fine salt and let stand in stone jar over night. Drain in wire basket the next morning, place in large kettle with a few cloves and allspice, add the sugar, celery seed and mustard, cover with vinegar and boil a few minutes. Seal in glass jars while hot.

In the eastern states people don't know what you are talking about when you mention "chow-chow." They haven't the faintest idea how it is made nor how you eat it, but every southern housewife knows what it is and usually some member of the family demands that a jar of chow-chow be kept on the pantry shelf.

If you are not tied by taste to one particular recipe for this southern relish, try this way of making it—it is neither too hot, too sour nor too sweet.

Notes From CHDA

By ELSIE CUNNINGHAM Home Demo. Agent

This week I shall give the space allowed to me to recipes which have been requested by some of the readers.

Extra-Special Potato Salad

Sprinkle 2 cups cold potatoes out in cubes with 2 teaspoons salt and 1 teaspoon pepper, add 2 tablespoon salad oil and mix thoroughly then add 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon onion cut finely and 2 hard cooked eggs and 1-2 tablespoon finely chopped green peppers or pimiento.

String Bean Salad

To 2 cups string green beans (freshly cooked or canned) add 1 small onion finely chopped, 1 pimiento or pepper chopped, 1 pickle chopped and 1-2 cups shredded cold ham. Mix with French dressing.

Pea Salad

Mix 1 cup drained English peas, 1 cup diced or grated cheese, 2 hard-cooked eggs, 1 sour pickle finely chopped. Add desired amount of salad dressing.

Sour Kraut Salad

Combine 1 cup of drained sour kraut, with 1-2 cup shredded apple, 1-2 cup shredded carrots. Add nuts, green peppers or celery if available and mix with salad dressing according to individual preference.

Cranberry Relish

Grind together through the food chopper 1 pound (1 quart) of raw cranberries and one orange. Quarter the orange and remove the seeds, but use both the pulp and the skin of the orange. Sweeten this relish to taste with about 1 cup strained honey (or sugar) stirred into the ground fruit, and add 1-4 teaspoon of salt to bring out the flavor. Put the relish in a covered jar in the refrigerator and it will keep for 2 or 3 weeks and is ready to serve with any kind of meat or poultry.

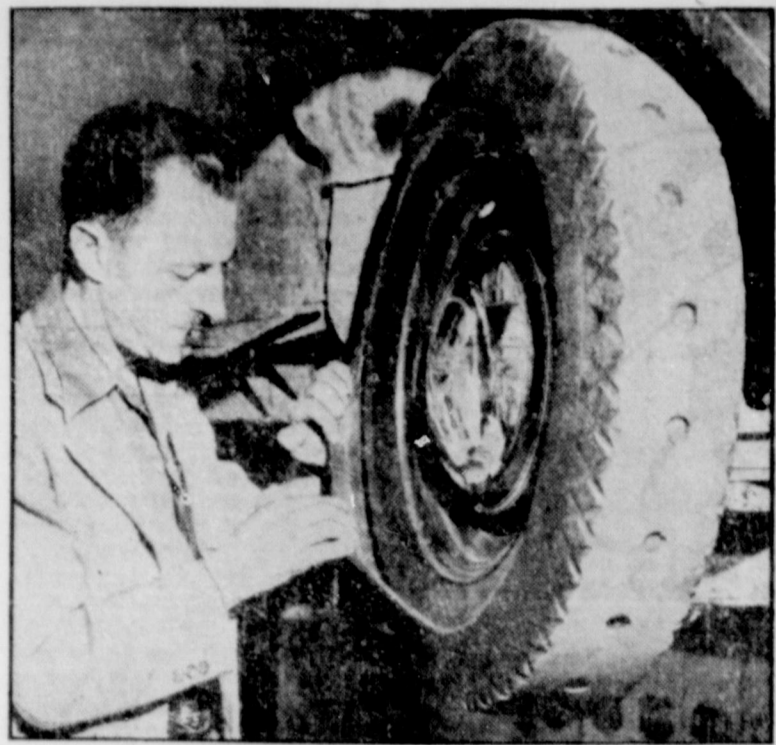

Thousand Island Dressing

To make thousand island dressing add 1 tablespoon green pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped, 1 teaspoon chopped pimiento and 1-3 cup chili sauce to 1 cup mayonnaise.

Golden Pineapple Dressing

Combine 1-2 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons cornstarch, add 2 eggs well beaten. Stir in 1-3-4 cups of pineapple juice and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly. Remove when thick, add juice 1-2 lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or vegetable oil, and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Cool. When thoroughly chilled, fold in 1-2 pint cream stiffly beaten. This is an excellent dressing for fruit salads.

A CORRECTION

Last week there was a slight error in my column that I wish to correct or clear up. The sentence printed was "Vary sandwiches by using enriched whole wheat bread" when it should have read "Vary sandwiches by using enriched white bread and whole wheat bread."

"Enriched" bread or flour contains specified amount of the vitamins, thiamine and niacin and the mineral, iron. These ingredients are added to white breaded flour. Enrichment is a process of restoring to flour and bread a specific amount of thiamine, niacin and iron which has been removed in the milling process.

Now, whole wheat bread or flour is made by grinding the natural wheat and it contains in the natural proportions all of the constituents of the cleaned wheat grain. Whole wheat contains thiamine, niacin, calcium, phosphorus as well as iron.

There is some difference between "enriched" and "whole grain" products as you see. We get more food values from our whole grain products—as yet, few of the "enriched" products contain all of the ingredients of our natural foods.

Dear Mr. White: I have been receiving the Star regularly and enjoy it a lot. It's really swell to read about the people I know at Friona and about the boys I used to go to school with. I have moved again so I would like for you to forward the paper to the above address. I am still studying radio and find it to be very interesting and practical. Thanks for the paper and I'm sure all the boys enjoy it as I do.

Here is a letter from Pvt. Walter T. Jasper.

Dear Dad and Family: Hello folks!

I am back in Texas. I got in last Monday morning at four o'clock. I will be here for some time now. I hope for the duration. I would have written sooner but I have been pretty busy. We are just on detail work right now. This is just a new camp and we haven't got hot water in our barracks yet. They have a big double kitchen, and about 2300 goes through the mess line every meal. There are a lot of small kitchens here and I think I will get one of them as soon as they open up. There are three large kitchens and two small ones open and about 7,000 men here now and the camp isn't half finished. There are supposed to be about 150,000 here when it is finished. They say they will use 2,800 cooks and there aren't but about 500 here so I stand a good chance of making first cook. I sure hope I make it anyway. I sure would like to come home for a few days but that is out of the question. It is almost impossible to get a pass of any kind.

Well, I will say good-bye with lots of love.

Walter. Walter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Jasper.

This letter is from Sgt. Raymond Jasper.

Dear Folks: Well, well, I am now in Fort Wayne. Been here a couple of days and I expect I'll be here a few more but you never can tell. I may just ship right on out to other parts. I am sure I'll ship before too long. I've been muddling around here so much lately that I just haven't paid much attention to any correspondence, but I'm not the only one that isn't on the ball. I have been looking forward to getting some mail from someone so long that I'm getting far-sighted. I guess Nelda wonders what's happened to me but I'm sure she understands that a lot depends on how much time a soldier has for writing. Of course I've had time enough to write at times, but just wasn't in the writing mood. I wish I could write a nice long and interesting letter just any time I wanted to write, but I can't. I have enough trouble writing to my honey and you, let alone the rest of my correspondence. It's not that I don't want to write but I've just lost all ambition for writing and I just don't know how to write. I am going to answer Nelda's letter though as I won't be able to write to her very much longer while in the States and I don't think my letters from abroad will be at all interesting. Maybe so and maybe no. Can't say, I'm sure.

Well, pop, I kinda like the north. You have vim and vigor and you get the vitality through the food you get here. It's good food and you get plenty of it. Wish I had been able to get food like this all the time. It's nice and cold here, too, and you feel like something when you get up in the mornings. I've been scheduled to be sent here so many times and I'm just getting here. Sure wish I'd been sent here before.

Well, I must sign off as I have to write to a couple of other people yet, and I may have to start work anytime now. I sent you a package from Lakeland and I'll send you one from here, too, but not right now. I also sent you a picture of the entire squadron, taken before we got started good at Lakeland. Every member of the squadron was in the picture except a few that went over the hill or was sick.

Love to all and plenty. I remain as ever,

Raymond.

The letter of which the following is a part was written by Elmo Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Cunningham of Friona. Elmo is now a cadet in the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. It will serve to give our readers a little insight into the life of a cadet.

Dear Folks: This is late Sunday afternoon so I shall write you. I went to a show this afternoon. After dinner I went over to Company D-Z and visited Dale for a while. He was writing a letter to his folks also. It has been rather a rainy day. It rains quite a bit here and before long it will begin to get cold. It really gets cold. I made an improvement in my academics this past week. I brought my deficiency in math up to the proficiency line. I have my full dress (parade) uniform now. are gray, that is the cadet color. The colors of the corps are black, gold and gray. Last week I received a nice worship book from the "Life Line Committee" of the Friona Methodist Church. I wrote them a letter thanking them. I can receive packages from home and other places so if you want to send me candy, cookies or anything like that it will be all right. The days pass rather quickly now. Time is the main element. That is what everyone prays for—for time to pass. Everyone looks forward to the day he graduates, so he will be more independent and be an officer. The cadet studies and trains to be a soldier here and he looks forward to the day when he will have opportunity to lead and put into practice what he has learned. As I told you before, every cadet goes to chapel every Sunday. We march to chapel while the chimes ring in the chapel tower. You have never seen a chapel until you have seen ours. They have the largest pipe organ in the Western Hemisphere. The chapel services at West Point are very impressive. I must study my lesson for tomorrow now. So, hoping everyone is all right, I am,

Yours, Elmo.

CEILING PRICE PUT ON UNDERWEAR Ceiling prices for fall and winter knitted underwear for retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers have been established by OPA. Prices for retailers and wholesalers are governed through Maximum Price Regulation No. 210, on fall and winter seasonal commodities. Manufacturers' prices are set in MPR No. 221, which also sets standards for undergarments, in order to prevent inflation through deterioration of quality.

CEILING PRICES SET ON FRUNES, RAISINS Ceiling prices at levels representing about 110 per cent of parity to the grower soon will be set for dried prunes and raisins. OPA has announced. These price curbs when issued, will be the first to be fixed on any fruit at the grower level.

TRUCK POOLING PROGRAM BOOSTED Texas OPA Director Mark McGee, in a series of meetings with farmers, dairymen, lumbermen and business men in various sections of the state, is recommending transportation pooling and mileage rationing as the best quick solutions for the acute rubber shortage. More than 300 representatives of East Texas agricultural industries attended the meeting held last week at Sulphur Springs. Elimination of duplicating and competing routes, and pooling of hauling facilities were recommended by the OPA official.

Lex. Volunteers Recruiting Drive Launched

The two-week "Lexington Volunteers" recruiting drive, launched by the Navy Department last Monday, is expected to lend stimulus to Naval enlistments for the North Texas district during September and serve to boost the month's total past the goal of 3,600 recruits, Lieut. L. H. Ridout Jr., officer-in-charge, announced today.

Latest figures show that nearly 2,500 enlistments have been handled at the main station in Dallas, and Lieutenant Ridout pointed out that a whirlwind campaign during the final days of September will bring in the recruits necessary to round out the month's quota of 3,600 men.

To date, total figures for the month include 2 recruits from Deaf Smith County, where the September quota is 6.

Every man recruited during the two-week "Lexington Volunteer" campaign, prompted by the launching Sept. 26 of a new aircraft carrier bearing that name, will receive certificates which they may keep as mementoes. Lieutenant Ridout explained that 10,000 more blue-jackets than are ordinarily enlisted nationally during a two-week period are anticipated.

A recruiting officer will be in Dallas Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 to interview applicants for the Seabees, popular overseas construction regiment. Applicants should remember that physical examinations must be passed and two letters of recommendation must be presented at the Dallas recruiting station anytime before Sept. 29. This must be done before interviews are granted and ratings assigned.

Texas is the leading carbon black producing state, accounting for about four fifths of the nation's supply.

Practically the entire world's helium supply is produced in a government owned plant in Potter County, Texas.

Not every lawsuit is worth the time involved in having it decided.

It is estimated that there are approximately eight million tons of coal available for mining in Texas.

Most notable of the Texas stone resources are the granites of the Burnet-Llano and Trans-Pecos areas.

The mineral resources of Texas are preponderantly fuel-oil-natural gas, natural gasoline, lignite and coal.

There are extensive iron ore deposits in East Texas and appreciable amounts apparently in the Burnet-Llano area.

There are approximately 31,000 miles of natural gas pipe line within Texas representing about 17 per cent of the total natural gas pipeline mileage of the entire nation.

This week I shall give the space allowed to me to recipes which have been requested by some of the readers.

Extra-Special Potato Salad

Dear Folks:

Well, well, I am now in Fort Wayne. Been here a couple of days and I expect I'll be here a few more but you never can tell, I may just ship right on out to other parts. I am sure I'll ship before too long. I've been muddling around here so much lately that I just haven't paid much attention to any correspondence, but I'm not the only one that isn't on the ball. I have been looking forward to getting some mail from someone so long that I'm getting far-sighted. I guess Nelda wonders what's happened to me but I'm sure she understands that a lot depends on how much time a soldier has for writing. Of course I've had time enough to write at times, but just wasn't in the writing mood. I wish I could write a nice long and interesting letter just any time I wanted to write, but I can't. I have enough trouble writing to my honey and you, let alone the rest of my correspondence. It's not that I don't want to write but I've just lost all ambition for writing and I just don't know how to write. I am going to answer Nelda's letter though as I won't be able to write to her very much longer while in the States and I don't think my letters from abroad will be at all interesting. Maybe so, and maybe no. Can't say, I'm sure.

Well, pop, I kinda like the north. You have vim and vigor and you get the vitality through the food you get here. It's good food and you get plenty of it. Wish I had been able to get food like this all the time. It's nice and cold here, too, and you feel like something when you get up in the mornings. I've been scheduled to be sent here so many times and I'm just getting here. Sure wish I'd been sent here before.

Well, I must sign off as I have to write to a couple of other people yet, and I may have to start work anytime now. I sent you a package from Lakeland and I'll send you one from here, too, but not right now. I also sent you a picture of the entire squadron, taken before we got started good at Lakeland. Every member of the squadron was in the picture except a few that went over the hill or was sick.

Love to all and plenty.

I remain as ever,
Raymond.

Dear Mr. White:

I have been receiving the Star regularly and enjoy it a lot. It's really swell to read about the people I know at Frona and about the boys I used to go to school with. I have moved again so I would like for you to forward the paper to the above address. I am still studying radio and find it to be very interesting and practical. Thanks for the paper and I'm sure all the boys enjoy it as I do.

Dear Dad and Family:
Hello folks!

I am back in Texas. I got in last Monday morning at four o'clock. I will be here for some time now. I hope for the duration. I would have written sooner but I have been pretty busy. We are just on detail work right now. This is just a new camp and we haven't got hot water in our barracks yet. They have a big double kitchen, and about 2300 goes through the mess line every meal. There are a lot of small kitchens here and I think I will get one of them as soon as they open up. There are three large kitchens and two small ones open and about 7,000 men here now and the camp isn't half finished. There are supposed to be about 150,000 here when it is finished. They say they will use 2,600 cooks and there aren't but about 500 here so I stand a good chance of making first cook. I sure hope I make it anyway. I
