CHICAGO, April 17.—Recognition of the Chicago Yardmen's Association as the governing body of railway switchmen and yardmen was added to the demands of striking railroad employes in the Chicago terminal district today at a meeting of officers of the new "outlaw" union.

John Granat, president of the association, announced after the meeting that it had been unanimously decided that the original demands presented to the general managers association should stand. He denied reports that it was planned to call a strike and asserted that there had been no desertions from the rank of the switchmen.

While the rebel union leaders maintained that the walkout was meeting with success, Chicago railroads announced a further improvement in switching operations, and from the stockyards it was reported that receipts were above normal for Saturday.

Half heads and brotherhood officers who have been fighting the unauthorized strike declared hundreds of men were returning to work and that a speedy return to normal conditions was expected.

Granat, one of the 25 men arrested by federal agents and charged with violation of the Lever act, sent a telegram to presidents of yardmen's association locals throughout the country requesting them to attend the meeting in Chicago next Monday to consider plans for continuing the strike.

Switch engines in operation in Chicago numbered 451, more than 50 per cent of normal. Livestock shipments east were normal, while shipments of fresh meat were 75 per cent of normal.

GOVERNMENT TO STOP PURCHASE LIBERTY BONDS

LABOR BOARD GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Government purchase of Liberty bonds in the open market, except through operation of the sinking fund will stop July 1, Secretary Houston announced tonight. "A beneficial effect" on the bond market was expected to result, he said. Other officials said the market in government securities had already begun to right itself and that bond quotations hereafter might be expected to trend upward.

Mr. Houston explained that in continuing the purchase of bonds under the five per cent bond purchase fund law government was increasing its floating debt while decreasing its long term debt. He said that current requirements of the government were such that the purchase of bonds would continue the treasury would have to issue more certificates of indebtedness with which to buy them.

With the five per cent bond purchasing arrangement was planned by congress to expire automatically one year after the termination of war but the secretary of the treasury was empowered to delay when it has served the purpose of stabilizing the bond market—the underlying reason for its original enactment into law.

SAYS PRESIDENT INVALID RESULT TREATY DEFEAT

Statement Made by Senator Hitchcock in Address Delivered at Omaha

OMAHA, NEBR., April 17.—President Wilson is an invalid and broken in health over the failure of the United States to enter the League of Nations, Senator G. M. Hitchcock said in an address here tonight.

"I want to say a few words about President Wilson," he said. "I think there is too little said nowadays in defense of his administration, and in praise of his record.

"Let me say first of all that I am under no personal obligations to the president. My standing in the senate was not due to his influence. It is no great secret in Washington that I became chairman of the committee on foreign relations when the democrats controlled the senate a time when the president preferred another senator for that honor. Before he left the United States to go to Paris he did not call me into consultation any more than he did any other senator although I was still chairman of the committee and had not been succeeded by Senator League. I mention this to show that I have no personal reason for championing the cause of Woodrow Wilson. I have received no favors from him and I can speak of him as frankly and judge him as dispassionately and justly as any disinterested person.

"Today he is an invalid broken in health, depressed in spirit and bitterly disappointed at the failure of the United States senate to permit the United States to enter the League of Nations. Since last September when he broke down he has known nothing but weakness and weariness and pain.

"Of course Woodrow Wilson made mistakes. He made a mistake when he proceeded to negotiate a treaty of peace without taking a few leading members of the senate into his confidence. He made a mistake when he hurt the feelings of his proud senators by ignoring them until after he had negotiated the treaty. He had cared to and consulted these senators he would have had an easy time with ratification. He lacked the tact and forethought. He knew that the constitution placed in his hands the negotiation of treaties and he unwisely assumed that if he performed his duty the senate would do its duty and consent to ratification.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT MASS MEETING ON SATURDAY NIGHT

DEMAND OF LOCAL SWITCHMEN DISCUSSED BY SEVERAL SPEAKERS.

DENY RUMORS CIRCULATED

Men Declare They Only Seek a Wage Sufficient to Support Their Families.

Fully 500 men, women and children attended the mass meeting at the Labor Temple held Saturday night under the auspices of the yardmen's association. Prominent labor leaders, together with other leading citizens, were present and the present crisis in the railway brotherhoods was discussed not merely by representatives of the yardmen's association but by men prominent in industrial and civic circles of Wichita Falls.

E. J. (Shanty) Morris, president of the yardmen's association, presided. Mr. Morris deeply resented rumors circulated far and wide that the present disturbance among railway yardmen had been perpetrated by bolsheviks, I. W. W.'s and other radical elements. "I served in Cuba during the Spanish-American war; I climbed old San Juan Hill as a volunteer in the 10th United State Infantry. I was not a bolshevik then, and I am not now," Morris declared. The yardmen's president pleaded with his hearers not to brand the so-called "outlaw" switchmen as agitators and "un-Americans," declaring that the yardmen are "merely men like all other Americans and contending for an honest wage."

"The switchmen left their jobs because of starvation wages," Morris declared. "Any reasonable person knows that $5 a day is not a sufficient wage for a man to sustain and educate a family. It is through love for our wives and little ones and a desire to give them a living that we left the yards and not through bolshevik agitators as alleged by some."

Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, made an extremely interesting address. The pastor appealed to both labor and capital to forget for a while their petty selfish desires and to attempt an adjustment of their difficulties through channels other than strikes and walk-outs, tinged with bitterness. "I am for you, my fellow workmen," Dr. Knickerbocker said. "I feel that you are being underpaid and I would be delighted to see you receiving your demands."

Dr. Knickerbocker expressed the opinion that the yardmen are handicapped due to the fact that they are a new brotherhood and also that they are unrecognized by the other railway brotherhoods.

H. Crowell of St. Louis reviewed at length the causes which brought about the present situation among yardmen. The speaker alluded to the fact that "resigned" switchmen in St. Louis had offered to operate milk trains and mail trains through the tunnels at St. Louis and that their offer had been rejected. In speaking of the alleged unjust wages paid yardmen, Mr. Crowell referred to the fact that while Chicago yardmen "faced the dangers of entangling networks of switches and rails at 66 1/2 cents per hour, common laborers were paid $1 per hour to sweep the snow off of the railroad crossings."

"This is the situation that the yardmen's association is opposing," said Mr. Crowell. "We believe that the yardmen are being unjustly treated and although we did not strike we exercised that unquestionable right of free-born Americans to leave a job when it got to the point that we could not support our families."

The speaker charged that the press of the country was everywhere opposed to the yardmen's demands and that many press dispatches were gross misrepresentations of the real facts. President Morris of the local yardmen's association, however, corrected Mr. Crowell as far as the press of Wichita Falls asserting that local newspapers had been fair with the yardmen throughout the situation.

Samuel Hurst, local yardman, made a short address declaring that the present "resignation" of yardmen was brought about by "starvation wages" and not through bolshevik tendencies as urged by the enemies of the laboring men. He urged those present who are not members of organized crafts to "at least assist the yardmen in securing a living wage by speaking a kind word for the movement," explaining that "we certainly need the help of the public who have largely been prejudiced against us through unjust propaganda."

No resolutions were passed or no definite action of any kind taken at the mass meeting. The gathering was an open mass meeting and yardmen and visitors alike were urged to express their views.

MADAME SCHUMAN HEINK WILL APPEAR IN CONCERT HERE WEDNESDAY MAY 5

Wednesday, May 5, Madame Schuman-Heink will appear in concert at the Wichita Theater, presented by the Musicians Club. This program the Musicians Club will make the crowning event of their year's work, and they hope that this concert by the world famous prima donna will be the most successful ever staged in Wichita Falls.

When Madame Schuman-Heink's tour was interrupted by an attack of pneumonia the March date in this city was necessarily cancelled, and it was not until recently that the Musicians Club was definitely assured that Wichita Falls would be among the fortunate cities to secure a later date. They make the announcement of this concert with much pleasure and satisfaction since the Lucy Gates concert held the first week in April demonstrated the public's desire for good things musically. The club is now perfecting arrangements for the concert, and hopes to be able to announce the program of songs in a short time.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH HAS MISSIONARY IN MEXICO

The Wichita Falls First Christian Church will be represented in the mission fields of Central Mexico by a full time missionary, according to a decision made at a meeting of the official board of the church Tuesday evening, the occasion being a banquet for them, given by the Women's missionary society. After a very tempting report was enjoyed various members of the missionary society presented the needs of the different mission fields, for the decision as to where the full time missionary would be kept Central Mexico was chosen, though regret was expressed that the church could not maintain a missionary in each of the various foreign fields. The last year's report of the church shows a budget of $42,000, with $32,000 of this going to missions, benevolence and other causes outside the local church.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—"Junker attacks on cotton exchanges are being made on his amendment to the agricultural bill, providing that half of deliveries on cotton contracts shall be of fair to middling grades," Senator Comer, democrat, Alabama, declared in the senate today.

Defending the so-called Comer amendment, the Alabama senator declared it would injure cotton growing interests or seriously harm the exchanges. Charges by members of cotton exchanges opposed to the legislation that the amendment is in the interest of the spinners also were denied by Senator Comer.

The principal aim of the legislation, Senator Comer said, is to equalize the contract and spot cotton market and quotations. He contended that the amendment would minimize "bear" tradings on the exchanges, but said the real value of cotton would be developed by bringing the spot and contract prices nearer together.

WICHITA CARRIE OFF CHAMPIONSHIP HONORS IN THE DISTRICT MEET

Wichita county carried off championship honors in the district meet, including Saturday afternoon at Olin, according to a telephone message from Prof. L. Z. Timmons, district interscholastic superintendent. The scores have not been finally tallied, Prof. Timmons stated, and the official scores will not be ready for several days, but is the winner in the track events, and Wichita Falls in the literary meet. Ella Merle Mathis, member of the senior class of this city won first honors in the senior girls' declamation contest, and Sam Hedmark won first place in the junior boys' declamation contest. Other names of winners in the events were not available Saturday night, but the list of Wichita Falls champions make the total of scores a heavy one.

Total resources, $6,234,413,000.

Total liabilities, $6,234,413,000.

ADDITIONAL TESTS TO BE DRILLED NEAR THE NOCONA OIL CO.

NOCONA, TEX., April 17.—The Nocona Oil and Gas Company test on the Lemon farm in drilling at 15 feet in the sand in which the good showing of oil and about 2,000,000 feet of gas were found. This effort to get rid of water trouble was abandoned, however, no more water has developed in deeper drilling. This sand was picked up around 2:30 feet. The unusual thickness of this formation is causing considerable favorable comment. The belief is that a field will be opened when the right spot is found on the structure and that this may be an edge well.

It may be stated with reasonable certainty at this writing that two new locations and possibly a third will soon be announced out north, and it is believed that with the care which will be used in making the locations something worth while will be in these efforts to locate the liquid gold as oil is sometimes called.

The Simms Oil Company test on the Hubb Reed farm in section 1476-6w and one and one-fourth miles back from the river on Oklahoma side is drilling below 200 feet and carrying a 1 1/2 inch hole. This is considered a favorable location.

The Empire Gas and Fuel Company test in the southwest corner of section 575-5w started with 20-inch casing and evidently intends to make a deep test. This location is also said to have a favorable geological report.

The well is near the bang of Red River and on the Oklahoma side.

The report is again revived that work is soon to start on the Big Six well located on the Dunn farm about six miles southwest of Nocona. This is considered an attractive location and the progress on this well will be watched with more than the usual interest.

Society and Clubs

DELIGHTFUL AT HOME GIVEN FRIDAY AFTERNOON

A decided innovation in the way of afternoon entertainments was found in the "at home" of Mrs. Norris Martin and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, Friday afternoon at the Martiu home when they presented in an interesting and instructive program Mrs. A. A. Cooke, Dallas club woman, dramatist and entertainer of wide prominence as the feature of the afternoon's entertainment. The direct appeal in the second half of Mrs. Cooke's program, "Timothy's Quest" for more real and better childhood, for genuine child welfare work, was very touching and was considered a genuine message which will have lasting effects.

Supplementing Mrs. Cooke's program were two musical numbers, both voice selections, by Miss Mildred Martin and Mrs. C. Y. Tully. Mrs. Martin introduced Mrs. Cooke, who then began her program. The first half of the program was composed of several miscellaneous interpretations.

A particularly effective floral decoration was formed by a profuse use of Killarney roses and sweet peas and gladioli. A pink and white scheme was used in the reception hall and drawing room, while in the dining room the flowers were used all the color. Bud vases filled with single blossoms, marked the four corners of the table, and the flower holders caught ropes of smiles, at each corner and intermediary points, forming a canopy of green from the light fixture. The centerpiece was a mass of spring blossoms, in gorgeous colorful profusion.

The refreshment plate observed the pink and white color scheme, brick ice cream, angel food cake and candies being served. Plate favors were boutonniere of sweet peas and forget-me-nots.

There was no formal receiving line, nor house party, but Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Hamilton were assisted by several friends in their duties as hostesses, these being: Mesdames C. W. Snider, W. W. Sills, T. P. Adams, Mack Thomas, Edgar Norton, C. R. Hartsock and Misses Mildred Martin and Nora Lindley.

There were one hundred and fifty guests present.

D. D. McIVER CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE OF CONSTABLE

The Times today carries the announcement of the candidacy of D. D. McIver, an old resident of Wichita Falls and for nearly five years a member of the Wichita Falls police force for the office of Constable of Precinct No. 1. Mr. McIver will need no introduction to those residents of Wichita Falls and Wichita County whose residence dates back any appreciable length of time as he is a Texan product and has resided here a great many years, twelve of them in Wichita Falls. During the many years he served as a city policeman he made a host of friends through his sane and sensible, but conscientious and fearless enforcement of the law. He left the police force of his own accord only a few months ago, having established one of the best service records ever possessed by a member of this body. He pledges himself, if selected by the voters in the Democratic primary in July for the office which he seeks, to administer the duties of his new office with the same fairness, strictness and impartiality which he displayed as a member of the city police department.

employer alike is one of the foundation principles on which Americanism rests. "2. We will work for the improvement of industrial relations, the elimination of class prejudice, which generally results from misunderstandings, and the establishment of equitable and uniform working conditions fair alike to employer and employee. "3. It will always use its united influence in opposition to injustice, whether practiced by employers or employees. "4. It stands for the American plan which means absolute fairness to all classes of workers whether union or non-union. It unalterably opposes the "closed shop" which shuts the doors of industry against the American workman who is not a member of a labor organization. "5. It is un-American to interfere with the personal rights and constitutional liberties of the individual. Therefore, we shall oppose the use of force or intimidation by anyone endeavoring to persuade workmen either to join or to resign from a labor organization. "6. We hold that both the employer and the employee are privileged to terminate their relations whenever either choose to do so, unless, of course, there are contracts between them. "7. We do not countenance limitation of the amount of work which may be accomplished in a given time, or the manner in which payment shall be made for such work, whether by hourly rate, piece work, contract or otherwise. We believe that every workman should have an opportunity to earn a wage proportionate to his ability and productive capacity. "8. By encouraging fair dealings and broadminded policies, we, the undersigned, with the cooperation of Wichita Falls thinking public, hope to bring about working conditions and wages which will make Wichita Falls known as a good city in which to work, to live and to raise children. "9. We agree to pay upon demand to the treasurer of the association the amount set opposite our names for the purpose of financing this organization according to our classification in the following schedule of dues: Class 1—Employees $2.00 per year; Class 2—Employers $20.00 to $25.00 per year, based on $1.00 per year for each employe; Class 3—General public, any voluntary amount not less than $1.00 per year. Do You Own a Lease On This Structure?

It's the Best Defined Structure In Wichita County

This structure is located ten miles west of Wichita Falls on the Mattie Parker Estate. The structure is so well defined that you do not need a geologist to point it out to you. It has been mapped and detailed by a number of the best geologists in the country and highly recommended by them for the production of oil.

At this time the Schow Oil Corporation are making a deep test on this structure with a fine equipped outfit of cable tools and are prepared to go after the deep oil if necessary, but they expect to bring in a big gusher around 1750 feet. They are now down 1350 feet and making rapid progress and their well should be brought in within 15 days from this date. This anticline has production on three sides of it, and the K. M. A. Oil field is located only about five miles west of it.

If you are interested in the best defined structure in North Texas, we will gladly show you where, in our opinion is the best investment being offered the public today.

Drive out the Holliday road ten miles, turn to your right and drive through the Parker pasture and over this structure and see it yourself, also, look the equipment over of the the Schow Oil Corporation and decide for yourself whether they mean business or not.

AVAST, THERE! Tear the phone from off the wall. Shut my deak and lock the door; And if any one should call...

We would say there should be a law against working between April 15 and September 15, if such a thick portion of the universe hadn't already put this workless law into effect.

Expect Game Today To be Hard Fought From Call to Play

Today will mark the third game of the opening series of the Texas League season in Wichita Falls.

"Carpenter carries a dinner pail to his work in the movies." At something like $4,000 a week it ought to be a fairly full dinner pail, at any rate.

There are four clubs in the hunt for this honor: Chicago, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and New York.

Alexander and Vaughn will be able to handle around eighty ball games through these eighty games the Cubs will have a winning margin beyond any debate.

Next in reserve the Reds have Ring and Salice; the Giants have Toney and Benton; the Dodgers have Pfeffer and Marquard. The Cubs have no pair to match any one of these.

With this list out of the way the Dodgers have Marmax and Grimes; the Reds, Fisher and Luque; the Giants, Douglas and Winters.

But the pitching strength of these four clubs is so well balanced that nothing short of a microscope can detect any season's difference.

It is a better staff, on copy paper, than Cleveland has and well above anything Chicago, Detroit, Washington or St. Louis has to show.

While the Nineteenth Hole is not as prevalent as it used to be, the species is not yet quite extinct. A perfect approach to a bulging hip pocket is still worth an outside chance.

NAIVE EVENING GOWN

At the recent Fashion Art League Annual Exhibit in Chicago, fashions excelling even those of Paris were shown. Here is an evening gown of black net over a wide hooped skirt with millions of two-tone coral and pale green. The same material is used in the basques of the gown. (Copyright Underwood & Underwood)

J. L. JACKSON JR. WEDS CHARMING AUSTIN GIRL

On Wednesday evening at the University Methodist church in Austin, Texas, the marriage of J. L. Jackson Jr., of this city, to Miss Evelyn Torres Chumney of Austin, was solemnized in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of both bride and groom, including many out-of-town guests. Dr. Madry, of the University church, read the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated for the wedding with the altar banked with palms and ferns, and Easter lilies as the wedding flowers. The bride's girlish beauty was enhanced by her exquisitely designed wedding gown of white satin, with full court train, and full length veil. Her flowers were brides' roses and valley lilies, and she wore the groom's nuptial gift, a string of pearls. The bride's bridesmaids, and her sister, Miss Ruth Chumney, was the maid of honor and her other attendants were sorority sisters of the Tri Delta, while the groom's attendants were Sigma Alpha Sorority members, of university days. William Hoge, formerly of Wichita Falls, was the best man. The bridesmaids were Misses Hazel Edwards of Austin, Evelynne Reams of Dallas and Sunshine Pope of Tyler, and the groomsmen were Hayden Hutson of Dallas, Hugh Fields of San Antonio and Tulane Smith of Mineral Wells. A beautiful spring-like motif was carried out in the bridesmaids' frocks, of pink and green tulle, the maid of honor wearing pink, the next maid entering being gowned in green, and so on, in alternation. The ring bearer, little Miss Margaret Reid of Austin, wore a dainty white frock. The men of the party were all in full dress. Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 1516 Wichita. Then Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left for a short wedding trip to New Orleans, and other southern ports. They will be at home shortly after April 27, in Wichita Falls. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, parents of the groom, and Mrs. Ben M. Small, sister of the groom, attended the wedding from Wichita Falls, and the groom's grandmother and uncle, Mrs. E. Griggs and C. Griggs, from Dallas, and two aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson of Houston, were also present. This wedding, which was preceded by an unusual number of social courtesies for the bride in Austin, where she was a popular university student and member of the younger set, is of especial interest in Wichita Falls.

where the groom has lived since childhood, and where the young people will make their home. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, prominent and long time residents of Wichita Falls. Since his graduation from the University of Texas last year he has been junior partner with his father in real estate and oil operations. The bride was a guest at the Jackson home last summer, and during that visit made many friends in this city who will welcome her as one of the younger matrons. She is also pleasantly remembered by many Wichita Falls students and former students of the university. The young people will have their home at Alma and Elizabeth, an attractive colonial cottage, being practically completed now.

Filmore-Taylor block: Mrs. A. R. Cotton, chairman; Mrs. Howery, vice-chairman; Mrs. F. H. Whaley, secretary.

Filmore-Kemp block: J. D. Robertson, chairman; Mrs. H. M. Harrison, vice chairman; Miss Mary J. Bever, secretary.

LARGE MAJORITY PROPERTY OWNERS SIGN FOR LIGHTING

Nearly three-fourths of the downtown property owners have signed up for street lighting, according to a compilation of figures Saturday, which showed several blocks entirely signed up and a number of others lacking only a few signatures.

Delays in completing the list have been caused not so much by definite refusal to sign, as by difficulty in getting in touch with out of town property owners, or getting in touch with all those interested jointly in certain properties. There have been only two refusals to sign, so far.

Lamar and Scott avenues are more than keeping pace with the older streets, Indiana and Ohio, in the signing, while encouraging reports come from the committees that are canvassing the side streets. Chairman Newton Maer of the general committee hopes to have all blocks completed by the end of this week.

Mrs. Cannon Says It's Wonderful

Mrs. Ada Cannon, a highly esteemed resident of 1109 Crump Street, Fort Worth, Texas, called at the Renfro Drug Store recently, and made the remarkable statement that she has not only gained twenty-eight pounds in weight by the use of six bottles of Orgatone treatment, but that the medicine has also relieved her of a case of nervous indigestion that had made life miserable for her for six years.

When asked if she would be willing for her statement to be published, Mrs. Cannon said: "Yes, indeed, for if it had not been for others allowing the news of their recovery published, I would not have known about Orgatone Treatment and would still be a sick woman, so I feel that I ought to make a statement myself and try to benefit some one else. During those six years everything I ate disagreed with me. My appetite was so poor that I seldom felt like eating and I would suffer for hours after every meal from the gas on my stomach. My head ached all the time and I often got so nervous and dizzy that I would have to lay down. I lost weight continually and my housework was a burden to me. I was so run-down and weak that at times it seemed like I could not go a step further with my work, and while I used most everything I heard of, nothing did me any good."

"I read so many testimonials for Orgatone given by our own Fort Worth people, and their statements sounded so sincere that I made up my mind to try the treatment myself. So I bought a bottle and when I finished taking it there was such a wonderful change in my condition that I bought another, then another, and so on until now I have used six bottles and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. I can eat just anything without the least trouble afterward, and my appetite was never better. My nerves are perfectly calm and I sleep every night just like a child. In fact, I am feeling as strong and well as I did before my troubles started six years ago, and I have actually gained twenty-eight pounds in weight. I now know for myself that Orgatone is wonderful and has worked like magic in my case and I can't praise it too highly for what it has done for me."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young Drug Company and the Miller Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE ON MONDAY

MAE MURRAY and DAVID POWELL in a scene from the GEORGE FITZMAURICE production "ON WITH THE DANCE," A PARAMOUNT-ARTCRAFT PICTURE.

"GIRL FROM MILWAUKEE" IS PLAZA ATTRACTION
This is the title of the opening bill which will be presented by the "Al Shaffer Boys and Girls Musical Comedy Company," which comes to the Plaza theater for a week's engagement.
The Shaffer company is composed of 20 clever performers including a chorus of pretty girls and funny comedians. The chorus is composed of good looking girls possessed with shapely forms and good voices, who can really sing and dance. The costumes are all of the latest design and very pretty and pleasing to the eye.
This show is one lively jingle. As a special feature Mr. Shaffer carries the "Strollers Quartet," this quartet is composed of four young men just out of the service of Uncle Sam and formerly off the Big Time Vaudeville circuit. These boys all have beautiful cultured voices and sing wonderful close harmony together. Any person who likes to hear good singing, especially of the "jazz" variety should not miss hearing the Strollers Quartet. "Baby Margaret," called an American foremost child actress is also with this company. Baby Margaret is only three years of age—and yet sings and dances as well as any adult on the show—her adaptability to the stage is wonderful. George Fares and George Levy, the two comedians with the company, are really funny and guarantee to keep you laughing. Other special features are Miss Dot Moore, LaPetite blues singer; Kala & Kala, harmony singers, and a host of others.
Special scenery is carried for each act every bit as elaborate as that of a special electrical effects. The scenery is all of Mr. Shaffer's own special design and very pleasing to the eye. It would do credit to a company five times as large.
Popular prices will prevail throughout the engagement.

"ON WITH THE DANCE" AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY
"On With the Dance," a Paramount-Artcraft special which opens at the Empress theater Monday, boasts of one of the strongest casts ever assembled for a photoplay in recent years.
George Fitzmaurice, who made the picture for Paramount, evidently spared no effort or expense in the matter of proper stars for the various roles or in the elaborate settings, which make the production very spectacular. The cast is headed by Alma Tall, David Powell and John Milford. Others in the cast are Mae Murray, Richard Schable, Ida Waterman and Zola Talma.
Mr. Fitzmaurice, who has rapidly become one of the most successful motion picture directors in the business, has passed another milestone on his road to fame in this picture. The picture is declared to be out of the ordinary in every respect.
Mr. Fitzmaurice started his cinema career as a dramatist for Pathé. It was there that he met David Berger, who afterwards became his wife and they collaborated on several stories, among them "Via Wireless." His first experience as a director was with a picture called "New York," which was hailed as one of our most sympathetic and accurate portrayals of various phases of metropolitan life that has ever been screened. This film started Fitzmaurice on the way to prominence and his success with pictures starring Florence Reed, Annie Ward and Elsie Ferguson, firmly established his reputation.
"On With the Dance" was worked into a photoplay by David Berger. It is a story of a Russian immigrant girl who is selfish and pleasure-loving. Temporarily yielding to temptation which leads her into New York "night life" with a vengeance, the heroine later redeems herself and works out a happy destiny.

CRITICS ACCLAIM NEW MITCHELL LEWIS DRAMA
Mitchell Lewis, star of "The Barrier," "The Unbeliever," "Code of the Yukon," "Children of Banishment," and scores of other successful plays of the frozen north, will be seen again in "Faith of the Strong," which comes to the Plaza theater Monday and Tuesday. This is Mr. Lewis' latest select picture, and it is declared by many reviewers to be the best work he has ever done for the screen.
In "Faith of the Strong," Mr. Lewis is seen as Paul La Rue, a fearless and lawless member of the lumber camp of Louis Rey. The camp is divided into two factions, one the lawless element ruled by Paul La Rue; the other, the church-supporting population, which lives under the kindly government of the kindly little village minister.
La Rue refuses to believe in God and threatens to burn the minister's church. Shortly after his threat the church is burned, but the deed is done by one of La Rue's enemies. The story takes the audience to the far reaches of civilization. There are fights and deaths, but out of the chaos there appears one person who is able to lead La Rue to the light. In the end the lawless character comes to see the good that is in the world and a happy romance terminates in the greatest happiness La Rue has ever known.

Typical Tropical Scenes in "The Isle of Conquest"
Norma Talmadge's latest screen production, "The Isle of Conquest," a select special production, which opens at the Majestic Monday, carries variety of scenes as well as variety of action. Much of the action takes place on an isolated island in the South seas, and on the island many effective locations figure as backgrounds. Also of particular interest are those scenes taken aboard a yacht. These passages show the yacht torpedoed at sea and the subsequent shipwreck furnishes the incidents through which a man and woman find themselves alone on a small island.
The atmosphere of the picture carries the air of good taste and good breeding at all times, with locale shifting from a fashionable boarding school of Palm Beach, and from other society centers to a tropical isle.
Ford motors overhauled for $35. 1306 Holliday. 319-51p.

FIRST WESLEY GIRLS ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON

Friday afternoon the First Church Wesley Girls entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the First M. E. Church South, in honor of the Floral Heights Wesley Girls. The luncheon tables, which were arranged in a long cross, were exquisitely decorated with sweet peas and pansies and similar sprays, intermingled with velvety purple and gold panicles radiated from the floral centerpieces, down the center of each of the four cross pieces. Dainty nut cups held salted almonds and also marked the place covers, bearing the names of the guests. A tempting three-course menu was served. A short program was given during the course of the luncheon, the first being a toast to the Floral Heights Wesley Girls, given by Mrs. E. C. Huckabee. This was responded to by Mrs. Leon Deaton, president of the Floral Heights class, and following this the Floral Heights class rose and gave their class song, an original arrangement to the tune of "Low Lonesome Trail," providing a pleasing surprise feature of the program.

MRS. WILLIAM BONNER ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Numbered among the most delightful of the numerous hospitalities that have made the spring an unusually gay season socially was Mrs. William Bonner's afternoon at bridge on Tuesday, with which she complimented her house guests, her sisters, Miss Nellie McKibben of Vernon and Mrs. Robert J. Stewart of Oklahoma City, and Miss Mary Bonner of Homer, La., Judge Bonner's sister. The party was given at the attractive new Bonner home, 1401 Buchanan, and Easter lilies and pink sweet peas were used to achieve a most attractive floral scheme of decoration, and these flowers furnished the pink and white color note which was featured in the game accessories and in the tempting two course luncheon which marked the game's close. Table favors, French novelty dresser bottles, glasses, and French hand-made flowers, were won by Mrs. Peery Hancock, Mrs. Lester T. Burns and Miss Helen Stone and Lillian Fain. The high score prize, silken lingerie, was won by Mrs. L. B. Fain, and the hostess remembered each of her three honorees with dainty silken lingerie. Those enjoying Mrs. Bonner's hospitality were: Mesdames Carter, Gregory, Lester Burns, F. D. Woodruff, Frank Terry of Fort Worth, Peery Hancock, Wayne Hammon, Harold Hanes, Leonard French, H. H. Temple, Bentley Bacon, L. B. Fain, Clarence Moore, George Works, Misses Ruby Moore, Lillian Fain, Ballard of Fort Worth, Lelia Beall Anderson and Helen Stone.

DR. REED TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION AS ALDERMAN OF CITY

Dr. J. F. Reed, for nearly 16 years of almost continuous service a member of the city council, and holding the longest service record of any who have ever served in that body, Saturday morning tendered his resignation, giving as his reason that he believed that he had served such a long time in the position that he was entitled to retire and give place to some one who had not served so long.

Although the council met to consider minor details in connection with the contract for the purchase of the water system by the city, for which bonds have been voted, and which is still pending, no action was taken on Dr. Reed's resignation.

Walter S. Curlee, mayor pro tem, presided at the Saturday meeting in the absence of Mayor Cline, who is representing the local Chamber of Commerce at the convention of the Texas Chamber of Commerce at San Antonio.

THIRTEEN BLOCK PARTIES SCHEDULED MONDAY NIGHT

Thirteen block parties are to be held tomorrow night in District "B" and the meetings are expected to give that district a big lead over the others. Parties will be held in each of the blocks from Brook west to Grant, between Ninth and Tenth streets; representatives of these blocks met last Monday night with Mrs. J. A. Kemp and perfected plans for the meetings.

Mrs. J. A. Kemp, district chairman and it is understood that a written or verbal invitation is not to be used for the notices in the papers being all the invitation anyone needs.

that during the war the former Texas senator failed to make a single speech for a Liberty bond campaign, for the Red Cross, for any of the patriotic drives which furnished the stay-at-home patriots opportunity for service from the beginning of the war until long after the armistice.

Port Arthur, Texas, has made the biggest gain yet, we believe, of any town that had 5,000 population or more in 1910. We are still willing to wager a soft drink that, when the returns are all in, Wichita will make the greatest percentage gain of any city in the United States that had 5,000 people in 1910.

APPARENT FRUITS OF GERMAN PROPAGANDA.

German propaganda, according to appearance, has been much more effective since the armistice than it was before and during the war. The discord now prevalent among the allies is not only threatening to nullify the victory won by the allied armies in the field, but conceivably it may result in a renewal of the war and ultimately a reversal of the verdict at arms.

The treaty of Versailles was opposed, of course, by selfish political interests from other motives, and many people opposed it from deep convictions, but whatever the nature of the opposition, it has been craftily and sedulously encouraged by Germany's secret friends and agents.

SUNDAY, APRIL 18, 1920. Although the Sun is in benefic aspect, this is read as rather a threatening day, since Uranus, Mars and Saturn are all in evil place.

The conjunction of Jupiter and Neptune on the cusp of the ninth is held to foreshadow religious troubles that will be taken to the courts. On this day military matters will contemplate increase of world difficulties instead of the spread of peace.

Political affairs will become exceedingly complex as Uranus will encourage diverse and conflicting personalities.

AN AWFUL NUISANCE. A friend of ours who lives out in the country has had a new electric pump installed to pump the water from his well into a tank in his cellar, from which the house is supplied with running water.

This electric pump is a wonderful contrivance. It is automatic--when the water in the tank falls below a certain point, the pump knows it by instinct and begins to pump of its own accord.

"You had to push a button," explained our country friend, "and start it going when the water ran low and stop it when you had enough. Any danger of its overflowing? No, there was a safety valve that would stop it if you forgot, but you always had to start it yourself. An awful nuisance."

SENATOR SHEPPARD DISCLOSES OFFICIAL RECORD OF BAILEY AS MEMBER OF HOUSE AND SENATE

Special to The Times. WASHINGTON, April 17.—In an open letter addressed to C. A. Sweeton, chairman of the administration...

My Dear Sir and Friend: In reply to your letter of recent date, I have already issued a statement covering the general phases of the so-called Bailey movement in Texas against the democratic record of the past seven years...

Federal Prohibition Amendment. On May 13, 1908, during the 60th congress, first session, Mr. Bailey said in the senate: "But it must be apparent to the senator from Ohio that the people of Pennsylvania cannot under our system of government grant a charter which will inflict upon the people of other states a great and irreparable injury..."

repeatedly increasing menace to the other states. Texas ought not to say what New York shall do. Mr. Bailey is now saying "New York shall not do that which menaces the morals, imperils the health, impedes the progress and corrupts the government of Texas..."

Concurrent Jurisdiction. Let me say here that the federal prohibition amendment in no sense nullifies genuine prohibition laws like those of Texas. It invites the federal and the state governments with concurrent authority to enforce prohibition. The supreme court of the United States has held that this amendment gives congress the power arbitrarily to determine what is intoxicating liquor...

Mr. Bailey's Legislative Record. Mr. Bailey is again ascribing to democratic leadership in Texas, asking that the record of the democracy under Woodrow Wilson be repudiated and condemned. The question naturally arises, what is there in Mr. Bailey's record to justify the people in turning to that?

sites on public lands needed for irrigation purposes; of a bill providing transportation for American citizens fleeing from Mexico; of a bill incorporating an old ladies' home, of a bill amending the act creating a federal court at Sherman, and a few pension bills. Add an occasional amendment to river and harbor and public buildings bills, an amendment including express companies in the term common carriers, and we have a record of legislative accomplishment hardly on the level of the ordinary.

Mr. Bailey and the Income Tax. Mr. Bailey is quoted in the Dallas News (April 8) as saying at San Antonio last week (April 7) that he forced through a republican congress the first income tax law. The only income tax law enacted during Mr. Bailey's service was passed by a democratic congress in 1894 as a part of the Wilson tariff act. It is true a republican congress during the first session of the 61st congress submitted the income tax amendment to the federal constitution, while Mr. Bailey was a member of the senate. During that session three resolutions for an income tax amendment were offered by senators...

Recent and pending measures. We need attack no more on the recent and pending measures. These some might give a name to. They are: a bill to amend the constitution to provide for the relief of people who were distressed and suffering by flood, famine and other calamities. And yet it is well known that before the present session the federal government and the federal treasury in many calamities that have approached national proportions, suffering and death would have resulted from an enormous scale.

His Bankruptcy Bill. In the 52d congress Mr. Bailey introduced a bill for a uniform system of bankruptcy, a bill which he introduced in several succeeding congresses, but which never became a law. This bill received the following comment from the house judiciary committee of the 52d congress, which committee had for its chairman David B. Culbertson of Texas: "There seems to be reason to fear that under its provisions all debtors, the dishonest as well as the honest, would be discharged from their debts. The fact that it provides only voluntary bankruptcy is not the sole object of the bill. We think an opportunity to deliberately prepare for bankruptcy to the detriment of his creditors without giving them any right or opportunity to interfere and protect their interests. This possibility would impair the credit of all honest debtors and be of untold injury to them."

First Applause From Republicans. The first applause he ever received in congress was from the republican side. Discussing and opposing, on Jan. 29, 1892, (Cong. Record, 52d Cong., 1st Sess.), a report from the democratic rules committee making private the reports of the rules committee in order to expedite action and curb filibustering, he said: "Sir, if you adopt this rule you are estopped hereafter to criticize the 51st congress and the distinguished gentlemen who presided over its deliberations."

Perpetual Prophet of Woe. It was during his first term in congress, nearly 28 years ago, that Mr. Bailey gave evidence of the circumstantial habit of seeing the constitution in ruins, which has characterized him ever since. On April 28, 1892, he said to the house that the constitution had been "rent and torn with almost a thing of shreds and patches." (Cong. Rec., 52d Cong., 1st Sess., April 28, 1892. A number of the hot-a-said of him on Aug. 5, 1892 (Cong. Rec., 52d Cong., 1st Sess.).

Opposed to Public Relief Funds for Public Districts. Also it was early in his career that he gave evidence of a blind adherence to his own so-called views that he would sacrifice men, women and children, if need be, to maintain these views. He said to the house of the 54th congress on Dec. 16, 1897: "Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to say that I have never found myself willing to be charged by my constituents with the sacrifice of any man, woman or child, if need be, to maintain these views. I have been a member of it to provide for the relief of people who were distressed and suffering by flood, famine and other calamities."

Leadership Did Not Rescue House From Republicans. He was leader of the democratic side during the 55th congress, but his leadership did not rescue the democratic side in the elections for the succeeding house. A number of years later Champ Clark's leadership was one of the principal factors in rescuing the democracy to control of the house. It was during this congress that he described the democratic party which Cleveland was a great and a noble leader of the party in 1877. Now he attacks the party which he once led. He said: "The democratic party is the only party of Cleveland since the Civil War. His Votes for Free Wool, Free Coal and Hitting Connections of Party Loyalty. It was on the occasion last mentioned, that of his speech in the house on July 19, 1897, that he denounced a Cleveland heresy, a protective measure in reality, a violation of the time-honored principles and traditions of the democratic party. When it was pointed out by McMillan of Tennessee that Mr. Bailey voted for free wool and free iron ore in the 53d congress, Mr. Bailey replied: "When I cast those votes the free wool and iron ore were the only commodities which I voted for. I voted for the free wool and iron ore because I believed in the individual judgment of the democratic party. I believe in the individual judgment of the democratic party. I believe in the individual judgment of the democratic party."

system of rural free delivery, he said in the senate: "Twenty million dollars for what? To carry the mail to people who prefer to go after it. I live in a very excellent town of 8,000, and everybody goes to go to the postoffice once a day. Yet you have carriers to carry the mail to them though they prefer to go after it."

His Opposition to the Pure Food Bill. On Feb. 21, 1906 (Cong. Rec., 59th Cong., first session), he was one of the senators who voted against the pure food bill, a bill aimed at transacting an interstate commerce of adulterated or misbranded, or poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines, liquors, etc. Sixty-three senators voted for it, the measure being recognized as one of such merit that it secured practically unanimous support.

What a difference between this attitude and that of other days when he would give his judgment to his platform. He said to the house on the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building: "An exhibition of his willingness to sacrifice moral interests to his conception of expediency may be seen in his opposition to the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building. He said to the house on the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building: "An exhibition of his willingness to sacrifice moral interests to his conception of expediency may be seen in his opposition to the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building."

reference to the bill for compulsory education in the District of Columbia: "I simply am unwilling that any bill establishing a compulsory system of education shall pass a body of which I am a member without my saying that I am opposed to it."

His Opposition to the Pure Food Bill. On Feb. 21, 1906 (Cong. Rec., 59th Cong., first session), he was one of the senators who voted against the pure food bill, a bill aimed at transacting an interstate commerce of adulterated or misbranded, or poisonous or deleterious foods, drugs, medicines, liquors, etc. Sixty-three senators voted for it, the measure being recognized as one of such merit that it secured practically unanimous support.

What a difference between this attitude and that of other days when he would give his judgment to his platform. He said to the house on the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building: "An exhibition of his willingness to sacrifice moral interests to his conception of expediency may be seen in his opposition to the measure stopping sale of intoxicating liquors in U. S. Export Building."

CONSIDERABLE ACTIVITY MANIFEST AROUND THE VERNON SIGLER WELL; NUMBER OF DERRICKS ARE ERECTED

VERNON, TEX., April 12.—Since the Sigler well blew in March 24, the roads leading to the Sigler well, 10 miles south of Vernon, have been thronged with automobiles, trucks and all modes of transportation, and the boom excitement of the Fowler, Ed. Kourmet and Burk-Wagoner days is again in evidence and revived to its fullest extent. The last few days have been so filled with excitement that few have stopped to consider what it means to open a new field in Wilbarger county.

The announcement made by Lloyd Sigler that development work would be pushed fast, notwithstanding litigation, is received with much joy and business in leases has immediately picked up and there is a general revival of optimistic spirit, giving great stimulus to leasing activity.

The Sigler Oil Co. has two rotary rigs en route to their lease. Derrick material and lumber for construction of bank houses and other buildings is being unloaded. One well will be drilled about 2,000 feet eastward, and the other about the same distance north of the discovery well. The locations follow the structure of the discovery well. Two additional wells will be put down, in addition to the above, as quick as material can be rushed to the sites.

Within sight of the structure of the discovery well, there are five derricks and three of the wells have spudded in, with more to spud in this week. Construction of new derricks is in being this week. The roads leading to the Sigler well are crowded with trucks and wagons loaded with heavy material for building derricks, drilling machinery, etc., and the scene is an animated one.

About a mile north of the Sigler well, the Gulf Production Co. has a derrick completed and will begin drilling operations once.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. has spudded in their test on the Green farm, near Pease river. They have brought $85,000 worth of acreage on Pease river.

The following drilling report is prepared through the Wilbarger County Abstract Company, by A. C. McConnell, up to April 12:

Complaints alleging "white-capping" were filed Friday in Justice J. Arrington's court against R. L. Brown and Leonard Brown, brothers, Brady Burditt, and Avie Foots. For five years he was one of the Texas rangers and was in service in many sections of the state always acquitting himself well. ### TATUM ARRESTED SECOND TIME ON MURDER CHARGE

R. T. Tatum, proprietor of a grocery establishment at Springtown, was again arrested at 3 o'clock Saturday morning by Sheriff Bob McFall, following a more thorough investigation of the death of S. L. Stringfellow, an oil well driller. A complaint against Tatum has been filed against Tatum in Justice R. V. Gwinn's court.

Tatum was arrested Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff A. A. Willey, following a shooting affair on the streets of Springtown. County officials first agreed that the case was purely a matter of self defense and granted Tatum bond to the extent of $500. Additional investigation was made Friday by District Attorney Fletcher Jones, assisted by Charles L. Francis, of the law firm of Weeks, Morrow, Weeks & Francis, and resulted in Tatum being again placed under arrest. Preliminary hearing will be conducted Monday.

EYES

Most people, you included, perhaps, are extremely negligent in the care of their eyes, and very culpably so in regard to their children's eyes. The public generally has no idea of the number and variety of present day eye defects and often resort to glasses selected at random which are entirely unsuited to the conditions of the eye. Many glasses selected in this way which "seem to suit exactly" at first, prove most injurious and often result in permanent injury. Come and talk over your eye trouble with us.

LEWIS AND HIS STAR ESSEX ATTRACTS BIG CROWDS IN THE CITY

Driving a star covered Essex roadster, "Dave Lewis," one of the most daring of the younger generation of racing drivers, attracted more attention on his visit here last week than a circus parade. Crowds surrounded the travel-stained car wherever it stopped and its driver was kept busy answering question and shaking hands with his many admirers.

Lewis, who holds every world's track record from one to one hundred miles beside many road records, is making the trip overland from Detroit to the Mexican border, despite the almost impassible condition of the roads in many sections. The Essex he is driving is an extra duplicate of the one with which he set a new world's long distance endurance record on the Cincinnati speedway last December when he covered 2627 miles in 50 hours at a speed of more than 60 miles an hour.

"It is the greatest car I have ever driven," he declared enthusiastically. "It's quick getaway, power and speed almost surpass belief. In addition it is so easy to drive and its riding qualities are so wonderful that it eliminates the fatigue usually encountered in traveling over rough roads. Another advantage is its simplicity which does away with the necessity for frequent mechanical adjustments."

"Because of the terrible condition of the roads, this Essex has been called upon to withstand a terrific amount of abuse since I left Detroit. But the motor has never faltered and it is running as sweetly today as it did when I started out."

AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY DEPRIVED OF PIONEER

The passing of Elmer Apperson deprived the automobile industry of one of its pioneers. It was in 1893 that Mr. Apperson and his brother, Edgar, built with their own hands the first mechanically successful automobile—the little car which now stands in the Smithsonian institute at Washington.

That the pioneering spirit is an Apperson heritage, appears from the fact that Daniel Boone, famous blazer of trails westward from Kentucky, was Mr. Apperson's great, great grandfather. Earlier, the first of the family to arrive in this country from England—Dr. James Apperson, who settled in the county of New Kent, Virginia in 1668—was by that fact likewise a pioneer. Mr. Apperson was also a second cousin of the late Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

Mr. Apperson was born on a farm near Kokomo, Indiana, in 1861. In 1888 he established a small machine shop—the Riverside Machine Works at Kokomo. Associated with him in the shop's operation was his younger brother, Edgar.

In that shop the pioneer, successful road car was built by the Apperson brothers. That little hand-made car was no more comparable with the modern car. But it had a neat, tidy body, and its one-cylinder engine did transmit sufficient power through its driving chain to drive it triumphantly.

From that beginning Mr. Apperson was a consistent leader in the development and refinement of automobiles, both as to their mechanism and as to their body design. Following the one-cylinder engine's perfection came the two-cylinder opposed type and the appreciation of the significance of balance of moving parts. Other types followed, and finally the present day eight-cylinder V-type motor.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Don't fail to give proper warning when attempting to pass a machine from the rear.

Brake that are unevenly adjusted will throw a vehicle sideways out of its track.

Rolling in a solution of washing soda and water is the best method for cleaning spark plugs that have become fouled with oil.

Lined oil mixed with a small amount of graphite is an excellent lubricant for door hinges and latches, which seldom receive attention in this way.

The battery and battery compartment should always be kept clean and dry and the terminals clean, bright and well covered with vaseline to prevent corrosion.

Tires should be given a daily washing to remove all particles of mud. This not only lengthens the life of the tires but enables easy detection of small cuts and abrasions.

To get the longest mileage out of tires, see that they are the proper size for the rim and see that they fit snugly. Rims are made for certain tires and when the tire is forced on the wrong rim, the fabric cannot pull true, causing it to break down sooner.

The frequent slamming of doors on a car is a practice which should be avoided.

at all times. The persistent loosening of the doors racks the hinges and sags the door until it becomes wobbly and hangs loosely.

Batteries that run down in two or three weeks should be given immediate attention by an expert. The cause of such trouble can be traced to the charging rate of the generator being too low for ordinary driving purposes, and by allowing such a condition to exist may result in a burned out generator.

To prevent pecking wear on a tube, it should be rolled flat with soft cloth between the layers. The roll should then be placed in a thick cloth bag with the stem protruding and the mouth of the bag be tied around the stem. It is also a good plan to put talcum powder in the bag.

On a good road surface, with the brakes working properly, you should be able to stop your car when traveling ten miles an hour in about nine feet. When running twice that fast, it will take four times the distance to stop or around thirty-seven feet. While running at forty miles an hour it will take close to 150 feet.

In fitting a new carburetor be sure that there is no looseness to cause vibration, because if there is, a broken flange will be the inevitable result. Vibration is present a small iron bracket should be installed from a nut on the engine frame to the instrument to steady it, also taking the strain off the intake pipe.

It is far better to use metal terminals on battery wires than to merely wind the bare ends around the binding posts; the special terminals hold better, look better and give better contact. If no terminals are used however, the wire should be passed around the post so that the tightening of the binding nut will tend to wrap it more closely together, rather than unwind it.

Poor engine operation at low speeds is a common complaint among car owners and the usual cause lies in the carburetion system, though the exact location will differ. Sometimes an air leak through the carburetor out of adjustment so that an insufficient amount of gas is present in the mixture. On the other hand, when the magnets has weakened, magnets and spark gaps of the plugs are a little wide, the combustion produces low speed misfiring almost every time. With a battery system, the owner should first inspect the carburetion system and if that fails to disclose the cause, the ignition system should be tackled next.

The average depth of the Pacific ocean is said to be a mile greater than any other ocean.

Help Stations for Airplanes.

A regular passenger and mail-service is being maintained between London and Paris. All along this route the airplane is to all intents and purposes never out of sight or hearing of someone in case of accidents, and perhaps the most marvelous safeguard is the wonderful telephone the official cross-channel airplanes carry. By means of this telephone the pilot can call up any station within a 50-mile radius, and if he is in trouble tell the station what the matter is and where he is likely to land. Before he has landed, preparations are made to help him. The first ground station on the French coast is Marquise, and signals have been taken there from pilots half an hour before they have arrived. The airplane telephone is only in its early stages yet, but it will not be very long before pilots will be able to speak up to 250 miles and always be in touch of some airdrome or other.

Why the Cleveland Six is Multiplying Its Friends

The Cleveland Six is making new friends every day, thousands of them every month, because it brings them so much more than they had even dared to expect,—so much more of the pleasure of driving, and the ease of driving and of the comfort of riding.

The motor of the Cleveland Six—designed by the Cleveland company's own engineers, tested in road work and engineering shops for three years before being offered to the public, and now built in the company's own great factory—is something new to countless thousands of motorists who prefer the light six type of car.

They have never driven behind just such a motor as this. The wonders of its pick-up and flexibility are exceptional and the brakes sure. Low underslung spring construction and soft restful cushions give the Cleveland unusual qualities of comfort.

Since first sent out on its journey into the big world of motordom, last July, the Cleveland Six has made friends, and multiplied them. Thousands of owners know what a good car it is and they tell their friends.

CHALMERS Gets Maximum Power from Present Day Gas

OBVIOUSLY, the problem of gasoline is getting more and more serious, and obviously, too, gasoline is going down and down in grade.

Cars are not performing the way they once did.

Fuel experts say there is just as much power in a low grade "gas" as in a high grade "gas."

But the problem is to get out this power.

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn in a Chalmers perform this task.

Hot Spot heats and "breaks up" the heavy, raw particles of gas like water striking a hot stove.

A fine vapor "cloud" is formed, which is the very "food" the cylinders need, and while the "gas" is in that fine condition Ram's-horn rushes it to the cylinders.

The results are well known to those who drive a Chalmers. This action, "snap," absence of vibration are common to a Chalmers, but it has none of those troubles common to cars whose engines are not designed to accept and "digest" the low grade "gas" of the day.

Those troubles are hard starting, frequent fouling of spark plugs, burned bearings, scored cylinders, abbreviated mileage from "gas." Ride behind the wheel of a Chalmers and you will agree that it is one of the few great cars of the world.

Great Britain has only two match factories.

Tobacco growing is one of Paraguay's most important industries.

It is estimated that nearly 400,000 persons are on strike in France.

In Paris, Brazil, 96 per cent of motors in use are of American manufacture.

The more than 100 sawmills located in Burma, India, employ about 5,000 workers.

A single bakery in London bakes over 7,000,000 two-pound loaves of bread a year.

Twenty-five per cent of the workers in the British glass industry are Belgians.

A 5,000,000-ton coal field has been discovered in the southern part of South America.

More rugs and carpets are manufactured in Belgium than in Great Britain and Ireland combined.

A relatively small percentage of white labor is employed in the mining industry of South Africa.

At the end of 1917, Germany had more than 33,000 women metal workers, all of whom were organized.

A preliminary estimate of the amount of lumber cut in British Columbia last year places the figures at 1,700,000,000 feet.

Owing to the shortage of coal the glass industry in Bavaria is badly crippled, and many plants have been compelled to close down.

Sixty million chairs have been manufactured in Gardner, Mass., since the industry was first established in that town, a century ago.

Nearly all the cities and towns of Switzerland, and even many of the small villages, have technical schools specializing in watchmaking.

In Germany skilled workmen formerly occupied in the manufacture of arms and ammunition are now being trained to turn out high-grade parts for automobiles.

Great Britain has recently legislated into existence permanent machinery for the voluntary arbitration of trade disputes through what is known as the Industrial Courts act.

Philadelphia leads the world in the manufacture of woolen goods, carpets, textiles, locomotives, steel ships, storage batteries, leather, street cars, saws, dental instruments, hosiery, talking machines and felt hats.

One of the largest London dry goods merchants, with a view of doing his bit toward overcoming the housing shortage and also to enable his own employees to secure houses at reasonable rates, and with no desire to make even a penny profit, recently acquired a large tract of land with the intention of building thereon several hundred dwelling houses which could be let at reasonable rates.

Canada's shipbuilding industry now employs about 35,000 men, and approximately 25,000 are engaged in the manufacture of marine equipment and supplies. It is claimed that the industry represents an investment of about $10,000,000 of capital, and that more than 50 per cent of this progress has been achieved within the last four or five years.

There are now in this country 233 shoe-producing passenger automobiles in more than 400 different styles and models. To provide these cars with tires will mean the importation of from 15,000 to 20,000 tons of rubber, 70 per cent of which will be made into 40,000,000 casings and an equal number of tires.

Of the 3400 persons employed in mercantile establishments in Virginia, 1207 of more than 60 per cent, receive less than $12 per week; 710, or nearly 50 per cent, receive less than $10 per week; 233 receive less than $8 per week and 11 receive under $4 per week.

Statistics of the second annual census of South African industries for the year 1914-15, show that during that period there were 4391 establishments, as compared with 3293 recorded in the first census for the year 1913-14. The number of employees, which in 1913-14 was 101,100, increased to 121,847 in 1914-15. Of these, 48,100 were Europeans, 12,219 Africans, 18,213 natives, blacks, and 13,700 others, colored. The increase was more largely made up of native blacks than of any other of the above mentioned classes.

Since 1914 the number of factories in Victoria has, according to figures supplied by the Australian government statisticians, increased from 4008 to 5770, or about 44 per cent, while the average number of hands employed has increased 60 per cent, and now totals about 121,847. The value of the plant and machinery installed in the factories has increased to $12,749,000, or about 100 per cent, more than the value 14 years ago, and the value of the output has risen from $11,323,285 to $38,750,190, or about 241 per cent, while wages paid have increased about 194 per cent.

According to returns from 33 trade unions in Germany, covering in the aggregate 4,246,594 members, 110,636 (2.6 per cent) were out of employment at the end of October, 1919, as compared with 1.1 per cent in September of the same year and 0.7 per cent in October, 1918. Unemployment among men increased from 1.7 per cent in September to 2.3 per cent in October, chiefly in consequence of the suspension of building operations and the unsuccessful strike of the Berlin Metal Workers. Among women unemployment decreased from 4.1 per cent in September to 2.9 per cent in October, principally an account of the improvement in the textile industry.

According to the investigation of the Labor Inspection Service, which ignored production figures, the labor employed in all other Belgian industries in December, 1918, represented 70 per cent of the 1913 total of 415,743 workmen. Half of the establishments covered were employing at least 75 per cent of their pre-war personnel. In the food industries 89 per cent of the former personnel was employed, in the construction industries 86 per cent, in the glass industries 81 per cent and in the paper trade 78 per cent. Other percentages based on 1914 employment figures are: Chemical industries, 74 per cent; ceramic products, 71 per cent; furniture and woodworkings, 68 per cent; textiles, 61 per cent (general average reduced by slump in the linen industry); tanneries, 58 per cent. Transportation means figures are: Chemical industries, 74 per cent; various kinds engaged 7 per cent more operatives than in 1913, although the traffic on the state railways is by no means equal to the pre-war volume.

West Virginia has 247 coal mines.

There are no soap factories in Jamaica.

There are 43 needle factories in the United States.

Before the war there were 218 sugar factories in France, while now there are only 51.

More than 40,000 persons are employed in the hosiery and underwear industries in New York state.

As the result of dwindling of immigration America is more than 4,000,000 men short in industries.

The Factory Workers' Federation in Germany doubled its female membership during the last year.

Paper mill workers in Holyoke, Mass., have voted to accept a 11 1/2 per cent increase in wages.

Carpet factories in Philadelphia manufacture enough carpet covering in yards each year to encircle the globe.

The northern and northeastern districts of France include the principal centers of the woolen industry in that country.

Pay increases of about 100 per cent, an eight-hour day and a day week will be asked by street railway employees in Rochester, N. Y.

At the end of 1918, there were in Victoria, 7844 factories employing 101,245 persons, and 30,300 shops, employing 37,530 persons.

Iron and steel mills in Coatesville, Pa., employ more than half the number of workers engaged in all lines of occupation in Chester county, Pennsylvania.

A New England shoe company made 161 per cent more profit last year than the year before, the increase in sales being only 21 per cent.

The unemployed in Germany have received in the form of unemployment relief from the revolution up to October 1, 1919, a total sum of 1,460,000,000 marks.

One hundred million wood boxes were required to pack last year's output of the ongoing industries in the United States, which was estimated at 1,000,000,000 cans.

Negotiations are said to be under way with Great Britain for a loan of 5,000,000 pounds to be used for construction in the devastated districts of Belgium.

In New Haven, Conn., organized carpenters have rejected an offer of employers to raise wages to 40 cents an hour. The carpenters presented their demand for $1 an hour several months ago.

The International Harvester Company, acting for its employees, is buying 15,000 suits of men's clothes manufactured in England and intended by the British government to be sold to demobilized soldiers. The suits will be delivered in Chicago and will cost the employees about $11 each. American-made suits of a like quality would cost $30.

Would Play on World's Top

By JANE DIXON.

Here is a man who wants to play around for four years on the top of the world!

His name is Capt. Robert A. Bartlett. He is one of the few survivors of those picturesque and powerful Vikings who roamed the northern seas with all the grace and abandon of a debutante's making her morning constitutional along the fashionable lengths of Fifth avenue.

Captain Bartlett does not care for Fifth avenue. It irks him!

He scoffs at the endless reach of virgin snow with no single speck of factory soot to mar the throbbing whiteness of it.

Wouldn't you like to get up there around the North Pole and do some real work?

That's nothing," says he, "to a man who has been used to cutting up his evening papers by the light of the aurora borealis."

The city, with its interminable chorus of cracked voices, its crushes and grines and excruciations, is disgusting to get on the Norseman's nerves.

He wishes to feel the bitter bite of the polar wind, to cast his eye along the endless reach of virgin snow with no single speck of factory soot to mar the throbbing whiteness of it.

PLANS ARCTIC TRIP

Capt. Robert A. Bartlett, skipper of Peary ship when pole was found.

His trip would cost $200,000. The first $100,000 has already been pledged. As soon as I reach the $150,000 mark I am going to start building the ship.

"She's going to be some ship, too. We aim to build her in Seattle. One of the cleverest of our naval architects has drawn the plans. She will be 155 feet long, 42 beam, 16 draw, movable propeller and rudder. I have the engine for her, a Bollinger oil engine, which I believe to be the answer to the fuel and safety problem.

"Her crew will consist of 10 men, scientists and all-around fishermen who can stand the gaff. The scientists will chart land and sea, take soundings, record magnetic observations, gather flora and fauna from the bottom of the ocean and note animal life.

"We'd make the dash early in June, go up around Alaska, through Behring straits and get as far over as we could before we freeze in. Then we'd drift until the next summer and so on. We might get out at the end of the third year, and you would hear from us somewhere in the vicinity of Greenland. We would thus have made a circle around the pole.

"Our great advantage over all other expeditions would be the flying boat. There'll be two Curtiss planes carried on the ship. When the weather permits, which will be practically all of the summer months, these planes, with a pilot and an observer each, will circle above the unexplored country, make landings when possible and communicate with us by wireless. The flying boat is the thing to help us win.

"The question of food and clothes ejected itself into the equation. 'Fahaw — an' who'd be worryin' about such trifles these days," scoffed the skipper. "Wheat with vegetables pressed so's you can carry a whole bushel of potatoes in your vest pocket, there's nothing to it. Hydrated fruits and vegetables are good as new and can be carried in very little space. No trouble at all to carry supplies for four years. No bother with meat. We can get all we want up there—veal, bear, birds and eggs. A large, juicy bear steak is a very fine piece of meat. And there'd be no pretenses to deprive us of our fresh eggs for breakfast.

"Clothes? Well, I figure as how we'd be perfectly safe in leaving our swallowtails behind, along with our white flannel pants. Instead we'd have bearskin trousers, sheepskin stockings, bearskin boots, reindeer roasts or jackets of blue fox, which are light and warm for fast traveling over the snow and ice. There'd be sledges dogs of course, at least 50 of them. Without these 'hushies' of the north a man's life is worth no more than a bad farthing.

"A woman's opportunity. 'A false trip, to be sure,' he chuckled, 'and all that's lackin' is the money for the ticket.' Now then, where are the women? Until now all the glory of exploration has gone to men. Queen Isabella of Spain was the sole exception to this rule, and the result is the United States of America.

Women are participating in the politics and the protection, in the glory and gain of their countries. They stand side by side with men. Why not give as men have given? There are women of vast wealth under the Stars and Stripes. Would it not be fitting that one of these women should contribute the money for this polar expedition, erect an everlasting monument to herself and to all womanhood and plant the flag of her country on a million and a half miles of unexplored land, holding in its frozen fastnesses who knows what?

Peerless Motor Car Bodies are Peerless-Built

A custom automobile body builder, famous throughout America and Europe for the excellence of his work, recently named the Peerless as one of three standard motor car bodies whose construction had his unqualified approval.

He had visited the great Peerless body-building departments, and had observed not only the correct design but the honesty with which worth was wrought into every detail.

Peerless is committed to the policy of building its own motor car bodies and has been for nearly twenty years. To this policy is ascribable the excellent appearance of Peerless cars after long service and, partly, also their high resale value.

The bodies, open and enclosed for the Two-Power Ranger are particularly comfortable—particularly satisfactory in every detail. The attractive, new four-door, four-seater is typical.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?

A Discussion of the Defeat of the Peace Treaty and Its Far-reaching Consequences, Especially in Relation to the Presidential Campaign.

By William Jennings Bryan
Copyright 1920, Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The failure of the senate to ratify the treaty and make the United States a member of the league of nations raises a number of very important issues—much more important than the determining of party responsibilities for the defeat. While an effort will be made by party leaders on each side to throw the blame for the defeat upon the opposite party, these efforts cannot divert attention from the far-reaching questions presented for discussion—questions of such vital character and of such absorbing interest that the voters will resent any attempt to make the decision depend upon party considerations. Party considerations, while operative in ordinary times and ordinary subjects, not only lose their force in the presence of national crises, but are precluded by the very nature of the contest. No one can stoop to partisan arguments when the nation is in peril and the welfare of the world at stake.

The defeat of the ratifying resolution threatens a postponement of the serious consideration of domestic problems. There are many readjustments made necessary by the war and questions matured in the heat of the conflict are now ripe for action. Those who are especially interested in these questions, will protest with increasing earnestness against the ignoring of domestic subjects of special interest to large classes and of general interest to the whole public.

Living Cost Issue.

For instance, the extortions of the profiteers are being better and better understood and the impudence of those who for their own selfish ends, attempt to throttle legislation and to obstruct remedial measures arouses increasing indignation. The breadwinner complains a drain upon his family income which he can not ignore or even consider with patience, and now that woman, the financial manager of the family, is to be given the ballot, we may expect a very critical and comprehensive examination into the subject. The profiteers may be willing to concede the right of themselves to the phraseology of reservations but their victims, much more numerous than the beneficiaries, will not be willing to change the subject. The attempt to make a party issue of the treaty reservations will therefore be irritating rather than successful.

It will be difficult to persuade the laboring man that his interests should be made subordinate to an academic discussion, indefinitely prolonged, as to the language in which to frame a contingent proposition—a party issue that becomes important only on the happening of that which may never happen. It must be remembered that the reservations depend upon the question of things that are speculative and improbable rather than certain or even probable. The laboring man, increasingly conscious of the dignity of his toil and of the importance of the part he plays in our industrial and political system is not in a humor to shut him to one side. He did his part in the war and will claim his place in the nation's plans and his share in the shaping of the country's destiny.

The beneficiaries of private monopoly are banding themselves together for a concerted attack upon the people's right to administer, through their own agents and for their own benefit, the so-called natural monopolies—the enterprises in which competition, by the very nature of the case, is impossible. These men may be willing, even anxious, to keep the people engaged in fruitless discussion over matters difficult to decide while they still further entrench themselves, but the victims of the extortion inseparable from monopoly will be neither deceived nor diverted from the defense of their rights.

Ties Hands of Nation.

But the defeat of the treaty makes the nation incompetent to perform its duty to the world as well as powerless to safeguard the rights of its own citizens. The world is threatened with chaos. Democracy is not as strong in Europe today as it was when the armistice ushered in the world's greatest thanksgiving day. Besides the natural reaction that is always to be expected after any great forward movement, the friends of democracy have been humiliated by the attitude of our government. A number of nations accepted the democratic idea of government at the estimate that we placed upon it and started out in good faith to follow our example. They have had a desperate struggle. Monarchy has surged back on one side and, on the other, bolshevism has threatened the very existence of law and order. Their republics have needed a friend and counselor—a disinterested nation that could hear sympathetically and advise wisely—but our nation has been for the time being powerless to render the assistance deserved and so badly needed. While other governments, less democratic than ours, have been able to agree to terms of peace and formally bring the war to an end, we have spent the time in fruitless debate.

No League Without America.

A league of nations is conceded to be impossible without the active presence and positive influence of our nation. The United States can make the league of nations a real forum for the settling of international disputes; without our nation's participation, the league is but an enlargement of the old balance of power arrangement. The allies and their enemies are gradually drifting toward war, each day furnishes new evidence of the inability of the parties now in the league to reach a peaceful settlement of existing differences or to construct a satisfactory machine for the prevention of recourse to force. Fear on the one side—fear that they will not be able to hold that already secured—and, on the other side, resentment for that which has been granted under coercion, these two disintegrating forces mean—the permanence of the truce that has been declared.

Those—whenever they may be—who are responsible for the defeat of the treaty and the postponement of our nation's entrance into the league of nations, have sorely afflicted our nation and grievously disappointed the hopes of the world. But the failure of the Senate to ratify has raised even a more fundamental issue than those already stated. If those in control of the government compel a postponement of the consideration of domestic issues, they know that their sine, though enormous, will not destroy the republic, however great the penalty, individual and national, paid for postponement. And the same may be said as to the loss that may come to the world outside because of our withholding of helping hands. The physical and financial exhaustion resulting from the recent war may postpone, for a little while, at least, a renewal of strife, however much the bitterness may increase.

MORE

But how shall we answer to the world for our culpable surrender of the fundamental principle of democracy which we have preached to the world. How shall we explain our apostasy from the faith which we have professed? We have invested more than a hundred thousand precious lives in the effort to "make the world safe for democracy," we have expended some thirty billions of dollars to establish the doctrine that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. And the one outstanding principle of demo cracy is the right of the majority to rule. What will the world think of us—what will we think of ourselves—if we permit a minority of the senate to usurp the right to decide the nation's policy?

Rule of a Minority.

The vote in favor of ratification, with the reservations agreed upon, stood 49 to 35. This is more than half of 94, the total membership of the senate without counting the eight paired in favor of ratification. Counting votes and pairs, the senate stood 57 (49 voting and eight paired) for to 39 (35 voting and four paired) against—18 majority for ratification.

The constitution makes a two-thirds vote necessary for the ratification of a treaty, but this constitutional provision was written one hundred and thirty years ago and at a time when the sentiment of the world was not as strong in favor of peace as it is now. That constitutional requirement has obstructed the path toward peace and enabled a minority of the senate to defeat the will of the majority. The effect of the provision is to permit the minority to suspend action indefinitely or until an appeal can be taken to the people, but such a course is in effect a filibuster against the majority—a filibuster at a time when the nation can not consent to it without doing irreparable injury to the basic theory of popular government.

Is it not time for the people, employing the constitutional methods provided in the organic law itself, to so change the constitution as to make the document harmonize with democratic principles and the needs of today? Is it not time for an amendment that will permit the majority to ratify? It might be a majority of the senate, if it is desired to continue the senate's monopoly of treaty matters. But as treaties often involve a declaration of the nation's policy and generally involve the expenditure of money, it may be better to deposit the ratifying power in congress rather than in either branch. A majority can declare war; why not allow a majority to conclude peace? Why not make it as easy to end a war as to begin it—as easy to come out of it as to go into it?

A Plea to Congress.

At this time, when the world is looking on and anxiously awaiting our action, we are in a position to fire another shot that will be "heard around the world." We can impress other nations, as we can hardly impress them in any other way, by making our constitution conform to the theory toward which the world is marching. We appeal to all nations to recognize the people as the source of power and to trust them with the arbitrament of all questions that concern them. Now let us give them an outstanding illustration of our own faith in the principle by applying it to congress. We can thus extricate ourselves from an embarrassing situation; protect ourselves from such a condition of helplessness in the future; relieve the world of suspense and, at the same time, meet firmly establish the great governmental doctrines for which we stand sponsor. If this congress will immediately submit such an amendment, there is little doubt but that the two conventions will endorse it and that will not only insure its ratification within a year, but the certainty of an early ratification will in all probability persuade the present senate to anticipate ratification by putting the plan into operation immediately after the conventions by permitting the majority, as recorded, to become the two-thirds majority required by the constitution. Eleven of those voting in the negative can do this by withholding their vote out of deference to the rights of the majority.

Let the people rule. There is no alternative to democracy except the adoption of a policy which gives the presumption of right to the minority, and that is antagonistic to our entire theory of government.

Tree Registers Anger.

A species of a cactus tree grows in Idaho which has many peculiarities. The tree attains a height of about eight feet. When full grown it closes its leaves together in coils each day at sunset. When the tree has thus settled itself for its night's sleep it will flutter violently if touched, and if you shake the branches it will emit a nauseating odor strong enough to bring on a headache. The natives call it the "angry tree," and it is said that it was discovered by some men who were making a camp for the night, and placed one end of a canvas covering over one of its sensitive branches to use it as a support. Immediately the tree began to jerk its branches sharply. The motion continued with increased "nervousness" until at last there came a sickening odor that drove the tired men to a more hospitable camping place.

CENTRA PROFITING FROM RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN WICHITA AND SECTIONS OF WILBARGER COUNTY

By H. A. STROUD.

CENTRA, TEX., April 17.—A spirit of optimism has been the prevailing sentiment at local oil circles for several days, especially since the completion of the Sigler well in Wilbarger county, the unexpected success of the Boger-Ard, 12 miles south, and the Burk-Cameron well on the river near Clara.

Business has been unusually brisk in this not only at the city itself, but in the surrounding territory. The city itself is gradually coming to the fore in the way of civic and municipal accomplishments. The streets are being cleaned up, and a number of operators to this field as headquarters and a number of new offices have been opened here.

Within the fields, the interest center of the past few days has been the Burk-Cameron well, Block 583, near Red River. This well has not definitely been accounted for as to its production, but scouts generally agree that the production will be around the 300-barrel mark as the well now stands. It is reported that a break was encountered in the sand which prevented the well from being as large as was first believed.

Over in Wilbarger county, the Sigler well is being closely guarded and absolute information is hard to obtain, while there is a rumor prevalent, which seems to be something like accurate that the well is making flows about every 40 hours and placing around 200 barrels in the tanks at each flow.

The Tee Pee well, also in Wilbarger county and joining the townsite of Harold continues to hold an air of mystery and defies the operators as to what its outcome will be. The derrick was blown down and a standard derrick is being constructed preparatory to rigging up standard cable tools. The company owning the well is reported to have refused to give 10 acres for a drilling well to be started at once, and it is understood that a prominent Electric drilling concern offered to drill the well in free of charge. The company is holding fast to their acreage and it would seem that they do not even intend to take a chance on drilling in with a star machine. If the sand is not there, then others believe it to be, the standard tools could be used to great advantage in continuing the further drilling of the well.

The Boger-Ard well is holding up all expectations in the Kemp-Munger-Allen district and is making lots of oil. It is reliably reported that an actual gauge of nine hours showed this well as producing 900 barrels daily.

The Baker well three miles southwest of Electra in 16, Wilbarger county has held the interest of a number of oil men. This well was drilled into a promising looking sand by the Federal Oil and Refining company several weeks ago and has been shut down until the financial misunderstandings between the contractor and the company could be adjusted. The drill was run seven feet in the sand Friday and the results were not very great. However, a swab is being prepared and will be used at once in an attempt to clean out the hole and make it produce. This well is in the 100-foot sand, a new one in this particular portion of the district.

Interest is Great.

Interest has been great around Fowlkes station, five miles east of Electra, the past few days on account of a 50-barrel completion by the International Petroleum company on Section 7, Burnett and another good for about 30 barrels by Cowden et al on the Frisley farm, just north of the railroad.

The Buffalo Texas Oil company have completed their No. 2 Douglas two miles northeast of Electra, the sand being found at 1,045 feet with a showing good for around 100 barrels.

Van Every and Horning had a completion on the Jennings lease in the 200-foot sand, which is showing up for a 40-barrel well.

East of Sunshine Hill the Boroff Oil company had a completion good for 35 barrels on the Goetz lease.

The Madison Oil and Gas company report a completion on the Burnett lease, which is making around 50 barrels.

In the past few days there have been four important failures which may have a bearing on the field. The Magnolia Petroleum Co. had two of them, one on the Piper and one on the H. E. C. lease, the first that have ever been drilled on either of these leases out of about 200 wells and after four or five years of profitable development. The Gulf Production Co. has abandoned their Waggoner No. 1 in Wilbarger county, about three miles southeast of the town of Harold. The other failure was in Wichita county, two miles north of Electra on the Schmelsler farm.

Pipe Line to K. M. A.

The Gulf Production Co. has a crew of men at work on a new pipe line from Electra to the Kemp-Munger-Allen pool, which will have a carrying capacity of around 4,500 barrels daily. The Texas Co. also has a crew of men at work on a water line to the same field from their water headquarters on Beaver Creek. Officials of the Texas Co. state that they have not yet begun a line to the Sigler well and state that they will probably not start future developments before expending money for a pipe line. The Magnolia Petroleum Co. are constructing a large number of bunk houses all over the field, especially in the vicinity of the Piper lease, which indicates that they expect to continue with their intensified drilling program for some time to come. They have also just had their machines shop overhauled and new types of machinery installed.

The Red River company reports very little activity and at present are confining their activities to cleaning out old holes and drilling them deeper to other sands.

New Concerns Come In.

The Reliance Oil Co., a recently incorporated firm under the laws of the state of Illinois, has concluded arrangements for establishing their district headquarters here. The company is headed by E. M. Foster, of Sunshine Hill fame as president; L. R. Doty, of Wichita Falls, vice president; E. Foster, formerly of Southeast, treasurer and general manager, and S. J. Keenkamp of Chicago, secretary. This company owns over a thousand acres in the Clara district and have their well drilling at better than 1,400 feet.

The Reed Ranch Lease Syndicate has established headquarters here and is composed of E. M. Foster, W. J. and A. N. Sheldon, all well known oil men. This company has two wells rigged up and two more locations on their acreage in the vicinity of the Sigler well in Wilbarger county.

The La Rue Oil Association, headed by Ben Woods, has transferred their headquarters to this city and are now carrying out extensive drilling operations in surrounding fields.

Supplies Holding Out Well.

Local supply dealers have been taxed to the utmost in filling the orders that have been coming in from all surrounding fields. One lumber concern reports an average sale of 10 derricks a week. The embargo due to the recent strike has not become alarming as yet and finds local dealers well supplied for the time being. There is in the neighborhood of 150 complete derricks in stock in Electra after the supply has been drained for several days.

The casing problem is not so keenly felt as was first anticipated as much of the operation that has been predicted has failed to materialize and the fraternity generally is waiting further developments in the west district before launching a drilling campaign.

So far facilities have been sufficient to accommodate the influx of people, and office space has not yet become so precious as in other boom towns. Two modern buildings have been completed in the past two weeks which so far have furnished ample accommodations.

REPORT ON DRILLING IN PROGRESS IN THE STAMFORD COUNTRY

STAMFORD, TEX., April 17.—The Texas Cushing Oil Company's Proctor well, 24 miles southeast of Stamford, near Losders, is drilling at 4150 feet in black shale. Big production is expected from this well between 440 and 4800 feet. The hole was started with a 24-inch casing. An erroneous report was sent out of Albany some time ago that the Texas Cushing Company had pulled its casing in this well. This was officially denied at the head offices here today. It was said the well would be carried to 5000 feet or deeper.

This well has developed several remarkable evidences of a future well of production. An oil sand was encountered at a depth of between 1032 to 1065 feet, which is good for five barrels a day, but which was passed up for bigger production. Twelve distinct sands producing varying quantities of oil were found before reaching the 4150 foot level. Crews are working day and night. Only about ten feet a day is drilled on account of the depth.

The Texas Cushing No. 4 Colbert, eight miles northeast of Stamford, is drilling at 1250 feet and expects to hit the pay at between 1400 and 1800 feet. Another well drilled nearby struck the oil at a similar depth, but was ruined by water. At one time the bore was full of oil, which is still running and producing gas to be made. Officials confidentially expect to get a producer here.

The Texas Cushing No. 1 Colbert, east of Stamford is shut down at 1115 feet awaiting special tools to be made. A good showing of gas was encountered in this well. Presence of gas is still there coming up through the casing.

The Conrad No. 1 of Murphy Boland, 20 miles south of Stamford, is drilling at around 2000 feet. The contract depth is 2500 feet, but it was stated here that the depth will be carried to 5000 feet if necessary. So far as learned no gas or oil showing has yet been encountered.

The Kouri Ballard No. 1, 20 miles northeast of Stamford, is underreaming to get a seat for the slick casing at 2940 feet. The oil has risen considerable in this well and it is reported that with a little more drilling a big producer may be brought in. A scout for one of the leading oil companies of the state is reported to have said recently that this would undoubtedly be a good well. It is a known fact that leases around this well have been selling for as high as $100.

The Kouri No. 2 is reported drilling at 1050 feet. No information on this well was procurable locally.

The derrick and rig have been set up for the Black and Leaser test three miles south and west of Sagerton, twelve miles northwest of Stamford. Word has been received that casing has been shipped and should arrive shortly. This well will be spudded in shortly.

It is reported here that contract has been signed for the drilling of a well on the 7000-acre lease of Mr. Baldwin, northwest of this city. Drilling will begin at once. This well will be just over the Haskell county line in Stone wall county.

The Stamford Oil & Gas Association's Harrold is drilling at around 1800 feet with no showing of oil so far as known. This test is twenty miles south of Stamford.

The Sinclair-Reynolds No. 1 is drilling at 1500 feet. This is the only well in the Stamford territory which is being drilled by a gasoline engine. It has given splendid service. It cost $7,000.

The Tal-King Oil Company on the Scott lands, twelve miles northwest of Stamford, is tied up in litigation at 806 feet, according to reliable reports given out here.

A number of new locations will be made here shortly say well informed oil men. A large company is expected to start drilling on acreage secured several months ago.

Prospects that wells will come in shortly are flattering, especially in the case of the Kouri, Colbert and Proctor.

A report was rife here today that a large well had come in at Claytonville. The report came by telephone from Rotan, but later reports showed that it was an error and that no sign of oil was found in the Claytonville well.

TWO WIDELY SEPARATED SECTIONS PROMISE AN ERA OF ACTIVITY IN DEVELOPMENTS WITHIN A MONTH

The activity of last April, when the Burk-Waggoner strike started the northwestern Burkburnett boom, that resulted in the most widely extended drilling operations ever known in the Wichita Falls district, seems in a fair way to be repeated by the close of this month, two widely separated sections of the district now making a bid for developments.

The past week saw almost a score of new locations and rigs in the Kemp Munger Allen field, where the revival in activity is most pronounced. W. I. Child and associates and "Bill" Howe, of Silverport, promise to be the first to complete interesting developments, the former drilling on a well in the original lease of the Kemp Munger Allen Oil Company, having purchased 50 acres. Various complications have tied up other tests in this section and there are no new completions this week to report.

The Burk Cameron in block 833, is showing up better all the time, according to reports, making heads at the tools are run in the hole, and with increasing gas pressure showing. Storage, and other equipment is being awaited before the well is completed. In the meantime a number of new locations, to test in every direction from the well are being made, and the tests already drilling are being closely watched. The Burk Rye, about a mile to the east, in block 821, is one of the tests that is looked to with interest, as is the Bowers Oil Company No. 1 Foster, in the same block, and to the south. The former is waiting on a new boiler, being about 500 feet deep, and the Bowers is drilling around 1500 feet. The Clara Park, in block 825, is also awaiting the depth at which interesting developments are to be expected.

Make Two Locations. Green and Waggoner have made two locations, in block 823, as have the Texas Chief Oil Company and the Burk-Cameron Oil Company, the latter company planning to drill Nos. 2 and 3 immediately. These locations are scattered so as to test every point of the compass from the Burk Cameron and will be of great importance in directing further operations. The western part of the Waggoner, in the George, Birk, Michna, Schenkenberg and Holtzen tracts, continue to furnish the major part of the operations in this great pool, just a year old this month. There is also not a little bit of interest in the preparations to test for the 2200 foot sand which C. R. Lee is reported to have found in the abandoned hole of McCallister, Adams and Brown in block 81, and the Kanoka Oil Company has

The duty of raising a million dollar endowment fund for Trinity University was assigned to the Presbyterians of the state by the Synod of Texas a short while ago, and since that time not quite one-third of the amount has been contributed. TOYAH BELL OIL CO. Map of Toyah, the New Burkburnett, Showing the Two Choice Tracts of the Toyah-Bell Oil Company. Texas' Second Burk-Waggoner Toyah offers you your chance for fortune. The Bell well, estimated by the Chamber of Commerce as good for 300 to 500 barrels daily, has opened up an entirely new field. Oil men coming back to Fort Worth say: "Boys, it's a second Burkburnett!" The foresighted man of courage who gets in a new field early secures riches beyond his fondest dreams. The pioneer company in the Eldorado field, Trainshooters, returned over $40,000 for each 1000 of stock. The Fowler Company, in the old Burkburnett field, over $15,000 for each $100. Burk-Waggoner, $3,333 on each $100. Hog Creek at Desdemona, over $10,000 on each $1000. The early bird at Toyah is TOYAH-BELL. We beat the crowd to 35 acres near the Bell well, almost under the shadow of the tract on which the Bell is located. Look at the map; see how the Bell and drilling wells completely surround our 35-acre lease. Aren't we sure of a gusher? 80 Acres in Oil Field We also have 80 acres in the Old Toyah field, which produces the highest grade oil in the world. This oil sells for $20.50 a barrel and is found at from only 125 to 200 feet. Two Wells Guaranteed We are going to drill two wells and offer our stock to help raise the necessary drilling fund. We absolutely guarantee to drill two wells to the producing level. Already enough stock has been sold to drill well No. 1 and our secretary, Mr. L. M. White, is now at Toyah closing a contract for immediate drilling. Only $25,000 Capitalization Our capitalization is only $25,000. When you consider that our leases are subject only to 1-8th royalty, and that we own the wells, you can realize the ground floor nature of this capitalization. 700 Per Cent a Month from Each Lease We can put four wells on our 35-acre lease near the Bell without overdrilling. Check these figures: With 4 wells, each producing 500 barrels of 33.50 oil, our daily income, less 1-8th royalty to land owners, will be $6,125.00, or over $175,000 a month. In other words, over 700 per cent a month on the capitalization at par every thirty days. On our 80-acre tract in the old shallow district we can put down 40 wells without overdrilling. With only 5 barrels a day of 33.50 oil from each well, our income from this tract alone would be $180,000 a month or over 700 per cent on our $25,000 capitalization. Most Money in Shallow Production Oil men all agree that the big money is made in shallow production. Wells in Pennsylvania have been producing steadily for over 20 years. The same is expected at Toyah, especially because the oil comes from a sand instead of a lime. Toyah-Bell shareholders have an investment that should produce handsome, regular dividends for many years to come.
