ABSENTEE VOTE IS RECORD

Interest Brews In Local Elections

We enjoyed the little TV special the other night about ABC commentator Harry Reasoner's hometown of Humboldt, Iowa. Perhaps it was because we saw a lot of Friona in the Iowa town. Small towns apparently have a lot in common.

We particularly identified with the segment which showed how the community's social life revolved around the churches ("Seventy per cent of the population can be found in church every Sunday).

One of Reasoner's statements was sort of ironic, and also hits home, to some extent. He pointed out how his hometown had been able to secure industry (that commodity of which some cities have too much). This trend toward securing industry, he said, would eventually make his old home town more like some place in which the residents say they wouldn't like to live.

Reasoner said a crime wave in Humboldt consisted of a kid being ousted from a dance for having beer.

Reasoner said that of his six cousins and himself, whose parents all grew up in Humboldt, only one was living there today ("She was always the smartest").

Yes, there are a lot of things to be said for the small town, and I'm awfully glad I have occasion many times to be able to say them.

If every eligible voter in the state of Texas registered to vote this year, the potential vote would amount to 7,836,000 according to a fact sheet we received recently. The total population of the state in 1970 was 11,113,976.

However, in 1970, when the number of potential voters totaled 6,401,000 there were just 4,149,000 voters, and only about 2,300,000 of these voted in the senatorial race.

This indicates that probably only about a third of the potential voters will decide the state's business this year, if the percentages hold out.

Frionans are faced with their first voting opportunity of 1972 on Saturday, in the city and school elections. We hope that more than one-third of the potential voters will voice their opinions on Saturday. There are some important decisions to be made, and everyone's vote is needed.

Back to the state's vote potential, the poll showed that 87 per cent of Texas' voters are white (including Spanish), Black, Indians and other races made up 14 per cent of the total. A rough estimate of the Spanish surname percentage came to 15 to 16 per cent.

Of the voting potential, an estimated 678,000 are in the 18 to 20-year-old bracket, who will be able to vote in the November elections. Another 1,490,000 are in the 21-25 year-old category, who will be voting for a president for the first time.

Another estimated 999,000 are in the over-65 age category.

Those who still have not registered to vote in 1972 elections may still do so—but they must request a certificate by April 5 in order to vote in the May 6 primary.

It's too late to register and vote in the city or school election, but those who haven't done so can still qualify to vote in the county and state races, which include the governor, lieutenant governor and senatorial races. They will also be qualified to vote in November.

We wonder if the state of Texas shouldn't adopt the presidential preference to its primary, as many of the states have done, and thus do away with much fuss at state party conventions as to which candidates will receive the state's votes in the national conventions.

We'd like to see more people turn out for the annual volleyball tournament sponsored by the Friona Noon Lions Club. There was some fine volleyball played—especially in the final rounds on Saturday.

If you haven't ever watched a volleyball game, next time, remember to go out. You'll be entertained. We'll try to remind you again next year.

A large turnout of voters is expected in two annual elections to be held here Saturday. City and School Board officials are to be elected. Voters also will decide the fate of two $50,000 bond issues in the city election.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Polling place is the Law Enforcement Center (old City Hall), Eighth and Main.

A record number of absentee votes were cast in both the city and school boxes—spurred mainly by the fact that the election comes during the Easter Weekend.

The city race is spiced by the two bond issues. Proposition 1 would authorize the city to proceed with plans for a new fire station. Proposition 2 is for improvements to the city's water system. The issues may be voted upon separately.

Three candidates are seeking two spots on the city council—incumbents Bill Ellis and Gary Brown, and one challenger, Mrs. June Rhodes.

Mayor R.L. Fleming is unopposed for re-election to a two-year term.

Five candidates are on the ballot in the school board race, which also will elect two members to the board. Candidates are Wesley Barnett, Ed Clark, Doyle Elliott, Clarence Monroe and Ronald Smiley.

(Brief biographical sketches and pictures of the candidates in both races are presented elsewhere.)

AN EDITORIAL Voters Urged To Support Measures

Two important propositions are to be voted on by city voters Saturday in the annual City Election.

We feel that the passage of both propositions is necessary for the continued progress of our community, and we urge voters to consider voting favorably on each case.

Proposition One deals with the means for constructing a new fire station.

Neighboring Dammit is considering an expense of $100,000 for a new fire station. The one proposed for Friona comes to just half that figure.

Moreover, Friona taxpayers have been out very little money through the years for official fire department expenses. The firemen have bought most of their own equipment in recent years, through such projects as raffles during Maize Days.

We think it is the least the city can do to provide an adequate facility to house their equipment, where it can be more quickly and easily dispatched when fires occur.

Friona is fortunate in having a dedicated group of firemen, who respond at all times, day or night, when the alarm sounds.

When it comes to water—there is no question that the improvements to be voted on Proposition Two need to be done. At least, there is no question for many residents in the western part of town, whose water pressure fluctuates between normal and none, depending upon the demand on a particular day.

Both propositions can be accomplished, and the proposed expenses repaid without an increase in taxes, city officials have said. The recent increase of 10¢ per $100 evaluation should suffice for some time.

The total amount of the two propositions is relatively small for a bond issue. But the city must have the authority of the voters in order to proceed with the projects.

We urge you to give that authority when you vote on Saturday.

ON FARM PRICES

Friona Participating In Signature Drive

Friona grain elevators are spearheading a local drive which is part of a nationwide effort to secure economic stability for farm products.

A letter telling President Richard M. Nixon of the farmers' plight in the continued downturn of parity and upward trend of expenses has been drafted. Farm leaders hope to get a million signatures on the letter by April 25.

A copy of this letter is included on a full-page advertisement appearing on Page 11 of this issue. Petition forms are available at five Friona locations, for those interested in agriculture to sign. Those businesses having the forms are Friona Wheat Growers, West Friona Grain, Goodpasture, Inc., Friona State Bank and Friona Consumers.

One of the things called for in the letter is an end to the "chronic gyrations of grain prices." "If grain prices domestically are to be stabilized at a level which puts the farmer on a par with other American business, the influence of world prices must be removed from our domestic pricing," the letter says.

Those interested in participating are urged to sign one of the petition lists.

MBP Leases Breaking Plant In Detroit Area

Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., reported first quarter earnings for the 13 weeks ended January 29, 1972, net income from operations of $292,865, or 26¢ per share on sales of $82,103,477, compared with net income of $641,435 or 54¢ per share on sales of $58,601,513 a year ago.

Dave La Fleur, President, said earnings were down due to depressed margins during December and January as a result of a short supply of fat cattle and the expiration of a labor contract on December 16 at the Friona, Texas Division.

The employees went on strike on February 8 and the plant is presently operating with new employees and rapidly returning to normal operations.

Profit margins should return to normal as a result of an increased supply of fat cattle in the second quarter and should remain adequate in our operating areas the remainder of the year, La Fleur says.

The Company's Annual Meeting was held on Tuesday, March 21, and all present officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year. At the meeting, La Fleur stated that the company had leased a new breaking, fabricating and distributing plant in Detroit, Michigan to serve the greater Detroit area.

County Now In PRPC

Parmer County was officially installed as a member of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission at meeting of that organization last week.

The county commissioners had voted to join the regional body last month. Other government bodies which were already members in Parmer County include the cities of Friona and Bovina.

Courthouse To Close; License Deadline Friday

Friday afternoon, March 31 at 5 p.m. is the deadline for purchasing 1972 license plates, according to Hugh Moseley, County Tax Assessor-Collector. Moseley reports that the Courthouse offices will be closed all day on Saturday, April 1, because of the local elections being held on that date in the County Court Room of the Courthouse.

If you have not purchased your license plates, Moseley urges you to do so before the deadline.

SEED SEPARATOR. . . W.L. (Preach) Edelman shows off his recently-completed seed separator, which is to be used to select quality planting seed, and eliminate low-grade seeds.

FOR IMPROVED QUALITY

Edelman Devises Seed Separator

W.L. (Preach) Edelman, longtime leader for cotton interests in this area, has just completed work on a machine that could have a revolutionary effect on the industry from a standpoint of selecting better quality planting seeds.

The machine, which is to be called the Edelman Seed Separator, Model 34, separates high density seeds from the less desirable low density seeds.

High density seeds have been proven to be high in germination, and usually produce vigorous plants. Those of low density contain more sugar, and less minerals and oils, and under adverse conditions, are more likely to rot in the ground than are their high-density counterparts.

The machine operates on the basis of dropping the seed directly into an air current, whereby the low density seeds, which are lighter weight, are carried into a separate chamber, hence separated from the heavier seeds, which are higher density.

"Based on water having a density of 1.0, we are able to get a batch of seed having density of .9, which should insure fast emergence and seedling vigor," Edelman says.

The local agricultural leader explains that the "culls" will have a definite and specific value as a ration in cattle feed. Dr. Dale Furr, nutritionist for Hi-Pro Feeds, was asked to do an analysis on the cull-outs, and expressed an interest in the seed for feeding purposes.

Edelman started on the seed separator idea about a year ago, as a member of Plains Cotton Growers' research committee. PCG set up the project, to determine if some physical characteristic would make it possible to improve cotton seed quality.

Plains Cotton Growers approved a $1,000 grant to get the project off the ground, and Growers Seed Assn. of Lubbock also contributed to the project. "Perhaps the most distinguishing factor of this machine is the fact that you can get continuous flow, regardless of how much seed is put in the machine," Edelman says, estimating that the machine could handle from six to eight tons of seed per hour.

Edelman said that the PCG project is shooting for plants which will emerge in six or seven days and produce good, vigorous seedlings.

While Edelman's machine was primarily designed for separating cotton seed, it could be used also for maize or wheat seed, he thinks. "We might have to adjust the air flow. The machine would be a natural for cleaning wheat seed," Edelman predicts.

Edelman says he feels certain he will be able to secure a patent on his machine, as there simply isn't anything comparable to it in existence.

The machine, which measures roughly four by six feet, eight feet high, weighs in the neighborhood of 3,000 pounds. It was built at Taylor and Sons Blacksmith Shop in Friona. Ruben Taylor was the chief technician and welder.

Edelman said that various parts of existing machines were used where possible, but the parts that could not be located were made at Taylor & Sons. Actual construction on the machine was begun early last fall. The present design was achieved after two or three earlier phases were rejected through "trial and error," the longtime Friona resident explains.

Tests to date show the machine to be functioning perfectly. In a recent test, in which 32 pounds, three ounces of seed were used, a total of 22 pounds, nine ounces emerged as "select" seed, with nine pounds, ten ounces in the "cull" category.

One hundred of the select seeds weighed 12.65 grams, while one hundred of the culls weighed only 8.75 grams.

Edelman's preliminary plans are to install the machine at Friona Farmers Co-op Gin, and do seed separation on a custom basis—seed that has already been bagged for planting purposes. The machine functions best on delinted seed.

The longtime agricultural leader says that the ideal place for this type of machine would be at the seed delinting plants. "Seed could be separated and labeled before they are sold to seed dealers," says Edelman, who adds that he looks forward to the day that the Texas Department of Agriculture requires labels on cotton seed to list the seed's density as well as germination percentage.

If that day comes—and well it may—then Preach Edelman will have helped hasten its arrival.

LIONS' PROJECT

Applications Sought For Crippled Children Camp

Applications for a summer vacation full of fun for handicapped children in the Friona area are now being accepted by members of the Friona Evening and Noon Lions Clubs.

This unique Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerville will open its first two-week session Sunday, June 4, 1972. Five sessions will be held this summer for youngsters from seven through sixteen years of age.

The camp is free to eligible blind, deaf, mute or crippled children. Transportation to and from the camp is supplied by the local Lions. All requests for summer camp are handled locally by Lions.

For more detailed information about the camp, residents are urged to contact Tom Jarboe or Donny Carrasco, who are chairmen of the camp project for their respective clubs.

In the past years, Lions have sent over 13,000 youngsters to camp.

IT'S THE FAD. . . If there are any kids in school through junior high age who do not have a yo-yo, the Star's photographer couldn't find them when he went by recently for a yo-yo demonstration involving some of the boys.

The Highway Hopper

This is the Highway Hopper. You know him, he's always changing lanes. Never looking behind him. Never using turn signals. You notice him a lot more during the Easter season, maybe because you're more aware of rabbits then. But he's around all the time. Zig-zagging his way down the bunny trail.

Don't hop all over the highway this holiday.

"A very funny thing happened to me on the way to saving the world... I was crucified."

Have you ever thought just how Jesus might have reported the event that led to his trial and crucifixion?

We get so all wrapped up in the mechanics of it all in our modern day that I somehow feel we are overlooking some very meaningful points of concern.

One of the more recent policies that are followed in this day and time concerning publicity of a trial, is that with no pictures taken during the trial, of the proceedings, artists now are employed to set in the courtroom and sketch the events worth remembering. Then, we are shown these on some newscast or in some publication.

I saw a group of sketches the other day in THE WAR CRY, the official publication of The Salvation Army, and they depicted some scenes of Jesus and related characters during his "trial," and I use the word cautiously since I somehow feel it was rigged and not a real search for truth.

One of the first things I noticed was... there are some publications with the center fold page not used to reveal the unclothed anatomy of the sexes.

Another thing I noted was the truth of it all... The accusation before Pilate, the tied hands behind the back, the crown of thorns, Pilate washing his hands seeking to indicate his refusal of the responsibility, the crowd yelling "Crucify him!"... I somehow felt apart of the whole scene and then I thought, "No, Al... that was long ago."

I think it was at that time that something else began to reveal itself... I noticed a familiar face on the guard who was leading Jesus away to the hill... And I began to look at other faces of the sketched men in the various scenes--and this one looked like someone I knew or had seen--and that one and that one--as though people of my knowledge had actually sat for the pose in the sketch...

Then I think it all began to close in on me--the awareness of how it all, really is...

The day of infamy in Jerusalem on that bright day just after the Passover Feast when a great "trial" was to be "staged" which is still remembered in various degrees... that was not the only day a man spat on the Master--or refused responsible reaction, or yelled "crucify him!", or placed him on "trial"--how does it go?--"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me..."

It seems that we still, in our own little ways, lead him off and away from those things we like to do and think about but know in our own hearts are not right...

Well, in this Holy Week, as we continue our own personal pilgrimage toward Easter and whatever it might hold for us, I couldn't pass up the opportunity to say to you--and you--and you--and me... Where are we in this trial? What is our reaction? If a sketch was made now, where would we be? ... Peace.

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

We senior citizens are a superstitious bunch. As Easter approaches we expect the weather to turn sour on us and bring what is known as the "Easter Spell."

Most of us have lost fruit crops and have had to replant gardens due to this April Fool prankishness of Mother Nature.

Those of us lucky enough to afford new clothes have been caught out on Easter Sunday in thin, summery garments that serve no protection against the chilly blast, enough to make one wish he had not joined the Easter Parade!

Despite the usual "window dressing" that we put on during the Easter holidays, young and old are conscious of the seriousness of the occasion.

The Christian World would be inconceivable without the Rebirth of Hope that accompanies our honoring the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

For a short time we may put from our minds the overwhelming concern we feel for the future of the human race.

The political and economic trials, our personal grief, the disappointments and frustrations of everyday living, all fade away when exposed to the brightness of the Light shining from the empty tomb.

Ours is not the sin of ignorance, ours is the sin of neglect and apathy.

Even that may find forgiveness--as long as there's an "Easter!"

We enjoyed a recent column by "Cornell Blevins" in the Lamb County Leader, and since it sounded like our own feelings at times, we thought we'd share it with our readers: "SA WAY IT GOES, about the time I decide to hang up my typewriter, some well-meanin' soul gives forth with a word of encouragement.

Oh, no, it wasn't the editor. I think he's been sick of HIS deal ever since he made it. Just a little thing he can't gracefully back out of. (Or, hasn't.)

REALLY HAVEN'T figured out what it is that makes a guy want to see himself in print, anyway... Might be that when I do, it'll cure me for good!

Started out on the pretext of thinkin' that if I could cause someone to give a little thought to some of our current trends, or give them a little chuckle, may be just cause them to smile, it'd be worthwhile.

THEN YOU GET THE idea that simply no one reads your stuff, and if they do, it's completely ignored. No one answers any crackpot argument, nor has anything to say in passing.

Guess it's like kissin' your sister-in-law. Maybe you enjoy it, but no one is supposed to know! (Or, had I said that?)

THEN, OF COURSE, the thought of your efforts bein' at the mercy of that TAPESNIFFER down at the office is enough to make your blood run cold!

The thing I'm talkin' about is that computerized typesetter they've got. Simply no tellin', at all, what sort of mischief it may have on its mind. 'S funny that it always seems to be the key words in a thought that it chooses to run amuck with!

FOR INSTANCE, in my last article, it chose to use $27.00 instead of $27,000. THEN, the thing that needed "Fixin'" needed "MIXIN'" --Chee-ee! Makes you wanta go down there and kick it right in the plug-in!

So, what? So I miss an issue and this person wants to know why. Then the better half says, "Oh, yeah, I saw a lady from a neighboring town a few days back and she sends you word that she appreciates your writing." ...Well-I-I!

I TELL YOU things can get worse! And, sure enough they do! -I gripe about hippie type hair and the school board drops the hair-code! I bleed for law and order and the Supreme Court takes the other side!

I try to defend our stand in Vietnam, then learn that it's claimed the life of one of our kinsmen. I've griped about HEW and they've only grown stronger. (Especially in the welfare department.)

I've tried to defend the president and now he's over the East, hob-nobbin' around with the Reds! I try to defend the school board, and some are quittin', and seems, as of now, no one else wants the job!

SOME DAYS IT just don't pay to get outta' bed! Don't sympathize with me! I'LL CRY! However, I DO need someone to assure me that everything's alright!

Mrs. Rhodes received her BS from Southwest State College in Weatherford, Okla., and her masters from ENMU. She and her husband, Aubrey, are parents of a son, Tim, who is a graduate of Friona High School.

Rev. Hester Is Speaker

Guest speaker at the Easter program, which was the feature of the Wednesday afternoon meeting of Friona Woman's Club, was Rev. R.C. Hester, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church. His topic was "The Resurrection."

Theme of the meeting was "The Bride of Hope." Easter motifs were used for decorations.

Mrs. Charles Russell, who was a delegate to the Carrock District Convention in Lubbock, gave a report of the meeting. Then Mrs. C.W. Dixon, one of Friona's Pioneer Women, who was honored at the convention, was recognized.

Roll call was answered with an Easter thought. Mrs. Clyde Hays presented the devotional. Hostesses, Mrs. W.O. Brown and Mrs. Charlie Turner, served Easter candy, nie, coffee and tea to Rev. and Mrs. Hester and thirteen members.

Five Seek School Board

Five candidates are entered in the Friona School Board election, to be held Saturday, at the Law Enforcement Center (old City Hall). Voters will elect two to the board.
In an effort to acquaint voters with the candidates, the Star presents herewith a picture of each candidate, along with a brief biographical sketch about each one.
Wesley Barnett is a graduate of Friona High School and Texas Tech University. He is a cattleman and a farmer, living just east of Friona.
A former member of the Friona Chamber of Commerce's Board of Directors, Barnett is married to the former Doris Jane McFarland. The Barnetts have four children—Chris, Kyle and Kim who are in school, and Ricky, who is nearly three.
The Barnetts attend the Friona United Methodist Church.

Doyle Elliott has lived in Friona since January of 1951, with the exception of four years, when he returned to school. Elliott received his BBA and MBA from Texas Tech. He also attended Texas A&M, and the University of Texas School of Law. Elliott and his wife Mary have two children, Becky (Mrs. Mike Riethmayer) and Bryan, both graduates of Friona High School.
Elliott returned here in 1965 to become associated with the local law firm of Collard and Elliott. He is a former president of the Friona Chamber of Commerce, is a Baptist, and is a member of the Friona Kiwanis Club.

A member of Tenth Street Church of Christ, Smiley has been very active in community affairs. He is president elect for the Friona Noon Lions. Smiley has been active in Little League baseball, Boy and Girl Scout work, Little Dribblers and other youth sports activities.
He is a member of the Friona Volunteer Fire Department, and is employed by Friona Wheat Growers. He was chosen "most courteous employee" this year by the Friona Chamber of Commerce.

Clarence Monroe is a local farmer. He is an active member of the First Baptist Church, the Friona Lions Club, and Friona Young Farmers.
Monroe and his wife Peggy have two children who are junior high school age—Alan and Rena.
Monroe has served several years as a member of the board of directors for Friona's Summer Baseball program, and is active in his support of Little League activities.
Ronald Smiley has lived in Friona since 1957. He and his wife Melba have three children, Mitchell, Cindy and Vicky, all students in junior high school.

RUNNERSUP. . . . The Tigers were runnersup in the men's division of the volleyball tourney, dropping their final game to the Lumberjacks. Standing are Lee Jesko, Phil Brockman and Gery Stancell. Kneeling are Larry Jesko, Robert White and D.H. Foster.

CONTEST WINNERS. . . Three entrants from Friona High School won awards in the District VICA contests last Friday in Amarillo. Cheryl Patterson won first in the Nurse's Aide division, Cary Phipps was third in the Job Interview division, and Donny Campbell was first in the Electrician competition. Cheryl and Donny won the right to advance to the state contest in Dallas April 20-23.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Matlock of 907 Woodland, who observed their sixty-seventh wedding anniversary recently. E.D. Matlock and Elva B. Akers were married March 19, 1905.

They were pioneer residents of Hale County and moved to Friona to be near their children a few years ago.

These two very fine old people have raised a large family and are keenly interested in the activities of their grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

In spite of their advanced years, they still enjoy working and playing games.

If you asked them what they did, they would probably answer, "We've retired."

But, if you were a neighbor and did some close observing you would find that they both manage to keep busy--he with his woodworking and she with quilt making.

Our across the street south neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Vaughn observed their forty-fourth wedding anniversary March 22. They were married in Waxahachie in 1928.

Vaughn is a native of Comanche County. He was born near DeLeon, but grew up in Hill County. His wife, the former Mamie Loren Wood, was born in Ellis County.

The couple and their three children, Odell, Haywood and Dorothy, moved to Friona February 12, 1945.

Haywood and his wife, the former Carolin Vaughn, still live here. They have one son, Jason.

Dorothy and her husband, Ardith Rolan, and three daughters, Dorothy Jean, Stacy and Vickie moved to Stratford several months ago.

Odell and his wife, Helen, and children lived here a few years, but are now living in Waxahachie.

A couple of weeks ago a report in this column stated that Friona Lions were sponsoring a drive for books. These civic minded men are collecting books for Friona Public Library, but they are not the sponsors.

The drive is being sponsored by Friona Public Library and Friona Lions, Progressive Study Club and other organizations are assisting with the drive.

If you have books you would like to contribute to the library, you really do not need to belong to any organization.

You may contribute books or money to buy books directly to the library if you so desire. Or, you may work with any of the cooperating organizations.

Read in the Castro County News last week that Mrs. Ray Joe Riley of the Sunnyside Community had been named "Woman of the Year" by the Earth-Springlake Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Riley is the former Jo Eddy Scott, who taught here and also worked at Farmer County Community Hospital. She is a former resident of Hereford.

Resurrection Of Christ Christians Hope

(Read John 14:1-7)

He goeth before you. (Mark 16:7)

What a notable event! The Christ who was dead appeared alive. Good Friday had brought darkness and sadness; the resurrection day brought gladness and joy.

In the early centuries it seemed the progress of the gospel of Christ and the new church would come to an end behind prison bars. Despite vigorous opposition and persecution, God's will prevailed, and the gospel spread more and more.

When at times the church and churchmen have lost sight of the straight and narrow way, God has produced reformers, saints, evangelists, prophets. Some have been put to death.

Christ ever goes before us. His power rolls away confining stones. His gospel destroys barriers. In His name the battle against man's sinfulness goes on, and bridges of understanding and goodwill are built.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for Jesus the Christ. He has gone before us in death and in life: in death that our sins might be forgiven, in life that we shall have His inspiration and guidance and rise from the dead. We thank Thee in the name of our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Christ is ahead of us. How near are we following?

Be ready for the hunt of the year! Prepare colorful yet tasty Easter eggs for that special day.

"Easter eggs taste and look best if they're hard cooked instead of hard boiled." "Cooking below the boiling temperature means more tender egg whites, less dark coloring around the yolk and less cracking of shells during cooking."

To hard cook eggs, cover them with water from the tap and bring just to boiling point in a heavy, covered saucepan. Set the pan off the heat and let the eggs set for about 20 minutes in the hot water. To hurry the process, simmer (but don't boil) for 10 minutes. Immerse cooked eggs immediately in cold water.

To dye the eggshell and not the white, start with eggs that don't have cracks, and keep the dye water warmer than the egg. If a warm egg is left in cool water, the dye may seep through the pores of the shell.

"Today's consumer knows whether or not she's playing with fire when it comes to carpet."

"On April 15, 1971, it became illegal to manufacture carpet larger than 24 square feet, or hall and stair carpets longer than six feet, that aren't flame resistant." "These standards were set by the National Bureau of Standards in the U.S. Department of Commerce."

A flame resistant carpet won't burn more than three inches in any direction from a fire source in a draft-protected environment. Eight specimens from one carpet are tested, and seven must pass the test.

The fire source is a "timed burning tablet" which is really a methenamine pill. The 9" x 9" carpet specimens are placed in a special draft-free chamber for the test. The pill is placed on the traffic surface of the carpet and ignited.

The specialists explained that all carpets and rugs having a fire retardant treatment or those made of fibers which have had a fire retardant treatment are to be labeled with the letter "T". Manufacturer's compliance with the standard doesn't guarantee the carpet or rug won't burn. The standard is intended only to eliminate carpets that can be ignited by small flames such as matches, cigarettes or fireplace sparks.

"The standard doesn't apply to 'one-of-a-kind' carpets or rugs, such as antiques, an Oriental or a hide." "It also doesn't apply to carpet manufactured before April 15, 1971. So until old inventories are sold, you may not be able to buy fire retardant carpets."

After December 28, 1971, rugs less than 24 square feet or runners less than six feet must have a label stating that they don't pass federal tests for flammability and therefore may be hazardous.

"Check the label on new carpet to find out if it's flame re-

On The Farm In Parmer County MACK HEALD County Agent

With the recent emphasis on environmental quality, many seed dealers are caught in the middle because of the need to treat planting seed for control of soil insects.

The seed companies often sell seed in several states and find that each state has different requirements and restrictions.

For this reason, many companies no longer use chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides for seed treatment. Instead, some have substituted short residual compounds such as methoxychlor and malathion. But the problem is that these alternate chemicals are not as effective against soil insects such as wireworms. Grain sorghum is a good example of a crop that needs maximum protection against soil insects; although commercially treated seed may not be available.

Producers should check the seed tag to find out what seed treatment has been made. If the seed has not been treated, the producer has several alternatives. He may treat the seed before planting or use planter box treatment. If either of these methods is used, care should be taken to assure even treatment of all seed. Aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin, heptachlor and lindane are legal in Texas at a rate of two ounces per bushel of grain sorghum seed to be planted. But, these chemicals are currently under review by the Environmental Protection Agency.

If they have a history of white grub problems, producers may want to use a row band, in-furrow or preplant broadcast soil treatment. These same methods can also take care of wireworms and other soil pests. Whatever treatment is used, the producer should read, and very carefully follow label instructions. Although the two ounces may seem like a very small amount, this is the maximum legal rate.

Word has just been received from the Texas Animal Health Commission concerning the continuation of the eradication program. The new information is as follows:

Effective June 1, 1972 the 34 existing scabies quarantine counties with the possibility of nine additional counties will come under the following state dip movement quarantine order. The counties involved are: Armstrong, Bailey, Baylor, Erisco, Carson, Childress, Cochran, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crosby, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Donley, Floyd, Foard, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hemphill, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hockley, Hutchinson, King, Knox, Lamb, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Wheeler and Wilbarger counties.

Official dipping will be required on all cattle in movement with the following exceptions:

1. Cattle moving direct to slaughter;
2. Cattle moving to slaughter through a livestock market;
3. Cattle moving to a livestock market for sale and dipping prior to release;
4. Cattle released from livestock market to a dip point with permit;
5. Cattle moving to official dip point;
6. Cattle dipped within the past 7 days;
7. Cattle from non-control area moving through control areas;
8. Cattle moving (same owner) from one premise to another premise within the quarantined area;
9. Cattle dipped within 7 days from scab infested states with permit or with permit to be dipped upon arrival;
10. Cattle from non-control area moving into control area for grazing.

More information will be brought to your attention as it is received in my office.

Sign of Good Breeding

Bred-in yield potential is the reason 1972 looks like another record year for Pioneer brand hybrid corn. Last year, High Plains farmers planted nearly twice as much Pioneer hybrid seed corn as the year before. The most popular varieties for grain were 3369A and 3306, both of which have been consistently good hybrids for this area. Yields this past year of 150 bushels per acre and more were common with 3369A and 3306 on good irrigated land. For corn silage, Pioneer brand 9178 is still one of the best for high yield. Pioneer brand 3147, however, is growing in popularity. It yields along with 9178 and has a higher grain to stover ration. If you're planting corn this year, see your Pioneer dealer right away for the seed you need.

KENNETH CHRISTIE, Hereford, averaged more than 185 bushels per acre on 104 acres of Pioneer brand 3306 hybrid seed corn. He liked the standability, even maturity, and the good threshing qualities of 3306. This year, Mr. Christie plans to plant 380 acres in Pioneer brand 3306.

Pioneer is a brand name; numbers identify varieties. ® Reg. trademark of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa U.S.A.

Muleshoe Teams Win Tournament

Muleshoe teams swept the championship honors in the Friona Noon Lions Club's third annual volleyball tournament which concluded here last Saturday.

AGRI BUSINESSMEN

FARMERS, RANCHERS and RELATED INDUSTRIES

One of the first jobs the farmer needs to accomplish is to show unity in a manner which cannot be misunderstood. We have an idea to help provide this evidence and a starting place to improve the economic position of agriculture. We believe the place to start is at the highest level of Government. We have, therefore, prepared a statement addressed to the President of the United States. This statement is intended to show the President there is unity in the thinking of farmers about their position and what is needed.

March 25, 1972

Mr. President

Your Administration has demonstrated a keen awareness of agriculture's great contribution to the American economy, and has sought to enhance that contribution. The Congress has been willing unflinchingly to debate the problems of agriculture, and has displayed increasing concern over the economic plight of the American farmer. We commend both your Administration and the Congress for this attitude and concern.

It is time, though, for a great effort to be made to bring the farmer into the mainstream of the American economy, a position he has not enjoyed except for a few very brief intervals in the past half-century. Government programs of the past have been helpful but all of them have been, and are, of a temporary nature, thereby, leaving the farmer in a quandary about the future.

Farming is a long-term venture, requiring long-term planning and long-term financing and indebtedness. Today's farmers are businessmen, but they are the only businessmen in America whose commodity prices are subjected to sharp peaks and valleys, caused by uncontrollable events, "scare" propaganda or other acts which the farmer can neither foresee nor govern.

The majority of farmers today are skirting outright financial disaster every year. Their indebtedness is increasing yearly. In the past five years, the national farm real estate debt has risen 39%. In terms of dollars, farmers' total indebtedness in this period has increased from $37.5 billion to $65.5 billion. Meantime, farm prices have declined. In the past 25 years, the parity ratio has dropped from 108% to an average of 70% in 1971. This has seriously weakened the financial position of farmers. We are rapidly approaching a complete erosion of our entire agriculture community.

If this trend is to be reversed and we are to regain and maintain a healthy agriculture where young men can be attracted for a career, we must provide economic stability for our farming industry. To accomplish this, we respectfully submit the following recommendations:

1. See that temporary measures are taken to immediately bolster and stabilize grain prices.
2. Set to work promptly the necessary planning for a permanent program for agriculture so that an end can be put to the chronic gyrations of grain prices. If grain prices domestically are to be stabilized at a level which puts the farmer on a par with all other American business, the influence of world prices must be removed from our domestic pricing.
3. The consumers of America must recognize the vital need for farmers to be a healthy segment of the U.S. economy because, only through the high degree of efficiency of the farmer, is the American consumer able to enjoy the limitless benefits of today's American agriculture. Consumers must know that if agriculture deteriorates, the living standard of all of America deteriorates. An informational program to acquaint consumers with the status of agriculture, with the benefits of a healthy agriculture, must be mounted and continued at a high level throughout this transitional period while the agricultural economy is being stabilized. This program can, and should, be the bridge bringing the farmer into the mainstream of American society.

We farmers have supported, and will continue to support all those things that have built a great America. We only ask an opportunity to share equally in the protection and benefits of our American society. We shall be most grateful for your sincere consideration of the above statement.

Respectfully,
American Agri-Businessmen

Women Urged To Enter Beef Cooking Contest

A combination of imagination and Texas grain-fed beef can win cash and a supply of steaks for no fewer than 24 Texas cooks, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, John C. White has announced.

The Texas Department of Agriculture and the beef industry are sponsoring a "Texas Grain-Fed Beef Cook-Off" which is already underway in four areas of the State. Finals will be held in Austin Saturday, May 13, the Commissioner announced. Entrants may submit their beef-based dishes in one of three categories: casserole, gourmet, or economy dishes. Two top winners in each category in the four areas of the State will be selected, and will receive $50 each and an expenses-paid trip to Austin for the finals in the cook-off.

The grand prize will be $500 worth of beef, and the state winners in each category will receive $200 worth of beef.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Friona Star office. Friona area cooks are urged to enter recipes from their own files in order to have a winner from Friona to represent the beef industry in this area.

The "Texas Grain-Fed Beef Cook-Off" is a part of the Texas Department of Agriculture's Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) program which is designed primarily to remind Texans and consumers everywhere of the quality, quantity and availability of Texas agricultural products, as Commissioner White has commented. Texas leads the nation in the number of cattle of all types, in the number of beef cattle and in the production of beef. The beef industry adds over $1.2 billion annually to the economy of Texas.

"We want more people to know more ways of preparing Texas grain-fed beef, to know about its goodness," Commissioner White said. "That's one of the big reasons for the cook-off."

For more information about the cook-off contact the Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas 78711.

Jesus did not come into the world to save "good" people; He came to save sinners (Matt. 9:13). "Good" people were lost then as they are now by trusting in their "goodness." The Lord's running controversy with the Pharisees stemmed from this fatal error on their part. He came to save them, but they thought they didn't need saving. The apostle Paul describes all such unbelievers thus: "For they, being ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteousness have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God" (Rom. 10:3).

As long as men obscure the clear teachings of the Bible about sin and salvation and sit in intellectual judgment on the Bible instead of allowing the Word to sit in judgment on them (John 12:48), they cannot see the gravity of sin nor its ultimate effect on the soul. The message of forgiveness of personal sins through obedience to the gospel was preached in the apostolic age (Acts 2) and the substitution of a "gospel" of good works can only leave the impenitent soul unforgiven and lost.

Questions invited. Address "What Does The Bible Say?" Box 515, Friona, Texas.

Lowery Harper Makes Dean's List

A student from Friona is among the 2,385 who are being recognized for academic achievements this week at Southern Methodist University.

The whopping number of honorees, representing a 23 percent increase over the number singled out for recognition last year, includes the recipients of 73 major honors, 52 newly-elected members of the Phi Beta Kappa scholastic honorary, and those on SMU's Honor Roll.

High point of SMU's recognition was the annual Honors

Day Convocation and an awards coffee Wednesday at which SMU Chancellor Willis M. Tate personally presented major honors.

The Friona student, Lowery S. Harper, 1203 Elm, is one of the Juniors from the SMU Institute of Technology who made the Honor Roll.

He is a graduate of Friona High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Harper.

In 1971—Farmers Who Grew...

McNAIR 654

GRAIN SORGHUM

from Lubbock to Stratford... say:

IT YIELDS!

"8240 lbs. per A" ... "10,360 lbs." ... "7600"
"8102" ... "7986" ... "7520" ... "8131"
"Weight was 2 to 5 lbs. per bushel heavier."

IT STANDS!

"stood real good" ... "standability was excellent"
"the standability was good" ... "plants stood well"
"it had excellent standability"

IT'S EASY TO HARVEST!

"has open head for early harvest" ... "not too tall to combine good" ... "ready to cut a full week ahead of another full season variety" ... "minimum amount of lodging"

We at McNair did not say these things. Growers did and we are proud, but not surprised. Our research staff and wide spread tests had already proven them to us, but we like for farmers to tell farmers what is "best." McNair 654 is just that! Order your supply today. The quantity is not unlimited.
